Rogers Looks For Briber Also in Public Scandals

Socialism, taxes, this nation's economic progress and corruption in government were all dealt with by Rep. Walter Rogers of the 18th Congressional district in a speech before about 300 civic and business leaders here Thursday.

He spoke before the combined memberships of several of the community's service clubs in a Kiwanis-sponsored "Walter Rogers Day" event.

Sounding some of the economic warnings he had in an earlier speech in Hereford last month, Rogers added some more warnings and placed the blame for the current scandals in Washington with the excess tax load the nation is carrying.

"As of now, the case is still on the docket, although no one is pressing the issue", one of Messer's attorneys told The Brand.

He pointed out that the suit has not been dropped. There was an agreement made out of court whereby the defendant had agreed to quit burning burrs in an open pit.

OK Equalization of Farm Improvements For School

An equalization of farm improvements on the farmsteads in the Hereford Rural School district was voted by the board of trustees at a meeting Thursday night, according to A. J. (Major) Schroeter, president of the board.

The equalization, Schroeter said, will affect the taxes paid by the city and the farm property owners, and add an estimated million dollars to the district's evaluation for the next year.

This will bring in an estimated $15,000 more which is needed to run the district for the next fiscal year, he said.

County Hospital Profits Are Up

Deaf Smith's county hospital has been showing a profit for the current fiscal year, according to two monthly profit and loss statements submitted to the Commissioners Court by T. E. Seigler, manager.

For October, the net profit for the hospital was shown as $979.24. At that time, the average net profit per month for the year was $1284.36.

Total profit for the year at the time of the October financial statement was $12,843.35.

Rate of collections for October were 111%, the statement showed. Collection rate for the year to date was 94.5%.

During the month of November, the hospital showed a net profit of $1658.69. The net profit for the entire year after deducting for the Blue Cross contract was $14,502.03.

The rate of collection for November was 93.3%, the compilation showed.

The program was started because there has been no farm improvements assessed and the district needed funds.

Schroeter said the board is trying to secure the services of Ed Warren to arrive at a value for the various improvements after making a physical inspection of the property.

In about 1946, when the city, county, and school district went into a survey, the original 72 sections in the school district were evaluated, but there was never an assessment levied on those improvements in the 72 sections.

Acres of properties surrounding the city's outskirts have been assessed, but not improvements on farmsteads, the president said.

Work on the equalization will begin as soon as possible.

U. S. Looks "Pretty" Good After Korean Duty

After 18 months overseas — 16 of them in Korea — the United States looked pretty good to Cpl. John E. Fox, son of J. W. Fox of Hereford.

He told The Brand of his first impressions as he said it was with "real appreciation that I looked on the highways, cars, neon signs, heard the radios, and enjoyed the simple, everyday pleasures which were so lacking in the places of the Far East."

After leaving Pusan, his itinerary read: Pusan, Taegu, Taejeon, Seoul, and back to an area between Pusan and Taegu. All of the assignments were referred to as "rear echelon" jobs by Fox, who was a construction foreman on a crew building highway and rail bridges across the Kum river and the Wagwum river.

Another of the jobs he worked on was a camp for Republic of Korea training units in the vicinity of Kwanju.

Fox met his brother, Earl, in Pusan in April, 1947 where both were hospitalized. Through the Army "Buddy" policy, Earl and John joined the same unit, the 300th Armored Field Artillery, on the northeastern Korean front.

There they stayed for 1 1/2 months until John was rotated home. Earl is still there in "A" battery, John said.

Asked about the soldiers' feelings about various phases of the war and home front support, Fox says, "The average soldier is more or less going from day to day doing a big job with very little thought of recognition and patiently waiting for rotation."

Of strikes, Fox said, "Most soldiers are a little surprised and sometimes more than disgusted at rail and shipping strikes. Sometimes, he said, soldiers wonder if the people back home conscientiously think about the Korean affair."

He was careful not to use the word "war."

One point that was most significant in the whole interview with the returned GI is that he said most regular Army soldiers who had previous combat experience in the ETO have seriously been studying Russian tactics of company platoon, and squad levels.

 "It takes a lot of money for a preparedness program," he said adding that "we in America are waking up soon enough. We find out that we are not dealing with a bunch of honorable representatives, but with a bunch of international gangsters and colossal liars and we started a preparedness program. They understand only might."
 Touching upon morality, or lack of it, in public office, he said that taxes are closely related to public morals. Corruption and graft are partly the result of high taxes if anything ever was, he commented. People are human and they try to evade taxes. If they do it illegally, they have disrespect for other laws.

 straight insurance and co-insurance and advise the board on their findings.
 Major Schroeter, president of the board, said that the district carries co-insurance on all buildings but the junior high. He explained this insurance as such: a policy holder agrees to keep the buildings insured to 80% of their actual replacement cost. If the insurance is not sufficient to cover the 80% of replacement, the company and the school act as co-insurers in the event of loss.

Congressmen's Mail Contains All Types of Propositions, Requests

By Tex Easley
 AP Special Washington Service

Washington, — Texans write their congressmen about almost everything under the sun. If they don't know where else to turn for information, they write Washington.

Mail about legislation tapered off with adjournment of Congress. But there's no let-down in variety.

People ask their congressman to help get priorities for construction materials, discharges from the Armed Forces, Old age pensions, farm bulletins and pamphlets on how to raise babies. These are the subjects of the bulk of the mail.

Here are some assorted requests that came to various Texas congressional offices in the past week:

A mother who lost her son in Korean fighting inquired how she could get a Gold Star pin.

An enterprising businessman wanted information about some iron ore deposits in Mexico and how to get authority from the Mexican government to develop them.

An ambitious mother, describing her daughter as a pretty blonde with considerable wealth in her own right, asked the congressman if he couldn't arrange the girl a date with a midshipman over at the Naval Academy in Annapolis, Md. The daughter is enrolled in a finishing school in this area.

A school superintendent wrote for the annual report of the Smithsonian Institution, and a wife wrote wanting to follow her soldier husband to Japan.

Recently Rep. Walter Rogers of Pampa got a letter from an old timer in that part of Texas, writing for the Plains Historical Society and asking how to obtain a monument for the grave of a long-deceased Mexican war veteran and Indian trader.

George McLean of Friona, in the first of several letters to Rogers, said:

"I owned a stage station post office and agency trading post along the (Texas-New Mexico) state line a long time ago. . . A Mr. James E. Vaughan had me fix up his Mexican war pension papers every three months so he could draw his pension. When he died I buried him wrapped in his old Mexican war blanket."

He had enlisted from Tennessee to go to the Mexican war, McLean wrote, and was captured by the Mexicans.

After being discharged he became an Indian trader among the Apache and Comanche Indians while they were both at war with the white people which was before Gen. McKenzie had battled the Indians in Palo Duro Canyon south of Amarillo.

"When the Indians were moved to the reservations (Oklahoma) his customers were gone and the large cattle companies moved in and chased the small fry out. This began in 1876. He then acted as a scout."

When the old warrior died, McLean added, he buried him beside his Spanish wife who was killed by the Indians many years earlier near the stockade in which they lived across the line in New Mexico.

The Veterans Administration, Defense Department and Congressional Library searched in vain for records that would permit the government to put a tombstone free over the old soldier's grave. They found a James Vaughan but he died a few years too early to have been the right one.

One of the senior congressional secretaries on Capitol Hill is Jules Leverett, 55, aide to Rep. Clark Thompson of Galveston. It was on Dec. 15, 1919 that he went to work for the then Congtesman Clay Stone Briggs. Looking back over 32 years of handling congressional mail, he says:

"People write a lot more now than they did years ago. There was a time when the letter carrier was the only contact most citizens had with the Federal government. They used to write for garden seeds. Now they write about everything."

Leverett is a native of Galveston and vividly recalls the big flood that swept the Island City at the turn of the century. One of the unusual letters Thompson has received came from a 10-year old boy. It enclosed a badly mangled one-dollar bill and a note to the effect that he had forgotten and left it in his pants pocket when his mother washed them. He asked if the government would redeem it. Thompson sent him a crisp new bill and framed the old one to hang on his office wall.

"The Guest" Is Featurette At Star Dec. 25-26

"The Guest", first in a series of short (32 minute) features being produced by Twentieth Century-Fox to emphasize religious themes, has been booked for a two-day run at the Star theater on December 25 and 26, according to Owner Francis Hardwick.

So new is "The Guest", Hardwick says, that no national release date has been set for the film. He was able to secure the picture for local showing after a great deal of "string pulling," to enable an early showing in Hereford.

Based on a story by Leo Tolstoy, "The Guest" is the warm, human tale of a modest shoemaker who envisions that God will visit him in his humble shop before nightfall. Although his neighbors scoff at him, the shoemaker, a one-time deeply religious man whose faith had been shattered by tragedy, goes about his business making certain that this day, above all, he is kind to those about him. A surprise realization that God is with him every day and in every endeavor he undertakes.

Designed to appeal to peoples of all religions, "The Guest" is a strong plea for faith in God and the fostering of universal human kindness.

Inch of Moisture in Reported Eight-Inch Snowfall Last Week

By Mrs. R. C. Childers

It is reported that eight inches of snow was measured in this community. The snow drifted very badly Saturday, making some of the roads bad in places after the thawing started. There were a number of three-foot drifts around farm buildings and fence rows. It was a wet snow and it is thought that nearly an inch of moisture would be received from the snow. Most of the snow melted Wednesday and Thursday making some wet places where the drifts were high. It was easy to get stuck in your own back yard Thursday.

Mrs. Fred Wolfington entered the Ostopathic Clinic in Amarillo Monday and underwent major surgery Tuesday morning at 8 a.m.

It is reported that Mrs. Wolfington stood the operation fine and is doing as well as can be expected.

Mr. and Mrs. T. B. Cox went to Amarillo and were there during the operation Tuesday.

Mr. Marti Mason is looking after thing for the Wolfingtons while they are away. Mason is a neighbor of the Wolfingtons.

Patsy Childers attended a slumber party given by Patsy Jackson daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Jackson Friday night after the Banquet for the Pep Club girls. The party was held in the garage apartment at the rear of the Jackson home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Johnson visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Johnson of Pampa Wednesday.

Leroy Packard and Wayne Johnson spent Sunday morning visiting in the R. C. Childers home.

M. G. Caywood was a caller in the R. C. Childers home Sunday afternoon.

The Council Christmas party was attended by Mrs. Grady Parsons, Mrs. Fred Wolfington, Mrs. Earl DeHart, Mrs. J. T. Richardson and Mrs. Paul Corbett all members of the Cultural Home Demonstration club. There were eight suits modeled at the party. One from this club was modeled by Mrs. Edgar Telchik, who modeled a blue wool sharkskin suit trimmed in velvet. Five suits were made in the Cultural Home Demonstration club during the tailoring course, but were not completed at the time of the review Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Cooke were in Canyon Tuesday visiting relatives and attending to business there.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Renfro visited Mrs. Fred Wolfington Wednesday while they were in Amarillo. Mrs. Wolfington is in the Ostopathic Clinic there.

Mrs. R. C. Childers is still working at the Hembree Jewelry part-time.

Mr. C. S. Barclay left Thursday morning for Paris, Texas with a load of furniture and household goods for the Harold Baize family who are moving to Paris. They moved from the Jumbo community.

Mrs. Barclay and Larry are spending several days in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Childers while her husband is away.

Mothers of the Freshmen Class at Hereford High school served lunch for the Freshmen class, at the Mel Finlay farm sale held Thursday in this vicinity. Mothers serving from this community were: Mrs. Edgar Telchik, Mrs. R. N. Cooke and Mrs. M. G. Caywood from Westway. Mrs. A. C. Hershey helped out as there was a shortage of help. Benefits from the sale went to the freshmen class to apply on their annual queen, who is Colleen Cooke, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Cooke.

A varied program was presented at the Rotary's annual ladies night meeting Friday night.

Francis Hardwick was guest speaker and Mrs. J. W. Barnett gave a speech on Trinidad and showed colored pictures about Trinidad.

A musical program of Christmas songs was presented by the high school sextette. Gifts were presented to all the ladies present.

The Christmas story from the Gospel of Luke was read by Mrs. J. M. Carothers and Mrs. Gayle Neal presented a dramatic reading "Seventeen Objects".

A playlet "Tilda's Talent" was presented by Mrs. Walter Galley, Mrs. Carl Wimberley, Mrs. Reece Stewart, and Mrs. R. T. Stewart. Group singing of Christmas carols completed the program.

Those present were: Mesdames Bill Carthel, L. L. Airhart, Wesley Cox, J. B. Carothers, Walter Galley, Reece Stewart, R. T. Stewart, Carl Wimberley, Gayle Neal, J. B. Caraway and the hostess.

County Agent Reports

By Hugh Clearman
County Agent

It would sure be nice to be able to sell cattle like Wally. Last week you who read this column noticed a report about the sale of a bull. That bull increased in price from $10,000 to $70,000 while Wally was walking from the courthouse to The Brand office.

(Editor's Note — Right here and now we'd like to insert our first public utterance in this hot cattle deal. Our fine county agent submitted his report for the week in longhand and, upon translating, these weary eyes couldn't tell by CA's hieroglyphics whether that first numeral should have been a "1" or a "7".

Now Hugh was nowhere to be found when we were typing this up, so he couldn't help us straighten out the mess.

Our knowledge of the value of beef is limited to the price tags in the butcher's case, so we faced a real dilemma: If we call a $70,000 bull a $10,000 bull, we'd be in hot water for cutting the price. If we called a $10,000 bull a $70,000 bull, the edge of the error would not be so sharp for those concerned. The $60,000 discrepancy would be of interest to no one but the income tax people, and they've got enough troubles in Washington without coming to Deaf Smith county, so we figured we were safe. We didn't count on Hugh reading his own column.

So now you see what happens when a well-laid psychological trap springs on the man who sets it. Next time we'll stand in bed.)

Now for more Hugh Clearman.

Castor bean test plots on Virgil Dodson's farm showed the following results: Cimmaron, 1175 lbs per acre; Baker No. 1, 1158 lbs; Baker No. 34, 1122 lbs.; U. S., No. 74, 1116 lbs.; and Baker No. 7, 1101 lbs.

Baker No. 7 is the variety planted by most growers this past season and these results indicate that we might need to change varieties.

Cimmaron, in addition to being the high yielding variety, seems to be less susceptible to shattering.

Mr. Charles Hood was in this week to give us a report on grain sorghums following a legume compared to sorghums without the legume. He said no weight were taken but, there was a marked difference and he estimated the crop following the legume made near 4000 lbs. per acre compared to less than 3000 lbs. where there was no legume.

He had some clover this year and harvested about 13 acres for seed. He said it made a little cleaning, although loss from more than 300 lbs. per acre after shattering was high.

WINTER STORM PROTECTION FOR DOORS AND WINDOWS

Here's a timely Christmas suggestion. Genuine first grade Dupont plastic sheets. This is NOT a cloudy semi-clear grade. It is as clear as window glass. Virtually unnoticeable behind lace curtains. It is waterproof and tough and can be used over and over again. Wide enough to attach to window frame with scotch tape inside room or can be fitted outside with wood moulding on windows or screen doors.

Use 2 sheets for bay windows seating both sides of seam with tape and cut to fit. You can't lose on this offer. Fuel saving alone pays the small cost and for once YOU'LL ENJOY GENUINE WINTER COMFORT. Let's hear from the thousands of customers who bought our clothes pins during the last war and all others who want to lick winter's bitter cold. Stamped envelope brings small sample or see sample at this newspaper. Order promptly as shipment is subject to about 20 days delivery.

1 sheet 38 x 72 inches $1.50 Ppd. 4 sheets $5.00, 10 sheets $10.00. Cash, Check, Money Order.

OUR MOTTO: To treat others as we would want them to treat us, so money refunded if not satisfactory.

F. C. Winfrey Buys Reserve Champion Bull

F. C. Winfrey of De Witt, Mo. attended the Anxiety Hereford Breeders sale at Amarillo December 10 and purchased the Reserve Champion bull, Modest Lamplight A 4th 6499395 for $3000. This bull is only 15 months old.

His style, bulliness and masculinity make him a very attractive herd bull prospect. He is the son of old Modest Lamplight that was Grand Champion at all the Fort Worth and Dallas shows and was brought by the Hughes Ranch at Hobbs, N. M. for $35,000.

This bull will be at the Winfrey Hereford Ranch at De Witt, Mo.

Mr. Winfrey also before coming to Texas attended the Wordy Hereford ranch sale at the American Royal building in Kansas City, Mo. and purchased a bred heifer, Princess Larry Domino for $950. There was 51 head of Herefords in this sale and they averaged over $1400 and only two in the sale sold under $1,000.

Mr. and Mrs. Ellis Easley of Espanola, N. M. have been guests of his sister, Mrs. W. S. Fluitt the past week. They were enroute to New York City where he will be in the International General Electric Company offices for a few weeks before taking a foreign post.

While they were here Mr. and Mrs. Fluitt entertained with a pre-Christmas dinner with their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Brown and daughters as other guests.

Grandstand Gropings

By Kent Snare

Did you ever start from nil, write about nothing in particular and wind up with anything worthwhile . . . Dubious are you? . . . Well, so be I, but leave us try it one time and see what comes out? . . . I note where the Big 7 has voted against further participation in post-season Bowl contests. . . The vote probably came out Six to One against Oklahoma, in spite of the dripping, watermelon talk by Cross, President of the Okies. . . After all who but the Sooners, in the Big 7 have qualified for a Bowl Bid, in the memory of those present. I cannot see much hope for the post-season bowls if they take a consensus of all the colleges. . . The majority may take the stand of the Ivy League, who long ago decided that they couldn't legally qualify for a bid and so would preclude embarrassment by excluding the consideration of any offers. . . After all, the number of teams, who have never merited a bid to the Bowls and haven't had any of that gray dripping from their "weskits", far outnumber those teams that have participated or hope to. . . looks like a stuffed ballot box to me. However, let me predict there will be a small loophole type of aperture left extant through which one can gain entrance into the moneybags. . . This is spite of all the me first boys who are ascending the band wagon of righteousness. . . Anytime you think the boys are going to kick the wallet in the teeth by abandoning the Saturday income you had better inspect the debentures and see how many of the stadia are lien free. . . And you don't fill the stands with humpty-dumpty ball clubs. . . The stilet clickers pay for action and they demand far more from the college teams than they do from the pros. . . If you don't believe that just turn to the gram and groin circuit boys. . . They have attracted paying customers for a long time with a trained seal succession of performances, consisting of Joe you win this time and Tony, you cop next week, followed by a hair pulling draw, after which they go into their act and start over. . . But the Saturday perfectionists won't settle for that, they demand that the university elevens be the best. . . Look at Army this year, even in the Stadium against Southern Cal. and the Navy classic, they stayed away in droves. . . And to achieve that best it takes hours of hard work, plus more hours from a tired body and brain to keep eligible and remember that for the few players that have been castigated justly, there are many thousands of right guys that want to play the game and beyond the sweat and enjoyment of conflict, besides an occasional "broke" nose for a keepsake, derive little remuneration from the sports they participate in. . . You know, I was a little frayed and tired, when I sat down to ding out this dirge and I recalled that I hadn't written to my Mother, as is beholden, before this or any other column is considered, and the thought came to me that many a column has been written in like circumstances after the selfsame thought had occurred to other scribes and mayhap the letter to Mother never got away. Well, whatever this squib contains or lacks, you can ascribe it as being entailed in my note to Mom. . . You know it takes little to brighten up a Mom and some, perhaps few indeed, get even that. . . Few indeed will read this but if anyone does, and you have a Mom that you can't otherwise reach, get in touch with her by phone or letter before Christmas. You will derive far more from it than anyone else except your Mom and if you don't, these or no other words will effect you — and give to her the Bonne Annee from me. . . Danke Schoen. . .

Permanent Plan GI Policy Under Waiver Explained

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is the last of a series of four special articles prepared by Veterans Administration explaining the rights of newly-discharged veterans to Government life insurance.

PERMANENT PLAN GI POLICIES UNDER WAIVER OR SURRENDERED FOR CASH VALUE

Recently-discharged veterans who were granted a waiver of only a part of their premiums on their permanent plans of government life insurance while they were active service must act immediately after their release or separation to keep this insurance in force under full premium-paying conditions.

If the veterans surrendered their permanent plans of Government life insurance for their cash value on or after April 25, 1951, while they were in active service so as to take advantage of the free indemnity protection, they must act within 120 days of their release or separation to reinstate their policies or to apply for new permanent plan insurance.

As used in this article, permanent plans of Government life insurance mean any of the permanent plans issued under National Service Life Insurance or U.

S. Government Life Insurance, such as ordinary life, 20-pay life, 30-pay life, and the various endowment plans.

Under the Servicemen's Indemnity and Insurance Acts of 1951 that became law April 25, 1951, persons in active military service on and after that date could take any one of three courses with their permanent NSLI or USGLI policies.

They could: (1) continue to pay the full premium as in the past; (2) apply for waiver of a part of their premium, or (3) surrender their policies for the cash value and be covered by the free indemnity protection.

Those who elected to pay the full premium must continue to do so, immediately after release or separation from active service if they wish to keep their policies in force thereafter.

Those who were granted a waiver of part of their permanent plan premium (under Section 622 of the NSLI Act) were instructed to pay the full premium while they were in active service and VA would refund the waived portion.

When these persons are released or separated from active service, they should continue to pay the full premiums when due, directly to Veterans Administration, Washington 25, D. C. That portion of the waived premium which is paid under this arrangement will be refunded, with interest, for the period that the waiver is in force.

Those who surrendered their permanent plan policies for cash may adopt one of two courses of action if they wish to replace or restore the surrendered permanent plan of insurance. In either of these two courses, the requirements for reinstatement or issuance of new insurance must be met within 120 days following release or separation from active service. The two courses of action are:

1. They may apply to Veterans Administration, Washington 25, D. C., in writing, without a physical examination, for the issuance of a new permanent policy on the same plan and not in excess of the amount of the policy surrendered for cash, and pay the required premium; or,

2. They may reinstate their surrendered permanent plan of insurance, without a physical examination, by paying the required reserve and the premium for the current month. Applications for reinstatement should be mailed to Veterans Administration, Washington 25, D. C.

For further information, veterans should contact their nearest VA office as soon after separation or release from service as possible.

CHRISTMAS FOR OTHERS

--- Everywhere You Go

December finds study club groups, service clubs, Camp Fire units, church groups and other organizations busy planning "Christmas For Others." Especially have Camp Fire groups found the month a busy one for early in December, Christmas projects were begun and no Christmas plans of their own have been allowed to interfere with activities planned for making others happy with Christmas sharing.

Pictures shown today are typical of the many organized groups in the city, most of whom are completing their plans for this week.

RIGHT—Five members of Wakita Camp Fire Girls are shown wrapping Christmas gifts for their mothers. But they were just as enthusiastic over a box sent earlier to the Children's Home in Amarillo. They include, reading left to right, Eugenia Alexander, Carol Ann Newell, Jane Bookout, Nona Marie Strange and Lanelle Best. The group has also shared Christmas with Charla Berry, one of their members in the Polio Ward in Plainview who keeps up with the Camp Fire work through its members. Mrs. Bob Wilson is guardian and Mrs. F. L. Alexander is assistant guardian.

BELOW—Elna Bishop, Marian Jo Wilson and Janice Craig double for Santa Claus again this year. They are members of the Jolly Teen Horizon club. They are packing a box for a needy family to be delivered the week before Christmas. Last year they adopted a family of three and provided not only gifts but the makings for the Christmas dinner as well as other personal touches to brighten the holiday season. This year their adopted family will include a mother and four children, one boy and three little girls. The Christmas tree with all its trimmings, the dinner and gifts will again be included. Mrs. Urlin Streu is advisor and Mrs. Roy Ford, assistant.

Gift Exchange Features El Nino Christmas Party

Music Study Club Enjoys Christmas Party, Program

The study of modern composers was begun at the Music Study Club meeting and Christmas party held in the home of Mrs. W. E. Dameron Monday afternoon.

From the Christmas spray on the door to Christmas trees, snow men and red candles inside, the Christmas spirit prevailed in holiday welcome. Mrs. J. D. Neill, president, welcomed special guests and led in the reading the Music Club Collect.

Mrs. C. W. Parker was program leader and gave something of the lives and works of the three composers featured for the day. In discussing Sibelius she said: "Sibelius was born in 1865 in Finland. As a young man he took up all forms of music, performing as well as composing. His works may be divided into three periods — romantic, miscellaneous and classical. Beethoven was his ideal and his influence may be noted in his works. Today he is sponsored by the Finnish government."

"Elgar, a British composer, died in 1934. His main compositions were of the symphonic type."

"Stravinsky, a Russian composer, was never afraid to do as he pleased. He favored ballet music. He lived for a time in France and is now in the United States."

C. W. Parker, W. J. Stanford, R. P. Coneway, H. A. Close, Earl Phillips, A. O. Thompson, Bob Lawrence, Cliff Estes and Miss Frances Dameron. Mrs. B. Y. Crosthwait accompanied at the piano.

Mrs. E. Y. Crosthwait played "Selections from The Firebird" (Stravinsky) and in conclusion the entire group sang the hymn of the month, "Silent Night" (Gruber) led by Mrs. J. C. McCracken with Mrs. Crosthwait at the piano.

Mrs. S. O. Wilson, the former Mrs. Roberta Dyar, was honored by the club and was presented with a Christmas corsage and Christmas package in the form of a wedding gift from the club. Mrs. A. O. Thompson made the

Those present for the early morning affair were: Mesdames Gaylord Newell, Ivan Block, T. J. Clay, Roy Grubbs, Lee Kent, Bill Waldrep, O. G. Hill Jr., Donald Henslee, H. A. Cavness, Jiggs Hartman, Wayne Evans, Marvin Wells, W. L. Davis Jr. and the hostesses.

"LET'S COOK SOMETHING"

Christmas in the Kitchen: It's Candy-Making Season

Christmas comes early to the kitchen. Many families make an occasion of pre-holiday cooking and in some homes candy making time is as traditional as fruit cake and plum pudding.

If you haven't started your candy making, its time to get at it for there are many recipes that should be made now to allow for aging.

Packed in gay little airtight boxes, baskets or attractive bright bowls, Christmas candy makes a lovely gift sure to delight the one who receives it.

Here are four delicious recipes that have been used year after year by family request. Everybody wants the recipes once they taste the finished product. Mrs. Francis Hardwick gives you three of them and Mrs. Phillip Barkley is responsible for the fourth. Here they are:

Marshmallow Fudge

4½ cups sugar
1 large can condensed milk (undiluted)
½ pound butter
Bring to rolling boil and cook 7½ minutes (by the clock) stirring constantly. Turn off fire and add:

3 packages semi-sweet chocolate drops
1 8 oz. jar of Marshmallow Creme
1 tablespoon vanilla
½ lb. pecans

Blend in all ingredients thoroughly and add nuts last. Pour into pans and cut in squares when set. This recipe makes a big batch but it will keep indefinitely.

Caramels

2¼ cups sugar
1¼ cups Karo
1 pint cream
½ pound butter
1 teaspoon vanilla
nuts if desired

Place sugar, Karo, butter and one-half of cream in sauce pan and stir until dissolved. When boiling vigorously add remaining cream stirring constantly. (Do not let mixture stop boiling). Cook until a hard ball is formed in cold water. Remove from fire and add nuts and vanilla and stir until blended. Do not beat. Pour immediately into butter tins and cut in squares. This is chewy and is not intended to become #### creamy.

Butter Crunch

1 cup butter
1 cup sugar
1 tablespoon Karo
3 tablespoons water
1/3 cup almonds

Melt butter and add sugar, water and Karo. Cook over low heat until mixture reaches crack stage (When dropped in cold water you can crack against side of cup), add nuts and pour in pan. Break as in peanut brittle for bite-size servings.

Topping

A wonderful topping for this candy is made of sweetened chocolate shavings mixed with pecans sprinkled over after pouring into pans. It makes a richer candy but it is delicious and lovely for parties or Christmas gift boxes.

Mrs. Barkley's Date Loaf

½ pound pitted dates
2 cups sugar
1 cup milk
1 lump butter
2 cups pecans

Boil sugar, milk and butter until it forms a soft ball in cold water. Remove from fire and add chopped dates, stirring constantly. Beat until creamy and add pecans. Pour into cold wet mold or roll in cloth wrung out of cold water. Slice when wanted and roll in powdered sugar. Chocolate shavings may be added to the powdered sugar if desired.

Postal Regulation Effective Jan. 1 on Package Size, Weight

A new postal regulation that will cut down the size and weight of parcel post packages will go into effect January 1, 1952.

The new regulation will apply to packages shipped between first class post offices. It will not apply to rural routes working out of those offices.

The size of the parcel post package will be cut from 100 inches around the package (length and girth) to 72 inches length and girth and the weight will be reduced from 70 pounds to 20 pounds in the third through eighth distance zones.

In the first and second zones, the weight may be 40 pounds.

There will be a few exceptions to the order. It will not apply to shipment of baby fowl, live-plants, trees, shrubs, or agricultural commodities or books.

O. E. S. Study Club Enjoys Yule Party

O.E.S. Study club held its Christmas party in the home of Mrs. Johnny Sanders Monday night. Mrs. Vivian Major, president, presided over a short business meeting when the time of meeting was changed from the second and fourth Mondays to the first and third Mondays in

Beauty at Home

By Lynn Carter

Q. What is the correct way to make up the round or broad face-type?

A. Place color spot just above the cheek, this tending to break up the face breadth. Also blend rouge in line from beneath the eyes and alongside the nose and corner of the mouth.

Q. What is the best method for removing superfluous hair at home?

A. By wax depilatory. Apply the wax warm, and when it has cooled and set, lift up by one corner and pull off, and this brings out the unwanted hairs. If skillfully done, it is not painful, but you should experiment first with a small area.

Q. How may eyes be "enlarged" through eyeshadow application?

A. Apply close to the eyelashes and blend upward toward the eyebrows and outward toward the temples.

Q. How can I add a sheen and gloss to my hair?

A. Regular shampooing, and thorough rinsing, is responsible for the sheen of your hair. But daily brushing preserves the sheen. Choose a brush with long, flexible bristles, set widely apart. Such a brush not only does the best job of brushing, but is easy to keep clean.

Q. What is the best way to remove corns from the feet?

A. The only correct way is with manicure scissors. Never use a razor blade, and avoid cutting too deeply. After trimming, apply a small felt pad, one with the center cut out. This will ease the shoe pressure and provide comfort.

Q. How can I give a well-groomed appearance to my eyebrows?

A. Make a habit of brushing them regularly, first against the growth, then smoothly into place. If they are too light, give them a touch of brown eyebrow pencil.

Q. What is a good, quick shampoo I can mix at home that will make my hair soft, fluffy, and shiny?

A. Beat three eggs in a little water and add a pinch of borax. Sulphur in eggs is good for the hair, too.

Q. How should lips that are too thin be rouged?

Control of Weeds Becoming Major Farm Problem Here

Control or eradication of bindweed and Johnson Grass has proven to be an ever-increasing problem for Deaf Smith county farmers.

The urgency of the matter was pointed out recently when the Farm Bureau organizations here adopted a resolution and named a committee to work with the Commissioners Court and agricultural agencies in the county to arrive at a solution for the problem.

Johnson Grass and bindweed are not only cutting the value of the land, it is impeding the productivity of the farms to an alarming degree.

In his annual report, County Agent Hugh Clearman has this to say about the two: "Control of Johnson Grass has been a problem in this area for many years and since irrigation has been so highly developed in the vicinity of Hereford, it has spread to the extent that it is a serious pest. In addition, bind weeds are scattered over the entire county in small patches and in the last 5 to 10 years a spread of this weed has caused everyone to recognize its importance.

Experiments have been carried on here in the last five to 10 years in accordance with the latest recommendations, his report states further.

Whether or not this problem can be attacked and successfully defeated on a small basis is the big doubt.

The Grand was informed of an excellent program being carried on in Lubbock county for the control of bind weed. We wrote to the proper authorities in Lubbock county for the story on how they are doing the job.

Their experience might have something of value for us in Deaf Smith county. At least it puts forth a definite educational and control program that we here can say definitely that we either favor or do not like.

Here are some of the facts: An assistant county agent, Jack Carothers, is employed by the Chamber of Commerce of Lubbock, the County Commissioners Court, and the Texas Extension Service. He is under the Lubbock county agent and does weed control work solely.

"Anyone employed in this type of work must have a good working knowledge of chemicals and should have a background in chemistry and agriculture," Carothers explained.

During three years in the county, Carothers has held 40 demonstrations in 15 farms in the county. These have been on control of Johnson Grass, bindweed, and blueweed principally. Demonstrations are held in cooperation with the various chemical and farm and ranch stores and the farmer concerned.

That indicates that the cost of putting on the demonstrations are shared by those interested or those who might profit from sale of chemicals, etc.

Lubbock county's demonstrations were widely publicized. The weed expert there appeared on some 50 radio programs to discuss weed control also.

Further points made by Carothers in the Lubbock program are: All work is done on a voluntary basis. None of the chemicals concerned are furnished by the county as this only leads to sharp disagreements.

The county commissioners cooperate, he said, by not grading ditches after chemicals are applied to bar ditches, etc.

"A big part of our work," Carothers explained, "is an educational nature with agreements between landlords and tenants as to weed control procedure playing a major role."

The purpose of this editorial is not to tell farmers how to combat weeds. That is the job of the farmer and the agricultural agent who have the experience to do the work. We are neither.

We can, however, try to point out where a good job is being done and let people with the knowledge evaluate it in the light of their own experiences.

It's one plan, and the people can take for its worth.

A copy of the Lubbock county plan will be on file in The Grand office for all those wishing to look at it. The organizational set-up used in Lubbock might be of interest here.

Certainly, a comprehensive weed-control plan for the county MUST have funds to carry on. It can't be done as a side-line. Not if we value the future of our land.

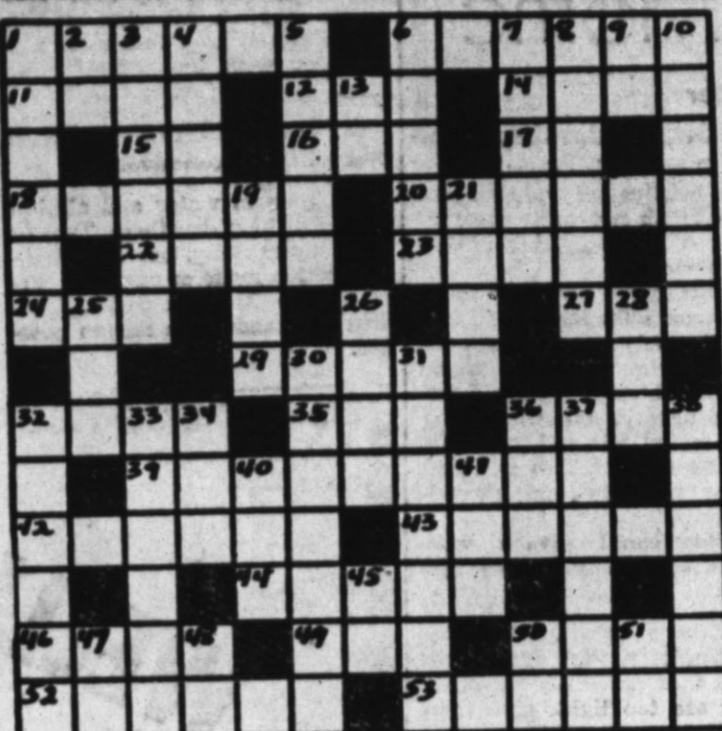

The PMA has a conservation practice which will run the farmer about half the cost of controlling bindweed and Johnson Grass. That is another method for controlling.

We like Lubbock county's plan of wide publicity and bindweed demonstrations. In Deaf Smith county, we could use radio programs and newspaper articles to help in the weed control problem.

The farmers are the ones primarily interested in control, BUT THEY ARE NOT THE ONLY ONES. We all have a stake in freeing our farm land of noxious weeds.

Whether or not we accomplish our purpose depends entirely on HOW MUCH we do about it after we complain and explain the issue.—W. W. K.

SUNDAY'S CURRENT QUESTION

Fans, Alumni Root Of Evil In "Win At All Costs" Philosophy

Do you believe that there has been too much emphasis put on "winning at all costs" in college athletics? What do you think would be a good solution to the problem?

WAYNE STARK—No. Some institutions have but I do not think that all of them have been putting too much emphasis on winning. Basically, it is because the fans have made the college do it. It is not the coach the college or institution but the individual fan. I think that a solution to the problem would be to do away with such things as the downtown quarterback club. It is all right to reimburse the athletes, such as giving them their way through school, but giving them a new car or something isn't right.

M. F. HAMMON—There is no doubt being too much emphasis placed on it. The most of the college athletic programs are not under the control of college officials but partly under the control of the fans, alumni and quarterback clubs. If the athletic programs could be put under the control of the college officials it would be a big step toward stopping the over emphasis of "winning at all costs."

H. V. STANTON—I sure do. I think that the pressure is from the outside, from the alumni and quarterback clubs. If you would eliminate them and then be careful of the requirements for the students who are athletes it might solve the problem.

ROY FORD—I certainly do. I think that Pop Warner has come up with the best solution to the problem. He suggests that only seniors be allowed to play on the varsity team and that freshmen through juniors play in inter-mural sports. The matter of winning has overshadowed the purpose of sports. It has overshadowed the purpose of development which was originally what sports were intended for in high schools and colleges.

'Tater Peelin's

By Roberta Campbell

Even if the light in our ten year old's eyes didn't remind us of what Christmas means to a child with a Cub Scout Den tree, a School Tree, an H. D. Club party and a Cub Scout party all comin up this week it would be hard to forget that Santa and his reindeer are just over the hill and headin' our way in a hurry.

It seems a shame that all the little boys who would like to be Cub Scouts can't find women who are willin' to give some time to work with them as Den Mothers.

There is still a long line of names on the waiting list in spite of the fact that the followin' are now workin to carry on the organization for the youngsters in Hereford.

- Mr. and Mrs. Coy Patton
- Mr. and Mrs. Jason Luck
- Harold Meacham
- Mrs. Ed Cox (who thinks up the nicest games)
- and Mrs. Archie Scott
- all workin' with the Dens in Pack 50 and
- Mrs. Ed Skypala
- Mrs. H. L. Newman
- Mrs. Colby Conkright
- Ellis Combes
- Virgil Dodson
- Paul Conway
- Richard Winget
- with pack 51.

Mr. and Mrs. John Hicks have long been two of the Cubs most ardent supporters until illness forced him to give up the work for the present.

Mr. Patton will be glad to give information to anyone who would like to give some time to the youngsters.

Since so much of the holiday activity comes before time for gifts to be opened we like Mrs. Virgil Walker's idea of passin' out her pretty nylon corsages early without the usual "Do Not Open Until Christmas" label on them.

I'll Never Forget

I got off the train in Hereford July 15, 1903. My folks had come out here early that spring and left me in school at Gainesville. They shipped an immigrant car to Hereford and from here on out to four miles east of Dimmitt by wagon.

My mother told me they loaded the wagon and turned the dining table upside down on top of the load and hung the water bucket on the table leg and about half way home the wind blew the table off the wagon, tore it all to pieces and the bucket went rolling east at about 60 miles an hour and was never seen again. She said she cried and begged my father to turn around and go back to Hereford, load the household goods on the car and go back to good old Cook county. After we were here a few months, mother's health improved so much and she liked the country and her neighbors so much that she never did again want to leave the Plains. I spent the summer and fall with the folks near Dimmitt. Saw my first broncho riding and calf roping at the Dimmitt picnic that summer.

We were told so much about the bad winters here and were so far from where we could get fuel that father bought six tons of coal which he supposed would last through at least one cold spell and then he would have a chance to get some more before another spell. We kept this coal all the winter waiting for that cold spell to come. Used cow chips for fuel and the next summer hauled the six tons of coal back to Hereford less 300 pounds.

MATT GILLILAND

I spent the winter of 1903-04 on the Slaver ranch alone doing my own cooking but very little dishwashing as some one had told me there was no use to wash a dish or cooking vessel as long as you could remember what was in it last. Went out to corral one morning and found a cow with a young calf so I thought here is where I will get plenty of good old milk and butter. Left the calf in the corral, turned the cow out, gave her plenty of good feed and was getting along fine until Mr. Stover came out to the ranch one day, turned the calf out, took what milk and butter I had on hand home with him and left me a note telling me to let the calf stay with the cow that no cow could raise a good calf if somebody was stealing the milk.

Was riding out in the pasture one warm February evening and decided to take a nap. Got off my horse, hobbled him out, put my slicker down for a hot roll, saddle for a pillow and saddle blanket for cover, went to sleep. When I awoke there were thirteen antelope standing in a half circle close enough that I could have hit him with a rock. I had a Winchester on my saddle, which I had been carrying all winter hoping to get a chance to shoot at a coyote or antelope. I eased over, got my gun, took good aim at a big buck, pulled the trigger, but no meat for supper. Mother had removed the shells from the gun and placed some empty ones in it so her boy would not hurt himself with a loaded gun.

In the spring of 1904 I went to work on the Flagg ranch. After being there several months Mr. W. S. Dixon dropped in one Sunday afternoon for a visit and he said I needed a hair cut to which I agreed. He said he could cut hair so we looked around for some scissors but there was none to be found so he went to the barn and got some sheep shears that we had been using to trim the mules' tail and when he got through with me I had a hair cut equal to anything Pack London, H. C. Brooks, Reed Williams or any Hereford (Continued on page 5)

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his farm near Bootleg probably is drawing conclusions from insufficient evidence, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:

I was called up for jury service some time ago and ever since I've been wonderin: you reckon the Korean truce talks have been in charge of lawyers?

It ain't that I've got anything against the lawyers, in fact I sort of admire them, anybody who doesn't care anymore for time than lawyers do has my profound admiration, but after sittin on the court benches a few days waitin on lawyers to make up their minds whether they're ready for trial or not, I wish to say that I ain't the only character in this area who likes to postpone things.

Of course, if I was on the other side of the room, if I was the defendant, I might be in favor of long-drawn-out conferences between lawyers too.

But judgin from my sittin experience in court, I am convinced the truce talks have been handled by lawyers. There ain't no other type of mind with the patience and durability to stand up under so much delay, arguments, proposals, counter-proposals, declarations, counter-declarations, compromises, bluffin, backin out, backin in, stompin out, smilin in, drawin up resolutions, amendin 'em, throwin 'em out, drawin up new ones, in fact, I could go on for several more paragraphs but I'm soundin like a lawyer like it is.

I have never been able to understand nations. You take me, if I get into a squabble with somebody, the thing can't be settled too fast to suit me, but nations take three or four months just to decide in where they're gonna meet to see if they can lay the ground work for decidin what to do if they decide to call off the fight. It seems to me in the future when two countries get into a war, they ought to get together right at the start and get their truce teams goin, let 'em parley right along with the fightin, so there'd be some chance of the armistice comin out even with the end of the war. Like it is now, we're already one war behind on signin a peace treaty, and the thing leads to all sorts of complications. Right now, we have the job of joinin up with Russia in signin a peace treaty over Germany from World War II, but at the same time have been fightin Russia in Korea. Peace treaties ought to be signed fast enough so countries would have a clear hand to fight each other in the next war.

I don't know whether it would work any better, but the next time they have a truce talk comin up, why couldn't they substitute say editors for lawyers, just to see what would happen? Believe I'd rather see something happen than nathin.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Passing Of An Era -- Joe DiMaggio Hangs Up Spikes

War, politics and Congressional investigations took a back seat last week as the nation awaited the decision of Joe DiMaggio, the "Yankee Clipper."

"Joltin' Joe" had decided to hang up his spikes and end his active playing days in the baseball world.

It was a decision that the sporting world would know would come—one that must come—but one that it hated to hear.

If there has been any one man who symbolized all that is clean and desirable in the world of sports, it was the young Italian kid who came up to the World Champion Yankees from San Francisco in 1936.

DiMaggio came up that year to win a permanent spot in the Yankee lineup as well as a permanent spot in the hearts of American baseball fans.

Joe used his tremendous public popularity to generate support for his team and the game he played rather than himself.

The "Clipper" was sportsmanship personified. Shy, unassuming, "DiMagg" compiled an outstanding number of records as a player.

He will leave the sports world more to remember him by than just records, however. He was one of the game's greatest competitors and one of its best-loved personalities.

Joe will be remembered as much for his quality as an individual and as an asset to the good name of the game as for his accomplishments in competition.

Lovers of the diamond sport will find it difficult to think of the Yankees without DiMaggio just as they found it difficult to forget Lou Gehrig or Babe Ruth.

It's not a happy thing to see a champion disappear from the scene.

But the crowning glory of the DiMaggio baseball career was that he bowed out the same way he always played—like a champion.—W. W. K.

I'll Never...

barber could do and it did not cost me a dollar bill. Every time Mr. Dixon got me in a crowd he would always tell them about my Flagg ranch hair cut.

My father bought the old Hereford hotel July 1, 1904 and I came with them to Hereford to help run it.

It was not long until I was doing the cooking and Henry Cloyd waiting on the tables. Tips then were not as common as now but customers would come back in the kitchen and tip me and there is one person living in Hereford now who came back and tipped me 50 cents on a 25 cent meal.

Cowboys would come in, cold and wet, who had been out at the stock pens late at night loading cattle. Henry and I would make them some coffee, cook them bacon and eggs, give them our beds and make us a pallet on the floor.

Vern Witherspoon came in one Sunday afternoon to see his girl, came to the hotel late that night to get a room but no vacancy so Henry and I offered to share our pallet with him which he accepted.

One Sunday afternoon there was a baptising down at the creek just about south of where the Sears elevator now is and I saw two very attractive young ladies and I at once decided I would like to meet them. There was a woman there that I was acquainted with so I asked her who the girls were and she said they were Maude Higgins and Willie Dyer. I asked her to introduce me to them which she did. Maude had a steady so I took what was left and still have her which has proved to be a very satisfactory deal.

Father sold the hotel early in 1906 and he and me decided to go to New Mexico and file on land. We left out in a covered wagon and the second night out camped near the old Ende schoolhouse. After we had our supper and went to bed we heard music so we got up and saw a light in the schoolhouse. They were having a big dance. Boss Jackson was the only person there that we had ever seen before. Father went back to the camp. Boss introduced me to some of the girls and I got to camp just in time for father to serve me breakfast.

In August, 1906 we were married and lived on a ranch south of Dimmitt for a short time. Went to work for Mr. W. M. Cogdell in the county clerk's office. Parmer county was organized while I was in the clerk's office and I delivered the records to the county officers at Parmerton, Parmer county's first county seat.

In the fall of 1907 father and me bought a furniture store here in Hereford and I have been in the furniture and funeral business ever since. Left Hereford on the noon train for Bovina and failed to get my business attended to in time to get the evening train back some so went to the hotel to spend the night. Heard a train whistle and in as much as my bed was cold and uncomfortable decided to try to catch that freight to Hereford. Asked the depot agent to arrange with the conductor for me to ride. He told me the conductor was mad because of trouble he was having with a hotbox and would not talk, but told me to get on the train, lie down on the bunk and that the worst he could do would be to put me off. After we passed Friona I went to the conductor's desk and put down two silver dollars which he pushed back to me without looking up but I left it there and went back to my bunk and he picked it up and put it in his pocket so I felt like he would let me come on to Hereford. I could see out the rear door of the caboose and there was a light showed up which was gaining on us very fast. The conductor had his back to the door and could not see this light so I called his attention to it. He jumped, flagged to the engineer to stop the train, put the brakemen out to put out a torch and try to stop what he thought was an oncoming train. By the time the train got stopped good, Lish Carter drove up in an automobile with one light. This was the first automobile that conductor ever saw at night.

We sold our furniture store and it was moved out of town. I went with E. B. Black company in 1914. Just Mr. Black and myself was in the store and our only competition was the mail order houses. I heard Mr. Black say at a Chamber of Commerce banquet that the only way to meet mail order competition was to sell merchandise as cheap as they did and in order to do this it was necessary to know their prices. He said Matt knew the Sears Roebuck catalogue better than he does the Bible and could always tell a customer what the article they were buying would cost them at Sears.

We had the first automobile hearse in this part of the country and I had the first funeral in Amarillo where an automobile hearse was used.

I could tell many interesting things about my funeral experience all of which is too sacred to mention in this column.

Pioneer Study Club Plans For Girlstown

Pioneer Study club held its annual Christmas party and program in the home of Mrs. R. A. Tynes Tuesday afternoon. The entertaining rooms were gay in festive decor. The refreshment table was covered with a green cloth and the punch bowl, encircled with greenery, was filled with red punch and placed at one end of the table. At the opposite table end three jumbo red candles, entwined with greenery, gave candlelight for the setting. A madonna of prayer scene was used on the radio.

Roll call was answered with favored Christmas memories and members observed a period of meditation on "What I want this Christmas to mean".

Mrs. B. E. Roberson and Mrs. Frank Terrell sang "Hark the Herald Angels Sing" and Mrs. O. M. Dickey told the Christmas story "The Shepherd" based on the Scriptural story from the book of Luke. The theme of the story dealt with the thought that some must go and some must stay, but all will be rewarded according to their fulfillment of duty. Christmas carols were sung and reports on the Christmas Share program of the club were heard. No gifts were exchanged this year as has been the custom in the past, instead members provided cheer for others. Packages for Girlstown were brought to the club meeting and Mrs. B. E. Brumley, chairman, reported that she and a committee will deliver the gifts in person next week. The club also sent packages to American soldiers overseas.

Members who heard Mrs. Hiram C. Houghton, General Federation president of Washington D. C. recently in Amarillo, gave reports on her address.

Holiday time refreshments were served to: Mesdames Fred Barrett, B. E. Brumley, H. A. Close, Burl France, N. E. Gass, F. M. Kester, A. L. Manjeot, Ralph McCullough, H. E. Miller, John Patton, Wirt Phillips, B. E. Roberson, Mary Seigler, F. L. Terrell, A. L. Werner, O. M. Dickey and the hostess.

Mrs. Maude Orr is spending a winter vacation in Corpus Christi. She plans to spend the Christmas holidays and several weeks later with her son and his family.
