Growers call for Hightower to quit

Vegetable group cites right-to-know law, other policies in calling for resignation

BY SPEEDY NIEMAN Editor-Publisher

"Profitable Alternatives" was the theme when growers, shippers, port for the beef industry and is scientists and specialists gathered in Hereford on Tuesday for the 1989 West Texas Vegetable Conference.

More than 20 speakers addressed better ways of producing and marketing traditional vegetables and new alternative crops.

During the business session of the High Plains Vegetable Growers & Shippers Council Tuesday afternoon, members approved a resolution calling for the replacement of the state ag commissioner "by an appointed commission, with an appointed, well-informed agriculturist as its executive director."

The resolution drew no discussion and was passed by unanimous voice vote. Wes Fisher of Hereford presented the resolution, which business session Tuesday afternoon. Program topics included research updates on ways to improve the quality and quantity of potatoes, and information on a new vegetable, the Texsprout mungbean.

Other speakers discussed specialty crops, the latest strategies and materials on pest and disease control, fertilization, irrigation, and production of onions, spinach and cucumbers.

Educational and agribusiness exhibits and booths were set up at the Hereford Community Center to give growers a look at new products and materials.

The conference is planned by the Texas A&M Extension Service with the cooperation of the HPVG&SC, the Deaf Smith County Extension Vegetable Program Development Committee, the state extension service and Texas Tech University.

Purpose of the High Plains Vegetable Growers & Shippers is to promote production, distribution, consumption and continued improvement for the membership and

Texas senators back Baker at meeting

WASHINGTON (AP) - Texan James A. Baker III will hold the country's foreign policy in firm hands and strongly guard its national interests, says Sen. Lloyd Bentsen of his former political adversary.

Bentsen, a Democrat, urged the Senate Foreign Relations Committee to give quick confirmation to Baker as secretary of state.

Baker was George Bush's 1988 presidential campaign manager while Bentsen ran as the Democratic nominee for vice president.

As Tuesday's confirmation hearing opened, Bentsen introduced Baker and said he had known him as a "political competitor, as a wise counselor ... and as a personal friend."

After testifying, Bentsen learned that his 95-year-old father, Lloyd Bentsen Sr., had been killed in a traffic accident near his ranch in South

Texas' other senator, Republican Phil Gramm, also introduced Baker and praised his many years of ser-

Bentsen said Baker "combines an intellectual toughness with a personal friendliness" while Gramm said he "combines intellect and common sense."

"I believe that our foreign policy will be in firm hands and that our national interests will be strongly protected if Jim Baker is secretary of state," Bentsen said.

"His family has given our state generations of leadership," Bentsen said, "and now Jim Baker is carrying on that tradition in Washington. His combination of hard work and sound judgment has won respect throughout the executive branch and in the Congress, and amongst what otherwise could be some skeptical journalists, but also, in the international financial communities of the

Bentsen said he wondered how

Baker was "going to pull if off" when he became secretary of treasury under President Reagan, because he "didn't have a long career of experience in financial affairs."

"But I think he did an extraordinarily good job," said Bentsen, chairman of the Senate Finance Committee.

Bentsen said Baker was able to change policy to bring down the value of dollar in 1985, making domestic producers' goods overseas more competitive.

"Jim Baker knows and is known by world leaders," Gramm said. 'There's not a member of Congress that has not worked with him, that has not known him, that has not known that his word is good, that his judgment is sound, and that he is a person who can get things done.

"I have no doubt that Jim Baker will go down as one of the great secretaries of state," Gramm said.

Gunman kills 5 on schoolyard

STOCKTON, Calif. (AP) -Police today were unraveling the steps that turned a young drifter with a long criminal record into a silent killer who opened fire on a schoolyard jammed with laughing children, killing five and wounding 30 before committing

The five slain were children of refugees from Southeast Asia.

"I'm shocked. It's just horrible," said Purdy's grandmother, 63-year-old Julia Chumbley of nearby Lodi. "I don't understand why and I probably won't ever know why. It troubles me to think that such a terrible thing can happen. It's like a nightmare. This sort of thing happens to others, not you. Your own grandson."

Purdy, who most recently listed his grandmother's address as home, began his assault shortly before noon when he parked his station wagon behind the school. The car burst into flames in a fire possibly set as a diversion, said

Then the 5-foot-11, 140-pound killer, clad in camouflaged combat fatigues, a flak jacket and earplugs, entered the campus through a hole in a fence with the semi-automatic and two handguns and walked to several portable classrooms about 250 yards from the main, L-shaped building. "There was mass chaos. There were kids running in every direction."

Purdy, who also was known as Patrick West and Eddie Purdy West, had an "extensive criminal record," said Neely. Many of the crimes were committed in the Los Angeles area and included soliciting for sex and narcotics and weapons violations, Neely said.

As police cleaned up the carnage, a large handgun and the assault rifle were seen lying on the ground near a pool of blood. Written on the pistol's handle was the word "Victory." The letters SSA were printed on the rifle's clip in letters 11/2 inches long.

The assault rifle Purdy used apparently was purchased in Oregon as a semi-automatic in August, authorities said. It is a Soviet design, but Chinese replicas are available in many gun stores for around $300. It is capable of firing about 400 rounds per minute as a semi-automatic.

A semi-automatic rifle can be purchased easily in Oregon, without even the five-day waiting period required for a handgun, if the buyer signs a federal form stating he has never been convicted of a serious crime or indicted, among other requirements, said Bob Imel, a Salem, Ore., gun shop owner.

The torched car was registered to Patrick E. Purdy, who lived with an aunt and uncle from July through October in Sandy, Ore.

"She told me he was a loner and as a child he was an alcoholic,"

Sandy Police Chief Fred Punzel said of his conversation with the aunt, Julie Michael.

Punzel said Michael told him Purdy left Oregon for a job as a boilermaker in Texas. That job fell through and he went to Memphis, Tenn. The aunt and uncle last heard from him at Thanksgiving, when he was in Connecticut, Punzel said.

Purdy's father, Patrick Benjamin Purdy, was a Vietnam veteran who was killed in a traffic accident in September 1981. Purdy's parents married in Stockton: they later were divorced and his mother retained custody.

Incumbent removes challenge and gives lawmaker go-ahead

AUSTIN (AP) - State Rep. Mike Jackson said he's eager to go about his business as a lawmaker, after a challenge to his election was withdrawn by the 16-year incumbent he beat in November by

"I am ready to go. We have a lot of work to do and need to go to work for the constituents in District 129," said Jackson, R-La Porte, after Deer Park Democrat Ed Watson withdrew the challenge Monday.

Watson, 68, told a special House panel appointed to investigate the matter that he had heard a new election would be recommended. He said he didn't want to go through another contest.

"I think we could've won it, but it would've been a nasty, long, drawn-out campaign, and very, very expensive," Watson said. "We could've raised the money, but what I would've had to put myself and my family and my friends and my contributors through, in my opinion, it's not worth it."

The special House committee had the option of recommending to the House that Jackson retain the seat, Watson be seated in his place, or a special election be called.

"I'm glad that he dropped it when he did," said Jackson, 35. "It would've only been more time-consuming and more expensive."

Recount results in the election showed Jackson beating Watson 13,009-13,002. Watson had contended there were discrepancies in vote-counting and that he should have won. Jackson had said he won fairly.

Watson asked that the special panel refer to the House Elections Committee some information discovered during an election investigation. He said 105 voters swore they were registered, but they Jackson said voter registration questions often occur in elections. For example, people who move from one precinct to another may neglect to re-register, he said.

Rep. Jim Parker, D-Comanche and special committee chairman, said he probably would not formally refer the matter to the Elections Committee. Parker said he planned to ask the committee, the attorney general's election division and the secretary of state to unofficially look at whether the affidavit procedure for voters should be

House Speaker Gib Lewis, who dismissed the special committee after Watson's action, said, "While I recognize this has been a difficult decision for him and his family, Ed has my deep respect for his service and the many contributions he has made to this state."

"I hope Mr. Jackson the best in his endeavor. I think when he gets his first paycheck from the state, he's going to wonder, 'Why in the heck did I do this in the first place?" Watson said. Lawmakers earn $600 a month.

Atom smasher site to be final; senators still challenge decision bid for the billion-dollar super collider still hopes Congress will send the Energy Department's decision to build the atom smasher in Texas "back to the drawing board."

Despite the some of the losers' bitter complaints and calls for an investigation, however, Energy Secretary John Herrington was prepared to make the Texas site final today, officials said.

Herrington was scheduled this afternoon to sign a "record of decision," a formal document making it official that the super collider, a 53-mile underground tunnel, would be built around the city of Waxahachie, officials said. Herrington was to meet with senior agency managers before making his announcing his final decision, energy departmetn spokesman Jeff Sherwood said.

A howl of protest went up from officials in some of the six other finalist states when Herrington declared Nov. 10 that Texas was the "preferred site" for the $5.9 billion physics project.

DeConcini spokesman Bob Maynes said the report was expected sometime in February.

"We knew realistically our best hope for evaluating the DOE decision was by Congress and not the administration. Our best hope for a check on the process lies in the GAO report and action by Congress to send the decision back to the drawing board," said Simon spokesman David Carle.

Herrington's decision to make the Ellis County site official had to wait 30 days following release of the DOE's final environmental impact statement for the seven finalist states. Completion of that statement

hinged on the choice of a preferred

The period between preferred and final site selection allowed DOE officials time to recheck "all the numbers, all the figures and all the criteria ... and to reaffirm the decision in the face of a lot of criticism from the sore losers that they're going ahead with the Texas site," said one Texas congressional official.

Senators from some of the losing states charged the DOE's decision was based on politics over merit.

Congress must still authorize construction of the super collider and Texans are predicting a tough battle over funding this year.

Last year, Congress agreed to spend $100 million on the SSC, but decreed no money could be spent on construction.

Herd breaks streak with 62-58 win

By JOHN BROOKS Managing Editor

while the Hereford girls' basketball team played the socks off No. 2-ranked The Hereford Whitefaces broke a Levelland in a District 1-4A doublethree-game losing streak Tuesday night header at Whiteface Gym.

built a five-point lead, 47-42, with 6:15 to play in the third period before

The boys, now 7-11 on the season, Levelland came back to lead by as final two minutes against the Lobos and a Keith Brown steal led to eight Hereford points down the stretch to give the Whitefaces the win.

"It feels good to win, and it was a good win for the kids," said Hereford boys' coach Mike Fields. "The players have all been hanging in and we were due to win a close one.

"We made the plays we needed to make at the end, and luck played a part in it, too. It was our turn to win, and we did what we had to do."
What the Whitefaces did in the first half was get the ball to red-hot Clint Cotten, who scored 22 of his gameleading 28 points in the first half.

"We did a great job getting the ball to Clint," Fields said. "He shot the ball well, and the other players set screens for him to get open and got the ball to Hereford trailed by one, 40-39 at halftime, before going on an 8-3 run in the first 1:45 of the second half to go up 47-42. In the next 1:30, Levelland went on a 7-0 spurt to retake the lead, 49-47.

The teams see-sawed the rest of the quarter, but Hereford went without a field goal from 1:41 in the third quarter (a jumper by Jason Scott) until 1:49 was left to play when Cotten scored his last field goal to close Levelland's lead to 58-56.

With 1:17 left, Brad Smith, who had 15 points, tied the score with a layin off an offensive rebound, then Scott. after Brown's steal near midcourt, put Hereford ahead with 18 seconds left.

Levelland was whistled for its thirdstraight charge with four seconds left, and Scott hit two free throws to ice the

"We played as good on defense as we've played the last three or four weeks, and the team was more relaxed tonight that it's been in a while," Fields said. "We didn't take any different shots than what we've been taking, but they feel in for us tonight.

"If we shoot 50 percent every night (Hereford was 25-of-49 on Tuesday) we can play with anybody in the Stuart Mitts (30) of the Hereford boys' basketball team drives for a layup against a Levelland district.'

In the girls' game, the Lady Whitefaces used a patient, patterned offense, using 30-40 seconds on each many as four, 58-54 with 3:02 to play possession to pass the ball around in the game.

However, three charging calls in the Levelland never had a lead of more than four points in the first half and, 12-8 in the first period, before Hereford came back in the second period to claim a 19-18 halftime lead.

Hereford's last lead came with 6:55 to go in the third quarter on a basket by Cande Robbins. Levelland then built a five-point lead, 30-25, by the end of the quarter.

Hereford closed to within one, 30-

29, with 6:10 to go after two baskets by Stacy White, but Hereford couldn't muster another basket the rest of the game as Levelland took the nine-point

"I'm proud of our kids," said Hereford girls' coach Frank Belcher. "The difference in the game is that we didn't shoot as well as they did, but we met our defensive goal (hold the opponent to less than 40 points) and had our chances to win. That's all you can ask for.

"It was a great effort by the entire team. Everyone scrapped, everyone hustled, everyone got after it. Everyone did what they had to do."

Belcher said one Levelland advantage was "the officials let them kind of fly in there on us on their basket, let them get some offensive rebounds they probably shouldn't have gotten. It wasn't a poorly-called game, it was just pretty liberal, but I guess it was liberal both ways, so that's okay.

"The best part is we made them squirm and sweat it out. I feel good about our kids being able to play like this. When you play the socks off a team like Levelland, you have to feel good about the program and good about the kids."

Levelland took both junior varsity contests, winning the JV girls game 44-32 and taking a 50-46 win in the JV boys contest.

On Friday, Hereford travels to Frenship.

"We'll need the same kind of intensity and respect for Frenship that we had for Levelland," said Belcher. "Rosie Llanes is one of the best guards in the district, and it's a little tough to play in their gym."

"I think I'll turn about half o lights off when we practice for Frenship," said Fields. "It's pretty dark down there in their gym.

"Frenship is playing pretty good right now. They beat Estacado the other night, and stayed close to Pampa all the way. We're going to savor this all the way. We're going to savor th win for a while, but we have to get read for another tough game on Friday."

Bell gets ready to score

Susan Bell, 4, of the Hereford girls' basketball team, pulls up in the lane to shoot a short jumper in Tuesday's game against Levelland at Whiteface gym. Bell had seven points and helped direct a patient Hereford attack as the Lady Whitefaces played the state's No. 2 team even for three quarters before losing, 38-29.

Super Bowl means much, but no respect

MIAMI (AP) - The Super Bowl seven games. The defense, which ed together in the playoffs," said might be about a lot of things fame, fortune, television ratings. Respect shouldn't be one of them.

By the time an NFL team has gone through six months of training, practicing and playing, winning enough to become conference champions, how can it not feel respected? Even revered?

Members of the defensive units of the Cincinnati Bengals and San Francisco 49ers can get, well, downright defensive about the issue. Respect? That's something the offenses get. Not us.

"There's no doubt the defense gets overlooked," Pro Bowl nose tackle Michael Carter said Tuesday as the full complement of 49ers met the mass of media for the first time. "In our conference, the Chicago Bears and Minnesota have the killer defenses. And our offense gets the publicity. People don't focus on us.

"We use it as a motivating factor. Nobody is talking about us shutting down other teams. All we hear is how our offense blows away people."

The 49ers' offense can do exactly that, scoring 196 points in the last also sends safety Ronnie Lott and linebacker Charles Haley to the Pro Bowl, hasn't taken a subordinate role, however. It has allowed 101 points in that span, including just 12 in two playoff contests.

"We do mention it to each other. We talk about going out and shutting down the other team's offense and showing just what we can do."

What the 49ers could do was rank third in the league, behind those more acclaimed defenses in Chicago and Minnesota. In the playoffs, the Niners tore down those supposedly immovable barriers to the tune of 778 yards. Jerry Rice, who is questionable after re-injuring his right ankle in practice Monday, has been the main weapon with 10 receptions for 194 yards and five scores.

Meanwhile, the defense was yielding 529 yards, many after the games were decided, and constantly pressuring quarterbacks Wade Wilson of Minnesota and Jim McMahon of Chicago.

"Our offense has been scoring points just when our defense has been stopping people, and it happenHaley, who led the 49ers with 11½ sacks. "Before the Washington game, when we were 6-5, we said we had to stop fooling ourselves and stop just showing up on Sundays and waiting for something good to hap-pen. We were just hanging in and hanging in and hoping to get the Cincinnati's defense didn't make much happen before the postseason. The Bengals ranked 15th overall and just 18th against the run.

But in victories over Seattle and Buffalo to get here, the Bengals became man-eaters, holding Seattle to 18 yards rushing and Buffalo to 45. They allowed 23 points. They dominated both games.

"This year, there has not been a game where a team has come up with the big offensive play and beat us," said safety David Fulcher, who will join nose tackle Tim Krumrie as the only Cincinnati defenders in the Pro Bowl. "Our defense has come up with the big plays and we've won.

"Still, our defense does not get the respect it deserves."

Williams had to miss council

MIAMI (AP) - The weekly meeting of the Cincinnati city council was to convene with at least one prominent member missing. Freshman councilman Reggie Williams figures he has a good excuse, though: the Super Bowl.

The legislator is a linebacker and the Bengals' bid for the NFL championship is his top priority this week. So the business of city government had to get along without Councilman Williams for the time being.

"We're in budget hearings now," he said when asked what he would miss today. "It's a time when we are allocating funds to meet the needs of the citizens we serve. There are so many needs not being addressed. Creative alternatives need to be ad-

At the moment, however, Williams must address Joe Montana, Jerry Rice, Roger Craig and the rest of the San Francisco offense. He is concerned that his football obligations suggest a lack of interest in his civic responsibilities.

4'I get some flack whenever I have to miss a meeting," Williams said.
"They are concerned by my absence and my sincerity. I'm not apologizing. I wish I could be at two places at the same time."

There was a time that he just about managed that difficult trick.

The council was considering a gun ordinance issue the same week as the Bengals were preparing for an important conference game. Williams, thinking the success of the team might carry some clout, petitioned for a change in the meeting time so he could practice. The request was denied or, as the linebacker termed it, "shot down." The Bengals solved the problem for him.

"(Coach) Sam Wyche changed the practice time so I could go and vote on the issue," Williams said. "The team has helped Reggie Williams be a better councilman.'

The linebacker is proud of his attendance record. Today's meeting will be only the fourth he's missed of 30 since he was appointed last June 22 to fill the remaining term of councilman Arn Bortz.

It was a casual conversation with Bortz at a meeting of the Cincinnati Visitors and Convention Bureau that led Williams into politics.

"He was serving his fifth straight term," Williams said. "We were coming off a disappointing 4-11 season. Basically, I was taking it out on him, telling him all the things was were wrong. He listened and we debated.

"Shortly afterward, he called and told me he was thinking of stepping down and asked if I was interested in being appointed."

Williams considered the implications of such a move and talked it over with his family and team officials. The Bengals encouraged him, largely because of his record of civic contributions during his 13-year career. "They felt I could do it, and five months later, after looking at all the pros and cons, I accepted the appointment," he said.

"Because I was appointed, I haven't had to beg for votes. That's one of the more unsavory aspects of politics. I would not accept PAC (political action committee) funds or special interest money. That would impact on the integrity the public demands of its officials. It is a circumstance of my survival in the political arena."

The juggling of athletic and political responsibility is difficult.

"There are days I regret it, times I feel like my head is on a swivel. So much is demanded of you. There are team issues to deal with and legislative issues to deal with. It is a challenge that encourages an all-out effort every day."

Williams will stand for re-election with the rest of the nine-member council next November.

LOS ANGELES (AP) - Music sensation Michael Jackson will receive a special American Music Awards tribute this month to acknowledge the international impact of his "Bad" album.

The American Music Award of Achievement trophy will be presented to the entertainer Jan. 30 during ceremonies televised nationwide by ABC-TV.

The trophy honors Jackson "because his album 'Bad' is the first ever to contain five No. 1 singles, and in recognition of its international impact in becoming 1988's best-selling album in the world," the organizers said in a statement Monday.

Jackson, who already has received 13 American Music Awards, is also a double nominee this year - for male vocalist in the pop-rock and soulrhythm and blues categories.

International sales for "Bad" have reached 20 million. The album's five singles reaching the No. 1 position were "Dirty Diana," "Man in the Mirror," "The Way You Make Me Feel," "I Just Can't Stop Loving You" and "Bad." A sixth single, "Smooth Criminal," is in the Top 10.

Area residents interested in congratulating Harper should make reservations for the event by calling the "TEXAS" office in Canyon at (806)655-2181 or write 'TEXAS' P.O. Box 268, Canyon, Tx. 79015.

The Texas Womens' Hall of Fame was established in 1984 by the Governor's Commission for Women to honor outstanding women in Texas and to provide visible examples for tomorrow's Harper was the first to envision the outdoor musical drama and its producer, The Texas Panhandle Heritage Foundation.

Returning to Canyon from Peru, Harper and her husband Ples along with Margaret and Dr. Bill Moore saw a need to capture the area history and to boost the economic climate.

After reading about outdoor dramas by Pultizer Prize winning author Paul Green in the Reader's Digest, Harper wrote the famous letter that intrigued Paul Green to visit Palo Duro Canyon and write the musical drama.

Harper sees herself as a catalyst who dared to dream, but credits the people of the 40 Panhandle counties with the work. What has emerged is one of the most successful outdoor dramas in the world with two million in attendance since the first performance in 1966.

Other honors and accomplishments of Harper include: recognition by the National Cowboy Hall of Fame in Oklahoma City and the National Cowgirl Hall of Fame in Hereford, inclusion in Who's Who in American Women and the International Encyclopedia of Music, the Governor's Award for the Advancement of Tourism, Vice President of the Texas Tourist Council, Cultural Award from the West Texas Chamber of Commerce.

Harper was a Beta Sigma Phi International Honoree, Citizen of the Year in Amarillo and Canyon, inducted into the Distinguished Women's Hall of Fame at West Texas State University, a 1985 Golden Nail Award winner in Amarillo and recipient of the AAUW Distinguished Service Award--Texas Division in 1988.

Jim Donaldson and Pat Michaels, from left, have been working on their musical performance slated for Friday at 7:30 p.m. at St. Anthony's Catholic Church library. The men will participate in the Week of Prayer for Christian Unity service that will be led by laity including Jonny Cloud and Eric Alexander. The annual world-wide observance of the Week of Prayer begins today and continues through Jan. 25 under the theme "Building Community: One Body in Christ." In addition to attending the Friday service, local residents are also invited to attend Sunday's service set at 7:30 p.m. in the Church of the Nazarene. This week-long session of prayer has been held in Hereford for the past 15-20 years.

Names In The News

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) - Actor Karl Malden says he hurt his Yugoslav immigrant parents when he changed his name from Mladen Sekulovich, and his efforts to put the family name into his work haven't always helped, either.

"I think I hurt my folks when I dropped 'Sekulovich," he said. "They were proud people. And if you've noticed in my films and TV series in the past eight years, you'll know that somehow I've worked in the name 'Sekulovich.''

Malden has appeared in films such as "On the Waterfront" and "Patton," and in the TV series "Streets of San Francisco."

"I couldn't figure how to get it in in cells with each prisoner's name above the door. I had them put 'Sekulovich' on one. My father called me up and said indignantly, 'Son, no Sekulovich was ever in prison!""

Malden, who is teaching acting classes at Vanderbilt University for two weeks, took the name Karl from his maternal grandfather and came up with Malden by rearranging "Mladen."

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) - Country music singer Randy Travis avoided serious injury when he ran his car into a ditch in trying to avoid another car, police and his publicist

Travis, 29, was shaken up in Tuesday's accident in rural Cheatham County, west of Nashville, but he wasn't seriously hurt, publicist

Evelyn Shriver said. His manager, Lib Hatcher, was with Travis and also was shaken up, Shriver said.

The pair were traveling to a high school to promote a new booklet on teen-age problems called the Youth Yellow Pages.

TORONTO (AP) - Songwriter Arnold Lanni had few expectations when his band Sheriff broke up in 1985, so he was surprised when their song "When I'm With You" suddenly reached the Top 10.

"It's an exaggerated case of going into your closet, going through an old suit and finding some money in it," Lanni said. "All of a sudden my past is paying dividends."

The song was a modest success in Canada while Sheriff was performing but failed in the United States before its recent revival.

Lanni and another Sheriff member, Wolf Hassel, formed the duo Frozen Ghost after the breakup. Two other Sheriff members, lead singer Fred Curci and guitarist Steve DeMarchi, have been working as couriers in Toronto.

NASHVILLE, Tenn. (AP) - The Statler Brothers, the country music quartet, resume performing in Florida this weekend after a sixweek break but have decided not to compete against the Super Bowl.

"We've learned there are certain dates when you shouldn't schedule anything," Statler member Don Reid said Tuesday from his office in Staunton, Va. "They are Christmas, Thanksgiving, Halloween night and Super Bowl Sunday."

The group, whose hits include "Flowers on the Wall" and "Maple Street Memories," has scheduled concerts in Jacksonville and West Palm Beach, Fla., but will rest on Sunday when San Francisco plays Cincinnati in the Super Bowl in Miami.

ST. PAUL, Minn. (AP) -Astronaut George "Pinky" Nelson told students in his native Minnesota he would gladly trade places with them for the chance to "experience what's going to happen in your lifetime."

Nelson, who was aboard last fall's Discovery mission tha Americans to space for the first time after the Challenger disaster, joined NASA flight director Michele Brekke in speaking to students as part of NASA-Minnesota Business Day at the Capitol.

"If you would like to trade places with me - I've done a lot of fun things in my life so far and I plan on doing a lot more - I will be glad to trade places with you, no questions asked, just for the chance to be able to experience what's going to happen in your lifetime," Nelson said.

In response to questions, Nelson said it "is a great feeling" to walk in space and that the earth "looks mostly blue (from the water), white (from the clouds) and the ground looks mostly brown" when viewed

Abundant Life

SAD SHORT-CUTS By Bob Wear

Much of the loss of human energy, the waste of precious time, and general disappointment are caused by the unwise practice of leaving well-established ways and turning to enticing, but 'sad shortcuts'. There may be workable shortcuts to some places; however, there are destinations and accomplishments to which there are no workable short-cuts.

Looking for short-cuts has become a common practice, and there is a growing notion that there are short-cuts to everything, to all destinations and all attainments. The truth is that many of the more important endeavors cannot be speeded up by short-cuts, or in any other manner. Our foolish efforts to do so only produce frustrations and failures. Surely we are able to see that there are no satisfactory shortcuts to the more worthwhile human accomplishments.

There are no short-cuts to character development; personality improvement; business and professional success; satisfactory human associations; to the development of wholesome self-esteem; to happy marriages; or to successful family life.It has been said that most shortcuts are 'blind alleys', and some are 'dead-end streets'; and from some of these there is no satisfactory

The long, and seemingly slow way is the only way to the desired accomplishments in many areas of the life experience. We must be patient, and we must continue diligently in the tried and true way in order to move toward worthwhile goals. This, of course, does not exclude justified improvements. "There is no great achievement that is not the result of patient working and waiting"-J.G. Holland

There are right times for many of the human experiences, and any kind of acceleration, short-cuts or otherwise, will spoil the experience.

Governor's race may attract Ann Richards

AUSTIN (AP) - Texas Treasurer Ann Richards and Attorney General Jim Mattox have each raised more than $1 million for a possible run for the Democratic gubernatorial nomination in 1990, campaign finance statements have revealed.

Ms. Richards, who gained national attention as keynote speaker at the Democratic National Convention last July, Tuesday reported raising $1.8 million.

She also reported spending $1.1 million from July through Dec. 31, 1988. and Mattox raised a total of $1.75 in 1988.

The figures released by Mattox indicate that includes $630,239 during the first six months of 1988 and $1.16 million during the last six months. During the last six months of 1988, he reported spending $272,403. The attorney general reported he has $3.25 million in the bank for his expected bid for governor, while a spokeswoman for Ms.Richards said

There was no answer at the comptroller's office late Tuesday. Both Bullock and a spokesman have unlisted telephone numbers.

Earlier, Bullock said he had borrowed no money and has about $1.3 million in the bank for the race.

Bullock and Edwards, both Democrats, are running to succeed retiring Lt. Gov. Bill Hobby, who will leave the post he has held since 1973. Bullock announced for the office in September 1987. Bullock's report showed $1.1 million raised between July 1 and Dec. 31, 1988, with the other $500,000 having been raised between Sept. 13, 1987 and June 30, 1988. Edwards reported having about $559,000 in cash on hand. His report showed he raised $386,000 between July 1 and Dec. 31, 1988 with the other funds raised between October, 1987 and June 30, 1988.

Flag-waving to give Bush a workout

WASHINGTON (AP) - Should he be hoisted by his own petard, George Herbert Walker Bush will begin his presidency with one of the sorest arms in history.

About 35,000 little American flags will be distributed to spectators at his inaugural Friday.

Can the man who espoused the pledge of allegiance to the flag with religious fervor in the last campaign get by with just an occasional salute? With all those flags, just a token movement of the arm toward the heart could leave Bush with the sorest arm since Sandy Koufax quit

The marching band from the University of Texas alone could wear out the new president. Its 320 marchers will carry 30 flags along with 60 trumpets, 40 trombones, 20 baritones, 24 tubas, 26 percussion, 36 clarinet, 30 french horns, 25 saxophones and 24 piccolos.

The statistics come courtesy of the inaugural committee, which produced a handbook of breathtaking scope. It tells far more than you could possibly want to know about inaugurals in compelling detail. For

Married 44 years, George and Bare bara Bush bring the ninth longest marriage to the White House. John and Abigail Adams were married the longest, 54 years and three days. But Bush is the only president born in June.

Bush will rank with the four tallest presidents in history, behind Abe Lincoln, Lyndon Johnson and Thomas Jefferson. He also will enter history books as one of four lefthanded presidents, the others being James Garfield, Harry Truman and Gerald Ford.

Bush is 31st among college graduates who made it to the White House, 12th among Phi Beta Kappa boys, second among Yale men.

STATEMENT OF NON-DISCRIMINATION JANUARY 23, 1989

West Texas Rural Telephone Cooperative, Inc., has filed with the Federal Government a Compliance Assurance in which it assures the Rural Electrification Administration that it will comply fully with all requirements of Title VI of the Civil Rights Act of 1964 and the Rules and Regulations of the Department of Agriculture issued thereunder, to the end that no person in the United States shall, on the ground of race, color, or national origin, be excluded from participation in, be denied the benefits of, or be otherwise subjected to discrimination in the conduct of its program and the operation of its facilities.

Under the Assurance, this organization is committed not to discriminate against any person on the ground of race, color, or national origin in its policies and practices relating to applications for service or any other policies and practices relating to treatment of beneficiaries and participants including rates, conditions and extension of service, use of any of its facilities, attendance at and participation in any meeting of beneficiaries and participants, and the exercise of any rights of such beneficiaries and participants in the conduct of the operations of this organization.

Any person who believes himself, or any specific class of individuals to be subjected by the organization to discrimina-tion prohibited by Title VI of the Act and Rules and Regulations issued thereunder may, by himself or a representative file with the Secretary of Agriculture, Washington, D.C. 20250, or the Rural Electrification Administration, Washington, D.C. 20250, or this organization, or all, a written complaint. Such complaint must be filed not later than 90 days after the alleged discrimination, or by such later date to which the Secretary of Agriculture or the Rural Electrification Administration extends the time for filing. Identity of complaints will be kept confidential except to the extent necessary to carry out the purposes of the Rules and Regulations. WEST TEXAS RURAL TELEPHONE

Let us show you a Texas you've never seen before.

- All 172 pages in full color
- Each page measures a large 15 × 11 inches
- Presents the entire state in stunning detail
- · Appendices and specialty maps of many different features

THE ROADS OF TEXAS is the culmination of a mammoth project that has involved many individuals for over two years. When you get your copy of THE ROADS OF TEXAS you'll wonder how you ever traveled the state without it.

This 172 page atlas contains maps that show the complete Texas road system (all 284,000 miles) plus just about every city and community! Texas A&M University Cartographics Laboratory staff members produced the maps, based on county maps from the State Department of Highways and Public Transportation. The details shown are amazing—county and local roads, lakes, reservoirs, streams, dams, historic sites, pumping stations, golf courses, cemeteries, mines and many other features too numerous to list.

Become one of the first in our community to own a copy of this magnificent atlas.
