Asks Accounting In Operations Of Lettuce Deal

A suit for accounting of a lettuce operation in Deaf Smith county during the 1951 season was filed in district court on August 15 by Carl Reich of Salinas, Calif., against Ralph Price and Ralph J. Smith.

In the petition, Reich alleges that he was -- for a sum of $5,000 -- to share in one-third of the profits of a lettuce growing and processing deal on approximately 240 acres of lettuce in Deaf Smith county for the 1951 season.

He charges that the profits reflected in a profit and loss statement prepared for the defendants does not reflect the true net profit of the operation for the 1951 season.

Reich also charges that certain items of expense were incorrectly listed in the profit statement prepared for him. The net profit listed by the statement given Reich for the season shows a net profit of $24,851.97. Reich's one-third of this would amount to $8,283.92.

Reich charges in his petition that the actual net profit should have been $22,509.57 more than the statement showed as of the close of business on December 29, 1951.

The plaintiff alleges that he is therefore entitled to $7,503.19 of this $22,509.57 in addition to $1,390.77 he charges is still due him from the net profit shown on the original profit and loss statement.

Reich asks for an accounting of the firm's operations for the 1951 season and also for $9,243.96 he alleges to be his full share of the net profit, including $350 expenses for a business trip for the concern.

John D. Aikin is Reich's attorney.

Files Suit For $35,000 Damages

A suit for $35,000 in damages resulting from an auto accident in Hereford on March 10, 1952, was filed in district court Saturday morning by A. J. Walker against Robert Hickman.

Both Walker and Hickman are Deaf Smith county residents. The petition filed by Walker alleged that the accident occurred "on Highway 66 within the city limits of Hereford."

Walker charges negligence on the part of Hickman, whose auto hit the Walker vehicle from behind, causing injuries to the plaintiff that, he charges, resulted in the loss of his earning power of approximately $300 per month.

Walker asks $35,000 and costs.

Mrs. Merlin Kaul, Walter and Larry, left Friday for Kansas City and Hiawatha, Kans., where they will visit relatives. Hiawatha is the former home of Mrs. Kaul. They plan to return to Hereford the last week of August.

LARRY KUPER, 20-month-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Henry Kuper of Summerfield is a lot more cheerful these days than most grown ups would be if they had to undergo the same suffering and inconvenience. Little Larry broke his left leg just below the hip last Monday when he fell off a five-foot iron gate on his parents' farm. The foot was to have both feet suspended in the air for about two or perhaps three weeks. His mother and hospital attendants are amazed at his display of good nature in the face of his unfortunate accident. When The Brand photographer took this picture of Larry, he thought of how nice it would be for Larry -- to help him while away the lonely hours -- if all readers of The Brand would send the little boy a card to cheer him up. He'll get mail if readers address it to him at Room 6, Deaf Smith county hospital. We'd like to get another picture of Larry next week amid a flood of get-well cards from his friends and neighbors in and around Deaf Smith county. How about it? Staff Photo.

Role Of City Manager Home Rule Charter Told

(Ed. Note—This is the second in a series of four articles being prepared to explain the differences between the city's proposed Home Rule charter and the current form of local government under the General Laws of Texas. This installment deals with the city manager, who will be the administrative officer of the city—subject to the control of the city commission—under the proposed Home Rule charter.)

An election on this charter will be held in Hereford on Saturday, Sept. 6.

Q. What are the reasons for creating the office of city manager?

A. In the past few years, the City of Hereford has increased in population and in taxable valuation to the extent that there is now employed an average of 31 persons by the city with a taxable valuation of approximately $7,500,000.00 and with an annual income from ad valorem and other sources of approximately $225,000.00. There is a definite need for the full time employment of a qualified person to manage the affairs of the city and to remove the burden of such management from the mayor and the city commission.

Q. How will the city manager be selected and what will be his qualifications?

A. The city manager is to be selected by the city commission. He will be selected on the basis of his executive and administrative qualifications with special attention being given to his actual experience in, or his knowledge of the administration of city affairs. At the time of his selection, he need not be a citizen of Hereford, but while serving as city manager, he must reside in the city limits of Hereford. His duties will be as Executive officer and head of all the departments of the city and to carry out the policies formed by the city commission. He must prepare, annually, the budget of the city and to see that all provisions of the budget are carefully carried out. He must prepare and submit to the city commission a report on the finances, the income and the expenditures and must keep the city commission fully advised as to the financial condition of the city. He will be the ex-officio judge of the corporation court.

He will be the purchasing agent of the city and must approve all purchases. The purchasing agent of the city will be fully explained under another question.

Q. Can the city manager be removed?

A. The city manager can be removed at any time by the direction of the city commission.

Q. Will the city manager be bonded?

A. The city manager will be required to enter into a bond in an amount to be fixed by the city commission. The city commission will pay the premiums on all bonds required by all officers.

Q. What amount of salary will the city manager be paid?

A. The amount of salary to be paid to the city manager will be determined by the city commission. The statistics compiled by the Texas League of Municipalities reports that the average pay of a city manager, in cities of the class of Hereford, is approximately $6,500 per year.

Q. Will the taxes be raised by reason of the additional salary of the city manager?

A. The employment of a city manager will not increase the tax rate or the taxes. It is estimated that at least one-half of the salary to be paid to a city manager can be saved by creating him as a purchasing agent for the city.

Q. What powers will the City of Hereford have in the regulation of public utilities and the control of its streets and highways?

A. The right of all public utilities to operate in the City of Hereford and the right to use its streets and alleys are declared to be reserved by the citizens of Hereford, subject to the ordinances which may be passed by the city commission. The city shall have the right to control the rates to be charged by any public utility and shall have the right to prescribe the quality and efficiency of the service to be rendered by all public utilities to the citizens of Hereford. The right of utility companies to use the streets and alleys is granted to them by franchise or lease and the charter provides that no franchise shall be granted for a long-

Set Bloodmobile Meet August 28

A county-wide meeting for all volunteer workers and chairmen for the visit of the American Red Cross Bloodmobile in Hereford will be held in the Hotel Jim Hill ballroom on August 28 at 7:30 p. m. T. E. Seigler, general chairman for the Bloodmobile project, announced today.

Preliminary plans for the visit were cemented at a meeting held in the Red Cross office Friday afternoon. Committee chairmen were named and the August 28 meeting -- which will be led by Henry Claase, Blood-mobile field representative -- was planned.

Here October 1

Date for the Bloodmobile's visit in Hereford, Seigler said, will be on Wednesday, Oct. 1 between the hours of 10 a. m. and 4 p. m. in the educational building of the First Baptist church.

Goal from the county is 150 pints of blood. Seigler said a donor list of many more would be needed to assure having 150 pints of blood. Capacity for the Bloodmobile during its six-hour stop here would be 200 pints, he explained.

The sign-up of donors will follow an intensive campaign and program of recruitment in the city and county. People will be contacted in much the same way as they would be for a fund drive.

Mrs. Rosa Cowart is chairman of the donor recruitment program, the general chairman said. The contact recruitment will be supplemented by the stationing of donor sign-up booths in the postoffice and both Hereford banks.

Various committee chairmen will be responsible for integrating their activities into the overall plan to recruit the needed donors or more, Seigler explained.

Canvassing for donors will be made in the residential, business, industrial and rural areas.

Chairman for the various committees to handle the Bloodmobile recruitment, operation and arrangements are:

T. E. Seigler, general chairman; Bob Wear, publicity; Dr. R. R. Wills, medical advisory, assisted by staff members of the Hereford clinic; Mrs. Cowart, donor recruitment.

Mrs. Homer Brumley, donor scheduling; Francis Hardwick, business area; Don Zimmerman, industrial; Mrs. Urin Streu, residential; Mrs. Lois Ddson, women's clubs; Mrs. Argen Draper, Home Demonstration clubs; Mrs. Paul Rudd, civil defense chairman for rural clubs; Dr. H. A. Cavness, Lions, Rotary, Jaycees and Kiwanis; Purris Williams, special groups; Bob Lawrence, churches; Ben Childers, veterans organizations and lodges.

Mrs. F. C. Glendenning will be registration chairman and all groups will be assisted by members of the American Legion Auxiliary.

Autos Through Testing Lanes At 500 Weekly

Vehicle inspections in Deaf Smith county have been gaining momentum rapidly in the face of the September 6 deadline, Jim Riddles of Lubbock, who is in charge of inspections in this area, told The Brand this week.

To date, 2800 of the county's 5500 registered vehicles have been OK'd. Rate of inspections in the county's 10 stations is about 500 per week.

To make the deadline with all vehicles inspected, Riddle said, it would be necessary to inspect 800 each of the last three weeks before the zero hour.

The county was expected to have 3000 inspected by Saturday night, he estimated. Riddles told of one inspection station that hopes to hit a peak daily load of 40 vehicles. This station, however, has four men who do nothing but inspect autos.

"The people of the county can avoid the rush if they will get their autos to one of the 10 inspection stations now," he commented. He praised both the motorists and the garages for their conscientious compliance with the new statute. "We have very conscientious mechanics in Hereford."

Some of the stations have expressed a willingness to stay open later in the day if necessary to meet the county's full 5500 vehicle inspection quota.

Pleads Guilty On Check Count

W. L. (Lagran) Driver pled guilty in absentia on August 12 to a charge of swindling with a worthless check filed against him in Deaf Smith county court on August 6.

Driver, in Lubbock, authorized Sheriff J. C. Reese to enter the plea for him. Driver was fined $10 and costs of $28.30 by County Judge Leonard H. Foster, and was ordered to make restitution of the checks issued by him.

The complaint was signed by Rex Lee, who was given a worthless $30 check by Driver on May 10.

Test This Fall For Peach Crop

Hereford will soon see the revival -- in a big way -- of peach-growing in this irrigation area if Ed R. May of Amarillo has his way.

May is the man who claims the title of the first commercial spud grower in this area when he planted 20 acres of Idaho Russets 13 years ago.

His yield at that time was 6,000 bags of spuds, which sold on the market for 55 cents a bag, a long cry from the $4 and $4.50 of today's Hereford spud market. Even then, only 3,000 bags of the 6,000 bag yield were merchantable.

"Secret Variety"

But back to May and his peaches. The portly gentleman is a manufacturer of a soil builder and has been experimenting on his farm near Amarillo with a new variety of peach that licks the two former enemies of Panhandle peaches -- the terrific wind and late freeze. The hybrids grow without a stem protruding past the peach itself so that the high winds cannot twist the fruit off the tree.

To prove his point, May brought some of his new peaches in along with some conventional grown.

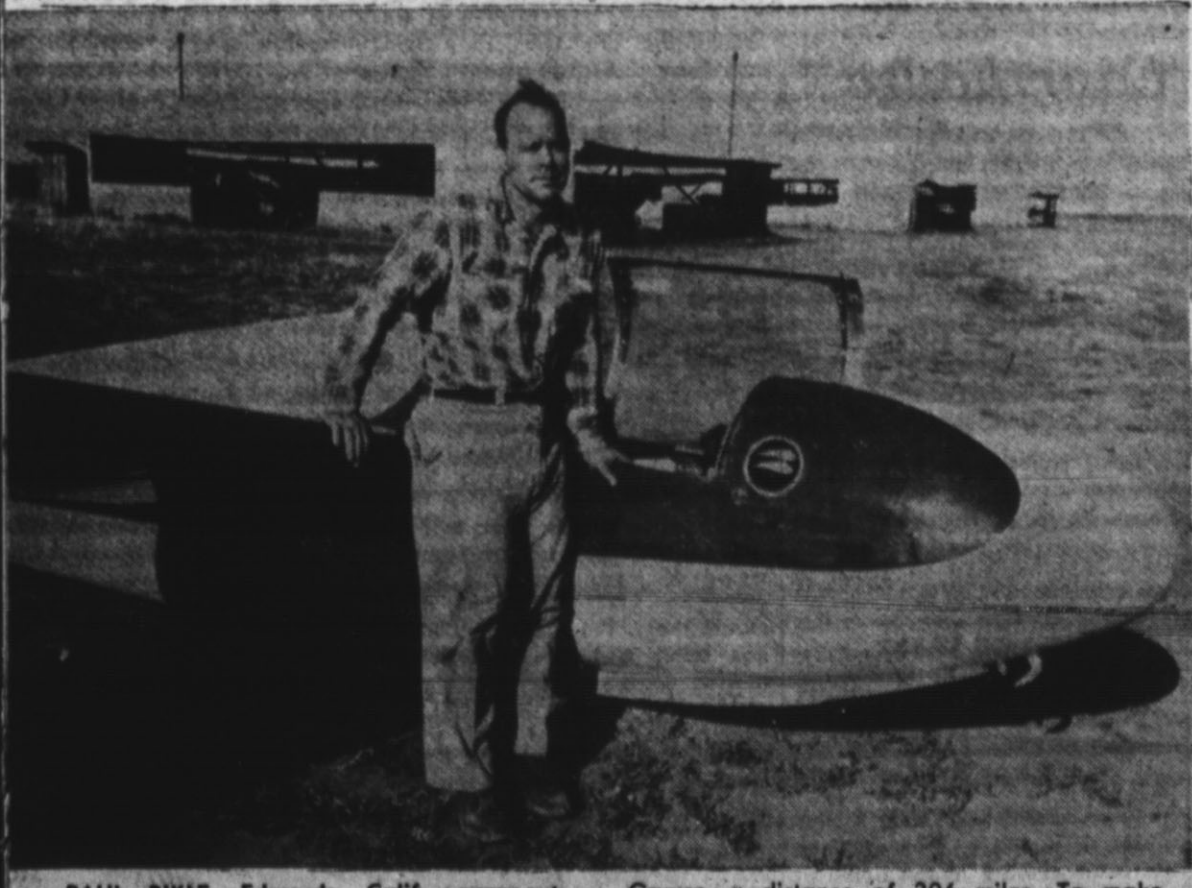

Fall Experiment
 He has a farm 10 miles south of Hereford on the Dimmitt highway on which he has grown wheat and which will be planted to about 20 acres of peaches this year.

If the peaches go as well as May anticipates, the experiment and the new variety will induce fruit growers to come into this area. "That should raise the value of land in the Hereford district by $100 per acre overnight," May optimistically avers.

On the experimental peach trees on his farm near Amarillo, the yield was so heavy he had to prop the trees up. One of the giants he brought into The Brand office weighed a half pound.

May's experiment will start this fall. His biggest problem is to divorce peach-growing in the Panhandle from the gait set by the California crop. With his new "secret variety" he hopes to achieve this.

With the same kind of pioneering on peaches that he began with spuds, this experiment might well add another million-dollar member to the Hereford district's growing list of cash crops.

PAUL BIKIE, Edwards, Calif., aeronautical engineer, is shown beside his sailplane which he soared from Odessa last Wednesday in an attempt at a long-distance mark. The sailplane shown above is a $4000 Schweizer manufactured job, weighing about 700 pounds. Odessa is the site, during the last part of August, of the National Soaring contest. On Tuesday, Bikie had flown to Gruver, a distance of 306 miles. To make the 4 hr. 50 min. motorless hop from Odessa, Bikie was released from a tow plane at 2,000 feet, circled in thermals until he attained an altitude of 16,000 feet, and flew to Hereford, stopping when he saw he couldn't possibly get any farther north before nightfall. The highest altitude for Bikie in the glider shown above was 36,000 feet, attained in California. Staff Photo.

ED R. MAY is shown holding two types of peaches, the conventional type grown in California, left, and his new variety, right, which is bred to withstand Panhandle winds and late freezes. With this new variety, he plans to plant his orchard south of Hereford in an effort to bring a new crop -- on a commercial basis -- to this irrigated area. Staff Photo.

Q. What will be the different departments of the city if the Home Rule charter is adopted?

A. Section 5 of Article 5 of the proposed charter provides that there will be created, a department of finance, police, public works and water. The city commission may consolidate one or more of the departments and may create, change, or abolish any other office, except those departments created by the charter. It is not contemplated to employ any additional personnel by reason of the creation of the departments above mentioned. ### GRASS ROOTS

The potato season is KAPUT (German for all done) and Mrs. Estes son John is KA-POOP-ED (Estes word meaning done in) at any rate it was quite a season and everyone so far is happy about the outcome. It all started off with a bang and ended the same way. All of the crew here at the warehouse considers it ending with a bang since we all banged our heads off the floor when it was finished. I was so optimistic about it all and the harvest started. Guess I'd best quit this yelling about spilled milk, but anyone wanting a good way to lose weight come ground next year and I can show you first hand how it is done.

Am very happy so report that pasture seeding time is at hand and the farmers are already getting started. All three of our grass seeders are busy and all indications are that they will stay busy until time to seed next Spring. Any of you farmers who are interested in getting your pastures in this Fall will certainly want to get your name in the pot for one of these drills. To qualify this statement a little further. There were one or two seedings last Fall that were late getting in and they didn't make it through the winter, but they did come up to a stand so the record still stands. Am going to try to work the drill system a little differently this year. Last year I was slow rolling all over the area trying to keep them going so all could use them that wanted them. This year I think that I'll slow roll all the country trying to keep them going to everyone can use them that wants them. I'm afraid my mind has been a little affected by it all.

The Boys who planted the vetch last month report good stands. Robert Veigel and Ralph Hastings seeded some and informed me after a months time that the stuff wasn't going to come up. Robert was in the other day and told me that the seed was sprouting now, which proves further to me that Vetch can make it under all conditions. Plant it deep or plant it shallow and it will come up. I still commend a shallow seeding and feel sure the L. W. Narve O. G. Hill Jr., and Morris East, agree. They seeded their own our cyclone seeder that worked off the power take off of a tractor and report good stands. There is still a good forty days to get this legume in the ground.

I planted a seed of BUFF GRASS just before the spud had vest started and immediately got it. It was planted in a number two can and I watered when I planted it. It is about six inches high now and has been in that can for nearly two months without watering. It is going to be a grass for the area. It is a perennial but probably winter kill this North. However it is extremely drought resistant as proved by horticultural endeavor, and from all other appearances will certainly find its place here on an annual plant, possibly replacing Sudan as a summer grazing crop.

Needless to say we are keeping an inventory of the quality grass and legume seeds as always and have them ready for mixing or direct delivery competitive prices. I always have a kick out of that phrase "I have anything you need at competitive prices." I honestly believe that those of us who believe that phrase actually mean "If the competition is cut off under, don't pass us by, we're a little too". However there no substitute for high Purity Germination Seed, and it often happens that the cheaper stuff turns out to be the high priced stuff when you figure how much PURE LIVE SEED you have actually paid for in a hundred pounds of the seed you thought you were saving money on.

Texas Tech Will Be Honored At Fair October 5

Texas Technological college at Lubbock will be honored with an impressive exhibit in the Agricultural building at the 1952 State Fair of Texas, October 4 through 19. James H. Stewart, executive vice-president and general manager, has announced.

"Texas Tech's expansive educational activities will be portrayed in a comprehensive presentation being designed by Winniford Morton, talented young scenic-artist who also designed the fair's 'Story Book of Texas Agriculture'.

Officials of the fair, including Stewart and Ray W. Wilson, livestock and agricultural manager, have conferred with Tech officials on several occasions in Lubbock relative to the exhibit.

Each of the six major educational divisions of the college -- agriculture, home economics, engineering, business administration, arts and sciences and the graduate school -- will be represented in a phase of the elaborate exhibit. Tech's athletic program and student activities will also be featured.

"We are delighted to join with the State Fair of Texas in presenting an exhibit portraying the outstanding educational opportunities offered by Texas Tech," said Dr. E. N. Jones, president of the college.

Sunday, Oct. 5, has been designated as Texas Tech day at the fair.

"We understand Texas Tech is working out a program of activities for this day," Stewart said. "We hope the college will be able to send its fine band, as well as a number of officials of the college to take part in this program."

"We at the State Fair of Texas are proud to have Texas Tech represented at the fair. It will give the hundreds of thousands of state fair visitors a better opportunity to learn more about this great state institution," he said.

Stewart pointed out that an official of the college, Dean W. L. Stangel, has long been identified with the state fair as general superintendent of its livestock shows.

Mrs. R. B. Lance Jr., Luster Suttle and Mr. and Mrs. George Springer, spent Sunday, Aug. 7, visiting in Lubbock with Mr. and Mrs. Walter Hawkins.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Cocanougher just returned from a 10-day vacation in Colorado and Wyoming.

"LOOK OUT BELOW", yells one of the young Boys' Ranchers as he leaves his temporary mount during practice for the big Eighth Annual Boys Ranch Rodeo. All the boys have been practicing for their parts in their annual event which will be held Sunday afternoon, Aug. 31 and Monday evening, Sept. 1 at the Tri-State Rodeo Arena in Amarillo.

Bryant Players Trim Ellistons In Junior Tilt

A crowd of about 250 ball fans watched Hereford's junior baseball players compete under the lights, Friday night at Vets park with a nine managed by David Bryant coming out ahead on a 12-4 score over an Elliston-coached team. The crowd saw a fine ball game with the youngsters playing for all they were worth and also were generous in donating $43 to be used for paying for the use of the lights and for work among Hereford's underprivileged school children. Of the money collected, $31.50 will be channeled for use among underprivileged students in the schools here. All the small fry who played in the game enjoyed themselves, as did the crowd. The game was a close one, save for the sixth inning when the Bryants unloaded to the tune of seven runs on four hits plus a little shaky playing by the opposing Elliston squad. It was a 4-3 ball game for the Ellistons going into the fifth when the Bryants unloaded for three runs and added seven more in the fatal sixth. In their half of the sixth, the Ellistons threatened and took advantage of some walks to make things look a little shaky for the Bryants, but nothing materialized. There was quite a difference in size among the young ball players. Ages of the participants ranged from eight to 13. Bud Martin and David Bryant combined their pitching efforts on behalf of the Bryant team with Flowers behind the plate. Combined, Martin and Bryant gave up only four walks and whiffed 12 opposing batsmen. Elliston and Billy Paul Knox were on the hill for the losers with Pal Meachem behind the plate. The Elliston mound corps also struck out 12 and gave up nine free passes to first. Heavy hitting for the night included Boren's seventh-inning homer for the Bryants and Flower's three hits in four trips to the plate. For Elliston's team, Knox had a triple and Elliston had a triple and a single. The entire team had four hits while the Bryants picked up nine. By JIMMIE GILLENINE

OSCEOLA, WIS. — To those intrepid souls who have been booted around over "Cool Colorado" and who might be getting tired of "NO VACANCY" signs at every turn, maybe here's the answer. To say the least, it affords a "really different" type of vacation -- and this goes for scenery, fishing and people.

To begin with your Texas license plate is an almost magical passport to friendship and cooperation. The people are just slightly "tourist conscious" and seem to take a tremendous amount of interest in the Lone Star state. Restaurants, service stations and even people along the streets have hundreds of questions about Texans and seem more than willing to go out of their way to help us. We landed in Osceola to visit the wife's brother, Capt John B. Castleberry and family. He is stationed with the radar installation here and they have a charming home on the banks of the St. Croix River, which serves as a boundary between Minnesota and Wisconsin. Radar is hush-hush stuff. He doesn't talk about it much. I asked how many stations there are and he says that is "classified". This is also true regarding the number of personnel operations and other activities of the base. My guess, however, is that the station is part of a string which bounces beams clear in behind the iron curtain -- and certainly provides a protective blanket across the northern portion of the United States, just in case the Russians might get an idea about dropping bombs on industrial points of this country. That's all I think on the subject -- and it is seldom discussed in any circles, especially among the Air Force.

I seem to have run into a personal fishing conspiracy -- and am having the time of my life. Keep wishing Jim Lipscomb were here. This would be right down his alley. Newell Griffith step-son of the Captain, is a guide on the St. Croix during summer months and he is doing his best to make me admit that these small-mouth black bass are more sport than trout. He has something there, too: They take these long boats, drift down stream and cast in along the banks, using flies on bamboo trout rods. The one big catch is to lay the fly down within a quarter inch of the bank -- and it isn't easy, even for an experienced fly fisherman. Newell says that when you hit the bank you have wasted the cast.

We were out all morning without a single strike. Newell said the casting was "fair" but the fish just weren't biting. This seems universal as regards fishing, but I was pretty blue. We killed a lot of time eating lunch and inspecting a cave which dated back to the Indian days, then started out again. Around 1 o'clock we got going and 15 or 20 minutes later I happened to lay my fly, like he said, about a quarter inch from the bank. A bolt of lightning shot up out of the water. Newell yelled out. I au-tomatically jerked -- and right there began the darndest fishing bout I ever saw. Newell got almost as excited as I did -- and I am sure he figured we would lose the fish.

To make a long story short, you've really never fished until you hang a 2 1/2 pound small mouth bass on a 5 1/2 ounce fly rod. It took a flat 25 minutes, but I finally got him in where he could be netted. The fish broke water and leaped about four feet into the air, but this was only a starter. He did it three more times for good measure. When I nearly lost him though, was when he came in fast, passed under the boat, then "fish-tailed" a good 30 feet across the surface. Beginners luck, I guess, but I did manage to get him in and Newell said he was a "beauty -- away above the average".

My arm ached and my wrist ached, but I was feeling pretty good about the deal. Then we came into casting distance again and about the second cast, "Wham" Another one hit. Newell yelled again, but the battle was already underway. This one was smaller. Around a pound and a half, but I believe he fought harder than the big one. I sure was fagged when we finally netted him. Perhaps 30 minutes later we picked up a third one, quite smaller. He measured about 11 inches, which was a "keeper" and, for the life of me, I don't know how I landed him.

Five is the daily limit on small mouth, but Newell says three is exceptional -- and I believe anything that boy says about the St. Croix River. He knows the place like the palm of his hand. I haven't admitted that this is the best fly fishing I ever encountered, not to Newell, but I am going to tell him before I leave -- and he will really be a happy boy. It's sort of a game at this stage. I keep arguing for the trout, but he knows that I am weakening. He plans to enter the University of Minnesota this fall and sure is a fine boy.

The St. Croix (Holy Cross in French) is world famous for these small mouth bass. Newell seemed most unhappy that I had never heard of the river. It has other peculiarities too. The water is so reddish brown in color that it looks muddy -- but is perfectly clear. Our kids keep arguing whether it looks like coffee or like tea. I thought it was colored by iron, but the natives say that the color is caused by tanarak crackers. Television comes in well from Minneapolis and St. Paul. They have two good channels, but people have not gone overboard like they have around Ft. Worth, Dallas and Houston. Quite a few people say that they seldom turn on their sets -- and less than 25 percent even have them. During the national conventions, however, television got a work out. Everyone you see says they practically stayed up all night during the two convention broadcasts. Only a few of the programs are really good. Many of them are strictly corn. Stuff no picture show would even consider screening -- even on Saturday matinee.

Towns in this country are three to five miles apart and most people figure it is a major problem going to another town. It isn't far, but they just don't seem to get started. Most of the towns, like Osceola, are around 700 population. They are complete with a bank, a newspaper, three grocery stores, one drug store, a hardware store, three service stations, and three taverns, along with other supplementary stores. Good restaurants are scarce. Usually one in a town and it is generally a hamburger joint. Never saw so many beautiful flowers. "Glads" grow by the acre in some places. We had quite an experience getting some glads, but that is another story, and I will try to get up the energy for another column tomorrow. Note to The Brand gang. Guess we will start back Sunday morning, unless you call us or something. Can't see much use in traveling three days, then turning around and coming right back. It was hot across Texas, Oklahoma and Kansas, but has been pleasant in Nebraska, Minnesota and Wisconsin. Daily temperature here is around 65 degrees, but it drops to something like 45 at night. Altitude is around 700 feet. It gets fairly chilly early in the morning. This is unusual to us, having such cool weather at so low an altitude

Summer Menus Can Be Built Around Desserts and Salads

Summer meals may be centered around nourishing dessert and salad, served with sandwiches and fruit. Cold meat sandwiches and a hearty aspic salad garnished with peach or pear halves make a fine combination, especially when served with lemon chiffon pie.

Today's recipe for Lemon Chiffon pie comes to you by the request of many who have tasted it and would like to have the recipe for their own use. Mrs. H. D. Buse took a pie made by this recipe to a church dinner, and in response to numerous requests reaching this department the recipe was secured for this column.

Lemon Chiffon Pie

CUSTARD

3 egg yolks
1/2 cup sugar
1/4 cup lemon juice
1 teaspoon grated lemon rind
Place egg yolks in electric mixer and beat 1/2 minute at medium speed. Add sugar, lemon juice and rind, and cook in top of double boiler until thick. Stir while cooking. Remove from fire and cool.

MERINGUE

3 egg whites
1/2 cup sugar
1/8 teaspoon salt
Beat egg whites and salt two minutes at high speed (or until a peak is formed if beating by hand). Continue beating 1/2 minute longer and add sugar gradually. Fold carefully into the custard mixture and pour in a baked pie shell. Place in 325 oven for 15 minutes or until brown. Serve cold.

MR. and MRS. WAYNE NEWSOM

Patricia Frye Bride Of Wayne Newsom August 10

Patricia Frye, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. F. Frye, became the bride of Wayne Newsom, son of Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Newsom in a double-ring ceremony read by Roy Ford, pastor of the First Christian church, Sunday afternoon, Aug. 10, at 3 p.m.

The wedding was held in the Methodist church as the couple and their attendants stood before the altar arranged with majestic daisies, pom-pom chrysanthemums and gladioli. Wedding tapers in seven-branched candelabra gave candlelighting for the scene. Candles were lighted by Jane Newsom, sister of the bridegroom, and Jack T. Higgins, nephew of the bride.

Miss Joan Southern was maid of honor. She was dressed in pale green taffeta and net designed with fitted bodice of taffeta and full net skirt over taffeta. She wore a net stole and carried an arm bouquet of pink tinted daisies. Charlotte Williams was flower girl.

Homer Harvey of Kelly Air Force base, San Antonio, was best man. Users were Jay Sullivan and John Newsom.

The bride, given in marriage wore a floor-length dress of white chantilly lace over satin. The fitted bodice featured a high round neckline and long pointed sleeves. Her tiered veil of illusion fell shoulder length from a head piece of pearlized stephanotis. The bridal bouquet was of white rosebuds and stephanotis tied with white satin streamers, and her only ornament was a string of pearls, the gift of the bridegroom. Mrs. Frye wore a navy lace dress with white accessories and a corsage of yellow rosebuds. Mrs. Newsom, the bridegroom's mother, wore navy crepe with navy accessories and her corsage was of white rosebuds.

Music was provided by Mrs. W. J. Stanford, organist, who played "Romance," "Serenade" and "Clair De Lune" as the guests assembled and accompanied Miss Mary Helen McGilvray, vocalist, who sang "Indian Love Call" and "The Wedding Prayer." Mrs. Stanford played "I Love Thee" during the ceremony and also played the traditional wedding marches.

Following the wedding, a reception was held at the home of the bride's parents for close friends and relatives. White chrysanthemums and majestic daisies formed the centerpiece for the table with Mrs. W. L. Hilton and Mrs. Ray Cowsett presiding. Mrs. Jack Higgins, sister of the bride, was in charge of the guest register.

When the couple left on a honeymoon trip to points in New Mexico and Colorado, the bride was wearing a brown faille suit with brown velvet hat and brown accessories. Rosebuds from the wedding bouquet formed her shoulder corsage. Mrs. Newsom is a 1952 graduate of Hereford high school. Mr. Newsom also graduated from Hereford high school and is a graduate of Texas Technological college, Lubbock. While attending the Lubbock school he was a member of Socii, social fraternity.

What To Do, Right Time Is Secret Of Gardening

(Ed. Note — This is the final of a series of articles which have been prepared by members of Hereford Garden clubs dealing with timely advice for the amateur gardener.)

A successful gardener must know a lot about many things. For example he must know what to do in the fall for spring flowering bulbs.

Mrs. O. G. Hill, who has prepared this article from a wealth of experience working with the Hereford Garden club and in her own garden, thinks that spring flowering bulbs respond so willingly to even the slightest bit of care, that it seems foolish for the gardener not to give it to them. Many of the spring-flowering bulbs are so tough and so free from pests and diseases that they are able to go on for years with no attention whatever. But a little attention at the right time makes a big difference when blooming time comes.

Mrs. Hill says, "Perhaps the most common mistake in connection with plants of this type is to cut off the foliage while it is still green. The very first step in maintaining a planting of spring flowering bulbs in good condition is to keep the foliage growing vigorously as long as possible after the flowers fade. The foliage is absolutely necessary in the production of food to be stored up in the bulbs. Cutting the foliage before it matures is a severe shock to the plant, and if persistently repeated, is likely to kill it. If the leaves of the tulips, daffodils, hyacinths and crocuses become a nuisance after their blossoms fade, the plants can be taken up and heeled in, in humusy soil, where they can be kept moist to keep the foliage growing strongly.

The second mistake most common is to allow plantings to remain until, through natural increase, the clumps or colonies become so over-crowded that normal development is impossible and the flowers get fewer and smaller and finally cease to appear. The number of years this takes depends upon the species, upon the soil and other conditions. Food supply is another factor, especially so with tulips. A general purpose fertilizer applied now will be helpful.

Daffodils may be taken up when the foliage has died down and immediately re-planted. If, for any reason the replanting is delayed, the bulbs can be dried off in a cool dry shed and planted later on. But as a rule, the sooner daffodil bulbs can be gotten back into the ground after digging the better off they are.

The tulip is a hungry bulb and demands high culture and generous feeding. Even in a well-enriched border the flowers deteriorate rapidly in size. An annual or biennial taking up of bulbs is desirable if one wishes continued good performance from the original stock.

The lifting of the tulip bulbs is best done when the foliage has turned yellow and the stems become sufficiently soft at the bottom to bend over with out breaking. The stems that are still attached to the bulbs help locate them and help secure the smaller bulbs. The bulbs are best kept out of the ground after digging. Surplus soil is shaken off and the bulbs placed in flats, not over three or four deep, and kept in a shaded, dry place to cure for three or four weeks. They should then be cleaned and sorted for size and placed in paper bags or boxes to be kept until time for planting. Dry peat moss or vermiculite makes a good medium in which to store them.

Examine them occasionally and if there is a sign of decay, remove the bad bulbs and dust the remainder with dusting sulphur or sprig. Diseased bulbs should be burned.

Hyacinths are not usually thought of as long-term flowering outdoor flowering bulbs, but with good care and adequate drainage they will give satisfactory results for many years. As they increase very slowly frequent planting is not necessary. The new bulbs readily separate themselves from the old and do not form dense clumps. When overcrowding develops, however, lift the bulbs after the foliage is thoroughly dead, twist off the old leaves and store the fleshy bulbs, preferably top side down in single layers in flats. Cover a couple of inches or so deep with sand or dry soil and cure for 2 or 3 weeks before storing.

In replanting hyacinth bulbs -- late September or early October -- select a sunny location with light soil. Hyacinth roots are long and vigorous, so the soil should be prepared 10 or 12 inches deep and well enriched. Plant four or five inches deep (to the top of the bulb) and mulch (after the ground freezes) for the first winter. Hyacinths that have been forced by the florist, or in the home, can be set out in the garden.

In the smaller flowered bulbs, there are the crocuses, Glory of the Snow, Grape Hyacinths, snowdrops, snowflakes and many others. These can be left for years without replanting. They will flower freely enough in naturalized groups or colonies. It is important that the foliage be left to mature. When, from eventual overcrowding or from any other cause, replanting is required, they can be taken up when the foliage dies down, cleaned, separated and put back into the ground.

Bovina Officer In Phillipines Writes Of Native Clothing Needs

BOVINA — Recently, the members of the Women's Missionary Union of Bovina sent two boxes of clothing to Major David W. Sides, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Sides of Bovina, to be distributed to the people in the village in the Phillipines where he is stationed. Major Sides writes in part the following: "Last Sunday I took to the Baluga village the two boxes of clothing you recently sent me. I delivered them to King Alfonso, ruler of the local tribe of Balugas, so that he might distribute them among his people according to their needs. I informed him that the clothing was a gift of some of his American friends, a group of Christian women of the Bovina Baptist church. He was most grateful and asked that I thank you for them. "In order that you may know something about the people to whom you have made your gift I shall give you a brief account of them. "The Balugas are negritos (little Negroes). King Alfonso, who is one of the largest men in the tribe, stands a mere four feet 11 inches. Off hand, I would say the men and women are about the sizes of ordinary 14 or 15 year old American girls and boys. They have little concept of Christianity other than the practical aspects exhibited by the Americans of the armed forces with whom they have come in contact. "Due to the inability of some American soldiers to escape the Phillipine Islands when they were overrun by the Japanese, many of them owe their lives to the Balugas who sheltered, fed and nursed them in their illness and hid them during the occupation of the island by the Japanese. They also led many soldiers safely through ambushes, where death-dealing Japanese lay in wait. As a result of their help, King Alfonso is now an honorary colonel in the U. S. Air Force. We in America are blessed with so many material things that we find it impossible to envision misery and poverty of the less fortunate people in other parts of the world. The food we throw in the garbage, the servicable clothing we cast aside would seem as priceless treasures to the Balugas. King Alfonso made no plea for more gifts -- he is no beggar -- but on behalf of him and his people, I would like to make that plea. If any of you have any good cotton clothes, pants, overalls, shirts, dresses, if you would like to send them to my address: Major David W. Sides USAF OSI Dist No. 2 (IG) FEAF -- APO 74 c/o Postmaster San Francisco, Calif." Mr. and Mrs. Bobby Meyers, Betty Hawkins and Ray Williams drove to Amarillo Sunday afternoon and visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Alexander.

Revival Services At Palo Duro Baptist Church Begins Aug. 17

By Mrs. W. R. Moore
The revival meeting will begin Sunday, Aug. 17, at the Palo Duro Baptist church. Several showers that fell in this community last week have been great help to the row crops. However, the farmers are still having to irrigate day and night. Some of the crops in the community seem to be very good and will soon be ready to harvest. Mr. and Mrs. Byron Campbell included in their trip to various parts of Colorado a visit with the E. W. Wombles in Gunnison. The work on the new road north of Dawn has progressed so that about 10 miles of caliche has been laid. Mr. and Mrs. Charles Cogdell visited with friends in Vega Saturday morning. Visitors in the W. R. Moore home Friday morning were Mrs. C. E. Dygert and daughter from station. Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Sullivan from Ft. Worth, but were former-

Dairy Farmers Must Supply Cows With Basic Feeds

COLLEGE STATION — The hot, dry weather has upset hay and silage plans on many dairy farms, and dairymen will lose efficiency in production if they fail to supply these basic feeds. According to Richard E. Burleson, dairy husbandman for the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, every effort should be made to obtain one or two tons for each cow in the herd. He reports that Texas A and M college dairymen got good results from feeding a silo of immature Atlas sorghum which was ensiled last summer before it had headed. Although no preservative was added, the silage proved to be of excellent quality and cows pushed aside good, leafy alfalfa hay in the feed troughs to get it. This appears to be conclusive evidence that there is little to gain by allowing sorghums to make seed before ensiling except to get increased tonnage and grain. When drought conditions cause the sorghum crop to burn before

Bureaus Hate To Drop ECA "Plum", Revise Standards

Certain parts of our foreign policy debate probably will see an airing this fall in the presidential campaign. That is as it should be.

There are other points of our foreign relations which could probably use a stringent revision in the light of the amount of taxpayers' money being thrown away by bureaucratic control.

A recent bulletin issued by the West Texas Chamber of Commerce reaching this office told of how Senator Allen J. Ellender of Louisiana has uncovered a hoax on the American taxpayer.

"This hoax is being put over by the federal office-holders who are desperately seeking arguments in favor of continued heavy foreign economic aid," said a bulletin issued by the regional chamber's Taxation and Legislation department.

Remainder of the text of the bulletin follows:

Sen. Ellender tried unsuccessfully to cut $500 million from the $1.6 billion economic aid authorization last week. In the debate over his amendment, he quoted some testimony by Paul Hoffman, former ECA Administrator, that when industrial production in any ECA country reached 125 per cent of the 1939 prewar levels, America's recovery help could be discontinued.

The startling facts presented by Sen. Ellender show that industrial production in Belgium and Luxembourg actually has reached 146 per cent of prewar.

Industrial production in Denmark has reached 162 per cent.

It has reached 144 per cent in Italy.

It has reached 146 per cent in the United Kingdom.

And so on. The average rate of all NATO countries was 145 per cent. Other countries participating in MSA have boosted their industrial production to an average of 136 per cent of prewar levels.

By comparing Hoffman's testimony with these figures, it would appear that continued economic aid from the United States should be stopped now.

But nothing could be further from the wishes and unrealistic ambitions of the office-holders who have American taxpayers foot the recovery bill for years to come.

So they have switched yardsticks. Paul Hoffman's measurement was too good for them. And this is where the hoax comes in.

They substituted for the original 1939 index figure the much higher base rate of 1948—the year the ECA program began. This put the economic aid program in a different light.

Using 1948 as a base, here is the record (with the 1939 base included, too):

1951 Industrial production as compared with	1939	1948
NATO countries	146	120
Belgium-Luxemburg	146	120
Denmark	138	124
France	144	145
Italy	148	130
Netherlands	154	123
Norway	146	121
United Kingdom	145	125
Average	145	125

Other countries

Austria 148 175

Greece 129 170

Ireland 176 130

Sweden 172 115

Turkey 169 110

Average 136 137

But even with the 1948 as a base, the average industrial production index for NATO countries is 125 per cent—the same figure used by Hoffman—while for other countries it is 137 per cent of 1948.

From this survey and comparison, it can be seen that the American taxpayers have been "taken for a ride" to the tune of billions of dollars by the present administration.

The bureaucrats have a good thing and hate to give it up.—Even if it sinks America! What we need is a sensible approach to the problem of foreign aid with an honest man's values governing it.

What we need is an administration that puts America FIRST when it becomes safe to do so.—W.W.K.

Welcome Home "Scat" Russell

"Scat" is coming back home. L. B. "Scat" Russell, new Hereford football coach, is returning to the scene of his high school gridiron triumphs to take command of the fortunes of the Hereford Whitefaces this fall.

We welcome his appointment and look forward to seeing some Russell-coached elevens on the local turf.

This writer wasn't familiar with the personal record of Russell when he was a prep griddle here and later when he was a backfield mainstay for the Hardin-Simmons Cowboys. From what we've heard, though, he's going to show spectators here some shifty football.

Hereford fans, like fans everywhere, want to win. It's fun to win. Perhaps we, like sports fans across the nation these days, place too much emphasis on winning.

Athletics, whether they be at Hereford high school or anywhere else, are designed for one thing primarily—to teach a boy sportsmanship, working with others and to develop character. Any other excessive shift of emphasis is destroying the very thing team competition in our high schools is supposed to build up.

So, we're happy to see that Hereford's new coach is the type of mentor who—along with striving for a winning team—will keep his sights on the higher goal of inter-scholastic competition, "the way you play the game."

Welcome home, "Scat", may your efforts meet with the same gratifying success in building men and football teams enjoyed by your predecessors.—W.W.K.

What's In A Name? Try Some Of These Texas Deviations!

BUG TUSSELE, Texas. R. B. Thompson leaned back in his rocking chair, fanned himself with a fly swatter, and complained:

"Nobody's swiped a highway sign here in almost a year!"

Thompson operates the general store that is almost the entire business district of the little Northeast Texas town.

"People mostly just drive by anymore," Thompson added, rocking slowly and looking from the back door of his store at the heat shimmers outside. "I guess I let Bug Tussle's big claim for fame get by me. I intended to do something about it, but I just never could get started."

Things were livelier a couple years ago when a newspaper reporter, dropped by and fixed up a story on Bug Tussle. The account of Bug Tussle's history was reprinted over the nation.

"I reckon I got letters from a dozen states," recalled Thompson. "They all wanted a souvenir from Bug Tussle. One lady wrote that she had been trying for years to get a six-inch long hat pin. She was certain I could find some for her."

She didn't explain why she expected to find six-inch hat pins in Bug Tussle. But Thompson did round up about a dozen. Never got around to mailing them, though.

Lots of these out-staters wanted picture postcards of Bug Tussle.

"I guess it would have cost me $6 or more to have had some cards made up," said Thompson. "I figured on it, but I never got around to it."

He declared the biggest trouble he had was in getting up enough energy to answer all those letter writers.

"They never wrote for anything that I had handy," he explained.

One letter, from some man in New Jersey, topped them all. "He wanted a plow-share," sighed Thompson, "I just knew I could never get up enough strength to go get one and get it wrapped for mailing. I always figured if I got around to getting that, I'd go ahead and answer the rest of the letters."

Thompson repeated the story of how Bug Tussle got its name. Two old timers, both dissatisfied with the community's former name, were arguing about a new one. They forgot their argument when they noticed a couple tumble bugs fighting. "Look at those bugs tussle," remarked one. The town name was born.

No one remembers the old name. Thompson is a good-natured round individual. Sometimes tourists ask him to pose in front of the store, in front of the sign "Bug Tussle Post Office." The post office is in his store. But the sign has faded so much no many travelers ask him to pose any more.

Guess I ought to have that sign repainted," he remarked. "Always used to be afraid that some tourist would just rip it off the board for a souvenir. However, don't get enough cars stopping by these days to worry too much about it. Bug Tussle may soon be a thing of the past."

And there are other Texas towns with odd old names, the origin of which is still a part of lore in the areas where they are located.

Try some of them:

In the Southwest Texas ranch country there is a small town named Telegraph.

And up in the Northeast Texas blacklands, there is a small town named Telephone.

Now there's nothing greatly unusual in that... so far.

Except:

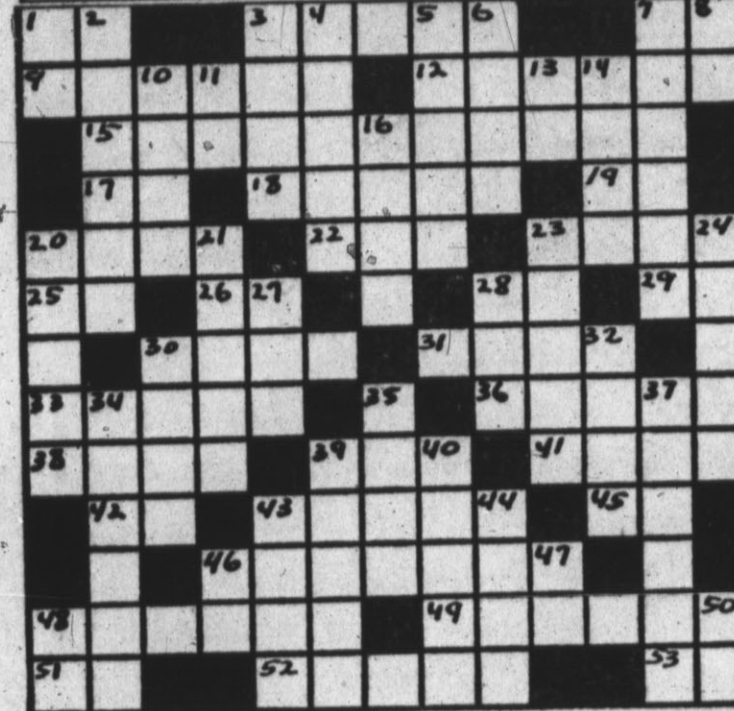

1. The little town of Telegraph has no telegraph service. But it does have a phone.

2. Folks in Telephone, Texas, have no telephone. Just to keep this from getting monotonous, Telephone doesn't have any telegraph either.

There are about 25 people in the town of Telegraph, which nestles in the southwest corner of Kimble County, well known for its sheep, goats, cattle and a man named Coke Stevenson.

Stevenson is a former Texas governor. He's talking now of running for the U. S. Senate again.

SUNDAY'S CURRENT QUESTION

Varying Opinions Expressed On Presidential Briefing On War

Do you think both presidential candidates should receive the top level cabinet and White House briefing on the Korean War and the status of American foreign relations given Stevenson last week by Harry Truman and his top aides?

TOM CARTER—Yes! The main reason is that we are in a war we should not be in and the quicker we can pull out and get our boys home the better it will be for all concerned.

BILL PHILLIPS—My personal opinion is that neither one should have been called in as Stevenson was, but since he has already had the cabinet meeting it is only fair that the Republican nominee should have the same advantage. I believe they should be told about the situation but it should not be done in a cabinet meeting but through public conferences.

D. C. KINSEY—I think that both presidential candidates should have the same consideration by the president. With the condition the world is in it should be the man not the party that comes first.

J. B. BLANKENSHIP—Ike has enough sense to figure things out for himself. Truman was second echelon captain in the other war and doesn't know what it is all about.

KENT SNARE—We cannot be sure what went on in the cabinet meeting because it was not open to the press. Consensus think all the meeting did was establish the fact that Truman and Stevenson are going to share the kick off speech. Seems that Truman is going to keep on holding the spotlight through Stevenson.

'Tater Peelin's

Well folks we already have a telephone and we're sure the girls at the switch board are already convinced that we need one (more than any other time) these first two weeks in August.

The hello girls are always most obliging but to save them time at Information our number is 1804WI - and also to save you a stop at one of our neighbors our name is on the mail box in front of our house when you're looking for peas.

While we're thinkin in terms of graden stuff some of the best canteloupe we've eaten came from the 25 acre Frank Knabe patch south of town.

And something else we've learned from a little advertisin' bulletin on Dr. LeGears products sent to us by the Packard Milling Company is that beetles may be kept for two or three months if the tops are cut off and the stem end dipped in paraffin.

Personally we don't like 'em well enough to want to keep 'em over night much less two or three months.

Have you seen the Junior League play baseball? We doubt that Babe Ruth could have shown much more enthusiasm at their age.

replied that it was named after Telegraph creek which bubbles nearby. He didn't know how the creek got its name.

Congressman O. C. Fisher of San Angelo dropped in while Mrs. Bannowsky was visiting in Telegraph. She asked him why, said the congressman, Telegraph was named after Telegraph creek, of course.

He didn't know how Telegraph creek got its name either. Telegraph's most popular telephone belongs to Mrs. F. A. Parker, who is positivist. Her husband operates the country store, the filling station and the tourist lodges. That's most of the business community of Telegraph.

Mrs. Parker is an apple-cheeked young lady but her telephone is the old, crank-type. Neighbors farther up the Llano River often drive to Telegraph to use Mrs. Parker's telephone when their own "boxes" fail, as they often do.

As to the town of Telephone, it's in Fannin County up next to the Oklahoma-Texas border. Telephone hasn't had a telephone since the great ice storm of January, 1950, when its last phone line toppled. Folks who want to use a telephone drive to Coffee Mill Lake, seven miles away.

"Ain't go no telephone and no telegraph here," one villager opined. "But the women-folk don't have trouble spreading the word." x

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm at Bootleg has fallen victim of the summer drought. His letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:
I was out here the other night looking for flyin' saucers, there's one thing I've noticed about the things, there are more of 'em in the summer time when it's convenient to be outside sittin' in your yard lookin' skyward. I guess for the same reason there are more sick people in hospitals than hotels. Also, more people see 'em over Washington than anywhere else, on account of a guilt complex, I suppose.

I'd been lookin' for some time but hadn't seen anything worth more than a paragraph or two in a newspaper when my wife spoke up and said she wanted the front gate fixed along with the leakin' sink, the hole in the roof, the floor on the back porch, the wall paper in the livin' room, the steps to the front porch, the screen door to the kitchen, the window panes on the north side of the house, the stuck door in the hall, and a few other things which trailed off in a flow of words like the tail streak of a comet.

I do not like to have my scientific studies interrupted by such matters, but I took my eyes off the sky, left the saucers to the Associated Press, and explained to her it is no sound business to undertake any modernization, improvement or financial venture until after the election.

Naturally things are in a state of flux and uncertainty awaitin' the outcome of the election in November, and I don't behoove nobody to take any important steps until the economic roads for the next four years are well defined. Big business follows this pattern frequently. Personally, I don't intend to fix my saggin' gate after the election either, or the sink or the back porch or the roof or anything else anybody can think of, but if you can't use an election to pass some naggin' on the topic, you ain't usin' your head.

If you want to know what I think of flyin' saucers, they're as real as political promises and about as hard to put your finger on after the flash by.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Beauty at Home

By Lynn Carter

Q. What can I do to soften and bleach my skin, as well as refine the pores?

A. Try applying a mixture of 2/3 warm olive oil and 1/3 lemon juice, rubbing this well in. Rub this into the skin with the outer skin of the lemon, using an upward and outward movement. This brings a healthy glow to the skin, and any drying effect of the lemon will be offset by the olive oil.

Q. Would you suggest anything other than water to set my hair?

A. Healthy or normal hair needs nothing else for this purpose. Dry ends can be treated with a bit of hair-dress cream.

Q. How can I prevent the constant smearing of my lipstick?

A. Dabbing a bit of perfume over it will give it more permanence.

Q. How can I remove under-arm perspiration from one of my dresses?

A. You can rub over the affected area with a light solution of ammonia and water -- about eight times as much water as ammonia.

Q. What is a good way to stimulate the growth of my eyebrows?

A. Regular olive oil treatments are good. Saturate some cotton twisted around an orange stick in olive oil, and rub this lightly along the upper eyelids as close to the lashes as possible, being careful not to get it into the eyes. Repeat on lower lashes.

Q. What makeup is good for the face that is somewhat too broad?

A. Apply your rouge on the inner curve of each cheekbone, slightly nearer the nose, coming further in on the cheeks than a point under the iris of the eyes. Thus, people's eyes are caught by the rouged areas and accept these as marking your cheekbones.

Q. Is there anything I can do to keep my blonde hair light?

A. One effective way is to dissolve two tablespoons of washing soda in a quart of water and pour this into the first shampooing water. A half-dozen drops of ammonia in the shampoo water is also helpful.

Q. Will you please suggest a good mud or clay pack to use on an oily skin?

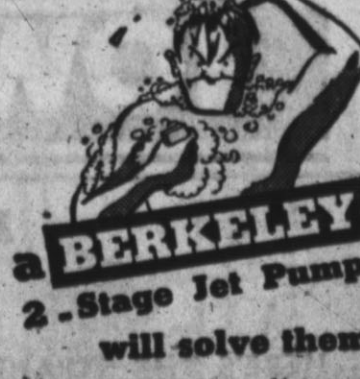

A. Either fuller's earth or kaolin is good for this type of skin -- mixed to a smooth paste with witch hazel. Use about two tablespoons of the clay. Equal parts of witch hazel and peroxide may be used if bleaching is desired.

Q. What is a good exercise to help reduce rather heavy ankles?

A. Sit with the leg crossed over the knee of the other leg, toes pointed up. Slowly rotate foot from ankle joints, making several complete circles to the right, then to the left. Repeat with the other foot.

PRESSURE PROBLEMS?

Here's a man-sized line of jet pumps that will either get down to the 300 ft. level or push your water up a long hill without a whimper!

HOW about a 5 H.P. Model with capacities to 1320 G.P.H. from 120 ft. with 112 lbs. pressure at the pump? Plenty of boost here! Or a 1 1/2 H.P. Model that delivers 400 G.P.H. from 160 ft. of 30 lbs.

Streu's Diary

DEAR DIARY:

Why must some people be so mercenary? The last time Gilentine and I had a feud, the circulation of the Brand increased about 500. I suggested that either I be paid a commission or that my advertising rates be reduced -- no go. And now he is picking on me again--trying to start another battle--just to increase circulation again. All that stuff about printers refusing to set my stuff is strictly from corn. But I'll fool the old bald-pated boy -- I'm not going to even make any reply to his allegations.

Well, I made another mistake --the ladies wanted to go to the Amarillo gift show--would just be a little show, not many exhibitors--and besides we just needed a few fill-ins. Hall For a small show and a few lines, the shipments and size of the invoices are surely big I'm never, never, going to let those girls go to any gift show again without me to hold them down on purchases. Always buying something new--like those baskets--we've still got a half dozen of those left from a shipment of about six dozen--and now it's something else--in fact a whole bunch of new junk. Hope you ladies will come in and look any of it, but come in anyway --it is said that some of the new items are 'cute, lovely, beautiful, nice, different, sweet, adorable and darling'. So be it.

We have done very little advertising--on Aermotor windmills and pressure systems--and yet we continue to sell more and more each year--the answer is simple--those who have Aermotor products are naturally good salesmen for Aermotor, because there are no similar products on the market today that will give comparable service over a period of years as Aermotor. Let us take care of your household and stock watering problems with an Aermotor windmill or electric pump.

Just have a few power mowers left to move at a bargain--if you need one, better get it soon.

MERCHANDISE RECEIVED: Colored aluminum pitchers and glasses, electric clocks, bowls for Doermeyer and Sunbeam mixers, deep fat fryers, bath scales, wire clothes lines, electric lanterns, hot shots and dry cells, more Lionel electric trains, etc.

STREU. The boiling of political pots, both national and international reminds me somewhat of the witches cauldron in one of Shakespeare's plays -- something about boil and bubble and toil and trouble. Could turn out to be another nasty bit of cookery.

THEY'RE BOTH NUTCAKES.

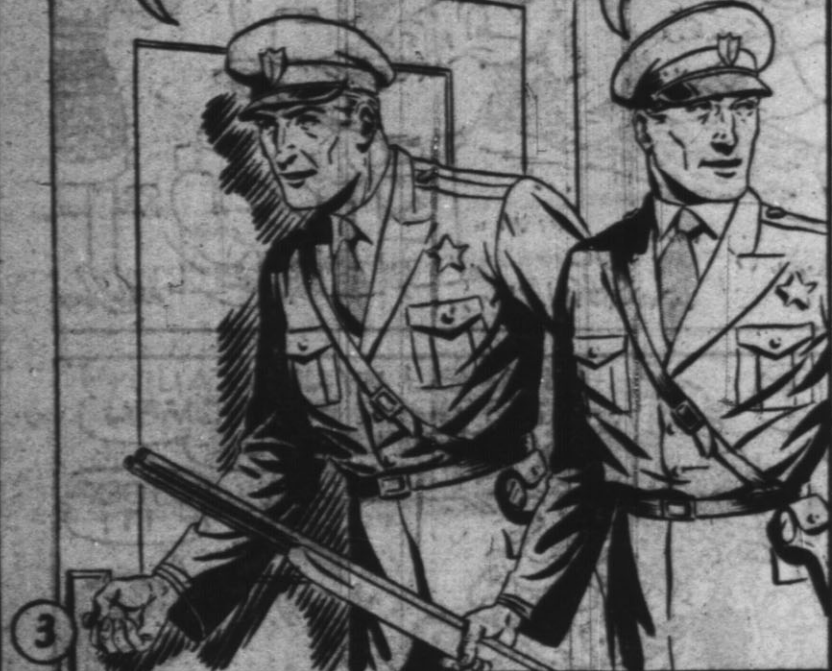

THEY'RE NOWHERE IN THIS LAB. THEY MUSTA DUCKED OUT.

LET'S GET OUT OF HERE. MIGHT BE A GOOD IDEA TO SEND THE LOONEY SQUAD BACK. THIS IS A REAL BOOBY-HATCH!

WE CAN'T LET THOSE CONVICT KILLERS ESCAPE--EVEN IN 'Z'. I'M GOING IN AFTER THEM.

WAIT, MANDRAKE. THEY MAY ALREADY BE DEAD. WE DON'T KNOW WHAT LIES BEYOND THAT 'DOORWAY' IN 'Z'.

WE DON'T EVEN KNOW IF THE AIR IN 'Z' IS BREATHABLE--OR WHAT MONSTERS OR THINGS INHABIT IT!

IT WORTH A RISK! I'VE GOT TO GO THROUGH THAT 'DOORWAY' AND SEE WHAT 'Z' IS LIKE--

AS MANDRAKE STARTS FORWARD, A HUGE FACE SUDDENLY PEERS FROM THE 'DOORWAY'--FROM THE MYSTERIOUS WORLD OF 'Z'!
