Speaking of DWI's, around 12 have appeared in County Court here since Jan. 1, 1953, and only one has had his driving license suspended. Such is the case, because only one of the dozen men so far tried had a Texas drivers license in good standing. One or two didn't go to the trouble to have a license at all; several had licenses which had already expired, and even more of them were out of state licenses, originating in Oklahoma, New Mexico, Kansas and other states.

Hereford got publicity in two articles appearing in a recent issue of the Progressive Farmer. One was written by Bessie Patterson about Mrs. Palmer Norton, selected in 1952 as the Home Demonstration Club woman of the year for Deaf Smith County. The second article by Bess Naugle discussed 'how to make paper-flower holders" to use instead of regular

Mrs. Curtis Traweek decided last year that something should be done about the weeds and grass which grew up in their cotton rows. Like Curtis. Mrs. Traweek, has a feeling that chopping cotton is maybe a little bit old-fashioned — and then she heard about someone who got a flock of geese and turned them loose in the field to eat out the undesireable growth.

A ruling from the court of civil appeals this week says that such items are a violation of the law, as per "Sec. 31". The items include ineffective mufflers, cut-outs, by-passes, whistles and other such contraptions. In addition, excessive smoke is also classified as a public menace.

The notice was released through Capt. Polk Ivy of the State Highway Patrol, Amarillo to policemen over the area. Such violations had previously been ignored, pending outcome of the case.

To me those final findings, probably, should be laid at the door of the fox of Griffith Park. Anytime you make a move on the welfare of the Washington Senators, you are going to get a lot of response from Mr. Clark Griffith who owns the outfit. When the story really broke last week it had all the earmarks of being it had all the earmarks of being cut and dried, since then, Veeck babbled and somebody worked and now Sportshirt Bill is really in trouble. He is reputed to have lost many shekels last lap on account of a dearth of customers and think of what the good burghers will do to him this season. First, he tried to move the St. Louis Club to their rival beer center of Milwaukee and rival beer center of Milwaukee and being forestalled there, he went east and tried to invade Baltimore apparently without Clark Griffith's permission. program by discussing "The Container" and "The Tools You Need." "Flowers can be beautiful in almost any container, but if suited to the container, and if the arrange ment is planned to complemen both the plant materials and the shape and character of the holder, so much the better. Stay away from ornate or highly colored containers," she said.

Mrs. A. O. Thompson talked on 'Facts About Flowers." She reminded the group that the best time to gather garden flowers is after sundown when the evaporation is at the lowest ebb, and the blooms are planning to replenish the moisture lost during the day. If this is impossible, gather early in the morning before the sun is high, and while the dew is still on. Cut the stems slantwise, strip off all lower leaves and place in a bucket of water which you have taken with you to the garden. Discussing the "Basic Principles of Flower Arrangement, Mrs. A.L. Manjeot suggested that some people are so gifted with a sense of form and color, that they make fine flower arrangements without recourse to rules, but that the average person profits by learning and following the basic principles and techniques. "Principles to consider are: design, scale, balance, harmony" Mrs. Manjeot concluded. Those attending the meeting were Mesdames Jim Black, Glenn Boardman, O. H. Herring, O. G. Hill, C. D. Kelton, A. REAL ESTATE BOARD REPORT

Down at Friona the other day we vent by and visited the new vegetable shed that Herman Neff is building there. Looks like Hereford will have a competitor in the vegetable business next year. Many of you remember that Herman and Joe Evans put in one of the first big sheds here in Hereford.

Another of our Hereford Contractors has been getting around over the country lately. Chester Cox of the Hereford Heating and Plumbing has jobs going in Hereord, Hart, Amarillo, Pampa, and Borger. Chester did 5 schools in Tucumcari last year and is doing the new Church in Hart. He has finished 150 houses in Borger and still has 120 more to go. Chester keeps from 6 to 12 men going all he time.

Sure is nice of the Highway Department to fill up the old Calichie pits they have abandoned. We have noticed out on Highway 60 that hey are filling several with dirt they take out of the barrow ditches. No other blemish hurts the looks of a farm like a calichie pit. These Highway boys don't have to fill them up, you know. And while we are on the subject, we have driven over roads all over the states and we find ourselves being proud of the Texas Highway Department. Mr. and Mrs. R. J. (NOTE: The Governor of Texas, continuing his series of articles on state problems, has written the following discus-sion concerning traffic safety.) By ALLAN SHIVERS

Governor of Texas One of our permanent problems is that of traffic safety.

Of importance to each of us, it is a subject continually discussed and analyzed - to the extent, indeed, that it is unusual to find a new idea or a new approach.

There is one relatively new proposal, however, that I want to put before the people of Texas. It involves the younger drivers of the state - those under 21 years of age. It concerns not only the driving habits of those youngsters, but the benefits they might bring the whole program of traffic safety now and in the years to

I am inclined to think it would be a good idea to have a statewide Teen-age Traffic Safety Conference at an early date.

But first let me give the background for such a proposal. We are all more or less familiar the disturbing picture of slaughter and waste on the highways of Texas. Last year the peace of our state was shattered by 225,000 motor vehicle accidents. In these mishaps 2,500 of our fellow-citizens were killed, More than 100,000 people were in-

These traffic accidents, besides the tragedy in human terms, reented economic losses of about $150,000,000. What can we do to remedy this increasingly grave situation? There are many possible ways of improvement — including better hways, stricter enforcement, or perhaps more laws. But the driver always will remain the most im- D. C. portant element in accident pre-

Even if we had the money to put our highways in perfect order, and if every car on the road were in ideal mechanical condition, we still would have to contend with the driver. And, in considering what we can do to improve the drivers, we should not forget those in the younger age groups.

Thirty per cent of the drivers involved in traffic accidents in Texas are under 25 years of age.

Traffic safety during the second half of the twentieth century will be in the hands of today's young

Let's hope that these young people will do better than those of us over 25 who are involved in 70 per cent of today's accidents and who collectively have piled up such dismaying safety records during our years behind the wheel, have blenty to say to my young friends - and my elders - on this subject, just as my teen-age son has a lot to say to me.

And, when the average teen-ager sounds off about driving, he knows what he is talking about.

These youngsters know that too many of the middle-aged and older people on the road do not practice correct driving habits. They are extremely interested in driving - and probably are more conscious of many traffic problems than some of us who have been operating cars for many years.

For that reason I propose that a statewide Teen-age Traffic Safety Conference be held in Austin as soon as possible.

This would be a meeting in which young people from all parts of Texas could recommend solutions to their own driving problems and make suggestions that might prove beneficial to the entire state. They might be able to discover ways of helping teen-agers become better drivers and to make recommendations concerning what should be done about the young drivers who do not live up to their responsbilitles.

Conferences like this in Colorado, Illinois, Florida, Arkansas, Wyoming and California have been surprisingly constructive.

Besides discussions, this Texas Teen-age Conference - or later meetings of this nature - might nclude contests in driving skill such as those held at the National Teen-age Road-e-o in Washington,

I believe most parents in our state will be interested in a conference for young drivers. In addition to their concern about their children and themselves and the public generally, parents are extremely aware of the fact that, if anyone under 25 drives the family car, the insurance premium goes up. If the accidents involving youthful drivers could be cut down, the car insurance premiums would be reduced.

If the teen-agers, their parents, our teachers and school administrators, and organizations like the Hi-Y clubs, Boy Scouts, Girl Scouts Junior Chamber of Commerce, veterans' associations, and other public-spirited civic and religious groups throughout the state will get behind the idea of a Texas Teenage Traffic Safety Conference, I think it will materialize and will be an outstanding success. The facilities of the Governor's Office are available for all possible assistance in planning and carrying out such a conference. I should like to hear from parents and others who have an opinion, pro or con, about this proposal.

Timely Tips

1. Gingerbread made with whole wheat flour is nutritious and good. 2. Gingerbread is a popular dessert in many homes and the housewife may want to have a ready-mix on hand. 3. To make ready-mix combine all dry ingredients, cut in shortening, place in tightly covered container, label and store in a cool place. When ready to use, add liquids and egg.

4. Gingerbread may be served with butter or a sauce. -FA-
