Tracing Social Security Number By Name Is Hard

The Amarillo Social Security Field Office receives numerous requests from employers for infor-mation as to the social security numbers of former employees. These requests are based on the employer's having failed to make a record of the number at the time of employment, or of having made such record and lost it.

"Much as we would like to be able to help the employer in this situation", states J. R. Sanderson, manager of the office, "We just can't be of assistance". We can only explain that the missing number is one of 100 million numbers which have been issued since 1936, and that no number can be located by name alone. For example, there nore than 50,000 "John sons holding social security cards, and no name is so unusual as not to be duplicated many times."

Only by knowing a person's full name, date and place of birth, and names of his parents can the Social Security Administration positively locate his social security number. The best advice we can give employees Sandarson atid in the control The best advice we can give employers, Sanderson said, is to copy the exact name and number of each employee directly from his each employee directly from his social security card onto your permanent payroll records. Such action will almost insure correct and accurate reporting.

Detton, former world's light heavyweight champion and before that one of the greatest middleweight grapplers of the world, will make two appearances here Saturday night. In the first, he will meet Billy Weidner, also a former light heavyweight champ, in a one-fall or 20-minute event. Later he will team with another veteran, Bob Cummings of Hereford, in a tag match against Cowboy Carlson of Montana and Weidner.

The latter will be the main event of a three-match program at the Hereford arena Saturday night. Professional Wrestling

Fans who are looking for "blood and thunder" might be disappoint-ed, but fans who like professional wrestling, as it is intended to be, should be pleased. Not that tempers won't flare and fists will fly at odd times during the three contests, but from a fundamental standpoint the contestants cling to real wrestling tradition. Anything can happen, of course, in a tag team match, and usually does.

Carlson, the long-haired blond excowboy from Ekalaka, Montana, co-holder with Dary Funk of the Southwest States junior heavy-weight tag team championship, meets Bob Cummings, transplanted Oregonian, in the other prelim-

The man with 248,404 different names

Idly toying with pencil and paper, we just figured out what it would cost to buy yourself a certain electric manufacturing company. Complete with factories, machines, raw materials in the bins, and so forth.

Write your check for 2 billion dollars, please. (That's at recent price per share quoted on the Stock Exchange.) But don't send the check to the company. It doesn't own the stock: You'd have to buy back the stock in bits and pieces from 116,000 women share owners. And 83,000 men. You'd have to get in touch with about 25,000 trustees and guardians. And a few thousand insurance companies, universities, hospitals and pension trusts to buy back the stock they own. We wouldn't blame these people if they didn't sell to

you. They don't have to, you know. Maybe they want the stock for the same reason you do. Not even a thousand millionaires, each putting in a million dollars, could "own" General Electric. The "man" who owns

General Electric has 248,404 names. There are that many owners on the books. Simple mathematics can shoot a large round hole in the childish misconception that America's basic companies are owned by a few lucky people. Suppose there were the fantastic total of 100,000 millionaires. Even they couldn't buy the "people-owned" businesses on which America depends for goods. But already six and a half million individuals have a direct investment in America's production. The only thing bigger than America today will be America tomorrow. And the only collection of people rich enough to finance this growth and share in its success is the public:

Had a little more time and opportunity to delve into the brochure of the SMU' Ponies, which like other volumns of its ilk, is fraught with facts about their club. Compared to the Texas Aggies, at least in numbers, they are loaded, since they list, 21 lettermen and a total of 61 players on the roster. They have 13 ends, 10 tackles, 13 guards and 8 centers. I thought the Cadets were loaded with their 17 backs but the Ponies enumerate 24, including 8 lettermen, among them 5 two-time winners.

One interesting item on the roster savors of California U. and their Ramblers team which, no doubt, has produced more varsity men, percentage-wise, than any other of their multitudinous sources. Studded through the roster in the experience column is the letter T. Turning to the key to identify the "T", it naively states that T indicates the T. team, comprised of ineligibles and holdouts. In case you have misplaced Mr. Woodard, he is the new head coach at SMU and whose selection caused much eye-brow lifting among the coaching gentry and much consternation among the scribes, who had picked everyone but him. Mr. Woodard has had 3 years college coaching experience at McPherson College in Kansas and an illustrious record in Kansas High School circles. There is no reason to condemn a coach because he has had no big time experience and, of course, no big time record, but such experience, if it does nothing else, has the tendency to toughen the epidermis and shed the wolf pack. It is a safe premise to ascertain that Mr. Woodard hasn't had too much experience with a lumni wolves, if for no other reason, than the scarcity of McPherson alumni. However, if he doesn't have a reasonably successful run this lap, he may wish for that thick hide, for the SMU alumni have a record of WASHINGTON, D.C. - Opening shots in the 1953 National Rifle and Pistol Championships were fired today. Over two thousand of America's top marksmen have been training for the tests. The shooting will last through September 7, with practically every top-notch rifle and pistol shooter in the nation competing for the most coveted titles in the shooting world.

This year for the first time since 1940 the high-power rifle, the smallbore rifle and the pistol championships will be held at Camp Perry, Ohio, the world famous home of the shooting tournaments for 33 years starting in 1907.

In all, in the three fields of competition, 98 separate matches will be fired with all American individual and team championships at stake. Older by two years than the Kentucky Derby, the shooting championships stand as the oldest and most traditional sports events in the United States.

Three Weeks of Firing

The firing for the titles will stretch over a three week period with the pistol and smallbore shooters competing between August 20 and 25 and the big bore marksmen and harden on spots you can't holding the center of the stage between August 31 and September

William T. Toney, Jr., of El Paso will defend his U. S. pistol crown against the challenges of 600 of the country's finest hand-gunners including ex-champions Master Sar-geant Huelet Benner, USA, and Harry Reeves of Detroit, Mich. Prior to Toney's surprise vistory at Jacksonville, Florida, in 1952, Benner and Reeves had shared the pistol championship between them since 1940. Reeves held the title from 1940 to 1946 and again in 1948. Benner was top man in 1947 and from 1949 to 1951.

Title On Line

Robert Perkins, of Fresno, Calif., will put his title on the line against 740 of the nation's best .22 caliber riflemen. In the field will be several ex-national champiins such as young Arthur Cook, of Washington, D. C., 1948 national and Olympic title-holder, Ransford Triggs, of Elizabeth, N. J., 1941 champ, and Bill Schweitzer, of Hillside, N. J., for many years one of America's top shooters and recent winner of Great Britain's smallbore champ-

The high-power rifle champion-ships will be fired in two divisions, the NRA Match Rifle and the Service Rifle. Both titles will be defended by Marines. Lt. Col. Walter Walsh, of Arlington, Va., will try to hold on to the Match Rifle crown and Major Robert C. Dawson, of Barstow, Calif., will match his skill against 600 civilian and military sharpshooters who have been gathered from the four corners of the earth.

Mile Of Ranges

With the opening of the shooting events on August 20th a tented city, complete in every detail, will spring up ov-er night to accommodate more than 6,000 competitors, spectators, and champ operating personnel (a full battalion of Marines to work ranges). The Championships are organ-ized and conducted by the National Rifle Association of America.

PAINT ON WINDOWS

Rub paint spots on windows with rubbing pure olive oil into the scalp for a few nights in succeslcohol and scrape off with a razor blade. Use hot vinegar to wish windows which have paint spots on them. Or, strong soda water will often prove effective, too.

RUSTY SCREWS To remove a stubborn, rusty screw, apply a red hot iron to the head for a short time; then remove with a screwdriver while still hot.

STUCK STAMPS

When postage stamps are stuck together, place a piece of paper over them and pass over it with a warm iron. Then separate the stamps. RAZOR BLADES

A quick, easy way to sharpen razor blades is to insert one into glass filled with water, and merely rub the blade against the side of the glass to sharpen. CLEANER WALLS If you will insert rubber headed tacks into the bottom of the backs of picture frames, this will keep dust from marking the wall where the pictures rest. ONION BREATH Chew a whole coffee bean or a sprig of parsley which has been dipped into vinegar to remove the odor of onions from the breath. Or, saturate a lump of sugar with vinegar, and eat this. HOLE IN GLASS

To bore a hole in glass, use a regular steel drill and keep the point of contact saturated with camphorated oil or turpentine. The ease with which this is done will surprise you.

DOWNSPOUTS Clogged downspouts may often be opened by dropping into them where they connect with the eaves a few generous handfuls of ordinary rock salt.

PAINT BRUSH Wash the paint brush in boiling water with plenty of washing pow der in it. When the brush is caked very hard with old paint, try boiling it a little while in vinegar.

FELT HATS

The gloss may be restored to a felt hat merely by rubbing it with a hot brush. SUNBURNED PANAMA HAT

Remove from fire and let soak for

If the Panama hat has become badly discolored by the sun, make a solution of one teaspoonful of oxalic acid to one pint of water and apply with a brush. Just as soon as the hat has bleached, rinse the solution out throughly. CROCKERY

If a piece of crockery is cracked, boil it in sweet milk, and it will often be restored to use. KNIFE STAINS

Almost all stains on knives can be quickly removed by rubbing them with a piece of raw potato. PREVENT MOLD Mold can be prevented when making preserves, if a few drops of glycerine are put around the edge of the jar before covering it. GILT FRAMES To clean gilt frames, rub lightly with a cloth dipped in an unbeaten egg, into which a small lump of washing soda has been dissolved. Then polish with a dry cloth. Do not use water.

VERMONT POPULATION

The downward trend of population in Vermont is continuing. Estimated population in the state at the end of last year was 373,000, compared with official U.S. Census figures of 377,747 in 1950. Principal reasons given for the decline were a continued reduction in the number of farms and the replacement of farm labor by machinery.

WORLD SHIP CONSTRUCTION Construction in world shipyards showed an increase at the beginning of this year. This was due to renewed activity in Japanese, German and Italian shipyards which accounted for 9.27, 8.41 and 6.01 per cent of the world total.
