Residents ask for annexation

By GEORGIA TYLER

Staff Writer A delegation of residents on Campbell Street, just west-southwest of Hereford, drew a favorable response Monday from the Hereford City Commission on a request for annexation to the city, although no action was taken.

Another agenda item for the meeting, consideration of a zoning change, attracted a group of residents in the area of 210 Avenue C. The commission overturned a zoning board recommendation to deny a request for a mobile home at the address.

And, a resident, Ronnie Hathaway, asked the commission for dismissal of a city police officer, Tim Travis, who has been under fire from other residents in recent weeks. On the annexation question, a petition must be brought, formally, to the city, and an engineering report on supplying city services must be made before a decision can be made, Mayor Tom LeGate told the delegation.

Campbell Street runs south from Bradley. It is just south of West Park

Tina Ramirez, speaking for the group, said water for the homes on parents because they have serious the street is supplied by a private well and that no sewer service is available.

"We have been without water for up to three days sometimes in the homes are on the street. past," said Ramirez. "There is no sewer. There are cesspools, not septic they have sought consistency on tanks."

Campbell Street is paved because residents paid for the work and they've contracted for garbage collection with an Amarillo firm.

Mayor LeGate asked the Campbell Street residents and supporters of the annexation to provide the city with the formal petition.

"We'll get to work on the engineering report," he said.

Several residents of the area around 210 Avenue C appeared before the commission in support of a zoning change asked by Darlene Stovall.

She asked for the variance so she may place a mobile home on the property, adjacent to her parents'

"I need to live next door to my health problems," Stovall said.

Several neighbors supported her request, noting that some mobile

> On motion of Commissioner Irene Cantu and second by James McDowell, the zoning change from residential two family to mobile home was approved by a 6-1 vote. LeGate voted against overturning the zoning board.

> In a city improvement item, the commission agreed to bear 20 percent of the expense of a paving project on Forrest Avenue, between Irving and Whittier.

> The two block-stretch now is paved only on one side. The project is expected to cost a total of $19,500.

> Hathaway addressed the commission in support of a son, who, he said, has been subjected to harassment by Officer Travis. A copy of a complaint lodged with the police department was given to commissioners.

The commission spent 30 minutes in an executive session. Two topics were listed for the closed-door meeting.

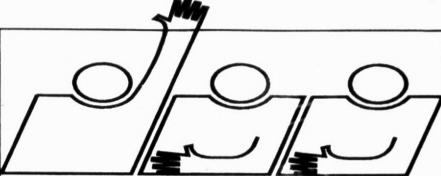

Discussion of possible litigation related to Officer Travis and a Hereford High School student, Colby Fangman, was an executive session item. And, a contract for airport management was reviewed behind closed doors.

After the commission returned to open session, the airport agreement with John and Donna Smith was approved.

On recommendation of City Manager Chester Nolen, the commission voted an "intent" to participate in a joint contract for consultant services related to the Americans with Disabilities Act.

Nolen said the Panhandle Regional Planning Commission may sponsor the project which would offer job analyses and compliance needs for the ADA.

Cost of the survey would range from $2,800 if five cities participate to $4,300 if 10 cities are involved.

Hispanics are shortchanged on health care

WASHINGTON (AP) - Hispanics are far less likely than blacks or whites to have any type of health insurance, largely because many are employed in low-paying jobs without coverage, two Hispanic advocacy groups say.

A third of all Hispanics were uninsured in 1990, compared with 19.7 percent of blacks and 12.9 percent of whites, according to a report prepared by the National Council of La Raza and the Labor Council for Latin American Advancement.

Hispanics are disproportionately affected by lack of public or private health coverage, the study said. They accounted for more than 20 percent of the uninsured population in 1990, despite representing only 9 percent of the U.S. population.

"The current system ... is hurting Hispanics more than anyone else,' said Esther Aguilera, a La Raza. policy analyst who authored the

"We can't ignore the fact it's been a problem for a long time and it's a way that this population has been alienated unlike others," she said Monday.

The concentration of Hispanics in low-paying jobs helps explain their low levels of private health insurance coverage, the study said. "This report confirms that Hispanics are experiencing a severe health care crisis," Raul Yzaguirre, president of La Raza, said in a news release.

A General Accounting Office study released earlier this year found that among uninsured Hispanics Perez is under age 65, nearly 80 percent belong to families that have employed adult workers.

health insurance system. Millions of day's Cinco de Mayo celebraworking Hispanics and their families lack any health insurance protection," he said.

Hispanic men are more likely than backbreaking low-wage jobs - they are working poor.'

Especially hard hit are Hispanics between the ages of 18 and 24. In 1990, 48 percent of Hispanics in that age group were not insured, compared with 33.7 percent of blacks and 24.7 percent of whites.

As whites and blacks have made gains in health insurance, Hispanics have continued to have less access to health coverage, the study said. From 1985 to 1990, the number of uninsured Hispanics rose from 5.5 million to 6.9 million.

Flood may ask ballot recount

By JOHN BROOKS Managing Editor

Joe Flood, who finished a very close second for the second year in a row, may file for a recount of votes in Saturday's school board election.

The school board election was one of two contested races in Saturday's election, which included city and hospital board races.

Carey Black topped the field in the city election with 299 votes, while incumbent Roger Eades won the other at-large seat with 252 votes. Incumbent commissioner Emory Brownlow was four votes behind, with 248, missing re-election.

Flood lost to incumbent Steve Wright, 121-118, in the race for Place 5 on the school board. Last year, Wright and Flood were the top two candidates in a three-man race with David Bone. Wright won the run-off, 61-59, to fill out the unexpired term.

"I know there were some problems with the election and some people had to vote twice because of a mixup. Flood said Monday. "I have an ego just like anyone else, and I want to be absolutely sure everything was counted right."

The school board was scheduled to canvass Saturday's votes today at 5:30 p.m. in a special meeting. Mike Veazey picked up 135 votes in his uncontested race for Place 4. Black topped a five person field to win a two-year term on the commission. Robert Griego received 182 votes and Raul Valdez had 153

Irene Cantu and Wayne Winget were unopposed to return to the commission. Cantu got 53 votes and Winget had 101.

Also unopposed were the four persons who ran for the hospital board. Four seats were open and four persons were on the ballot. John Perrin, Boyd Foster, Paul Abalos and Merle Clark won seats; Perrin and Foster are incumbents.

Watson told that the dyslexia program is now in effect in the Hereford school system with three teachers having gone through intensive training to help young people with dyslexia. She said in 1991, there were 15 students who participated in the program and that this year, there are 17 students in the three-year program.

Watson explained that dyslexia is an often misunderstood, misused term that refers to individuals whose major talents often lie in the three-dimensional real world of art, mechanics, cooking, building, selling and sports.

A high percentage of these individuals are very intelligent but need different type of learning skills to help them cope with reading, writing and spelling. They are taught to hear, see and feel the words with emphasis placed on alphabetic phonics.

Hints From Heloise

Dear Heloise: Why don't individual states have driver's licenses embossed like some of the credit cards? Then, when ID is needed for cashing checks, the license could be run through the machine and the information transferred without the clerk having to write it all down. — Eileen Harper, Avon Park, Fla.

I don't know, but I'd say yours is a very good idea! Maybe someday soon.

Colvin earns alternate status

Petey Colvin was third in a photofinish finals of the 200-meter dash Saturday at the Region I-4A track meet, but that's as close as Hereford got to sending someone to the state

Ronald Knighton won the 200 in 21.4 seconds. Terrance Norris of San Angelo Lake View was second in 21.6, followed by Colvin in 21.7 and Dunbar's Typail McMullen in 21.8. Everman's Fred Starling and Dunbar's Justin McConic both clocked 22.0.

"From the start, on the curve, I though I was a little behind," Colvin said. "On the straightaway, I was feeling more comfortable when I started passing some people. I pulled up with Typail and caught him at the finish line.

Colvin also ran in the 100 dash, finishing sixth in 10.58 seconds. That The third-place finish means breaks the school record of 10.6, set Colvin is an alternate to the state in 1976 by Paul Bell. second, also in 10.4.
Other than Colvin several Whitefaces placed in the top six-which, out of 12, isn't bad. For the girls, Shantel Cornelius was fourth in the shot put with an effort of 38-6 1/2. On Friday, she placed fifth in Minerva Salazar finished sixth in the 400 run, in 1:01.6, and Jeannie Barrientez finished sixth in the 300 hurdles in 48.7.

"I think they did about as good as they could with that competition," girls' coach Martha Emerson said. "Minerva was a little disappointed, but I think she knew it was going to be tough to get down to Austin with all those times (of the girls at regionals). When it's your senior year, you always want to do a little better.'

Steven Blea placed fifth in the shot put with an effort of 51-10 1/4. He

"He was throwing 55-56 in warm-ups," boys' coach Ron Young said. "His first throw went 55, but he scratched. His foot just barely hit the top of the toe board. Being as young as he is (he's a junior) he couldn't handle the kind of pressure he was being put under. But he's going to be back. So's Petey, and so's (Shawn) Fogo (who finished ninth in the long jump Friday)."

Randall's Chris Cook won the shot with a put of 53-1.

A few other athletes from District 1-4A advanced to the state tournament. For the boys, Cook is going in the discus as well as the shot. Caprock's Trey Smith is going in the high jump, and Dumas' Anthony Casas is going in the 300 hurdles.

For the girls, Randall will send two high jumpers: Jessica Rexrode and Amanda Sandlin. Borger's Christine Quiros advanced in both the 1,600relay teams in the 400 and 800.

Hereford cancels Longhorns' party

The Caprock Longhorns wish they hadn't invited Ray Hastings and the rest of the Herd to their playoff party, which was originally scheduled

The Hereford sophomore didn't even know he was invited until Friday. On Saturday, he pitched a two-hit shutout in his varsity debut. The Herd's 2-0 win kept Caprock from clinching a playoff berth.

Hereford improves to 3-6 in District 1-4A and 6-17-2 overall. Caprock falls to 6-3 in district and 13-9 overall. The Longhorns still can clinch a playoff berth with a win today at Dumas (7-2).

Throughout the game in Amarillo, a strong wind blew in from center

"It ensured a low-scoring game," Coach T.R. Sartor said. "You really couldn't drive the ball.

"I don't want to make it sound like that's the only reason Ray did well. He was spotting the ball well, moving it inside and outside. On a windy day like that, it's hard to maintain your control. I'm proud he only gave up two walks." Hastings also gave up two hits--both singles by Ramon Campos--while striking out five.

"It was different, coming from being a JV pitcher," Hastings said, then added that Sartor told him on Friday he'd be starting. "I couldn't have

King and his Court provide fun for everyone

By JAY PEDEN Sports Editor I learned why they call it fast-pitch softball on Monday. I came up for my first (and mercifully only) at bat with Carey Black on third base. Pitcher Rich Hoppe of the King and his Court wound up three times. I saw the ball come out of his hand two of those times. I think.

That was the story for many of the Hereford Stars, a group of Hereford citizens brought together to play the internationally-known King and his Court a travelling four-man softball

The Court won, although there was no score really kept. The court scored a few of its runs when their players stretched the rules, all in the name of fun. If they had needed to, they could have scored more within the rules. The game was not a softball purist's dream, with frequent cleared about $450.

clowning around by Eddie Feigner (the King) and members of his Court: Hoppe, Dave Booth and especially Gary West.

There were, however, few purists in the crowd of 500 at the Kids Inc. Complex. The crowd seemed to enjoy itself, the Stars seemed to enjoy the game and the traveling foursome seemed to enjoy performing for

The King and his Court have routines similar to the Harlem Globetrotters. With the softball, the King picked Tom Simons off first base twice with behind-the-back throws. Without the softball, West joked with the crowd and the other players. With the bat, Booth, a very large man, homered to center field. He also hit a foul ball which may have landed in New Mexico.

The Hereford YMCA also got a little good out of the event. They

Caprock (6-3) could have clinched a playoff berth with a win and can still get in with a win today at Dumas (7-2), but only if Randall (6-3) loses to Hereford. The only way the Demons get left out of the playoffs is if they lose, Randall beats Hereford today, and they lose out in the tiebreaking process. # Heaton reaches out, touches Belle

By The Associated Press

Neal Heaton hit Alberte Belle with a pitch and sounded proud that he did

"No question about it, you've got to protect your own players in the heat of battle," Heaton said after the Kansas City Royals beat the Cleveland Indians 11-6 Monday. "That's the way baseball is played and the way it's always going to be."

Heaton said he threw at Belle leading off the bottom of the eighth because Cleveland reliever Eric Bell hit Royals first baseman Wally Joyner with a pitch with two outs in the top of the inning.

Belle. Belle charged the mound several seconds after the ejection, both dugouts and bullpens emptied and several players exchanged punches. Belle, who refused to comment, also was ejected.

In other games, Chicago beat Milwaukee 7-0, Minnesota beat Boston 6-1, Baltimore beat Texas 8-5. Toronto beat Oakland 7-3, Detroit beat California 6-2 and New York beat Seattle 7-5.

Orioles 8, Rangers 5

Reliever Alan Mills (2-0) was the winner, pitching five scoreless innings. With the score tied 3-all, Terry Mathews (1-3) walked Devereaux and hit Cal Ripken with a pitch, and Tim Hulett hit a go-ahead single off Floyd Bannister. Todd Burns walked Randy Milligan and Hoiles hit his seventh home run.

Termites Swarming Here

The idea of termites coming uninvited and eating away at your valuable home isn't a happy thought! That's why no one likes to find winged termites in or around their home. But it is an important finding - it may be your first sign that some hungry termites are eating away at the wood structure of your home, eventually causing thousands of dollars in damage. If you do have termites, it is better to detect and control them early than late. Termites will be actively swarming in the months ahead. They fly out of their nests, sometimes by the hundreds and thousands, to mate and start new colonies. If you find some of the critters, first use this handy drawing to see whether it is an ant or termite. Many species of ants swarm at the same time, and it's easy to mistake the two.

Notice that termites wings are about the same length and have lots of veins, while ant wings have few veins, and their forewings are longer than their hindwings. Also, termites have broad waists and straight or curved antennae, while ants have narrow waists and sharply bent antennae.

Teen drivers suffer shocking toll

Every two to three weeks, the equivalent of an entire senior class at typical high school is killed in motor vehicle accidents. Last year alone more than 6,000 teenagers died. Over the past decade there were 74,000 teenage driving deaths, more than from all diseases combined.

The National Safety Council estimates the financial cost of teenage deaths and injuries at $10 billion each year in medical and insurance costs. property damage and lost wages. But there is no way to place a price tag on thousands of tragically ruined young lives, according to the growing number of government leaders, traffic safety officials, activists and insurers reacting to the carnage on U.S. roadways.

teenage deaths last year were attributable to motor vehicle crashes," says peter O'Rourke, Director of California's Office of Traffic Safety and former chairman of the National Association of Governor's Highway Safety Representatives. "This is all the more shocking since it's occurring despite major U.S.advances in encouraging seat belt usage, reducing drunk driving, and producing safer automobiles.

This month Farmers Insurance Company is launching a program that will send 16,000 agents in 28 states directly into homes to offer counseling to newly licensed drivers. The Youth Education and safety (Y.E.S.) program is designed to instill a "More than forty percent of all stronger sense of responsibility in the nearly one million young drivers insured by Farmers, according to Executive Vice President William H. Braddock.

"New drivers often lack experience and maturity, so it's critical that they take driving as the serious, potentially hazardous activity that it is," says Braddock.

O'Rourke also cites attitude as the single biggest edge parents can give a teenager.

Driving may be routine to your and me," notes O'Rouke, "but if we give our kids the ideas that driving is 'no big deal,' then we greatly increase the chances of their dying in an automobile."

Skin care

Rhonda Banner, owner and operator of Perfect Touch Salon, presented a program on skin care when members of the Hereford Ladies Auxiliary met April 29.

Banner explained the importance of good skin care regime and also spoke on permanent makeup.

Following the program, President Dee Hamilton presided over the business session in which minutes were read by Lina Ruiz, secretary. One addition was made.

Cindy Henson and Ginger Gaddy were named the ladies pumper team coaches and it was decided by members to wear black visors and black shorts with red T-shirts at the convention planned this month.

· Treasurer Lisa Paetzold gave her report and Krista Farrell, T-shirt committee chairman, asked for assistance from her committee to complete the distribution of T-shirts and collect money.

Convention pumper team members will consist of two three-man teams with De'Aun Spain, Krista Farrell and Dee Hamilton on one team and Lina Ruiz, Leticia Valdez and Aida Lemus on the second team. The water polo team will include Leticia Valdez and Aida Lemus. Refreshments were served by Ruiz to members present: Gaddy, Jenny Harbison, Farrell, Henson, De'Aun Spain, Wanda Spain, Marva Spain, Paetzold, Trena Shelburne, Ruiz and Hamilton.

The next meeting is planned at 7:30 p.m. May 26.

By JOE WEAVER Another month has come and gone and here we sit staring summer right in the face. Feels like it, anyway. May, so the song goes, sees the flowers brought by April showers. We didn't have any of those to speak of, but I've got a bumper crop of dandelions anyway. May also brings the end of school, graduation, Mother's Day, memorial Day, backyard barbecues and no-telling-what-all. At the Deaf Smith COunty Library, May means helping kids wind up their term papers and research projects, and gearing up for the Summer Reading Program.

The Friends of the Library are still active this month with a Family Film Marathon featuring Roy Rogers, Mr. Magoo, Abbot and Costello, and The Little Rascals, all in the same movie! Just kidding. They will all be featured on Family Film night, May 21, but NOT all in the same picture! On the 26th, the Friends entertain the county things, they grow grapes!

The oldest, and Argen's favorite, are her mother's embroidery scissors. Also special to the long-time county agent Dictionary are those given her as gifts from various organizations. In the center of a collection is a book she wrote. Daggers & Cutlasses (Actually, she only typed the manuscript for a professor when she was an assistant in the clothing department at Texas Tech). It seems superfluous to give any background information on a local fixture like Argen, but some may need enlightenment. Argen came to Deaf Smith County in 1947 and served as Home Demonstration Agent here for twentyseven years. She and her husband Tom live south of town where, among other

Enjoying tea party

Cody Adair and Abby Horrell enjoy a tea party held recently at the Deaf Smith County Library in honor of Felicity Merriman, the latest addition to the "American Girls" series of books. The "Meet Felicity" party was sponsored by the Friends of the Library to promote awareness of the books. Participants were invited to bring their dolls and come in costume. They made colonial style "mob caps" or marble bags, viewed a movie about Ben Franklin and were served tea and cookies provided by the Los Ciboleros Chapter, DAR.

Social Security

People who are blind can learn about Social Security programs through braille publications and audio cassette tapes, according to Jim Talbot, Manager, Amarillo Social Security office.

The Social Security Administration has worked with the Library of Congress to produce a braille publication and a 3-hour audio cassette "Talking book." both are entitled "Social Security Programs and Benefits." Topics covered include the retirement, disability and

Both the braille and cassette versions are available from any of 160 libraries affiliated with the Library of Congress. Our nearest such library is Texas Sate Library, PO Box. 12927, Austin, Texas 78711. (A special cassette player needed for the double-track audio version is also available from participating libraries.)

Anyone who wants more information about the braille and cassette publications should call the needs to near from an uninvolved unit local Social Security office. The party that her loose lip is destroying number is 376-2241.

Loyalty Day program held at VFW Post Home

Foreign Wars and its Ladies Auxiliary held a Loyalty Day program at the flagpole in the circle in front of the VFW Post Home Friday evening May 1.

The flag was raised by Commander Bill Craig and Bob Morris. The Pledge of Allegiance was given and Erma Loving, Loyalty Day chairman, gave a talk on what Loyalty Day means and when it began. Capt. Pat Michael of the Hereford Police Department and his wife, Sheryl, sang "America the Beautiful." program was closed by a prayer given by Tom Draper.

Immediately following the program, Commander Craig and President Betty Boggs presented a

Special recognition given to volunteers

Hospital volunteers across the nation are being recognized this week for the invaluable service they donate to the nation's hopsitals, Deaf Smith General Hospital Administrator Ron Rives said Monday.

"Our volunteers are one of our true assets. They give both their time and the funds they raise in the gift shop to the hospital and ask for nothing in return except a 'thank you' occasionally," he said.

The DSGH Auxiliary is celebrating National Volunteer Week this year with a new goal. The 15-member group met recently and set the year's objectives to develop new members and find new ways to serve the patients and staff at DSGH.

Auxiliary president Anna Stindt said that the group is taking a new direction. "We plan to meet with hospital personnel and with the administration to find more ways we can be involved in the hospital. We'd like to provide additional assistance on the nursing floor, in the lab, or in the offices," she said.

The Auxiliary is open to all adults, she noted. "We'd like to have both men and women who are interested in donating a few hours a week to helping others. The pay for volunteering is great. Our payment is the satisfaction of being useful. Our service helps the paid staff have more time to give better care to the patients, and that's important," she said.

Anyone wishing to join the volunteers or who wants more information about the organization should call Stindt at 364-2141.

A race between a horse and "Tom Thumb," the first locomotive built in America, took place on Sept. 18, 1830. The horse won-the locomotive sprang a leak in its boiler and failed to finish.

According to rules on displaying the flag, you should never hang one national flag above another in time of peace.
