IN SPITE OF THE HEAT Junior came along to the first annual Quarterhorse show, sponsored by the Hereford Riders Club Saturday. Shown above is Mrs. J. D. Kitchens of House, N. M., with her mare, Little Squaw B, and the colt, Squeaky Dude. Little Squaw competed in the aged mare division of the show and Squeaky Dude came along just for the fun.

Fifty-seven horses from West Texas and Eastern New Mexico entered the show. Glen L. Casey of Amarillo was the judge and Bob Hooper of Plainview was master of ceremonies. All horses shown except foals of 1953 were registered with the American Quarterhorse Association. (Staff Photo)

Chorus To Present "The Mikado" Twice

"The Mikado," a Gilbert and Sullivan operetta, is to be presented by the Hereford High School chorus Thursday and Friday nights at 7:30 o'clock in the High School auditorium.

The Mikado will be played by Robert Miller, Nanki - Phoo by Ko-Ko by David Stanton, Poo-Bah by Jimmy Cramer, Pish-Tush by Raymond Wells, Yum-Yum by Lotus Root, Pitti-Sing by Patsy Jackson, Peep-Bo by Barbara Winget, and Katisha played by Nancy Patterson.

Admission fee is 50 cents for children and 75 cents for adults.

Unused Cotton Allotment Should Be Turned Back

Those who are not planning to plant their cotton allotments in full this year are being asked to release any surplus to the county committee to be re-apportioned, according to Walter N. Hodges, County Chairman of the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee.

"There are always some farmers who do not plant all of their allotted acres for various reasons, and others who need additional acreage to make their cotton farming more profitable," Hodges said.

"Releasing cotton acreage this year will be a temporary measure but, at the same time, released acreage may be considered as seeded for historical purposes," he continued.

The ASC office is also announcing that there are four 1952 model Massey-Harris castor bean combines and one castor bean stripper up for sale and they would like to discuss the possibilities of such a purchase with some interested farmer or others.

Hodges is also reminding area farmers that applications are now being taken for Federal cost sharing on all practices. Closing date for this budgetary period is April 29.

Irrigation farmers can get assistance for a legume program, or for installing of either concrete ditch or underground concrete pipe both of which are, Hodges believes, badly needed in this county, and which seem to pay for themselves by a saving of water.

"With at least a 30 percent loss of water when it is run through open dirt ditches, a change to lined ditches or concrete pipe under the assistance program should be profitable," Hodges added.

As possible, Guy Lawrence, parade marshal, said Saturday. This includes any of the three types of floats—club, organization or individual.

An Air Force band from Amarillo will lead the big parade and will give a concert on the courthouse lawn immediately after the parade.

Following the band concert, the old fiddlers' contest will take place, and winners named.

Odd Fellows, Rebekahs Begin Convention Today

Some 500 Odd Fellows and Rebekahs are expected to arrive in Hereford today (Sunday) to begin the three-day 51st annual convention of their Panhandle Association, according to Ben Conklin, of Hereford, vice president.

Registration will be at 1:30 o'clock this afternoon at the IOOF Hall, following attendance of the delegates at church services this morning.

Memorial services will be held tonight, business sessions and other parts of the program all day Monday and Tuesday morning, and the meeting will adjourn at noon Tuesday.

A tea will be held in connection with the registration this afternoon at the IOOF Hall. Memorial services are scheduled to begin at 8:30 o'clock tonight at the First Christian Church. They will be conducted by Major and Lady Prescott of Amarillo.

Members of the association in attendance will be formally welcomed by Mayor Henry Sears, after which J. C. Morrison will present the welcoming message for the IOOF. Response to the welcome will be given by Roy Kretzmeier of Pampa.

Ursulae Jacobsen will give the welcome to the Rebekahs, with the response being presented by Edna Kendall of Amarillo.

These will be followed by the introduction of officers, a duet, and announcements.

The business session will open at the church at 1:30 o'clock Monday afternoon. At 3 o'clock, individual charges will be given. Rebekahs will meet at the church, while the Odd Fellows will hold their meeting at the IOOF Hall.

At 6 o'clock Monday night the entire association will meet again at the church for a banquet, which will adjourn for degree contests. Odd Fellows will hold their contest at Central School, while the Rebekahs will have theirs at Shirley School.

More Members Wanted

Hereford Is Focal Point For Highway 60 Drive

Hershel E. Miller Elected Selective Service Chairman

Hershel E. Miller, recently appointed a member of Selective Service board 18, has been elected chairman of the board. He is replacing Otto Massie, who resigned from the board after serving as chairman.

An implement dealer, Miller, has lived in this area since 1919, when he was released from the service following World War I. He farmed for 20 years, and had been in his present business for the past eight years.

Miller is a member of the Baptist Church, is a 32nd degree Mason, and is a former post commander of the American Legion unit here.

He has two sons who have been in the armed forces, and a third son who will probably go into service in the near future, he said.

Hereford will be the focal point for a campaign by the Highway 60 Association to gain new members all the way from Canyon to Farwell, Jimmie Allred, Deaf Smith County director of the Texas branch of the association, said Saturday.

Announcement of the plans was made following a meeting between Warren Harrington of Canadian president of the Texas branch, with Allred and Earl Phillips, chairman of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce Highway committee.

Last year, Allred said, there were 59 members of the association in Hereford, and they hope to raise this figure to 70 for the coming year, as well as gaining an additional 30 to 40 new members between Canyon and Farwell. A director has been appointed in each town to work on the program.

The work of gaining new members is to be completed within the next few weeks in preparation for the national convention of the Highway 60 Association. This will be held at Poplar Bluff, Mo., June 3-5, and Harrington is working to get a large delegation from Texas at the convention.

Principal speaker at the meeting will be Milton F. Duvall, president of the Missouri Good Roads Association. The last day of the convention has been set aside for a tour of the Ozark resort area, Harrington told Allred. A delegation from Hereford will attend the convention, though the group has not been determined.

Three regional vice presidents are to be chosen at the national convention, with Texas being considered as one of four central states.

A further discussion of the convention will be taken up at the Chamber of Commerce Highway committee meeting Tuesday night in Hotel Jim Hill, Phillips said.

Two Cowboy Movie Stars Coming For Pioneer Days

Two cowboy movie stars will be present in Hereford during the Pioneer Days celebration, according to word received here Friday.

A call from the Hereford Water Company brought the information that Forrest Tucker and "Tony" Romero will both be here. Details of when they will be here, and for how long, are to follow soon, according to Wayne Phillips, general chairman for the Pioneer Day celebration.

Further details of the plans for Pioneer Day have also been released by Phillips.

Tom Mathis, window decorations chairman, has contacted owners and managers of stores along Main Street, and has begun working up plans for individual window decorations. This year an attempt will be made to have window decorations built around a special theme for each window, rather than just a general early days theme.

Commercial exhibits, which will be placed on the paving by the courthouse, are already being arranged for, Lloyd Sharp, who is in charge of that part of the work, has said.

The area will be divided into 25 foot squares. Exhibitors will be allowed more than one square when it is needed, Sharp said.

Earlene Walton, chairman of the Pioneer Day queen contest, has announced that merchants, clubs and other organizations which wish to enter both a float and a queen contestant in the parade may do so. In cases where a queen contestant rides on the float, the float and the queen contestant will be judged separately, Mrs. Walton said.

Queen contestants must be between the ages of 15 and 35, must appear in the main parade on the opening day of the celebration, either on horseback, on a float or in a vehicle, and must be dressed in either western or pioneer attire, she added.

Judging of the queen contestants will take place on a special ramp in front of Hotel Jim Hill immediately following the parade. The contestants will be judged on the basis of attire, talent, poise and beauty.

A Pioneer Queen, the oldest pioneer woman present, will also be named, and will reign with the elected queen the first night of the Hereford Riders Club rodeo. The elected queen and her court be present at all three nights of the rodeo.

Organizations which have not turned in float entry blanks are being requested to do so as soon as possible, Guy Lawrence, parade marshal, said Saturday. This includes any of the three types of floats—club, organization or individual.

An Air Force band from Amarillo will lead the big parade and will give a concert on the courthouse lawn immediately after the parade.

Following the band concert, the old fiddlers' contest will take place, and winners named.

Around Town

Fourth and final meeting of the club season of the Deaf Smith County Federation of Women's Clubs will be held at 3:30 o'clock Thursday in the First Baptist Church parlor. The meeting will be in the form of a seated tea in observance of the Federation's 25th birthday. New officers will be installed. Mrs. L. H. Lookingbill Sr., chairman of the international relations department, will direct the program.

When Miss Laura V. Hamner speaks Thursday at the 25th anniversary of the Federation of Women's Clubs, she will not give her regular talk about her recent tour of Japan. That talk will be given twice Tuesday — once at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning in the High School auditorium, and at 8 o'clock Tuesday night at Shirley School, both times under the auspices of Beta Sigma Phi. Profits from the two appearances will go to the American Cancer Society.

IRRIGATION WELLS with electric power units can be thoroughly checked for pumping efficiency, according to Raymond Brown, whose work with the West Texas Rural Electric Co-operative includes checking such units for co-op members. With the equipment he has, it is possible to check the horsepower input, amount of water being pumped from, and the depth the water is being pumped from. With these figures, and a few minutes work with a slide rule, Brown can tell a farmer

AT BAYLOR UNIVERSITY County Attorney Line To Attend Conference On Law Enforcement

J. Edward Line, county attorney of Deaf Smith County, will attend the Attorney General's Fourth Annual Conference on Law Enforcement at Baylor University. The conference opens Monday and will continue through noon Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Line plan to leave Hereford today, and begin the return trip from Waco Wednesday afternoon.

The meeting was called by John Ben Sheppard, Texas attorney general, to discuss problems and new methods of prosecutors, judges and peace officers in Texas, the county attorney said. It is being sponsored by the attorney general's office and the Baylor School of Law.

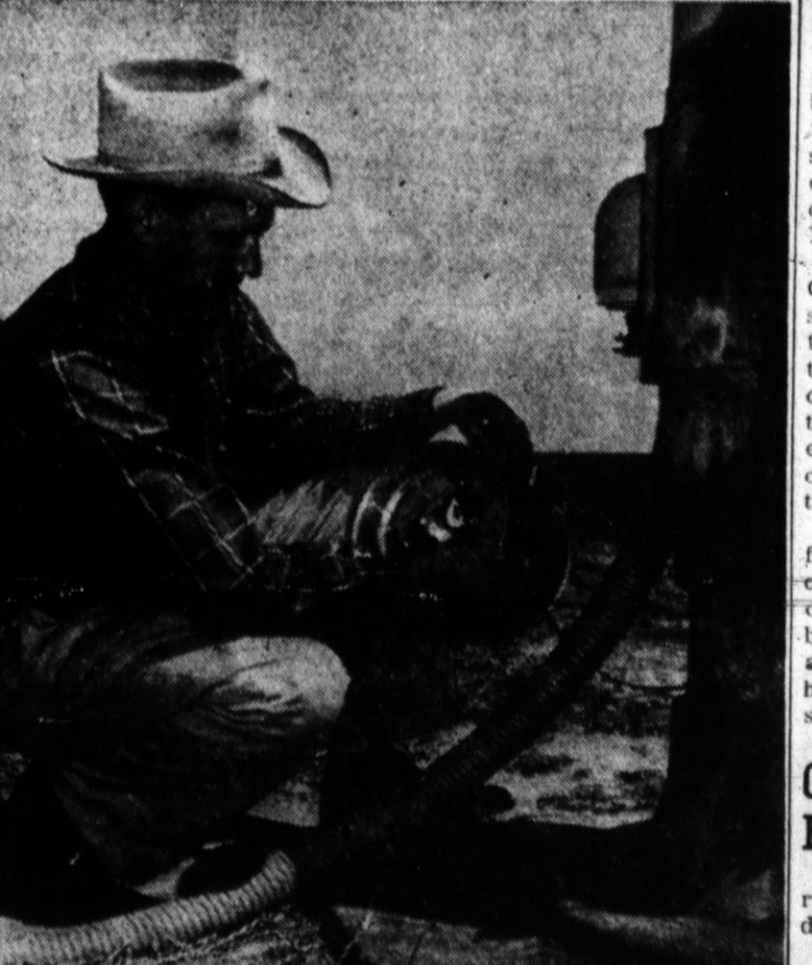

More than 400 law enforcement officers from every part of the state are expected to attend the conference.

Topics for discussion include state-wide crime report, prison and jail problems, control of narcotics, juvenile delinquency, lie detector techniques, hot check legislation and trial and appeal of criminal cases.

Featured speakers will include William J. Jameson, President of the American Bar Association and Erle Stanley Gardner, attorney and novelist.

whether or not the pump is operating at near peak efficiency. It is not possible to check the efficiency as closely on other types of power units, and Brown does not undertake to do that work. Co-op manager Leo Forrest points out that inefficient pumping units cost too much to operate. The usual trouble is with either the wrong type or worn impellers. Overloaded electric motors will automatically kick off when they get too hot. The overload also shortens the life of the motor.

Brown is shown checking a well at the G. W. Hand farm northwest of Hereford. It was found that the pumping efficiency was under 50 per cent, and was probably costing about half as much again as it should to operate the unit. Brown checked the power input, depth from which the unit is pumping, and the amount of water being pumped each minute. (Staff Photos)

Fire Chief Urges Clean-Up

Since January, fires seem to have settled down to a one a month basis in Hereford, according to Fire Chief Earl Phillips.

There were two fires in January, the first being the Muse home on Sixth Street, the second being the Frontier Shop fire, which did heavy damage.

In February, the only fire of any consequence at all was a trash blaze outside a garage apartment, the ticket booth at the football stadium was ruined in March, and on April 4 a blaze did considerable damage at the Hereford Office Machine Co.

"Most blazes are preventable," Chief Phillips pointed out. "With spring, and a change from indoor to outdoor living, this is a good time to clean up accumulations of old clothes, papers and other material in the home or in a business establishment, to check wiring, clean up yards and generally put things in better order."

"In cleaning up, many potential fire hazards, from faulty wiring to oil soaked rags, are likely to be uncovered. Any fire in a home or business is dangerous, and is usually costly. Try to locate those hazards now, and make it a fire-safe summer."

Only Narrow Strip Benefited By Rain

Those rain clouds were downright choosy about where they dropped their precious moisture.

Mrs. N. A. Brown reported Saturday morning that about 1.10 inch of rain fell 20 miles west of Hereford Friday between 5 o'clock and 7 o'clock in the evening.

The rain fell on a strip of land about three miles wide, coming from the southwest and going straight on into the northeast.

Only trouble with the rain was that it came too fast, Mrs. Brown said, and there was a considerable amount of runoff.

Pupil: "Money!"
GUARD RAIL SAVES PIGS
Guard rails are a great help in keeping the sow from rolling on her pigs and mashing them. Every farrowing house should have a guard rail at the sides and back of each pen used by a sow and litter. Guard rails should be 8" to 10" high and 8" to 10" from the wall. Remember, pigs lost cost you money.
"Red" Hagan, Alfred Reinart, and I spent Monday in Amarillo, looking over several laying cage houses. We thought that the city boys would have some new ideas, but finally concluded that we are as far advanced in this new industry as they are. Red Hagan and Joe Kendall have their Cage Egg Factory just west of the drive-in theater. It will house 1000 hens Alfred Reinarts Cage Egg Factory is on his farm, 8 miles east on Highway 60.

Holcombs Make Tour Through Six States

By Mrs. R. C. Childers

A four weeks' tour which took them into six of the southern states was recently completed by Mr. and Mrs. W. E. Holcomb, 701 Miles Street.

The Holcombs started their tour in Texas, visiting a number of historical places. At Salado they visited the first college founded in Texas where her father, James Adams, taught in 1871. While there they also visited the old stagecoach inn and the old Col. Roberson home. At Austin they visited the Capitol and the Elizabeth Ney Museum.

At Natchez the highlights of the town were the ante-bellum homes, where they were met by Negro porters, who shined their shoes, polished their cars, and escorted them to the homes where guides took them through. Guides showed them the antique furniture, china and silver. These guides were women, dressed in hoop skirts and ante-bellum costume.

At New Orleans the Holcombs report visiting the famous French Quarters, the Suicide Oak, and dining at the famous eating place Antoine's.

At Mobile, Ala., Mrs. Holcomb was impressed by the Azalea Trail which is 36 miles in length and was in full bloom. The beautiful moss oaks and the shipping fleet all along the Gulf ports made their trip interesting. The friendliness of the people, and the amount of free sightseeing literature made them feel welcome wherever they went, reports Mr. Holcomb.

In Florida, they visited Tallahassee, where the capitol is located. They visited the governor's mansion and the state university.

At Sarasota, they visited the famous shell resort and jungle gardens, where the headquarters for the "Ringing Brothers Circus" is located. They saw the famous "To To" the ape, who had just recovered from a serious brain operation.

During the historical tour they visited Thomas Edison's winter home at Fort Myers, Fla., which is a museum and a collection of arts are exhibited.

At Key West, the Holcombs traveled over 156 miles of bridges and causeways. Near Miami they saw the great cypress swamps where they purchased two cypress knees that Mrs. Holcomb plans to convert into lamp bases. The mangrove trees impressed the Holcombs. Their roots grow above ground. The trees grow in the swamp land reports Mrs. Holcomb. They were also impressed by the beautiful style of the buildings, which resembled modern art in pictures; and the alluring shopping centers in Miami.

At Lake Wales they toured the "Box Singing Tower," which was erected in memory of Edward Bok, one time editor of "The Ladies' Home Journal."

Returning from southern Florida, they visited the citrus section and rich agricultural section at Lake Okeechobee, where there are sugar cane plantations and truck gardens.

The Holcombs also visited St. Augustine which is the oldest city in the United States. It was founded in 1565. There they toured the oldest house, the oldest school and the "House of Hobbies."

They came home by the northern route reports Mrs. Holcomb. By way of Jacksonville, Fla., through Georgia to Chattanooga, Tenn., where they visited the battle grounds and "Lookout Mountain," near Rock City, Ga. At Birmingham and Bessemer, Ala., they made a tour of the steel mills, before returning home.

PTV. WILLIAM G. BURLESON, son of Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Burleson, 506 Lee Street, has just completed an advanced infantry course on light weapons at Ft. Knox, Ky., and is now being transferred to Ft. Benning, Ga., to attend the airborne "Jump School" there.

garden work and received a banner for highest hour-point score in the district.

Arrangements for the day were made by the various groups represented with Mesdames O. G. Hill, John Jacobsen Jr., and A. L. Manjeot serving as judges.

First place went to the Wahampta group with a coffee table arrangement featuring pastel blue, and green tulips and other spring flowers. Margaret Boomer and Jean Terry made the arrangement.

Second place was won by the Wakita group with Linda Hair and Carolyn Kirby in charge. They used painted branches of spirea and yellow tulips in a hall table piece.

Third place was a breakfast table arrangement of scarlet and yellow tulips made by Linda Jo Cummings, Judith Raye Haseloff, Susan Yarbro, Pam Clay, Caren Sue Daniel and Coleen Reeves, representing the Tawaka group.

Blossom Blue Birds won fourth place with a teacher's desk arrangement of yellow and red tulips and spirea in a green container. Making the arrangement were Suzanne Langley, Nelia Gilliland, Kay Neill and Helen Sears.

Central Blue Birds won honorable mention with a bedroom arangement of lilacs and red and pink tulips. Judy Hoff, Cheri Baker and Joy Story made the arrangement.

In conclusion a plant exchange was held with members of the Hereford Garden Club sharing plants from their gardens with the Camp Fire groups. Plants were also sent to the Hereford Labor Camp.

THAT PICTURE! THAT DANCE!

YOU HAVE HEARD SO MUCH ABOUT YES, WE'RE GOING TO SHOW IT!

This Statement Is Intended as Facts, Not As An Apology

1. Yes, "THE FRENCH LINE" is the Controversial picture... ALL OVER TWO DANCE SCENES!

Jane Russell asked to cut the scene...

Howard Hughes said "No.!"

WHO IS RIGHT AND WHO IS WRONG? ??

2. DO WE HAVE TO BUY IT? When a Company has a product that will make you and them money, and you turn it down... then when they have something you want, what do they do? We turned a picture down with one company in 1949, and haven't made a good trade with them since. This picture also cost enough that we SHOULD show it 5 DAYS!

3. What we think of the Picture? Women will come to see the BEAUTIFUL CLOTHES... MEN WILL COME and sit on the FRONT ROW TO SEE THE BEAUTIFUL GIRLS. I DON'T KNOW ABOUT CHILDREN, AS I HAVE NOT SEEN THE PICTURE.

4. Universal Produced the Controversial Picture "THE MOON IS BLUE" and made money. RKO has "THE FRENCH LINE". My thought is every major company will come out with a controversial picture, and the exhibitor will have to buy one way or another.

ROMAN HOLIDAY

Showing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Star Theatre. Starring Gregory Peck, Audrey Hepburn, Eddie Albert. William Wyler rarely makes a comedy but when he does, you can be sure it has that same "special touch" that makes his dramas so outstanding.

"Roman Holiday," a romantic comedy, not without its tender, dramatic moments, is a thoroughly enjoyable comedy. The story is of a delightful romance between a European princess, portrayed by Audrey Hepburn, and an American newspaperman, Gregory Peck. It was filmed in the buildings of Rome, on the teeming highways and byways and elsewhere. Audrey Hepburn, stage star introduced to the screen for the first time, is excellent. She is a good actress endowed with uncommon beauty and charm. When in Rome do as the Romans do, say Hepburn and Peck, and they do!

"Menu For Relaxation" Presented At L.A.E. Club

Mr. Phil Radovich presented the program when the L.A.E. Study Club met in the home of Mrs. W. L. Jones Tuesday afternoon.

After roll call, when members told of individual methods of relaxation, Mrs. Radovich presented the program on "Relaxation" in the form of an illustrated menu with recipes dealing with peace of mind, serenity and composed living.

In giving the cocktail recipe she quoted excerpts from Gaylord Houser's "Mixing a Mental Cocktail," and as the main course she gave Dr. Norman Vincent Peale's formula for peace of mind in his "Power of Positive Thinking," stressing the thought that the attitude of the mind can change a whole life and lead to success in all things. Among his suggestions were "Prayerize - Pieturize and Actualize."

When she came to the dessert, Mrs. Radovich gave the following recommendation, "Never carry your worries to bed with you—the better you treat them the longer they will stay with you."

Beta Sigma Makes Plans For Pioneer Day Float

Plans to enter a float in Hereford's Pioneer Day parade were made by members of Texas Kappa Iota chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, at the meeting held in the home of the sponsor, Mrs. Margaret Witherspoon, Tuesday night.

Final plans for the Cancer Fund Drive were also announced, including the work with the Jaycees in selling house numbers and the program to be presented by Laura V. Hamner of Amarillo.

Mrs. Ann Line presented the lesson for the night on "The Influence of Music," tracing the development of music from the time when the cave man struck pieces of wood together to produce rhythmic sounds, and the savage made use of his drums on every occasion, first to call the tribe to battle, then for the dancers and singers and later in religious services.

She told of the chant which was the early day sacred song, and of Bishop Arles who is said to have composed the first hymn for Christian worship about 431 A. D., and of the folk songs which have been handed down orally from generation to generation.

Influence of Music
"Ever since time began all countries have had their national anthems, war songs, marches and ballads based on the emotions of the peoples. The influence of music in hospitals and sanitariums has now been recognized. Although music does not express the same meaning to all listeners, its appeal is universal in all lands," Mrs. Line concluded.

Mrs. Joe Lingenfelter spoke on "Enjoyment of Music," reviewing the lives of Chopin, Wagner, Rachmaninoff and Gershwin, and playing records from each composer's works. She concluded by quoting, "And the night shall be filled with

Mary Sue Postelle, Ralf Miller Wed In Semi-Formal Ceremony

Miss Mary Sue Postelle, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Guy R. Postelle of Odessa, became the bride of Ralf Merle Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wayne B. Miller of Oklahoma City, Okla., in a semi-formal ceremony April 17 in the sanctuary of the First Methodist Church here. Rev. S. M. Dunnam, pastor, conducted the single ring service.

Tall tapers rising high above the gold cross marked the center of the altar, augmented at each side by dozens of tapers in branched candelabra. White iron grillwork and arrangements of white chrysanthemums, stock and gladioli, gave the effect of an illuminated curtain interlaced with flowers as background for the ceremony.

Mrs. S. M. Dunnam, organist, provided a pre-nuptial concert as guests were arriving. J. E. Kirby, soloist, sang "I'll Walk Beside You" and "The Lord's Prayer" in benediction. Mrs. Dunnam also played the traditional wedding marches and a muted rendition of Clair de Lune as musical background as the vows were exchanged.

Mrs. M. R. Moore of Odessa served as her sister's matron of honor and Wayne B. Miller attended his son as best man.

Mrs. Moore wore a powder blue cashmere frock made street length with short sleeves, and carried an arm bouquet of pink rosebuds and pink lace carnations tied with tufts of maline and satin ribbon.

Candlelighters were Beverley Moore of Odessa, a niece of the bride, and Troy Don Moore of Hereford. Ushers were Joe Reynolds Moore of Odessa and Martin Reid Moore of Hereford.

Bride Wears White Lace
Escorted by Lee Benefield, an uncle, the bride was met at the altar by her father, who gave her in marriage. She wore an original gown of white Chantilly lace, made over matching satin, designed in princess style with fitted bodice and full waltz length skirt. A short jacket fashioned with long petal point sleeves and up-standing Grecian collar completed the costume.

Her waist length veil of white imported French illusion was attached to a white satin tiara embellished with simulated pearls and iridescent sequins. For sentimental reasons she wore her sister's pearl necklace and matching ear rings. Her paternal grandmother's wedding band provided her heirloom jewelry. The bridal bouquet was centered with a single white orchid surrounded with stephanotis and tufts of maline, and streamered with white satin cut-work ribbon.

The bride's mother wore a navy sheer with white trim, with small navy hat and a gardenia corsage.

The bridegroom's mother wore a beige linen street length frock with brown accessories and bandeau of veiling in her hair. Her corsage was a white gardenia.

Mrs. Lee Benefield, the bride's aunt, wore a blue-gray two piece shantung dress with small off-the-face hat with multi-colored shell trim. Her corsage was fashioned of a white gardenia.

Reception in Ward Hall
Following the wedding a reception was held in Ward Hall of the church.

The bride's table was done in white with blue flower accent in the shades of blue used in the wedding. The table was laid with a white satin cloth with floor-length ruffle and adorned at the center back with a large arrangement of white chrysanthemums and stock interspersed with blue tinted daisies.

Large white chrysanthemums marked the four corners of the table and Dresden candelabra held white tapers. The tiered cake was topped with sugar spun valley lilies and white rosebuds accented with silver tear drops. Appointments were in silver.

Gayle Gault and Sharon Moore, wearing matching white net and satin dresses presided at the table. Mrs. J. F. Postelle of Odessa, aunt of the bride, presided at the guest register.

Those assisting at the reception were Mesdames Troy Moore, Howard Gault, Leo Forrest, C. S. Gunter and E. W. Hobson.

When the couple left on a wedding trip the bride was wearing a rose woolen suit with white hat and accessories, and the orchid detached from the wedding bouquet.

Out-of-town wedding guests included: Dr. J. M. Postelle of San Antonio, the bride's grandfather; Rev. and Mrs. J. S. Budlong of San Antonio, Mr. and Mrs. J. F. Postelle, Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Moore and Beverley and Joe Reynolds Moore of Odessa, Mrs. William McCloud and children William Jr., and Susie of Midway City, N. C., Mr. and Mrs. G. S. McLaughlin of Mexico City, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Barkley of Conroe; Jerry Johnson and Russell Brett of Norman, Okla., and Mrs. Kelly Lamb of San Antonio.

The bride is a graduate of Stephens College, Columbia, Mo., and of the University of Oklahoma where she received her degree in education in January. She is a member of Delta Gamma sorority and of the Kappa Delta Phi, honorary education fraternity.

Mr. Miller was recently separated from the U. S. Army after serving 31 months in active duty, his last assignment being assistant executive officer of an artillery unit with the Second Division in Germany. He is now attending the University of Oklahoma at Norman.

Rehearsal Dinner Given
The rehearsal dinner honoring members of the bridal party and out-of-town guests was held at the Lee Benefield home Friday evening, before the wedding.

The table from which the dinner was served featured a lighted miniature church placed at one corner. Blue lace formed a base for tiny bridal wreath trees which encircled the church, and a miniature bridal couple stood as though departing along the white satin ribbon aisle cloth held at the opposite corner of the table by an open Bible. Valley lilies were used in the floral accent.

Homer Brumley, and Ray Downey as a committee to arrange a club float for the Pioneer Day parade.

Continuing, she said, in part, "At the age of 78, in 1938, Mrs. Moses began her art work. She had always earned her share of the family income, first by selling butter and later, potato chips. She had little public schooling and no lessons in art, but as a child she used berry juices to paint landscapes on white rolls of paper. Her first large picture came about when they were papering a room and ran out of paper. Mrs. Moses colored the walls and painted in a lake and trees.

Copied Currie and Ives
In the beginning she copied Currie and Ives, but now she "lets her heart talk without inhibitions." Her first exhibit was in 1940.

At the present time her output is 30 pictures a week, and she has sold some 700. Some of her pictures are reserved for museums and are considered priceless. "The Checkered House" and "The Old Oaken Bucket" are two of her outstanding works.

In conclusion Mrs. Streu said, "Each picture is a unit of landscape and figures in perfect harmony, and gives a sense of the profound goodness of small things, of the peace and satisfaction that comes from the adjusted, happy relationship of an individual to the whole of life, the universe and to eternity."

ADDING THE CREOLE TOUCH

Many people who dine on Creole food in the southern states invariably want to know how to prepare Creole dishes at home.

Adding the Creole touch is a little hard to explain for so much depends on the seasoning and nothing could be more Creole than taking a food on the local market and treating it in their own method.

April is a good month for re-trenchment in the budget department, and since ground meat does cut costs it becomes a wise choice, for it can be converted into many delectable dishes which vary in flavor and are easy to do.

Mrs. V. O. Hennen prepares many Creole dishes. Her favorite, and one her family favors, as well as guests who have enjoyed it, is Creole Steak. Here is the recipe:

- Creole Steak
- 1 lb. ground round steak
 - Salt and pepper to taste
 - 2 level tablespoons flour
- Mix together thoroughly, pat out on floured board and cut in six steaks. Sear on both sides in skillet in two level tablespoons shortening. Remove steaks from skillet and pour off half the remaining fat. Slice two large onions into rings and put in remaining fat in skillet and stir constantly until onions pearl, but do not brown.

Lawyer Client Confidences Well Protected

Most people do not realize how zealously the information given by a client to his lawyer is guarded. It is a fundamental principle of the legal profession that all information confided to lawyers must remain secret. It is the property of the client the same as though it were money, and is not the property of your lawyer to give away. There are only three people in whom you can confide and know that your confidence is protected. They are your lawyer, your doctor and your minister.

Even the law itself protects you in your relationship with your lawyer. No one can compel him to divulge any information confided to him by a client. The reason for this protection is obvious. Unless you are able to confide fully and completely in your lawyer, he is unable to help you. He cannot protect your interests unless he knows all the facts.

There is an exception to this protection, however, for under the Canons of Professional Ethics to which the lawyer subscribes, the announced intention of a client to commit a crime is not included within the confidences which he is bound to respect. The lawyer may properly make such disclosures as may be necessary to prevent the act or protect those against whom it is threatened.

The same Canons outline other principles which attorneys must follow. For example: A lawyer may not represent clients with conflicting interests except with the client's consent after they have full knowledge of the situation. He is bound to give a frank opinion on the merits and likely results of a lawsuit, and should advise his clients to make a fair settlement if he can avoid or end a lawsuit.

He should not overvalue or undervalue his services. Ability to pay is no justification for an excessive lawyer's fee, although lack of finances on the part of the client may require a reduced fee or none at all. And he must never regard his profession as a money-getting trade but always remember that it is a branch of the administration of justice.

The same code requires that he be fair to other lawyers and that he be frank, co-operative and respectful to the courts. He is responsible for decisions regarding the best procedure to follow in a trial. He must do his best to prevent his client from acting improperly toward the court or jury, or in his duties as a citizen. These and many other restrictions are voluntarily accepted by the lawyer because the acts forbidden are felt to be unworthy of the high standards of the profession.

It is rare that one finds a lawyer who willingly and knowingly departs from the ideals of the code of ethics. It is more strict than

A STATEWIDE PROBLEM IS . . .

Our Current Crime On Defenseless Children

Deaf Smith County, in recent years, has contributed a part of a general experiment in a Child Welfare program which District Judge Harry Schultz has sponsored over his 69th judicial district. The program, in a nutshell, is an effort to place the burden of financial support on the shoulders of the father in cases where divorces are granted through district court. It has even resulted in charges of "child desertion" on individuals who did not comply with court orders.

Needless to say, a program of this sort has gained considerable support — and has met with stiff opposition in numerous cases. Most people readily agree that a father should have financial responsibility regarding his children. Present laws in Texas are inadequate to attain this result at all times, however, and the divorced mother frequently finds herself in the position of neglecting her children in order to seek a job that they may have food and clothing.

Most public opinion, contrary to the program, has arisen, it seems, from methods of handling, rather than from actual sentiment in regard to child support. Judge Schultz recently outlined before the Deaf Smith Commissioners a plan which will include a worker from the State Child Welfare division. Cost to the county would be small: $20 per month for clerical work, $10 per month car maintenance and seven cents per mile for car operation on calls within the county. Also would be possible lodging on overnight calls on rare occasions. Other expenses will be generally stood by the state board, which now spends almost a million dollars a year on child welfare.

By working through this investigator Judge Schultz feels that "most fathers can be persuaded to support their children". He even feels that state and county costs can be reduced along the line of child support when the plans become effective.

Perhaps the judge is right. Certainly he has given the problem extensive thought and effort. He has even made lengthy strides toward general improvement. However, we cannot endorse his proposal in full. If his plan solves the child welfare problem through the 69th judicial district, well and good — but what about the remainder of this great state? Our feeling today is the same as it has been in the past: the child welfare problem is state-wide in scope. It should be solved on a state-wide basis — through the Texas Legislature. Meanwhile, to activate Judge Schultz' plan on an experimental basis is wonderful; a step forward in the right direction. We hope the Commissioners' Court approves his measure. In addition, when and if the Texas Legislature decides to take steps toward remedying one of Texas' worst situations — "our current crime against defenseless children" — they can find no more interested, experienced or better versed man than Judge Schultz for a place on any state board or committee which may draw up such material for careful study by the group.

Trucking Industry Seeks U. S. Mails

"Faster Mail for Less Money" is the title of a magazine type brochure released this week by the trucking industry. In sum and substance, the trucking industry is making a definite bid for mail deliveries by truck instead of by train. In addition, they recognize the importance of air mail through expansion of categories now in use.

To us, this is a new approach to a big question. Frankly, we had never considered mail deliveries by truck. The truck people, however, have made trial deliveries and report "striking improvement in postal service." In addition, they report ". . . for every two dollars spent on truck mail, the Post Office department has saved one dollar" in costs as compared with railroad mail deliveries.

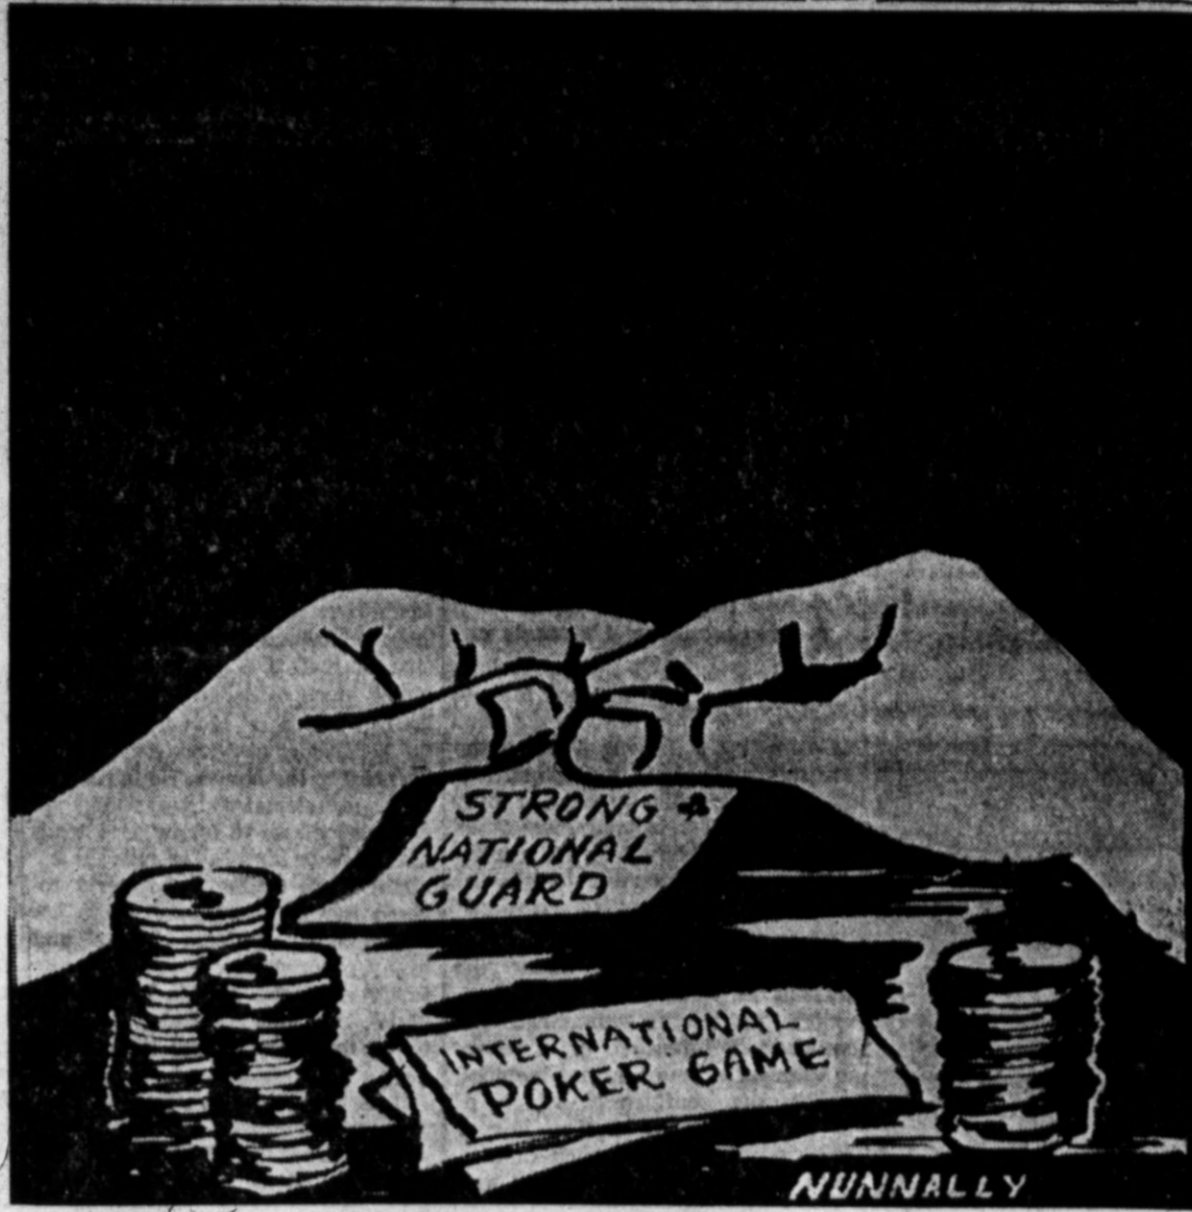

The question, of course, provides material for good arguments. Trucks have acquired a big portion of the "local freight" business, due to service offered. Ever-increasing expansion of truck freight indicates that there is considerable merit in the arguments made by the trucking industry. Freight-wise, the railroads are gradually concentrating on heavy, long-distance hauls and, on these hauls, they are definitely more practical for the average shipper. Much the same story has occurred in the passenger business and, says the truck lines, why not the U. S. Mails?

Railroads, on the other hand, are operating with considerable government subsidy. What would loss of mail contracts mean to these lines — and to the general American economy? Remember, also, that the railroads are heavy county, school and local tax payers. What would this loss of revenue mean to local economies? Would a weakened railroad system mean a weakened America in case of war? How would our highways fare with additional mail traffic?

Truck lines are already subsidized through construction of highways. It is possible that more and better highways could be constructed and maintained. Air mail could be used more extensively, coupled with the trucking system. The truck people also recommend greater use of the Highway Post Office system and of the Star Route service as a necessary complement to the program.

All in all, the proposal has definite possibilities. However, it would require a general revamping of the present U. S. Mails. Serious though the question may be, it also presents a humorous aspect or two. Almost a century ago, the railroads literally pushed the stage coach and the pony express off the roads when they took over the U. S. Mail service. If, today, the trucks (as successors to the old stage coach), were to oust the railroads on the same arguments of speed and more efficient service, it would indeed be ironic.

Meanwhile, the staggering deficit of $662,991,631 accrued by the Post Office Department in 1953 alone does suggest that some radical changes are definitely in line.

Local Unit Of National Guard Would Have Advantages For Area

Would you favor the formation of a National Guard unit in Hereford?

W. G. WHITE

"Yes, I think that it would be a good idea to have a National Guard unit in Hereford. I don't believe that I have any particular reason for believing this, but I came from a town where they did have a National Guard unit and I think that they are a good thing."

MRS. J. R. THOMAS

"I think it would be a good idea to form a National Guard unit in Hereford. I believe that not only Hereford but all communities should form a National Guard unit as national security."

MRS. G. D. CAISON

"I hadn't really thought too much about it and I don't know too much about National Guard units, but it sounds like a good idea to have a National Guard unit in Hereford."

SCOTTY BUCKNER

"I don't know what good a National Guard unit would do in Hereford. I think that we have enough army as it is."

MRS. CHARLIE SOWELL

"I don't know why it wouldn't be a good idea to have a National Guard unit in Hereford. I think that we have come to the point where we need national protection of some sort. If we have a major war the boys would have to go anyway whether we had a National Guard unit or not, so I think that it would be a good idea."

BILL KRUMBEIN

"I don't know much about the National Guard but I think that I would be in favor of a unit in Hereford. Primarily because it gives the young people of this vicinity a good background and good training in case of an emergency."

MRS. E. W. COTTON

"Of course, I am not a member of the community, but I think that it would be a good idea to have a National Guard unit here. Mainly for protection and they do a lot of good all the way around. I think that it would be a good thing for this community."

Texas Press Association

AUSTIN — This is the week of decision.

At his press conference last Friday, his first since the legislature adjourned, Governor Allan Shivers promised that this week he would positively answer the oft propounded question "Do you intend to run for re-election?"

He has been very agile in evading a definite answer.

A lot of political "futures" depend on the Governor's decision.

Many office holders will seek to remain where they are if the Governor decides to run again.

On the other hand, should he choose not to run, there will be a mad scramble.

So this is truly the week of decision.

This situation parallels that of last January two years ago when, at a convention of the Texas Press Association, the Governor revealed that he would campaign for election to his present post. A deluge of announcements from other office seekers followed within 24 hours.

So it will be this time, except that they will go into high gear as the May 3 deadline for filing is only three weeks away.

George T. Hinson, member of the Texas House of Representatives from Mineola, already has filed as a candidate for Lt. Governor on the Democratic ticket.

He was co-author of bills for teachers' and state workers' pay raises and the state building program.

Representatives Resign
Two members of the Texas House of Representatives have resigned since the special session of the legislature ended April 13.

They are Gabe Garrett, newspaperman from Corpus Christi, and Richard S. Stark of Gainesville.

Stark gave no reason for his retirement.
Garrett resigned to run for Congress.

First To Outlaw Communists
Texas' friendliness no longer extends to Communists. The big friendly state now has the only law in the nation, including the Federal Government, which outlaws the Communist party and its members, and makes "belonging to the Communist Party a crime punishable by a 20-year maximum prison sentence."

The law became effective immediately upon the Governor's signing it last Thursday.

With the signing of bills by the Governor, the 1954 special legislative session is rapidly becoming history.

Complete victory for the Governor's program was the net result of the called session. He got everything he asked for. That included: pay raises for teachers and state employees, appropriations for state buildings, and the anti-communist law.

— O —

Dear editor:

I was out here the other afternoon watchin my rain gauge while we were getting a little shower, there are few pleasures in life greater than the fun of watching rain fall after a long drouth, even a shower, and I found a water-soaked newspaper caught in a clump of weeds and took it to the house and dried it out, some newspapers are dull enough when dry but when wet they're about like water-logged light-bread.

The only article in the paper that attracted my attention was one about a United States Senator who was urgin the government to put up cash awards for inventions for defense, to head off the inventions for attack.

Accordin to this Senator, the government ought to put up some real money to get the inventors to turn their minds toward defense, and he wants to offer as much as $75,000 per idea if it'll work.

I think this fellow is on the right track, although I don't know what the results will be. There are some people who say man isn't as smart say as insects. Take flies. When man brought out DDT a few years ago, it must have been as glaring and nerve-wracking to flies as the hydrogen bomb is to man, but what happened? The flies went to work and in less than two years had maneuvered around to where they had developed an immunity to DDT, even without the help of government cash.

But I contend man is as smart as most insects, and I would like to see this new program of defense invention started. What the defense against a hydrogen bomb will be, I have no idea. As I understand it, it'll dig a hole 150 feet deep and spread heat for miles around, so bomb shelters are out. Tryin to intercept a plane carryin one of them bombs is hazardous and sooner or later one of em is bound to get through.

What we really need is something along the line of radar rays of some sort which can be sent out all over the world from one spot and explode the bomb ahead of time. Probably wouldn't anything slow a man down from makin a bomb as the knowledge somebody else was likely to make it go off before he was ready to drop it. Very few people would be interested in carrying a time bomb around in their coat pocket if somebody else was in charge of the clock.

If you think this idea will work, go ahead and work out the mechanical details while I move on to other thinkin and we'll split the $75,000. I advise speed, though. We may not have much time.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Zoning Ordinance

In recent years, Hereford has undergone numerous alterations, which included city government, bond elections, school expansions, paving programs and highway improvements. Some of these changes have resulted in criticisms, heated arguments and general public interest. If we are to judge by experiences in other communities, however, it might be apropos to say, "You ain't seen nothin' yet."

To be definite, we refer to the proposed city ordinance on which the first official hearing was held Wednesday morning. People will, at first, take the situation with a grain of salt. Things will continue to go along on an even keel, so long as the zoning effects "other people." When it strikes close to home, however, or happens to infringe on "you", the story will change. Regardless of these things, zoning is absolutely necessary — if the town continues to grow and expand. In the long run, zoning actually represents, protection to the average home owner. This is especially true of the "little man" — and he is usually the customer who howls the longest and the loudest. In some cases zoning will, unquestionably, create handicaps and inequities. These things will have to be smoothed out for the best of all concerned. In the long run, it will represent an improvement which the town has needed for a long time.

as drought was not completely broken.

Governor Shivers said he would ask for more Federal aid for dry West Texas counties.

As usual, Texas weather went to extremes.

In the Lower Rio Grande Valley, there was too much rain. Flood situations existed for a time in Alamo, McAllen, San Juan, Donna, Edinburg, and Elsa.

Turbulent weather conditions brought a tornado warning to Central Texas, reminding of the Waco disaster last year, when on May 11 a twister caused 114 deaths, injuries to 500, and vast property damage.

Governors from the drought stricken states of Colorado, Kansas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas will meet at the call of President Dwight D. Eisenhower for a conference in Washington on April 26.

Governor Shivers has signified his intention to be present.

The conference will precede a meeting of the commission on Intergovernmental Relations, to which Shivers belongs as a presidential appointee, and a conference of governors on economic and defense matters.

Supports No Answer
Government support and cutting the cost of milk and dairy production are not the answers to steadily dropping market prices. So says Sam E. Von Rosenberg of Austin. He is state manager of the American Dairy Association of Texas.

Von Rosenberg contends that greater marketing and selling activities are the only solutions to the precarious position of the dairy industry.

To that end, dairy farmers of Texas are setting aside two cents for each 100 pounds of milk and one-half cent for each pound of butter fat for cream, for a merchandising program to be conducted by the industry.

Anti-Trust Fight
An important victory was won by the State of Texas in a five-year-old attempt to collect anti-trust penalties from 10 major oil companies.

The third Court of Civil Appeals here, ruled that there was sufficient cause of action to entitle the state to a trial.

Filed in 1949, the state's suit alleges that the companies conspired to fix and maintain non-competitive tank wagon prices on gasoline.

Defending companies argued that the petition should be thrown out because it did not give specific names, dates, and details of the alleged conspiracy.

Reversed by the court's decision was a ruling handed down in 1952 by the District Judge Charles O. Betts, whose opinion was that the state had failed to show a cause of action.

Companies involved in the suit are: Arkansas Fuel Oil Co., Cities Service Oil Co., Continental Oil Co., Gulf Oil Corp., Humble Oil and Refining Co., Magnolia Petroleum Co., Standard Oil Co. of Texas, the Texas Co., Sinclair Refining Co., and Phillips Petroleum Co.

The group allegedly controls 90 percent of the state's gasoline outlets.

Hugh F. Lyerly, Jr., assistant attorney general, presented the state's case on appeal and was pitted against more than a score of Texas' leading lawyers. Lyerly pleaded mainly for a chance to get the question before a jury.

Penalties totaling $14,000,000 are sought by the state.

Law enforcement is the subject of a conference to be held in Waco next week at the call of Attorney General John Ben Shepperd and jointly sponsored by the Baylor University School of Law.

Reports will be received on crime and crime-fighting methods. About 400 prosecutors and peace officers will attend.

San Jacinto Day is a pretty important date. The U. S. Senate investigating committee ordered a one-day delay in its hearings on the Senator McCarthy-Army hassle so that the Senator might speak at the historic battleground on the anniversary of Texas' victory over Mexico in the war for independence.

McCarthy asked for the postponement of hearings because of what he described as a mixup. He had been invited to speak in Texas on Independence Day, and he was thinking of July 4. The Texans who invited him, of course, had April 21 in mind. That was the day the committee hearings were scheduled to start.

New Secretary of State C. E. (Everett) Fulgham of Lubbock becomes Secretary of State on May 1, by appointment of Governor Shivers.

He succeeds Howard Carney who has resigned because of the press of private business.

Fulgham served as chairman of the Industrial Commission which investigated Communist infiltration of labor unions. He is a farmer and rancher.

Shivers also announced the appointment of Hal Peterson, Kerr County stockman and rancher, to the Game Commission to fill the unexpired term of Scott Schreiner, who resigned.

Peterson resigned from the Upper Guadalupe River Authority in order to accept this appointment.

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I clean a hair brush thoroughly?
A. Dissolve two tablespoons of powdered borax in boiling water, adding enough lukewarm soapsuds to make two quarts. Dab the bristles of the brush up and down in this mixture, being careful not to wet the back of the brush. Rinse well in warm water, then in cold water to harden the bristles and keep them from discoloring. Hang in the open air to dry, bristles downward.

Q. How can I prevent cream from turning into butter?
A. Cream will not turn to butter if a teaspoonful of sugar is added to it. To sour a half pint of cream, add a teaspoonful of vinegar to it. Q. How can I keep moths out of garments?
A. If whole cloves are sprinkled in the folds and pockets of the garments which you are storing, the moths will be kept away.

Q. How can I protect the birds when using the bird bath, and there are cats in the neighborhood?
A. It is a good idea to place the bird bath near a tree if cats are around, as a bird cannot fly far while its feathers are wet.

Q. How can I clean woolen garments?
A. Before attempting to clean a woolen garment brush it thoroughly. Most of the dust and dirt will come out and then one can clean the spots and soil.

Q. How can I remove paint spots from stone floors?
A. Rub the spots thoroughly with turpentine, and then wash with soap and water.

Q. How can I keep the floor mop clean?
A. Instead of trying to shake the dirt out of a new floor mop after starting to use it, brush it with a whisk broom. The mop will always be fluffy and clean.

Q. How can I prevent diced fruit from dropping to the bottom of a gelatin mold?
A. This can be prevented by chilling the fruits and adding when the gelatin mixture has partly congealed.

Q. How can I make sweet peas bloom better?
A. When planting sweet peas, run the rows north and south and they will bloom far better than when run east and west.

Q. How can I prevent olive from becoming rancid after the can or bottle has been opened?
A. Dissolve two lumps of loaf sugar in each quart of the oil.

Cleaning Photographs
Photographs that have become soiled from dust and handling can be readily cleaned by wiping them with a wad of cotton dipped in a solution of warm water and ammonia. Write the cotton before applying. Then dry the photograph with a clean cloth.

Acid Stains
To remove acid stains on fabrics, dampen the spots and then cover with salts of wormwood. Let this remain for a few minutes, then rub the stain with a dry cloth.

Tar Paper
To prevent moths when putting away garments for the summer, place small piece of tar paper between the clothes.

Plant Insects
One tablespoonful of smoking tobacco soaked in one quart of water over night, and poured on the soil about every 30 days will destroy plant insects and also fertilize the plant.

Blackheads
A good remedy for getting rid of blackheads is to wash the face with warm water and castile soap several times a day. Always rinse in cold water.

Lettuce
If lettuce is cut off above the ground instead of being pulled up by the head, it will grow the second time.

Straw Hats
To bleach a straw hat that is badly sunburned, remove the band and fasten the hat to the inside of a wooden box. Then invert the box over a dish of burning sulphur.

Washing Ties
Before laundering ties, baste them carefully to prevent the lining or padding from becoming lumpy. Remove the basting before ironing and the ties will look like new.

Sprinkling Can
Always keep solder on hand for repairing the sprinkling can and such articles, but in emergency soap is a good substitute.

A Spool Holder
A handy spool holder is made by taking an ordinary brass curtain rod, run the spool of thread onto it and fasten it to the wall in the same way as fastening a curtain rod to the door. Have the rod of a size that spools will revolve easily.

Chewing Gum on Satin
Chewing gum on satin slippers can be removed by gasoline, benzene, chloroform or ether.

DELICIOUS HOMEMADE DOUGHNUTS WITH HER Electric Range!

"I use my deep well fryer for frying French fried potatoes and for making my favorite doughnuts. Here, again, the accuracy of the electric heat control makes my French fries and my doughnuts turn out so nice," says Mrs. McCarty. She continues: "The accuracy with which my electric range maintains temperatures is truly amazing. It is so much better—it never varies. I can depend on it every time. Another thing that comes in handy is the minute minder. My daughter, Elaine, who is 16, uses it constantly."

"The oven is unusually easy to clean. If something runs over, all I have to do is remove this unit and drip pan, then wash them just like a couple of dishes. There's just nothing to it."

"One thing which I particularly like is the automatic timer on my oven. We operate a grocery and school supply store, so much of my time is taken up waiting on customers in the store. With my electric automatic oven, however, I can put meals in the oven, set the controls, and when I come back to the house, my food is all ready to serve."

"Another feature of my range is the ease of operation of the controls. It's so easy—even my boys, Karl, 14, and Alan, 10, are able to help me here. I start my top-of-range cooking, usually on the high setting. Then, after a few minutes one of the boys will push one of the lower buttons to finish the cooking."

Q. My liquid nail polish persists in peeling from my fingernails. Why is this?
A. It may be from a too thick, or too uneven, application. Or, the nail surface may have been too oily. Correct any of these conditions, and your polish should stay with you longer.
Q. What can I do about my hair, which seems very limp and thin?
A. Hot oil packs, frequent brushing, and conscientious care are order here. Immediate first aid, from a beauty standpoint, however, is a good permanent to add body and bulk, as well as a little "bend," be sure, at all times, to keep up that daily brushing though.
Q. How can I make a better job of putting on my lipstick?
A. Try putting a light coating of powder on your lips before applying your lipstick; and the color will stay with you longer. It will go on more smoothly, and it will hold a more even line.
Q. How should the square-faced girl dress her hair?
A. She should wear curls or soft waves above her brow to add the needed height to her features. She should brush her air up and back at the sides, and avoid a flat top.
Q. I am troubled with enlarged pores around my nose. What can I do?
A. Bathe this area frequently and regularly with lukewarm water and borax.
Q. How can I encourage a softer cuticle on my fingernails?
A. Try this weekly treatment: Dip nails into warm olive oil, wrap in gauze, and let soak up the oil for at least an hour.
Q. How can I best remove blackheads from my skin?
A. By regular use of a soft complexion brush and plenty of soap, you will discourage these blackheads from appearing. To remove those you do have, hold a hot washcloth over the area, then squeeze them out with very clean fingers or a blackhead extractor. Apply antiseptic lotion.
Q. What would you call "the secret of successful makeup?"

A. To call attention to one's good features with bright, light makeup, and to minimize the poor features with darker makeup.

Special Issue Of "Tarawa" Will Finance College Work

A Special Tenth Anniversary Edition of Robert Sherrod's memorable "Tarawa - The Story of a Battle" is being published this month as a practical tribute to those gallant Marines who lost their lives on its beaches.
The anniversary edition will lay the foundation for a fund with which the Second Marine Division Association will finance college education for deserving sons and daughters of the Division's heroic dead.
According to Brigadier General David M. Shoup, who won the Medal of Honor on Tarawa, a portion of the price of every book sold will be earmarked specifically for that purpose. Additional direct contributions to the fund will be accepted and placed one hundred percent to the credit of the fund. Plans for management of the fund already are being worked out.

One feature of the Tenth Anniversary Edition will be a new foreword by the author, in which the famed correspondent sums up his reaction from the perspective of today.
Another feature will be the thoughts "after 10 years" - of Fleet Admiral Chester W. Nimitz, Lieutenant General Julian C. Smith, Major General Merritt A. Edson, General Shoup, Colonel Henry P. Crowe and a score of others who played a vital role in that historic battle.
As Admiral Nimitz says, "Nearer before was such a tough job

Beauty At Home

By Lynn Carter
Q. How often should gray hair be washed?
A. Inasmuch as gray hair is dry, it is better not to wash it any oftener than once every 10 days or two weeks. Brushing it with a piece of chiffon over the brush will help keep the hair clean and pliable. A tonic will also help cleanse the scalp between shampoos.

Q. What exercise will help ward off double chin?
A. Tilt your head back, being careful not to strain the cords of the throat. Open your mouth wide and then slowly, with perfect slow-done so completely in such a short time."

Ten years after, the job of building a fund for the children of fallen comrades promises to be done just as completely. Copies of the Tenth Anniversary Edition may be ordered from The Tarawa Book Fund Association in care of Brigadier General D. M. Shoup, P. O. Box 2042 Potomac Station, Alexandria, Virginia, at $2.50 per single copy; $2.00 per copy in lots of five or more, postpaid anywhere.

THIS IS OUR "SEE IT THE 2nd TIME FREE" PICTURE-OF-THE-YEAR!

"Hello, Marg! If you think you got in hot water over your Can-Can dance, you should hear what I did in Rome. I sneaked out and got picked up by an American. What a dream! Well, for 24 hours, we went on a spree. We swiped a motor scooter, got chased by cops and then we started a riot. Know what? I smashed a guitar over a guy's head. But the biggest thrill of all was when Greg kissed me. Oh, Marg, that should happen to every princess in the world—including you! What? Don't be silly! I'm not going to tell you everything that happened on my Roman Holiday..."

PRINCESS ON A SPREE!
She threw pomp out the window and woke up wearing a bachelor's pajamas...

He didn't know she was a 'hot' princess!

BUZZ SAWYER

FEATURING HIS PAL
ROSCO SWEENEY
By ROY CRANE

LOOK! LOOK! NEVER HAVE THEY SEEN A NOVICE MATADOR DISPLAY SUCH SKILL, SUCH COURAGE.

LOOK! YIPPEE! VIVA SWEENEY!

THERE! DID I NOT PREDICT IT! SHE IS SENSATIONAL! SHE WILL BE EVEN GREATER THAN BELMONTE.

THE CROWD IS SCREAMING, HYSTERICAL. LUCILLE'S MANAGER WEEPS WITH JOY.

A GIRL! UNBELIEVABLE!

SHE DOES ALL THE THINGS THAT MAKE BULLFIGHT FANS WILD WITH EMOTION.

UNTIL THE MOMENT COMES FOR THE KILL... OVER THE HORNS! WHY DOES SHE HESITATE?

BEADS OF PERSPIRATION APPEAR ON LUCILLE'S BROW.

WHAT IS WRONG? IS SHE AFRAID?

POOR THING... HE'S SO TIRED! I---I JUST CAN'T DO IT.

SUDDENLY, LUCILLE SWEENEY DOES WHAT NO MATADOR HAS EVER DONE BEFORE...

SHE THROWS THE BULL.

THERE'S A STARTLED HUSH. IT'S AS IF THE HEAVYWEIGHT BOXING CHAMPION, ON THE VERGE OF A KNOCKOUT, STOPPED FIGHTING AND KISSED HIS ANTAGONIST.

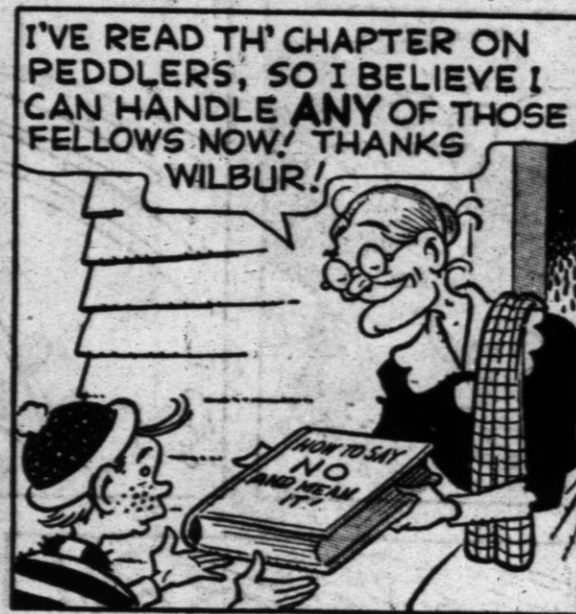

BOO! THROW HER OUT!

AGAIN HER MANAGER WEEPS, BUT NOT WITH JOY.

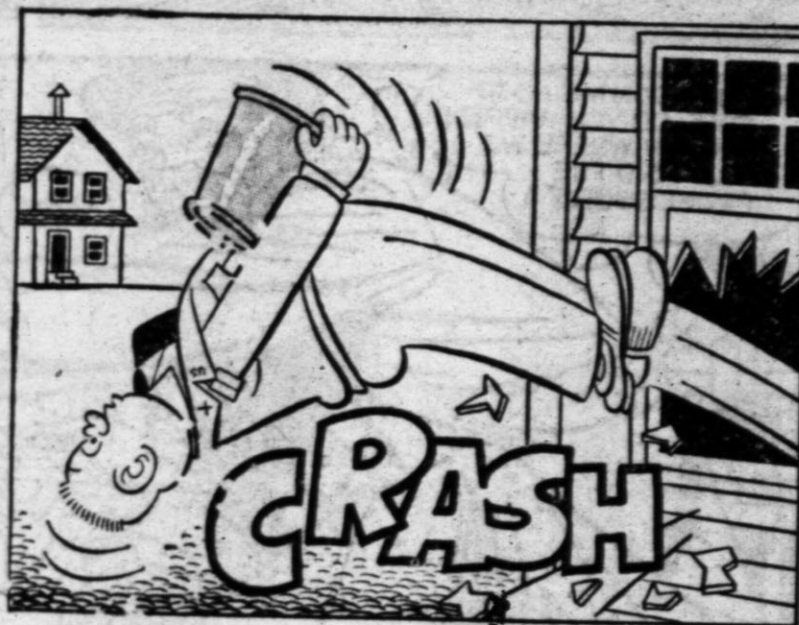

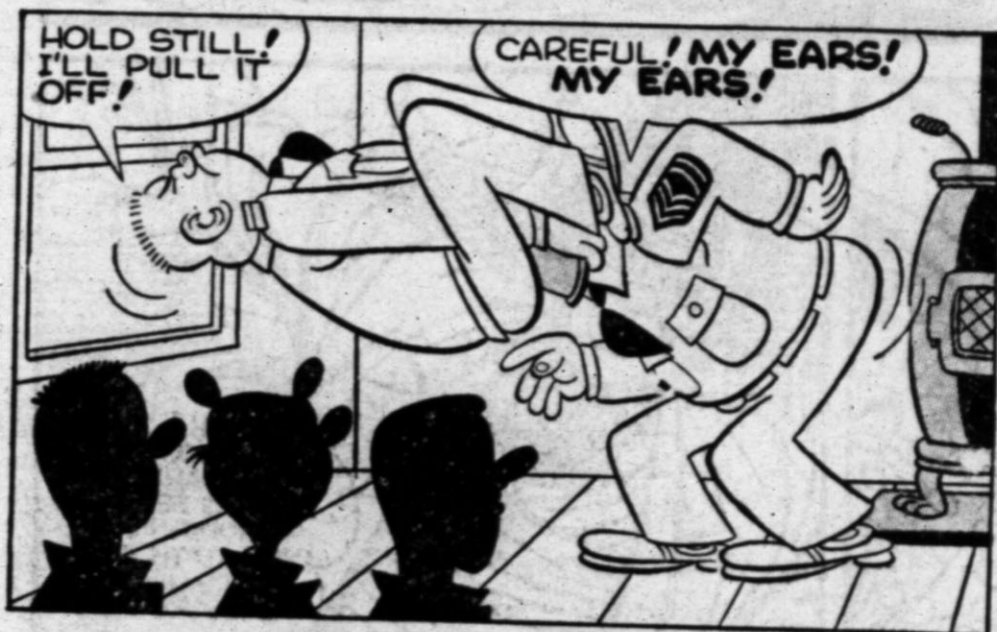

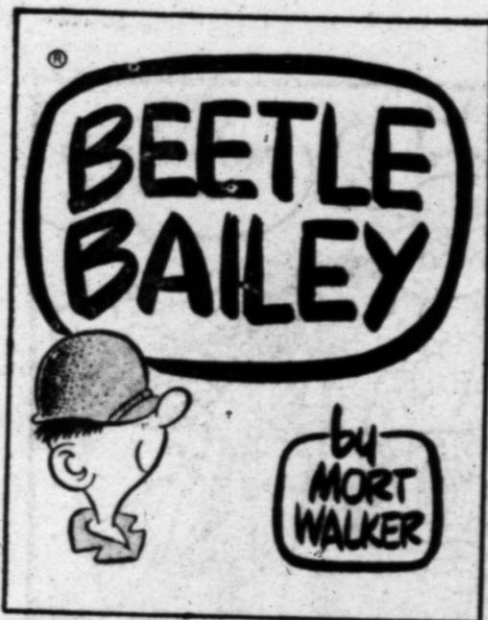

I CANNOT UNDERSTAND IT. SHE'S SENSATIONAL! SHE HAS EVERYTHING... STYLE, SKILL, COURAGE!

YES, DON ALFREDO. SHE HAS EVERYTHING EXCEPT THE HEART TO HURT.

MANDRAKE THE MAGICIAN

BY LEE FALK & PHIL DAVIS

THIS MOUNTAIN DID MOVE SIDWAYS-- AT LEAST A HUNDRED YARDS! HOW? THE EARTHQUAKE?

MAYBE THE QUAKE AND THE MOVING MOUNTAIN RESULTED FROM THE SAME THING!

WHAT DO YOU MEAN, DR. BROWN?

IT'S A WILD IDEA FOR A GEOLOGIST LIKE ME. I'VE NO PROOF. HOW CAN I EXPLAIN IT? WELL-- SOMETHING LIKE THIS--

"WE KNOW WHAT HAPPENS WHEN AN OCEAN CREATURE FROM THE DEEP COMES TO THE SURFACE. IT EXPLODES-- CHANGE OF PRESSURE!"

"IF WE EVER EXPLORE SPACE, WE'LL NEED HIGHLY PRESSURIZED SHIPS--OR WE TOO WILL EXPLODE--"

NOW SUPPOSE CREATURES ACTUALLY LIVED AT THE EARTH'S CORE-- UNDER THAT TREMENDOUS PRESSURE, SIX TIMES DENSER THAN GRANITE! SUPPOSE THEY MOVED TOWARDS THE SURFACE. THEY'D HAVE TO REMAIN UNDER PRESSURE-- UNDER A MOUNTAIN--

COPE. 1964. KING FEATURES SYNDICATE, Inc. WORLD RIGHTS RESERVED.

THEY MIGHT MOVE MOUNTAINS LIKE WE'D MOVE A SPACE SHIP-- CAUSING QUAKES --VOLCANIC ERUPTIONS--

NOW-- THAT IS NONSENSE-- LOOK-- THE MOUNTAIN IS ERUPTING!

RUN!

ROJUN WOULD HAVE THROTTLED DICKIE — BUT A POWERFUL HAND JERKED HIM AWAY, AND...

by collin waugh

JET WAS WORRIED ABOUT US, AND FIRED A SHOT OF WARNING! I SURFACED, BORROWED HER "AQUALUNG" AND DOVE AGAIN...

THEN I FOUND THE UNDERWATER ROUTE TO THIS CAVE — I'LL USE MY SWIM-BELT TO LASH UP OUR WOULD-BE MURDERER

"WOULD-BE?" DAN, I KNOW THE WHOLE STORY!

THIS ROJUN CHARACTER DISCOVERED THE CAVE WITH ITS AZTEC GOLD, LURED THE ISLANDERS DOWN HERE AND DID THEM IN...

JET'S DAD WAS ROJUN'S BUSINESS PARTNER — AT FIRST HE DIDN'T KNOW ABOUT THE MURDERED ISLANDERS — WHEN HE FOUND OUT, ROJUN KILLED HIM, TOO!

LOOK! SOMEONE ELSE HAS JUST BOBBED UP!

WHAT'S THIS, A CAVE? — AND THERE ARE DICKIE AND DAN!

ROJUN TOLD ME ALL THIS — HE SAID JET'S DAD WAS COMPLETELY INNOCENT...

DAD WAS INNOCENT? DICKIE, SAY THAT AGAIN!

YES, DAN, I RACED BACK AND GOT ANOTHER "AQUALUNG" AFTER GIVING MINE TO YOU — BUT LET'S FORGET DETAILS

YOUR DAD WAS INNOCENT, JET. THAT'S THE THING TO REMEMBER!

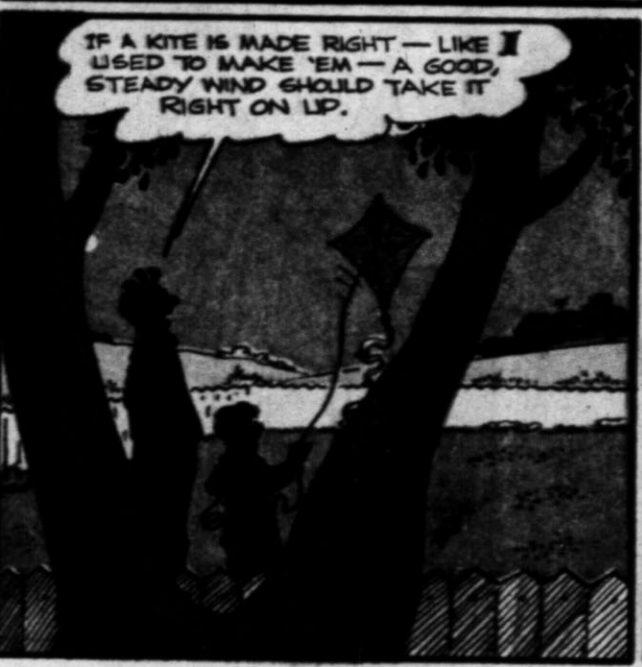

I SUSPECTED ROJUN, BUT DIDN'T DARE ACCUSE HIM — NOW THE TRUTH IS OUT!

YOU'VE LIFTED A CLOUD, BOYS, FROM THE MEMORY OF SOMEONE I LOVE!
