Chamber, Hereford Riders Appoint Chairmen For Pioneer Day Celebration

New attractions, activities and events in this year's Pioneer Day celebration, which will be held May 27, 28 and 29, will make this the best celebration yet and one of the largest get-togethers in the Panhandle, according to Wayne Phillips, general chairman for the Chamber of Commerce.

The 1954 celebration plans include a visit and participation by two well known screen, radio and TV artists, parades, contests, dances, exhibits, choosing of the queen, and the Rodeo Cowboys Association approved rodeo sponsored by the Hereford Riders Club.

Plans have been worked out with Carl LaMarr, veteran rodeo producer of Norman, Okla., to furnish the stock for this year's rodeo. Two new features have been added to the rodeo performance this year. There will be a girls' barrel race and a junior horseman parade, both of which are approved by RCA. Only local entries and members of the RCA may enter the rodeo.

Phillips will be the general chairman for the Chamber of Commerce, Vern Witherspoon for the pioneers, and Walter Johnson for the Riders Club.

Eighth DWI Of Year Plead Guilty Thursday

A sentence of 10 days imprisonment in the county jail and a fine of $75 was assessed Manuel Zabala of Lavilla when he appeared before County Judge Horace L. Schloss Thursday morning to waive a jury and plead guilty to a charge of driving while intoxicated.

Zabala, the eighth DWI in Deaf Smith County this year, was arrested by city police officers about 9 o'clock Sunday night.

The officers were driving around when they noticed the car Zabala was driving run a stop sign at Miles and Second Avenues. They stopped the car for this traffic violation and, according to police reports, Zabala and two companions in the car with him were drunk. Officers said that Zabala staggered and could not maintain his balance.

Beer Is Found

One full case of beer and a case with 15 cans were found in the back of the car. There were two empty cans in the car.

When Zabala was asked by Judge Schloss to surrender his license, he stated he had none. He said that he had applied once for drivers' license and had not been able to pass the examination. He had never taken another. He was informed by the judge that his privilege to drive any type of motor vehicle in Texas was suspended for a period of time not to exceed one year from the date of his conviction.

Zabala's companions pled guilty to a charge of drunkenness in Judge Andy Thomas' court and paid fines.

Eighth Grade Has Games Party Following Banquet

Students and guests received leis as they entered the Hawaiian atmosphere of Shirley School Gym Friday night for the annual eighth grade banquet.

The stage was set with a lagoon surrounded by palm trees. Judy Fowlkes and Joy Story dressed in Hawaiian costumes were seated in a canoe on the water.

The center table had a volcano decoration and palm trees with small monkeys climbing the trees. All of the other tables carried the Hawaiian theme. Programs were miniature ukuleles.

The invocation was given by Byron Durham. Carl Zimmerman was toastmaster. Welcome was given by Ella Marie Williams and Mrs. H. V. Stanton gave the response. A talk was given by W. C. Quattlebaum, and George Graham also addressed the group.

Music By Band, Chorus
Music for the evening was furnished by a band composed of four members of the eighth grade and by a chorus consisting of members of the class.

Guests were served fruit punch, baked ham, mashed potatoes, green beans, relishes, pickles, pineapple salad, hot rolls, butter, cake, ice cream and iced tea with lemon by the mothers of the students.

The gym was completely decorated by the mothers. All of the decorations were made by hand.

Following the banquet, approximately 157 persons, including students, parents and teachers, attended a party held for the group at the Veterans Clubhouse. Cecil Massey was master of ceremonies. Mrs. Homer Brumley conducted the games.

The clubhouse was decorated with a sweetheart theme. Punch and cookies were served.

A vote was taken by the group that more parties of this type be planned for young people of Hereford throughout the summer months.

Phillips Is Chosen Reserve Unit CO

Bill Phillips was elected commanding officer of proposed Air Force Reserve flight at a meeting last week at the High School.

Other officers for the proposed flight include Raymond Higginbotham as executive officer, Earl Stagner as operations training officer and Eugene Harman of Dimmitt as adjutant.

"So far, we haven't actually gotten orders setting up the flight," Phillips, who is a major in the Air Force standby reserve, said.

When organized, the unit will still not be subject to a call to active duty unless Congress declares a state of emergency. However, training with the unit will count as points toward retirement.

Plans now are for the members of the unit to meet each Tuesday night in the High School in one of the class rooms until the end of school this spring, Phillips said.

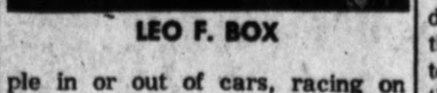

More Information Helps Police, Chief Box Says

(Editor's note—this is the first of a series concerning the duties of the Hereford Police Department.)

Ever stop to think about the work that the Hereford Police Department is supposed to do, and does as well as is humanly possible under the circumstances? There are really quite a number of services that the Police Department can and will perform when it is called upon, Chief of Police Leo F. Box points out.

"I had one business man mention that he had gotten out of bed many a night to come back to town and check the door on his place of business, to see if it was locked," Chief Box said. "He didn't know that we would be glad to have him call us, we would check the door, and then call him back about it. That is one of the services that we are glad to perform."

"More than anything else, we need to be notified, and promptly, of anything which comes within our jurisdiction and needs our attention," the chief continued. "If hub caps are stolen from a car, even, we should be notified. Other minor thefts, prowlers, annoying dogs, suspicious activities by peoin or out of cars, racing on the streets and other things of that nature should all be reported."

Small Theft Important
When asked the reason that minor thefts and similar small matters need to be reported promptly, Chief Box said that often small thefts are the first step to a powder keg.

Palmetto Polo Team Hurt By Mumps Case

The Hereford Riders Club palmetto polo team suffered a severe blow Friday morning when it was discovered that Floyd Walton, a member of the team, had the mumps.

Walton was scheduled to play in Spur this (Sunday) afternoon against the Dickens County Sheriff's Posse. The return engagement is part of the first annual encampment of the Sheriff's Posses and Riding Club association which began Friday at Spur.

HUFF EXPECTED HOME

Raymond E. Huff, who has been in Korea since January of 1953, got his release from the Army in El Paso Saturday and was expected to return to his home today. Huff, whose home is in Texarkana, has been a motor pool sergeant. His wife, the former Miss Birdene Brunson, lives in Hereford and works for REA.

Many Thefts Are Solved Through Friona Arrest

Dozens of thefts, some of them dating back to the time of World War II, were solved Friday when officers from several counties went through material at the Watson Whaley place outside Friona and identified stolen property.

Whaley, who is charged in Parmer County with felony theft, helped the officers locate much of the material, and was even able to tell the approximate place where most of it had been when it was taken.

A farmer and independent contractor who also handled ready-mix concrete, Whaley, has not given any reason for the thefts. Most of the items were simply hidden away, as a pack rat would hide bright baubles.

Sheriff Lowell Sharp, of Deaf Smith County and Sheriff Day Thompson of Oldham County are credited with finding the key which unlocked the mystery.

The two officers were patrolling north near Bootleg Corner about 12:30 o'clock Sunday morning, and stopped Whaley's truck when they saw it.

However, when they found out who he was, they let him go on, for both knew of him as a contractor and farmer from Friona. They did notice, however, some things about the truck which tied it in with a recent theft.

Routine Check Made
The early part of last week a routine check was made to find out if Whaley had been going where he had told the officers he had been headed for, and also on where he had supposedly been. As a follow-up to this, an officer went to the Whaley farm to talk to him, and saw so much that Whaley was immediately a prime suspect in the thefts.

Whaley's help was necessary in sorting out the stolen property, for he often had similar items of his own, and much of the stolen property was hidden under items which he had purchased through legitimate channels.

Friona people who had known Whaley for years were surprised at the sudden turn of events which found one of their respected citizens charged with felony theft.

A few persons who visited the Whaley farm during the day were shocked to see tires and wheels, gas cylinders, buckets of grease, pumps and other items bearing tags which showed approximately where and when they had been taken.

Whaley's tendencies to save things had extended not only to items which he admitted taking from other people, but also to much of his own equipment which had outlived its usefulness.

At various places within walking distance of the house were old cars and trucks, partially dismantled. Worn-out tractors and other farm machinery had also been stripped from old mac' put inside barns and buildings.

Equipment, Machinery
Sheriffs and deputies in Deaf Smith and Oldham counties, accompanied by Texas Ranger Kelly Rogers, went with Whaley through the outbuildings, and out to a place near the barns where he had the remains of several old cars, and had hidden pieces of farm equipment and even some elevator machinery.

Standing out in the sunlight, or working in the shadowy interiors of the buildings, the officers asked questions, and Whaley answered, in the quiet tones of men used to being out in the open.

As each item or group of items was identified, Ranger Kelley Rogers, who had been called in after officials realized the scope of the case, made a notation about it on a big pad, and another officer wired on an identification tag.

Officers began moving items out of one of the main storage buildings almost as fast as fast as Whaley identified which items were his and which rightfully belonged to other people. He maintained steadfastly that he had taken all of the material by himself.

As the piles of material thinned out, an Austin sedan bearing 1936 license plates showed up underneath, and a deputy sheriff mentioned that he would like to buy the little car at a later date.

Even Sugar
One of the oddest items in the barn was a big sack of sugar, put there "six or seven years ago."

When the main part of the building had been thoroughly explored,

MOST OF THE ITEMS seen in the foreground were things which Watson Whaley had purloined some time during the past 12 years. Included on the list of items, which had been missing from a few weeks to several years, were the tanks at the right, the saw, a chain-hoist, tires and wheels, farm implements and a power unit. Sunday Whaley had taken several items and dropped them into the nearby city dump, but it would have taken him several days, and many truck loads, to get rid of all the things he had taken and carefully kept. Whaley (insert, upper right) had not, at last report, offered any reasons for the thefts. (Staff Photo)

Experimental Work On Potatoes Started Under Direction Of A&M Researchers

More than 60 different experiments on potatoes and fertilizer treatments were started at the Ray Paetzold farm last week under the direction of Dr. D. R. Patterson and Bobbie Wilson of the Texas A&M research staff.

Included in the work are 32 different fertilizer treatments with four repeats, and 30 varieties of potatoes, both red and white, with three repeats, as well as two varieties of special potatoes for the valley, according to Larry Loerwald of the Hereford Vegetable Growers and Shippers Foundation.

Banded Vs. Broadcast
In addition to specific fertilizer combinations, the experimental work will give clues to the value of banded fertilizer treatment compared to broadcast fertilizer on commercial seed, Loerwald added.

Though the vegetable experiment program has some long range aspects, some of the results of this test will be known in about 30 days, Dr. Patterson said, and some really good information should be available in about 60 days.

Out of the 30 varieties being tested this year, Dr. Patterson said that the group will be narrowed down to about 15 of the best for further experimentation next year. The "weeding out" will continue each year.

Fertilizers used in the experimental work include ammonium sulphate, treble superphosphate and murate of potash in varying quantities and combinations.

On the potatoes only the best

EXPERIMENTAL WORK on potatoes got underway Wednesday at the Ray Paetzold farm north of Hereford under the direction of two men from Texas A&M. Dr. Don Patterson, on the special tractor, and Bobbie Wilson are shown discussing the machine with

A show concert will be given by Dick Jurgens and his orchestra at the High School auditorium on May 14 under the sponsorship of the Hereford Lions Club, according to Lion President J. W. Robinson Jr.

Congressman Walter Rogers will speak at the Hereford Rotary Club Monday. The public is invited to attend the meeting.

Miss Mollie Bettis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. A. Bettis, 222 Avenue H, will take part in the fifteenth performance of the Easter Pageant which will be held on the campus of Mary Hardin-Baylor College Easter Sunday morning starting at 7 o'clock.

THESE THREE ITEMS were among the things which Watson Whaley, Parmer County farmer-contractor now charged with felony theft, put in the Friona dump ground after officers had had reason to question him about 12:30 o'clock Sunday morning. A step ladder belonging to Cecil Guter of Hereford was also thrown in, but was completely ruined, Guter said. (Staff Photo)

Many . . .

Whaley and an officer climbed up a ladder and through a small door to get into another part of the building which had been boarded up. A door was re-opened, with the help of a hammer, and Whaley handed more than half a dozen batteries out, then came out to identify them.

Going from the barn to a place out by a wheat field Whaley pointed out several tanks, including a 700 gallon gasoline delivery tank, as being "hot," as one of the officers referred to it.

Back closer to the barns, Whaley and the officers raised several overturned stock tanks, and brought out more farm implements and two barrels of oil.

Wife Hadn't Known
In the neat stucco home where Whaley lived with his wife of seven years and their two small daughters, one a mere baby, Mrs. Whaley could only think that her husband was mentally ill to have done the things he was admitting to.

She mentioned that he had always been a very hard worker. Last year he had had some financial troubles, largely caused by the fact that people whom he had done work for were unable, or unwilling, to pay him.

However, money did not seem to be his motive in the thefts, for he had sold very little of the material. Some of the oil and grease had been used in his tractors and on other machinery, but that seemed only a small percentage of the total amount that he had taken.

At first, the officers thought of having a special day for everyone to come and retrieve the stolen property, but before Friday was over this idea was abandoned. In fact, several Deaf Smith County men showed up at the farm Friday to claim their equipment, and other material was taken back to the individual counties by peace officers, though much was left to be picked up later.

It is likely to be some time before all the tangled strands of the story are unravelled, and officers in the several counties involved, including Curry County, N. M., can mark the case as completed.

REVIVAL STARTS TODAY

Rev. D. K. Girsham of Penwell will conduct services at a revival which starts today at the Avenue Baptist Church and will continue through April 25. Prayer services will start at 7:30 o'clock each night, and church services at 8 o'clock. Rev. Bob Harris Avenue Baptist Church pastor.

yielding varieties will be used to get the best possible quality and yield. There will not be any breeding experiments carried out here, as work of that type may take up to 20 years before there are any worthwhile results.

Two Days Work
About five acres were used for the experimental plot on the Paetzold farm. Some idea of the tediousness of the work can be gained from the fact that two days were required to get the potatoes planted and the ground fertilized. In commercial operations, a plot that small could be planted and fertilized in about an hour, Loerwald said.

In addition to the potatoes on the Ray Paetzold farm, some 14 varieties were also planted on the John J. Paetzold farm.

Onions are also being tested this year, but only for yield and quality. The onion specimens were divided between Jack Renfro and Trautmann Brothers, and were planted in the same fields with commercial grade onions, though they will be handled separately when harvested.

Selective Service Announces Quota For May Draft

AUSTIN — State Selective Service headquarters Wednesday announced a May draft quota of 999 men, as compared to an April call of 1,030 and a March quota of 985.

Brigadier General Paul L. Wakefield, state director of Selective Service, compared these quotas with the same period a year ago. In March 1953 the quota was 3,056, in April 2,894, in May 2,823.

In addition to the May induction call of 999, state draft headquarters announced that 1,000 men will be sent for the combined physical-mental examinations the same month.

Only 31 boards out of the state's 137 will be called upon to have men examined, "only those having the largest number of older men at this time," the state Selective Service director said.

According to present plans, state Selective Service headquarters expected to have May induction and examination quotas in the offices of local boards by April 1.

Local boards are required to fill May quotas with men 20 years old or older if they have them. If necessary to reach its quota, a board may send 19-year-olds for induction.

So far during March, the state draft director pointed out, one out of every four men going into service via the draft are under 24 years of age, but all these men under 20 are volunteers.

General Wakefield, the state Selective Service director, says he expects state monthly draft quotas to increase some in July. He expects monthly calls to be about the same until that time.

Guests the past weekend in the home of Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Alexander were their granddaughter and her husband, Mr. and Mrs. Sam Townsend of Portales, N. M.

IVAN WOOD, Soil Conservation Service irrigation specialist from Denver, took time after the morning session of the irrigation school Thursday to discuss a well-packing problem with Jim Kirby. The bottles and jars contained samples of gravel, such as is used for well-packing, and sand samples from irrigation wells. (Staff Photo)

Irrigation School Here Emphasizes Application And Pump Efficiency

Proper methods of planning, using and checking irrigation water and irrigation systems were suggested by two irrigation specialists at the school held here Thursday. Ivan Wood, Soil Conservation Service irrigation specialist from Denver, and Robert V. Thurmond, Texas Extension Service specialist from Lubbock, took turns in explaining various irrigation and pumping problems, and some of the possible solutions.

Meeting Thursday morning in Hotel Jim Hill ballroom, with about 20 local farmers and businessmen present, as well as members of the Hereford High School vocational agriculture classes, the talks were started by Wood.

Speaking first about underground structures which will yield water, Wood defined a good structure as one which will allow the separation of water from the structure in which it occurs.

"Depth of the formation is another important consideration," he pointed out. "Static water level is also highly important for when the static water level is halfway down, three-quarters of the possible pumping capacity has been reached. After that, any additional pumping capacity is much more expensive."

He also mentioned that larger casings mean only a small increase in the amount of water which can be pumped for the same amount of drawdown, which is the lowering of the water level during pumping.

Sand Pumping Bad
Pumping of sand from underground formations, as is often done in this area, is one of the things that Wood considers as being very bad, both for the pumps and for the wells. He told of seeing places in other states where there are no supporting layers of caliche and the wells have caved in all the way to the surface.

Showing a badly worn impeller, he remarked that wear of that type could be caused by sand. Wood mentioned that such wear caused a loss of pumping efficiency, and consequently higher pumping costs.

As a way of stopping sand pumping, Wood suggested the use of a gravel pack, and showed how large gravel was almost useless for this purpose, and might actually, at times, cause more sand pumping as the pack "channeled" around larger rocks. "You get the same amount of water space in a gravel pack, regardless of the size of the rock," he emphasized.

Checking Pump Efficiency
Wood told the group how to check the efficiency of a pump and power unit by checking the discharge, number of feet the water is raised, and the amount of energy used.

Discussing water application and land preparation, Thurmond suggested that it is possible to plan land operations, then do the work a little bit at a time over a period of a number of years.

"Irrigation isn't just running water over the land, it is storing moisture for plant use," Thurmond told the group. "Soil particles hold their first film of water quite strongly, and it is the second film of water which the plants use."

In general, he said, one foot of soil will hold two inches of water, but pointed out later that caliche will not hold nearly that much.

His irrigation suggestions included heavy pre-planting irrigations, shallow slopes for furrows, which usually means land leveling or farming on the contour, leaving water longer on heavier soils, and use of underground pipe to carry water up slopes from irrigation wells. "In this country, about one inch of slope per 100 feet of furrow would be about perfect for irrigating," Thurmond added.

Well Is Tested
In the afternoon, a well was tested at the Joe Reinauer place west of Hereford, and it was shown that the pump on that well was operating at about 34.4 percent efficiency, while 60 or 65 percent would have been about tops for the electric motor being used. The loss of efficiency means higher pumping costs.

Thurmond also made a moisture test on irrigated land near the well, and suggested means of getting moisture deep enough at the end of a sloping row.

"After the stream gets well down a row, then put in smaller syphon tubes," he suggested. He also pointed out that using light applications of water was wasteful, for too much of the water was lost by evaporation, rather than being stored in the ground for plant use.

The two specialists were brought to Hereford through the co-operation of County Agent Hugh Clearman and SCS work unit conservationist Jim Wiman.

Reception Held Tuesday For Mrs. Lloyd Manjeot

One of the prettiest social affairs of the early spring season was the reception given Tuesday afternoon by Mrs. A. L. Manjeot to honor her daughter-in-law, Mrs. Lloyd Manjeot, who with Lt. Manjeot is visiting his parents in Hereford.

Themed around the advent of spring the party decorations featured spring's loveliest colors in pastel greens, pinks, violet and rose. Flowers were everywhere and the refreshment table was laid with a formal taffeta cloth in iridescent rose and silver with appointments and decorations reflected in the large mirror which hung immediately behind the table.

Sweet peas, hyacinths and apple blossoms were arranged in crystal Cambridge Arms graduating from a tall ivory candle in the center to table level. Pink simulated pearls entwined with tendrils of ivy complemented the flowers in dramatic accent at the base of the arrangement. Appointments were in crystal and silver. In deference to spring, sandwiches and other tea dainties repeated the colors of the flowers with each tray forming a colorful bouquet.

Punch was served from a small companion table done in the Easter motif lighted by a nearby planter lamp. The punch bowl was set in a nest of Easter greens surrounded with pastel tinted Easter bunnies and Easter eggs.

In the house party were Mrs. Reed Williams and Mrs. Ed Warren, who greeted the guests and introduced them to the hostess and the honoree; Mrs. Nelson McRight who directed guests to the dining area, and Mesdames J. A. Pitman, Ralph McCullough, Lynn Kester, Dalton Criswell, and Ed Warren, who presided at the silver tea service and the punch bowl. Gunstenson - Burdine Marriage Solemnized At Baptist Church

Miss Wanda Gunstenson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Gunstenson, became the bride of Wendell Burdine, son of Mrs. Ella Burdine of this city and C. B. Burdine of Lubbock, last Sunday afternoon in the First Baptist Church. Rev. Howard Scott directed the double ring ceremony.

Floral arrangements for the service featured white chrysanthemums and gladioli backed by Emerald palms. At either side of the altar stood seven branched candelabra flanking baskets of chrysanthemums and gladioli. Backing the nuptial space where the couple stood was a white wrought iron screen garlanded with fern and tied with white carnations.

A prenuptial concert was played by Mrs. Howard Scott, organist, who also accompanied Miss Mary Ruth Oswald who sang "Wonderful One," "O Promise Me," and "The Wedding Prayer" in benediction. The traditional wedding marches were used and Clair De Lune was played softly as vows were spoken.

Mrs. Eugene Noel attended her sister as matron of honor. She wore a ballerina length dress of lavender cotton lace over taffeta, with tiered ruffles of net falling beneath a short peplum in the back of the skirt. The sleeveless bodice featured a matching net stole, and she wore a bandeau of lavender flowers in her hair. She carried an arm bouquet of white feathered carnations tied with satin streamers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, wore a white waltz length gown of embossed nylon net over taffeta with scalloped hemline on the very full top skirt, which fell over a second skirt of net. The strapless bodice featured a wide band formed with folds of net at the top. A long sleeved Eton jacket of embossed net with pointed Peter Pan collar, completed the costume. The tiered veil of illusion, which fell to finger-tip length at the sides, extended to three-quarter length in the back and was held in place by a Juliet crown encrusted with simulated pearls and rhinestones. Her only ornament was a three strand pearl necklace.

The bridal bouquet was of white Finch rosebuds and feathered carnations tied with white satin streamers with ivy-cutout design. Lester Burdine of Lubbock served his brother as best man. Ushers were Eugene Noel, Douglas Carlisle and Bob Sullivan of Amarillo. The bride's mother wore a navy crepe dress with dusty rose accessories and a small navy hat.

The bridegroom's mother wore a black faille suit with black and white accessories and black and white straw hat. Both wore white carnation corsages.

Reception Held in Church Parlors

The bride's parents hosted a reception honoring the couple in the church parlors following the ceremony. The bride's table was laid with a lavender organdy cloth and centered with an arrangement of white and lavender stock. Mrs. Clifford Arnold, sister of the bride, and Miss Helen Markham presided.

When the couple left on a short wedding trip to South Texas, the bride was wearing a lavender linen suit with silk print blouse and a lavender flower hat. Her purse and shoes were of black patent leather. The rosebuds from her wedding bouquet formed a shoulder corsage.

The bride is a graduate of Hereford High School. For the past 18 months she has been employed at the First National Bank.

Mr. Burdine attended Hereford and Lubbock schools and served two years in the armed service with part-time overseas duty.

Upon their return from the honeymoon trip the couple will live in their new home at 306 Lee Avenue.

Out-of-town guests at the wedding included Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Carlisle and Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Burdine of Lubbock; Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Hamilton, Elbert Kesler, Arrie Smith and Elma Rae Hamby of Amarillo; Mrs. E. M. Hix of Wellington, Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Swartzell of Canyon, Mr. and Mrs. Reece Kesler and Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Kesler of Dimmitt, Mr. and Mrs. Grady Fenley and Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Bowen of Wellington, and Mr. and Mrs. Joe Hacker of Portales, N. M.

Informal Shower-Tea Honors Mary Postelle

An informal shower-tea, with appointments and decorations suiting both the occasion and the personality of the honoree, was held the afternoon of April 3 in the C. S. Gunter home.

Miss Mary Sue Postelle, niece of Mr. and Mrs. Lee Benefield and bride-elect of Ralf Miller of Oklahoma City, was honored on the occasion. Mrs. Gunter, Mrs. Howard Gault and Mrs. Troy Moore were hostesses.

All-white flowers were used in decorations. In the living room a large fan-shaped arrangement of gladioli in a white basket was placed near the doorway. In the dining room the table was a picture in the nuptial theme. Laid in white satin damask, the table was centered at the back with two tall wedding tapers rising above a white china wedding slipper filled with lacy white candy tuft and daisies, and a blue and white garland of ruffled nylon net with a tiny bag of rice attached.

A nosegay of white daisies tied with a tiny blue ribbon bow gave accent to the arrangement to complete the setting. Appointments were in silver. Mrs. Ed Warren and Mrs. Mark Benefield poured.

Names For Memory Book At the guest book, where Gayle Gault secured names for the bride's memory book, was a blue and white-ruffled nylon garland resting on a white Bible with linked wedding bands within its circle, and a good luck penny attached. The wedding slipper inscribed with "Happiness to the Bride—May she walk upon the Stars" in gold letters, was tied with small gold wedding bells.

Mrs. Gunter, Mrs. Lee Benefield and the honoree received the guests.

Invitations included Mesdames H. M. Benefield, Ivan Block, Cavthon Bryant, R. P. Conaway, Bill Dameron, S. S. Dodson, O. M. Dickey, Leo Forest, Grant Fuller, C. T. Guseman, E. W. EASTER SALADS

Mrs. L. B. Barnett gives you two delectable salads for Easter, although they may be served at any time of the year with just as much ease and sense of appropriate planning.

When spring comes, recipes for mince pie and fruit cake must be relegated to the "put away file" in the kitchen and spring salads come to the front, and like spring itself, turn out to be pretty and refreshing. Both salads used today are appealing alike to eye and appetite.

Frozen Easter Salad

1-6 oz. package cream cheese
1-7 oz. package dates small can crushed pineapple small bottle maraschino cherries
1 pint cream (whipped)
1 cup chopped nuts
1 cup mayonnaise

Mix cream cheese and mayonnaise together and blend well. Add dates, pineapple, cherries and nuts and then fold in the whipped cream. Place in refrigerator and freeze. Serve in squares on lettuce leaf. This is a nice salad for a fruit plate. Serves 12.

Avocado Cream Cheese Salad

1 package lime Jello
1 1/2 cups boiling water
1 medium avocado, well mashed
1 small package cream cheese
1/4 cup mayonnaise
1/2 teaspoon grated onion
1/2 cup finely chopped celery
1/2 cup finely chopped green pepper

salt and pepper to taste
Dissolve Jello in boiling water and allow to cool. Mix avocado and cream cheese and mayonnaise well and add to Jello. Add the rest of the ingredients and mold in refrigerator. Serves 8. This salad is

Easter Egg Tree Has Colorful Decorations Which Are Edible

The Easter Egg Tree is one of the oldest of American traditions and has been a part of Pennsylvania Dutch Easter observances for many years. It can be as meaningful and bright as the Christmas tree, but, unlike the Christmas tree, its decorations are good to eat.

Almost any small tree or limb of a tree may be pruned to serve, but be sure to clip the slender outer branches so that the remaining part will support the dyed eggs. You may attach it to a base just like you do the Christmas tree, or place it in a sizable flower pot filled with packed earth, sand or rocks that will hold the tree erect.

Hard boil 2 or 3 dozen eggs, dye in various colors and apply the designs, or you may write the children's names on the egg with a bold pencil. It's fun for the children to fill their baskets from the tree and a life size bunny sometimes takes the place of Santa Claus as the distributor. To hang the eggs, use adhesive type transparent tape looped

Discussion Of Thinking Given At Beta Sigma Phi

Mrs. Nolie Elliston was guest speaker when a regular meeting of Texas Kappa Iota, Beta Sigma Phi sorority was held at the home of Mrs. R. E. Lingenfelter with Mrs. V. O. Hennen as co-hostess.

Mrs. Elliston presented the lesson for the day on "The Art of Thinking," building her dissertation around the quotation, "Nurture your mind with great thoughts — to believe in the heroic makes heroes" (Disraeli).

"A penny for your thoughts is not enough," she said, "and if you are guilty of imitation, gregariousness, drudgery, a feeling of insecurity or even a lack of education, that is no excuse for not being able to think clearly.

"If you would be a good thinker, pay attention to your surroundings; and be alert to the needs and sorrows of others. Get away from the thought that you cannot go on with your personal education through reading good books and the elimination of waste in reading, after you have finished your schooling.

"Cultivate exterior and interior solitude. Make thought producing images and write down the things you would like to know about. If you are doubtful, find out the reason, and then set about thinking things through to a completion satisfactory to yourself. If you do these things you will be on the right road to good thinking and the moral elevation that comes with that accomplishment."

Mrs. Verda Mullins discussed "Religious Thinking," using a Scriptural background to present St. Paul's elements of love, which she recommended as a guide for religious thinking. Assisting her were Mesdames Mary Anna Laing, Eleanor Cramer, Dorothy Mercer and Barbara Cooper.

Herd Drops Conference Game To Wolves, 5-0

By Billy Paul Knox
The Whiteface softball team dropped their first conference engagement to the Dalhart Wolves here April 9th by a 5-0 score. Jim Wilson completely handcuffed the Herd by shutting them out with only three hits.

Wilson was never in trouble. He gave up one hit in the first, one in the fifth and one in the seventh. Dalhart got eight hits off three Whiteface hurlers. Te starting and losing pitcher, Hershey, was mangled for four runs and six hits during his 2 1/3 innings of mound duty.

His reliever, McRight, held the Wolves hitless but was cuffed for one run. He pitched 2 2/3 innings. The third pitcher for the Herd was Francis Boyd. He surrendered no runs and two hits.

Hereford committed six errors compared to two mishaps made by the Wolves.

Dalhart picked up two runs in the first when Zinses and Blanks singled and walked, then scored, on a double by Wills. A wild pitch by Hershey helped things considerably. The Herd could do no more than come up with a very weak and short-lived threat. Bybee walked and Bryant singled but both were thrown out at third base.

Wilson easily struck out the side in the second inning.

Two Runs For Wolves
The Wolves manufactured two more runs in the third. After Wills walked to lead off the inning, Wilson singled home around to third where he scored on another single by Heald. Wilson scored on a wild pitch.

Dalhart threatened mildly in the fourth. Morse took first base on a missed third strike then stole second. A sacrifice by Corbett put him on third. He was thrown out trying to take home on a passed ball.

In the fifth for the Herd, McRight singled and stole second base but died there. Francis Boyd took over and held the Wolves scoreless the last two innings.

The Whitefaces last chance came in the seventh inning. Calloway led off with a double, but was thrown out trying to stretch it into a triple. Wilson retired the last two batters.

Wilson also led Dalhart hitters with three hits. Bryant, McRight and Calloway got the only hits off Wilson.

Take It Easy - - -

For some years now the nation has witnessed the sad results of "super-speeds" on the rural highways in the "super-accidents" they cause. Deaths have mounted in rural areas consistently, while in urban sections fatalities have remained at about the same levels or declined.

The only valid reason seems to be that motorists, who definitely are not "super-drivers" and therefore cannot control the "super-speeds" of their vehicles, are having far more accidents on the open road than in days before the "horsepower race" began.

Thomas N. Boate, accident prevention department manager of the Association of Casualty and Surety Companies, who has watched this situation closely, believes there is a direct relationship between excessive speeds on rural highways and the rising tolls of death and injury in rural areas. In his opinion, a downward turn from the present steady upward trend cannot be expected until average speeds on rural highways diminish. "Drivers must learn to take it easy on the open highway if they want to live longer," he declares.

What happens to the speeders, as related by Mr. Boate in the experience of one southwestern state with "plenty of wide open spaces" and a 60 mile speed limit, provides some arresting facts for sober reflection on the benefits of "taking it easy." Of all rural fatal accidents in that state, nearly 70 percent can be traced to the speed factor. Twenty-eight percent were head-on collisions which occurred when one or both drivers lost control at high speed, another 29 percent were vehicles that ran off the roadway, four percent more overturned on the highways and another eight percent resulted from hitting a fixed object. Evidently the price of super-speeds, like super-cars, comes very high!

But fear of an accident alone won't reduce the death toll. When the average driver is deterred from traveling at excessive speeds because he also fears loss of his driving license or severe punishment in the courts for this major offense against public safety, general improvement in the rural accident situation can be hoped for, according to Mr. Boate. Now, he adds, too many drivers "go along" in the tide of speeders and are carried beyond their depth in the perilous moments of split-second emergencies. So, if you want to live, slow down!

Hotel Jim Hill

The most surprising thing about the recent foreclosure on Hereford's Hotel Jim Hill has been the exceptionally small amount of talk concerning the action. Even more amazing is the comparative absence of criticism.

This is due, possibly, to two factors. Foremost is the general idea that many people anticipated such an outcome when the hotel was built. The secondary factor lies in the role which the hotel has played in expansion and growth of the community.

It is the feeling of many original investors that Hereford could never have reached its present stage of expansion in agriculture, cattle production and industry without the hotel. Unquestionably, the hotel has become a general meeting place for the community, serving as general headquarters for most civic, commercial and many social affairs.

Cost of the hotel has, without question, been heavy on many citizens. Wisdom of the investment will be determined by the future. When the hotel is re-sold, its general operation can make much difference to the community. Needless to say, the outcome could be an improvement over past years - or it could definitely be a disappointment.

To the average citizen and investor, however, the situation still boils down to the prediction frequently voiced when it was organized: "They sure will have a hard time moving it away."

Unsung Heroes

Unsung heroes walk down the street every day. More often, we take them for granted, forgetting the time and effort they contribute toward community progress.

Resignation of City Attorney Ray Cowser this week closes seven years of service in the post. Mr. Cowser served as attorney before the city went into the manager form of government in 1952 and, since that time, has continued in the office frequently under circumstances representing personal sacrifice.

True enough, the city attorney is a paid office, but Mr. Cowser has, down through the years, contributed generously of his time, effort and counsel - beyond the call of duty. He has consistently, we feel, placed the factor of citizenship beyond basic requirements of the office. Public servants of this type are today the exception rather than the rule and, we feel, deserve a word of appreciation from the public. His successor, Earnest Langley, is qualified with an excellent record and will, no doubt, pick things up and go right along. Such, at least, is indicated by his willingness to accept the responsibility of the post.

Hereford is fortunate to have two such qualified men who are willing to devote their time and interest to the welfare of the community.

Who Merits Thanks?

Recently released was a series of "Thank You" letters by Red Cross leaders for co-operation in the 1954 drive. Similar letters have, from time to time, appeared as part of other worthwhile drives.

These letters are certainly in order; they represent good taste and good manners. We have no quarrel with them. However, the idea occurs to us that the whole procedure might well be reversed. Actually, the people who are sending out the letters are the ones who deserve the thanks and praise of the people who are receiving them.

The men and women who head our various drives - and they are numerous - spend untold hours in organization, preparation, thought and actual work. Their own interest in the specific project more or less determines the success of the drive. When it comes to personal benefit, these people gain no more than the average citizen.

The merchant or individual who writes out a check or digs into his pocket to help some worthwhile cause generally gets a sincere "Thank You" from the volunteer solicitor who, in all probability, has contributed a similar amount in addition to the time he is donating. We just got to wondering if it isn't the solicitor who honestly deserves the word of thanks from the average citizen.

"With the advent of the New Deal . . . the Government took over the direction and in large part the operation of our economy. It began to spend money, to provide jobs, to redistribute income. The trend toward socialism began -- and this in face of the fact that no free people in history had ever prospered or could ever prosper under this form of government." HAGERSTOWN, MD., MORNING HERALD.

"The small country weekly has as vital a mission in the life of American citizens as the newspaper that has a circulation and reading public in the millions . . . History shows us that freedom is lost wherever a free press is lost. Would-be dictators cannot stand the full harsh glare of publicity -- they cannot tolerate truth. The press is the first attacked, and once that is captured or made subservient other freedoms quickly fall and perish." CANADIAN RECORD.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Discouraging Student Smoking Would Have Plenty Of Support

Would an educational campaign to discourage smoking among High School students meet with your approval?

MRS. W. H. NUNN SR.

"Yes, I think that there should be a campaign to discourage smoking among students. After all, smoking is only a habit and people get along just as well without it as they do with it. In fact, better. I think it would be nice too, because it would help to protect our young people's health as much as anything else."

O. M. DICKEY

"Yes, that type of campaign would meet with my approval. I think that it is a very bad habit and I speak from experience because I have the habit myself. I know that it is just a habit and if an educational campaign could be set up to discourage smoking among our young people, I think that it would be a very fine thing."

MRS. G. W. SMITH

"It surely would meet with my approval to have an educational campaign to discourage smoking among our young people. I think perhaps if people are taught during adolescence that smoking is detrimental to their health then maybe they would never take up the habit. I think that a program of this type would be wonderful for our young people."

MRS. HAZEL POWELL

"It certainly would meet with my approval to have an educational campaign to discourage smoking. I have raised two boys and one of them started smoking when he was in his 'teens in high school. I believe that he started smoking mainly because the other boys were all smoking. I don't mean that mine wouldn't have started anyway and I am not blaming the other boys, but if something could be done to discourage young people from smoking, I think that it would be a wonderful thing."

We hope if there is anybody who is figurin on gettin a dog that they will wait another or three weeks and let us give them one of our little part collie puppies when they are old enough to begin to eat.

They are just ordinary farm dogs—the kind that make good stock dogs and see every thing that comes within sight of the house.

Of course we want them to go to people who really want a dog enough to take care of one and keep it.

These two-year-olds may look like babies but we have found out that some of them can be pretty grownup.

One day not long ago Ronnie Coffey and his five-year-old sister Carol were waiting for a few minutes in the family car while their mother helped her husband catch up with his orders out at the Big Burger and Carol was protesting tearfully.

Evidently her little brother hadn't lived long enough to be disturbed by a woman's tears because he ignored her completely as he slid over to the side of the car next to us, rolled down the window and called out a cherry "Hi".

Since we were strangers to him we were a little surprised but returned his greeting and asked, "How are you?"

"FINE" was his prompt answer and by that time Carol had dried the fountain of disappointment and was ready to tell us that her dady's name was Marvin Coffey and she was going to Shirley School next year.

Ordinarily we would fuss a little about having to start our irrigation motor every morning before sunup but now watering seems like a privilege instead of a chore.

AUSTIN — A record-making special session of the Legislature was rapidly winding up business this week with various types of knots tied on the governor's "package program" dealigned for April 13.

Teachers seemed assured of their long-sought pay raise of approximately $400 per year, state employees were due to get about $120 more, a $10 million building program for four state institutions was slated, and Communists faced darker days.

Unfinished Business

Governor Allan Shivers had called the two pay issues the main unfinished business of his administration.

His floor leader in the House, Representative Joe Kilgore of McAllen, had obtained a smashing 110 to 34 victory for a $26 million-plus tax plan to pay the salary increases.

An increase in the production tax on natural gas for $14 million will be the largest part of the load. A higher franchise tax on corporations is expected to yield about $9 million, and an additional levy on beer another $3 million. Included in the bill was an amendment taxing trading stamps estimated to raise $4 million.

It had been expected that the Senate would approve the tax plan without much debate since that body had already voted for the items calling for more taxes as desired by Shivers.

Speaker Reuben Setzer, who opposes new taxes and has differed with Governor Shivers on the best way to raise teacher pay, voted against the Kilgore tax proposal. But he helped to suspend the rules for quick final passage of the bill.

Kilgore commended the "presiding officer's fair and impartial manner."

New Gathering Tax

A new gas gathering levy, instead of the production tax, was before the Senate after House passage as a substitute for the law declared unconstitutional by the U. S. Supreme Court.

Due to the uncertainty of the proposal in court actions, Representative George T. Hinson offered a token tax bill aimed at pipeline companies in order to test the legality of such a law.

Due to the uncertainty of the proposal in court actions, Representative George T. Hinson offered a token tax bill aimed at pipeline companies in order to test the legality of such a law.

If courts held the tax to be valid, the rate could be boosted to replace the production tax on producers and royalty owners.

Penalties For Communists

Legislators went speedily and grimly about the business of setting up stern penalties for Communist Party membership and other subversive groups or acts. They had reduced various proposals to provide for fines up to

Dear editor:

All the talk lately about the dangers of the hydrogen bomb, all the worry England is doing, even going so far as to urge the U. S. to stop experimenting and some people even suggesting that the secret of the bomb ought to be destroyed and the matter hushed up, does not disturb me, as I do not believe civilization is going to be destroyed by man's inventiveness, and if it was it would hardly be noticed in most places.

But what burns me up is a statement I read in a paper which blew out of a car which whipped around a curve in the road by my place one day last week. According to this statement, if man cannot control the hydrogen bomb and outlaw war, "he will revert to a primitive agricultural society."

This was supposed to scare everybody into pulling up short and thinking of what the awful results of atom and hydrogen bomb warfare will be, but as far as I'm concerned he got hold of the wrong figure of speech.

Understand, I'm not in favor of destroying civilization, if you know where it's located, and I'm certainly not in favor of another world war, but arguin if we don't do something about it mankind will return to a primitive agricultural society, is makin the alternative too easy. He ought to think up some other reason.

What in the world is wrong with a primitive agricultural society? I've been livin in one for years out here on my Johnson grass farm and I wouldn't swap it for an apartment in Houston or Dallas on any terms. Tryin to tell me if I don't get rid of the hydrogen bomb I'm gonna have to live in the country is like telling a small boy if he doesn't behave you're gonna give him an ice cream cone.

Understand, I didn't have anything to do with the hydrogen bomb, first I ever heard of it was when I read about it in the paper, and it's possible the men who invented it ain't sure what they got on their hands, although I notice they've got sense enough to stand back quite a ways when they get ready to set one off, but if they want to scare me with it, they're got to convince me it'll rub out my primitive agricultural set-up out here.

If you think there's any danger it would, let's get the thing outlawed while the Texas Legislature is still in session.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

Prohibited by the bill would be any act intended to overthrow, destroy or alter the constitutional form of government by force or violence or a conspiracy with that purpose.

Aiding, contributing to and belonging to an organization with that objective also would be prohibited.

County and district attorneys would be authorized to take the necessary legal steps rather than the attorney general.

Although the bill provides for search warrants to be issued on affidavit of two citizens to seize certain records, Senator Rogers Kelley, the sponsor, said the provisions adequately safeguard the rights of individuals.

Uproar Over McCarthy
For all the grimness with which the Legislature tackled the problems posed by the State Industrial Commission and submitted by Gov. Shivers, there were comic side-lights.

A resolution by Rep. Jack Fisk of Wharton proposing to invite Sen. Joe McCarthy of Wisconsin to speak before the House on communism provoked an uproar.

Rep. C. E. Hughes of Sherman suggested that McCarthy be asked to speak on "political influence in the Army" rather than "communism." and Rep. R. W. Baker of Houston said, "Let's lay McCarthy on the table, subject to call of the Army."

University of Texas students were agitated by the invitation to Sen. McCarthy to deliver a San Jacinto-Day speech in Houston on April 21.

More than a thousand students met and started petitions of protest against the invitation to McCarthy "to speak at an official state shrine in a formal commemoration of the death of Texans for Texas freedom."

Too Much Smoke
Political smoke continued to make undistinguishable the figures who will line up in the gubernatorial sweepstakes this summer.

There was one clearly distinguishable figure, and he was departing from the lineup. John C. White, 29-year-old commissioner of agriculture, declared he would not be a candidate for governor and would run again for the job he wrested from veteran J. E. McDonald four years ago.

Governor Shivers, Speaker Ben-terfitt, and Lt. Gov. Ben Ramsey devoted their several attentions to legislative matters and said nothing.

Ralph W. Yarborough, Austin attorney, who ran against Shivers two years ago, has stepped up his speaking program. His case was strengthened with White's announcement "Loyal Democrats."

Clyde B. Kennelly, assistant attorney general, resigned April 1 to devote full time to his campaign for congressman in the 9th District. He is opening headquarters in his home town of Rosenberg. School Funds Publication Asked

C. T. Johnson of Austin, candidate for lieutenant governor, called for a state law requiring publication of school district financial statements.

Campaigning in South Texas, he said the need is emphasized by the misuse of funds charged recently by state officials in a district in that area. He said such a law would also result in better service per tax dollar expended.

A tenure of almost 30 years service in legislative and judicial branches is due to end next January when presiding Judge Harry N. Graves of the Court of Criminal Appeals steps down from the bench.

A general scramble for this high judicial post is indicated.

District Judge Alan B. Haley of Wichita Falls announced his candidacy early in the year.

Two Dallas men also are avowed candidates. They are Louis W. Woolsley, assistant district attorney, and W. C. Graves, a member of the State Board of Education, but not related to the retiring judge.

Lloyd Davidson, court commissioner, has said that he would seek the office if Judge Graves declined to run again.

The prospective vacancy directs attention to a proposal of the State Bar to combine the Court of Criminal Appeals with the Supreme Court. Texas and one other state have two courts of last resort for civil and criminal cases.

SHORT SNORTS: Action to relax rules against television in the House has been put off until next year. . . Communists' traditional May Day will be Loyalty Day in Texas. . . Gov. Shivers designated May 1 for the special observance sponsored by the VFW. . . Texas Young Democrats who held a state convention at Mineral Wells last month have applied for a national charter. . . Another group of Young Demos, which has boycotted the Mineral Wells faction, will hold a session in San Antonio next month. . . Texas ranks fourth in the nation in accidental deaths according to the Texas Safety Association.

The Heat's On
NEW YORK (AP)—The hottest story at Coney Island: Someone stole 41 steam radiators, valued at $726, from a construction company supply shack.

Bark Is Useful
GREENVILLE, S.C. (AP)—A woman carried her weary little son aboard driver J. L. Whitmire's bus. The youngster wanted to sleep. The mother, knowing that sleep would ruin the child's regular afternoon nap at home, tried every trick to keep him awake. It was a losing battle.

"See if you can find the dog!" Whitmire urged the child.

Then he emitted convincingly dog-like "yips." The child kept wide awake searching for the dog during the rest of the trip.

Now the mother and child are Whitmire's regular patrons. And the boy is still looking for the missing dog.

Record Takes Time
PHILLIPSBURG, Kas. (AP)—Don Harsha, 62-year-old oil transport driver for the Co-OP refinery, has driven a million miles without an accident. Of his record, set in less than 14 years at the wheel, Harsha says, grinning: "Well, it took me a little longer—but I got here okay!"

Mix a cup of powdered sugar and a teaspoon of cinnamon together; sift over the top of a sponge cake.

Temper Is Expensive
DETROIT (AP)—Detroit Richard Coker's anger grew with each block he circled. He couldn't find a place to park. And, after all, he'd come downtown to pay off a ticket for illegal parking.

Finally he drove smack onto the sidewalk at City Hall, and stormed in to give the mayor a piece of his mind. The mayor was out. So Coker stormed back to the sidewalk—only to find police had towed his car away.

That cost him $10 on top of his $3 ticket.

Beauty Remains
SAN JOSE, Calif. (AP)—A cosmetologists' association chose a new queen from its members' most faithful customers for the longest time. She was Hannah Jones, 91 years old.

A ten inch narrow "ham" slicer is most useful. It may be used for slicing other cold meats besides ham, as well as for cutting cheese.

Store your vacuum cleaner when not in use, in a place that is cool and dry. Never put it near a register or radiator. Give it ample room; if you crowd it into a small space you may damage some part of it.

Streus' Diary

April 9, 1954

DEAR DIARY:

Have been too "dust-gusted" for the past few weeks to even attempt to write anything — or even to sell anything — but now comes the time when attention must be called to various and sundry items about the place. What with hot weather coming on apace, may we suggest that you take advantage of Streus' lay-away on the famous Clear-View air conditioner for your home—just come down, choose your model, make a small down payment, and we will lay your cooler away for installation when you need it—by so doing, you will be sure of getting the model you want when you want it — and you will have most of the cost already paid before installation. And speaking of hot weather, just installed an air cooler in my car — called the IDLER — works just like a regular evaporative cooler, with pads, pump, etc. drives from the fan belt. Come by for a demonstration.

Jean has been receiving shipments of new and plumb pretty gift items for the last two months — the joint is completely cluttered with the stuff and I would be very unhappy if the items weren't so confounded nice to look at.

On our radio program "Streus' Platter Panorama," Mr. Don Moore won $12.00 worth of RCA Victor records last week. New contest started Sat. morn at 9:00. Listen in on KPAN every Saturday morning at nine for a 30 minute variety program — incidentally, you could hear radio broadcasts better with a new RCA Victor radio. With the baseball season under way and baseball telecasts on KFDA every Saturday afternoon, may we suggest that you let us demonstrate the RCA Victor TV set in your home. With RCA, you see the clearest picture with the least effort. TRY ONE.

National Hardware Week coming up April 16th to 24th, and we will be making special prices on a lot of nationally advertised hardware items as well as gift items—watch for our ads on these bargains.

The most important item of conversation these days is that regarding when (or if) it is going to rain — Gillentine tried — Andy Thomas prognosticated — even Francis Hardwick hazarded a guess—still no moisture. I have seen a number of dry spells and droughts in my day, and it has been my observation that it always rains just at the end of the dry spell—you can depend on it—it will rain, just about the time this dry spell ends.

TOMORROW'S HEADLINES?

If you picked up your paper tomorrow and read that disaster had wiped out the state of Kansas, killing 40,000 people, injuring every one of the state's 1,905,299 population and causing a property and economic loss of about $4,000,000,000, it would be a national calamity.

But when that disaster comes day by day—killing hundreds, injuring thousands every day, year in and year out—the impact is lost because it didn't happen all in a sudden flash. That, however, is the annual toll of highway deaths and injuries and economic loss. 40,000 killed; 2,000,000 injured; cost $4,000,000,000—in a single year.

This greatest U. S. tragedy is caused mainly by reckless, speeding and drunken drivers, riding their super-powered cars over the nation's highways and byways. Clear skies and straight dry roads are the setting for three out of four fatal accidents. Week-ends and holidays are the times of greatest danger—highest casualty lists. Saturday is the most dangerous day. Drivers in an alcoholic haze are a major factor in swelling the mounting death toll.

What can be done about it? Slow down! Thirteen states with speed limits of 50 miles or less had but 26 per cent of the deaths and the rate declined 18 per cent in one year. If that decline had been nationwide, nearly 12,000 lives would have been saved, 600,000 less injuries.

Slow down! SLOW DOWN! Keep your name off the casualty list.

SLOW DOWN—LIVES ARE IN YOUR HANDS!

Outstanding Former Jaycee Offers Advice To Officers

A former state vice president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce said it in on the line to incoming officers of the Hereford Jaycee organization at the club's annual installation banquet April 3.

"The Jaycees are devoted to service, and your club can survive only if it is a working organization," Jack Pate of Amarillo, an outstanding former Jaycee, told the new officers.

He particularly singled out incoming president Berry Green, and told him that the men in the organization will look to him both for leadership and fellowship.

"You can't be a dictator and you can't let a feeling of your own importance sway you, even though you are holding an important position," Pate said.

Work Opportunity Needed

"Give the men an opportunity to work, and also look to them for ideas, for the work of many minds is far better than the thoughts of just one mind," he continued. "Don't try to be a rugged indivi-qualist, either. Back your officers when you have once given them support on a project. In case you do change your mind, let the men working on that project know about it first. Don't go around behind their backs saying that the idea is no good."

Pate also suggested that the way to keep an organization in good financial condition was to keep it broke or nearly broke, so the members would have reason to work.

Later, when "Exhausted Rooster" pins were presented to Paul Conaway, Edgar Skypala and Dick Barrett by John Aiken, it was mentioned that they had been among the group who had seen the time when the club "over extended itself" to bring a name band to Hereford for a dance, dug down into their own pockets for some of the money, then had to face a banker and ask to borrow more.

The humorous side of the situation was played up, but the memory of the time made the "roos-ters," who are leaving Jaycee work because they are over 35, seem a little uneasy.

Recognition For Formby

Outgoing president Clint Formby also received special recognition from the club. He was presented with a desk set, in recognition of his services to the club during the past year.

Special guests at the program include two candidates for the position of state Jaycee president—Rocky Ford of Midland and Walter Shaller of Amarillo.

Flowers Cause Headaches

BATON ROUGE (AP)—A gracious Japanese gift to American ladies at the 1884 Cotton Exposition in New Orleans has grown into a beautiful multi-million dollar headache for Louisiana.

The gift was a water hyacinth—one to each woman visitor. The ladies took them home and placed them in vases. The plants outgrew the vases and were transferred to fish ponds and streams. Now they blanket bayous and streams in bright purple.

The federal government estimates loss due to clogged waterways at 50-55 million dollars per year in Louisiana. The water hyacinths also kill off fish, deprive migratory birds of winter quarters and menace navigation. The drinking water supply is cut down, Gov. Robert Kennon says, and mosquitoes breed in the stagnant pools created by the current choking plants.

Each year the U. S. Corps of Engineers asks Congress for special appropriations to cut the waterways in Louisiana clear of the pretty pest.

Fun in Phone Book

REGINA (AP)—Regina's new telephone book could be called a "Who's Zoo." Among the listed names are Badger, Bear, Boa, Bull, Fisher, Fox, Hogg, Jackel, Kidd, Lamb, Lyons, Marten, Mink, Steer, Tiger and Wolf. There are plenty of birds—Crane, Dove, Duck, Eagle, Finch, Hawke and Heron, not to mention Swift, Thrasher and Titmuss. Also Fish, Herring, Kippers, Pike and Sturgeon.

LARGEST CHEMICAL TANKER - The 18,000-ton SS Marine Dow-Chem, newest and largest chemical tanker, is shown above as she underwent owner's trials off the New England coast. The $8,000,000 vessel, first tanker ever designed and built to transport liquid chemicals, will be operated under charter to the Dow Chemical Company. Built by Bethlehem in Quincy, Mass., the 551-foot ship made her maiden voyage to Dow's Texas Division, Freeport, on April 7. She is capable of carrying 3,500,000 gallons of liquid chemicals - the equivalent of 350 tank cars - in a load. Her designed speed is 15 knots and she carries a crew of 42. (AP Photo)

Motorist Floats

NASHUA, N.H. (AP)—A charge of operating an improperly registered motor vehicle in municipal court brought out that the driver had a car registered in Connecticut, held a Maryland driver's license, claimed to be a resident of Maine and was arrested in New Hampshire.

Given a $5 suspended fine, police wrote one word beside the address line on the report—"floater."

ORANGEBURB, S.C. (AP)—There was no gun handy when a fox showed himself near a residence here. Caldwell Brown picked up a tire pump and took off on foot after the animal—caught it, too, and killed it with the pump.
