Views On Water Policy Aired By Area Farmers

Waste of underground water resources, which is considered the No. 1 problem of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District, was the focal point for discussions Wednesday night at a meeting held in Hotel Jim Hill. Means of stopping this waste were discussed, with both rigid enforcement of regulations and an educational program receiving backing. "We have the regulations, made up by men who were elected from the district," Tom McFarland, office manager and president of the district, told the men gathered for the meeting. "Now we need some opinions. Do you think that we should have a couple of years of education work first, try to crack down on those who waste water contrary to regulations, or perhaps a combination of both?" In referring to waste, McFarland particularly mentioned water which runs off fields and into the bar ditches along county roads. It is impossible to prevent all save water cannot be done at the same time, because of the cost. Whether or not most farmers in the area would attend educational meetings is another problem, and Renfro suggested that each county in the district be split into small units, with one or two local men in each unit assigned to help with the educational program. When a few of those present seemed inclined to take chip-on-the-shoulder attitudes, McFarland reminded them that the conservation district was set up to keep control of their underground water resources at home, rather than having the control taken over by some group at the state or national level. "We are all in the same boat, and we can't afford to have a fight," he added. He told the men that he recently returned from Washington, where he attended a hearing of the House Agriculture Committee. There he asked that farmers be allowed to get special loans for the installation of underground pipe, which he considers one of the best of water conservation measures. So far, there hasn't been any direct result of the trip, but he is still hoping that it may work out. Some other problems concerning drilling, the possibility of getting salt or acid water from strata under the redbeds from holes drilled for various purposes, and other problems, were also brought up, but both Broadhurst and Dr. Gordon W. Willis, who has been added to the staff of the district to help district landowners and operators with their water problems, admitted that they did not know all the answers to these things, but are doing some work on the problem. Before the main meeting, the men from the water district headquarters held a supper meeting with county water board members and others for an informal discussion. Those attending the meeting included Paul Corbett, John Aiken, P. L. Carmichael, Virgil Dodson, Maurice Howell, Broadhurst, Floyd Walton, Sr., Dr. Willis, Frank Beznar, and McFarland.

Teams, consisting of a muggler and a milker, who enter the wild mare milking contest, will be charged $10 for each team, the Riders Club rodeo committee announced. This afternoon, a matched roping will be held between the Hereford Roping Club and the Clovis Roping Club, with seven or eight members on each team. Jim Monroe and T. D. Members of the Riders Club square dance on horseback team are also practicing, working out every Thursday night under the direction of Pat Lawhon as they train their horses to go through the various figures. A similar team which Lawhon trained in Lubbock has been asked to tour with a rodeo, according to Mrs. Woodrow Ireland.

Around Town

Don't forget - Monday is Dollar Day again, and Hereford stores are loaded with specials. Shirley Sharp, Kiwanis Club sweetheart, received a surprise present - a full place setting of sterling silver - at the Kiwanis Club fourth birthday party Thursday night. Shirley will marry this summer. Because Mayor J. H. Sears and City Commissioner Raylan Evans are to be out of town Monday night, the commission meeting will be held only long enough to recess until the night of May 10, according to City Manager Cecil Massey. Regular meeting nights of the commission are the first and third Monday of every month. A special meeting of the Hereford Riders Club has been called by Walter Johnson, president, for 8 o'clock Tuesday night at the club house. County officers report that things are much quieter than usual at the moment. Saturday morning the jail was empty, and only one man was kept in jail overnight during the week. However, minor thefts are still continuing over the county. Mrs. Evelyn Hacker, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Benson of Frio, will be one of nine students at Eastern New Mexico University School of Music to be presented (Continued on Page 2)

Intersection Collisions Damage Four Automobiles

Approximately $690 damage was done to cars in two intersection collisions Thursday and Friday in the city limits of Hereford, with both collisions occurring on Fifth Street. Minor damage was done in a collision at Fifth and Sampson Streets about 6:30 o'clock Thursday morning. Mrs. Mary Kosaek Reznik, driving a 1953 Oldsmobile, was going north on Sampson Street and Mrs. E. N. Johnson, 516 Avenue K, driving a 1951 Buick, was going west on Fifth Street. Mrs. Reznik made a wide right turn and the Oldsmobile collided with the left front fender of the Buick. Approximately $15 damage was done to the Oldsmobile and $25 damage was done to the Buick. Mrs. Reznik was charged with failure to grant the right-of-way. Heavier damage was done in a collision at the intersection of Schley and Fifth Streets Friday afternoon about 5 o'clock. Eris Sheppard Pulliam, driving a 1953 Ford was going east on Fifth Street and Joe Hampton Green, driving a 1949 Dodge, was going south on Schley. The two cars met and collided in the intersection. About $500 damage was done to the Ford and $150 damage was done to the Dodge. Pulliam was charged with failure to grant the right-of-way.

ON SHARE PLAN Sales Barn Painting Okayed

Hereford's Bull Barn, which is used for everything from wrestling matches to barbecues, is scheduled to get two coats of paint sometime in the near future, according to a motion passed at last Monday's meeting of the Commissioners Court. Cost of the work is to be shared equally by the Chamber of Commerce, the Hereford Lions Club and Deaf Smith County. Two coats of paint will be put on all the woodwork, and a cement and dash coat on the stucco. Motions to accept the right-of-way to grade and maintain two stretches of county road, totaling four and one-half miles, were also passed by the commissioners. First of these is three miles running north and south between sections 23 and 18, 24 and 17, and 25 and 16, all in Block K-8. The southern end of this piece of road is about five miles northwest of Hereford. Second Right-Of-Way Second right-of-way accepted is one and one-half miles north and south, between section 21, 22, and 27 and 28, Township 2, Range 4, and ends at the Farmer County line. The road will be some 15 miles southwest of Hereford. Each of the roads will be 60 feet in width, with 30 feet to be taken from the sections on each side. Services of a full-time worker from the State Welfare Division, in return for paying a part of the workers office expenses and car expenses, was not accepted by the commissioners in view of the fact that the county has a full-time social welfare worker. Possibility of obtaining such a state worker had been brought to the court's attention in a letter from District Judge Harry Schultz. Those attending the meeting included County Judge Horace L. Schloss, and Commissioners M. T. Rutter, precinct 1; J. C. Morrison, precinct 2; J. T. Guinn, precinct 3; and C. G. Richardson, precinct 4.

Purchase Of Auditorium Seats Postponed By Board

Purchase of seats for the new High School auditorium was postponed until the next regular meeting of the school board at its special meeting held Tuesday night. Representatives of a few companies will be invited to appear before the new board to explain the various types of seats which are available. Holdover members of the board said that they had heard so many salesmen before that it was impossible to remember all details, while new members wish to hear the salesmen for the first time. Considering the problems involved in deciding on equipment for the various special rooms, the board voted to set up committees for this purpose. Don Zimmerman is to work with Superintendent George Graham on the selection of equipment for the shop, with the understanding that the shop is to be "well equipped." Selection of necessary furniture and equipment for the library will be done by Graham, working with Mrs. Dalton Criswell, librarian, with the stipulation that any amount needed over $3,000 for the entire purchases would need the further approval of the board. Stage curtains and other necessary items are to be taken up after companies which furnish such equipment make bids. Folding seats for the gymnasium will also be discussed at the next meeting, with representatives of folding seat companies to be present. Acceptance of the bid of $17,000 each for 290 chair-desks for classrooms was made by the board. At the same time, they agreed on the purchase of 60 adjustable-type desks which will be spread out through the various classrooms to take care of the students whose height varies considerably from the size for which the other desks were purchased. On the basis of figures prepared by Graham as to the probable cost of furniture and equipment for the new building, the board figured the cost, exclusive of auditorium seats at about $40,000. Members attending the meeting include board president Howard Gault, members Mrs. Earl Plank, Herbert Miller, Ira Scott, Don Zimmerman, Robert Wagoner and Lyle Woodford, High School principal. Don Martin, Superintendent Graham and Fred Baird.

At Annual Meeting

Electric Co-Op Reports Show Strong Financial Condition

Deaf Smith County Electric Co-operative has had a phenomenal growth and is in excellent financial condition, according to reports made Thursday at the Co-op's annual meeting.

At the election of directors, H. H. Miller and Joe Birkenfeld were chosen as members of the board. Their names were two of the four which had been submitted by the nominating committee.

Sidney Fuller, CPA, who is auditor for the Co-op, stated that the year 1953 was the best year, from a financial standpoint, that the Co-op has had since 1945.

Capital credits of $143,000, meaning that that amount was available after operating expenses and interest on the Co-op long-term debts were paid, were available. After making a regular payment to REA, there was still $100,656 left, and $100,000 of that was used to make a pre-payment on the loan.

Consulting engineer John Ragland explained the need for building heavier lines and more substations for the Co-op, a job which is now in progress. He said that in 1945 there were 490 members on the Co-op's lines, and there are now 2,764. At the same time, the cost of power used through the Co-op's lines as gone from $53.98 up to $316.000.

President T. E. Seigler, in his report, mentioned that the reason the Co-op did not reduce rates, in spite of the large amount of capital which was available this year, is that this was an extremely dry year and more electrically powered irrigation wells were in use, while this factor might drop considerably in years with more rain. With a drop in income, the prepayment would drop too.

Co-op Manager Leo Forrest reported specifically on the situation concerning the generation of power, telling of the delegation which he headed when it met with President Eisenhower in October, and the results of the conference.

Forrest said that the purpose of the meeting with the president was to impress on him the importance of loans to co-operatives, for the co-ops are directly dependent on those two items.

Locally, Forrest said, the Co-op saved $50 thousand in 1953 because of plans which were made in 1949 for a generating plant on the South Plains. The plans resulted in the Co-op getting better rates from Southwestern Public Service Co.

At the Washington meeting, President Eisenhower told the delegation that Milton Eisenhower had said that REA had a good, strong program and deserved his support.

At a brief board meeting following the annual session, T. E. Seigler was re-elected board president; Sloan H. Osborn was re-elected vice president, and H. H. Miller was re-elected secretary treasurer.

AN ERA IS CLOSING

One Of Last Clipper Ships Going On Block

LÜBECK, Germany — A grand old lady of the seas is going on the auction block here this spring and the end of an era will be one step closer.

The proud, four-masted Passat, once one of the great clippers of the Australian grain trade, will be put under the hammer. Her sister, the Pamir, probably will be sold later. And when they're both gone, aged sailormen on this North Sea coast will have nothing but their memories of the old, giant days.

Time was when the Passat and the Pamir were cheered as they swept into foreign harbors, all four masts white with sail. Sailors called the two the "flying P line," and in the dim fo'c'sle lights, used to recount their exploits of speed.

But that was 40 years ago, when the ships were young and steam had not hogged the seas. There were other clipper ships then, too, boiling out past the Great Barrier Reef of Australia, or cleaving the wild seas around Cape Horn.

There were sailormen in those days who suited the gull-swift clippers. Tough men, they were, who lived on salt pork, hardtack and the thought of a snug port with grog plenty.

The Passat and Pamir gave up doggedly.

As late as 1949 they fled before the winds to Port Victoria, Australia. It was almost like the old days. They took on grain cargoes and then stood out to sea, racing each other as in decades past.

The two old ladies acted like maidens.

They sailed the trade winds together, canvas billowing as they skimmed the waves.

And just 127 days later they slipped into Falmouth, England.

It was their last grain run, an echo of a lost era.

Sailormen and sea lovers in Hamburg tried to save the ships. But maintenance cost is too high. So the Passat will be sold in a few months. The Pamir probably will follow. And the clatter of sledges in a breaker's yard will sound the knell of Germany's clipper ship days.

Wardrobe For A Capella Choir Valued At $5,000

From no wardrobe to one valued well in excess of $5,000, including costumes from around the world, is the experience of the Wayland College International A Cappella Choir, which recently received an authentic Tyrolean costume used more than 50 years ago on the European concert stage and a present day dress of a Korean woman.

Mrs. Emil Bristram, wife of the internationally known painter, has presented to Dr. Shelby Collier, director, a Tyrolean dress worn by her mother, Margaret Huth, mezzo-soprano, who appeared professionally on European stages from 1887 for several years.

Only the blouse and ribbon-lacings are new. The hooks and ornaments on the bodice are sterling silver. Mrs. Shelby Collier, instructor of art at Wayland College, has studied summers under Bristram in Taos, N. M., where he maintains a year-round studio. Because of this connection, Mrs. Bistram became interested in the colorful Wayland College International Choir.

The Korean woman's dress is the gift of the Rev. William R. Lawrence, pastor of First Baptist Church, Dahlart, who served in Korea as a chaplain. Mary Woo, Taegee, Korea, sent it to Mrs. Lawrence in appreciation of the kindness rendered by Chaplain Lawrence in obtaining a job in the American laundry for her. In sending the dress to the Wayland College International Choir, Mr. Lawrence writes:

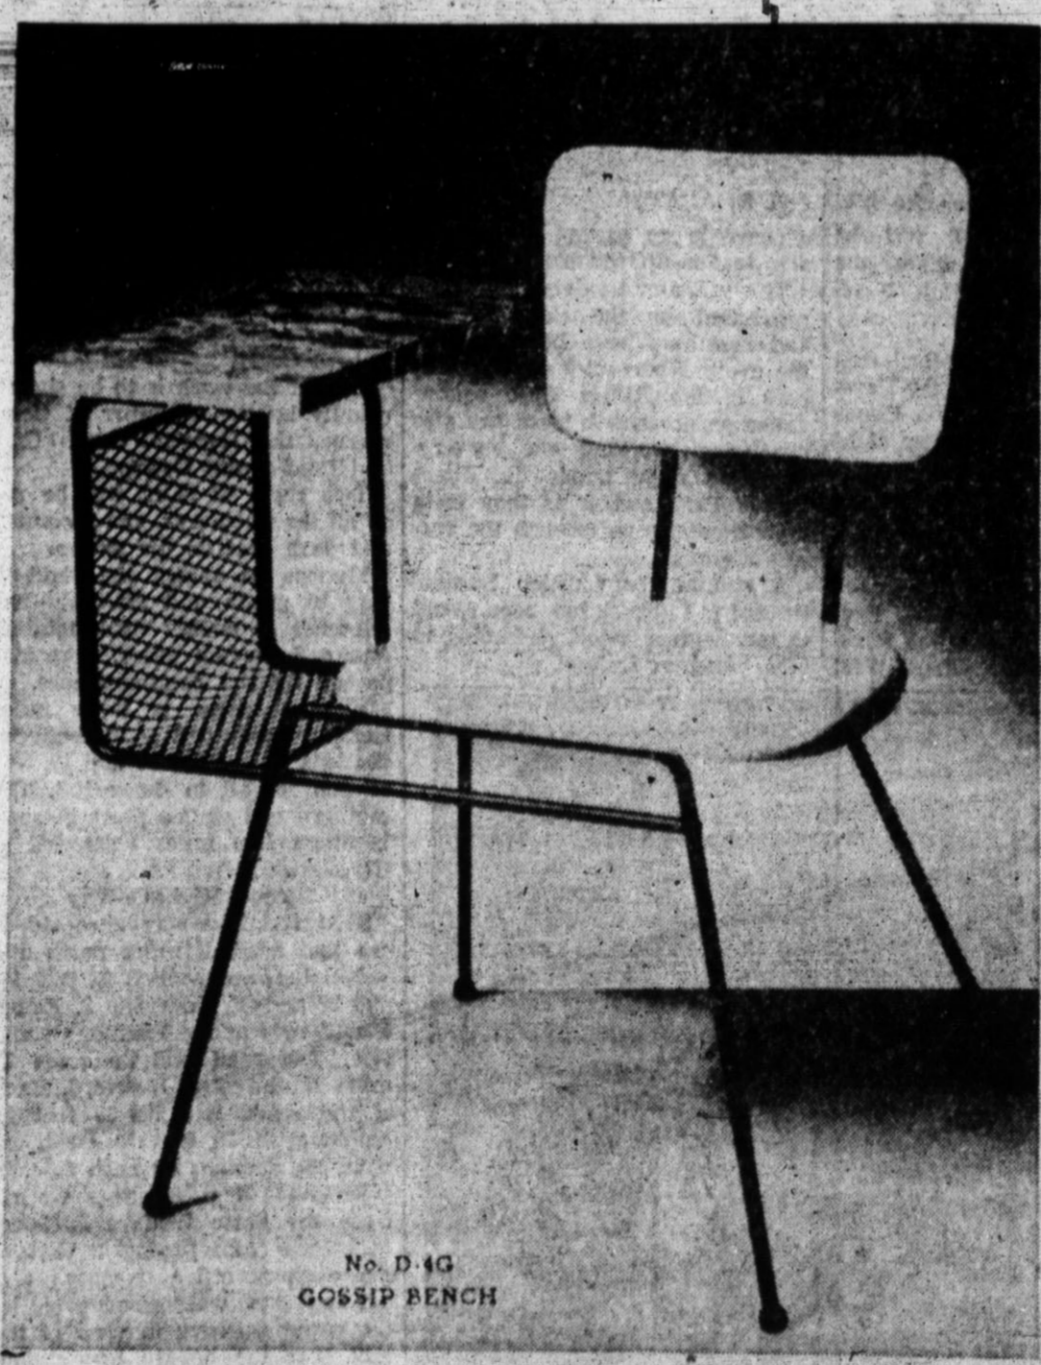

Mary's ancestors were the tutors for the children of the King of Korea for many generations. She speaks seven languages fluently and taught piano in the University of Seoul. Now she is waiting to hear from her husband who was taken away by the Japanese. Because of war conditions, she was so happy to have the job in the American laundry.

"The dress for Mrs. Lawrence is her attempt to show her appreciation and it was made in her spare time from cloth purchased on the Japanese market. We believe that Mary would be glad to know that the dress is being used by the Wayland International Choir and we trust this will be of some benefit to the collection of costumes."

These gifts are typical of the choir's acquisitions in the last five years. Former students, teachers, missionaries and almost total strangers have added to the collection to make it of almost museum quality.

Northwest Hereford News

By Mrs. R. C. Childers
A farm sale will be held Wednesday on the Michael McDonald farm four miles west of Hereford. The McDonalds have purchased a tourist court in Amarillo and are moving as soon as the proper arrangements can be made. They moved to this community from south of Summerfield a year ago in January. They purchased the place from Robert Kerschen.
Mrs. Earl DeHart, Mrs. J. T. Richardson and Mrs. R. C. Childers attended the 25th anniversary of the County Federation of Women's Clubs in the basement of the First Baptist Church Thursday. Mrs. DeHart presided over the meeting. Mrs. Richardson went as a delegate from the Cultural Home Demonstration Club and Mrs. Childers sang with the H. D. Choral Club at the close of the program.

Mrs. P. S. Corbett presided at the meeting of the delegates report at the Veterans Club House Friday afternoon.
Paula Beth Corbett accompanied Miss Loyce Avant and Martha Heard to Phillips Saturday where Martha made a report on work done in 4-H in this county this year.
Mrs. Delbert Bainum and Mrs. J. B. Noland and Mrs. C. S. Barclay packed a lunch and picnicked and fished in the lake located on the Barclay farm Sunday.
Mr. and Mrs. Cortez McNeill and boys and Mrs. A. A. McNeill from Wayside were visitors in the R. C. Childers' home Friday.
L. B. Wortham, Hereford Star Rt., recently added to his herd of registered Milking Shorthorns with the purchase of Wheatland Sir Babe, a red bull calf, from Leo Witkowski of Happy.

Challenge Helps Attain Proper Type Of Jurors

Some people feel that doubt has been cast upon their basic honesty and fairness when they are excused from serving on a trial jury following a challenge by an attorney.
This is definitely not true in the usual situation. To be questioned and challenged by a lawyer and excused by the judge is not a reflection upon the prospective juror's integrity or intelligence. It simply means that, in one particular case, the judge may deem it proper to excuse that person.
When involved as a party to litigation everyone wants, and is entitled to, a jury of 12 disinterested and completely impartial persons — men who will try the case fairly on the law as stated by the judge, and on the evidence admitted at the trial. This kind of jury is what lawyers and judges are trying to secure when they orally examine members of a jury panel.
There are many reasons why a person originally called for a jury panel might not be a fair and impartial juror. He may be closely related to one of the litigants, have a business relationship with one of the lawyers, or have personal knowledge of the case to be tried. He may show some leaning, one way or the other, regarding the type of case being tried that would make it difficult for him to render a strictly impartial verdict.
Even where there is no condition producing a conscious or readily apparent bias, a lawyer may ask that a panel member be excused under the peremptory challenges allowed his client. He usually does this because he feels there is something in that person's background which might unconsciously sway his judgment, even while honestly attempting to be absolutely fair. Many apparently irrelevant questions may be asked by an attorney in reaching a decision regarding this unconscious factor.
Under the law each juror must be a citizen of Texas and of the county in which he is to serve. He must be the head of the household, except that he need not have paid his poll tax. He must own land within the State or he must be the head of a household within the county. He must be of sound mind and good moral character and able to read and write the English language.
A juror is not qualified for service if he has served as a juror within a certain specified length of time. No one who has been convicted of a felony is qualified to serve as a juror; nor is an individual who is under indictment or other legal accusation of theft or of any felony.

The statutes of Texas exempt certain persons from the obligation of serving as jurors. Persons over 60 years of age, civil officers of the State or the United States, ministers, physicians, attorneys, publishers of newspapers, school masters, druggists, undertakers, telegraph operators, railroad station agents, ferrymen, millers engaged in grain, flouring and saw mills, certain railroad officials, firemen and certain state Forestry employees may claim exemption from jury duty. The exemption must be stated and claimed under oath.
(This article, based on Texas law, is written to inform — not to advise. No person should ever apply or interpret any law without the aid of an attorney who knows the facts, because the facts may change the application of the law.)

Four Scout Troops From Area Took Part In Field Day Program

Boy Scout Troops 50, 51 and 52 of Hereford and Troop 56 of Friona attended Boy Scout Field Day last weekend at Camp Don Harrington. Along with the troop members, Scout masters and post advisors of the vicinity attended. Bill Phillips and Tom Woodford served as judges.
About 817 Scouts from 41 units in 10 counties participated. Eighty-five Scout leaders were present and 32 judges.
One of the highlights of the field day was the presentation of the solid brass locomotive bell Engine 1909. Presentation plaque was donated by the AT&SF railroad. The bell will be mounted at Camp Don Harrington to call assemblies and meals.
Sunday morning church services were held in the new outdoor sanctuary built by Post 99 of Amarillo with Rev. Jack Cox of the Washington Avenue Christian Church of Amarillo preaching. Catholic Mass was held by a priest from Amarillo.
Field day closed Sunday afternoon with H. G. Stockton, council president, presenting a trophy to Troop 10, sponsored by the Polk Street Methodist Church. They had 615 points. Reports on local troops will be given at the district meeting. All four local troops placed.

Kermodes Send Thank You Note

(Editor's note: The following letter was received by the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.)

Dear Sir: We thought perhaps you would like to know that we got to Tulsa in time for Easter. Also arrived home in Buffalo, N. Y., just in time to receive your paper and to receive a call from Buffalo Evening News verifying that we were the people involved. Their article came out Friday, April 23, and was very good. We enjoyed the "write up" and picture in your paper very much. Hope we get "arrested" again, if we ever happen to pass through Hereford. You can be sure that if we ever do, we will certainly stop and visit your fine city. Due to so many things, to be done and correspondence to catch up on we find it impossible at this time to write to all the people who contributed to the good time we enjoyed during our short stay in Hereford. We hope that in your travels around town you will convey our thanks again to all the good people who made your first Tourist of the Month for this season such a "howling success."

We enjoyed every minute of it, after we found out what it was all about. Yours for bigger and better "Pinches" John L. Kermode Dorothy V. Kermode

Mrs. Parsons Presented As Club Woman Of Year

Mrs. T. J. Parsons was presented a certificate, in lieu of a plaque which will be presented later, when she was announced as Home Demonstration Club Woman of the Year at the HD Council report meeting Friday.

Presentation of the certificate was made by Miss Roberta Campbell, Brand farm editor.

Mrs. Parsons' Sunday School Class, the Friendship Class of the First Methodist Church, presented her with a corsage which she wore at the presentation.

Reports on the district Texas Home Demonstration Association meeting held April 23 at Panhandle were given by Mrs. Paul Corbett, chairman of the report committee, and Miss Roberta Campbell, Mrs. C. C. Billingslea, and alternates Mrs. C. A. Sauley, Mrs. John Jacobsen Sr., and Mrs. R. C. Childers.

Mrs. Taft McGee led those present in some songs to round out the program.

Mrs. Parsons' home club, the Progressive Home Demonstration Club, was recognized as the club with the largest number of members in attendance at the meeting.

There were only 42,181 franchised new car dealers in the United States in 1954 compared to 47,336 before World War II.

Carlyle Has Been On Both Oceans, Seen Many Lands

(Written for The Brand by Gilbert Carlyle)

The stroke of a magician's wand . . . off on a magic carpet. First to the Technicolor, sun-engulfed tropics of the Caribbean—to the majestic, green-blanketed rolling hills of Scotland—across the blue, transparent waters of the Mediterranean—a brush with the soft, warm breeze of the Adriatic Sea—through the halls of world-famous art galleries in Northern Italy—along the sandy beaches of the French Riviera—into the mystic land of North Africa—transit of the Panama Canal—to the swaying palm trees on the beautiful shores of Hawaii—over the broad expanse of the blue Pacific—next to the strange and enchanting country of Japan—a panoramic view of the harbor of the British Crown Colony of Hong Kong—and finally back to blowing dust on the high plains of the Texas Panhandle.

These have all been the chain of experiences and events in the past 18 months in the varied and colorful Naval career of Gilbert Carlyle, journalist third class, USN, who is presently home on a 30-day leave in Hereford.

For the past 27 months, he has served aboard the heavy cruiser USS QUINCY, which is presently undergoing inactivation at the Puget Sound Naval Shipyard in Bremerton, Washington. During his tour of duty aboard the QUINCY, Gilbert has visited 2 ports in 16 different foreign countries including Scotland, England, Gibraltar, Sicily, Greece, Turkey, Italy, Spain, France, North Africa, Cuba, Haiti, Panama, Hawaii, Japan, Korea and the British Crown Colony of Hong Kong.

The QUINCY recently returned from a six-month tour of duty in the Far East operating with Task Force 77 patrolling the coasts of Korea, Japan and China.

During Gilbert's 27 months aboard the ship, he has served as a Navy Journalist, which entails duties in the Navy Public Relations field such as writing news stories, magazine articles, editing and rewriting wire copy and preparing press releases. He also served as editor of the QUINCY's ship newspaper for two years.

Before enlisting in the Navy in June, 1951, Gilbert was attending college at North Texas State at Denton, Texas, where he was majoring in journalism.

Upon completion of his leave in Hereford, Gilbert will return to Long Beach, California for further assignment to the Military Sea and Transportation public information office at Yokohama, Japan.

He plans to complete his college work toward a degree in journalism when he is discharged from the service in April, 1955. Gilbert is the son of Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Carlyle of 805 Lee Ave., Hereford.

EL NINO CLUB SPEAKER SAYS

Parents Have Responsibility For Local School Conditions

Lloyd Lovel, guest speaker at the El Nino Study Club session held in the home of Mrs. Bill Decker Monday night, urged parents to assume their part of the responsibility of making good schools and asked the question, "Do you know of any reason why patrons should expect to be handed good schools on a silver platter with no effort on their part?"

In considering the program subject, "The Adolescent" Lovel said, "If parents are to help children live up to the finest and best that is in them, they should take the child's feelings into account, teach them how to get along with others, recognize the fact that children want to belong and that they want to accomplish on their own, and the parents should be willing to give the energy and time it takes to train them to be good citizens."

During the business session new officers were elected. They included Mrs. Ben Childers, president; Mrs. Jim Bookout, vice-president; Mrs. Bill Waldrep, recording secretary; Mrs. T. J. Clay, corresponding secretary; Mrs. John Jacobsen Jr., treasurer; Mrs. Bill Decker, reporter; Mrs. Darrell Blanton, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Berry Green, historian.

Plans were made for the final meeting of the year, at which time the newly elected officers will be installed. The meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Ivan Block the night of May 10. Members present were Mes-

out once in a while, but I never heard of it. Rain or shine, snow or sleet, dust or drizzle, Onias is always in there pitching. I don't believe he ever had time to even get sick. There never was a more faithful man in the discharge of his duties. Even Onias has a weakness, though; his weakness is baseball. He has, for a quarter of a century, been the sparkplug in Hereford's baseball activities, which brings me to the point: Onias is getting old. He is turning sissy. He is going in for softball. He is even a league committee-

Folks are mighty proud of Ben Cookin and Mrs. Merlin Kaul, recently installed as presidents of the Panhandle Association of Odd Fellows and of the Rebekahs. This is quite an achievement for Hereford. Knowing them both well it is also appropriate to add that it is an achievement for the two organizations. In all of Hereford, you won't find two more willing, capable or more enthusiastic workers. They are tops.

Back to fishing. The fish had better watch out. Ernest Wade sold his tailor shop this week to E. L. "Bud" Norris of Aspermont—and Ernest says he has no definite plans. You know what that means.

Some people complain because I write so much about fishing. This is because they don't realize the true importance of the sport. Just think, if Senator McCarthy and Secretary Stevens had spent a little more time fishing all of this mess might not have happened. It would have even been a big advantage if Private Schine had gone fishing that day the picture was made. I hate to agree with McCarthy, but I think they should promote Schine. At least, I can't think of anyone who has less private.

Plans are just about complete on the big "All-Electric" Cooking School which the appliance dealers will sponsor here on Thursday afternoon, May 20. They have decided to give away a new 30-inch electric range, along with scores of door prizes, up-to-the-minute recipes and a general demonstration. The big school will be held in the Jim Hill Hotel ballroom and, in addition, will include displays of late model electrical gadgets such as freezer chests, washers, dryers, refrigerators and the like. To our knowledge, this will be the first electric school, including all dealers, that the town has ever seen. It should be a lulu. The only trouble is that maybe the hotel won't hold the crowd.

I was visiting with Sheriff Lowell Sharp (unofficially) the other day and he tells me that he attended a recent meeting of Panhandle Sheriffs and peace officers — and they are planning to start a big vocational building at Boy's Ranch. The idea will be to teach the boys various crafts. The deal is to be made possible by contributions from officers all over the United States. A dab here and a dab there: it will work, too. In addition to the school, it will be a wonderful endorsement for the ranch. The peace officers full well realize what the ranch is doing for the nation in curbing crime and in helping boys get back on their feet.

Bull Column. Once upon a time I could drop into a drug store, sidle up to the fountain and lister for a few minutes—and have enough information for a long column. Now that coffee is 10 cents, you can't find out a thing. The only people you catch drinking coffee are the guys who don't know about the price increase — and if they don't know that, they can't contribute much in the way of solid information.

It poses quite a problem, really. The only place left is the beauty shop and when you don't have any more hair than I have, you haven't got a chance.

Maybe I've mentioned it before but the men are always several years behind the women on these modern trends. Honest. Around five years ago all of the men were laughing up their sleeves because their wives were going on diets. Now days, it's the men. A lot of the more daring started dieting last year and are on their second go-round this Spring. Still others are joining the fad. Bob Lawrence sure doesn't have to tell anyone. It shows on him. S. B. McLallen, has recently dropped off 10 or 12 pounds. I couldn't prove it, but Carl McCasin also looks suspiciously thin around the waist line. Gaylord Newell and Deward Robertson will be next. Wait and see. If it keeps on even guys like Cecil Guseman won't be safe.

Shifting over to the subject of dependability, I would nominate Onias Carroll as Hereford's most reliable man. Onias has been working for the City of Hereford for the past 20 years. Maybe he has been

Regardless of propaganda concerning the official "first day of Spring," the equinox, the dark of the moon or the proverbial "first robin, there is still one sure-fire sign that Spring is here. Even a blind man could recognize it, when the fish stories start floating around. Furthermore, I never heard so many as have been circulating this week.

Some yokel happened to be at Conchas Wednesday and hooked a few crappie. Word fanned out and as the stories grew, the road got hot. By noon H. E. Wester, Jack Kirksey and Jim Bob Allison were on the job. Right behind them went Leonard and Ross Latham, Dub Reeves and "Kingpin" Dale Tinnin. There were probably a lot more I didn't hear about. Jim Lipscomb couldn't make it, but he might as well have. He sure wasn't worth much around Hereford for thinking about it and predicting the worst norther in years.

None of these guys have reported back, so maybe Jim's predictions panned out. M. C. Littlejohn went out to Buffalo, however and did it again. He caught so many crappie it embarrasses him to tell about it. If you don't believe it, just ask Leo Price and Louis Hagar. They will swear by anything he says now.

Last week there was no one in the post office—they thought—and it just happened that Louis walked up and asked Leo: "What do you think about these long-winded fish stories Mr. Littlejohn tells?" Leo also expressed some possible doubt and just about that second Mr. Littlejohn walked around the corner where he had been opening his box and, incidentally, overhearing the entire conversation. Both of their faces got pretty red—and still do when they see Mr. Littlejohn. However, they are wrong. Mr. Littlejohn may be a nice fellow, but he is also a champion fisherman when it comes to crappie. He isn't much on any other species, but he is the No. 1 Crappie expert of the North Plains. Maybe even more. Tif-back him in a crappie catching contest anywhere, anytime.

Farm May Hold Buried Treasure

Tigertown, Tex., — There are those who laugh and tell you the story of rich Jim Bradens buried gold is just another legend of the Red River Country.

But the oldtimers around this little community in Northeast Texas believe it. Oldtimers like Jim's grand-nephew, Albert.

Albert Bradens is 71 years old and farms his great uncle's old homestead. As he gazes across the old farm, he will tell you:

"Somewhere, out there, there is a keg of gold worth from $80,000 to $90,000. And if I live long enough I'll find it."

Jim Bradens came from Alabama with a love for gold and good horses. During his life time in Lamar county he saw fine horses bearing the JB Brand spread over all the Red River valley. When he sold one he always insisted on payment in gold.

No one ever saw the gold again. When Irish Jim had a debt to settle, he sold a horse on the spot and paid for it. Never did he reach into his poke of gold pieces.

In his old age Jim spoke proudly of his fortune. Day after day, he lay on his death bed on the front porch and in the east room. Always he watched the woodpile and to front yard.

Once, before he died, he called his nephew, Albert's father, into his bedroom and ordered everybody else out. No one knows whether Jim Bradens intended to tell the secret of his gold. The only words he could manage were "I've waited too long."

When Jim died in 1906, he left $400 in the bank, his old place and 1,440 acres of land. There was no trace of the gold.

Relatives checked Jim's belongings. A miniature zinc trunk two feet long and a large pharmacist type medicine cove were missing. Neither has ever been found, so the suspicion was born that Jim Bradens buried his gold in them.

Prospectors with every kind of gold-finding gadget on the market prowled for days on the Bradens farm. Once the fortune turned out to be a four-foot length of log chain. Another time it was an old cross-cut saw 10 feet under ground. And still again it was an old pair of spectacles.

Where does Albert Bradens think his uncle Jim buried his gold?

"Been to two fortune tellers, and both of them told me I'd find it was buried under that rose bush in the front yard. But my wife wouldn't let me dig it up."

With a chuckle, he adds, "going to have to hurry and find it if it is going to do me any good. Gettin' most too old to enjoy it."

Czech Leader's Daughter Now Starting Anew

Palestine, Tex. — A silver-haired daughter of the founder of the Czechoslovak Republic visited here and planned a new life in the United States.

Olga Masaryk Revilliod arrived here during the Texas Dogwood Trails celebration.

The festivities contrasted with gray years Mrs. Revilliod spent in Europe.

Her father, her brother, her two sons are dead.

Her father was Thomas Masaryk who founded the Czech Republic and led it, as president, through turbulent years from 1918 until 1937 when he died at the age of 88.

Olga's brother, Czech Foreign Minister Jan Masaryk, spurned a demand he signed a decree putting a Moscow - tailored constitution in effect and died March 10, 1948 - called by many a martyr to the freedom of his people.

Her two sons, Leonard, a Royal Air Force (of Britain) pilot, and Herbert, a firewatcher during the London blitz, were killed in World War II.

But right now, Olga Masaryk Revilliod is thinking more of her future than the past.

She and her Swiss doctor husband, Henri, are the subjects of a bill introduced by Sen. Purtell of Connecticut which would admit them to the United States for permanent residence.

A chance meeting in a Swiss church brought Mrs. Revilliod to the East Texas city.

She came here with Mrs. S. M. Dunning of Bloomfield, Conn., to visit Mrs. Dunning's daughter, Mrs. R. L. Kenderdine. Olga met both last year in a Geneva church.

After the service, the American women were trying to find a taxi. Mrs. Revilliod gave them a ride.

The Revilliods came to the United States in September and were Mrs. Dunning's house guests in hermit complained, "some of those nurses tried to give me a bath. Nobody but me gives me my baths so I left."

Still ill, he took up residence in H. B. Bates' poolhall and gradually licked the illness. Bates says Kirkpatrick is no trouble and never gets in the way of pool and domino players.

"He minds his own business, all day long," said Bates. "He just wants to live his life and wants the rest of the folks to live their own."

Kirkpatrick says he would travel the same route if he had it all to do over.

"I've been happy," he explains, "and I've always had what I wanted - plenty of food, a place to sleep, and a little money for tobacco and things a fellow needs."

"I never had any whisky trouble, because I used to make my own down on the river."

One day a fisherman going through town asked Kirkpatrick for directions, and then offered the old man some money.

"I don't need your money, mister," said Kirkpatrick. "I've got everything I need."

Former Hermit Has No Regrets

Pottsville, Tex. — If the little old man with the white beard looks like a hermit, there's a good reason.

Alexander Kirkpatrick was a hermit for almost 40 years. He would still be a hermit, living by his wits on the banks of the Red River, if he were not so old.

"I'm too old to stay in the woods any more," explains Kirkpatrick, who is 91 and who sleeps now in the display window of a local pool hall. The window glass is painted to give him some privacy.

"I can't get around, and I've lost all desire to do any more fishing."

"I'm not sorry for what I did. I had no kin and I was not built to hold any job too long. So I went down the river."

That was in 1912. He was justice of peace in Sherman then, after a rather ordinary life which included being a telegraph operator for 15 years and doing other odd jobs.

Kirkpatrick kept the job of justice of peace only a year before deciding to take up a lonely life on the riverbank.

"The work hemmed me in," he explains. "So I went to the woods for good."

He lived in a log cabin which he built near Rock Creek, in the vicinity of the community of Locust. He went to town only when he needed fishing or hunting equipment.

Folks who spied him now and then among the hills came to call him "The Little Hermit."

Contracted Pneumonia But a hermit is susceptible to disease like anyone else, and about two years ago Kirkpatrick contracted pneumonia. The residents of Pottsville took up a collection and sent him to a hospital. "The first day I was there," the Bloomfield and Florida.

Olga feels a kinship to this nation. She said she is part American and the great-granddaughter of Mayflower passenger William Bradford.

"My father . . . often said that half everything he had been able to accomplish was due to my American mother, Charlotte Garrigue Whiting," Mrs. Revilliod said.

"She was in Leipzig studying music under Liszt. He was there to study sociology and philosophy, when together they studied a book 'The Subjection of Women.' And to that book I owe my existence, for they fell in love then."

Olga spent much of her life in a 900-room castle in Prague.

One of her memories is 500,000 Czechs weeping at her father's funeral.

She tells of an episode in her father's life:

"My father never refused to see anyone. Once, when a Russian anarchist came to kill him, the detectives urged my father not to see him, but he insisted, 'Send the man in to me—alone.'"

She said the man "came and stood by the door, fascinated by my father's moral authority, and suddenly the anarchist drew from his pocket a pistol and laid it down, confessing: 'I came to kill you but I can't do it.'"

Mrs. Revilliod parries political questions. "I am only a simple citizen," she said. "I never talk politics."

Of Texas, she said, she likes what she has seen but still hasn't set eyes on a "real cowboy."

Hereford Women Judged Stamford Flower Show

Five members of the Hereford Garden Club were in Stamford recently to serve as judges in the Stamford Garden Club Flower Show.

While in Stamford they were guests of a former member of the Hereford Garden Club, Mrs. Grady Bowdry, who entertained the group at a luncheon in her home.

Those making the trip included Mesdames Frank Brinkman, John Jacobsen Jr., M. T. Rutter, and A. L. Manjeot.

Women's Activities

Social Events — Clubs — Civic Interests
 Hereford, Texas, Sunday, April 25, 1954 SECTION TWO

Life Membership Given To Mrs. Lee Curry

Praise of Mrs. Lee Curry's pioneering spirit and her significant contributions to her community and to federated club work were cited when she was presented with a life membership at the Deaf Smith County Federation of Women's Clubs anniversary tea.

It was only natural that Mrs. Curry should become interested in federated club work for she joined her first club at the age of 12 in Claude where she lived with her family.

She was closely associated with Phoebe K. Warner of Claude, widely known Texas Clubwoman, and in 1913 she assisted Mrs. Warner in organizing the North Armstrong Club in Mrs. Curry's home. Later she was instrumental in organizing three other clubs in Armstrong County, including the Armstrong County Federation of Women's Clubs, which was the first county federation to be organized in the United States.

After Mrs. Curry and her husband moved to Summerfield one of the first things she did was to assist in organizing the Summerfield Study Club. She served that club as president for seven years. She is still an active member of the club. Then in 1929 she persuaded Phoebe K. Warner to come to Summerfield and together they organized the Tri-County Federation of Women's Clubs. This organization functioned only one week because each county had a definite project to promote, and at the first meeting on April 24 the Deaf Smith County Federation was formed with Mrs. Curry as president.

Since that time she has held every elective office in the county organization and has been a leader in all its projects. She has also served in all offices of the Home Demonstration Club Council.

Through the long years Mrs. Curry worked for her community and church. She is a member of the First Methodist Church of Hereford and of the Mary Martha Sunday School class. She also works in the Baptist Church in Summerfield. She is a past worthy matron of the Order of Eastern Star and served the Rebekah Lodge twice as noble grand.

She has always shown great interest in politics and has been Democratic Precinct chairman since 1940.

Summerfield people remember the early days when she gave much of her time to others, of her aid to the sick and those in distress, and how she set an example with her hobbies — a yard full of flowers, china and oil painting, and keeping up with the world through study and the press.

Mrs. Nettie P. Slaton Is Honored 'In Absentia'

Mrs. Nettie Price Slaton was honored 'in absentia' Thursday with a life membership in the County Federation.

Coming to Hereford in 1907 with her husband, the late Dr. W. A. Price, she began at once to take part in the life of the community, assisting Dr. Price in his practice as much as possible. This was an important service because there was no hospital within a radius of 50 miles and no nurses available.

In line with this work she was instrumental in the establishment of a hospital here and served as supervisor of Hereford's first sanitarium, which was operated in the old Savoy Hotel. Dr. Price died in 1922, and she later married J. P. Slaton, local attorney.

Mrs. Slaton worked with the County Federation in establishing the Deaf Smith County Library, assisted in organizing Home Demonstration Clubs, and in securing a school nurse.

She helped write the first constitution and by-laws of the Federation and has been on every revision committee. She served as chairman of the first Home Demonstration Club yearbooks and is a member of a home demonstration club.

When the County Federation organized a garden club she was one of five that met for several months in regular sessions trying to arouse enough interest to get a club going.

When the Cemetery Association was organized in 1927, Mrs. Slaton became one of its directors and served as president of the Association from 1941 to 1946. She was one of the first to become interested in civic beautification and spared neither time nor effort in supporting projects along that line.

County Federation Of Women's Clubs Celebrate Anniversary

It was a time for reminiscing Thursday afternoon when the Deaf Smith County Federation of Women's Clubs celebrated its 25th anniversary of service at a seated tea given in the social hall of the First Baptist Church.

On April 24, 1929, the Tri-County Federation of Women's Clubs, including clubs in Deaf Smith, Parmer and Castro Counties, was organized in Summerfield.

Officers were elected to include Mrs. Bob Higgins, president; Mrs. H. L. Broadwell, vice president; Mrs. R. P. Coneway, secretary; Mrs. L. L. Cannon, treasurer; and Mrs. George Garrison, parliamentarian.

When it was discovered that the three counties' interests were too wide apart to work as a unit, a meeting was held by Deaf Smith County Clubwomen at the county court house the first of May, when the Deaf Smith County Federation of Women's Clubs was organized.

The same officers were chosen to carry on the work with the exception of Mrs. Higgins, who became corresponding secretary, and Mrs. Lee Curry was named president.

Thirteen persons have been elected president of the federation during its quarter of a century history. They were Mrs. Curry, Mrs. George Garrison, Mrs. Rex Tynes, Mrs. A. O. Thompson, Mrs. Ray Johnson, Mrs. Robert Veigel, Mrs. Urlin Streu, Mrs. Liston Wilson, Mrs. O. G. Hill, Mrs. Walk Boston, Mrs. Herman Ford, Mrs. Elmer Patterson and Mrs. Earl DeHart.

In reviewing the quarter century activities of the federation, it becomes evident that while the need was great for co-ordinated effort among the individual clubs 25 years ago, the need became increasingly great as the county developed and the population increased.

Soon after organization the group began to sponsor projects for the betterment of the community. The first was the establishment of the county library when 200 women went out over the county to obtain signers of a petition to enable the then little community library to become a county institution.

Other projects followed in rapid succession, including a Home Demonstration Agent for Deaf Smith County, a county health nurse, prizes offered for beautification of school grounds, and phonographs and books for rural schools. Then clean up drives for the city were sponsored annually, and the organization of Camp Fire Girls was sponsored. The Hereford Garden Club was organized and the first Child Study Club was organized.

Then the federation began to take active part in district and state work and won several district awards. In 1933 the group of member clubs served as hosts to the Seventh District, Texas Federation of Women's Clubs annual convention, and again in 1953.

Program is Featured
 Mrs. Earl DeHart, president, welcomed the guests and introduced Mrs. L. H. Lookingbill Sr., chairman of the anniversary program.

Mrs. A. O. Thompson spoke briefly on the music found in everyday living and presented Dixie Young who played "Memories" and "Intermezzo." Mrs. Howard Scott and Mrs. J. C. McCracken played "Impromptu," a duet by Schumann.

Mrs. Lee Curry, first president of the Deaf Smith County Federation introduced the main speaker, Miss Laura V. Hamner of Amarillo, who was also the main speaker at the organizational meeting on April 24, 25 years ago.

Miss Hamner told of a recent trip to Japan and Alaska and through the Pacific northwest. She gave intimate glimpses of life in Japan, the people, their music and their festivals, how they work and play, their artistry, especially with flowers, the cities, the women and how they dress and the village shops. She also described the mode of travel in Japan and showed objects of interest accumulated on her trip.

The awarding of life memberships to Mrs. Lee Curry, and Mrs. Nettie Price Slaton, now in California, highlighted the goals and achievements of the federation during the past quarter century as the individual and outstanding records of the honorees were reviewed. Mrs. Ray Johnson presented Mrs. Curry's award and Mrs. O. G. Hill presented the tribute to Mrs. Slaton.

The Home Demonstration Club chorus presented "Little Old Lady," a Negro Spiritual and "The House I Live In" under the direction of Mrs. G. E. Mullins with Mrs. Cecil Massey at the piano.

In conclusion Mrs. A. O. Thompson conducted installation rites for new officers. They include Mrs. Alice Cox, president; Mrs. A. J. Schroeter, vice-president; Mrs. H. E. Henslee, secretary; Mrs. Phil Radovich, treasurer; Mrs. A. L. Manjeot, parliamentarian and Mrs. Ray Johnson, historian.

T. W. Roberson; Mrs. R. P. Coneway, first secretary; Miss Laura V. Hamner of Amarillo, main speaker; and Mrs. L. L. Cannon, first treasurer. (Staff Photo)

Music Club To Present Radio Program Tuesday

The Music Study Club will present a program over Station KPAN Hereford, on Tuesday from 1:30 to 1:45 o'clock.

Plans were made for the program which will be in observance of National Music Week, at the meeting of the club Monday afternoon in the country home of Mrs. J. D. Neill. Plans were also made for the annual spring luncheon which will conclude the year's activities on May 17.

During the social hour refreshments were served from a table laid with a white linen cutwork cloth and centered with an arrangement of white iris flanked by white tapers.

The program for the afternoon was presented by a cast of club members who acted out the story of the opera "Faust" much as the operas were given long ago when the people would assemble at the church for a presentation rather than a sermon.

Mrs. Carl Mountz served as narrator. Members of the casts were draped in sheets and wore masks.

Included in the cast were Mrs. A. O. Thompson, mecnistopheles; Mrs. T. W. Roberson, Faust; Mrs. H. K. Fox, Marguerite; Mrs. W. T. Carmichael, Valentine; Mrs. H. A. Close, Seibel, and Mesdames Earl Phillips, J. E. Beyer and J. D. Neill, chorus of Angels. Mrs. Wayne Thomas and Mrs. A. J.

At The Movies

Showing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Star Theatre.

Starring Jose Ferrer, Colette Marchand, Suzanne Flon and Zsa Zsa Gabor.

The fruitful, melancholy life of Toulouse-Lautrec has been translated into so unusual and vivid a theatrical experience in "Moulin Rouge" that it ranks as one of the memorable pictures of many a season. Against the mauve background of Paris of the late '80's, Jose Ferrer renders a sharply defined interpretation of the troubled genius of the art world.

An amazing gallery of Parisian types, whose facial portraits linger in the memory, lend depth and mood to the story. The color by Technicolor helps to capture the chillingly honest atmosphere of the smoke-filled cafes, the Montmartre, the back alleys and dimly-lit cobblestone streets.

The story has been daringly molded to the begrimed shape of "Toulouse-Lautrec's life and as

As a member of the Methodist Church she has exerted a strong influence in the religious life of the community. She is a past president of the Music Study Club, is a member of the Bay View Club, having filled many of its offices, and she is recognized as an authority on parliamentary law. Co-working clubwomen paid a tribute to her untiring efforts in making Hereford a better place in which to live in the presentation service.

Because of illness she has spent the past several months with her daughter in California but it is certain that when she returns, she will resume her civic interests as soon as she is able to do so.

Texas In Washington

By Tex Easley

Washington — Genial, quiet-speaking Robert B. Anderson of Vernon, who managed the sprawling half-million acre Waggoner ranch before becoming Navy secretary, moves up next to the top of the ladder of Pentagon rank on May 1.

On that date he picks up his personal belongings and a few other items and moves from his present fourth-floor suite to a lay-out of offices on the second floor adjacent to headquarters of Secretary of Defense Charles E. Wilson.

In his new role as Deputy Secretary of Defense, Anderson in a sense becomes the "business manager" of the vast Army-Navy-Air Force establishment.

When the need arises to check some problem with Wilson, who is the "policy" chief, he can step in on a moment's notice for a conference. When Wilson is out of the city, he takes over as acting Secretary.

Anderson, with his wife and two teen-age sons, lives in suburban Kenwood, Md., an attractive community noted for the cherry-tree lined streets that compete with the famed Tidal Basin cherry blossom trees in Washington as a tourist

Personals

Mrs. Rosa Speer, 203 East Fifth Street, returned Tuesday afternoon after spending the past four months in Springfield, Mo., visiting with her daughter and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Warner White. She also visited relatives and friends in Trenton, Mo., Jefferson City, Mo., Centralia, Mo., and Harrison, Ark. She returned by plane.

attraction.

Mrs. Anderson, the former Ollie Mae Rawlings of Waco, is noted for her hobby of designing — anything from dresses and tiny flowered hats to the ranch house they own in Vernon.

"I guess if I had a profession," she told friends, "I would have liked to be an interior designer. I wanted to study it at the University of Texas, but they didn't have such a course then. The closest I could have come was architecture, which was taught in the engineering school."

She says that if she had it to do over she would take the architecture course. She majored in English, with French as a minor study.

When they moved into their Kenwood home, Mrs. Anderson furnished it with pieces "borrowed" from their Texas home, plus several recent acquisitions from trips she made with her husband to Europe, North Africa and Japan.

She had the house repainted and repapered, and glassed in a 20 by 20 foot rear porch. The porch furnishings are strictly modern, with a rug of rush squares, several glass-topped tables, and wrought iron chairs she bought in Hawaii.

Whitefaces Corral Happy Cowboys, 19-9

By Billy Paul Knox

Whitefaces corralled the Happy Cowboys and completely smothered them in a 19-9 slaughter here Tuesday afternoon.

Francis Boyd and Terry McRight allowed them only six hits in the shortened five inning game. Hereford shelled three Happy pitchers for 14 hits, including a three run homer blasted over the left field fence by Jack Burrus. They made five errors.

The game was not close at any time. The Herd tallied four in the first, three in the second, four in the third and eighth in the fourth to compile their tremendous run output. Happy picked up two in the fifth.

Winning pitcher Francis Boyd, gave up four of the six hits and eight runs in pitching four innings. He walked six and struck out six. It was his third win of the year. He has yet to lose. Terry McRight pitched the final inning giving up one run, two hits and no walks. He whiffed two men. Tom Henry, James Conway and Jimmy Magness toiled for Happy.

In the first inning Boyd fanned three men to set the Cowboys down in order. The Herd picked up four runs. Bryant drew a walk. After swiping second, he scored on Asa Atchley's double. He stole third and scored on Burrus' sacrifice. Hershey then walked. He wound up at third as the result of an error and a stolen base. Easley also walked and repeated the same act in the meantime Hershey scored. Easley then scored on a wild pitch.

After again holding Happy scoreless, the Herd manipulated three more runs in the second. This came as the result of two hits, four errors, a stolen base and a wild pitch.

With the score 7-0 starting the third, the Cowboys narrowed it by two in the third. Three walks, a single and a stolen base put together produced the runs.

Hereford duplicated their first-inning run output in the third. With two men on the base paths, Jack Burrus unloaded a fence busting home run to produce three of them. The other came as a result of two singles and an error.

Happy's Big One The fourth was the big inning for Happy. They scored six runs on three hits, one error, a stolen base and two wild pitches.

The Cowboys scored their final run in the top of the fifth. A couple of singles and two Hereford errors scored it.

Tommy Weems, Asa Atchley and Joe Easley each collected two hits to lead the "Thundering Herd." Big Red Oler also scored two hits to lead Happy.

Winning pitcher is Francis Boyd. The loser is Tom Henry.

Army Officers Learn Camouflage From WAC Officer At Belvoir

The strictly feminine art that somehow creates the subtle illusion of curves out of flat lines and just plain bumps has been adopted as a regular part of U. S. military strategy.

The Army Engineer Center at Ft. Belvoir, Va., has a new sort of instructor in camouflage. The officer is WAC Lt. Grace Stanley King, qualified by sex to move the mysterious goings-on of the bou-doir right out on the battlefield.

Incidentally, the lieutenant herself is pretty without benefit of camouflage and maybe that's an extra advantage — more of her art can be used where the Army needs it.

She has other qualifications besides the natural feminine flair for confusing the mind of man. In civilian life she has been an artist and illustrator, with a certificate from Pratt Institute of New York City. She has done news feature work and illustrated training films for the Signal Corps Center on Long Island, N. Y.

As an enlisted WAC in wartime she missed five tries to get overseas — too valuable here as an artist. Out of service in 1951 as a sergeant, she applied for a direct commission, which was granted in January, 1952.

The new lieutenant managed to get herself into the rugged three-months training course for basic engineer officers. She kept right up with the male classmates in field work as well as classroom study on construction, demolition and camouflage and acquired a husband in the process — the demolition instructor, Capt. Alwyn H. King.

In her instructor's job she is no stranger to dungarees. She shows male class members the way in field instruction on such tough tasks as concealing a whole motor convoy with tree branches and the like.

The Army, in telling about all this—maybe bragging is a better word — had this to say: "Her job is to teach Army engineer officers and enlisted men the art of using color, movement, shadow and shape to conceal men and equipment." Boiled down, that means con-

Miner is Weaver TRINIDAD, Colo. (AP)—Weaving rugs, blankets and sweaters is a profitable hobby for a husky coal miner, Gilbert Fernandez, who learned his avocation in the depression days of 1931, when he attended a weaving class at the Valdez, Colo., YMCA.

Since then, Fernandez has woven about 1,600 articles—nearly all of which he sold. One rug went for $150. His work is patterned after the Chimayo Indian style of weaving. His patterns are in his mind—never on paper. He uses nearly $50 worth of wool yarn and from 250 to 300 hours in completing a 5 by 7 foot rug or blanket. He has won high awards at the Colorado State Fair and Los Angeles County Fair for his weaving.

Gratitude in Stripes PRESCOTT, Ariz. (AP)— Even a skunk can be grateful for a helping hand. When Margie Williams investigated strange noises behind her house, she found a skunk with its head caught in a jar. The skunk was trying to shatter its glass mask against a rock wall. Margie called the skunk like she would a kitten. It came to her and she broke the jar with a hammer. The skunk took off without leaving its calling card.

YOUR CREDIT RECORD IS AN OPEN BOOK

Accurate records of how you pay your credit accounts are kept by the local Credit Association.

This information is available to all members of the Association, and to the members of something like 1800 other Credit Bureaus from coast to coast in the United States and Canada.

The purpose of the Credit Association is not merely to keep people from buying things for which they cannot or will not pay, but to encourage the sound use of credit as an indispensable part of the modern business system.

Therefore, while the Credit Association records often prevent irresponsible people from abusing the credit privilege, they also serve as a favorable reference and recommendation for those with sound credit habits.

If your record on file with the Credit Association is good, you find it easy to establish your credit with new people, in a new neighborhood or even a different city. And it may help you in other directions, too, for a good credit record is a mark of character in business circles.

YOUR CREDIT RECORD IS, INDEED, AN OPEN BOOK, in which people can read how trustworthy you are. It pays to keep this record straight.

DEAF SMITH COUNTY CHECKERBOARD NEWS

By Frank A. Gyles, Jr. PACKARD MILLING CO.

THE PRICE OF EGGS seems to be one of the main topics of conversation around our places lately, and although egg prices usually dip this time every year, it is still a great problem among poultrymen. Here is one way you can make extra money selling PURINA EGGS, that is selling your eggs in Purina Cartons. If you are interested in this plan drop by our store and let us explain it more fully. It's working for some of your neighbors now. Some of them are Mrs. Addison Hunter, Harry Danforth, and Mrs. A. H. Brown. We might add to you housewives, if you are looking for a top quality egg, that is guaranteed to please you or your money back, look for the famous PURINA CHECKERBOARD CARTON the next time you shop for eggs.

Pigs Show Amazing Growth At Purina Research Farm

Recently a group of pigs were taken from sows at the Purina Farm when 6 weeks old. One bunch was fed corn, oats and alfalfa meal. The others got only Pig Startena and water. At 14 1/2 weeks the Pig Startena-fed bunch averaged 64 lbs. per pig heavier than the other group. This spring, give Pig Startena a chance to show what it can do in your own feedlot.

Athletes Build Up For A Big Contest

Ever hear of a top-notch boxer or runner who didn't build up for a big match with the right diet and exercise? Your cows that will calve in the spring need the right kind of diet, too. First step is to dry them off two months before due to calving. This can be done by taking cows off silage and milking feed. Just feed hay for a few days. Stop milking and don't milk again for 7 days, unless the udder shows painful swelling. A little pressure in the udder causes the system to "turn off the milk." At the end of seven days, milk out the bag, and your cow is dry.

Now put her back on good hay and a Purina dry cow feed. We have one to feed straight and one to mix with your own grain. This special dry cow ration puts solid, milk-making flesh on the cow—builds her up so she can drop her calf easily and clean quick—within a couple of hours usually. And this extra flesh will make more milk after freshening. The extra milk should pay you back 3 or 4 times more than the cost of the feed. Try it on your next two cows and see.

Health Hint

Roundworms slow growth. Get rid of 'em simply, easily, with Purina's NEW PIG WORMER. It's a complete ration, and all you do is feed it as their sole ration for three days, no starvation period, and no setback.

Visited with Bill Graham, who lives at 121 Ave. "B," Thursday and he is really pleased with his chicks. Bill says, "The 200 New Hamp chicks we purchased from you, have done better than any we ever raised, they are 6 weeks old and we've lost only 3." Bill started his chicks on Purina Startena, and has since changed to Purina Growena. Bill says "some" of the credit in raising the chicks should go to Mrs. Graham, and I imagine he's right.

Gift Parcels Find Big Hole In Iron Curtain

For gift parcels by mail, the Iron Curtain has a hole in it as broad as the generosity of Americans. You can mail Premier Malenkov a can of caviar, if you feel like it.

The United States approves as long as you put $25 worth or less in one package and mark it "gift." The Russians, though, will charge five times the regular customs duty if you send anyone person more than 11 pounds of fish and caviar in one year.

Most dealings between the United States and the Soviet bloc have come to an end, but the mail still goes through.

"Postal relations," says one post office official, "are about the last links to be cut and the first to be resumed between unfriendly countries. It's usually some time after a declaration of war that someone remembers that maybe the mail had better be stopped."

Not many packages go to Russia any more but some of the satellites get substantial numbers—especially where citizens have many relatives in the United States. In one year the Soviet Union received only 97,000 pounds of parcel post from the United States. But Poland got 10,326,000 pounds and Czechoslovakia 2,305,000 lbs. One government trade expert estimates 99 percent of it was gifts.

Except for Red China and North Korea, the United States is on good postal terms with the whole world. Sometimes there is trouble though. A year ago Communist Hungary demanded gift clothing should have an official certificate of disinfection. For a while it ignored protests there is no such thing in the United States, but finally permitted notarized statements from dry cleaners.

Romania also wanted disinfection and puzzled U. S. officials speculated that they may have begun to "believe some of their own propaganda about germ warfare."

A little less than an inch of rain fell in this community Sunday night. Nine-tenths of an inch fell at the Ira Ricketts farm and varying amounts fell elsewhere. Wheat is looking good with some fields almost fully headed.

Farmers are watering row crop ground in preparation for planting in May. There are several fields of onions looking good and the alfalfa the Marnell boys have will soon be ready to cut and bale. Everything in general looks very promising at this time.

Vehicle Maintenance Program Needs Support Of Motorists

"Check your car — check accidents, today. Tomorrow may be too late!"

In those words Col. E. B. Tilley of Houston, President of the Texas Safety Association, urged all motorists to support the vehicle maintenance program being conducted throughout Texas this month in co-operation with the Texas Department of Public Safety and the National Safety Council. This state wide program is sponsored by all of official and non-official groups in Texas.

Col. Tilley stressed the importance of having cars safety checked without delay.

"Accidents don't wait to happen" he said. "Bad brakes, worn out windshield wiper blades and other neglected parts will let you down in an emergency. And an emergency can occur at any moment."

"Automobile dealers and service stations are co-operating with the vehicle maintenance program," he said, "and will check the following 10 points on all cars whose owners request the special 10-point safety check:

- BRAKES should take hold evenly on all wheels. The hand brake should be able to hold the car on any hill. Brake fluid should be clean and at the proper level.
- HEADLIGHTS should be at the proper level for maximum road illumination and minimum glare. Lenses should be clean and reflectors bright.
- REAR AND STOP LIGHTS should operate properly. Directional signals should also be checked.
- TIRES should be checked for wear and proper inflation.
- WHEEL ALIGNMENT should be checked.
- EXHAUST SYSTEM and muffler should be completely checked by a qualified mechanic.

WINDSHIELD WIPERS should be operating, with blades checked after the heavy winter to see they are "live" and clean.

GLASS should be clear, free of cracks or discoloration.

Windshield should also be checked for unauthorized stickers.

HORN should be audible for 200 feet.

REAR-VIEW MIRROR should give a clear view of the road behind.

Impersonal Service

OKLAHOMA CITY (AP)—Police have found a new wrinkle in the bootleg whiskey business in constitutionally dry Oklahoma. Scout car officers noticing "a large amount of foot traffic" entering and leaving a domino parlor got a search warrant and found a door with a sign reading "Please knock."

A slot in the door received money. The lower part had a sliding tray. You paid your money and the whiskey was slipped out on the tray. The bootlegger could see the customer through a one-way glass. The officers got behind the door by showing the search warrant; found 6½ pints of tax paid liquor.

and a lost homeland, has made a Korean mother's dream of peace and safety come true.

Mrs. Kim Yoo Nam, 32, and her sons, Sung Nam, 7, and Soo Yang, 10, have come from war ravaged Taejon to live with Dr. and Mrs. Bernard Frelan in this upstate New York village.

The Frelans fled Hitler's Germany 16 years ago. Their elder son, Nicholas, met Mrs. Kim while he was serving with the Army Medical Corps in Korea. He offered to share his family's American haven with her.

The Hereford Council of Church Women will hold a Fellowship Luncheon at the First Christian Church at 12:30 o'clock Friday. Each woman is invited to bring a luncheon and a nursery open for children.

SACRAMENTO, Calif. (AP)—Could you forget a $35,000 bank balance? A San Diego woman abandoned that amount in a Los Angeles' bank more than five years ago.

Turkey In The Cab

ATLANTA (AP)—Hugh Park, Atlanta Journal columnist, reported tersely that four wild turkeys were seen riding in a taxicab at 2 a.m. Charged with stretching the truth, he dug out the facts.

Ed Dodd, a cartoonist and naturalist, obtained the turkeys from the state conservation department for experiments on his farm. They were flown in and the man who brought them didn't have time to take them all the way, so he called Dodd.

Dodd, a practical type, told him, "Just put 'em in a taxi. They'll get 'ere all right." And they did.

Slouch For Health

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)— If the Army listens to Dr. Alvan L. Barach there'll be no more of this "throw out your chest" posture. The same goes for the movie queen in Hollywood.

"You're a lot better off if you walk around in a slouch like 'illa", said Dr. Barach who is professor of clinical medicine at umbia University's College of sicians and Surgeons in a lecture here.

"Never stand erect", he added "it's not healthy. Your lungs stay filled up. The position the Army teaches is vicious. We should all learn to breathe with our diaphragms—like singers do."

U.S. Is Confronted by Tough Decision on Indochina

Iran's Fate Hangs On Oil Decision

By DON SCHWIND

Associated Press Correspondent in Tehran

GEN. FAZLOLLAH ZAHEDI'S new American-backed Iranian Government is in a politico-economic vicious circle which only an intelligent oil solution can break—and a break needs to come soon!

Lacking an oil solution, Iran has an empty treasury. Lacking money, Zahedi cannot shove through his plans for an Iranian "New Deal."

Don Schwind

Lacking a "New Deal," the great mass of illiterate, poorly-informed, and violently prejudiced Iranians form a truculent impediment to an oil solution.

Zahedi's program of improvements is elaborate. It aims at reducing Iran's estimated 90 per cent illiteracy (the U. S. figure is 25), checking disease, and attacking poverty and unemployment in a nation where about half the people live at or near animal level.

He wants vital new rail lines to the Soviet border zone at Meshed and to the strategically important provincial capital of Tabriz. His projected nationwide dam system would irrigate millions of acres and revive a sagging agriculture. He'd like to buck up the sugar and cotton spinning industries with new plants and launch countrywide cheap housing projects to get his people out of caves and mud huts.

Grim Realities Iran's grim realities have been revealed by Zahedi's blunt radio speeches in which he told his people "Work—Don't Talk" and "Your treasury is empty."

Iran's often sharp-spoken Shah told the country even before the Aug. 19 revolution that swept out doddering old Dr. Mossadegh: "It is no pleasure for me to be king of a poverty-stricken people—nor is it anything to be proud of."

Zahedi's "New Deal" would—if he could get it rolling—show immediate tangible benefits to Iran's man-in-the-street. In a country where the common man nurses a bitter distrust of politicians dating back slightly more than 5,000 years, that could give the Zahedi regime a solid basis in public support.

Zahedi's projects would funnel currency into the pockets of unemployed men for whom contending with street dogs for edible refuse is a normal state of affairs. For those getting by and the well-to-do—about 10 per cent of the population—completion of only one dam project, the Karaj Barrage, would cut the cost of electricity from eight rials (10 cents) to an estimated two rials (2½ cents) a kilowatt.

51 Million in American Aid So far, the American taxpayer has granted Iran outright a total of 51 million dollars plus a top-secret amount to rebuild the nation's armed forces and flesh up its new American-trained gendarmerie.

Yet the new year's state budget shows a deficit of 600 million rials, which is 7½ million dollars at the going exchange rate or 18½ million dollars at the strictly Alice-in-Wonderland official figure.

Disatisfaction is slowly rising throughout the country at the steady upcurve in prices of staples such as sugar, tea, and bread. These three foods are the diet of the Iranian poor and every dinar increase in their price helps Zahedi's opposition—still underground, still disunited as a result of tactical squabbles, but waiting to pounce.

Even newspapers firmly lined up behind Zahedi admit this increasing price pressure is getting out of hand.

Oil Decision Is Basic Ground between the millstones of rising prices and static—or no—wages, the mass of Iranians watch with chilly eyes the oil discussions between Zahedi's men and representatives of a consortium of eight of the world's biggest oil companies.

Five of these companies are American; the others are British, French and Dutch. Their task is to arrange an international plan to provide a market for Iranian oil at a time when the world market is so badly glutted that production is hopelessly outrunning demand.

To Zahedi falls the unenviable task of finding a solution palatable to the consortium on one hand and on the other acceptable to a nation deeply anti-British, deeply nationalist, and unbelievably proud.

In Iran's southern cities, the "black gold" stinks on the hot wind and seeps up into the very streets. In her capital, oil can drown governments and suffocate their programs, however ambitious or far-seeing.

EAST-WEST FORUM—This is Geneva where Western diplomats face Communists in the first big power conference with Red China. The United States delegation is not shown. Identified are Georges Bidault, French foreign minister (1); Nam Il, North Korean foreign minister (2); Lester Pearson, Canada's foreign minister (3); Anthony Eden, British foreign secretary (4); Lord Reading, British minister of state for foreign affairs (5); Chou En-Lai, Communist China's premier and foreign minister (6); Andrei Gromyko, Soviet deputy foreign minister (7), and Vyacheslav M. Molotov, Soviet foreign minister (8).

Western Allies Split at Geneva

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.

Associated Press For News Analyst

THE United States, faced with dragging feet on all sides regarding its proposal for "united action" in defense of Indochina, had just about reached the point this week where it had to decide what it would do alone if there were no other alternative.

Winston Churchill made it clear Britain would not make any military moves prior to exploration at Geneva of what could be done about a cease fire.

France asked for troops and was told the United States was doing all the President had authority for without Congressional approval. Dulles spread the word in Geneva that submission to Congress of a Pacific treaty was the way to get it.

J.M. Roberts Jr.

But France and Britain could not bring themselves to let it prejudice the chances of doing business with the Communists.

Informal and preliminary discussions had begun at Geneva, but the Korean question had priority on the formal agenda and the sessions regarding it were expected to be long-drawn-out.

The French Crisis Meanwhile, the French position at Dien Bien Phu became progressively precarious. Its loss would not be a great or decisive defeat, but the possible effect on French willingness to continue fighting had Allied governments worried. There were reports from Paris of a stiffening morale, with the possibility that failure of the gallant French effort at Dien Bien Phu might produce a reaction similar to the British after Dunkerque or the American after Bataan. But this was only guesswork. The French are awfully tired of the war.

The situation had advanced to the point where Defense Secretary Wilson felt obliged to tell Congress that events of the next few months might be critical, and might force a reappraisal of the outlays necessary for the military establishment.

Some people guessed this might mean eventual deployment of air and naval forces, if not their actual intervention, which itself was predicted in a narrower circle. The administration continued to issue statements, saying it hoped the dispatch of troops would not become necessary.

Grim Realities But with every other breath the importance of Southeast Asia to the United States was stressed in such fashion as to leave hardly any alternative but direct intervention if, by military force or through the failure of France to keep going, the Communists appeared about to sweep the peninsula.

There was little hope for the negotiations at Geneva. For one thing, while the Allied diplomats had been able to hold a united front at Berlin, they did so with the backing of an international defense system in being.

Scurrying British and American diplomatic and military leaders gave rise to a feeling early in the week that they might be planning some sort of demonstration now, such as reinforcement of British forces in Malaya and even more spectacular assistance than the round-the-world Globemaster flights which picked up paratroopers in France and delivered them to Indochina.

The Recurring Question Official statements, on the other hand, kept putting off decisions. But President Eisenhower, who can certainly qualify as an expert witness on military affairs, kept going back to the question in almost every breath. So did Vice President Nixon. So did leading Congressional figures.

Paratroopers on maneuver in North Carolina joked when they boarded planes that they probably wouldn't jump until they reached Indochina.

It was typical of an atmosphere of inevitability which was beginning to surround the discussion.

Science

Science Sunshine Batteries

A new sunshine battery which converts the sun's radiation into electricity has been demonstrated before the National Academy of Sciences in Washington.

Engineers of the Bell Telephone Laboratories, which developed it, say eventual batteries may be able to harness the sun's almost limitless energy for use by man.

The model battery, about the size of a man's hand, is made of razor-thin strips of silicon, the main ingredient of common sand. As sunlight strikes the silicon, a flow of electric current is created in atoms in the strips. It has no moving parts.

Company officials say that with further development, the sunshine batteries promise to supply all the power for long rural telephone lines. They would supply power even on cloudy days and charge up storage units to permit night operation.

The model exhibited in Washington created enough electric power to carry a voice a short distance over a telephone wire, broadcast from a miniature radio transmitter and run a toy ferris wheel.

The batteries for rural telephone lines would be a foot square.

Sunshine batteries, as explained by Bell officials, could run walkie-talkie radios, and power mobile electrical equipment for military or civilian purposes. If they could be made big enough and cheaply enough, they possibly could provide current for lights, television sets and refrigerators in homes.

The inventors of the new battery are G. L. Pearson, physicist; G. S. Fuller, chemist, and D. M. Chapin, electrical engineer.

The invention is different from the atomic battery, recently announced. That battery converts rays from radioactive atoms into electric current.

Religion

Baha'i Convention

One of the world's most unusual religious centers—the Baha'i religion—is situated in a little Chicago suburb, Wilmette, Ill.

This week, followers of the Baha'i religion, which draws its teachings from all the great faiths of history, met there for their annual convention.

Their key resolve: To spread Baha'i beliefs to the remotest corners of the earth, and thereby further the brotherhood of man, the unity of all religions and peace for the world.

Leaders claim that Baha'i, whose founding 110 years ago in Persia (now Iran) makes it one of the youngest among religions, is growing faster than any other faith.

There are about 9,000 Baha'is in the United States, but others throughout the world helped in building the religion's $2,600,000 center at Wilmette.

ARMY ROW: Who Is Lying?

Triple Threat Man

The man who may emerge as the star of the televised McCarthy-Army showdown hearings is Ray H. Jenkins, a Knoxville, Tenn., lawyer who is playing not one, but three, difficult roles in an investigation that is probably unique in Washington history.

As special counsel, it is Jenkins' job to help the Senate investigations subcommittee find out who's lying; Army Secretary Stevens, H. Struve Hensel, assistant secretary of defense; and other Army officials on the one hand, or Sen. McCarthy, and his chief aides, Roy Cohn and Francis P. Carr, on the other.

Aids Witnesses

First, Jenkins helps each side to present its case by asking questions that enable witnesses to nail down their stories. On occasion, he may even, as he did with Secretary Stevens, wonder if there is anything at all to be added that might help clarify the situation.

Jenkins' second role is to cross-examine the witnesses he has just helped guide. He always apologizes, explaining it is his duty to probe now for weak spots in the story. Despite the apology, Jenkins doesn't pull any punches. On cross-examination, he takes off the kid gloves and wades in with brass knuckles.

Jenkins' third role is that of judge whenever any tricky question of legal procedure comes up. His judgment is necessary since the chairman, Sen. Mundt (R-SD) is a onetime elocution teacher without legal training. His decisions are subject to committee approval, of course, but thus far he's had it.

Not Awed in Washington

The hearings still have a long way to go but one thing already is apparent: Jenkins may be a country boy, but he isn't awed by his surroundings. Jenkins has ruled against McCarthy a couple of times and once when Stevens was on the stand, he held up a big hand like a traffic cop and commanded, "Wait, wait, wait." The Army secretary stopped and waited. Under Jenkins' vigorous cross-examination, Stevens admitted he had tried to get Sen. McCarthy to suspend his investigation and let the Army take over with its own probe of alleged espionage at Fort Monmouth, N. J. The secretary's detailed explanation of his efforts to win the friendship and cooperation of

Quotes

Russian Premier Malenkov, addressing the Supreme Soviet (parliament): "If anyone thinks, as Hitler thought, that we are weak, we will show them, as we showed Hitler, just how weak we are."

Bertrand Russell, British philosopher: "If you want to survive, you must let your enemies survive. Either both live or both die. Therefore, abuse of your enemy, hatred of your enemy, anything that makes an agreement with him more difficult, doesn't do any good."

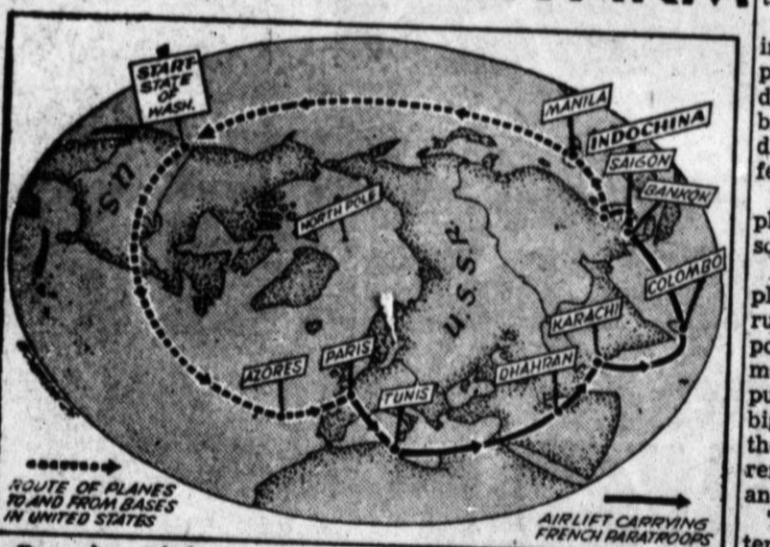

The "Cropped" Picture

Another dispute arose over a picture showing Stevens and Pvt. G. David Schine together. The picture was admitted into evidence although Stevens denied that he ever knowingly had posed alone with Schine. It later developed the picture had been cropped from a photograph showing Stevens, Schine and a Col. Bradley, along with part of a civilian.

The picture is important because one facet of the Army-McCarthy row revolves about the Army's contention that the senator and his aides exerted improper pressures for preferential treatment for Schine, wealthy young New Yorker who was an unpaid consultant to the subcommittee before he was drafted.

The McCarthy side contends, among other things, that Stevens was very friendly with Schine at the very time the Army secretary charges improper pressures were being applied.

U.S. FLEXES AIR ARM

Douglas Globemasters Circumnavigate the World On Airlift of French Paratroopers to Indochina

The United States has demonstrated for friend and foe that no matter what the distance, America can quickly and effectively send its air arm to trouble spots anywhere in the world.

It was called Ball High, a million-dollar airlift speeding French paratroops from Paris halfway across the globe to embattled Indochina. It was the longest troop ferrying mission in history. And it will not be completed until early in May.

Started in the United States The airlift originated in the United States at the request of French Army Secretary Pierre de Chevigne who reported the battle for Dien Bien Phu had used up most of the French paratroops available in Indochina and more were needed urgently. It was carried out by the 7th and 4th U.S. Troop Carrier Squadrons under the direction of Gen. William Tunner, the man responsible for the Berlin airlift from his headquarters in West Germany.

Ball High, though expensive, served a two-fold purpose. It aided France in a moment of crisis and it gave the U.S. Air Force some valuable experience in peacetime.

The Douglas Globemaster planes of the 7th Squadron started from the state of Washington. They had flown more than 6,000 miles before they picked up the French paratroops at Orley Air Base, outside Paris.

Avoided India and Burma The route was top secret during the operation. The huge, three-decker planes avoided India and Burma after being forbidden permission to fly over those countries. Stops were made in the Azores, France, Tunis, Dhahran, Karachi, Colombo, Bangkok, Saigon and then a still secret forward base in Indochina.

The giant Globemasters paused only long enough in Indochina to discharge their human cargoes. Then they winged off to Clark Field, Manila, and their bases in the United States, completing a circumnavigation of the globe. Each plane carried two full American crews.

In Short . . .

Declared: By Air Force Secretary Talbot, that there is an alarming decline in armed forces reenlistments, traceable to dissatisfaction with pay and allowances.

Recommended: By the House Appropriations Committee, that more than 28½ billion dollars be allocated for defense of the country in the next fiscal year.

Appealed: By a coal industry spokesman, to governor: of 16 coal-producing states, to join in action to stem "unfair" competition from low-priced foreign coal.

Announced: By the Marine Corps, that Col. Frank H. Schwabe will not be disciplined for having falsely confessed to germ warfare while a Communist prisoner in Korea.

Won: By the administration, a legislative victory when the Senate rejected continuation of high, rigid farm price supports.

Business

Effect of Excess Profits Tax

The so-called excess profits tax died last Jan. 1. Now its absence is showing up in corporate earnings reports for the first quarter.

Unquestionably, the death of the excess profits tax has cushioned the decline in earnings resulting from the lower over-all rate of business activity as compared to a year ago. The first 150 major corporations reporting their first quarter results showed an average dip of only 12 per cent from the unusually high profit levels of the first three months last year. If the tax had still been in effect, the drop would have been much greater.

Some Increases

Some corporations managed to show an increase in their first quarter earnings despite lower sales. Inevitably, they credited this seeming paradox to the demise of EPT. Others will continue figuring their quarterly earnings reports on the old basis, holding back the excess profits tax saving as a big surprise for the year-end report.

How big a saving will it mean? Gen. Robert E. Wood, retiring this week as chairman of Sears, Roebuck & Co., estimated that Sears will reap a 13 million-dollar windfall this year from the death of EPT.

Generally speaking, the bigger the company the more tax money it will save in proportion to the volume of business it does. That's because large corporations were socked more heavily by EPT than their smaller competitors.

Warning On Rentals Tax Brought To Local Realtors

Members of the Hereford Real Estate Board were warned at their meeting April 21 that there is a bill before the Texas Legislature which would provide for a tax on all rentals.

The warning was brought by Ervin W. Luedtke, executive secretary of the Texas Real Estate Association, who is visiting realtors organizations over the state with Vincent J. Schmitt of Texas City, state president, who also spoke at the luncheon.

"Since realtors are about the only organized representatives of the people who receive rentals, the state association is asking all of the boards to join in a fight against the tax," Luedtke said.

The Hereford Real Estate Board is taking immediate steps to bring rental property owners together for a discussion of the tax, Sam Nunnally, board president, said later in the week.

Luedtke mentioned that the tax could hurt both property owner and renter, and would especially penalize the person who had invested his money in real estate as a means of assuring an income. Schmitt, in his remarks, which preceded those made by Luedtke, mentioned the tremendous boom in both home and commercial building over the state, and specifically mentioned Lubbock "which looks like a new city."

"In Lubbock, they are not only putting up new buildings, they are remodeling old ones," he said. "Realtors need to keep an eye out for dilapidated buildings and try to get them changed, to improve the general appearance of the town."

Schmitt skipped over the farm loan situation, as he disavowed any knowledge of that type of real estate, and went on to the problem of money for the mortgage market.

"There are attempts being made to channel more money into the mortgage market in various ways, including the pooling of various funds," he told the realtors.

Of equal importance to the realtors, Schmitt said, was a proposed licensing law for realtors, possibly including a written examination. "It is only in recent years that realtors have really reached the point of being professionals, and a strict licensing, and possibly a bonding, law would be a protection both for the realtors and for the general public."

He particularly mentioned the danger from fly-by-night real estate operators, who were simply trying to make a few fast dollars then quit the business, sometimes leaving their clients in a legal mess of some sort, and often without proper documents to protect the title to land they had purchased.

He also urged the members present to learn more about what the association can do for them, and to tell prospective members of the opportunities offered.

Those attending the meeting included Sam Nunnally, Charlie So-well, A. O. Thompson, Troy Moore, Claude Ricketts and Glenn Williams. Board members not present were Mrs. Bruce Rose, Frank Barber, Glenn Weir and N. L. Weston.

Different Views On Indo-China Held By Senator, Congressman

U. S. Is Taking Over France's Part Of War

By Walter Rogers
Not quite a year ago Washington received an urgent appeal from France for additional aid in the amount of 385 million to increase the tempo of Communist resistance in the Indochina war. We talked at that time about reading the so-called "riot act" to France and saying, "This is all. Show some results with this or don't ask us for further help." This approach was vetoed by Foreign Operations Administrator Harold Stassen and Secretary of State John Foster Dulles, on the ground that a great power like France should not be subjected to such humiliating terms.

Presently it is estimated that the United States has taken over approximately three-fourths of the cost of this war. At the time this country was asked for the 385 million, the Congress was not given a true picture of events and developments in that area. We now discover that they were a great deal more serious than suspected. We also begin to hear talk about American boys going in to save the day. Many feel that the softening up process is working and that it will be announced in the near future that American manpower will go in.

If this is done, it will not meet with the approval of Americans generally. The United States absorbed substantially all the cost of Korea, and furnished a high percentage of outside manpower. John Q. Citizen will find it hard to understand why we are called upon to pay the freight, furnish the goods and the manpower for another war, following on the heels of Korea.

The Crime Rate Increase
Crime is outstripping rate of population growth 4 to 1. This statement by the FBI should alarm every person in this country. The figures used to support this statement did not include mediocre and minor traffic violations. They included only crimes of a serious nature. Robberies led the list with burglaries, theft and aggravated assault following closely. The greatest increase in arrests was among those under 18 — it rose 7.9 percent. It was estimated that 4,000,000 persons were arrested. The United States needs to do a lot of work on its own moral fibre. There can never be a complete victory over Communism unless we can retain our own moral character as a nation.

Indo-China Would Be Prize For Communists

By Lyndon B. Johnson
PEACE THE GOAL: Again last week, I sat in on a conference of the utmost gravity to all of us. Congressional leaders of both parties met with Secretary of State Dulles just after his return from his journey to England and France — just before he left on another journey that would take him finally to Geneva. The subject of discussion was Indo-China.

WHAT ARE THE ISSUES? It is impossible to exaggerate the seriousness of the situation. The issues can be stated in a few words:

Indo-China is a rich prize. It is the richest source of tungsten still available to the free world. Tungsten is vital to our defenses.

Beneath the soil of Indo-China are rich deposits of tin and manganese. No military machine can operate without those metals.

Even more important than these physical resources is Indo-China's strategic location.

If this country should be captured by the communists, they would be in a commanding position to take over the entire continent of Asia—the world's most populous land mass.

That would be a heavy blow to freedom. THE NATIONAL GOOD: As I looked around at the faces of the men gathered at the conference and listened to their solemn words I had no doubt that every man present was thinking, above all else, of the good of America.

There was no political sniping, for every man recognized that the grave issues under discussion transcended all political considerations.

There was, I firmly believe, a solemn intention on the part of each man present to weigh his words carefully—to consider the whole grave problem from every angle—and to act, finally, in the best interests of all the people of America.

FIGHT FOR FREEDOM: The French Foreign Legion, which has been fighting in Indo-China, has been magnificent. So have the officers in command on the scene. But—and this is a BIG BUT—there has been little support on the French home front for the war. (Many of the Legionnaires are professional German soldiers.) The French have refused to grant full independence to the people of Indo-China.

Many Asians feel they have no choice between French imperialism and Chinese imperialism. They are apathetic. The French might well take a lesson from our own Texas history. At the battle of San Jacinto, Texans routed the forces of Mexico—although Texans were outnumbered two to one. They were fighting for freedom. That fact more than made up for the numerical odds.

Like all other Americans, I hope and pray there will be no decision which takes our fellow-Americans through the valley of the shadow of death.

FAITH: In a letter I received the other day from a Texas woman there was this striking thought: "I know the times are troubled."

I know the questions you are called upon to help settle are of the greatest seriousness. But I know this as well: I know that Christianity and democracy are stronger than communism and atheism."

Texan Is Pioneering Coffee Area In Western South America

Sao Paulo, Brazil — A Tall Texan named Clarence E. Johnson is pioneering in true Texas fashion in South America's "far west." His work may have a decided influence on improving living standards in Paraguay, and in bringing Paraguay and Brazil in to closer economic alliance.

Johnson, a former resident of Houston, is president of the American and Brazilian owned Companhia Americana de Formento Economico (Cafe). It owns 480,000 acres of virgin land in Paraguay, near Ponta Pora, on the Brazilian frontier.

The company, formed in 1953, plans to cut up its holdings into small farms and sell them in the United States and Brazil. The 150-acre farms would be devoted principally to growing coffee. They are in the "terra roxa" (red earth) belt which Brazilians say is the best in the world for coffee production.

"This year," Johnson says, "we plan to sell our first 60 farms. Each will have 30,000 young coffee trees planted on 100 acres. Another 25 acres will be reserved for general farming, and 25 acres left in virgin timber."

The coffee trees should start producing in another three years. Besides making the original planting, Johnson says the company also will run the farms for buyers, retaining 30 percent of the eventual profits for its services.

"I estimate," he says, "that the return after the trees are in full production will be 300 to 400 percent over the purchase price."

So far, he says, the company has built an 8-mile road through the jungle-like forest and has established a village of 150 persons. Another two villages are to be established soon.

At the existing site, crews are at work hand-sawing lumber for home construction. A nursery has been built large enough to handle the 2,000,000 coffee seedlings which will be needed. A dam has been built, and a hospital and power plant are in the talking stage.

Johnson himself plans a late April trip to the United States in hopes of selling 30 of the farms to be established. Another 30 already have been spoken for in Brazil. He says he believes he can sell all 30 in Texas.

At present, the company is awaiting final arrangements by the Paraguayan government on a law giving it special rights in the development of the lands.

The law gives the land buyers the right to sell coffee at the world price, retaining half the foreign currency. The other half would go to the Paraguayan government for exchange at the official rate.

In Brazil, by comparison, coffee exporters are required to surrender their foreign currency for exchange at an effective official rate of 25 cruzeiros to the dollar. The free rate is around 60 to the dollar.

Other provisions of the law gives the company the right to import machinery free of duties, exempt its land from confiscation, and provide for a tax reduction during the first 15 years of operation.

Johnson and company vice president Casimiro Brodzak Filho personally discussed the law with Paraguayan president Frederico Chaves during a February visit to Asuncion.

Chaves, Johnson says, was particularly interested in what the company could do to stimulate wheat production in Paraguay, and in the possibilities it offers for training Paraguayan youths in modern agricultural methods.

Johnson says that the company's plantings — plus those of Brazilian coffee king Berernia Lunardelli, who owns adjoining land — may in a few years double Paraguay's exports, and improve the nation's standards of living, by permitting greater imports.

Most of the coffee grown in the region, he adds, would have to be shipped out through Brazil. One railway has just been extended to the Paraguayan frontier, and a highway from landlocked Paraguay to the sea is in the detailed planning stage.

The result of this, he believes, is that Paraguay will develop closer economic ties with Brazil. In the past, Paraguay has had to send its goods down the Parana river to Buenos Aires, and has been close to Argentina.

Johnson himself is an old South American hand. He's been in Brazil since 1938, as president of Anderson, Clayton Co., subsidiary.

He became interested in land four years ago, he says, when Anderson Clayton asked him to locate a million acre plot suitable for mechanical farming. The company never bought any of the four he found, but Johnson saw a lot of country. He bought a 7,000 acre plot for himself in Mato Grosso. It's now being cleared for cattle raising.

Let's Cook Something

DELICIOUS AND OUT OF A CAN

America is called the country of the can-opener, and yet, it was not an American who invented canning, but a native of France, whose nation stands high in culinary achievement.

In 1809 Napoleon gave Nicolas Appert of France 12,000 francs for his contribution — the art and science of canning foods successfully. Americans have perfected the Frenchman's procedure and now hundreds of foods in cans and jars are offered to the American public.

American women have always been quick to take advantage of easier ways to prepare food, but they have been slow to accept any substitute for the best.

Now that they are sure that vitamins are retained in canned food, and that comparison is kinder to the food in a tin when contrasted with foods kept too long in a market, they select the brand of food they want and enjoy it. Fixing up canned foods has become an art in this country and not long ago a new cook book, "The Can-Opener Cook Book" was put on the market.

Here is a fixed-up can opener recipe that Mrs. W. J. Krumbain uses often—your family will like it too.

1 can luncheon meat (Spam or ham)
1/2 cup grated cheese
Combine all ingredients and mix well. Pour in greased casserole or baker and cook in 375-F oven 30 or 40 minutes. Serves four or five.
Mrs. Krumbain serves this with a green salad, hot coffee and a dessert.

"What was the other half?"
"A quart of whisky."

Benson Warns About Storage; Urges Farmers To Plan Early

ABOUT AGRICULTURE

Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson February 24 warned of the danger of serious storage problems this year and urged farmers to make plans now to help assure adequate storage facilities.

"Continued big production, encouraged by high price supports, has built up tremendous supplies of major commodities," Secretary Benson pointed out. "Storage facilities had to be stretched to the limit, and supplemented in many cases, in order to handle 1953 crops."

"With normal weather this spring and summer, the storage problem can be even more acute in 1954. The carry-over of old supplies—before this year's harvest—will be at all-time record levels. The wheat carry-over is now expected to be above 800 million bushels, as compared with 562 million bushels last year."

"The effectiveness of price support programs for storable commodities depends very directly on the availability of adequate storage. The regular price support loans cannot be extended to farmers unless their commodities are housed in satisfactory storage—either on the farm or in commercial facilities. The Department of Agriculture did everything possible to assist the expansion of both farm and commercial storage this vigorous 1953. It will continue this vigorous help this year. The final responsibility, however, rests with farmers themselves. They should anticipate their requirements and make plans immediately to see that adequate storage space is available when they need it. We will help in every practicable way."

The Secretary called attention to the following specific types of assistance which the Federal Government is making available to farmers to help them expand storage facilities on their own farms, in addition to special steps to increase commercial space:

FARM STORAGE FACILITY LOANS

Commodity Credit Corporation loans for financing new storage construction are available to farmers through local county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committees. These loans, which can run up to 80 percent of the cost of the new storage facilities in most States, can be paid off over a four-year period. The loans, at four percent interest, are available until June 30, 1954.

Brand Is Proud Of HD Club Winners

Tribute was paid this week to Mrs. T. J. Parsons when she was accorded the title of "Home Demonstration Club Woman of the Year". Mrs. Parsons is the third Deaf Smith County woman to receive this award since the program was begun in 1952.

More important is the fact that Mrs. Parsons, like the other two recipients, qualifies not only as an outstanding Home Demonstration member, but also as an outstanding citizen and a successful housewife. She is active in church affairs, a community worker of note, and still finds time to devote to her family. Much the same story also describes Mrs. Palmer Norton and Mrs. Ira Ott.

The Brand, in establishing the annual award, had exactly this in mind. In addition to possibly stimulating interest in Home Demonstration work, it was also our idea to recognize current accomplishments of those women who devote so much time in behalf of others. The selections, made by the Home Demonstration Council and leaders, are excellent in that they take into consideration all-around activities of the various club members. This important factor, we feel, is the tantamount measure of real success. In addition, they appear to be the ultimate goal of the Home Demonstration program in Texas.

Mrs. Parsons, during thirteen years of active club work, has held offices, been a 4-H club leader, and has gained wide recognition as a home foods expert. She has four children, likes to play the piano and is, all in all, typical of the successful housewife of 1954.

The Brand is possibly the only newspaper in Texas which sponsors such recognition and as we congratulate Mrs. Parsons, it is a pleasure to add that we consider the program well worthwhile; it is a real pleasure to honor successful women of the type who have been recognized during the past three years. We are proud of each of them.

Wildcat Oil Well

Announcement of the start of a wildcat well in the northwest part of Deaf Smith County this week once again rejuvenated the hopes of numerous people in this area. The well also created considerable conversation.

For instance, the fact that drilling still persists in the immediate neighborhood of previous test wells caused some comment. It also recalled to some few that several major companies still hold leases in this area; still others could visualize the production possibilities which would radically change the entire community.

Oil, like gold, is where you find it. Many people insist that there are great quantities of oil in this area, others have lost interest and completely given up hopes. Arguments, like these are, in fact, the very reason people drill wildcat wells.

Meanwhile, things continue to rock along. A production strike would change our economy. Failure, on the other hand, will prove nothing. The average man on the street can do little else but wait and see.

"The first sign that a nation is entering a period of deterioration is when the people begin to depend on the government for everything. The willingness to do for themselves has been an American tradition, but of late years we have seen the nation, the state, and community look to the government to help in everything." KNOXVILLE, IOWA, EXPRESS

"The Monroe Doctrine of 1823 warned European nations - - then mostly monarchies - - against attempts to get a further foothold in the Americas. That was a unilateral United States doctrine. But it stood the test of time. The 20th century version of the Monroe Doctrine was voted at the 10th Inter-American Conference at Caracas, Venezuela, when the American republics condemned the activities of the international Communist movement as foreign intervention in American affairs." BELLINGHAM, WASH., HERALD

"Any time any one person or any group of persons receives a check from the federal government for any purpose or on any pretext, they can be sure somebody paid a lot more into the government for that check than it amounted to. The political patronage connected with it must be paid for." HUGO, COLO., EASTERN PLAINSMAN

"The rule that presidents kill themselves on the job has a happy exception in the case of Herbert Hoover who is performing valuable service to the nation 21 years after he left the White House . . . Earlier Presidents came back for brief periods of service in the executive department and the Congress, but of all the list Hoover has contributed the most in his post-presidential period." ## QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Public Seems To Favor Some Upholstery For Auditorium Seats

Do you think that the school board should select wooden seats, semi-upholstered or fully upholstered seats for the new high school auditorium, considering that it will be used for both school and numerous public activities?

BILL KNOX

"I think that since we have already gone to the expense of building a beautiful new high school that we should have the seats in the auditorium to correspond with the rest of the building. I don't think that semi-upholstered seats would suit the situation at all and I believe that they should be fully upholstered."

MRS. CHARLIE OWENS

"Of course, you would have to take into consideration the price, but I think that the semi-upholstered seats would be sufficient. I mean it is not necessary to have the backs of the seats upholstered but I do think that the seats need to be upholstered."

MARY FRANCIS (TODDY) PITNER

"I think they should select the upholstered seats because they are the most comfortable and of course everyone wants comfortable seats."

GRANT FULLER

"I don't have any children in school now so I don't know how children act now days. However, I think that the children should be provided with lounge chairs so they can really be comfortable when they take their naps."

MRS. O. L. MCKEE

"Of course, I am thinking of the public but I had rather have the fully upholstered seats. I don't know how they would hold up with the children though and that would have to be taken into consideration. Still I think that fully upholstered would be the best for the new auditorium."

F. W. MC CURLEY

"Considering the fact that I have only been in Hereford about three days I hardly know how to answer the question. However, I think that since the people of Hereford have spent so much money in making this beautiful new high school and auditorium that they should go all the way and have comfortable seats in the auditorium."

'Tater Peelin's

By Roberta Campbell

Well, the puppies are big enough to take away from the mother dogs and maybe that will stop the feud that has been going on since they were born, all the same day. One of the dogs slipped three pups out of the other dog's bed and it was several days before she discovered what had become of them. They had a fight under the granary every time she tried to retrieve them until Buster finally squeezed his avardipos under the sleepers and brought the little dogs out and put them all together.

Now that the old dogs are trying to wean them it doesn't matter too much which claims which.

Anyway those of you who have been waiting for them can come for them any time.

If television hasn't done anything else it has brought to Abe Martin a greater appreciation of his wife's ability with a sewing machine. Mrs. Martin made some Easter dresses for the two granddaughters and while they were gone to church Abe watched the Easter Parade on television. When they returned he mentioned the program and remarked, "You know I didn't see anybody that looked any prettier than Cheryl and Jamie."

Perhaps this beef bacon we have just tried out has some advantages over pork after all. It looks a lot like honest-to-goodness bacon, it tastes like bacon and although we can't see where the price is any cheaper it doesn't fry away to grease and it certainly takes a while longer to eat so maybe we can get more for our money, if we have the money.

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has a lazy interpretation for a new use for television, his letter this week reveals.

— o —

Dear editor:

I have never stood in the way of progress, as most progress has been able to go around me without its slowing down or me speeding up, like wind around the Rock of Gibraltar, and it was with considerable interest I read the other day where the television industry is working on some new gadgets.

One of these for example is a television camera they put up on the look-out tower where fire watchers now stay in forests, and the camera revolves slowly around, sending a picture to a control center fifty miles away. Under this system, forest fires can be automatically spotted, thus eliminating the lousy work of a man sittin up there all by himself lookin through a pair of binoculars.

I thought this matter over all yesterday afternoon and have come to the conclusion it opens up vast new fields of time-saving, although it has been my observation the more time-saving gadgets mankind gets the harder people work, and I like to cite the example of myself as proof you can have plenty of time on your hands without goin the gadget route. As I have contended all along, a four-row cultivator is no improvement over a two-row if all it means is you're gonna work more land and still plow from sun-up to sun-down. If a four-row cultivator doesn't enable a man to stop work at noon, in the final analysis he may not be any better off than he was with the two-row, particularly if he works all year and winds up in the hole anyway.

At any rate, this television gadget intrigues me. Farmin would have a whole lot more appeal to me if I could sit in my livin room and direct a robot tractor up one row and down another, just by twirlin some dials. Ranchin wouldn't be no trick at all if a man could sit under an electric fan and check on his cattle as they grazed in front of a television camera, and I don't see why you couldn't set up another camera to watch your cork while you fished stretched out on the livin room sofa.

Understand, though, when they get these things perfected, they sure want to include a key so a man can lock up the set when he pleases. The last thing I want is a television gadget a wife can flip on to see if her husband is plowin or is stretched out in the sun studyin the clouds.

Yours faithfully
J. A.

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I clean white kid gloves?

A. Try using a mixture of a little oatmeal and benzine formed into a paste; rub it on the gloves till it is quite dry. DO NOT USE NEAR FIRE. It is said that pure alcohol is better than anything for cleaning white kid gloves, as it dries quickly without any unpleasant odor.

Q. How can I lubricate the vacuum cleaner?

A. A light grade of automobile engine oil is an excellent lubricant for the vacuum cleaner.

Q. How can I remove water spots from varnished wood, such as on table or furniture?

A. Rub the spots with a cloth, wet with camphor oil.

Q. How can I soften butter without causing it to lose flavor?

A. If the butter is too hard after removing from the refrigerator, let it stand for a few hours in the warm kitchen before spreading on bread for sandwiches. The flavor will not be impaired as when melted over a fire, and it will be easy to handle.

Q. How can I remove stains from a mattress?

A. Apply a thick paste of starch and water. Place in the sun, and when dry, rub off the paste. Repeat this process if necessary.

Q. How can I prevent a steamed finish when drying glassware?

A. After drying and polishing articles of glassware, do not turn them upside down, this is likely to steam them and spoil the polish.

Q. How can I clean the kitchen linoleum when in a hurry and there is no time to scrub it?

A. Slip an old stocking over the broom and sweep the floor. It will be a surprise to see the amount of oil and dust that the stocking will collect.

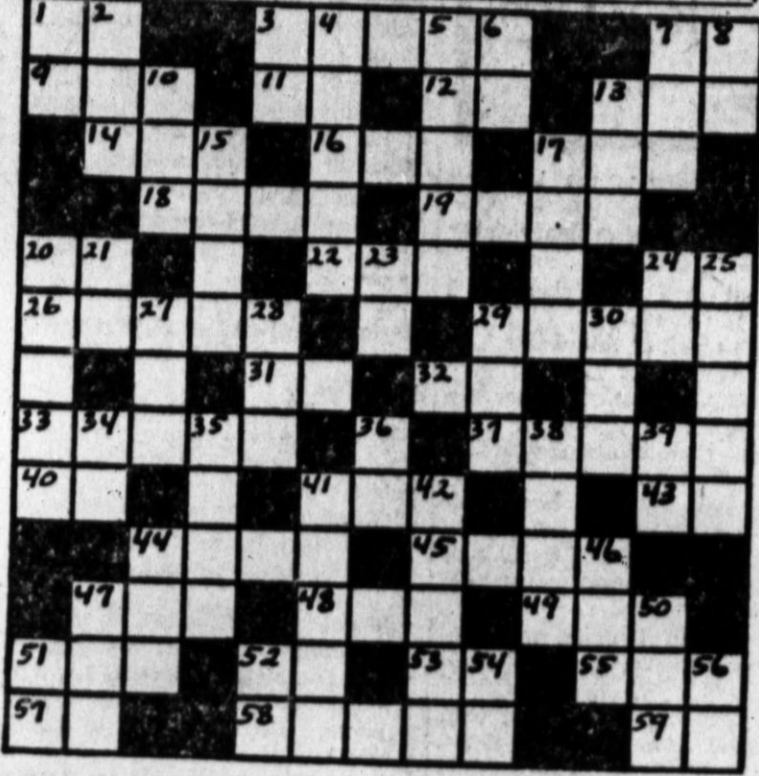

Q. How can I retain the luster of silver?

A. After washing the silver rinse it in boiling water and it will retain its polish for a longer time.

Q. How can I keep the dishcloth sweet and clean?

A. Most women are very particular about clean towels but sometimes forget the dishcloth, which really needs more attention than the towels. Wash the dishcloth after each meal and dry thoroughly before using again.

large part on the local and state level.

Backing for Shivers came from Guy C. Jackson, president of the Texas Water Conservation Association.

Jackson said he believes that the governor "plans to go all out with his usual energy to see that the next session of the legislature dedicates itself to an intense, patriotic study and ultimate solution of our water situation."

Yarborough, speaking at Hempstead, said that the answer to the water problem "is action, not a continual bickering between the State and Federal Government."

He added:

"The State Government is wasting its energy and killing time by continuing to call the Federal Government names."

C. T. Johnson, as part of his platform, proposed the construction of 100,000 small dams in North west Texas to hold rainfall.

He also recommended a canal to connect 10 Texas rivers and provide an interchange of water to balance irregular flow.

Senator Lyndon B. Johnson also urged thousands of small dams in the upland areas of Texas for water storage and protection against floods.

Race for Senate

Senator Johnson drew opposition in the person of Representative Dudley T. Dougherty of Beeville, wealthy rancher and oil man.

Dougherty cranked up his campaign by sending to Johnson in Washington a telegram asking him some questions. Dougherty wanted to know:

Does Johnson approve the use of U. S. troops in Indo-China?

Does Johnson favor sharing atomic secrets with other nations?

Will Johnson assist in the investigation of federal loans on Texas hotels and apartments?

Justices Will Run

Elsewhere on the political front, Associate Justices Few Brewster of Temple and Clyde E. Smith of Smithville announced for re-election as members of the Texas Supreme Court.

And Chief Justice J. E. Hickman said he would file soon. The other six justices still have parts of their elective terms to serve.

Most members of the legislature will seek re-election.

Martin Dies, of Lufkin, has filed for re-election as Congressman-at-Large.

Teacher Pay Boost

Passed by the special session of the Legislature, a bill to increase Texas public school teachers' pay by $402 per year was signed by the governor.

Present for the ceremony were House and Senate sponsors of the bill and members of a committee that worked out the compromise plan for teacher pay.

Governor Shivers already has signed a tax bill raising the money for increased teacher pay and other purposes.

Close the Gaps

E. H. Thornton Jr., chairman of the state highway commission, told a Kaufman County delegation that the commission's policy is to complete gaps in the farm road system before beginning new routes.

Thornton's statement was in response to a Kaufman County representative's question on a local road problem.

"We will not be limited in our thinking by precinct lines," Thornton said. "We are proud of our farm-to-market road system in Texas. There is about 22,000 miles built or under construction. It is high time to start connecting these roads."

Thornton said that federal aid for roads has been increased for next year, and with matching funds, Texas' highway program will expand by $35 million a year.

Inspection Stickers

There are 2,650,000 vehicles in Texas that have passed the automobile inspection test—but a quarter of a million cars are going around without the required stickers, according to the Department of Public Safety.

Automobiles lacking the evidence that they have been inspected will be sought out and the owners given warning tickets or court-summons tickets.

April 15 was the deadline for the automobile inspection.

Surplus Feed Grain

Advantages are to be had by sale of the government's surplus feed grain, says John C. White, state commissioner of agriculture.

Such sale, the commissioner believes, would result in bringing the cost of livestock feed down and would bring relief to the cattlemen's drought problems.

Speaking at Vernon, White said further that sale of the feed would also save the taxpayers many millions of dollars because the government would get a return from products that are now merely clogging warehouses where space is needed for new crops.

Wester - Powell Vows Spoken At Bride's Home

Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Wester have announced the marriage of their daughter, Betty June, to Douglas Powell, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Powell of Plummerville, Ark.

The wedding took place in the home of the bride on April 24, with the Rev. Harold Kaestner, pastor of the Lutheran Church, reading the double ring service. Attendants were Louise Wester, sister of the bride, and Johnny Fields.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a navy suit worn with white accessories and a corsage of white carnations.

Informal Reception

Following the wedding an informal reception was held for the close friends and relatives attending the wedding. The bride's table was centered with an arrangement of bridal wreath and lilies with Miss Frances Young presiding at the tiered wedding cake. Mrs. Bill McCabe, sister of the bride, served punch.

After a short wedding trip to Arkansas, where they will visit his people, the couple will be at home on the J. M. Wright farm near Summerfield.

Q. Please suggest a "home-made" formula for a toilet powder.

A. Two parts of boric acid mixed with eight parts of starch.

Q. What causes large, open pores in the face?

A. Usually, poor circulation. Try using astringent lotions, applying with cotton pads by patting vigorously over face and neck. Ice, wrapped in cotton, rubbed over the face, is beneficial, too.

Q. What are some hints for natural-looking lip makeup?

A. Never moisten your lips before applying lip rouge, as this causes the rouge to roll and take on a caked appearance. Always make up the upper lip first, then gently but firmly close the mouth, rolling the upper lip over the lower; thus imprinting correct outline on lower lip. Apply freely and remove excess by pressing and blotting with tissue. To obtain a clear, well-defined lip line, use a lipstick brush.

Q. How can I keep my garments sweet-smelling while traveling?

A. A good idea is to tuck some sachet tablets in the pockets of your traveling bags. Luggage that has been closed for some time often gets that "closed" odor that the sweet fragrance of sachet will eliminate.

Q. Is there any way I can reduce the effect of circles under my eyes?

A. A slight rouging of these circles helps hide them.

Q. Is sunshine good for combating dandruff in the scalp?

A. It is if not overdone. Overexposure to the sun will bleach the hair and cause streaks, dryness and brittleness. Salt water and mineral elements in fresh lake water also dry the hair and make it drab in color. Wear a protective covering, or spray on a protective solution when swimming this summer.

Q. How can I help to strengthen my teeth and gums?

A. One of the oldest, and still best, treatments is the brushing of teeth and gums two or three times weekly with ordinary table salt.

Q. What is a good shampoo I can mix for oily hair?

A. To one pint of cold water, add the shavings of a cake of pure castile soap, setting this over the fire and allowing to simmer until dissolved. Then strain and set aside to cool and jell. Before using, add one egg that has been well beaten, one tablespoon rubbing alcohol, two ounces bayrum, and 1-8 teaspoon powdered borax. Mix well.

Q. How can I make my eye-lashes seem thicker than they really are?

A. Try tracing a dark line with your pencil along the edge of the lashes. A little mascara brushed on the lashes helps, too.

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Scientists are now going to the rooftops to help the world's food supply. Dr. Bruce R. Mead of the University of California at Los Angeles, has begun a research project to trap a tiny one-celled plant known as chlorella.

This plant, built up from sunshine, water and small bits of chemicals, produces tons of proteins and fats in a day. Harvesting will be simple—just a matter of scooping off the chlorella floating on the water.

The university's pilot plant has been installed on a building rooftop. It has a small U-shaped trough through which will circulate water and a few chemicals. Sea water also will be used to produce chlorella, because of the abundance of chemicals in it.

Initially, the process will provide rich supplements for cattle feed. When the food is made tasty enough, the scientists promise a "chlorella cocktail"—for humans.

Q. What is a good "dry" shampoo for blonde hair?

A. Sprinkling cornmeal or almond meal through the hair and then brushing well out will leave the hair soft and clean.

State Draft Quota Set For June

AUSTIN — State Selective Service headquarters Friday announced a June draft quota of 965 men, 784 less than the June 1953 call.

Brigadier General Paul J. Wakefield, state director of Selective Service, said that local board quotas for June will be mailed from his headquarters the "last week in April."

At the same time, he announced that local boards would receive no June calls to send men for the combination mental and physical examination. Approximately 1,000 men are scheduled for these examinations in May.

In a telegram received Thursday from Major General Lewis B. Hershey, national director of Selective Service, Texas Selective Service was restricted from placing an "overall" on the June quota.

The "overall" is a device which insures the state of filling its quota. General Wakefield pointed out. In the past, national headquarters has issued a net call, allowing states to add additional men.

Previously, Texas has added up to 20 percent of the net call to take care of postponements, rejections, reclassifications, and other possibilities which can reduce a net quota considerably.

"Texas rarely ever hits its quota on the nose," General Wakefield commented, "going over or under, depending upon our judgment about the overall."

The state director of Selective Service pointed out that the Army is acting to lose one division by June 30, 1954, and two more by June 30, 1955. All services are reducing strength but the Air Force,
