Tourist Program Opens With New York Couple

Hereford re-opened its Tourist of the Month program Friday stopping a couple from Buffalo, N. Y., at the outskirts of town, showing them with gifts from local merchants keeping them overnight in Hereford.

Mr. and Mrs. John L. Kermode of Buffalo, N. Y., were the startled couple who were suddenly halted by Hereford Policeman M. L. Brown and brusquely ordered to town.

At a service station, a reception committee from the Chamber of Commerce explained the reason for stopping the Kermodes, and asked if they could take time out to participate in the program.

Traveling again with a police escort, but with an entirely different feeling, the Kermodes said, they then went to the corner of Third and Main Streets, where they were officially greeted by City Commissioner Raylan Evans, City Manager Cecil Massey, and Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce president T. W. Alderson, and received gifts from a number of merchants.

Included for Mrs. Kermode were a blouse from the Mode O'Day Shop, a pair of moccasins from Hereford Shoe Store, and a western style skirt from C. R. Anthony.

For Kermode, there was a Stetson hat from Dub's Man's Shop, a tie from the Popular Store, and a western-type shirt from the Frontier Shop.

In addition, there were gifts for the couple, a lamp from H. & H. Furniture, a complete servicing of the Kermode car by Phillips and Lawrence Service Station; they spent the night as guests of Hotel Jim Hill, and flowers in their room were furnished by Tom's Floral Shop.

McClain, a retired Baptist minister, was born in Campbell, Texas, and was a member of the Baylor University graduating class of 1913.

Other survivors include his wife and one son, James McClain of El Monte, Calif.

Hereford relatives attending the funeral were Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Allred and daughter Ethel Mayo, J. T. McClain, Mrs. C. O. Phillips, Mrs. O. G. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmie Allred and Mr. and Mrs. R. C. Anderson.

Charlie Sowell this week authorized The Brand to announce his candidacy for the office of Commissioner of Precinct 1, Deaf Smith County, subject to the action of the Democratic primary in July.

Charlie Sowell Is Candidate In Precinct 1

In making his announcement, Mr. Sowell made the following statement:

"I have been a resident of Deaf Smith County, Texas, for about 35 years and this is my first time to announce as a candidate for a public office.

"I have been engaged in business in Hereford since 1941. I know what it is to have to meet a payroll and to be concerned about management and overhead in business enterprises.

MR. AND MRS. JOHN L. KERMODE (holding packages) of Buffalo, N.Y., were the first persons to be honored under the revived Tourist of the Month program in Hereford.

son is standing behind Kermode. Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Alexander were official host and hostess to the couple Friday night. (Staff Photo)

The Kermode's, who were on a month long vacation trip, were on their way to Tulsa from Mexico City, where they had spent four days. They were planning to be in Tulsa to spend Easter with Mrs. Kermode's brother.

Mrs. Kermode's relief was evident Friday afternoon as she was interviewed at the corner of Main and Third Streets, and talked about how frightened she had been when she heard the wail of the police siren.

Kermode, who works for the Pillsbury Company in Buffalo, was equally happy about the way things had turned out. "I knew something was up when I saw two men sitting in the back of the police car, but I certainly didn't think it was going to be anything like this." From the way he said it, Kermode was evidently expecting "justice" such as Judge Roy Bean used to give in his Law West of the Pecos court.

Another tourist couple will be stopped next month. At that time, a different group of merchants will present them with gifts.

DeYoung and his wife operate a combination store, which includes a domino parlor, in the 100 Block on Main Street. It was formerly known as Marie's Trading Post.

For H. A. DeYoung Selling Liquor Brings Stiff Fine, Jail Term

A county court jury refused to accept the testimony of H. A. DeYoung and his wife that DeYoung had "loaned" a pint of whisky to a total stranger.

The six-man jury Friday found DeYoung guilty of selling liquor in a dry territory, and recommended a sentence of 60 days in jail and a fine of $500.

Witness for the State in the case was R. M. Barba, an agent for the Texas Liquor Control Board, who testified that he had purchased a pint of whisky from DeYoung last September and paid $6 for it.

Loose Connection Blamed For Blackout

A "blackout" of 28 minutes duration Thursday night plunged Hereford residents and REA consumers of this area into total darkness as repairs were worked on a 66,000 volt line in the Hereford sub-station.

The immediate trouble was attributed to a loose jumper on the high voltage line, according to Cleo Meharg, local manager, who said that the entire sub-station had to be shut down in order for workmen to handle the high voltage lines at such extreme height.

The jury deliberated about three hours before bringing in the verdict and sentence recommendation.

DeYoung's bond is still good for 10 days, during which time he may file an appeal or ask for a new trial. In the absence of either, he will begin serving his sentence.

Billie Hall of Littlefield represented DeYoung in the case. The State was represented by County Attorney J. Edward Line, County Judge Horace L. Schloos, president.

Members of the jury were E. H. Cole, Albert W. Owen, C. B. Miles, T. D. Stambaugh, Frank Watson and D. B. Roberson.

"An immediate inspection of the substation disclosed that a jumper had worked loose from a 66,000 volt bus. Because of the high voltage and extreme height above ground level, it was necessary to kill the entire sub-station to make the repairs."

Meharg expressed appreciation for co-operation and general understanding on the part of the public, and especially commended the workmen who volunteered and showed up without being called in order to get the lines back in operation as rapidly as possible.

He reported an interruption of 28 minutes in service which, he said, was remarkably fast for the job accomplished under the conditions which existed.

Red Cross Awards Will Be Presented

An awards meeting of the Deaf Smith County Chapter of the American Red Cross will be held at 8 o'clock Tuesday night in the District Courtroom.

Certificates of award and service buttons will be presented to outstanding Red Cross workers of the recent fund campaign and in other fields for the past year.

Following the meeting, the board of directors will hold a regular business session in the Red Cross office on the call of the chapter chairman, Mrs. Reed Williams.

Expansion Of Gas Transmission Lines Is Benefiting All Texans

Texas homes, industries, schools, hospitals and commercial establishments are beneficiaries of a tremendous increase in natural gas service resulting from a $294,000,000 expansion of the Southwest's gas pipeline system. And there's still more to come.

Harry Cayler's Father Buried At Perryton

Funeral services for J. W. Cayler, 83, of Perryton, father of Harry Cayler, 508 N. Lawton, were held in the First Baptist Church of Perryton Monday afternoon. He had been confined to his home for the past three years.

Mr. Cayler died Saturday at his home. He was a long-time resident of that section of the state, having farmed in the Balke and Beaver, Okla., communities for many years. The family has lived in Perryton since he retired from the farm 10 or 12 years ago.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cayler and daughter Donna returned to Hereford Wednesday after attending the funeral services Monday.

Other survivors besides his wife and son Harry, include four daughters: Mrs. William Moore of Durango, Colo., Mrs. Earl Womble of Sacramento, Calif., Mrs. John Osterbuhr of Liberal, Kans., and Mrs. J. Nichols of Winfield, Kans. He is also survived by seven grandchildren and several great-grandchildren.

The Gas Appliance Manufacturers Association, in its sixth survey of natural gas construction data, reports that during the past eight years 21 projects costing $294,872,000 and delivering 914,600,000 cubic feet of natural gas a day have either been completed, are in the process of construction, or are proposed for new or augmented service to communities in Texas and nearby states.

Major beneficiaries of this enormous construction project include Dallas, Houston, Beaumont, Galveston, San Antonio, Austin, Corpus Christi, El Paso, Wichita Falls, and many other communities.

H. Leigh Whitelaw, GAMA's managing director, reports that 2,554 miles of varying sizes of pipe bringing direct benefits to Texas users of natural gas have been laid or are contemplated. In addition, several compressor stations generating 307,440 horsepower to speed the flow of gas and thereby increase line capacity have been completed or are in the building or planning stage.

"This increase in supply has kept Texas among the leaders in the nationwide trend to use of gas for house heating and to the fully gas-equipped home for modern living," Whitelaw says. "Conversion to gas from other fuels has been particularly prevalent in the home modernization market."

Of the 21 projects serving the Texas area, all but five have been completed. Two of the latter are well under way and three need only the approval of the Federal Power Commission before construction has been completed, is under way or awaiting FPC approval. This includes 76,705 miles of natural gas lines.

Entomology Celebrating 100th Birthday As Recognized Science

Systemics! Radioactive materials! Cathode rays and radio waves! These terms, surprisingly, apply to entomology — the study of insects.

Such complex phrases certainly would have sounded foreign to the first investigators of our insect pests, but they reflect the 100 years growth of professional entomology.

In the United States today about 4,500 men and women are entomologists. Many are employed in government — federal, state and local. Others are employed in industry and in colleges and universities. A few are businessmen who offer custom pest-control services to the public.

Bannered a 1954 slogan "Fight Your Insect Enemies," entomologists in Texas and over the nation are preparing to observe their centennial. Dr. J. C. Gaines, head of the Department of Entomology, Texas A & M College, has appointed a 100th anniversary committee to plan a program to better acquaint Texans with entomology and its effects on their daily living.

The first department of entomology in a Texas institution was established at A & M in 1899 by a special act of The Texas Legislature and was headed by Fred W. Mally. The virtual eradication of the Texas fever tick and extensive work with field crop insects and animal parasites headline the major achievements of Texas entomologists.

Other milestones of entomology which can be listed since 1900 are successful fights against flies and mosquitoes. A "swat-the-fly" campaign, led by entomologists and health officials urging the destruction of flies and their breeding places, has been in a large measure responsible for a 90 percent decrease in cases of typhoid, one of the many diseases carried by flies.

No outbreak of yellow fever has been noted in the United States since 1905 as a result of cooperative efforts against mosquitoes.

Potato production per acre has been increased 50 percent in eight years partly because of insect control with modern insecticides.

And entomology's horizon is bright.

Collision Causes About $100 Damage

Approximately $100 damage was done in a collision Wednesday night about 6:30 o'clock at the intersection of Lee and Third Streets.

Robert M. Hicks, 415 S. 25 Mile Avenue, driving a 1953 DeSoto, was going west on Third Street. A 1950 Plymouth driven by Gordon B. Miller, 331 Avenue H, started off from the stop sign on Lee Street going north.

According to police reports, Miller saw Hicks coming and stopped just as the front of his car reached the center of the street. The DeSoto slid straight ahead for approximately 34 feet, hitting the front right light and fender of the Plymouth with its left front fender and bumper.

About $75 damage was done to the DeSoto and $25 damage done to the Plymouth.

Hicks was charged with negligent collision.

Ex-Aggies Will Muster Here Wednesday Night

Former students of Texas A&M, their wives and girl friends who live in Deaf Smith County will gather at the Hotel Jim Hill at 7:30 o'clock Wednesday night to carry on the tradition of the annual muster, according to John Estes, muster chairman.

This is the 51st annual muster for A&M students. The program here will be one of more than 400 similar ceremonies held all over the world where former Texas A&M students gather to pay homage to their fellow Aggies who have passed on, and tribute to the Texans who won the freedom of the state at San Jacinto.

All ex-Aggies in the county who have not been contacted are being urged to contact either Estes or J. W. Robinson Jr., as soon as possible.

Carmichael Receives Letter From Senator

P. L. Carmichael, president of Deaf Smith County Farm Bureau, recently received acknowledgment of his letter regarding a pending bill from Senator Gordon B. Johnson.

Carmichael proposed to allow farmers to deduct their soil and water conservation expenses, up to 25 percent of their gross income, and urged that an amendment be adopted to the bill to include concrete pipe or irrigation tile as a part of such expenses.

The senator said that a number of others had written him about the matter and he presented a request to the Finance Committee before which the bill is pending.

Let's Cook Something

FOR THE DAY AFTER EASTER

After Easter you may find yourself wanting to use up some of the additional Easter ham or other meats in varied ways without diminishing that wonderful flavor so delicious when it first came from the oven.

By combining it with other foods already cooked you run no risk of over-cooking your meat and you may be able to appeal to your family's tastes by using their favorite foods in combination.

Here is a recipe you will want to keep on file for just such a need. It is for Ham and Sweet Potato Casserole given to us by Mrs. Homer Brumley whose culinary specialty is meat dishes.

It's tangy with the flavor of orange juice, topped with crunchy pecans and baked to a golden brown.

Ham and Sweet Potato Casserole

- 6 medium sweet potatoes cooked
 - 1-3-cup brown sugar firmly packed
 - 1/2 teaspoon powdered cloves
 - 2 cups diced cooked ham
 - 1 cup orange juice (frozen may be used)
 - 1/2 cup chopped pecans
 - 1 tablespoon butter or oleomargarine
- Grease a 1 1/2 quart casserole and place a layer of the sliced potatoes in bottom. Blend the brown sugar and cloves and sprinkle a part of the mixture over potatoes. Add a layer of the diced ham and repeat until ham and sweet potatoes are used. Pour orange juice over mixture in casserole and top with chopped pecans. Dot with the butter or margarine and bake in moderate oven (350-F) 35 to 40 minutes. Serves six generously.

For Use In Ceramics

Mrs. Root Made Tests On Clay From Colorado

Mrs. Don Root is applying lace to a pin tray as she tells of her experiences with mining and testing clay bodies at her father-in-law's ranch in Baca County, Colorado.

Mrs. Root received her training in the art of ceramics from the famous ceramic art teacher, Mr. Stealy, in Dallas several years ago.

It was here Mrs. Root tested many of the clay deposits mined on her father-in-law's ranch.

She says when these clay bodies are mined they are red, purple, green and grey, but when fired it turns from white to ginger brown, depending on the color before the firing.

She adds that these clay deposits are as smooth as silk and that it is amazing to work with it and see the finished product.

To test clay bodies, the clay is mixed with water and its very important to use a round paddle instead of a flat one to stir with. A flat paddle mixes air into the clay. Air in clay is one of the greatest trials in a potter's life.

When clay is mixed with water to a pouring consistency, it is called slip. The slip is then screened three times, first through a 15 mesh screen, then 40 and 60 mesh screens to remove all coarse gravel, bits of grass and roots. It is then set aside to settle and the water is poured off and you have a plasticity clay ready for modeling. Mrs. Root says:

Now many things can be added to clay bodies to, we might say, modernize them. These products make the clay bodies smoother after firing and keep them from drying out when stored.

Mrs. Root says she fired these clays at cone .05 which is -1,940 degrees and glaze application at cone .06, or 1,859 degrees.

Loren De Root, her father-in-law, hasn't commercialized the clay deposits on his ranch for the pottery industry as yet, but he is selling it to drilling contractors in the oil fields for drilling mud and a sealing for oil wells, reports Mrs. Root. She says that 21 different kinds of clay have been tested and proven excellent for pottery and ceramic work and at least 50 tests made of the clay.

Mrs. Root has continued her study of art since coming to Hereford and is striving for her master's degree. She will receive her Bachelor of Science degree in May.

She says everyone should take up some form of art as a hobby to which one can absorb themselves to "get away from it all." She

A PRINCESS-to-PRINCESS CALL!

HELLO! MARGARET ROSE?

"Anybody listening, Marg? Good! I want to tell you what I did in Rome... Don't be silly! The stories in the newspapers didn't tell the half of it. Honest, Marg, your Can-Can dance didn't begin to compare with what I did!

Well, like the papers said—I sneaked out of the palace—but what they don't know—I spent the night in an American reporter's apartment, and—Shame on you, Marg! Greg was a perfect gentleman! Hush, will you! It was entirely innocent! And we had the most heavenly time—for 24 hours. While they were frantically looking for me, I was doing the town on a scooter with Greg and his pal, Eddie! Oops! The ing-kay just came in... Bye, now."

Biography Of General Shelby Tells Of Undeclared Division

CHAPEL HILL, N. C. One Confederate army division never surrendered, and that was General Jo Shelby's cavalry outfit, stationed in northern Texas in the fateful spring of 1865.

The failure of Shelby and his men to surrender was no mere technicality, no informal relinquishment of the war and scattering to their homes.

On the contrary, when Shelby and his men heard the alarming news of Appomattox, and the still more alarming news of General Joe Johnston's surrender on April 26th, they began arming themselves to the teeth for the new battlefront which they believed would be established in the Southwest.

When they found that the Confederacy would not, and could not, fight on, they marched across Texas and into Mexico, writing one of the most colorful chapters in all the colorful history of Texas as they went.

At Austin they saved the last gold of the Confederacy from renegades; at San Antonio, Houston and elsewhere they restored order in a lawless county; and when they crossed into Mexico at Eagle Pass, they sank the last battle flag of the Confederacy into the Rio Grande, weighted with stones till the Judgement Day.

First Full Biography
The whole story of Jo Shelby and his Iron Brigade - later the Missouri Cavalry Division of the Trans-Mississippi Army of the Confederate States - is told for the first time in General Jo Shelby: Undeclared Rebel, the first full biography of Shelby ever written, which will be published on April 24th by The University of North Carolina Press.

It is the work of Daniel O'Flaherty, Virginia writer, former newspaperman and former radio news executive in New York, who has devoted years to the search for elusive Shelby material. The result has been labeled by top-ranking critics, in advance of publication, as a "discovery" and a genuine likelihood for this year's Pulitzer prize for biography.

The march of Shelby and his men across Texas was not a flight, it was a triumph. There were Yankees in Texas, fifty thousand of them, under no less formidable a commander than General Philip Sheridan; but Shelby's undaunted rebels had thoughtfully provided themselves with ten Napoleon howitzers, forty wagon loads of Enfield rifles, sabres, bowie knives, derringers, and four Navy Colt revolvers apiece, in case General Sheridan might want to renew the Civil War.

They had no trouble with General Sheridan, but they had considerable trouble with army stragglers and bushwhackers. Some of the former joined Shelby, when they found out where he was going, to Mexico to fight as a soldier of fortune under either Maximilian or Juarez; the latter were dealt with severely by Shelby and his sun-bronzed, disciplined horsemen. Major John Edwards, Shelby's 26 year old adjutant and chronicler of the expedition, summed it up by saying: "Some he hung and some he recruited, the last not always the best."

The spirit of Aggie land will resound throughout the world on April 21. Wherever Texas A & M College graduates or students, gather or meet, they will observe Muster.

The Musters pay tribute on Independence Day to those Texans who gave their all for independence and those A & M men who have died within the year.

The most heroic of all Musters was held on the embattled fortress of Corregidor, when A & M soldiers, among others, were besieged day and night for a week or more, but the Aggies held Muster.

The parent Muster, on the campus of Texas A&M College, will be held in front of the Memorial Student Center. More than 5,000 persons are expected to attend the ceremony.

Gov. Allan Shivers will deliver the Muster address, which will get under way at 4:30 o'clock.

The Muster on the campus will be recorded by the Texas Quality Network to be broadcast from 9:30 to 10 p.m. Stations carrying the Muster will be WFAA, Dallas; WOAI, San Antonio; KPRC, Houston; WCAP, Fort Worth; KHLS, Corpus Christi; KVAL, Brownsville; KTTB, Shreveport, La.; KGNC, Amarillo and KRGV, Weslaco.

Music Study Club Presents Annual Music Concert

The annual sacred concert presented by the Music Study Club at the First Christian Church Monday afternoon began Easter observances featured by churches of the city during the week and in services today.

Throughout the years since its organization in 1916, the Music Study Club has maintained a two-fold objective — to stimulate individual effort and to elevate the musical standard of the community. Each year at Easter time the club presents the finest to be found in sacred music in an open concert for the general public.

The inspirational program included great hymns and songs, majestic organ music, solos and choruses in a portrayal of the story of the Resurrection, ending in Triumphant climax.

The program included an Organ Prelude — "Come Sweet Rest" (Bach); Mrs. Howard Scott, "Lift Your Glad Voices" (Warhurst); a vocal duet sung by Mrs. C. W. Parker and Mrs. Bill Bradley with Mrs. Cecil Massey accompanying; a vocal solo "If Christ Came Back Today" (O'Hara), sung by Mrs. C. J. Mountz with Mrs. B. Y. Crosthwait accompanying; "Agnus Dei" (Blaet) and an organ and piano duo played by Mrs. J. C. McCracken and Mrs. S. M. Dunnam; Also "Our Savior Triumphant" (Hamblen), a vocal solo presented by Mrs. W. T. Carmichael with Mrs. A. J. Schroeter at the piano. A vocal sextet "Could Ye Not Watch" (Sainer) with Mrs. Ed Line directing and Mrs. J. R. Allison as accompanist.

Where's The Fire MARSHALL, Mo. — A group of rural residents got together, formed a fire protection association, bought a fire truck and got ready to operate.

Then a call came in. But things were delayed 15 minutes to make sure the caller was a member and deserving of the organization's help. So by the time the pumper rushed up to the farm home, volunteers had the fire out.

Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Miller and Mrs. Robert K. Phillips and sons Robbie and John left Thursday morning for Oklahoma City. The Millers were to visit friends there while Mrs. Phillips and the boys were to visit her parents, Mr. and Mrs. A. B. Brown. They all plan to return to Hereford today or Monday.

U. N. Sells Cards

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y. — In five successful years, selling Christmas cards has become an established means of raising money for the U. N. Children's Fund. Last year's sale set a record of about two million cards sold at a profit of roughly $95,000. This announcement spurred the fund's 26-nation executive board to okay a similar project for 1954.

Only about 25,000 cards were sold the first year, 1949. Mrs. Nora Edmunds, in charge of the sale, already is lining up artists to illustrate the cards for next Christmas. The artists customarily donate their services.

In previous years, they have included Henri Matisse and Raoul Dufy of France, Mrs. Dagmar Starke of Denmark, George Hurn and Jan Lewitt of Britain (formerly of Poland) and Leon Weisgard of the United States.

The cards, are nonsectarian and international. Their message is "Season's Greetings"—in English, French, Spanish, Russian and Chinese.

The U. S. marriage rate in 1953 was about 9.7 per 1,000 of population compared with about 9.8 per 1,000 population in 1952.

The Easter Parade

JOINING THE EASTER PARADE of fashion are eleven members of one of the Hereford High School home economic classes. They are shown modeling Easter dresses made in class during the past two months. Early in January the class began the study of the latest style trends under the direction of the teacher, Mrs. Frank Prowell, with each girl selecting the materials, the colors and the style most suited to her personality. Then came the actual work of getting the dress together and the choosing of accessories. Now in a fashion show all their own, they join with millions in cover page fashions to give welcome to Springtime in THE EASTER PARADE today.

Above, Annette Berend wears a blue and white figured cotton trimmed with white pique tie-collar and vestee. Note the small looped buttons on the vestee. Her accessories are in navy and white. She chose blue because her favorite color is blue. Katherine McDonald likes smooth lines. She decided on a princess style pattern. She chose navy cotton because it goes well with her red hair and natural coloring. She wears white accessories for contrast.

Upper right: Irlene Galley, left, and Helen Diller chat happily over tea cups as they pose for the cameraman. Irlene wears navy accessories with her dress of pastel blue linen which features the new mandarin collar and full skirt worn over a crinoline slip. Blue is her most becoming color. Helen Diller wears a purple and white plaid cotton trimmed in white pique. The up-standing collar matches the shaped cuffs on the simple blouse and the skirt gets its fullness from gathers at each side of the front. Purple is her favorite color.

Lower right, Royda Boyd, left, wears a black and white embossed cotton made with scooped neckline and short sleeves. The full skirt is belted at the waist with a black cummerbund. Her hat and shoes are white mesh.

Barbara Wniget chose a cotton print for her Easter dress with rust-brown background with figures in gold and black. The low V neck accentuates the slim straight lines highlighted with a gold cummerbund. Her accessories are in black.

Barbara Rogers' powder blue butcher linen is just right for Easter and on through the summer. It is made with keyhole neck and self material cummerbund, and is worn with a crinoline petticoat. She wears a white flower hat, white gloves and blue linen shoes the color of the dress.

DEAF SMITH COUNTY CHECKERBOARD NEWS

By Frank A. Gyles, Jr.

Mrs. J. T. Guinn, who lives about six miles south of Bootleg corner has really gone in the turkey business again. She received 1500 f... April 15th, and knowing her past record with turkeys, I imagine she will have about this many ready for market around Thanksgiving. Mrs. Guinn started her poul... as usual, on Purina Turkey Starters.

Next time you're in town, stop by and see our Beautena. She's that pretty little dairy heifer we're growing out right here in the store. She was born on the Bonnie Brumley farm east of town; we brought her into the store when she was 3 days old. Since that time she's been on Nursing Chow and Calf Starters. She's sure doing fine, and looks like she will develop into a nice milker.

Health Hint
Park Disease Germs Outside
Cleaning and disinfecting brooder boxes, call per farrow... Disease germs "itch-hike" on shoes must be stopped, too.

Lots of Eggs From Purina Chowder and Home Grain
Visited with L. A. Smith, who lives about six miles east of town on Highway 60, and he told me his 400 White Leghorn Hens, had been in 75 percent production since Xmas. Mr. Smith likes to utilize his home grain so he gets Purina Chowder, which is a Poultry Concentrate, and mixes it with his own grain to have a balanced Laying Ration.

Castrate Boar Pigs Early
Boar pigs should be castrated as early in life as you can get the job done. Pigs are castrated when 5 days at the Purina Farm. They report little or no setback when pigs are castrated early. Pigs may be castrated up to 4 weeks with safety.

Operator's hands, the knife, the scrotum of the pig should be thoroughly washed and disinfected. Apply Purina Screw Worm Killer to wound immediately when castrating in fly season.

Let's Get Acquainted!
Next time you're in town please drop in and say "howdy." Tell us about your feeding and sanitation problems. Could be we could be of service to you, since our folks are trained by Purina and have lots of experience, too, in helping farmers around here. Don't forget we have a date.

Freedom's Cost

When the United States government challenged Communist aggression in Korea, Americans applauded. But we became so disillusioned with that war because we sacrificed so much and passed up our chances to win it, that we are very wary of any involvement in Indochina.

Yet it is the same enemy and the same continent to be saved from complete enslavement. It is only within the last few decades that Asians have made a beginning at casting off the chains of their ancient feudalism, and already they are about to become victims of the terrible new feudalism. This is the usual fate of peoples striving to become free.

But from our point of view there is a more important reason than sympathy for saving them from the clutches of the latest tyranny. If they fall, the largest block of humanity on earth will be employed in the effort to destroy the few free nations that exist.

The fight for freedom is eternal. If we ever grow so weary that we shrink from it, then our heritage will be lost to those who attack it from without. And if in defending it we become hysterical, we will lose it to those who attack from within.

This is an everlasting fight. The forces of tyranny are not always as strong as they are now, but strong or not, we cannot grow tired and give up the most precious thing that man has achieved. It is easy to be a slave. There are always plenty of masters willing to take over. But it is hard to be a free man. It involves constant defense, and worse yet, it forces us to make our own decisions.

The decisions that the American people are forced to make about Indochina are tough ones. Let's hope that they don't include the use of American fighting men. But we cannot avoid the necessity of resisting tyranny wherever it attacks. That is the cost of freedom.

Nothing Like Rain

Even in a country blessed with shallow water irrigation, there is no substitute for rain.

Witness the broad smiles, improved attitudes and general uptrend in business along Main Street this week. Much of the condition is naturally due to mental attitude, but a good, general rain in this country also improves the physical feeling of many people — despite the fact that a humid climate is generally considered a depressing one.

In addition, the rains did come in time to give wheat farmers and cattlemen renewed hopes for 1954. Even the irrigation farmers find it much more profitable and convenient to use natural rainfall. Comparing irrigation to natural rainfall is a lot like using a toupe to replace luxuriant, natural hair. It serves the purpose but, at best, provides only a practical substitute.

"Dr. William Fletcher Russell, president of Teacher's College of Columbia University, in speaking at Mercer University, Macon, recently, stated that, 'On every hand it is obvious that something is wrong in the education of the citizen. Too few vote, too few take part in politics, too many condone corruption; too many look elsewhere, particularly to the Federal government, for direction and for financial handouts.'" WALTERBORO, S. C. PRESS AND STANDARD.

"Democratic government can deteriorate in two general directions. Power can gravitate toward the Executive branch, finally producing those dictatorships that have marked — and marred — the history of government in this century. Or power can gravitate toward the Legislative branch, producing the parliamentary paralysis of a law-making body without a head . . . Hitlerian Germany emerging out of the decay of the Weimer Republic is the classic example of the first direction. Contemporary France is a good example of the second." BROWNSVILLE, PA., TELEGRAPH.

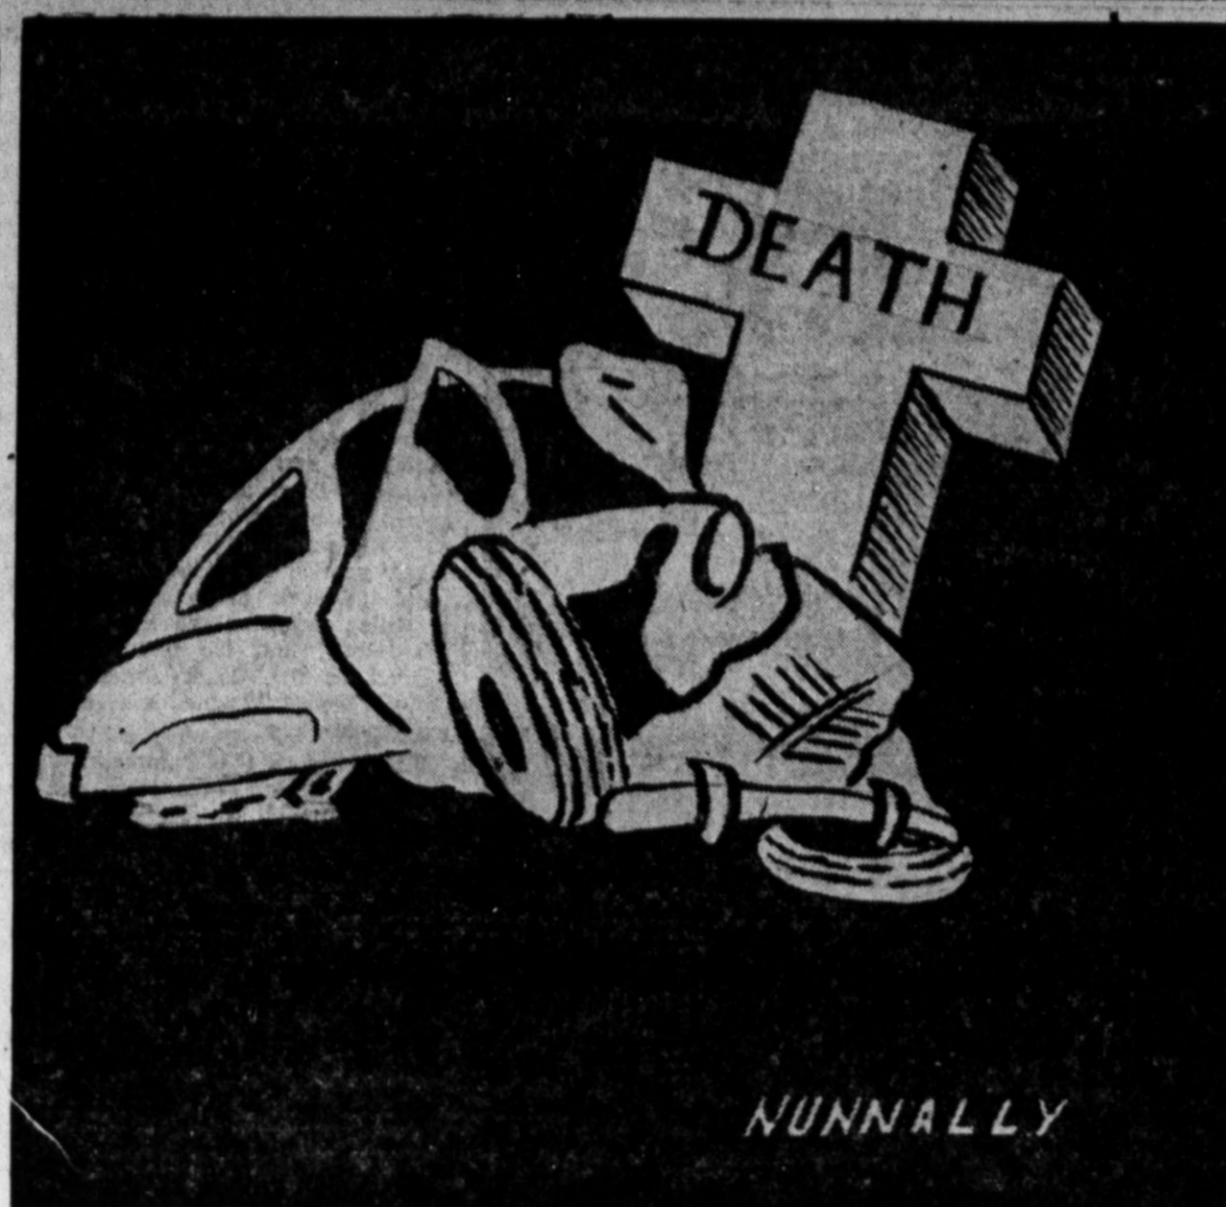

Generous Americans contribute well over 4 billion dollars annually to charity and religious organizations. Of this amount nearly 200 million dollars goes to the fund raisers themselves.

Automobile manufacturers have discovered that nearly 50% of those persons who think they want to buy the less expensive models wind up buying the best car in the line.

Designers have finally licked the problem of the jammed zipper. A push of a button on a recently developed zipper puts it back into operation again when it stalls on thread or fabric. It will be on the market later this year.

There is nothing like a spell of frosty Brazilian weather to whet one's appetite for a nice cup of tea.

American women bought 679 million pairs of nylons last year, and the industry can prove that they bought more for glamor than for durability. In 1947 only 21 percent of the production was of the sheer variety. Now it approaches 80 percent.

The Penalty Of Speed!

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Loss Of Drivers License Might Slow Down Most Fast Drivers

What sort of punishment do you think would be proper for drivers who continually exceed the speed limit and fail to stop for stop signs in Hereford, endangering both lives and property?

JAMES MUIN

"I think if they took their drivers license away for a period of time that it might help some. At least it would make them stop and think before they did it again."

MRS. H. J. HOMER

"Offhand I would say to try taking their drivers license away from them for a period of time. Say for the first offense take the license away for three to six months and the second time suspend them for a longer period of time. Then if the offense was serious enough or if they continually broke these laws take their license away from them indefinitely."

BUD HEATON

"I think a safe speed limit is 25 miles an hour and if drivers continually break the speed limit and fail to observe stop signs that they should be put in jail. I think if they were in jail for only two hours that would help them to remember next time."

MRS. AUBREY JACKSON

"On such short notice I couldn't say for sure what should be done to such drivers. However, I think if their license was taken away from them indefinitely that it would stop most of the speeding and failure to notice stop signs."

C. R. WILLIAMSON

"I think that they should just throw the book at drivers who break the law. I mean give them all the punishment that the law allows. I don't think that the fines help too much because they just pay them off and forget about them until they have to pay another. Maybe a little jail sentence would help them to stop and think before they continually broke the law."

MRS. AL SMITH

"I really don't know what they should do to stop people who continually break the law. I think that people who do things like that are just selfish and something should be done. I don't know if the fines that are given them help or not."

Seems like Fate is playin a mean trick on a feller when he has looked forward to the Easter Holidays as long as Buster has and then he comes up with a bad cold. Especially after he had eaten a jar of pickles the last few days trying to assure himself that he wasn't going to have the mumps to ruin his vacation.

— tp —

Our black pup got in on his first Easter egg hunt last Thursday. Evidently he was curious about the colored eggs the first grade mothers from Central School had hidden for the children to hunt. When we came home he was out in the pasture picking up the eggs and eating them like a veteran at the game.

Maybe he is still wonderin why we shut him up when he was havin such a picnic all to himself.

Looks as if Family Fun Night which is scheduled for Friday night in the High School auditorium is going to be another evenin of hilarity for those attendin. The program is for the public and the tickets may be purchased from Home Demonstration club women in each community or at the door Friday night.

The stunt night is an annual affair put on by the H.D. Clubs of the county to raise funds for the Council Budget.

By Vern Sanford

Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, Tex — Most of Governor Allan Shivers' program passed through the legislative session with the greatest of ease.

There will be an increase of $402 per year in public school teachers' pay; state employees will get a salary increase of $120 per year; and $10,687,500 will be spent for state buildings.

Not only did the Legislature make those appropriations, it also passed a tax bill to raise the money.

To pay for the governor's program, the Legislature passed an increase in taxes on natural gas production, corporations, and beer.

Largest amount will come from gas, the levy being raised from 5.72 to 9 percent of wellhead value, starting next September 1. This will bring an estimated $14 million per year. The tax will be reduced to 8 percent the second year and 7 percent the third.

Increased from $1.25 to $2 per $1,000 of capital value was the franchise tax on corporations. This hike is expected to produce $8.6 million per year.

Beer taxes were raised from $1.37 to $2 a barrel and will bring in about $3 million more per year.

Trouble Over Communists
Near the end of the session, one of Shivers' proposals ran into trouble.

To a conference committee went a bill to outlaw Communists. The Senate refused to accept House amendments to the measure.

Senator Rogers Kelley, author of the bill, had a sharp verbal exchange with Senator W. H. Moore about the proposition.

Moore asked the presiding officer, Lieutenant Governor Ben Ramsey, a question on the voting, and Kelley said, "If you want to vote with the Communists, vote no."

"I'll put my patriotism up against yours any day," Moore retorted.

"There will be order in the Senate," was Ramsey's order, and a sergeant-at-arms moved into the scene, which quieted when Kelley said he did not mean to reflect on any member.

Appropriations Tagged
Another snag was hit when Senator Jimmy Phillips "tagged" 18 appropriation bills, which means that a public hearing must be held on each.

Finance committee hearings were set on the bills Saturday morning, just three hours before the deadline on committee action for the special session.

Appropriations involved included buildings for the Waco, Gainesville and Gatesville state institutions, several state colleges, a probation system, the committee on alcoholism, and emergency grants for state agencies.

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: It sounds to us like the Bootleg Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has been thinking too much about the hydrogen bomb. It affects a lot of people that way.

— O —

Dear editor:

I was out here on my Johnson grass farm yesterday afternoon tryin to steady my nerves after readin about this newest kink, the cobalt bomb which you fire-up from a raft out in the ocean and row for the other shore while clouds of radioactive stuff drift toward the opposite shore, wiping out all life before them. You know some people steady their nerves by lightin into a lot of work, jumping on their tractor or grabbin a hoe, but I have never gotten that nervous.

The way I calm my nerves is to stretch out on the ground under a shade tree and watch a buzzard sail around the sky in a big circle without ever flappin his wings, and if more people had used my method, we wouldn't have to worry over the hydrogen bomb. Wouldn't have had one.

But now that we've got it I see no reason in duckin the job of facin up to it. I notice where President Eisenhower said we have no plans for buildin a bigger bomb, the one we've got now is big enough to accomodate any city and as I see it, it's now up to the cities to get bigger if they want us to keep forgin' ahead in bomb sizes.

But what I started out to say was I've been readin about the plight the cities find themselves in when they start thinkin about evacuating their citizens in case of a hydrogen bomb attack. I don't see how they're gonna do it successfully. I guess if you had time you could get all the people out of Dallas or Houston say, but it sure would be hard on bobwire fences and growin crops around there, especially if some enemy hit on the idea of stagin dummy raids, just cranking up their planes two or three times a week and headin for a city just to see the people scatter. I tell you, after five or six of these there wouldn't be a stalk of cotton or grass growin within miles of Dallas or Houston, all trampled into the ground by the fleeing citizens.

In ancient times, you know, when an enemy attacked, everybody fled to the city and shut the gate behind em, but modern civilization has reversed this trend.

What it proves is that cities probably were a mistake in the first place.

I still say, though, the Texas Legislature ought to take this thing by the horns and outlaw the hydrogen bomb before mankind rubs himself out. It's gonin to be hard on Legislature if it happens and there's nobody left to tax.

Yours faithfully,

day with only one dissenting vote and was whipped through the Senate committee in record time. Final passage came during the late session Friday night when the lawmakers ordered themselves locked in to hold a quorum. The bill provides that anyone who sells gas to farmers for agricultural use is not to be placed under regulations as a public utility.

Seven cities in the drought stricken Panhandle area will benefit from a bill passed by the House which creates a Green Belt municipal and industrial water authority serving those cities.

Author of the bill, which received 112-to-one approval, was Representative Elbert Reeves of Matador. The cities affected are Childress, Clarendon, Hedley, Memphis and Quanah, all on U. S. Highway 287 between Amarillo and Vernon and between Wellington and Paducah, and 30 miles north and south of Childress on U. S. 83. The House amended Reeves' bill to provide that the authority could not acquire or develop underground water. The authority would have the power to use ponds and could condemn property within its limits.

The Legislature also has created a water conservation district including the city limits of Nocona.

Claims Charges False
False charges have been made against the Texas insurance industry, says Garland A. Smith, chairman of the Texas Board of Insurance Commissioners.

Smith referred particularly to reports printed in armed service publications that "thousands of Air Force personnel will suffer cash value losses in now defunct life insurance and endowment policies" from a Texas insurance company that recently went into receivership.

These reports are without foundation, said Smith in a telegram to Robert B. Anderson, undersecretary of defense.

Smith told Anderson that the company involved, United World Life of El Paso, sold only one policy to a member of the armed forces.

Texas, added Smith, could not have become the insurance capital of the world, with 1860 licensed companies and $15 billion of insurance in force if the state's insurance laws were not basically sound.

Senator Joseph McCarthy will be a San Jacinto Day speaker in Houston if he is "still alive" at that time, he has told Hugh Roy Cullen.

University of Texas students opposed the selection of McCarthy as a speaker and asked Cullen that the matter be reconsidered.

Signatures of 1,571 students were on the petition delivered to Cullen, Houston oil millionaire and philanthropist, by Bob Kenney, editor of the university newspaper, and Ronnie Dugger, a former editor.

Courts Cost Plenty
C. Woodrow Laughlin, ousted district judge of Alcie, has paid $3,079 in court costs resulting from the historic trial that brought about his removal.

Laughlin, elected to his position with the help of Duval County Boss George Parr, lost the case when the Texas Supreme Court found that he improperly dismissed a grand jury that had indicted him, and that he feared would indict his brother, a Jim Wells county commissioner.

Another development in the South Texas strife occurred when the court of criminal appeals here refused the appeal of Mario (El Turko) Sapet from conviction and a 99-year sentence in the slaying of Jacob S. Floyd Jr. of Allice.

The Parr forces carried an election in Duval county last week—but not by the margin to which they have been accustomed in former years.

Orders went out from Department of Public Safety headquarters to start enforcement of the automobile inspection law immediately after the April 15 deadline.

Many thousands of vehicles had not been inspected as the deadline approached, and a last minute rush was anticipated. Auto owners missing the deadline are subject to a $200 fine.

Modified this year, the car inspection law is concerned only with lights, brakes, horn and windshield wipers.

Senatorial Candidate Announces

State politicians were beginning to crank up for the campaigns designed to get votes in the Democratic primaries in July and August.

At the moment, the Senate race is drawing considerable interest. Incumbent Lyndon Johnson has a definite opponent in Representative Dudley Dougherty of Beeville whose wife made his race official by paying the $625 filing fee to Wallace Savage of Dallas, State Democratic chairman.

Coke R. Stevenson Jr., also was mentioned as another possible candidate. He now is administrator of the Texas Liquor Control Board. It was Stevenson's father who was defeated by Senator Johnson in the much publicized race six years ago. Austin friends of the junior Stevenson revealed that he had been approached about making the race this year.

Thomas Evans Riddle, one of the last five survivors of the Civil War, died at the Texas Confederate Home for Men last week. The attending physician said that death was caused by the "accumulative infirmities of old age." He was 107 years old.

There now are only four remaining veterans of the War Between the States. Walter W. Williams III is another Texas veteran of that war. He lives on a farm near Franklin, Tex. Williams, a sprightly 111 years of age, appeared in Austin recently to kick off the second annual "Lone Star Car Races" sponsored by Bergstrom Air Base.

can I make up to disguise this?
A. To my way of thinking your best bet is to visit your physician and have him recommend some dietary changes. Usually, your condition is due to enlarged capillaries near the skin's surface, caused by over-stimulation of food, liquids, heat or cold.

Q. What is a good after-shampoo rinse for blonde hair?
A. A level teaspoon of borax to a gallon of water makes a good one.

Q. How can I remove perspiration odor from some of my garments?
A. Try rubbing over the affected parts with a light solution of ammonia and water — about eight times as much water as ammonia.

Q. What advice can you give on the tweezing of eyebrows?
A. Above all, keep them natural looking! Tweeze only the stray hairs that won't line up with the natural arch. The brittle, artificial look which comes from obviously plucked eyebrows is no longer in fashion. Strive for the "natural look."

Q. How can I treat facial pimples externally?
A. One often — successful treatment is a handful of starch in the morning bath, and a thick paste of starch spread on at night before retiring.

Q. What is a good exercise for slimming the midriff?
A. With feet slightly apart, stand erect, arms outstretched. Touch the back of the left hand to the right toe, alternating with the right hand to the left toe, knees straight — fifty times.

Q. How do I mix an oatmeal facial mask?
A. Apply to face and neck a paste made of three ounces of oatmeal, the juice of one lemon, and some witch hazel. Let stay 30 minutes.

The Lone Star Study Club held its annual guest-day program in the home of Mrs. Louie LeGrand Tuesday afternoon. J. C. Ricketts was guest speaker.

Ricketts told of a recent trip made with Mrs. Ricketts to Alaska, describing the countryside and points of interest enroute. He described places of interest in Alaska and the beautiful scenery, and told of the animal and plant life, the chief products and something of the people.

During the social hour refreshments were served from an Easter table laid with a cutwork linen cloth and centered with a flower nest filled with tinted Easter eggs. Pastel shades with green predominated.

Members and their special guests present included: Mrs. V. E. Dodson, and her mother, Mrs. I. W. Scott of Canyon; Mrs. E. W. Hobson, Mrs. O. M. Dickey, Mrs. Jacobsen Jr., and her mother, Mrs. E. E. Fridley; Mrs. Jim Higgins, Mrs. C. D. Helton, Mrs. Joe Kendall, Mrs. Sandford Smith, Mrs. Vivian Major, Mrs. H. M. Cogswell, Mrs. Earl Phillips, Mrs. J. H. Lomas, Mrs. Robert Thompson, Mrs. B. Reddell, Mrs. Ed Warren and her mother, Mrs. Cross Randle of Tulsa, Okla.; Mrs. Glenn Witherspoon, Mrs. Tom Howard, Mrs. R. B. Blue, Mrs. W. B. Phillips, Mrs. Louie LeGrand and her mother, Mrs. Ida Ricketts; Mrs. G. W. Newsom and Mrs. H. C. Williams.

Knobs on Lids
If the knob of any cooking pan lid comes off slip a screw through the hole with the head on the inside of the lid. Then screw a cork on the protruding end. The knob will not get hot and can be renewed when desired.

Insecticide
An effective insecticide for moths and caterpillars can be made with 50 parts of resin, 40 parts of lard, and 40 parts of steam.

Hardened Glue
If a little vinegar is added to the hardened glue and allowed to stand for a day or two, it will be rendered fit for use again.

Comparative Measures
1 cup equals 1/2 pint
2 teaspoons equal 1 dessertspoon.
4 teaspoons equal 1 tablespoon.
2 dessertspoons equal 1 tablespoon.

Beauty At Home

Q. Is there something I can do to the skin tissue around my eyes to help prevent wrinkles?
A. Being sure to use special gentleness on this sensitive area, spread a little rich eye cream or oil over it with the cushion of the finger. No pulling or rubbing, just a sort of caressing technique. Leave this cream or oil on overnight.

Q. What can I do about numerous blackheads on my skin?
A. Buy some tincture of green soap at your druggist's and work up a good lather into the skin. Apply a hot steam towel on top of this to help soften clogged matter in the pores. Repeat this process again—then follow with a warm water rinse. This should help your condition.

Q. What is a good astringent lotion for oily skin?
A. A little lemon juice mixed with a bowl of ice water. Splash this on the skin after washing and massaging briskly — before your makeup.

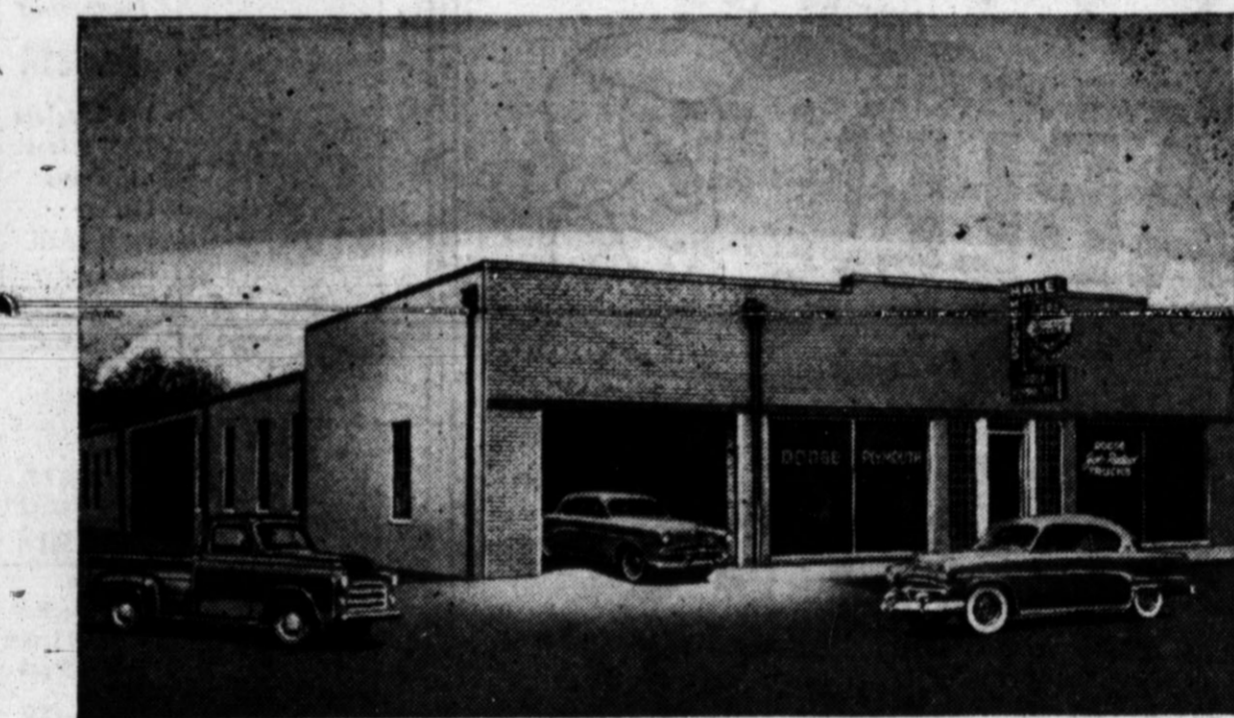

Q. My face is ruddy, flushed and florid, with visible veins around my nose and on my cheeks. How

State Adopts New Highway Signal Manual

A new manual for a uniform system of traffic control devices has been adopted by the Texas Highway Commission as a part of the Highway Department's continuing efforts to improve safety on the highways, it was announced in Austin today by Colonel E. B. Tilley of Houston, President of the Texas Safety Association.

"As a part of the overall program to reduce accidents and vacillate the orderly flow of traffic," Col. Tilley stated, "highway planning experts have long recognized the need for uniformity of design, application, operation and maintenance of traffic control devices on both a state-wide and nationwide scale."

"The standards contained in this manual are based, insofar as possible, on national standards, recommended by the American Association of State Highway Officials and the National Conference on Street and Highway Safety, both recognized authorities on the problems confronting highway planning engineers," Col. Tilley pointed out.

The most recent steps in conforming with these national standards have been to mark Texas highways with safe speed indications at curves, speed zones where necessary for safe driving, and in some instances illuminate highways to aid safer night driving.

He urged that local units of government in counties and municipalities adhere to the standards of this manual in design, application and operation in the interest of safer and more efficient street and highway transportation.

THE FINEST LUBRICANT

PLYON Q-X

KNOWN TO MANKIND

(Without Moly)

PLYON Q-X with Moly is a new magic lubricant for all types of combustion engines... performs wonders in lubrication never before possible, and is unaffected by heat or cold. The secret ingredient, "Q-X", actually impregnates the metal with oil. As the engine is heated, the pores of the metal "sweat" lubrication, but even before the engine becomes heated, Moly has been "on the job" preventing "Dry Starting."

IN THE FUEL
Users of PLYON Q-X with Moly will receive a higher degree of peak performance by adding one pint of regular PLYON Q-X to each 10 gallons of gasoline every 1,000 miles. This treatment adds to the effectiveness of the Moly-plating by fortifying the continuing process of undersurface lubrication. It further aids in the removal of carbon, gum, sludge, varnish and ash. PLYON Q-X in the fuel tank provides absorption of condensed water formation giving double protection for instant starting under any weather conditions.

This week I got a big, fat envelope with a Paris, France, postmark. I opened it with misgivings, but was over-joyed to find that it contained a letter from Mrs. Earl Eubanks, long-time Hereford resident, who is now touring Europe. She promised, before she left, to send some items back—and she kept her word. She also inclosed a brief letter, which I found even more interesting than the article.

Chiefly, she was apologizing for her penciled writing. "These French typewriters," says Mrs. Eubanks, "do not use very good English. The A's are all Q's; the W's are something else—and the commas are too." She even suggests Robert Lued as an interpreter, since he is familiar with her penmanship. However, I had no trouble in deciphering her writing. I think she has encountered such difficulty in foreign lands that she is possibly self-conscious about such things. Also, she adds that to get in touch with her one should contact Mrs. C. P. Cockrell, who will relay the message. Mrs. Cockrell, it seems, is being briefed regularly on Mrs. Eubanks' itinerary. Germany is her next stop. Here's her first article, which mainly concerns preparations necessary for the trip.

By Cecile B. Eubanks

First requirement: Birth Certificate. Youngster's have them, but if you are past 50 years of age, thus born before vital statistics were a "must," you may find it a long, drawn out job. I applied for mine 10 years ago at the State Capitol of Missouri, as I was born in that state. Several documentary proofs were demanded. I used my marriage certificate, insurance policy and hospital records. It took six months to secure the birth certificate. It took Earl almost a year.

Second requirement: Pictures for Passport. Specifications secured through travel agent or post office where passport is applied for.

Third requirement: Appear in person before nearest Federal Court clerk with someone, not related, who has known you for more than two years and will sign your application to identify you. Have heard recently that your local county clerk can secure the application for you.

Fourth requirement: Know where you want to go! This really should have been the first requisite. I was not sure at the time of application, so put in names of every country in Europe not behind the Iron Curtain. Also those of Holy Land, Turkey, Yugoslavia and India.

Fifth requirement: Get Visas. I needed but two visas, Turkey and Yugoslavia, unless I went to the Holy Land and was as yet undecided. I left the others until I made my decision. My passport was sent to each of these consulates in New York and, when returned, was sent in for "gray" card which admits one to Vienna, Austria.

Sixth requirement: Vaccinations. While waiting for your passport, you should be taking vaccinations for smallpox as you may not return to the U. S. without such certificate. As I drank water at meals, I also took typhoid and typhus shots. Influenza vaccines to help me withstand colds, etc. As it takes three typhoid shots about a week or more apart, start early. If going to India one has to take shots to immunize against Yellow Fever. This takes three months. If going into Africa, other than Egypt, one has to have cholera shots. Not having yet decided, I have not taken them. Shall probably not go to India this trip. Now is the time to get Dramamine tablets to avoid seasickness. It worked for me.

Seventh requirement: Secure letters. If going into Tito's Yugoslavia, you must carry a letter from your local police chief stating that within the last five years you have not been imprisoned for felony. Also from your county sheriff stating that you have not been convicted of any crime, including attempt to overthrow the U. S. government. This must be acknowledged by a notary. Each application must be accompanied by from $2 to $10 and two or more passport pictures.

Now that you've had your shots, passport received and visas in process, get letters from your pastor. You may not enter Israel without it. If you are a Lions Club member, Rotarian or what not, a letter from your local club makes you welcome wherever such a club exists.

Eighth requirement: Clothing. What you take with you in the way of clothing and for personal comfort means much. You can consult a local travel agent about this, especially concerning amount of currency allowed by the country you are entering. A man can take a couple of nylon shirts, ties and one suit, together with underthings, socks and one extra pair of shoes. Perhaps adding grooming articles—and soap. A woman needs—or thinks she needs more. I packed, unpacked, discarded and packed again and again. At last I had things eliminated to this extent. I left home for probably nine months with one pullman case and one canvas over-night TWA bag.

This bag was complicated—and bulged—by the fact I brought along my own pillow. And am I glad? I haven't missed a night's sleep. However, that pullman case has to be knelt on when it is closed. Now, of course, none of this is complicated if you buy a prepaid tour from a travel agent. I am opposed to being fenced in or being hedged about, so I wouldn't do that. Even so, the Universal Travel Agency in Amarillo gave me unlimited help. They secured my passage both ways, visas, gray cards and hotel reservations. Also train ticket for boat train from Le Harve to Paris, and my hotel room in Paris. Since then I have been on my own. And while it takes more time, I'm learning my way around of foot, or in cabs. Tomorrow I shall try the buses.

To go back to what you bring, make it as little as possible. You can buy anything here you can buy in USA. Some things cost much more. Good women's nylon hose are quite expensive. To protect local manufacturers, one can bring in but six pair of new hose. As I had 28 pair, I wore each a few minutes, then washed each pair. I could honestly declare they had been worn—and they clearly showed having been washed. Only six rolls of unused film can be brought into France. You have to leave any in excess of that in bond until you leave the country. I am finding that one suit to wear and one in luggage is sufficient for even a long stay such as I plan. (But I reserve the right to come home anytime the notion strikes me!) I bought a heavy coat when the lining is zipped in—and light when zipped out. Lining and all, it can be carried or worn and will not be weighed in if you fly. On international tickets one is allowed 55 pounds. I brought about 40 pounds—and that is plenty to lug around. I know now why the word "luggage" came into being. One camera can be carried by air without weighing in, but accessories such as flashlight, film, etc., are weighed.

My pullman case has to hold three nylon dresses, six blouses of various colors—nylon, of course, three pairs of health spot shoes for walking—and do you need them? One hat, stuffed full of underthings and stockings. All one first aid box of such drugs as I use at home, plus two bottles of penicillin, guaranteed to be good for one year. This is because penicillin is difficult to get over in this part of the world. However, a doctor can be found if one is ill enough and will give the penicillin if it is available.

The case also contains a package of toiletries (nylon package) plastic combs, brushes, etc. As I came over tourist class, I brought but one dinner dress—not formal. One of the nylons can be used as such if necessary. The bag contains neck scarfs of various colors, some costume jewelry, one long sleeve high-neck, brushed nylon gown and one thin nylon gown; three nylon sweaters which can be washed and have no need of blocking. I wore the dinner dress once on board ship and once in the hotel. Have worn sweaters because they are warm. A dark spencer, also nylon, is not bulgumose and can be worn under the suit jacket for warmth if long coat is not desired. I find this about the most often used bit of clothing I bought. It has never yet been warm enough for a suit without it. I also brought one nylon and wool knit slip and have worn it most of the time. Nylon gloves, of course, I brought one cotton suit of wrinkle proof material, but until I get to Italy, or the French Riviera I doubt if I wear it.

Of course, if you are going abroad for a short time, this luggage can be materially decreased. —more next week—

Clothespins
Soak the new clothespins in a vessel of boiling water to which a little baking soda is added, for 30 minutes. Rinse in cold water, let them dry in the sun and they will not break so readily.

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

Q. What is the correct way to melt paraffin?
A. Do not heat paraffin to the point of smoking, as this will make it liable to separate from the sides of the glasses or jars. It should be melted very slowly.

Q. How can I remove soot stains on white materials?
A. They can be removed very readily by rubbing well with the freshly cut portion of an onion and then placing in the sun.

Q. How can I make brooms last longer?
A. Wetting the brooms in boiling soapuds at least once a week will toughen them and prevent the wisps from falling out.

Q. How can I remove finger marks from furniture?
A. Rub over the marks with a cloth dipped in kerosene. Wipe over the surface with a clean cloth wrung out of hot water. Dry and polish.

Q. How can I bake two pies at the same time if the oven is small and the one pie overlaps the other?
A. Elevate one of them by placing a light tin plate on the rack and putting the pie on it to bake.

Q. How can I clean the lighter shade of leather in two-toned sport shoes?
A. Try using art gum. This often proves quite effective.

Q. How can I shorten the time it takes to peel apples and tomatoes?
A. Steep the apples in boiling water for a minute. Tomatoes should be placed in a colander, then in hot water for a moment, and the skins will come off easily.

Q. How can I polish mirrors?
A. After the mirror has been washed with warm water and soapuds, fold a newspaper into a pad and use this for polishing the surface.

Q. What can I do when ink has been spilled?
A. Wash it up immediately with lukewarm soapy water. If that fails to remove all traces, wash thoroughly with sweet milk.

Q. How can I improve the flavor of lemon pie?
A. Place the rind into the filling mixture for a few minutes, and then remove with a spoon. The flavor will be improved but it will not have that bitter taste that grated lemon rind often produces.

Q. How can I make a substitute funnel?
A. If in need of a small funnel to fill the salt and pepper cruet, make one by cutting off the top of the corner of an envelope and using this corner as a funnel.

Cockroaches
Scatter cucumber peelings around the haunts of cockroaches and they will act like poison. Or try using equal parts of powdered borax and white sugar.

Perfume for the Room
Fill any vase or bowl half of warm water and add a drops of violet water or violet fume.
