ONLY 15 MINUTES before the west wall of the gymnasium in the new high school building fell inward because of pressure from the high winds Thursday morning, workmen were called off that part of the building because the wind was blowing too hard for them to work. The wall was built of Haydite block, and had been faced for eight feet up on the inside with brick. An estimated $3,500 damage was done, and probably slowed the construction work by about a week, according to Lloyd Lane, who is superintendent of the construction for Gohman and Crouch, contractors. Until the accident occurred, the non-load bearing wall was not thought to be in any danger from the wind. (Staff Photo)

Year's City Budget Set At $239,400

A budget covering $239,400 in expected city fund requirements was approved, with a few minor changes, Thursday night by the Hereford City Commission.

The Thursday night meeting was a continuation of the regular meeting on Monday, which had been recessed because the mayor and one commissioner could not be present.

Prepared by City Manager Cecil Massey, the new budget is $6,450 higher than the city budget estimate last year, but revenue estimates have been raised about the same amount by increased property valuations in the city, and other items.

Changes in the budget included raising the salary of the City Clerk from $235 to $250 per month, and raising the salary of the deputy clerk from $190 to $220 per month.

At the request of Fire Chief Earl Phillips and Assistant Fire Chief Glenn Witherspoon, who attended the meeting, $1,000 was set aside in the fire department account for the purchase of a new fire truck, if and when needed.

List Of Expenditures

Included in the estimated list of expenditures are the following: general, $19,610.06; Fire Department, $7,143.14; Sanitary Department, $21,894.40; Parks Department, $4,790; Police Department, $25,096; Street Department, $14,404; Water and Sewer Department, $28,249; Capital Improvements, $24,550 from the general fund, and $9,845 from the Water and Sewer Fund; Interest and Sinking Fund requirements are $30,218.92; Highway 51 Improvements and a reserve build-up for utility extensions, $53,599.48. This includes $18,352.40 from the general fund, and $35,247.08 from the water and sewer fund.

Revenue estimates for the coming year include: Ad valorem property tax, current, $97,200; delinquent ad valorem taxes, $5,000; penalty and interest, $1,000; garbage and trash fees, $19,500; water and sewer, $87,000; Corporation Court fines, $6,000; licenses, $600; parking meters, $10,000; water taps and sale of pipe, $3,500; miscellaneous income, $1,100; 2 percent gross receipts tax on utilities, $8,500.

Minor Changes

Several minor changes in handling the city's business were proposed by the city manager. He suggested that policemen hired by the city buy their own uniforms, then be given a $10 a month uniform allowance. This will prevent the city from having a stock of uniforms which they cannot use. He also proposed changing men on the trash trucks from an hourly to a monthly basis, with sick leave and vacation time. The difference in the monthly salary of each man is expected to be only $3 a month. Until last year, these men were not even given a paid vacation, Massey pointed out, and he felt that it is best for the city and the employees to handle it on the other basis.

Capital expenditures will take the biggest slice out of the city's income, when water and sewer extensions are included, and Highway 51 improvements through Hereford.

Included in that part of the budget estimate are $7,500 for permanent paving, $6,000 for sewer lines, $600 for the exchange of a police car, and $4,730 for water lines and wells.

Total Indebtedness

Total bonded indebtedness for the city, which is about 8 percent of total property evaluations, according to an estimate made by Mayor Henry Sears, is now $642,000. The city's estimated assets of $30,000,000, interest and principal on bonds, and will need a total of $642,000 to pay the coming fiscal year.

On the recommendation of the auditors who checked the city's books, fewer items will go down as miscellaneous expenses in the various departments during the coming year.

One less city employee will be on the payroll during the coming year, except during tax season, and some changes were made in salary schedules to compensate for this.

In addition to the budget hearing, the commission approved the appointment of Mary V. Watts as city tax collector and assessor.

Those attending the meeting included Mayor J. H. Sears, commissioners Wayne Edwards and Raylan Evans, City Attorney Ray Cowsert, City Manager Cecil Massey, Fire Chief Earl Phillips, Glenn Witherspoon and John Backert.

Area Grocers Have Chance At Short Course

A rare opportunity is at hand for Hereford grocers and employees to brush up on their food store manners and procedures, according to G. E. Mullins, manager of the Chamber of Commerce.

Mullins was referring to an arrangement that has been made by the local grocers to co-sponsor a series of training sessions which open Monday night, March 29 at 8 o'clock in the Hotel Jim Hill ballroom.

The sessions will be conducted by Dick Clark, grocery training specialist and staff member of the University of Texas. The Texas Retail Grocers Association and the local Chamber of Commerce are co-operating with the local grocers as co-sponsors of the short course.

Instructor Has Experience
Clark, the instructor, is a former grocer with 11 years of experience to his credit as an operator in Central Texas. He states that this practical experience has provided him with a wonderful understanding of the grocer's problems and his responsibility in the community.

The course, grocery checking procedures, will aid in the development of the grocer's business. (Continued on Page 2)

Average City Tax Covers Many Items

In a special letter which City Manager Cecil Massey attached to the city budget estimate for presentation to the City Council, he gave an analysis of the average tax bill for a Hereford home owner and tax payer, and the manner in which this money is spent.

"This taxpayer, whom I shall call Herford Taxpayer Brown, will find that his tax bill is based on an assessment of a comfortable home and car with the tax amounting to $42.50 a year," the city manager noted.

He pointed out that the percentage of the total appropriation for the Police Department applied against this average taxpayer's tax bill was $4.25, which he is paying to protect his possessions against theft, to provide traffic control so he may operate his car on the streets with reasonable safety, and to assist his children to and from school in safety.

Cost of Protection
In short, for that sum Taxpayer Brown was being provided with as much protection as is possible under the circumstances on a 24-hour basis.

Another large item is the money provided for sanitation, and Massey figured that it cost Taxpayer Brown $3.82 of his tax bill plus the $9 a year service charge to have his garbage collected and disposed of in such a manner as to keep it from constituting a serious health menace.

This cost, he figured, was far less than it would have been if a private individual had been hired to do the same work.

Next item to capture the city manager's attention was that of $7,143.14 for the Fire Department, of which the average taxpayer puts up only $1.28 a year. Because of the Fire Department, Mr. Taxpayer Brown's fire insurance bill is $26 less than it would be if he lived outside the city, which is an important saving.

Debt Retirement
Next largest item on the budget is debt retirement, and Massey estimated that the average taxpayer's share of this was $5.50 a year. These debts include those incurred for paving, water and sewer extensions, the City Hall, storm drainage and parks, many of which directly help make the taxpayer's life more pleasant in Hereford.

Other portions of his tax bill would include 85 cents for the park department, 65 cents for street lights, and $1.90 each year for the maintenance of the streets.

In conclusion, the city manager pointed out that this average tax bill is about 11 1/2 cents a day, which did not appear excessive in relation to the essential service provided.

"Had he been looking over my shoulder all these weeks as I carefully examined the need for each proposed expenditure, he probably would have agreed that each item should not be further reduced," Massey added, referring again to the fictitious average taxpayer.

Don Zimmerman Announces For School Trustee
Sixth man to enter the race for school trustee of Hereford Rural High School district is Don Zimmerman, who filed Friday, according to Fred Baird, school district tax collector.

Those who filed previously are: Grady Rogers, Ira Scott, Frank Beizer, Robert Wagoner and Steve Clements.

Last day for filing is Tuesday afternoon at 5 o'clock.

Research On Potatoes Will Start This Week

Dr. Guy W. Adriance and three other men from College Station are scheduled to arrive in Hereford tonight and start work on the vegetable research program this week.

Howard Gault of the Hereford Vegetable Research Foundation, which will work with the group from College Station, said that potatoes in 29 different lots are to be planted immediately on a four or five acre patch of ground which has been offered by Ray Paetzold.

"This ground is particularly suitable because it has a center division which will allow more complete control of irrigation water," Gault said.

Gault is to act as liaison man between the foundation board of directors and the research staff.

Consultant Group
Until the services of a qualified man to carry out the research work can be obtained, which should be in the very near future, necessary work on the experimental acreage will be carried out under the direction of a consultant group appointed by Gault. Members of this group are Larry Loerwald, Newt Harding and Jack Renfro.

Other news concerning the Hereford Vegetable Growers and Shippers Research Foundation is that it has been "adopted" by the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce.

The Chamber will not have any direct control over the foundation; they will have to approve the board of directors for the foundation each year.

Present members of the foundation board include E. B. Hedrick, treasurer; Henry Benson, Lyle Blanton, Howard Beasley, Raylan Evans, Paul Harvey, Charles Huston, Larry Loerwald and Jack Renfro.

E. J. Hodges, who lives south of Summerfield, was caught under a tractor wheel he was trying to change last week. He suffered a broken ankle and crushed leg in the accident, according to reports.

Hodges lay with his leg under the tractor for about 20 minutes before he could make someone hear him. He will be in a cast about eight weeks.

ON DWI CHARGE

Botts Gets 26-Day Jail Term, Is Fined $200

A 26-day jail sentence and fine of $200 was assessed against Clarence Dale Botts Thursday when he pleaded guilty in County Court to a charge of driving while intoxicated. He is the seventh DWI convicted in County Court this year.

Until the trial, Botts had been free on $200 bond. The bond was posted following his arrest after Botts was involved in an accident at the corner of Avenue K and Wulf Street late the afternoon of March 12.

Five persons were injured in the accident, when the car which Botts was driving collided with the side of a Nash Rambler which had apparently started to make a left turn off Avenue K onto Wulf Street. Both cars were going south just before the time of the accident investigating officers believe.

Mrs. Katie Daniel, driver of the Rambler, received a broken collarbone in the accident, and three persons who were passengers in the Chevrolet convertible which Botts was driving were injured and temporarily hospitalized. One, Alton Brock, was transferred to Amarillo Air Force Base Hospital.

Jury Trial Waived
Botts waived a trial by jury when he appeared Thursday before Judge Horace L. Schloss.

Two witnesses were called by County Attorney J. Edward Line to testify for the state.

Hereford Chief of Police Leo F. Box, first witness, testified he was at the home of a friend one and a half blocks from the intersection where the accident occurred, and he heard the sound of the impact when the cars collided.

When Chief Box arrived at the scene of the accident, he saw Botts under the wheel of the convertible, but the others involved—three men and Mrs. Daniel—were all lying in the road.

When the defendant's car collided with the Nash Rambler, the lighter car was knocked approximately 170 feet sideways, the Chief testified. The convertible traveled on for about 123 feet, hit a tree, bounced off, and continued some 31 feet more before stopping completely.

Both cars are a total loss, Chief Box added.

Chief Box further testified that Botts smelled strongly of some

Neill Announces For Hide, Animal Inspector's Post

Lloyd R. Neill this week authorized the Brand to announce his candidacy for the office of County Hide and Animal Inspector of Deaf Smith County, subject to action of the Democratic Primaries.

Neill was appointed by the Commissioners Court in February to fill the unexpired term of Bruce Woodell in this office and has, since that time, been performing the duties.

"I believe that this previous experience qualifies me to know the duties of the office and to fill them to the satisfaction of all concerned," Neill said. "I will appreciate your consideration in my race for election and if elected will continue to fill the office to the best of my ability."

Eight Area Officers Finish Police School

Chief of Police Leo F. Box was "arrested" Friday when policemen finishing an FBI-conducted course worked out the clues from a "burglary."

Officers had a supposedly actual crime scene from which they worked, and followed through in good fashion, Chief Box said.

Among those who completed the entire course, part of which was held in January, included all Hereford policemen and two from Friona. They are: Chief of Police Leo F. Box, Joe Stephens, Clyde Barker, Marvin J. Boever, Herman V. Helton and Morris L. Brown of Hereford; and Friona officers Jim Roberts and Roy Wilson.

Paving Program Plans Are Made

Tentative plans for a spring paving program were made at the last City Commission meeting. The number of streets to be paved will depend on the number of citizens who want to participate in the paving program, the commission agreed.

The City Commission requires that any citizens wishing paving should obtain a petition and get at least 85 percent of all home owners' signatures. Those that fail to sign will have their street paved and the city will assess their property for the payment of their paving program under the 85 percent plan.

In order to be able to ask for bids and complete the program, the City Commission voted to accept only those petitions that are presented to the Commission on or before April 15th. At that time the city plans to have the city engineer draw up the plans and ask for bids from contractors that might be interested in the program.

The city of Hereford will pay 10 percent of the total cost of the paving and curb and gutter, however 85 percent of the home owners must sign up before the city will accept the responsibility of starting a paving program.

Paving contract will be awarded to the lowest bidder.

Dr. and Mrs. Mayes Miller of Dimmitt were guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Alexander in Hereford Wednesday.

Schools To Hold Clothing Drive

Hereford Public Schools will take part in the twelfth National Children's Clothing Crusade this week, according to Superintendent George Graham, who has asked that the school children of Hereford bring their old clothing to school either Wednesday or Thursday of this week.

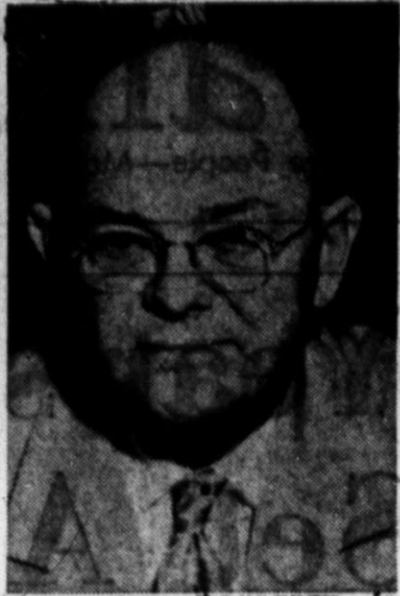

Hereford Schools have been asked to take part in the Children's Clothing Crusade to collect clothing to aid Korea, seven countries of Western Europe, two southwestern Indian reservations and isolated rural areas of eight southern states.

Every family in Hereford is being asked to send a bundle of good, serviceable clothing to school during the drive. The clothing will be distributed by Save The Children Federation, a children's service organization which renders aid not only to neglected children in America, but also to victims of war overseas.

Clothing for Korea will be sorted and reconditioned in Federation Clothing Centers and then shipped to Korea where it will be distributed through the Unified Command. Federation officials report that there are nine million victims of communist aggression in Korea who are desperately in need of aid, as well as millions still in need in Europe where, in certain areas, conditions are still tragic.

Thousands of children in handicapped rural areas of America are unable to attend school as a result of being inadequately clothed. Officials of Save The Children Federation, report that thousands of American children do not attend school because they lack sufficient clothing.

The clothing drive in Texas is expected to raise 70,000 pounds of clothing, Graham reported, and added, "The Bundle Week Drive will be the greatest effort ever made in Texas schools to collect clothing. If each family in Texas will send at least one bundle of good clothing during Bundle Week, the goal will be reached."

Blanton To Speak At WTCC Meet

Lyle Blanton, Hereford's director of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, will address members of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce at the regional chamber's 36th annual convention in San Angelo, March 29-30.

G. E. Mullins, manager of the Hereford Chamber of Commerce, will preside at the round table of community relations at the convention.

Results of an election of new officers to head the 5,000 member organization will be announced at the close of the convention's general business session which ends at noon on March 30.

DANBURY, Conn. — Firemen left their engines behind when called to a grass fire. It was just across the street from the firehouse. They carried buckets of water, brooms and hand pumps to the scene.

A Red Switch
HONG KONG — The Communist news agency carried a succession of stories about a new Moscow-Peking Express, a luxury limited which went into service between the two communist capitals. The stories told everything about the train except how it managed to run on two different track gauges — Russia has wide gauge track, Manchuria and China medium gauge.

A telephone query to the Communist newspaper Ta Kung Pao in Hong Kong (which published these stories) brought the following reply:

"We have wondered about this ourselves. We don't know how they do it. But we know that the Communists are able to surmount such difficulties. They do it with a special switch or something."

Water District Board Met With Governor's Group

High Plains Underground Water Conservation District board members, with Tom McFarland and Bill Broadhurst of the district office, met with the governor's committee March 12 at the state capitol to investigate all the underground and surface water problems of the state of Texas.

The governor's committee is to recommend to the governor and legislature such legislation as they feel is needed after they have heard all the hearings. High Plains underground Water Conservation district was the only underground water district to report.

The water conservation program is getting 99 percent co-operation in this district, with reference to spacing of wells and permits. There is some waste however that the district is trying to stop, according to board member V. E. Dodson.

W. O. Fortenberry of Lubbock is president of the board; Tom McFarland, office manager; Bill Broadhurst, engineer and hydrologist. Other members attending besides Dodson were from Hart, Springlake and Floyd County.

Members of the governor's board were: three members of the state Senate, three members of the House of Representatives and three members appointed by the governor. There were also a secretary and manager.

Dodson reported that the district seemed to make a good impression on the board and they are getting co-operation when members from other districts are not.

While there they listened to the Canadian River members report on their project and the governor's board showed no opposition on that matter either. They proposed a Canadian river dam that would furnish water to 13 cities on the high plains.

PORTLAND, Ore. — Remember Phez, the dog aided by a hearing aid made by his master, Dr. R. M. Erwin Jr. Phez got his name and picture in the papers all over the country.

His master took him duck hunting recently. His shoulders were lamed by rheumatism or arthritis. Doctor Erwin tried a heat lamp treatment, but it didn't do much good. Then he got two hand warmers that are activated by chemicals. He sewed pockets in Phez's canvas coat and buttoned in the hand warmers.

The shoulder stiffness disappeared quickly.

After the injured persons had been taken to the hospital, Chief Box further testified, two Hereford officers who had been directing traffic found a case of beer and an unopened half pint bottle of whisky in the defendant's car.

Admitted Drinking Beer
Botts told the judge that he had been drinking some beer and did not deny ownership of the beer and whisky. However, he did not take the witness stand to testify in his own behalf.

Sheriff Lowell Sharp, who was called to the witness stand after Chief Box had testified, said that he did not investigate the accident, but that he did talk to the defendant, Botts, at the hospital. Sheriff Sharp said he asked the defendant if he wanted a blood test taken, Botts had answered that he did, and a blood test was taken.

At the time of the trial, the report on the blood test had not been received.

Farm Bureau Cancels Auction Until Rain

Directors of the Farm Bureau met and voted to cancel the auction sale scheduled for March 21 until it rains, according to Grant Hanna, chairman of the sales committee.

"We are sorry that we have to cancel the sale but it isn't doing too well due to the dust storms. If it rains within the next two weeks we will schedule another public sale, and we would like to have the full co-operation of the farmers," Hanna said.

Botts pleaded guilty to this charge in Justice of the Peace court in Hereford, was fined, and paid the fine.

Judge Schloss also asked for the defendant's driver's license. When he had received Botts' Texas driver's license, the judge told Botts that his privilege to drive any type of motor vehicle in Texas was automatically suspended for a period of time not to exceed one year from the date of conviction.

WHEN WELDING TORCHES sputter against the skyline where the steel skeleton of the new High School building is going up, it means that soon part of the structure will be ready for the masonry to go in around it, covering the buildings bare bones. Electric arc welding is being used to put the cross members permanently in place. As in most modern construction, the sound of the riveter's hammer is almost unknown. Note the catlike assurance of the steel workers as they work on the narrow steel beams. Staff Photo)

Services Released 4,420 Texans In Month Of February

AUSTIN — A total of 4,420 Texans were reported as being separated from the armed forces in February, according to a state Selective Service headquarters report to Washington released Wednesday.

During the same month, a total of 4,091 Texans went into the service by both enlistment and draft route, the report showed. A little more than 3,000 of this number enlisted.

A total of 1,007 draftees were inducted in Texas, Brigadier General Paul L. Wakefield, state draft director said and 57 Texas inductees were processed in other states.

Most of the Texans going into the service went into the army, 759 by enlistment and 1,064 through the draft boards. The Air Force got the most enlistees, 1,137.

State draft boards sent only 548 men for physical-mental examinations during February. Of this number, 285 were rejected by the armed forces.

HELEN ANN GIPSON, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Gipson, 324 Avenue B, celebrated her 12th birthday Friday afternoon with a birthday party in the home of her parents. Games were played, and television also furnished entertainment. Miniature Easter baskets were given as favors. Refresh-

Everywhere I go people are down on me about the weather. They really are. Ran into Jay Boston the other day and he was giving me the very dickens. Jay says he is disgusted with me. He says he is switching over to Uncle Andy Thomas. I think he maybe has something, at that. I may start quoting Uncle Andy myself. Anyway, he couldn't be any worse than

I am—or the Weather Bureau, for that matter. Uncle Andy is a "doodle bug" expert and maybe he uses it in his weather predictions. Anyway, I am going to check with him.

However, it could be worse. I was down Lubbock way the other day—and it is blowing much, much more than here. This is also true of Littlefield and some of the intermediate areas. You could tell the difference along six to 10 miles south of Dimmitt. It got better all of the way back into Hereford. Also ran into an old boy from Bay City. He says the dust has been coming in all along the coast. They are likewise getting their share around Ft. Worth and Dallas. My wife has an aunt who lived in Wellington for a dozen or more years. She was always unhappy because of the sand and dust. This year they sold out lock, stock and barrel and moved back to her old stomping grounds in the Decatur-Rhame country. You never saw anyone so happy as this old gal. Well, sir, the dust has been blowing in so bad down there that she says it is worse than Wellington was last year. She is still unhappy. This dust is like the "Eyes of Texas." You just can't escape it. Not even in Oklahoma.

Why? Different people have different answers. Some make sense, others don't. However, I do think that one reason our dust has been less than most other Plains towns may be attributed to the alert, progressive methods our farmers are using around here. You often see some old boy out working on the coldest days. Down through the years we have gained some know-how. It is a big help, but apparently we need some more.

I just got hold of Uncle Andy. He is definite. It will rain on Saturday, March 27. Maybe again on March 28. Uncle Andy says there is no question. He even said that I have been doing pretty good for a kid—and that my hunches were OK. However, Uncle Andy says things aren't running normal this season. You can't depend entirely on hunches. You need a little science. He says by all rules and regulations we should have had a down-pour on Thursday, March 18. What did we get? A dust storm. This is all screwball, but he is positive about March 27. Uncle Andy says he bases his calculation on "laws." We have had two this month. He is scientific about the whole thing, except that he sometimes throws in a touch of rheumatism for good measure. That's what the weather department needs. A touch of rheumatism. Anyway, Uncle Andy is positive when it comes to March 27. He says if it doesn't rain on that day he will even help me eat that bale of hay I am supposed to get. He means it, so put a big red circle around March 27-28—and get out your umbrella. You'll need it.

Bess Moore is threatening to announce for mayor. I don't think she is serious, though. She was just kidding about the fact that the last two mayors got married while they were in office.

Meanwhile, six people have really and truly announced for the school board. There will possibly be some more. This is the toughest job of all—and it doesn't pay one red cent. However, it is most important. The first thing people ask when they start to move to a community is about the schools. I notice something else this year. A lot of people are filing their own names, rather than going on by petition. A long list of candidates, it seems to me; is good. The more candidates, the greater the choice. One thing is sure, some more building will come within the next few years. This is true, regardless of the outcome of the election.

Some guy just called up wanting to know where he can buy a bear trap. He wouldn't give his name, but he sure was burning. He says that someone, probably kids, have been stealing gas from automobile tanks, irrigation wells and farm barrels. Furthermore, he says someone is going to get carried off in a stretcher. He says this is a real warning. I asked him politely if he ever stole a watermelon when he was a kid, but he wouldn't answer the question. Said he was claiming his rights under the Fifth Amendment. However, he never did laugh. He was serious. In fact, after he hung up the phone I even got to wondering if he thought I was stealing his gasoline. Honest, Mr.irate Gentleman, it wasn't me I just charge mine—and let the service station people worry about it. This is legal, although it might amount to the same thing.

On the other hand, comes a bunch of kids looking for some work. They are a handful of Boy Scouts in the 12-to-14-year age group. They will do any kind of work that's honest. I know they mean it, because they even went to see Marlin Gilliland to find out if he would let them dig graves. A kid don't offer to dig graves unless it is strictly an emergency. If you have any work around the place, give these kids a chance. They might fool you. Call Cecil Massey at 622. They left their number over there when they asked for a chance to sweep the streets. They are sincere. They mean business.

Beryl Elliston and I are once again on speaking terms. He collects these dinosaur remains and relics. He is even going to bring by two of his most unusual items for me to see. Guess what? One of them is the 3-million-year-old knee joint of an early Panhandle mosquito. The other is a prehistoric humming bird tooth (species Calypte Anna) which once roamed the Plains. I can't wait. Besides, something tells me that this renewed friendship will be of short duration. I want Bob Higgins on hand for the showing. He is the only truly honest man who can remember when these varmints roamed this country. You can always depend on Bob.

Hub Homer and Kenneth Coker are having another feud. Hub was in drinking coffee when the wholesale ice cream man came along with some displays made out of putty. They sure can fool you, too. Anyway, they fooled Hub so completely that he ate a spoon of the stuff before he realized the hoax.

If you have wondered about the small acreage on K Street with the blown down fence, it belongs to Pic Harman. It is, in fact, his pride and joy. Pic started out to establish one of those California chicken ranches, but lost part of the fence and has changed over to tomatoes. He has a three-inch well on the plot and is planning a Tomato Ranch.

Nell Spradley and Meredith Ireland gave me quite a lecture the other morning. They wanted to borrow a pencil, which I didn't have. They attributed all of the ills and woes of The Brand to the fact that I didn't have a pencil. I didn't tell them, but the reason I didn't have a pencil in the first place was because I had let Paul Harvey borrow it about three minutes before.

Mrs. Wayne Houghton, who was reared in England, is most unhappy because I said that the English newspapers have ads on the front pages. This may be true regarding the small papers like the Hereford Times, says Mrs. Houghton, but the big ones pretty well follow the pattern of putting the advertising on inside pages. She named over quite a few of these papers to prove her point, but I never did doubt her. Having been reared in England and having read the papers most of her life, she certainly should know.

Newspapering, as we know it today, got many of its basic ideas from London's famous Fleet Street, therefore, I am happy to get this point straightened out. I wanted to ask Mrs. Houghton how these West Texas dusters compare with the London fog, but never did get a chance. I am sure she will prefer the fog—but I can't think of two more contrasting conditions under which one might live.

Pat McCullough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McCullough, 139 Texas Avenue, was one of Kappa Sigma Fraternity pledges at Texas Tech this past weekend. McCullough, a graduate of Hereford High School in 1953, entered college last September.

Edward Charles Reinauer, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Reinauer of the Dawn Community, was one of 34 pledges to the Sigma Nu Fraternity at Texas Tech last weekend. Reinauer graduated from Hereford High School in 1952 and entered college that fall.

Editor Wonders If Papers Show Best Of News

By the Associated Press
A man said he felt all right until he read the newspaper and all the bad news therein. He blamed the newspaper. But newspapers don't create the news and usually the most dramatic events are trouble—a big accident, an oil well fire, a political argument, the cold war, a catastrophe. You're a reader—you're reading this. What do you want in a newspaper?
Alton Blakeslee of New York, the Associated Press' science editor, asks: "Would newspapers better reflect human interests if the front page—the show window—intentionally varied the diet of news considered worthy of page one treatment?"
"Would readers be more loyal if every day the front page had some story which was funny, poignant, constructive or building up the world?

"Is some forward, creative step more significant than a minor accident, more deserving of a place in the show window?"
Blakeslee was talking to other newspapermen, the state meeting in Dallas of managing editors of Associated Press newspapers in Texas.
They listened, for that's how they build their newspapers—finding out what you, the reader, want to read.
But then Blakeslee says: "I don't know whether the public function of newspapers is such that we should bow to the will—or whims—of a majority of readers without considering the desires of a minority—and the minority may be nuts or hipped on some subject, or be our leading, influential thinkers."
Blakeslee suggested science stories for a balanced diet of reading. "Science is news," he says, "when it is a story that interests human beings or vitally concerns their welfare, ambitions, dreams, their needs."
People generally won't spend much effort on reading a story unless it is a subject close to their hearts for some reason, he says. So we get down to what is close to your heart, you readers. And Blakeslee asks: "What was the biggest news event to you, personally, last year?

"It might have been trouble. But big events might have included buying a new car, a new house, a new baby, a raise, a reunion with friends, something constructive."
"Do we remember the good things longer than the bad?"
A newspaper has news to sell. It usually gets just the complaints. It's like a store selling refrigerators. You like one you buy but you don't call up and say "I sure do like that refrigerator I bought" but let it go haywire, and you call.
A newspaper is more than that, too. It's like a public official with a duty to perform for the people. That duty is to see that they get the news. It's impossible to print everything that happens every day in the world.

Speed Controls Work
RALEIGH, N. C. (AP)—"If we can keep them from speeding, we can keep them alive." That's the theme of Raleigh's police department. The city recently completed 13 months without a traffic fatality.

Stove Oil Runs Cars
PORTLAND (AP)—The mystery of the missing stove oil in a Portland residential neighborhood has been solved.

His son, who is a hot rod enthusiast, along with half a dozen others in the neighborhood, complained that his car needed a push to get it started. The engine was sluggish. Soon the parent noticed other jalopies were having similar troubles. He asked the owners if the engine trouble could have any connection with the frequent loss of stove oil from the family tank. It had.
Gasoline costs around 30 cents a gallon, stove oil 16½.
Tanks in the cars to hold the oil and valves permit them to start with regular gasoline. Then when the manifold is hot, they switch to stove oil. And the cars function satisfactorily. Except that ultimately the engines gum up.

Plane Spotters Cooperate
SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—The team of Carter and Thatcher rates high as aircraft spotters at the Volunteer Ground Observer Corps station at Rainbow, near here.

Carter, 57, is nearly blind. Thatcher, 59, is hard of hearing. He explained: "Carter hears the planes; I spot them. We get along fine." Mrs. Lorna Blankenship, chief observer for San Diego county, agrees.

Milk Dates Return
HARTFORD, Conn. (AP)—Dated milk bottle caps are coming back to Connecticut. Last year, the Legislature abolished a law requiring caps to show the date the milk was pasteurized. Housewives protested that without the date they couldn't keep track of which milk should be used up first. Officials decided to restore the date on caps, but it will be the elivery rather than the pasteurization date. Housewives say they don't care which it is providing it's a date.

Ex-Minister Now Preaches From JP Bench

Trenton (AP)—Thomas Reece has retired as a Baptist minister after 43 years. But he hasn't quit preaching.
Now he directs his sermons to offenders brought before him in his capacity of justice of the peace. "My little talks help," Reece said. "They know I can do something about it if they don't heed my advice."
Throughout his career as pastor of 18 churches in Fannin County, Reece conducted a running campaign against the demon rum. "Whiskey gets people in trouble," he said, "but it never gets them out of trouble."
"The first time a drunk comes into court I talk to him and try to help him mend his ways. After that, I give him the limit. There's no excuse in the world for getting drunk."
Reece, 73, is also pretty rough on speeding offenders. "Everybody is in such a hurry to get somewhere," he said. There are some people who drive too fast if they're just going out for a ride.
He said he hands out stiff doses to drivers of fast cars "to keep them alive."
Reece said he thinks, perhaps, that he preaches a little too much while holding court.
"I guess I do talk too much," he said, "but what I'm trying to do is save people. I don't want to put anybody in jail, or levy big fines."
"There's a lot of good in everybody, and I'd rather work on the good in people to make worthwhile citizens of them."

Israel Expands Farms
TEL-AVIV (AP)—Experts think Israel can grow all her own food within seven years. To do so she would have to add 31,000 farm units and multiply irrigation by four. The farm population would be doubled.
Government policy backs the program. Bad farm practice is a legal offense. One collective farm was fined recently for promoting erosion by failure to use contour plowing.
Meanwhile, efforts are being made to expand home grown foods. To supplement meager meat supplies, poultry projects are being expanded. About a million chickens a month go to a population of 1,700,000. These are being provided after three months when no one but the sick got a meat ration.
Meanwhile officials promote consumption of large quantities of locally grown vegetables.

The bride wore a navy and white print linen with white hat and navy accessories. Her corsage was of white carnations.
A reception was held after the wedding at the home of the bridegroom's son and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Morris. The tiered wedding cake, topped by a miniature bridal couple, centered the refreshment table flanked by tall white tapers in crystal holders. Mrs. R. M. Sheppard assisted the hostess in serving.
Mrs. Morris has been a member of the Canadian Public School faculty for the past three years and plans to complete the present school term before moving to Hereford. Mr. Morris, co-owner of the Whiteface Barber Shop, is a long-time resident of Hereford.
Out-of-town guests attending the wedding and reception were Mrs. Rachel Thomas and Mrs. Wilma Dixon of Canadian, Roy McMullen of Amarillo and Bill Prox of Pampa. Others attending were Mr. and Mrs. R. M. Sheppard and Mr. and Mrs. Jerry Morris of Hereford.

Over 40 Hints Given In Booklet

You're as old as you eat, and as young as you think summarizes the subject matter of a new giveaway booklet, "Feel Fit As A Fiddle After 40." Don Herold, well-known author and cartoonist, has written the booklet which is sponsored by a manufacturer of unflavored gelatine and is free on request.

Herold writes not only to the 18 million Americans over 5 years of age, but to the 57 million who are 40 and over. This group, by the way, currently outnumber the 46 million Americans in the 20 to 40 year bracket. Aging, he believes, can be controlled by persistent good or bad habits. Protein foods are spotlighted in his food discussion since they are needed for body repair and maintenance. Unflavored gelatine is included on his protein list, and he suggests it as an all-protein supplement in milk, fruit juice or bouillon.

In keeping with the program theme, "Music in the Home," children and grandchildren of members of the Music Study Club presented the program at the regular meeting of the club Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. A. Thompson. Mrs. H. A. Close was leader.

The program opened with the group singing the hymn of the month, "O Sacred Head Now Wounded," in unison. Camp Fire Girls Observe Birthday

"Let's be different together!" Perhaps you have seen the displays in various windows this week with this provocative invitation of Camp Fire Girls to its more than 370,000 seven-to-seventeen-year-old members across the nation. Camp Fire Girls are celebrating the organization's forty-fourth birthday and they feel that the invitation is actually extended to every American.

We are sure the Camp Fire Girls won't mind if we set down a few thoughts on what the terms of every American's acceptance of their birthday project theme should include.

Those terms, as we see it, are based on various "willingnesses." Willingness to see in our "different" neighbor the hopes, dreams, goals and ideals that are common to us all. Willingness to understand the dignity and inspiration he derives from his "odd" customs, the reason for his "odd" clothes, the origins of his "odd" foods. Willingness to swap views with him, even let him do most of the talking while we listen with genuine humility and interest. Willingness, in short, to accept him as our brother man and appreciate his "difference" as we appreciate the different colors of the rainbow, each contributing its individual hue without which the rainbow - like our world without each "difference" - would be incomplete.

This is a necessarily very brief run-down of some of the terms by which every American can feel justified in accepting Camp Fire's "Let's Be Different Together!" invitation. The members of Camp Fire already know quite a bit about these terms. Since the organization's founding in 1910 by Dr. and Mrs. Luther Halsey Gulick and a group of truly far-sighted educators, emphasis has centered on "being different together" - working and playing in groups which exclude no one because of religious, racial or economic differences.

Community-wise most of us are familiar with what these various Camp Fire groups are up to. And they're always up to some good, helping to get out the vote, baby sitting, serving as hospital aides, making holiday favors for charitable homes and institutions, visiting shut-ins, learning how their local government operates.

They are also busy with a lot of other things we don't always hear of until they hold one of their colorful council fires and receive recognition for their achievements in Home, Outdoors, Creative Arts, Frontiers (of physical science), Business, Sports and Games, and Citizenship - The Seven Crafts of their program.

This week of their birthday celebration they're even busier with special parties, meetings and programs that mark the beginning of their research into world-wide food, fashion, housing and "human plus" customs which will continue throughout the year.

Happy Birthday, Campfire Girls. It's a birthday America is proud to salute and observe with you.

Your Spare Time

Recent appearance of a news item concerning the making of more than 100 quilt tops by E. L. Danley, octogenarian plus six years, presents a challenge to every man, woman and child in Deaf Smith County.

We are not saying that all of these people should make quilt tops, but it does make us wonder how much enjoyment most of us are missing by not having a hobby of the type that will result in tangible accomplishment. A few people do, of course, have such hobbies, but most of us are prone to involve our leisure hours in escape literature, television and other less gainful pursuits.

With the current 40-hour-per-week fad, most people find themselves with many idle hours, yet there are fewer gardens, fewer fruit trees and fewer people who produce their own milk than ever before in the nation. There are, of course, always the exceptions: the people who ultimately make their vocations into profitable vocations.

Spare time, though apparently at a premium, is still more abundant than ever before. Most of us spend it according to our personal desires. That is why we feel that the interesting story of Mr. Danley's unusual hobby presents a challenge to each of us who reads it. He is one of the exceptions.

"In an effort to expedite deliveries, postal authorities are urging business firms to deposit their out-going mail two or three times a day. Postal authorities insist it is as important to send out mail frequently as to collect it several times a day." CUERO RECORD.

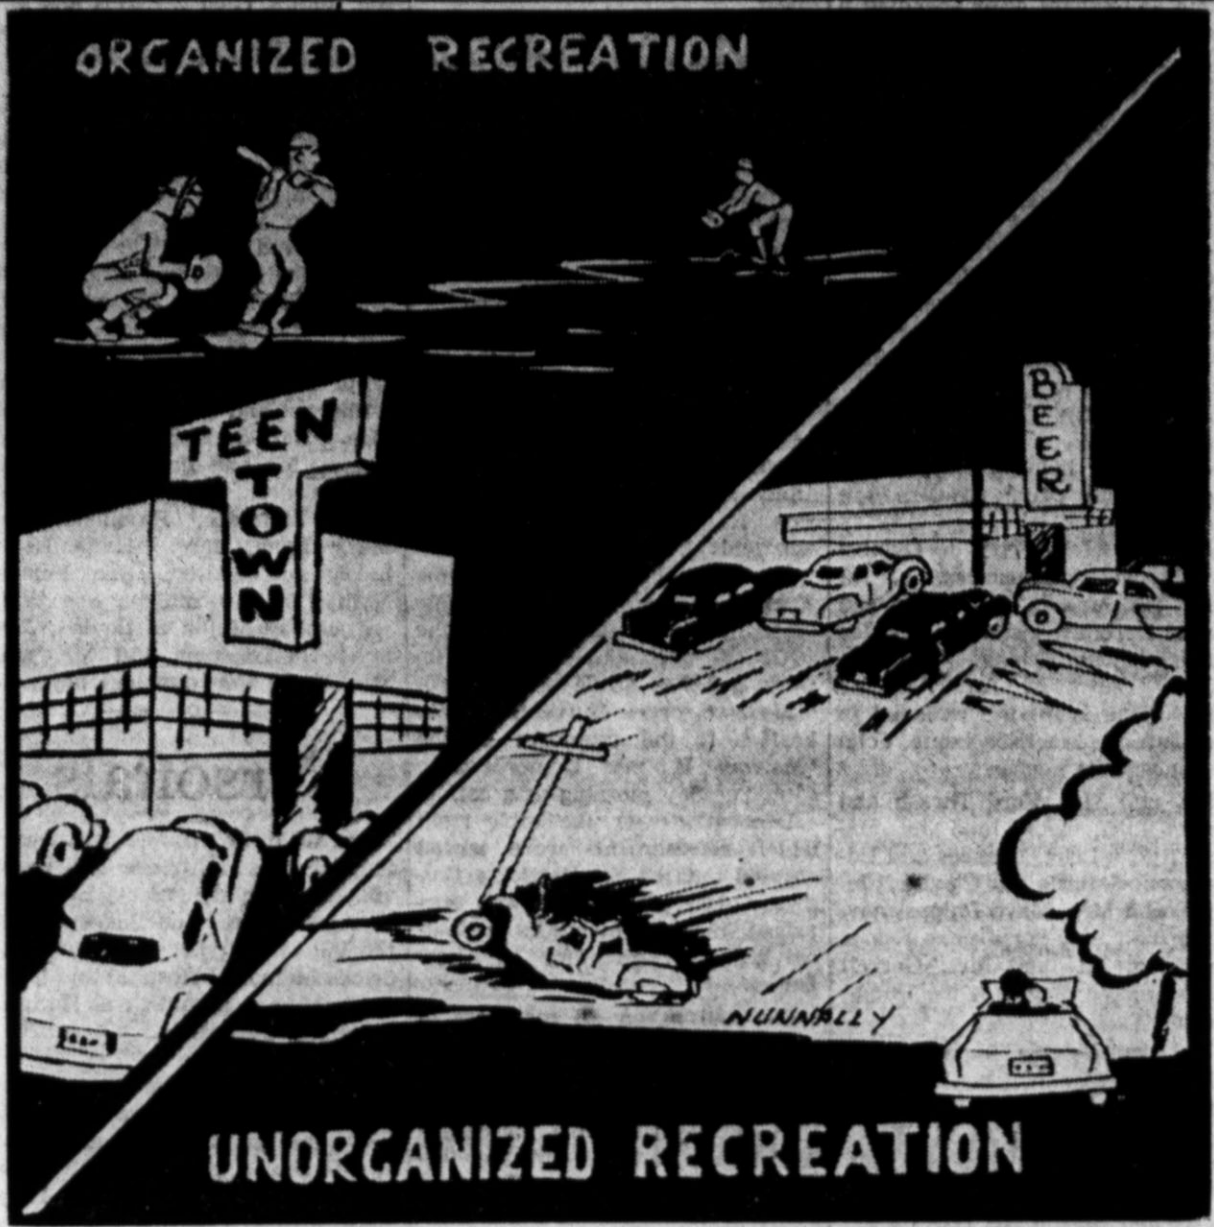

"One of the things we admire in President Eisenhower is his tenacious adherence to the principle that government should refrain from trying to plan and run the lives of its citizens, but rather stand ready to help out whenever and wherever its citizens are unable to carry on alone. We, as a nation, must put our trust in God and not in a golden calf." DAWSON, MINN., SENTINEL.

"Raymond Moley has been a student of government for many years. Of late, he has been paying particular attention to government's socialistic activities. Here's what he had to say about them in one of his Newsweek columns: 'Government in business, except in a limited number of common services and in rare emergencies, is expensive and inefficient and unnecessary.' That tells the story." LAKE PLACID, N. Y., NEWS.

"It was Thomas Jefferson, himself a farmer, who once said, in effect, that if we allow government to tell us when, where, and what to plant, and when to harvest, we'll jolly well starve to death." OLYMPIA, WASH., OLYMPIAN.

"While most Americans laud the democratic type of government many of them have taken it too lightly. They seem to be cognizant of its many benefits but at the same time seem unmindful of its responsibilities. Everyone wants to be called a member of the team but against the total population only a few are willing to share team responsibilities." WACO, TEXAS, MESSENGER.

"Political economy" are two words that should be divorced on the grounds of incompatibility.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Sports, Youth Center Suggested For Supervised Summer Program

What kind of summer recreation program in Hereford do you think would appeal most to the High School and College age young people?

ROY OSWALD

"There isn't much in Hereford for the young people to do in the summer time but play baseball and swim. I think that we should have people to help our young people organize sports. I believe that everyone should know how to swim, even if we do live out here on the desert."

KATHRYN HILL

"I think that they would possibly enjoy a youth center. A gathering place where they could play ping-pong and such games as that. Of course, it should be well supervised."

MRS. TROY MOORE

"Swimming would be one thing and then bowling would be another. That is if they had a nice bowling alley just for the young people's use. I do think that there is a definite need in Hereford for some sort of recreation during the summer. I have had several young people mention to me that they would like to bowl if they had a nice place to bowl in."

ROY PEET

"I would think that something in sports would be the best, like swimming, tennis or baseball. Of course, if we had a youth center where they could have recreation at night would be the greatest improvement."

MRS. CLINT FORMBY

"I think that they would enjoy having someplace where they could meet and have parties, picnics and socials and where they would have adequate facilities for games or ping-pong and other indoor games. This would be enjoyed especially by college students because they are used to such recreation rooms at the college and I imagine that they miss them during the summer. I think a program of this type should be continued through the winter months as well as through the summer."

REV. E. L. NAUGLE

"Seems to me as if softball would be about as good as anything. It would give the youngsters something to do that would be interesting and would give them lots of action. On the spur of the moment that is about all I could think of and I guess it would be about as good as anything."

If the weather man calls what we had last Thursday lightly blowing dust wonder what would happen if he should predict a real sandstorm?

We have never fussed much about the weather because it seems a little foolish to get your blood pressure up over something you can't do anything about but we'll have to admit that our patience is about sanded down.

Isn't Anilise a pretty and an unusual name? And the little six-year-old it belongs to is just as pretty as the name. She is the only daughter of the Ludwig Kovacs who live at 709 Knight Street. The Kovacs have two boys - Jacob, junior high student, and Johnny, who is seven.

We think the law passed recently by the Legislature holding parents responsible for their teenage youngsters wrong doings is probably the best solution to the delinquency problem if other towns will follow the example of Richmond, Texas and let the parent who refuses to control his child serve a six months jail sentence.

If Dad spends some time on the inside lookin' out maybe he'll be more concerned about other people's property where Junior may be on the outside lookin' in.

DRIVE DOING WELL

Jim Baxter, manager of the Parmer County Community Hospital, reported over $10,000 in cash in the till for the fund-raising drive to build a new hospital building this week and added that things look as though they're shaping up pretty well. The State Line Tribune.

AUSTIN - Top news out of Austin this week is the opening of the 30-day special session of the Legislature, which started Monday.

The last special session of the Texas Legislature was in 1950. It was called for 30-days, but lasted three months.

Four problems have been placed before the 1954 session by Governor Allan Shivers along with his recommendations for raising taxes.

These were the tasks given the legislators:

1. To provide higher salaries for public school teachers.
2. To raise the pay of state employees.
3. To finance construction of needed new buildings at Southwestern Medical School, Dallas; the University of Texas Medical Branch, Houston; Texas School for the Deaf, Austin; and Eastman unit of the Texas Prison System.
4. To outlaw the Communist Party in Texas and provide for enforcement of this legislation.

Views On Raising

Prior to making his tax recommendations, the governor talked with business leaders to get their views as to how the money should be raised.

It is thought that $30 to $35 in new money will be needed to pay for higher salaries and building.

The money, Shivers said, should come from these sources:

1. A new and valid gas gathering tax, more or less like the one passed during the last regular session of the Legislature, and ruled unconstitutional by the U. S. Supreme Court. Shivers thinks the law can be rewritten so that it will be valid.

2. A tax on franchises paid by corporations, except for charters issued to religious, educational, and charitable groups.

3. An increase in the present state tax on beer.

Submitted to the governor by the Texas Industrial Commission were bills to make Communist Party membership a felony and set punishment of fines up to $20,000 and imprisonment up to 20 years.

One of the bills would establish a state Loyalty Board of Review to investigate charges of subversive activities. Findings of the Board would be subject to appeal to the courts.

Penalties including death for Communist Party membership had been suggested by the governor, but the Board declined to go that far.

William J. Harris, president of the State Federation of Labor and a member of the Industrial Commission, expressed his opposition to one of the bills—that setting up the Loyalty Board.

"This proposed law," said Harris, "not only does not guarantee trial by jury; it leaves the way open for blackening the reputations and destroying the livelihood of (Continued on Page 5)

TOM CAT CONSTERNATION

The dog vaccination program at the city hall came to an abrupt halt for a while Monday afternoon when a rabies shot was given to a large tomcat. There were about seven dogs waiting their turn at a rabies shot when Dr. Martin Duke slipped the needle into the tomcat. The cat howled, leaped into the air, all dogs started barking and owners were scrambling like mad before things got back under control. This was the only cat treated that afternoon and perhaps it is just as well. Ochiltree County Herald.

WELCOME SIGNS PLANNED

The Chamber of Commerce is contemplating placing welcome signs at the outskirts of Olton.

Plans call for the signs to bear Olton's slogan as well as the town's new population figure.

In another move last week, the Chamber agreed to accept membership of women in business here.

A delegation from the Olton Chamber of Commerce will attend the West Texas Chamber meeting to be held in San Angelo March 28, 29 and 30.

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: Frankly we don't know what to make of this letter this week from the Bootleg Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm, but every man to his own way of thinking.

- O -

Dear editor:

A man the other day accused me of bein one-sided, said I seemed to spend all my time seein that I was comfortable and not worryin about anybody else's comfort, said it looked like just so my cows made it through the winter, with maybe a little help from a neighbor's pasture through the courtesy of a sorry fence, I didn't have any further concern for the human race.

I wish to deny this. While it has always been my contention that a man's biggest job is to get himself and his own through the winter-before he started worryin about somebody else, in fact, if everybody was able to follow that principle there wouldn't be anybody left needin help, I still would like it known that I do spend considerable thought and time on other people, frequently neglectin my own plowin to worry about national problems, although I'll admit I have never been able to put the national debt ahead of a personal debt when it comes to worryin.

But what I started out to do was to tell you about a little deed I did the other night, just to make my neighbor happy.

This neighbor has been worryin pretty deeply about the weather, about the lack of rain all over the country and especially on his land. He's one of these fellows they never have made any weather for yet that really suited him, but here lately he's been worryin more than ever. He'll get a little rain and figure the 5-year-drouth has been broken, but then let it stay dry a month and he's back worryin worse than ever.

Well, here lately it's gotten worse, even affectin his health. "If we could just get one inch of rain right now, I'd be satisfied," he told me the other day, shakin his head. "We've just got to have some rain."

Well, the other night we had a little rain out here, not much, but the clouds were pretty dark-lookin along about sundown and the prospects for moisture looked pretty good.

Along about an hour after dark it began to pepper down pretty good, and I got to thinkin about the neighbor. I knew he was gonna be out the first thing in the mornin lookin at his rain gauge, and if it showed only about a quarter of an inch he was gonna be as disappointed and downcast as a candidate who lost by two votes.

So in the spirit of neighborliness and goodwill I put on my rain coat, got a fruit jar full of water out of my well, and eased down to his place and poured enough in his rain gauge to show a good inch, then came on back home.

We got enough rain that night to wet the ground out here, but we didn't get anywhere close to an inch, but you have never seen a happier man than him when he turned a flashlight on his rain gauge at 6 o'clock the next mornin and saw where the water level was. His appetite picked up, the mornin took on a rosier glow, and he went to town later in the day and bought a television set just on the strength of it.

It's these little inexpensive, thoughtful things a man does that brings happiness to others.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Household Scrapbook

By Barbara Lee

A Moth Paper

A good moth paper can be made by melting together 4 ounces of naphthalene and 8 ounces of paraffin wax. Get some unsized paper and while the solution is still warm paint the paper. Then pack paper away with the goods to be stored.

Varnish Stains

Varnish stains can be removed from fabric by rubbing the spot with turpentine or benzine. Then wash the material thoroughly.

For Polishing

All the odd pieces of velvet and velveteen should be saved as they make excellent cloths for polishing furniture.

Tight Shoes

If new shoes hurt at the heel, rub the inside of the heel with hard soap before putting them on. A few cross strips of adhesive tape fastened to the heel will also take the rub.

Tulip Decoration

When tulips are used as a decoration for the table, drop a tiny bit of wax in the calyx of each flower. They will live longer than if this is not done.

Stove Pipes

All the stove pipes should be rubbed with kerosene before they are stored away in the spring. If this is done it will prevent rust.

Weighing a Baby

An easy way of weighing the baby is to step on the scales with the baby in your arms, then again without holding the baby. Subtract the latter weight from the former.

Shortcake

When making shortcake put half the dough in a pan, spread melted butter over it, and then place on the remaining dough. When baked the cake can be opened easily.

Ice Cream Stain

For an ice cream stain on material try sponging the cloth with chloroform or ether.

Window Shades

Wall paper cleaner will clean ordinary window shades satisfactorily. Holland shades should be stretched tightly on floor or table and tacked down, then scrubbed with hot suds and brush. Rinse with brush and warm water. When almost dry, iron them.

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I destroy bedbugs?

A. Force kerosene, gasoline or benzine thoroughly into all cracks and crevices with a hand syringe. This should be repeated several times at intervals of about three days. Or use about ten cents worth of epsom salts dissolved in a teacup of water and apply with a small brush.

Q. How can I make a soft crust when baking bread?

A. If the tops of loaves of bread are rubbed with butter, both before and after baking, they will be deliciously rich and soft.

Q. How can I keep linoleum in good condition?

A. By rubbing it once or twice a year, during spring and fall house cleaning, with linseed oil.

Q. How can I make stronger buttonholes?

A. Buttonholes made with fine crochet thread are much stronger and do not tear out so easily as those made with ordinary sewing thread, and they can be made faster.

Q. How can I remove tar stains from fabric?

A. Lard will remove tar stains from all kinds of materials. Rub into the stains and allow it to remain for an hour or so. Then wash the material in the usual manner.

Q. How can I make mashed potatoes light and fluffy?

A. Hot milk added a little at a time, while mashing potatoes, will make them light and fluffy. Heat, do not boil, the milk.

Q. How can I remove grease spots from wall paper?

A. By applying a paste made of calcined magnesia and boiled water; allow to dry on the spots, then scrape off carefully with a knife.

Q. How can I be successful in trapping mice?

A. Mice will always avoid traps that smell of former occupants. If you hope for success, be sure to scald and air the traps before resetting.

Q. How can I keep ham for indefinite time?

A. Ham can be kept without danger of mold, if melted paraffin is poured over the cut end of the ham.

Q. How can I avoid having black heads and greasy skin?

A. Make a toilet water by mixing together 2 drams of powdered borax, 1 ounce glycerin and 19 fluid ounces orange-flower water. Shake well before applying.

Q. How can I clean a white felt hat?

A. Mix a rather stiff paste of powdered magnesia and water; brush it well in, leave it on till dry and then brush off.

Interview If Definitive

DES MOINES (AP)—An inquiring reporter interviewed six persons the other day on whether they would approve issuing striped automobile registration plates to drivers who repeatedly violate traffic laws.

Only one, a youth, was strongly opposed. A couple of days later he was sent to jail for allowing two companions to drive recklessly in his car on two different occasions.

Mathematics Dance

BALTIMORE (AP)—Algebra professors may not agree, but sponsors of the sophomore prom at Towson High School have declared $\frac{1}{2} \times 15$ equals 1.

Somebody counterfeited $1 and $2 tickets to the prom the other day. The phonies trickled onto the market at 25 cents a copy. The sponsors called in buyers of the genuine article and stamped their tickets with the distinguishing symloyal, law-abiding American citizens.

Another Development

Another pre-session development was a conference between Shivers and House Speaker Reuben Senterfitt, who has differed with the governor over various aspects of the special session.

Notably, Senterfitt disagreed with Shivers' compromise plan for teacher pay and school financing. Neither the governor nor the speaker would reveal to the press what was discussed.

Senterfitt has announced that he will be a candidate for governor this year. Shivers has not disclosed his plans — whether he will try for re-election, run for the U. S. Senate, or retire from public office.

Judge Aims Views

District Judge J. Harris Gardner, speaking from his bench here, lashed out at the legislature on four counts. He found these flaws:

1. Juries in criminal cases have the responsibility of fixing punishment.
2. More stringent divorce laws are needed.
3. Funds are required for a workable adult probation system.
4. That provision should be removed from the statutes which makes "justifiable homicide" a defense in slayings committed by husbands in adultery cases.

Faulty Laws

There are some faults in Texas' insurance laws, says Garland Smith, chairman of the state's insurance commission, but he denies that the situation is as bad as it was described by Robert Gilmore, head of the National Association of Life Underwriters.

Gilmore, speaking at a meeting of his group at Knoxville, Tenn., said that Texas has the "worst insurance laws in the United States," and most of the companies writing health and accident policies with "tricky" provisions are "huddled in Texas."

While it is true that Texas laws

boils "x15."

And, on the night of the prom, anyway, x 15 equalled 1 admission.

do not specify the provisions of health and accident policies, the board has set up for those policies the same standards that are in effect in other states, Smith declared.

More About Duval

Duval County's strife continued as the United Mothers of that dukedom announced that they would visit Governor Shivers and "offer our services in the work that is being done to clean up our county government."

Mrs. Olive Trevino, chairman of the Duval women's group, said the main purpose of the organization is to assure the governor that "we are behind him in his efforts to help us."

Mrs. Trevino is a Benavides teacher and wife of an oil company employee. She said her group would ask the governor to leave the Rangers in Duval County.

Old Folks' March

Off again, on again was the old folks' march on the capital.

Russell Jack Ballard of Wichita Falls, self-appointed leader of the state's aged people, promised that swarms of the elderly would come here, camp on the capital grounds, and ask for an increase in their assistance allotments and better treatment in state hospitals.

Ballard appointed Cyclone Davis of Dallas as leader of the expedition.

He neglected to enclose his $600 filing fee.

Elsewhere on the political front, State Representative Dudley T. Dougherty of Beville, a rancher and oil man, scotched reports that he would withdraw as a candidate for the U. S. Senate, opposing Lyndon B. Johnson, incumbent seeking another term.

"There were 87 excellent reasons which prompted me on February 7 to announce my candidacy for the United States Senate," Dougherty said, "and those 87 reasons, plus many more, will keep me in the race right down to the finish line."

Johnson won his office in 1948, getting 87 votes more than former Governor Coke R. Stevenson, who contended that he lost because of 200 votes illegally added to returns from Box 13 in Jim Wells County after the polls had closed.

Other Candidates

Robert S. Calvert announced his candidacy for re-election as state comptroller of public accounts.

And C. T. Johnson, Austin businessman, the first candidate to file for a state office actively campaigned as candidate for lieutenant governor by visiting 33 towns in Central Texas.

Johnson hammered at telephone rates as a major plank in his platform, saying that "most towns do not have the financial resources to match the battery of lawyers and accountants with which the telephone company launches its drive for rate increases."

Johnson proposes a gross income tax on telephone companies to help finance $100 per month pensions for persons 65 or more years old.

Busy making speeches over the state and still being talked about as a potential, major candidate for governor is Ralph Yarborough, Austin attorney.

Demos Again

Liberal Young Democrats of Texas, pledged to support the National Democratic Party, will convene in San Antonio May 8 and 9.

Robert E. Hall of Austin, who called the meeting, denounced the recent Young Demos' session at Mineral Wells as a "fake" and claimed that the convention was dominated by "hand-picked conservatives."

Road Construction

For the first part of this year, Texas rainfall averaged far less than normal (a fifth of normal in February), heat records were being set in various cities, and drought conditions prevailed again.

One move to combat this situation was announced by Governor Shivers, who said that an expedited road construction program would be carried on in 12 Plains and Panhandle counties to help their economy.

Sailors Get Legal Aid
NORMAN, Okla. (AP)—Sailors in legal trouble take their woes to University of Oklahoma law students. Most problems, say Naval Air Technical Training Center officers here, are settled on the spot. The toughies are referred to the county bar.

"One of the best and most unusual legal aid programs in the United States," comments Junius L. Allison, Chicago, field director for the American Bar Assn.'s legal aid committee.

Camping Helps Heart Cases
NEW YORK (AP)—Outdoor camping can be good for children with heart trouble—and for their parents, too, says Dr. Katherine Dodge Brownell, head of New York Heart Assn.'s public health committee.

She says cardiac children too often are overprotected, denied group experiences and "tied to their mothers' apron strings." Specially supervised camps, she says, can help child morale—and improve parents' attitudes.

Report Corrected
ANKARA (AP)—A blind man stood in line for a marriage license. A friend came along who hadn't seen him for some time and, told the name of the intended bride, exclaimed: "But she's ugly!"

Wildcat King Going Strong

Newcastle, Wyo., — A 71-year-old former Texan who claims the title "king of the wildcaters" and dares the world to dispute it isn't about to retire.

L. M. York, who could easily pass for 50, says he is going right ahead with his wildcatting. He loudly contends that retiring is the quickest route to the grave and says good Scotch whisky and long, rich cigars are the secret to a long and active life.

All his life, from one oilfield to another, York has worked in the oil business. He's had plenty of ups and downs but he loves the oil game and the gamble it involves.

He was literally born into the oil business. His father, John Henry York, traveled the oil trail from New York to Canada.

The younger York long worked as a "jar head" — a cable tool driller.

"But I've done everything," he said. "While roughnecking for Dad, I got in on every phase of drilling. If a guy didn't show up for work, I was it."

On His Own

York struck out on his own with a beat-up cable tool rig. First he went to California and then about 1911, he decided Texas was a good bet. He settled in Jones County and started punching out holes.

As a pastime, he played cornet with the Muskat Temple Band at Wichita Falls, Tex. He was a top notch cornetist and played in several concerts with John Phillip Sousa.

In 1953 York decided things were getting a little dull in Jones County so he pulled up stakes and landed in Newcastle.

With no engineering or geological training to depend on but only his "built-in doodlebug" and years of experience, York spudded-in the Millhouse No. 1 southwest of here. He hit Weston County's discovery well, and today has four discovery wells to his credit and an interest in 30 more good producers.

York's formula for finding wells is simple.

"After you are in business a while you have ideas on where to drill," he said. "If you like a spot—drill a well."

Beauty at Home

By Lynn Carter

Q. What can I do about puffs under my eyes?
A. Make an eye compress of a strip of absorbent cotton, dipped in cold water, pressed almost dry, iced, and then sprinkled with eye lotion or very mild skin freshener. Press this gently over the closed eyes and puffs, lie down, and relax.

Q. What is a good, inexpensive shampoo I can mix myself?
A. Heat together an egg and a teaspoonful of mild skin soap. Apply this with the fingertips, rubbing well into the scalp. Rinse with hot, then lukewarm, then cold water.

Q. How can I add a delicate fragrance to my handkerchiefs?
A. When laundering, put a small piece of orris root in a muslin bag and boil this with the handkerchiefs. This will add a faint aroma of violets to your handkerchiefs.

Q. How should one give oneself an oil treatment for dry hair?
A. Before each shampoo, heat six tablespoons olive oil and rub it all over the scalp, separating the hair in many parts so you don't miss an inch. Wrap your head in a towel like an Arab, and leave it that way several hours or overnight. When washing the oil out, it's better to dip hair into cold water before applying shampoo, as warm water diffuses the oil and makes it harder to remove.

Q. What is a good rinse for sweetening the breath?
A. Try rinsing the mouth every day with a small amount of tincture of myrrh—which is good also for hardening the gums.

Q. Please suggest a treatment good for "dishpan" hands.
A. Use pure lanolin oil, or baby oil, butter or milk on the hands. Coffee cream is very good, too, for dry hands.

Q. How can I treat cracked lips at home?
A. Make and apply a mixture of one-half ounce each of lanolin and glycerine or honey.

Q. Should one's figure type be considered in the style of one's hairdress?
A. Yes. If you are tall, keep the top low, the sides full and long. If you're a shorty, wear top fluffy and curl all ends up. If they call you chubby, skip the doll-baby curls and wear your tresses long and slinky.

Program On Shrubs Given At HD Club

North Hereford Home Demonstration Club held a covered dish luncheon Thursday in the home of Miss Roberta Campbell.
After the luncheon a program was presented on shrubs, and Miss Campbell talked briefly on shrubs, identifying several varieties and describing a new lilac hedge on her premises.
Mrs. Argen Draper, County Home Demonstration Agent, told of grasses suitable for this area and displayed several types of grasses for members to identify.

Insurance On The Roof

ATLANTA (AP)—A customer ordered bacon and eggs in Mrs. C. E. Allen's restaurant. Being rushed, she didn't look closely at him or recognize him.
While she was preparing his order, the grease in the frying pan on the stove burst into flame while she was in the front of the restaurant. Before she could move, the man dashed into the kitchen and beat out the blaze.
Then she recognized him as William S. Brown, an insurance agent who had written a fire policy on her restaurant a short time before.

Stunt Night Planned

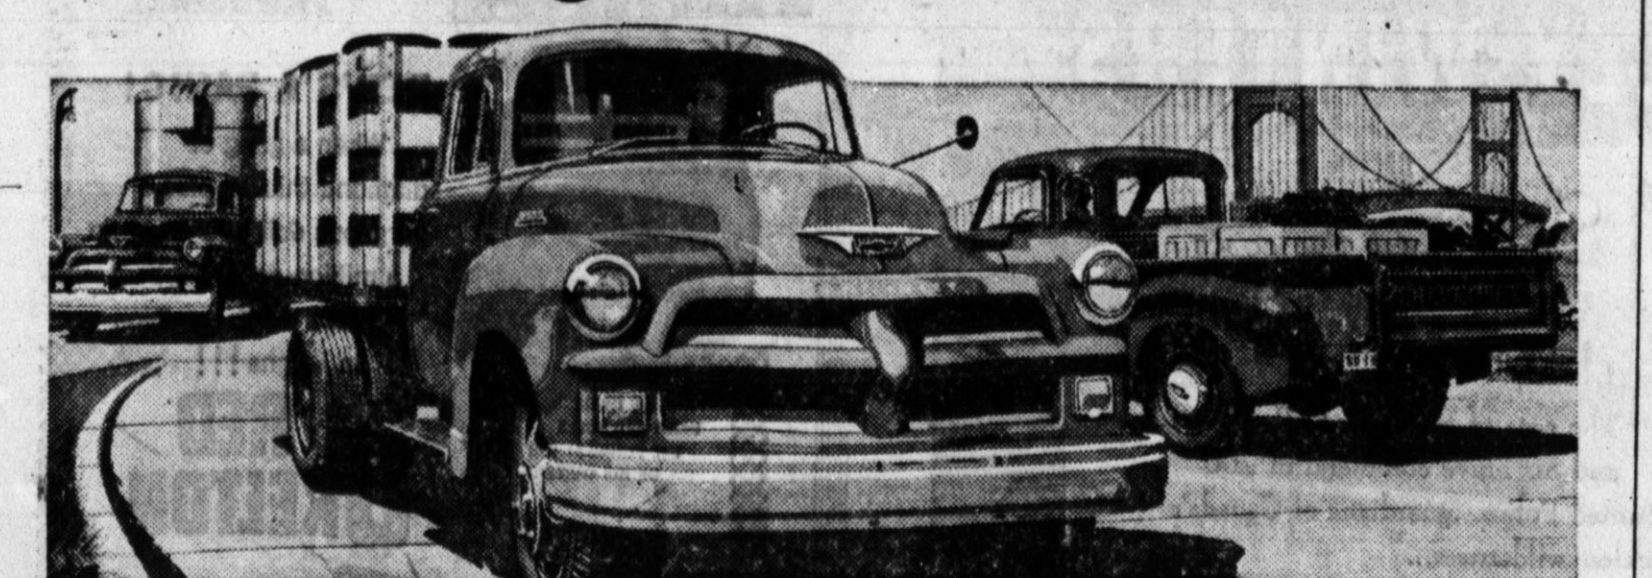

Mrs. George Paetzold told of plans for the Home Demonstration Clubs Stunt Night program to be held in the near future. Miss Campbell announced the date, April 22, for the H. D. Clubs district convention, which will be held in Panhandle.

Let's Cook Something

Billee Ray Johnson, a former Hereford girl, learned to cook when she was small. Now that she is the wife of Major L. P. Hansen, stationed at Reese Air Force Base in Lubbock, she has a delightful hobby of collecting recipes from Air Force friends who have traveled in different parts of the world.

Army wives cook to please their husbands, and since they are from all parts of the nation, their culinary efforts are not representative of any particular section.

In answer to the request for some of her recipes Mrs. Hansen wrote, "I suppose we follow the armed service custom of serving all types of meals at any time. For instance, we may serve honeyed lamb chops for breakfast and chop suey for lunch, topping off, often, with stuffed lobster, flown in from Boston that afternoon by our husbands on routine trips, for dinner."

Here are some of the meat recipes she sent. They are not only unusual, but unusually good. Next week we will use her vegetable and salad recipes.

Georgia Country Captain
Place small amount of butter in frying pan and add:

- 3 small pods of garlic
- 2 green peppers (cut fine)
- 2 large onions (cut fine)
- Cook these together but do not allow to brown. Add 1/4 cup water and then add:
- 1/2 teaspoon curry powder
- Dash of red and black pepper
- 1/2 teaspoon salt
- 2 teaspoons dry mustard
- 1 teaspoon powdered cloves
- 1 tablespoon vinegar
- 1/2 teaspoon thyme
- 1 large can tomatoes
- 4 tablespoons chicken fat or Wesson Oil

Let all these ingredients simmer in skillet until well blended. Meanwhile cut up and brown slowly in skillet, two small hens.

Place in baking dish and cover with a part of the sauce which has been simmering. Put in 1 cup of currants and cover, then bake in moderate oven for one hour. Serve on large platter arranged around a mound of rice. Pour remainder of sauce over rice and top with toasted almonds.

Upside-Down Ham Loaf

- 2 eggs
- 2 tablespoons shortening
- 4 tablespoons brown sugar
- 4 slices canned pineapple
- 2 cups cooked ham (ground or chopped)
- 1-3 cup dry crushed bread crumbs
- 1 teaspoon dry mustard
- 2 teaspoons minced onion
- 1/2 teaspoon salt

Blend shortening and sugar and spread over bottom of 8 inch skillet and place pineapple on top of sugar.

Combine ham, well beaten eggs, bread crumbs, mustard and salt, then pack into skillet on top of pineapple. Cover and cook over very low heat 25 to 30 minutes. Turn out on platter and slice in pie wedges.

Johnny Margetti

- 1 package elbow macaroni
 - 1 pound ground round steak
 - 1 cup chopped celery
 - 1 large diced onion
 - 2 cans tomato sauce (small)
 - Dash of garlic if desired
 - Salt and pepper to taste
 - Sliced cheese
- Brown onion and meat in 1 tablespoon shortening. Parboil celery in enough water to cover, until tender. Boil macaroni in salted water until tender (about 7 minutes). Put all these ingredients in buttered baking dish and add tomato sauce, salt, pepper and garlic.

Mix well and top with sliced cheese. Bake in 350-F oven about 45 minutes. Family serving for four.

Oriental Steak

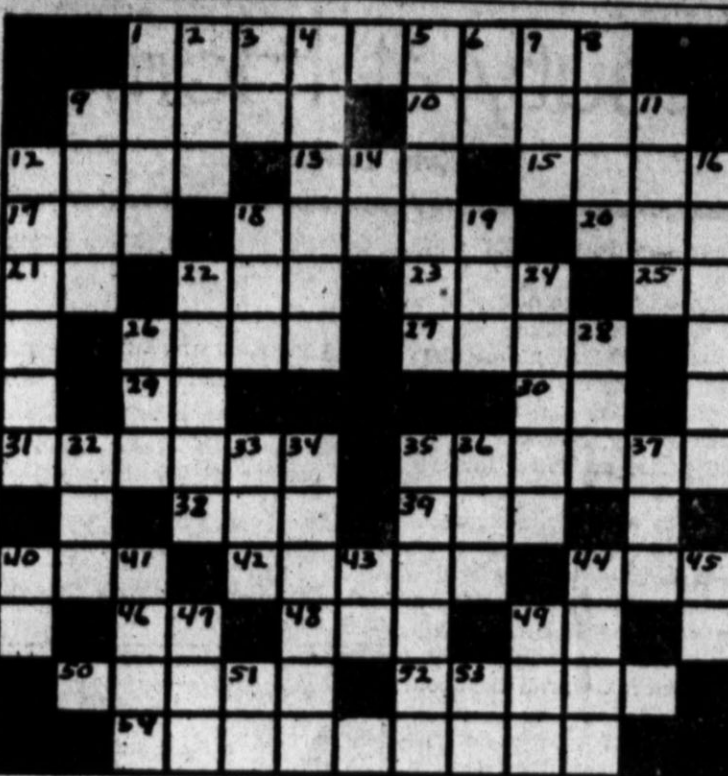

- 2 thin cuts of tenderized round steak (about 2 pounds)
- 3 medium or 2 large peppers
- Rub garlic salt, salt and pepper to taste into steak on both sides of meat. Remove wrapper from a new razor blade and cut steak into long strips approximately one inch wide, cutting off and discarding all gristle. (A razor blade is used in place of a knife to prevent the steak from tearing and to provide uniform strips.) Wash and remove seeds from peppers and cut into one inch strips.
- Place 1/4 pound of butter in skillet, add meat and pan broil until tender. Remove the steak and broil the pepper in the same butter mixture. (The pepper should remain firm after browning, so do not over cook.)

Remove the peppers from skillet, then add 2 tablespoons of flour to remaining butter mixture in skillet, mixing well with fork and adding enough water to make a desired gravy thickness. Add 2 tablespoons Worcestershire sauce and blend well.

Place steak and peppers back in gravy mixture and serve meat and sauce piping hot over boiled fluffy rice.

This is Mrs. Hansen's favorite dish for entertaining as it may be prepared several hours before-hand and placed in a chafing dish to heat slowly while the rice cooks. It is also a favorite with Major Hansen. In fact, most men really

Stolen, One Border

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP)—Someone stole a strip of the United States-Mexican border, as represented by barbed wire, a border patrolman reported here.

The missing length of wire, which he estimated was about as much as could be loaded on a jeep, was gone from the Pacific ocean and inland. Jeep tracks were noted.

Turkish Aid is U.S. Habit

ANKARA (AP)—President Grant beat President Truman to the punch by more than 70 years with military aid to Turkey. Shukru Kasabolu, local historian says the sultan sought to buy 600,000 Springfield rifles from the United States some months before Russia declared war, in April 1877.

The makers couldn't fill the hurry-up order so President Grant authorized drawing 50,000 rifles from government stores for immediate shipment. Records indicate the American guns proved far superior to the rifles used by the Russians. The sultan was so pleased, Kasabolu adds, that he dispatched a specially-woven Turkish carpet to Grant as a gift.

Under the aid program, which in 1947, the United States has furnished Turkey with more than a billion dollars in military and economic aid. The purpose is the same: to bolster Turkey against Russia.

Castle Apartments Provided
DEVIZES, England (AP)—A retired scientist is convinced a lot of people would like to live in an ancient castle, if they could keep warm and have electric lights and running water besides.

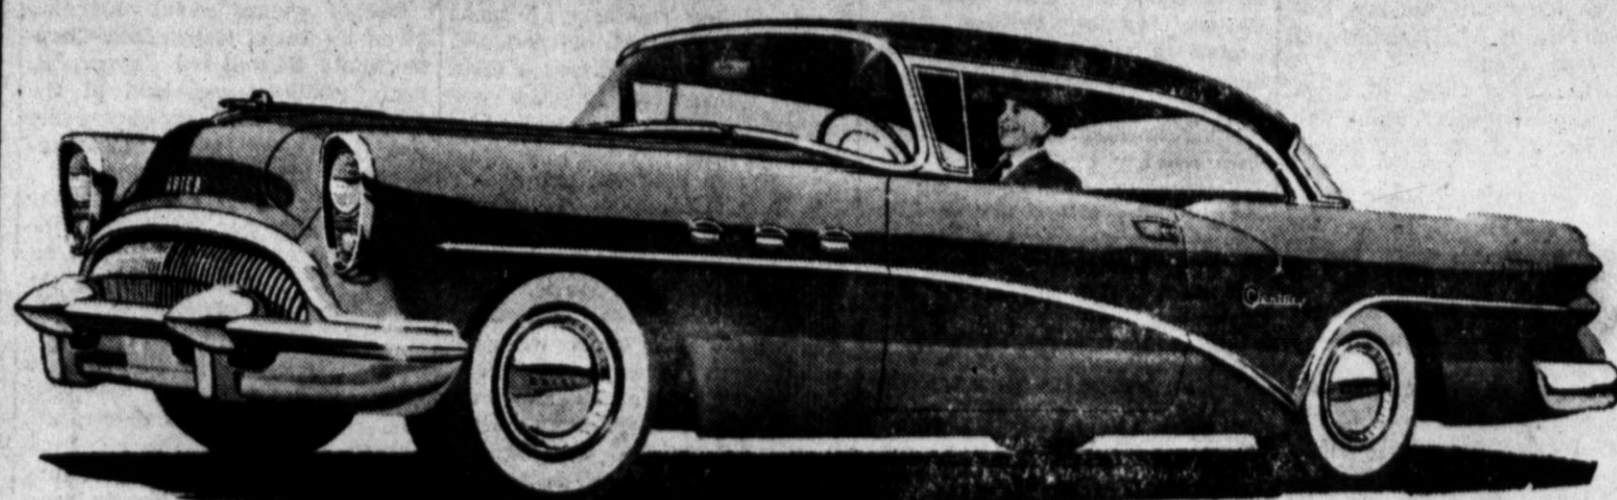

William Beresford-Medlem has converted the 11th Century Devizes Castle, 88 miles from London, into four self contained flats. He plans to keep one for himself and rent the other three for $11.20 a week, each.

"I have put on a new roof and have blocked up some of the old stone stairs," he said. "The moat has been filled in."

And for those of a timid disposition, Beresford-Medlem has one additional inducement. He guarantees there are positively no ghosts.

Weather Brings Compensation
NORWICH, Conn. (AP)—A n ice cream parlor gave customers free coffee during a snow-storm. Explained the management: "Anyone who comes out on such a day deserves such recognition."

JOHNNY HAZARD

by FRANK ROSS

THAT'S RIGHT, SHARK... MONKEYS! THEY WERE THE "SCOURGE" THAT DROVE THE PEOPLE AWAY FROM THAL THREE HUNDRED YEARS AGO!

MAYBE THERE'S ANOTHER SCOURGE... ONE THAT CAN DRIVE YOUR MONKEYS AWAY! FROM THE SOUND OF THOSE DRUMS THE NATIVES MEAN BUSINESS!

CAPTAIN SHARK'S OLD SHIPMATE, "THREE-EYES" HAS SUDDENLY TURNED UP AS THE LEADER OF THE ARMED MONKEYS... WHO HE CLAIMS ARE THE INHABITANTS OF THE LOST TREASURE CITY OF THAL!

THOSE "NATIVES" ARE MONKEYS TOO! I TAUGHT 'EM TO USE DRUMS... AS A SIGNAL WHEN ANYONE APPROACHES THAL! WATCH...

AT A GESTURE FROM "THREE-EYES" A MONKEY LEAPS INTO HIS ARMS! HE POINTS...

...AND THE MONKEY LEAPS OFF THE BOAT INTO THE JUNGLE!

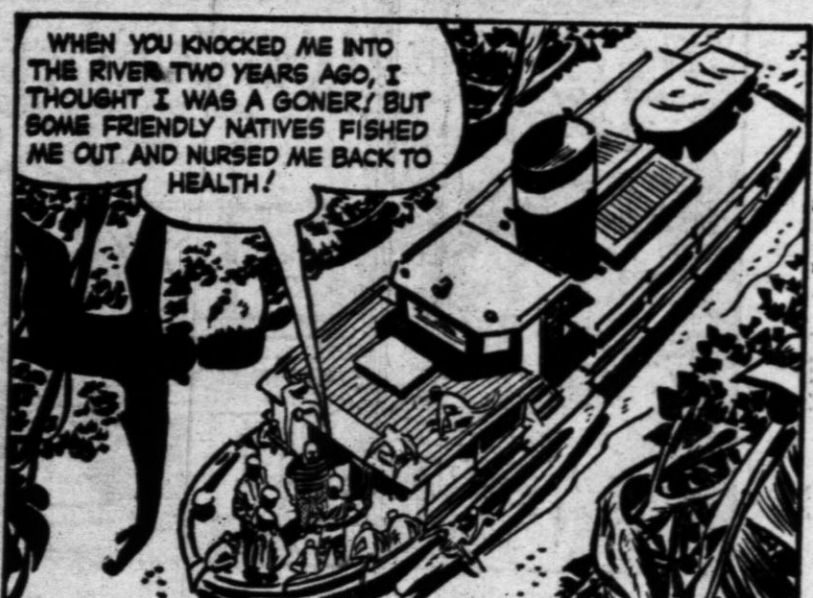

AND PRESENTLY IT DROPS TO THE GROUND!

SEE... THE DRUMS HAVE STOPPED! BY THE WAY, SHARK... I NEVER DID THANK YOU FOR HELPING ME FIND THAL!

I HELPED YOU? HOW'S THAT?

WHEN YOU KNOCKED ME INTO THE RIVER TWO YEARS AGO, I THOUGHT I WAS A GONER! BUT SOME FRIENDLY NATIVES FISHED ME OUT AND NURSED ME BACK TO HEALTH!

MY NICKNAME "THREE-EYES" ALWAYS SEEMED TO STICK WITH ME... SO MUCH SO... THAT THE NATIVES TATTOOED ONE RIGHT IN THE MIDDLE OF MY HEAD!

IT WAS THE TATTOO... AND ONE FINAL CLUE... THAT HELPED ME BECOME MASTER OF THE LOST CITY OF THAL!
