With Hereford Club

District Rotary Governor Visiting

Herschel Coffee, governor of the 183rd District of Rotary International, will be a guest of the Hereford Rotary Club today and Monday.

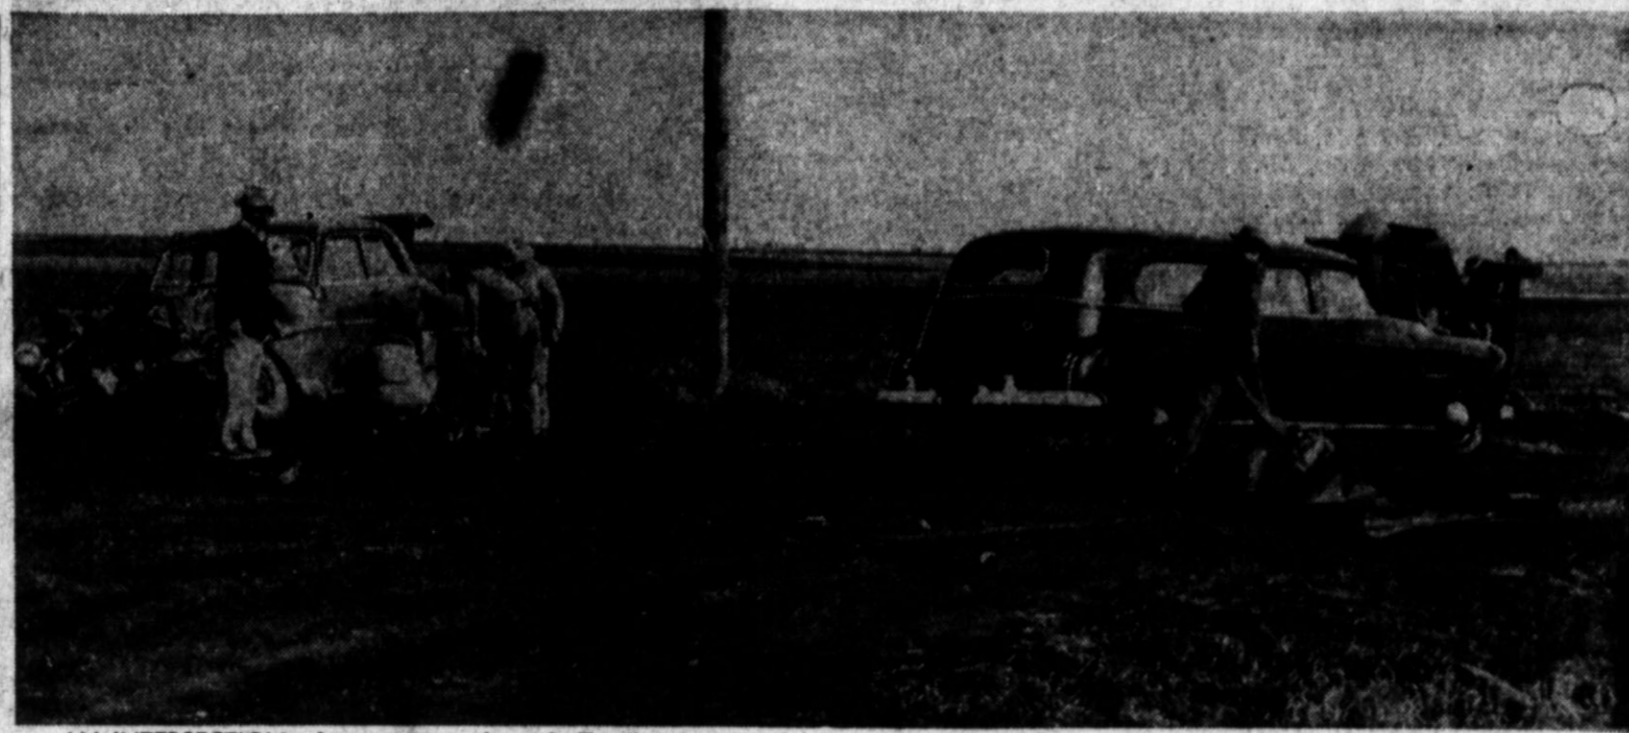

J. Herschel Coffee

Now making his annual official visit to each of the 37 Rotary clubs in Northwest Texas, Coffee will confer in assembly at 3 o'clock this afternoon in Hotel Jim Hill ballroom with officers and members of the Hereford club, and will address the regular meeting of the club Monday noon.

Professor At WTSC
Coffee is professor and head of the Department of Economics and Government at West Texas State College in Canyon, and is a member of the Canyon Rotary club. He is a past president of the club, a director, and has been program chairman. He is also a city commissioner.

His election as district governor of Rotary International for the 1953-54 fiscal year took place at the annual International Rotary convention in Paris, France last May.

AN INTERSECTION of two unpaved roads 7 miles west and one mile north of Hereford was the scene of this fatal collision. Dee Roy Hairgrove, driver of the 1950 Chrysler, left, died Thursday night after the collision Thursday morning. The county-owned pickup truck, which can be seen overturned beyond the ambulance, was the other vehicle involved in the collision. Apparently neither driver saw the other vehicle until it was too late.

Mrs. Hairgrove, who was in the car with her husband, was injured in the accident. Shown, from left, are Deputy Sheriff Fred Gonzales, Sheriff Lowell Sharp, Highway Patrolman James R. Kirkwood, Dave Palmer, who was a passenger in the pickup, and Marlin Gilliland, ambulance driver. Mrs. Hairgrove was in the ambulance. (Staff Photo)

One Driver Dies After Rural Crash

Four persons were injured, one fatally, in the collision of a Chrysler sedan and a county-owned pickup truck Thursday morning at the intersection of two unpaved county roads 7 miles west and one mile north of Hereford.

Dee Roy Hairgrove, 59, of Hereford, Route 5, driver of the sedan, died Thursday night in Deaf Smith County hospital of multiple injuries received in the accident. His wife suffered a concussion, bruises and lacerations, but was not seriously hurt.

Others Hospitalized
Robert D. Lance Jr., 40, driver of the pickup, and Dave Palmer, 33, who was accompanying him, were both temporarily hospitalized, suffering from shock and minor injuries. Mrs. Hairgrove was released from the hospital Friday afternoon, and went to Spur with relatives to attend her husband's funeral.

The collision occurred about 10:30 o'clock Thursday morning, when the two vehicles hit at right angles. Apparently neither of the drivers saw the other vehicle in time to slow down, though investigating officers said that speed was not a factor causing the accident.

Thrown Under Car
When the collision occurred, Hairgrove was thrown from his car and trapped underneath, though investigators could not tell exactly how. The hot muffler was over Hairgrove's mouth, which was charred before his rescue was effected.

Other injuries suffered by Hairgrove included broken ribs and other chest injuries, and a broken right leg, which was put in an emergency splint before he was moved.

Clerence Morrison, precinct 2 county commissioner, said that Lance and Palmer were checking roads to see which ones could be graded first, as county roads had gotten wet from recent rains.

"Checks of this sort are made after every rain," Morrison said, "to save moving the maintainer out to some place where it cannot be used, then having to move it to another place."

Collision Results
At the time of the collision, the Chrysler was going north, and the Chevrolet pickup was headed east. The pickup stopped on its side past the northwest corner of the intersection, while the sedan was almost in the intersection, and facing west.

Both vehicles involved in the collision were considered a total loss by investigating officers, who are still working on the case. Saturday morning, they had still not filed any charges, and did not know whether or not any charges would be filed, pending completion of the investigation.

Funeral Today In Spur Planned For Accident Victim

Funeral services will be held for Dee Roy Hairgrove, 59, Sunday afternoon at the Methodist church in Spur, with Rev. Wright, pastor, officiating.

Mr. Hairgrove died in the Deaf Smith County Hospital Thursday night following an automobile accident that morning.

He was born August 5, 1894, in Lavaca County, Texas. When he was 16, he moved with his family from Lavaca County to Dickens County and in 1917, married Ethel Carlton at San Antonio. They lived in Dickens County until August of this year when they moved to Deaf Smith County.

Taught In Rural Schools
Mr. Hairgrove taught in the rural schools in Dickens County from 1916 until 1923. At that time he attended West Texas State College for three years and in 1926 received his Bachelor of Science degree. After going to WTSC he taught for about 10 more years.

Mr. Hairgrove was an active member of the Methodist church. For three or four years he was superintendent of the Sunday School in Dickens County. He was always fond of people and enjoyed working with the young people in the church as well as in the schools.

He and his wife were living about 1 1/2 miles north of the store at Westway where he had been engaged in farming.

Survivors
Survivors include his wife; four sons, Van-Dwane of Patuxent, Md., Keith of Abilene, Roland of Sharon, Pa., Michael, of the home, one daughter, Shirley, of Lubbock; his mother, Mrs. Junior R. Hairgrove of Spur and one brother, Emmett, of Parker, Ariz.

Burial will be in Spur Cemetery today (Sunday). The body was taken to Spur by Gilliland Funeral Home.

New Cheer Leaders Named At Annual Pep Club Party

New cheer leaders for Hereford High school were announced Friday night at the annual Pep Club Banquet. They are: Kay Barnard, Sylvia McCracken, Barbara Winget and Barbara Hall.

The banquet was held at Shirley School and carried the theme of Mardi Gras decorations. The stage represented the parade and featured a large white elephant and two papier-mache' pep leaders in a float drawn by a huge butterfly. A huge peacock float and other papier-mache' figures carried out the Mardi Gras theme.

Tables Centered With Clowns

Tables were centered with floats, with Cinderella and her pumpkin coach at the head tables. Favors were confetti. The programs were in the form of clowns. Floating balloons emphasized the overall theme.

Lajeon Latham, president of the Pep Club, presided and gave the welcome. Invocation was given by Superintendent George Graham. Mrs. Elmer Patterson gave the mothers response. Lajeon Latham gave a few of the years activities and entertainment was furnished by the Boj Quartet, Johnny Meyer, Eugene Campbell, Robert Miller and David Stanton. They were accompanied by Patricia Childers at the piano. On a second group of selections, Stanton played the guitar accompaniment for a medley of folk tunes.

School Song

Last year's cheer leaders — Nan Longbottom, Melrose Whitfield, Gayle Gault and Sue Barnard, gave the prophecies. The new cheerleaders led the group in a yell. All those present at the banquet joined in singing the school song which was led by the old and new cheer leaders.

George Graham gave the benediction. The banquet was attended by about 250 persons.

NANCY GIVES UP TITLE

Pat Loerwald Named Milford Alternate

Nancy Milford, who was elected Miss National Saleslady at Phoenix, Ariz., on September 22, has relinquished the title and the honors that go with it. Mrs. Pat Loerwald, secretary at the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, has been named as Hereford alternate to carry out the contract.

Monday morning Mrs. Loerwald will leave Amarillo by plane for Phoenix, and will go from there to Desert Inn, Las Vegas, where she will spend two days, then journey on to San Francisco to be official alternate at the annual international convention of the National Association of Women's and Children's Apparel Salesmen, Inc.

Will Go To Los Angeles
Following four days at the convention, which will be climaxed December 16 with a banquet in the Gold Room at Hotel Bellevue, she will go to Los Angeles, where she will be a guest of Paramount Studios for two days, and will be given a screen test.

Mrs. Loerwald, wife of Harold Loerwald, was chosen by Leo V. Newman, president of the salesmen's group, after he learned that Miss Milford would not be able to fulfill the contract.

Charles Hudson, County Agent of Castro County, showed a film on the theme of Farmer's Cooperatives. The group present enjoyed candies, cake, and apples during the social period at the close of the meeting. The next meeting will be January 7.

Christmas holidays for the Hereford schools will begin on Dec. 22 at 2:30 and school will not resume until January 4.

A regular meeting of the Hereford school board is scheduled for 7:30 o'clock Tuesday night at the High School.

The Palmetto Polo game has been cancelled due to the weather. The game is re-scheduled for December 13 if the weather permits.

Wet snow which rode in on the cowcatcher of a norther dropped about one-tenth inch of moisture on Hereford Saturday and was a welcome sight to wheat farmers and ranchers, but soaked cotton still in the fields and may have lowered the grade slightly.

SHINING EYES AND LACRIMATING FACES characterized the children who went down town Wednesday afternoon to see Santa Claus, and many of them got a chance to tell their wishes for Christmas directly to the big fellow with the white beard. All of the children received fruit, nuts and candy before they headed homeward tired but happy, with parents who were even more tired, but who were happy for their children. (Staff Photo.)

Physical Exams Set For 25 Area Men In January

Twenty-five area youths will be among the 4,000 Texas men who will be sent for draft pre-induction physical examinations in January, the largest number to go in any one month since last May.

Selective Service Board 18 received the order the first week in December. General Wakefield, state Selective Service director, announced a January induction call of 1,314.

Reasons For Increase

Pre-induction physical examination quotas have run under 2,000 a month since the past July. General Wakefield gave two reasons for the increase: (1) The pool of examined and acceptable men has decreased, and (2) induction calls are expected to rise sometime during the first half of 1954.

Pre-induction physical examination quotas for the state originate under authority of the state director of Selective Service. State quotas for induction come from the national director.

General Wakefield said that local board quotas for the January induction call should be in the offices of local boards by December 1. State induction quotas have run from 1,250 to 1,800 since the past June.

Want Men Over 20

Local boards must fill their January call with men 20 years old or older if they have them. If necessary to reach its quota, a board may send men under 20 for induction. Eighty-three men out of every 100 inducted in October were 20 years old or older.

Since beginning of the Selective Service act in 1948, a total of 75,435 Texas men have been inducted under the law. All but about 1,450 of these have gone into service since the fight in Korea began in 1950.

Since beginning of the 1948 act, Texas has delivered 173,986 men for pre-induction physical examination.

The "Jones" letters are beginning to come in this week. Already, I have seven. I haven't even looked them over myself — but I know it is going to be a lot of fun. Today, Dec. 6, is the deadline. The deal is to write your own opinion of the type of person you would find in Mr. Jones, or the Jones family. The Jones in question is the one that folks all over America try to keep up with. What kind of people are they? Is the result good or bad for the rest of us? It has lots of possibilities. Remember, not more than 1,000 words — and we will absolutely NOT consider any entry postmarked later than Sunday, Dec. 6.

Scuttlebutt around town has it that Police Chief Leo Box got thrown a big, wide curve recently. He came dawdling down to check the city jail and arrange for breakfasts for the prisoners the other morning. It turned out that he had only one prisoner, so Leo told the fellow he would get his breakfast and be back in a few minutes. At the same time he left the huge ring of jail keys hanging in the runway outside the cell. The prisoner apparently wasn't very hungry — had eaten those jail breakfasts before — so he got some coat hangers, twisted them together and managed to transfer the ring of keys into his cell. From this point on it was easy for him to reach, around the door, insert the keys and walk out the front door.

You can also imagine Leo's surprise when he returned in a few minutes with coffee and doughnuts — but no customer to eat them. The worst part was to follow, though. When the rest of the cops found out about the deal, they started razzing Chief Box for sure. His face still gets red when you call him "Rookie". They finally recovered the prisoner, but I never did find out what happened to the ill-fated breakfast, and have been afraid to ask Leo.

For more than 10 years, Lyle Blanton has been telling me that someday he would equip his butane trucks with 2-way radio service. He finally did it. The idea, as I understand it, is highly similar to the set-up in use by Southwestern Public Service, REA and the gas company. It is strictly a matter of service, and holding down delivery costs. If a truck is out in the country and a customer along the way runs short of butane, they merely pick up the radio and tell the driver to "service" this other customer while he is in that neck of the woods. Sounds like a pretty good deal. Taxi cabs have been using it on a fleet basis for a long time. It seems to work efficiently for the customer and for the operating firm as well.

Things are really picking up. I got a joke this week from Robert Thompson. It qualifies, and his two theatre tickets are now in the mail. Here's the joke:
"My friend sent me a package of fish from the Gulf last August," writes Robert. "In place of the return address, he wrote:

"After 10 days, please
—Oh, never mind!"
Most of the half-way old timers around here will remember Mary Henslee, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Henslee. Mary is now Mrs. George L. Magor, wife of a lieutenant in the Air Force, and is located at Fairbanks, Alaska. Recently Mrs. Henslee wrote and asked Mary about the weather. In reply, Mary clipped the Nov. 28 (Saturday) weather chart from the Fairbanks "News - Miner" and mailed it back home. The chart read:

WEATHER
"Partly cloudy and colder tonight and Sunday. The low tonight —12, high Sunday zero; low last night — 5, high yesterday — 6. Sunrise Sunday 9:12 a.m., sunset 2:06 p.m."

Mary underscored the sunrise and sunset items. Actually, this leaves only five daylight hours in the day. Brother, I'd hate to have to pay the light bill. Homer says, however, that they both like Alaska fine, and are having a wonderful time.

Rev. Russell Pogue has a wonderful idea. He says next summer we should sponsor some "get-acquainted, block parties" all over town. A lot of people, especially in the newly improved areas in Hereford actually don't know the folks who live in their own blocks. This could be developed into a wonderful idea. I am working on it, too. The only trouble is that I can't figure out any manner of getting invited to the deal on each block. Maybe I will come up with something.

I know he is right, though, because when I first moved into my block on McKinley the folks used to do this very thing. The Prentiss Rossos had an outdoor charcoal grill and every summer they would throw one of these block parties. All of the neighbors would bring the same thing (chicken or steak enough for their own family) and we would mingle around and visit. What I especially liked about the deal was the fact that Prentiss and Cliff Acker figured they were the only ones who knew how to cook. This made it possible for the rest of us to sit around and enjoy life. All we had to do was brag on the food a little bit — and let nature take its course. It's a wonderful deal, really. Just think. Streu lives across the street from me now. The theory is that I might even get to like the big ox if I knew him a little bit better. Who knows?

Even that has possibilities. Being in the hardware business, Streu has a lot of special lawn carts, hedge trimmers, fancy lawn mowers — and the like. He might even come over and insist on lending them to me. Who knows? (I do, but we won't get into that).

Is Hadaool coming back? The other day I was walking down the street behind some young fellow and I couldn't help admiring the spring in his brisk step. Just when I was thinking how wonderful it must be to be so young and agile, I got the shock of my life. The 'teenage character turned around and, to my amazement, it was old Buryl Elliston. I said I wouldn't apologize to him — but I hereby do just that. I was wrong all of the time. I had been seeing him from the front. After this experience, I will say that Buryl isn't a day older than Jack Benny — from the back, that is.

The Cecil Malones are back in town from their Drowsy Water Ranch. Cecil is all excited over the hunting season. He killed a bear. However, he has hung around those dudes so long that he reminds me of the local tribe of curbstone hunters. All talk and no proof! I would sure be convinced if he showed up with a bear steak. I'd even put in in the freezer — and save it for Christmas dinner. I never did eat any bear steak. . . yet. Cecil can be a gentleman about this deal, or else he goes down in my books along with Otis

Letters To The Editor

I think the parents and teachers of grade school children deserve an apology and an explanation from George Graham for causing so many heartache and so many hours of anxiety Wednesday afternoon. Someone is responsible.

I have been so upset and so angry that I tried to find out why the schools would send these young children home when their parents had been told to pick them up at the courthouse after the parade.

Note To Parents
The following note was brought home by my child Monday or Tuesday:
PARENTS:
The entire school will be in a Christmas Parade Wednesday at 2:30. The parade will end at the courthouse where the children will receive treats. All children living in town will go home from the courthouse. Bus children will catch the buses at the courthouse. Parents of children who ride the bus may pick them up at the conclusion of the parade. Be sure to instruct your child as to whether he shall ride the bus or go home with his parents. The parade will begin at 6th and Main."

Instructed To Meet Father
My son, 6 years old, and in the first grade, had been instructed to meet his father, who would be helping to give out the treats. He also knew that I would be at my church until time for the parade. I expect to know where my child is at all times and he knows where I am after school hours.

Unless you are a parent, you can't possibly know how I felt when I found out that the children had been dismissed from school without any explanation and without enough time to notify their parents. I'm not the only mother who went through torture wondering if her child would walk to town, for the first time in his life, or if he would accept a ride with a stranger. My child wasn't at home crying, like some children, because I called our home first. The phone wasn't answered.

Found Son
After the parade was over, I found my son right where I had told him to meet us. I was so relieved and so thankful that his teacher had brought him to town. There is one little 6 year old girl who walked home and then to town, about 12 blocks, who has never been allowed to even walk home. There is another child who walked home and just cried and cried. Her parents were waiting for her at the courthouse.

If this is how the superintendent takes care of our grade school children, maybe I should attend school everyday in case other plans or schedules are changed at the last minute as this was done.

Graham Undecided
This is the information that I have found, Wednesday morning, while the weather was still bad, the Jaycee President and the Chamber of Commerce Secretary called Graham to see if he still intended to allow the children to march in the parade. He said he was undecided and to call him later. At 1:15 o'clock, after the rain had stopped, they called Graham again. He was still undecided and invited them to attend a conference. In my opinion, this was too late to be changing plans. So at 2:00 o'clock the Superintendent had a conference with Pat Sullivan, Coach Stanton, and Don Martin and they decided against allowing the children to march in the parade. Reason? I don't know. I couldn't have been the weather because it was nicer at 2:00 o'clock than it had been all day.

Opinions Asked
Of course, Mr. Mullins and Mr. Formby were asked their opinions, but they certainly weren't there to make a decision concerning the welfare of the children. (That is the job for our school officials). They merely wanted information so the parade could be formed. So, at approximately 2:15, the grade school principals were told to dismiss the children. The teachers were the ones who felt the responsibility, not our superintendent, Mr. Graham. They knew that the parents would leave their homes early in order to find parking places and to find a good place to see their children, happy because they were in a parade. There's nothing much harder to face than a child's disappointment, which easily could have been avoided this time.

What will the officials do to our children next? Injure them on the concrete under the merry-go-round?
Mrs. S. G. Nelson

Officers Are Installed By Women's Council

The December luncheon meeting of the Women's Council of the First Presbyterian church was held Wednesday in Fellowship Hall at the church. Mesdames W. J. Krumben and Frances Hardwick were hostesses.

Tables were arranged with white chrysanthemums in crystal bowls, red Christmas candles and bright bangles.

Preceding the program, a trio of girls from Hereford High school sang Christmas songs, with Dixie Young accompanying at the piano. Singers were Wanda Kirksey, Lotus Root and Nancy Patterson.

Activities Outlined

The business portion of the program was conducted by the president, Mrs. H. A. Close, and reports of the past year's work were heard. Plans were discussed and budgets and programs for next year's activities were outlined.

District Scout Court Of Honor Set For Dec. 28

An Eagle Scout badge, the third to be won by a Deaf Smith County boy since 1942, will be formally presented at a district Scout Court of Honor December 28.

Held in the County Court Room starting at 7:30 o'clock that Monday night, the presentation of the Eagle Award will be the highlight of the evening, even though there will be a number of other awards presented, according to a report given at the District Scout Council meeting at noon Tuesday in Hotel Jim Hill.

Canoe Trip

Probably the item of next greatest interest which was brought up at the meeting is that Explorer Scouts from this county are eligible to apply for participation in a canoe trip through northern Minnesota and Canada next July 14-24. Bert Boomer, camping and activities chairman for the district, said that the first 20 reservations made in this county, with each reservation accompanied by a $10 deposit on the $30 trip, will be accepted. The council includes several counties.

"Reservations must be made by January 15," Boomer remarked. "There has already been a considerable amount of interest generated in Amarillo, where some of the Explorer units have gotten color films of last year's trip, but we hope that at least a few boys from Deaf Smith will be able to go."

More Scouts

In the report given by Bruce Miller, organization and extension chairman, it was noted that the total number of Scouts in the county was greater on October 30 than at the same time a year ago, but the gain had all been in Cubs and Scouts, with a net loss of 10 boys in Explorer units.

Cubs numbered 115 this year, compared to 156 a year ago, and there were 113 Scouts registered, compared with 84 on October 30 of last year. Registered Explorer Scouts had dropped from 23 to 13.

Several leaders' training programs have a ready been held, and more are scheduled, according to the report sent in by Earnest L. Angley, Leadership Training chairman. A Junior Leader training course will be held at Camp Don Harrington December 11-12 Friday night and Saturday, and a Basic Cub Leaders Session on ten meetings will be held in Hereford December 17.

Look Into Future

It was with a look even farther into the future that Bert Boomer noted that the annual Field Day will be held at Camp Don Harrington April 23-25, 1954. Rules for the three-day event have already been mailed to unit leaders.

A nominating committee to select nominees for the chairmanship of the council, and two vice-chairmen to serve with him, was appointed. The committee, which consists of Dr. Milton Adams as chairman, Bill Phillips and Jim Whelan, will report at the January meeting of the council. An election will be held at the same meeting. Wayne Edwards is the present chairman.

Those who attended the council meeting included Don Zimmerman, Leo Box, District Scout Executive W. M. Teague, Council Executive W. J. Hiatt of Amarillo, Bill Phillips, Jim Whelan, Bert Boomer, Coy Patton, Bruce Miller, Dr. Milton Adams and Wayne Edwards.

Year's First Concert Will Feature Trio

The Concert Trio, first program in a series of three that will be presented this year under the auspices of the Hereford Concert Association, will be presented at 8 o'clock Thursday in the High School auditorium.

Though the Concert Trio has received recognition and acclaim from all walks of the musical world, probably the thing they prize most is a special citation made by the American Accordion Association. This was given for the Trio having played more concerts of the legitimate concert stage in a given season than any other similar concert group had ever played in a similar period of time.

Members Of Trio

Appearing in the Concert Trio are Bill Palmer, one of the nation's leading accordionists; Bill Hughes, another accordion player; and Len Manno who handles the contra bass viol.

Membership cards have been mailed to all members of the Hereford Concert Association. Admission to the concert will be by membership card only.

Students wishing complimentary tickets, are urged to contact Don Moore at the High School.

Howell-Poindexter Wedding Solemnized In WTSC Chapel

MRS. JOHN E. POINDEXTER

The Joseph A. Hill Chapel at West Texas State College, Canyon, was the scene Wednesday, November 25, for the marriage of Miss Teddie Howell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Stacy S. Howell of Canyon, to John E. Poindexter, son of John Poindexter of Baird, Tex. Vows were exchanged at 7 in the evening with Rev. Strauss Adkinson, pastor of the First Baptist church of Canyon, officiating at the double-ring ceremony.

Wedding Music
Wedding music was presented by Mrs. Glenn Dowlen at the organ, and Miss Collene Brown. Mrs. Dowlen played a short pre-nuptial concert as guests were assembling and candles were lighted. Miss Brown sang "Through the Years," accompanied by Mrs. Dowlen. Traditional wedding marches were used for the processional and recessional. Clair de Lune was played softly as musical background for the ceremony.

Baskets of white gladioli and altar vases filled with white gladioli with white tapers in candelabra formed the decorations for the nuptial rites. Candlelighters were: Mrs. Hallie Earhman of Olton and Miss Katherine Smith of Shamrock. They wore aqua net over taffeta dresses and carried white tapers in a circle of pink chrysanthemums.

Matron Of Honor
Mrs. Don Patterson was matron of honor. She wore a green tulle formal made over taffeta and carried a bouquet of pink chrysanthemums. As bridesmatron, Mrs. Duane Howard wore pink tulle over taffeta and carried a bouquet of green carnations. Both wore velvet crowns studded with rhinestones. James White of Friona served as best man. Marion Posey of Memphis and Lowell Hill of Canyon were ushers.

Bride Wears White Satin
The bride, given in marriage by her father, was lovely in a wedding gown of white slipper satin. The fitted bodice was designed with Chantilly lace and seed pearl trim at the neck, and long sleeves tapering to petal points at the hands.

The full gathered skirt terminated in a chapel-length train, and the veil of illusion net, held in place by a tiara of simulated pearls, fell to a chapel length train in the back. Her only ornaments were a pearl choker and matching ear rings.

The bride carried a colonial type bouquet of Fluer de Amour centered with a white gardenia topped with a white Prayer Book.

The bride's mother wore a navy suit dress with pink and navy accessories and a pink rosebud corsage.

Reception Is Held
Mr. and Mrs. Howell, the bride's parents, were hosts at a reception in their home honoring the couple following the ceremony. The matron of honor's bouquet, flanked by green tapers, centered the refreshment table. Mrs. Ray McReynolds of Canyon served the three-tiered wedding cake and Mrs. Henry Ford of Claude served punch.

The bride's going away costume was a two-piece blue faille dress with blue and black accessories. The gardenia from the wedding bouquet formed her corsage.

Mrs. Poindexter, a graduate from Canyon High School, is a senior student at West Texas State College where she is a member of Pi Omega Sorority and Future Teachers of America.

Sweethearts From Childhood

W. A. Hunters Celebrate 60th Wedding Anniversary

Fifty couples have been invited to call between 2 and 4 p.m. this afternoon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Hunter, 108 W. Fifth Street, to share in their 60th wedding anniversary observances. When the couple exchanged vows at her home in Sidney, Ark., on December 6, 1893, she wore a gown of heliotrope chasimere trimmed in darker silk which had been designed by her sister, a well known seamstress. The wedding was no surprise for they had been sweethearts since they first met when both were ten.

Beginning Of Romance
The bride was born in Sidney and when he came to live with his sister on a neighboring farm the romance began. "We went to school together and exchanged valentines, then went to parties and church affairs as we grew older. My -- it was fun!" Mrs. Hunter recalled. "We thought we were having the thrill of a lifetime when we celebrated our golden wedding anniversary date, but I believe this will be the biggest thrill of all," she continued.

After visiting relatives on their honeymoon, Mr. and Mrs. Hunter returned to her farm to live. They had both been reared on farms, and living close to the land became so much a part of their lives, they continued to farm until he retired in 1935.

The Move To Texas
In 1896 they moved to Texas, locating on a farm in Hill County, and there he began to buy up cattle. In Wellington, where they moved later so the children could go to school, he operated a well-stocked farm.

The family moved to Hereford in the Jumbo Community in 1916, and developed large farming interests there, but during the depression days of 1935, in the days of the black northers and drought, they left the farm and moved to their present home in Hereford.

Now, at 81, they are ending their sixtieth year together as they began their first, with a philosophy of life centered around the belief that "everything is going to work out all right." Mrs. Hunter, a lifelong member of the Presbyterian church, was associated for many years with the women's activities, and until recently has been able to attend church services regularly.

The open house being held today will be hosted by their children. Preceding the observance the children will entertain their parents at a dinner given at the Western Wheel Inn.

On the refreshment table will be a lace cloth, and tapers will burn in candelabra. Autumn flowers, with chrysanthemums predominating, will be used in decorations. The wedding anniversary confection will be decorated in the same colors.

House Party
The house party will include the couple's children: Mrs. M. L. Simpson of the Jumbo Community, Kenneth Hunter, Sam and Finis, who are twins, and Ullman, all of Hereford, and Addison of the Jumbo Community, and the daughters-in-law.

The Hunters have 19 grandchildren and 21 great grandchildren.

Radio Auction

Sunday afternoon, December 6, will mark the second annual Radio Auction to be sponsored by the Hereford Kiwanis Club. The event will be highly similar in process to the 1952 auction—except that merchandise to be sold has increased in volume by a margin of around 50 percent.

Items placed in the auction have been donated by various merchants in the community and will be sold to the highest bidder during the auction period over Station KPAN. Entire proceeds from the auction will go to the Hereford Kiwanis Club—and these proceeds will be earmarked to be specifically used in a general program of underprivileged children.

The entire plan, in other words, is just a means of making contributions to a worthy cause easy and pleasant. Last year, in fact, it was even profitable to the purchasers who bought approximately $1,000 worth of merchandise for around $750. This year the Kiwanians have announced a total of $1,500 in merchandise. Naturally, they would like to get retail price on the items if possible. However, if they average out 75 or 80 cents on the dollar, they will be happy.

We agree with the Kiwanis boys. It is a nice way to donate, especially if you save 25 cents on the dollar on items purchased. Think it over. Tune in Sunday afternoon. Even if you pay 100 cents on the dollar, you will be assisting a worthwhile cause.

Johnson Upholds Farm Subsidies

Senator Lyndon B. Johnson, during his whirlwind campaign trip across Texas, has touched upon several points near and dear to the hearts of the American people.

The Senator is worried, for instance, over the possibilities of an atomic bomb attack by the Russians against our country. He even goes so far as to say that the Russians have the bombs, the planes and the trained manpower to wipe out every city in the United States in one night. His opinion is that the Soviet is waiting for the time "When Russia is strong enough—and the United States is sufficiently weak for the attack to be most successful."

The Senator is likewise worried about the economy of our nation. He says: "We cannot pay back debts made with 35-cent dollars on the basis of sound (100-cent) dollars." Likewise, Senator Johnson feels that the entire structure of American economy is based upon agriculture and agricultural production. In this regard, Senator Johnson upholds commodity price supports for the United States and he unquestionably presents some sound arguments.

"If we want a free economy, non-subsidized," says Senator Johnson, "let's have it all of the way." He points to increased prices on the items bought by the farmer as a direct result of tariffs; he cites tremendous subsidies to the airlines, the railroads, and to other interests. He also cites federal labor laws which afford price and hour protection to the working man, thus increasing the costs of every item which the farmer is required to purchase in the pursuit of life and happiness.

"When we abolish all of these other subsidies," says Senator Johnson, "then will be the time to talk about abolishing farm subsidies."

Regardless of one's political leanings any fair minded man or woman is bound to agree that Senator Johnson has a point which cannot be lightly dismissed. We live in a complicated world and these things must be carefully and fairly weighed if the United States continues to lead the world with the highest civilization yet known.

Senator Johnson, we strongly suspect, has come to the point where he is putting the welfare of the American people ahead of personal gain and self achievement. As minority leader in the Senate, he has frequently indicated such aims and ideals. Washington is today filled with over-flowing with politicians but, as always, statesmen are not too numerous. Senator Johnson, however, is emerging as a statesman and, we predict, has only begun a long spiral of leadership and service to the American people.

Paging Mr. Moore!

The Hereford Rotary Club this week took time out in a busy world to express appreciation to Don Moore, choral music director in Hereford Public Schools.

The club presented Mr. Moore with a certificate which summed up some of his accomplishments and contributions to the community. In part, it read: "For his unusual knowledge in his professional field; for his untiring efforts toward the constantly increasing development of high standards of performance for both his students and himself; for the unassuming, yet forceful manner of exerting his leadership in our community."

To these words, The Brand would like to add a hearty endorsement. Mr. Moore, in addition to being a dynamic worker, is likewise an unusual citizen in that he places community service high in his scale of values.

Not satisfied with spending untold hours developing the talents of our youth, Mr. Moore always finds time to present his groups on numerous and varied occasions. Furthermore, you can depend upon the fact that they will, unquestionably, be far above the average.

Men of such ability are rare and, when occasionally discovered, they seldom possess the dynamic drive, the tender patience or the fine spirit of co-operation exhibited by Hereford's unusual choral music director.

A Merry Christmas

Reports showed a total of 523 poll taxes paid on December 1, 1953. The figure, although small, compares favorably with the 290 total reported at the same time in 1952.

However, last year recorded payment of 1,603 poll taxes in this county—a figure only slightly more than half of that recorded in 1952, the big election year. Voters will do well to remember that next year is also an election year of considerable importance. In addition to city officials and school trustees, voters will also decide on several county offices in 1954. Besides, there is always the possibility of bond issues and other special elections.

Therefore, a reminder seems in order—despite the Christmas rush. A poll tax, after all, is a Christmas present for yourself and your family. It represents a privilege which millions of people in scores of countries would prize as the finest Christmas present possible, one which they would value above all else.

"Your hometown newspaper is the nerve center of a community, and without that some community would soon begin to lose its identity. It is one of the great bulwarks of a free America. Thousands of small newspapers throughout the United States represent the best read printed matter in general circulation today." ASHLAND, NEB., GAZETTE

"In these days of high taxation, a person has to take advantage of all the good breaks to keep from going broke. But remember, any free handout is just a false solution to the basic difficulty. The day you find yourself believing that government gifts are the cure to all economic evils, that's the day you slipped into socialistic and communist thinking." OWLER, MICH., POST

"In addition to being the most richly productive, America's economic system does a better job of 'sharing the wealth' produced than any other system the world has ever tried." BASSETT, NEB., LEADER

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Present Time Not Too Early To Begin Planning New School

With the probability that another grade school will be needed in Hereford within a few years, do you think that the school board should begin getting architects' plans for such a building, or wait until the need is more evident?

MRS. KENNETH GOOCH

"I think that they should wait until the need for a new school is more evident. After all, they won't know until that time how big the new school should be. There will probably be new facilities by that time also. Of course the price probably won't be the same."

MRS. H. D. GOLDSTON

"I don't think it would be a bad idea to start looking at plans for a new school. However, I'd rather not express myself further on the question."

WAYNE LAWRENCE

"I wouldn't see any harm in getting architects' plans for a new grade school. They will need to figure out the location and the approximate size of the building. It should be large enough for the increase in population and Hereford is definitely increasing. I think that it would be a good idea to plan ahead."

MRS. GERALD WILSON

"I think the school board knows what is best to do about a question like that. They are associated with these things and I think that we, as the public, should listen to what they have to say. After all, that is what they are elected for."

WALT WARREN

"According to the way that Hereford is growing, I would say that we will definitely need a new school. Therefore I think that the school board should begin getting architects' plans now."

MRS. HOMER HAMILTON

"I know that Hereford will definitely need a new school and that the school board should take a long time to decide on what plans should be used. I do think that they should wait until they know exactly how large the new school must be and what facilities it should have."

JOHN HON

"I think that Hereford needs a new grade school at the present time. So naturally, I think that the school board should begin getting plans to study."

MRS. DON LITTLE

"It doesn't seem too urgent that the school board should begin getting plans for a new building since Shirley School is so new. I used to teach in high school and I do know that the schools are too crowded. However, I just don't know too much about the situation of the grade schools. I'm just thankful that we have a new high school."

'Tater Peelin's

By Roberta Campbell

If you've been thinking about the good old days when you used to hill up turnips and keep them all winter then all you have to do to make your dream come true is to take a dollar and drive out to the V. O. Hennen place a mile south on Highway 51 and get a big bushel of nice purple tops to go along with your blackeyed peas and spuds and onions.

They should have enough for everybody.

We see at least one Texas town has decided to enforce the act amended by the last Legislature which allows parents to be sentenced to jail when their juvenile children are caught in trouble.

Four of the fathers in Richmond, Texas have been given six months jail sentences which they will have to serve if their children are caught giving trouble again. We have a suspicion the old boys will be a little more anxious to know how the youngsters are spending their time.

Mrs. Augie Jonas of Blanco reported to deer contest headquarters last Friday that she shot an eight-point doe near her home Thursday evening.

Mrs. Jonas said she saw the doe and a four-point buck together at the time, so she picked out the larger of the two. It turned out to be a rare "Christine" of the deer world.

The antlers had a 10-inch spread and the deer weighed 60 pounds. NEW BRAUNFELS HERALD

Forty-one bales of cotton were destroyed by fire and extensive damage was caused to telephone company and Western Union power lines Sunday morning between Hart and Edmonson when a cotton truck driver was forced to dump a flaming load of cotton destined for a Hart warehouse.

The load of cotton was a complete loss, estimated at about $6500. However, the load reportedly was insured. Damages to power lines were estimated at $200 plus the loss of property and service. THE CASTRO NEWS

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm is riled up this week, his letter reveals. He'll get over it.

Dear editor:

I generally take a calm attitude toward most things, from high taxes to atom bombs, from trustee elections to Presidential elections, but this week I don't mind sayin' I'm up in arms and frothin' at the mouth.

I was out here yesterday enjoyin' the afternoon sunshine and watchin' my cows graze as peacefully as though there would be another norther when I decided to look over a copy of the Dallas News which I got home with from town because some shoes I'd had half-soled was wrapped up in it.

I was readin' along as peacefully as my cows was grazin' when I ran into a statement by no less a man than the Mayor of Dallas. It ruined my day.

Accordin' to this statement, Dallas is raisin' some money to help finance Southern Methodist University and the Mayor was urgin' the folks to shell out.

"What would Dallas be like without SMU?" the Mayor asked. "Why, it would set our city back more than half a century," he answered. "The culture and atmosphere derived from the university are what we need to build the great Southwestern city we are trying to build."

Well, up to there, what he said suited me all right. I'm in favor of all institutions of higher learning. There's a period in lots of young people's lives and most professors' when college is about the only handy place for em at the time.

But the Dallas Mayor kept on talkin'. "When you wonder about how much to give in this drive," he continued, "just envision a pasture of Johnson grass. That's what was out there before they built SMU."

That's what burns me up. What's wrong with Johnson grass? And further more, that's the first time I ever heard of anybody recommendin' supportin' a university because it got rid of Johnson grass. There ought to be some other reason for supportin' a university, and some other way of gettin' rid of Johnson grass.

In fact, if the Mayor is gonna set out to eradicate Johnson grass by buildin' universities on it, he's gonna wind up with more universities on his hands than he knows what to do with. Up to now, there ain't been a university anywhere with the brains to figure out an easy way to get rid of Johnson grass, outside I guess of smotherin' it to death with buildings.

I wish to inform the Dallas Mayor I got lots of Johnson grass out here on my farm, but it never has occurred to me to attack it with a university.

The Mayor has gone too far. There's room in Texas for SMU and Johnson grass too. I hope Dallas puts its SMU drive over, but I can tell em now it's one of the most impractical ways I know to get rid of Johnson grass.

Yours faithfully,

J. A.

Highlights..

Neighbor Commission, appointed Frank Kelley of Colorado City as head of the new committee which will act on the problem.

According to Penrose, quicker, and more thorough investigation of discrimination cases, with the help of local officials, is the purpose of the committee.

To Inform Latin Americans
Penrose named Claude Meadows Sr., of San Angelo as head of a committee to help inform Latin Americans in Texas of their status under the McCann Immigration Act.

The federal law requires proof by January 1 of legal entry into the U. S.

Provisions of the act are causing much fear of deportation even among Latin Americans who have lived in Texas for 20 years or longer. Many persons are unable to present the required records because papers were lost or never were made, Penrose stated.

Republican Primary
Action taken by state Republican leaders at a session here December 7 may have important bearing on the top 1954 political campaigns.

Law requires the party to nominate its candidates in a primary, since it crossfiled Governor Allan Shivers last year and polled more than 200,000 votes for him.

Republicans would vote on the same day as the Democratic Primary.

GOP Strategy

GOP leaders had favored a strategy of opposing Democratic candidates who appeared vulnerable or any who held views contrary to the Republicans.

National committeeman Jack Porter of Houston had previously stated that the GOP would have an opponent for Senator Lyndon Johnson, but not for Governor Shivers, if he seeks re-election.

Significance Of Decision

At this point, the significance of the committee's decisions becomes apparent.

Should Governor Shivers eliminate himself, there is every indication that several conservative candidates will be in the race with the possibility of one liberal in the field, although two have been mentioned.

Monday's meeting may give the Republicans a definite rule on their rights under the cross-filing law, and they may decide whether they can place on their ballots candidates who are also named on the Democratic ticket.

Appeal Without Announcement.
One conservative candidate for governor has already made an appeal to Texas voters, without making a formal announcement of his campaign.

House Speaker Reuben Senterfitt of San Saba said in a talk last week that he hoped the din of debate over party control would not "obscure our present need to carry forward a program for the improvement of our state government and state services."

He added that there are "able and courageous men who have, and will again lead that debate."

That statement has caused speculation that Shivers will not run again. The governor has previously said that he would be willing to carry on the conservative cause in the party control fight.

One experienced political analyst puts it this way:

"Senterfitt is a conservative. His very early announcement that he would run, plus the fast start on speech-making, has added to the feeling of many political pros that if his campaign catches on, Shivers will not ask re-election."

Atomic Bomb Shelters
Texans can now boast of one of the first atomic-age bomb shelters.

It is ready for use as the nerve center of operations in case of disaster or war emergency and is located at the Texas Department of Public Safety as a part of the new headquarters building.

Director Homer Garrison Jr. says the shelter consists of five large basement rooms now used as the department's communication center.

Walls and ceiling of the shelter are made of steel and concrete about two feet thick.

There is little to distinguish it from other parts of the building, but it is built to withstand almost anything except a direct bomb hit, including the tumbling weight of the upper portion of the building.

Nine telephone trunk lines could be expanded to 21 in time of emergency.

Buyers Getting Breaks

Buyers are getting better breaks in the eyes of the law, according to Dean W. Page Keeton of the University of Texas Law School.

Courts are developing a new doctrine of "let the seller beware," he said.

Speaking of his views as stated in the Texas Law Review, he cited the example of a real estate sale in which the buyer was told the plumbing was "all right."

During the transaction, the seller failed to tell the purchaser that the plumbing was not connected to a public sewer, and the court regarded this as misrepresentation.

SHORT SNORTS: In the Court of Criminal Appeals validity of the state's antinoise auto muffler law was upheld. . . This followed a similar decision by the Supreme Court . . . Emergency reduction of rail extended to December 31. . . Geo. M. Sandlin of Austin and Harvey W. Draper of Houston have been named to serve as chairman and vice-chairman, respectively, of the Texas Real Estate Commission for the fifth consecutive year. . . Four men who represented Wise County in the Legislature during the 1890's are still living. . . They are C. V. Terrell of Austin, John H. Kirkpatrick of San Antonio, C. W. Martin of Coleman, and John F. Thomas of Lawton, Okla.

Sowers Of Seed Theme Used For WSCS Program

Women's Society of Christian Service of the First Methodist church met for its regular Fellowship Luncheon at the church Wednesday. Hostesses for the luncheon were Mesdames A. T. Mims, O. L. Click, Norman Gray and W. C. Meharg.

Mrs. Leroy Aven, president, named Mrs. J. C. Cummings Methodist "Woman of the Month". Place Cards bearing servicemen's names marked each member's place at the table. Members will address Christmas cards to the servicemen listed on the cards.

Prelude Of Carols

The program for the day was presented in Ward Hall, with Mrs. S. L. Easley giving the opening prayer and Mrs. S. M. Dunnam playing a prelude of Christmas carols.

Mrs. Raymond Higginbotham was in charge of the program, which was presented by the Alice Ward Circle. Theme of the program was "Sowers of the Seed".

Mrs. Earnest Langley gave the history and significance of the fir tree and the holly, and told of traditional carols and beliefs concerning Christmas in other lands.

Effect Of Christ's Birth
Mrs. Bert Boomer told of the effect of the birth of Christ on art, music and literature.

Christmas Stories Retold At Bay View Study Club

Christmas stories of different nations were retold and Christmas songs of other countries were sung on the Christmas program presented at the Bay View Study Club session held at the home of Mrs. Howard Gault Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Leo Forrest gave a meaningful program on "Christmas in Literature" telling of the effect of the story of the Nativity on music, art and literature. The miracle of Christmas as told in verse and song in many lands, and favorite Christmas stories of America were summarized. Some of those mentioned were Dickens' "Christmas Carol", Bradford's "How Come Christmas"; Kate Douglas Wiggin's "The Birds Christmas Carol"; "O. Henry's 'Gift of the Magi'"; and Henry Van Dyke's "The Other Wise Man."

Hungarian Christmas Story

In conclusion, Mrs. Forrest read the Hungarian Christmas Story, "Which of the Nine". As a climax she read the greatest story of all, the Scriptural story from Matthew and Luke.

Mrs. R. B. Miller discussed Christmas music and festivities through the ages, following the development of Christmas music from the Christmas Wait which was originated in the first carols and hymns. "Because of these songs the world has seen Christmas in an entirely different light" she declared.

Hymns And Carols

Mrs. Miller directed the playing of records of hymns and carols, including the old French "First Noel," the Ukrainian "Carol of the Bells," "Joy to the World," "It Came Upon the Midnight Clear," another French carol, "Angels We Have Heard on High," and "Silent Night," and "O Little Town of Bethlehem".

To close the meeting, members of the social committee served Christmas-time candies to the group.

Those attending were Mesdames Essie Cardwell, an honorary member; D. H. Alexander, Phillip Barkley, H. L. Benefield, Colby Conkright, C. J. Crump, Leo Forrest, Francis Hardwick, E. W. Harrison, George Heard, A. M. Jones, W. S. Kerr, J. W. Kirby, Paul Mathers, John McLean, R. B. Miller, Eugene Naugle, J. W. Spradley, Ansel McDowell, Jas. W. Witherspoon and Miss Frances Turrentine.

FOIBLES

By Kent Snare
I am going to take another run at the following subject, if you can call it that or anything. . . Last night I wrote a squib but it turned out rabid enough to be ripped up, so I'll have a rerun go at it. . . I have scanned at most of the '53 All American rosters that have upped at me to date and scoffed at most of them, especially at Collier's mags early and feeble try. . . I say early, for although it is dated December the 11th, it hit the local news cribs last week. . . In order to accomplish this before-hand publishing, it had to be compiled, edited and printed, quite some days before it was put in the hands of the purveyors, who offer it to the consumers and even so it caught the light of the public eye ere the '53 season was extinct. Remember too, that this periodical cradled the original AA selection, that of Walter Camp, and for years was accepted as the epitome of that ilk. . . In fact they point to its precedence by labeling this gallimaufry, "The 64th All American". . . To run through it lightly and laughingly, let's bump into their backfield. . . There you will find, John Lattner of Notre Dame; Paul Giel of Minnesota; Paul Cameron of UCLA and J. C. Caroline of Illinois, a nice layout of one right halfback and 3 of the left variety. . . No quarterback and no fullback, leave alone any blocking to speak of. . . At end, Steve Mellinger, who hasn't played left end or any other end, regularly, for two years. . . At tackle, Jim Smith of Baylor, who besides kicking points after, was mentioned in broadcasts as the other Bear tackle behind Knowles. . . The Star-Telegram had an interesting All SWC lineup recently. . . It was picked by their sports staff, who saw the seven conference teams play in 63 contests. . . Surprisingly enough Smith was not on the first team and Carlton Massey, the highly publicized Texas U. end wasn't too. . . Gilmer Spring of T. U. and Sagely of Arkansas were the number one team ends. . . Bob Fleck of Syracuse, named as a guard, did not scratch even on the UP all Eastern team. . . If you couldn't edge onto that coterie, you'd have to pay to get into a Big 10 or SWC game, for you couldn't qualify for the club, you might even get drummed out of the lodge. . . This sophomore, J. C. Caroline of the Illini, ran up several laps of ground yardage, but in the interim, 3 clubs, Nebraska, Wisconsin and much belabored Syracuse stopped him more than somewhat. . . His compadre, Mickey Bates, was just as pestiferous, much more durable and handier when the chips were tiered, watch for the latter, he will show, even if the Illini take on a night contest. . . From what I've read and heard this season, it appears rational to expect to have Bernie Faloney, Maryland; Chuck Dowd, UCLA; Art Hunter, Notre Dame; J. D. Roberts, Oklahoma and Neil Worden of the Irish cluttering up some of the AA picks, at least the opponents of these characters doffed their skimmers to 'em. . . Speaking of the Okies, it is just barely possible to have a pair of brothers as AA's if the Wilkinsons do as well in '55 as they could, they would be Kurt and Bob Burris at center and full, respectively.

Fancy and Plain

I approached and reproached a pair of Texas Aggies on their basketballers losing to a "No name normal" type of school by a mere 20 points. . . They dealt me abrasive looks and arched brows, together with some pointed remarks. . . Later on, about curfew time, one of 'em defiantly accosted me, with the info, that it was not No Name Normal that beat the Ags but Lamar Tech, if I can scrouge the time, I'm gone take a day off and see if I can discern where the dif-ferents could be. . .

Covered Dish Supper Precedes P-TA Course

A covered dish supper preceded the Parent - Teachers Association Procedure Course given to executive board members and teachers by Mrs. Elmer Patterson at the home of Mrs. Homer Brumley Monday night. . . Points emphasized in the study were that the Parent - Teacher organization is primarily interested in the child as an individual, and is working for better home, better school and better community relationships. . . The idea that P-TA groups are not money - raising organizations should be particularly noted by leaders, Mrs. Patterson said. She also brought out the fact that the organizations are non - sectarian and non-partisan. . . Members who took the course were: Mrs. H. H. Caraway, Mrs. Stan Knox, Mrs. Jim Bookout, Roberta Campbell, Mr. and Mrs. H. F. Trimmer, O. D. Lowery, Robert Thompson and the hostess.

CONGRATULATIONS, CORNELIUS~ IT IS A MIRACLE HOW YOU RENOVATED THIS MORBID MORGUE OF A HOUSE IN TWO WEEKS~

THE CONGRATULATIONS ARE NOT MINE~ HEAVEN SENT ME A HANDYMAN, A MECHANICAL OCTOPUS WITH THE BRAIN OF A SOLOMON AND THE BRAWN OF A SAMPSON~

DIDN'T YOU HELP HIM?

SURE, I HELPED HIM~ MOSTLY BY HAVING SENSE ENOUGH TO KEEP OUT OF HIS WAY~ A WISE COBBLER STICKS TO HIS LAST~ NOW I'LL SHOW YOU OUR NEW BARGAIN BASEMENT~

MR. COBB, KIN I STAY UP HERE WHERE IT'S BRIGHT AN SHINY? I'M SCARED IF I GO DOWN IN THE BASEMENT I'LL HAVE A NIGHTMARE DREAM OF MRS. MEANY AGAIN~

WHAT DID ANNIE MEAN ABOUT HAVING A NIGHTMARISH DREAM OF MRS. MEANY? WHO IS MRS. MEANY??

MRS. MEANY IS A WICKED WOMAN WHO OWNED A PRIVATE ORPHANAGE THAT ANNIE RAN AWAY FROM~

WHEN I SHOWED ANNIE THIS BASEMENT SHE WAS FRIGHTENED~ SHE HAD A CHILDISH FANCY THAT THIS BASEMENT REMINDED HER OF MRS. MEANY~

B-R-R-R-HOW DREADFUL~

I'M CONVINCED THERE NEVER WAS SUCH A PERSON AS MRS. MEANY OR HER ORPHANAGE~ THAT IT IS ONLY A NIGHTMARE SO REALISTIC TO ANNIE SHE THOUGHT IT WAS TRUE~

I'M NOT SO SURE~

I'VE HEARD THAT NAME ~ MRS. MEANY ~ BEFORE! THIS HOUSE WAS ALWAYS A MORBID MYSTERY~ IF WE FOUND MRS. MEANY, WE MIGHT LEARN THE FACTS OF ANNIE'S ANCESTRY!

BY GRAVY~ YOU COULD BE RIGHT!

United States Will Not Dictate to Its Allies Like Polishes His Congress Program

Dulles Disavows McCarthy Views

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
Associated Press News Analyst

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER and Secretary Dulles took considerable pains this week, before leaving for the current Bermuda conference, to reassure America's associates around the world that she has no intention of using her money as a club over them, or of forging chains for them through her position as the strongest member of a vast alliance.

Dulles made it clear he was speaking for Eisenhower—that he was expressing official American policy. Next day at his press conference, the President said, "I'm in full accord with the Dulles statement."

J. M. Roberts Jr.

The Secretary was, in one way, replying to Senator McCarthy. McCarthy, voicing a sentiment which pops up naturally in many people when the Allies do not seem to want what the United States wants, had said other nations should be told what to do about trade with Red China on pain of losing American aid.

Referring to an Army report of some 600 unaccounted-for American prisoners of war in Korea, McCarthy declared in his Nov. 25 radio-TV address:

'Perfumed Notes'

"Now, what are we going to do about it? Are we going to continue to send perfumed notes, following the style of the Truman-Acheson regime? Or are we going to take the only position an honorable nation can take—namely, that every uniformed American packs the honor, pride and power of this entire nation on his shoulders."

McCarthy said the Chinese Reds could be forced to release the Americans by an economic blockade. He declared:

"We can do this by merely saying to our Allies and alleged Allies — 'If you continue to ship to Red China while they are imprisoning and torturing American men, you will get not one cent of American money.'"

But Dulles addressed himself as much to the sentiment as to the authors thereof. He stood slightly away from the political maelstrom by omitting his name, though quoting him.

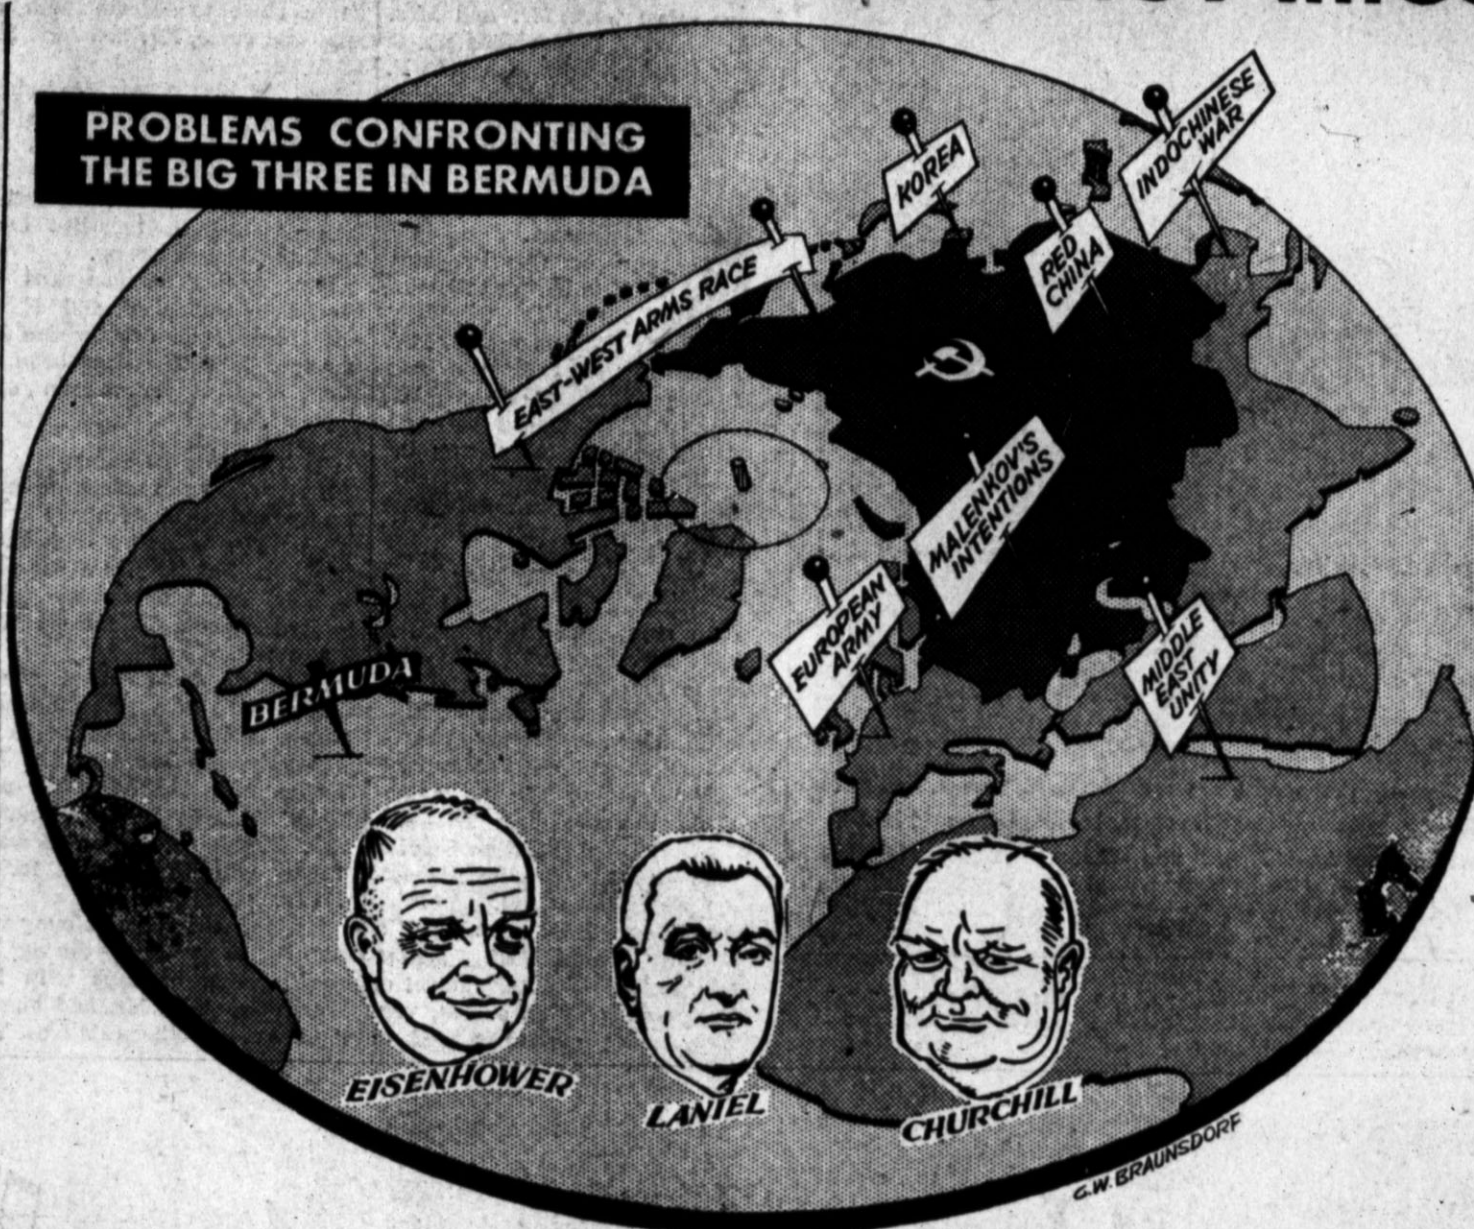

A direct objective, from all appearances, was the minds of the people with whom he and the President conferred this weekend, and all of those with whom they have to confer regularly in the conduct of the cold war.

Reaction Abroad

Newspapers abroad have been critical ever since the beginning of the Eisenhower administration of what they call the influence of domestic political affairs and primarily domestic political figures on American foreign policy. Some of them have even gone so far as to ask whether McCarthy or Eisenhower has the greater power.

The French administration, for instance, wonders why it should be criticized for not slamming the European Defense program right through a reluctant parliament when Americans are so familiar with a reluctant Congress. Yet one of the arguments met by proponents of EDC is that they are subservient to the United States. That is far worse for them than the common accusation here that American diplomats feel inferior, and act accordingly, when confronted with British diplomatic experience.

So, in addition to answering McCarthy, Dulles said to the world before the Bermuda conference, where the United States will differ with her Allies at several points:

He and President Eisenhower do not propose to throw away the assets of Allied cooperation "by blustering and domineering methods."

No Right to Dictate

"It is the clear and firm purpose of this administration to treat other free nations as sovereign equals—whether they be large or small, strong or weak."

He espoused a policy of "a spirit of justice, forbearance and magnanimity."

America does not have the right, he said, because she assists other countries, "to take them over, to dictate their trade policies and to make them our satellites."

They are dependable as Allies, he said, "just because they are unwilling to be anyone's satellites. They will freely sacrifice much in a common effort, but they will no more be subservient to the United States than they will be subservient to Soviet Russia."

"Let us be thankful they are that way and that there still survives so much rugged determination to be free. If that were not so we would be isolated in the world, and in mortal peril."

Appeal to the World

In this vein, the secretary's statement became not only an answer to a political faction in the United States and a statement of policy to the world, but also an appeal to the nations, with whom he must do business, to drop their fears.

More than one nation which is not required to play an important role in world affairs or which does not feel itself actively threatened by Soviet Communism—nations like Syria, Burma and Indonesia—have risked the string they suspected might be attached.

Test at Bermuda

Now Dulles is telling them that actually they stand as equals in all dealings.

As for Europe, much will depend, of course, on what the British and French say back home about how the policy worked at Bermuda.

Polishes His Congress Program

By SIGRID ARNE

PRESIDENT EISENHOWER and his staff of advisers are putting the final spit and polish on the program they intend to present to Congress in January. The program will cover many things that affect you directly—like taxes and social security—but an important part will have little direct connection with the average taxpayer. It stems from the Republicans' contention that Washington kept too rigid a hold on the rest of the country after the war.

The President and his advisers want to shift some of the responsibilities back to people, cities and states.

Take the farm program. The administration would like to get rid of the food surpluses that show up every year but it wants this done through the farmers' own efforts.

The government is holding farm goods worth $2,600,000,000 and has title to another 1 1/2 billion dollars' worth under loan and purchase agreements.

The government buys to keep prices to farmers at a level set by law. In the case of butter, for example, tax money is used to support the price. That means the taxpayer who eats butter not only contributes to its support but also pays a higher price to put butter on his dinner table.

Women

Mrs. Rosie the Riveter

Woman's place, the bearded prophets used to say, was in the home. Not any more! It still may be true, however, that their work is never done.

The Census Bureau reported this week more wives were working outside the home last spring than ever before in the nation's history.

Married women, according to the survey, make up more than half the number of all employed women.

The Census Bureau found the number of single working women declining, and also that there is no increase in the number of widowed and divorced in the female labor force.

The survey showed about 19 million women working for salaries in April of this year. It listed 10,700,000 of these, or 57 per cent, as married.

The number of married women workers increased by 250,000 during the past year and, the Census Bureau said, was three million higher last spring than at any time in World War II.

Other findings of the survey: The number of single women employed dropped off 400,000 in the year before April 1953, declining to 5,100,000, or 27 per cent of all employed women.

There are approximately three million widowed and divorced women workers.

Probably the most important indication here was Mitchell's statement in a speech before the CIO convention that he'd like to see more labor disputes settled simply by talks between employers and workers, with Washington out of the picture.

Both the Federal Reserve Board and the Treasury Department are working on this part of the program.

Early this year there was a tremendous jump in the number of people and businesses who wanted to borrow money.

The administration feared that if everyone got all the money he wanted it would set off worse inflation because there wouldn't be enough goods to match the money and people would start bidding up prices.

The Treasury Department boosted interest rates paid on some government obligations—up to 2.3 per cent on 90-day Treasury notes in June. It became more expensive to borrow money because banks and others with money to invest found these notes more attractive than loans to private borrowers. Some of the would-be borrowers found they could wait.

When business slackened a little, Federal Reserve went into the open market to buy government bonds. For each bond bought money went into some bank. That bank had more to lend. More money to lend means the cost of borrowing drops. That's what's happening. Interest on the 90-day notes was down to 1.3 per cent in November.

Even Flow of Money

The thing for which administration advisers are struggling is an even flow of money, which should bring about a "stable dollar" and pretty constant prices at the stores.

The administration will be happy if it can hit a "price plateau" on which prices will remain about the same. It figures stable prices will make it easier to bring about the other changes which will be proposed in January.

Business

Fads and Fancies

The three billion dollar shoe industry is in a hectic race trying to keep up with the rapidly changing preferences of Mr. and Mrs. Consumer.

For example, heels of women's shoes:

Low-heeled shoes used to be preferred by tall, slim types who didn't want to look taller than their male escorts. Now they're being snatched up by women of all sizes and shapes—as fast as retailers can stock them.

A definite trend toward lower heels—even for formal wear—was reported this week by many of the 650 manufacturers who unveiled their spring and summer lines at the Popular Price Shoe Show at Madison in New York City. The reason? Designers have come up with something new—a rare combination of style and comfort.

Another trend is being shaped by the current do-it-yourself fad. For amateur house painters and fixer-uppers, the industry is bringing out a shoe that's rugged enough for a heavy construction job and good looking enough for a country club dance. It's a combination work and play shoe.

Demand right now is shifting in the direction of softer, more flexible shoes. As one industry spokesman put it this week: "The era of the stiff shoe is as dead as that of the stiff collar."

IS SNAKE VENOM A CURE FOR POLIO?

Tests on Humans

The University of Miami announced that a few polio patients have recovered after receiving test injections of snake venom.

It was the first disclosure that the preparation had been given to humans.

A year ago Dr. Murray Sanders, head of the university research team, reported that cobra venom, in hundreds of experiments with monkeys, struck directly at polio infections of the spinal motor cells.

This week's report by Dr. Sanders made no claim of the long-awaited cure for polio in humans. That, he said, must await prolonged controlled treatments under supervision of physicians, equipped to pursue wide-scale studies.

"I'll consider use of cobra venom or its derivatives," Dr. Sanders warned, "can produce great damage."

During four years, the research team experimented with 2,000 rhesus monkeys. Some monkeys given the venom over 24 hours after brain injections of polio virus recovered. Others which did not get the venom were killed or paralyzed by the polio injections.

Dr. Sanders said the venom preparation has been effective against all types of polio.

Scientists have known for some years, he said, that a conflict can be created between two infectious agents so that an animal harboring both can survive without infection from either. So far, the work has been based on the fact that both cobra venom and polio attack the motor cells, and on the hope that the interference phenomenon would apply.

Polio can kill these motor cells, so that the muscles they serve become useless. The problem was to avert polio's action on the cells.

A link in the chain of discovery was provided when two Johns Hopkins doctors found that severing a muscle nerve caused a chemical change in the spinal cord motor cells affected by polio. This chemical change involved a decrease in the activity of two enzymes. When the enzymes were depressed in activity, the motor cells offered resistance to polio.

Arts & Sciences

Last March, two English scientists published a report showing that boiled cobra venom depressed the two enzymes.

"This was the final bit of the puzzle for University of Miami scientists," Dr. Sanders said. "It explained what they had demonstrated—that injections of the venom toxoid in the living animal caused cellular changes and an attendant resistance to polio."

An operation has been perfected in which veins are transplanted from a patient's forearm to arteries that supply the heart muscles to provide relief in heart ailments.

Dr. Henry Meyerding, a Mayo Foundation surgeon, told the American section of the International College of Surgeons the new technique had been perfected after 11 years of experimentation with animals.

"Heart disease due to arteriosclerosis or coronary disorder reduces the flow of blood to the heart that finally it is unable to function," Dr. Meyerding said. "When veins are transplanted into the blocked arteries, the effect is miraculous."

"The rush of new blood instantly changes the color of the dark, disabled heart muscle to normal red."

Underground Camera

Army engineers have developed a camera to snap pictures inside a small hole in the ground.

The new camera fits inside a hollow tube about three feet long and less than three inches in diameter. Near the bottom of the tube is a circle of quartz glass, backed by a mirror which reflects the wall of the hole. The camera, operated electrically, takes pictures of the reflection at every three-quarters of an inch of depth.

Mining and oil interests are interested because color photographs taken underground are valuable in locating ores and oil strata.

EGYPT WINS IN THE SUDAN

Self-Determination

The political parties advocating merger of the Sudan with Egypt won a decisive victory in the election of a lower house of Parliament, virtually complete returns at Khartoum showed this week.

The pro-Egyptian Nationalist Union Party won 44 seats in the 97-member House. The Socialist Party, which won four seats, and one independent, came out for unification with Egypt.

Unionist Majority

The Unionist Party also claimed support of four other independents. This would give the Unionists a majority.

Only 20 seats went to the Umma Party which had campaigned for complete independence. Independents won a total of 14 seats and the Southern Party 8.

Five seats are being reserved for Sudan voters who are college graduates. They will be voted on next week.

The Sudanese Parliament, which for the first time will have power to override a veto by the governor general, also includes a 50-member Senate. This upper house will be made up of 30 senators to be elected early this month and 20 to be appointed by Sir Robert Howe, the British governor general.

Anglo-British Rule

For years the British have predominated in joint Anglo-Egyptian rule of the million square mile Sudan. After years of friction, Britain and Egypt agreed last February to hold the elections, which started in mid-October.

It will not be until 1955 that the Sudanese decide on the actual question of whether they want independence or union with Egypt.

In Cairo, Egyptian President Mohamed Naguib told the Sudanese to be on guard against possible moves by a "cunning imperialistic power." He mentioned no names but he obviously referred to Britain.

Egypt and Britain have not yet solved their other big dispute—over demands that British troops be removed from the Suez Canal Zone. Britain reportedly has agreed to the principle of troop withdrawal but the method is still a subject for negotiation.

The federal government has stepped in and has nearly completed bank reclamation work to stop cave-ins. The river's bank was made a gentle slope with bulldozers. Then, the slope was coated with gravel and concrete mats were laid out into the river as far as 250 feet. Finally, the bank was lined with stone.

1 No. 2 can tomatoes
2 tablespoons of sugar

MEATBALLS:
1 pound ground beef
2 unbeatn eggs
1 cup bread crumbs
1 grated onion
Small amount of chopped parsley
Salt and pepper to taste

SPAGHETTI:
14-ounce package of Italian style

Put olive oil in sauce pan, add chopped garlic, tomato paste, and let brown. Add large can of tomatoes, sugar, salt, and pepper to taste, and let simmer for one hour in deep-well. Mix ground beef with eggs, bread crumbs, onion and parsley. Salt and pepper to taste. Roll in meatballs and fry until brown. After the sauce has simmered for one hour, add browned meatballs and dripping to sauce and let simmer for two hours. If sauce becomes too thick, add a little water.

Do not cut spaghetti. Do not cook too long. There should be a suggestion of firmness. Add salt and pepper as directed on package. This recipe will serve four persons.

"In electric cooking, I can keep Mrs. Tweed's kitchen a lot neater. I don't have to watch the food constantly, so I keep things cleaned up as I go along."

"The main point in Italian spaghetti is the simmering, and with the deep-well in my electric range, I get even and accurate heat every time. Normally, when spaghetti sauce simmers three or four hours, a lot of heat escapes into the kitchen, but not with an electric range."

"I never worry about anything burning, for when I push a button on our electric range, I get the heat that I need instantly."

"And here are the results. Perfect results, too, and every time. It's just like I said, 'Italy in Texas', but much more modern, and much easier."

BUG TUSSELE, TEXAS — In Northeast Texas town has only three businesses, six homes and 22 citizens. But its name helps keep Bug Tussle thriving.

Tourists stop to see what a place named Bug Tussle is like. "When I hear a brake screeching I know another stranger is passing through who just couldn't resist stopping," says Wilson Stover, who lives across the road from the general store.

Bug Tussle nestles next to a new farm-to-market highway between Ladonia and Honey Grove in Fannin County.

The business district is three weather-beaten, shingle-roofed structures side by side. They house the store, a garage and a blacksmith shop open only during fall because the horse and mule trade has declined. The store is plastered with Royal Crown Cola and Mt. Pepper signs and has a bench on the porch and a single gas pump out front.

A half-dozen houses dot the few hundred yards between road signs proclaiming in neat block letters: Bug Tussle.

At last count, Bug Tussle's population totaled 22. That counts the families of Stover, Willie Man, Tom Skelton, Ted Johnson, Bob Stepp, Wendell West and Elmer Laak.

Bate Fink, who runs the store, isn't counted. Fink commutes from Ladonia.

Stover says he often sees a dozen cars pulled up at the store which is more than a half-century old.

There are two versions of how Bug Tussle got its name.

Some say it was from a memorable struggle between two big tumblebugs that drew a crowd in front of the store years ago.

Others claim it was at a community social during the 1890's when swarms of lantern-drawn candlebugs plopped into the ice cream, prompting the remark: "Looks more like a bug tussle than a social."

To Bug Tussleites it doesn't make much difference. What matters to them is that their town is still here and doing right well. The community has the cotton and hay stands in years, and the new highway has helped business.

Bug Tussle doesn't have a chamber of Commerce, but boosters cite these selling points: An unusual name, good people, pure water, rich land, fresh air and plenty of parking space.

They say not every town has that much to offer.

Lights Are Law
DES MOINES (AP) — Two boys were brought into the court of Justice of the Peace E. R. Skelton. He searched the law books for quite a while before stating the charge.

"Riding horses without lights," said the court. "That'll be a fine of $1 each."

Box Holds Scare
SHELTON, Neb. (AP) — Bill Drage of Shelton, spotting a cardboard box in his way, saw it move but decided the wind was blowing it and bumped it with his truck. Out tumbled three boys, ages 4 to 8.

They had crawled under the box and were creeping along on their hands and knees to transport it from a store to home.

The boys were injured only slightly, but Drage said he "never was so scared in my life."

Pedestrian Hits Auto

LOS ANGELES (AP) — In cattle country the motorist pays the owner of the cow that wrecked his car for the value of the animal. In Los Angeles, a pedestrian hit a car. The pedestrian went to the hospital for six scalp stitches. The motorist went to traffic court for failure to allow a pedestrian to clear the intersection before entering it in his car, green light or no. That's how the Big Book reads.

Police Station Aids Crime

GOLDSBORO, N. C. (AP) — An irate cab driver and some red-faced policemen are looking for a nery character who used the police station to beat a taxi fare. Kenneth Wheeler told police he drove the man from Clinton to Goldsboro. When they arrived here, the passenger told Wheeler to pull up in front of the station while he "borrowed some money from my uncle."

The man strolled casually into the station, ducked out the back door and disappeared.

Texans In Washington

By Tex Easley
WASHINGTON — Agriculture Secretary Benson can expect mounting criticism from the Texas congressional delegation for his reorganization of the Soil Conservation Service.

Already outspoken against it are such leaders in the delegation as Sen. Johnson and Rep. Poage of Waco, the second ranking Democrat on the House Agriculture Committee.

Throughout the next session of Congress, convening January 6, Benson is likely to draw frequent fire from many of the 24-member Texas delegation if he is still in the Cabinet.

Most of the delegation can point to the record to show that they were against the proposal to re-vamp the Agriculture Department when it was submitted to Congress last spring.

The plan was submitted to Congress by President Eisenhower under the Re-organization Act of 1949.

THESE APPEALING YOUNGSTERS were the hit of the day Wednesday when the Boys' Ranch visitors put on the program. Shown, from left, are Davis Ash with his guitar, and the Courthouse Quartet, which consists of Connie Dodson, Richard Dale, Billy Riddell and Dickie Wooddell. After the quartet sang, David played and sang several of his own compositions, including "Bessie The Heifer" and "The Old Tom Cat." (Staff Photo)

der the Re-organization Act of 1949. The plan simply delegated broad powers to Benson to reorganize the Agriculture Department. It became effective when Congress did not disapprove. Resolutions of disapproval were defeated in both Senate and House.

Only four of the 24 Texans in Congress voted to give Benson authority to proceed with re-organization of his department. They were Rep. Dies, Lufkin; Thompson Galveston; Thomas, Houston, and Fisher, San Angelo.

Three of the delegation were recorded as not voting—Reps. Ken Regan, Midland; Wingate Lucas, Fort Worth, and John Lyle, Corpus Christi.

Voting against the re-organizing proposals were Reps. Bantson, McAllen; Brooks, Beaumont; Burlinson, Anson; Ikard, Wichita Falls; Dowdy, Athens; Gentry, Tyler; Mahon, Lubbock; Kilday, San Antonio; Rogers, Pampa; Rayburn, Bonham; Teague, Bryan; Thornberry, Austin; Wilson, Dallas; Patman, Texarkana; Poage, and both senators.

During House debate on the subject, on June 2, Poage recalled that in passing the general re-organization act of 1949 Congress intended that any drastic revamping of executive departments ought to be submitted to it for study.

"It is perfectly plain that this proposed plan is no plan at all except to take power from the legislative branch of the government and place it in the hands of the executive; it is simply a grab for power and it bears no relationship to the so-called Reorganization Act which provided at least that the Executive should tell the Congress what it had in mind."

On October 13, Benson announced details of his proposed shakeup of the department, including elimination of the Soil Conservation Service regional office in Fort Worth and six other cities. Then, on November 2, Benson announced the plan would become effective immediately.

Rep. Rogers, often critic of the Truman Administration, sharply attacked the Benson move and the speed with which he put it into effect.

"The fact they allowed such a brief time for us to consider it shows they already had their minds made up," Rogers said. "It should not have been put in effect until Congress had been given a chance to meet and pass judgment on it."

Burlinson called it a "cut and dried" affair. "If the intents of the Secretary of Agriculture continue in the direction now headed," he wrote to constituents, "I hope the Congress will take the matter in hand when we reconvene in January."

"It is true, of course, that the Congress can not administer laws passed by it, but I hope it will have gumption enough to place rigid requirements on the Agriculture Department to the extent that these tried and proved programs cannot be wrecked."

He said he was referring mainly to the Soil Conservation program, adding that it was "not necessary to discuss the merits" of it. Under Benson's reorganization, which he said was in the interest of both efficiency and economy, state offices of the SCS take over functions of the closed regional offices.

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

Q. What is a good cleaner for silk, satin, lace, or any cloth?

A. A paste made of granulated cornmeal and cleaning fluid makes a good cleaner for almost any cloth. Cover the soiled parts and leave on for a short time; then brush off thoroughly. This leaves no rings or streaks. When brushing silk goods, use a piece of velvet.

Q. How can I eliminate water bugs?

A. Pour a small quantity of kerosene, or a weak solution of turpentine (3 parts water to 1 part turpentine) down the drain pipe once or twice a week.

Q. How can I remedy an oily complexion?

A. Use a solution of eighteen grains of bicarbonate of soda, 8 ounces of distilled water, and any desired quantity of essence of roses.

Q. How can I overcome the annoyance of a shoe tongue that persists in slipping to one side?

A. If two short slits are cut near the top of the tongue, about a quarter of an inch apart, and the lace is slipped through these slits before inserting through the top holes, the trouble will be overcome.

Q. What can I use as a bait for the mouse trap besides cheese or bacon?

A. Squeeze a little of the juice of a raisin over the trap and then place the whole raisin securely on the hook. This bait is claimed to be irresistible to the mouse.

Q. How can I make cream of spinach soup?

A. By forcing cooked spinach through a colander and combining the sifted spinach with a well-seasoned thin sauce. The result will be a delicate green puree.

Let's talk turkey

Whether you are planning to serve one of the small turkeys that weighs just a few pounds or the traditional 20-pound bird this Christmas — you can be sure it will cook to perfection on your modern gas range. If you are broiling, roasting or frying your turkey let your modern gas range take over the cooking job — while you enjoy a real holiday with family and friends.

To Roast a Turkey

Salt body cavity and stuff lightly; close opening by placing several skewers across it, then lace around them with a cord. Grease the skin of the bird with melted cooking fat, then salt and pepper. Place on rack in an open roasting pan. Roast the turkey with breast down until 45 minutes before end of cooking time, then turn bird to allow skin to become golden brown. If desired, cover top and sides of bird with fat-moistened cheesecloth during the roasting period. Roast according to following chart:
