Bills Talked To Death By Senator Long

Important Measures Killed When No Money Appropriated

WASHINGTON (AP) — Congress adjourned a historic session of legislative labor Tuesday, but left buried under a filibuster by Senator Long (D-La.) the money for major New Deal projects.

The senate quit at midnight Monday under the lash of an administration warning that President Roosevelt has constitutional powers to order adjournment.

The house closed its first session of the 74th congress at 12:09 a. m. (EST) after turning back the clock while waiting to learn what course the senate would pursue. When Speaker Byrns rapped the final gavel, the clock in the house chamber read only 11:57 p. m., or 12 minutes behind the real time.

But a tumultuous day of conferences and compromises which maneuvered the administration into rewriting its cotton loan plans as the prize for mollifying Southern Senators and winning $75,000,000 in cash for the vast security program was nullified by the Louisiana's five and a half hour talk fest.

Robinson Flays Long

Bluntly, he was charged by Senator Robinson, the democratic leader, Senator Black (D-Ala.) and others with "deliberately killing" the third deficiency bill "carrying funds for the aged and crippled by his filibuster."

"No I ain't," Long retorted as he talked on.

Down town President Roosevelt sat up late in the White House, going over correspondence and a huge stack of bills awaiting signature.

At the other end of the capitol, representatives sang and performed to navy band tunes in the customary session of frolic. Crowded galleries echoed the funmaking.

Board Abandons Pension Plans For This Year

Huey Long's Filibuster Leaves Body Minus Funds

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new social security board was reported authoritatively Tuesday to have given up its plans to grant aid to states this year for old age pensions and other phases of the social security program.

This report preceded a White House conference at which President Roosevelt and congressional leaders arranged to canvass how the board could be financed until January.

Loss of the deficiency bill before Huey Long's filibuster Monday night left the board without funds. Attorney General Cummings was studying whether it would be legal to use some of the four billion dollar relief fund temporarily to fill gaps left by failure of an appropriation.

If it is found relief funds aren't available, the board may start work with labor and commerce department funds, with employees going on payrolls of those departments.

Midland County Cuts Rate To Ninety Cents

MIDLAND — Tax payers of Midland county Monday were advised of further reduction when the county commissioners' court met, approved the budget and set the 1935 tax rate at 90 cents per hundred dollars valuation.

The rate marked a total reduction since 1932 of 60 cents. It was reduced in 1933 to $1.10, in 1934 to $1.00 and Monday morning to the 90 cent rate for the current year.

Officials expressed thanks to tax payers for substantial payments of delinquent and current taxes, making the reductions possible. They recalled that a plea was made at the last tax paying season for as heavy payments as possible in order to hold the rate to $1.00. When payments of delinquent taxes exceeded the expectations of governing bodies, it was decided to increase the reduction.

Rev. Hamilton Wright Returns To Coahoma

After an absence of a month, Rev. Hamilton Wright, pastor of the Methodist church of Coahoma, has returned home, reporting success in revivals in which he preached.

At Whiteface, 55 miles west of Lubbock, Wright reported many conversions and additions to the church. The church has recently finished a new adobe-stucco church, the cynosure of that area. And now the congregation proposes to go to half-time another year and erect a parsonage for the resident pastor.

At Newlin, Hall county, Wright reports having had 30 conversions and many reclamations, with a large new class taken into the church. Crowds ranged from 150 to 500 nightly in the tabernacle erected specially for the meeting.

Wright reports that when he left Hall county the sun was devastating crops. "It was extremely hot during my stay," he said.

Out of Town Pupils Called To Arrange For Credit Transfer

George Gentry, principal of the high school, has requested that all out of town pupils who expect to enter high school this fall come to the high school building this week to arrange for transfer of credits. The office will be open Wednesday, Thursday and Friday.

This ruling applies to all pupils who have moved to Big Spring from other cities and to rural students preparing to enter high school next week for the first time.

EL PASO MAN KILLED WHEN HIT BY BUS

Ray Stokesberry Dies Of Broken Neck, Companion Bruised

Ray N. Stokesberry, 35, was killed and a companion, Lawrence Ginther, was injured when struck by a westbound Greyhound bus, nine miles west of here Monday.

Stokesberry, a veteran and recently stationed at a CCC camp in El Paso, lived about an hour after he was struck. He died of a broken neck.

His companion suffered only painful bruises.

According to reports, the bus swung out to pass another automobile. The driver George Narrell, Abilene, said he did not see the pair until he was almost upon them.

He sounded the bus horn. Ginther said that Stokesberry jumped the wrong way while he jumped but not quick enough to escape being hurled into the air by the bus fender. He was tossed to the side of the road.

A passing tourist rushed him to Big Spring where he was later taken to a hospital. An Eberly ambulance rushed to the scene of the accident and brought Stokesberry here.

Body of Stokesberry was to be shipped at 11:30 p. m. Tuesday to his mother, Mrs. Harvey Smith St. Louis.

Ginther, who said his home was in Douglas, Arizona, told how he and Stokesberry had met two days ago and had been hitch-hiking together for the company.

He said they were walking along side the road about 9 p. m. when the mishap occurred.

Identification of Stokesberry was made possible through personal effects found in his pockets.

Opening Dates For Rural Schools Given

County Superintendent Anna Martin Tuesday said that rural schools with 9 month terms would open the current school season September 2.

There are five such schools in the county. Knott, and independent school district, may have but eight months school this year. Coahoma, another independent district, will have nine months.

While opening dates were not fixed for other schools, Miss Martin said that eight month schools would be required to have 12 weeks of school before Christmas. Nine month schools must have 16 weeks before that time.

Miss Gertrude Davies left Monday night for Santa Monica, Calif., after visiting her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Billy Davies.

Miss Willie Belle Williamson of Los Angeles, Cal., is visiting her mother, Mrs. C. L. Williamson.

Signing had been arranged for noon. Some of those invited were unable to be at the White House when the ceremony was delayed.

Cotton Subsidies Held To 2 Cents

WASHINGTON (AP) — AAA announced Tuesday that subsidies to be paid cotton farmers under the new loan and payment plan would be limited to two cents per pound.

Revolutionary Legislation Touches 30 Million Lives

This is the first of a series of three articles by a staff member dealing with the Wagner-Lewis bill, known popularly as the Social Security act.

"Come the revolution" — that's been the old bromide that has been the high point in every take off on Reddism that has been portrayed on the stage and screen for a generation. Many persons don't seem to have recognized the revolution when they see it. They look for blood and thunder, and pillaging and death. They do not seem to realize that it is possible at least among Anglo-Saxons, to have a revolution and have it quietly and possibly sanely and safely at the same time.

The Social Security act, which is officially the Wagner-Doughnut bill, recently adopted by both branches of the congress and signed by the president, is in many ways the revolution. It is to gain for many persons much more than a revolution such as followed the extravagant Louisies of France, recovered for the French — more than the Cuban Revolution gained for Cubans. Many times more than the Russian Revolution gained for Russians.

Reach Lives of 30 Millions

The bill, so the president said when he signed it, would reach the lives of 30 million Americans. He was modest. It will reach every American — either with benefits, increased living costs or taxes.

There are no booklets out on the act at this time which explain just what it means. It is doubtful if all congressmen knew what the bill actually meant.

The president has appointed former Governor John G. Winant of New Hampshire as chairman of the commission and Arthur J. Altmeyer, a La Follette progressive of Wisconsin and a Robinson demo-

TEXAS GOVERNOR VOTES DRY

Governor James V. Alfred of Texas cast his ballot for a losing cause Saturday when he voted for retention of the state prohibition laws. The governor, an avowed dry, said he voted against the repeal amendment which was leading by more than 57,000 votes when the Texas Election Bureau ceased tabulation noon Monday. Governor Confers On Program For Special Session

AUSTIN (AP) — Governor Alfred said Tuesday he believed a special session of the legislature would be convened September 16 to pass a liquor regulation and tax law and to provide for old age pensions.

The governor said he expected to announce a date definitely within a few days.

The governor said legislators differed widely on the time for the session, some advocating an immediate call and others suggesting it be delayed.

Liquor Regulation And Old Age Pensions Top List

Alfred said it would require two or three weeks to outline a legislative program and write bills for submission. He said he hadn't decided if any subjects other than liquor regulation and old age pensions would be submitted.

Alfred has arranged a series of conferences with legislative leaders to discuss the program in detail.

Maggart, teacher in the Stanton elementary school for the past three years, has accepted a position in the Meadow public schools, and Miss Sylvia Redman, teacher in the Meadow schools, has been appointed to take the position left vacant by the resignation of Mrs. Maggart. This exchange was affected in order that Mrs. Maggart could be with her husband who has been appointed coach and high school teacher in the Meadow high school.

Currie Motor Company Appointed Associate Nash-Lafayette Agency

Appointment of the Tom Currie Motor company as an associate dealer for Nash and Lafayette motor cars was announced here Tuesday.

Currie said that 1935 Aeriform Nash and Lafayette models had been received for display.

"With revival of public interest in motor cars, conclusively demonstrated by sales gains during the first five months of the year, I believe the sales and service end of the automobile business offers an excellent investment," said Currie in commenting on the appointment.

Examinations For Funeral Directors Extended By Board

Examination of morticians from over a wide area of West Texas will be continued here through Wednesday. It was announced by the state board Tuesday.

McNEW CALLS IMPORTANT WPA CONFAB

Representatives Of 13 Counties To Be Here Thursday

R. H. McNew, district WPA director, Tuesday called a conference of all county judges, commissioners, mayors, school superintendents and others to meet here Thursday for an important conference concerning submission of applications.

He called the meeting Tuesday after he had been advised from Washington that all WPA applications must be in the district office not later than September 12, leaving little more than two weeks to complete this gigantic task.

McNew in turn wired leading public officials in all of the thirteen counties of this district. The meeting, he said, would be held from the district court room Thursday 2 p. m.

"We are going to make a big effort to get in everything by September 12," he said.

President Roosevelt Monday announced a new series of deadlines in an effort to speed up the lagging WPA program. The move was interpreted as eliminating almost all heavy construction projects on which applications have not been submitted and barring numerous WPA and housing projects earlier slated for approval. This increased emphasis on the WPA program was indicated.

Starting with an application deadline on September 12, the president called for awarding of contracts by December 15.

McNew said it was imperative that officials of the various counties be present to discuss plans for speeding up applications if they hope to benefit by the WPA program.

Only Monday the district office here had its first project approved in final form by the president. It was a $13,000 city park project.

Another project approved for the district was in Gaines county for repairing a road between Seminole and Loop. This was calculated to cost about $1,600.

Following the conference Thursday an influx of applications is expected to swamp the district office here.

Green Urges Withdrawing Recognition

Russia Refuses To Assume Responsibility For Communist Acts

MOSCOW (AP) — Soviet government today replied with rejection to United States note protesting against activities of seventh congress of third communist international. Ambassador William Bullitt received note from Under Comossar N. N. Krestinsky, saying "your note August 25 contains no facts which could be regarded as violation on part of Soviet government of its obligations . . . Union Soviet Socialist Republics cannot and has never assumed any obligations as regards communist international. I cannot accept your protest and am compelled to reject it. Statement of the Russian position came following a report that an answer to the U. S. protest lodged Sunday by William Bullitt had been handed the U. S. Embassy.

Bullitt had delivered a note protesting "the interference by foreign countries in their internal affairs."

It called attention to activities of the Comintern and to the promise made President Roosevelt on November 16, 1933 by Maxim Litvinov, Soviet commissar for foreign affairs, as the basis upon which diplomatic recognition was accorded the Soviets.

WASHINGTON By RAY TUCKER

Confidence

If a doctor were reading the charts which measure the nation's economic blood pressure, he would say that the patient had progressed far enough along the road to convalescence for him to present his bill. And he wouldn't have to be a New Deal healer. Industrial production, payrolls, employment, farm prices and the cost of living show a steady rise, resisting the seasonal August drop.

Steel continues to amaze and magnetize the economists at Washington and the steel makers themselves. Increased production is so pronounced that they are going around with lanterns to discover the responsible factors. Automobile manufacture declines in August, the railroads are not buying and federal projects provide only a small market. The buying spread which suggests those three standstills of other days may have an economic importance greater than figures reveal.

They're not throwing their hats in the air yet, however. The auto manufacturers are apparently laying in heavy stocks in anticipation of the change in models scheduled for early fall. Canning factories are taking huge stocks for seasonal and foreign reasons. The farmer is buying machinery and hardware. The machine industry is beginning to repair and replace inventories touched only by the dust for the last five years. In sum, the miscellaneous nature of the buying indicates a lot of people have confidence—and money.

Sunshine

The 10,000,000 unemployed may not believe it but New Deal wisecracks are clamping the lid down on some enthusiastic colleagues who want to broadcast the old, old news that "prosperity is just around the corner." President Roosevelt may have golden subject matter for his western speeches if September carries on as expected.

The figures given below for August are preliminary estimates, but they indicate the trend. Although rising prices have produced strikes and constitute a serious political threat, they simply reflect the general upward movement. Prices have always discounted future hopes, sometimes unrealized once. But un-

READY MADE WIFE

Chapter 48
ALIBI

"My dear fellow, how dreadful!" said Albery. "You appeal me! I'm all in a tremble. Forgive me, if I don't sound quite reasonable. What an escape! We must go into this at once. Why, you might have been killed! You would have been, but for your parachute.

"And think that Laurie is going up with you! It's like a bad dream. I can't take it in. You must go thoroughly into it at once. I'm bound to go to Berlin tonight. She can't be able to see you, though I'd give anything to stay.

"Please go into the whole matter. I give you full powers. I'll tell them they're to give you every facility. You must cross-examine every single man on the staff. What a mercy you are safe!"

"I guess it would take a lot to kill me," said Rex Moore.

And again that ghastly grin distorted Albery's face. He went on talking for several minutes, but afterwards he could not remember a word that he had said.

Only one sentence of Rex Moore's remained in his mind.

"Please don't tell Laurie, Mr. Albery. I've kept it absolutely dark here. We mustn't let anything come out—on account of the new fuel, you know. Of course, it must have been a mistake."

But to Albery's distracted ears it had seemed that the airman's

DENVER HUNTS ELUSIVE FIREBUG

After fourteen Denver buildings had been visited by a mysterious arsonist in three days, authorities called out special guards of police and firemen to guard city property. Here Miss Gladys Johnson, city employe, is shown with burned prints of famous paintings which were hanging in the $6,000,000 city hall. She discovered the fire in the building, attributed to the firebug, and extinguished it. (Associated Press Photo) was very kind to us in Australia. "Where is he?"

"Yes, Mrs. Moore, I'll tell her, when she comes back."

Decidedly, Nelly's voice was queer. All Laurie's fears about Glad rushed in on her like a wave, sweeping her mentally off her feet. For a moment her voice failed her; her heart seemed to rise into her throat and stiffle her. When she went on speaking, Nelly had evidently left the telephone.

Instinct told Laurie that something was wrong. On one of her irresistible impulses she rang up the number of Jimmy Dallas's chambers in St. James. A man's voice, not his, answered her.

"Can I speak to Mr. James Dallas, please?" she asked.

"I am sorry, Madam, Mr. Dallas is not in London at present."

then, Are your people at home?"

"Only dad. He's got a class." Nelly looked as if she wanted to shut the front door in Laurie's face.

"Take me somewhere where we can talk," Laurie commanded. "You've got to tell me the truth. I know Glad isn't staying with you."

"Oh, Mrs. Moore, how can you say such a thing?" The girl was a bad actress. She led Laurie into the front sitting-room, and there were tears in her eyes.

"It's no good lying to me, Nelly," Laurie said quietly. "I know there's something wrong. You've been helping Glad to keep things from me. Where's Glad?"

"I don't know," whimpered Nelly in a last frantic effort of loyalty. "You do know and you're going to tell me. You're a very wicked girl."

"Oh, no, Mrs. Moore!" Nelly's voice was now choked with sobs. "It's scared to death and frightfully worried. But Glad made me swear I wouldn't tell. And you know how she is, how mad she gets if you cross her, and how she always has her own way."

Cowboys Get Prize Money

Final Game Rained Out; Lamesa, Big Spring Teams Collect

By HANK HART

LAMESA (Sp)—The Big Spring Cowboys and the Lamesa Tornados elected to split first and second prize money in the Lamesa invitation baseball tournament after rain Monday had forced postponement of the final game of the journey. Each team will receive $100.

The Lamesans, earlier in the day, eked out a 7-6 victory over the Pumpkin Center Panthers to earn the right to play the Cowhands in the final game.

The semi-final game was a slug-fest and the Pumpkin Center lads had the best of the argument until a sudden shower in the eighth forced umpire Grissett to call the game and award the victory to Lamesa.

The Panthers, after allowing the Tornados to count four times in the first inning on one hit, pecked away at the disadvantage and finally came within one run tying the score when two home runs in the seventh accounted for four markers.

Doyle Morris, on the rubber for the Panthers, worked himself in a hole in the first inning when he walked L. White and Teak White and Jimmy Addison kicked one across the infield to load the bases. Charley Coffman stepped into one of Morris' fast balls to send the pellet out along the fence in right center and the ball rolled under the barrier for a home run.

The Lamesans added two more in the third before the Panthers could find the plate. Teak White led Holloway across after the latter had mounded over the left field wall.

The Panthers began to get to Berry as the third inning opened, the red head giving up two base blows in that stanza for as many runs.

The Lamesa moundsman settled to pitch one-hit ball for the following three innings but in the seventh, the Panther batters rapped off five base licks off Berry—good for four runs.

Billy Williams put Milton into pay territory by clouting out a home run over the right field wall and Jimmy Brit sent George Sturdivant in ahead of him with a boundary belt over the left field barrier.

The Lamesans put two men aboard as the eighth opened but rain began to fall as Berry stepped up to the plate, sending the players scurrying to shelter and washing out all hopes of a Panther victory.

Williams and Sturdivant divided timber honors for the Panthers with three licks each while Holloway and Coffman each collected two to lead the Lamesans.

In the Class B semi-final game, the New Moore nine earned the right to meet Flower Grove in the final round by defeating Key, 13-8.

able than advance whispers led them to expect, but they are inconsolable at their failure to place a member of their sex on this particular agency.

As Whirligig reported the politicians wanted these berths for their friends regardless of qualifications. Vice-President Garner personally rounded up senatorial support for a woman whom the experts turned down in their own minds. Majority Leader Robinson successfully advanced the claims of Vincent Miles. The appointment of the former Arkansas National Committeeman was a reward for Joe's gallantry in backing a presidential program which violates his conservative instincts.

Secretary Perkins and Harry Hopkins submitted a list of four women and three men but the only one chosen was Arthur Atheyer, Second Assistant Secretary of Labor. He is the social authority of the three, ex-Gov. Winant, the executive and Mr. Miles the politician. The ladies have been told that they will be recognized in the selection of technical aids, but that doesn't satisfy them.

N. R. A.—

New Dealers grabbed eagerly for these early August reports because they offer the first chance to size up the effect of the NRA crackup on business and industry. June and July were too near the great event to furnish any lowdown.

The figures provide no hot shot for the insiders who banked on them to prove that the end of the Blue Eagle was the end of every thing and the beginning of chaos. In the major industries there has been no wholesale firing of employees and no slash in wages. There has been no cutthroat competition on prices. On the contrary, they have risen slightly, though the large increase appears in farm products which were not under NRA management.

The strong consumer demand gives the explanation for this stability. Employers apparently did not find it necessary to lower their prices, and they did not dare to install wage cuts which would halt production. Recently, however, business men report that some competitors are offering bargain prices to the trade. For the present the victims are meeting this underselling without passing the costs on to their employees. But if it keeps up Hugh Johnson may have the last laugh. He still maintains that you can't control the "chiselers" without calling out the army and navy—and himself.

derlying forces for recovery seem to be stirring, wily-nilly. The table depicts steady progress during the usually dull summer days and a ence" and other phases of the New Deal's power program.

Mr. Byrns took the unusual course of leaving the speaker's chair to urge adoption of the modified death ray. Mr. O'Connor switched his vote from "no" to "yes." Both men worked on members behind the scenes. The speaker withdrew his support of a TVA amendment which was not wanted by the White House. They scurried around to rake up support for the President's neutrality stand. They were the best-behaved boys in the lower chamber.

The inside story is that Mr. Roosevelt let his dissatisfaction at their attitudes reach them from several different quarters. They needn't expect his blessing next year, they were informed, unless they did a few favors for him. It was the most spectacular example of the use of pressure in a session already notable in that respect. They were leaders led.

Notes—

Harold Ickes, ex-oil boss, has a good-sized staff of former Petroleum Board boys writing up what the board did and what it could do if... Dozens of NRA clerks are still on the payroll, ostensibly to investigate conditions in general. The third deficiency bill was a midge—only $100,000,000—as it went to the Senate. Huddleston of Alabama was privately congratulated by many Democrats who then left him in the lurch on the utility compromise.

NEW YORK

Busted—

Informed New Yorkers say that Cactus Jack Garner rates a lot more credit as engineer of the utility bill compromise than he has been given publicly. He moved heaven and earth to get some bill enacted before adjournment. From the viewpoint of an experienced politician he figured it would be bad medicine to leave such a thorny issue lying loose around to complicate things in 1936.

For one thing he didn't want Senator Wheeler to have to play with the Montana and brain-truster Tommy Corcoran teamed up to block any measure not containing the death sentence. No bill at all would have made a hefty foundation stone for Wheeler's political aspirations.

It's true that Wheeler has in the main supported New Deal legislation, but it's equally true that there is no love lost between him and the White House. He could develop into a menace to FDR's reelection by subtracting liberal votes and it was well worth Garner's while—as a Democratic backstage manager—to devote his exceptional political skill to busting up the foundation stone before it was laid.

Effective—

New York insiders learn that President Roosevelt will go to Hyde Park within a week after adjournment and spend about three weeks mapping his cross-country speaking campaign. He is due to hit the road towards the end of September—provided the grave foreign situation permits.

It's reported that while at Hyde Park he will concentrate on the problem of what to tell business men that the latter will believe. One of his major objectives is expected to be an effort to regain a substantial degree of business support. He is said to feel that an effective appeal can be made once the tumult and shouting of the congressional session have died away.

This little job may not be so simple. Big business and financial circles are so imbedded with the idea that the president changes his mind too often to be trusted it would take a major miracle to convince them otherwise at this late date. Moreover thousands of smaller bankers, merchants and industrialists take their cue from the big fellows. One unkind critic remarks that the most effective way Mr. Roosevelt could reassure business would be to announce his impending resignation.

Spotlight—

New York anti-New Dealers are delighted with the new law about packaging potatoes—with its drastic and obviously unenforceable penalties against purchasers of unwrapped supps. They figure they can cash in on the nuisance and absurdity of it with the average man—and even more important with the average housewife—who declines to get worked up about such abstractions as constitutional questions, budgets, etc. The lowly spud is due for a lot of spotlight before November '36.

New Dealer for NASH & LAFAYETTE MOTOR CARS

It is a real pleasure to announce our appointment to sell and service Nash and LaFayette motor cars in this territory, and we are proud indeed to invite you to see and drive these fine cars. New models—including the new Nash "400" and the new 1936 LaFayette, fine car of low price—are now on display in our salesroom.

Every Nash or LaFayette owner will find our organization equipped and manned to serve his very best interests—and let us say, here and now, that we consider it just as important to retain the good will of owners through good service as to make new customers and new friends.

Everybody knows Nash Motors builds its cars to stay built—and we shall see to it that every Nash or LaFayette owner gets from us the sort of treatment that will increase his enjoyment of the car.

From every standpoint of experience, man power, facilities, quality and prestige of product—we are ready to serve you; and serve you well. It is "open house" every day now—and everybody is welcome.
