President Paul Harvey said that Dr. E. H. Bronner, who manufactures and sells several products containing "Hereford-type edible fluorides," and a friend of his, meat packer Fred Reich of Los Angeles, will also be present at the meeting.

Reich is considering setting up a packing plant in this area to handle nothing but Deaf Smith County meat, and Dr. Bronner is interested in explaining the possibilities of Deaf Smith County agricultural products.

Car Theft Suspect Is Returned From Tucumcari On Friday

A suspected truck thief was returned to Hereford from Tucumcari Friday by Deputy Sheriff Neal Young and James Bates.

The truck, which belongs to Henry Melton of Westway, was stolen from a parking place at the Wheel Inn between 7 and 8 o'clock Thursday night. The city police were called, and they put out a general alarm.

When the truck was stopped in Tucumcari about three o'clock Friday morning, the suspect jumped out and was not found until some time later. He was hiding in an irrigation ditch full of water.

Deputy Sheriff Young is scheduled to leave for Lancaster, O., this morning (Sunday) to bring back Buddy Corder, who is wanted here to face a forgery charge. The trip is expected to take several days.

Whitefaces Tie Mules 20-20 To Start Season

Hereford Whitefaces played a sometimes good, sometimes not-so-good football Friday night to tie Muleshoe 20-20 in their opening game of the 1953 season, a non-conference tilt.

The Mules made the first score of the game when Mule back Charles Waggoner intercepted a pass from Whiteface back Hubert Godfrey on the second play of the game and took the pigskin back 75 yards for a touchdown.

Another touchdown was scored a few minutes later when the Mules recovered a Whiteface fumble and began a march down the field which ended when Bill Willis went over from the one-yard line, then kicked the extra point to give the Mules a wide lead.

Once again the Whitefaces recovered, but couldn't hold on to the ball, losing it on a fumble on the first play. The Mules made two first downs, the first one in spite of a 15 yard penalty for clipping.

Recovering, the Whitefaces threw two Mules for losses, one before and one after the end of the first quarter, and took the ball on downs.

After Hereford kicked, the Mules made only two plays before losing the ball on a fumble which was covered by Whiteface guard Chas. Quattibaum. Fighting the clock as well as the Mules, the Hereford lads were unable to score before the whistle blew for the half.

Receiving the ball after the half, the Whitefaces punted and stopped the return on the 34 yard line. Penalties were thick as Hereford was penalized 15 yards, enough to give Muleshoe a first down, then Muleshoe was penalized an equal amount of yardage and lost the ball to the Whitefaces, who carried the ball toward the Muleshoe goal, then cleared the way for Short to carry it over for another touchdown.

Boyd kicked the extra point to tie the score.

Back and Forth The ball was passed rapidly back and forth between the two teams for a few minutes as Hereford recovered a Mule fumble, then kicked the ball fairly deep into Mule territory, only to have it returned

THERE WAS PLENTY of action during the Hereford - Muleshoe game Friday night, though it wasn't always possible to see some of the best from the stands. Top, a Muleshoe runner was about to hit the sod as he was tackled by a Whiteface. Lower picture, Duwayne Wallace took a solid tackle from a Mule team member as he was stopped from gaining any further yardage on that play. (Photos by Bill Patton.)

Mexican Holiday To Be Celebrated Here Wednesday

Wednesday will be fiesta day in Hereford, as Latin-Americans and Mexican national workers celebrate Mexican Independence Day.

The dancing is scheduled to start at 9 o'clock Wednesday night, and continue until midnight. Anglo-Americans are being asked by the Chamber of Commerce, which is sponsoring the dance, to get out their own fiesta costumes and join in the fun.

Friske of Muenster and Arnold H. Friske of Gainsville; two sisters Mrs. Walter Eschberger and Mrs. Henry Mattiza 13 grandchildren, and 12 great-grandchildren.

Broom Corn Grown Here

A broom bought late this fall or possibly in the spring may well contain Deaf Smith County broom straw, grown by A. R. Dillard on the Ernest McGee farm northeast of Hereford.

Dillard, who had grown the crop near Sudan, talked McGee into letting him plant the crop, and 100 tons of broom corn was expected to produce about 75 tons of broom straw, with somewhere from $375 to $450 a ton, according to the market.

Before you decide to rush out and plant a few hundred acres yourself, though, it would be well to study some of the production problems.

Lots Of Hand Labor Dillard pre-watered the land, and watered the crop three times. When the tops were ready for harvest, they had to be pulled by hand, and will have to be threshed and baled. There is a lot of hand labor involved, which runs up the cost in a hurry.

On the credit side, the tops are pulled while the corn is green, and the stalks, which should average from eight to 10 tons to the acre, can be sold for ensilage. Like a lot of other crops, irrigation made a big difference, and there seems to be an excellent market for good broom corn at the present time.

Pfc. Jimmie Lawhon, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pat Lawhon, who has been home for the past 20 days, left Friday morning to return to San Diego. Jimmie has been in the Marines for six months. He is the grandson of Mr. and Mrs. George Beams.

BROOM CORN, another proof that Deaf Smith County is a versatile producer of crops, was grown on 100 acres this year by A. R. Dillard on a farm owned by Ernest McGee 2 miles east and 8 1/2 north of Hereford. Mike McGee got a bit of a smile from his dad with a suggestion as to what they might do with a handful of the tops, the part that will be used later for brooms. (Staff Photo.)

ferred with the Chamber of Commerce on the possibility of holding some sort of celebration here, as many Latin-American and Mexican groups were making plans to go to other towns in the area for the day.

There are about 1,100 Mexican nationals and Latin-Americans in Deaf Smith County, and it was decided that there were more than enough to make the day worthwhile.

A bigger celebration will probably be held next year.

Someone must have thought the Whitefaces were likely to have their teeth knocked loose in the game with the Mules Friday night at Muleshoe. At least, Dr. H. A. (Let's plug that cavity) Cavness was sitting on the sidelines with Dr. Bill Lawrence.

The drive to get a carload of beef cattle for CROP (Christian Rural Overseas program) from this county was not very successful, according to John Aikin. Three beeves were donated, two by Bill Dameron and one by Charlie Burke, to help feed the hungry people in Korea and Europe.

Heavy Fines Levied On River Poisoners

AUSTIN—Two Boerne men tried to get an illicit mess of catfish by poisoning the Guadalupe River near Sisterdale. They used deadly rotenone and tons of fish were killed over a four-day period.

The result, shown in the monthly Game and Fish Commission arrest report, was a total of $1100 in fines plus costs for the pair. Both pleaded guilty. Charges included both pollution and fish poisoning. The man who bought the poison got sixty days in jail but was released on good behavior after five days.

Game Warden Bill Garrett of Comfort, who handled the case, estimated that up to thirty thousand fish were killed during the four days the chemical tainted the river.

to the 40 yard line. Merritt recovered a fumble made by Mule Bickie, but the Mules soon regained the ball on a Whiteface fumble, and scored once more against Hereford, then kicked the extra point.

When Hereford received, the boys seemed determined to even up the score again. Starting on their own 41, the Whitefaces gave the ball to Godfrey who went around right end and on down to the Mules 44 yard line.

Score Evened
With right end plays, the Whitefaces picked up 11 yards, then Short went over tackle for 11 more. The Whitefaces evened up the score when Godfrey passed to Boyd for a touchdown, and the conversion was good.

Muleshoe fought hard to regain their lead, but time ran out before they could push through a Whiteface team which had seemed to get thoroughly warmed up.

Are you giving your mattresses proper care? They should be aired daily, turned and vacuumed or brushed once a week. If there are any soiled spots, you might try sponging them with a little soapy water, then sponging again with clear water; dry quickly with an electric fan.

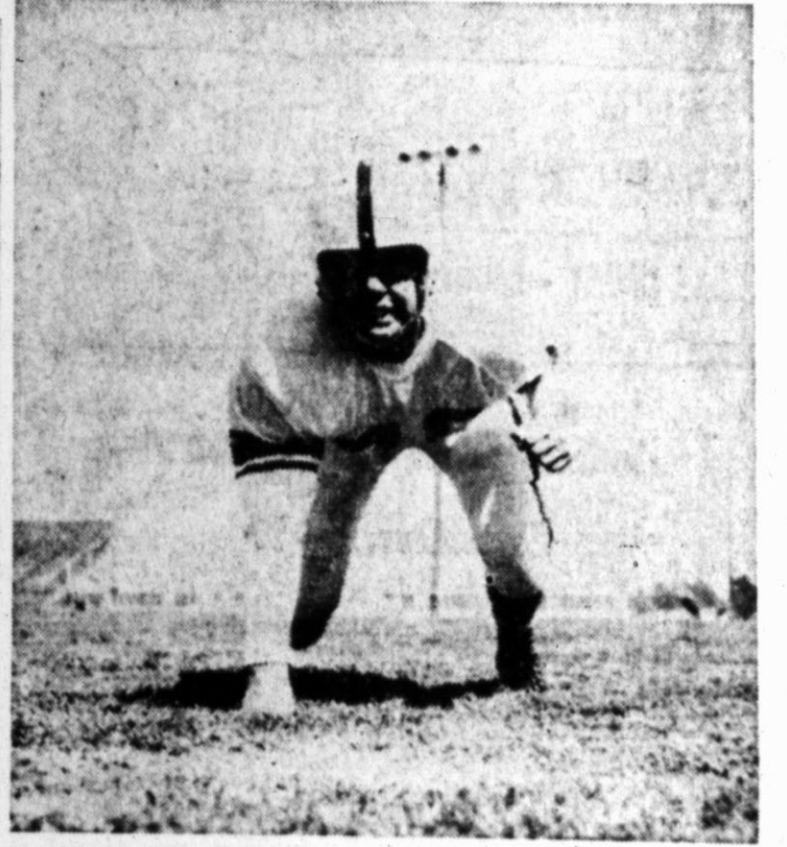

Next time you are having a roast leg of lamb for Sunday dinner, serve minted carrots with it. To prepare the carrots, just blend a little butter or margarine and some mint jelly together over low heat; mix with the carrots.

Flaked tuna may be used in a tomato spaghetti sauce instead of meat. Add the tuna after the sauce is made and reheat. The oil from the tuna can may replace some of the salad oil or shortening usually used in preparing the sauce.

Statue Of Missionary Is Unveiled In Capital

Four relatives, three of them namesakes, of Dr. Marcus Whitman, early Presbyterian missionary-martyr to the West, were present at the unveiling of his statue in the rotunda of the nation's capital. Dr. Whitman was chosen by the State of Washington as "most worthy" of representing that state's historic pioneers.

Hon. William O. Douglas, associate justice of the United States Supreme Court, an alumnus of Whitman College, made the dedication address. Two Marcus Whitmans, father and son, did the actual unveiling; a third namesake from Rushville, N. Y., birthplace of the first Marcus Whitman, placed a wreath at the base of the statue, as did Mrs. Virginia Whitman Crandall, also a descendant. Dr. Marcus Whitman is the seventh missionary and the fourth doctor to be placed in the national Hall of Fame. He was the first white doctor to practice medicine in Oregon Territory.

Flower Arrangement Program Is Given At Cultural HD Club

Two members of the Cultural Home Demonstration Club gave a program on Proper Flower Arrangement, at the home of Mrs. Marvis Southward Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Pat Robinson demonstrated the making of a flower arrangement for a desk or a small table. She stated that thought should be given to the place and container to be used before starting arrangements. Colors such as black, green and white were the best basic colors to look for when selecting bowls and vases for flower arrangements, Mrs. Robinson said.

Use Of Fruits

Mrs. Ira Scott demonstrated arrangements made of fruit and vegetables. She stated that these were especially good for fall arrangements. Nature's own colors are always right, states Mrs. Scott. These can be color combinations of fall leaves and pumpkins, drift wood and many other combinations of native material.

It was announced during the business session, which was presided over by the president, Mrs. Fred Wolfington, that there would be a special meeting on the making of angel food cakes, at the home of Mrs. Pat Robinson, Wednesday morning September 17 at 9:30 o'clock. This is to be given by Mrs. Argen Draper.

Mrs. Earl DeHart was re-elected as Art Director, with Mrs. M. W. Sumner to serve as alternate to Mrs. DeHart.

Next Meeting

The next club meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Ira Scott. Each member is to bring a piece of sponge cake or chiffon cake to be scored at this meeting.

This meeting has been called for 2 o'clock instead of 2:30 o'clock for the purpose of electing officers before the program begins.

GEORGE STRANGE was honored with a birthday party Friday afternoon given by the "Jolly 12 Club" in the home of Mrs. Charlie Callaway, 522 Bleivins. The colors of green, yellow, and brown were used in the table decorations. Those attending were Mrs. Boyd, Mrs. Roy Manning, Mrs. Franklin Miller, Mrs. Davis Sawyer, Mrs. W. A. McCool, Mrs. Foy Huff, Mrs. S. L. Calaway, Mrs. D. W. Allmon, George Strange and his mother, Mrs. Clarence Strange, and Mrs. Charlie Callaway. Refreshments were cake, punch, mints, and nuts. ## Aid For Distressed In Asia Is Asked

"Imagine seven-tenths of the population of the United States now living west of the Mississippi River being transported to the states east of the river. Such a situation would compare to conditions in South Korea today, since refugees from the northern industrial section of the country have fled to the southern agricultural regions of Korea".

Members attending were: Mesdames Ira Scott, Louie Olson, Fred Wolfington, Ruth DeHart, R. C. Childers, Art Lewis, Pat Robinson, M. W. Sumner, J. T. Richardson, P. S. Corbett, and the hostess Marvis Southward.

cause of the three years of war. Pointing to emergency needs for food and clothing, not only in Korea but in famine-stricken Pakistan, India and Hong Kong, Dr. Fairfield says CWS—international relief agency of the National Council of Churches—is going all out to keep up the flow of stop-gap supplies to the most critical areas. He asks the fullest possible support of the agency's aid programs.

Sammy Albracht, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Albracht, and Gerald Diller, son of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Diller, will leave Tuesday for Austin where both will attend St. Edwards College this year.

Coletta Diller, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Marvin Diller, left last week for Wichita, Kans., where she will enter Sacred Heart Academy as a senior this year.

Work On Memorial Park Begins Soon

Work on the new Rest Lawn Memorial Park of Hereford, Inc., located two miles north on Highway 51, will begin this week. The park will be a garden-type development with perpetual care similar to other memorial parks which have appeared in many American cities in the last 15 or 20 years. Through the years there will be eight separate gardens, each having its own central memorial and landscape design, thus making it easy to locate a particular family shrine. Operation of this type of cemetery is controlled under state law, with a certain percent of all money going into a permanent fund. Only interest from this money can be used to maintain the park.

Marriage of Friona Girl, Leroy Self Announced

Beauty At Home

By Lynn Carter
Q. Are there any special make-up hints for the girl who likes to wear her hair with her ears uncovered?
A. She can wear attractive earrings, of course. And she can try applying a bit of rouge to the earlobes for a pretty effect.
Q. What is a good dry-skin beauty mask I can mix?
A. Mix some finely-ground oatmeal of best quality with almond oil into a thin paste—just enough for one mask treatment at a time.
Q. How should eyeshadow be applied to the "sunken" type of eyes?
A. It would probably be better to refrain from the use of eyeshadow. Instead, blend a little clear petroleum jelly from the middle of the upper lid toward the hairline. This should be all you need.
Q. How can I lubricate dry, or weather-toughened, skin?
A. Olive oil, oil of sweet almonds, cucumber oil, or odorless castor oil all are good for this.
Q. Please suggest a good treatment for occasional pimples that appear on my face.

A. One often-successful remedy is a handful of starch in the morning bath, and a thick paste of starch spread on at night before retiring.
Q. What is a good skin-softening treatment?
A. One very easy treatment is just to coat the face and neck with a little olive oil, and then rub briskly over this with some ordinary table salt.
Q. How can I remove calluses from my hands?
A. Try applying some cuticle remover to the callus and allowing it to remain for several minutes.

then rinse off and rub dry with a rough towel. Repeat several times if necessary.

Let's Cook Something

Here is one of those heirloom recipes handed down from generation to generation to become more treasured as the years go by. It comes from the Blanton family and no one is quite certain just how old the recipe really is.

Mrs. Lyle Blanton copied the recipe when she and Mr. Blanton attended a family reunion in South Texas a couple of years ago. Mrs. Darrell Blanton has been making Drop Doughnut Balls for party occasions and the family ever since. Here is the recipe as she gave it to us:

- Drop Doughnut Balls
- 1-3 cup sugar
  - 1 cup milk
  - 1 egg
  - 2 tablespoons melted shortening
  - 1/4 cup flour
  - 1/4 teaspoon salt
  - 2 teaspoons baking powder
  - 1/2 teaspoon nutmeg
  - 1/4 teaspoon cinnamon

ed the picture show. Those making up the group were Betty Culpepper, Frankie Culpepper, Marian Jo Wilson, Nancy Patterson, Gerry Patterson, Cecelia Wilkins, Janice Lamm, Gracie Fotheringham, and the advisor, Mrs. Urline Streu.

Combine sugar, milk and beaten egg and blend. Then add the melted shortening. Sift together the flour, salt, baking powder and spices and add to liquid, combining all together lightly.

Drop by tablespoons into deep fat at 370-F and fry until light brown. Test fat with small amount of dough if you have no thermometer, and fry over medium flame. Drain on absorbent paper and roll in powdered sugar while still warm. Mrs. Blanton says these doughnuts are best served while warm but may be stored and served cold.

One of the most remarkable developments in years is the deep well recently drilled on the Walter G. Russell farm five miles east of Hereford. Driller, J. J. Merrifield, went into the red bed at 194 feet, came out at 655 feet, and went on down to 770 feet. The well was developed using an 8 inch pump delivering approximately 1100 GPM. After determining the capacity drawdown and other characteristics of the well the developing pump was pulled and a 10 inch Johnston Deep Well Turbine Pump was permanently installed at 180 feet. This pump has a capacity of 2250 GPM at 150 feet lift to surface. The pump was not running at full speed when the pictures were made, but was producing over 1600 GPM. with ease.

Deaf Smith County Wind Erosion District News

Luther Cribbs, who operates the E. C. Oshner farm southwest of Wildorado, is making plans for irrigating prior to wheat sowing. In order to have good control of the irrigation water he is corrugating with a lister before planting. He is a co-operator of the Deaf Smith County Wind Erosion District. He called on the District for help in planning the irrigation system. Soil Conservation Service men who work with the District helped Cribbs work out a system that will make good use of irrigation water as well as rainfall.

Reavis Kerr is bench leveling a ten-acre tract of land at the south edge of town. Ronald Mathews, who operates the dirt-moving equipment for the District, is doing the leveling. Kerr says he will plant the leveled area to small grain now so that any irregularities which show up from dirt setting, etc., may be taken out before alfalfa is planted next fall.

Clinton Jackson, who operates the R. R. Jackson farm 15 miles west of Hereford, is using a contour ditch system to water his wheat. Soil Conservation Service men helped him lay out the system early this week.

Byron Campbell, who farms 20 miles northeast of Hereford, is using hubam clover for a soil builder. He mixed hubam clover and sudan and planted them in the early spring. Campbell says he wants a soil building crop that is easier to use in a rotation than alfalfa and feels that he may have it in the clover. He has cut it for hay once and has been grazing it for several weeks.

Frank Bezner, who lives two miles south of town, is using the heavy straw from last season's irrigated wheat crop as a mulch cover for the soil. The new wheat crop now coming up through the mulch cover is given an extra measure of protection by the cover of dead straw that has been worked in the surface portion of the soil. The straw will aid water intake as well as give protection against blowing.

Continuing, Mrs. Jacobsen said in part, "Peonies like cold weather and are not easily killed out, some having been known to bloom for 20 years. Types are tree, double single and Japanese. Varieties that do well here are Frances Willard, white; Mons Julius Elie, deep pink; Theresa, light pink; Carl Rosenfeld, David Harum and the Mikado." When to plant, how to plant and transplant, and their care and cultivation were also discussed by Mrs. Jacobsen.

Three Arrangements
Three arrangements were featured, all for a teacher's desk. These were made by Mesdames Rex Tynes, E. W. Young and S. S. Williams. Judges were Mesdames O. G. Hill, E. Ramey and A. L. Manjeot.

Young, Rex Tynes, E. E. Fridley, F. M. Kester, F. H. Oberthier, N. E. Gass, Jeff Gilbreath, S. S. Williams, and Roy Lee Wilson.

Black and gold colors were used in Chinese figurines which served as flower containers centering the tables laid for four.

Program By Mrs. Wear
Mrs. Bob Wear presented the program, reviewing the constitution and by-laws with helpful comments. She concluded her program by reading the poem "The Faithful Few".

Those attending were: Mesdames Robert Bell, Cawthon Bryant, Merlin Kaul, Stanford Knox, J. D. Kelly, Lawrence McGee, J. C. Reese, John Robinson, Earl Springer, Joe Story, Bob Wear, F. G. Witherspoon, J. W. Witherspoon, L. J. Woodford, and Mrs. R. P. Conaway, honorary member.

Beta Sigma Plans Area Council Trip

Texas Kappa Iota Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi, members are planning to attend the Area Council Meeting which will be held in Borger on Sunday, September 20. Headquarters will be in Hotel Borger.

Registration will commence at 9 o'clock Sunday morning and programs will be announced for the day. Awards will be given on year books and scrap books, and a special attendance award will be given.

Chapters from Amarillo, Cactus, Childress, Clarendon, Dalhart, Dumas, Hereford, Pampa, Perryton, Plainview, Stratford, and Borger will be represented at the meeting.

Q. How can I prevent the bottom crust of a pie from getting soggy?

A. Rub it with egg white before you put the filling in. With fruit pies, cover the bottom crust with a thin layer of bread crumbs and then add the fruit filling. The bread crumbs will soak up the excess juice, but your pie will not be too dry.

Q. What is a good, strong mending cement for broken dishes?
A. Alum. Melt the powdered alum by holding it in a spoon over a gas flame, and while it's still soft, rub it over the edges of the two pieces you want to stick together. Then press them together and let dry. You can wash it in hot water after it's put back into use.

Air Shipment Of Chicks Is Going Forward Nicely

Air shipments of chicks to Egypt, unique project to help raise nutritional standards of impoverished Egyptian villagers, are going forward without a hitch, Thurl Metzger, executive of Heifer Project, Inc., (which has embarked on this new project) announces at New Windsor, Maryland, headquarters of "Chick Airlift."

Of 67,239 day-old chicks flown from New York to Cairo so far this year, he said only 242 were lost marking the best record achieved so far in overseas chick shipments. Credit for success of the program was given by Mr. Metzger to the U. S. chick suppliers, exporters, Royal Dutch Airlines, and H. E. Botsford, New York State director of CROP, food relief program of the National Council of Churches' Department of Church World Service.

Mr. Botsford accompanied the chicks and helped distribute them. Egyptian villagers receive up to fifteen chicks per family and are so proud of them they give them the run of the house.

Churchmen's Week Coming In October

The Laymen's Missionary Movement (19 South LaSalle Street, Chicago 3, Ill.) in co-operation with the Department of United Church Men, National Council of Churches, is sponsoring "Churchmen's Week" throughout American Protestant churches October 11 to 18.

This is an annual observance of the Movement, and for many years the week has been marked by special church services in some 3,000 communities across the nation; now the new "men's arm" of the Council has undertaken to encourage its observance. The theme of the week is "Christ calls men." Sunday, October 11, will be "Men and Missions Day" with missionary services in the churches; and in some churches a "laymen's missionary breakfast," vespers services with missionary speakers, laymen speaking at morning services, and elsewhere forums and groups meeting in local churches.

On Sunday, October 18, the pulpits of participating churches will be occupied by laymen preaching on the week's theme.

Selection Of Presbyterian Hymns Nearly Complete

The selection of hymns and music for the proposed new hymnal of the major Presbyterian and Reformed churches in the U. S. will be completed by October 1953, and about two years later the first books will be off the presses of the Westminster Press, it is announced. Dr. Albert J. Kiesling, of Jacksonville, Fla., chairman of the hymnal committee, says of the long-anticipated selection: "The book itself will contain 576 pages.

In it will be found the best of our time-honored hymns and, in addition, metrical psalms, gospel hymns, Negro spirituals, ancient chants, and aids to worship. The content committee representing the five cooperating churches (Presbyterian Church in the U.S., Presbyterian Church in America, and Associate Reform Presbyterian Church) has endeavored to preserve the main strain of our Presbyterian-Reformed heritage." The hymnal editor is Dr. David Hugh Jones, of Princeton Theological Seminary.

Dixie Still Is Hot About Civil Rights

By D. HAROLD OLIVER
Associated Press News Analyst

SOUTHERN DEMOCRATS, who chose Eisenhower over Stevenson partly because they found the former's civil rights stand more palatable, are finding a bit hard to swallow the first administration moves to end racial discrimination.

Southern governors and newspapers—some of them in the Republican candidate's corner last November—are among the protestants. "Low politics" and "F.E.P.C. by executive fiat" are some of the terms used.

While some of the Eisenhower Democrats are saying the new President's record otherwise is all to the good and things might have been worse under Stevenson, the civil rights actions could make trouble for a party trying to capitalize its new found support in Dixie.

Conversely, they could win the former five-star general increased minority group support in the north.

One of the civil rights actions, taken by the Agriculture Department and most likely without the President's knowledge, was rescinded because, ironically, it amounted to too strict an interpretation of a 1943 executive order by the late President Roosevelt.

Harold Oliver

This was a clause inserted in lending agreements by the Commodity Credit Corp. requiring private banks making CCC-insured farm price support loans to agree not to discriminate against their own employees or job applicants because of race, creed, color or national origin.

10-Year-Old Policy

This clause has been put in all government procurement contracts for 10 years by directives from Presidents Roosevelt and Truman and just recently reaffirmed by President Eisenhower. It was the last best thing to a federal Fair Employment Practices Commission (FEPC) law covering all industry which Congress has never been able to vote on because of the Southern filibuster.

The other administration actions not setting well with the southern Democrats are:

1. A Navy department order, issued Aug. 20 on White House instructions, calling for "complete elimination" of racial segregation among civilian employees at 43 naval shore stations in the Southland.
2. An Eisenhower order of Aug. 13 setting up a 15-member government contract committee to make "more effective" the non-discrimination provision made mandatory in all government contracts by Roosevelt in 1943 and continued since.

South Carolina Protests

Inclusion of the non-discrimination clause in farm lending agreements with private banks brought a storm of protest recently from South Carolina bankers, who threatened to stop making price support loans and sent a delegation to Washington. Gov. James F. Byrnes, one of three southern governors who supported Eisenhower last fall, protested to the President, who, in turn, ordered an inquiry. The CCC promptly referred the matter to the Department of Justice for a legal ruling. Without waiting for the decision, agriculture officials found the pledge by banks unnecessary.

As for the other orders, Eisenhower Republicans say the President is simply carrying out his campaign promise to make "equality of opportunity a living fact for every American—regardless of race, color or creed."

New Policy

When Navy Secretary Robert B. Anderson announced Aug. 20 a new policy to end the segregation of races among civilian workers at southern naval yards and stations, he reversed the old practice of following "local custom" in racial matters. Pentagon manpower experts said this custom has been a "source of embarrassment" because of the President's pledge to eliminate segregation in all federal installations.

White House officials who had a hand in the order agree the transition will be slow because it involves tearing down ancient barriers. Commanding officers have been ordered to make "progress reports" every 60 days.

Reports from the South indicate segregation signs are coming down here and there at drinking fountains, but most washrooms and restaurants still are on a "separate" basis.

Hot Shots

The American Hospital Association was told that people who complain of high hospital bills don't realize how much they get for their money. Patients' bills at Roosevelt Hospital, New York City, averaged $20.37 a day in 1952 but the cost of care actually given averaged $21.86 a day.

In Baylis, Ill., Robert Hughes, 28, was weighed last week for the first time since 1950. In that time he picked up a measly 87 pounds. Pike county folk think Hughes is the fattest man in the world. He now weighs 895 pounds.

A Baltimore druggist got so annoyed at three small boys asking for "3-D comic books" while he was trying to fill prescriptions, he was fined $50 for forcing a swab of ammonia into the mouth of one youth.

In Des Moines, Ocar, a 53-year-old black sturgeon exhibited at every Iowa State Fair since 1923, died last week apparently of old age. The fish weighed only 82 pounds when he died but four years ago he tipped the scales at 110. Fair officials said Ocar would be mounted for posterity.

In Leicester, Mass., it rained so hard that afterwards thousands of frogs were found scattered for more than a mile on Paxton Ave. The Weather Bureau scoffed at a theory that the frogs were carried aloft by 50-mile winds accompanying an offshore hurricane but townfolk laughed off the bureau's theory that a pond overflowed and washed the frogs onto the road.

In San Rafael, Calif., a police sergeant pulled his car hastily to the curb to give right-of-way to an ambulance speeding along with screaming siren. A few seconds later, the sergeant got a radio order that sent him tearing after the ambulance. He found its driver drinking in a bar six blocks away and jailed him on a charge of stealing the ambulance.

Trieste

Trieste is a friction point that keeps the explosive Balkans uncomfortably warm.

Italian before World War II, it was established as a free zone with an international government but the Western Powers have never been able to agree with Russia on a treaty.

Britain and the United States now administer the northern part of the zone which includes the port of Trieste. The southern part of the territory is administered by Yugoslavia.

The Western Big Three declared before the 1948 Italian elections that all of Trieste should be returned eventually to Italy. Since then, however, Marshal Tito broke off with the Kremlin.

On Aug. 29, Italy charged Tito planned to annex the Yugoslav-administered southern part of the zone. Tito denied it but charged Italian troop movements near the border constituted "provocations."

Earlier Tito had advocated that Italy and Yugoslavia administer Trieste jointly, with details to be worked out between the two governments. Sunday, however, Tito proposed that the strategic port of Trieste be internationalized and that Yugoslavia be given the rest of the territory claimed by Italy.

Quotes

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer: "I am completely optimistic about the European Defense Community. I expect it will come into effect before the end of the year."

Former President Truman: "Theodore Roosevelt had his Square Deal. Franklin Roosevelt brought in his New Deal. I had what I thought was a Fair Deal. Now Eisenhower has given us the Stacked Deal."

In Short . . .

Died: Chief Justice Fred M. Vinson of the U.S. Supreme Court, 63, of a heart attack.

Re-elected: Eugene R. Black, former official of the Chase National Bank in New York, as president of the 55-nation World Bank.

French Now Fear W. German Unity

By J. M. ROBERTS JR.
Associated Press Foreign News Analyst

THE voters of West Germany, speaking with a unanimity unheard in a major European country since the war, have called on France to put up or shut up about the organization of a European Defense Community.

The Republic of Western Germany appeared, after the overwhelming re-election of the Konrad Adenauer regime, almost in the guise of a new country. Certainly it was a new force in Europe.

This new West Germany was one country which knew what it wanted.

Economics

Stork Means Business

The stork is getting more than ordinary attention these days. Several of the old props that have kept business booming at peak levels are fading.

What were these props? Chief among them were government spending for defense, pentup consumer demand for new cars and new homes, and the expenditure of huge sums on plant expansion.

With these factors now losing some of their urgency, the Northern Trust Co. of Chicago points out, business is staking its future on basic, permanent influences in the economy of which the stork is by no means the least important. One of the strongest such supports right now, is "the urge to supply the newly created wants of a growing population."

Bumper crops of babies—the nation now has 65 per cent more children under five than it did in 1940—mean stepped up demand for new housing and new schools, higher food consumption, increased use of textiles.

The textile industry is cashing in on the baby boom right now. Cotton mills are booked solid through the first quarter of 1954. In the throes of its worst depression in history just a couple of years ago, the textile industry is coming back strong.

It wanted cooperation with the West and particularly with the United States, which has played such a large role in the new republic's sensational post-war economic recovery.

It wanted EDC, with German participation, under arms, in a common defense front against Communism; a front which one day might be able to help her reunite with East Germany now under Russia, and get back Silesia from the Poles.

It wanted, and got, a stable government capable of dealing with German affairs both at home and abroad without having to worry constantly about political peccadillos.

Effect on France
The result was taken at first as a big boost for EDC. It showed the support not just of official Germany, but of the people.

On second thought, the impact on France was in doubt. Would France decide that a solid, purposeful Germany required incorporation in a united Europe to make sure that old dangers would not be revived by her resurgence?

Or would France move to scuttle EDC, toward which she has grown increasingly cool, in fear that Germany would eventually wag the whole dog?

The first question is the line of the French Internationalists, formerly led by Robert Schuman and now by Georges Bidault. The second is that of the DeGaulleists and the traditionalists.

Traditional Fears
The French could fear, and quite plausibly unless they took concrete steps to offset it, that a stable Germany, with a unified people, in the front line against Russia, might replace an unstable France as America's No. 1 ally in Europe.

It seemed clear that a majority of the French Parliament would be happy over the German election returns. The two countries which are very close kin.

They were happy at the weakness revealed by the German Neo-Fascists. They were happy at the defeat of those who want the Saar returned to Germany and who opposed the near-agreement of Adenauer and the French on its "Europeanization."

The Vital Saar
It was believed in Paris that, with the campaign over, Adenauer was in a position to go ahead more confidently, and that a Saar solution was possible.

This is a French prerequisite for ratification of EDC.

In this respect, at least, it seemed probable that the EDC treaties would be placed before the forthcoming session of the French Parliament with something like full government support, although it was known that Premier Laniel, bedeviled by a host of French domestic problems, was not too enthusiastic about taking on more trouble.

Germany already has ratified the treaties through some pretty shifty parliamentary footwork by Adenauer. The action could now surely be repeated in the Bundestag even if opponents should be successful in their court challenge of the original action.

A Dire Alternative

The influence of the United States will be felt heavily in France when the debate opens. Already there has been talk of dropping EDC and going ahead with a bi-partite rearmament of West Germany. It's only been talk. But France has heard. To her, such a thing would be a catastrophe. She wouldn't accept it lying down even if both Britain and the United States gave her ironclad guarantees against a German about-face.

But the big question in France at the moment is still, "Who will wag the dog?"

ARTS & SCIENCES REPORT

Man, Oh Man!

The Census Bureau dug deep into vital statistics by analyzing last year's supply of "eligible" civilian males in comparison with the number of young women of marriageable age. It blamed on the draft a shortage of available young bachelors.

For statistical purposes, the bureau called females of 18 through 24 years "eligible." Males were rated eligible at 21 through 27, because men generally were about three years older than women at the time of their first marriage.

After eliminating this service men living in barracks in this country and overseas, the bureau found there were only 61 eligible civilian males in the 21 to 27 age group for every 100 girls of 18 and 19 last year.

There were 89 such males for every 100 girls in 1950 before the draft bit into the supply. Competition eased steadily for single women in the older age groups. There were 94 eligible men in the 23-27 age group last year for every 100 women aged 20 through 24. But in 1950 there had been 105 men for every 100 women in this class.

Regardless of matchmaking problems, tabulators found the number of married persons and families reached record levels last year. There were 76 1/2 million married persons in 1952, a gain of about one million from the previous year.

The report, entitled "Marital Statistics and Household Characteristics" also showed that in 1952:

There were 3.5 persons in the average family—a shade under the 1950 average of 3.6 and considerably under the 1940 average of 3.8 persons.

There were two divorced women who had not remarried for every divorced man who stayed single.

Atomic Utopia

Nobel prize-winner Harold C. Urey urged an end to government monopoly in atomic energy because he said atomic power would come sooner if private enterprise were free to work on it. "Give some atomic Henry Ford or Walter Chrysler a chance to create useful atomic power for Americans," Dr. Urey told the American Chemical Society. He said if that ever came about he'd probably invest in a small company, betting on it to help speed along the atomic age much like Ford and others did to create the automobile age.

Urey said the automobile was not developed by the railroads or by big electrical companies; it was developed by new, small industries now grown to gigantic size.

B-z-z-z-z B-z-z-z

If you're bitten by a mosquito or your front lawn it's probably your own fault, according to Baltimore Health Commissioner Huntington Williams.

Williams explained that mosquitoes seldom range beyond 100 yards of the water they were born in. And the one that stung you on your lawn, he said, was born, grew up and—unless a strong wind comes along—will die within a 100-yard area.

10 Total Transfusions

Doctors in a Capetown, South Africa, hospital declared they saved the life of a 3-year-old boy by changing the entire blood contents of his body 10 times in four months. Two of the "total transfusions" were made in one week.

The boy suffered from a malady which attacked the liver and gall bladder, causing internal hemorrhages. The boy was first given treatment last February and physicians said the turning point came two months ago. Now only cortisone treatment is required.

 Still don't have a pick of the top 10 teams from the Satevepost but I figure to use a bit of leisure time and dissertate some on those picks available at the nonce, 'cause if we wait any longer some of them will want to change their lineup. . . AB selected the top ten in the following sequence: Michigan State, Georgia Tech, Notre Dame, Oklahoma, USC, Alabama, Pittsburg, Rice, Maryland and UCLA. . . True Magazine followed that pattern to a T, no deviation. . . Stanley Woodward picked them to finish thusly: UCLA, Oklahoma, Notre Dame, Michigan State, Florida, Georgia Tech, Ohio State, USC, Alabama and Rice. . . Francis Wallace in Collier's, went down the line to this tune: Notre Dame, UCLA, Georgia Tech, Ohio State, Michigan State, Alabama, Oklahoma, ma, Maryland, Florida and USC. . . Do you ken the pattern, just like last year and if two or three of the consensus selections fall flat on their face the pattern will turn into a turmoil. . . Maryland was the consensus number one in '52 and barely finished. . . Illinois and California foiled the guessers, too. . . In '53, in the four picks listed above, only 12 teams are included. . . Seven of the 12 are on each selection, those being: Michigan State, Georgia Tech, Notre Dame, Oklahoma, USC, Alabama and UCLA. . . Maryland and Rice achieved 3 places each and two hits each were registered by Pitt, Florida and Ohio State.

Fancy and Plain

 Personal, I think that Cal will dismay the prophets and USC and UCLA. . . Power football is to USC's taste but Pappy Waldorf leans thataway likewise and he is equipped with the equines. . . UCLA has all the ingredients for a winner but some of the vital pieces are of the brittle type, particularly their offense, Mr. Paul Cameron, and too, there aren't any spare parts to speak of such as centers, tackles, ends and a convenient back or four. . . Florida won't get by the lid-lifter with Rice nor the rattle with Georgia Tech whom she faces next, so her season likely will be finished within a fortnight.

 The balance of her run is studded with nothing much football-wise, except Tennessee, and the Gators can't chin that one either. Oklahoma's schedule is not too rugged if it were not that their greenies open with Notre Dame, Pittsburg and Texas in that order. Such a string, later in the season might be furlid by the Wilkinsons, but as an aperitif it may rival cyanide. . . Georgia Tech eyes 11 tussles with the Irish date, at South Bend, on October the 24th, as the circled one. They encounter Duke and Alabama, too, but otherwise beyond local brawling tendencies of some of their neighborhood battles, should not have too much trouble.
 Michigan State has concentrated on her Big 10 debut and while you can't pick patsy's 3 or 4 years in advance, they did the best they could, picking Marquette, Oregon State and TCU. . . Man-power and record-wise, none of the three, in the last ten years, have been in the Spartans league and that is about how long Michigan State has been building up for the Big 10. . . If Rice can prevail in the Southwest Conference that is sufficient to qualify her for the first ten rankings nationally, however that hasn't come to pass and may not. She plays Texas at Austin and finishes with 4 conference games. Most of her pre-season prestige stems from her winning the final 4 conference frays at the tag end of last year, odds are again a repeat performance.
 Ohio State may be the team in the Big 10 this year if they don't fall to some of the weaker conference teams, as they have been wont to do in recent seasons. My guess is that you include in the ranking picture Tennessee (on prestige and their normally patsy schedule, but 11 straight wins is always impressive even a gin Snohomish or Siwash), Texas, Purdue, Duke, Michigan and a sleeping Minnesota, who is bound to wake up although the 20 years ain't up yet.
 After I had this thing writ in comes Satevepost with their conjecture, it varies little from the other four except in sequence and in the inclusion of Tennessee, which I had figured before them. At any rate here is their rundown: Notre Dame, Maryland, UCLA, Ohio State, Georgia Tech, Oklahoma, Michigan State, Alabama, USC and Tennessee.

W. G. (BILL) HARRIS, center, with his hands on his hips, undoubtedly had as much fun as anyone at the Summerfield Homecoming Sunday. Here he was talking with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Coneway of Hereford, left, and Mrs. Ray Johnson of Summerfield. Harris was the first teacher at the Summerfield school, and said that he felt he had more friends present at the homecoming than anyone else had. (Staff Photo.)

 A. Rub well into the skin a mixture of 2-3 warm olive oil and

 Q. What is a good rinse to use when shampooing very oily hair?
 A. Three ounces of vinegar to 1 1/2 pints of warm water.
 Q. What is a good exercise to help reduce rather heavy ankles?

A. Sit with one leg crossed over the knee of the other leg, toes pointed up. Slowly rotate foot from ankle joints, making several complete circles to right, then to left. Repeat with other foot.

Always Give The Kids A Break

Fond hopes of parents are wrapped up in their children as they go off to school day after day. Perhaps the town's banker, or famous research scientist, a noted lawyer is in the making. Or a future President of the United States. Who knows for sure?

Then, one day, tragic news shatters all such dreams. The child has been cut down by a speeding driver who couldn't stop in time. Or the youngster was run over by a careless motorist who didn't allow for the unexpected things a child might do while playing or riding a bicycle.

The extent of these street and highway tragedies snuffing out the lives of promising boys and girls of school age or younger, or inflicting injuries that may cripple them permanently, is something every driver should know and always keep in his heart. In a single year approximately 4,300 children under 15 are killed and 215,000 are injured. Well over half of them die and an even greater proportion are hurt when struck by drivers who should be fully prepared for sudden emergencies when children are in the streets.

The burden of caution rests squarely upon the shoulders of a driver who is approaching any child or a group of children on a street or highway. Children's actions are never predictable, although we have been able to train them in the ways of safety with some success. Usually it is when a driver is going too fast to stop safely, or thinking of other things rather than the very important job of driving properly, that he kills or injures one or more children of tender years.

The protection of police or adult crossing guards at school intersections has helped greatly in keeping accidents at these places to a minimum. School boys safety patrols also have helped. Most drivers obey the signals of these protectors of children and respect the ever-present need for alertness and slower driving in speed zones near schools or play areas, or making a full stop when children are leaving or boarding a school bus. But even more than that is needed. To all drivers we commend the admonition: "Always give the kids a break."

Rural Mail Carrier Is Still Important

Did you ever stand and wiggle your toes in the hot dust, watching down the road for a cloud which would forecast the coming of the mailman? It is an experience which many Americans occasionally relive with great pleasure and satisfaction.

This was one of the incidents recalled at a banquet honoring Texas Rural Letter Carriers on July 24, when Attorney General John Ben Shepperd, son of a letter carrier, made the principle address. The talk naturally recalled scores of happenings which brought smiles to the faces of carriers attending the meeting. Within the talk, too, were several points upon which the public might well reflect with pleasure and satisfaction.

Do you remember when folks asking children where they got a new doll always got the stock answer, "Out of the Mail Box?" Often, when children asked where they came from, parents gave the same answer. And we agree with Mr. Shepperd when he says, "But the rural mail carrier has always been more than a daily Santa Claus and a bringer of letters."

"People used to ask him to pick up a few things at the store in town. They would use his mail sack as a bus, and sometimes as an ambulance. In the Spring he would bring the new seed catalogs, and the old ones would be put to other, legendary, uses. He was an information bureau, a mail order clerk, and a news reporter. He got prescriptions filled, he carried cakes and soup bones to sick people down the road, and he took sick calves to the veterinarian. The Lord used the rural carriers to carry on the vital functions of country life—to hold things together until people could get telephones, good roads, radios and television—and the Lord used them pretty hard."

Things have changed today, of course, but the rural mail carrier is still important in the American way of life. While many of his chores have been supplanted by radio and television, the fact still remains that human understanding and friendship can never be replaced by mechanical gadgets or contrivances. And, after all, it was his facility for being a good neighbor that won the rural carrier's place in the hearts of Americans from coast to coast.

Residents of rural America could never repay the old time carrier—and he would be the last to expect it—but his deeds will remain with us, down through the generations, as an example to all people, including future carriers, of the vital importance of human relationship with our friends, neighbors and acquaintances as the means toward a humble and more satisfactory life for ourselves.

Merely For The Taking

Conditions change often, but human nature seldom alters. Little Junior and Mary Lou, provided they are normal boys and girls, complained quite a bit when school reopened Tuesday. All of this comes in view of the fact that the United States in 1953 offers the most all-encompassing educational outlook in history—and at the most expensive cost to the taxpayers in the nation's history.

The Hereford school budget for the ensuing year hit the total of $534,425.00 and taxpayers were recently notified of approximately one-third increase in school taxes in connection with the new high school building program. Hereford is no exception. Costs of education are rising over the entire nation. A recent survey in typical colleges shows that costs are around 60 per cent more than they were in 1940—and possibilities for still greater costs in education are probable.

The fact that America stands today as the world's undisputed leader can, in a large part, be attributed to the nation's theory on opportunities in public education. Many people frequently neglect other taxes, but take pride in paying their school taxes, and even those who may become disgruntled over school taxes, deep down in their hearts, would not do away with public education. Public education is the basis of Americanism. Most Americans like it that way, even though the costs may be dear.

The thoughtful parent, however, may have another chore on his hands in addition to paying his school taxes. In self-protection, he might be wise to carry on a selling campaign in his own home in an effort to impress his children with the fact that they are among the privileged few in the world today who can secure an education "merely for the taking." If our boys and girls could see going to school as a privilege and an asset, rather than a drudge or a chore, they would, no doubt, be in a position to better take advantage of the opportunities which their families and their neighbors are making possible. The taxpayer, too, would feel a little better about rising costs if he saw on every hand enthusiastic boys and girls, eager to pursue the information and lore concealed between the backs of their free text books.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Twirlers Look Cute In Shorts, But They May Get Rather Chilly

Should baton twirlers in the band be allowed to wear shorts or brief skirts as the twirlers with other high school bands do, or should they have to wear long uniform pants as is the present policy?

MRS. A. N. McRIGHT
It doesn't matter a bit to me. It just depends what the school officials want because they run the school. They have their choice and whatever they want suits me.

MRS. E. W. YOUNG
I think they look mighty cute in their present uniforms.

SYLVIA McCracken
I think the shorts or brief skirts are really nice and cute too. I think we do need a change, though, because the uniforms that are being worn at the present time are run down.

MRS. H. D. GOLDSTON
To some people the shorts or brief skirts might look nicer but in my own opinion I like the pants best because the skirts are simply not warm enough for the girls on the cold nights of football season. I do think the skirts are cute though.

MRS. L. W. WINFREY
Well I think they look real cute in the shorts. After all, they are young only once. At other schools the twirlers wear short skirts and I don't see why our girls can't.

BAGGY PANTS DAY SET

The world's first bale of cotton for the 1953 season will come back to Mission, where it was grown and ginned, in the form of men's pants in a celebration and sales day which has been named Baggy Pants Day. The celebration has been set for Saturday, Sept. 19. The day will be climaxed with an auction sale downtown at which a number of pairs of pants will be auctioned.

Each merchant of Mission will be asked to buy two pairs of the pants and to display them in his store during the week. THE MISSION TIMES

DONALD DUCK by Walt Disney

By Vera Sanford
Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, — FBI Director J. Edgar Hoover turned loose a verbal barrage in the direction of Texas Governor Allan Shivers.
Shivers had accused the FBI of gattap methods in probing civil liberties cases in Texas. The governor said the Bureau had been guilty of secret snooping into state institutions without informing the local authorities about these investigations.

Not so, said Mr. Hoover. On the contrary, he charged, the FBI had been requested by Shivers' own office to delay a probe of the Gainesville State School "until after the Democratic primary" last year, "to avoid unfavorable publicity."
Maurice Acers of the governor's staff made the request for a delay, according to a five-page letter addressed to Shivers, but the inquiry was not adopted.
"We of the FBI," Hoover said in his letter, "certainly have no apologies to make to anyone for doing our duty in carrying out the instructions of the attorney general in enforcing the law of the land."
"I would be untrue to my service and its duties if I did not quickly call attention to unfounded, unwarranted, and untrue charges such as you have made."

Shivers' Reply
Replying to the FBI director's letter, Shivers wrote: "It is my understanding that your bureau and your investigators do not investigate any federal agency or department except on invitation and on specific instruction of the United States attorney general."

"We do not expect that consideration if we violate any federal law. But where the complaint or suspicion of a violation comes from a law violator himself or his associates I feel that both your duty and mine could be discharged better by cooperation rather than by the procedure you have followed in the past."
"I tender you the full cooperation of the State of Texas and its officers. I hope we can expect the same from you and your bureau and from the attorney general of the United States."
Shivers' letter did not go into specific points, such as that of the Gainesville affair. But, Acers said the Gainesville charge was untrue.

Surge Of Activity

Political activity surged over the state this week, with all eyes focused on Mineral Wells, where the Democratic State Executive Committee will meet Friday, Sept. 11.
Democratic National Committee men Wright Morrow of Houston has indicated his intention to be present, and his announcement to that effect points up the conflict between the Texas or Shivers Democrats and the national party's organization.

Morrow last year lined up with Governor Shivers and others who supported Eisenhower. As a result Morrow's status as a committeeman has not been recognized by the National Democratic Party.
Observers here view the Mineral Wells conference as a kickoff for the political struggles of next year, to be fought out among the Shivers Democrats, the Loyal Democrats who adhered to the Adlai Stevenson candidacy last time, and the Republicans.

Alligned For Battle
Political alignments for the coming battles began to take shape as some Texas Democrats announced that they would not attend a $100 per plate dinner in Chicago honoring Stevenson.

Governor Shivers, and U. S. Senators Lyndon B. Johnson and Price Daniel let it be known that they would be among those absent.
Johnson, however, must still be counted among the Loyal Democrats who supported Stevenson. He explained that he could not go to Chicago because of speaking commitments.

Accepting the Chicago invitation were Democratic Minority Leader Sam Rayburn and Texas Agriculture Commissioner John C. White.
Joblaying Continues
Joblaying for position continued with respect to next year's political races.
Representative George T. Hinson of Mineola was the latest to list himself as a likely candidate, saying that he "quite possibly" will run for lieutenant governor.
Hinson's announcement was refreshing in one way; he said that his candidacy will not depend on what anyone else may or may not do.
Most of the other prospective starters are waiting around to see how the field shapes up.

NEW ELECTRIC STOCK GATE
A. L. Schnell, Perryton inventor who has developed a radically new type of electric stock gate, met Monday with purchasing agents and other officials of the Phillips Petroleum Co. in Borger to demonstrate the gate.

Schnell, accompanied by John Mayfield, Chamber of Commerce secretary, said the Phillips officials were definitely interested in the gate and that they were calling a meeting of field supervisors next week when Schnell will again demonstrate the gate.
This gate, consisting of four flexible steel rods connected to a fence charge, can be moved easily and allows vehicles to travel through it at any rate of speed. OCHILTREE COUNTY HERALD -pp-

Plans are being completed this week for the second appearance here of the mobile chest X-ray unit, which will be at the fair grounds in Littlefield during the last two days of the fair, September 18 and 19.
Dr. I. T. Shotwell Jr., says "Due to the fact that the free chest X-rays not only detect symptoms of TB, but also make a complete analysis of the chest it is often possible to detect symptoms of other complications affecting the heart, and lungs, and to spot tumors, enlarged heart and other disturbances of the chest." ## The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm is confused, his letter this week reveals.

Dear editor:
I have been reading in the papers lately where President Eisenhower has been thinking about maybe havin to call Congress back into a special session to raise the debt limit.
This ain't the first time a man has taken over an outfit and discovered it was in worse shape than he'd realized, and all my sympathies are with the President as he struggles to make ends meet, balance the budget, keep up our defenses, lower his golf score, pave all the roads everybody wants, build all the dams the cities want, increase Social Security, contend with Congress and cut taxes at the same time.

Understand, I don't want him to call a special of Congress on my account, but if he does call em back and they raise the government's debt limit, how about puttin a rider on the bill to increase mine?
One of the greatest bars to expandin business in this country is the debt limit some merchants put on their customers, and what I would like to know is why don't they take on a more international viewpoint and open floodgates? There are literally thousands of people in the country ready and willin to buy, and all that's stoppin em is these privately imposed debt limits.

On my place out here, I can sit down, or could if I wasn't already sittin down, and enumerate dozens of improvements that could be made in the next thirty days, except for these private debt limits that're holdin the country back. And my problem is more complex than Eisenhower's. It ain't just one debt limit that's in my way, it's dozens of em. Even if the lumber yard raised mine and allowed me enough credit for a new roof, I'd still have to get carpenters to raise theirs before construction could start.
You multiply my situation by the whole country and you begin to get an idea of how much more business everybody could do if this limit was changed.
Personally, my sympathies are all with the President, and while I don't know anything about the national debt limit, if raisin it will start a trend, I'm in favor of it.
Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Highlights..

Drouth Still Acute

Of great significance in the news were drouth-breaking rains in the most parts of the state that brought some relief to parched West Texas.

While some towns were worrying about floods, Governor Shivers said that he may call a special session of the Legislature to consider help for small cattle owners.

The governor said that the issues of teacher pay and state hospital and medical construction might also be handed to the legislators.

Despite recent rains, the drouth situation is still acute, Shivers commented.

Hearing On Ouster

Hearings dragged on in the ouster case against District Judge C. Woodrow Laughlin of Alice.

Two witnesses, a county judge and a district clerk, testified that there was nothing irregular in the handling of ballots cast in the last general election in Duval County.

Prosecution testimony had been introduced to show that an order of Laughlin's had given George Parr an opportunity to inspect the ballots.

Hatch Act Charges

Eighteen Internal Revenue employees in the South Texas district may be charged with violations of the Hatch Act because of sales of tickets to the Jefferson-Jackson day dinner here in 1950.

Names of the workers were not revealed by the Civil Service Commission, which sent "letters of charges" to the 18 persons. They are given until September 5 to file their answers.

Thereafter, the commission will decide on what further action will be taken.

Frank Scofield, former collector of internal revenue for South Texas, was indicted last January by a federal grand jury on charges of violating the Hatch Act, which forbids federal government employees from participating in political activity.

Scofield subsequently resigned.

New Assistant

John Davenport was appointed administrative assistant to Attorney General John Ben Shepperd. Davenport succeeds David B. Irons who resigned to become chief of the subversives control unit of the U. S. Department of Justice.

Land Office Sales

Texas has just made a quick $18 million in sales through the General Land Office.

It came about as the result of joint sessions of the Texas Veterans Land Board and the School Land Board. Membership of both groups is identical: Land Commissioner Bascom Giles, chairman, Attorney General John Ben Shepperd, and Governor Allan Shivers.

Bonds totaling $15 million were sold under the Veterans Land Program. An additional $3 million was obtained for leases on 235 tracts of state land only four of which included tidelands tracts.

SHORT SNORTS: Three men took the oath of office as members of the reorganized Board of Control, which is the state's purchasing agency. They were C. F. McAuliff of Dallas, H. M. Lingle of Buchanan Dam and R. C. Lanning of Jackboro. . . Governor Shivers appointed six to the state turnpike authority: A. H. Rowan of Fort Worth, P. R. Rutherford of Houston, Bert Fields of Dallas, Armistead Rust of San Angelo, R. L. Taylor of Dallas, and W. R. Boyd Jr. of Teague. . . W. E.

TOO YOUNG TO DIE!

When epidemic strikes and takes its sudden and deadly count of the young, it tears at our heartstrings for there is so little we can do about it. Such tragedies may occur once in a year or two. But the highway toll of young innocents produces a casualty list every day, year after year. There is much we can do about it, for we are responsible.

In one year 4,300 young lives are snuffed out, over 200,000 injured and maimed for life. Three out of every four of these lives sacrificed to carelessness are from 5 to 14 years of age. Too young to die!

School safety patrols are holding down the casualties of children going to or coming from school. Two out of three are killed while outside of school supervision. That's the big reason why it's up to you, Mr. and Mrs. Driver, to protect little children. Be alert for the unpredictable actions of youngsters at play, crossing streets, chasing balls and riding bikes.

Little ones are thoughtless of danger; perhaps, too, they trust grown folks to guard them. Don't be the one to carry on your conscience the life of a child. Slow down, be alert where children may be at your mercy.

Q. How can I help prevent my blonde hair from showing drab brown streaks?

A. You can try using egg white just before the shampoo. Beat two egg whites with two tablespoons of seawater. Massage thoroughly into the hair and scalp, then follow with your regular shampoo.

Q. How can I treat a skin that is persistently greasy looking?

A. One help for this condition is to wash with distilled water, to which is added a few drops of extract of lavender, or orange, or rose.

Q. What is a good, quick, all-purpose facial mask I can prepare?

A. Just paint the white of an egg over face and throat, allow to remain for 10 minutes, then remove with warm water.

Q. What is an approved manner of applying one's makeup foundation?

A. With a dampened silk sponge, cover every portion of the face, neck and ears. Then rinse sponge out and cover entire area with the clean sponge. Above all, avoid a mask-like look which comes from applying the foundation too thickly and too dark. The eyebrows and lids should be covered.

Q. What is an effective way to clean the knees and heels?

A. Try adding a little powdered pumice to a soap lather and scrub these areas well with a brush. Rinse and massage with hand lotion.

Q. How can I keep my throat youthful looking?

A. Make a practice once weekly of giving the neck a good massage with rich cream, an astringent treatment with witch hazel and a cream pack or mask on it. If you are over thirty, you should take even greater pains with your neck than previously.

Q. How can I de-emphasize the appearance of a slightly receding chin?

A. Try blending a spot of rouge on your chin in a crescent shape, and using a lighter shade of powder on your chin than on the rest of your face.

It is estimated that U. S. chickens produce about 100 million pounds of feathers a year.

SALOME, a movie for everyone. Although I don't approve the advertising angle used by Hollywood, I think it's a picture everyone will enjoy and come away a better person.

It's a vivid spectacle dealing with the Biblical character whose name is the personification of both loveliness and evil, SALOME, the Bibles Most Vivid and Exciting Heroine.
