Baccalaureate Service To Be Held Here Sunday Night

Baccalaureate services Sunday will begin the final week of school activities for the year 1954-55 in Hereford schools. Services will be held at the High School auditorium with Bob Wear, Church of Christ minister, as principal speaker. "The Balance Wheel of Life" will be Wear's sermon topic.

Mrs. J. C. McCracken will play processional music. Pickens Moore will give the invocation; the choir, under the direction of Don Moore will sing "Sweet Day," and "Once to Every Man and Nation," followed by the sermon by Wear, benediction by S. M. Dunnani, and recessional by Mrs. McCracken.

Final exams at High School begin Wednesday and will be completed Thursday. Junior High School commencement exercises will be held Thursday and Senior High commencement Friday.

Dr. A. M. Meyer, president of Amarillo Junior College will deliver the Senior High commencement address. Ginger Brock, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Brock, is

Merchants Will Meet Monthly

Merchants voted to meet only once a month during the summer at their regular meeting held Friday in the ballroom of the Jim Hill Hotel. Meetings during the summer months will be held on the first Friday of each month.

All Clubs To Be Asked To Help In Clean-Up Week

Delegates from all clubs and organizations in the city will be asked to attend a special meeting in the near future to make plans for a "Clean-up, Fix-up, Paint-up" campaign in Hereford. The decision to ask all organizations in the city to help was made at a meeting of the Civic Affairs Committee of the Deaf-Smith Chamber of Commerce last week.

Meeting with the Civic Affairs Committee, which is headed by Jimmy Allred, were Cecil Massey, president of the Lions Club; Earl Phillips, president elect of the Rotary Club, Loyd Lovel, Kiwanis Club president; and Gerald Hale, president of the Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The group voted unanimously to go ahead with plans for the week of civic improvement. The group made only tentative plans, however, after deciding that the job was big enough for all clubs and organizations in the city to join in. Allred especially said that women's clubs and veterans organizations will be urged to help. The city health officer and city officials will also be invited.

Walcott School To Graduate Six

WALCOTT — Six students will graduate from Walcott School when commencement exercises are held Wednesday.

Eighth grade graduates are Margaret Burrus, Wayne Bomar, Carol Lynn McClure, Wayne Johnson, Mary Sue Patton and James McCullar. The program, which follows, will be held in the Walcott School auditorium: Professional, M. L. Preston; invocation, Mrs. Carl Perrin; address of welcome, Wayne Bomar; song by sixth and seventh grade girls; class will and prophecy, Carol McClure; farewell address, Margaret Burrus; "Farewell Day," Mrs. M. L. Preston; graduating address, Earnest Langley; presentation of diplomas, Thomas L. Collins; and benediction, Homer E. Henslee.

Best Pioneer Day Costume Prizes Will Be Awarded

The executive committee of the Mid-Plains Pioneer Association met last week following an earlier joint meeting with members of the Chamber of Commerce to plan for Pioneer Day, May 27.

In addition to plans made at the first meeting, the association will pay for prizes to be used Pioneer Day for the most suitable costume worn by the men and women. Other prizes will be announced on that day.

Stressing the old fashioned basket lunch to be brought by the old-timers for their families and their friends, the association is asking that invitations to out-of-town relatives and friends be extended through individuals rather than formal letters be sent as in the past. It is believed this method will be more effective and far-reaching.

Merchants are being asked to decorate their windows for the day with appropriate displays and especially are they asked to show old time pictures that would fit the occasion.

The Business and Professional Women's Club members have already been appointed to help with registration, as in the past. A reception committee has been named to supplement the group and is made up of W. G. Harris, president of the association, Vern Witherspoon and Edgar Ireland, from the steering committee and Mrs. Reed Williams.

The Chamber of Commerce has arranged for the use of the Jim Hill Hotel ballroom for the entire day as headquarters for the old-timers. They will also be in charge of refreshments for the morning and afternoon preceding and following the basket lunch.

Kiwanians Hold Ladies Night

Uranium prospecting is a lot harder than most people believe, Hereford Kiwanians and their wives were told Thursday night by Joe Smith at the annual Ladies Night banquet.

Smith, who was principal speaker, told the group that the hunt for uranium was not all fun. Entertainment was provided by Mrs. Jerry Albracht, who played the accordion and piano.

County Records 22 Births In April; Year's Total 99

There were 22 births registered in Deaf Smith County during the past month of April, according to the records in the County Clerk's office.

This number is five less than was recorded in April of 1954 and one more than was recorded in March of 1955.

Of the 22 births in April, there were nine boys and 13 girls, while in April of '54, there were 16 boys and 11 girls. This brings the total for the year of 1955 to 99 births, recorded. Those listed for the month of April were: a daughter, Carla Dale, to Mr. and Mrs. Ronald A. Whitefaces Fall Four Runs Short Of Winning District

By BILL KNOX

In a game punctuated by shaky Hereford fielding and spotty pitching by both teams, the Dalhart Wolves eased past the Hereford Whitefaces 10-7 Thursday afternoon at Veteran's Park to cap the district championship.

Behind the somewhat uncertain pitching of Jim Wilson the Wolves held only a small lead until they exploded in the seventh inning. Wilson gave up six hits and fanned 13. Homer Hershey, the loser, gave up seven hits and fanned 11.

Hereford displayed a loose infield in taking the loss. The Whitefaces were guilty of committing time errors, while Dalhart's five errors was well below average.

Wilson, who had previously stunned the Herd with his blazing fast ball, was unable to get them past the Whitefaces with such consistent success as the last time.

Dalhart opened scoring with three runs in the second. Wilson opened with a single and went all the way to third when the ball got by Elliston in left field. Corbett drove in with a single which he was safe on; then when Sims and Hagar both were guilty of throwing errors, he scored. Compton walked, and another error and a wild pitch brought him in. But the Whitefaces fought back, giving the Wolves some of their own medicine. In the last of the second, the Herd tallied two runs without a hit in this inning. Hagar and Callaway both walked as lead-off hitters, and Wilson unleashed four wild pitches, sending them both in.

Dalhart countered by scoring two more in the third. After Palmer had whiffed, Devers, Wilson, and Corbett got consecutive singles. These, coupled with a wild pitch and an error by right fielder Bill Callaway, were responsible for the runs.

The two runs scored by the Whitefaces in the last of the fourth brought them within one run of the Wolves, closer than any other time in the game. After Hagar had popped to second, Callaway and Burrus got singles, and four errors committed by Compton, Montano, and Cummings sent them

Around Town

About the most talked about thing Around Town this week has been the fact that school is just about out. Students have been talking about what they plan to do during their three month vacation, and parents have been talking about how they are going to keep them from it.

One of the things highlighting this week's school activities was the Junior High homecoming girls picnic held Friday afternoon at Dameron Park. The picnic, which was held from 3:30 until 6, attracted approximately 70 girls. The girls prepared their own picnic lunches and then played games and enjoyed eating their own food. Mrs. A. L. Yeager and Mrs. J. W. Whelan, homemaker teacher, sponsored the affair.

But no sooner is this year's nine months of labor over than parents start thinking about next year. For instance, Tuesday parents of next year's first graders will meet at the High School auditorium to get an explanation of what they should prepare for, and what to expect.

Hereford will go into dress uniform this week. Decorations for the rodeo and Pioneer Day are due to begin going up. The Harbin Decorating Co., of Dublin is in charge of the work. Most merchants in the city are cooperating.

And business and professional men have been asked to dress western during the entire week of rodeo days. A vote taken at a recent Merchant's Meeting apparently means that they will, too.

Hereford's Blackhawks will meet a team from the Labor Camp Sunday afternoon at 2:30 p.m. at Veteran's Park.

Fourteen area riding clubs have accepted invitations to participate in the annual rodeo parade and opening day grand entry.

City commissioners are to meet Monday night.

Dedication of the new St. Anthony's Catholic school, convent, and rectory will take place this afternoon at 3:30 p.m. Open house at the new school is to be held from 1:30 to 6:30.

Piggly Wiggly meets the KC's and Popular plays Jim Hill in Tuesday night games. Thursday night Coopers plays Popular and Summerfields meets Rutherford.

Rodeo Booster Trips To Be In Form Of Family Outing

Definite plans for three Pioneer Day and Rodeo Booster trips were made at a meeting of civic club and chamber of commerce delegates recently.

Three clubs, the Rotary, Kiwanis and Lions, will sponsor trips. The first is set for Monday, May 23 and will be under the direction of the Rotary Club. Friona and Eovina will be visited by that group. May 24 the Lions will lead a caravan to Dimmitt and Kiwanians will be in charge of the trip to Vega May 25.

The trips will be different from the usual caravan trips, however.

Bill Lenderman, Chamber of Commerce manager, said they would be in the form of a family outing. A caravan of cars will be assembled for each trip at the courthouse square at about 5:30 the day of the trip. The entire family is urged to go. A police escort will lead the caravan to the city to be visited and once there a group of entertainers, who will make each trip, will put on a brief show. Then the caravan will break up and members will eat dinner in the visited town's cafes and visit friends there.

Each town to be visited has been contacted and have invited the rodeo boosters to visit their cities. All making the trip are urged to dress in western fashion.

Cold Checkers Evade Officers

An area alert failed to pick up a pair of "cold-checkers" who worked Hereford merchants for $170 last week.

The pair, a man and a woman, cashed worthless checks for $85, $50 and $85 in a short visit here. Local officers were only 10 minutes back of them, but they escaped arrest.

A good description of the pair was believed to be in the hands of officers, and an area alert was sounded.

URANIUM CLASS

The first uranium class is to be held Tuesday night at the Court-house. Anyone interested is urged to attend.

Miss Sylvia McCracken left Saturday for her home in Sioux City, Iowa after a week's visit here in the home of her brother, J. C. McCracken. Miss McCracken was en route home from a stay of several months in California.

Band King and Queen Named At Banquet Friday Night

One of the most colorful events of the close of school activities was the High School Band banquet held at Shirley School Friday evening.

Theme for the affair centered around "Melody in Day Time" with a May Day accent predominating. A large May Pole—centered the room with its colorful ribbons attached to the 18 surrounding tables, which in turn was centered with miniature may poles. The speaker's table dotted with flowerlets and centered with an arrangement of pastel flowers in the colors of the may pole ribbons, clustered with up-standing musical notes. Musical bars bearing the staff and musical notes screened the windows.

Supt. George Graham gave the invocation and J. B. Wills served as master of ceremonies for the program. Mrs. C. O. Brown gave the welcome from the mothers and Verta Sanders, band president, gave the response. A German Band made up of Hereford business men provided fun and played humorous selections. Those in the band were Dr. A. T. Mims, Dr. Milton Adams, John Estes, Don Zimmerman, Raylan Evans and Earnest Langley.

The High School quartet, composed of J. B. Wills, Clarence Caywood, Raymond Wells and Pickens Moore, entertained with several popular numbers, featuring western songs.

Jim Lady, vice president, presided at the crowning of the Band King and Queen; John Benson and Barbara Sue Rogers.

Twirlers for 1955-56 were named. They were Bonnie Lewis, head twirler, Barbara Dameron, Joan Brown, Wanda Kimbrough, Clara Beth Holt and Ella Marie Williams.

NOT CHECKING UP -- When city employees began connecting this water meter on the drinking fountain it was feared that too much water was being free-loaded at City Hall. However, it turns out, as the sign explains, that it is just an exhibit, showing how the meter works. That's Richard Smith getting the free drink. (Staff Photo)

If you don't think it gets pretty chilly out these nights just ask Hardy Cole or Dick Culpepper. They know first-hand. Thursday afternoon the pair drove out to Buffalo Lake to do some fishing...

It was plenty cold, they report, especially without any cover. Cole's son, in fact, was the only one who slept more than 15 minutes—and he did pretty well. Friday morning they got some help, managed to get the car out, and returned to town, and this was when the trouble really started.

Fr. Bartholomew Paytas was kind enough to bring by one of the "Amarillo Registers," weekly Catholic newspaper, with the dedication plans for St. Anthony's today. In looking over the paper, I ran across the following story which, as the Register puts it, is too good not to pass along.

a matter of taste. Mail or bring them to The Brand office.

This can be a lot of fun. Two youngsters got started the other night and turned out some dances. Saturday, May 21, will be the deadline.

The same lack of interest is seen in the "Unanim Prospecting" classes. Only 19 have registered. However, if you are interested be at the county courtroom at 10:30 o'clock Tuesday evening, May 17. The entire cost is five bucks, which covers four Tuesday meetings of around two and one-half hours each. This is exactly 50 cents an hour, and the instruction is tops, including a representative of the Atomic Energy Commission.

Whitefaces...
Dalhart exploded for five in the seventh inning to ice the game. Devers led off with a single, but Wilson whiffed. Corbett drew life on Elliston's error, but Hershey also fanned Compton. With runners on second and third an intentional pass was given to Lewis, but Morse's easy roller was muffed by Lynn Bybee, and the Wolves had chased in five runs before the inning was over.

Business rumors! The grapevine has it that a super-size tourist court is being planned just west of Elm Courts with Wayne Wallace deep in the planning. The new structure just east of Benefield Motors is an office under construction by N. D. Bartlett. Also hear that around 40 foundations have been poured in the new addition east of Avenue K. Construction is still on the boom. Things are picking up in the area north and west of town, as well as north and east. Notice where Tierra Blanca Lodge has expanded a bit and now has a trailer camp east of their location.

Had you noticed how few prairie dogs you see these days? They could fast be on the way to becoming extinct—or maybe I just don't get around in the right places.

Some of the high school boys and girls gave musical numbers at the Lions Club this week. They were good, too. Most of them rated 1's and 2's in the State Contests. However, I couldn't help wondering how much sacrifice their perfection indicated, especially on the part of parents and neighbors. It takes a lot of sour notes before you become able to play like those kids did Wednesday.

Things are looking pretty rugged out along Highway 51 these days. Quite a few residents have moved their trees and reset them further back into the yards. People in this country really go for trees. If you don't believe it, just drive along Highway 51 and notice how many have been salvaged in the wake of widening the road.

About those Davy Crockett verses. Only a few have shown up. Most of these seem to be coming from grown-ups. I figured they would show up in droves, and with a heavy emphasis on small fry. Here's the deal: Just write a Davy Crockett verse concerning Deat Smith County or Hereford—or both. It should rhyme and be adaptable to the Davy Crockett tune. That's all. It's a cinch. We only have six entries. Some of the better ones will be published—and every one published will get a free ticket to see "Davy Crockett," which will show at the Star Theatre in four or five weeks. In addition, the best one will be given a $5 cash prize; $3.50 for second place, and $1.50 for third place. Just to keep things fair, I won't publish any of them until we have several more on hand. Make 'em cute, clever or serious. It's all

Want the lowdown on fashions, customs and slang in San Francisco? Maybe some ideas that will intrigue your own set? Here are some that reporter Katherine Pinkham dug up. Harlow to the groove... Girls are wearing two sweaters, one over the other, blouse or beaded in. Ropes of beads, often gilded are popular. Dark turtle-necked sweaters with white, open necked cotton blouse or shirt worn on top are tops with girls. Bermuda socis and shorts are popular even with boys who wear them to parties. Levis are out, khakis and grays are preferred, slightly narrower at bottom than the usual slacks. Quilted skirts are very stylish, shorter and fuller than last year. Saddle oxfords are replacing flat shoes again. Wool scarfs, long or short are worn high, wrapped around the throat. Some girls wear gold metal bands on top of the head.

St. Christopher medals are around the necks on chain or cord, variations, gold metal or other materials. Boys often present one to their steady girl, but all youths seem to be wearing them. The "hop," a crouch dance with the derriere fanning out in rear in sort of a wiggle with arms waving is popular. The Charleston revival is fading. The Mambo is still around. Slang includes these terms—A boy (if he's the nice type) is a "bear." "Neat" is used for "nice." "Square" seems to have become a "cube." A girl that should be dogged as a "prude" or she's "dead." A good dancer is considered "hot to trot." A girl may be referred to as "talent" or "stuff" as well as "doll" or "chick." A "dealy" is a thing, anything except a deal. "Baby" is considered complimentary although the other form "babe" is not. A boy who goes steady with one girl is "hooked" or "tied." Boys either "go steady" or are "breaking up."

Smart students rate a "brain" salutation, a dull one is considered "spastic" or even "psycho." Money is "bread"—a dollar bill being known as a "chlorophyll George" and a penny as a "brown Abe."

Piggly Wiggly, KC's Score Victories In Softball Play

By BILL KNOX
Piggly Wiggly received unexpected opposition from Rutherford and the KC's had a track meet in Thursday night softball action.

Rutherford extended the Pigs, 16-13, while losing, but the Knights of Columbus whizzed past Coopers 30-4. The first game was compartively close all the way. Both the teams scored consistently with the young Rutherford team unleashing a terrific home run barrage, clouting four fourmasters. The second game was not quite so close, the Knights all but annihilated Coopers for their second win of the year.

First Game
Rutherford was blanked in the first, but Piggly Wiggly tallied two. Hershey walked to lead off, and after Bybee had done likewise, Dement and Wilson unloaded singles to score the runs.

However, Rutherford took a brief lead by scoring four runs in the top of the second. Shanks and Bryant drew walks as the first two batters. Summers popped to second, but Wilson dropped Maxwell's fly to center. Elliston made the second out with another pop-up to second base, but Bill Callaway, a great young player, unloaded a double. When Wilson again erred on Hagar's fly, Callaway scored.

But Piggly Wiggly took a small lead in the last of the second by scoring three runs. Bookout and Morgan walked, and Hershey doubled. McNeese and Brock also got singles, but heads up play by first baseman Jack Burrus allowed the Pigs only three runs.

Rutherford tied the game for the first time in the top of the third. John Poindexter, husky outfielder, smashed a tremendous fourbagger for the tying marker.

Piggly Wiggly splurged in the last of the third, scoring five runs to make the score 0-5. Three walks, singles by McNeese, Bybee, and Brock, and a home run by Homer Hershey were responsible for the sudden outburst.

Rutherford again featured their home run power in the fourth, their only run of this inning coming on a home run. The homer belonged to Bill Callaway, giving him his fourth of the year. He leads the league in homers and RBI. He has 11 runs batted in.

Piggly Wiggly scored two in the last of the fourth to make it 12-6. A walk, an error, and a double by Don Morgan accounted for the runs.

For the first time, Rutherford blanked the Pigs while scoring three runs in the fifth. Burrus and Bryant both got doubles in this inning, walks and errors paving the way for the crucial blows. Piggly Wiggly led 12-9 at the end of five innings.

Both teams tallied four in the sixth. Jack Burrus unleashed a sizzling homer for Rutherford, while Shanks also got one. Piggly Wiggly's runs came on only two hits.

Losing pitcher for Rutherford was the starter, Danny Elliston. Winner was Don Morgan.

KC's Have Field Day
The KC's had a field day in the second game, defeating Coopers 30-4. They scored 14 in the first, six in the second, one in the third, and nine in the fourth, while Coopers scored only one in the third, two in the fourth, and one in the fifth. Winner was Kenneth Walterscheid. Roger Shipley is tagged with the loss.

Small Fry Can Give Mom Glamor

Does your child have the gimmes?

If so, curb that streak that might develop into real selfishness. Mom's birthday is the perfect time for Dad to encourage the offspring to plan a little gift for Mom. The few pennies, even though loaned by Dad, will pay off handsomely in the years to come. Once a youngster learns how much pleasure there is in giving a gift, the rest is easy.

Pink and lovely for Mom are dainty boxes of French-milled carved soaps in flower shapes and scented. Available in sets of three or smaller size in sets of six, these soaps are put up in a pink and white gingham box in lilac, jasmín or June bouquet scents.

Colognes are popular gifts for Mom because they may be found on budget shelves. One mist in a breathless scent comes with dusting powder to match to woo any mother to a big kiss. Sets of lipstick and nailpolish, compacts, a few of the gifts Mom will appreciate.

Let the youngsters purchase gift paper, card and ribbon and wrap their own packages. Even if it's not as neat as Dad's might be, it

LUCKY ARREST

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—State Trooper Walter Branch tells this one: Branch got up to 95 miles per hour before he was able to halt a speeding motorist. Branch said he was just plain mad when he saw that the speeder was accompanied by his wife and a small child. The driver emerged with a scowl on his face, denied he was driving as fast as the trooper said, and began to express his opinion of the officer in no uncertain terms. Having developed a thick skin Branch let the remarks fall on deaf ears as he wrote out a summons to court.

Just then a tire blew out on a front wheel of the motorist's car. "Friend, if I hadn't stopped you I might have been called to help gather up the bodies of your wife and child," Branch said.

The officer said the speeder acted as if he had been hit by a .45 calibre bullet.

"If there ever was a damn fool who needed a traffic ticket I'm one," the speeder said.

Like the flavor of anchovies? Chop some anchovy fillets and add them to a cream sauce along with a little lemon juice. Serve the sauce over fish fillets or steaks and garnish with minced parsley and strips of canned pimiento.

Ever use Savoy cabbage? It's a loose head and has curly erin-lled green leaves. Its flavor is a bit milder than that of ordinary green cabbage.

Tips For Looking Pretty On Wedding Day Are Given

By VIVIAN BROWN
After the trousseau has been assembled and modeled for family and friends, the bride discovers that she hasn't given a thought to wedding day glamor.
Letters show that many prospective brides have the same problems. Here are some questions they ask. The answers might help you, too:
Q. I have a very short Italian-style haircut. I am wearing my mother's wedding veil a month from today and find that it makes me look absolutely scalped and my hair ends are not long enough to fringe the veil.
A. It might be a good idea to have your mother's veil restyled. If that isn't possible, you can buy or rent a hair piece that may be smoothed around your own hair for the wedding. If these are done properly you can fool anyone, but it is an added expense.

Q. I am overweight and white makes me look huge. We are having a big church wedding and I must wear a white dress to please my family. Can you make any suggestion that might help?
A. A deep V neckline will help cut down the bosom size if that is one problem. A wide panel down the front of the dress will help cut hips. If possible avoid a dress with a big full skirt unless your waist and bosom are very much slimmer than hips.
Q. Is there any objection to a bride wearing perfume on her wedding day?
A. Not if she chooses the lighter fragrances. One said to be inspired by the soft Chantilly lace of the bride is a sweet gentle scent available in everything from a foam bath essence to a liquid cream deodorant.
Q. I have sallow skin and rather lifeless hair of a faded blonde shade. Is there anything I can do to perk up my looks?

A. Yes. A good color rinse will highlight your hair and complexion too. A deep pink or bronze tan are lovely shades for blondes who will be wearing white. For the pink look choose a rosy amber foundation cream, dab a spot of pink rouge on either cheek, blending it up to the corner of the eyes. Dust powder over all. Use a waterproof mascara to darken eye and brow lashes. Be sure to practice this makeup before the wedding day.

CHOW HOUND — Tiger outfielder Al Kline attributes his new-found batting strength to his wife's good cooking. Here Al gives a nod of approval as his wife stirs the stew.

Wife's Cooking Helps Slugger

DETROIT — Al Kline, the Detroit Tiger slugger who eats like they won't be making food the next day, says the extra push he gets from his bat really comes from his wife's cooking.

Kline weighed 155 last year when he joined Detroit as an outfielder. He is hitting as consistently as he did last year when the ball seldom landed in the stands for a hour.

This year he weighs 75 and the 19-year-old is hitting home runs like they were bunts. He had three in one game.

Kline's pretty blue-eyed wife, Louise, who was May Queen in her last year at Southern High School in Baltimore, says she has the answer.

"I just keep feeding him and he just keeps eating," she says. "Even before we were married Al would finish his own lunch and start on the rest of mine."

Fortunately for Louise, she's had plenty of experience on the chow line. She used to cook supper five nights a week for her family of eight.

Although fossil giraffes are found in Europe and India, the wild living animals are now found only in Africa, south of the Sahara.

During the Dark Ages the building of forts in Western Europe was hampered by the fact that warriors of that period despised the necessary handicrafts.

Breeding experiments looking toward development of the Rhode Island Red hen were begun as early as 1854 and the Rhode Island Red Club of America was organized in 1893.

Golden Anniversary Open House Honors Whitakers

Children of Mr. and Mrs. G. H. Whitaker honored their parents with open house Sunday afternoon May 8, from 3 to 5 p.m. on their golden wedding anniversary. The daughters, daughters-in-law and granddaughters assisted with the hospitality during the afternoon. Deep yellow and gold roses were used throughout the entertaining rooms and the tiered wedding confection was decorated in the same colors. On the refreshment table was an ecru lace cloth made by Mrs. Whitaker. Underlying the cloth was a cloth of yellow and gold tapers burned in single holders. Assisting in the house party were Mrs. C. B. Williams and Mrs. W. A. Gear.

Whitaker came to Texas at the age of six from Memphis, Tenn. He recalls the adventure with some pride, remembering how his father told the family "We'll get on the train here and go to the end of the line—then we will establish our home there." When they reached the end of the line, they were in Fort Worth, and later they built their home in North Fort Worth, where the Swift Packing Plant now stands.

On May 7, 1905 he married Miss Irene Jordan at New Port and since he was already in the cow business they began their life together as farmers and ranchers. They moved to Hereford in 1928 where he continued stock-farming until he retired in 1942. She has been a member of the Methodist Church for the past half century.

Eight children were born to the couple, seven of whom are still living. One son, Clyde, was killed in the Battle of the Bulge in Belgium during World War II. The children are G. H., Woodrow and Clark who are successful farmers in Deaf Smith and Parmer Counties, and Mrs. L. F. Smith and Mrs. John Farmer of Fort Worth, Mrs. James O. Prewitt of Beaumont and Mrs. Dick Garrison who recently sailed for Germany to join her husband who is in the U.S. Air Force. There are 15 grandchildren and two great grandchildren.

Out of town guests attending the open house affair were Mr. and Mrs. James O. Prewitt and daughter Pamela Sue of Beaumont; Mrs. Emma Farmer and sons Ladon, Paul and Gary of Newport, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Welborn and Mrs. Dick McMahon of Dimmitt and Mr. and Mrs. Tom Pressley of Black.

NO PLAY MONEY
 CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP)—Police had to hold a real shakedown to retrieve the proceeds of a social held by a neighborhood organization.
 The treasurer left the money on a bed and it disappeared. Police finally checked a baby and found the money stuffed in his diaper.
 The muzzle-loading gun, variously called a "Kentucky," "squirrel" or "hog" rifle still is used in competitions for marksmen.

Safe 'n Sound
by JIM WOOD
 If you assaulted your neighbor with a deadly weapon you would be arrested and probably sent to prison, but you could kill your neighbor's whole family with your automobile and probably wouldn't even lose your driver's license. Seriously automobile accidents are becoming one of the nations most deadly killers. The public rises up against a cold blooded killer, but when they read about a whole family being killed in an automobile accident they just say too bad, and shrug it off. So until we the public wakes up and does something to eliminate these accidents you can call Lone Star Insurance Agency and at least be sure of your own coverage. 136 Main. Phone 424.

What's This

—By Chris

Four Days!!! Yahoo! Oh, I'm sorry Mr. Martin, I didn't mean any offense. It's just that I thought for a while time was standing still and we never would get out.
 We've really had the excitement lately! What with all the class parties coming up, it's been real! The Juniors had a skating party and W.O.W! It was just full of ups and downs. You know? Arliss Edwards furnished the floor show, along with G. C. and Wayne. They were good sports about the whole thing, and I never had more fun in my life.
 And then there was the little incident concerning Buddy Jowell on the sophomore hay-ride. Seems he tried to "swipe" all the hay to take home to his horse. But that isn't all. He was "trying" to be generous with the loot and Mr. McDougal just wouldn't let him. He was stuffing his precious forage down a certain girl's blouse. Well, so what if he did over-do the unselfish routine, he meant well. Didn't you Buddy??
 If anyone knows what happened to Oscar's eye, would you please pass the word? Even I can't find out, but it looks ba-a-ad.
 I'll bet a lot of you are thinking how realistic "Broken Lance" must have been last Sunday. I hate to disillusion you, folks, but that wasn't smoke signals you saw coming out of the Star, the popcorn machine just decided to combustulate (translation) That's my term for "blew a fuse." Whatever happened, it was "real gone" in a few minutes time.
 Ronnie Barnes is just about the laziest, well after all! He can't even carry one little book downstairs, so you know what he did? Listen, I'll tell you. He put his books on the banister and let nature take her course. Why should he care if they fell off and cracked somebody on the bean? He went his merry way, looking like the cat that licked the cream jar, Hm—come to think of it, that's a pretty ingenious idea. I'll have to try it.

 The choir really goofed up and how! If you were there, please don't think too badly of us. We were so afraid we'd blunder that we were all keyed up and "shonuff" we did. What I can't figure, is why we didn't miff some of those killers that we only had about two weeks to work on, instead of a lil' ol' simple one we've been doing for two years. Oh well, I guess that's just life for you. I know you're wondering how we ever got sweepstakes: Without Mr. Moore, we'd never have gotten to first base.
 Take it easy everybody, will you? I'll be back next week.

Beauty At Home

By LYNN CARTER

Q. How can I make a better job of applying my lipstick?
 A. Have you ever tried a light coating of powder on your lips before applying your lipstick? This makes the color stay on longer, it will go on smoother, and will hold a more even line.
 Q. Is it good to wear more rouge when one is dressed in red?
 A. It will be more becoming if little or no color is used on the cheeks. This is also true when you don a red hat or red scarf.
 Q. How can I make a too-round face appear more nearly oval?
 A. A darker shade of foundation makeup will shadow the portion of the face from ear to chin.
 Q. What is a good exercise for a nice, slender waistline?
 A. Lie on back, arms out. Draw left knee up to waistline. Now swing the hips to the right until the knee is in a straight line out from the waist. Then, and then only, pull the knee up hard toward elbow. Relax, and swing hips back; straighten leg. Repeat with right leg. This is a splendid exercise if practiced faithfully.

 Q. What can I do to make a heavy jaw seem less apparent?
 A. It will look more feminine and delicate if you blot out the corners with a darker shade of base foundation, so that they do not attract so much attention.
 Q. How can I rectify the roughened skin on my arms?
 A. By washing in warm water and soap, and scrubbing with a small brush or coarse washcloth. This removes the dead surface skin. Dry carefully, and apply a softening cream.
 Q. What is a treatment for removing dandruff from the scalp?
 A. One often-successful treatment consists of rubbing lard and egg yolk thoroughly into the scalp. Allow to remain on overnight, then wash out thoroughly.
 Q. What can I do about skin that has become flabby from reducing?
 A. Pat with an astringent before applying tissue cream, and repeat this every day. Wrap some ice in damp absorbent cotton, and then "iron" over face and throat as often as possible.
 Q. How can I check persistent smearing of my lipstick?
 A. Try dabbing a bit of perfume on it. This gives it more permanence until you are ready to remove it with cold cream.
 Q. Can you tell me some of the things regular brushing does for one's hair?
 A. It helps clean and polish the hair, giving it a lovely luster. It draws the oil down from the scalp to the very ends, which are often dry. It smooths the hair and makes it easier to manage. It helps to clear loose scales off the scalp and out of your hair. It stimulates circulation, which feeds the hair roots and helps the hair grow.

Flour Sacks
Empty flour sacks can be used for various purposes around the home, and the colored letters can be removed as follows: Rub pure lard thoroughly into the letters and figures, soak in lukewarm water for a few days, then put in boiler with soap flakes and boil. If lettering is not entirely removed repeat the process.

Paper Patterns
Perforations can be easily placed in home-made patterns by running them through the sewing machine, without using thread.

Making A Cork Fit
When the cork is just a trifle too small, soak it for a few minutes in boiling water and it will expand.

Mailing Container
If necessary to mail a bottle of medicine, or other liquid, secure a heavy tubular ice cream container, and stuff it with cotton. It makes an ideal device for this purpose.

Brass Kettle
A brass kettle that has been out of use for some time should never be used until it is scoured thoroughly with a solution of salt and vinegar.

Linoleum
Linoleum or oilcloth should not be washed with hot soap suds. Use tepid water, then wipe with a cloth dipped in equal parts of cold milk and water.

The Bread Knife
Sometimes the baker is blamed for bread that is not thoroughly baked when the trouble is that the knife is not sharp enough. If it is sharpened often there will be an improvement in the slices of bread.

White Stockings
If you have some white stockings and wish to change them to a tan or brown, boil them for a few minutes in strong tea and then rinse in clear water.

Drying Clothes
Remove the clothes from the line as soon as they are dry, and they will not collect dust. A high wind will frequently tear them if there are any weak spots.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. How can I remove paint stains from clothing?
A. Either fresh or dry stains may be removed from delicate materials without injury by sponging with chloroform. Wash fabrics can be saturated with turpentine, rubbing well between the hands and then wash in soapy water. For a very old and dry stain, add a little ammonia to the turpentine and soak the stains in this for an hour or two before laundering.

Q. How can I keep an oven from baking too quickly?
A. If the bread or cake or other food bakes too quickly and get too brown, set a pan of cold water in the bottom of the oven.

Q. How can I clean the pleated lamp shades?
A. These shades can be cleaned by using the blower of the vacuum cleaner on them. The dust will be removed in a short time.

Q. How can I give something different in the way of a bridal shower?
A. A novel shower would be one of recipes. The hostess buys an attractive kitchen index and the cards are distributed to the guests. Each guest gives her best recipe and writes her name at the bottom of the card.

Q. How can I make better cake?
A. When baking cake, do not look at the cake more than is necessary while it is in the oven. Everytime the door is opened the oven cools.

Q. How can I remove marks made from an indelible pencil?
A. Grease the spots with lard, rubbing thoroughly. Then wash with soap and warm water.

Q. How can I lighten superfluous hair?
A. A strong solution of peroxide of hydrogen will lighten superfluous hair. There are also solutions that can be purchased at any toiletries department.

Q. How can I prevent having a damp pantry?
A. When the pantry is damp, place a small box of lime on a shelf. It will soon make the air pure and dry.

Q. How can I insure the comfort of the feet when wearing new shoes?
A. Try sprinkling borated talcum powder into the shoes before wearing them.

Q. How can I join lace so that it will not show?

FAMILY CIRCLE -- Viveca Lindfors, star of the Broadway dramatic hit, "Anastasia," sits down on stairs of her Manhattan home holding son Christopher while daughter Lena holds her cocker spaniel and cat and husband George Tabori peers over bannister. Son David wouldn't pose.

This Mother Is Also Leading Broadway Actress

By JOY MILLER
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Every night after her last bow as star of the Broadway hit play, "Anastasia," Viveca Lindfors goes home to:

A husband, three children, one mother, cocker, and puppies besides a family of cats.

They make her a better actress, she says.

"Whatever full experience you have—love for humanity, children—is to your advantage as an actress. The more fully we live, the more we have to play upon."

It is late morning and she sits serene and unruffled in her second floor living room cheerfully lined with books. Swedish paintings and Swedish copper molds on the white brick fireplace.

She wears a sleeveless cotton duster and no makeup and holds her youngest child in her lap. Christopher, chubby and 2½, protests his hunger and she interrupts her conversation now and then to call downstairs to his nurse about his lunch.

Upstairs in the narrow, four-story Manhattan house her 11-year-old daughter Lena is playing with two girl friends. And sharing a huge pen in Lena's room are the pubes and kittens who take turns cleaning each other up with friendly tongues.

In another upstairs room David, 12, is holed up, refusing to pose for magazine photographers who are coming later to take color pictures of the family.

A plumber is banging away somewhere, and once her husband, the writer George Tabori, slips down the stairs, moving quietly to avoid running into anyone in his bathrobe.

In and out of the various rooms wander Pretty Penny, the mother cocker, and Beauty, the mother cat.

"Yes, it's possible to combine three careers—wife, mother, actress," she says. "It's just a question of adjusting. At times you're home a great deal, then you get a job and you're hardly home at all.

Of course, then you can hire help which you can't afford when you don't have a job."

Christopher screams for food. She hugs him, her red-lit brown hair falling over his face.

"You know, it's easier to raise the third child. By that time you're ready to accept them for what they are."

She points through a back window to a vacant lot between her house and big apartment buildings on the street behind.

"Look out there. All that space could be converted into a playground and one person could supervise lots of children. It's ridiculous the way we all hire one person to watch one child."

A top screen star in Sweden, now, and "Anastasia" seems destined for a long run.

Any problems then?

"Right now I've just got to find out about Christopher's lunch."

TRAINING ECONOMY

DENVER, Colo. (AP)—Two enlisted instructors at Lowry Air Force Base here have developed training gear at a cost of $13,250 that will put $1,200,000 in bomb navigation equipment back in flight operation.

T. Sgt. Frederick N. Ard, and S. Sgt. Warren E. Arnsperger, spent 480 off-duty hours and $4,250 in Air Force money developing a pilot model of the training aid. Three more models are being constructed at a cost of $3,000 each.

Capt. Paul B. McCann, chief of the Lowry bomb navigation branch said when the models are completed the expensive operational equipment designed for use on Air Force B-47 bombers can be put in flight service. The training models "simulate" all the electrical and mechanical impulses of the B-47 gear in the training of bomb navigation mechanics.

GLOWING TARGET

DENVER—Firemen thought they had come across a new type fire while battling a house blaze in downtown Denver. The fire ladies poured streams of water on a red glow in a bedroom for several minutes with no apparent results. They later discovered it was a bed lamp with a red shade.

A Giraffe's tongue may be as much as 48 inches long.

New Grade School Plans In The Mill

Hereford's new elementary school is "in the mills" following a meeting this week of the Hereford Rural High School Board of Trustees.

Most people will be happy over the announcement. A few will be disgruntled, and still fewer fall into the class which does not care one way or the other. Despite personal feelings, however, the move was inevitable.

Hereford and Deaf Smith County are growing in population. It may be good—or bad—but the entire school system for one of Texas five largest counties is concentrated in the Hereford Rural High School District. Increased population means only one thing: more students and consequently, more schools. As citizens, we have known for more than a year that a new grade school is necessary. If there is any criticism, it is that of having waited too long.

School taxes, already our greatest burden, will go even higher. There is no question about this. On the other hand, most of us live for one ultimate goal which may be summed up in the education and advancement of our children. It is our children and our dreams for their future which sends most of us into debt. We want them to have an equal chance with the other boys and girls in communities over the nation and scattered around the world. Even more, we want them to have a slight edge over the other fellow, if possible.

Band Uniforms Vs. Donations

Currently we hear considerable agitation for donations toward the purchase of high school band uniforms. The situation crops up from time to time and, after viewing the uniforms, we cannot help but agree that the request has considerable merit.

On the other hand, it appears to us that school equipment should not be based and maintained on a donation basis. Band uniforms are as representative of the modern day high school as are football uniforms, baseball uniforms or track uniforms. The high school band does appear on rare occasions in community sponsored events outside of the school. It's chief excuse for existence, however, is that of student training and for school representation.

We do not take up donations to paint the school buses or to decorate the classrooms. We see no reason why we should take up donations to purchase band uniforms. Distribution of the cost of such items, when allocated through taxes, is theoretically fair and equitable, whereas the donation method creates a hardship on a few and fails to distribute the cost uniformly throughout the community.

We do agree that the Hereford High School Band is entitled to uniforms of presentable quality, comparable to those of other schools in the Panhandle. If necessary, we are willing to donate to make this possible. However, we would like to have one good reason why band uniforms cannot be handled like many of the band instruments and paid for with tax money. Then, and then only, will Hereford consistently have uniforms purchased on a systematic basis to make a presentable appearance at all times.

Our school trustees, despite division of opinion on other subjects, apparently agree as to the need of expanded school facilities. They have carefully studied conditions; they have made projections into future needs and their findings indicate that a new grade school is necessary. In addition, a Citizen's Committee with representatives from various organizations also spent many hours studying, discussing and investigating school conditions. Their recommendations generally coincide with those of the Board of Education.

The situation, all in all, is a bird's-eye view of Democracy at Work. Those who do not agree will be called upon to pitch in and help put over a program which will benefit the community in general. Personal likes and dislikes should be put on the shelf for future settlement. A trustee election is one thing. A bond election is another. Persons who vote against adequate school facilities for personal reasons are merely "cutting off their noses to spite their faces."

We all know that Hereford needs another elementary school. If the recommendations of the School Board are fair and reasonable, we see no reason why the bond issue should not be passed by a large majority.

County Audit Is A Step Forward

Last year Deaf Smith County underwent its first audit in many years. It is with gratitude that we read where contracts are being let on a follow-up audit of county affairs.

As we have pointed out many times, this is good business. A regular audit will, in the long run, cost less than one covering a long period of time. Most important, though, a regular audit will eliminate many mistakes which showed in the seven-year audit in 1954. These errors, if pointed out at one or two year intervals, can be corrected immediately—and at a substantial savings to the tax payers of the county.

In addition, clear records and modern bookkeeping methods also have a tendency to point up costs, offer comparative figures and lead to generally efficient operation.

County officials, audited regularly like banks, consistently keep on the alert for mistakes which might lead to even the slightest question or censorship. Most of them, in fact, appreciate regular audits which, in reality serve as a pat on the back for the official who is doing his job well. They are actually a word of praise which he has merited and deserves.

Representing one of the biggest spending agencies in the entire community, Deaf Smith County indeed made a forward step in the handling of its business when it adopted the policy of regular audits. The measure reflects good judgment, honesty, and true interest in the welfare of the community and the people served by our county officials.

Uranium Projects

With Hereford's first class in "Uranium Prospecting" scheduled for Tuesday night, residents of this area are suddenly confronted with an entirely new possibility in living.

The idea is being accepted sluggishly by the public, chiefly because this area is not the generally accepted idea of a mining center. The whole thing appears quite remote to most people. However, it has long been a focal point of interest in Washington, where geology maps indicate every possibility of uranium deposits. Recent surveys have led to lease offers, which likewise indicate strong possibilities of deposits in this immediate area.

This much interest in oil drilling possibilities would have set tongues wagging and resulted in speculation over the entire area.

People should at least accept the possibility of uranium. They should decide regarding their answer when approached concerning leases, and might even consider some private prospecting over the territory. Uranium, like gold, is where you find it, and the uninformed land owner is the one who is most likely to sell his heritage for a mess of pottage.

"Technically I don't think we should list your wife as a liability."

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Citizens Favor Sept. 6 For Opening School Day

Hereford School Board members are considering two dates for opening day of school next term. They are August 29 and Sept. 6. Which date do you believe would be more practical, and why? Remember that Sept. 5 is Labor Day.

M. G. CAYWOOD

Sept. 6 would be best I believe, because it would be better to start school after the holiday than to start school and then get out for a holiday.

MRS. LEON COFFIN

It seems like Sept. 6 would be better since a lot of people like to go on trips over Labor Day. Also it seems as though it is still hot in August and the children are not ready to start yet.

MRS. CALVIN EDWARDS

I would prefer Sept. 6 because it seems like the children feel like they are missing part of their vacation when they have to go back to school in August.

MRS. G. D. GABBERT

I believe Sept. 6, because it gives the kids another week of vacation.

KENNY WILSON

I would say Sept. 6 because it seems that is when school should start since it has almost always started in September.

BILL WELLS

I believe August 29 would be better since the sooner the children start, the sooner they would be out in the summer.

MRS. FRANK DANIELS

I think Sept. 6 would be better because if anyone wanted to go somewhere or had plans for Labor Day, they could have time to do it.

MRS. DELMAR SIGLE

I would say August 29 because that lets us out earlier in the spring.

MRS. BILL KNOX

I believe September would be nice in that the students that work, would have a chance to take a vacation if they wanted one during that week.

TOMMY ZORNIS

Sept. 6 would be best I believe because it would give the parents more time to get their children ready and take their vacations.

'Tater Peelin's

by Roberta Campbell

We've been wondering what Cliff and Albert Ricketts and Dean Garrett and the other kids we know in the graduating class will associate with the last week of school 30 years from now.

Closing of school always reminds us of roses which only bloomed in the Spring, and the air filled with the scent of locust blossoms everywhere. To us there isn't anything much sweeter than a black locust bloom but the borers threaten to put them in a class virtually extinct unless they are controlled.

Back in 1920 when we graduated there was an even dozen in the class, and going to Plainview to have the class pictures made was the event of the year.

The girls all wore white organdy dresses and had a silk dress for the baccalaureate exercises.

Twenty eight years later when we finished college we of course sweltered in a cap and gown during the final week on the campus. (Hope anybody doesn't get the impression that it took us the whole 28 years to make the grade. We had taught 10 years during that time and farmed 11 before we finally found time to turn loose long enough to complete the five hours of credit we needed for a degree.) During that time the school changed for quarters to semesters and some of our first teachers had already been buried. (The reason we went back was because we wanted to graduate before we got too old to get to class.)

Yep, 30 years from now atom bomb explosions, and television and orchid corsages will be as antiquated as the old black locust.

Personally, we're all for progress.

If you want to stop somebody from whining about the good old days turn off all the water to the house and put them to carrying water in a bucket.

There isn't anything that will stop the pining quicker.

Ordinarily we are happy to have the filling station attendant clean the windshield but it took so long to get anything but man made mud that we are reluctant to see it go.

Community Builders

By MARGARET ALSTON

Among our list of Community Builders, we must not fail to include a man that does not mind working for what he has. Starting from a vacant lot in a weed patch in 1947, Jimmie Allred built up Hereford Butane Incorporated. He is now the president of both it and the Allred Oil Company, Inc.

Starting out in 1934 as a delivery boy in Phillips Wholesale, he has been with the company ever since, but in quite a different position. In 1938, his employer, T. E. Major died and Jimmie took over the business on an agency basis. In 1946 the company went over to jobber operation. His company is considered as one of the largest oil operations in this area.

In 1949, he purchased and improved the building known as Roeky's service station and Tasty Drive Inn. In 1952, the present site of their business and warehouse was established, making it one of the most modern plants with Phillips products. The Jack Kirksy Station was built in 1953 while he acquired the East Side Station in 1954.

Born in Amarillo, Feb. 1, 1913, his parents moved to a farm in the northeast part of Deaf Smith County when he was six months old. There Jimmie grew up helping his father on the farm. In 1930, his parents sent him to high school in Hereford and after his graduation in 1933, he then went to work with Phillips Wholesale.

On June 13, 1937, Jimmie was married to Mary Hawg of Claude. Since they have had three children, Marlene, Clydene, and Lyn-ton, who are all in school. They now live in the home they built in 1950, located at 120 Avenue D.

Jimmie is a member of the Lions Club and is chairman of the Citizens Committee of the Chamber of Commerce. He is also vice president of the Highway 60 Association, Texas Division; chairman for the OIC for this area; member of the Texas Oil Jobbers and Texas Butane Dealers Association and is a thirty-second degree Mason.

A member of the First Baptist Church, Jimmie has done much for and in his church. Since 1940 he has been a deacon and has been superintendent of the young people's department for four years. For the past 11 years, he has been the leader of the 15-16 year old boys and girls training union.

Jimmie is also a worker for the schools. A member of the P-T-A, he served as membership chairman in 1952. He is in favor of more schools as he believes that the least we could do is to give our youth an education, as Jimmie realizes what his parents went through to send him to school during the days of the depression.

Besides schools, Jimmie believes that Hereford needs additional paving and highway improvements.

When asked what he thought of Hereford, Jimmie Allred was no different from others, when his answer, like others, was that he would not stay here if he did not like it.

A believer in Hereford potential, Jimmie tells that the people are most cooperative. "My success in business is due to the fine help and customers we have over this area. I am appreciative of people that have helped me accomplish the things I have done."

A most unusual hobby of Mr. Allred's is that he is an amateur magician, at which he is really good. He also likes to travel with his family.

RAPID TRANSIT

PARIS, Ky. (AP)—"Walkin' Bob" Waugh's Pushcart Express is back in business between Paris and Carlisle. Citizens donated $15.85 to buy Bob a new two-wheeled, rubber-tired pushcart after the old wheelbarrow he'd used for years collapsed.

Bob often travels the 18 miles between the communities in five hours. He delivers orders of almost anything for individuals, frequently scattering handbills for merchants as he goes along.

He has been known to turn down rides offered by passing motorists, saying, "No thanks, I'm in a hurry."

MAN WITH A GUN

TUCUMCARI, N. M.—An alert service station officer phoned an ahead to state police that two men, one of them armed, were heading their way. A roadblock was set up, and the car stopped. Cautiously, officers moved up on it. There sat Detective Chief Frank Stephenson of Albuquerque, his pistol at hand. He was taking a prisoner back to Albuquerque.

COULD DANCE

NORFOLK, Va. (AP)—Irving Kline, automobile dealer, was trying to speak before the Norfolk Advertising Club. Members couldn't cut off the piped-in music and Kline was facing second best.

"I can go into a dance if you want me to," he remarked wryly. It wasn't necessary. The music was stopped.

GOOD RAIN IN LAMB COUNTY

What may have been the traditional springtime "million dollar" rain fell over most of Lamb County late Monday evening, bringing hail in some sections and accompanying high winds and rainfall measuring as much as one and a half inches. At Olton, observers reported 1 1/2 inches, with considerable hail, causing some damage to early cotton and spring gardens, although no great loss was reported. Hail accompanied a downpour in Littlefield that measured .99 of an inch at the oilmill and 1.9 at KVOW rain gauge. A shower was reported at Sudan with the hard pressed dry land area near Pep receiving as high as 1 1/2 inches, where it was needed most for grain planting.

The firm will offer top prices for cream, eggs, poultry, cow hides, hogs and cattle.

STADIUM TO BE ENLARGED

Lobos stadium may get a thousand additional new seats prior to the opening of the football season this fall if the Loveland School Board carries out plans it is considering at the present time. The board, at a meeting Thursday night at the high school, voted to authorize Architect Herbert Brasher to proceed with preparing plans for additional seats for the west stands. A thousand new seats would boost stadium capacity close to the 5,000 mark. It currently seats about 3,800.

OUTSTANDING FARMER

M. L. Simpson Jr., Jumbo farmer who is a strong advocate of soil conservation and who has employed many valuable soil conservation practices on his farm, was honored at the Tuesday luncheon of the Dimmitt Lions Club as outstanding soil conservationist in Castro County and the Running Water Soil Conservation District for 1955. Castro County Agent Marvin Simms was on hand to introduce Simpson and his wife who was also a guest of the club. The preparation of a plaque, which is made available each year by the Lions Club, was made by Bob West, work unit conservationist for the local Running Water Soil Conservation office.

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher is talking about work this week which apparently is about all he ever does about it.

Dear editor:

Just for the novelty of the thing, to keep from getting stale, I lit in and worked pretty hard for a while on my farm out here yesterday, and after I'd been going pretty steady for three or four hours I headed for the shade and was sitting there getting my breath back and after a while I pulled a newspaper out of my pocket and glanced over it, just to get my mind off the rest of the work still to be done.

I was reading along not paying much attention to what I was looking at when suddenly I caught an article that made me go back and take a second look.

According to it, an expert has announced that "today, humans and animals together do perhaps one percent of all the work. The rest is done by machines."

I thought this over for a long time. There was bound to be a catch in it, but I couldn't find it, right off.

Maybe, when you add up all the work in the world, counting every time a piston moves, etc., machines actually do 99 percent of it and human beings and horses do the rest, but it only works out that way on paper. From me and the horse's standpoint, those figures sure do leave something out.

And if you ever find a farmer who does one percent of the work making a crop and the tractor does the other 99 I'd like to study his methods.

The catch is that while machines may be doing most of the work, there's a blame lot more being done. It used to be that 40 acres and one mule plus a man was a pretty sizeable farming unit, and while nowadays a man with four or six row equipment can farm three or four hundred acres, let's not confuse one percent of the total work with one percent of the working time.

It's not the number of acres a man farms, it's the number of hours, and despite all the technological progress and mechanical marvels, hasn't anybody been able to substitute a sunup to sundown day for a farmer when planting time arrives.

Machines may do 99 percent of the world's work, but they don't do 99 percent of mine. The way mine's divided, machines do about 30 percent, I do about 25, and the rest never does get done.

Yours faithfully,

J. A.

Let's Cook Something

Sunday Buffet-Type Supper Easy Way To Arrange Food

Entertaining with a Sunday night supper for a few close friends is a wonderful way to top off the week. Buffet service is the graceful and easy way to arrange the food, and guests who have had, perhaps, a hard week will appreciate this unhurried, friendly way of serving.

Table appointments are usually simple. Bright colored pottery on a bright cloth with a few gay flowers in the background can be made attractive with very little effort. Just be sure that the guests are comfortable and that you have a large enough service plate to hold the food without crowding.

Wonderful to serve along with a crisp green salad or favorite fruit concoction, is old-fashioned chicken pie. You might also accompany it with jellies or jams. For dessert maybe a fluffy lemon pie or apple rings topped with whipped cream.

Mrs. R. B. Miller has an old-fashioned chicken pie recipe which she evolved from several recipes, combining the part of each that best suited her family. Now she passes it on to you—you'll like it too.

Old-Fashioned Chicken pie
1 medium sized hen
1 1/2 cups thinly sliced carrots
1 small can Tiny Tot English peas
3 hard boiled eggs
1 teaspoon salt
pepper to taste
3 cups chicken broth

Cook chicken in water to which the salt has been added, until tender and let cool in broth. (Be sure to have enough water to have 3 cups of broth). Cut meat from bones in small pieces. Meanwhile slice the carrots and cook in small amount of boiling water until tender. Drain well and drain water off of peas. Place the three cups of broth in a large oblong casserole and thicken with one tablespoon of flour in a half cup of milk. Put in chicken, then the drained vegetables. Slice the hard-boiled eggs and place on top. Sprinkle with paprika and top the whole with small cubes of butter. Bake in a 400 degree oven until biscuits are well browned.

Mrs. Miller likes to use Puffin biscuits for topping, but drop biscuits made with Bisquick according to directions on package may be used. The Puffin biscuits are a little quicker.

Jellied Chicken Salad

Here is a good recipe for left over chicken, especially since it calls for only a cup or a cup and a half of diced chicken. This is another of Mrs. Miller's favorites.

1 envelope Knox gelatine
1/2 cup cold water
1 1/2 cups hot chicken broth
salt and pepper to taste
1/4 teaspoon paprika
1 cup or more diced chicken
2-3 cup diced celery
1-3 cup chopped pickles
2 hard-boiled eggs chopped
Let gelatine stand in cold water for five minutes and then dissolve in hot broth. Add seasonings and when cool add other ingredients. Pour into a loaf pan and chill in refrigerator. Serve on a bed of shredded lettuce topped with a spot of mayonnaise dashed with paprika.

Mrs. Wiltshire Injured In Fall

Mrs. W. B. Wiltshire, 78, who was injured in a fall at her home last Sunday, is reported by relatives to be doing fine.

After her children, Dr. B. M. Wiltshire and his family, and a daughter, Mrs. John Neill of Lubbock, had returned to their homes from a Mother's Day visit with their parents, Mrs. Wiltshire was preparing for bed and fell breaking her left hip. Her husband, who is totally blind, managed to get to the phone and call for help.

Mrs. Neill returned to Hereford Sunday and Mrs. Lula Heide of Kaufman has arrived to be with her sister.

NOISY WELCOME!

BARDSTOWN, Ky. (AP)—When a visitor rattled the door of a hardware store the burglar alarm sounded, and police and spectators came running. Then the town's fire siren began screaming.

The fellow had a bad case of jitters until it was explained that the burglar alarm had gone off accidentally and that the siren just happened to sound at that time.

O. E. S. Elects New Officers

New officers include Mr. and Mrs. John Patton, worthy patron and matron; Mr. and Mrs. O. R. Sanders, associate worthy patron and matron; Mrs. Grace Thomas, conductress; and Mrs. Hester McAllen, associate conductress. Appointment officers will be named. Installation rites held for elective officers June 14.

During the business session the worthy matron announced a called meeting for May 31 when new members will be initiated.

Local Airman Is Credited With Saving Airplane

S-Sgt. John Sowell, son of Mr. and Mrs. Barrett Sowell of Hereford, and a member of the 2036th AACSS Squadron stationed at Mountain Home, Idaho, was credited with saving an F-89D Scorpion recently.
 Sgt. Sowell and Airman Jim Davis were on duty in the control tower at Mountain Home Air Force Base when the plane called in to report that it was lost with only 30 minutes of fuel on board. The plane's navigational aid equipment was out of commission and Boise's ultra-high frequency direction finding advice was out of order.
 The pilot reported he was over a small town. Sowell and Davis had him describe it and from his description determined it was Mountain Home. Visibility was poor due to rain showers and the pilot could not see the base.
 The pilot was told to take a heading of 189 degrees and report his position after approximately 10 miles. After a short wait the pilot reported he had Mountain Home AFB in sight and five minutes later the Scorpion was safe on the runway with 15 minutes of fuel left.

Hottest news in Hardtops is the 4-Door Riviera

Why take anything less than the sensation of the year?

WHEN you learn what's been done in the automobile pictured here, you can easily see why this beauty is winning gas notices coast to coast.

Buick engineers took the hardtop body design that has been growing tremendously in popularity over the past six years—and gave it four doors instead of two.

Simple? Sure—to all outward appearances.

But it took a brand-new kind of body with wholly new structural principles to do it—to bring this long-awaited new kind of automobile to the public in volume numbers and at popular prices.

For this is a true hardtop—with the sleek and racy look of a Convertible, because there are no center posts in the window areas on either side.

And now it has front doors for the front-seat passengers—and rear doors for the rear-seat passengers—plus room increased to the size of a full Sedan.

(It took some special kind of engineering magic, you can be sure, to hinge all four doors at their forward edges for greater safety, and more ease of entering and exiting.)

So it looks like Buick has scooped the industry again—and come up with the hottest news in hardtops since Buick originated the first two-door hardtop six years ago.

HOTTEST NEWS IN AUTOMATIC DRIVES IS VARIABLE PITCH DYNAFLOW

It's the world's first transmission with the switch-pitch principle of the modern airplane's variable pitch propeller. You get better gas mileage in cruising. You switch the pitch just by pressing the gas pedal—and get lightning-like response for getaway, or for a sudden safety-surge of accelerating power. It's the performance thrill of the year. Standard on ROADMASTER, optional on other Series at no more extra cost than earlier versions of this wonder drive.

And you can have it now—in the low-price SPECIAL or the supremely-powered CENTURY—and either one at the modest extra cost of a 4-door model over a 2-door.

Drop in on us today—this week, for sure—and see how easily and how quickly one can be yours.

PROUD TRADITION
STAUNTON, Va. — This city, which claims to have given birth to the city manager form of government, is also proud of its mayor, William A. Brubert.

He was president of the Board of Aldermen from 1906 to 1908 and it was on Jan. 13, 1908, that the city manager program was adopted.
