Madman Kills Self Following Kidnap Of Pair

KANSAS CITY, March 21 (AP)—A crippled, sociopathic madman who kidnaped a young couple and terrorized them as he drove their car at 80 miles an hour killed himself yesterday while three police detectives stood outside his hotel room door.

Police Chief L. E. Reed said the man was Oliver Norris Bridges, 21, of Sherman, Texas, who had served vagrancy sentences in Los Angeles and Wichita, Kas.

Miss Jeanne Harvey, 19, and James L. Person, 28, told Chief Reed that the madman:

Pointed a pistol at them as they emerged from a downtown night club Wednesday night and drove away with them in Person's car.

Kept them captive nearly six hours on a wild ride of more than 250 miles.

Remarked while passing an insane asylum in Kansas, "right there is where I belong."

Commented as they crossed into Kansas, "I'll get 30 more years now for kidnaping and the Mann Act."

Once attempted to compel the couple to disrobe but relented after Miss Harvey wept.

Brought them back to Kansas City, let them out and drove away.

Officers located Bridges in a Northside hotel.

Tom Farley, head of the police homicide squad, would say only that Bridges "must be plenty hot" when asked if the case had any connection with the slaying of Miss Lella Adel Welsh. Later, however, Chief Reed said there could be none because Miss Welsh was slain here March 9 and it had been established that Bridges was in Los Angeles March 10.

Army To Buy Short Railway

WASHINGTON, March 21 (AP)—The army, congress learned today, plans to buy a Louisiana railroad for realistic training of a railway operating battalion.

The road to be purchased is the Red River & Gulf, which has 58.65 miles of trackage and is considered ideal for training purposes because it is located in an area containing four army camps.

Details of the negotiations were disclosed by Brigadier General John J. Kingman of the engineer corps in testimony submitted to the house today by its appropriations committee.

The purchase price of the railroad will be $100,000 and an additional $500,000 will be spent for repairs and improvements.

The railroad battalion, the only unit of its kind in peacetime service, has a strength of approximately 800 officers and men.

Corpus Christi Bank Teller Faces Charge

SAN ANTONIO, March 21 (AP)—Lee Joseph Grant, 31, was arraigned before United States Commissioner Pr A. Lockhart today on a charge of having misappropriated funds of the State National bank of Corpus Christi.

The complaint, filed by an FBI agent, alleged that Grant, a teller, misappropriated $800 in funds of the bank, which then was a member of the federal reserve system.

Honor Among Thieves

CHICAGO, March 21 (AP)—When two shotgun-toting robbers burst into a tavern and took $25 from the till it was too much for Mrs. Anna Chill, 39, a barmaid. She fainted dead away.

Displaying unexpected courtesy the gunmen revived her with a glass of water and bade her sit at a table while they finished the business at hand—that of taking another $25 from three customers.

Additional Defense Fund Before House

WASHINGTON, March 21 (AP)—An additional outlay of $4,073,810,014 for the army and navy, including funds for new plant capacity sufficient to supply a 4,000,000-man army "on a combat status" was recommended to the house today by its appropriations committee.

About half of the huge sum would be a direct cash appropriation with the balance in contract authorizations for which congress would have to provide the funds later, possibly this year.

The committee explained that roughly half of the army's $3,775,293,254 share was earmarked for new projects. The balance originally had been included in the war department's budget estimates for the fiscal year starting July 1 and were transferred to this bill to expedite the program.

Opening debate on the measure, Rep. Woodrum (D-Va) told the house that exclusive of the $7,000,000,000 to finance the British-aid program, the pending bill brought to $25,152,674,015 the total of appropriations, contract authorizations and budget estimates for both the army and navy for the current and next fiscal years.

The bill contained an amendment by Rep. Scroggins (D-Nev) to prohibit expenditure of any of the funds for Argentine canned beef or any other food product produced outside the United States, unless it cannot be obtained here.

A similar prohibition has been carried in the regular naval appropriation bills for several years. The administration sought to eliminate it from the navy measure last week but the house committee blocked the attempt. Yesterday, a provision to strike it out was defeated in the senate by a tie vote when Vice President Wallace was absent from the chamber.

Red Cross Activity For Year Charted

Field Representative Here To Aid Chapter Organize Its Work

Charting of the Howard-Glasscock Red Cross chapter's activities for the ensuing year was under way at a series of meetings in Big Spring Thursday night and Friday, with G. D. Montag, field representative, conferring with local chapter officials.

A new executive board was to be named at a meeting Friday afternoon, with Mrs. Chas. Eberley, chapter chairman, in charge.

A score or more interested persons and committee chairmen met at the chamber of commerce office Thursday night, to hear reports and to hear Montag outline needs for expanded activity during 1941.

Montag pointed out that the Red Cross international program would call for wider support, that activity in the training camps necessitated a broader program, and that basic local programs such as health training, life saving and home service work should continue without curtailment. He also called attention to plans for expanded work with the Junior Red Cross.

Mrs. G. G. Sawtelle, local service representative, reported that nearly a ton of completed garments had been shipped from this chapter for British refugee use since last March 1, the total including 2,300 articles of wearing apparel for women and children. The Red Cross work room is a beehive of activity, with local women co-operating in fine degree. The work has been hampered by lack of permanent quarters. Mrs. Sawtelle said, several moves have been necessary. The unit soon will have to look for new quarters, and the local chapter is endeavoring to locate a suitable place.

Rowell; and No. 1, Big Spring, headed by Fred Mitchell and sponsored by the Rotary.

Barganier, health and safety chairman for the Odessa district. Contests here were under the assistance of Otto Peters and his Cosden first aid team.

Engineer Says Wind Getting Garbage Lids

"It's the wind and nothing more that is making away with these garbage can lids, said E. J. McDaniel, city engineer, Thursday.

Numerous complaints have been received from patrons about loss of can lids, said McDaniel. "Some folks think we are getting them," he observed, "but we really wouldn't have much use for a can lid."

To prevent loss of lids, he suggested that an iron stake be driven down beside the can, over which the can handle could be placed to make it stable. Then the lid handle should be secured loosely with a flexible cord, chain or rope to a point below the handle position on the stake. This, the engineer felt, would solve many of the complaints.

US Ships Britain 1,875 Planes In '40

LONDON, March 21 (AP)—A total of 1,875 American-made airplanes was shipped to Britain during 1940 compared with 300 in 1939, according to the current issue of the magazine Aeroplane.

Approximately 1,600 of the planes arrived between last July and December, the publication said, emphasizing the sudden acceleration in the rate of delivery.

Higher Crude Demand Seen

WASHINGTON, March 21 (AP)—The bureau of mines forecast today the April market demand for domestic crude oil at 311,280,000 barrels, or 3,708,300 barrels daily.

This was $3,800 barrels higher than the estimated demand for March and two per cent above the actual demand for April, 1940.

The bureau's estimate for crude oil exports which it said was in accordance with a pessimistic outlook among principal exporters, was lowered to 2,900,000 barrels, compared with 4,382,000 barrels in April last year.

Daily average crude oil production and runs to stills during the four weeks, February 8, to March 8, were 3,633,000 and 3,577,500 barrels respectively. During this period domestic stocks increased an average of 140,000 barrels daily, indicating a demand of 2,493,000 barrels.

Yugoslavs Rebel At Pact Signing

Treasury Sends Workers To Sell New Savings Bonds

WASHINGTON, March 21 (AP)—The treasury today began enrolling an army of 500,000 persons to assist in a campaign to sell billions of dollars worth of the defense savings securities to the American public.

Gale F. Johnston, St. Louis insurance man who will supervise the drive, said the campaign workers would be sent out to ask employers to use the securities for employee savings plans; to canvass the schools; to urge labor union cooperation; to arrange with banks so depositors can have the bonds bought for them regularly and charged to their accounts, and to organize other promotional activities.

Governors, mayors and other prominent local officials will be asked to name committees in even the smallest communities. Johnston explained that the theme of the drive would be for continuous purchases rather than large lump sum transactions.

The new securities, announced last night by Secretary Morgenthau, were graded in denominations all the way from 10 cents to $10,000, in order to make such regular purchase programs fit into almost any size purse.

With some officials hoping to multiply several times the $1,000,000,000-a-year rate at which "baby" bonds have been sold, here are the investment wares they will place on the market May 1:

Postal Savings Stamps—10, 25 and 50 cents, and $1 and $5 units. Bear no interest. Redeemable in cash anytime or exchangeable for defense savings bonds.

Defense Savings Bonds—Almost identical with existing "baby" bonds, which they will replace May 1. In denominations of $25, $50, $100, $500, $1,000. Purchase limited to individuals.

Series F and Series G Bonds—Each series in denominations of $100, $500, $1,000, $5,000 and $10,000. Sold to corporations as well as individuals.

Knudsen Testifies On Aid Fund Use

WASHINGTON, March 21 (AP)—A senate appropriations subcommittee approved without change today the administration's $7,000,000,000 aid-to-Britain bill.

The bill, already passed by the house, is expected to receive prompt approval from the full senate appropriations committee. It will be taken up in the senate Monday, and some leaders forecast approval by the end of the week.

WASHINGTON, March 21 (AP)—William S. Knudsen assured senators today that the full amount of the $7,000,000,000 British-aid fund would be committed during the fiscal year starting July 1.

After testifying for more than an hour at a closed session of the senate appropriations committee, the director general of defense production said his testimony dealt largely with matters previously presented at a similar house hearing.

"We may not be able to spend the entire $7,000,000,000 in the year but we will make commitments for it," Knudsen told reporters waiting outside the committee room.

"We already have our plans for expansion well underway," he added.

Three key defense officials were reported reliably today to have advised a senate committee that speedy approval of the $7,000,000,000 British aid appropriation would deal a powerful psychological blow to the axis powers.

The three—Secretary of War Stimson, Secretary of Navy Knox and General George C. Marshall, army chief of staff—testified before a senate appropriations subcommittee yesterday as administration leaders worked to rush the progress of the big cash allotment so that it would be ready to go to the White House by Monday night.

Organized resistance to the measure, meanwhile, virtually collapsed. Opposition senators freely conceded they had little chance either of reducing the total or of cutting the cash amount and making up the difference by granting the administration authority to make future contracts.

Democratic Leader Barkley was confident that the full appropriations committee would endorse the house-approved legislation without changes by tomorrow. He told reporters there seemed to be no substantial opposition and that a senate vote Monday was "quite possible."

Only Ten Draftees Appeal To FDR

WASHINGTON, March 21 (AP)—Only 10 selective service eligibles out of some 2,800,000 classified to date have appealed to President Roosevelt, it was learned today, from local board rulings that they were immediately available for military training.

The negligible number of appeals was interpreted by some highly placed officials as indicating a "remarkably small amount" of dissatisfaction among registrants who have been put in class 1A by their local boards.

All the cases involved the issue of dependency, the only ground on which an appeal can be carried to the president under the law.

Mr. Roosevelt returned about half of the 10 cases to local draft boards to be reopened. This action was taken, it was learned, on technical grounds because the boards had lacked some essential information when the classifications were first made.

The remainder of the cases were decided by the president in favor of the men who appealed, and they were thereupon given deferment for immediate service.

The process of appealing to the president is carefully circumscribed by relations issued by Mr. Roosevelt himself last fall and designed solely to protect dependents of any registrant against being forced, through lack of a court of last resort, to suffer "great and unusual hardship" by having their bread winner taken into the army.

Serbs Resent Alignment In Axis Set-up

Belgrade, Yugoslavia, Mar. 21 (AP)—A swelling tide of internal discontent, led by three anti-German cabinet ministers and other high officials, forced tonight probable postponement of the Yugoslav government's plans to align itself with the axis Sunday at Vienna.

Pictures of Roosevelt, Churchill Hang In Balkan Towns

BELGRADE, Yugoslavia, Mar. 21 (AP)—The Yugoslav government yielded today to German pressure and prepared to follow four of her neighbors into a working arrangement with the axis but forthwith found itself confronted by an internal crisis generated by powerful pro-British elements.

Prince Paul, the chief regent, refused to accept the resignations of three ministers who in protest against the Yugoslav capitulation, had proposed to walk out of their offices.

A fourth cabinet member was reported to be planning to resign, and feverish political conferences kept the capital tense.

Premier Dragisa Cvetkovic called an emergency meeting of key ministers who conferred on the crisis for several hours.

In the early afternoon the premier, the Croat peasant leader, Vladimir Macek who is vice premier, and the Slovene leader, Cukcovic, hastened to the white palace to confer with the regent.

The tenaciousness was heightened by disclosure that four Yugoslavists' most prominent generals were pensioned early in the week as a "mere routine matter."

Observers pointed out that army circles have been among the most vigorous opponents of a surrender to Germany.

But government circles said the remaining high officers had agreed to the government's decision.

German circles said the formalizing of Yugoslavia's entry into closer relations with the reich would be swift, with Premier Cvetkovic and Foreign Minister Aleksandar Cincar-Markovic due to leave tonight or tomorrow for Vienna where they would sign the document Sunday.

Although the government's action was reported by responsible government sources, British circles still insisted they had reason to believe Yugoslavia had reached no decision on what concessions she would make to the axis.

While admitting that the solution might be found in time to permit the premier and foreign minister to make the Vienna trip soon, the British said this morning's cabinet session and the afternoon meeting at the palace were "sufficient indication no agreement has yet been reached."

Slovakia, Hungary, Rumania and Bulgaria, among Yugoslavia's neighbors in southeast Europe, previously had joined in Rome-Berlin-Tokyo axis.

Pictures of President Roosevelt and British Prime Minister Winston Churchill were displayed prominently in public places alongside portraits of national heroes in many towns, as Serb resentment apparently mounted against the government's decision.

As yet, however, the country had not been acquainted with the action except by grapevine.

Morning newspapers had carried only an official announcement that "foreign affairs" had been discussed at a late night cabinet session.

The papers printed Berlin dispatches, however, which said "the confidence displayed by Yugoslavia in Germany will be rewarded."

Bus Drivers In New York Resume Work

NEW YORK, March 21. (AP) — Wildly cheering members of the Transport Workers Union (CIO) today ratified an agreement ending the strike of 3,500 bus drivers and maintenance men which since March 10 has tied up routes of two bus companies serving 900,000 riders daily.

They boomed every mention of Mayor La Guardia's name as well as those of bus company officials, Police Commissioner Lewis J. Valentine and two members of the mayor's fact-finding committee which effected the agreement last night at city hall. The plan provides that the union's demands for wage boosts be arbitrated.

The mayor, who had called the strike leaders "bull headed," offered the job of arbitration to William H. Davis, former chairman of the state mediation board. Pending his decision, the agreement falls for resumption of bus service at 5 a. m. tomorrow.

Commissioner Valentine had offered police protection to the bus lines if they chose to attempt to operate with non-union help.

Harry Saecher, union counsel, said the strike, greatest transportation tie-up in New York in 15 years, was merely "a curtain-raiser" for the "fight next June for new subway contracts."

English Coast Defenders Act Quick At Alarm Of Invasion

SOMEWHERE ON THE SOUTHEAST COAST OF ENGLAND, March 21. (AP) — Gun crews of the Royal artillery stood ready in the dark, chilly morning and 29 seconds after an "invasion alarm" had been sounded lanyards were pulled to repel the "invaders."

A few moments later a German "troopship" (really only a decrepit white yacht) was sunk and searchlights were sweeping the beaches so that the supporting infantry might deal with any survivors who might have reached British soil.

Within that dramatic 29 seconds when the alarm sounded and the first shell was fired, not only had the six-inch guns been trained and loaded with 100-pound missiles but the long fingers of light from the protective searchlights guided the aim of gunners in their sandbagged posts.

Range-finders had begun the operation of their intricate instruments and battery commanders in observation posts were snapping out orders for relay to gun crews.

It illustrated the preparedness measures with which the Britons expect to meet the invader if he comes. One moment the only visible sign of life was two sentries patrolling beneath the crescent waning moon.

Suddenly the alarm sounded. And as suddenly all was activity. In gun pits and guard rooms, the wheels and fires. Now he has to either make enough to buy wheels or have snow enough for runners.

In case you anticipate buying diamond rings from any strange men who offer bargain prices, better forget it. If you won't do business with your jeweler, you might at least consult him. Usually it turns out like the two Arkansas natives who were peddling "diamonds" here Thursday. Of course, they turned out to be "dime-ones."

Thieves continue to be active in stealing tires and equipment from cars. Phillips Jenkins lost a bomber chain, and a man was released after questioning in the case. Rev. J. A. English, Wesley Memorial pastor, reported theft of a tire and wheel from his car.

Honks dinned the neighborhood, until the bird gave one big honk and flew away.

Wright Field Strike Ends

DAYTON, Ohio, March 21. (AP) In the avowed interests of national defense, an AFL leader today terminated a 17-day strike that had paralyzed work on an essential $5,500,000 expansion program at Wright Field, the army air corps' huge testing laboratory.

John Breidenbach, president of the Dayton Central Labor Union (AFL) informed Col. Lester Miller, field commandant, that 400 men who left their jobs March 4 would return to work Saturday alongside five CIO electricians employed by the Penner Construction Co.

Colonel Miller described settlement of the dispute "as a fine American act where any thought of personal and factional differences has been set aside for the good of the entire nation."

Breidenbach called the strike after the war department ordered the CIO men back to work following a previous AFL walk-out late in January. The first strike ended after two days when the work of the CIO men was suspended temporarily.

The expansion program, involving a wind tunnel for testing new plane models, a torque stand, administration building addition, and radio and dynamometer laboratories, was described by the war department as essential in making Wright Field "one of the most important military aircraft centers in the U. S."

Spokesmen for the commission said that five to ten separate structures might be erected, depending on the size of plots of ground available. The buildings would be of the pre-fabricated type, which could be speedily assembled as soon as parts were delivered.

Intra-School Meet Billed At Stanton Sat.

STANTON, March 21 (SP)—Stanton's senior and junior high school and grammar grades track and field events will be staged Saturday morning starting at 9:30. First on the bill will be showings by the junior tracksters with the 50 and 100-yard dashes and the 440 relay to be decided. At the same time eliminations in running high jump, chinning the bar and running broad jump will be conducted.

At 1 p. m. the seniors swing out in their brackets with 100, 220 and 440-yard dashes, 120-yard high hurdles and 200-yard low hurdles, 440-yard and mile relays, and half and mile runs in the track department. Field events will be put on the boards at the same time in the order named—pole vault, running high jump, shot put, running broad jump and discus throw.

Lookin' 'em Over

Ralph Guldahl, former national open golf champion, is scheduled to display his wares on the Mundy course on April 15 under the sponsorship of the Big Spring Golf association. No definite arrangements have been made in regard to Guldahl's exhibition but officers of the local group said Thursday the nationally known golfer would likely meet Big Spring devotees as part of his show.

The Big Spring-Lamesa polo combination will test itself in green pastures this Sunday when it travels to Roswell to take on the New Mexico Military Institute riders.

Fitted against each other, the Big Springers and Lamesans give each side a rather uncomfortable afternoon but lined up on the same roster they appear well qualified to knock the props out of most opposition—the sound wallpings given a crew of Aggies recently can stand as an indication.

One item might work against the local quartet—mounts will be furnished by the Institute, thereby placing the Big Spring-Lamesa team at a disadvantage from the start.

District 3-AA placed four men on the all-star football squads that will climax the Texas High School Football Coaches association school August 9. The affray, despite mighty drum poundings by the plump man down San Angelo way, will be put on at Houston—a long long way from an area that is just as football minded as any section of Texas.

Big Spring supplies one lad, Tackle Clifton Patton, for the show. Patton, in our estimation, is just about the best choice that could be made by the powers that be in the gridiron association but we can't keep from feeling that others have been slighted.

Patton and Guard Marty Mertz of San Angelo will perform on the North team while End Wendell Williamson of Midland and Back Billy Hogan of Odessa will be displaying their brand of football on the South side of the battle.

If statistics are right, the Texas game layout is something of a major industry. Each year, Texas sportsmen spend $25,000,000 for guns, ammunition, fishing equipment, clothing, automobiles, gasoline, food, hotel accommodations, etc., just for the pleasure of tramping over rock-strewn fields and through boggy marshes. It's nice to know those things, although so far as we have been able to discover the only game available in this particular area consists of a wealth of jackrabbits, coyotes, rattlesnakes, and a few wandering golfers up around the 16th hole of the Mundy course.

Second-place basketballers in the Howard county rural basketball league and interscholastic league tournament and champions of the Midland Junior Chamber of Commerce Invitational meet for junior teams, the Midway lads shown above are left to right—lower—Arnold Tonn, Bill Wood, Glen Johnston, Billie Bob Whittington—upper—Eldon Jones, C. 'How Long Will It Last' Is Chant As Louis Carries On Another Stanza Of Fight-A-Month Drive Tonight

DETROIT, Mich., March 21 (AP)—"How long will it last?" That old, familiar chant was heard today with Joe Louis, carrying on with what is described as his "bum-of-the-month" campaign, expected to blast the championship aspirations of ponderous Abe Simon tonight.

The battle, set for 30 rounds or less in Olympia Arena, is jokingly or otherwise called the fifteenth defense Louis is making of his world's heavyweight championship since he won it from James J. Braddock in Comiskey Park, Chicago, back in June, 1937.

The chant started in Boston last December when the Brown Bomber beat Al McCoy so unmercifully he was unable to answer the bell for the sixth round. It was next heard in New York where stout-hearted Red Burman yielded in five rounds. Next in Philadelphia where the battle-worn Gus Dorazio fell on his face, completely knocked out, in two rounds.

As the hour of the bout approached there was no one, with the exception of Simon and his manager Jimmy Johnston, who conceded ponderous Abe a chance. Simon stuck to his conviction that he never had been hurt by a blow and did not believe Louis could do it, either.

Although no one questions the outcome of tonight's bout, scheduled to start at 9 p. m. (CST), it is expected to draw a capacity crowd of 14,000 and a gross of $50,000, with tickets selling at $1 to $5.

AAUBoxers Give Other Lad Title

LITTLE ROCK, Ark., March 21 (AP)—Two game little fighters stood toe-to-toe in the Arkansas A. A. U. boxing tournament and slugged each other so effectively that another man automatically won the 126-pound open championship.

Harold White of Little Rock and Perry West of the 127th (Kansas) field artillery at Camp Robinson fought at close quarters for two and one-half rounds last night, finally opening cuts over each other's eyes.

Blood streamed over their faces and they were still firing away when the referee stopped the fight and disqualified both because of their condition.

Their disqualification automatically made O. D. Hightower of Clarksville the champion.

Tyler Cager Keeps One Step Behind Titles

TYLER, March 21 (AP)—Buck Overall is one of the nation's leading college basketball scorers. He may be the top man of them all.

But what he'd like to know is how many goals you have to pour through the hoop to win a championship.

Buck has just finished his second season as pace-setter of the Tyler Junior college team with 562 points, almost a third of the squad's total. The year before he flipped in 550.

Yet the best his team ever has done is tie for the Texas junior college championship. And it was a three-way affair at that with three teams in the play-off.

It wasn't Overall's fault. He's been playing top basketball five years. Buck was the sensation of Cushing high school which one season won 35 of 37 games yet didn't take the title.

Last season, his first at Tyler college, the Apaches finished second.

This year in the do-or-die play-off finals he rang the bell for 29 points in the first game and 24 in the second as his team edged in with a tie for the title.

Overall, a slim 170-pound, 6-foot-3 youngster with a slow draw and lightning in his feet, has averaged more than 18 points in each college game.

This year he led the Apaches to 28 victories in 30 starts, 26 of them in a row.

He probably will come back here next season to see how many points it takes to win a title. Overall is going to keep on trying but he's getting a little tired of always being the best man but never the groom.

Softball Loop To Hold Called Meet Tonight

Managers of Big Spring softball club meet for the second time this year in the city courtroom tonight at 7:30 to complete organization of fast and slow leagues for the 1941 season.

Although nothing definite is likely to be worked out in regard to schedules, the members of the body will get together on a tentative setup with details to be ironed out in future meetings. According to present conditions each club will be limited to 15 players, will pay a $5 entry fee and will deposit 50 cents each game for umpire charges.

Stated to meet tonight are team managers of Phillip's Tire Co., Montgomery Ward, NYA Center, City Employees, Standard Oil, Foran-Chalk, Ackery, TP Shops. Other prospects for the league are Citizens' Service and Stag's Auto Supply.

Others interested in forming a club or working out some sort of plan with sponsors are invited to turn out for the parley.

Fem Baseball Scout To Boss Semi-Pro Day

MCKINNEY, March 21 (AP)—Bessie Largent, baseball's only woman major league scout, will direct the start of the national semi-pro season May 4 when an estimated 80,000 clubs open the campaign simultaneously.

It is being termed "the greatest mass play in history" by the national semi-pro baseball congress.

The time for the grand opening is 3 p. m. and the occasion has been designated as "national semi-pro baseball day."

Mrs. Largent was announced today as director of the mass play.

Mckinney's noted baseball personality, who during her career as a scout has sent more than 100 youngsters into the majors including Rip Radcliff, Luke Appling, Verne Kennedy, Monty Stratton and Art Shires, estimated nearly a million aspirants to big league stardom would join the celebration.

"We are going to enlist all the former diamond greats in every section so they will join the list of other celebrities" in throwing the first pitch of the season in games from one end of the continent to the other," the scout of the White Sox announced.

"Semi-pro players will be enlisted from the smallest towns, from the factories, from the army camps, the CCC camps, WPA groups, junior leagues and others to join together in this great mass play," she said.

Mrs. Largent said in the conscription camps that army officers would be selected to throw the first ball.

George Sisler, commissioner of semi-pro baseball, she said, would join other former diamond greats in the mass play, throwing the first ball at Wichita.

Lions Bowlers To Enter Tournament

Lions club bowlers will leave here Saturday for Houston to take part in the organization's second annual state bowling tournament.

The local team made a big splash in the meeting last year, also held at Houston.

Those who may make the trip are Jack Douglas, Pete Howze, Ray Ogden, J. O. Vineyard, Jack Smith and Gordon Steels.

WEST COAST QUINTETS TAKE LEAD IN NATIONAL AAU MEET

SMU Cagers Lose Out To Oakland Five

DENVER, March 21 (AP)—Tall, hot-shooting sons of California, Deadeys Hank Luisetti in the fore, took over almost complete dominance of the 34th National A.A.U. basketball tournament today.

Only the towering Phillips of Orem, defending champion from Oklahoma's canyon river country, blocked the way of one or another of three California teams toward the National title that no Pacific coast outfit has won in 23 years.

Phillips' veteran team, vowing to be the first two-time champions since the title-winning Tulsa Oilers of 1933-34, will clash with Hollywood 20th Century in the closing semi-final game tonight.

Luisetti's San Francisco Olympic Club team will clash with its neighbor from across the bay, Oakland Athens Club, in the other semi-final.

This is the first National tournament for the former Stanford stylist, who insists he will leave the hardwood for keeps after this season.

Phillips overwhelmed the Los Angeles Cliftons in the second half for a 42-21 triumph. Hollywood's victim, the last southern team in the tourney, was Shreveport, La. Morris Dicksons, by a 47-38 score. Athens club tossed the Dallas Wilsons into defeat, 48 to 38.

To many tournament followers a clash between Phillips' champions and Luisetti's San Franciscans in tomorrow night's title deciding contest would be a natural.

The Dallas team, made up of every player from this year's Southern Methodist outfit, electrified the tournament Wednesday by beating the Denver Legion, twice former champion, but they couldn't keep up with Oakland, featuring former California and St. Mary's Cagers.

Phillips' massive Oklahomans, their nine-man squad averaging better than 6 feet 4 inches, raced away from their Los Angeles opponents after a defensive first half battle in which neither side scored a field goal for 10 minutes.

Snead Breaks Pinehurst Hex To Cop Open

GREENSBORO, N. C., March 21 (AP)—Before Samuel Jackson Snead, the new North-South open golf champion, teed off today in the first round of the $5,000 Greensboro open, he made darn sure that Mrs. Samuel Jackson was somewhere about the premises.

It was Snead's fine golf of course, which was the big factor in his record-tying victory in the North-South at Pinehurst yesterday. There wasn't anybody out there shooting that eleven-under-par 57 for him.

But there was somebody for whom he was playing the shots, and for whom he seems to play them best when she's right close at hand. That is the blond and attractive Mrs. Snead.

And here's why:

Just before last month's St. Petersburg open, Snead went home and brought Mrs. Snead back with him. Up to that time his best showing was victory in one tournament and third place in another. Since then he has won at St. Pete, been finalist in the Miami four-ball, had third-best score and fifth money at Belleair, Fla., won the national pro-amateur, and finally won the North-South, a jinx tournament to him in the past. He's been averaging close to $1,000 a week.

Nor is this the first time Mrs. Snead has acted as a good luck charm. Last summer they went to Canada on their honeymoon, and Sam won the Canadian open. They came back to Hershey, Pa., and he reached the final of the P. G. A. championship. Before the summer season ended, he had won top money twice more, and in each case the missus was right there.

Women's Golf Group Meets

The Big Spring Ladies' golf association met Thursday and added Mrs. Alton Thomas to its list of members. Mrs. N. R. Thurston took the prize for low score on blind hole as part of the afternoon's show.

Meetings of the group have been called off lately because of inclement weather conditions but Mrs. Johnny Griffin, Mrs. U. W. Hageman, Mrs. Arch Brimberry, Mrs. Claude Wilkins, and Mrs. Harold Akey were on hand for the divot-eresses get-together.

Mrs. Hageman and Mrs. Brimberry will be in charge of affairs at the next meeting.

NCCA Finals Get Underway

KANSAS CITY, March 21 (AP)—The Western N.C.A.A. basketball final gets under way tonight with a quartet of champions each boasting a pivot who is truly a "post" graduate.

For the favored Arkansas aggregation the job belongs to Capt. John Freiburger, whose 6 feet 8 inches makes it possible to flick away enemy shots while in a half crouch; Ed Belser, 6 foot, goes it for Creighton; Paul Lindeman, 7 inches above the 6 foot mark is Washington State's offering; Jim Weir, Belser's physical equal, works for Wyoming.

In tonight's games Freiburger and his Razorback mates oppose Weir and Company; Creighton sends Belser against Washington State and Lindeman.

Arkansas is favored. The Porkers went through their 18-game college schedule without a loss.

The winner of the Western final will meet the Eastern champion here March 20 for the national title, won a year ago by Indiana.

Dartmouth, Wisconsin, Pittsburgh and North Carolina are competing today and tomorrow in the Eastern elimination at Madison, Wis.

Arkansas is favored for its all-around balance. The Porkers' starting five averages 6 feet, 5 inches and includes Johnny Adams who has shown like a new dime all season.

Editorial — Federal Oil Control Not Needed

EDIT—FEDERAL OIL CONTROL... The oil business must be a juicy plum; the federal government has been licking its chops for it long enough. Right now when everybody who plays bridge, has a party or who indulges in any kind of group activity vows they are doing it in the sacred name of democracy and defense, the federal government is blowing hot on the same poppycock in order to get its clutches on the oil industry. Federal control of the oil industry is necessary for defense of the country, proponents of Washington control declare. Demands of the armed forces will be such that it will be imperative that Uncle Sam should take hold of production and other phases of the industrial set-up. This sounds good, but it will stand close analysis. In the light of facts it is nothing less than sheer nonsense. According to figures quoted from the U. S. Public Roads Administration by Frank Buttram, president of the Independent Petroleum Association of America, the U. S. Navy uses 518 of the total fuel oil consumption of this country. Conceivably, said Buttram, the Navy might use five or six times this amount in time of war, or still less than one per cent. The Army's needs are estimated at a fourth or fifth of those of the Navy. Thus, at most, it looks like the armed forces would require two per cent. Yet proponents of federal control would have the two per cent tail wag the 98 per cent dog. Out in this area where we have done fairly well with state control, this argument doesn't make sense. We don't get perfect administration of the industry by any means, but it is better than we could hope for from Washington.

Aloop-Kintner—Willkie May Ask New York Governorship

By ALSOP and KINTNER
WASHINGTON, March 21—One of the most striking political developments in many months is the effort of Wendell L. Willkie's close friends to persuade him to try for the governorship of New York in 1942. Aside from having the distressing probable result of giving Thomas E. Dewey conviction fits or worse, the scheme has much to recommend it. First and most important, where Dewey has hurt himself cruelly by straddling the foreign issue, Willkie's forthright support of the president's policy has greatly aided him in strongly anti-isolationist New York City. With his additional city votes, his semi-religious following in the suburbs and his proven strength upstate, Willkie would be a formidable opponent for any candidate the democrats could present. Dewey, on the other hand, after first endorsing the views of Henry L. Stimson and then those of Senator Arthur H. Vandenberg, and after first declaring against and then for the lease-lend bill, would be likely to have an unbeatable city majority against him. Second, if Willkie decides to point for the New York governorship, the problem of what to do with himself will be solved easily, and solved much better than by his present plan of returning to private law practice. Furthermore, thoughts of 1944 are no more absent from the mind of Willkie than from the minds of the numerous republican hopefuls who were disappointed at Philadelphia. Where his rivals can now go after Willkie as a defeated candidate, they will find it hard to assail his position if he has removed the stains of his defeat by carrying an election in the most populous state in the union. In short, although Willkie is now not inclined to accept his friends' advice, their arguments are so cogent that he may well be brought round to their view in the end.

Hollywood Sights and Sounds—Crowd Pulled For Ginger Rogers For Academy Award

By ROBBIN COONS
HOLLYWOOD—The stiff shirts are back from the laundry. The stuffed ones once more are complacent. The orchids and gardenias are wilted on the ash heap. Academy night is stowed away in time's mothballs. And yet in these parts we still talk about the drama of poetic justice starring Ginger Rogers. The night star's other dramas—singing Jimmy Stewart's husky John Ford's homespun Jane Darwell's— but none so heart-satisfying as Ginger's. You could almost feel that crowd pulling for Ginger Rogers. Strangely, her victory and "Kitty Foyle's" was in the air long before the secret results were announced from the platform, long before a radiant, tearful girl from the screen stepped up there beside the stately great one from the stage, Lynn Fontaine, to accept her Oscar. Strangely this was so, because for the first time in the academy's 13 annual ceremonies the results were known beforehand to only one man, the auditor of ballots. Yet you could feel it, and actually it was not strange at all. The psychology of the voting was all in Ginger's favor, without detracting from the unsuccessful candidates. Bette Davis already had two Oscars; Katherine Hepburn had had hers; Martha Scott was new from the stage—three would be plenty of time; Joan Fontaine had had but one outstanding film—for her too there was no rush. But Ginger—she was of, by and for the movies, and she had come from nowhere and been through the mill. That Oscar went to Ginger's mother, too. Ginger acknowledged as such, and nobody who knew the story of Lela Rogers and her daughter would have denied it. Lela's presence, and Lela's tears, made the Rogers drama complete—and Hollywood is fond of sentimental drama. Ginger embodied all these elements. Gawkily 13-year-old pleading for a mother's permission to enter a dancing contest, and winning. Minor triumphs leading to greater trials for the big time—and success. Stage shows, and movies—the famous line in "Young Man of Manhattan": "Cigarette me, big boy." Then Hollywood, a brief career of ingenues, and Ginger was "washed up." Now Fred Astaire needs a dancing partner. What about this Rogers kid, says Fred, isn't she under contract here? Sure thing, they'd try her out. Look here—Astaire and Rogers are tops. But Ginger breaks away—she wants to act. Comedy in "Bachelor Mother," drama in "Stage Door," drama in "The Primrose Path." Then "Kitty Foyle" and Oscar.

Man About Manhattan—Signers On Manhattan Isle Aren't Always In Opera

By GEORGE TUCKER
NEW YORK—Among the most interesting persons in New York are those who sing. I don't mean the Met. These people sing on the streets, in the subway, with or without any show of interest by their audiences. There's a fellow in the office who gets a big kick out of uninhibited singers. He was telling the other day about a tenor who was doing a piece from "Tigollet" as he dressed after a workout at the Y. M. C. A. From far down the row of lockers came a mild protest, but the singer went on to another selection. Later he turned to a companion and explained: "Sure, I sing in here. I sing anywhere somebody might hear me. There ain't so many tenors running loose but that I'm worth giving a try. But somebody's gotta hear me first. I don't have time to run around looking for a singing job. A fellow's gotta eat, you know." My midwestern colleague avowed Nelson Eddy himself couldn't get away with a concert in the gymnasium dressing room back home. "The boys just don't go in for indiscriminate showing off of talents out there," he observed. Then he told another singing story. He was waiting for a Fifth avenue bus one Sunday afternoon. The strains of "Ol' Man River" came rolling from the arcade of a nearby shop entrance. A young negro, with the acoustical advantage of the glass archway, was making himself heard for a block in either direction. Between numbers the lad stepped over to take the nickels and dimes from a cardboard box which he seemed to feel should be kept at a discreet distance from his singing location. My midwestern friend was fascinated, as usual. He forgot about his bus. He barely had taken in the situation when interest was added by the appearance of a well-groomed and richly dressed woman of about 45, she stopped, looked and listened. She tilted her head, she rolled her eyes. Finally, she dug into her purse and came up with a pencil and a card. She approached the boy and spoke a few words in low tones. She made some notes, nodded stiffly and marched away. "This looks interesting," thought my friend. And he stepped in. "What did the lady want?" he asked in his most enthusiastic tone. "She got my name," the boy said without any show of emotion. "Did she say anything else?" "Oh, she said something about lessons." "She offer to pay for 'em?" "Oh, yeah." "They all do that," said the boy. "There's one of 'em every Sunday." "Did you ever hear from one of them?" "Never did."

Chapter 23
"I'M NO LADY"
Roger was still awake, lying staring at the darkness when Lovely came home. "I thought you'd be asleep," she said. "With you galivanting around the country with a lot of liquored gaboons?" But Lovely chose to ignore that. "Oh I've had so much fun! We tried to think of another place to go and couldn't. We closed every joint on the road. The last one Win paid to keep open a while longer. I don't know how many doorbells we rang. I didn't keep count." "Win paid," Roger repeated quietly. Then after a little space: "Lovely, I wish you wouldn't hang around so much with Win." "All right darling, but he's such fun," she said good naturedly. That was the trouble with Lovely. She never argued anything with you. She agreed with you completely, yet did exactly as she pleased. Not that she ever intentionally displeased Roger. It was always something impulsively done at the far end of a party that had outlasted its natural gaiety. "Joe was along. Like old times," Lovely said sleepily from her pillow. Her clothes had been discarded in a disorderly trail as she moved toward her bed. "Wonder how he and Marjorie make out? Kind of nice—his meeting her." "Not at all," Roger's words were clipped. "They won't make out at all. Marjorie had medicine for him. It's plain tragedy they met." "Your hands are filthy. And don't you ever wash the lipstick off!" Roger asked in the morning when Lovely opened her eyes to look up at him as he sat on the edge of her bed. Lovely lifted her hands and inspected them. "I had fun," she said simply. "They are pretty dirty, aren't they?" "Very for a lady." "I'm no lady, Roger." She grinned at him. "I never will be. Emily is a lady. And look what it got her. I lost her you to me." She pulled him down to her and kissed him vigorously. "I want that—her being a lady. It was your being such a siren, darling. Affection for her was flowing through his veins like molten lava—warm, vital. "I guess I am kind of a fire

Howard County Sends 310 Men To Colors

Since the first peace-time military expansion program in the history of the United States went into effect last October, Howard county has contributed between 310 and 320 men as its share of the national defense forces. Of this number, 67 have been called under the selective service act for one year's training while the remainder of the men have gone into service as National Guardsmen, army and navy reservists and as regular army enlistments. On November 25 approximately 80 Guardsmen, under the command of Captain Tom B. Clay, left Big Spring for one year's service. Several of these men were returned because of physical disability but the number was maintained because of later recruitments. Sgt. Troy Gibson, local recruiting officer, has been responsible for the largest number of Howard county's contributions, having enlisted 159 men since October 1. His office sent 118 men over the period extending from October 1 to December 31 and since that time has recruited 41 Howard countians. Six of the total number have been called up for naval service. W. R. Davidson has been called to Washington with a chief petty officer's rating. Ligon Baird and Walter Roberts have gone into service with second-class seaman ratings. Eddie Savage is serving with the navy as a seaman first class and Elmer Dorsett and A. B. Jernigan are apprentice seamen. Drs. Frank B. Boyle and Preston R. Sanders have gone into service in the medical corp. Dr. Boyle left this week for Pennsylvania for advanced training before he is permanently stationed at Camp Wolters, Mineral Wells. He is now commissioned as first lieutenant, as is Dr. Sanders, but will be up for his captaincy in a short while.

many more important things than Ming vase."

Roger's face was threatening as a thunder cloud. Maria glanced at him and then gathered her things and walked toward the door, wordless. The others of the group followed in embarrassed silence.

Remorse

It was Lovely's voice that broke the tense stillness as the three found themselves alone. She flung herself impulsively into Marcia's arms.

"Oh, I'm sorry! I'm sorry! I'll never forgive myself! How you must hate me!"

"But I forgive you, Lovely," Marcia said gently. "I forgive you, dear. Come, pull yourself together. Go up and wash the tears away. I'll have this cleared up."

Roger, following Lovely up stairs
a little later, found her in tears.
"Oh, Roger, I've been horrible!
Horrible! How you must hate me.
I'll do anything you say Roger,
if I can only make up for this.
We'll go up to Granny Hale's this minute if you want. Anything, I love you so, and I don't want you to hate me!"

"Will you honey bee? Will you
The Ming vase was well broken then. Oh, darling! Darling!"

They were close again, with a closeness that was of the spirit as well as of the body. Roger felt the warm glow of contentment which had been his for weeks. She was back in his arms again, in his heart with all of her vital young beauty. She was his.
Lovely packed with a high heart.

"Oh, darling," as she folded filmy underthings into a case.
"I've got so much, so many beautiful things. More than I'd ever dreamed I'd have. And you've given it all to me. You've made my life beautiful, and I owe you much. I'll never be able to repay you."

She was glamorous and gentle and affectionate. She was everything he could ask.

"I'm so sorry," Marcia said when they broke the news to her that evening. "I had hoped you'd stay with us."

"Oh, I'd like to," Lovely replied quickly but Roger's answer came firmly:

"We'd like our own home for a while anyhow, Marcia. Maybe later.
But right now I need my own home with my own wife keeping it."

And Lovely took the little house to her heart and spent her days

Only Formalities Remain In Enactment Of New Truck Load Law

Both Houses Agree On New Weight Limit

AUSTIN, March 21 (AP)—Texas' truck load limit controversy neared the end of the road today.

Over the hump in the legislature after years of up-hill grind and dead-end detours, a bill permitting trucks to haul up to 19 tons a load, as compared to the current 3 1/2-ton limit, coasted toward the statute books.

Only signatures of several legislative officials and that of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel, who have indicated no opposition and once requested an increase to 14,000 pounds, were needed to route the proposal into law. Technicalities in the legislature will be concluded Monday.

Both houses yesterday passed the bill, the lower chamber accepting senate amendments. The measure would adopt a scientific formula of weight distribution, authorize highway patrolmen and sheriff's department to enforce it and provide penalties up to six months in jail and $500 fines for violation.

After a hearing, a house committee sent to a sub-group a resolution ratifying the child labor amendment to the federal constitution. The amendment, to be reported April 2, would prohibit employment to anyone under 18 years old.

Also assigned to a sub-group after hearing were three bills authorizing the railroad commission to prorate distillate gas wells.

A schedule of night hearings adopted by a senate committee on tax proposals to increase state revenues included utility, telephone, liquor, stock sales and motor vehicle loan levies on March 26; oil, March 27; gas, March 31; sulphur, carbon black, soft drinks, oil well cementing, wholesalers gross receipts, corporation franchise and any others, April 2. The house has passed a $25,500,000 omnibus tax bill.

Before both houses adjourned Monday, the house delayed further consideration of Governor W. Lee O'Daniel's emergency anti-strike legislation pending receipt of an opinion from Attorney General Gerald C. Mann on the bill's constitutionality.

A plan to revamp the state's representative districts the first time in 18 years was recommended by an 11-1 vote in a house committee. Purpose of the measure was to make district populations, now ranging from 19,900 to 134,000, more nearly equal.

The bill would give Harris, Dallas and Bexar counties their constitutional maximum of seven representatives.

Fiscal reorganization of the state got a boost from a senate committee which favorably reported a bill setting up a department of finance, a governor's cabinet and a civil service system. A house group recently approved an identical proposal supported by regional chambers of commerce, business and civic organizations.

Pioneer Canal Ship Still Safe.

SEATTLE, Wash. — The first commercial vessel to make a complete transit of the Panama Canal has returned here where it plied the Puget Sound - Oriental trade. The S.S. Ancon, which went through the canal Aug. 15, 1914, will be converted here into a bulk cement carrier.

Life At Army Camps Full Of New Adventures For Recruits

By the Associated Press

FORT BARRANCAS, Fla. — Ten selectees attached to the 15th Coast Artillery regiment have difficulty in following commands in close-order drill. The reason: They don't understand English very well.

They come from southern Louisiana and speak a jargon which blends several tongues and favors French. But they're learning the language of the U. S.—and the army—in special classes.

SCOTT FIELD, Ill.—Private James Fusco's eyes bugged in amazement when he met Private Frank Fusco.

They're brothers, but hadn't seen each other in almost two years and neither knew the other was in the service, let alone assigned to the same branch, until they came face to face at the air corps radio school here.

FORT DIX, N. J.—The 118th Infantry is conducting an informal contest to determine which of its units has the greatest number of brothers. Company D, from Newark, took the lead with six sets. Company L of Jersey City ranked next, with five.

CAMP FORREST, Tenn.—The 15th Brigade school was being conducted in a most decorous manner by Lieut. Col. Campbell Brown when it rushed an obviously raw recruit.

"What do you want?" asked the officer.

"I'm looking for some lieutenant," the rookie replied.

"What's his name?"

"I've forgotten."

"What outfit are you with?"

"I don't know."

After order had been restored, the novice left hurriedly, intent upon learning the facts of military life without delay.

FORT STORY, Va.—Lieut. Col. Dale D. Hinman corresponds frequently with Lieut. Col. Dale D. Hinman.

That's because he commands both Fort Story and the 1st regiment, one of the two coast artillery outfits stationed here.

He confides, incidentally, that Lieut. Col. Hinman, head man of the post, usually approves the recommendations of Lieut. Col. Hinman of the 71st.

INDIANTOWN GAP, Pa. — To make certain that bandmen of the 107th Field Artillery know how to shoot as well as toot, Col. John Nuckel has directed them to become proficient in handling the regiment's field pieces.

In combat, the musicians would serve as stretcher bearers and front line first aid men, but while they are on this military reservation they aim to become shootin', tootin' handy men.

County Civil Service Bill Dies In House

AUSTIN, March 20 (AP)—By a vote of 59 to 52, the house of representatives today killed a bill authorizing civil service for county governmental employees.

The measure evoked spirited debate. Advocates contended that it would eliminate the "spoils system" in larger counties while foes charged that it would perpetuate the jobs of employees on the county payroll at the time the civil service system was instituted.

A majority of the people in a county would have had to vote for the change before civil service could be imposed. Opponents of the measure contended, however, that county governmental civil service did not have sufficient merit to justify its adoption even under local option.

Eighth Army Corps To Drill Near Brownwood

SAN ANTONIO, March 21 (AP)—Maneuvers of the Eighth army corps at Brownwood in June will launch the greatest series of field exercises ever held in this country, culminating in operations that will involve half a million men of the third and second armies in September.

Third army headquarters here today announced plans for the Eighth army corps maneuvers but withheld plans for other units of the army and the army operations pending further approval from the war department.

Information here has disclosed that the third army will oppose the second army in maneuvers to be held in Louisiana during September. The forces to be involved will total nearly 500,000 with an estimated 267,000 strength for the Third army.

Preliminary exercises of the Eighth army corps, one of three corps in the Third army, will be held from May 24 to June 1.

The second division from Fort Sam Houston, the 36th division from Camp Bowie and the 45th division from Camp Barkeley at Abilene and attached army troops will then take part in the corps exercises to be held on an area approximately 60 miles square north and south of Brownwood.

Mrs. W. G. Sweatt Buried At Iatan

COLORADO CITY, March 21 (Sp)—Funeral services for Mrs. W. G. Sweatt, 55, of Carr were held from the Carr Methodist church Wednesday afternoon at 2 o'clock with Rev. E. O. Stewart of Sweetwater officiating.

Burial was in the Iatan cemetery beside Mr. Sweatt, who died in 1934. Grandsons were pallbearers.

Mrs. Sweatt had been ill for three years, being bedfast during most of that time. She was born Mary Cinderella Williams in Hill county on Jan. 25, 1856. Her marriage to W. G. Sweatt took place at Waco on June 3, 1872. They came to Mitchell county in 1908. Her death occurred at 9:45 Tuesday morning.

Four sons and four daughters survive: George Sweatt of Cuthbert, Ed Sweatt of Midland, T. G. Sweatt of Westbrook, Frank Sweatt of Lorraine, Mrs. Tinnie Franklin of Big Spring, Mrs. W. E. McCoy of Broken Bow, Okla., Mrs. J. H. Burrow of Westbrook, and Mrs. Curtis J. Smith of Stanton. There are 49 grandchildren and 43 great-grandchildren.

Kiker & Son had charge of arrangements.

Congress Argues Shelterbelt Fund

WASHINGTON, March 21 (AP)—A new congressional tempest threatened today over a pet project of President Roosevelt's several years back—the great plains shelterbelt.

Senator Norris (Ind-Neb), asked the senate appropriations committee to provide an additional $300,000 in the annual farm bill for shelterbelts expansion after exhibiting photographs and a sound-film yesterday to prove that the idea has worked.

Congress turned thumbs down in 1936 on the ambitious plan of planting trees in drought stricken regions when it provided $170,000 to liquidate the project. Some lawmakers expressed astonishment at learning that the planting had continued, nevertheless, largely with relief funds.

Gasoline Prices Make Irregular Advance Here

Gasoline prices in Big Spring have advanced from a half to one cent on the gallon, with minor exceptions.

Part of a general half-cent increase on the part of major and independent distributors, the advance carried horizontally through schedules on third grade, regular and premium fuels.

However, there still was no uniformity of prices here. Most advanced the price on third grade gasoline from 14 to 15 cents a gallon, although one distributor left his price on this fuel at 14 and half a cent increase on the part of another brought him to 14.

Most regular gasolines were retailing at 15 cents, representing a one cent increase. One company advanced only half a cent to 17 1/2 and another's half-cent increase brought the schedule to 17.

In the premium field the picture was much the same, a majority hiking from 19 to 20 cents, while one concern came up only to 19 1/2 and another added in the half-cent to come to 19 on this grade.

In 1940 approximately 35,000 persons were killed in traffic accidents and 1,200,000 were injured; the latter figure the greatest list in American history.

New Mitchell Oil Pool Test Gets Underway

COLORADO CITY, March 21 (Sp)—A new M. Emmons test, the Judith Quinette No. 4 E. T. Strain, was underway in the Dockrey & Robbins field of northwestern Mitchell county this week.

The test, located 330 feet from the south and east lines of the north 40 acres of the south 82 acres of the east half of subdivision 9, Geo. J. Reiger survey, was drilling at 780 feet in shale, after encountering air at 730 feet.

Emmons' Judith Quinette No. 1 E. T. Strain on the same lease was still waiting to establish a potential. His Judith Quinette No. 2 and 3 E. T. Strain are still locations.

K. A. Ehaman of Wichita Falls was reported to be preparing to start work on one of the nine new locations which he recently made in the field. His latest completion, No. 1-B E. T. Strain, pumped 335 barrels per day, based on the last six hours of a twelve-hour test. The well produces 26 gravity oil.

F. W. Merrick No. 1-A Strain in section 64-97, was drilling at 510 in red rock. Art Wagner No. 2 was to establish a potential this week.

There are eight distinct languages or dialects spoken in the Philippines.

Thieves: You're Wasting Time In Breaking Lock

DALLAS, March 21 (AP)—Ballard Cupp issued this notice:

"It is impossible for thieves to steal my spare tire—it is fastened down with a case-hardened chain."

It all came about when prowlers broke into the car's rear compartment and ruined the lock.

Next day Cupp fastened the tire to the body of the car with a strong chain.

Twice since then the lock on the compartment has been broken but the thieves failed to get the tire.

"It's costing my insurance company about $7.50 each time they break the lock," Cupp said.

"As a help to everybody concerned I want it known that it is a waste of time to break open the rear compartment of a car bearing the license number 226-120."

Planes Spot Hunters

OROFINO, Ida.—It's getting so a game law violator isn't safe anywhere—not since the advent of the airplane as a "sky police patrol car." Game wardens and forest rangers in routine flights over Idaho forests now keep a sharp eye out for out-of-season hunters.

Texas ranks third among all the states in the number of federal credit unions established in 1940. The Farm Credit administration issued 131 charters in New York, 75 in Pennsylvania, and 53 in Texas.

Royal Crown Expects Good Sales Year

E. G. Lastinger, proprietor of the Nehi-Royal Crown Bottling Co., of San Angelo, which services the surrounding fourteen counties, expects this year to be the biggest in the company's history.

"Local sales of Royal Crown Cola have increased so greatly in the past two months, that I look for 1941 to be the biggest year in our history," announced Mr. Lastinger, proprietor of the Nehi-Royal Bottling Co. today.

"Nor is this increase merely local. The parent company, Nehi Corporation, reports that national sales of their beverages have increased in excess of 25 per cent over the first two months of 1940. Locally we are planning the largest and most continuous campaign of advertising we have ever undertaken, with continuous advertising in the 'Big Spring Herald.'"

"From coast to coast, Royal Crown Cola bottlers will advertise in more than 725 newspapers," Lastinger said.

Conscience Debt of '34 Paid

VANCOUVER, B. C. — A New York man has written Major Harold Martin of the Salvation Army here, enclosing a money order for $2. It was in payment, the man said, for some Christmas trees he had cut from someone's land in Vancouver in 1924.
