Around Town

Printing presses were running overtime this week in order to get enough of those Texas $5 Bills the Chamber of Commerce and Welcome Wagon have been passing out. The bills, which have what is said to be the only known picture of Deaf Smith, have an abundance of information about Hereford and Deaf Smith County printed on the backs. The rush order came in order for Dub Reeves and Blue Turpin to have plenty of tipping money while they are in Atlantic City to attend the Lions Club International Convention. Reeves and Turpin, their wives and Ross Latham and Matt Wheeler are to leave Thursday for Atlantic City.

I. H. Willoughby has purchased the Blue Bonnet Laundry from John Hunter. Willoughby had operated the laundry until about three years ago when Hunter purchased it.

Rev. R. H. Martin, pastor of the Church of God, has returned home from Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo and can now have visitors. Rev. Martin has undergone treatment for a heart condition.

Folks Around Town were talking about the good chance they missed earlier in the week to get a good rain. From indications, spots getting the rain also got hail, however. Most agree that the county can do without rain if the prerequisite is hail.

Hereford's semi-pro baseball team will play Nazareth here Sunday afternoon at 2:30.

Deaf Smith County Hospital will be closed until noon Friday so that employees may attend funeral services for Mrs. Virgil Hennen.

Fire Destroys Farm Equipment

Fire destroyed a truck, tractor, trailer and butane tank at the W. J. Messick farm six miles north and eight miles west of Hereford Wednesday morning. Mrs. Messick said a farm hand was filling the tractor with butane from the tank when the fire started. She said the fire spread to the truck and trailer, which was loaded with planting seed, and totally destroyed all.

Hereford Polo Team Takes Win

Palmetto polo was introduced to Amarillo with an exhibition between Hereford and Dimmitt at Range Riders Arena Sunday. Faust Collier, regular captain of the Hereford team, explained the game.

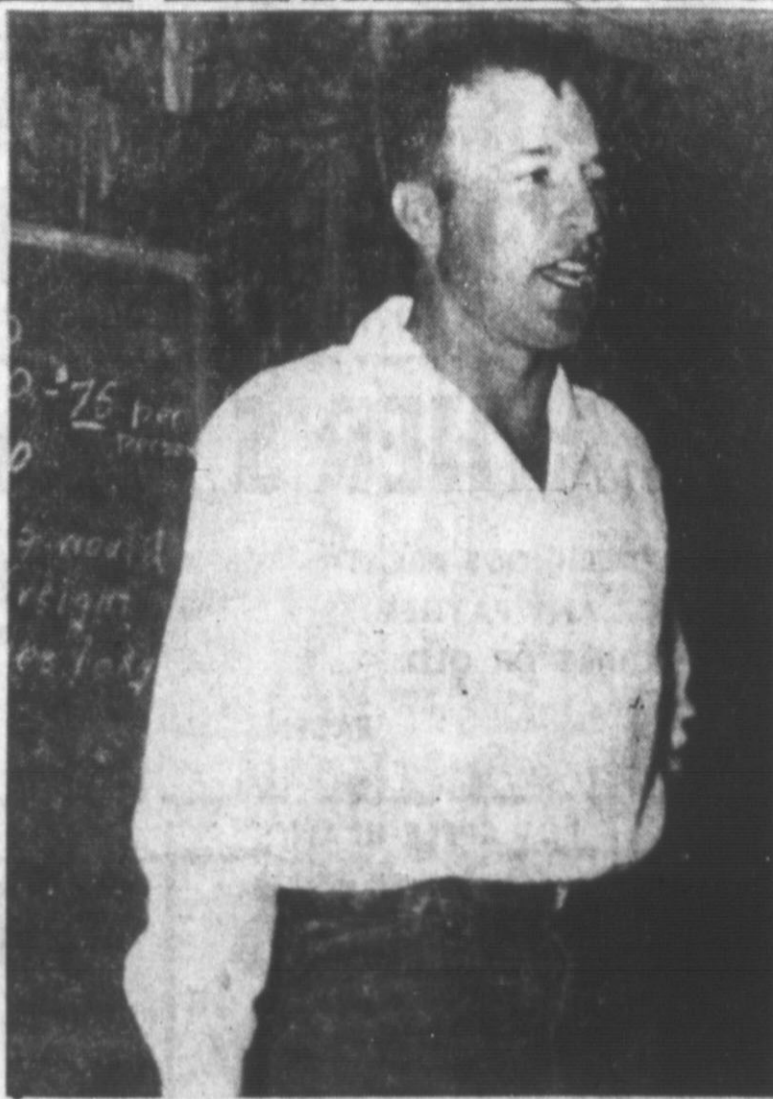

The Hereford team won the match 14-11 before a large crowd which consisted of many Range Riders and Amarillo people.

Collier was introduced by Range Rider President O. L. Johnson. Collier acted as announcer, explaining the features and rules of the game as it progressed.

Collier explained that palmetto polo is much like regular polo except that the field is divided into sections, creating a primarily passing game. It is played with a 12-inch diameter beach-type ball and is fitted to Western equipment and the action is suited to the rapid starting and stopping of the Quarterhorse.

Club members from Hereford present were: T. D. Davenport, Ralph Sears, Wiley Roberson, Robert Wagener, Walter Johnson, Ed Johnson, D. R. Holt, Red Garrett, Harold Beauchamp (acting captain), Meredith Ireland, Curtis Roach, Harold Easley, Floyd Walton, Eddie Briscoe, Mai Stewart, and J. D. Tyler. Miss Nell Spradley served as referee.

Among the Dimmitt club members and their families were Carl Henderson, Stanley Henderson, J. A. Wise, Jimmie Carpenter, Jimmie Brock, Clifford Johnson, Melton Powell, Woodrow Nelson, Fred Dunn and Billy Brooks.

OFFERS SOLUTION -- "If there were four or five hundred of us growing one variety of wheat we could deal with them," Kenneth Rudd told fellow wheat growers Monday night. Rudd proposed that area wheatmen produce wheat so much better than anyone else's that it would sell despite surpluses. (Staff Photo)

Farmer, Not Politician Will Solve Problems, Wheatmen Say

The farmer, not the politician, will solve the problem of wheat surpluses. That was the general consensus of Deaf Smith County wheat growers who met Monday night at the Jim Hill Hotel to discuss the June 25 wheat referendum. The meeting was sponsored by the County Farm Bureau.

"I think here is the best place to solve our problems," Frank Ford, dry land farmer who served as moderator for the question and answer program, declared. "Political parties will not be the answer."

What is the farmers' problem? Ford answered that question to get the program underway. He declared the biggest problem facing farmers to be "surpluses."

"Our present surplus (of all commodities) would fill a string of freight cars 4500 miles long," he told his listeners. He said the government now has four billion dollars invested in surpluses and is expected to have seven and a half billion dollars invested by January of 1956.

Why the surpluses? Ford said two things were big factors: (1) American know-how, and (2) loss of export markets.

TOO MUCH PUBLICITY

Frank M. Pharris of the Producers Grain Association in Amarillo, attacked the "unfavorable publicity" given surpluses. He said, "You see too many figures like those Ford showed you in the newspapers. What the papers don't explain is that that much money is invested, not lost by the government. They lose only a small percentage of that figure."

Pharris said, "We have got a lot of wheat on hand, but I'm not too concerned about it."

He said the United States has lost export business mainly because we are selling wheat that is inferior to that sold by Canada and Australia. "It is not true at all that price is the only reason we have lost the world market."

Blaming exporters mainly for the loss for mixing high grade wheat with low grade wheat to make it test out as 57 pound wheat, he also blamed the grower himself for failing to produce a higher grade. He said after the war, foreign nations were eager to buy any kind of wheat and were mainly interested in the price. According to him, that is when American exporters began selling the 57 pound wheat. Soon, he said, Canada began selling to other nations other than England at the same price we would, and since they were selling a better grade of wheat, foreign nations naturally bought their wheat instead of ours.

Final Rites Held For Mr. Casebeer

After an illness of several months, Howard ZeDell Casebeer, 81, died June 13 at the Deaf Smith County Hospital.

Born Oct. 25, 1873 in Ohio, he was married to Frances Powell June 1, 1895 in Greenville. He came to Texas in 1893 and came to Deaf Smith County in 1923 from Floydada.

A member of the Church of Christ, Mr. Casebeer's funeral was held Wednesday afternoon at 2:30 in the Rose Wood Chapel of the Gilliland Funeral Home. I. V. Davis, minister of the Church of Christ, conducted the service. Interment was made at West Park Cemetery.

Mr. Casebeer is survived by his wife, Mrs. Frances Casebeer; four sons, Auther Edward of Brownwood, Ray of Los Angeles, Troy of Sunland, Calif., and John of Hereford; five daughters, Mrs. Leroy Johnson of Amarillo, Mrs. Paul Britt of Amarillo, Mrs. Bessie Bridges of Hereford, Mrs. Dick Walker of Hereford and Mrs. Walter Richards of Los Angeles; 18 grandchildren and 17 great grandchildren.

Wheat Support Is Set At $2.07 Bushel

Minimum support for 1955 number 1 hard winter crop wheat in Deaf Smith County will be $2.07 per bushel, Faust Collier, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office manager, announced today.

Collier said the rate for the same class and grade of wheat last year was $2.21 per bushel when wheat support was based on 90 percent of parity. The 1951 crop rate is based on 82 1/2 percent of parity.

"Rates announced are the minimum rates based on the national average minimum support of $2.06 announced Sept. 15, 1954, when parity was $2.50 per bushel," Collier pointed out. He said "If the parity figure is higher July the support will be adjusted upward accordingly, but the rate will not be lower than the minimum."

School Bond Election Is Called For June 28

Hereford Rural High School District trustees set June 28 as the date for the $325,000 bond election at their regular meeting held Tuesday night. The action came after a petition bearing the names of 53 persons was presented to the Board.

In a somewhat unusual vote, trustees unanimously accepted the petition and set the election date. The move was one of the few non-controversial issues that came up during the meeting.

Other issues which met with unanimous approval of the Board were the naming of Bill Phillips as assistant high school principal, the hiring of Bill Stanford as grounds superintendent and part-time teacher, approval for repairs on the superintendent's and principal's houses, and agreement on a tax rate for the coming year.

Phillips will move into the post vacated by Pat Sullivan, new high school principal, while Stanford's post is a newly created one. He will be employed 12 months out of the year.

Paint and plaster work was recommended for the superintendent's house, but work on the other school District-owned property was not discussed.

On recommendation of Fred Baird, School District tax assessor-collector, the school tax rate for the coming year will remain at $1.35, the same as this year's rate. Baird said he felt the District could operate safely at that rate for the coming year, but said the tax rate would probably have to be increased to $1.50 the following year.

Trustees appointed Baird to another two year term as tax assessor-collector in other action. Baird's appointment came on a vote of four and two. Mrs. Earl Plank and H. H. Miller voted against his appointment and Don Zimmerman, Wilbur Aye, Tom Robinson and Ira Scott voted in favor of the proposal.

On a vote of five to one, Baird was given authority to prepare to file several tax suits. He was instructed by the Board to submit the names of those being sued to the Board before filing any cases in order that "hardship cases" can be considered. Miller voted against the proposal.

First business of the meeting—the reading and approving of the minutes of the last regular meeting and several called meetings—caused most of the heated debate during the evening.

Following the readings of the minutes, Miller objected to the fact that it wasn't mentioned that the Amarillo firm of Schaffer and Co., had submitted a proposal to handle proceedings on the bond election. The minutes mentioned only that First Southwest Co., of Plainview and Dallas had been authorized to prepare the proceedings. Mrs. Plank joined Miller in asking that that information be added to the minutes.

Other Board members objected to adding the information to the minutes. They pointed out that the Board had not asked for bids nor accepted any. "We just authorized Mr. (Charles) Smith to prepare the proceedings," Robert Wagener, president, explained. It was also pointed out that the Schaffer representative appeared before the Board uninvited.

Mrs. Plank mentioned that the Schaffer proposal had been printed in the paper (The Brand) and that she felt it should be in the minutes.

Wagener said it didn't have any place in the minutes "or in the paper either."

Miller made a proposal that the Schaffer proposal be added to the minutes. His proposal was followed by one by Zimmerman, who said he thought that the majority of the Board should be allowed to explain why they accepted First Southwest's offer. Zimmerman also complained that the reason for the Board's decision was not printed in The Brand. He said his reason for voting for the firm was because of their "satisfactory" past history in handling bond issues for the District. He said he believed the firm to be highly reliable and felt that in the long run First Southwest Co., would save the District a lot of money.

Miller then said he felt he should (Continued on Page 2)

FLAGS IN THE NEWS -- Flags were everywhere Tuesday, which was Flag Day. Kenneth Ruland, left, son of Gus Ruland, and Jimmy Lynn Cates, son of Joe B. Cates, were not too excited about the whole thing, however. Apparently the City Hall flag raiser let the thing go to his head, though. Wednesday morning a Brand photographer spotted Old Glory flying upside down on top of the flag pole at City Hall (see inset). When asked why the unusual display, city officials turned red and ordered the flag taken down and returned properly. (Staff Photo)

Mrs. Hennen To Be Buried Friday

After an illness of several months, Mrs. Grace Clontz Hennen, 55, died June 15 in the Deaf Smith County Hospital.

Born Feb. 22, 1900, in Paris, Texas, she was married to V. O. Hennen June 19, 1926 and later moved to Hereford in 1943 from Wichita Falls.

Mrs. Hennen was a member of the Catholic Church. Funeral services will be held at St. Anthony's Church at 10 o'clock Friday morning. Father Bartholomew Paytas conducting the rites. Rosary was held Wednesday night at 8:30 at the Chapel in Gilliland Funeral Home.

Survivors include her husband, V. O. Hennen; two sons, Virgil Price Hennen of Phoenix and Jack Bennett Hennen of Hereford; one aunt, Mrs. Will Pyles of Paris, and two grandchildren.

Craddock Rites Held Wednesday

Funeral services for Mrs. Fannie B. Craddock, 92, were held here Wednesday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the First Methodist Church. Services were conducted by Rev. S. M. Dummam, pastor, and Rev. Russell Wingert.

After an illness of three years, Mrs. Craddock died June 14 in the Thurman Convalescent Home in Amarillo.

Born Oct. 2, 1863 in Crainsville, Tenn., she married Dr. F. J. Craddock in 1882 in Middleton, Tenn. Dr. Craddock died in 1917.

Mrs. Craddock came to Hereford in 1930 from Denton. Interment was made at the IOOF Cemetery in Denton.

Active pallbearers were C. M. Hicks, W. W. Ireland, Frank Gyles, A. J. Schroeder, C. C. Acker, Ralph Hastings, Robert Matters and Peyton Ramey.

Survivors of the deceased include one son, Frank Craddock of Colorado City; two daughters, Mrs. Ann Jacobs of Pullam, Wash., and Mrs. Ruth Kerr of Hereford; nine grandchildren, and 11 great grandchildren.

Mrs. Cavanar Is Buried Wednesday

Funeral services for Mrs. Nola Mae Cavanar were held Wednesday afternoon at 4 p.m. at the Avenue Baptist Church with Rev. Bob Harris conducting the service.

After an illness of 18 months, Mrs. Cavanar died June 13 in her home at 312 Avenue H.

Born Feb. 10, 1909, she was married to B. C. Cavanar at Anson, August 31, 1929. In 1947 they came to Hereford from Littlefield. She was a member of the Baptist Church.

Interment, under the direction of Gilliland Funeral Home, was made at West Park Cemetery.

Survivors include her husband; one son, Donald; two daughters, Elois Porter of Hereford and Janas Sue Cavanar; seven brothers, Owen Turner of Lake Side, Ore., Wilford Turner of Lubbock, Bassel Turner of Littlefield, A. C. Turner of Littlefield, Leo Turner of Abilene, Leon Turner of Hereford and Bill Turner of Hereford; and three grandchildren.

Two Guilty Pleas Heard By Court

Two pleas of guilty were heard by County Judge Homer Henslee in the last few days.

Paul Baca entered a plea of guilty to aggravated assault and was given a 90 day jail sentence. Baca was originally charged with burglary, but the grand jury lessened the charge to aggravated assault and returned the case to County Court.

In the other case, J. Ross was fined $100 plus court cost and sentenced to five days in jail after pleading guilty to driving while intoxicated.

Law Which Halted Murder Trial Clerified By Bill

A bill passed by both houses of the Texas Legislature as an emergency measure and signed by the Governor has clarified a legal situation that caused the postponement of a murder trial in Deaf Smith County last March 26.

The bill permits male and female jurors in a felony case to be separated.

District Judge Harry Schultz postponed the murder trial of Melvin O. Wheeler last March "until such time as the Legislature of Texas sees fit to change the trial statutes to conform with the Constitutional Amendment providing the right and duty of women to serve on juries in Texas." Judge Schultz' ruling came after a house wife, Mrs. M. W. Blankenship, had been selected as a juror in the case.

The bill permitting the separation reads: "The Court may adjourn veniremen on any day of the term. In felony cases, when jurors have been sworn in a case, those so sworn shall be kept together and not permitted to separate until a verdict has been rendered or the jury finally discharged."

ed; provided, however, that when such jurors are kept overnight, facilities shall be provided for female jurors separate and apart from the facilities provided for male jurors and such juries shall be permitted to separate to the extent of housing female jurors separate and apart from male jurors."

County officials apparently do not plan to build juror quarters for women at the present time, however. Plans now call for housing them outside of the courthouse.

Taxes Studied By Commissioners

Deaf Smith County Commissioners approved routine bills and studied taxes at their regular meeting Monday.

Lowell Sharp, sheriff, tax assessor-collector, met with the Court to answer tax questions. Mrs. Jewell Smith, county welfare officer, also met and discussed several cases.

The Court also approved Mrs. Lee Newman as assistant librarian.

It is always good to get back home, but this time is extra special. This is due to the fact that I am finding so many other country boys who have been lost in San Antonio—and who can't navigate those new-fangled Free Ways. All of us seem to have had pretty much the same experience, which includes a few caustic remarks from Mama and getting the children worked into a dither.

Jim Neill says he got on that fool Express Way in San Antonio and almost wore out a set of tires before he got out of town. What makes him mad, though, is the fact that he still doesn't know how he finally did it. Bill Brasly is also a victim. Bernard Roberson got a little bit confused when he left a motel to drive six or eight blocks to a park and, after two hours, stopped to look at a map only to find himself parked right across the street from the motel where he started. Bill Lenderman, in fact, is the only man I have run across who doesn't agree that it is difficult to drive in San Antonio. He says it is the easiest place in the world, and acts like he means every word he says.

George Gebel says if the Alamo had only had a back door, there wouldn't even be a Texas. He is wrong, though. Even if those boys had gotten out, they would have wandered around a few hours and wound up right back in the Alamo. I once read where Boston is supposed to be the most confusing of all cities in which to drive, but surely it cannot outdo San Antonio. It just isn't possible.

Anyway, it is wonderful to learn that I am not the only one who has big city driving troubles. Furthermore, I am running into more and more people who plan to take their kids to the Alamo this year. Since I got away from all of the Davy Crockett fanfare, I am about to get sold on the deal myself. After all of these years, it is really something for the boys and girls of this nation to worship a truly American type hero for a change. Old Davy is far, far ahead of the gangsters, rum runners, hatchet men, Supermen and Space Cadets which the small-try have idolized for several decades. He may have been knocked off a few Redskins in his day, but it was always in the line of duty. What's more, his character symbolizes honesty, integrity, patriotism and justice, along with daring and adventure. Davy Crockett is as American as ice cream or banana pudding.

Sam Nunnally is another one of those transplanted Okies. He says they have a tremendous museum of historical lore in Oklahoma City—and that hardly anyone ever visits the place. Not in droves, at least, like they are pouring in at the Alamo these days. He thinks Oklahoma should start a legend of some sort to get people into their museum. Sam also spent quite a few years in the merchant marine and worked on several banana boats. He wanted to know the name of the ship we saw, but I couldn't remember. Get Sam to tell you about some of his experiences next time you run across him. They are interesting and, like most old salts, he enjoys spinning out sea stories.

FRAZER DISAGREES
Disagreement about regaining export trade came from Odell Frazer. Frazer declared, "We are going to have to get back those foreign markets."

A solution—the only one proposed during the meeting—was offering out sea stories.

Also, if you are planning on visiting Galveston you had just as well take Mama and the kids along. These stories about the wickedness of the city appear to be sheer propaganda. At least, we didn't run across any undue temptations. Not even any bingo games. They did have a Penny Arcade, which our kids said should be changed to "Nickel Arcade," but it consisted of marble machines without free games, bucking horses like you find in many super markets, and a few of those pistol shooting machines, also without free games. In fact, about the most evil thing we ran across was a miniature golf course with enough traps to evoke an occasional swear word.

I am not saying that there is no gambling in Galveston. There probably is, but the town is far from "wide open," as many people have been led to believe. This created quite a few jokes and furnished considerable conversation at the press meeting. Most everyone seemed to agree, though, on the point that Galveston is probably no worse than Dallas, Houston, Ft. Worth, or even Amarillo.

One oddity the men have adopted, though, is the wearing of Bermuda shorts. They are pretty general along the beach and the seawall, which might indicate that they were tourists from West Texas. Quite a few men also wore them while working in the yard or mowing the lawn, however, which indicates that the fad has a pretty good hold on that country. I never could quite get used to them, but I do hope they spread into this county. It would be worth the money to see Kent State out mowing his lawn in a pair of them.

Roy Smith says I made a big mistake by not going deep-sea fishing while in Galveston. He is probably right, too, because they said that the red snapper and trout were running better than in recent years. However, it costs around $15 a person—and I didn't really think Ed Hedrick could afford it, even if Mama stayed at home. The folks may have a lot of faults down there on the coast, but they sure do take dead aim when they make out the tallies on food and lodging.

ed by Kenneth Rudd. Rudd said he believed one answer to the problem was to produce such a fine grade of wheat that it would sell despite the fact that there was a surplus. To do so, he said, farmers in the area—at least four or five hundred of them—should get together and grow one certain variety of wheat. Rudd drew the largest applause of the entire meeting.

George Hearst outlined what a favorable or unfavorable referendum in vote would mean. He said if 75 percent of the farmers vote "yes," support price of wheat acreage allotments would still exist. That would mean the county would lose 17,000 acres of wheat allotment next year. Penalties would also be in force.

If farmers vote "no" the support price will drop to 50 percent of parity, acreage controls would still exist (thus the county would still lose 17,000 acres) but there would be no penalties.

over seeded would not be eligible for any supports.
Collier and Virgil Dodson, Farm Bureau president, urged farmers and their wives to turn out and vote. "We don't care how you vote," Dodson said, "but vote."
Visiting in the L. J. Strauss home recently were Mr. and Mrs. Herb Teek of Amarillo.

The accident occurred when a 1952 GMC Pickup, driven by Willie Kleiver, going north on B Street failed to grant the right-of-way to Elliot, who was driving a motor scooter down Park Avenue. The motor scooter could not stop, running head on into the pickup, the police report shows.

Willie Kleiver was charged with failure to grant right-of-way by way of a stop sign.

Leonard Parsons Buried At Friona

Leonard Arden Parsons, former resident of Hereford, died suddenly at his home in Friona, Monday morning, June 13.

The owner of an electrical and refrigeration business in Friona since 1938, he lived in Hereford seven years previous to that time.

Farm Storage Loan Program Extended

The U. S. Department of Agriculture has announced the extension of the farm storage facility loan program for another year, through June 30, 1956.

A spokesman said these loans are designed to help farmers obtain needed farm storage. Under these loan programs, farmers and others can borrow a large part of the cost of additional storage space to provide additional farm storage for grain and seeds.

Any farm owner operator, tenant, landlord or producer partnership is eligible to participate in the program. Application for a loan may be made at the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Committee office.

Most of the press boys had John Ben Shepherd pegged to be in the runoff, although several felt that he will be sharply penalized through his position on the Veteran's Land Board, involved in recent turmoil.

It is still nice to be back home—even if we did have to cross two E-Ways along the route.

Century Plant And Smoke Tree Vie With Roses For Attention

By ROBERTA CAMPBELL

GIVING THE ROSES around town some competition are such novelties as the century plant (above) in bloom at Vern Witherspoon's home, 201 North Jackson. Mr. Witherspoon brought the plant up from the Big Bend country where he had been on a hunting trip about 35 years ago. This will be his only chance to show off, however, since the plant blooms once and then dies. Another unusual sight is the smoke tree in the backyard of the E. L. Naugle residence, 126 Avenue E. The puffy grey balls that are the blossoms, give the tree the appearance of smoke and give it the name. These trees will reach a height of 15 feet, but nurserymen are not sure they will survive in this climate. (Staff Photo)

So you think everybody in Hereford is interested only in roses? The roses have been very pretty but a peep around the bushes will sometimes reveal novel shrubs and trees that arouse a great deal of curiosity among friends and neighbors.

At the Vern Witherspoon home, 201 N. Jackson Street, for instance, people have been stretching their necks along with the stalk from a century plant that is rapidly reaching skyward the last few days as it goes about the long awaited job of producing a blossom. Maybe a good reason for the stalk attaining a height of 15 or 20 feet before it blooms is that it is ashamed of such a puny excuse for a flower after all the years of suspense.

Once in a lifetime may apply to the watchers but it is also definitely true of the plant itself for once it blooms it dies and the cycle is ended. However, one isn't required to wait for the seed to mature and sprout before he can start growing another plant because the mother plant puts out numerous other little sprouts about the base and the Witherspoons have set some in their yard and passed others on to friends with a yen for the spiny stranger to this locality.

The century plant gets its name from the long period of time it requires for the plant to bloom, but actually one doesn't have to last out the hundred years in order to witness the event.

The plant in the Witherspoon's yard has only held out on them for about 35 years. It was very small when Mr. Witherspoon brought it up from the Big Bend country when he returned from a hunting trip to South Texas years ago, and according to the way other plants have grown, it could be little older than that.

The number of years required for a century plant to bloom is determined by the growth of the plant and it would be likely that one well cared for in a yard would bloom earlier than those on the dry desert.

Another unusual sight is a smoke tree blooming in the back yard at the E. L. Naugle home at 126 E Street.

Mrs. Naugle says the nurseryman who sold them the tree three years ago told them they were more or less an experiment in this region as it has not been determined if they will survive in this climate.

This tree, which was small when it was set, has made a good growth and this is its second year to bloom.

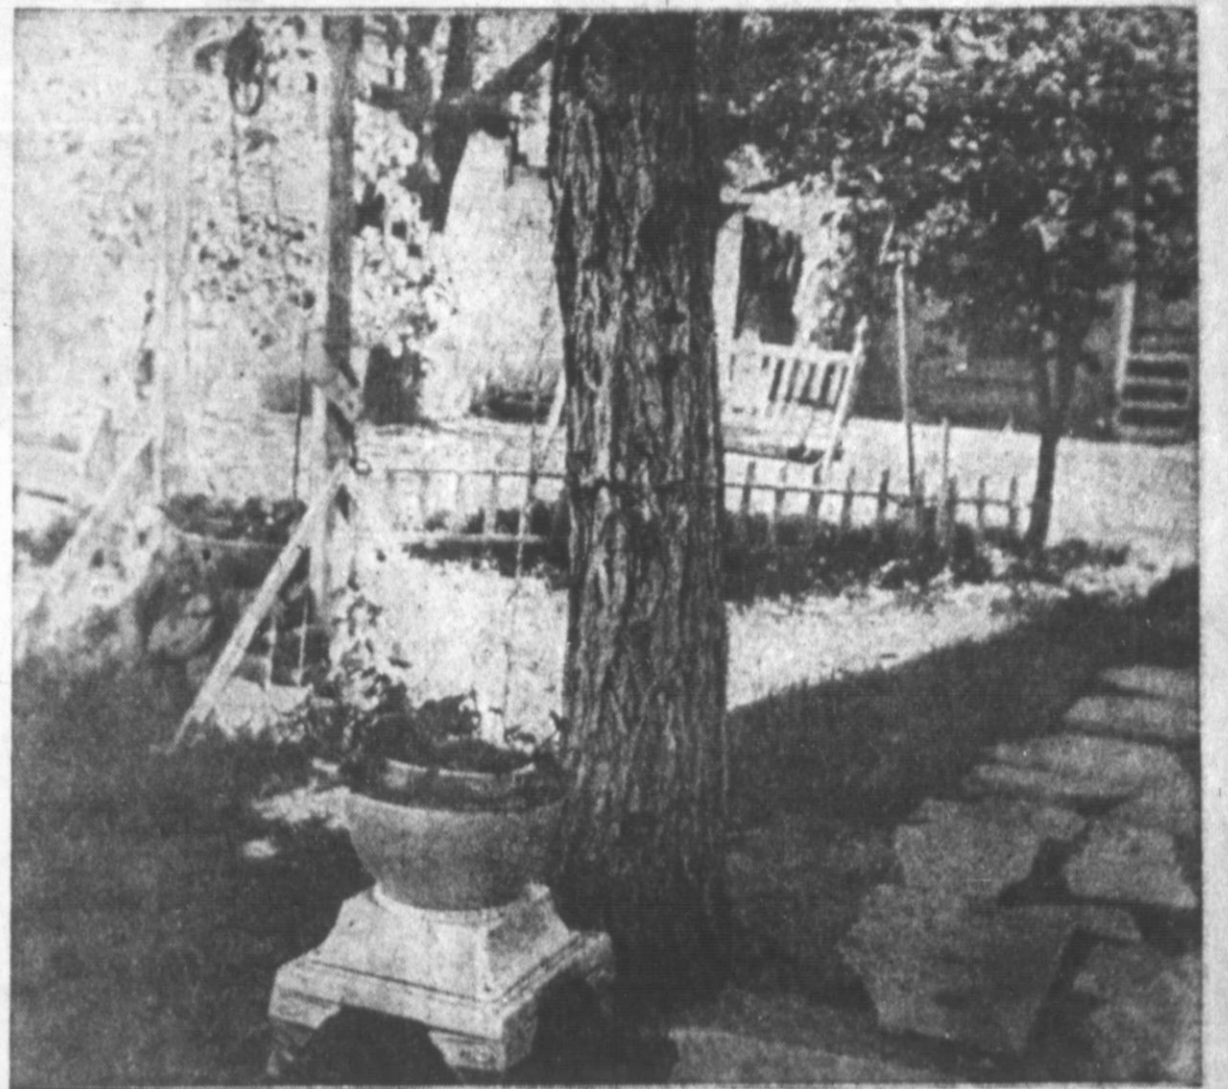

The name comes from the puffy balls that come out ahead of the foliage and cover the whole tree to give it the appearance of smoke.

Both inside and out at the R. A. Fullwood home on McKinley St., one would know that the occupants are interested in novelties. One of the latest additions to the yard is a large strawberry jar that formerly belonged to Grandpa Fullwood. Mrs. Fullwood has already packed ripe berries from the plants set just recently. Aside from the attractiveness of the planting these berries will be free from grit and the worms will have to climb to reach them.

The base of one old potbellied heating stove, escaped the junk yard when Mrs. Fullwood gave it a coat of paint and used it as a support for a planter. The well, complete with rope and pulley is another evidence of her creative ability with flower arrangements.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Fullwood take a great deal of pride in the backyard at his place of business on Third Street but that is another story.

Next week we will let you look in on the Patio at the Fullwood Apartments.

BASE FROM AN OLD pot-bellied stove escaped the usual fate of landing on the junk heap when Mrs. R. A. Fullwood, 206 McKinley gave it a coat of paint and the responsibility of holding up a planter in the yard at her home. An old strawberry jar filling its original purpose of growing strawberries set out recently in the holes that are alternated along the sides of the jar. It is an heirloom which belonged to Mr. Fullwood's father. (Staff Photo)

Mrs. Clarence Smith and children Linda, Gerald, and Douglas of Axle, are guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Dickson.

To keep milk from sticking to the bottom of the stewer, have a small amount of water boiling when the milk is added. Mrs. Cruse Richardson gave this hint and in making the batter rolls for the Homemakers group Thursday, it really did work; (2) Mrs. P. L. Carmichael gave a suggestion on helping to rid the lawn of dandelions. She says that when the dandelions are chopped off to put a pinch of salt on the root. She says this really does work and she has rid her lawn of almost all the dandelions.

The 4-H Round-Up trip was the best ever. The group returned Saturday night from the five day trip. It is always good to be back home. (Continued on page 2)

Zimmerman And Sullivan Seeded Tops In Tourney

Pat Sullivan, high school principal, and Donald Zimmerman will be topseded in The Brand Table Tennis Tournament.

Sullivan is given the edge over Johnny Winkler and Earl Stagner in the field of about 20 entries in the men's division. Zimmerman will be a slight favorite in the boys' division. His nearest contenders are expected to be Danny Elliston and Bill Callaway.

No matter who is given the nod in the men's division he will have a rough road to hoe. It would not come as a major upset if one of six men won. Besides Stagner, Sullivan, and Winkler, Marvin Coffey, and Walter Seed, will make it rough on their opponents. Clint Formby is also rated up among the best.

The boys' division will also feature rough competition, but Zimmerman is expected to encounter more - than - average competition from only Elliston, Callaway, and Taylor Sims. Charles Seed and Carl Zimmerman will be no pushovers. If the saying "like father, like son" is true, Seed could easily take the tourney.

All pairings will be listed in The Hereford Brand. All matches must be played and the results turned into Bill Knox at The Brand not later than Friday afternoon. Subsequent pairings will also be listed in The Brand.

Gruff Old Dad! Surely, he doesn't want a day to honor him! Ask for an x-ray picture of his heart, and you will know better. He may be tanned of face and rough of hand, but his big heart is Very tender. Yes, let's observe Father's Day. Let us keep it with enthusiasm! He will appreciate it all the more because we have neglected him so long.

What strange and wonderful people these Fathers are! They may look old, but on the inside they are still boys. They are ready for the pleasures of their childhood. Surprise them and you will catch them when the guards of age and dignity are down. They will be easy victims of love's attack. Give them a whole big day when they receive... instead of give.

Wise and appreciative women and men could find no better word for their Divine Creator, than this name, "Father." He is more like God than any other. Treat him that way for one day, "Father's Day," and gladden his heart for all the days to come. Yes, give him one whole big day. It is Father's Day.

STAMPEDING
With the Putter
By BILL KNOX

Making pairings for a city wide tournament of any kind is not the easiest thing in the world.

It becomes quite complicated when you take into consideration that to produce a good tournament, you must have two good men to play in the finals, yet you must be fair and impartial in making all pairings.

The most impartial way would be to draw them out of a hat. But then chances are that you would come up with the best against the best, eliminating maybe some of the better players, and not weeding out the mediocre players. Thus you have a good player against a mediocre one in the championship match, and this is not fair to either one.

Of course, any combination of pairings would give a raw deal to somebody, and somebody probably gets an easy first round, but no matter how they are paired someone must draw the best, and someone must draw the worst. Thus, the only way to do it is the above mentioned way—weeding out the mediocre players and producing a good championship match.

We've had several jokingly approach us and ask for an easy first round opponent. They all want to play J. W. Robinson, and they shy away when you mention Johnny Winkler or Pat Sullivan. But J. W. says the one that draws him will certainly be unlucky. Or did he leave off the first syllable? At any rate J. Wallace Robinson Jr., will be no pushover.

Friday night at the softball games those who didn't wear a coat (preferably a parka) regretted it. After the cold wind hit, the game didn't come too far from resembling ice hockey.

But the ever-brilliant Karl Hutcheson remedied the situation after being called on to umpire the second game. He and Raymond Lueb took shifts at umpiring, and everybody warmed themselves at a fire built in the dugout by Hutcheson. At times it reached bonfire proportions, and we'd almost wonder that there is not fire wood within one mile of Veteran's Park. Karl almost brought a lightpost to put on the fire but decided against it. What's one dugout anyway?

Hotel Jim Hill has finally placed someone on Batting Leaders. Johnny Winkler and Gerald Hale were sorely displeased with their previous failure to do such, but maybe now they feel somewhat better over the situation. Leroy Suttie has turned the trick by compiling a .538 batting average. He is fourth in the league.

Rock, he went after his partner. After convincing Murdock it was an accident, Faketty entered the ring and soon after this Frankie came in to help him, which caused Belkas to come in also. In the four man melee that followed Murdock came up with a leg hold on Faketty and the partners nearly came to blows again. As Murdock was leaving the ring, Belkas kicked Faketty out of the ring onto the floor and when Murdock turned around—no partner. The fans got a big kick out of Murdock's confusion and it was several seconds before Murdock finally discovered his partner. Just about the time it seemed that Murdock would be counted out again, he turned the tables on LaRock and with the help of the ropes and Faketty was able to pin LaRock and take the second fall in 12 minutes.

Third and final fall was a fast one with Faketty taking most of the punishment from Belkas. Despite the fact that the team of Murdock and Faketty was able to overcome their internal strife and help each other, Faketty was forced to submit to Belkas after six minutes, thus making LaRock and Belkas winners of the third fall and the match.

NEXT WEEK

Next week fans again will see a tag team match and two 15 minute bouts. New comer Leo Wallick will come here to team with his brother, Chet and take on Belkas and LaRock in a one hour or two out of three falls match. The Wallick brothers are going to be a very rough team to beat and Belkas and LaRock are going to have their hands full. In the 15 minute opening bouts, Chet Wallick will try-out LaRock and his brother, Leo will tangle with the Boston Strong-Boy Belkas.

LaRock-Belkas Winners In Tag Team Wrestling Event

By STANLEY PHILLIPP

Highlight of the wrestling matches at the Bull Barn Saturday night was a wild and wooly tag team bout, with Frankie Murdock and Frank Faketty taking on Jim LaRock and Chris Belkas. To start the ball rolling for the evening and feel each other out, the opposing partners of each team met in a one fall or 15 minute affair. Faketty, a newcomer to this arena from San Antonio, tangled with Chris Belkas of Boston for the first match. Faketty, an experienced vet, gave Belkas a lesson in the rough stuff in this match and after wearing him down, took the match with a reverse face lock in the 13 minutes. In the second bout, the well known, but not so popular, Frankie Murdock met LaRock and they wrestled to a draw. All four wrestlers had words with the referee, Benny Trudel, who took no "sass" from any of them, and appeared ready to use force if necessary.

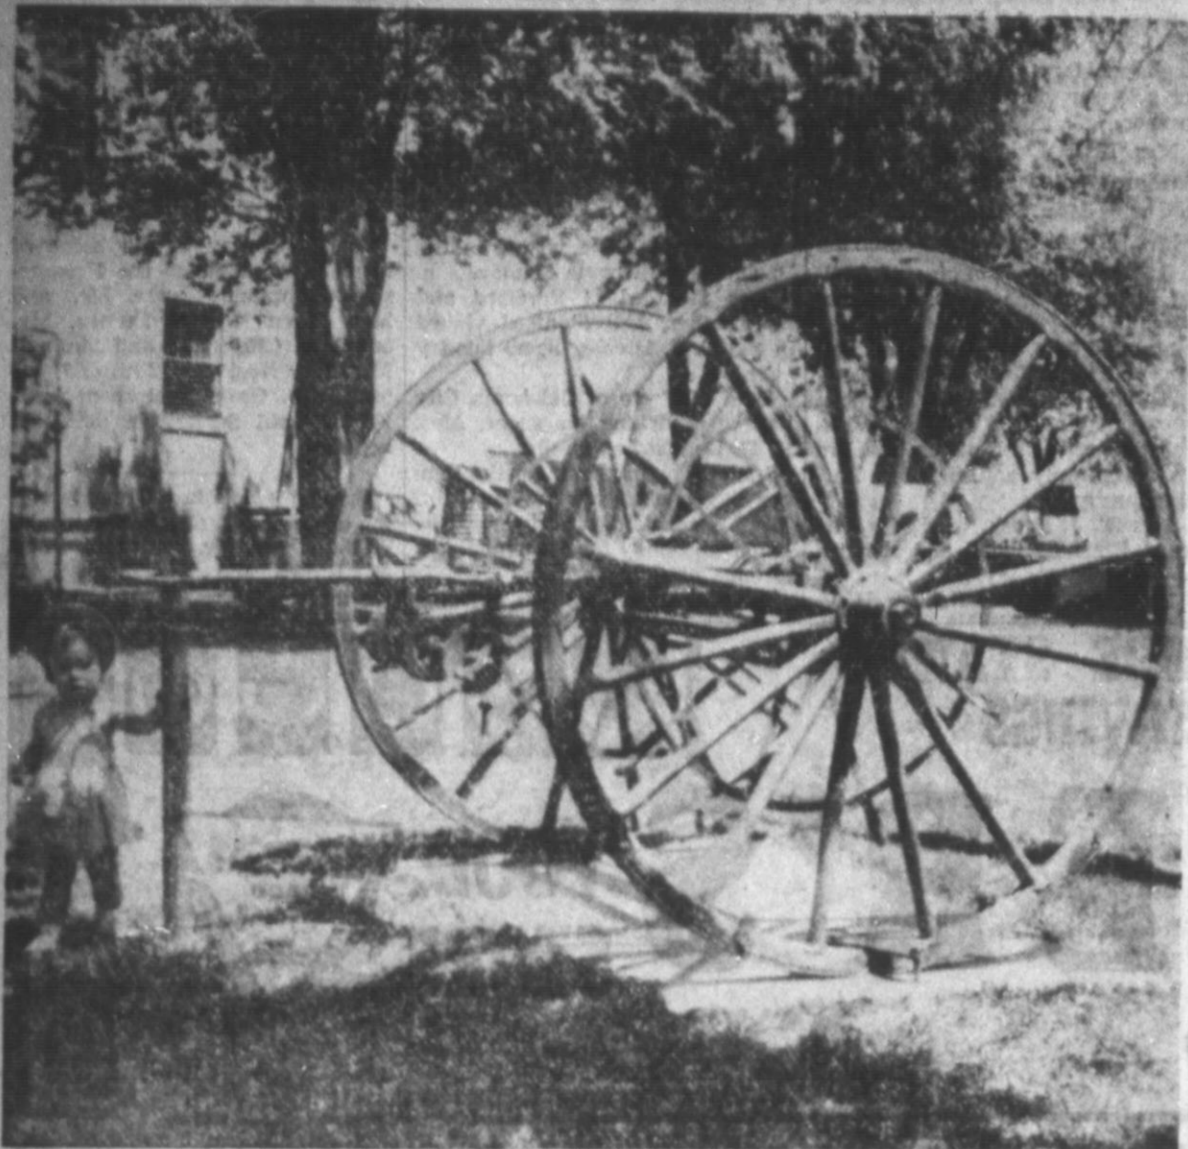

Starting the first fall of the tag team bout, LaRock went after Murdock and immediately ended in trouble. Murdock got a leg lock on him, dragged him to his corner and then he and Faketty took turns working on the leg of LaRock, using all the illegal holds and once in a while a legal one. The ref was kept busy trying to keep the correct number of wrestlers in the ring and finally gave up and let 'em fight. While Belkas kept Faketty out of the ring, LaRock was able to put a rolling cradle hold on Murdock and took the first fall in 15 minutes.

Second fall of the main event was quite a mix-up with Faketty and Murdock fighting each other as much as they fought Belkas and LaRock. While LaRock had Murdock in a full nelson, Faketty took a swing at him, but LaRock turned and Murdock took the punch. This irritated Frankie no little and as soon as he got away from La-

"After the last of the big ranches have been broken up I believe this will once more become a stock raising country," said John F. Ross, who is in charge of the experimental farm. "But instead of using the open range—only the stock raiser of the future will feed his herds produce of his farm. In this way, the fertility will be returned to the soil, the land will be benefited and the quality of the stock will be better. This plan will also increase the number of cattle, hogs, and horses that can be raised. It is probable that half a section of land will prove to be about right for the average farm. Forty-five years ago one would really have been getting some bargains when they went to sales. In 1910, George Stambaugh had a mid season sale at which ladies hose sold from 50 to 75 cents. Men's and boys' suits sold from $20 to $30.50 and shirts from $1.85 to 75 cents. The ladies could buy suits from $25 to $3.95 and a Stetson hat cost $4.95.

Lions Told 'We Are Living In Claims Conscious Age'

Automobile liability and property damage insurance would cost the insurance-buying public five times more than it does now if casualty insurance companies satisfied every claim filed against their policyholders in the amount presented or demanded, a spokesman for the Southwestern Insurance Information Service of Dallas, today told members of the Hereford Lions Club.

Ralph Caldwell, secretary of the Western Fire and Indemnity Insurance Company of Lubbock and guest speaker at the Club's luncheon meeting said, "Obviously, you cannot purchase insurance this expensive. It is necessary that every effort be made by the insurance-buying public to hold down the cost of insurance. In this effort, there are only two factors to be considered: One, the number of accidents; and two, the amount of claims resulting from those accidents."

He pointed out that the casualty insurance industry has spent thousands upon thousands of dollars toward the reduction of accidents and that the industry will continue its efforts in this respect.

If we are to keep the price of insurance within the economic limit of what the purchaser can afford to pay, then we must give serious study to the cost of claims. When we look at claims cost I want you to remember that if all personal injury claims were satisfied in the amount presented, every $100 a year you now pay for your insurance would become over $500. Thus you can see why some sound and accurate attempt has to be made to discover the legitimate value of a claim for damages.

"When we of the industry set out to make this attempt, we quite naturally have to start asking some questions. It is when we begin this procedure that we hear

Washing Windows

When washing windows, polish them on one side with horizontal strokes, on the other side with vertical strokes. Then it is easy to determine on which side any streaks remain.

Porcelain

Probably the best household cleansing agent for porcelain is kerosene.

Rugs

Try sewing a piece of heavy cardboard or rubber to each of the four corners of small rugs. This will keep them from curling and perhaps causing a bad fall.

Raisins

The difficulty of removing the sticky paper from raisins can be avoided by placing the package in the oven for a few minutes. The paper will peel off and the raisins will separate.

Ink Stains

Oxalic acid is probably the best agency for removing ink stains from almost any kind of wood.

Something Different

Try this for a new kind of sandwich. Slice some bananas lengthwise and dip in lemon juice, place them on whole wheat bread spread with mayonnaise, sprinkle on some chopped nuts, and be sure to serve at once.

Silverware

The silverware will keep in good condition by using potato water. All stains can be removed and by rubbing with a charcoal silver will shine like new.
