Scouts Take Part In Contest Here

Boy Scout and Cub Scout troops in Hereford and Friona will compete this week in window displays in honor of National Boy Scout Week.

Cash awards of $5 will go to the Cub Scout and the Boy Scout displays which are picked as the best. Boy Scout Week, celebrated nationally last week, was postponed locally because of the snowstorm.

The displays will be judged at 1 p.m. Feb. 25.

His Honor Has Harried Day

Put Hereford's Mayor Henry Sears in the race for the nation's busiest city.

Mayor Sears Wednesday probably came close to breaking all previous records. He returned from Kansas City at 2 a.m. Wednesday morning from a business trip so that he could attend a meeting of the City Commission. At 10 a.m. the meeting began and at 11:20 it was completed. As soon as the meeting was over the Mayor grabbed his bag and headed for Austin to attend a meeting of the State Teachers College Board of Regents, of which he is a member.

CHARTER PRESENTATION—One of the highlights of National Boy Scout Week in Hereford was the presentation of 1956 charters to local troops. In the above picture, Bruce Miller, District organization and extension chairman, left, presents Lowell Sharp, troop committee chairman, with the Troop 51 Charter. The Kiwanis Club sponsors the troop and the award was made at the regular meeting of the club Thursday. From left to right are Joe Reinauer, senior patrol leader; Miller; Lisle Patton, patrol leader; W. M. Teague, District executive; Richard Smith, patrol leader; Bill Patton, scout master; Sharp; and Lewis Block, patrol leader. (Staff Photo)

Gayle Higgins Is Buried In West Park Cemetery

Funeral services for Gayle Higgins, 35, of Canyon were held Friday afternoon at 2 p.m. in the Rose Chapel at Gilliland Funeral Home in Hereford with the Rev. Herman Smith of the Palo Duro Baptist Church and Rev. Howard Scott of the First Baptist Church officiating. Interment was in West Park Cemetery.

Mr. Higgins was born Jan. 31, 1921 in Hereford. He married Jo Soleyby Oct. 12, 1941 at Las Vegas, Nev. He was a member of the Palo Duro Baptist Church.

Mr. Higgins was found hanged Wednesday in the Randall County jail, where he was awaiting to be transferred to a hospital at Wichita Falls. A verdict of suicide was returned.

Pallbearers were Woody Hicks, Paul Cornett, Henry Higgins, Dan Higgins, Dewey Foster and Ed Cabs.

Survivors include his wife, Jo Higgins of Canyon; one son, Herbert Allen, three years old; one daughter, Martha Frances, one year old; father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. O. K. Higgins of Hereford; two brothers, Jack Higgins and Wayne Higgins, both of Willadoro; and two sisters, Mrs. Imogene Wills and Mrs. Frances Early, both of Hereford.

Gilliland Funeral Home was in charge of arrangements.

Interest Rate On Bonds Is 3.27%

Columbian Securities and Associates was successful bidder on $509,000 in City water revenue bonds sold this week by the City of Hereford.

Columbian's bid was an overall average of 3.27 percent interest on the bonds. One hundred and sixty-nine thousand dollars of the bonds are due to be retired from 1957 to 1965, and will carry a three percent interest. Bonds to be re-

Pooling Of Riders To School Is Urged

School will open Monday, picking up where things left off Thursday afternoon, Feb. 2, due to heavy snow and impassable roads, according to an announcement made Saturday by Supt. Fred Cunningham. With the announcement also came a plea for pooling of riders, and for assistance from parents to bus students in rural areas.

Hay Airlifted To Frank Ford Place

GARCIA — "Operation Haylift" went into effect in this community this week when a giant plane based at Amarillo Air Force Base flew over to drop approximately 60 bales of hay on the Frank Ford place three miles north of Bootleg corner.

Residents of this area had a ring side seat as the huge plane circled 75 head of cattle in a pasture south of the Ford home and dropped five bales of hay at a time to the snow-stranded herd. Ford reported that the pilot and crew were experts at the unusual task. "They dropped it right where we needed it worse," he said.

Ford put in a call to Gene Southall, Potter County agricultural agent, Tuesday morning after he found he couldn't reach his feed for his livestock because of snow drifts. At 2 p.m. that afternoon the haylift was in effect.

Those watching included Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Thwait, Mrs. Floyd Brown, Roger, Earl and Tommy Brown and Frank Ford.

He also cited the limited parking space around the schools and asked that students and parents pool rides whenever possible in the interest of parking and safety. "Both the City and the County have been most helpful in clearing as much space as possible," he said, "but conditions are far from ideal and we will appreciate your cooperation in handling the situation in the best interests of all concerned."

Mr. and Mrs. Foster Hiss and children from Higgins is spending the weekend with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Hill.

"It appears that no Saturday attendance will be necessary," he said. "Special consideration was allowed the Hereford district since the situation was brought about by weather conditions which prevented the carrying on of normal school routine. Cunningham said that one day (still to be determined) will be eliminated from Easter holidays, and that Hereford Schools will be expected to finish the additional four days in May, as originally planned. He also pointed out that this will leave the local schools one day short of normally required attendance.

"Buses will operate on all safe roads," Cunningham said. "Parents are urged to bring children to those roads which are clear, those which are surfaced or bus routes which are main travelled roads for bus pick-up."

He also cited the limited parking space around the schools and asked that students and parents pool rides whenever possible in the interest of parking and safety. Dollar Day Is Reset Monday

Shopping will be made extra easy in Hereford Monday. Main Street will be completely clear of snow by then, City officials predict, and merchants are booming a super-bargain Dollar Day.

Dollar Day, originally set for last Monday, was postponed by the record breaking snow. So that the monthly event would not be completely cancelled, merchants agreed to hold the event this week.

One business man said, "Some of the bargains around town this week are going to be hot enough to melt most of this snow."

Schoolmen To Attend Atlantic City Meeting

Supt. Fred Cunningham and Trustee President Robert Wagoner will leave Amarillo Sunday, Feb. 19, for Atlantic City, N. J., where they will represent the Hereford School District at the meeting of the American Association of School Administrators and Board Members.

The two Hereford men will join other Panhandle school leaders who will compose two cars in Amarillo. (Continued On Page 3)

THE SHOW MUST GO ON

First Hereford All-School Play To Be Held Feb. 20

"The show must go on," has been the adage of the stage for years, and it has become the motto of the cast of "Room for One More," Hereford High School's first annual All-School Play. While school was dismissed because of the blizzard, the high school cast has made good use of the time, missing only two rehearsals during the storm. Those two have been made up with longer rehearsals from Monday through Friday of the past week.

Scheduled to be presented in the high school auditorium Monday and Tuesday evenings, Feb. 20 and 21, the play is one of the few school events which has not had to be re-scheduled because of the record snowfall, according to Mrs. Elmer Patterson, director. Tickets will go on sale Monday, she reports. The production is sponsored by the high school speech department, and proceeds will be used to defray expense of the production and to finance stage improvements and activities of the speech students.

William Davidson is author of the play, which was adapted from the best selling novel, "Room for One More," by Anna Perrot Rose Wright. It tells the story of "Poppy" and Mother Rose, who find room in their hearts and home for two more orphan children, although those they already had adopted were straining their budget and facilities in the "Pumpkin Shell," their summer cottage at the sea-shore.

"The enthusiasm and ability of this cast plus a good play, for which we are paying substantial royalty, promise to make this one of the most outstanding high school plays yet staged at Hereford High School," the director commented. "We hope to make the All School Play an annual tradition to give dramatic experience to students from all school classes and to bring high-class entertainment to the community," she added.

Members of the cast are LaVera Head, Wayne Dally, Mary Katherine Huckert, Lawanna Lookingbill, Marlene Gilliland, Marlene Allred, Sibil Davis, Robert Davis, Jimmy Bradley, Beth Scott, Bill Woodford, and Kay Barnard. Jacquitta Miller, Janie Bookout, and Carol Ann Newell, members of the prompting and properties staff, have worked with the cast throughout the days when school has been dismissed.

Services Sunday For Mrs. Bradley

Funeral services will be held Sunday here for the widow of the man who brought the first herd of Hereford cattle to this area. Mrs. Ollie Dora Womble Bradley, 92, who died at her home Friday afternoon, will be buried in the West Park Cemetery following services at the First Baptist Church under the direction of Rev. Howard Scott.

Mrs. Bradley moved to Deaf Smith County with her parents in 1891, one year after Deaf Smith County was organized. She lived six miles south of where Willadoro now is located until 1896 when she married L. R. Bradley, who had come to the Panhandle in 1883. They moved into what is now known as the "Old Bradley Ranch" on the Tierra Blanca Creek about five miles east of Hereford.

The City of Hereford was named after the original Bradley herd of Herefords, which was brought here from Emporia, Kan., in 1893. The Bradlys ran from five to six hundred head of cattle on a 25 section pasture in and around where Hereford now stands.

Mrs. Bradley was a charter member of both the First Baptist Church and the Order of the Eastern Star. She was an honorary member of the County Hospital Board at the time of her death, and had been an active member since 1922, helping to build the present hospital building. The early pioneer was also a past director of the First National Bank.

Mrs. Bradley transferred the operation of the Tierra Blanca ranch and herd to her children in 1926, but did not actually retire from ranching until 1945.

She once told a Brand reporter, "When I drive over the country and see the great changes, I sometimes wonder would we be better off had we left our lands as open space for our grazing Whiteface cattle instead of cultivating sparsely sown fields. When I behold such fine schools, wonderful churches, hospitals, comfortable homes, my heart swells with pride to think that 'me and mine' had a part in pioneering the way. All things must pass away and we must move forward, work out our problems and overcome our hardships. Just like we have always done."

Mrs. Bradley was a native of Bear Creek, N. C., and was born March 15, 1873. She came to Texas in 1891, stopping briefly in Amarillo and then moving with her family to Deaf Smith County.

Her husband died in 1911, and Mrs. Bradley ran the huge ranch and farm and brought up four children who were still at home. She once said that the country and the town were "built on the foundations of perseverance, faith, hope and love."

Pallbearers will be J. C. Gilbreath, A. O. Thompson, Lee Coughner, O. M. Dickey, Richard Jowell and Ezra Norton.

She is survived by three daughters, Mrs. Lan Shore, Mrs. Bruce Rose and Mrs. Doyle Rose, all of Hereford; a sister, Mrs. Joyce Meeks of Antiarillo; five grand children and nine great-grandchildren. Gilliland Funeral Home is in charge of arrangements.

'But It Won't Help Much'

Peeler Sees Victory In Milo Price Hike

R. G. Peeler, president of the two-state Grain Sorghum Producers Association, Saturday termed the Agriculture Department's two cent per hundred-weight raise in the support price of grain sorghums as a victory despite the fact that "two cents per hundred-weight is not much."

Peeler said, "It is quite logical that without the efforts of the Association, grain sorghum supports would likely have been lowered to 60 percent of parity."

Most growers in the area indicated that the two cents a hundred-weight increase would be of very little help, however. The 1956 average price for milo is expected to be $1.80, compared to $1.78 last year and $2.28 in 1954.

Peeler, in a letter which will be mailed out Monday to some 1700 persons with agricultural interests in Deaf Smith County, said that the bill adopted by the Senate Agricultural Committee calls for the soil bank feature and 90 percent of parity on all basic crops.

"No provision is made, however, for strengthening the support of non-basic crops," he declared. "Senator Price Daniel and Cong. Walter Rogers are preparing an amendment to this bill which will support grain sorghum at 90 percent of parity, as recommended by the Grain Sorghum Producers Association.

The Association president urged all farmers and other interested persons to write Sen. Daniel urging him to continue his fight in behalf of milo producers.

Frank Moore and Harold Lafont, both of Plainview, will leave on Monday for Washington to represent the Association.

Water District Wins Test Case

District Judge Victor H. Lindsey, returned his decision in the case of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1 vs. F. J. Bryson, Whitharral farmer, ruling in favor of the Water District.

Judge Lindsey permanently enjoined Bryson from producing a disputed irrigation well in excess of 100,000 gallons per day. The well in question was drilled without a permit and contrary to the rules of the Water District.

The defendant's attorney, R. H. Munsterman, immediately announced plans to appeal the ruling to the state supreme court.

Attorneys for the Water District taking part in the case, were Joe Greenhill, Austin; Sam Aldridge, Farwell; and John Aikin, Hereford.

Plans For P-TA Conference Made

Hospitality committees for the Parent-Teacher conference to be held in Hereford-April 16 and 17 were named at a meeting of the local P-TA Association in the home of Mrs. Maurice Tannahill, chairman, Thursday morning. Mrs. Elmer Patterson, local chairman for the District eight conference, met with the group.

Mrs. Lawrence McGee and Mrs. B. F. Cain were named chairmen for the courtesy coffee to be served during registration hours at the conference.

Mrs. Robert Veigel, Mrs. Ansel McDowell, and Mrs. Joe Smith will have charge of menus for the board dinner on the night of the sixteenth and will make arrangements for decorations in the high school auditorium where the conference will be held.

Mrs. Ernest McGee and Mrs. Tannahill will head the decorations committee for the dinner and the luncheon and Mrs. Jimmie Allred will head the favors committee.

Mrs. Paul Snider and little son Mark of Little Rock, Ark., arrived Saturday for a week's visit with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. M. Cogswell. She will be joined here by her husband who will make the return trip with her.

Fred F. Kroll spent Feb. 2 and 3 at General Equipment Sales Inc., attending the annual dealers clinic at Indianapolis, Ind. Kroll has recently been appointed by this firm as local representative for the San-Serve soft ice cream freezers.

Mrs. Ray McCullough returned Wednesday from San Francisco, Calif., where she has spent the past two weeks at the bedside of a nephew, Gale Kiser, whose funeral was held Monday in Los Banos, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. A. L. Manjot went to Amarillo Friday evening to visit her sister, Mr. and Mrs. C. Gilliland.

ROOM FOR ONE MORE—The cast for "Room For One More," to be presented February 20 and 21, trudges through the snow as rehearsals go on despite the school holiday occasioned by the blizzard. (The refreshments being carried by Robert Davis indicate that the all-school cast wasn't having too bad a time of it.) Entering the building are: (l to r) Jimmy Bradley, Sibil Davis, Jacquitta Miller, Janie Bookout, Carol Ann Newell, Lawanna Lookingbill, Marlene Allred, who is hiding W. M. Oldtimers Admit Present Snow Deepest -- But Not Worst

It happened back in 1918—28 years ago—but the heavy snow and blizzard of that time is vividly recalled by numerous old timers of the area as "the worst I ever saw."

When compared with the 27-inch snowfall last week, the 1918 snow came in several falls and, unquestionably, did far more damage. Opinions vary on some points concerning the earlier snow, but all generally agree that the weather and conditions which followed were far more serious. The snow started falling around Dec. 15, 1918; and according to inscription on the above picture was still on the ground in spots up into April, 1919.

Most vivid in the memories of all appears to be the loss of cattle, which died by the thousands, due to over-exposure and to lack of feed.

"They slit the hides, then fastened chains to them and skinned a cow in a matter of minutes," recalls Miles Roberson, vice president at the First National Bank. G. W. Brumley, still in the cattle business, also recalls the occasion as much worse than that of 1956.

"It was a lot colder and the snow stayed a lot longer," says Ezra Norton, another old timer who stuck it out and is today still in the cattle business. Norton says, however, that he managed to get out every day, despite the fact that the weather was much colder.

"Teams and wagons were the only mode of transportation," according to F. H. Oberthier, who recalls that folks took their wagons to the blacksmith shop, where they removed the wheels, put 2x12 runners on the spindles and created make-shift sleds to transport feed.

"There probably wasn't a main-tainer in West Texas," Mr. Oberthier adds; "therefore, they couldn't clear off the roads like they have done this time. If this had been possible, we might have saved many of the cattle."

Most old timers agree, too, that the country was over-stocked when the blizzard struck in '18. For some reason, however, very few stockmen moved out their herds—and the deep snow, followed by continued cold, literally bankrupted many of the early day settlers.

DID DOGS RUN OUT?
 ALBUQUERQUE (AP)—Homer Austry, owner of the New Mexico Dog Food Co., had had luck and a little unfavorable publicity for his business when he reported to police that his four Dalmatian dogs had disappeared from his home.

OUT OF PLACE
 DANBURY, Conn. (AP)—Police said that when Daniel J. Kelly, 50, of Brewster, N. Y., got out of his car to see what made three tires go flat, he was a thousand feet from the nearest road, 62 feet of the way across an 87-foot railroad trestle over Still River, and 12 feet below his car.

Stepping from his car, he had fallen to a sand bar in the river. He still was sitting there when they found him, police said.

LETTER TO THE EDITOR

Reader Sees No Need For Building New Nurses Home

Dear Editor:

I see where our Commissioners are advertising for bids on a new nurses' home at the hospital. Instead of spending a large sum of bonded money to build a nurses' home, I suggest they brick veneer the present nurses' home and roof it with asbestos shingles, and that would make a fine home since the interior of that building is nice and has steam heat, nice oak floors, etc.

To wreck that building would mean a great loss to the county and be an act of real extravagance, it seems to me.

Why not try to keep some of the tax burden off the backs of our people?

I suggest we discuss this with our Commissioners and our Hospital Board. I am sure they want to represent the tax payers of this County and to carry out their wishes. Since the nurses pay no rent for their rooms, I don't think they would be too hard to please.

Very truly,
 F. H. Oberthier

mentary school principal, high school principal, school superintendent, deputy state superintendent and director of school census and statistics in the State Department of Education. He has been serving in his present capacity as director of research and records at TSTA for the past five years.

Galyean has a B. S. degree from North Texas State College, a master of education degree from SMU, and holds a permanent teacher's certificate and administrator's certificate. He is a member of local, state and national professional organizations, a Mason, and a member of Phi Delta Kappa, professional fraternity for men in education.

CARD OF THANKS
 We wish to extend our thanks and appreciation to the Hereford Police Department, County Sheriff's Department, Hereford Implement Company, Hereford Creamery, Hereford Laundry, Thomas Food Store, Coopers Market and all the others who were so good about supplying us with groceries, milk, laundry and getting the snow from around the building so they could deliver these things to us. The Deaf Smith County Hospital.

CARD OF THANKS
 Thanks to old Red Schneider at the Tasty Drive Inn for the free coffee to us Highway boys while working day and night clearing the long needed snow from the highways, which took about 10 days. Thanks again Red, it sure was appreciated.

By Jimmie Gillentine

Things are beginning to settle down. People are still talking about the big snow, but a few are switching over to things like fried chicken and cherry ice cream. Boy, Oh Boy, I can hardly wait until 1976. Maybe there will come a 12 or 14 inch—and that will be my cue. I'll lean back and start telling folks about '55. What's more, I'll never admit that any other snow storm was half as bad.

I really envied G. W. Brumley in his article in the Thursday paper. That's just what I want to do when that 14-incher comes in '76. However, it sounds like Mr. G. W. was 100 percent right in his article. Clay Angelo verifies every word—except he thinks it stayed on the ground 90 days or longer.

Clay was a young boy then; and he was working for Mr. Brumley. He says Mr. G. W. did have the best span of horses that ever pulled a load of salt. During the big snow, Mr. Brumley hitched up this spanking pair and dispatched Clay to town for a load of feed. Clay says that E. W. Harrison ran the elevator now operated by John Pitman—and had a wagon yard in connection; he pulled up in the yard and wrapped the lines through the hub and spokes of the wheel, which was the custom of the day. Clay then went in and arranged for the load of feed. He came out in a few minutes to find that the team and wagon were gone. He finally located the wagon at the present intersection of Highways 60 and 51, also the harness.

There was a steel light post, set in concrete, in the middle of the intersection. Clay recalls. The team had straddled the post—one horse on each side—but they kept on going. They pulled the post up by the roots, concrete and all, and broke the heavy duty leather harness. When they got back to the Brumley farm they still had on their collars, and the broken lines were dangling from them.

"Me!" said Clay. "I was just a kid—and I was scared to death! I'll bet Mr. Brumley remembers it well. Yes, Sir, this was the best team I ever saw. They could pull anything, anywhere, anytime. But they did have one bad habit. They would run away. They were so strong it was maybe the only way they could get any real exercise."

It's Boy Scout Week, delayed due to weather conditions, and I heard a TV joke which fits the occasion. The little Scout was helping ladies across the street, when along came a woman who had never been to the city before. She was afraid to step on the street car tracks and asked the little fellow if it wouldn't electrocute her.

"No, Ma'am," replied the little fellow, "not unless you throw your other leg across that trolley wire up there."

Had a nice letter from Corrine Neeley, who figured I was trying to get her in the dog house. As usual, Corrie was mighty nice and considerate, though. We lost the letter somewhere, but I remember that she didn't have to spend the night in the hotel, after all; Neeleys took a taxi home.

Cliff Acker is beginning to believe in advertising. He has had several takers on the snow shoveling deal. No one is anxious to contest him, but quite a few people would like to engage his services to help shovel out their driveways. "He's the boy I've been looking for," said Ross Fuller, one of the first to take advantage of Cliff's vast experience with a bid. Jim Lipscomb is also trying to horn in on this deal. Jim says that he was Cliff's assistant when Cliff was janitor at the bank—and he thought that Cliff gave him most of the snow shovelling detail. He says the worst job, however, was when they used to get money in big sheets. "Cliff and I would sit back there with a pair of sharp scissors and cut the bills apart. What's more, if we got one a little bit crooked, Mr. G. A. F. Parker would give us a fit."

This, needless to say, is far enough back that neither of the two will have to worry about the draft.

A FRAME-UP, and no doubt about it. Got a card from Howard Gault down at Guymas, Old Mexico; like the one from Gaylord Newell, it merely says: "Having a wonderful time. Wish you were here!" What are these yokels trying to do to me? It looks as if they are trying to raise my blood pressure to the point where I will want to catch some of those 150 pound fish; but it won't work. Not this time. I have already talked to my wife and three bankers. They all say, "No."

Mrs. Q. N. Lewis, who now lives in Springfield, Mo., ran across a reprint of an 1849 sale bill, which she sent to her son, Art Lewis. The bill indicates that people lived far different from today—and, perhaps, that they may even have had a lot more fun. It follows:

"SALE"

"Having sold my farm and am leaving for Oregon Territory by ox team, will offer on March 1, 1849, all of my personal property to wit: All ox teams except two teams, Buck and Ben and Tom and Jerry; two cows; 1 gray mare and colt; 2 ox carts; 1 iron plow, with wood sole board.

"800 feet of popular weather boards; 1000 three-foot clapboards; 1500 feet fence rails; one 80-gallon soap kettle; 85 sugar troughs, made of white ash timber; 10 gallons of maple syrup; 2 spinning wheels; 30 pounds of mutton tallow; 20 pounds of beef tallow.

"1 large broom made by Jerry Wilson; 300 poles; 100 split hoops; 100 empty barrels; one 32-gallon barrel of Johnson-Miller whiskey, 7 year old; 20 gallons of apple brandy, one 40-gallon copper still; four sides of oak tanned leather; 1 dozen real books; 2 handle hooks; 3 scythes and cradles; one dozen wooden pitchforks; one-half interest in tanyard; seven 32-calibre rifles; bullet molds and powder horn; rifle made by Ben Miller; 50 gallons soft soap; hams, bacon and lard; 50 gallons sorghum molasses; six head fox hounds, all soft mouthed except one.

"At the same time I will sell my six Negro slaves—2 men, 35 and 50 years old; 2 boys, 12 and 18 years old; 2 mulatto wenches, 40 and 30 years old; will sell all together to same party, as will not separate them. Terms of sale, cash in hand, or note to draw 4 percent interest with Bob McConnel as security. My home is in McConn's ferry pike. Sale will begin at 8:00 a.m. Plenty to eat and drink."

Lots of people are talking about this new "fluoridant" tooth paste. Surely, it must be based on the Hereford story. The depot they show is not familiar, but the sign reads suspiciously like "Hereford." I am sure Hereford is that "little town in Texas" to which they always refer. Bill Lenderman says that he and Jim Witherspoon have written the company for details. Meanwhile, I would suggest that everyone read those directions and "caution" signs on the sample tubes which flooded this area. Dr. H. A. Caviness promised to check this angle for me, but he was in the hospital this week. I haven't heard from him.

Ernest Langley, James W. Witherspoon, John D. Alkin and Wayne Thomas attended a legal institute sponsored by the State Bar of Texas and the 69th Judicial District Bar Association which was held at the Sneed Hotel in Dumas Saturday. The institute covers the subject of the new Texas probate code.

Virgil Dodson Is Member Of Water District Board

Marvin Shurbet, Route 1, Petersburg, in Floyd County, was elected to serve as Chairman of the Board of Directors of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District No. 1, for the coming year. The election was held during a regular meeting of the Board in Lubbock, Feb. 9, 1936.

W. M. Sherley, Lazbuddie, in Parmer County, was elected to serve as vice chairman and W.O. Fortenberry, Lubbock, was elected to serve as secretary treasurer.

Gus Parish, Springlake, in Lamb County, and Virgil E. Dodson, Hereford, in Deaf Smith County complete the five-man Board of Directors.

Calliopian Club Studies Treasures In Furniture

Calliopian Study Club met with Mrs. B. F. Cain Thursday evening with Mrs. Dick Barnard presenting the program on "World Treasures in Furniture." She confined her discussion to antique furniture for the most part, telling how to discern the good or bad in furniture and how to study trends. She concluded by saying "Fortunately the enjoyment of a fine piece of furniture does not depend on knowing exactly when or by whom it was made. A knowledge of its style and the approximate date when it was made is generally sufficient for the amateur collector."

Special guests present were Mrs. Fred Cunningham and Mrs. Buck

Overall. Members attending the meeting were Mesdames J. R. Fowlkes, W. L. Davis Jr., Dick Barnard, Alton Fraser, J. T. Gilbreath Jr., Roy Grubbs, J. E. Kirby, Earnest Langley, D. C. Morter, W. J. Messick, M. W. Nobles, Carl Perrin, L. B. Russett, J. W. Witherspoon, Elizabeth Womble, N. E. Milburn and the hostess.

Students Sell Stock, Organize Own Corporation

AP Newsfeatures
WYANDOTTE, Mich. — Future captains of industry may emerge from a group of 24 high school students here who have formed their own company and are building a deluxe version of a 1956 automobile.
The project is believed to be one of the most ambitious in the history of the Junior Achievement program. The group is made up of 12 boys and 12 girls ranging in age from 15 to 19 who have formed their own corporation, selling 2000 shares of stock at 50 cents each to finance the project. When additional funds are needed they will sell the remaining 500 authorized shares and then borrow $500 from the Junior Achievement bank. The entire project is expected to cost $1750.
The young industrialists expect to sell their car at a profit when it is completed.
Carl Szejda, 16, an honor student at Roosevelt High School, is president of the company. The car is being built in a 1000 - square-foot plant rented for $10 a month with the cooperation of the Marine and Industrial Engine division of Chrysler Corp., which also has loaned the students tools and other equipment.
The car will be called the "Royal Achiever" and is expected to be sold for close to $4000. It will have all the latest equipment, including power steering and brakes, heater and radio with rear seat speaker, directional signals, whitewall tires, power seats and windows and many other accessories.
The engine will be a Dodge V-8 of 230 horsepower. The body will have a special paint job, using the Junior Achievement colors, blue and gold. The engine will be painted gold and will have many of its parts chrome-plated. All work on the car is being done by the boys of the company, while the girls handle accounting and secretarial work. The wage rate is 10 cents an hour, with time and a half — 15 cents — for Saturday work. Work is limited to two hours a week, and the car is expected to be completed by the middle of April.
Profits of the corporation will be distributed among the 24 members of the company, who also are directors, and as dividends among the more than 600 stockholders. Like all Junior Achievement projects, the company will be liquidated in May.
Other officers of the company include Randy Peterson, vice president; Joan Carie, secretary; and Tom Szeles, treasurer.

A LIMERICK LIMERICK
CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP) — A British freighter arriving here inspired this verse in "The Charleston News & Courier":
"There is a small ship from Great Britain
"At Columbus Street she is sitting"
Her name, if you cared,
"And please be prepared,
"Is the Limerick, and so this is written."

KICKS FOR COPS
ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) — Richard Archuleta told police he kicked in the door of the cleaning establishment to get police help the quickest way. He was waiting at the door as police answered a burglar alarm. He said a group of boys had beaten him and he wanted a police officer — and quick!

wood, attorney and District Attorney for 35th Judicial District; Jim Lindsey, 29, Texarkana, attorney and member and speaker of the House of Representatives of Texas; Dr. William Stewart McBirnie, Jr., 35, San Antonio, minister; and William Bellamy, 35, San Antonio, a newspaper executive.

Dalhart Wolves Bite Whitefaces

Hammett Is Instrumental In Victory

Hereford's crippled Whitefaces fell prey to the hungry Dalhart Wolves to the tune of 67-57 Friday night at Dalhart, while Lanky Jim Curtsinger dazzled fans by scoring 40 points in leading the Hereford "B" to a crushing victory.

The Whitefaces were playing without the services of two main stringers, sharp-shooting LeRoy Morrison and tall Terry Higgins. Dalhart had once before beaten the Whitefaces by a five-point margin.

Dalhart never trailed. They took the opening lead and built a comfortable margin. One time briefly in the third quarter Hereford caught fire and tied the score at 33-33, but the Wolves quickly did away with it and proceeded to build another lead.

Bobby Hammett had one of his better nights as he paced the improved Wolves. He dunked in 27 points, mostly on jump shots from inside the keyhole.

The Whitefaces never did get going well before their march was halted. Dalhart's zone defense offered a perplexing problem to the Whiteface offensive charges, while the Wolves seemed to solve the Herd man-to-man.

Hereford never found their eye quarter. Paced by Bobby Gray, Larry Womble and Hammett, Dalhart kept a steady stream of basketballs flowing through the basket.

Gray got the Wolves going with a field goal. Then he sank a free shot before ripping the nets for another fielder. Norman Bookout broke the ice for Hereford with a pair of free shots to make the score 5-2.

Dalhart went on to build up a substantial lead of 17-7 at the completion of the initial quarter.

The second quarter was somewhat of a different story, but the Wolves managed to maintain the lead which they gained in the first period. However, the Whitefaces scored 18 points compared to 12 scored by Dalhart to gain six points in the scoring column. Score at the end of the initial half was 29-25 with Dalhart in the fore.

Dalhart thundered back in the third quarter to gain back five of those six points, scoring 20 tallies, as Hereford scored 15. Hammett had his "hay-day" in this stanza, dunking in 10 points.

Dalhart made only a small gain in the final quarter. They outscored the Whitefaces, who popped in 17 points, with 18 points to wind up the final score.

The Wolves shot 59 times, mostly from inside. Of those 59 shots they connected for 26 field goals for a fine percentage of .441. The Hereford Whitefaces shot 57 times and made 20 field goals for an average of .351.

This game was the last for the Whitefaces before entering the district tournament to be held here starting Wednesday, Feb. 15.

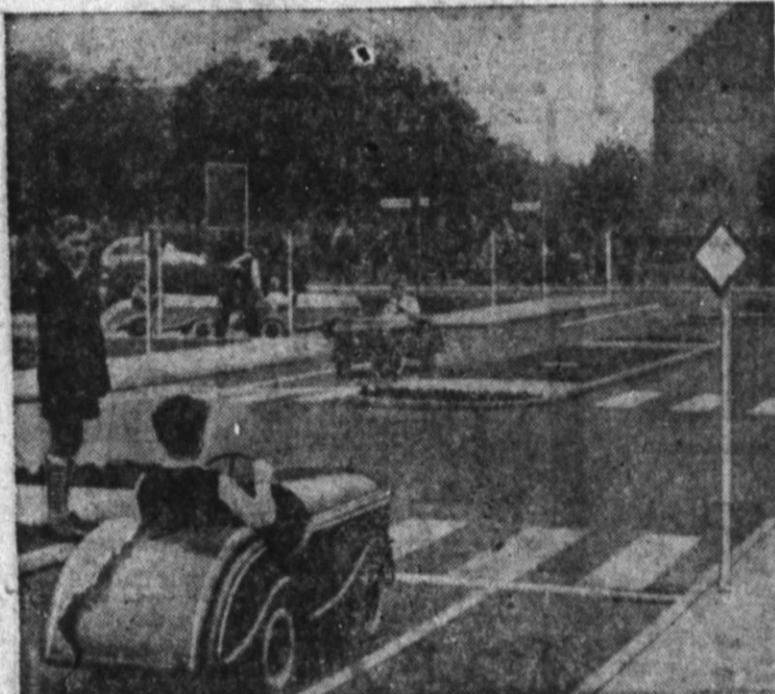

Friday Is World Day Of Prayer

The seventieth World Day of Prayer observance, sponsored by the United Council of Church Women all over the nation, will be observed in Hereford Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock in the First Presbyterian Church.

Theme for this year's observance will be "One Flock-One Shepherd" and the program will be presented by ministers of the city.

Germans Try Auto Kindergarten

FOR SAFETY — German children learn traffic safety in special Berlin kindergarten.

By REINHOLD ENSZ
BERLIN (AP)—To combat one of the highest auto accident rates in the world, Germany is turning to a variation of the kindergarten, the kinderverkehrsgarten.

Translated, "kinderverkehrsgarten" means "traffic kindergarten." One of the most elaborate of the kinderverkehrsgarten recently began operating in West Berlin. It is a far cry from what Germany's Friedrich Froebel probably had in mind when he founded the world's first kindergarten in 1840.

West Berlin's kinderverkehrsgarten is a maze of pint-size streets, traffic lights, street signs, pedestrian crossings and youthful cops. It covers an area of about one square block.

The streets are capable of accommodating dozens of bicycles and pedal-powered miniature automobiles. A student has to be more than nine years before he is allowed to take a vehicle into the kinderverkehrsgarten. The garden is carefully planned down to the last realistic detail. It even includes red and white construction barricades, thus taking into account the fact that many German streets are partially blocked by postwar building projects.

And all of the traffic signs are easily interchangeable, so that students are always kept on their toes. About the only concession to childish whims are the street names: Wolf Alley, Cinderella Boulevard, Mermaid Street, Dwarf-nose Way, and Elf Place.

The garden, together with those planned or building in West Germany, is seen as a partial answer to one of Germany's toughest problems: how to train drivers when the average family seldom owns a car?

The relative scarcity of family cars has resulted in Germany's having a pronounced shortage of good drivers, and a bad accident rate. German police officials readily acknowledge that the skill of the average German driver lags far behind that of his counterpart in such countries as England or the United States.

During the short business session plans were made for the annual husbands party which will be held Feb. 16. A contribution to the local Red Cross was made.

Mrs. Joe Lyons presented the program on "How To Buy a Piano" telling what to look for in selecting a good piano and how to keep the instrument in good condition.

Members of the club attending the session were Mesdames John Estes, Jack Brown, V. C. Hopson, Joe Lyons, Stanley Slagle, Bill Hardwick, Oliver Streu, Darrell Blanton, H. A. Cavness, Wayne Thomas and the hostess.

ANIMAL TRAIL

FAIRBANKS, Alaska (AP)—A "be-ware of the moose and buffalo" warning has been issued to drivers on the Alaska Highway.

The Fish and Wildlife Service has appealed to motorists for extreme caution because heavy snow has driven the animals to the open highway.

The game officials criticized drivers who drive the animals ahead of them at a gallop. They said the exhaustion and overheating in the subzero cold can cause death.

They told of an incident last week in which a moose galloped onto a bridge ahead of a car, was panicked by a car coming from the opposite direction and was killed in a leap onto the river ice below.

"Take it easy and give the animals a chance," the game officials admonished.

Besides, a meeting with a moose around a sharp turn in the road doesn't do a radiator any good.

gressional delegation had a get-together luncheon in the Senate restaurant, in a private side room. Some 30 or more of the aides were present, and when they were about over with the meal Joe Bailey Swanner, secretary to Rep. O. C. Fisher of San Angelo, got up to remind his associates that the bill was $1.50, plus a 15 cent tip. The waiter, in the room at the time, spoke up: "We get 25 cent tips in this room." He did.

Dallas Republican Congressman Bruce Alger in his weekly newsletter wrote: "City dwellers, paying twice for food (in the store and in taxes), have a right to be critical of the tax subsidy, even though sympathetic, knowing the farmers' well-being is basic to everyone's prosperity."

men, in an understatement, he added: "There apparently is no simple course out of such a bewildering maze."

Lacey Sharp, secretary to Central Texas Rep. Bob Poage, was driving to work along one of the fast divided highways leading into Washington from Virginia suburbs when he was whammed from the rear and knocked into the car ahead.

He wasn't hurt, but his ear was $317 worth.

"It was a big Florida citrus truck that banged into me," he complained. "I never had any use for Florida citrus, anyway."

He collected.

Frank Boles, former Waco Methodist Orphanage home boy now on Poage's patronage here as a Door-keeper in the House chamber, also had his share of auto troubles.

Driving back here from Texas after Christmas, he came over a hill and crashed into a car on the highway near Kingsport, Tenn. His car had to be towed to a garage and he got it two weeks later. In it were some of Mrs. Poage's clothes, in suitcases he was carrying for the congressman. The Poages were driving up in another car.

"People around here were beginning to think I owned only one dress and one hat," laughed Mrs. Poage.

Mrs. Opal Farris Roberson, the Temple postmaster, has been here attending a meeting of national officers of the National Association of Postmasters.

She observes, incidentally, that she is a postmaster, not postmistress. She is one of 38,000 in the United States. Besides being a director of the national organization, she is secretary treasurer of the Texas association, which has among its members about 86 percent of the 1,799 postmasters in the state. Of these, 185 are first class; 337, second; 599, third and 678, fourth.

Two Plainview men, Frank Moore and Harold Lafont, testified before the Senate Agriculture Committee on behalf of a group of West Texas and New Mexico grain sorghum producers.

They appeared primarily to urge a 90 percent of parity price support for feed grains, but the committee got off on to a discussion of farm credit. Answering a question

CONFEDERATES MARCH
CHARLESTON, S. C. (AP)—The Confederate gray is marching again to martial music.

The Charleston High School band has new uniforms that are exact copies of those worn as dress grays by the Army of the Confederate States of America.

The uniforms were a gift of the local Lions Club. A uniform in the museum of the Daughters of the Confederacy was copied.

UNDERPAID THIEVES
COOLIDGE, Ariz. (AP)—Burglars were determined that the effort they put into breaking into a drive-in theater was not to go unrewarded.

They found only two cents in the cash box.

They took it.

Lafont said hard-pressed farmers in that area, with not much collateral to put up, had to pay 8 percent interest on loans.

"If they are paying 8 percent interest," commented Sen. Thye (R-Minn.), "I don't know how they can keep going."

Johnson And Daniel Fight For Gas Bill

By TEX EASLEY
AP Special Washington Service
WASHINGTON, (AP)—Texas side-lights during Senate debate on the natural gas bill.

Senate Majority Leader Lyndon Johnson quietly sitting back, calling the signals on the floor and letting three colleagues lead the arguments for passage—Sens. Fulbright (D-Ark), Monroney (D-Okla.) and Price Daniel (D-Tex.).

Daniel, specializing in the legal aspects, had Jake Jacobsen sitting on the floor by his side when he made his principal address. Now administrative assistant to the senator, Jacobsen was an assistant attorney general of Texas when Daniel was the state "A.G."

Up in the gallery as the debate continued day after day were Bill Russell, Dallas, former state Democratic executive now with oil and gas interests; former Lieut. Gov. Walter Woodul of Houston; Ed Clark, Austin lawyer.

Illustrating his point that the distributors and not the producers get the lion's share of what the consumer pays for gas, Daniel displayed on the Senate floor a chart showing—that in Richmond, Va., a thousand cubic feet of gas cost the householder $1.53. A break down showed the retail distributor got about $1 of this, the producer only 32 1/2 cents.

"Why the producer's share is less percentage wise than you pay the waiter downstairs," said Daniel, referring to the Senate restaurant a floor below.

Considerably less, he could have proved. Only the day before the male secretaries of the Texas con-

Garcia News

By MRS. S. N. THWEATT

February came in with a bang. Old man winter came the first day of February with snow and high north wind and never slowed until Saturday night, dumping more snow than people had seen in a number of years. There are drifts from six inches to 10 feet, maybe higher. No effectual measurement has been made, but my guess would be between 10 and 12 inches. No one is complaining even though the cattlemen have had or still are having a hard time getting feed and water to the cattle. The only way is by tractor and then it takes time and brains to keep from getting stuck.

No report of any dead cattle except for maybe a few new born calves.

Bruce Coleman spent most of Saturday on his tractor getting food to a hired hand living on C. Q. Smith's farm and also getting groceries to Mr. and Mrs. Henry Irbeck.

Mr. and Mrs. James Coleman and three sons, Teddy Ray, Rex and Joe, left Thursday afternoon for Oklahoma City to see Mrs. Coleman's mother and father. They plan on spending Thursday night in Elk City with Coleman's grandmother. We hope they had no trouble making the trip.

Mrs. S. N. Thweatt talked long distance Saturday night to her sister in Levelland. Everyone was well and from the report they had more snow than here.

N. A. Brown had a long distance call from his brother in Electra Sunday morning, saying they had about four inches of snow.

There hasn't been any mail delivered on Route 2 since Thursday morning of last week up until Tuesday noon of this week.

I'm sure you'd say the Ground Hog saw his shadow, because the sun did shine for a minute or so about the middle of the afternoon Feb. 2.

Frank Ford used the haylift. He called Gene Southall, Potter Co. Agriculture Agent, Tuesday morning and had hay sent to his ranch, north of Bootleg. The plane reached the ranch around 1:30 or 2 p.m. Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Thweatt, Mrs. Floyd Brown and three small boys, Earl, Roger and Tommie, and Frank, and his laborer all watched the drop. It was very interesting to see the bales of hay fall from the plane which was around 500 feet high. They were dropped south of Frank's house in a pasture where his cattle were. Most of the bales broke when they hit the ground. They would drop five or six bales at a run. They dropped around 50 bales in all.

Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Brown and Mr. and Mrs. Eldred Brown were in Amarillo Tuesday. They reported the roads were in fair shape. Brown went for a check up.

The road men got the road opened to Hereford Monday night with the help of a snow plow. Seems the more they worked, the worse the job grew. The man on the snow plow was from Dalhart and Durmas. Monday at 1 p.m. when he was at Bootleg, he had been on the job four days and nights and had only had three hours of sleep. That was one more tired man. He was too tired to eat, we gave him a glass of milk. He went to Hereford Monday night around 10 but was on the job again Tuesday morning and worked all night and was at Bootleg Wednesday morning at day break. Our county road men have been wonderful, they have worked all days when the wind blew the snow so that they could hardly see. The community as a whole wish to extend their thanks and appreciation for such good work of these men.

There were lots of people from the community in Hereford Tuesday buying groceries. They were preparing for this storm that started Wednesday morning. Snow is falling and wind from the north.

Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Coleman took their daughter Cinda to the Doctor Wednesday morning. She was sick all night Tuesday night. They will stay in Hereford until the weather clears with Mrs. Coleman's sister, Mrs. S. Brown.

Operators Given 'All The Credit' By Mrs. Sears

In reporting on the snow storm last Sunday, The Brand paid tribute to the telephone operators, who overcame difficulties to continue service in the face of emergency and, in addition, said that Chief Operator Marie Sears missed several meals while in the transportation business.

"The girls did do a wonderful job," says Mrs. Sears. "and I wish I could honestly take credit for the transporting of personnel. However, I was not even able to be at work on Feb. 4-5 and, therefore, could not have done as you said."

Like other residents of the entire area, Mrs. Sears added her personal appreciation for the manner in which the crews kept lines open during the entire storm, but she definitely declares, "The girls deserve all of the credit, not me."

Jim Miller of Wisconsin led the Big Ten in punt returns during 1955 with an average of 15.8 yards per return.

Look Who's New!

Marilyn Kay, born Feb. 10, is the new daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Alvin Schmueker. She weighed five pounds and 12 1/2 ounces. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Schmueker of Nazareth.

Mr. and Mrs. L. F. Shannon have a new son, Ray Earl, born Feb. 10. He weighed seven pounds and 10 ounces. Paternal grandmother is Mrs. H. J. Shannon of Amarillo and maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. B. E. Sinclair of Hereford.

Deborah Louise, born Feb. 10, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Evans. She weighed seven pounds and three ounces. Paternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. Drury Evans of Stevenson, Ala., and maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. M. D. Bearden of Bridgeport, Ala.

Ricky, born Feb. 9 and weighing six pounds and nine and one-half ounces, is the new son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Poarch. Paternal grandmother is Mrs. Mary Poarch and maternal grandparents are Mr. and Mrs. D. Y. Edwards.

Dorothy Mae, born Feb. 9, is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray Smith. She weighed seven pounds and five ounces. Paternal grandfather is A. E. Smith of Wilson, Okla., and maternal grandmother is Mrs. M. G. Layman of Hereford.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Coneway have an eight pound and 10 ounce son, born Feb. 11. Paternal grandfather is Ray Coneway of Hereford.

Five mothers with 18 children among them compete in a bowling team in the Independence, Mo., Senior League.

COYOTES DRY OUT
MANHATTAN, Kan. (AP)—Kansas' protracted drought is proving a bane not only for the wheat State's farmers, but also for the farmers' foes, the coyotes.
H. T. Gier, Kansas State College zoologist, reports the state's coyote population has dropped from 70,000 to less than 40,000 in the past five years. Gier says dry summers have reduced cover, thereby making coyotes more vulnerable to hunters.

The Valentine Story

Women's Activities

Hereford, Texas, Sunday, February 12, 1936

SECTION 2

MEMORIES ARE MADE OF THIS—Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lemons, who will celebrate their fifteenth wedding anniversary Feb. 13, were married in Claude in 1941. The center picture shows the Lemons as they appear today, and the two small pictures were taken on their wedding day. They came to Hereford in 1943 from Panhandle and he is now engaged in farming. They have three children, Beth, 14, Kay, 12, and Charles Robert, 8.

-- See Stories Inside --

BE MY VALENTINE—In the picture above is Miss Sylvia McCracken, whose forthcoming marriage to Pat McCullough on March 31 was announced formally at a tea given in the McCracken home Saturday afternoon.

LOVE AND MARRIAGE—Pictured above is Mrs. Delbert Amos, the former Miss Eleanor Dunnam, who became the bride of Mr. Amos in recent Houston rites.

Black-Eyed Pea Man Wants One-Cent Card

By Tim Parker
Associated Press Staff
Elmore R. Torn, the black-eyed pea man from Taylor, Tex., has served fair warning he is taking on a new hobby—trying to get the penny postcard back.

This is the man who persuaded Yankees to take to the Southern tradition of eating black-eyed peas on New Year's Day to insure a year's good luck. Maybe you and Uncle Sam—had better listen to him.

It wouldn't be like the old postcard. Its use would be restricted to handwritten messages, of the kind that usually begin: "Dear Aunt Martha: I arrived on time and Mom says to please send the gloves I left."

No washing-machine plugs, in fact no machine-printed advertising messages of any kind. No forwarding. No "directory service" the Post Office wouldn't look up Aunt Martha's address and get your card to her if you left the address off the card.

"I would call it a 'correspondence card,' not a postal card," says Torn. "The plain people are entitled to an inexpensive way of dropping a line to some member of their family."

Torn thinks the penny postal was abandoned principally because it was abused by merchandising houses which used it in mass-mailed advertising.

Torn, a respected agricultural economist, says it's not a spur-of-the-moment idea.

"Two or three years ago I wrote a letter to Postmaster General Arthur Summerfield," he said. "But I didn't mail it. I stuck it in my roll-top desk here in Taylor. I wasn't sure I wanted to take on something else."

"But as you get older—I'm 49, you sort of take stock of things you've wanted to do. The other day I got that letter out, read it over, put a date on it, and mailed it."

The letter tells Summerfield: "We all know the importance of the old 1-cent postal card to millions, who dropped a written line or two to friends and relatives concerning their health and happiness. It has been sorely missed."

Torn suggested a "distinctive color" for the post card, "such as a light, pale green." He suggested it wouldn't get directory service.

Torn asked Summerfield's serious consideration of the suggestion and signed off with this fair warning.

"I am today and forthwith talking on as a hobby and project" the restoration of the penny postal.

Torn is president of the National Black-eyed Pea Assn., and in recent months has enrolled members from almost every state, even though each applicant must pledge himself to extol black-eyed peas as a subject for frequent conversation.

John Doyle Gilbert, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Gilbert Jr., also has the measles.

Iverson Leake of Canyon was an unexpected guest in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Alban Beizer several days last week when the snow stranded several in the community.

Taylor Harle and Melvin Cook of Vega spent Saturday night with Mr. and Mrs. A. F. Marnell, when they were stranded on Highway 51. Mr. and Mrs. Harry Coffin, Bill, June and Jeannie were caught in the storm at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leon Coffin and were not able to get to Hereford from Thursday until Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Lloyd, Bill, Beth and Vicki of Friona spent from Wednesday until Tuesday with Mr. and Mrs. Lewis West on account of the snow.

Mr. and Mrs. Bill West were snowbound in Hereford and spent the time with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Neil, and friends, Mr. and Mrs. Doyal Guice.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Coffin went to Albuquerque week before last for her mother, Mrs. Mattie Grogan, who is here to spend several weeks with the Coffins. They drove home just ahead of the storm.

The Same Wests had the misfortune of having their home flooded Monday when a frozen pipe burst while they were in Hereford.

TYPO IS A SIN

NEW ULM, Minn. (AP)—One of the entries in a local queen contest listed her hobbies as "aiming, reading and dancing."

SOBER BARBERS
PHOENIX, Ariz. (AP)—A law was introduced in the state legislature to make it a crime for barbers to drink while at work. It was introduced by two lawmakers who are barbers.

CARD OF THANKS

We wish to express our appreciation and our thanks to Mr. Thomas of Thomas Food Store, who was so good about delivering food and medicine especially, to the Leo Gallagher's, 25 miles northwest of Hereford, during the snow storm. We had to pull him by tractor about 1/2 mile, but Mr. Thomas drove over the icy roads to deliver the medicine and food.

LAKE BECOMING DESERT OF SILT — While other sections of the country are having unusually heavy rain or snow fall, the weather in Texas remains extremely dry. Here skeletons of sunken boats, now high and dry on the bottom of White Rock Lake in Dallas, disclose the condition of the lake. The water level is now about 6 feet below the spillway because of lack of rain and withdrawals to supplement the city's water supply. (AP Photo)

Miss Sylvia McCracken Will Be Bride Of Pat McCullough

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McCracken have announced the forthcoming marriage of their daughter, Miss Sylvia McCracken, to Pat McCullough, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McCullough.

Formal announcement of the engagement and March 31 wedding, was made at a tea given Saturday afternoon by the bride-elect's mother in the McCracken home.

The wedding will take place in the First Methodist Church sanctuary and a reception will be given in Fellowship Hall.

Blue and white color theme, colors chosen for the wedding, was established throughout the entertaining area in hearts and flowers to reveal the news of the romance. The refreshment table was laid with a white Madras outwork linen cloth and centered with two large white hearts with touches of powder blue net bearing the names "Sylvia — Pat," in silver. At the base of the heart Dan Cupid held wide blue satin streamers with the inscription "March 31" done in silver glitter. Flanking flame tipped tapers in candelabra gave rose-tinted accent to the white rosebuds and blue spring blossoms backing the hearts.

the receiving line were Mrs. McCracken, the bride-elect and the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. Ralph McCullough.

Mrs. Ray McCullough and Mrs. Sam Steele presided alternately at the silver coffee service and Mrs. Bob West of Fort Sumner, and Mrs. James Killian of Lubbock alternated in serving cake.

Mrs. James Burdett of Lubbock and Kay Barnard assisted guests in signing the guest book, and informal piano music was presented during the calling hours by Mrs. Glenn Snyder, Mrs. Cliff Estes, Mrs. Bill Brady and Barbara Sue Rogers.

Mrs. C. V. Burges and Mr. and Mrs. Clint Lundry drove to Andrews last Wednesday because of the illness of Mrs. Sam Stanford, daughter of Mrs. Burges and sister of Clint Lundry. Mrs. Burges remained with her daughter until Monday when the Stanfords brought her home. The Lundrys just made a one day trip.

Homer Hershey returned to A&M last Friday. He accompanied his mother, Mrs. H. L. Hershey, home Tuesday and spent between semesters at home.

Mr. and Mrs. Doyal Guice and daughter, Anita Kay, visited Wednesday evening with the Lewis Wests and Mr. and Mrs. Bill West. Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Carmichael were in Canyon Wednesday. Mrs. Carmichael had an appointment with her dentist.

Dorothy Jean and David Marnell, children of Mr. and Mrs. F. A. Marnell, have been ill with the measles.

HEADS NEWSPAPERMEN—Rod J. Watts, managing editor of the Houston Chronicle, was elected president of the Texas Associated Press Editors Association at their annual meeting in Dallas. He succeeds Roy Parr, managing editor of the Amarillo Globe News.

Beauty At Home

Q. How can I "prolong the life" of my fingernail polish?

A. By applying two coats of polish, which not only adds to the intensity of the color, but also prolongs its life. Be sure to wait until the first coat is dry before applying the second. Also be sure to remove a hairline of polish from the tip of the nail with the thumb of the opposite hand to seal the polish. When the second coat has dried, finish up the job with a clear top coat.

Q. Is there any way, while shampooing, to induce more gloss into my hair?

A. Try adding the beaten white of an egg to your regular shampoo.

Q. Can you suggest a remedy for a pale and colorless complexion?

A. A good complexion stimulator is a honey mask. Pat some honey in a thin film over face and throat. Leave on 15 minutes, then remove with a damp cloth.

Q. What are some make-up hints for the girl with a long, thin face and thin neck?

A. This type is most flattered by a soft, broken hairline that points slightly away from the face, ending in a squared outline above the temples. Look for bold, dramatic jewelry and high necklines. Pill-boxes or small sailors are good, or smartly-tailored brimmed hats with straight crowns. Small, trim collars are good.

Q. What is a good, simple abdomen-reducing exercise?

A. Sit on floor, legs outstretched before you, and bend forward, grasping the toes while you keep your knees straight and stiff.

Q. How can I make an effective repair of a split fingernail?

A. Cut a bit of fine, old handkerchief linen to the size needed, and paste this down over the split with the same kind of cement you use with false fingernails. A well-applied patch will remain intact for a week, giving the nail time to grow and gain strength.

Q. I dislike shaving off the hairs on my legs. Is there a quick and easy way I can bleach them?

A. You can use peroxide of hydrogen, or a mixture of one part ammonia to six parts of hydrogen.

Q. How can I treat a skin that is dry in some places, and oily in others?

A. Make a map of your face and treat the dry and oily areas separately. Have cleansing lotions and astringents for the oily areas, usually around nose and chin—and dry skin creams for those areas that are dry, usually around eyes and throat.

Q. What is an approved manner of tweezing unwanted hairs from the eyebrows?

A. You can avoid redness and irritation if first you dab on a bit of cold cream and steam open the pores before plucking. Then, aiming at a single hair at a time, deftly pull with a quick, sharp motion, plucking the hair out in the direction in which it grows.

The first District One Basketball Tournament will open here Wednesday with the powerful Phillips Blackhawks favored to retain their title as district champions.

But a six-team field may offer the Hawks plenty of competition in the double-elimination tourney. A team must be defeated twice before they are eliminated.

Five games will open the bracket Wednesday, four are scheduled for Thursday, and two for Friday. If the winner goes through the tourney without a defeat, the championship game will be Friday night at 8 o'clock. If not, the

Writer Suggests Olympic Location

By BILL KNOX
A new sport has caught the fancy of Hereford's young athletes. And it could be that this year's Winter Olympics were held in the wrong place.

That seems to be the general sentiment of Hereford's snow-bound inhabitants. And with promise of more of the white stuff to come, sleds may be bobbing around town for quite a while.

What's more, if a snow such as the one just received could be sure of for 1960, Hereford might be just as good a spot as any for the next Winter Olympics.

Officials of this year's Winter Olympics held in Cortina, Italy, issued reports to the effect that enough snow was not on the ground —apparently the Snow Editor of the Weather Bureau got all confused and dropped the snow on the wrong place—the wrong side of the Atlantic Ocean. At any rate, he over-did the thing somewhat anyway.

The sovereign country of the United States of America didn't fare too well in the winter games, but it could be that they went to the wrong places looking for talent. We didn't see one scout in the Hereford area, and we noticed some mighty fine sleds skimming around town. Too bad the Winter Olympics don't include shoeing snow; we're sure some of Hereford's residents would do well in that category.

When you get to thinking about finals will be Saturday night at 8. First round games will see Phillips take on Shamrock, Hereford and Dumas clash, and Dalhart has battle with Canyon. The winners of the Phillips-Shamrock and Hereford-Dumas games will play and the losers of the Hereford-Dumas and Dalhart-Canyon games will play in other games Wednesday.

Phillips will be the only defeat will go on to meet the winner of district two, probably Tulla, and the winner there will go to the regional tournament. Coach Cubby Kitchens of the Hereford Whitefaces has related moderate optimism about his team's chances. "There are five teams which all have a chance of defeating Phillips," he said. "Any one of those teams could beat Phillips if the Hawks had a bad night."

In their last outing with Philnite favorite in first round games. They play Shamrock. Dumas will be given only a very slight edge over the host Hereford Whitefaces, and Dalhart will be slightly favored over the Canyon Eagles.

This is the first time in many years that a tournament has been held to decide the winner. Previously each team played the other twice in regular conference play. The winner of the tourney the Hereford Whitefaces held the Blackhawks to only a one-point lead at the end of the initial quarter. Since then the Herd has shown marked improvement. Canyon fell to Hereford after winning two games previously.

Dumas had also taken Hereford into camp very easily twice before, but managed only a nine-point margin in their last tussle with the Whitefaces. Hereford has lost twice to Dalhart, but they have not played Perryton or Shamrock.

the bare facts, what has Cortina got to offer that Hereford hasn't? For the ski jump, Pitman Grain Company wouldn't at all mind letting them jump off the elevators. The sleds could zig-zag in and around the parking meters on Main Street for an obstacle course. The Tierra Blanca would make a nice spot for ice skating, and hockey could be played on the swimming pool.

The only difficulty that might arise would be the bobbed race. Of course, Hereford couldn't furnish any mountains or anything like that, but over in Palo Duro Canyon there are some nice little hills which would furnish a suitable substitute.

That's a good project for the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce to work on.

Ice Causes Car To Hit Tractor

Minor damage resulted in a car-tractor accident here Wednesday at 10:15 a.m. at the corner of Third Street and Park Avenue.

A 1955 Mercury, driven by Doryal Lee Young, and a 1946 Ford tractor, driven by Donnie Cowart, collided, police said.

Cowart, driving a tractor with a blade on the rear, was going west on Third Street at a very slow speed. He pulled over to the side of the street into the deep snow so Young could pass. Young's car skidded approximately 20 feet on the ice and hit Cowart's tractor blade with the front fender of his car.

Approximately $75 damage was done to Young's car and no damage to the tractor. No tickets were given.

Hope Of Taking One Game Kept Penn Gridmen Going

By RALPH BERNSTEIN
AP Newsfeatures

defeat? Jim Shada, captain of the 1955 University of Pennsylvania team which lost all nine games, has a five word answer to this vexing question. "Eternal hope of an upset."

Shada has suffered through 18 straight defeats the last two seasons. In fact this 21-year-old native of Allentown, Pa., has to remember way back to October, 1953 for the last time he played on a winning team. Only a season ending tie with Cornell in 1953 brightens the most horrendous era in Penn football history. Twenty-one defeats and a tie has been the Quakers' lot.

Shada, a 170-pound guard, is well qualified to speak for his mates. He took the best that opponents such as Army, Navy, Notre Dame, Ohio State, California, Penn State and Cornell had to offer, and came up determined, if not smiling, the next week.

"As I see it," says Shada, "the main thing that kept our boys working was that we could see improvement in every game. We felt we eventually would improve just enough to win, spring an upset."

"As captain I never had to do

Miss Eleanor Dummam Weds Delbert Amos In Houston

Miss Eleanor Ruth Dummam, daughter of Rev. and Mrs. S. M. Dummam, became the bride of Delbert Amos, son of Mr. and Mrs. Delbert C. Amos of Bellaire, in a recent ceremony performed in St. Paul Methodist Church of Houston.

The double-ring service was read by the bride's two minister brothers, Rev. S. M. Dummam Jr., of Houston and Rev. Harral Dummam of Dallas, assisted by their father who also gave his daughter in marriage.

White wedding tapers in branched candelabra gave soft candlelighting for the early evening ceremony against a background of Commode trees and greenery. James Deming, organist, and Mrs. B. E. Williford, soloist, provided wedding music. "Chorale," "O Perfect Love," and "When Thou Art Near" were presented as a pre-nuptial concert and Bless This House was played softly as vows were exchanged. Mr. Deming also accompanied Mrs. Williford who sang "Entreat Me Not to Leave Thee" preceding the ceremony and "The Lord's Prayer" in conclusion. The traditional wedding marches were used as the processional and recessional.

Mrs. McClure was patron of honor and brides matrons were Mrs. Ann Jeneen, Mrs. S. M. Dummam Jr., and Mrs. B. D. Franklin. They wore waltz length gowns of white lace and tulle and carried arm bouquets of red roses.

The bride wore a gown of white nylon lace and parchment satin for her wedding, styled with lace bodice finished with satin Peter Pan collar. Joining the face bodice was a voluminous satin skirt that swept into a graceful chapel train. The veil of silk illusion in finger length was joined to a feweled satin pill box embroidered in seed pearls. The bridal bouquet carried on a white Bible, was a single white orchid surrounded with stephanotis with cascading streamers.

Mrs. Dummam, the bride's mother, wore a mauve faille suit with matching accessories and the bridegroom's mother wore a blue faille suit with matching accessories. Their corsages were of sweetheart roses.

Reception in Uncle's Home
Following the wedding a reception was held in the home of the bride's aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. A. E. Olson, 3837 Del Monte Drive. Members of the house party included Mrs. Gerald Jones, Miss Olive Joy, Mrs. Felix Girard and Mrs. E. O. Dally.

When the couple left on a brief honeymoon trip to San Antonio the bride was wearing a navy suit of imported wool with navy and white accessories. They are presently making their home in Houston.

The bride is a graduate of Littlefield High School and of McMurry College, Abilene. For the past two years she has been serving as Director of Christian Education at the Bellaire Methodist Church.

Mr. Amos spent four years in the Navy and is now representative for Electro-Tech International, having just returned to the states after establishing offices in The Hague, Holland.

anything unusual to keep the boys up. They believed in themselves despite defeat. It would have been silly to try artificially to help them. They knew we had limited talent and that the opposition was out of our class. Any rash, rash, stuff this would have fallen flat.

"The only time I was worried was after the California game in October. We should have beaten California. But we folded at the end.

"I worried all the way home. But on Monday, the boys came out to start practice for the Princeton game with the same old ginger. I knew we'd be okay from then on in.

Co-Captains Charley Gill, of Mahanoy City, and Pete Koblisch of Glen Lyon, a pair of hardy Pennsylvanians, are confident the sun will come through in the opening game with Penn State. While everyone would like to see it, the more logical prediction is that Penn will lose its first three games to State, Dartmouth and Princeton and that Brown may prove the unwilling victim to end the losing ways.

Penn has a fine freshman team coming up, and as Koblisch puts it, "I'm not worrying about us winning one. I know we'll do that. We'll win at least half our games next fall.

"What I'm concerned about is a sophomore who looks good enough to take away my starting job."

Dotson Farmer Is Master At Making 'Panola Syrup'

DOTSON, TEX., (AP)—Every streamer of Autumn smoke that curled from hilltops and hollows near this East Texas community is assurance there will be another crop of sugar cane syrup.

Not plain sugar cane syrup, but that smooth, old-timey syrup with the tart sweetness which some folks call "Panola syrup." There's nothing else like it.

A master of the art is Leroy Griffin, who works his alchemy in a huge, horseshoe-shaped vat on a hilltop surrounded by pines and oaks. He produced almost 3,000 gallons in the season just closed.

Two Will Be Presented In Song Recital

Two young talented musicians will be presented in a song recital Sunday afternoon February 12 at 3 o'clock.

Sylvia, 9, and Randall, 12, McGee will be presented at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence McGee and all interested friends are invited to attend.

Both are students of singing in the Mattie Mae Swisher studio and are members of the Voco Club. Both made excellent ratings in the National Junior Festival of Music last year.

The program will consist of sacred and art songs, classics and songs of the child's world. Mrs. Cliff Estes will be the accompanist. Assisting on the program will be a trio from Mrs. Olive Hinds piano studio. They will be L-Nelle Short, Theresa Fambrough, and Judy McGee.

Hall of Fame bowler Junie McMahon is part owner of a 24-lane academy at Paramus, N. J.

love being a part of something as creative as turning out first rate syrup.

The cane is cut after the first frost or cold spell, which stops it from growing. It is important that the cane be cut and loaded for syrup-making before a spell of warm weather arrives. Otherwise the cane will sour and the syrup will not have the tart sweetness which makes it "just right".

NAILS
Do... remember that, while some fastening methods have decided advantages over nailing, still some of them surpasses it in handling ease and economy.
Do... get maximum strength, when nailing two pieces of wood together, by having more of the nail in the second or under piece of wood.
Do... use common nails for general construction work, box nails for light construction, finishing nails and brads when they are to be driven below the surface, casing nails for interior trim and cut nails for tough, heavy-duty jobs.
Do... select other types of nails for special purposes, remembering that there are nails specifically made for use in floors, gypsum board, hardboard, wood shingles, asphalt roofing and practically anything else in the building line.

Do... keep your eyes focused on the nail head when hammering, using several blows of moderate force rather than a couple of blows of heavy force.
Do... forget that, when using wood inclined to split easily, blunt the nail points slightly with a hammer and drill pilot holes about half the thickness of the nails.
Do... try to straighten out a nail that bends while being driven into softwood; remove it, and use a new nail.

DON'T... necessarily remove a nail that bends while being driven into hardwood; it may be easier to straighten it with a pliers and continue hammering carefully.

DON'T... overlook the possibility, when working in confined quarters, of starting a nail in a piece of wood by striking it with the flat part of the hammer head rather than the face.

Beauty At Home

Q. What are some makeup hints for the girl with a triangular face and prominent jaws?
A. Hair is best when kept fairly short and neat, using a modified Italian-type of hairdo. Use a very light tone foundation directly on the chin and jawline, going upwards. This will make the chin more prominent, the jaws less so. Mouth should be generous, but avoid the over-lush. Eyebrows should be wide apart, kept fairly full and ending on a natural level.

CELEBRATES BIRTHDAY—Mrs. Fleeda Galley, the mother, grandmother and great-grandmother who took her first airplane ride when she was 86 years old celebrated her 91st birthday Thursday in the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Galley. (Staff Photo)

Mrs. Fleeda Galley Celebrates Her Ninety-First Birthday With Dinner

Mrs. Fleeda Galley celebrated her ninety first birthday Feb. 9, with a dinner in the home of her son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Lester Galley.

She was born Feb. 9, 1865 in Polo, Ill., and when she was six weeks old Mrs. Galley moved to Traer, Iowa, where she was reared and there is where she married the late C. P. Galley, Feb. 1, 1888 and they lived all over the state of Iowa until 1908.

Mrs. Galley recalls a snow storm there in Iowa that covered the fences. She said you could drive over the fences from one field to the other and it was 30 degrees below zero.

She was on a trip one time and saw General Grant's home in Galena, Ill. Mrs. Galley also saw President Harrison when Lester was two years old and Lester put his hand on the president's shoulder.

They came to Dimmitt in 1908 and in 1913 they moved to Hereford, where they lived until 1926 when she returned to Iowa to care for her mother, who lived to be 92.

Following her husband's death in 1934, Mrs. Galley returned to Hereford with her son, Lester, with whom she now makes her home.

She has four boys living, 16 grandchildren and 19 great grandchildren.

Mrs. Galley has been a plains resident for about 46 years and she took her first plane ride when she was 86. She said she was a lot less scared over it than she was her first automobile ride many years earlier.

'Helping Hands' Numerous During Recent Snow Storm

Newspapers, like people, are often prone to criticize and equally slow to praise. Once in a while, though, some group does such outstanding community service as to merit area wide appreciation.

A situation of this sort unquestionably occurred during the past few days when the area became "snowed in," stopping traffic and creating hardships for many individuals.

Deaf Smith County, due to superior equipment and know-how, probably led the parade. Crews ran graders and maintainers night and day. They answered emergency calls and often provided relief where it was needed most. City equipment, along with the sheriff's office and city police, also kept busy. Peace officers manned tractors to carry medicine.

Hereford's telephone operators likewise qualified for meritorious rating as they stuck to their switchboards hour after hour and faced super-human odds in keeping the exchange going. They did this under the handicap of being quite under-staffed when relief operators were unable to get through. The same situation existed at the hospital, where nurses and aids carried on far beyond the call of duty. KPAN, Hereford's radio station, was another institution that forgot all else save community service, when Manager Clint Formby threw open the doors to all announcements in public interest.

Machinery firms sent out tractors and equipment at their own expense to help clear driveways, streets and hazardous drifts. Many of them were manned by volunteers.

The spirit of lending a helping hand soon spread among the individuals. It became an unwritten law to help a man whose car was stuck and would not budge. People called for their mail—and took care of personal delivery to their neighbors. Those who could get out brought in groceries for others; they ran errands and did chores.

Possibly never before has any single occasion found so many Hereford citizens working together toward a common goal. All of this occurred without central direction or extensive planning. It was spontaneous, and it made a difficult situation more bearable. In addition, it emphasized how much can be accomplished through teamwork and 100 percent cooperation.

None of us are asking for additional weather hazards. However, it is nice to know how the citizenship reacts and comes through "when the chips are down." There were mistakes, we are sure, but when you tally up the final score, we would say everyone did a wonderful job. Just wonderful.

It should make each of us proud to live in and be a part of a community like that of the Hereford area.

"Nothing To Do"

"Aw, there's nothing to do in Hereford."

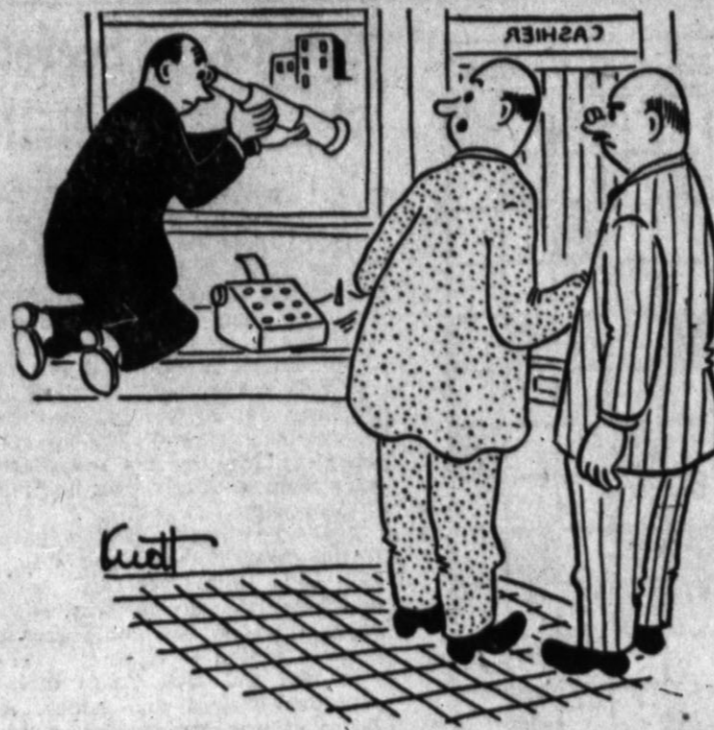

We hear the statement often and, since the recent snow storm, we feel sure that the people who say it are not interested in clubs. Judging from the number of meetings cancelled during the past week, it would appear that the community has more clubs and organizations per capita than most.

These groups specialize in everything from art and music to auto mechanics and, frankly, we did not begin to realize the number which existed. Either the population is far above the estimated 7,500—or some people belong to two, three, or more.

In addition to providing recreation and entertainment, many of the clubs also afford personal development and improvement. Such a large number of clubs, it seems to us, is an indication of an aggressive, intelligent and ambitious citizenship.

The number of man-hours (woman-hours, too) spent in club and organization work each year would be appalling, we feel sure. The accomplishment through such groups would also be startling.

All in all, it is one of those things which we take for granted and, let us hastily add, one of the phases of community life which makes the community outstanding in the Southwest and in the nation.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Unusual Experiences Were Commonplace After Snow

Everyone has had something unusual happen to them during the recent snowed-in period. What has been your experience?

MRS. BERT COFFIN

Some friends who live about 25 miles from town came to visit us and when it snowed they couldn't go home for four days. They didn't have any clothes or anything.

MRS. BYRON DURHAM

I don't know whether it's unusual or not, but it was rather interesting that we read "Snowbound" and did just what they did.

MRS. C. O. PHILLIPS

Nothing especially unusual happened; everything was just routine.

MRS. FLOYD WEST

It was just a little harder than usual to get to town.

MRS. PRICE MOSS

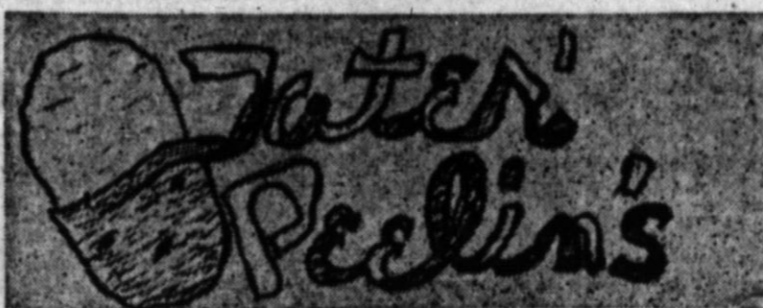

We were snowed in here for a day or two, but were able to get in and out with the pickup with chains on.

G. W. SMITH

Having to shovel so much snow. I had to dig out big drifts three to six feet deep.

MRS. WALT WARREN

Several of our neighbors ran out of groceries and some of the men ran out of cigarettes and we loaned them groceries and cigarettes, but we had plenty to eat and kept warm.

By Roberta Campbell

To cut down on the static we'll be fair enough to admit that Jimmie Gillentine did warn us about the weather but we refuse to budge, an inch beyond that concession because what have we been raising blackeyed peas for if it wasn't hoping for just such good luck as a two foot snow to spread a warm blanket over our little wheat patch. (Of course a freezer full of peas is also a comforting thought when you are snowed in and there threatens to be nothing but space left in the cupboard).

We think the snow was wonderful, but if our local forecaster is ever tempted to change his mind about quitting we think he should be forced to furnish a snow plow with every prediction he makes after November.

All we can remember about the winter of 1906 is the snow drifting to the top of the house on the north side so that our father had to come and go out the front door. We were only four years old but the thought of the door being covered up was a little frightening to us.

In 1919 it is sorrow and sickness and death that we always associate with the hardships caused by the bad winter. We were one of the few families who went through the first epidemic of influenza without having a one in the family to take it, but we recall someone from across town coming on a sled to get our mother to go help make a shroud for a member of his family that had to be buried in spite of the deep snow.

We walked over the fence on drifts that year, but we could do the same thing this spell if we had a yard fence.

Sometimes we wonder if the weather was so much worse years ago or if it is the modern conveniences that have tamed the elements for us.

Our outside chores have been reduced a great deal since we first moved out here 15 years ago. For instance, we have changed from wood and coal to kerosene and then to butane for heat. Our sheep used to lamb in December and January and we were up all hours feeding and thawing out lambs. We have learned that late March or early April works better for both of us and the lambs, although the December lamb may bring the best price on the market.

What kind of a comparison we wonder will our youngsters be making when they talk about the big snow in 1956 when they didn't have a thing to do but stay inside and watch television and wait for the county road grader?

Community Builders

By JIMMIE LEE

A fireman and the fire marshal. That is this week's community builder. Clay Angelo first started working on ranches when he moved here with his family in 1915. Later he worked around garages as a mechanic's helper.

Clay was born May 31, 1898 in Collins, Story County, Ill. When he was six years old he moved from there to Oklahoma with his family. His father farmed while they were living in Oklahoma. They sold the farm and bought the Grapevine Ranch near Big Square about 25 or 30 miles south of Hereford, in the year of 1915.

He started to school at the old Central School here and attended part of one year. Clay then quit school and started to work. His first job was on the J. V. Thompson Ranch, 20 miles northwest of town. However, it was owned by Stubbs, then the ex-governor of Kansas. Clay said the way he remembered Stubbs was that "he was the man that put cigarettes out of the state of Kansas". However, they did have bootleggers for the cigarettes. He also worked on several other ranches, another one was the Mounds Ranch, west of here.

As was said before, he then worked around garages as a mechanic's helper and he continued at this trade until he started to work for the City.

Clay joined the Hereford Fire Department in June of 1924 and he has belonged to it off and on ever since. That is, except the time he wasn't living here.

In 1940, Clay started in defense work. He started working for Boeing in Wichita, Kans., and then he transferred to Consolidated in San Diego. He returned to Hereford in 1942 and started to work for McWright and Smith as a mechanic. For a year or so he worked for the Ford Company and Clay was working for Phillips and Lawrence, a Nash Agency, when he started to work for the City.

Then in the year of 1946, Clay married Gladys Opal Gore in Clovis Jan. 23. They have one daughter, Debra Claydene, who is 22 months old, and she is called the "Chief" of the Angelo household.

Clay has two daughters by a former marriage, Billie Jean Steben, who lives at Butte, Mont., and Mrs. Mary Anderson, who is either in Arabia or is on her way there. Her husband is stationed there. Clay said his son-in-law has been in the Navy for 20 years and is going to make a career of it, being 30 years. He is now a Lt. Commander.

Clay is also a weather crop observer, takes measurement of all rainfall and he is Ground Observer supervisor for Deaf Smith County.

He belongs to the Masonic Lodge and is a past member of the Optimist Club. Clay is a member of the First Baptist Church, but he doesn't get to attend much "because there has to be someone at the City Hall at all times."

When asked what his hobby was, Clay replied, "I don't have time for hobbies. I have to keep the equipment ready at all times."

Clay's reply to why he likes to live in Hereford was, "The reason I like to live in Hereford is because I think it's the best place in the world and I think the best class of people live in Hereford and Deaf Smith County."

So we'll wind up this story of Clay Angelo, this week's Community Builder who stays by the telephone so he can save buildings, homes and the lives of the people here in Hereford.

OLTON COTTON FARMERS ORGANIZE

G. T. Giles was named Tuesday night to head the Olton Chapter of the Plains Cotton Growers, and organization of cotton farmers and businessmen formed last week at Lubbock. Primary aim of Plains Cotton Growers is to halt proposed legislation which would change the basis of price supports from 7/8 to one inch staple. Legislation now under consideration would provide that a lower percentage of parity be loaned against cotton of less than one inch staple than the percentage for cotton of an inch staple or better.—THE OLTON ENTERPRISE.

WHEELER SETS BOND ELECTION

President Harry Woodford has started the ball rolling in the declared commitment for the passage of the bond issue to extend the water and sewer services of Wheeler. The Chamber of Commerce Directors along with City Councilmen and Mayor Forrester met Monday night with representatives of engineering and bonding companies to discuss what can be done and what is needed in the local situation.—THE WHEELER TIMES.

SHAMROCK HAS OIL FEVER

Interest is mounting in drilling activity in the east Shamrock oil field where at least four wells have been put on pump within the last few months and a fifth well is expected to be brought in this weekend. Sandfracturing, a relatively new process of treating the oil producing sands, is perhaps the greatest factor in renewing interest in the oil field.—THE SHAMROCK TEXAN.

CLAUDE APPROVES BOND ISSUE

Strong interest was shown here Saturday when the voters of the Claude Independent School District approved $425,000 bonds for the building of a new school building. Since several elections pertaining to the bonds, were held at the same elections, totals will vary, however, unofficial totals showed the bonds carried by a majority of 87 votes out of 377 votes cast. This showed: For 232, Against 145.—THE CLAUDE NEWS.

FOUR MILLION DOLLAR LOSS

The drop in support prices for grain sorghums from 1954 to 1955 cost Swisher County farmers approximately four million dollars, Bob Francy told County Farm Bureau members at their regular meeting last Tuesday. Francy is Swisher County representative to the area-wide Grain Sorghum Producers Association, and president of the county Grain Sorghum Growers. He reported to the Bureau that the group organized on a temporary basis in February, 1955, as a result of Agriculture Secretary Ezra Taft Benson's lowering of the grain sorghum support price, and it has now grown to an organization of 2,000 members.—THE TULIA HERALD.

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

(Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm has a new idea this week, with which he'll get about as far as he ever does.)

Dear editor:

One of my neighbors had his son-in-law from the city visiting with him last week and when I asked him if it wasn't an odd time to be taking a vacation, in the middle of the winter, he said he wasn't taking a vacation, the plant where he works has temporarily shut down and he's drawing unemployment compensation from the government.

This put me to thinking. This unemployment compensation is a fine thing, it's stabilizing, a man has to eat whether he's working or not and grocery stores still like to get cash, but what I want to know is why hasn't Congress extended the idea to farmers?

You take weather like we had last week, when it was too cold and wet to do any farm work, right then would have been a good time to be drawing farmer's unemployment compensation. Regardless of what the Secretary of Agriculture's secretary writes to the magazines, farmers are necessary. Producing food may not be as important as producing automobiles and television sets and baby pins, but it's pretty close, there aren't many people who can really enjoy a television program when they're starving to death, and when a farmer gets layed off on account of the weather, it ought to be in the same category as being layed off for re-tooling to bring out a new model automobile or a new television set.

Of course, there'd have to be some rules, drawing unemployment compensation while you went fishing for a few days might be all right but stretching it out for several weeks would be frowned on, although laying off when farm prices, because of the surplus, dropped so low you're about as well off setting in the shade as plowing ought to be considered legitimate and bonafide.

In fact, as I understand it, in industry for example when a plant produces too much, it shuts down and lays off the people until consumption catches up, and a similar situation seems to exist with farming right now, and if we had this farmer's unemployment compensation in effect, I imagine a good many farms could be shut down for a while until consumption caught up with production and the weather got prettier.

If you think this idea has any merit, let's get to work on it. Even if you don't think it has any merit, let's get to work on it. I've done my part. I've got my mail box in good shape and am ready for the checks to start arriving.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

Snow Storm Answers Survival Question

Not long ago there was considerable speculation through the columns of The Brand as to whether people of 1956, dependent upon modern gadgets, could weather an extensive snow storm. Needless to say, there are numerous opinions, both pro and con.

Now we know. The answer, of course, is "Yes." In addition, we might add that "modern methods" came through with flying colors.

There were inconveniences, of course, but no loss of human life and only a minimum of livestock, such as many predicted. The automobile (plus chains) and the tractor replaced the horse and wagon—and managed to whittle hours down to minutes, even in the face of huge drifts. Consequently, even the vast number of "town farmers" managed to get through to their hungry cattle in record time and with a minimum of personal suffering. In extreme cases the airplane and helicopter came to the rescue with "Operation: Hay Lift."

Possibly the greatest advantage offered through modern day conveniences over earlier days, however, were the telephone, radio and T.V. Through these mediums, people in distress could S-O-S neighbors and friends. Fifty years ago this would have been impossible, and it made considerable difference.

Had there been shortages of electricity and gas, it is possible that the story might have been entirely different. Even the direst of predictions might have come true. However, let it be noted that these utilities did not fail which, within itself, stands as a mark of accomplishment in modern day civilization.

We are not trying to start an argument but, at the same time, we cannot help but wonder if the old timers who proclaim that things were so much worse in 1918 might not be overlooking the fact that conditions were made better through modern conveniences and, therefore, seemed much less severe. In other words, the very things which they were doubting could easily have been the factors which pulled us through.

Anyway, it has been proven beyond any doubt. We can—and did—weather one of the most severe storms in history. It may have put a few of us "back on our feet" when the car stalled—but we made it with flying colors.

Scouts Birthday

Today marks the close of annual Boy Scout Week, and the 46th birthday of the organization. Activities have been hampered in Hereford by weather conditions but, never-the-less, Scouting is an organization which merits our assistance and approval.

All of us are familiar, at least to some extent, with the Boy Scouts of America. Some of us have boys who are, or have been, members of the organization, others have been connected with the group in one capacity or another, and all of us have seen Scouts scurrying around carrying out a multitude of missions their elders have assigned them, or perhaps getting ready for a camping trip.

Scouting knows no restrictions for it provides a program for all boys everywhere. Possessing an inherent appeal for healthy, vigorous, normal American youngsters, as well as outlets for talents of even the handicapped, its successes range from sparsely settled rural areas to the most congested cities.

Boys can always find things to do but if they are below reasonable standards of conduct, youngsters may wind up in trouble. At times like this, Scouting often lends a helping hand to guide youths away from danger.

Today, there are 3,030,000 boys from 8 to 18 years of age who are active in Scouting. Starting as Cub Scouts, the boys advance to Boy Scouts, and finally to Explorer Scouts.

Serving as leaders and "big brothers" are 1,070,000 adult volunteers, who devote many hours to working with the boys, because they want to help them grow into upstanding, useful citizens.

We believe all of our readers will join with us in saying—although a week late—"Happy Birthday, Boy Scouts!"

New Officers Are Elected By County 4-H Club Girls During Past Month

Programs on "Qualities of A Good Officer" have been given to the 4-H Girls Clubs in the county during the past month by Argen Draper, county home demonstration agent, assisted by the adult leaders for the various groups.

Clubs reporting election of officers at recent meetings are:

CAPROCK
Caprock 4-H Club met Jan. 18 at the Adrian School. The meeting was called to order by Cynthia Kromer, president. Kathleen Kromer led the group in singing "The 4-H Trail." Glenda Homfeld, secretary called the roll which was answered with an interesting fact about Texas.

The following officers were elected:

Glenda Homfeld, president; Cynthia Kromer, secretary treasurer; Glenda Fuhrman, reporter.

Glenda Homfeld entered three white rock hens and one white rock rooster in the Poultry Show and won second place.

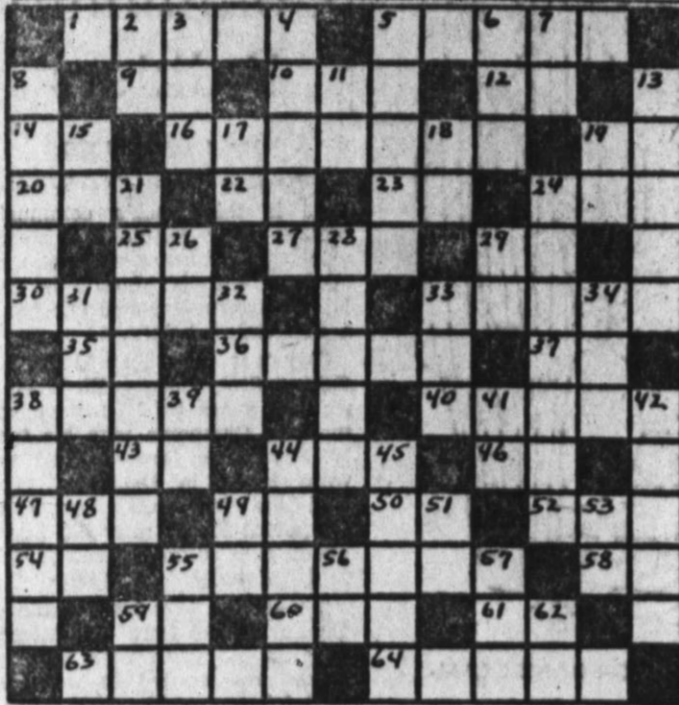

Refreshments were served by the hostess, Glenda Fuhrman, to Janie Taylor, Cynthia Kromer, Kathleen Kromer, Glenda Homfeld, Coralie Fortenberry, Mr. Draper and Mrs. Kromer.

The next meeting will be Feb. 1 at the school.

Worst-Kept Secret Of World War II Was Japanese Balloons Sent To US

By TIM PARKER
Associated Press Staff

That balloon that floated unseen across Texas recently on a high-riding trip from Japan no doubt reminds many Texans of World War II's worst-kept secret.

The recent balloon was one of two released by the U. S. Navy at Oppama, Japan. One fell into the Pacific near Hawaii. The second, whipped along by the miles-high jet stream, crossed Texas and fell in Mississippi.

Texas newspapers politely gave it the "oddy" treatment. "Balloon Sails High Over City," said one headline. All the way from Japan, and no one could see it because it was so high.

In 1944 and 1945, Texas newspapermen stewed and fumed. A Japan at war was sending many explosive-laden balloons across the Pacific. Our own government's chief censor wouldn't let newspapermen print a line about it. But luncheon club audiences heard all about them, in "public education" lectures by Army officers.

Newspapermen got their news about the balloons from censors' directives telling them what they shouldn't publish. The fact is, the newspapermen were told less concerning the Japanese explosive balloons than were the luncheon club members.

The luncheon club members no doubt told their wives. What better way to confirm one's importance than to let slip a few words of real "hush hush" stuff? Newspapermen probably told their own wives, too, for the same reason.

At any rate, not long after the "public education" luncheon talks, newspapers began getting phone calls from people who "saw" balloons that probably weren't there at all.

One of the balloons landed in Erath County in the spring of 1945. It did not explode and was one of few complete balloons recovered. It was taken to Dallas with many a "hush, hush" but Army Intelligence quickly claimed it and it was spirited off to Washington.

So many people were in on the secret of the Japanese balloons that several Texas newspaper editors wrote the chief censor, Byron Price, protesting. But Price wouldn't let them publish a line. He wanted: 1. To avoid public hysteria, and 2. To avoid letting the Japanese know how many balloons had reached the U. S. and what

Letter To The Editor
Dear Editor,

In reading in The Brand the remarks about this snow and some of the snows in the past, how much and how long it lasted, it brings to my memory a blizzard that was on the morning of Jan. 2, 1910. On New Year's Day, the weather was nice and warm. My father was dry rowing our first wheat crop. The horses and mules were sweating that night. That night a big band of clouds showed up in the east thundering and lightening like a summer storm, but then when we awoke the next day things were different. It was a howling blizzard. I don't remember just how long the blizzard lasted or for sure the amount of snow, but it seems to be 18 inches or more. Then in the winter of 11 and 12 was another blizzard that was a real one. Cattle were drifted over Gall Witherspoon of Hereford was a Friday night guest of Sandra Green. Nancy Green attended a slumber party and birthday party for Linda Witherspoon in Hereford Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Art Shafer and Linda of Hereford and Mr. and Mrs. John David Owens and David were Friday night visitors in the Joe Wagoner home. Joe Bob Wagoner went home with his aunt.

Mrs. Owens Friday afternoon. They brought him home later. Dress rehearsal was held Monday night for the Negro Minstrel to be held Tuesday night.
Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Riekman and children had as their guests, Lyle's sister and her family, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Geffe Ledbetter and four children. The Ledbetters have been stationed in Germany for two years. They came Tuesday and left Thursday for California, where they will live.
Mr. and Mrs. Robert Boyd, Bud Taylor and Mr. and Mrs. G. C. Merritt went to Bippus Sunday afternoon for the singing.
Mr. and Mrs. C. A. Saulcy were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Smyth in the Wyche Community.

NOBODY TOLD HIM—Noody has ever told Bunny, cottontail, pet rabbit of the Charles Graham family of Dallas, that rabbits are supposed to elude, evade and eschew dogs—not fraternize or bully them. The rabbit was found as a baby and has firm status as a family pet and dog tormentor. Shaggy, the family's pet Airdale, plays with Bunny in the house with the dog never getting the upper hand, according to Mrs. Graham. (AP Photo)

Mr. and Mrs. Sam Mazuerk, formerly of Amarillo, who now live in Hereford with her parents, visited in the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Stengel and children on Sunday afternoon.

Larry and Walter Kaul and Jimmy Northcutt attended the rodeo in Amarillo Friday night.

Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Wilson were in Dimmitt Friday afternoon visiting with Mr. and Mrs. Ray Haltom and Roy.

Mr. and Mrs. Vernon Wilson and boys and Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Wilson and children, all of Hereford, were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Wilson and Nathan. Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Kaul and Walter and Larry were Fred Hensley of Portales, Jack Deming of Clovis and Lewy Powers of Winfield, Kans. All are school mates of Larry's at Oklahoma A&M.

Carolyn Lee of Summerfield spent Tuesday night with Mary Lynn Morrison. They attended the minstrel at the Westway Community house.

The Negro Minstrel was held on Tuesday night with a very good attendance. After the show, pies were sold for the March of Dimes benefit. Approximately $180 was collected. Several out of community persons attended, among them being Mr. Fred Cunningham, Mr. and Mrs. Buck Overall, Lowell Sharp, Mrs. Jack Wright, Jackie Lisenbee, Mr. and Mrs. Hugh Clearman and children, Bill Stanford, Mr. and Mrs. Adam Flowers, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ganaway of Denver Colo.

Our White Christmas came just a little late but all school children are enjoying their holidays. If the wind had not been blowing we would have realized a little more moisture from the snow.

The snow has continued until all families have been isolated and have done a lot of neighborhood calling on the telephone. People have neighbored more during this snow storm than they have in years. Our hats are off to the maintainer drivers and the road crews who have so willingly opened the roads to homes that were short on butane and food and where illness was. The youngsters have enjoyed the beautiful snow, the only problem was to keep them from getting too wet and cold.

Perry Auten returned home the first part of the week from East St. Louis, Ill., where he has been visiting his daughter, Mrs. Auten remained for a longer visit. He reported snow up north and to leave his car there and take a train home for Texas.

Mrs. Kento Martinez was brought home from the hospital Tuesday.

she has been a patient there for 10 days.

The Thursday meeting of the HD Club was postponed until the weather has cleared up.

Johnny Cheatham has been in bed with measles, he feels he was very fortunate in not missing any school. His views are not necessarily the views of the average student. Some are beginning to be bored with television and the radio, and have decided that school is not such a bad place to be after all.

ROLLER RINK ROUGH

ROSEBURG, Ore. (P)—Ross A. Knott took his two granddaughters to a roller rink here to give them a lesson in roller skating.

The youngsters did fine, but Knott wound up in the hospital with a broken leg. Knott, incidentally, is 75.

PROFITABLE PROPERTY

CONWAY, Ark. (P)—Sherbert C. Benton paid $2,000 for a lot to build a new insurance agency office building here last February. Now he's got his money back, plus some extra, and all he's lost is a 2-inch strip on one edge of his lot. After three surveys, Benton decided that a neighboring service station encroached two inches over his property line.

He filed suit and received a settlement of $2,165.65.

Say It With A Valentine Cake

A Valentine for your family? Then bake this cake. It has two layers of nut-filled chocolate and it is somewhat like brownies in texture and flavor. Fill and cover the cake with pink peppermint frosting and arrange a pretty heart of tiny pink candies over the top.

We used nonfat dry milk in the cake, sifting it in with the dry ingredients. Nothing new about that—we've often suggested this method. But we did try something a little different in making the frosting: we used the dry milk solids in it, too.

If you are serving a Valentine meal to your family, you might start off with Tomato Bouillon. Make the soup with tomato juice, chicken bouillon cubes and such seasonings as minced onion and celery, Worcestershire sauce and basil. Cut heart shapes out of toast, spread them with butter and run them under the broiler a minute or so; float the toast hearts on the soup just before serving.

The main course for your Valentine lunch or supper might be slices of cooked chicken or smoked turkey arranged over stalks of cooked broccoli. Cover them both with a rich cream sauce, sprinkle the top with lots of grated Parmesan cheese and place in the oven until bubbly hot. If the top doesn't brown enough for your taste, run the casserole under the broiler.

Salad? How about romaine and pink grapefruit? For dessert, this Sweetheart Fudge Nut Cake.

If the cake is to be served for an evening supper, you might preface it with chicken salad garnished with hearts cut out of canned jellied cranberry sauce. Or if you prefer to serve sandwiches instead of a salad, cut the bread in heart shapes and use a filling of deviled ham or one of ground bologna mixed with finely diced celery, pickle relish, prepared Bahamatype mustard and mayonnaise.

SWEETHEART FUDGE NUT CAKE

Ingredients: 1 1/2 cups sifted flour, 1 1/3 cups sugar, 1/2 cup instant nonfat dry milk powder, 1/2 teaspoon baking powder, 1/2 teaspoon baking soda, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup boiling water, 5 squares (3 ounces) unsweetened chocolate cut in small pieces, 1/2 cup softened butter, 1/2 cup vanilla, 2 eggs, 1/2 cup coarsely chopped walnut meats, Pink Peppermint Frosting.

Method: Grease bottom of two round layer-cake pans (each 8 inches across and 1 inch deep); line bottoms with waxed paper; grease paper. Sift together flour, sugar, instant nonfat dry milk powder, baking powder, baking soda, and salt. Four boiling water into mixing bowl; add chocolate and butter stir until melted. Add sifted dry ingredients, vanilla and eggs. Beat three minutes on electric mixer at medium speed or 450 strokes by hand. Fold in walnut meats. Turn into prepared pans. Bake in moderate (350 degrees) oven until cake tester inserted in center comes out clean and top springs back when lightly touched with finger—about 35 minutes. When cold spread the Pink Peppermint Frosting between layers and over entire outside of cake.

PINK PEPPERMINT FROSTING
Ingredients: 2 1/2 cups sifted confectioners' sugar, 1/3 cup instant nonfat dry milk powder, dash of salt, 6 tablespoons butter, 3 tablespoons water, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, 2 to 3 drops peppermint extract, 3 to 4 drops red food coloring, 35 red or pink candies about 1/4 inch each).

Method: Sift together confectioners' sugar, instant nonfat dry milk powder and salt. Cream butter until fluffy. Gradually blend in 1/2 of the sugar mixture. Stir in a little of the water. Beat in remaining sugar mixture, alternately with the outside of Sweetheart Fudge Nut Cake. Cut a heart pattern 4 1/2 inches wide by 4 1/2 inches long out of waxed paper. Place heart lightly on top center of cake. Insert candies on edge around the heart pattern; remove pattern.

TELEPHONE TALK

by A. O. Thomas, District Manager

IT SNOWED!

It snowed, and what a snow!—The problems it created seem insignificant when compared to the blessings of the much needed moisture.

AT THE TELEPHONE OFFICE

Down at the telephone office we had our problems. With rail and bus transportation hampered, with most people unable to drive their cars, many unable to get to work or meet previous appointments, it seemed that everybody had dozens of telephone calls to make. The traffic load was one of the heaviest ever handled at the local exchange.

THOSE OPERATORS

I'll never know how so many operators managed to get to work Saturday and Sunday mornings. I guess they just knew they were needed and an overwhelming "Spirit of Service" impelled them to flounder through the snowdrifts to report for duty. Sure, a few of them were late and some just couldn't make it. Others not scheduled came in voluntarily and filled the vacant positions.

And how those girls worked! The lights on the switchboard looked like a Christmas tree. As one connection was completed two more signals would appear. Plug in, answer, connect and ring, over and over again. Only a realization of public need could make those nimble fingers work so fast and so long.

What a grand bunch of girls, these Hereford Telephone Operators!

OUR CUSTOMERS

A word about our customers. They seemed to understand when their signal wasn't answered promptly; somehow, they knew those girls were doing all that was humanly possible to complete their calls. There were no bawlings out of the operators, no snide remarks; just a patient appreciation of the situation and of the voice saying "Number please." Yes, our Hereford customers are tops.

THANKS

We just can't think of all the many and thoughtful courtesies we received. The Police and Sheriff's Departments aided in getting our people to and from work. Cooper's grocery checked to see that there was plenty of food in the office before they closed their store. Western Auto sent over some bedding for those who were forced to remain in the office overnight. The Jim Hill Hotel provided lodging for some who could not get home. This list could go on and on.

Yes, it snowed, and made us appreciate people more.

tractors. The farmers go and get their cattle on them and travel to town the same way. They have been delivery wagons. If a tractor is going by a house to the store, out runs everyone to see who was lucky enough to get something started and that far on their journey. The neighbors say, "Bring us some bread, milk, sugar, etc."

The report is that there have been a number of cattle killed on the railroad tracks.

In calling some of the neighbors and asking for news, here are some of the answers:

1. Sure glad we have phones.
2. Some of our cattle are gone, if you see them, pen them up and I'll get them as soon as I can get out.
3. What would we do without radio and TV?
4. My, how nice the neighbors have been.
5. I have gotten acquainted with my children all over again.
6. We haven't had any water for days.
7. I've found time to get things done that I have wanted to do for months.
8. Did you know we could get Friona now? (Yes, it was open to phone service Monday.)
9. No telling when we can get out. There's a drift eight or nine feet high behind the garage.
10. I didn't think this would ever happen.
11. My, isn't the snow nice, but I'm ready for it to clear up.
12. This is the first time for a long time our families have gotten to sit down at the table together and really enjoy a meal. The good Lord knows how to slow us down—doesn't He?
13. The little children are really enjoying this, but can't say so much for the teen-agers. They missed dating Saturday night.
14. It's going to cause some trouble and a lot of inconvenience, but I still think it is certainly going to be worth while. The snow is certainly what we've been praying for.

Howard Elmore hasn't been feeling too well and they appreciate the Luellen brothers, Ellis Tatum and Dick Rockey for stopping in and seeing if they needed any thing. Their way of transportation was by tractor.

The R. E. Barnetts say "Thanks to our neighbors for bringing us groceries and stopping in to see how we are."

Everyone says, we are proud of the snow and would rather be marooned in a snow storm as some of those bad dirt storms we have gone through. I feel this is something we can tell our grandchildren about—"now if you had been here in February of 1956—etc."

Jones Boys Plentiful At Talco Bank; But Baseball Wins One

TALCO — For 38 years there has been a Jones at Talco State Bank.

And like as not, there'll be a Jones at Talco State for the next 38 years.

Felix Jones, 24 and ambitious, started it all when he joined the bank as assistant cashier in 1917.

Through the years, Felix has risen to president and raised a family of banking sons to follow in his footsteps.

The eldest son, Jerry, is now executive vice president of Talco State and mayor of Taylor at 29 years of age. Lon is 23 and cashier of the bank.

Billy, 25, is with Texas Bank & Trust in Dallas. And John Paul, 27, was with University State Bank in Fort Worth while attending TCU — he has just finished a season at first base for the Macon Peaches of the Class A Sally League, hitting over .300.

There are more of the Jones boys.

Cato, 16, finishes Talco High next spring and works at the bank during his spare time. Virgil, 12, is a bit too young for banking.

Talco State reflects the years of work by Jones and its other officers. Founded Sept. 12, 1912, the bank holds the oldest original charter in Titus County.

When Talco was but a small farm community, the bank prospered. And when they struck oil in the city, the bank boomed along with other business.

Now the city's economy is built around both oil and agriculture and Talco State has resources totaling $849,000. Only recently, the bank building was remodeled and modernized.

Talco citizens hold most of the stock in the bank, with the Jones' major stockholders.

Actually, the eldest Jones joined Talco State as a bookkeeper in the fall of 1913. Shortly afterwards he went into the hardware business and stayed with that until 1917.

Felix returned to the bank as assistant cashier in 1917 and started the climb to the top. He was made cashier in 1918, vice president in 1936 and president in 1944.

Next in line of Jones is Jerry, who now has active management of the bank as executive vice-president. He started his banking with Trinity State in Fort Worth, worked with the State Banking Department on the Examining Board then came to Talco State in 1951.

The only one of the Jones boys to stray from the banking fraternity for any length of time has been John Paul, who has just completed his fifth season as a pro baseballer. John Paul worked at University State in Fort Worth all through his TCU days, however, and will probably be a full-time banker when his baseball days are over.

As two young chicks struggling along in show business, Jeanne Crain and Jane Russell, answer the call of two would-be theatrical agents, Allan Young and Scott Brady, who are living the lives of Bohemians in Gay Paree. The bookings prove sparse but life proves sparkling in the City of Love, as the quartet romps around town.

This picture was filmed entirely on location, mostly in Europe and mainly in Paris, London and Monte Carlo.

Legislation would be required, he pointed out in a story in the Geographical Review of the American Geographical Society. Laws would be required to control such oyster-harmful matters as pollution.

He wrote that in recent years, Gulf Coast yields of oysters have varied from 37 million pounds in 1940 to 10½ million in 1947.

Pointing out that many marine animals are harmful to oysters, Dr. Schlesselman said that may be a good thing. He wrote that scientists have estimated that if all the eggs from a single oyster lived and grew to mature oysters, by the fifth generation, they would have produced enough oysters to form a mass eight times as large as the earth.

G. W. Schlesselman, head of the A&M department of geography, says the state's climate and coastal conditions are more favorable for oyster farming than that of

At The Movies

Harper's Prize-winning novel will be shown Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Star, with an important cast headed by Glenn Ford, Dorothy McGuire, Arthur Kennedy, John Hodiak and Katy Jurado.

Here is a drama that delivers a high-voltage shock from its opening scenes, in which a high school girl is found on a beach, seemingly murdered, to the gripping courtroom climax in which a neophyte lawyer vindicates himself and his profession.

Glenn Ford is the law school instructor, David Blake, who gets his first taste of real criminal law practice when he accepts a job in the office of Barney Castle and immediately finds himself assigned to defend the seventeen-year-old Mexican boy, Angel Chavez, against the charge of having murdered the girl on the beach.

Home Demonstration Clubs Study 'Health And Safety'

Mrs. G. A. Childress was hostess for members of the Ford H. D. Club who met Feb. 1 for a program on Health and Safety given by Mrs. Carl Straffuss and Mrs. C. D. Corley.

Points of emphasis made by the women in their presentation of the subject were: That everyone between the ages of 12 and 45 should have a physical examination once a year and people over that age should be checked every nine months. Specific recommendations to be observed by those with heart disease were: Avoid worry about things you can't change; allow enough time to do things so you need not rush madly at the last minute; keep your normal weight; plan your work so you do not get overtired; avoid lifting, pushing or carrying heavy objects; avoid running up and down stairs.

Mrs. L. J. Straffuss read "the council's recommendations for apartments."

Mrs. Frank Childress was a visitor and members present were: Mesdames Hardy Benson, Alvin Goodin, L. J. Straffuss, C. D. Corley, Carl Straffuss, Dwayne Walker, J. L. Fite and the hostess.

Texas Oystermen Are Given Hints

COLLEGE STATION — If Texas oystermen were to "farm" oyster beds properly, the state could develop a multi-million dollar crop, a Texas A&M College executive estimates.

Puts you in the Big Time for a small-car price

Why hold back from the fun and thrill and pride of bossing a Buick—when you can boss such a big and strapping beauty for the price of a smaller car?

Hard to believe? Listen...

If you can afford any new car, you can afford this brawny Buick SPECIAL Sedan—for a very simple reason.

This Buick is priced within a few dollars of the well-known smaller cars—and actually costs less than some models of those very same cars. (The price we'll show you proves that.)

Want more proof? For two years in a row now, Buick has outsold every other car in America except two of those well-known smaller cars. And you can bet your bottom dollar that it takes bedrock prices to stay in the Top 3 of the nation's best sellers.

But even that isn't the whole story—not by a long shot.

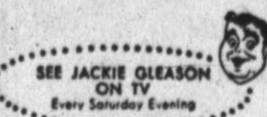

Folks are buying Buicks in record numbers because they find in these big beauties a lot more automobile for the money.

They find here more styling freshness and distinction—more snap and ginger and power thrill—more comfort and luxury—more ride stability and steadiness—and more structural solidity and pure automobile than the same money buys elsewhere.

This new Buick SPECIAL 2-Door 6-Passenger Sedan delivers locally for less than some models of the well-known smaller cars. Come in and check!

So if you want to move into the big-car travel world at a small-car price—if you want to have the time of your motoring life with the lift and lilt and pride and prestige of a beautiful new Buick as your very own—what's holding you back?

Drop in on us right quick—tomorrow, maybe?—and we'll show you the biggest bundle of high-powered Buick ever offered in America's low-price field.
