YESTERDAY TODAY AND TOMORROW

Teamwork does it!

It doesn't make any difference — in nature, machinery or human endeavor—teamwork does it!

And teamwork does it in a Church—your Church.

You belong on the team. You belong in the game, not on the bench or the stands. The Church team is short an important man or woman, boy or girl, when you are not in attendance and active in its program.

Churches are the foundation of everything solid and worthy in the community. The better the Churches, the better the town. The more active the Churches, the more effective is their influence for good.

It's a mighty important business that doesn't call for stars or lone wolves, but one that demands the utmost in devoted teamwork. It's a game in which there are no substitutes for you.

Are you reporting for duty?

Plus or Minus GOD?

This young man, like multitudes of others his age, realizes he must soon be earning a living and perplexing questions arise.

What vocation shall he follow? Will the life-work he has in mind offer him a suitable outlet for his talents? Will he be happy and contented in that work?

And questions arise about the ethical standards he should set for himself. Just how honest ought a fellow be anyway? How loyal to the truth? Do moral compromises pay?

In other words, this young man is inquiring into the meaning of life itself. In essence, his question is, shall a fellow plan his life plus or minus God?

How he works things out depends largely upon his earlier training. If his religious life has been neglected, he is more likely to make the fatal mistake of trying to get along without God.

If he has been more wisely led, he will place God and truth and right at the center of his thoughts. If he seeks the better way, the Church stands ready to offer him every aid.

the business district is one cause for concern over the residential area. "The rats have moved from downtown, because we have cut them off from their old haunts, and it is only natural that many of them stop at the first place they can find food and shelter," the typhus control director said.

Cross advised residents to inspect their homes, and if any signs of rats are found, notify the city at once.

"We might go through the entire summer without an outbreak of plague, even if proper precautions are not taken, but an outbreak always is a probability when wild rodents are infested," Cross said. "With knowledge that the disease does exist in the area, the welfare of the community demands that we do something about it."

Rev. Gage Lloyd Reviews Missions Book At Meeting

"Now is the Time," a missionary book by C. Darby Fulton, was reviewed by Rev. R. Gage Lloyd at the School of Missions meeting held Thursday evening at the Presbyterian church.

Rev. Lloyd discussed the Presbyterian missionary effort in various parts of the world, telling first of Brazil, describing it as a land of opportunity and challenge. He declared that Mexico, now breaking away from its age-old traditions, is a ready field for Presbyterian missionaries.

"China," he said, "is at a crossroads," continuing that it will choose either communism or Christianity. Of Japan, he declared it is still a question mark.

At Atton gave the devotional. Herbert Whitney, who was stationed for 11 months at Souel, Korea, told the group that the Koreans are very friendly toward the Americans and toward anything they do.

For the concluding session to be held this evening at 7:30 o'clock Rev. Lloyd will discuss Africa.

Rocky Battles For Fistic Life

NEW YORK, Jan. 31. (AP)— Rocky Graziano fought for his fistic life before the State Athletic Commission today, while the district attorney aimed the big guns of his gambling and bribery investigation on undercover fight managers with gangster and criminal records.

Boxing's latest "Golden Boy" at the box office was summoned to appear before the fistic fathers this afternoon to tell his story of a $100,000 offer to throw his scheduled Dec. 27 fight against Ruben Shank of Denver. The fight was called off because Graziano complained on an ailing back.

District attorney Frank S. Hogan said he was "more interested" in uncovering undercover criminals who control fighters through "fronts" acting as managers of record than he was in any other phase of his wide investigation of gambling and fixing.

Graziano already has told his story to the district attorney — how three men approached him in Stillman's gymnasium, mid-town training base of most fighters, and made the bribe offer, and that he thought it was "a gag."

In the repetition before Chairman Eddie Egan and his fellow commissioner, Dr. Cillian D. Powell, Rock-a-bye Rocky will be battling against possible suspension or revocation of his license.

The commission conceivably could meet out any of all these punishments to the knock-out specialist from New York's lower east side for failure to report the bribe offer to authorities, but most observers regard such drastic action as unlikely.

These "bash boulevardiers" point out (1) that New York's boxing law does not stipulate any penalty for failure to report a bribe offer, (2) that the Shank-Graziano fight was not held.

TIME TO BEAUTIFY Flowers Add Color, Dash To Landscape

(This is one of a series of articles prepared with aid of the chamber of commerce beautification committee.)

Whether it is a dash of color in a window box or a profusion of beauty in well laid beds, most people have a mental picture of flowers around the home.

Naturally there are some varieties of flowers which are not adapted to this area, but most seed and plant offered for market in this area will thrive if given the proper setting and attention.

It would be impossible to name all the varieties, but among the most popular are sweet peas, pansies, gladioli, daffodils, petunia, verbena, dahila, zinnas, chrysanthemum, larkspur, and so on.

One of the things you likely will want to plan your flowers so that there will be a parade of blossoms from early spring. Some plan so wisely that there are few months of the year that they do not have flowers in the yard. Your seed package or catalogue will tell you when and how to plant. Some obtain better stands by covering with wet papers or gunny and cotton sacks until plants sprout. This helps overcome the extreme normal dryness of the air. There is, of course, no better means than a small hot house.

Beds should be well prepared—that is the soil should be pulverized. Soil tests will help in determining fertilizers needed or even the type of plants indicated. Don't over-fertilize. Make sure manure is well rotted. Steer clear of green manure for it will burn. Keep your beds cultivated, and maintain a mulch. Some fine trash and straw helpful in preventing caking or cracking after watering. Don't crowd plants more than planting directions indicate. Water well but less frequently.

Most plants will bloom longer if blossoms are plucked to prevent the plant from going to seed. Too much watering may make more plants than blooms, or may cause acid condition in the soil.

Driver Hailed Into Court Twice Within 24 Hours To Face Judge

When County Judge Walton suspended a vehicle operator's license, he means just that.

Hubert E. Evans discovered as much when he was haled before the bench Thursday for the second time in a matter of hours.

Evans had been arrested by Deputy Sheriff Charles E. Kiser in Coahoma on Wednesday for driving while under the influence of intoxicants and was fined $75 and costs by Morrison. As required by Texas statutes, the judge lifted his driving certificate for six months.

Evans was back in court Thursday, accused of operating a vehicle on a public highway after his license had been suspended. Morrison saw fit to sentence him to three months in the county jail, fine him an additional $100 and suspend his license for another six months.

Kiser made both arrests. The accused claimed he was trying to get his car home when stopped.

Switchboard Is Enlarged

Installation of additional switchboard equipment is underway at the Southwestern Bell Telephone exchange here.

Already some phone connections have been made possible by the additions, but so far this covers only a fraction of the total connections the company hopes to make available within three or four months when the installation can be completed.

While the board expansion will permit several hundred additional connections, it will not necessarily mean that all on the waiting list can be served. Reason for this is that certain parts of town are restricted by cable connections and that regardless of places on the board, wire connections to these particular areas could not be made until additional cable can be had.

Gerald K. Smith Hits Texas Snag

AUSTIN, Jan. 31. (AP)— Gerald K. Smith, director of the American First crusade, today had apparently hit a snag in trying to schedule a public address at Hogg auditorium at the University of Texas.

Smith filed application this morning for use of the auditorium. No action has been taken on the application but University President T. S. Painter issued a formal statement saying the auditorium could not be used for discussion of partisan issues.

Smith is now in Texas in connection with an organization campaign of the American Nationalist for H. Jester yesterday, attended his first cabinet meeting.

Hannegan Back In 'Fine Health'

WASHINGTON, Jan. 31. (AP)— Robert E. Hannegan told reporters today he is complying with President Truman's request that he continue as postmaster general and also as chairman of the Democratic National committee.

Hannegan, interviewed after he attended his first cabinet meeting since he went to Florida several months ago to recover his health, said he was feeling "just fine."

Charles Prather was among the students making honor roll at John Tarleton College in Stephenville at the end of the fall semester. He is studying veterinary medicine at the college.

City Firemen To Close Out Polio Campaign

City firemen, who did yeoman service for the infantile paralysis fund drive Wednesday, will close out the March of Dimes campaign Saturday afternoon in a repeat performance.

They will operate the VFW iron lung at the intersection of Third and Main streets from noon until 6 p. m., while appealing for public donations to the county chapter's treasury.

K. H. McGibbon, chairman of the March of Dimes, urged people to bring children to inspect the iron lung in actual operation. Firemen will place one of their party in the lung so that the public may see how it works in extreme cases of paralysis.

At the same time, the chairman urged people, particularly those who have not yet had a part in the drive, to make as liberal contributions as possible. The work of the local chapter in aiding victims of poliomyelitis is dependent entirely upon voluntary contributions.

Midland Faces Legion Tonight

The Big Spring American Legion cagers will be hosts to the Midland All-Stars in a clash booked for 8 o'clock tonight in the high school gym.

The locals will be out to avenge a defeat the Midland crew administered several days ago on their home hardwoods.

The Legionnaires took a close 33-32 contest from the Howard County Junior college Jayhaws Wednesday night in their latest encounter. Frank Hardesty accounted for 13 points to take scoring honors for the night. The Legion quintet held a 10-9 advantage at half-time.

Hunts For Bunco Suspect Endd

Local peace officers have stopped looking for Elbert R. Walker, missing since he was indicted here last February on a swindling charge.

Prison officials at Santa Fe, N. M., notified Sheriff Bob Wolf Thursday that the fugitive was an inmate in the New Mexico State house and had been since Sept. 26 of last year.

Furthermore, the penitentiary authorities added, Walker had become a very recalcitrant worker. Shortly after his admittance into the institution, he tried to sever the leaders in his legs to keep from being assigned to duty.

Walker is doing "one to two" for conviction of a similar count there. He allegedly gave a bogus check on a local hotel here.

Two Arrested For Pilfering

Francisco and Juana Rodriguez Alvarado, who allegedly teamed up to pilfer a radio from a local musical store Thursday, hardly had time to put the instrument to use before police swooped down upon them.

The attendant missed the radio immediately after their departure and alerted the city police force, who sought out the Latin-Americans and made the arrests.

The Alvarados were charged with theft in county court this morning and found guilty. The men drew a 30 day jail sentence in addition to a $25 fine while the woman was given a day in the bastille.

Round-Up Club Drags In Four

Four new members were added to the chamber of commerce rolls on the first day of a new drive launched Thursday by the Round-Up club, officials reported this morning.

The drive started officially Thursday morning at a breakfast meeting, and will continue until the chamber's annual banquet on the night of Feb. 18. During the drive, the Round-Up club hopes to increase the chamber membership substantially.

Joining on the first day of the drive were H. C. McNabb, Darby's Studio, Settles Coffee shop and Bill Cox.

Salvation Army Election Slated

Nomination and election of new officers for the Salvation Army Youth Center will be accomplished at a meeting called for 7:30 p. m. today at the Dora Roberts citadel.

Capt. Olyv Sheppard, in charge, estimated that there might be a turnout of some 200 youngsters. Tentatively, a membership drive with a 500 goal is set for Feb. 13. Two films will be shown at the meeting this evening.

More Aid For Worthy Programs

Governor Beauford Jester has called for increased expenditures without any increase in state taxes. Ordinarily, this might appear as a good trick if you can do it, but in this instance the governor is on fairly firm ground. During the biennium from 1936 to 1946, tax collections, based pretty much on the same schedules, increased by around 124 per cent. This, together with a policy of playing appropriations close to the vest, resulted in not only overcoming deficit financing by the state, but in accumulating a healthy surplus.

Last Go-Around On Poll Taxes

Today is the "last go-around." For certain we know that there will be elections for the city commission, the various school boards, county school board and the Howard County Junior College board. But what if there were elections on one or more constitutional amendments (as certainly there may be since the legislature is in session), a wet-dry issue, or some sizeable city, school or county bond issues?

New Light On Origin Of Mesotrons

By ROGER E. GEIGER
Substituting For James Marlow

WASHINGTON, (AP)—Scientists have solved another corner of nature's atomic jigsaw puzzle by flying 50,000 miles in an Army Air Force B-29 laboratory. The flights, back and forth from the Equator to Southern Canada, shed new light on the origin of mesotrons, a portion of cosmic rays about which little is known.

China May Have To Face Civil War

Washington, July 31. The U. S. decision to withdraw troops and abandon mediation as a means of arriving at Chinese unity may put more pressure than ever on the contending factions there. Some nations, including the United States, have achieved true national unity only after civil war, and that may be China's destiny. But there are forces working against as well as toward it.

A Repetition Of The Bridal Meal

NEW YORK — Manhattan has its heart-warming occasions, although I'll admit they do not happen with wholesale frequency. . . . At the Henry Hudson Hotel Manager John Paul Stack saw a white-haired couple in the dining room to whom the waiters and captains had taken a particular fancy, in process of which they'd learned the pair were celebrating their golden wedding.

That night the kitchen staff stepped aside while the white-haired little gal whipped up an exact copy of the first meal — complete right down to burnt toast. I'm informed that for the first time in a good many years that several of the waiters, and Mr. Stack too, all notably free of professional sentimentalism, were seen using their handbiennium that it would jeopardize the state's financial structure. There is always the surplus to help cushion, too. Although the governor has called for increased disbursements, his stand on taxes also has the effect of curbing the amounts which would be made available for various services. Thus, some fields likely will not get as much increased revenue as they have sought. More aid for teachers, modernizing the eleemosynary institutions, more adequate support for a Negro university, higher pay for state employes, more highway patrolmen, highway and lateral road development, etc. are commendable. The total available should be distributed as equitably as possible by the legislature to achieve the aims.

After midnight tonight it will be too late to qualify as a voter for elections in 1947. If it is impossible to make your way to the tax collector's office, then you had better post your check or cash before midnight along with information about your age, occupation in county and state, and voting box. A lot of people are going to let their voting power go by default, either out of apathy or lack of understanding. In the latter class are hundreds of veterans who should know that in most cases there will be no veteran exemptions for voting in 1947. So rush down to the tax collector's office or get your letter of application and money in the mail before midnight. The Jaycees have distributed proper forms for mail payment of poll taxes.

The mesotron is only one fraction of the cosmic ray. Other fractions include the negative electron; the photon, 2,000 times heavier than the electron but of equal positive charge; and the proton, which Dr. Swann has described as "a kind of ghost particle representing light and other forms of electromagnetic radiation." In a Geographic Society statement telling of their findings, the two scientists said that protons apparently split into ten mesotrons in the earth's atmosphere. Each mesotron has a proportionate share of the proton's energy. But they live for as short time as a two-millionth part of a second. Dr. Swann says the ionization of air—splitting the air into positive and negative charged fragments—may be the mesotron's only activity. The origin of mesotrons was studied on plane flights last summer by counting them, in a special instrument that is sensitive to their rays, at various altitudes. The counts showed the mesotrons are more abundant at higher altitudes, as was expected. But the ratio at which mesotrons increase is only 33 per cent at 33,000 feet. At the lower altitude of 25,000 feet the rate of increase jumps to 50 per cent, the flights showed. Thus the scientists concluded that short-lived, new mesotrons are constantly being born of protons in this layer of the earth's atmosphere, and do not enter from above. Otherwise the percentage of increase would rise at higher altitudes.

THE LITTLE SAVAGE

Hal Boyle's Notebook

An Explorer Reports

Hal Boyle, who covered fifty foreign countries in four years overseas, has come home and unrolled an explorer's log. . . . The "Poor Man's Philosopher" to reach the outer world follows: WASHINGTON, (AP)—Here I am in this strange village by a broad flowing river which the friendly natives have named the Potomac, probably after some forgotten chieftain. The world I knew is very far away. Shall I ever see it again? In the event some unknown mishap should befall me, I have scrawled these brief notes so that some record may be left to guide future explorers who chance upon this unusual community. I have discovered no place quite like it in adventurous travels on five continents. It appears to be inhabited by two warrior tribes, one called "Democrats," the other "Republicans." An overwhelming majority of the residents neither till the soil nor fish in the river for their sustenance. Nor do they engage in trade.

They appear to earn their livelihood by obscure labors in huge community stone huts jointly set up by the two great tribes to avoid bloodshed. There are signs that these vast tepees are unhealthful at night. For by 5:30 p.m., they are emptied, the workers feeling pell mell and swarming aboard public vehicles at the risk of life and limb to escape to the security of the salubrious suburbs. In this mad race to leave the public building area by dusk men hustle heedlessly past women and children. I must look into this mysterious peril that affrights them. Food and supplies of wampum to sustain the inhabitants of Washington—a most euphonious name—are shipped in from time

Washington Merry-Go-Round—Drew Pearson

Truman Gives Himself Two Jobs

WASHINGTON — President Truman still doesn't seem to realize that the real heart was taken out of the veterans housing program when he pushed Wilson Wyatt to the sidelines. In fact he became quite provoked at American Veterans Committee Chairman Charles Bolte last week when the question of housing came up. Truman had asked the AVC leader what the veterans are currently talking about and got the answer that the veterans were disillusioned, particularly about the housing program, with 4,000,000 veterans living doubled up because of the housing shortage. Bolte added they are pretty disillusioned about the entire breakdown. Angrily, Truman interrupted.

"It hasn't broken down," he said. "It's not fair to say that it has. We have to carry it out in a free market. I did everything I could to keep prices down. It wasn't I who raised the prices. It was the Congress." Later in the discussion Truman gave his visitors a clue that he might not want to remain in the White House after 1948. "I have only two big jobs," he said. "The first is to keep the world peaceful, the second is to get the productive machinery of this country running smoothly."

Senator Warren Magnuson of Washington made a startling prediction to President Truman during an off-the-record White House conference last week when he indicated that electric power from the Tennessee Valley might be used in Washington, Philadelphia or New York. Magnuson, who urges more government power projects, especially in the northwest, told Truman that electric energy from these projects soon could be distributed all over the country.

The ability to transmit hydroelectric power scientifically and cheaply at great distances is fast becoming a reality, said the Washington senator. "It's a question of progress that has to be met and we should begin laying the groundwork now for our battles in Congress," he added. Chief reason for the limiting of power distribution by sections, such as the Tennessee Valley, Magnuson explained, was the cost factor. At present, the construction of booster stations to transmit power from a project like TVA is expensive and makes the cost of long-range transmission prohibitive. "However, we are in a position where we can lick this problem through scientific improvements

Wilde Hits Big Time

HOLLYWOOD, (AP)—It can now be confirmed that Cornel Wilde has arrived. For some time, his salary (about $3,500 per week) has been up there with the best of them, but he never quite made the winner's circle, meaning the elite group of stars who share the modern dressing room building at 20th-Fox. Now after six years at the studio, he has made it. Cornel is moving into the suite vacated by Carmen Miranda.

Louis Hayward has the inclination that he might produce some "Monte Cristo" films himself, since the stories are in public domain. Naturally this doesn't set well with Edward Small, who has been producing them.

With the studios laying off many workers, there's a new and sometimes glamorous "$2.20 club" around the unemployment insurance offices these days. Some of the town's well known names, too. The urge to kill? When Keenan Wynn returned to MGM after the Van Johnson-Eve Wynn elopement, an assistant director asked him: "What's new?"

Ginger Rogers visited her old pal Clark Gable on "The Hucksters" set and told him she was looking for a story to star them both. What act is it? Retakes on Barbara Stanwyck's "The Other Love" will cause a slight delay in her European trip with husband Bob Taylor, but they'll be off soon. Edward G. Robinson returns within two weeks to start prepar-

in the booster system," Magnuson continued. "It won't be very long until we are able to distribute power over great distances at relatively cheap rates to consumers. In other words, hydroelectric power is fast growing out of its sectional parts and we've got to begin thinking of legislating some national trousers for it."

"You don't have to sell me on that," replied Truman. "I am aware that this question of power distribution is one of the most vital problems we have got to face. It would only be false economy for us to overlook the potentialities of our hydroelectric resources. We have only begun to harness them for the good of the whole country," the President added.

Both men agreed it was a federal job; that the construction of additional dams and booster networks was too big and costly for private industry. However, they also agreed that power trust opposition in Congress would make the tumultuous battle over the TVA look like a circus side show. "Well, I am convinced that we triple or quadruple the distance of power transmission from those public hydroelectric projects at no greater cost to government," Magnuson told the President. "Eventually it will mean cheap power for consumers everywhere, and I am sure a great many members of Congress will support such a program."

Truman promised to back Magnuson's fight for appropriations but it remains to be seen if he is still of that opinion when this hot potato is dropped on Congress amid screams of "socialism" by eastern Republicans.

PAPPY O'DANIEL SAYS

It may never happen again but almost complete unity was achieved by Senate democrats when the Senate voted on the creation of the special war investigating committee. 42 democrats on hand 41 voted against the special committee. Texas "pass the biscuits" Pappy O'Daniel was the one maverick.

No one has yet figured out any reason for O'Daniel's perversity other than pure cussedness. Several of his colleagues knew in advance he would bolt and Senators Byrd of Virginia, Russell of Georgia, Mayback of South Carolina, did their best to dissuade him.

Falling, they asked him to accept a pair with Senator Overton of Louisiana who had been called home by family illness. Pappy, however, refused.

During the vote Republican Senator Clyde Reed of Kansas took the floor to announce that he has a general pairing with Senator Wagner of New York and that he felt bound to honor it, but O'Daniel was not willing to reconsider and accept a pair with Overton.

After Pappy had voted, and while he still had time to change, Senators Hatch of New Mexico, Eastland of Mississippi and Ellender of Louisiana demonstrated with him. Behind O'Daniel stood Minority Secretary Les Biffle jabbing him in the back. A smile frozen on his face, the Texans kept saying no.

Most important congressional battle of the next two years will be between those who want the big companies to get bigger and those who favor old-fashioned American competition since the federal courts have been upholding the anti-trust laws. Congressman Noah Mason of Illinois has introduced a bill to exempt new gathering agencies like the Associated Press from the anti-trust laws, while Senator Reed of Kansas would exempt the railroads. Ready to fight for small business and a strong anti-trust program are Republican Senators Aiken of Vermont, Tobey of New Hampshire, Flinders of Vermont, Langer of North Dakota and Morse of Oregon; also Democratic Senators Murray of Montana, Kilgore of South Carolina, did their best to dissuade him. Chart Of Proposed City Zoning Program Due For Hearing Today

Here are the zones proposed under the zoning program, which comes up for its first public hearing at 7:30 p. m. today in the city commission room at the city hall.

The above chart will identify the various proposed districts, upon which the public will have opportunity to give its reactions before the zoning and planning commission.

These represent the findings of the zoning engineers, Parkhill, Smith & Cooper, plus the changes and enlargements suggested by the commission. Purpose of the hearing is to get the public reaction before the commission makes its final recommendation to the city commission concerning the propriety of a zoning program, and if recommended, on what basis.

In previous articles on the zoning program, it has been explained that there are nine districts. The first four, A, B, C, and D, are residential areas. The remaining, E, F, G, H, and J, are for commercial and industrial purposes.

The A districts (they are numbered, A-1, A-2, A-3, for purpose of easier identification) are proposed for one family dwellings. This would mean that if and when a zoning ordinance was made effective that only structures for one-family occupancy could be constructed within the confines of these boundaries. For purposes of clarity, it should be noted that the designation of 11th street from the corner of Main to Settles should be Eleventh Place.

The B districts would permit the construction of residential structures for two-family occupancy (duplexes, etc), and, of course, one family dwellings would be permitted since it is possible for any higher classification of construction to be raised in district of lower classification, but not contrarily. For example, a one-family dwelling could be constructed in any district but a manufacturing plant could not be permitted in any classification higher than the one in which it is sanctioned.

The C and D districts are proposed for multi-family occupancy, this permitting apartment houses, boarding houses, hotels, institutions, etc.

In connection with the residential areas, certain clearance requirements are proposed. For example, houses in the A, B, and C areas would have to set back 60 feet from the center of the street line, or in any case not less than 25 feet from the front property line. The D district requires a 50-foot set back from the street center or 15 feet from the front property line. All four residential districts require that buildings not come closer to 11 feet of the property line on one side or five feet on the other. Rear clearances (on the main building) are 20 per cent of the lot depth from the alley center line, or a minimum of 30 feet from the rear property line. These clearances are proposed for purposes of safety, health and uniformity.

The E districts, first in the commercial classifications, are for neighborhood business centers. Thus, instead of scattering small businesses throughout the residential areas, they would be required henceforth to concentrate in certain areas. There are no side clearances on E district structures, but the corresponding residential clearances in front are required.

For the proposed business and commercial areas, it is best to start at the J classification and come up the ladder. About the only types of manufacture prohibited from these districts are manufactures of acid, cement, lime, etc, fertilizer, gas, glue, explosives (and storage of), distillation of bones, disposal or treatment of garbage, offal, dead animals, smelting, stock yards or feeding pens, tanning, curing and storage of raw hides.

The H district is envisioned primarily as an unloading and storage area for petroleum products, contractor supplies, poles, pipes, scrap, junk yards, etc.

The G district, an industrial area, would prohibit, in general, those classifications of industries which create offensive odors, undue noise, dust, and hazards are prohibited. For example, here are a few out of many classes:

Abattoir, acetylene gas manufacture, alcohol manufacture, asphalt manufacture, bag cleaning, fuller or brick works, cotton gins and cotton oil mill, creosote treatment, emery cloth and sand paper manufacture, fat rendering, fireworks manufacture or storage, gunpowder, metal foundries or fabrication plants, oiled or rubber goods manufacture, planing mills (except small woodworking plants), rock crusher, salt works, soap (except liquid) manufacture, rendering or fat refining, vinegar manufacturing, wool pulling or scouring, yeast plant. Those prohibited from this area could function in a J area, unless specifically prohibited there.

This leaves the F district, set up for general business purposes. All classifications prohibited from the G, H, and J areas would be prohibited from the F district. While this covers an enlarged downtown area, it also extends east and west toward city limits and takes in half a block on either side of Gregg street through the city. It is primarily for retail and wholesale merchandising and would preclude the future inclusion of types which would create obnoxious fumes and odors, noise, dust or hazards. Among those prohibited would be blacksmithing, contractor storage yards, coal and wood storage, grain elevators, horse barns, ice plants, lumber yards, machine shops. Stone and monument works.

Boundaries, as nearly as possible to reduce to a small map, are defined by the above chart, which will afford a clearer picture of the proposed zoning. The hearing is open to all, those favoring, opposing, suggesting, etc.

The United States flag is older than the Union Jack, the flag of England, or the Tricolor, the flag of France.

Jap Cabinet Takes Office

TOKYO, Jan. 31. (AP)—A reorganized cabinet of conservatives, with six new ministers included in it, took office today two hours after General MacArthur had issued an order killing the proposed general strike.

In his new cabinet Premier Shigeru Yoshida tightened the conservative hold on the government, which is plagued with increasing economic problems, and sidestepped a general resignation after two failures to draw socialists into a coalition cabinet.

Yoshida dropped five of the former cabinet members and appointed conservatives to their places.

To Rule Monday

TOKYO, Jan. 31. (AP)—The International Military Tribunal hopes to rule Monday on defense motions to dismiss the war crimes charges against ex-Premier Hideki Tojo and 25 other Japanese wartime leaders.

Blount Favors Secret Ballot

Appearing on a radio broadcast recently in Austin with Attorney General Price Daniel, Rep. Ralph E. (Peppy) Blount, Big Spring, contended for a secret ballot in Texas.

The present Australian type ballot employed in Texas is not secret, for the numbering makes it possible to identify how any voter voted, he said.

On the other hand, a ballot with a detachment stub, would eliminate the identification of any particular ballot, he pointed out.

As to objections that such ballots might be unconstitutional, prevent contest cases or open the way to possible ballot box stuffing, Blount felt that they were not sufficiently valid. Election machines have been held constitutional and there is good reason to believe ballot with detachable stubs also would be. Blount believed that the best way to prove contested elections would be to call voters to the stand. They could testify how they voted, or refuse, thus at the same time guaranteeing the constitutional right of a secret ballot.

"It is my conviction that Texas, with the secret ballot, will take a step forward... with the secret ballot," said Blount.

Cotton Industry To Fight For Labor Controls

GALVESTON, Jan. 31. (AP)— Cotton industry leaders closed the ninth annual convention of the National Cotton Council today with little change in their leadership, but with renewed determination to fight for labor controls and a free market for their commodity.

Policy for the coming year also included resolutions urging a one-year limitation on portal-to-portal back pay liability, immediate appropriation for expanded agricultural research programs, repeal of protein feeds and other measures looking toward a vigorous improvement of the industry's position.

Oscar Johnston, Scott, Miss., producer who has headed the rapidly growing council since its beginning nine years ago, was re-elected president, although he was prevented from attending the sessions by the death of his mother-in-law.

The convention proposed support of legislation prohibiting the closed shop, check-off and maintenance of membership; guaranteeing the right of any man to work regardless of union affiliation; prohibiting strikes against government or public services; prohibiting jurisdictional or secondary strikes and boycotts; subjecting NLRB decisions to court review; applying anti-trust and other laws affecting corporations to the unions; limiting picketing and revising the powers of the NLRB.

Wheat Grindings Gain Slightly

AUSTIN, Jan. 31. (AP)—Wheat grindings in Texas during November showed a 6 per cent gain over grindings of the previous month while cottonseed received by Texas processing mills in December dropped abruptly, the Bureau of Business Research reported today.

Cottonseed received dropped to 51,052 tons, a 56 per cent drop below the previous month. Cottonseed crushing showed a decline of 26 per cent for the same month. Wheat grindings gained 6 per cent over October figures and bettered Nov. 1945 grindings by 18 per cent. The production of wheat flour showed a 5 per cent increase in November.

Honors Paid To Late President

WASHINGTON, Jan. 30. (AP)— House Democrats, led by Leader Rayburn of Texas, paid tribute today to Franklin D. Roosevelt as a great humanitarian, statesman, war leader and a friend of the common man.

Speaking on the 65th anniversary of the late president's birth, Rayburn ranked him with Washington, Jefferson, Jackson, Lincoln, Cleveland, McKinley, Theodore Roosevelt, and Wilson. He said the wartime president led the country through its "most dangerous and most glorious period" in history. H-105

Production Of Turkeys Drops

AUSTIN, Jan. 31. (AP)—Texas 1947 turkey production is expected to drop 5 per cent from last year's production, the United States Department of Agriculture reported today.

USDA estimates this year's crop to number 4,243,000 turkeys as compared to 4,466,000 last year.

AFL Grants Pay Increase To Organizers

MIAMI, Fla., Jan. 31. (AP)—The AFL turned "employer" today, giving $20 weekly pay increases to 200 union organizers.

Among the union promoters affected are organizers in Alaska, said AFL President William Green. Green said the pay of organizers had been boosted from an average range of $60-$80 to a range of $80-$100.

The AFL president did not detail the organizational program in Alaska but admitted to a news conference that the labor organization was putting on pressure to bring workers in the building construction and fishing and canning industries into the AFL.

Earlier, Green disclosed to newsmen that the AFL council was "sympathetic" to overtures from the British-dominated International Transport Workers Federation for affiliation of US Railroaders, Truck Drivers and Streetcar Employees.
