Employee Pensions
Three points were brought up by Francis Hardwick, who recommended: 1. A pension plan for city employees; 2. Water rates sufficient to retire outstanding bonds; 3. A fund to repair and maintain existing paving in the city.

It developed that a pension plan is being studied at present by the city attorney, Massey agreed that "water costs us 14 cents per gallon and is being sold at 9 cents per gallon on the higher brackets." He also pointed out that Hereford makes some profit on the first few gallons, and said that the City has made every effort to refrain from raising water rates. He also said that some raise may be required in the future in view of expanding facilities through additions to the City.

"Of 500 towns in Texas, only 10 have lower water rates," Massey said and of this 10, only two of the size of Hereford have rates as low as Hereford." He also cited a potential development on the north-east part of town including 300 new lots which may come into the City this year, thus creating a heavy expense on City water and sewer expansions.

Langley felt that the proposed paving tax might be illegal. He also said that water income is now offsetting indebtedness on the city system, due chiefly to increased valuations.

Disposal Plant
Wayne Lawrence, VFW Commander, branded the Hereford disposal plant as a "disgrace to the community," and wanted to know about plans.

Onias Carroll, water superintendent, disagreed in view of the fact that cities all over Texas are now studying the Hereford system as being outstanding. Amarillo, Wichita Falls, Dumas and many other towns have been here recently to study the operation, he declared. He also said that it had excellent marks with the State Department.

"It was bad several years ago," Carroll pointed out, "but we have been able to overcome most of the odor and have a low impurity test on the overflow." He said that most people in the meeting had, at some time, drunk worse water than now flows from the disposal plant.

Dumping of oil into the sewer lines was cited as the worst condition at the present time by Massey, who said all service stations have been written to cooperate with the City in overcoming the handicap.

Water Expansion
In answer to a question by Ivan Block concerning Santa Fe tanks, Massey said that contact has already been made and negotiations are underway with Santa Fe at the county did favorably consider participating in the construction of the airport that, upon completion, the airport be leased to responsible parties for operation.

present time. He looks favorably upon future transfer of the equipment to the City.

Merchants Committee
Elin Stren stressed importance of the Merchants Committee meetings each Monday morning in the hotel ballroom, pointing out that merchants problems are cropping up. He also stressed the fact that the meetings are "over by 11 o'clock each Friday."

Ralph Hastings, C-C president, opened the breakfast meeting then turned it over to Mayor Sears who, in turn, passed the meeting along to various city employees. He also introduced Commissioners Wayne Edwards and Raylan Evans.

Darrell Dawson was chosen as the president of the Road Knights at their meeting, held at the VFW hall on Monday night. Other officers selected to serve with him are: Dean Paul, vice-president; Bob Morgan, secretary; Melvin Lomenick, treasurer; Ernie Filipo, reporter and Richard Clark, corresponding secretary.

The annual Camp Fire Council meeting will be held Thursday night at 7:30 o'clock at the Camp Fire Hut. Election of officers will be held at the meeting. The members of the leaders association will meet at 7 o'clock preceding the council meeting.

Starting in the near future will be another series of Spanish classes, according to Charles Skelton. Morelli After Overhuls Here Saturday Night

Tony Morelli, the pipe-smoking philosopher from Italy and New York, figures to give younger George Overhuls of Amarillo a wrestling lesson at the Hereford Bull Barn Saturday night.

Overhuls is not a kid any more; he is an accomplished wrestler who has made a bid for the Southwest States junior heavyweight title. He lost his first bid last week against Bob Geigel, but he's now on the come-back trail, and a victory over the famous Italian, Morelli, would do much to gain Big George another shot at the title. That's the top part of a double main event scheduled Saturday night at the Hereford ring.

Victorious Doc Gallagher of Bayonne, N. J., tangles with young Mark Lewin of Buffalo, N. Y., in the first section of the twin feature.

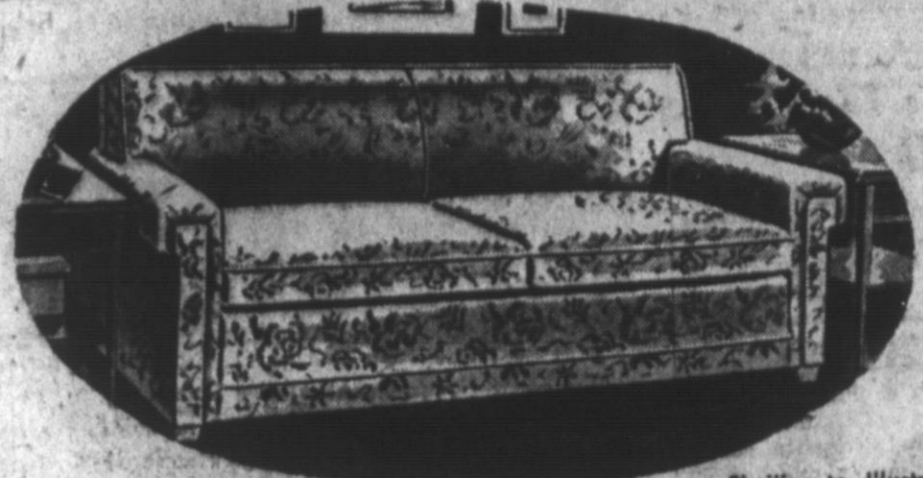

Young Lewin, protege and brother-in-law of Danny McShain, has become one of the most feared wrestlers of the Southwest States area. Lewin makes a definite hit, especially with the feminine folks, because of his good looks and his muscular build. He makes a hit with all fans because he is in there trying all the time. His experience is limited, but his willingness to accomplish a victory is not.

McShain, former world's title holder in middleweight, light heavyweight and junior heavyweight divisions, married Lewin's sister, and immediately became impressed with his brother-in-law's aptitude for wrestling. Lewin should give Doc Gallagher quite a deal Saturday night, and vice versa.

George Overhuls had his big chance last week to win the Southwest States junior heavyweight title. But Bob Geigel proved too annoying and crafty. "With another referee, I might have made it," shrugged Overhuls, but I can't kick. Geigel had me, and I know it." Maybe George will get another chance.

The first event of the evening will be between Billy Weidner of Amarillo and Ali Bey, the strongman from Turkey.

Beauty At Home

By Lynn Carter

Q. How can I remove perspiration stains from a non-washable dress?
A. Sometimes these will yield only to dry cleaning. But first try sprinkling cornstarch on the area and brushing it off after it dries.

Q. How can a new mother exercise to help firm her abdominal muscles?
A. Lie on floor with a pillow under the hips and the feet propped upon a chair. Begin by massaging the stomach and abdomen with firm strokes. Then slap these areas briskly.

Q. What astringent lotion is good for a very oily type of skin?
A. Squeeze a bit of lemon juice into a bowl of ice water, and splash this on the skin after washing and massaging briskly - before the makeup.

Q. How can I help restore lost luster to my overly-dry hair?
A. Try using some brilliantine before dressing your hair. Put it on stubbornly dry ends before you wind them into pin curls.

Q. What can I do about the ugly-looking enlarged pores in my nose?
A. You should be able to help the condition by frequent and regular bathing of the nose with a little lukewarm water and borax.

Q. What kind of powder or makeup should a girl with a very pretty and shapely nose wear on her nose?
A. A very pretty nose will attract even more notice if the girl does not wear any powder on it at all. A shine on the nose, of course, should stop short of looking too greasy.

Q. How can I camouflage an unsightly pimple on my face?
A. Cover it with some pink calamine lotion. You can keep this on all day, and when you wash your face you can give it another coating immediately. It will not dry the skin, is mildly antiseptic, and covers the skin eruption effectively.

Q. What is a good way to promote the growth of my eyelashes?
A. Massage the roots of the lashes with lanolin, cocoa butter, or petroleum jelly.

Q. My hair is prone to have split ends. What can I do about this?
A. The ends of the hair, being far from the oil glands, are often quite dry and inclined to split. Brushing will distribute the oil along the hair shafts and help to keep the ends soft, as will the daily application of a little brilliantine. Every two weeks or so, you might have your hair trimmed to get rid of those unsightly split ends.

Court Reviews Three Gas Extensions, Hears Report In Slow Meeting Monday

Things were quiet for Deaf Smith County Commissioners when they held their regular meeting here Monday.

The group heard extension service reports, reviewed bills for payment and considered Pioneer Gas Company proposals on three extensions. They also reviewed bids on trimming 40 trees around the courthouse and jail, but took no action on the bids which scaled downward from $400.

The three gas extensions are located on both sides of the county. Pioneer presented letters and maps showing one extension of 3 1/2 miles, north from the Farmer County line extending past the Porter Johnson and H. A. Gray farms. A second 8 1/2-mile extension through Randall and Deaf Smith Counties included three miles of 4-inch pipe in this county, cutting across the northeast portion of Deaf Smith.

The third extension, also from Randall County line, runs 2 1/2 miles in Deaf Smith, coming in at the northeast corner of the R. E. Gill section and terminating at the Leo Gallagher section 55, Block K-7 in the Simms Community. This is also a 4-inch line.

Ten Pay Fines On Failure To Have Inspection Tags

The appearance of 10 cases in Justice Court here during the past two weeks on charges of "Operating a Motor Vehicle Without Inspection Stickers," indicated a concerted enforcement effort on the part of Texas Highway patrolmen.

The charges generally drew fines of $1 and costs ($15.50).

New 1955 inspection stickers, like license plates, may be secured now and attached to the windshield. The new stickers, however, are not required until April 1, provided the 1954 sticker is still intact.

New Neighbors Are Progressive Guests

A "Meet Your Neighbor" coffee was sponsored by the Progressive Home Demonstration Club Thursday morning in the home of Mrs. Earl Plank. Mrs. C. C. Billingslea, club president, presided at the coffee service. The table was laid with a white linen drawnwork cloth. The centerpiece carried out the Washington Birthday theme and was comprised of two colonial figures under a cherry tree. Small hatches in red, white and blue and liberty bells completed the decoration.

Visiting was the theme of the program and guests were asked to change places at intervals in order to visit with different neighbors. It was announced that the club would sponsor a covered dish supper at the Progresssive school house at 7:30 o'clock in the evening, March 31, for all families in the community.

Guests attending the coffee were Mesdames J. P. Bradford, Howard Harvey, Henry Brorman, G. W. Hund, Eddie Reinauer, Joe Brorman, Edgar Roe, Grant Hanns, W. P. Caldwell, Wesley Reznik, B. A. Reddell, T. L. Sparkman Jr., F. J. Walterscheid, Edgar Lemons, Luther Ellis, Marvin Diller, Junior Burges, Will Gentry, John P. Gallagher, L. W. Norvell, Chas. Vasek Jr., Dale Hallows, Clyde W. Russell, and Miss Roberta Campbell. Members were: Mesdames Harold Beauchamp, Bert Gee, Cecil Boyer, C. V. Burgess, Ira Ricketts, Fred Saltzman, C. C. Billingslea, P. L. Carmichael, Horace Hershey, Leon Coffin, and Earl Plank.

The display in the office on Rose information has created some very favorable discussion. It does display some of the current material on roses and has pictures of varieties recommended for our area. Some of the current magazines have very good articles this month on rose culture.

The landscape plans are about all made by the club demonstrators. The others will be visited probably the next two weeks and the plans made or revised.

Mrs. W. P. Axe has completed the plan of their yard with the help of the whole family. The yard is easy to landscape as there are no competing trees and weeds and the Bermuda grass that is already there will be encouraged rather than trying to start another kind of grass. Too, there will be a small garden in a flower bed which is good planning. A lot of vegetables can be grown in a small area with concentrated efforts.

When the club women made their quarterly report to the Commissioners Court, Mrs. Axe gave the report on the part of the landscaping work the clubs are doing. She did an excellent job of presenting the material which had been given in club and in explaining the landscape plan for their yard.

For a preview of next month's program meetings Mrs. C. Woodson told of the Annual Program, and showed six or seven annuals that will be used in teaching the annuals that add so much color to the landscape and do not require much care.

To those on the program in March: You may not have time for a program including all the material you have on Annuals but you should pick out five or six of the annuals and discuss those. There is a late circular in the office on Guide for Controlling Insects on Ornamental Plants in Texas—1954. The recommendations in the circular are based upon results of experiments conducted by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station, Texas A&M College System and other research agencies. Also, find pictures of six annuals and have club members identify them. This should be a program all the club members are interested in.

Mrs. Clyde Cocanougher says Dr. Polgar's program is excellent; she has seen the program at Tech. Mrs. Paul Dishman tells us about the program. Dr. Polgar gave at TSCW and says it is really terrific entertainment. The committee has worked out a good deal on the tickets so get your reserved tickets as soon as you decide you can attend.

A note from Mrs. H. H. Millard at Faith, S. D. She says the weather is just wonderful and we have been thinking those folks would never dig out from under all the snow we have been hearing about. There should be some local legislation to keep people like the Elvin Wilsons from leaving here. They will be missed very much. The Health Club—that's the reducing club—has a good report after the first week of organization. The members have lost 22 pounds in seven days. It seems like a sensible arrangement as the members are trying to improve their eating habits so the weight reduction will be permanent.

The group interested in metal craft will meet March 7 at 11 a.m. in the District Court Room for an all day meeting.

Mary Lynn Morrison, vice president, conducted the business meeting. The girls discussed the light bulb project of the 4-H leaders and agreed to sell five packages each. Mrs. Sullivan gave a demonstration on bar cookies and told the girls to always have good ingredients, proper oven temperature and to use standard measuring equipment and utensils for good results.

Each girl was asked to bring brownies to the next meeting for scoring.

Those present were: Mary Lynn Morrison, Jane Auten, Nancy Green, Sandra Townsend, Mrs. T. B. Thomas, Mrs. Elvin Wilson, Mrs. Sullivan and the hostess.

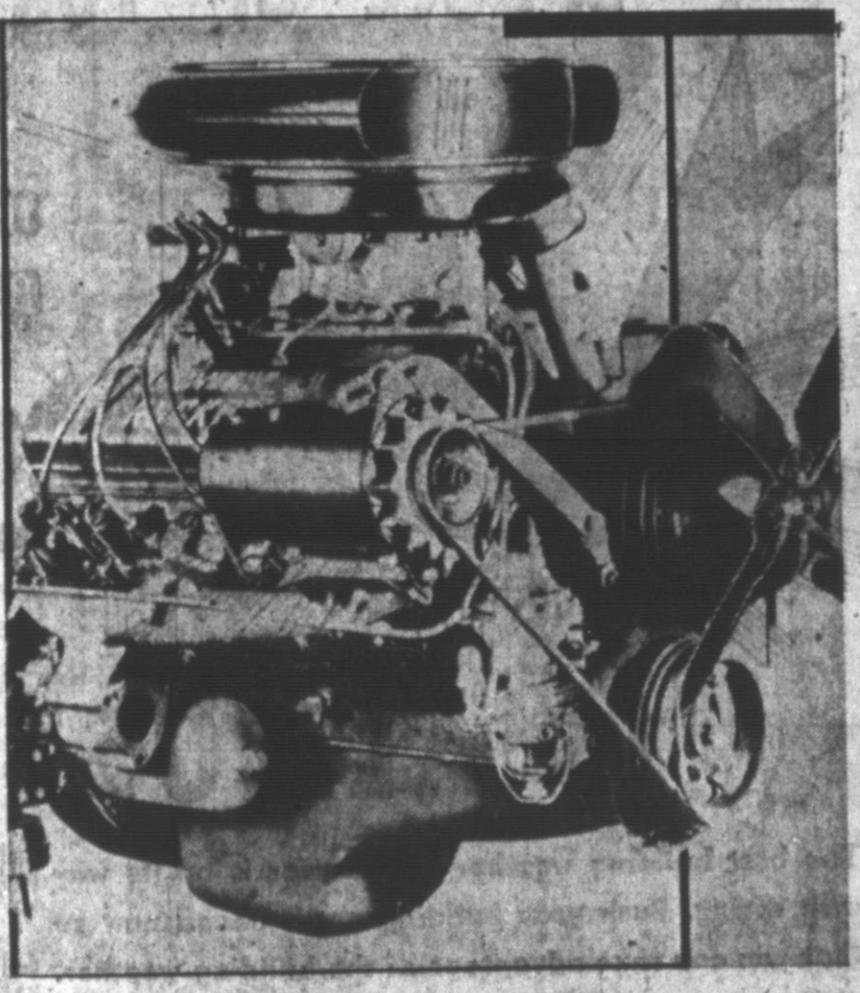

The next meeting will be with Florene McIntosh for a program on "Cake Frosting."

Mr. and Mrs. R. O. Stark returned to their home in O'Donnell Sunday after a visit here last week with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wm. McGehee. The occasion of the visit was the annual birthday celebration for Mrs. Stark on Feb. 22 and for Mr. McGehee on February 23.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Wilson and son, Mike, of Albuquerque, N. M., were in Hereford Sunday to help celebrate the birthday of her father, C. R. Smith. Other guests for the birthday dinner were a son Roy Smith and his wife of Hereford and in the afternoon Mrs. John Miller of Amarillo, an old-time friend, and Mrs. W. H. How Can I?

By Annie Ashby

Q. How can I clean an oil painting?

A. Wash the surface gently with clean, warm water, using a soft cloth. After it is thoroughly dry, moisten a soft flannel cloth in pure olive oil and rub over the surface gently. Another method is to rub gently with the freshly cut half of a potato, cutting off a slice from time to time as it becomes dirty.

Q. How can I destroy germs on the telephone?

A. The mouthpiece of the telephone should be washed every few days with a mild disinfectant. It will destroy the germs and bacteria.

Q. How can I remove black shoe polish stains?

A. Use soap and water, or turpentine. For tan polish, use alcohol. Vinegar will remove shoe polish from clothing.

Q. How can I keep food from sticking to the sides of the casserole?

A. Butter the inside of the casserole before putting the food in to bake. The contents will not bake to the side of the dish as when not buttered, nor will it be so difficult to clean afterward.

Q. How can I bring out the lights in blonde hair without injuring the hair?

A. Place as much borax as can be held on a quarter of a dollar coin; add to a gallon of water, and use as a rinse.

Q. How can I be sure that I am selecting a good comb?

A. When purchasing a comb always select one with blunt teeth. A comb with sharp teeth breaks and tears the hair.

Q. How can I sweeten a sour stomach?

A. To sweeten the sour stomach, and to take away indigestion, place a half teaspoon of baking soda on the tongue, then wash down with a drink of cold water.

Q. How can I clean leather?

A. Add a little vinegar to warm water (not hot) and brush it over the leather with a clean cloth and wipe dry; remove grease stains with benzine or pure turpentine.

Q. How can I make milk sour?

A. If a tablespoon of vinegar is added to a cup of sweet milk the milk will be soured for cooking purposes.

Q. How can I make a good cement for mending things around the home?

A. By mixing 1 quart of wood ashes, 1/2 cup of table salt, and enough water to give proper consistency. The dark appearance at first will afterwards turn almost white.

Summer Lunch: Make cheese sandwiches and then grill them in butter in a skillet until golden-brown; serve them with sliced tomatoes that have been marinated in a mixture of brown sugar, cider vinegar, salt and pepper.

When a recipe calls for a medium cream sauce, remember that the proportions to be used are two tablespoons each of butter and flour to a cup of milk. The amount of salt and pepper needed will depend on what the sauce is being used with.

Kitchen arithmetic: One pound of cottage cheese makes two cups.

To store ice cream for a short period of time in the ice-cube compartment of your refrigerator, transfer it to a dry refrigerator tray and cover the top with waxed paper.

Adding eggs to a yeast bread helps produce a fine and delicate texture and, like sugar, they encourage a golden-brown crust. Sometimes, before baking yeast rolls, try brushing their surface with a beaten-egg mixture; this gives them a shiny golden sheen.

Toasted rolls, with savory fillings, make a fine main course for a summer lunch. Try this combination: Split frankfurter rolls and spread with soft cheddar cheese, then open a can of small Norway sardines and arrange the sardines on top of the cheese. Place under the broiler for a few minutes—just long enough to melt the cheese and heat the sardines through. Serve with a salad of summer vegetables—lettuce, water cress, scallions, cucumbers—and French dressing.

At The Movies

"The Bounty Hunter"

The story of a man who lived by hunting down other men, "The Bounty Hunter," starring Randolph Scott, opens Friday and Saturday at the Star Theatre. Filmed in WarnerColor "The Bounty Hunter" depicts a little-known but exciting chapter of early Western frontier life. "Bounty Hunter" was the name given men who made a profession of hunting down criminals for whom a reward was offerred.

Randolph Scott, cast as the proud, taciturn bounty hunter, portrays the role of a man who is hired to find three killers who have become respectable citizens of a Western community in order to hide their past crimes.

Cast importantly in "The Bounty Hunter" are starlet Dolores Dorn and Marie Windsor. The blonde Miss Dorn and brunette Marie, it is understood, engage in a ferocious bit of feminine fist-cuffs in the film. Reportedly the fight is one of the most fiercely fought screen embroglios ever seen between two girls on the screen.

"Knights of the Round Table" The great event that heralds a new era in screen entertainment, MGM's first production in the magic of Cinemascope, flaming with color and romance, spectacle and adventure, "Knights of the Round Table" shows Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Star Theatre, starring Mel Ferrer, Anne Crawford, Felix Aylmer, Robert Taylor and Ava Gardner.

The story is summed up when King Arthur seeks to unite a warring England under one peaceful rule, but is opposed by his step-sister, Morgan LeFay and her husband, Modred. Lancelot foils a plot to murder Arthur, who plans to marry Guinevere. Not knowing her identity, Lancelot falls in love with her and stuns to learn she is to be Arthur's bride, leaves the court and marries another woman so as to avoid any scandal. When Modred tells the king of an innocent tele-a-tete between Lancelot and Guinevere, the brave knight is banished from England. He returns too late to save Arthur's life and throne as Modred stages a successful rebellion. However, Lancelot slays Modred and pledges his life to restoring a peaceful, united England in Arthur's name.

"Silver Lode" When a quartet of dusty, tired, grim husemen ride into Silver Lode seeking a man for murder, mob violence grips the otherwise peaceful community and lynch law, hysteria, violence and death take over.

That's the story of "Silver Lode" lusty Technicolor action drama of the old west, which opens Sunday at the Texas Theatre. John Payne, Elizabeth Scott and Dan Duryea

Your Income Tax

By FRANK O'BRIEN

(Note: The Internal Revenue Service has determined that some of the instructions in form 1040 for computing the tax credit on retirement income are not as intended by law. This article corrects the incorrect instructions, and tells you the correct procedure, according to the advice of the revenue service.)

You can take a bite right out of your tax liability with two new tax credits provided by Congress in the new tax law.

This is in addition to one big tax credit familiar to almost everyone—the credit you get for taxes already withheld from your salary through the year. And other previously allowed credits—for any estimated tax payments you may have made during the year, any refund coming to you from last year, and credit for any overpayment of social security tax resulting from working for more than one employer during the year—may also still be taken.

The same kind of dividends eligible in figuring a tax exclusion, discussed in the previous article, are also eligible for figuring the tax credit for dividend income. But this credit is based only on dividends included in your income. You figure the credit in the same Schedule J, at the top of page 4 of form 1040, where you figured your dividend exclusion.

Here is how the tax credit provisions work:

First, dividend income—husband and wife lump together their dividend income eligible for a tax credit. But they must previously have figured their dividend income separately to get their exclusions, each excluding only his or her own dividend income up to $50. And only dividends not excluded may count toward the tax credit.

On your 1954 income, only dividends received after July 31, 1954, are eligible for a tax credit (Line 4 of column B of Schedule J.)

After you have added up separately dividends received up to July 31, 1954 and those received after July 31, you deduct your $50 exclusion or exclusions (up to $50 each on a joint return), taking all the exclusions out of dividends received up to July 31, if possible, but going over into dividends received after that date if necessary.

The remainder of your eligible dividends received after July 31, 1954 is the part of your dividend income on which you may figure your tax credit.

Your credit is the smallest of these three:

1. Four percent of the remainder of your dividends received after July 31, 1954 after taking out any exclusion.

2. Your tax (after taking a credit for any foreign income tax paid).
3. Two percent of your taxable income.

Whichever of these is the smallest, you can deduct from your tax liability (which you find in the table or compute). You deduct your dividend credit from your tax liability at line 8A on page 1 of form 1040.

Second, retirement income credit—(Both husband and wife may claim separately. You need not be a formally retired person to claim retirement income credit.)

Taxpayers who are under 65 may claim as retirement income to be used to get a tax credit only taxable income received under public retirement systems. This eliminates pay from social security, and railroad retirement, because they are tax exempt. And it eliminates commercial retirement pay and annuities, and armed forces retirement pay.

Taxpayers who are 65 or older can claim for a retirement pay tax credit all taxable income in the form of pensions, annuities, interest, rents and dividends.

Eligible for use in getting a credit are taxable state, municipal and U. S. Civil Service retirement plans.

Here are two general rules to figuring retirement income credit:

1. You must have earned over $600 income during at least 10 years (not consecutive years, necessarily), previous to 1954.
2. The retirement income you may use in computing your credit will be the smaller of the following two figures:
 - Your actual, eligible retirement income, or
 - $1,200, reduced by any income you received in 1954 from the following:
 1. Social Security.
 2. Railroad retirement.
 3. Veterans pensions.

In addition, if you are under 75 years old, you must deduct any pay you received during 1954 for personal services (work of any kind) over $900. If you are 75 or over, there is no limit to the amount of pay you may receive in addition to your retirement income, without having to deduct it from the $1,200.

In making these calculations it will be necessary to correct your form 1040. The internal revenue service has determined that the instructions about retirement income are not what the law intended in two instances.

The erroneous instructions in the tax form direct you, on line 2 schedule K, to enter the smaller of:

1. Your eligible retirement income.
2. $1,200.

And line 5 of schedule K directs you to enter the balance you get after subtracting the result on line 2 from what you enter at line 2.

It has now been determined that this is not what the new tax law intended. The other lines in the schedule are not affected.

If you will take a pencil and make the following corrections on your form in schedule K you will have the correct direction for computing your income tax credit.

Make line 2 read:

"Enter here $1,200 . . ."

Make line 5 read:

"Balance (line 2 minus line 4), or line 1, whichever is smaller."

This allows you to compute your retirement income tax credit on the smaller of:

1. Your total eligible retirement income.
2. $1,200 reduced by what you must deduct in lines 3A and 3B.

Your retirement income credit is 20 percent of the smaller of the above two.

If you worked for more than one employer in 1954, it is possible that more than the amount you should have paid as social security tax has been deducted from your income. In no case should the social security deductions total more than $72 for 1954. If they do, you can claim a tax credit for the excess, on line 11 of form 1040A, or in the "Income Tax Withheld" column of item 2, on page 1 of form 1040. Mark the entry "F.I.C.A. tax" in the "where employed" column.

At this point, all the ground necessary to filing form 1040A has been covered. Remember, you may not use form 1040A if you want to claim credit against your tax for dividend income, or for retirement income. If you wish to do so, you must use form 1040.

The following articles will deal with deductions that can be made only by using form 1040, and with other income that can be handled only on that form. If you file form 1040A, your district director will figure your tax, giving you your exemptions and the standard 10 percent deduction for personal expenses, plus credit for any excess social security payment you may have entered on line 11.

(NEXT: Employee business expenses.)

HEALTH COSTS CITED

SAN FRANCISCO—It costs less to keep the average man healthy than it does to maintain his automobile, says a Stanford University physician, by having regular periodic health examinations—by getting a medical check-up every six months or so even when you are well.

Dr. H. Corwin Hinshaw, Stanford chest physician, writing in the Bulletin of the National Tuberculosis Assn. says:

"Maintenance of a man costs less than maintenance of an automobile. The cost of trading the serviceable old car for a new model is greater than the cost of a major illness."

"The cost of maintaining a good sickness insurance policy is less than the cost of smoking a package of cigarettes daily."

"Women spend more in beauty parlors than in doctor's offices."

"Many families who spend hundreds of dollars annually on luxuries and vices are considered to be 'medically indigent.' Values and standards are 'distorted through ignorance and improvidence.'"

The most horses ever to run in one race was 26 in the Grand National Steeplechase at Liverpool, England, in 1929.

Pitcher Ruben Gomez of the New York Giants holds a B.S. degree in physical education from the University of Puerto Rico.

Tribulations Of Old Trail Drives Told By Cowhand

SHAMROCK, Tex., (AP)—Wood Baxter, 79, is an old cow hand who can still vividly recall trail drives from Texas to Montana. "We took from 6,000 to 7,000 head of 6 and 7-year-olds on those trips," he recalled.

Born in Slater, Mo., Baxter moved with his family to Weatherford while an infant. He struck out on his own when he was 13 and the first cowboy job he got was on the Three Sixes ranch, in Young County.

He made three trips up the trail to Montana with vast herds of Longhorns.

"We wore good heavy boots and corduroy pants," he said. "Why a cowpuncher never heard of these breeches they call levis."

"When the cattle were delivered, we'd start on the long, lonesome trip back to Texas. There wasn't much color to that 'back track,' just ridin' along. Sometimes the days would be so long and lonely, we'd just throw the reins over our horse's heads and get on the chuck wagon."

Baxter headed for a 150 3 month job on the famed old XIT ranch in the Panhandle in 1895, but before he got there he met a foreman for the Mill Iron Ranch in Wheeler County and went to work for that outfit.

When he rode up for his first meal at the Mill Iron chuck wagon, he saw his brother, Bob Baxter, for the first time in 15 years.

Baxter worked for the Mill Iron for five years, then fenced a section of land and built himself a two-room house.

Baxter and his wife, the former Alice Burcham, have lived here since 1919, with the exception of four years in the Rio Grande Valley.

In the early 19th century, labor unions were classed as conspiracy by courts and were illegal.

WE NEED GREATER CHURCHES And A GREATER FAITH

Which Key?

They all may be made of the same metal, but oh, the difference in the doors they open! Your need determines the key you use. If you would open a treasure chest . . . the small key will do. If you would loose the intricate lock on the heavy bank vault . . . it takes a bigger, more precisioned key. But if you want the freedom of God's universe — if you want entrance to human hearts — if you want to open the gates of Heaven — then take the cross. It is the key which Jesus hammered out, and you'll find rules and regulations on how to use it at the church of your choice Sunday.

dell was the referee, and was a busy man most of the night.

First Event

For the second week in a row, young Mark Lewin of New York wrestled tough Tony Morell, also of New York. Morell started out where he left off last week with plenty of hairpulling, biting and other questionable tactics.

Second Event

Second bout of the night was one of the fastest 15 minute matches seen here in several weeks. Powerful George Overhuls of Amarillo met a very rough customer from Chicago, Tony Ross, who, using all the illegal methods controlled the match all the way.

Added Attraction

As an added attraction at no extra cost, Bob Roebuck gave a demonstration of his skill as a contortionist between matches. He made quite a hit with the fans with his ability to dislocate the different bones in his body.

Main Event

After the fast and furious preliminary bouts the fans were expecting a knock-down and drag-out main event—and they weren't disappointed. From the first bell the ref had his hands full keeping things under control and the correct number of wrestlers in the ring.

time-out, when Morell slipped up behind Lewin and took a punch at him. Lewin immediately ceased to be a gentleman and went to work on Tony with fists, feet and knees.

While the ring rope was being fixed the grapplers got some extra time to rest and were rarin' and ready to go when the bell brought them back for the second fall. Ross and Morell, not liking the way the first fall went, began working over Mark Lewin right away.

The third and final fall was actually a continuation of the second and was over in less time. George and Mark got Morell in their corner and alternated to see which could hit him the hardest and most often.

Pour the hot coffee over ice cubes in tall glasses and pass the cream and finely granulated sugar. You'll have a cool beverage with stark rich color and excellent flavor, even though it has been poured over ice, because this type of coffee is double-roasted and of good strength.

HOT NEWS

ABOUT THE HOT CAR

Buick production hits new highs to handle the orders pouring in!

GOOD thing the Buick factories stepped up production of the 1955 cars when they did—because customer orders are pouring in.

It seems that just about everybody wants a 1955 Buick—the "hot" car that's getting hotter by the hour.

So hot, in fact, that it's topping the huge popularity which moved Buick into the "Big Three" of the nation's best sellers last year.

Know why? Plenty reasons.

Bold new styling, of course. And brilliant new V8 power. And room and comfort and luxury interiors—and an even finer, softer, steadier ride.

But the big reason is a new magic from the field of aviation—Variable Pitch Dynaflow.*

Twenty propellers inside this wandrous automatic drive do what the modern airplane propeller does—they switch their pitch.

One way, you get a lot more miles per gallon in normal driving and cruising.

You switch the pitch to another angle just by pressing down on the gas pedal—and you get a new kind of instantaneous response for getaway or safety—merely accelerating power.

It's an experience you've never had before in an earth-bound vehicle—and it's thrilling beyond words.

So you can see why we're writing up orders and selling Buicks at a record rate.

And you can see more of the reason why when you look into the low pricing schedule that makes Buick the buy of the year, hands down.

Buick Sales Are Soaring!

Proof? Buick is outselling all other cars in America except two of the best-known ones in the smaller-car field. And for two good reasons: (1) popular prices low enough for any new-car buyer to reach; and (2) a line of cars to fit any budget, from the low-priced SPECIAL, to the high-powered CENTURY, to the extra-spacious SUPER, to the custom-built ROADMASTER.

Come in and check things for yourself. Once you do—and press that gas pedal—we believe you won't be happy till you're bossing your very own Buick.

*Dynaflow Drive is standard on Roadmaster, optional on other Buicks.

Tips On Annual Planting

Argon Draper, CHDA is submitting the following material on flowers which are planted each year as a basis for programs which Home Demonstration Club women will be presenting in March on Annuals.

Anyone interested in growing annuals will find the subject matter interesting and informative.

Summary of Spring Garden Seed

It is difficult, if not impossible, to keep our gardens in bloom throughout the growing season with perennials alone. Spring bulbs bloom until the iris take their place; then the flowers that have uberous roots; then there is a fall until the early fall with the dahlias and chrysanthemums arriving in all their glory. At this time annuals come into their own, and add beauty and color to an otherwise drab garden.

Among the choicest flowers scattered throughout the world are some whose lives are short; they sprout from seed, grow, blossom, produce their seed and die, all within the limit of our garden. These are the annuals. True annuals, therefore, are plants that complete their life span within one year.

To recognize an annual — it sprouts from seed and generally comes from the soil with one single stem or root, and they have no ability to store food for another year.

The More They Bloom

With annuals, the more they bloom we pluck, the more they bloom. This is their great charm. They may be depended upon to make a good display of bloom the year they are sown.

If you are a person of action-like to see results; or like color to welcome you everytime you step into your garden; or like to get the most for the money you invest; or haven't much time or energy to work in the garden; or like variety—PLANT ANNUALS. Nothing will give you more satisfying results.

Besides being inexpensive and extremely easy to care for, annuals begin to bloom as soon as 3 to 10 weeks after you sow the seed. The foliage and flowers are available in a variety of shapes, sizes and colors that make planting a bed of annuals a real artistic challenge.

In Three Classes

Annuals are generally placed in three classes. The first class are those which are considered hardy annuals. These plants are not hardy in the sense that the plants themselves will live through the winter, but are hardy in that their seeds will stand the winter out of doors if slightly protected. Included in this group are the ones which we plant in the fall. The ones which transplant with difficulty and those which require an early start in the spring are—California poppies, cornflower, larkspur, annual phlox, caledula, and sweet peas.

The second class of annuals are those which are tender; that is whose foliage cannot stand cold at any time. These should not be sown out of doors in the ground until all danger of frost is past and the soil is warm and mellow. Some times the weather will be favorable and plants will drop their seed and they will germinate next spring, but do not depend on this—go ahead and sow the seed. Included in this class are all the plants which will grow by sowing seed out of doors and thinning them when they come up too thickly. In this class come such plants as zinnias, gailiardia (Indian Blanket), nasturtium, and marigolds.

The third class of annuals are all of those which require a long period of seed germination and a long period of growth before blooming. These plants will give best results if the seeds are started in a protected place such as seed flats—cans or boxes—or in the coldframe. Unless you are prepared to grow these plants from the greenhouse when the weather permits them to be transplanted outside. Included in this class are verbena, petunias, snapdragons, asters and pinks.

Will Grow Anywhere

Annuals will grow in most any type of soil—clay, clay loam or sandy loam. They need sunshine and annuals should be planted where they'll get sun for at least five hours each day. Most of them will thrive on partial sunlight for a part of the day—providing they get three hours of unfiltered sun. The secret of success in planting the seed is good soil preparation and the depth of sowing the seed. A good rule to follow is the fine, seed the finer the soil; particularly for seed flats and cold frames. If you do plant in boxes or cans do not use fertilizer or plant food in the soil. It is often advisable to transplant the seedlings once before they are put out in permanent beds.

On Planting

If you are raising your own plants use boxes or coffee cans. Punch holes in bottom of cans.

1. Prepare soil for seed boxes by sifting good garden soil containing no manure until you have about one gallon. Then add one gallon of sand and one gallon of rotted leaves or grass clippings or peat moss. Mix thoroughly they fill boxes or cans to within one inch of top. Water well and when the water has soaked up you may start planting—about March 1.

2. Plant about one half of the package of seeds by scattering them thinly over the damp soil in the boxes. Then cover lightly with sifted soil or fine peat moss. Press down firmly but do not pack the soil then the waxed paper cover the boxes or cans. Put in a warm, dark place until the seeds begin coming up. As soon as you see little humps in the soil then the seeds are sprouting and set the box in a light place. Remove the paper and put the boxes in a sunny window when the little plants are barely through the soil.

They must be turned each day to keep them growing evenly. When necessary to water it is better to set the box or can in a container of water and leave it until you can see the moisture on top of the soil. Otherwise you will wash up some of the plants.

3. If the plants become too crowded thin them a little and when the third pair of true leaves are formed, pinch them out, and transplant the plants either to a cold frame or to larger containers in the house. Transplanting develops roots and a good root system insures the health of the plant. It is better to let them "harden off" in a cold frame than to set them directly in the open ground.

4. If you are planting directly in the cold frame wait until the first of April to plant. Plant in rows and handle the same as if you were planting in boxes in the house.

Outside Annuals: If the annuals you choose are ones that the seed can be planted outside—any good garden soil is sufficient for their growth. Annuals will grow well when the soil is moderately fertile, and it is not necessary to incorporate large quantities of manure into the soil or their benefit, unless the soil has had all the nourishment used by permanent plantings. When the soil is dry enough for a handful to crumble at a touch after being squeezed, then it is ready for preparation. Fork or pulverize you soil to the depth of 5 inches.

Usually its best to plant seeds in rows like vegetables if you're planning to use the flowers for bouquets, and it is also easier to identify unfamiliar seedlings. Allow at least one foot between rows of smaller flowers, two feet between rows of larger flowers or zinnias and marigolds and even more than 2 feet for castorbeans. Keep the rows straight and parallel and be careful not to plant seed too deeply.

For planting in rows: 1. Dig a shallow trench and fill with water, letting the water seep into the ground. Do this several times until the ditch is soaked. Let it stand for a day or two, then loosen any crust with a rake and sow the seeds thinly. Cover with sifted garden soil and a little peat moss if the soil tends to pack. The watering of the trench is often enough to germinate most seeds but in case of wind it is necessary to sprinkle or to dig a shallow trench beside the row where the seeds are planted and water the trench.

You may prefer to broadcast the seed on the prepared ground. This arrangement will produce a natural-looking clump of blooms. While this concentration of color is pleasing to the eye, it will not be as satisfying to the gardener as annuals planted in rows.

Before buying seeds or plants consult the latest seed catalogs and local firms that sell seeds and plants. Of course, the seed catalog which comes to you is like a traveling circus; there are so many amusing acts going on all around. Each page of the catalog seems to say, "Here are just the flowers which your garden must include. Without these your garden cannot be completely beautiful." Therefore, you must use the knowledge you've acquired from study, from seed catalogs and from your neighbors who have an annual bed or border that you adore. You, too, have much knowledge of raising annuals as most of you raised annuals for the very first gardening you did in your childhood. So—plant the annuals you have learned to love during the years and add at least one new one to your garden this year.

On Saving Seed

A word about growing and saving seed. This is such a highly developed activity and demands such intimate knowledge of the plants concerned that the grower of annuals may well leave the work to a seed grower. The principal reason that amateur seed growing is unsatisfactory is that the desirable characteristics of a variety are likely to disappear after a year or two and give way to other less desirable qualities. Some of the very best gardeners feel it is much more practical and as cheap in the long run to buy new seed every year. Seed making takes the plant and promptly cuts down on blooms.

In conclusion, you can hardly miss when you grow annuals. They ignore insects and disease and they are inexpensive; there's variety—you can have from a midget to a climber and they aren't too particular where they're grown or by whom as an amateur gardener can get excellent results. Annuals require so little care and they offer so much quick beauty when the garden needs it most.

SIGNAL LIGHTS

CHARLOTTE, N. C. (AP)—State Highway Patrolmen report some motorists have found a way to beat the electric speed clocks—popularly called whammies hereabouts.

Motorists crossing the machine's rubber hoses, which are laid about 60 feet apart, blink their lights to tell oncoming drivers to look out, their speed is being electrically timed.

U. S. farm families use about the same percentage of their incomes in the purchase of food as do city families, says the Twentieth Century Fund.

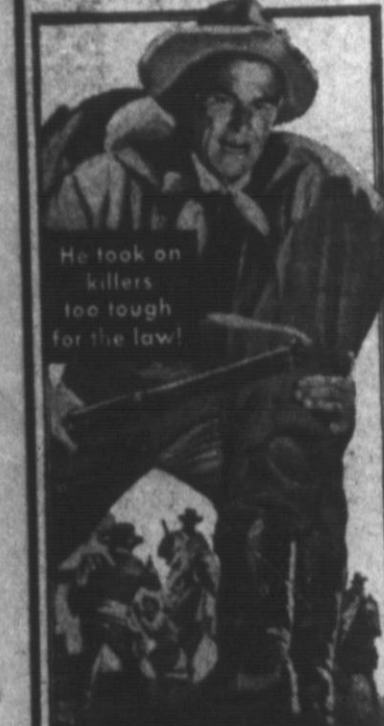

Although most of Panama's people live in Colon or Panama City, the country has some primitive tribes that live much as they did before the first Spanish settlers landed.

USH REVIEWS THE COMING ATTRACTIONS
We think of BOUNTY HUNTERS in reference to coyotes, etc., and not Randolph Scott playing a ruthless adventurer who hunted down criminals for the reward money. A little rough, but good of its kind.
Also showing: the eight minute short JUST PETS, a short story of all types of pets, including the importation, care feeding, and housing of dogs, cats, fish, honey bears and worth every cent of it—a little shunk, it's big business.
