Somehow, Rose inched his way to the tractor, managed to grab hold and mount the machine, despite the fact that broken bones in his left leg were jutting out through his flesh. He then drove the tractor one-half mile to his pick-up, painfully transferred himself from the tractor to the pick-up—and drove another half mile to the home of Olin Mitchell, an employee on the farm.

Mr. Mitchell was away, but Mrs. Mitchell jumped into the pick-up, and drove Rose to the hospital.

 dents competed in the County Bee Tuesday, having previously been selected from home rooms to enter the contest. Dawn and Walcott had indicated entries, but failed to appear at the contests, leaving the field to Hereford and St. Anthony students. Other entries in the division were Betty Lou Walter, Jeanette Husman, Ruth Dierup, De Ann Sparks, Johnny Fowlkes and Judy Coffin.

In trying to miss the flagman, Neil swerved the car, causing it to overturn. Damages to the Oldsmobile were set at about $800 by highway patrolmen who investigated the accident. Neil was charged with disregarding a warning sign.

Walcott News

By Mrs. T. L. Collins
 Several in this neighborhood have had head colds and the "flu." We are pleased to report few out of school because of sickness.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Collins and Bruce visited with friends in Silverton this week-end. They attended church in Tulsa Sunday morning.

Mr. and Mrs. S. O. Perkins had their children home Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Tom Oliver and daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Perkins and son from Wildorado. Two new boys started to Walcott School Monday morning. They are the sons of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Myers, who moved here from Durmas. Carl is in the third grade. Lee is in the sixth. They also have a daughter, Alice. Welcome to Walcott, Myers family.

They visited with the Atril Young family, whose home burned recently. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Hammock are the parents of a new baby boy, Robert Royce Jr., born Feb. 4. The father is in the armed service in Germany. Mother and baby are with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Grider. Both are doing nicely.

Several mothers came to school Monday afternoon. Mrs. W. L. Harkrider, Mrs. Walter Neinst, Mrs. J. S. McCullar, Mrs. Mevin Henderson and Mrs. L. C. Rudd. They were responsible for each classroom, having a very nice valentine party. Games were played, valentine boxes opened and contents distributed to the children. Refreshments of heart-shaped cookies, red punch and a nut cup of goodies were served on lovely valentine napkins. Each child had a good time.

Mrs. M. L. Preston and Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Collins attended the very interesting meeting of the Hereford Teacher's Association in the High School auditorium Monday night. We especially enjoyed hearing Mr. Thompson speak, since he represents 58,000 Texas teachers, as their president. Walcott P-TA will meet Friday night, Feb. 18, at 8 o'clock. All people of the community are urged to be present. Guests are welcome. Miss Jean Chapman, English exchange student, attending Hereford High School, will speak. We are anxious to have her visit Walcott School. Hostesses for the evening are Mrs. Cliff Patton, Mrs. J. V. Perlin, Mrs. Roy Pruitt, Mrs. D. B.

AUTOMATIC LIGHT

HART, Mich. (AP)—Automation is gradually succeeding the lonely lighthouse keeper along the treacherous spots of Michigan's Great Lakes shoreline. The latest lighthouse to become fully automatic is that at Little Point Sable on the Lake Michigan shore. The keeper, Henry Vavrina, has been transferred to the Big Point Sable lighthouse at Ludington.

The 100-foot tower and buildings of the lighthouse were erected in 1874. And for the last 80 years its kerosene mantle type light has been a warning beacon to ships as far as 17 miles out on the lake.

The old lighting mechanism is being replaced by more powerful fully automatic electrical equipment.

Herd Turns Loose To Add Up 96-63 Win Over Irish

By Billy Paul Knox

The Hereford Whitefaces ran rough-shod over the hapless Shamrock Irish last Saturday night as they were racking up a 96-63 victory, and setting a new scoring record for Hereford this year.

The winner of the game was never in question from the beginning and there was just a question as to how many points the Whitefaces would rack up. However, the Irishmen scored 63 points on the Herd, more than they have scored against any other opponent in conference play.

Hereford concentrated entirely on offense, utilizing the fast break to the best of their ability. Free throws also aided the Herd a great deal, but had Hereford not made a single free shot, it still would not have been enough to turn the tide of victory.

Shamrock had the whopping total of 29 fouls, and Hereford fouled 20 times, sinking 27 free shots to Shamrock's 17. One Whiteface went out by the foul route, but three Irishmen were sent to the showers with five fouls.

Hereford did not score less than 21 points, and Shamrock did not score more than 21 points in a single quarter. Hereford's high for one stanza was 25, and Shamrock's high was 21.

The first quarter was surprisingly close, the Whitefaces being able to build up only a six point lead. The Irishmen scored only one less field goal than Hereford but failed to hit their quota of gratis tosses.

First quarter score was 21-15. Hereford opened up in the second period, gaining seven points on the Irish. The Herd outscored them 21-14 to bring the score at intermission up to 42-29.

Hereford had a lead of only 15-11 in the field goal department at halftime but were considerably more successful than Shamrock at the free throw line. The Whitefaces quickened the pace in the third period by scoring 25 points, but the Irishmen lost only four points, scoring 21 points. Francis Boyd began to hit consistently as the Herd ran the score up to 67-50.

The last quarter was the largest for Hereford as they exactly doubled Shamrock's point output. Ir outscoring them 26-13, the Herd ran the final score up to 93-63.

Francis Boyd continued to set a torrid pace by tallying 32 points for Hereford. Jack Burrus also had 24, and Homer Hershey scored 16. Donald Burkhalter paced Shamrock with 21 markers. Bob Francis had 13, and Kaul King scored 11.

MR. AND MRS. E. J. WIGGINS

Mr. and Mrs. E. J. Wiggins, former Hereford residents, held a triple celebration recently at their home in Gatesville, at 1510 Leon St. Mr. Wiggins noted his 33rd birthday on Dec. 24, and Mrs. Wiggins' 86th birthday was Dec. 25. The couple observed their 64th wedding anniversary on Dec. 28. Both Mr. and Mrs. Wiggins moved to Central Texas back in the covered wagon days. He came to Bell County from Alabama in 1867, and Mrs. Wiggins, the former Victoria Ray, arrived in Bell County from Tennessee in May 1882. They moved to Coryell County 50 years ago.

They moved to Hereford 10 years ago from Gatesville after hearing about the wonderful climate here, but the altitude proved too high and they returned to Gatesville four years later. They were members of the local Church of Christ while here. They have eight living children: Mrs. Elwyn V. Hartman, Mrs. Chris Clark, Lester Wiggins and Mrs. Aubrey Balise, all of Hereford, and two sons and two daughters who live elsewhere.

BREAK INTO JAIL

WILLIAMSTON, S. C. (AP)—J. T. Nichols and Sam Harper were sentenced to four months here after a city court convicted them of breaking and entering and instigating a riot. They were charged with breaking into the city jail at 2 a.m. and setting fire to a mattress, causing a disturbance.

Soups Get Warm Welcome

By Cecily Brownstone
Associated Press Food Editor
LENTEN AND OTHER meals will benefit from some of the frozen soups now on the market. We have tried four of them—fish chowder, cream of potato, oyster stew and cream of shrimp—and there is no new food product we are more enthusiastic about.

Although all four of these soups are delicious as is, we have found that they can be varied beautifully. In addition the oyster stew and the cream of shrimp varieties make out-of-this-world sauces for main dishes.

Our favorite way with the fish chowder is to prepare it according to the directions on the can and just before serving to stir in dried crushed dill leaf. We mean dill leaf, not dill seed, and it can be added by pinches to suit your taste. With this flavor change, the frozen chowder rivals the divine fish soup served at a well-known Finnish restaurant in New York City.

The cream of potato soup also benefits from dried crushed dill leaf. Another way to vary the flavor of and give color to the potato soup is to add minced parsley and finely-grated raw carrot (separately or together) to it. The soup is also a wonderful vehicle for using up leftover cooked vegetables. If you keep a bottle of capers in your refrigerator for salad garnishing, you'll find a tablespoon or so of the capers do well in the cream of potato soup, too. And you can make a wondrously pretty coral-colored soup from the cream of potato by adding canned pimiento; a recipe for this version follows.

The oyster stew has a lovely delicate flavor just as it comes from the can with the addition of milk or light cream. But it also makes a fine main dish this way. Put the 10-ounce can of frozen condensed oyster stew in a saucepan and stir over low heat until melted. Then fish out the oysters with a slotted spoon and reserve. (You are going to thicken the liquid part of the stew and you don't want to toughen the oysters over the heat the sauce will need.) Now stir a couple of tablespoons of flour together with a couple of tablespoons of cold water until no lump is left. Add the flour paste to the hot soup and cook and stir constantly until thickened and bubbly. Add the reserved oysters and a cup or more flaked cooked fish fillets and reheat gently without boiling. Use a mild-flavored white-meat fish—perch or flounder are fine—so the delicate taste of the original oyster stew won't be overpowered. Spoon the fish and oysters over crisp hot toast and then sprinkle with paprika. Or press a hard-cooked egg through a small strainer over the fish for a garnish.

And finally the superb cream of shrimp. We used this soup recently as the base for a curry sauce for hard-cooked eggs served over rice. As a luncheon dish this combination made a great hit with our guests. Three of us lapped it up! We are giving you this recipe with a very modest amount of curry—add more if you like your curry hot. With this dish we had a tossed green salad with a honey-fruit juice dressing. We don't as a rule like green salads with sweet dressings, but because we did not offer the usual chutney it was welcome with the curry. For dessert we had a filled and frosted cake. All in all a good company lunch! If you serve this curry dish during Lent, fruit and cheese may be substituted for the cake.

SLICED EGGS WITH CURRY

Pamper Corner Can Serve As Powder Room

By Vivian Brown
EVERY HOUSEWIFE deserves a pamper corner. This should be a spot that can be used by her and her friends just for glamor. The little nook should have a place for powder and puff, pins and stuff—all the things a girl enjoys for primping.

Sure it is fine to have a vanity table in your bedroom, but much more cosy to have one in a little secluded spot that friends can enjoy too when they come to visit.

SHRIMP SAUCE

Ingredients: 1 can (10 ounces) frozen condensed cream of shrimp soup, 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 teaspoon curry powder, 3 hard-cooked eggs sliced, 2 cups (about) cooked rice.

Method: Put soup, milk and curry powder in a saucepan over low heat; stir often until thoroughly heated. Arrange sliced eggs over rice and pour curry-shrimp sauce over. Serve at once. Makes 3 servings.

Note: You will need to cook 2-3 cup raw rice in order to have the amount of cooked rice called for.

CORAL SOUP

Ingredients: 1 can (10 1/2 ounces) frozen condensed cream of potato soup, water, 2 tablespoons of chopped pimiento, minced chives or green onion.

Method: Put soup in a saucepan. Add a soup can full of water. Heat slowly, stirring often, until soup is melted. Cool and pour into electric blender, adding pimiento. Run until smooth. Reheat and sprinkle each serving with minced chives or green onion. Makes 3 servings.

Look around for waste space. You may find it behind a staircase, a foyer outside the bathroom door or even in a closet.

IF YOU have your own closet you (or a cooperative husband) can fix up a little pamper spot this way:

Put a plate glass mirror panel on the inside of the closet door. A shelf made in a half-moon shape at your local lumber yard may be attached with brackets to the door just below mirror. You can have it covered with a glass or painted a bright color. Hang an attractive skirt around it. Put some pockets in the skirt to hold everything from hair pins to curlers.

Behind the skirt place some hooks for shoes. If there is enough space left so that dresses will not be crushed when the door is closed, additional narrow shelves may be put behind the skirt on the door to hold boxes, belts, etc.

A very attractive and cozy little powder spot may be made behind a flight of stairs. The entire area might be wallpapered or painted for extra charm. A fluorescent light above the table can give adequate light. The bench or chair used with the little vanity should also be a storage unit. It can hold endless useful paraphanelia from strings of beads to a home permanent wave kit.

WHEREVER the vanity table is, there should be a feeling of privacy. When you curl your lashes you'll want to feel it is your little secret. Ditto that hair tinting job. As a matter of fact it might not be a bad idea to keep your cosmetics secrets under lock and key, away from the youngsters if not the prying eyes of others.

One of the good reasons for having your vanity table out of the bedroom, too, is to get it out of the way. Husbands have a way of pecking on vanity tables, especially when they do not have much closet or drawer space of their own. If you keep it in some secluded spot it will not cause too much excitement in your household.

WARM ICE CREAM

WALLA WALLA, Wash. (AP)—One of the things junior high school pupils learned in an exchange of letters with children of Kotzebue, Alaska, is that "Eskimo ice cream" has neither ice nor cream in it. "Eskimo ice cream is made of caribou fat, seal oil, fish sometimes and berries or raisins and other fruits," wrote one of the children in the remote Eskimo village.

"Sometimes no fish and put in fruits like cooked apple. But it's not cold; anyway you could freeze it and eat it."

Hereford Man Faced Hardship In Communist Concentration Center

(Note: The following story is second of a series of actual incidents which have happened at the Red Cross office in Hereford. It is a first-hand account by Corrine Jennings Neely, Deaf Smith County Red Cross secretary.)

One morning this past year a man walked into our office and wanted to do something for Red Cross. A request in reverse. And one that left us surprised and speechless.

His name is Ludwig Kovacs. You have heard of him before, a number of times, since he and his family came to this community a few years ago as displaced persons following World War II.

This is another facet of the Kovacs story.

While we were getting over the surprise he had his first idea of what he could give—blood. He signed a card to go to the Walking Blood Bank at the Deaf Smith County Hospital and since he has a rare type it has a double value.

All the time he was talking in very good English considering the short time he has been in this country and not being able to speak it before he came here.

He told of how he lived in Yugoslavia and having once been a well-to-do man in his own country. There he had a 2,275 acre farm, cattle, horses and other stock. He also owned and operated a factory which employed some 200 men and women in the making of medical alcohol (rubbing alcohol). Then the Communists came and took it all!

Three long years he was in a concentration camp and it was there he began to know about Red Cross, he said. Through the organization he and other prisoners received cigarettes, candy and other small but important items that were sent in the POW packages during the war. This, he said, may not sound like much but it meant a great deal when you had nothing.

Long months later when he came out of the camp he was placed in an army hospital. There again he received through the Red Cross, cigarettes, candy and a hospital kit of toilet articles. Besides this he met Red Cross personnel who helped him in numerous ways and comforted him. He at the time weighed just 96 pounds and was fed through his veins long before he could eat solid food again. It was at this point that tears first came to his eyes in remembering.

The first clothes, a suit, was also bought for him by the Red Cross to replace the gear worn in the camp. His first in a long time. He waited a bit before going on with his story here, still recalling those past dreadful days.

In time he and his family were allowed to come to America and again Red Cross came into the picture. After leaving the ship in New York it had been almost four days that they had had but little food, since none of the family could speak English. In Chicago he saw the Red Cross emblem and walked to the booth and asked if they could talk German and found that one of the workers did.

He asked her to take some of his money and buy them some food. She helped them not only with that problem but to get on the right train for Oklahoma City where they were met by arrangement by another Red Cross worker, who in turn got them on the right train for Hereford.

Here in Hereford, 17 years after losing all he had, he was making a new life and trying to become a good citizen by taking part in the community and offering his blood for any who might need it blood for any who might need it.

Then he asked for a check to write out for the chapter, another way which he could help. This donation gave him and his wife a membership in Red Cross and he became a part of the organization which had aided him—and one he so strongly believes in. Then as he handed the check across the desk he said, "I am afraid many Americans do not know the full value and worth of Red Cross—that is why I wanted to tell you all this."

On The House

By David G. Bareuther

THE SPLIT-LEVEL house seems to be going to seed. Not only is it spreading faster everywhere, but in many places it has grown into a complicated contraption with little family resemblance to the original designs that solved hillside building problems.

First called the tri-level house throughout the Middle West, the plan moved East and got fancy until now you can find five and six-level houses with so many little flights of stairs that one woman complained "No matter where I am in this house, I wish I were someplace else."

If you have been thinking about a new house you undoubtedly have wondered about the split-level idea—or already have decided that you want it. It's the type of plan that can give you more house for your money than you can get in a one-story rambler, although not quite as much as you'd get in a conventional two-story house.

But there are a lot of things about split-levels that people do not like. And there are a lot of things that can be criticized architecturally. Still, these houses outsell all others and a recent survey showed that 90 percent of the people living in "splits" said they would buy another one if they had to move.

ARGUMENTS both pro and con are summarized in the current issue of a professional publication—House & Home—which restricts its circulation to the home building industry. Since this study is not available to householders in general, we'd like to give you some of its highlights.

Here are the gripes about the split-level house collected door-to-door:

1. It's so ugly! Chopped roof-lines and awkward elevations mark the streetscape.
2. We have trouble with water and drainage. Water stands in the yard, runs into garage, seeps in basement. Planting and cutting grass are difficult on mounds surrounding the house.
3. The floor of our recreation room is so cold the children don't want to play there.
4. The bedroom over the garage is cold.
5. The stairs are too steep. Too many levels in the house.
6. Our heating system isn't well balanced. The recreation room is chilly, the bedrooms fiercely hot (except over garage).

7. The kitchen is too far from the recreation room and patio for easy serving of food to either.

8. The one or two steps into the sunken living room are dangerous and cause accidents.

WHY DO PEOPLE like split-levels? Here are five reasons:

1. The house is so spacious. (The second living room and more open planning appeal to former apartment house owners.)
2. Our bedrooms are wonderfully private. The half-level-higher bedrooms seem to be much more remote from the noise of traffic in the rest of the house.
3. The short stair runs are much easier than stairs in a two-story house.
4. The house looks larger outside. (Owners feel this more substantial appearance over the ranch house has greater prestige value.

5. It's nice to have something new.

THE ARCHITECTURAL critics observe that "split-levels sell when they are ugly (as most of them are). They sell when they are handsome (as they sometimes can be). They sell when they make sense. They sell almost as well when they make no sense at all."

Summing up, the editors offer this tip to builders—a tip for all of us to remember: "The split is a difficult, costly, and often ugly way to build a small house, but it is a good way to build a house that is just too big on one level to work well on a small lot."

As for the gripes of the owners, the publication concludes: "Most of them add up to the same thing—the split they bought is too small to be good."

Old Fashioned Macaroni Cheese Dish Hits Spot

By Cecily Brownstone
Associated Press Food Editor

ARE YOU ACQUAINTED with old-fashioned macaroni and cheese? We mean the custardy and in which cooked elbow macaroni is baked with a full-flavored cheese, eggs and milk. If this dish was served at your house when you were very young, you'll probably pounce on this recipe. If you do not know it as an old-time standby, we urge you to follow our directions and see what you've missed.

FINE FOR LENT — Old-Fashioned Macaroni and Cheese.

This is the sort of macaroni and cheese our family always welcomes. Those years ago when my sisters and I were all at home, my mother would sometimes serve it for a thrifty supper. Then stewed tomatoes were often a flavorful accompaniment to the casserole—and they still are. Only nowadays you can get stewed tomatoes in cans all seasoned and ready to heat.

With the macaroni and cheese casserole and stewed tomatoes my mother usually served a salad. Probably hearts of lettuce with a cur-cream dressing. Nowadays, when tossed green salads are in fashion, we are likely to use a variety of greens, thin cucumber slices and French dressings.

One of the requisites of this macaroni casserole is to use a fine-flavored natural cheddar cheese. Shred the cheese on a grater that is on the coarse side because semi-soft cheese will clog a fine grater. For the size of the baking dish we specify, you'll find that a square cake pan (9 by 9 by 1 3/4 inches deep) is fine for the water bath that helps keep the macaroni and cheese at its custardy best.

OLD-FASHIONED MACARONI AND CHEESE

Ingredients: 1 tablespoon salt, 3 quarts boiling water, 2 cups elbow macaroni (8 ounces), 2 cups (packed down) grated sharp cheddar cheese (1/2 pound), 3 eggs, 2 cups milk, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 3 tablespoons minced onion or 1 finely-grated small onion (pulp and juice), 1/4 to 1/2 teaspoon salt.

METHOD

Add 1 tablespoon salt to rapidly boiling water. Gradually add macaroni so that water continues to boil. Cook uncovered, stirring occasionally, until tender.

Congressman Walter Rogers Reports:

A Mix-Up In The Mails

For some unknown reason, it seems that some of the mail sent to me recently did not reach its destination. An immediate investigation was commenced to determine what had happened to these particular letters, but to date we have found no trace of them. Of course, we get lots and lots of mail and there were only a few pieces that failed to arrive. It so happened that the matters referred to in the missing letters were handled by telephone and no great damage was done. However, I think it is highly important that everyone should understand that when a letter is written to this office, it will be answered as promptly as possible. Should you write a letter and not receive a reply within a reasonable time, you may be sure that something has gone wrong. In such event, I would deeply appreciate it if you would write me another letter concerning the matter. If it is urgent, I would appreciate a wire or telephone call.

This same type of situation arose at our residence here. However, in that case the letters did reach the house, but we don't know what happened to them after that. It seems that the eight-year-old took them from the postman when he arrived home after school. He put them in his pocket and went off to play cowboys and Indians. Our last account of the letters was from a neighbor who told him (Robert) to take them home immediately. What happened after that, is a complete mystery; so, if any of you wrote to any of the Rogers family at 5535 Nevada Avenue, Northwest, in Washington, and did not receive an answer, please let us know, as your letter may be in the hands of some of the cowboys or Indians of Robert's travels that afternoon.

Furor in Washington
Quite a furor broke loose here last week over the action of the President in cancelling an airline route to Hawaii. The story here was that the Civil Aeronautics Board (a five-man board) had unanimously approved granting a certificate to Northwest Airlines, who would operate the route without a subsidy. After this action by the CAB, the President ordered the CAB to certify Pan-American World Airways to continue the Seattle-Honolulu service and to cancel Northwest Airlines' authority to compete over that route. The story also had it that Pan Am was to receive subsidy. This action really stirred up a tempest of so small proportions in the Capital City. Northwest Airlines had pioneered this route in the beginning and Pan-Am had been granted a certificate to compete with them. This situation had progressed without repercussions until the recent conflicting actions of the President and the CAB. Northwest Airlines also had its main offices in the district of a Member of Congress who has been one of the staunchest supporters of the President.

The result was that the White House reversed itself, and both Northwest and Pan-Am were ordered certified for operation over the Portland-Seattle-Honolulu route—a reversal of this sort is highly unusual. It is entirely probable that somebody went to the wood shed for failing to give the President all the facts in the first instance.

Aviation
The House Interstate and Foreign Commerce Committee has been holding hearings with members of the several agencies under our jurisdiction. Our hearing this morning concerned the Civil Aeronautics Authority. It was most interesting, and I wish I could convey to you the vast information that was made available in such a short time. Air travel in this country is progressing by leaps and bounds, and it is estimated that by 1960, airplanes will be carrying passengers the same number of passenger miles as railroads. Last year the railroads carried passengers approximately 32 billion miles. The air passenger miles amounted to about 15 billion. The CAA was set up to encourage and foster the development of civil aeronautics and air commerce in the United States and abroad, and other purposes. Among these was the control of safety factors, which are of such great importance to the individual and the industry. The many safety requirements and the constant vigilance of the CAA makes one wonder why there is ever an air accident.

Visitors
Mr. and Mrs. Earl Clayton, of Little Seminole, near Pampa, their daughter and son-in-law, Jane and Porter Oakes, and their grandchildren, Annton and Janie, of Amarillo, all descended on Washington last week. From all accounts, they had a wonderful trip and a most enjoyable visit. We were all certainly glad to see and enjoy these good Panhandle folks in the Capital City.

My office was also honored by a visit from Michael Pool, of Dunsmuir, who is a senior at SMU, and Neal Allen, of Amarillo, who is a senior at Yale. These two young men are in Washington to attend the Methodist Young People's Seminar, and came by the office for a nice visit. They are certainly a credit to this nation and to our district.

Galley 2 Walter Rogers Golley 2
Our old friend, Don Lane, who lived next door to us in Pampa, came by the office. He is a lieutenant in the Air Force, stationed at Dover, Del. He is a splendid specimen of young American manhood. We were proud that he could come by for a visit.
Also, our old friend, Tommy Johnson, the fine son of Nell Johnson and the late T. E. Johnson, of Amarillo. Tommy is stationed here in Washington with the Marine, and is doing a splendid job.

When you see all of these fine young people from the Panhandle of Texas, it reassures you about the future of this nation.

DOUGHNUT MILEAGE

HARRISON, N. J. (AP)—Max Stinger says he has fried 100 million doughnuts, and estimates that a number, side by side, would reach from here to Chile—about 4,762 miles. He's co-manager of a bakery that supplies 25 restaurants.

In Saudi Arabia, the air scoops for the ventilation of railroad passenger cars are put on the roof rather than underneath as in the United States, because blowing sand clog them when they are near the ground.

A train that traveled 127 miles an hour in 1905 still holds the U.S. railroad speed record.

Rose Culture Is H-D Club Topic During February

In their programs on roses Home Demonstration Club women are told that February is usually accepted as the month to start roses but successful rose growers seem to favor preparation of the soil now with the actual planting done a few weeks later.

If rose bushes are bought now it has been suggested that they be heated up now and set late in March or early in April for best results.

Home Demonstration Club reports sent in recently are:

held with Mrs. Orval Galley on February 4.

The program on Homestead Improvement was given by the hostess who is landscape demonstrator for the club.

Marketing, Finance and Year-book recommendations of Council were also read and accepted.

Members present were: Mesdames J. M. Carthers, J. B. Caraway, Walter Galley, L. W. Tooley, H. S. Fuller, Miss Lulu Rotsford and the hostess.

West Hereford

Mrs. N. W. Livesay was hostess to members of the West Hereford H. D. Club on Feb. 8.

The program on "Fire Prevention" was given by Mrs. Edna Bowe. Causes of fires in the homes were discussed by the group.

Mrs. A. E. Douglas was a new member present and others attending were: Mesdames Carlos Vaughn, Grace Hicks, M. C. King, Alice Cox, Ida Mae Vaughn, R. L. Calhoun, Roy Boyd, W. A. Waters, Vern Witherspoon, P. H. Luck, Miss Evelyn Bell and the hostess.

Ford Club

Mrs. Bill Black and Mrs. Dwayne Walker gave an interesting program on causes and prevention of fires in the home and about the farm when Mrs. C. D. Courley entertained members of the Ford H. D. Club on Feb. 2.

Different types of fire extinguishers were discussed. The women were also told that three things necessary for a fire are fuel, heat and oxygen and if the source of supply of any one of these can be cut off the fire will go out.

Mrs. S. T. Wiseman was welcomed as a new member.

Others attending were: Mesdames Henry Browning, H. M. Harrison, H. M. Denson, L. J. Strauss, Bill Black, Dwayne Walker, J. E. Dyer, LeRoy Williamson, Wills Williamson, J. L. Fite and the hostess.

Dawn Club

The finance committee set Feb. 18 as the date for the supper at the Dawn School to add funds to the club treasury at the meeting

HD Chatter

by Argen Draper

The Happy Homes 4-H Club is such a good demonstration in proper organization. After visiting the club on Thursday afternoon, it is a pleasure to recall some of the things they did which is a good example to any organized group. Last meeting when the officers and officials were elected and appointed the club membership voted to have an installation service to learn what is expected of the club members as well as the officers.

The minutes of the previous meeting were written by Patsy Dawson and read by the new secretary—Carol Phifer. This was one of the very best set of minutes that it has been our privilege of hearing. It was correct in every detail and the meeting had been a hard one to record as the officers were elected as well as the regular business carried on; minutes of the officer election are always tedious to record.

One of the officers resigned her office and presented the resignation in the proper manner. The resignation was accepted and a new officer was properly elected. The most impressive thing in the meeting it seemed to us was the opposition vote of one member. In many meetings the people who oppose an issue will rarely vote after everyone else has voted for the issue. When one opposition vote is cast it almost always causes much attention. One girl was against a motion and readily voted that way. She explained why she opposed the motion; this, explanation, of course, was not necessary but not out of order.

If the leaders who work with young people will teach the members of the group to vote the way they please but to always vote, it will be one of the greatest lessons that can be taught.

Mrs. George Heard gave the program to the club and did an excellent job. She had the demonstration well organized and had picked out a few points to stress. She feels that if girls learn only one thing in a meeting that the time is well spent.

Mrs. Ira Ott is the elected adult leader of the Happy Homes Club and is elected by the club membership. She has had many years of experience in 4-H Club and Home Demonstration Club work as well as other work with organizations. These experiences have fitted her as a wonderful influence on young people.

The 4-H Club work is good in Deaf Smith County. Interested adults and alert parents put the program of work over. This county has many good adult leaders and the entire community should say thanks for the outstanding service they are giving to youth.

Summerfield Club Meets On Feb. 9

The Summerfield Home Demonstration Club met with Mrs. Charlie Noland on Feb. 9.

The program on "New Cotton Materials" was given by Mrs. Noland. Samples were shown to the group.

One new member and one visitor shared the meeting with the 14 members who attended.

Mrs. Robert Betzen and little daughter, Marian, are spending the week in Lindsay, Tex., with her mother, Mrs. Zimmer. Her husband will join her later to celebrate the marriage of her sister there.

COOKING IS FUN for Duan and Randy Hopson, seen above as they prepare one of their favorites, "Popcorn Balls." The two young ladies are also adept at preparing cookies,

Fabrics Studied At Rance Meeting

Mrs. J. C. Clearman was hostess to members of the Rance Home Demonstration Club on Feb. 10.

Mrs. Charles Noland, a member of the Black H. D. Club was guest leader for the meeting. Mrs. Noland gave an interesting demonstration on "New Fabrics" with special emphasis on spring materials such as printed gingham and cotton shantung.

Refreshments were served by Mrs. Noland and the following members: Mesdames H. G. Berends, A. L. Streun, George DeLozier, E. J. Hodges, L. J. Counselman and the hostess.

The next meeting will be Feb. 24 at the home of Mrs. Roy Campbell.

Ray Wilhelm, C. J. Berends, Ed Jesko and Frank Bezner were in Plainview Sunday to represent the Knights of Columbus at the closing of 40 hours of adoration.

Grandmother Passes Along Cookie Recipe To Hopsons

Some little girls are still taught to cook by their mothers and grandmothers and Randy and Duan Hopson, daughters of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. Hopson are two youngsters that like to team up for a session in the kitchen.

They were happy when a new baby was brought home from the hospital recently but they were also pleased to be able to offer visitors, who came in to see little sister M'Lynn, some of the cookies they had made from their grandmother's recipe. Mrs. B. E. Brumley is not permitted to use eggs in her diet and she has worked out a delicious recipe for eggless cookies which the little girls made under her supervision.

Randy who is six, chose a heart-shaped cutter and decorated her cookies with colored candies while three-year-old Duan thought rabbits were more fun to cut.

Mrs. Brumley's recipe is given

Texas Press Association
AUSTIN, Tex. — Investigation of veterans' land sales is spreading.

Twenty new witnesses were called in for testimony by the House investigating committee the past week. All were former employees of the General Land Office.

More will testify this week—the third week of interrogation by the House committee.

Two additional months of investigation will be undertaken by the Senate Committee by order of the upper house. Investigation by the Senate committee has been going on since late in December.

A parade of witnesses will continue for several days.

Latest suit brought by the attorney general boosts the total recovery sought by the state to $1,113,800. Named among the defendants were J. Paul Little and J. R. Stallings of Crystal City.

Atty. Gen. John Ben Shepperd said the land was purportedly owned by A. B. Abbott, "a fictitious person—an assumed name used by the defendant J. Paul Little."

Shepperd has charged that Veterans Land Board files were rifled and records removed, after the investigation started before Christmas.

Regulating Labor Unions
A determined effort is being made to draft more stringent labor laws. It stems from the Port Arthur strikes.

Labor unions on the other hand are actively expressing their opposition.

A Senate committee delayed action on Sen. George Parkhouse's bill. It prohibits picketing by non-employees and strikes by other than the majority group of employees.

In the House, the labor committee heard a bill written by the State Federation of Labor. According to Rep. Maury Maverick Jr., co-sponsor, it would have prevented of the multiple-strike situation in Port Arthur.

Under the Maverick-Berlin Bill, the state labor commissioner would be required to call an election to determine whether the union represented a majority of the employees. A strike or picketing until that was determined would be prohibited. Also, if the union lost the election, it would be prohibited from picketing.

This bill also creates a full-time Industrial Commission to review disputes and invoke public opinion. But it would have no enforcement powers to settle labor fuses.

Nobody opposed the bill. It was sent to a sub-committee for a week's study.

Roy Harrington, secretary of the Texas Council of the CIO, said his group reluctantly accepted the bill. "We are about convinced," he said, "we are going to be hit over the head with a stick at this session. We're trying to pick out the smallest stick, the one that will hurt the least."

Some industrial leaders call the union's bill a little Wagner Act. They say it forces arbitration by a state commission, collective bargaining, and production of books and records.

Crime and Comics
Rep. Joe R. Pool has introduced a bill to outlaw crime, horror and sex comic books.

Another to prohibit all sorts of lewd and scandalous publications has been presented by Rep. Grainier McIlhenny.

A House committee heard 16 witnesses, 11 in favor of the two bills. Authors passed out samples of the publications. Committee members got so busy examining the exhibits they missed much of the four hour testimony.

Insurance Bills
A bill by the Association of Texas Fire and Casualty Companies won the approval of a Senate Committee. It is designed to correct abuses in the casualty field.

Sen. C. C. Martin is sponsor. The bill would raise minimum capital and surplus requirements for companies engaged in fire, casualty and marine insurance to $500,000 and raise the minimum for casualty companies to $150,000 capital and $150,000 surplus.

Also approved by the committee was Sen. Searcy Bracewell's "tough" bill to raise the minimum capital and surplus for legal reserve life companies to $375,000.

Lower Bus Taxes
The Legislature's tax program took a short backward roll down hill... as the House voted to cut $250,000 a year from present registration fees of motor busses.

Rep. Douglas E. Bergman's amendment to increase auto license fees by one-third was modified to exempt commercial vehicles, then reported favorably to the House.

Also... of... the... shown little inclination to increase taxes.

Cigarette Smuggling
Cigarette smuggling cost Texas $1,200,000 in lost needed revenue last year, So says J. G. Pope of the cigarette and am... tax division of the state comp... office.

An all-out enforcement campaign has been ordered to stop the flow of bootleg cigarettes. They are coming in from Missouri and Colorado where there is no state tax.

New Appointees
Gov. Allan Shivers has named three new members to six year terms on the University of Texas Board of Regents.

Designated were Mrs. Charles K. Devall, wife of the publisher of the Kilgore News Herald, Dr. J. Lee Johnson III, Ft. Worth lumberman; and Dr. Merston Minter, San Antonio physician.

FISH GETS A MOUTHFUL --

This goldfish recently ate a bigger meal than he realized when he apparently plopped a bird seed into his mouth. The seed sprouted and a plant about six inches long now grows from his mouth. The owner, Mrs. Willard Clayton of Marshall, Tex., thinks that it sprouted from a bird seed. The fish seems reasonably contented, except that it occasionally shakes its head back and forth as if to shake the plant loose. (AP Photo)

'Junior Miss' Title Of Dimmitt School Play

The Junior Class of Dimmitt High School presents their annual play entitled, "Junior Miss," on Feb. 24-25, according to announcements today by James Bates, director.

"Junior Miss" is a three act comedy written by Jerome Clodov and Joseph Fields, produced by the Dimmitt Juniors and directed by James W. Bates.

This becomes quite an involved story when Judy Graves, played by Myrtle Trimble, decides that her father, Harry Graves, played by Alton Bates, is having an affair with his boss's sister, Ellen Curtis, played by Pat Wilson.

Fluffy Adams, played by Melba Chism and Pat Howell, tries to help Judy bring her father back into the family and be true to Mrs. Graves, played by Sharon Wesson.

Judy not only tries to remake her father, but also tries to "save" Uncle Willis, played by Alton Whitworth, and to "make" or should we say "break" her sister Lois, played by Melba Curry.

Other characters seen in the play are: Joe—the repair man, Thru-man Morris; Hilda—the maid, Barbara Rogers; J. B. Curtis—Mr. Graves' boss, Jimmy Manning; Barlow Adams—Fluffy's brother, Billy Gafford; Western Union Boy, Tommy Robertson, and Lois' many boyfriends: Merrill Feurbach, Don Sheffey; Albert Kunody, O. C. Renfro; Tommy Arbuckle, Jimmy Butler; Henry Van Conard. Then Judy's one and only Haskell Cummings played by Bud Dye.

The play takes place Feb. 24-25, at 8:15 o'clock in the High School auditorium.

Local Arena To Have New Names In Weekly Show

Professor Roy Shire, of Evans-ton, Ill., known as "king of strut" by wrestling fans who never saw Danny McShain at his best, comes back to the Hereford Bull Barn Saturday night.

Accompanied, as usual, by his manager-second, Shire this time will call for "legal" aid, and long-haired, pale-faced Bobby Wallace no doubt will accommodate. They appear in a tag team match, Shire and Wallace versus the redoubtable Parks Brothers, Herb and Bill, from Canada.

This is the first time the Parks brothers have worked as a team in the Southwest States territory, although they have appeared as individuals, especially Herbie, on numerous occasions. Although they are brothers in blood and in wrestling, they are somewhat opposed in the business world. Unlike most wrestlers, they devote only the winter months to the game, but they keep in shape by running opposing summer vacation camps in Canada.

Herb Parks owns and operates a camp at North Bay, Ontario, Canada. A few miles away his brother Bill, known in the wrestling trade as Dinty, also operates a resort, at Sunset Bay. Bill, or Dinty, has named his feature hold

"The Sunset flip," and when he applies it a few times the opposition is ready to go to Herb's camp. It's vice versa when Herb applies his terrific body slams, and when he bores in, sometimes with his head bleeding, to make up for punishment he has absorbed. He has become popular as a great absorber of mayhem.

Tony Morelli, the veteran Italian, now a resident of New York, is back in the Southwest States wrestling picture. He meets a newcomer, young Mark Lewin, of Buffalo, N. Y., in the Saturday night semi-final. Lewin is a protege and brother-in-law of famous Danny McShain, three times the world's champion. McShain is married to Lewin's sister.

Bill Parks and Bobby Wallace tangle in what could be a stand-out match to open the Saturday night card, one fall or 15 minutes.

Attend YWA Meet

Belton, Feb. 11 — Four girls from Hereford will be among the more than 1300 attending the state YWA house party which will be held at 110-year-old Mary Hardin-Baylor college on Feb. 11-13.

They are Mildred Kelly, Sue Thomas, Francis Thomas, Betty Ramey.

Accompanying the girls are Mr. Bob Harris and Mrs. Troy Powell.

With "Tell the Story" as the theme, Miss Virginia Wingo, a missionary from Italy, will lead the mission emphasis phase of the annual meeting. Other outstanding Baptist women leaders who will attend are Mrs. R. L. Mathis, president of the Texas Baptist Women's Missionary Union; Miss Eula Mae Henderson, executive secretary of the Texas WMU; and Mrs. Woodson Arnes of Ft. Worth.

Rev. J. W. MacGorman of the Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary in Fort Worth will be the guest speaker for the occasion.

Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Adams left Monday for their home in Rogers, Ark., after spending a couple of days here with his sister, Mrs. E. W. Hobson. They were en route home from San Angelo where they had been looking after business interests. Other guests in the Hobson home Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Halslip of Hale Center and Mr. and Mrs. Lee Benefield. The Adams are former Hereford residents.

Joyce Shirley, who is attending school at Canyon, was home over the week end visiting with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Shirley

Strong Present Day Ag' Clubs Outgrowth Of Community Groups

Four-H Clubs and FFA chapters in Deaf Smith County according to local papers and information from people who participated, were preceded by organizations in different communities known as pig and poultry clubs.

Apparently it was in the spring of 1928 under the leadership of R. O. Lunkle, county agent that the first 4-H boys' clubs were organized as such.

It was under the direction of Miss Sadie Lee Oliver that the girls' clubs became active several years later but there was at least one 4-H girl in the county when Ira Jeanne joined the Progressive Boy's Club in 1929. There wasn't a girl's club for her to join.

Ira Jeanne, who is now Mrs. Howard Higgins of Texline, made an outstanding record starting with a pig that in the next 10 years made a net profit of a thousand dollars for her.

In 1930 this same club was publicized in the paper as being the outstanding 4-H organization in the county. Ruth Parks won a trip to College Station with a calf she had as a project which gives evidence that from the very first, girls have claimed a stall in the calf division of the youngster's livestock shows.

Somewhere between 1928 and

Mrs. Howard Higgins of Texline, who was Ira Jeanne Ricketts before her marriage, was the first 4-H girl in the county when she joined the Progressive Boy's Club when she was nine years old because there were no girl's clubs to join. She was also named first Gold Star Girl in the county.

the present time the girls also got the upper hand in the number of 4-H Clubs in the county as they now have seven clubs while the boys have four including the FFA chapter of high school agricultural students. The boy's 4-H organizations are in Hereford and in the Walcott and Westway communities.

Girls clubs are Caprock which meets at the Adrian school, Daniel, Happy Homes, Jolly Girls which is in the Ford community, Walcott, Sadie Lee Oliver in the Westway community and the County Wide Club and the newly organized Merry Maidens.

On Friday and Saturday at the Bull Barn in Hereford members from over the county will enter livestock and poultry in competition with each other and club members from surrounding counties for the annual Junior Livestock and Poultry Show sponsored by the Rotary Club.

Walter Kaul, son of Mr. and Mrs. Merlin Kaul, lost his calf last year and did not enter the show; he will bring a calf to the show this year, however.

Jimmy Dziuk will also enter two pigs in the show. He is showing capons in the poultry division.

Ann Rose Dziuk, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ed Dziuk, has been in club work three years. She will show entries in the poultry division. (County Wide)

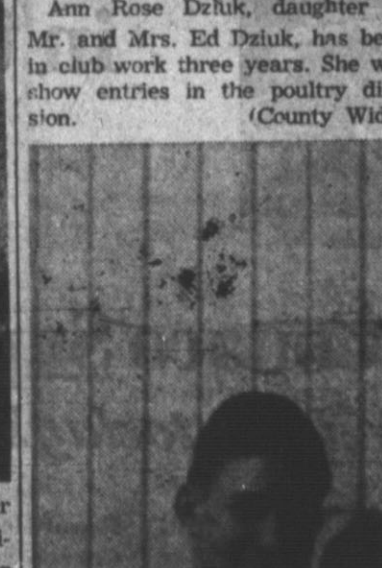

Velma Standridge, granddaughter of Mrs. Sabina Stoker, has just started 4-H Club work. She is entering the poultry show this year. (County Wide)

Suzanne Higgins is a new member of the Daniel Club. This will be her first time to show poultry. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Higgins.

Jane Hoard, nine year old daughter of the George Heards, will show poultry as her first entry in the Junior Live Stock and Poultry Show. (Happy Homes)

Your Income Tax

By FRANK O'BRIEN
The new tax law added some ways you can get part of your income out of the tax collector's reach by excluding it from your taxable income.

The new law lets you exclude from your taxable income part or all income you get as retirement-type benefits, sick pay and dividends. In addition there are new provisions of dollar-and-cent interest to scholars supported on grants to persons and to policemen.

Possibly the biggest tax saving to the most people under the new exclusions will result from provisions for setting part of annuity or pension income aside tax free.

This applies to anyone who has annuity-type income regardless of age or whether he is formally retired from business. There are 13 1/2 million persons in the United States over 65, plus millions of younger persons, with annuity income—nearly one third of the tax-paying individuals in the country.

Two general rules apply in excluding this type of income:

1. You have the right to recover, tax free, from your annuity or pensions benefits as much as you have invested or paid into your benefit plan. (This doesn't mean you can exclude payments you may be making now toward tax on excludable sick pay you had during 1954.

But it is still necessary for you to show the amount of your sick pay, in order to cut your taxable income down to the amount on which taxes have been paid. If you do not show your sick pay, you might get billed for taxes you do not owe.

Accident and health benefits—Payments to you, direct or indirect, under accident or health plans may be excluded from your taxable income when paid to cover the costs of medical care for you, your wife or husband, and your dependents.

Dividends—with limitations noted below, you can exclude from your taxable income up to 5% of income you get in the form of dividends.

If you are filing a joint return, and you and your wife each had dividend income, each can exclude dividends up to 5%.

You will find a new schedule "J," at the top of page 4 of form 1040, where you work out your dividend exclusion. On form 1040A you enter your taxable income from dividends (dividend income less the portion you can exclude) on line 10 as "other income."

Dividends received any time in 1954 may be counted for the dividend exclusion. (For the tax credit on dividends, to be discussed in the next article, you may count only dividends received after July 31, 1954.)

You may not count toward dividend exclusions any dividends received from a number of organizations detailed under the heading of "dividends" on page 7 of the instructions that came with your return.

The new tax law lets you exclude payments under a scholarship or fellowship in most cases.

It also allows persons to exclude the rental value of a parsonage supplied to them, as did the old law, and in addition allows rental cash allowances to be excluded. The cash allowance may be excluded to the extent it is used to

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I remove scratches from walnut furniture?
A. They can be removed successfully by cutting a walnut, or a Brazil nut kernel in half and rubbing the scratch vigorously with the freshly cut nut. The oil from the kernel will refinish the wood.

Q. How can I easily mark linen?
A. When using indelible ink for marking linen, or clothing of any kind, stretch the material in embroidery hoops. The work will be done better as this gives a firm, smooth surface on which to work.

Q. How can I clean a white felt hat?
A. By making a paste of equal parts of arrow-root and magnesia and cold water and brushing over the hat. When thoroughly dry, brush off.

Q. How can I remove a too salty taste from vegetables?
A. If soup or vegetables have too much salt in them place a cloth over the top of the vessel and let it remain on the stove. The cloth draws out some of the salt.

Q. How can I remove iodine stains?
A. Soak the stains about three minutes in cold water, then remove, rub baking soda over them and soak again in cold water; repeat until the stains disappear.

Q. How can I prevent lumps in brown sugar?
A. Brown or powdered sugar will not be lumpy if it is transferred from the paper bag to a tightly covered jar or can.

Q. How can I make something different in sandwiches?
A. Diced cold roast meat, 2 tablespoons peanut butter, 1/2-cup finely ground raw carrots, salad dressing, salt, and lettuce. Whip the peanut butter with salad dressing until creamy, then add to the salted carrots and meat.

Q. How can I remove rust from white materials?
A. Rub the juice of a freshly cut lemon on the stain, hold the material over a steaming kettle, and repeat until the stains disappear.

Q. How can I lighten superfluous hair?
A. It can often be lightened by constant use of a strong solution of peroxide of hydrogen.

Q. How can I avoid setting stains in garments?
A. A garment that is stained should not be pressed, as this makes the stain permanent and it cannot be removed without professional help. The spots should be cleaned before pressing.

Q. How can I make toast more alluring to a child who is ill?
A. Try cutting the bread into shapes of animals with the cookie cutter, and then toast them.

future retirement benefits. You have to be getting the benefits now. And if you are, you may exclude from this benefit income an amount equal to what you have paid in the past toward it.)

2. Also, in general you may not exclude from your taxable income any part of retirement income if you did not bear part of the cost. But you did bear part of the cost, even if you made no direct contributions, if you were taxed for part or all of your employer's payments to the plan. You can usually get your cost figures from your former employer.

You will find a new schedule "E," on page 2 of form 1040, to enter your exclusion for retirement income.

In schedule "K," on page 4, you will find a place to work out any retirement income tax credit you may have.

In working out your exclusions and credits, refer to the instruction booklet furnished with your return form and—since this is a complex matter—don't hesitate to call on your local internal revenue service office for help if you get confused.

Sick Pay—
The 1954 tax law allows a new type of exclusion from your taxable income for pay you receive as wages while you are off work due to sickness or injury. There are some limitations.

Sickness includes sickness during pregnancy which incapacitates you to work. The revenue service has not yet ruled definitely, however, on how it will treat maternity leave. It is possible that all paid maternity leave may be excluded from your taxable income.

Most sick pay plans fall into two groups—those of which the cost is borne by the employer, and those financed by contributions of the employe. The law makes different provisions for these:

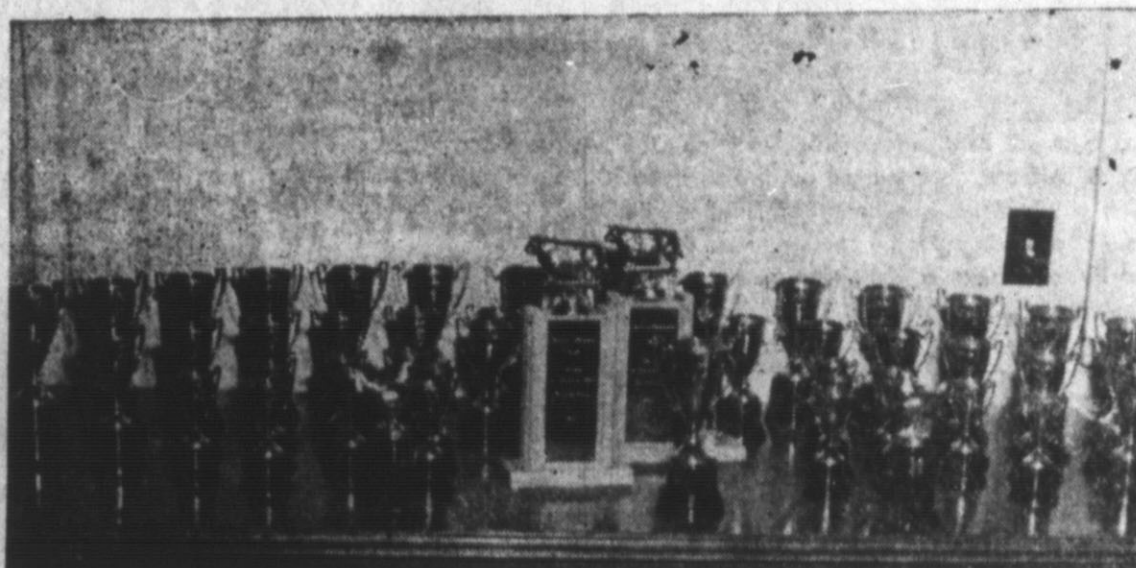

1. The amount of sick pay you exclude from taxable income may not exceed a weekly rate of $100 if it is received under a plan financed by your employer. But no part of your pay for the first seven calendar days of sickness or injury may be excluded unless you are hospitalized for at least one day at any time during your illness.

If your sick pay does not exceed $100 a week, and you are hospitalized, the entire amount may be excluded from your taxable income. But if you are paid at a rate in excess of $100 a week the excludable amount may be determined by a formula given on page 6 of the instructions.

2. These limitations do not apply when your pay for sickness or injury is entirely attributable to your own contributions to a plan. In this case, the entire amount may be excluded.

You will find a place at line 3 on page 1 of form 1040, or at line 12 of form 1040A to enter your sick pay exclusion. Attach a statement to your return explaining the exclusion. Both husband and wife can make sick pay exclusions on a joint return.

It is possible that your employer did not withhold your income

Long Time Ago

The Second Annual Banquet of the Hereford Commercial Club was celebrated Tuesday night, same being the birthday of the "Father of His Country." The congregation of the Christian Church had tendered the use of a large basement of their new church for the use of the Club and some two hundred banqueters sat at the tables and enjoyed a most palatable menu prepared by the Ladies' Circles of that church.

With a big forty horse power engine and a rotary pump that will discharge an eight inch stream, D. L. McDonald, who is making a test of the underground water supply on his farm three miles south began last Monday at 12:30 to make a long run. After a three days test, during which time, many townspeople and farmers witnessed the pump, Mr. McDonald feels safe in his conclusions that the underground supply is inexhaustible and plenty for irrigation purposes.

speed delivered into the ditch from 500 to 800 gallons per minute and at no time was the water level lowered, except when a cave in of sand would shut off the supply. At times, the pump was submerged in from two to six feet of water. All who saw the test are highly pleased and are convinced that Hereford has a mint in her water supply.

Miss Lillie Hosteller, Librarian, and the Deaf Smith County Library Committee have set Saturday of next week, March 8th, as the opening date of the new free county library. This has been made necessary by the great amount of clerical work to be done in classifying the books and getting the library ready for its work.

At The Movies

"The High and the Mighty"

"The High and the Mighty," starring John Wayne with a 22 star name cast in Cinemascope, opens Friday and continues through Tuesday at the Star Theatre. Filmed from the Ernest K. Gann two-year best seller, "The High and the Mighty" will be seen in color by WarnerColor.

Starring with John Wayne some of the leading roles are played by Claire Trevor, Laraine Day, Robert Stack, Jan Sterling, Phil Harris, Robert Newton, and David Brian. The film also introduces newcomers: Doe Avedon, Karer.

County Judge Earl W. Wilson and the county commissioners have done everything possible to give the free library a beautiful setting. The northwest corner of the lower floor of the courthouse has been completely remodeled and decorated, giving plenty of space and light, airy rooms for the use of the library.

The Brand was pleased during this week to find several comments along the streets pertaining to merchants and their employees parking their cars this summer in other places than the congested business district. The curb space in front of a business house is a valuable asset if used right, but the cars should be forced to move occasionally and make room for others who might have business also at that particular spot. It is something to be given very serious consideration from a courtesy, service and business standpoint by the Hereford business and professional people, and one of the friendliest and most appreciated gestures the city could make this year would be to provide better parking accommodations to those who visit or come to the town to trade.

Household Cooking Hints

An expectant mother who does not like milk learns to drink a quart daily when she is told by her doctor that it is important to both her health and the baby's. But the benefits of this milk regime to the baby will not be so great as they would be if the prospective mother had been drinking a pint of milk daily previous to her pregnancy.

Know how to open a can of fruit or vegetable juice? Shake the can first, then use a three-cornered puncture-type opener on one side of the top; make a second opening opposite the first so the juice will pour easily.

When a recipe directs that eggs be "slightly beaten" the eggs should be whipped just until the yolks and whites are combined.

When you brown flour, some of the starch in the wheat product loses some of its thickening power. Take this fact into account when you are using browned flour for gravy.

Creamed tuna on toast is delicious but standard family fare. Try topping each serving with a deviled egg and listen to the applause! Be sure to flute the stuffing in the egg halves with the tines of a fork and sprinkle with paprika. Tiny sprigs of parsley perched a top the eggs make them look extra pretty, too.

Beets contain the mineral iron, but they are most valued in the diet for their roughage and carbohydrate content.

If your butter cake is coarse, over-light and crumbly, you have probably used too much baking powder in it.

Lancaster plays the role of the courageous soldier-of-fortune who came to the South Pacific in the 1870's and stayed to engage with exploiters of the natives in a fierce battle of courage and wits, and to claim, but not to get without another fight, a lovely Polynesian as his bride and "queen."

Joan Rice, English star, and Tessa Prendergast, Jamaican dancer, enact the two women in the life of Captain O'Keefe.

Tempers Flare In Tag Team Go At Bull Barn Saturday

By Stanley Phillip

An excited crowd of about 350 saw three very good wrestling matches at the Bull Barn Saturday night. Bob Clay of Tulsa met Boris Kameroff of Russia in the first 15 minute bout. Second preliminary match saw Dory Funk of Umbarger against Angelo Poffo of Chicago. Main event of the evening was a tag team match between the favorites, Funk and Clay versus badmen Kameroff and Poffo.

First Event

First match saw Boris Kameroff of Rostov, Russia, invading a restricted area for the third week in a row and giving Bob Clay of Tulsa, Okla., a rugged time. Clay had his hands full avoiding the hair-pulling, choking and use of fists on the part of Kameroff. Just when things were really getting rough, and both boys decided to make it a free-for-all, time ran out and the referee Scotty McFarland, declared it a draw.

Second Event

Dory Funk of the Flying Mare Ranch took on the strip-tease artist from Chicago, Angelo Poffo, in the second event of the evening. Poffo, in his second appearance here, again went through the ritual of disrobing and putting his jacket and trunks in a dust-proof bag. Fans got a laugh Saturday night as Scotty McFarland jumped and started to protest as Poffo removed his white trunks only to find he wrestles in a pair of black ones. Like his partner of the night, Kameroff, Poffo believes anything goes if it helps win the fall. There was plenty of excitement with both men using plenty of hard body slams, body blocks, forearm smashes, etc. After seven minutes of bouncing each other around, Funk came to the conclusion that 'three's a crowd' and tossed his opponent out of the ring over the top rope. This method of subduing an opponent being frowned upon by the rule makers, ref McFarland immediately disqualified

UMBRELLA MAN -- Steve Owen, whose "umbrella defense" won note in pro football while coaching with the New York Giants team, found conditions favorable for umbrellas when he arrived in Waco, Tex. Owen, right, is shown with Baylor coach George Jauer. Owen will assist with Baylor's spring football training for two weeks and will lecture at a football clinic for high school coaches in Waco Feb. 17-19. (AP Wirephoto)

Funk, much to the disappointment of the fans.

Main Event

Tempers were still at the boiling point when the bell started the tag team match, the final and main event of the night. Kameroff and Poffo started right out where they had left off, using everything in the books while Funk and Clay protected themselves by following the bad boy's example.

While in a dazed condition from body slams, Kameroff got caught in the same corner with Funk and Clay, and ended up being pinned by Clay with a rolling cradle in 11 minutes. During the rest period, Boris and Angelo stayed in the ring and argued with the fans. Poffo even invited a few of the fans into the ring to do battle, but could find no takers.

Following the bell for the second fall, Kameroff and Poffo went to work on Bob Clay. Using choke holds and fists they never gave him a chance to rest or to tag his partner, Funk. Finally getting Clay in a neutral corner, Poffo slammed the back of his neck into the turnbuckle several times and before Clay could recover Poffo had him in an Italian neck breaker and that was fall number two in four minutes.

Final fall started out with Clay being worked over again but he was finally able to tag his partner and Funk took over. Referee McFarland was kept busy trying to keep the correct number of wrestlers in the ring and hold the illegal tactics to a minimum. Funk tried to put his spinning toe hold on both opponents during the third stanza, but both avoided it several times. Finally Kameroff was the boy to make the fatal mistake. Funk caught him with a forearm smash and started spinning on his leg before Boris could get to his partner. Time on the last fall was 14 minutes.

Q. Please suggest something for bleaching facial freckles.
A. Here's one suggestion: Cut a small ripe tomato in half and massage the skin with the cut side, using a circular movement, at the same time squeezing the tomato to keep the juice flowing. Let juice dry on face a few minutes, then wash off with cold water, and pat dry with a soft cloth. Do this twice daily, and do not use cream on face for at least an hour after the treatment.

Q. Someone has told me that face powder has a tendency to clog one's pores. Is this correct?
A. No. Actually, your powder helps to absorb excess oil secretions and also protects the skin from dirt, dust and weather.

Q. How can I mix myself a good mouth astringent at home?
A. Merely mix the unsweetened juice of a lemon on 1/4 glass water.
Q. What is a recommended way to use eyebrow pencil?
A. Moisten an eyebrow brush with cold cream and then rub on the eyebrow pencil. Now, with light strokes, brush the color onto your brows so that each hair is delicately darkened. Don't apply the brush to your skin in a heavy dark line, because the purpose of eyebrow pencil is to accentuate the color of your brows only.

Q. How can I remove nicotine stains from my fingers?
A. A twice-daily dipping in peroxide will banish the stains.

Q. How can I help to soften my coarse hair?
A. Use one-third cup of vinegar in the rinse water after your shampoo, then wash this out with clear water to avoid smelling like a pickle factory. Famous blonde beauties often add the strained juice of a lemon to their rinse water. While lemon won't bleach the hair, it does help to keep it light.

Beauty At Home

Q. I have a very small nose but a protruding chin. What makeup routine should I observe?

A. Shade the chin with a darker foundation cream, and highlight the nose with a lighter one. This is a good rule of makeup. If you want to enhance the size of a facial feature, use a lighter shade of foundation than your natural skin tone—and if you want to diminish the size of a feature, use a darker foundation cream.

Q. How can I make my own skin-cleansing lotion?

A. Mix one-half teaspoon of good cologne, two teaspoons witch hazel, and one tablespoon of rose water. Apply with small cotton pads, and mix fresh for each application.

Q. My skin has become dark and discolored looking. What can I do?

A. One good way to bleach it is to add some lemon juice to your regular cleansing cream. Keep in a cool place to avoid its turning
