Miss Elizabeth Owens, regional representative of the national Camp Fire Girls organization, is to be in Hereford for the first three days of next week to confer with the adult leaders and with the members of the Camp Fire members.

The Deaf Smith County Federation of Women's Clubs will hold its quarterly luncheon in the First Methodist Church on Friday, Nov. 16, at 1 p.m.

Mrs. Elizabeth Rea of Detroit, Mich., Mrs. S. C. Pressley and Mrs. W. B. Little, both of Lubbock, have been secured as judges for the La Plata Study Club Hobby Show to be held at the Jim Hill Hotel on Saturday, Nov. 17.

A rummage sale will be held at the Hereford Locker on Saturday, Nov. 17, opening at 10 a.m. under the sponsorship of the Child Study Club.

The Grace Gospel Church will be the scene of a singing on Sunday, Nov. 18, at 2:30 p.m. with Buck Barnett in charge.

Out-of-town friends who attended the funeral of Mrs. J. W. Beene Saturday afternoon were Mr. and Mrs. Charlie Bennett, Mrs. Olga Hambrick, Mr. and Mrs. Bub Ramey, all of Amarillo; Mr. and Mrs. Edwin Ramey, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Ramey, all of Dimmitt; Mrs. Hester Johnson of Friona; Mrs. Jack Ford, Rev. J. Crawford, Mrs. Ollie Connelly and Mrs. H. M. Hamilton, all of Plainview.

A benefit auction sale is to be staged on the grounds of St. Anthony's School on Saturday, Nov. 17, beginning at 1 p.m., according to an announcement by William Betzen, chairman of the arrangements. The building fund of the recently constructed school will receive the proceeds from the sale.

Dziuk Represents County In State Farm Bureau Meet

Newly elected president, Ed Dziuk Jr., of the Deaf Smith County Farm Bureau was one of 500 delegates to the state FB convention which convened in Houston on Nov. 11-14. He was accompanied to the meeting, held at the Rice Hotel in Texas' largest city, by Mrs. Dziuk.

Among the major issues considered by the annual gathering of Farm Bureau representatives from over the state were resolutions with such issues as acreage allotments, soil bank payments, drought relief and price supports. The delegates were to have voted on the resolutions at the Wednesday session of the convention.

SCHOOL GROWTH PROBLEM DEBATED

SCHOOLS IN LIMELIGHT—There was nothing unusual in this scene of Hereford High School students leaving their building at day's end on Tuesday. It is a privilege and a pleasure to which they are accustomed. But that evening, the schools board of trustees puzzled over the problem of making room for more students next year, and the next and the next with high school student enrollment expected to climb steadily in each year ahead.

Grain Producers Urged To Attend County Meeting

A business meeting for all members of the Deaf Smith County Grain Sorghum Producers has been called for 8 p.m. Thursday by R. G. Peeler, president. The meeting will be held in the county court house.

Home Decorations Lecture Slated

The Hereford Garden Club will sponsor Dr. Robert H. Rucker of the department of horticulture and landscape design at Texas Tech, Lubbock, in a lecture-demonstration program of Christmas arrangements on Nov. 23. His subject will be "Christmas in the Home."

VARIED PICKUP

CALGARY (AP)—A city police cruiser found a stray goat wandering around in southwest Calgary and loaded it into the back seat for a ride to the pound. On the way, the police saw a man weaving down the street. They picked him up as a drunk, and put him in the back seat with the goat rather than make two trips.

Cooper's Request For Rezoning Is Refused By Board

A request submitted to the City Zoning Commission that certain residential lots which lie between Sixth St. and Park Avenue be rezoned for retail business was refused when the Commission met at the City Hall on Tuesday evening.

Neil Cooper, groceryman and city commissioner, had asked that the lots be changed from a "C" zone to a "D" zone, which is local retail business zone.

Mrs. Espericueta Rites On Tuesday

A native of Old Mexico, Concepcion Espericueta, died in Plains Memorial Hospital, Dimmitt, on Tuesday at the age of 84 after an extended illness. She had been seriously ill for the past three weeks.

Funeral services for Mrs. Espericueta will be held at St. Joseph's Mission at the Hereford Labor Camp on Thursday. Father Michael Suerge of St. Anthony's Church will officiate. Burial will follow in St. Anthony's Cemetery. Arrangements are under the direction of Gilliland Funeral Home.

Approval Granted By Voters To Aid For The Disabled

Deaf Smith County joined the State of Texas in approving by a majority vote the amendment to the state constitution which will give aid to permanently disabled Texans in voting Tuesday. Although the voting was light, all 11 boxes reported returns in the special election.

The vote in this county was 157 for, and 28 against. The largest vote was recorded in the Precinct 2 box with 46 voting in favor of the amendment and 6 voting against it.

Other returns are as follows: Hereford 1, 32 for, 0 against; Roe, 2 for, 4 against; Sims, 6 for, 2 against; Ford, 10 for, 7 against; Dawn, 16 for, 3 against; Garcia, 12 for, 2 against; Bippus, 4 for, 0 against; Daniel, 3 for, 1 against; Hereford 11, 26 for, 3 against. No absentee ballots were cast.

This special amendment election became necessary through an error in legislative procedure in listing the amendment on the general election ballot. Eight other amendments were approved by Texas voters in last week's general voting.

Incomplete returns from over the state indicate that the amendment will be approved by a heavy majority of voters. Almost 90 percent of the returns tabulated favored the amendment.

"FARMERS AT THE CROSSROADS"

Rural People Seen As Wall Against Threats To Our Way Of Life

EDITOR'S NOTE: Ezra Taft Benson, Secretary of Agriculture, has written a book outlining the tremendous dilemma termed the "farm problem," which affects for better or for worse every citizen. The book, "Farmers at the Crossroads," presents his views on the basic facts and the program needed for the problem's solution.

Introduction by Carlisle Bargerou First INSTALLMENT So, in Ezra Taft Benson the post of Secretary of Agriculture in November, 1952, the latter demurred, explaining that he was a clergyman and doubted whether he could engage in politics, where expediency is often the rule.

President Eisenhower, at his first Cabinet meeting, asked Secretary Benson to offer a prayer. Since then, every Cabinet meeting has been opened with prayer, either vocal or silent. All of the Secretary's own staff meetings are opened with a vocal prayer, as are also the meetings of the National Agricultural Advisory Commission which aids in framing national agricultural policy.

Farming And Faith So, in Ezra Taft Benson, a man who has often been regarded as the most controversial member of the President's Cabinet, there has appeared a clergyman whose entire background has been that of a practical farmer, bred on the land, and still actively and successfully tilling it.

PAY CASH FOR NEW BULL BARN

Commissioners In Special Meeting

In a called meeting last Saturday, Deaf Smith County Commissioners Court took action on a finance distribution problems and moved to purchase two new cars for the County Sheriff's department.

Several thousand dollars were transferred from road funds to the general fund when it became apparent that current accounts might better be handled in that manner, said County Judge Homer Henslee.

Funds borrowed from the road and bridge funds assigned to the various precincts totaling $7,000 were borrowed for the general improvement fund; $5,000 is to be charged against Precinct 1 funds, $2,000 against Precinct 3. Another $4,500 was transferred to the general fund, including $3,000 from Precinct 1 funds, $1,000 from Precinct 4, and $500 from Precinct 3.

Major Change Is Recommended; Action Delayed

Too many students. Too few classrooms. Too little income for operating expenses. These are the problems that are expected to confront the Hereford school system when September, 1957 rolls around, and to become more acute in each succeeding year.

But action will not come on any of the matters until after further debate in special sessions scheduled for the coming weeks. A citizens' committee and a specialist are to be appointed to aid the school supervisors in making the plans for future expansion.

Needs Outlined In a session that began at 6:30 p.m. with a dinner served in the homemaker dining room and ended at an unusually early hour, midnight, the trustees spent about two hours in discussion of the problem. The discussion centered on recommendations made by Fred J. Cunningham, superintendent of schools.

Cunningham recommended changing the present school organizational plan from the present six years of elementary school, two years of junior high, and four years of high school to a 6-3-3 plan. But he pointed out that the change would necessitate building a new junior high school plant at a cost of $600,000 to $800,000 and said, "we will have to forego this first recommendation."

CROP Activities To Be Described

The report of the First Methodist Church will be filled on Sunday morning, Nov. 18, by the Rev. Ellis A. Todd, supervisor of CROP activities in the West Texas area. The service will mark the observance of CROP Sunday.

Youth of Deaf Smith County collected a total of $1817.92 for the work of CROP on Halloween night, according to a statement issued this week by Joel A. Hodges, treasurer of the drive in this area.

Rev. Todd will speak concerning the Christian Rural Overseas Program, with special emphasis upon his personal visit to Haiti in August of this year. He states that his survey of Haiti convinced him of the effectiveness of the CWS-CROP distribution of food and fiber, a pattern which operates exclusively through local churches and missionaries.

The Rev. Todd saw Texas flax and seed being harvested, after having been donated earlier to the hurricane devastated land through CROP. He saw vegetables being tended, also the result of CROP shipments.

Bible Words for Today

HEBREWS 10:25—"Not forsaking the assembling of ourselves together, as the manner of some is; but exhorting one another". (King James Version)

Many a pastor has gone home from a service in which he preached to more empty pews than he should have had to, and turned to this Bible verse for a measure of consolation.

It is significant to note that scarcely fifty years after the death of our Lord and the beginning of the Christian Church, the unknown writer of the Epistle to the Hebrews (it used to be attributed to St. Paul) was finding it necessary to implore church-members not to forget the assembling of themselves together. This, he said, was getting to be a habit (manner) of some.

Take the preceding verse and this one together, and the reason he urges for faithful church attendance is not so much what it will do to the individual but what his presence in the congregation will do to others: "exhorting" ('putting heart into') one another".

STUDY RIO GRANDE VALLEY WATER SITUATION—Kenneth M. Smith, right, court-appointed special water master for the Lower Rio Grande Valley, and deputy water master John L. Clare go over charts in their office in McAllen, Texas, as critical water supplies cause them many anxious moments. Smith, former colonel in the U. S. Army corps of engineers and one of the Valley's top water specialists, estimates that if Valley farmers tried to grow a normal crop of cotton next year, existing supplies of water at Falcon Dam would be gone in five days. Farmers who depend on water in the reservoir for irrigation still are hoping and praying that there will be enough water in storage by the end of the year for next year's crops, but the odds are against them. Hereford Garden Club Has Miniature Flower Exhibit

A miniature flower show was set up Friday afternoon by members of the Hereford Garden Club at a meeting held in the home of Mrs. A. L. Manjeot, in preparation for the Christmas Flower Show, which will be held by the club on Dec. 14.

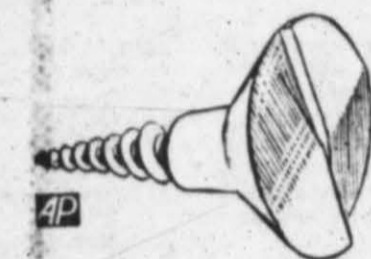

Mrs. M. T. Rutter is general chairman of the show and the workshop set-up included classifications, entries and staging. The show will include horticulture and artistic divisions and entries were made according to scheduled outlines for the Christmas show. These were then judged to enable members to perfect the plans for the forthcoming show. Added features to the show this year will be a Christmas table, beautifully done packages, and Christmas candies.

Roll call was answered by members expressing thanks for Autumn Those present included Mesbeauty in nature. Plans were made for the demonstration lecture which will be given in the high school auditorium by Dr. Robert Rucker of the horticulture department of Texas Tech on Nov. 23. Dr. Rucker is a recognized authority in flower arrangements and the purpose of the lecture is to increase interest in civic and home beautification at Christmas time. Admission fee will be $1 for adults and 50 cents for youths. Proceeds will go toward expense of the speaker. Door prizes will be given.

Mesdames E. W. Young, M.T. Rutter and Ralph McCullough were named to a committee to work out plans for decoration of the tables for the Chamber of Commerce Banquet scheduled for January. Those present included Mes-

How To Make One-Way Screw

One-way screws are safety devices wherever screwheads are exposed. Any screw can be made a one-way screw, says the American Home magazine, by filling off the back half on each side of the slot in the screwhead. This makes it possible to tighten the screw, while removal with a screwdriver is impossible. It's a handy gimmick for hasps, hinges and latches which have screw heads exposed to the outside.

(Continued From Page 1) chairman of the Boy Scouts of American council here, has announced that the Court of Honor set for Monday evening, Nov. 19, will not be held. The ceremonies will be rescheduled on a December date, he added, the time and place to be announced later.

Today is the last day for Chamber of Commerce members to return their ballots for the election of directors, says Bill Lenderman, C.C. manager. Ballots that are postmarked on or before Nov. 15 will be counted. The committee will meet on Friday to count the ballots, according to the manager.

A meeting of all persons interested in Little League for next year has been called for Monday evening, 7:30 p.m., in the Cecil Guseman offices in Jim Hill Hotel, according to League President Ray Cowser. Officers will be elected at the meeting and steps will be taken to re-charter the Hereford Little League for the coming year. Cowser stressed the fact that the meeting is open to the public and especially invited all parents interested in the project.

(Continued From Page 1) members and the superintendent. "If" the present growth rate of the upper grades is no more than the present kindergarten through and elementary school grade enrollments indicate, where would another junior high school need to be located? This would depend on the direction in which the city grows, said Cunningham.

"If" the growth continues downstate, and there is a continued migration from other areas to the Hereford district, what about our school needs then? This one is a poser that alarms the school board.

Bronze Tower On Park Avenue

NEW YORK (AP)—Another new bronze, will make its debut on Park Avenue where it will completely sheathe the 38-story Seagram building now under construction.

Heavy masonry walls have given way to lightweight curtains of glass and metal in several new skyscrapers. Stainless steel was used for the exterior of the Socony-Vacuum building. Various other towers are covered with aluminum.

Here's New Idea In Wood Siding

Random width siding is gaining favor in giving homes a new and different look. Bevel wood siding in widths from 4 to 10 inches is used. A 4-inch width of 5/8-inch siding forms the bottom level with 6, 8 and 10-inch widths following up in that order. The rotation is then started over again with a 4-inch strip.

Other effective combinations use only two widths, 4 and 8-inch, or three widths. Some economy may be worked in by using the narrow widths.

Random width vertical siding can be equally effective.

Nanaimo, Canada intentionally built narrow streets. This slows down traffic and has completely eliminated traffic fatalities.

Only about 8 percent of United States rural roads were surfaced in 1955.

Hibernation by certain birds is merely a mechanism for conserving energy, reports a group of University of California zoologists.

But no one is yet proposing any answer.

"It" asks farmer-trustee Wilburn Axe, "our water supplies are depleted to some extent, what would happen then to our population and school needs?"

Tom Robinson, another farmer on the board, interjected an opinion that points toward year-around school terms: "I think," he said, "the time is coming when we will need to use our school buildings 12 months of the year. They sit idle too much of the time under the present nine-month system."

State Aid Possible "If a bill now pending consideration by the Texas Legislature, Senate Bill 16, should gain approval," said Cunningham, "our financial problems would be greatly helped." He said that federal aid to school proposals do not aim to provide help for schools in areas as prosperous as this.

Bert Boomer, grainman-trustee, asked if some of the classroom expansion needs might not be met by shifting the junior high school student body to the Shirley Elementary building, the Shirley grades to Stanton, and some students to Central and Alkman might not ease the space shortage problem.

The session closed with a lot of problems left to be debated further in a special session on Nov. 27.

Clayton, New Mexico. B-4-33-46-2c.

IN DEAF SMITH COUNTY
313 acres right on the pavement just outside of Hereford and in the best of water. Has very nice 3 bedroom home with basement and 14x40 granary.
Well is very good 8". 263 acres very level land in cultivation and 50 acres of grass. 66 acre wheat allotment and 4 acre cotton. $74,337.50 total price at $237.50 per acre. We could make a $30,000.00 loan would leave $44,337.50 in cash—won't accept any trade or second mortgage.
Perfect section without a pimple on it. Has two extremely good wells on natural gas. Old house. 60 acre wheat allotment and 10 acre cotton. 651 acres at $170.00 per acre.
$110,670.00, $46,600.00 loan and owner would carry all except $27,000. down payment.
THIS FARM IS SO LEVEL IT HURTS YOUR EYES TO LOOK AT
IT. The only way a man could keep from making money on it is to drop dead.
We can split the above section into two half sections with 325.5 acres each, the half with the house would be at $175.00 per acre. $13,500.00 cash down payment and the other half section would be at $165.00 per acre with the same down payment. There are no two-better half sections in the Panhandle of Texas.

Educator Says Integration Won't Kill Negro Colleges

Editor's Note: With integration slowly spreading, especially in institutions of higher learning, what is the future of the Negro colleges formed when separate facilities were required for the two races? Here's the answer of one Negro college president.

By PAUL R. JORDAN
FRANKFORT, Ky. (AP) — Dr. R. B. Atwood has no intention of presiding over the liquidation of Kentucky's only Negro college — no matter what racial integration may bring.

The president of Kentucky State College says the admission of Negroes to 29 previously all-white colleges in this region has had no real effect on the institution. Kentucky State actually has kept pace with the general trend and enjoyed annual increases in enrollment since the Supreme Court outlawed segregation in public schools in 1954. This year's 546 total includes six white students in night classes.

But despite this stability in the face of widening integration, the 59 year old Negro educator, who has guided Kentucky State since 1929, predicted a "profound effect is inevitable."

Question Answered
What, then will be the ultimate role of Kentucky State and similar colleges in a completely integrated system? Dr. Atwood replied: "I was not elected president of Kentucky State to preside over its liquidation, neither do I intend to do so. The college will, if given adequate support, thoroughly justify its continued existence." Then he talked of a two-year institute of technology which, if necessary, could supplement Kentucky State's four-year courses in teaching and the like. Such an institution, he said, would appeal to the "financially uncertain" student and meet the demand for technicians in the expanding fields of air conditioning, heating, refrigeration, building construction and similar industries. Dr. Atwood described the technician as the "middle man" flanked by the "thinker" and the "doer who works with his hands."

Pilot 'Hears' Through Feet

KNOXVILLE, Tenn. (AP) — A Knoxville pilot with a name as famous as aviation itself goes one better than the pioneer fliers who "flew by the seat of their pants."

He flies by the soles of his feet. Harold Wright, 29-year-old instructor at Tennessee School for the Deaf, is totally deaf himself.

The six white students now attending night classes are persons who work in this capital city area and want to learn more about accounting, business law, or dramatics. He said his Negro students consider a white as "just another student." As for Negro students, he expressed belief that most feel more at home in a basically Negro college than they do as a small minority at a larger white school, especially during this transition period.

Small Fry Prefers To Win

By Dorothy V. Whipple, M.D. AP Newsfeatures
Four-year old Chris and six-year old Larry were playing on the long front porch of their home. The game at the moment was racing the length of the porch, turning at the far end and racing back. The winner obviously covered the ground in the shortest time.

Larry, being two years his brother's senior, always won. Chris accepted this for a few runs, then instead of going the full length of the porch, he turned about midway and managed to come in a head of his brother. This made Larry furious.

"You cheated!" he yelled, and gave Chris a punch that sent him sprawling and brought mother to the scene. "He's a dirty cheat," declared Larry to his mother.

"But I like to win, too," said Chris. His tears were dry now and he was ready to punch his brother back. Mother smiled to herself. Chris' methods were certainly direct. She couldn't condone cheating, but she knew she could never make Chris understand that cheating was wrong. So she said: "Larry surely is a fast runner, isn't he? How would you boys like to help make beds this morning? You can make waves with the sheets on Mommy's bed."

Baptist Minister Hopes To Combine Hobby With Work

Paris, Tex. (AP) — A 28-year-old aerial enthusiast turned pastor has a hobby he hopes to put to use in his religious work. He repairs air planes in his back yard.

I. N. Burchinal Jr., a telephone company employee during the week and a Baptist minister on Sundays, thinks he may find a way to use the plane he's currently repairing, but just how he's uncertain.

"Maybe I'll pull banners with it or maybe I'll take a barnstorming revival tour," he says. His religious career dates back two years when he was converted to Christianity. Since then he has become an ordained minister and preaches at the Bible Baptist Church in Honey Grove.

Burchinal, an accomplished pilot with more than 2,000 hours of flying time to his credit, has been tinkering with airplanes as a hobby for the past eight years. In that time, he estimates he has repaired more than 100.

Iranian Back Has Big Day

Charlottesville, Va. (AP) — James Abol Hassen Bakhtiar, the plunging Iranian fullback who's the University of Virginia's All-America candidate, needed five games last season to gain as much ground as he picked up in a single afternoon against VMI this season.

In 27 carries against VMI, Bakhtiar tore off 210 yards for a new Atlantic Coast Conference single-game rushing record. This was 30 yards more than he gained in Virginia's first four contests in 1955. Bakhtiar finished the '55 season with 733 yards and six touchdowns, averaging 4.6 yards on 158 rushes.

Bakhtiar, 21, weighs 198. He was born in Abadan, Iran.

A Double Demon

ELMONT, N. Y. (AP) — Jockey P. Anderson rode both ends of the $2,121.60 daily double at Belmont Park. On the next program, two days later, he had the first winner in a daily double that returned $177.10 for $2.

He does all the work himself—fabric patching, repairing the outer framework, overhauling engines and painting. Burchinal has never been seriously injured in his flying career although he's survived three crashes in the past two years.

He's currently fixing a Meyers trainer that he hopes will be ready for testing in a few weeks. The plane had to be covered with new fabric, painted and the framework of the wing repaired.

All the work was performed in his backyard workshop.

Paris JC Teaches Ancient Stone Art

Paris, Tex. (AP) — The ancient art of stone cutting is getting a boost by the courses in gemology being taught at Paris Junior College.

So far as school officials can determine, it is the only course of its kind being taught in Texas. And a list of southwestern jewelers wanting to hire its graduates attests to its worth.

Veterans comprise the bulk of the enrollment. The one-man faculty, Terrell Boyd, is himself an early graduate of the college's horology and jewelry craft department.

The horology department opened in 1940 and jewelry craft was added in 1946. The course lasts 16½ months for watchmaking. Individual courses also are offered in jewelry repair, engraving, stone cutting, stone setting and gemology. All the courses can be covered in 33½ months.

The course has proven especially attractive to partially disabled veterans, according to VA training specialist, Joe Houston. "One of the best students was a veteran who had lost both his legs," Houston says. "He now is holding down a fine job in watch-

STUDIOUS GRIDMEN

BLACKSBURG, Va. (AP) — Coach Frank Moseley of Virginia Tech takes every safety measure to assure that his football players don't fall down in their grades. This season he's conducting a special study hall exclusively for Gobler gridmen.

Cheese factories in the United States make more than a billion pounds of cheese a year. Four years after the British Museum placed the shell of an Egyptian desert snail on exhibition, a snail crawled out. It was hungry.

Eighteen powers have agreed to the United Nation protocol limiting the production and trade of opium. To come into force the protocol must be ratified by 25 countries.

More than 96 percent of the watchmaking and jewelrycraft graduates have obtained permanent employment in that field within 90 days after they graduated," he adds.

On The House

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER
AP Real Estate Editor

A home guaranteed for a lifetime — or at least for the life of a mortgage — may not be very far off. We know a man who got a 25,000-mile guarantee on a new car for $25 by agreeing to have the dealer always service its complex mechanism. No mere 90-day warranty. It's good for two years! It ought to have something like that for houses.

Some time ago the National Association of Home Builders was advocating a policy of make-good structural defects for about a year or so after a home was purchased. It was a step in the right direction. Now a new certificate has come into attention. It is issued by the National Bureau for Lathing and Plastering. On it a contractor pledges that his work is "in accordance with the code of standard practices" established by that bureau. This is another step in the right direction. It was taken, according to the bureau, to counteract "imitations and substitutes" for genuine lath and plaster.

Joe M. Baker, director of the bureau, says his organization is a joining of hands by labor and management "to educate the public that lath and plaster are permanent construction, fire protection, sound barriers, sanitary, and having lasting beauty."

The bureau comprises the contracting Plasterers' International Union, the Wood, Wire and Metal Lathers' International Union and the Operative Plasterers' and Cement Masons' International Association. We educate our contractors and journeymen," says Baker, "to do a first class job and make sure that their customers are satisfied."

One thing no builder can guarantee, however, is that your drains and downspouts will not become clogged and cause minature versions of Yosemite Falls to wash out prize nursery stock at the corners of your house. Floods like that are happening every day at this time of the year and they are raising hob with foundations, basements and floor dampness.

Autumn leaves and twigs seem to chase each other into roof gutters. The only way to spare yourself from hazardous ladder work and butterflies in your stomach is to put gutter guards on all your eaves troughs. These guards are strips of quarter-inch galvanized mesh with an edging of aluminum molding that snaps on the outer edge of the gutter to keep the screen securely in place. The leaves roll down the roof, land on the screen and the wind blows them off. Your last trip up the ladder will be to snap the guards into place.

If you want to remember any of these notes, or others, get a piece of tackboard. It's a new material with a plastic surface which is self-sealing and makes a swell bulletin board. It has a facing of burlap weave and comes in blues and greens, slightly more than half an inch thick. You can get it from any plywood dealer.

Wee Tah Ni Ki In Recent Meeting

Kitchen arrangements were discussed by Mrs. Dorothy Brown when the Wee Tah Ni Ki Camp Fire group met recently at the Southwestern Public Service Co.

Fans Love Stomps 'N Slaps To Tune At Midnight Hour

Corpus Christi — Jimmie Johnson's many jobs add up to a very good living. He works a long day but when it is over, he goes home to a new house in one of the best Negro residential sections in this city.

Jimmy is a radio disc jockey, radio engineer, custodian, janitor, and gardener of a church.

His prize job is disc jockey of the "Nighthawk" rock and roll show on Radio Station KUNO in Corpus Christi. Except for Jimmie's program from 10:30 p.m. to midnight each evening, the station broadcasts only in Spanish.

Right after 10 p.m. Johnson finishes sweeping and dusting at the station and 30 minutes later he goes on the air. He has a unique presentation and growing stacks of letters testify to his increasing popularity with the teen-age audience.

"Those Teen-agers like to rip it up, you know," said Johnson.

He likes to "rip it up" too, he admits. While the records go around-and-round, Johnson just cannot help slapping the control panel and his knees in time with the music. Sometimes he stomps his feet so hard it jars the whole floor.

That doesn't make much difference, as he is alone in the building when he does his broadcasting. He is even in charge of the transmitter and has a license which permits him to handle this important job.

Besides spinning records, Johnson also broadcasts the news.

"Jimmie has his own particular translation of French, Japanese and Korean names in the news," Herbert Garrett, commercial manager of the station smiled.

"I'm always glad to get help on these hard words," Johnson explained, "but there's no help around. I just does my best." Here's a schedule of Johnson's day. He arrives at the Forrest Park Baptist Church at 9 a.m. daily and works in the church building and in the yard until 3:30 p.m. Then he goes straight to the radio station where he does janitor work and gets his records together until the Nighthawk program starts.

At midnight, as engineer, he pulls the station off the air.

"This whole radio business is big fun," said Johnson. "I want to spend more and more time at it. My ambition is to have my own morning show."

AAA ROUNDUP

Lobos And Demons Favorites Friday

Dumas and Levelland copped victories in 1-AAA games last week.

The Lobos emerged victorious over Phillips in a thriller, while Dumas did as expected in thwarting Hereford. After last week's results, the Littlefield Wildcats, resting with an open date and finding the results to their liking, wound up in first place.

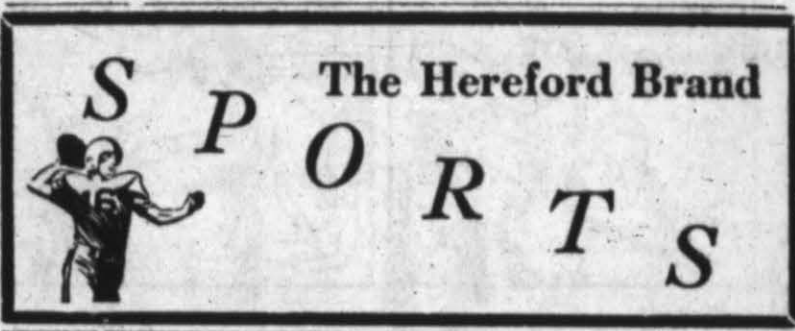

The Wildcats were previously tied with Phillips with one win and a tie for first place. But the Blackhawks went down to defeat, giving the Wildcats sole possession of first.

However, Dumas stood to profit most. The Demons must only defeat Littlefield to clinch at least a tie for the district championship and they will be favored to do so. The Demons have won two and lost one. Their lone loss is to Phillips.

Phillips is all but eliminated, but as confused as 1-AAA has been this year, anything could happen. Littlefield, maybe taken too lightly by most experts could defeat Dumas and Levelland and win the outright district championship. However, the Wildcats won't be doped to do this.

Thus, the race is still wide open

Hereford, Texas, Thursday, November 15, 1956 Section Two with Dumas favored to win. In action Friday, Dumas will be favored over Littlefield and Levelland over Hereford. Levelland, mighty conquerors of Phillips, boasts one of the finest defensive teams in the state and a good offense. Hereford has lost in both of its conference starts.

The Dumas - Littlefield battle is rated somewhat closer than Levelland - Hereford, but the Demons will be conceded the edge.

Kansas Farm Girl Regarded As Top Olympic Prospect

By BOB GALLIMORE

ELMDALE, Kan. (AP) — A slim, 13-year-old Kansas farm girl who "runs scared" is aiming at any and all women's track and field records.

Ann Roniger, a versatile brunette of 5 feet 6 and 120 pounds, has already broken one junior Olympic record and tied two others. In a practice running broad jump she cleared 16 feet 8 inches. Dr. John Davis Jr. of Topeka, Kan., Missouri Valley AAU women's track committee man, says this would have won the title at every national women's AAU meet except one in the last 20 years.

Ann will be 14 on Feb. 14, 1957 and then will be eligible to compete in regular AAU women's events as well as junior Olympic competition. She can continue in the latter class through her 17th year.

"There is absolutely no limit to her potential," says Dr. Davis, who discovered her by accident and has become her coach and advisor. "Her natural ability and stamina are phenomenal. If she works hard and continues to develop, she has a very good chance to be the first Kansas girl ever to make an Olympic track team."

Ann first entered track competition in 1951, shortly after her family moved here from Manhattan, Kan., where her father, Pascal Roniger, worked for the state board of health.

She quickly proved herself a faster runner than her friends at the Elmdale grade school. In 1952 she entered county-wide competition, and began an impressive collection of blue ribbons.

She came to Dr. Davis' attention when her parents met him by chance on a bus going to a University of Kansas football game last fall. He arranged for her first big test last May — at the Kansas Junior Olympic meet in Lawrence.

In that meet she set a new junior Olympic standing broad jump record of 8 feet 6 inches. She also anchored a Topeka girls' relay team that ran the 220 in 26.5 seconds, easily breaking the existing junior Olympic mark of 27.1.

In subsequent junior Olympic meets in Boulder, Colo., and Houston, Tex., she tied the records for the 50 and 55-yard dashes in 6.4 standing broad jump mark with a leap of 8 feet 8 inches.

"Since then she's been in training for next year, when Dr. Davis will take her to the National AAU women's meet. He feels she is ready for general competition in the 100 and 220-yard dashes, and in high jump and hurdle events. There are not open to her in junior Olympic competition. She's cleared 4 feet 10 inches in practice high jumps with apparently little effort, and Dr. Davis says she is developing a smooth hurdle form.

Ann follows faithfully a rigorous training program charted by Dr. Davis, sticks to the strict diet of an athlete, and gets plenty of sleep. She works out in her front yard and on country roads around her to become a track star.

DEFENSIVE LOBOS INVADE HEREFORD

By BILL KNOX
Grand Sports Editor

Johnny Hickman's Levelland Lobos, conquerors of proud Phillips, invade Whiteface Stadium to take the favorite role over Hereford here Friday.

The Lobos, "even Steven" at 1-1 in district play, knocked off top rated Phillips last Friday to all but eliminate the Blackhawks from the district race. At the same time Dumas was whipping the Whitefaces handily to take over the 1-AAA driver's seat.

Herd Heavy Underdog
So the Whitefaces, with two straight district losses, won't be given much of a chance to upset the Lobos. But a Hereford victory would put the Lobos on their way to "Heartbreak Hotel" with two losses in their hip pockets. Dumas would need not even defeat Littlefield for the championship.

As things stand now, Dumas needs only to defeat Littlefield for the district 1-AAA championship, no matter what the results of other conference games are. But Hereford could hand the Demons first place on a silver platter with an upset over Levelland.

Top Defensive Team
But the Whitefaces will be colliding with one of the top defensive football teams in the Lone Star State. Hereford has not been held scoreless while winning three and losing five. However, Levelland held kingpin Snyder to only two points and held Phillips scoreless.

Levelland has lost once — to Dumas, 7-0 — in district play. Some experts agree that the Lobos may have had a bad night while the Demons could do nothing wrong.

The Demons were just too much for the Whitefaces, running roughshod for the 41-13 win. The loss sent Hereford groveling into the 1-AAA cellar.

Whether or not the Whitefaces will be at full strength for the Levelland battle is indefinite. End Danny Elliston, responsible for all the Whitefaces' points against Dumas, suffered a twisted knee in that game and missed workouts Monday and Tuesday. Doctors said he should be ready for action on Friday, but head coach Scot Russell said Monday that whether or not Elliston will see full service Friday night is indefinite.

Lone Bright Spot

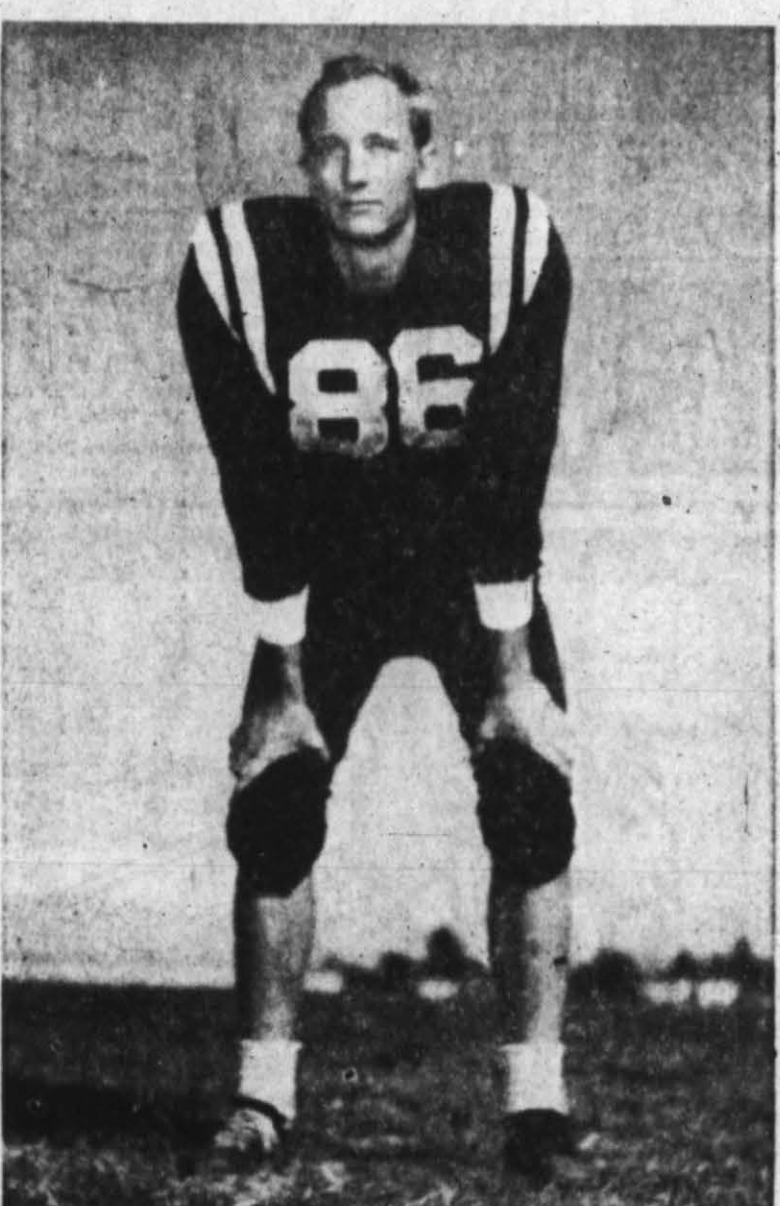

The Herd's passing attack again was a lone pinpoint of light in the dark dungeon of defeat. They completed 12 of 29 against Dumas, and both touchdowns were via the aerial route. Elliston garnered six of the dozen tosses.

Scouting reports indicate that Levelland does not possess extraordinary size but make up for it with hustle and spirit. The Lobos will, however, outweigh Hereford both in the backfield and the line.

Passing Duel

The game may develop into a passing duel between Hereford's John Bryant and Levelland's Jimmy Johnson. In Levelland's 27-14 win over Plainview Johnson tossed four touchdown heaves in the final seven minutes to pull a victory out of the fire for the Lobos. Bryant has thrown 11 touchdown passes, seven of them to Elliston.

Russell said Monday that Whiteface spirit may be at its peak this season for the game with the Lobos.

TOP PASS RECEIVER—Probably the leading pass receiver in the region is Hereford's left end Danny Elliston. The 6'2" 165-pound athlete has caught 23 passes this year for 557 yards and seven touchdowns to be the leading Whiteface scorer. He was all-district, all-regional, and honorable mention all-state end last year. (Staff Photo)

Athletes Are Good Golfers

CAMBRIDGE, Md. (AP) — Top athletes always make better golfers, says George Jacobus, six-time president of the Professional Golfers' Assn.

"Concentration, desire and good hands" are the important items," says Jacobus, "and most athletes have these things to begin with." Jacobus, who years ago started the idea of holding the baseball players golf tournament in Florida, points out that 16 of the 17 driving champions in his baseball event have been pitchers.

Lou Kretlow won the tourney last year. "Top golfers, too, have been outstanding in other sports," says Jacobus. "Byron Nelson was a good basketball player, Sam Snead was good in baseball and basketball, and Walter Hagen could have been one of the outstanding baseball players in the country."

Ellsworth Vines made his mark in golf after being a tennis champion and Sammy Byrd made the grade after a baseball career with the Yankees. Former hockey player Bill Ezinicki is another who now makes his living as a golf pro.

"On the pro tour there are ex-football stars Mike Souchak and George Bayer," says Jacobus. "Now Mickey Mantle is just starting to play golf. He's doing real well because he has the natural coordination."

Cooking Tips For Wives Of Duck Hunters

AUSTIN — For the sake of conservation, which calls for wise use of wildlife, the Executive Secretary of the Game and Fish Commission risked a culinary crisis by passing along his wife's favorite recipes for cooking duck and venison.

"In our business," he said, "we get into about every field of activity. This may make the cycle complete but the hazard could be justified since so much good game is lost because of faulty cooking."

He said venison may be prepared as follows: "Lard and sprinkle with garlic salt, pepper and flour. For accurate judging of cooking time, insert meat thermometer in center of roast, being careful that it doesn't touch a bone. Roast in preheated oven at 350 degrees."

"Roast Duck — Omit a stuffing but place lemon wedges, onion slices, celery tops or parsley sprigs in the duck cavity, then discard before serving. When roasting at 350 degrees, allow 15 minutes per pound for small ducks, 20 minutes per pound for larger ducks."

training program charted by Dr. Davis, sticks to the strict diet of an athlete, and gets plenty of sleep. She works out in her front yard and on country roads around her to become a track star.

SPORTS GLANCES
by Bill Knox

Like the man said, the referees were blind in one eye and couldn't see out of the other.

It's not often that we criticize officiating in a football game. And certainly we'll not offer that as an excuse for Hereford's loss to Dumas last Friday night. But this time we've got something on our side so we'll do a little bit of griping.

Hereford lost to Dumas by a considerable margin, and it is indeed doubtful that the officiating had anything to do with the final score. But it's the principle of the whole thing which irks us.

After viewing films of the game along with Scot Russell and the Whiteface squad we became even more irked. But there's nothing one can do about it, and the mistakes in all probabilities were honest ones.

Effective Pass Defense
For pass defense the Demons used a very illegal but highly effective method. They would tackle or block all possible receivers then catch the ball themselves. Only after Russell gave them a little pep talk at half did the referees begin to clamp down some on this method.

The refs never did clamp down on clipping, and the Whitefaces were lucky to have come out of the game with as few injuries as they did. However, it's all over, and there's nothing anybody can do about it — except bellyache.

Best Defensive Team
The Whitefaces may be up against the best team in 1-AAA Friday night. It's a fact that they'll be up against the best defensive team in the district.

Although the Levelland Lobos are twice beaten — once by Snyder which was predicted and once by Dumas which wasn't predicted — many experts agree that they have the best defensive team in the state, bar none.

John Connally, coach of the Snyder Tigers, top dog in AAA ranks, said, "We could have kept playing Levelland for two more weeks and we wouldn't have scored on them." Connally's Tigers won, 2-0, on a safety in the game which sounded like a baseball game. The score indicates that the Tigers must have some kind of a defense themselves.

1-AAA All Mixed Up
Although we'll concede that 1-AAA is all mixed up and we were all wet on our predictions there, we'll still go with our predictions for state champions.

Abilene in AAAA, Snyder in AAA and Stamford in AA are all charging through opponents like a house afire. Some experts are even agreeing with us on these choices and it's a funny feeling. We'll probably miss all three.

Remember When?
We remember back in 1951 when Hereford defeated Phillips, 35-0

Those are pleasant memories. Mingled with those memories are faint hopes that something like that could happen this year. No member of this year's team has ever played on a team that has defeated Phillips.

End Danny Elliston suffered a twisted knee in the Dumas game which resulted in a misplace cartilage in his left knee. He missed heavy workouts Monday and Tuesday but was expected to be ready for service — probably limited — against Levelland. Elliston has been the main cog in Hereford's passing attack this year. He has caught 23 passes this year, seven for touchdowns, good for 557 yards. He is the leading scorer for the Whitefaces, and that's quite unusual for an end.

Kitchens Already Nervous
Cubby Kitchens says that he's already nervous about basketball season. It's not too far off at that: The first game is Nov. 30 with Plainview.

Kitchens says "The Whitefaces will be a contender this year. We will have an above average team but so will everybody else in the district."

Caroleen Fisherman
What happened to Canyon's Charles Neblett? Neblett was being publicized as an all-state candidate at the beginning of the year, but we have seen or heard nothing of him since football season started. He must have gone fishing and the hogs got him or something like that.

Predictions
This week's predictions: Dumas at Littlefield. Littlefield is right now in first place and would like to stay there. But Dumas need only defeat the Wildcats to take the district championship. From this vantage point it looks like the Demons incentive will make them about 10 points better.

Levelland at Hereford. The Whitefaces would like to win this one if for nothing more than to ruin Levelland. The Lobos want to stay in the race. They're a rugged ball club and have too much for the Whitefaces. About four touchdowns too much.

Baseball Proves Strong In Texas During '56 Play

DALLAS (AP) — While professional baseball leagues were quitting elsewhere and there was talk of the dire straits of the minors, Texas was doing something it hadn't done in many seasons — finish with the same number of clubs that started.

Twenty-one clubs in five leagues began the campaign in April. Some had financial troubles and had to raise money in local drives and one pulled out. But it was quickly replaced. There were no other casualties and when the last pitch was delivered, 21 clubs had played the 1956 season.

Texas had the unusual situation of one club suing a league to get back in. That club was Beaumont. One of its owners had turned the franchise back to the Big State League, which immediately placed it at Texas City. But the other owners said they didn't want it that way and that they had raised sufficient money to finish the season. So they sued the league.

It so happened that Lubbock withdrew from the Big State League about that time, so the Lubbock franchise was sent to Texas City and the Beaumont franchise was sent from Texas City back to Beaumont.

Most of the clubs are expected to be ready to play again next season although there may be some changes. But prospects are that Texas will again have 21 clubs in 1957.

PRIZE NOT RELATIVE
DUMAS, Tex. (AP) — Mike Trujillo and Jeannette Trujillo won the two bicycles offered as a prize by a department store.

Mike lives in Dalhart, Jeannette in Dumas. The towns are about 40 miles apart. The youngsters are not related and, in fact, never heard of each other.

HEAD ON COLLISION
BUTTE, Mont. (AP) — A Billie woman has added a new twist in traffic mishaps. Police said she ran into the front end of a car while chasing her dog. The motorist stopped when he saw her coming, but she apparently was too engrossed in her pursuit to see him. She received slight injuries.

Study Doctrines Adopted In China

L.A.E. Study Club met recently in the home of Mrs. George Suggs. Roll call featured short stories and late books of interest read by members.

The program on 'Confucianism' was presented by Mrs. B. A. Reddell who told of the doctrines or system of morality taught by Confucius, which has been long adopted in China as the basis of jurisprudence and education. "It inculcates civil, family and social duties, but provides for the worship of no God, and can scarcely be called a religion," she concluded. Plans were made for the next meeting which will be held in the home of Mrs. A. N. Hopson with Mrs. Gordon Elliott as hostess.

Members present were Mesdames C. E. Beauford, Gordon Elliott, R. H. Hale, Altus Higgins, Boyd Knox, Jim Loving, B. A. Reddell, T. W. Robertson, George Suggs, J. D. Williams and Arthur Stoy.

Stamps In The News

By SYD KRONISH

AP Newsfeatures
As he was about to evacuate the Philippines in 1942, Gen. Douglas MacArthur vowed to the people of the islands: "I shall return."

On Oct. 20, 1944 MacArthur kept his promise and landed on Leyte. To commemorate this occasion, the Philippines has issued a special 5 cents stamp depicting the monument to MacArthur's World War II liberation forces on Leyte, reports the Philippine Director of Posts.

Five commemorative stamps have been selected by Postmaster General Arthur E. Summerfield for issuance in 1957. These stamps will honor the 200th anniversary of Alexander Hamilton's birth; the 150th anniversary of the establishment of the Coast and Geodetic Survey; 50th anniversary of Oklahoma's admission to the Union; the school teachers of America plus another in the wildlife series. Dates, places of first day sale and other details, including designs will be announced later.

Syria reports that the remainder of the stamps issued to commemorate the 10th anniversary of the United Nations will be overprinted to honor the 11th anniversary.

Jamaica has issued a new definitive set of 16 values. Some of the designs feature: palms, sugar, pineapple, bananas, mahoe, breadfruit, ackee, Doctor Bird, Blue Mountain Peak, Royal Botanic Gardens, rafting on the Rio Grande, and Fort Charles. Four of the designs depict the Jamaican Coat of Arms.

The "Collectors of Religion on Stamp Society" voted the 1956 adhesive by Saar depicting "praying hands" as the most outstanding religious design of the year. The design was taken from Albert Durer's painting which now hangs in the Albertina Library in Vienna.

Eight new stamps have been issued by New Hebrides, reports the New York Stamp Co. This set commemorates the 50th anniversary of the Condominium's existence. The 5 cents and 10 cents values show a sailing vessel superimposed over a map of New Hebrides and symbolizing the discovery of the territory in 1866. The 20c and 50c feature the French and British symbols — Britannia and La Marianne.

A duplicate set is being issued by France since the group of islands in the south Pacific (just north of New Caledonia) is under joint administration of Britain and France.
STAMP NOTES — The United Nations Postal Administration announced that, due to the increased demand for 1956 U. N. Day adhesives, the 1-cent stamp scheduled for Dec. 10 has been raised to five million for the 4-centers and four million for the 8-cent denomination. Colombia has issued a new 50-cent stamp for the state of Norte de Santander. The design features the Catatumbo oil fields near the Venezuelan border. Advance notice from the New Zealand post office reveals that in February of 1957 that country will issue two new stamps marking the 75th anniversary of the first shipment of meat from New Zealand to Great Britain.

Deer Look Better As Big Game Hunt Draws Ever Near

AUSTIN — Surprisingly well-conditioned deer herds will provide prime hunting when the big game season under the general state law opens Nov. 16, according to the Executive Secretary for the Game and Fish Commission.

He said all field reports agree that deer, reflecting characteristic ability to withstand extreme drought are in the main "getting fat."

The Executive Secretary said bountiful rains have revived "badly needed green stuff to augment the diet of the animals which had regained pretty good condition from a substantial acorn crop."

Emphasis was made that no such optimism prevails concerning the wild turkey, ordinarily a favorite Texas target.

"There's going to be plenty of prime venison on the hoof," said the Executive Secretary, "but our wild turkey population is still far below normal. Turkey simply cannot stand the weather extreme like deer."

Turkey hunting has been generally restricted in advance plans, with many ranchers curbing prized gobblers shooting pending a return to normalcy.

The taking of antlerless deer, proved desirable under modern game management practices has been extended this fall. Approximately nine thousand permits for antlerless deer hunting are being distributed, mainly in the principal deer range in the Hill Country, Medina, Mason, Gillespie, and Llano are the Hill Country counties again authorizing hunting of deer of both sexes as a means of reducing overpopulation and sparing the range.

A number of antlerless deer permits are being issued in Bosque County of the Possum Kingdom regulatory responsibility area, and in Red River County of the northeast Texas special group of counties. Similar facilities are contemplated in Culberson County in far west Texas where both mule and white-tailed deer prevail.

Game management authorities will observe the coming season with unusual interest, said the Executive Secretary, because of the recently completed hunting and fishing survey authorized to bring outdoor harvest statistics up to date.

Heretofore, he said, estimates had placed the annual big game harvest at "something less than 50,000 deer." The survey, based on an accurate hunter contact, indicated the annual harvest would comprise in the neighborhood of one hundred thousand deer. Other estimates place the state's combined deer herds total around 750,000 head.

One feature of the annual deer season this fall will be the conducted public hunts on three key game management areas where altogether three hundred thirty six deer of both sexes and 50 javelina will be taken as a means of removing the surplus game from the experimental - demonstration places.

Stokowski, Houston Director, Believes Music Decentralized

By W. G. ROGERS
Associated Press Arts Editor
NEW YORK (AP) — "When I first came to this country," Leopold Stokowski said, "there wasn't any music except in New York and Boston."

"And when did you first come?" I asked.

The white-haired maestro smiled and waved that one off: "Don't ask me! I've been here forever. I came in the 17th century and a nice century it was, too. Some people think Columbus discovered America, but I did."

(As a matter of fact, he's spry and limber and young behaving; he has a romantic reputation that Columbus would have swapped a New-World for; he likes new young music and plays it.)

"Well whenever you came," I went on, "things have changed?"

"Music is decentralized."

"Isn't this still a one-music-city country, though? And isn't New York it?"

"Houston," he said.

"What do you mean, Houston?"

He was smiling again. If this is a one-music-city-country, the city is Houston, Tex., where he is now beginning his second year as music director of the Houston Symphony. But then he turned serious again:

"Yes, New York is to the United States what London is to England and Paris to France. The great music cities also include Rome, Berlin, and Amsterdam."

So what was he doing way off in Houston?

"I'm a vagabond. I love to travel. I like it in Houston because it amounts to a fresh start. I build from the ground up. The people there want an ideal orchestra. There is plenty of opportunity for the musician willing to go outside New York, or the other big cities.

LEOPOLD STOKOWSKI, old in experience but young in outlook, is enjoying his job as music director of the Houston Symphony, building "from the ground up."

"Bottled" Onions Aid Housewives' Seasoning Chore

Nowadays, housewives delight in preparing Thanksgiving meals as they have learned to replace needless kitchen drudgery with modern cooking techniques.

To ease the culinary burden, science has perfected built-in kitchens and up-to-date appliances ranging from do-it-yourself gadgets to radar ranges. But the wise housewife also takes advantage of the latest shortcuts in food preparation.

For example, the tedious, tearful chore of chopping onions for poultry stuffing has followed the horse and buggy into the past. Instead of endless chop-chop-chopping over a cumbersome wooden board, today's kitchen whiz uses bottled onion juice. . . and never sheds a tear.

Pure onion juice permeates the zesty onion flavor more evenly throughout the stuffing. There's no chance of those harsh "hot spots" which often crop up to insult a sensitive palate when chopped or minced onions are used.

Bottled garlic juice also is offered by the makers of this onion juice. This recent advance in seasonings conveniently replaces clove garlic in any recipe.

Hard-to-erase garlic odor may be kept from fingers while preparing a tossed salad simply by brushing the bowl with a drop or two of pure garlic juice. And it's especially handy when concocting salad dressings.

Pure onion and garlic juices may be purchased at most grocers in economical, easy-to-use bottles. Remember, they are full-strength, pure juices of fresh onion or garlic, so use them sparingly until you've determined the proper amount necessary to please your family.

These rule-of-thumb measurements will be helpful: One tablespoon of onion juice is equal to an average onion in flavoring strength. A teaspoon of garlic juice is the equivalent of one-half clove of garlic.

Bottled onions. . . bottled garlic

. . . what's next? Bottled turkeys, perhaps?

Four Births For One Death Shoot Texas' Populace Up

AUSTIN — Over 800 births a day in Texas were recorded by the Division of Vital Statistics of the Texas State Department of Health during the last biennium, Sept. 1, 1954 to Aug. 31, 1956, an advance look at the department's biennial report shows.

During the same period, 134,045 deaths were recorded. This compares with a total of 624,408 births. Four births for each death coupled with the influx of newcomers making their homes in Texas has shot the Texas population well over the 8½ million mark.

The Division of Vital Statistics is just one of 22 divisions, under the State Department of Health, charged with the severe responsibility of watching over the health and sanitary level of the citizens and locales of Texas. The report shows that watching over the health of Texans is not enough. The health department incorporates inspection, research, active aid, and education in its program of bettering the health standards of Texas and Texans.

Inspection and research walk hand in hand to evaluate the effects of local outbreaks of disease all through the state. Aid is then rendered if at all possible.

Following closely in the footsteps of research, education of the public in the many advances and improvements in public health comes as a matter of course. At times, education is concerned not so much with advances, as with commonplace health procedures, which Texans occasionally seem to neglect.

Every drink of water, every bite of food, and even each breath of air comes under the careful scrutiny of one or more divisions. At night, before counting that last sheep, you might even consider that the mattress on which you sleep — if manufactured or sold in Texas — has been O.K.'d by the Bedding Division.

The complexity of the Bedding Division's duties alone during the past biennium can be shown by a total of 40,412 separate violations to the State bedding law and regulations, most for the omission of revenue stamps.

The Health Department, through the Communicable Disease Division, distributes the Salk Vaccine in Texas completely and equitably. Results have been most gratifying.

Of 811 investigated cases of paralytic polio only 25 were vaccinated children under age 20. None who had received all three shots of the vaccine was stricken. This is just one of the many and varied strides made by the Texas State Department of Health during the biennium.

Some professionals may need the music contacts they can enjoy only in a center like New York where you have everything. Other people have this resourcefulness inside them.

"And everywhere you go now in this country you find some kind of music. It is not in the homes, no, but an interest in it has been awakened very widely, partly by radio and records. Schools have orchestras and bands. In Norwalk, Conn., near where I used to live, there even was an orchestra made up entirely of doctors."

In Houston, Stokowski, one of the great names in the history of music performance, has more rehearsal time than conductors usually get.

In New York he had just conducted the season's opening program of the Symphony of the Air, with three world premieres, and he complained that to prepare them he had only barely time enough to work out the broad outlines.

He has three world premieres scheduled for Houston this season, and three other first performances in America.

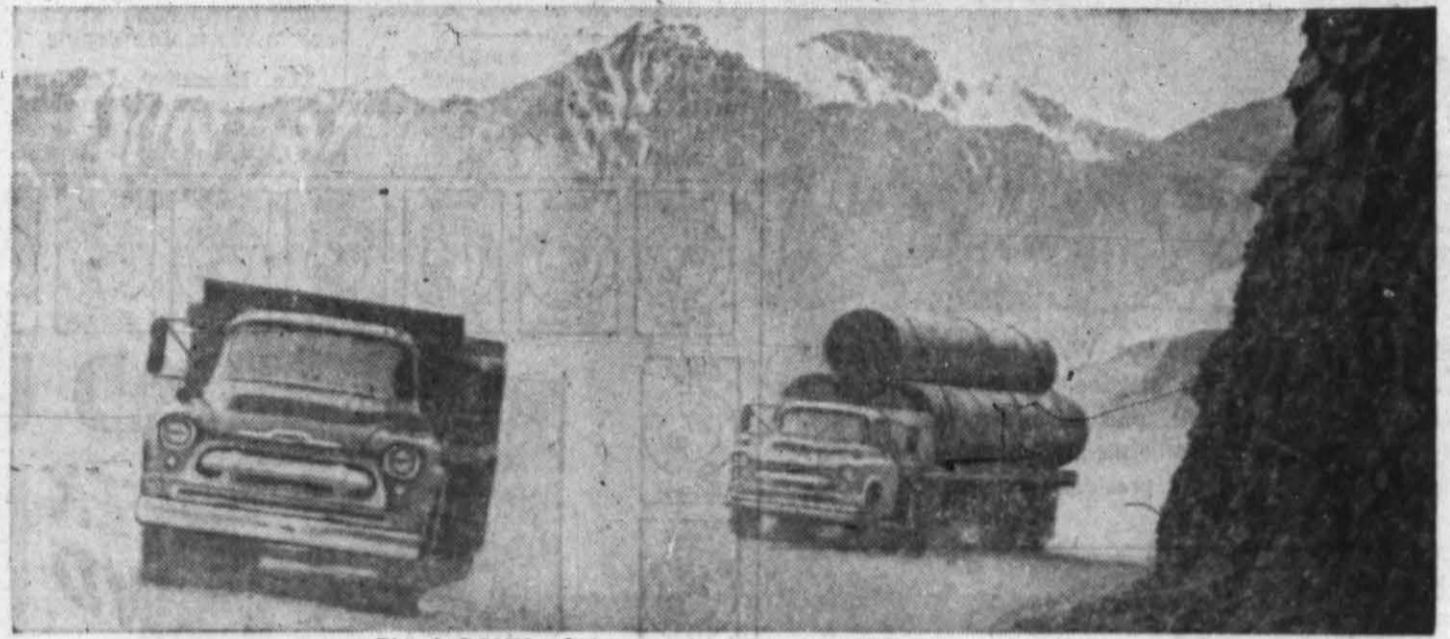

At Houston he would like to build a new hall with a stage for opera and drama and an orchestra pit like Wagner's at Bayreuth. He has inaugurated a system of scholarships for promising young people in the Houston area, and a series of commissioned works.

The rumor goes around occasionally that his real name is Smith. He was born in London Leopold Boleslawowicz Stanislaw Antoni Stokowski, and he retains a bit of the accent that should go with such a name. He studied in London and on the continent, became a United States citizen in 1915, and among a most distinguished series of other positions, has held the posts of regular conductor in Philadelphia, with the NBC Symphony, and the New York Philharmonic. He was founder as well as conductor of the New York City Symphony.

New Task-Force 57 Chevrolet Trucks!

They "flattened" Yukon mountains with the most modern truck V8's of all!

Rated G.V.W. of these payload-carrying heavyweights goes all the way up to 32,000 pounds!

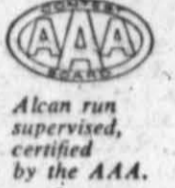

New V8-powered '57 Chevrolet trucks, heavily loaded, made one of the world's toughest roads look easy! In a straight-through test run, they rolled over the famous ALCAN Highway to Alaska—in less than 45 hours (normally a 72-hour run). Here's proof-in-action of power that'll handle your toughest jobs—and keep coming back for more!

Whatever your job, there's an Alcan-proved Chevrolet Task-Force truck ready right now to save you time and money!

Six new Task-Force huskies made the run. And six ultra-modern Chevy engines proved their power and performance—with gas mileage up to 18.17 miles per gallon! Two of the engines were not stopped once, and they hummed along at peak efficiency the entire 1,520 miles!

Chevy's big V8's—including the new 283-cu.-in. Super Taskmaster—turned in top performance jobs. They hauled typical loads up and down towering grades and through washouts that sucked wheels into hub-deep mud. They roared on through miles of heavy dust that narrowed visibility to a few hundred feet. And in spite of the varying altitudes and temperatures, not a single truck was forced to drop out or turn back! Stop by and see them soon!

Alcan run supervised, certified by the AAA.

Proved on the Alcan Highway Champs of every weight class!

Don't Forget Folks: Pay Your Poll Tax Too!

By Jimmie Gilentine
Folks are beginning to settle down following the Monday holiday. A lot of merchants got upset regarding the policy of remaining open or closed. It is not exactly new, but it is sometimes unpleasant, and seems to be unnecessary.

Like most controversies, this one has two sides. About the only solution is to operate in classifications. All of the service stations could get together and decide, likewise the grocery stores, drug stores and dry goods firms; ditto the restaurants, etc. This looks like the only way out — and it was more or less what happened this time. In fact, had Veterans' Day occurred on Monday, rather than Sunday, it is probable that there would have been no trouble at all. Without question, the different classifications will have different problems. It seems logical, therefore, that the question might be best settled in this fashion.

Even the veterans, who insisted that everyone close, called several times to be sure that. Brand reporters did not take the day off. They wanted some pictures and coverage on the celebration — and they were right as rain. All of which goes to prove that NO BLANKET RULE is going to cover all situations. Likewise, if the telephone company, gas company and power company closed down, everyone would throw up their hands and scream to high heaven. Still, the folks who operate these services are just as patriotic and loyal Americans as those who were closed for the day. About all you can do is the best you can — and let nature take its course.

Louie Turner is an old boy who has plowed up more garden tracts than probably any other man in the Panhandle. He was plowing up the Ike Crosswait garden Monday, while I was painting windows. He said that this was the twentieth consecutive time he has plowed that particular garden. I figure that Mr. Turner knows about all there is to know about plowing gardens, but he didn't seem to think much of my ability as a painter. He observed me a while, then even recommended that I get someone else to do the job. This hurt my pride and puts me on quite a spot. If I hire someone to do the job, the neighbors will call me lazy and my banker will send me one of those nasty little O-D notices — and when I do it myself, people figure that I am stingy. This one is easy, though; the banker wins in a walk.

Besides, I hear that they are having to import ca-penters and other labor to handle some of the new construction now in progress. What with the Hereford State, Credit Union, Hospital and Telephone buildings now under construction, Hereford finds itself in the throes of a small building boom.

The duck hunters seem to be having trouble this year. There are not many lakes, and the number of hunters is abundant. What I want is a bunch of those tanks where you can walk up on the blind side, thus avoiding the early rising and over-exposure in duck blinds. Also, I am looking for an easy way to clean a duck or goose. Folks are always telling me about scalding paraffin, and things like that — but the deals never seem to work out just right. I always wind up with feathers all over the kitchen and my wife as mad as a hornet. The only good thing is that I seldom ever bring back any duck in the first place. I gave up on geese a long time ago. I would still rather shoot a goose than a deer, but it just isn't in the cards. Maybe they will work out some easy way to bag ducks with radar and atom missiles some day. However, I know that the cleaning will still be a problem.

The really logical thing to do is take up golf. Everyone has to have a few bad habits and, so far, golf seems to be the nicest vice I have run across. There are maybe a few wives who would not agree, but this is because they are not thoroughly familiar with the woes of hunting, fishing, photography, rock collecting, boating and a few dozen other forms of accepted recreation.

Frankly, I don't see why the women put up with all of these things when there is so much that needs doing around the house. Show me a man who isn't overboard on a hobby, and I'll show you one of the best-kept homes in the town. It's just as easy (they say) to enjoy painting the fence as it is to enjoy freezing in a duck blind or digging divots on the golf course. However, it seldom works out that way. You hear a lot of young gals who are going to marry a husband who has a million dollars. They will tell you that it is as easy to love a rich man as a poor one — but you seldom see one who does.

I've been trying to get Bob Lawrence to do a column on his experiences in Alaska, but he is too lazy. He says it has already rained "17 feet" this year in the place he stayed — and they are having a drought. You sort of expect this sort of thing from golfers, fishermen and hunters. Youth directors in a church, however, are expected to be a bit more conservative. How about it, Bob? I think a lot of people would be interested in your story.

I also understand that a deal is cooking to get weather reports from this area on the radio and TV broadcasts out of Amarillo. The Chamber of Commerce has already offered to pay for telephone calls. Maybe it will work out. Certainly it is a good deal for the area.

I have encountered several people who are opposed to an airport. They just don't think we need one. Most peculiar about the deal is the fact that many of the big tax payers are for an airport, while numerous small tax payers are against it. This is unusual, chiefly because things are generally visa-versa. There are a lot of arguments on both sides of the question, but I am for the airport. Perhaps the main thing is the general trend of local thinking on the subject. Since the hotel was built and liquidated, many people have been gunshy on the subject of community progress. Whether we get an airport or whether we don't is a small matter in comparison with the importance of general thinking on the subject of progress. A community always goes forward or backward. It never stands still.

Minor Damages In Collision Monday

Two cars were slightly damaged and one driver received a ticket for failure to grant right of way following a collision Monday evening at 25 Mile Ave., and Bennett. George Lavorn Ryan, 16, was driving a four-door sedan that received damages estimated by investigating officers at $75. He resides in the Greentop Trailer Courts, Manuel Villegas of Catalpa St., received the ticket. He was driving a pickup-truck that was damaged to an estimated extent of $15.

Wolves Are Vicious Opponents To Big Pack of Hunting Dogs at Bay

By EARL GOLDING
(Written for the Associated Press)
AXTELL, Tex. (AP) — The backyards of rancher-hunters E. V. Sutherland, Jack Walling and A.C. Hurst sometimes look like a refuge for hounds. They're literally full of 'em!

That's because these three fellows are wolf hunters who thrill to the sound of a pack of crossed Walker hounds baying after a fleeing old he-wolf. And believe them, when you run down a wolf with dogs, you better be sure you have plenty of dogs!
"We always keep a combined pack of around 25 hounds," says hunter Walling, "because we found out a long time ago that it'll take that many."
Why so many hounds?
Because, Walling and his partners say, the wolf is such a easy old opponent once you jump his trail and the hounds take out after him.

A wolf is smart, tough, durable and extremely loyal to its own kind. The latter quality is what makes catching them such a very tough job.
When the hounds get on the trail of one wolf, or a couple of them, hunters say, it is not uncommon for another wolf to come barking into their paths, deliberately doing this to switch the chase and make themselves the object of the hounds' killing intentions.
"We've seen that happen many times," Walling says, "particularly when the hounds are after really young wolves."
An old he-wolf will hear the chase, and break into it, barking for all he's worth.
"When he gets the pack of hounds after him, or at least part of a pack, he'll carry them half out of the country, maybe 10 or 20 miles away.

"Some of those really old ones are tough. Get three or four of them together, and they're doubly mean. I've seen a whole pack of dogs corner several of the old ones and they just couldn't get to them to kill them."
Wolves, Walling says, are slashing, cutting fighters. They're vicious opponents when the pack of hounds finally succeeds in getting them at bay, and many dogs come out of the death fight bearing bad cuts and slashes. So far, Walling and his friends have never had a dog killed by wolves, but they've had some "torn up pretty badly."
Some of the toughest of the predatory fighters, Walling says, are the ones which have crossed with dogs. They're bigger and stronger than the pure wolves.
"We have one out there," he says, "that is cold black and big as a collie dog. He is a half-breed, dog and wolf. We've never been able to run that old boy down, and probably never will."
Wolves will destroy goats, sheep and chickens, the hunters say, but they've never even heard of a wolf killing a calf. In fact, they often see wolves staying close to herds of cattle.

There's also some good in the wolves. They keep down the tremendous jackrabbit populations, which are capable of doing vast damage on pastures and crops. Some experts claim that six jackrabbits can eat as much pasture grass as one full-grown cow.

Veterans' Memorial Is Dedicated

Two Addresses Are Highlights

Two men who survived the attack that brought the United States into World War II were speakers Monday at Veterans' Day observances in Hereford. They were Herbert Straus of Lubbock, who as a Navy chaplain took part at Pearl Harbor in administering final rites to more than 2,000 men who died in the attack, and Rev. Lester Jones, vicar of St. Thomas Episcopal Church here, who was among the wounded at Hickam Field on Dec. 7, 1941.

At the dedication services for a memorial that was unveiled early Monday in Veterans' Park, Rev. Jones addressed about 120 persons. The audience included nine Gold Star Mothers.

"We have other lives to live besides our own," Rev. Jones reminded the crowd gathered at the handsome brick memorial. "Time," he added, "was purchased for us at so great a cost by those who died in the service of this nation. What are we doing with it?"

A firing squad and bugler participated in the services, during which the flag of the United States was lowered to half mast in memory of our war dead. The flag on such occasions remains at half mast until sunset, then is raised to the top of the pole to show that the nation still lives before it is lowered for the night.

The invocation and benediction were given by Father Michael of St. Anthony's Catholic Church.

Principal speaker at the noon gathering of veterans and their families was Mr. Straus. In a moving plea for peace, he asked:

"What are you doing to insure peace? We should take the ideals, thoughts and aspirations of our fallen young men," he said. "Individually and collectively we should live by the ideals for which they died and someday our world will be living at peace."

"Until all men live together as brothers we have not erected a living memorial to those men who have died," Mr. Straus concluded.

Gold Star Mothers who attended the dedication services during the second annual Veterans' Day observances sponsored by the Veterans of Foreign Wars and American Legion posts were Mrs. A. R. Rogers, Mrs. Pat Wederbrook, Mrs. F. S. Smith, Mrs. Leonard Davis, Mrs. G. H. Whitaker, Mrs. Katie Goldston, Mrs. J. W. Spradley, Mrs. Ida May Vaughn and Mrs. Henry Hastings.

About 1,000 persons attended the breakfast served early Monday for veterans and their families. An equal number was present for the free barbecue served at noon for veterans, their families and their friends. The Hereford High School band played during the noon hour.

The last event of the day was a dance at the Jim Hill Hotel. All other events were staged in the club houses and on the circle at Veterans' Park.

How Can I?

Q. How can I mix the plaster for making plaster of Paris plaques?

A. Fill a bucket about two-thirds full of water. Sprinkle the plaster into it slowly until the water disappears. Stir and let stand for about five minutes, or until it has the appearance of cream. It is then ready to pour into the mold.

Q. How can I make an oak stain?

A. By mixing 1 quart of boiled linseed oil, 3 gills of turpentine, 6 tablespoonfuls of raw umber, and 6 tablespoonfuls of whiting.

Q. How can I destroy black ants?

A. To kill the black ant, sprinkle the powdered root of black flag around the backs of shelves and along the baseboards of the floors.

Q. What should be used for shredding parsley?

A. Shears can be used to better advantage than a knife for shredding parsley, or lettuce, for cutting up meat for stews, or bread for bread pudding. It is also better for cutting peppers or celery into small pieces of proper size for salads.

Q. What should one do when the sweetness of cream seems doubtful, and there is no more on hand?

A. Add a pinch of soda and stir. This will keep it from curdling even in hot coffee.

Q. How can I prevent fermentation in jams?

A. The fermentation can be prevented by adding a small piece of sulphate of potash to the boiling syrups or jams.

Q. What is a good lubricant for the egg beater?

A. Oil can be used as a lubricant for the egg beater, meat chopper, and other kitchen utensils. The food is likely to taste of the lubricant if ordinary oil is used.

Q. How can I clean embroidery on goods that will not wash?

A. Cover with a thick paste of alcohol and powdered chalk. Roll and lay away in a dark place for a few days, and then brush off the dry chalk.

THE PLAYING OF TAPS, followed by the firing of a three-volley salute concluded the services at the dedicating of a memorial "To Those Who Gave" on Monday at Veterans' Park. Thanksgiving Suppers Are Included In H. D. Planning

Plans are underway for Thanksgiving suppers to be held by many of the county's home demonstration groups. Many of the groups have already worked out the menus which, of course, include turkey with all the trimmings.

The Westway Club met at the Jim Hill Hotel on Saturday night for its annual fall supper party with 34 members and guests present for the festivities.

Christmas Planning
Some early Christmas shopping by the H. D. women also includes looking for "special" little gifts for their secret pals. Discussions at the meetings are already turning toward what each club will do to observe Christmas. Baskets of food for needy families, as well as entertainments for the members and their families, have been included in these plans.

Each club woman of the county is fast realizing that she is not the only person with problems as the clubs continue to meet and discuss the "Let's Work It Out Together" topic. Under the leadership of Mrs.

4-H Girls Study Lessons For Christmas Activities

Activities of the girls' 4-H Clubs these days are all leading up to preparations for the Christmas holidays with the lessons concerned with the making of candy and candles.

Adult leaders in the club work will give demonstrations to the girls this month on candy making so that the members will be ready to help with treats for Christmas. Mrs. Crowell has been giving the candle lesson, and at least one club has voted to make candles as a money-making project to add funds to the club treasury.

removes all the grease and spots. Washday
If the yard is too small to hang out all the wash, try using coat hangers for the large garments. They will take up less space, as they can be hooked sideways on the line, and they will also dry in better shape.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Sandra and Nancy Green on Nov. 23.

The Walcott girls' 4-H Club met at the school on Nov. 6. Kay Pruitt, president, called the meeting to order and the 4-H Prayer was repeated in unison.

Members attending were Cecilia, Elizabeth and Anna Jack, Betty Lockhart, Sue Minyon, Barbara and Rose Netst, Elaine and Viola Newman, Kay Pruitt, Edna Stewart, Barbara Swinney and Nancy Tyler.

Lowest railroad fares in Europe are granted by British railways to early-morning business men and vacationists.

Styles Introduce Problems

Beauty problems pop up with the season. It makes a big difference to heavy legged girls if new styles call for shorter skirts; to thick-waisted types if the new silhouette calls for a slender midriff; to skinny types in any curvaceous year.

Questions go like this:
Q. I am Tall and Heavy. I like to wear high heels, but the new slim high heel will definitely make my ankles look heavy and will not support my weight. Why don't manufacturers consider all aspects of a style before they put it in effect? First thing you know, all heels will go high and they will happen to me!

A. There are so many women who cannot wear too-high heels that there will always be other heel heights available. Let's hope you do not consider flat shoes because nothing looks worse on a tall stocky build. There are good medium-heel heights that are very flattering to legs and ankles of large proportions.

Q. Now that hair is being pulled up again at the back of the head, I have my old problem of how to cope with a bad hairline.

A. Pull the hair back and fasten it with a chignon that will cover the area you consider unattractive. Chignons of all sizes are available. Have one designed for you with the purpose you mention in mind.

Q. Up until now I have been able to conceal the "spare tire" that has been growing around my midriff. Now all the new dresses I see emphasize a slim waistline. Is there any quick way to erase this excess bulge?

A. One woman with such a problem solved it this way: She bought a longer line girdle that covered that area. Keeping it under control while she tried to reduce. She ate light lunches, walked briskly for one-half hour every day and did ordinary bend-down, hand-to-toe exercises (and no bent knees please). She did manage to erase the roll that way.

Household Scrapbook

Shampoo
To make a good shampoo, cut a bar of pure Castile soap into small pieces. Pour enough boiling water on the soap to make a thick jelly. Beat until thickened. It will keep the hair and scalp absolutely clean and pure. Bottle and keep for future use.

Yellowed Enamel
To restore to their former brightness, enameled bathtubs and wash-bowls which have become yellow, wash them with salt and turpentine.

Rusty Steel
Rusty steel can be cleaned by rubbing thoroughly with sweet oil. The oil should be allowed to remain on the article sometime before rubbing.

Measuring Fats
When measuring fats for pastry, dip the spoon or measuring utensil into very hot water before using. Then you will not have to dig out the fat; it will slip out easily.

Making Eyelets
When making eyelets to slip laces through, outline the hole before punching and you will find it easier to work and much firmer.

Cleaning Zinc
Zinc may be cleaned very effectively by wetting a cloth with kerosene and wiping it off. This to remove traces of soapstone.

"GOVERNOR PEASE MANSION"—Gov. and Mrs. Allan Shivers announced in Austin they had purchased the 103-year-old historic house there known as the Governor Pease Mansion. Shivers said some remodeling would be needed but the house would be preserved in as near its original state as practicable and that his family would take possession after the first of the year. The house was built in 1853-54 by Abner Cook, who also built the state mansion. (AP Wirephoto)

Argen Draper, the discussions include the presentation of individual problems with suggestions from the group as to how they may be solved.

Messenger

Mrs. Argen Draper was the speaker when the Messenger H. D. Club met in the home of Mrs. Dixie Fortenberry on Nov. 9. She spoke on the theme "Let's Work It Out Together" in keeping with the public relations topic for the day.

The club members and their families will meet for a turkey supper soon, it was voted at the meeting. Mrs. Floyd Brown received a gift from her secret pal.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. J. M. Jack on Nov. 23.

Members present were Mesdames Elmer Northcutt, N. A. Brown, Floyd Brown, Ernest Brown and the hostess.

South Hereford

Guests present were Mrs. John Patton, Mrs. Ida Ricketts and Mrs. Dobbins.

Members attending were Mrs. Eldon Craig, Mrs. D. H. Bryant, Mrs. Lon Shore, Mrs. S. S. Williams, Mrs. Bill Goetsch, Mrs. John Hacker, Mrs. Otto Massie, Mrs. Adam Flowers, Mrs. John Slaton, Evelyn Bell, Ethel Layman, Mrs. John Draper and Mrs. Ray Manning.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. S. S. Williams on Nov. 20.

Oceanographers in Canada are completing a model of 302 miles of the Pacific Ocean, holding thousands of gallons of water, to give them quick information on tidal movements.

Q. What can I do for dry, and chapped, or weather-toughened hands?

A. Good lubricants for such hands are olive oil, oil of sweet almonds, cucumber oil, or odorless castor oil.

Beauty At Home

Q. How can I mix myself a good skin-cleansing lotion at home?

A. Mix one-half teaspoon of good grade cologne, two of witch hazel, and one tablespoon of rose water. Apply with small cotton pads, and mix fresh for each application.

Q. What foods in the diet should be avoided when one is severely afflicted with acne?

A. Meats of all kind; coffee, tea and alcohol; the use of stimulating drugs, such as aspirin, etc.; tobacco; all candies unless made from honey; sweetening of any kind, except honey or maple syrup in small quantities, too refined breakfast foods; excessive use of canned foods, if not vacuum packed.

Q. How can I bring out my practically invisible eyebrows?

A. Try using two eyebrow pencils—brown and black. First, use short, soft strokes of brown pencil, followed by one-third as many strokes of black, and this will give a natural look to your eyebrows.

Q. What is a dry shampoo which is beneficial to blonde hair?

A. Cornmeal or almond meal, sprinkled through the hair, and then thoroughly brushed out. This leaves the hair soft and clean.

Q. How can I prepare myself a good-toilet powder at home?

A. Two parts of boric acid mixed with eight parts of starch.

Q. Just how should I go about giving my hair a hot-oil treatment?

A. Use castor oil, olive oil, or a mixture of both in equal parts. Warm the oil, and apply with a medicine dropper or cotton pad, parting the hair and applying, then rubbing in. Massage thoroughly to distribute the oil, apply a towel wrung out of hot water, and wrap around the head turbanwise, so that the oil penetrates the scalp. Follow this treatment with the regular shampoo.

Q. My skin is quite oily. What is a good astringent lotion for me to use?

A. A bit of lemon juice, squeezed into a bowl of ice water, and splashed on the skin after it has been well washed and massaged is good. Do this before the powder foundation or makeup.

Q. Please suggest a good, external remedy for brittle fingernails.

A. Nightly dipping of the ends of the fingers into warm olive oil is beneficial.

Q. How can I remove some carbon paper marks from one of my non-washable office dresses?

A. Sponge the stains with denatured alcohol, diluted with two parts of water. Rinse by sponging with some plain water.

Champ Uses Spot For Spares

By BILL LILLARD
My first story explained my system of spot bowling for strikes. Now I'll try to explain how I use this spot system for shooting spares, and also how I stay close to my strike pattern for spares.

The four basic spare setups are the seven, eight, nine and ten-pin situations. Some bowlers also count a five-pin situation.

For shooting seven-pin spares (4-7, 4-7-8, 7), I move to the right from the center position I use for strikes. The amount of movement would depend on the size of an individual's hook. I use the same target for my ball, the second arrow from the right in the range-finder system. I deliver the ball as if I am shooting a strike.

Again, I am strictly spot bowling. I look at the pins to see what is standing, but once I take my stance, the second arrow is all I watch.

For eight-pin spares (2-8, 8, 2-4-5-8, 1-2-8), I move midway between the center and the extreme right. I use the same arrow for my target and roll as for a strike.

For nine-pin spares (3-9, 9, 3-5-6-9, 1-3-9), I move midway between center alley and the extreme left. Again the amount of move here depends on the individual's hook. I use the same target and the strike delivery.

For ten-pin spares (6-10-6-9-10, 10), I move to the extreme left. I create a new alley by this move. I face the pin or pins and throw just as I would for a strike.

On single pin spares, most players don't spot bowl because they know they have 22 inches of target to aim at. I still stick to the spot method because I feel it is easier to analyze your game if you are methodical. I prefer using the same system at all times and in all situations.

PRETTY PRIME PORKERS
BUSHNELL, Ill. — The quality of the hogs shown at the second annual Ladies Hog Show was praised as better than last year's competition.

Jess Barnes of the Bushnell Stockards, sponsors of the show, said 20 women exhibitors showed a total of 117 head of hogs, and that hogs in the No. 1 class received a 50-cent premium over the prevailing price.

Value of Farm and Ranch Land In Texas Indicates Steady Increase

By TEX EASLEY
AP Special Washington Service
WASHINGTON — The dollar value of farm and ranch land in Texas increased 1 per cent in the year ended July 1, 1956. This compared with a 3 per cent increase for the nation.

Figures compiled by the Agriculture Department showed the value of Texas farms and ranches on July 1 was $9,205,000,000 (B). The U.S. total was $102,500,000,000.

Several forces operated to increase land values notwithstanding a drop in agricultural income in recent years and drought conditions.

There has been a strong demand from farm operators over the country for additional land, said the department, and the opinion on the part of present owners and prospective purchasers that farm land is a safe long-term investment continued to be of importance at mid-year. The department used the term "farm" to denote both farm and ranch operations.

Regionally, farm values have been sustained or advanced by urban and industrial expansion—demands for part time farms and rural residences. The 1956 national average value per acre was set at $88.65.

The average acre value of Texas farm and ranch land in mid-1956 was $63.13, as compared with $62.63 a year earlier. The value had been fixed at $54.80 in 1951; it rose to $63.08 the following year, then dropped to $60.73 in 1953 and $60.54 in 1954. Thus, the current record high value is barely over the 1952 total of $9,185,000,000. The reported dollar values included all buildings on the farm properties. In a commentary, the report noted that "population is increasing, but our farmland is limited," thus the prospect of a growing population is believed to assure a slow but steady increase in farm prices.

Values in the high plains areas of Texas and Oklahoma were reported to have increased 2 per

On The House

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER
AP Real Estate Editor

If there's such a thing as love at first sight, the appearance of a house should have a lot to do with its value. It might be wise, whether you are building or remodeling, to make your house look sturdy. Lots of people are seizable enough to take exterior appearances seriously.

Various building materials add a look of solidity to a house and happily they also add a certain amount of insulation, permanence and ease of maintenance. One of the most popularly-used in Western red cedar in the form of shingles and shakes.

Shakes have nothing to do with jitters in this case. They are one of the oldest face lifting materials for houses on the American landscape. You can find historic homes covered with them, because originally they were hand-split, measured 3 to 4 feet long, had rough surfaces like any split log and very thick butts which cast beautiful shadow lines on the face of a house.

All shakes taper like shingles, and being liberally overlapped they add an extra thick blanket of wood to a house and this is a weather-proofing, insulating cover you cannot sniff at.

It used to be considered redundant to say "hand-split shakes," because all shakes were hand-split. But you can get shakes today that are machine processed. These have

The report indicated that figures to be compiled a year hence may show even greater increases may be recorded in Texas. From March to July of this year, there was an average increase of 2 per cent over Texas in dollar value of farm and ranch lands.

In the same period there was a 1 per cent increase for New Mexico, 3 per cent increase for Louisiana, 4 per cent increase for Arkansas, and a 2 per cent increase for Oklahoma.

neatly fluted surfaces, even edges producing straight lines and imperceptible joints, and when laid double-coursed they cast attractive shadow lines.

The advantage of double coursing is that you can use shingles of a low grade for the under course because they are completely covered.

Either hand-split or machine made shakes of red cedar can be used without any stain or paint, because this wood is famous for its durability. The natural oil in this wood makes it highly resistant to decay and so it needs no further protection. The Western Pine Assn. which embraces red cedar forests, says you can let this wood weather "to a slight driftwood gray with a silvery sheen," but we'd suggest a close check on the missus if you want to dodge a paint job.

Painting or staining cedar shakes however, is very simple because the wood is so free of pitch. A specialist in shakes and shingles—Robert E. Blank of River Edge, N. J.—was discussing this aspect the other day. As head of the National Building Materials Co., Mr. Blank said he is making it a practice to ship all shingles and shakes already primed.

"So many people want to paint shingles," he said, "that 90 percent of all shingles used today are primed. This speeds a good paint job and builders have fewer complaints from their buyers."

Personally, Blank is a hand-split shakes fan. "The trend in modern home exteriors today," he says, "is for hand-split shakes that dress houses in a suit of Americana, whether the house is contemporary or traditional in style."

If you can afford the difference, there is no denying that you can get a striking exterior design with irregular hand-splits, whether you paint them white, or any color in the rainbow, or let them weather naturally.

Camp Fire Girls Make Honor Books

The Waweezupi Camp Fire girls met Wednesday, Nov. 7, to make honor books. Refreshments were served at the close of the meeting by Donna Cole.

Those present were Ruth Ann Allison, Barbara Barrett, Donna Sue Blythe, Elana Marie Beene, Donna Cole, Carolyn Sue Caraway, Patsy Daniel, Royce Gilliland, Janey Nolan, Charlene Rodgers, Diedra Thomas, Betty Turner, Juana Turner, Lillie Sue O'Neal, Pam Harle.

Sunshine Bluebirds are learning to play softball at their meetings these days. The group is divided into "A" and "B" teams. Last week "A" team won 5-to-0, but this week "B" team pulled to the front with a 5-to-3 lead.

Two new members have joined the group. They are Frances Carter and Judy Harnell, both third graders at Central School.

JUSTICE WITH MERCY
PHOENIX, Ariz. — City Magistrate C. W. Pensinger tempered justice with mercy for Arnold Sidman who got three traffic tickets rushing his injured daughter to the hospital.

Sidman's daughter had mashed her fingers in a washing machine, and he said he believed the child's condition warranted the speed.

Pensinger gave him a sentence of $85 or 60 days in jail — and suspended it.

WITH YOUNG LIFE

... we have our greatest opportunity. The Thoughts of a child are long thoughts. They become part of a personality which may go on forever. That is why we should, at a very early age, introduce our youngsters to God. Re-living our words and our deeds is their favorite past time. Then it is so important for us to teach them His word and take them to His church. Our language, our deeds, our lives leave permanent marks upon their plastic brain.

Since the world is the class room and all of us are the teachers, it is very necessary that we be right in both precept and example. Keep from your child the devil's influence so they may grow upward toward God. As the twig is bent, so grows the tree... so grows your child.

New Version Of Old Favorite

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Mrs. Dwight D. Eisenhower's recipe for pumpkin chiffon pie is the inspiration for this year's Pumpkin Chiffon Icebox Cake.

Here's how we came by this new version of a favorite dessert. One of our sisters was a guest at a buffet supper where a mold of lady fingers and pumpkin chiffon filling was served — and enthusiastically applauded — by a dozen guests. When our sister asked how the mold was concocted, the hostess told her that it was based on the recipe for Mrs. Eisenhower's Pumpkin Chiffon Pie found in a Thanksgiving column of our own!

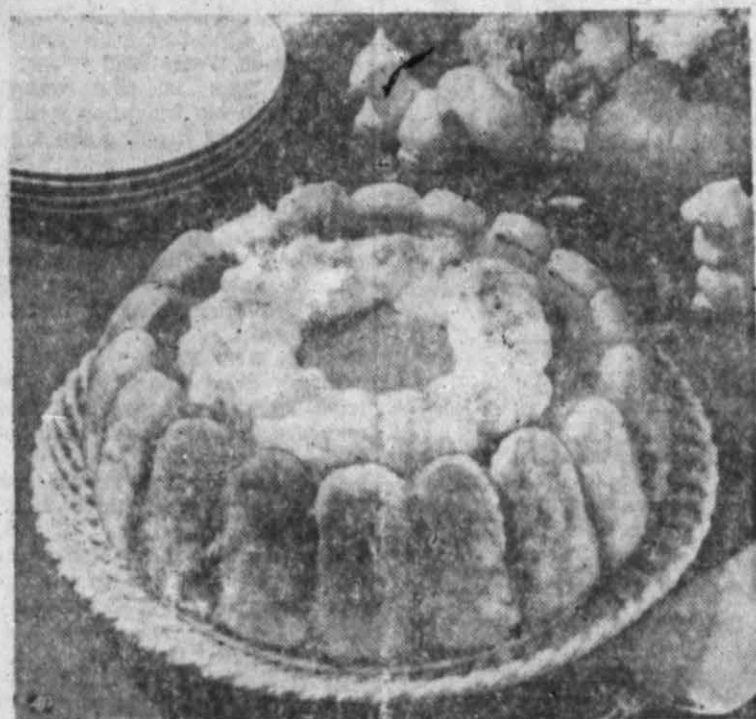

In this new recipe the amounts of gelatin, sugar, spices, eggs and pumpkin in the original rule have been increased to give the volume needed for an 8-inch spring-form pan. One other change was made: undiluted evaporated milk and cream of tartar were used to help give body to the dessert so it stands up beautifully when cut.

If at Thanksgiving time you like to serve a delicate dessert as well as traditional pies, do try this recipe. We find that although it's as light as air, men enjoy it just as much as do women.

PUMPKIN CHIFFON ICEBOX CAKE

Ingredients: 1/2 cup milk, 8 cup envelopes unflavored gelatin, 1 1/2 cups firmly packed light brown sugar, 1 teaspoon salt, 1 teaspoon nutmeg, 2 teaspoons cinnamon, 1 cup undiluted evaporated milk, 5 eggs (separated), 1/2 teaspoon of cream of tartar, 3 cups canned pumpkin, 1/2 cup granulated sugar, whipped cream.

Method: Split lady fingers; cut off one end and place, rounded side up, around sides of an 8-inch spring form pan. Mix together gelatin, brown sugar, salt and spices in top of double boiler. Stir in evaporated milk and egg yolks; mix well. Place over boiling water and cook, stirring constantly, until gelatin dissolves and mixture is heated through, about 10 minutes. Remove from heat; add pumpkin and chill until mixture mounds when dropped from a spoon. Beat egg whites until foamy; add cream of tartar and beat until stiff, but not dry. Gradually add granulated sugar and beat until very stiff. Fold gelatin mixture into egg whites. Turn into prepared pan; chill until firm. To unmold, release spring and remove side of mold carefully. Garnish with whipped cream (sweetened with confectioners' sugar and flavored with vanilla). Makes 12 to 14 servings.

Simple-Food --- Elegant Party

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Associated Press Food Editor

One of the most successful parties we've ever given had the simplest food. We asked about a dozen friends to drop in for late-afternoon snacks and served them miniature hamburgers and small frankfurters in matching size buns.

But simple as the food was, we took pains with it. The meat for the hamburgers was freshly ground chuck; the small frankfurters were the best all-beef ones we could buy.

The real hit of the party was the batch of homemade yeast buns and rolls that were fashioned in miniature size to accompany the small hamburgers and frankfurters.

Should you adopt this party idea, and own an electric rotisserie, by all means use it for grilling the hamburgers and frankfurters after your company comes.

Method: Scald milk. Stir in sugar, salt and shortening. Measure...

warm water — make sure it is not hot — into a large mixing bowl. Sprinkle in yeast. Stir until dissolved. Stir in lukewarm milk mixture. Add half of the flour. Beat until smooth. Stir in remaining flour. Turn out on lightly floured board. Knead until smooth and elastic.

Divide one-half of the dough into 3 equal pieces. Form each piece into a roll 12 inches long. Cut each roll into 12 equal pieces. Form into smooth balls. Place on greased baking sheet, about 2 inches apart. Cover. Let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulk — about 30 minutes. Bake in...

very hot (500 degrees) oven until golden brown — about 5 minutes. Makes 3 dozen.

To Shape Frankfurter Rolls:

Divide one half of the dough into 3 equal pieces. Form each piece into a roll 12 inches long. Cut each roll into 12 equal pieces. Form into smooth balls. Roll each ball back and forth on lightly floured board with palm of hand until about 2 1/2 inches long, slightly tapering the ends.

Pretty Finish: Beat an egg yolk with a couple of tablespoons of milk. Just before the buns and rolls are to go into the oven, brush their tops with the egg wash.

PETS SNAP AT POLL ON COLD FLOORS
Why does your dog or cat, or both, insist on jumping up into a chair to sleep?

Because the floors are cold, says the Better Heating - Cooling Council.

Contending that a survey was made among cats and dogs in all walks of life, the council says high percentages answered with "meows" and "woofs" on the question of cold floors in homes.

Reports from the tax assessor's office Monday afternoon indicate that a considerable number of people were interested in taking advantage of the split tax payment possibility, and quite a few were...

A real live game of football is expected between the local team and Clovis High School Saturday at 3 p.m. The fact that the Hereford team has won every game this year makes the event of importance as the boys hope to sustain the record against the New Mexico bunch.

J. T. Jennings, who lives with his family 12 miles south of Hereford, was in town Wednesday of this week with his usual shipment of butter.

All last week this section enjoyed the ideal weather. Warm sunshine days were the order, but Sunday night of last week the expected happened. The wind changed to the north and during the night a snow flurry was on, the wind at times blowing a gale.

The finest array of chickens, turkeys and eggs ever assembled in Deaf Smith County is on exhibition today in the Buchanan and Rossos building across the street west of the courthouse.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Brown, David and Barbara visited Mrs. Brown's parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. B. Pulliam Sunday.

George Long and his brother of Silverton purchased the section of land known as "Barnheart" recently. The land joins the S. N. Thweatt land on the south.

Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Thweatt returned on Thursday from visiting with her sister down near Dallas.

Mrs. Ruth Coleman went to Amarillo Thursday afternoon to meet her mother, Mrs. G. E. Pinkerton of Elk City, Okla.

Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Thweatt made a business trip to Amarillo Friday.

Cecil Bass is now watering wheat with his irrigation well. He says he thinks it will make a good five inch well.

The cement floor was poured Friday morning in the county barn at Rootleg. The building is now complete, and the well house is near completion also.

Frank Ford bought some feed from T. D. Deavenport and Frank and Mrs. Newman have been hauling it this week.

Earl and Rodger Brown spent Friday night with their cousin, Tommie Brown.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Monroe and children have moved to the Roberts Camp of C. T. Guseman.

Francis Movie Sure Comic Family Treat

FRANCIS IN THE HAUNTED HOUSE
Francis, the talking mule, witnesses a murder near an allegedly haunted castle, which has been reconstructed in the middle west in "Francis in the Haunted House"—this movie will show Friday and Saturday at the Star Theatre.

In the audience slant, this movie will be good for the whole family, and will please those who have found entertainment in previous "Francis" films.

Francis is erroneously suspected by the police of slaying the murdered victim, and two attorneys for the estate disappear, making the police suspect Rooney more. Francis persuades the district attorney to release Mickey; and later they discover that Paul Cavanaugh, Virginia Welles' guardian, is the conspirator, and that he is looting the estate of its art treasures.

The change of co-star Don O'Connor, and the change of the locale from the armed services to an old haunted castle give the series an added interest and new approach, and there are just as many laughs, and suspense to please those who enjoyed previous "Francis" movies.
