LOCAL OPTION ELECTION SET

Church Will Host Area's 'Dry' Forces

Plans were laid for a county-wide organization to oppose legalized sale of alcoholic beverages in Deaf Smith County at a meeting called in Ward Hall, First Methodist Church, here Tuesday...

Petition Signatures

"At the meeting scheduled this morning the group will be asked to approve having the list of petition signers printed in The Brand," Rev. Marcontell said.

Site Stewardship

Following the meeting Tuesday, the group visited the office of County Clerk Ralph Smith and checked the signatures.

"It was encouraging to find that not one name of the 21 protestant ministers of the county appeared on the list," Rev. Marcontell said.

"No Stone Unturned"

The "dry" forces, according to plans at the Tuesday meeting, will enlist the laity of the churches in the campaign which, they say, "will leave no stone unturned."

BRAND POLICY Letters Column Closed To Both Wets And Drys

The Brand policy of publishing "Letters to the Editor" without charge will be suspended on all letters dealing directly or indirectly with the forthcoming "wet-dry" election...

Past Experience

"Experience has proven to us in controversial issues that people also come in with a deluge of last-minute letters on our deadlines, thus creating mechanical bottlenecks," he said.

"Persons desiring to express an opinion concerning the election—either 'For' or 'Against'—may use Brand advertising columns," Gilentine said.

"All copy will be subject to acceptance or rejection by our attorneys as concerns possible libel," he said.

Liquor Sales Issue Vote On Sept. 25

A local option election for Deaf Smith County has been scheduled for Sept. 25 by the Commissioners Court. This will be the first such election involving the question of the legal sale of alcoholic beverages held here since Oct. 5, 1901...

Petition Certified

Six of the 840 signatures were questioned by the commissioners. A total of 816 signatures of legal voters on the petition made calling of the election mandatory under state laws.

Ballot Wording

"For the legal sale of all alcoholic beverages for off-premises consumption only," and "Against the legal sale of all alcoholic beverages for off-premises consumption only."

Early Day Election

Action of the Commissioners Court on Monday, in which they acted in full compliance with all state regulations on the petition, was in contrast with that taken by their predecessors in September.

Methodist Church In Budget Drive

Now in the progress of a budget support program of the First Methodist Church, leaders of the solicitation committees opened the campaign drive with a kick off dinner held in Fellowship Hall Monday night.

Adopting the Roy Farrow plan, the concentrated drive was launched early in August in an educational campaign to acquaint the membership with the over-all program of the church and the overall needs.

The actual fund raising drive began with the kick-off dinner and is to continue for two weeks. Workers are divided into groups, each headed by a captain. The victory dinner for solicitors and their wives will be held on Sept. 6.

Monday night speakers included district lay leader, Joe Nisbett, of Dalhart, Rev. Alby Cockrell, pastor Loyd Lovel, Wm. J. Stanford, Raymond Higginbotham, Joel Hodgson and Robert L. Thompson, general chairman.

WHITEFACES OPEN WORKOUTS FRIDAY

Hereford, Texas, Thursday, August 30, 1956 Section Two

SPORTS GLANCES by Bill Knox

Hereford's proposed "Boosters Club" has unlimited possibilities. Not only could it serve to promote more athletic interest in Hereford, but it could also materially improve Hereford athletic teams—if it is run right.

ADVANTAGES OUTWEIGH DISADVANTAGES
That "it" is an important one. Disadvantages are present, but the advantages greatly outweigh them.

Many Quarterback Clubs have achieved the reputation of "hiring and firing" the coach. This is the case to a certain extent in many places. But on the other hand those clubs doing good and cooperating with the school administration are more numerous.

HAVE RIGHT IDEA

The group of men who met Saturday afternoon with the idea of forming a Quarterback Club had the right idea.

Among those present were Fred J. Cunningham and L. B. "Scat" Russell. They seemed to be in favor of it just as much as anybody else.

A coach usually takes the hardest drubbing from a club that isn't run right. On the other hand, the coach is the guy that benefits the most from a good club.

Hereford has the manpower and enough interested men to make a good club. There's no question in our mind about what kind of club the Hereford Boosters Club will be. It will result in improved Hereford teams in the future.

PROBLEMS ARISE

Several problems with school administrations have arisen with quarterback clubs. Clubs like these seem to think it's their job to tell the coach how to run his team, and if it doesn't come up with a winning club, get rid of him.

Surprisingly, many carry a lot of weight and do get rid of the coach if his technique doesn't suit them. Considerable trouble arose on the west coast due to financial aid given to players by coaches and clubs.
This was all uncalled for and due to some overzealous club members and school officials.

JOHN TOLOS

Dory And Joe Vie Saturday

Dory Funk and Tokyo Joe resume a rugged rivalry Saturday night in Lions Club wrestling at Whiteface Stadium.

The pair will clash in a best of three falls or one hour time limit match as the first half of a double main event. Tommy Phelps and John Tolos, a newcomer, clash in the other match.

Tolos stands six feet, two inches tall and weighs in at 245. The 25-year old grappler hails from Los Angeles, Calif. This will make his first appearance in the Hereford ring.

In last Saturday's matches, Dory Funk won over Ricki Starr by way of disqualification, and Bonnie Watson dethroned Mars Bennett, also by disqualification.

Starr won the first fall over Funk in quick fashion. With only 45 seconds gone in the match, Starr rammed the Flying Mare foreman's noggin into the ringpost. He then pinned the unconscious Funk to take the first fall.

Funk took the second fall by pinning Starr to the canvas while the referee made the three count. Funk was awarded the match when Starr was disqualified for the last fall.

Bonnie Watson and Mars Bennett had one fall apiece in their match when some of the later's antics began to displease the referee. He promptly disqualified her and awarded the match to Bonnie Watson by disqualification.

TRIPS TO RUSSIA

MEXICO CITY (AP)—The first Mexican travel agency to sponsor trips to Russia says its initial tour attracted nine persons.

Excursions y Viajes, S.A. (Evl-sa) plans to continue the program, expanding it to include several Iron Curtain countries which it says are cooperating to attract the Mexican peso.

Hereford's Whitefaces enter fall workouts Friday.

With five returning starters and 12 lettermen back to staff his squad head coach L. B. Russell will begin to mold the 1956 version of the Hereford Whitefaces.

This season will mark Hereford's first year in District 1-AAA along with three other teams, Phillips, Dumas and Littlefield. Levelland, the other member of the new district, was previously a member. Stress Fundamentals

Russell said he plans to stress fundamentals and getting into shape in early workouts. Only varsity and "B" team players are to report for workouts Friday morning. Russell emphasized. Freshman prospects are to report Sept. 4, the opening day of school.

Starting his fifth season with the Herd, Russell wasn't bubbling with optimism, but expressed confidence that his team would have a good season.

"If we win all our non-conference games and lose all our conference games, it won't be such a bad year," Russell said, but indicated that this wasn't what he was planning on.

One At A Time

"We're going to play 'em one at a time. We're not pointing to anybody," he declared, then added: "They're all going to be tough."

"Scat" gave Levelland the nod for the district championship and rated John Whinnery's Dumas Demons above perennial powerhouse, Phillips, tutored by H. C. "Chesty" Walker. "It'll be a dogfight between the top three teams, and we can always wish," he stated.

Russell will build his line around two returning starters, 190-pound guard, Gene Waits, and Danny Ellison, all regional and honorable mention all-state end. Bobby Veigel, crisp blocking end and defensive star last year, has been converted to the fullback post. Waits has also been moved to tackle for this season.

Backfield Strongest

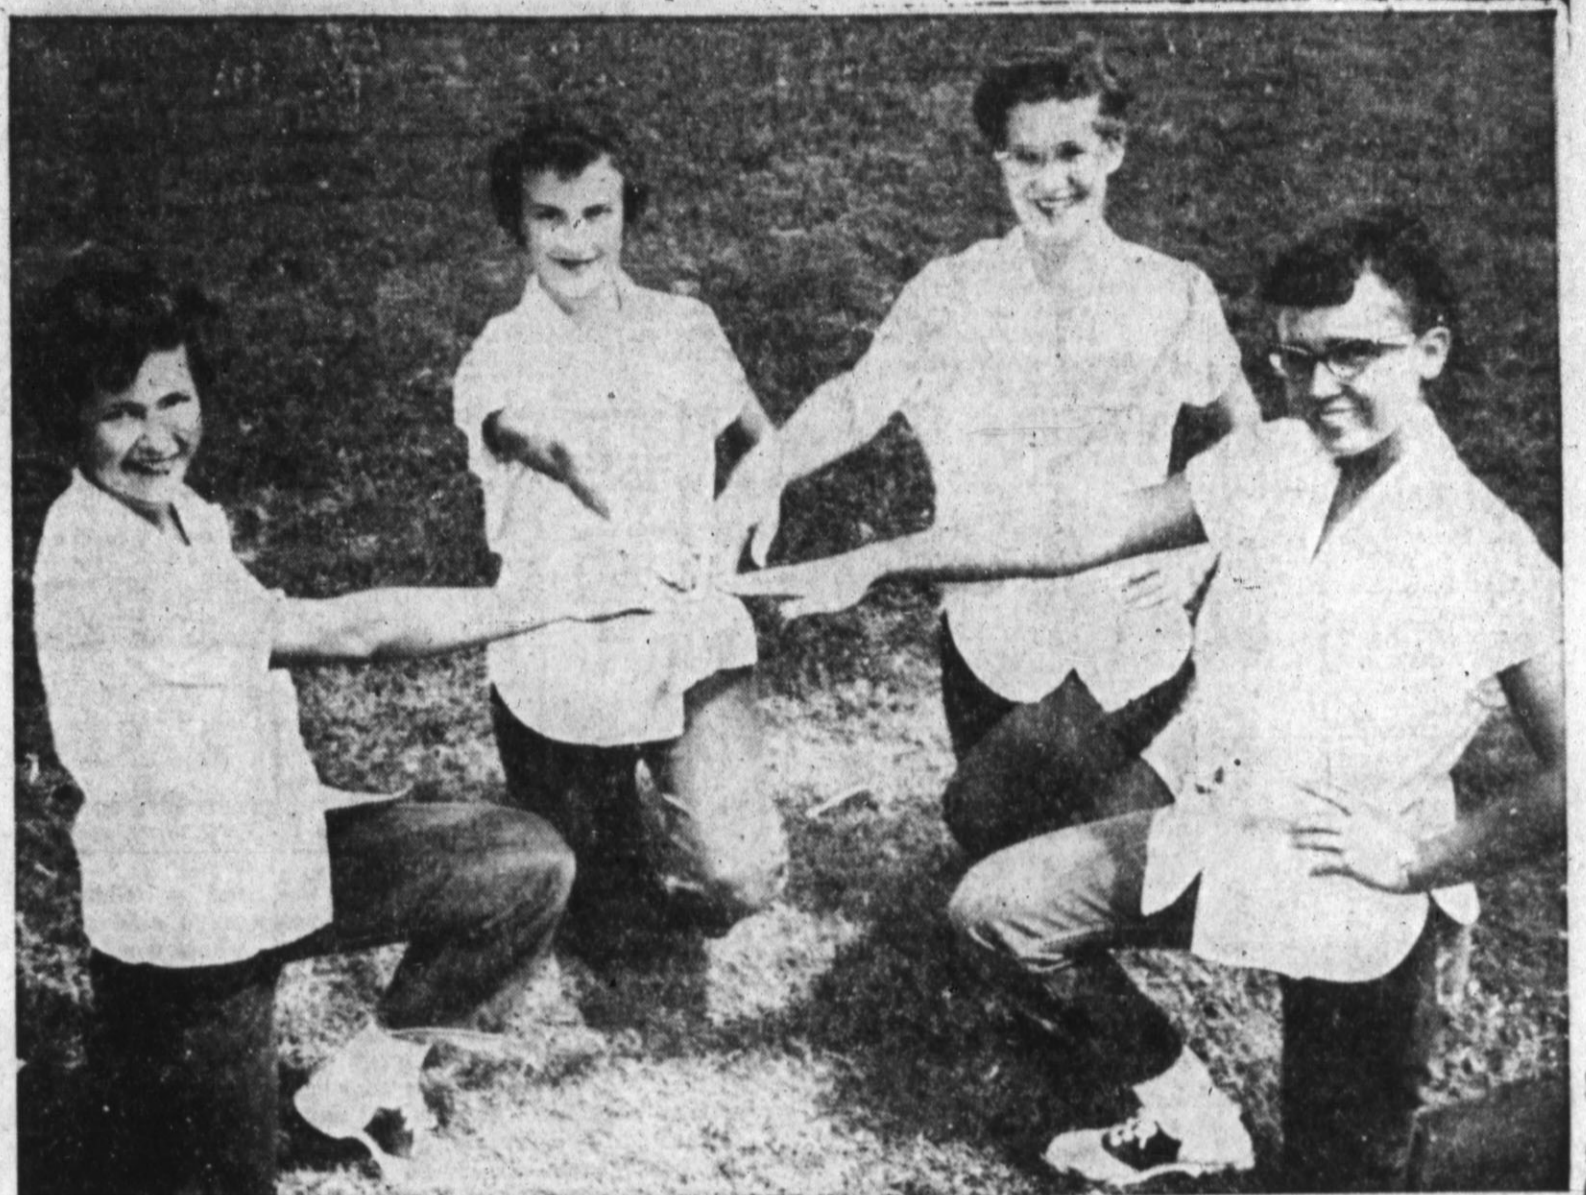

The head coach said his backfield will probably be the strongest spot. There he has John Bryant returning at quarterback and Bill Callaway at one of the half-back posts.

The 1956 schedule is the roughest in the five years since Russell took over coaching chores here. The schedule:

- Sept. 14—Canyon T
- Sept. 21—open (WT-ACC)
- Sept. 28—Tulia H
- Oct. 5—Olton T
- Oct. 12—Plainview H
- Oct. 19—Portales H
- Oct. 26—Clovis T
- Nov. 2—Littlefield T
- Nov. 9—Dumas H
- Nov. 16—Levelland H
- Nov. 23—Phillips T

About a third of all passengers between Paris and London travel by air, says the Twentieth Century Fund.

In 1922, 4 percent of U.S. cattle were tuberculous, but only 0.6 percent in 1935.

City Golf Tourney Gets Underway Here Saturday

THIRTY LETTERMEN RETURN

BUFF POWER ANTICIPATED

CANYON, Aug. 30 (Special)—West Texas State will have both experience and depth this fall and is expected to field its strongest representative since 1950.

Thirty lettermen will be on hand Saturday when 70 gridders report for the Buffaloes' first fall practice session. Coach Frank Kimbrough will put the Buffs through their paces twice daily until the opening game with University of Corpus Christi at Canyon, Saturday, Sept. 15.

Kicking off his tenth season at West Texas, Coach Kimbrough has his most experienced squad since that illustrious '50 team when the Border Conference championship and Sun Bowl.

The Buffs look exceptionally strong up the middle. Last season's top three centers—seniors Doug Higgins, Springlake, and Tommy Powell, Munday, and junior Clarence Whittenberg, Wheeler—are back. Starting tackles Philip Wright, Borger, and James Kauffman, Levelland, return and have able replacements in Harold Lamb and Harold Gouge, both of Borger. Wright was named to the NAIA All-American first team in 1955.

The Herd may have the two best guards in the conference in senior Joe Brooks, 200-pound ex-Silverton back, and sophomore Jerry Epps, a 210-pound Amarillo boy who played sensationally after taking over a starting berth at the end of his freshman campaign last fall. Brooks was placed on Williamson's mid-bracket All-American first team last fall.

One starter will be back at end. Bob Covington, another Borger Product, will return for his senior season but after that the Buffs lack size and depth at the position. Other boys likely to play a lot are Ken Ballard, Stinnett; Loyd Reynolds; Borger; and Tommy Coffey, McAdoo.

Quarterback chores appear to be in capable hands with Hillman back for a last fling. The Borger triple-threat man has been respected by the opposition since his freshman days.

Several experienced halfbacks are available. Team captain Dave Corley, a 182-pound buzz-saw and foot-footed Ronnie Mills, fastest man on the squad, appear to be good bets to start but they will be hard pressed by such standouts as Mark Clapp, Borger; Dale Wiley, Phillips; Don Beck, Canyon, and Fred Dawson, Stinnett. Bob Ratliff, a 200-pound crumcher who made all-Border Conference on defense as a freshman, is returning from the service and will be difficult to keep out when he becomes eligible in the fourth game, Oct. 13.

Rugged Charlie Sanders, 188-pound junior who starred at half-back last year, will be moved to fullback, where he should be among the best in the conference. Ready replacements for the ex-Gruber flash include R. L. Rhoten, Littlefield; Archie Souter, Olton, and R. A. Burgess, Canyon.

West Texas will have nine starters back from the 1955 team that was stronger than its 4-4-1 record indicates. All-Conference halfback, Joe Walden, who later was invited to compete in the East-West Shrine game in San Francisco, and end Dub Cleveland, all-conference second team, were two of only four squad members lost by graduation.

- Complete 1955 schedule:
- Sept. 15—Corpus Christi, h n

The 1956 Hereford City Tournament opens here this weekend with qualifying rounds Saturday.

Qualifying opened last Sunday for those not trying for medalist honors. Golfers trying to cop the medalist trophy must qualify Saturday.

The tourney will run three days with all men golfers from Hereford, Dimmitt, and Friona eligible to compete for the city championship.

Seed Defending Champion

Defending champion Charles Seed does not have to qualify but said he would probably try for medalist honors. He defeated Jeff Minton, 3&2, in last year's finals. Minton recently dethroned Seed, 7&6, to take the City Junior Golf Tournament with three rounds of sub-par golf. Seed also holds the Hereford Golf Club Championship.

Other pre-tourney favorites include steady Max Drever, J. A. Pitman, John Renner, Bob Lindsey, John D. Pitman, Wimpy Walker, Frank Cogdell, D. B. Roberson and J. M. Posey. Entry fee for the three-day tournament will be $7.50. Deadline for entering is 6 p.m. Saturday.

A dinner for all contestants and their wives will be held in the Club House, beginning at 7:30 p.m. Saturday.

Matches Begin Sunday

First round matches will begin at 8:30 a.m. Sunday for all flights. Consolation matches in the first round will be unrec'd Sunday afternoon, beginning at 2 p.m.

Semi-finals in all flights and finals in consolation flights will begin at 8:30 a.m. Labor Day. Final matches in all flights will start at 2 p.m. Monday. Presentation of trophies will be made at 6 p.m. after all matches have been completed.

Medalist of the tournament will receive a desk trophy. Large golf trophies will be awarded to the winners of each flight. Receiving medium-size trophies will be the runners-up in each flight. Consolation winners of each flight will be given small trophies.

PLANT SHIFT

MORGANFIELD, Ky. (AP)—Neat, little rows of burley tobacco were growing right in Mrs. Sam McElroy's flower bed.

Mrs. McElroy planted them herself and, until the other day, she thought they were petunias.

She had planted the petunia seeds in a tobacco bed and then transplanted some young plants herself.

Her husband said the petunias were doing fine—in his tobacco patch.

GI use of eraser tipped pencils in World War II popularized such pencils in many foreign countries.

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

A POPULAR HOUSE, this plan was used by builders at Huntington, N. Y., where 74 houses were sold in one weekend for less than $20,000 each on one-acre plots. It's a flexible plan, easily suited for building with or without a basement. The storage space in the garage provides a place for a heating plant next to the chimney, the stair space can be used for a large closet or laundry and the garage can be enlarged for additional storage. The house covers only 1,272 square feet without garage and porch which figure separately. This is plan Y-7389AP by Herman H. York, architect, 90-04 161st St., Jamaica 32, N. Y.

Beauty At Home

Q. What is a good waistline-reducing exercise?

A. Stand erect with feet comfortably separated, arms raised overhead. Keeping arms in this position, rotate your trunk slowly, making circles as large as possible and feeling the pull on your waist muscles. Circle first in one direction, then the other.

Q. Is there anything I can do about a persistently greasy-looking skin?

A. You can help this condition by washing in distilled water, to which is added a few drops of extract of lavender, or orange, or rose.

Q. How can I make my own hair dressing?

A. Cut two lemons in slices and add only enough water to cover them. Boil until the thickness of water indicates that all the lemon juice has been extracted. Then strain — and use the remaining lemon juice and water mixture as your hair dressing. This is one of the finest!

Q. How can I remove 'mildew' from some leather shoes which were stored away for some time?

A. Scrub the shoes with a hand brush dipped in lukewarm water and mild soapsuds. Wipe them with a damp cloth and give the shoes a day or two in the sun before polishing.

Q. What can I do for my peeling fingernails?

A. Buff all the edges after shaping. The buffing will bind the layers together, thus ending the peeling condition. If you have paper-thin nails, form a habit of tapping them against a hard surface now and then — this encouraging a denser structure.

LUCILLE AND DESI CAST AGAIN IN COMEDY, 'FOREVER DARLING'

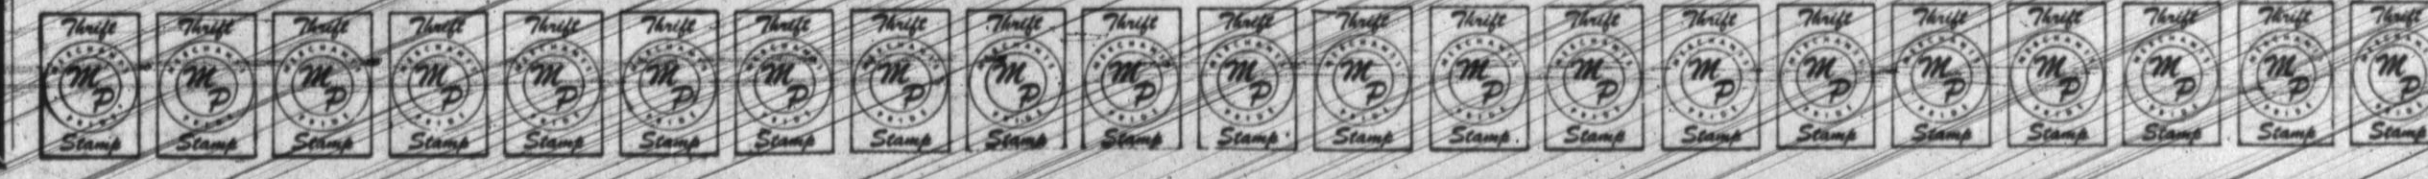

FOREVER DARLING
The Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz team is back once again on the screen in a laugh-filled comedy hit, "Forever Darling." Lucille Ball discovers that the rosy hue of the honeymoon with her scientist husband, Arnaz, is beginning to fade and she finds unexpected resources in the advice and protection of her Guardian Angel, James Macon. Lucille decides to accompany him on a camping expedition in which Arnaz is to make field experiments on a new insecticide formula. The trip provides the most hilarious satire of what can happen when a city-bred girl gets caught in a sleeping bag, inflated rubber boats, and outdoor cooking mishaps. "Forever Darling" shows today and Saturday at the Star Theatre.

Others are out to build cattle empires without regard to cost in human life and suffering. Ford portrays a former cavalry officer who rallies the small ranchers in self-defense against the relentless, completely brutal fight for power waged by crippled, embittered land baron Edward G. Robinson, his avaricious wife, Barbara Stanwycke, and his cold-blooded brother, Brian Keith.

DOUBLE FEATURE
Gary Merrill and Jan Sterling head the cast of "The Human Jungle," showing Friday and Saturday at the Texas Theatre. Merrill's role is that of a captain of detectives, ordered to clean up a tough precinct and to solve a murder, who is framed by the underworld. Miss Sterling's role is that of a strip-tease dancer in a gaudy night club, frequented by gangland characters and operated by a crime syndicate. Also showing on the same program is "The Forty-Niners," starring Wild Bill Elliott, Virginia Grey and Henry Morgan. Elliott poses as a professional killer, a gunman of the old west whose six shooters and his skill behind them were on sale to the highest bidder and for any purpose.

THE VIOLENT MEN
Violence and passion are merged in "The Violent Men" showing Saturday at the Tower Drive In. Starring in this movie are Glenn Ford, Barbara Stanwyck, and Edward G. Robinson. Set in the post-World War period, when small ranchers faced the greed and terror of the land-barons, semi-feudal set-

Wheat Allotments To Be 'Forgotten'

Uncle Sam gave Deaf Smith farmers a stinging 18,000 acre wheat allotment slash for the coming year. Chances are, however, that if fall moisture gives the dryland wheat growers here half a chance the 202,143-acre county allotment will prove just a figment of the USDA planners' imagination.

Talks with local officials, agricultural leaders and farmers themselves indicate that dryland wheat growers this year have hopes of a "normal" harvest. They hope that good rains will help them ease around marketing quota-restrictions to realize a bumper harvest.

Example Given
Here's how a long-known but not often used provision of the marketing quota laws will work to aid wheat growers who have seen a too-long series of drought induced crop failures:

Say farmer Joe Smith has one section of land, 640 acres in cultivation—all dryland. Consider that Joe has a 300 acre 1957 wheat allotment and that he has made "nothing" for the past five years.

So farmer Smith elects to seed the whole section to wheat.

Compliance Date
He has until May 15, 1957, to plow up the excess acre and "get in compliance." Until then, the rains permitting, he has had a chance at a maximum of wheat pasture for livestock plus the benefits of a cover-crop to protect against winter and spring wind erosion of his fields.

If, on May 15, his wheat looks good and he elects to take the excess acreage through to harvest, Joe can meet with his county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation committee and debate the matter of establishing the normal yield of grain for his acreage. Five Bushel "Normal"

And even if Joe just sits home and leaves it up to the committee the chances are very good that his normal will be figured at five bushels, or less.

Then, with his stub pencil and a scrap of foolscap, Joe can total up what his penalty on that excess acreage will be: 5 bushels x 340 acres equals 1,700 bushels. That 1,700 bushels is all that he'll be responsible for under the marketing quota law, and on it if he elects to sell in 1957 he'll be required to pay a 45 percent of parity penalty. But, if he wants to wait to see what Mother Nature provides in the way of a 1958 wheat crop, Joe can just store that penalty-wheat on his farm under bond without paying any penalty at all.

Marketing Provision
If he elects to pay the penalty, farmer Smith can then receive a marketing card for all of his wheat. If he stores his normal yield from the excess acreage, he can then obtain a marketing card for the remainder of his wheat.

But none of the wheat is eligible for government loans. What's the percentage? Here's how Smith figures it: "If I make a 10 bushel yield then I have five bushels per acre to sell clear and five which will net about 80 cents per bushel on the cash market after paying the penalty.

The Following Year
"If, like the Biblical Joseph, I elect to look toward a dry 'next year' and set-up my own ever normal granary, and sure 'nough it is too dry to plant another year, I can then take 'my penalty wheat out of storage without paying any penalty. Just so I understand," Joe

Soil Bank Draws New Blast From John C. White

In its clamor to relieve the bad situation of our nation's farmers through the recently adopted and inaugurated soil bank program, the administration is all but bypassing the very farmer who needs help most — the drought farmer, declares John C. White, Texas agriculture commissioner.

Payments have already begun for those who choose to relieve surpluses by plowing under crops or letting potentially productive soil remain idle. But, for the farmer whose land refuses to grow crops because nature's water supply has been temporarily withdrawn, no help is forthcoming," he recently declared.

"The intent of the program passed this year by Congress is to base soil bank payments on normal production, with the main purpose being elimination of surpluses," White continued.

"A realistic interpretation of the measure would base consideration on production from a normal 10-year period, he said. "As it stands now, payments are being based on this season's potential production. This leaves hundreds of the drought-ridden Texas farmers out in the cold with a small token crop failure sum, plus the right to graze their grassless land."

"Are the drought farmers whose crops failed to come up relieving the surplus problem any less than those who set aside productive land for the same purpose?" he asked.

"Our parched but otherwise fertile farms are just as idle as any soil 'banked' in producing areas this season."

"The soil bank system should not reward a man for plowing under a productive crop and then penalize a man for having a crop failure. The results are the same in both cases. Neither produces a surplus of goods, if that's what the program is for," he continued.

"The soil bank could be one of

Grain Sorghum Harvest Is Underway

erson, right, and his son David, rolled into Pitman's with a 12,000-pound load of Martin milo. Harvest is underway over two weeks earlier than last year.—(Staff Photos)

First Delivery May Have Made An Early Record

What is probably the earliest grain sorghum harvest in history got underway Saturday in the Hereford area when Richard Drager delivered a load of hegari to Hereford Grain Co.

Then on Monday afternoon, a big 12,000 pound load of Martin milo rolled onto the scales at Pitman Grain Co. O. T. Patterson & Son (David), said they had 40 acres in a 1,000 acre block "ready to cut" 30 days earlier than was the case in 1955.

Louis Beckman reportedly delivered a load of '56-crop sorghum to Pitman shortly before the Pattersons arrived.

Reports on the size and quality of this year's grain sorghum vary: Some estimate it will be about equal to last year's; others see it as even better than the "bumper" crop of 1954 which was tops for quality. Out Frio-way, some farmers see this as a banner year, explaining, "Why we've just now learned how to use this water and fertilizer for the best results."

Viewing fields in the area is a fast way to get well-confused on the subject. Dryland grain sorghum generally just "isn't." Irrigated fields run the ladder from fields that are simply superb and show promise of 7,000-pound yields, to those that are waging a hard fight against Johnson grass, down to those that are losing a fight to the latest crop bug-a-boo hereabouts, giant careless weeds.

Early plantings and ideal growing weather have been coupled to get many fields well ahead of normal maturity time. First harvest last year reportedly was on Sept. 10.

Drager, who farms seven miles southeast of Hereford received a premium price for the hegari he delivered to Hereford Grain. He said the field would yield about 2,000 pounds to the acre.

Curtis O. Roach, manager of the company, said the Drager load tested 54 pounds to the bushel and showed 11.55 percent moisture content. Drager accounted for the low moisture content by this method: "I bound, shocked and deheaded it. That gave it time to dry out."

Patterson and J. G. Baker who ran a Baldwin combine over the Patterson & Son field, eight miles southwest of Summerfield, estimated a yield of 4,500 pounds per acre. The grain had 20 percent moisture but weighed 55.7 pounds per bushel — regarded as good. It was sold at $1.90 per hundred.

"I believe our grain sorghum is good enough to average 4,000 pounds on the 1,000 acres," said Patterson. "We have some Caprock that will be ready in 30 days that looks to make 6,000 pounds." The load he brought in Monday had the tenacity of a pre-wetted and three irrigations; no fertilizer.

Although major U. S. cities have increased only 3.8 percent in population in the last five years, suburban areas have increased 27.3 percent.

His Cotton Draws Attention

Double-Row Crop Shows Promise Of Over 3 Bale-Acre

By BILL KNOX

(Posey) Burrell raises, among other things, cotton.

On a plot of land across the road east from the Hereford Riders Club arena, thrives what is probably the best cotton in Deaf Smith County. At least, this is the opinion of many Hereford farmers.

Two or three farmers a day, Posey says, come by asking him for advice on how to raise cotton. "I just raise it my own way," he declares. "I raise it the way I think I can make a little money off it."

Paid-Off Last Year
The five-acre plot yielded 2.4 bales per acre last year; and Burrell said his cotton this year is just as good and probably better than last year's. "I'll estimate about three to four bales per acre," he said.

"Everybody says it's the best cotton they've ever seen," Posey modestly states. "Of course, I haven't been around to look at any other except my own."

Hard To See Rows
The most unusual thing about the cotton crop is the fact that it is double-rowed. About this he says: "I don't know what the advantages of planting it that way are; I just planted it that way last year and it did all right so I did again this year."

The crop is so thick that it's hard for one to tell that it is planted in rows.

Posey estimates about 75,000 plants per acre or about 36 per square yard.

This unusual process created a planting problem for Burrell. The cotton was planted April 16, "and we had to plant it with a 16-10 wheat drill."

It must also be hand picked, he said he expects to pick it by about mid-October.

The variety is Paymaster, a type of early cotton becoming more and more popular with area cotton growers.

The field was prewatered once before planting and the cotton has been watered three times since planting. "I might water it once more, but I don't know," Burrell said. "It all depends on the weather."

Fertilizer Bill
It was fertilized with fertilizers high in nitrogen content. Anhydrous ammonia composed the bulk of it. Posey also used "lots of liquid fertilizer." Burrell estimated that he spent about $20 per acre on fertilizer alone.

The biggest problem about the unusual double-rowed cotton is insecticide, he said, because the crop is so thick. "Worms gave me the most trouble."

Spray Effective
Burrell said, "We sprayed it with everything in the book. Val Air Spraying Co. sprayed it, and I haven't had a bit of trouble with insects or worms since then."

"I've been paying particular attention to one plant," he stated. "Last week I counted 150 bolls on it, but six fell off and it's just got 144 now."

Grain Sorghum, Too
This is the second year for double-row cotton on the Burrell place, the easiest means of providing vitally needed aid to farmers suffering from drought. The matter of interpretation is the key that can mean the difference between relief and repression to our farm people," the commissioner concluded.

Buildings Resist High Winds When Properly Built

Winds of hurricane force every year hit some section of the state and usually leave behind many wrecked farm buildings. While it is not practical to make farm buildings strong enough to resist the full force of tornadoes, W. S. Allen, extension agricultural engineer, says the cost of making new or existing buildings strong enough to resist winds of hurricane force isn't great.

To safeguard buildings against strong winds, he sure the foundations are heavy and deep enough to resist overturning and lifting. The superstructure should be anchored securely to the foundation. All joints between framing members should be braced to resist horizontal pressure and suction. In all cases, good materials and workmanship are essential, points out Allen. He also advises the use of preventives against decay and termites.

During stress from heavy winds, building failures tend to occur at the weakest points, which are likely to be at joints. Proper handling of frame members is essential and can materially affect the way a structure stands up against the wind.

Steel straps, plates and similar connectors are suggested at key structural points. Anchor rods and anchor bolts to tie together footing, foundation and super-structure, and permanent or temporary tie rods to stiffen structures are a strong devices that can prevent wind damage. The use of knee braces to reinforce and strengthen frame buildings is suggested.

Allen says that estimates made by the U.S. Department of Agriculture show that an additional cost of only $75 would make a 30 x 75 foot frame poultry house in Maryland strong enough to resist a 108-mile-an-hour wind. Winds above 75 miles an hour are generally classified as being of hurricane force, he explains.

The female of the species lays her eggs under the peel or skin of the fruit, and when they hatch, little white worms emerge and burrow into the fruit. Their wide appetite includes citrus, peaches, figs, peppers, tomatoes, cucumbers, squash, and cantaloupe to name a few.

Texas and Federal quarantine experts are keeping a close watch on this worst of all fruit pests with a determination to prevent any westward movement.

Farmers and ranchers in Texas obtained loans totaling $51,416,000 through the Farmers Home Administration during the year ending June 30, Walter T. McKay, the agency's state director at Dallas announced this week. A total of 18,348 families were served by the agency during this period.

And 328 farm families in Deaf Smith and Farmer counties obtained loans totaling $1,509,575, Walter F. Johnson, FHA county supervisor at Hereford reports.

Credit was advanced to buy feed, seed, fertilizer, equipment, livestock and other farm operating items needed to place farms on an efficient operating basis and to buy and improve family-type farms. Funds were advanced also for soil and water conservation purposes and to meet emergency needs.

County Farmers Home Administration committeemen must approve each loan application before funds can be advanced. The committee determines all loan applicants' eligibility and certifies the value of farms to be purchased or improved. It also makes recommendations on loan approvals and servicing actions.

Drouth Problem; Scarce Rations Alarm State Vet

Roughage is a scarce item these days on most Texas farms and ranches. The prolonged drought has cut deep into supplies of all roughages and forced stockmen to turn to substitutes, says Dr. C. M. Patterson, extension veterinarian.

He reports that numerous calls and letters to his office indicate the wide-spread shortage of roughages and the intentions to use substitutes whenever possible. A frequent question has to do with the use of cotton burs and gin trash as a maintenance ration, and whether or not there is danger of poison from cotton insecticides. The veterinarian says burs and gin trash can be fed and there is little or no danger from poison especially if no insecticides were applied to the cotton plants three to four weeks prior to harvest.

He also reports that complaints (Continued On Page 3)

committee are: Wilbur Charles, Bovina, Alvis W. Anthony, Friona, and Gilbert Kaltwasser of Farwell. Applicants are approved as eligible only if other lenders cannot adequately supply their credit needs and only if prospects are favorable for their being able to improve their farming and repay their loans. Families are expected to refinance their loans with other lenders as soon as they are in a position to do so.

'Let 'Er Buck' To Be Cry Sunday At Boys Ranch Arena

In preparation for their forthcoming 12th Annual Rodeo which will be held at Boys Ranch Sept. 2-3, the young Ranchers have completely rebuilt and relocated their rodeo arena. More chutes, more space and better equipment will help assure this year's show as the best yet.

Besides the new arena, the boys have relocated the bleachers so that now, most of them will be in the shade all day.

The young cowhands have been preparing and practicing for the rodeo and all signs point to a thrilling, fast-moving, fun-filled show.

Twelve Events
Boys from five to 17 will be riding for points and prizes in at least 12 separate events covering everything from calf riding to bronc busting. Regular rodeo stock will be used in the Labor Day weekend event and highlight of each day will be the bareback bronc and bull riding, plus an exciting calf scramble.

Jake Mitchell, the famous rodeo clown from Dalhart, will be the only participant who is not a Boys Rancher. Jake, with his trained Brahama bull, will provide plenty of comedy to liven up an already lively show.

The rodeo will start at 2:30 p.m. both days, Sept. 2 and 3. Admission will be $1.25 for adults, and 75 cents for children under 12. Tickets will be available at the Ranch each day of the rodeo.

READY FOR RIDES—Boys Ranch rodeo facilities have been completely rebuilt this year. Putting final touches to the new chutes has kept the boys busy getting ready for the annual event, Sept. 2-3.

SPORTING LOOK—Racing driver John Weitz (inset) draws on his own wide experience in sports to design what he considers the correct sports wear for young women who want to look expensive on a budget. Left is his new outfit of wide-wale beige corduroy plus-fours and jacket, worn with turtle-neck sweater; right, skinny gambler pants of black and gray striped corduroy, worn with loose pull-over of fireman with red fleece, with popular V-neck.

Sportsman Designs Clothes

sking, yachting and occasionally playing rugby.
This breezy, good-looking young man has definite ideas about how women like to look — young women, that is, who have to look smart on a budget — and his sports wear collections are designed accordingly.
"I design for the gal whose husband buys an imported sports car on time," says John. "They belong to the country club, but can't afford it. They have no servants and they are paying off the mortgage on their house, which is likely to look always as if they had just moved in. And they have a whole of a good time."
"Sports wear is the standby of this typically American young woman, who knows her way around and always looks exactly right for whatever she is doing."

The Weitz clothes lean toward the Ivy League look, but are more sophisticated than the usual gear of college girls. They consist of good-looking separates that can be switched around in a number of combinations, but always look well hung together. There are skirts, shirts, skinny pants, walking shorts, jackets and pullovers, all in distinctive fabrics, cut with clean precision.
"I cut pants ruthlessly," says John. "If you can't fit into them you have no business wearing the pants anyway."
In his current collection he has plus-fours of wide wale corduroy, a matching man-tailored jacket and turtle-neck sweater for one outfit. Another consists of gambler pants in black and gray striped corduroy, which he recommends be worn with a loose, bulky, V-necked pullover of fireman-red fleece.

Long Time Ago

45 Years Ago
A brand new objection was raised to irrigation this week when a good farmer came forward to remark that if everybody should put down wells and have one on each 160 acres that all the water would soon be pumped out and that there would be great danger in the surface of the earth sinking or that possibly great chunks of earth would fall in and leave yawning holes in the fields into which a whole crop of maize or alfalfa would be engulfed. The conclusion is that if the surface sinks on account of removing the underground water that, unless the surface settles down evenly and slowly, our houses will be careened out of line, some leaning one way and others just the opposite. Our fine court house might be split in two and the grade of the Santa Fe road changed to such an extent that new fills and cuts would have to be made. Thus another danger is pending. Let's not put down too many wells as they might exhaust the water and the world fall in.

Joe L. Pope brought to the Brand office this week some vegetables he insisted were beans. They looked like it, all right, but forgot to quit growing until they got all out of proportion. They were about as big around as Kentucky Wonders, but the biggest was exactly 26 inches long.
Enrollment at the high school had broken all past records on Tuesday, Sept. 1, with a total of 269 in high school proper and 29 mixed seventh grade and high school students. There will probably be between 20 and 40 additional high school students before the close of the first week of

TEST RUN
OMAHA — The way things worked out, John Garfield, 57, got a quick trip to the hospital and the police got an honest-to-goodness patient for what had been planned as a test emergency run.
The empty ambulance was making a test run to see whether motorists were giving right of way to emergency vehicles when Garfield dropped over on the sidewalk across the street, a victim of the 102 degree heat.
Garfield was hustled into the ambulance and off it went with a swarm of motorcycle police — to catch offending motorists — in pursuit.
OUT OF THE WAY
DALLAS — A construction foreman, 35, became annoyed at a pair of Sunday drivers. "Get that car out of the way," he shouted as he breezed past.
The Sunday drivers, Sheriff's school. There is a total of 860 students enrolled in all Hereford schools. Last year there were 809 at this same time.

ON INTEREST
DENVER — Ted Gano, city circulation manager of The Denver Post, has a dollar he hadn't counted on and someone in Aberdeen, Wash., has a cleansed conscience.
The dollar came in a letter from a woman at Aberdeen. She explained her son once was a customer of Gano's when he worked as a carrier boy for the Portland, Ore., Oregonian.
The son had owed Gano 55 cents but never could find him to pay it. She said the dollar, "certainly would not be paying all we owe if we counted interest."

How Can I?
Q. How can I make a dressing for white shoes?
A. By mixing 3 ounces cream of tartar, 1 ounce, oxalic acid, 1 ounce alum, 3 pints milk. Rub this on the shoes, and when thoroughly dry, rub with a mixture of prepared chalk and magnesium carbonate.
Q. How can I clean soiled candles?
A. Candles used for decorative purposes often become dingy. To make them look like new, sponge with a piece of absorbent cotton dampened with alcohol.
Q. How can I clean outdoor brass fixtures?
A. They can be cleaned easily if scouring soap is mixed with kerosene. Apply this with a flannel cloth, and rub well.
Q. How can I keep flies from bothering gilt frames?
A. If four or five onions are boiled in one pint of water and applied to the frames, or other articles, with a swab or soft brush, flies will not bother them.
Q. How can I tighten the sewing machine belt?
A. It is often unnecessary to remove a sewing machine belt in order to tighten it. A few drops of machine oil on the wheel will usually bring desired results.
Q. How can I make olive oil palatable?
A. If olive oil is to be taken internally add a pinch of salt to the wineglass of oil and it will prove much more palatable.
Q. How can I prevent curtains from blowing out of the window and becoming soiled?
A. Buy lead dress-weights. Cover with clean the color of the curtains and slip into the bottom hem of the curtains. Use about five of the weights in each hem and the curtains will hang in place.

Paris Styles Feature Bust, Hips

By NADEANE WALKER

PARIS, (AP) — Busty and hippy is the word for the new fashion silhouette, as it has emerged from the Paris fall dress collections just concluded.

Black is the season's favorite color, and capes are its favored garment.

The waist, back at its normal place except for a few high empire effects, is again belted and as small as possible. Necklines are low—to the point of naughtiness—and drapery and bows are lavishly used to accentuate the bust and hips.

Day clothes, in heavy homespun-looking woolsens trimmed with fur, are warm as toast, while evening and cocktail fashions go gay and lavish in shades of red, pink and purple velvet, satin and chiffon. Often they are weighted down with embroidery or glittery with gold lame, and stiffened with linings and petticoats.

Full skirts and sheath skirts are both popular. The hemline, with a few noted exceptions, stays just below the knee.

Dior's "Magnet Line" or Dutch skirt is set in soft folds at the waist, widening over the hips and narrowing at the hem.

Lanvin - Castillo still likes the cone-shaped skirt, flaring from a tiny waist to a full-circle hem. He called it the V-line, but it was a V turned upside down.

Helm makes barrel coats and jackets, and like Dior, a few nearly-ankle-length skirts, but his are sheaths. His second shape is the parrot-cage skirt.

Patou's pretty and wearable collection avoided anything eccentric, and put the accents on the bust-

The ghost of 1910 stalked the Balmain collection, with fur-bordered coats sweeping the floor and aigret and paradise plumes nodding from the hair.

But it was the 1920's that were recalled by Griffe's eyebrow-level clothes and loose belts around the hip.

Tricky, slotted belts and a curvy contour marked Maggy Rouff's creations; Desses "tornado" line courted a windswept look, and Chanel, in the most ambitious collection since her comeback, was still showing little box-jacketed suits with draped jersey blouses. Fath's ultra-feminine creations were worthy of Marilyn Monroe.

The Russian Cossack hat, in fur, was a heavy favorite. There were also onion domes, high-crowned stovepipes, cloches and toques, all adding to a top-heavy look.

The trouble can be remedied by breaking open the bales and letting the plants dry before feeding them.

Patterson also warns against using urea as a protein supplement where cattle are getting a very small intake of roughage or the forage is of poor quality. He says the animals cannot utilize the urea because of the low intake of carbohydrates, and urea poisoning will result.

EXPERIMENTING with antibiotics, 17-year-old Suzan Hopkins studies cultures treated with chemicals she extracted from earthworms.

Iowa Teenager Finds Antibiotics In Earthworms; Home, School Labs

By ALTON L. BLAKESLEE
AP Science Reporter
IOWA CITY, Iowa (AP)—At age 17 Suzan Hopkins is experimenting with an antibiotic she discovered herself in earthworms.
Suzan isolated the antibiotic in research carried on in her own home and East High School, Waterloo, Iowa, where she'll be a senior this fall.
This summer she's continuing her research at the State University of Iowa's College of Medicine, at the invitation of Dr. Jam Maclean Smith, assistant professor of internal medicine. The Black Hawk County Medical Society and Waterloo Courier are paying her expenses.
Whether the antibiotic is new, or will have medical uses are still to be determined.
Dr. Smith declares Suzan's "interest and enthusiasm exemplify the scientific curiosity which we know the country needs in young people today."
Suzan has had only one science course, chemistry, but has read extensively in science on her own. She began her research with a simple question: An earthworm digests and eats dirt, which probably contains germs. Does the worm possess some antibiotic or chemical protecting it? She found it does contain an antibiotic that halts the growth of at least certain types of germs. Then she extracted the antibiotic.

Pressing Trousers
A method one authority gives for pressing trousers successfully is: Dampen the knees thoroughly and allow to dry for half an hour; this takes out the baggy appearance and allows the cloth to shrink. Now dissolve equal parts of gum arabic and gum tragacanth in one-half pint of hot water. Turn the trousers wrong side out and moisten a strip about two inches wide down the legs. Then turn right side out and press with hot iron until dry.

Tired Feet
To relieve tired feet, add a tablespoonful of soda to a pint of common bran, and put in a basin, dampening with sufficient hot water to make a paste. Immerse the feet in this for 10 or 15 minutes.

A Starch Substitute
Borax water is an excellent substitute for starch when stiffening sheer collars or voiles. Use a solution of weak gum arabic for silks and crepes.

Hair Setting Solution
A good hair setting solution can be easily made by taking 3 1/2 pints of water, to which is added 2 tablespoonfuls of quince seed, allow it to boil for five minutes, then strain.

Softens the Water
If the water is hard, add a handful of borax along with the soap flakes for laundering purposes. This will act as a whitener and soften the water as well.

Mailing Packages
When wrapping packages for mailing, if the cord is soaked in water before tying, it will shrink as it dries and make a more firmly secured package.

Stagnant Lids
Mason jar lids can be more easily removed if the jars are first placed upside down in hot water for a few minutes. Running hot water over the lids is also effective.

A Pleasant Aroma
Put a little orris root in a muslin bag into the water when boiling your handkerchiefs. Then, after ironing, the handkerchiefs will have a faint odor of violets.

Waffles
To keep waffles or pancakes hot after frying, heat a covered baking dish and put the cakes into it as they are taken from the griddle.

Discoloring Teakettle
A teakettle that has become discolored inside can be brightened by boiling a clean oyster in it.

Beauty At Home
Q. What do you recommend as a liquid "control" for one's hair-dress?
A. Brilliantine, which is the simplest solution for hair which picks up a static electric charge. If the hair is fine, the brilliantine used should be of a thinner consistency. It should never be applied directly to the hair. Place a small amount in the palm of one hand, rub the palms together briskly, then just pass them over the hair. If the hair is heavier and coarser, then a heavier brilliantine cream or pomade should be used.

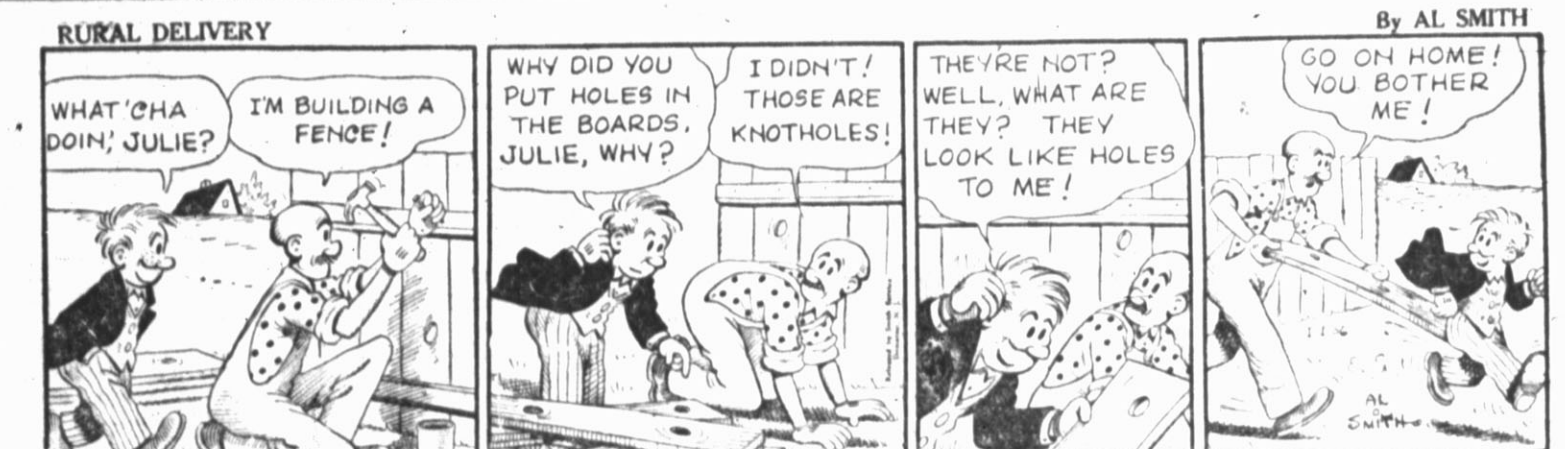

Q. What astringent is good for a skin that is excessively oily?
A. After giving the skin a good soap-and-water cleansing, and before applying the makeup, splash the skin with a bit of lemon juice added to a bowl of ice water.

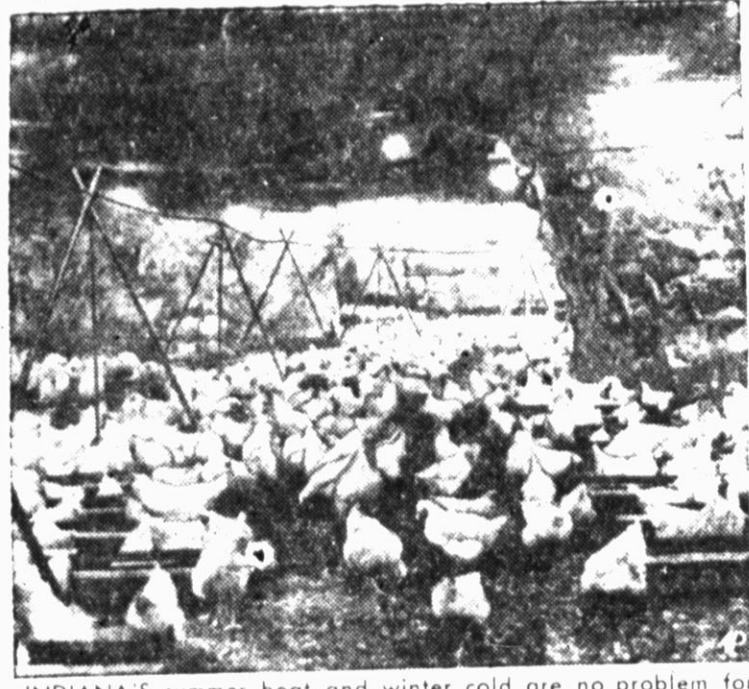

Q. How can I exercise for a slimmer waistline?
A. Sit on floor with back against wall, legs spread out as far apart as possible. Raise arms above the head, palms of hands together, and bring them down in that position without bending elbows, touching first one foot, then the other.

Q. When is lacquer used on the hair?
A. When one is facing an outdoor, windy day. Lacquer should then be used in minimum, because it tends otherwise to give the hair a hard look. You can, of course, always use an "invisible" net under these circumstances.

Q. What are the proper types of rouge for use on various skin types?
A. If you have an oily skin, you should use dry rouge, applying this over your powder and blending it lightly with cotton or a puff. If your skin is dry or normal, you should use cream or liquid rouge—applied with your fingertips and blended on the makeup base.

Q. How can I make up to minimize the freckles on my face?
A. A darker shade of face powder, blended with the freckles, helps to "fade" them out.

INDIANA'S summer heat and winter cold are no problem for A. J. Martin's pampered hens. They live the year around in air-conditioned comfort in this cave—a four acre structure in an abandoned quarry.

Cavern Kept Chicks Prove Cool Cacklers

By ROBERT D. NOVAK
CORYDON, Ind. — The laying hen, who not too many years ago used to roam the barnyard at will on any farm, has gone underground near here to air-conditioned comfort.

The novel setup is an extension of the trend in modern hatchery operations that sets up controlled conditions for hens rather than permitting them to scratch their way around the barnyard.

Martin noted egg volume increased under the controlled conditions. He reasoned that a big, empty underground area would be an ideal site for providing his hens with the year-round steady temperatures so he moved the big flock into the abandoned quarry cave.

The results after two years of underground operations have sustained Martin's theory.

The percentage of eggs that have hatched during hatching season, and constant high level of market eggs have kept up regardless of season.

The cave, after modification by Martin, is no ordinary cavern.

Ten ventilating fans provide the fresh air. 40-watt bulbs burn in the daytime, and 7½-watt bulbs are lit at night to encourage additional feeding.

Tunnel entrances are walled off with cement and sealed doors help keep uniform conditions.

But no refinement is made on the basic raw material of the cave—a constant 60 degree temperature. That's what makes it desirable for hatchery operations.

The percentage of eggs hatching has jumped 20 to 25 percent as the practice of placing newly laid eggs in warmer temperatures now can be avoided.

The normal summer slump in laying also has disappeared. In the cave, 185 feet below the surface, seasons do not exist.

DRIVING RECORD
BEAVERHAM, Va. — Robert B. Harris is a mighty safe driver just about the safest.

Harris, who operates a barber chair in a one-chair shop, doubles as a school bus driver. He has been driving the bus for 27 years without a single accident. What makes his record all the more remarkable is that he lost a foot in a mower accident when he was seven years old.

"I can drive anything that runs," Harris says. "I even drove my bus with a peg leg for two years before I got fitted with an artificial leg."

One government expert estimates that although U.S. farm income has dropped 25 percent in the last few years, the reduction in the number of farmers in the same period has been such that the reduction of average individual income has been only 9 percent.
