A dozen or more members of Tulla's Auxiliary Police Force will be here Friday night to aid Hereford police in handling traffic before and after the football game.

The first sweetheart of the Optimist Club will be chosen at their luncheon next Monday noon. Three candidates have been selected, and one more girl will be presented to the club before Monday.

"We could use more volunteers, but I think we are going to make it," says Clay Angelo, about the Hereford Ground Observer Unit. There are about 20 members in the corps at the present time.

Hospital construction is coming along okay now, according to T. E. Seigler. A late shipment of steel had been slowing the workers up, but it came in early this week.

Mrs. Ira Ott is to attend an American Legion Auxiliary state-wide conference to be held in Austin this weekend. As president of the 18th District, Mrs. Ott will attend a meeting of Fifth Division presidents on Friday, an officers' training session on Saturday and the executive council on Sunday.

Reserves To Get New Draft Board Questionnaires

Austin, Texas, Sept. 26 — Members of the armed forces' standby reserve in different parts of the state recently have expressed surprise and concern upon receiving questionnaires from local draft boards.

Draft boards are beginning administration of a law enacted by Congress in the immediately past session which placed upon the Selective Service System responsibility of screening the nation's entire standby reserve.

Colonel Schwartz pointed out that standby reservists cannot be called to service unless an emergency is declared by Congress, but they are required to fill out the questionnaires and return them to the local boards.

Based upon information furnished in his questionnaire, each standby reservist will be placed in one of three categories: I-R, available for service in case of an emergency; II-R, deferred because of civilian occupation essential to the maintenance of national health, safety or interest; III-R, deferred by reason of extreme hardship and privation to dependents.

Colonel Schwartz said the program provides two services in that the standby reservists know their emergency recall status and that the armed forces can be advised of the availability of their standby reserve pools.

Minor Damages In Accident On Main

An estimated $125 damage resulted in a Main St. accident that occurred Sunday when Charles W. Harke's vehicle struck the rear of one driven by Henry Rampot.

Harke received tickets for negligent collision and a drivers license restriction violation. No one was injured.

ON SCHOOL TRAFFIC PATROL—W. H. Thompson, above, at Aikman School, and Earl W. (Pop) Pittman at 25 Mile Ave. crossing for Central school children, now supplement the regular police patrol of roads in Hereford's school zones.

Out Of Funds For Roughage Program

The volume of approved applications for assistance under the Texas emergency roughage program has already exceeded the estimates of demand so that it is now necessary to reappraise the actual cash requirements, according to V. L. Blessen of the Deaf Smith County Farmers Home Administration office.

The initial agreement between Secretary Ezra Taft Benson and Gov. Allan Shivers provides for an allocation of one million dollars of Federal funds for the roughage program. Funds available to the U. S. Department of Agriculture to finance roughage programs must be allocated among all disaster designated states where such a program is needed.

Walter T. McKay, state FHA director, has been instructed by K. L. Scott, director of credit services, USDA, to immediately instruct all the FHA county offices, including the office here in the designated area to withhold further approvals of roughage purchase certificates. The county offices are authorized to continue to accept and hold or file applications for assistance under this roughage program, but are instructed to take no action on these applications and to make daily reports on the tonnage requirements covered by such applications to McKay's office.

McKay has been asked to solicit the assistance of the Texas USDA Drought Committee and the Office of the Governor in making a careful reappraisal of the demand for roughage.

Mrs. Leo Wolfe Funeral Pending

Word was received here Wednesday morning of the death of a former Hereford resident, Mrs. Leo Wolfe, at her home in Jacksboro. Funeral services were pending but the rites will be conducted in Jacksboro.

Besides her husband, Mrs. Wolfe is survived by a son and seven grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Wolfe farmed in the Deaf Smith County area for many years before moving to Jacksboro about 15 years ago.

60 Absentee Ballots Cast

Absentee balloting in the local option election totaled 60 ballots cast on Wednesday, according to County Clerk Ralph Smith. The absentee ballots may be cast at the clerk's office through Friday, Sept. 28.

Election date for the local option vote has been set by the Commissioners Court for Oct. 2, when voters here will be given an opportunity to mark their ballots for or against "the sale of alcoholic beverages for off-premises consumption only in Deaf Smith County."

The October election will be the first balloting on local sale of alcoholic beverages here since October, 1901.

County Clerk Ralph Smith said Wednesday that all voters will be required to either present poll tax receipts or sign sworn affidavits that their receipts have been lost or misplaced in order to vote in the coming election. All 10 regular polling places will be open from 8 a. m. to 7 p. m. on Oct. 2.

TEXANS IN WASHINGTON

SENATORS COALITION IS GIVEN MIXED RECEPTION

By TEX EASLEY AP Special Washington Service Washington, Sept. 26 — Mail received by Sens. Lyndon Johnson and Price Daniel since the September State Democratic Convention indicates some constituent viewed their coalition with jaundiced eyes while others approved.

Johnson got a letter from a prominent East Texan who said: "I'm with you, although I have been shaken-I find it difficult to sever a loyalty that began 20 years ago."

An equally prominent West Texan, indicating he had always been among the conservative faction fighting Johnson over the years, said: "I am with you since last week's convention."

Daniel likewise got mail from those who like his alliance with Johnson in a moderation stand to win control of the convention, and those who didn't. "One thing for sure, however, is that as a result of Johnson's helping Daniel win control of the convention and of the latter's pledge to support the Stevenson-Kefauver ticket, there's joy around Democratic National Committee headquarters. They feel Texas is sure now to come back in the Democratic fold in the November presidential election."

BUDGET GETS OKAY FROM COMMISSION

9-Year-Old Continues To Trouble Law

By ROY CLARK The tow-headed youngster's head just is high enough to enable him to peer out the windshield of a car. I saw him Monday afternoon, sitting there quietly and talking with Capt. J. T. Sanderson of the Hereford Police.

Then, Sanderson left him sitting in the car with its big black sign, "Police," to talk with my neighbors whose house the nine-year-old had ransacked earlier in the afternoon. While closets and drawers had been turned topsy-turvy, the Buck Hales at 123 Ave. G had noticed nothing missing.

Later, I talked with Chief of Police Leo Box. He explained that action indicated in the case of the nine-year-old burglar will be to either file his case as a dependent neglected child with the District Court, or to turn him over to the State Welfare Board.

Box turned then to Sanderson and asked, "Have his parents paid back the money he stole last week?" Sanderson said he understood they were to have seen the person reporting the $50-75 theft "last night. I'll check on it again today."

It was the day after the officer was checking on the boy's activities — playing hookey from school and burglarizing Hereford homes.

Tuesday night, the police were again busy investigating a break-in at the Joe O'Rear Jr. residence, 324 Ave. B. O'Rear, of the Texas Highway Patrol, told investigating officers his home was entered when someone cut and unlocked a screen. Nothing apparently was taken, the officers learned.

At 11:30 p. m., Tuesday, Billy Paetzold reported to police that someone had used a knife to cut

COTTON HARVEST UNDERWAY—While only a fraction of the cotton on over 9,000 acres in Deaf Smith County has yet opened, some growers this week began harvest operations. Smiling Helen Garcia was working with an L. G. Torres labor crew just east of Hereford. Much of the cotton is expected to better bale to the acre yields. (Staff Photo)

Encephalitis Toll Continues Upward

New cases of encephalitis, the disease commonly known as sleeping sickness, continue to be reported here with two cases hospitalized within the past four days. Hospital authorities list five patients in Deaf Smith County Hospital at the present time who are victims of the disease.

Thirteen persons have been hospitalized with the disease here this season, but no cases have proven fatal.

Dr. Jack Gilliland, Hereford veterinarian, states that he has treated two horses for sleeping sickness within the past three weeks and that both survived the attack. Dr. Gilliland adds that even though the animals live, they may be affected by brain damage inflicted by the disease.

Animal Vaccine Available He advises owners of animals that a vaccine is available to immunize against the disease. Although the variety of sleeping sickness among the animals here is presumed to be the Western Equine, vaccines for both the Western and Eastern are given to be sure.

Human contraction of sleeping sickness must come from the bite of the mosquito, but the disease may be carried from animals to humans by a mosquito which bites both. According to Dr. R. B. Willis, county health officer, the known vaccine can be administered to humans to prevent the contraction of the disease. For this reason, prevention must come as a result of getting rid of the mosquito carriers.

Preventive Measures Fogging operations to eradicate the adult mosquitoes and spraying of possible breeding places of the insects are still underway here in Hereford. Several rural communities have adopted projects to get rid of the mosquitoes and their breeding places.

All area residents are urged to cooperate in the effort to get rid of the disease carriers by treating any standing water with insecticides, by mowing any patches of standing weeds and by destroying or burning piles of trash or garbage.

Mosquito repellent may be used in warding off the attacks of the insects, but an even better prevention is for adults and children to remain inside the house during the early evening hours when mosquitoes begin to swarm.

Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr., with her daughter Mrs. R. A. Daniel Jr. is in Galveston this week for a medical check-up.

Three Citizens Attend Reading Of Major Items

A $587,468.07 budget was approved Monday by Deaf Smith County commissioners. Three citizens attended the official reading of the budget, which is several thousand dollars below that for $606,581 adopted a year ago.

Reflecting a good condition of all accounts except the general fund—and the deficit there was cut from $17,624.18 for the current year to $8,148.18—the new budget is to be financed by taxes levied on an estimated tax roll valuation of $16,250,000. Last year's valuation was $15,979,293.

Biggest increase for any item was a boost from $178,400 to $204,350 for the hospital maintenance fund. County Judge Homer Henslee noted that the increase was provided in anticipation of the cost of equipping the new hospital wing.

This increase was offset, however by a decrease in the hospital interest and sinking fund from $32,065, to only $1,195. The decrease was made possible, Henslee said, by the retirement of outstanding bonds.

Improvement Fund Cut Another major cut in the budget came in cutting permanent improvement fund allocations from $12,576 provided this year to $4,116. The road and bridge fund will have $179,624 in 1957, compared to $180,630 for the current year.

Tax rates which assess $1.23 per $100 tax roll valuation over the county will be apportioned among the various funds in the same manner as was the case this year. An additional 5 cents, also, will be levied for support of the High Plains Water District in the portion of the county within its jurisdiction.

The road bond interest and sinking fund takes the largest portion of the taxes, 37 cents of the $1.32. The remainder is divided as follows: Jury fund, 3 cents; road and bridge, 30 cents; general fund, 36 cents; general improvement, 6 cents; hospital maintenance, 6 cents; hospital interest and sinking fund, 10 cents; permanent improvement fund, 4 cents.

State law provides for county elections to determine the apportionment of local taxes and 1957 will see such an election here, Judge Henslee has recently noted.

An estimated $645,289.22 in receipts from taxes is expected to cover the $587,468.07 and provide funds which will build the county's balance from an expected $231,354.33 for 1956 to $289,175.48 when the books are closed on 1957.

The breakdown of expected receipts and disbursements was read as follows: For the jury fund: Receipts from current taxes, $4,290; delinquent taxes, $118; State Lottery, $37. A This provides for total receipts of $4,502.80 and should leave a total

County Board Is Cool On Airport Building Issue

A neat package of anticipated costs for an airport to serve the Hereford area was presented Monday by Dr. H. A. (Hank) Cavness to members of the County Commissioners Court. He explained that Parkhill, Smith and Cooney, Lubbock engineering firm, had prepared the estimates, together with plans for its construction at the request of the airport committee.

Cavness said the airport estimates would like to have the county board meet in a joint session with the City Commission to consider action on the proposal. He added that federal authorities have approved a portion here of any money all of the proposed airport. The Lubbock engineers estimated the total cost of the installation at $367,000.

The commissioners tabled discussion on the matter, noting that previously they had indicated deferring action pending the presentation of a petition to call an airport bond election.

In later discussions, the com-

Every Gal Now A "Fair Lady"

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

This is the season when every woman becomes a "fair lady" and languishes in the manner of 1912, thanks to an Englishman, Cecil Beaton, who started it all with his costume designs for the Broadway musical hit of the same name.

Observing how the feminine frumpiness of 1912, as so charmingly portrayed behind the footlights, were sweeping the current world of fashion, Beaton decided to design his own collection for wear by the women of 1956. Collaborating with Samuel Winston and designer Roxane, Beaton has turned out a group of 12 evening gowns which out-do all the current imitations, and recreate the nostalgic mood of his famous embassy ball scene in "My Fair Lady."

This is Beaton's first excursion into the world of dress designing for the general public, although he is known for his varied accomplishments as a painter, photographer, author, scenic designer, lecturer, interior decorator and costume designer.

He developed his skill as a portrait photographer in London by taking pictures of his two beautiful sisters, and since has photographed most of the famous beauties of the world, up to and including Marilyn Monroe. Perhaps his most widely known photographs are those of the British Royal Family.

Nowadays, he has become a trans-Atlantic commuter, shuttling between his studio apartment suite at the Hotel Ambassador in New York, which he has decorated in a nostalgic mood, complete with white wicker furniture, bead window shades and rose-strewn bedroom. Says Beaton: "I like to keep busy. Hate boredom, you know."

MAUVE DECADE—Here are two evening gowns in the mood of 1912, designed by Cecil Beaton. Left, a slim black silk crepe skirt is accented with yellow, coral and mauve chiffon sash and re-embroidered lace bodice. Right, the tunic dinner gown is made of two layers of lace, one mauve, one green, over a slim mauve satin sheath. Wide cummerbund is printed taffeta.

Total disbursements are set at $8,902.64.

Total receipts of $198,880 for the hospital maintenance fund are foreseen against disbursements of $188,600. With a balance at this year's end expected to reach $36,061.93, 1957's balance is foreseen as $46,341.93. Receipts of $190,000 are expected from operating revenue, $8,580 from current taxes and $300 from delinquent taxes. Disbursements are seen as $68,000 for nurses salaries, $38,000 in other salaries, $22,000 for drugs and surgical supplies, $17,000 for groceries and kitchen supplies, $6,000 for laundry, $7,000 for utilities, $2,000 for telephone, freight and postage, $1,500 for laboratory and X-ray.

The county road-bond interest and sinking fund, with tax collections expected to total $56,659 will be used in retiring $24,000 in bonds and paying $10,253.88 in interest and exchange. The balance is expected to increase during the year from $61,940.24 to $84,374.06.

Colonial Tradesmen Employed Symbols To Lure Non-Readers

WILLIAMSBURG, Va. (AP)—Time was when a shopkeeper didn't depend on words to convey what he had to sell. Instead, he used signs and symbols.

The time was the 18th century, a period when many could not read. Samples of colonial tradesmen's ingenuity in identifying their shops with distinctive signs are preserved in this restored colonial capital.

The lateral road fund receipts are estimated at $26,551.85 from the board of county and district road indebtedness and an equal amount is earmarked for expenditure on lateral road construction and maintenance.

The officers' salary fund receipts primarily from fees are estimated at $56,595, with disbursements to total $56,485. The balance is expected to be maintained at $10,419.25 compared to $10,509.25 expected at the end of the current year. All tax receipts are estimated at 88 percent collection of the present tax roll. Last year's budget session predicted collections at 90 percent.

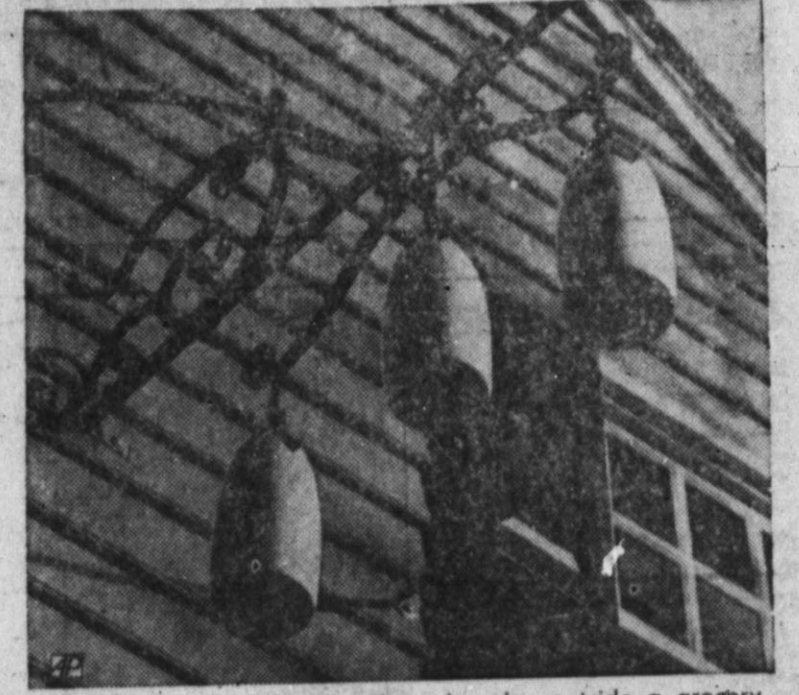

Among the most colorful salesmen in the 18th century were the apothecaries or colonial druggists. Some used the familiar mortar and pestle symbol to identify their shops, but others displayed the horn of the mythical unicorn or a rhinoceros.

If these symbols seem odd emblems for a druggist, historians point out that the horn of the legendary unicorn was once thought to possess medicinal or magical properties, particularly as an antidote or preventive for poison.

Some apothecaries used the horn for drinking cups. Others ground horns into powder and used it as a drug. Although alleged to be from unicorns, the horns actually were obtained from the male narwhal found in Arctic waters, the rhinoceros or other animals.

Tailors used the golden fleece, a lamb, or an article of clothing as the central object in their signs.

There were fairly standard signs which are still used in this modern era of neon and bright lights. A striped pole indicated a barber and blood-letter, a horse's head signi-missioners turned to consideration of building a 30 by 100 foot equipment barn for Precincts 1 and 2 to be located on the county's new site adjacent to Veteran's Park. Also discussed was the building of equipment barns to serve Precincts 3 and 4.

The barn in Hereford would supplement the agricultural exhibit building, now under construction, during fat stock show times as a housing place for livestock. Action was being pending further consideration.

A contract for painting the new building was awarded Park & Bros.

Exam For Service School Entrants Set For Nov. 20

Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson has announced that Civil Service examinations for Texas boys seeking appointment in 1957 to the Army, Navy and Air Force service schools will be held Nov. 20 at 71 cities and towns throughout the state.

Johnson uses the results of these examinations as a guide in making his appointments to the military academies.

Entrance requirements vary, but all three academies require that appointees be United States citizens. In the case of applicants to be considered by Senator Johnson, they must be residents of Texas. They must be between the ages of 17 and 21 years upon entry, must be single and must pass a rigid medical examination and a physical aptitude test. Candidates for the Air Force Academy must be able to pass the medical examination for flying training and a pilot aptitude test.

Persons interested in taking the competitive examination on Nov. 20 are advised to write Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson, Senate Office Building, Washington, D. C., not later than Oct. 15.

Volunteers Top Texas Draftees By Wide Margin

AUSTIN, Texas, Sept. 26 — A total of 3,443 Texans entered the armed forces in August, and 3,523 were separated from active service during the same time.

This was revealed Friday in a report made by state Selective Service headquarters to national Selective Service headquarters in Washington.

Of the 3,443 individuals entering the uniformed services from Texas in August, only 600 were drafted, the remainder entering by enlistment or other voluntary means.

"Actually, many of the inducted men were volunteers," Col. Morris S. Schwartz, state Selective Service director, said.

He explained that a provision of the Selective Service regulations allows men from the age of 17 to 26 to volunteer for induction through draft boards. Seventeen-year-olds must have written consent from their parents or guardians.

State Selective Service sent 965 men to armed forces examining stations during August. A total of 636 was found acceptable, the remaining 329 being rejected, a rejection rate of 34 percent.

One man was inducted during the month from the National Guard because of failure to perform his reserve obligations in the Guard. Texas inducted registrants for 15 other states in August.

Three physicians were examined for military service during August under provisions of the doctors' draft law. All were found acceptable. There were no inductions of medical personnel.

Philippine Girl Engineer Designs Michigan Bridges

LANSING, Mich. (AP) — Pretty Romola Almajose Corcuera is so thoroughly accustomed to being the only girl among a group of several hundred men, that she apparently doesn't mind. "It's the same thing in my work here," says Romola. "I used to be a little embarrassed about it, but now I'm not."

Aransas Landmark Dies After Years Of Colorful Life

Rockport, Tex. (AP) — An early Aransas County landmark is being razed to make way for a more modern structure. Pioneer settlers refer to the building as "the Old Hall House." It was built in 1872, only a year after the birth of Aransas County.

Oldtimers in Rockport and Fulton still dreamily relate stories of hospitality and lavish entertainment imported from New Orleans via the Morgan steamers.

When the old San Antonio and Aransas Pass railroad arrived in Rockport, the canneries closed and Hall sold the home to a man by the name of Barney Gibbs who promptly turned it into the Shell Hotel.

In 1916 Capt. and Mrs. Andrew Sorenson took over management of the establishment and it became known as the Oak Shore Inn, a tourist resort.

The property suffered considerable damage during the 1919 hurricane and the tourist business received a setback. In 1920 the Sorensons sold it to P. E. McElwath of Corsicana who added a third story to the original Hall home so that he might better entertain his large class of boys from the Corsicana Methodist Sunday School whom he brought down to the coast for summer vacations.

In 1940 Sidney Freeborn of San Antonio and Live Oak County purchased the property. On adjoining grounds he built the tourist court known as Forest Park Cottages.

Freeborn spent a great deal of his boyhood in Rockport and Fulton. Upon demolition of the old home he plans to erect a modern home where he and his family may live among the live oak trees he learned to love as a boy.

Famous Violin Maker Left No Samples For Hometown

By GILBERT FORTI Cremona, Italy (AP) — Of all places, in the town where Antonius Stradivarius Cremonensis produced more than 1,000 of his legendary violins, you cannot find a single Stradivarius.

A local museum displays a special section devoted to Stradivarius and two local musicians, Claudio Monteverdi and Amilcare Ponchielli. Collected behind glass panels are the manuscripts of the violin maker, the tools, the paper and wood models he used in his long life, but nothing else.

Only violins shown are a "false" Stradivarius and instruments built by his pupil, Carlo Bergonzi. "You can find Stradivarius instruments in Britain and in the United States, even in India," the guide says sadly, "but not here."

Most violins built by Stradivarius left Cremona in his lifetime, ordered by Italian princes and nobles as gifts to foreign courts. Soon after Stradivarius' death in 1737, bidding started to secure his celebrated instruments, which were re-sold in France, Britain, Holland and elsewhere.

In the first half of the past century many false Stradivarius were already on the market, bearing the Latin label, "Antonius Stradivarius Cremonensis faciebat."

Woodall has been working as office manager for McCracken Motor Co. for the past year. He was employed by the First National Bank in Amarillo from 1940-42. During World War II, Woodall served with the Army-Air Force, and was again employed by the First National Bank in Amarillo from 1946-48.

His family will move to Hereford from Amarillo within 30 days. He is married and has a boy, eight, and a girl, six.

She's Got All The Buttons

STANTON, Ky. (AP) — Mrs. Guy Crowe never has trouble finding buttons for her husband's shirts. She has more than 13,000 — all different.

Mrs. Crowe's hobby started on a Sunday morning 10 years ago when she couldn't go to church. She explains: "Snow was on the ground and Guy was sick, so I got my button box down and looked through it and found I had several interesting old buttons."

She's been saving them ever since. The collection includes a Casey Jones' overall button worn by the trainman the year of the famous wreck; buttons from uniforms that were worn during the Civil War, World Wars I and II; and "hair-pulling buttons."

At first the buttons were strung on string, but they collected dust. Mrs. Crowe then bought frames, usually from second-hand stores, and put her collection in them.

One of her more unusual buttons came from a friend, who won $750 first prize in a national contest sponsored by the Democratic National Committee.

The button shows a safe with William Jennings Bryan's picture in the center and "Commoner" written on it.

Pope Warns Of Growing Alcoholism

CASTEL GANDELO, Italy, Sept. 15 (AP) — Pope Pius XII has warned that alcoholism is becoming a "narrowing menace" to the future of the world.

The pope spoke from a balcony of the Vatican in an address to the world's bishops.

His remarks were released for publication Saturday.

"In more than one country of the world, intemperance in drinking has become today a harrowing menace and an actual spiritual tragedy for thousands of souls perishing by the Passion and Death of Jesus Christ," the pope said.

"Who will number the homes broken by this sin? Who will weigh the amount of sorrow for souls left undone because of this sin? It is a spiritual deterioration that calls for a critical and earnest study and self-critique. With heavy hearts we contemplate the extensive area of blighted homes, and with grateful affection we bless those who by word and especially example set themselves to remove the cause of evil."

Mallards, No Less, Took Their Predicted Drubbing

By KENT SNARE

That first week's shooting has been shot and the biggest mallards, no less, took the predicted drubbing. In fact, the tailfeathers, when kicked out, may not cease fluttering throughout the '56 season.

Two of the top 10, Notre Dame and Maryland, suffered demerits and with another of the elite, Pittsburg, it was closer than this, owing by the Mountainers, 14-13.

One salient caught the eye Saturday and that was the predominance of alert defense, even in the higher scoring tilts. Arnold's two thefts of Irish tosses, plus the over-anxiousness and tendency of the ND's to foul on SMU's consistent fourth down tries, decided that one.

However, if Mr. Arnold persists in pursuing that fourth down madness of his, he'll wind up with more trouble than the man on the wrong plane.

South Carolina dropped Duke in a rouser and for the first time since 1931. The Gamecocks have a penchant for such procedure, recall when they sent Army down the chute, with the Corps nearly ending up back in the ranks, resultingly?

Another of my pets, the quick kick, or rather 2 of them, helped Arkansas drop Hardin - Simmons. The Cowboys outgained the Hogs, 43-225 in yardage and 25-11 in first downs, but finished second. To get into this week's prognostications, I'll list the contestants, last year's scores, premature picks and my own mediocre mutterings, in that order:

Tulia at Hereford. 0-6.

Texas Tech at Baylor. Dnp. Baylor-F. A soph, Beall, squeeze the Baylor by Cal, with his toe, but Baylor's Traylor and fellow tossers got a total of 9 yards in the air and yielded 188 air-yards, but their tough line was just that. Instead of a bad night for the Raiders, this will be a bad PM.

Tulsa at Cincinnati. 21-21. Cincinnati-Favored. I don't believe it. Cornell at Colgate. 6-21. Cornell-F. Ditto.

Kansas State at Colorado. 13-34.

Both took their raps last week. Their altitude will help the Buffs. Nearer to a stand-off.

Clemson at Florida. Dnp. Clemson-F. I'll stick with Simpson, Rountree and the home grounds.

Miss. State at Houston. Dnp. M.S.-F. Hunch-wise with the Cougars.

California at Illinois. 13-20. Illinois-F. Baylor softened the Cal. Bears some, besides Indians have been bringing in bears for years, although they have been marked up in the bringing.

Iowa at Indiana. 20-6. Iowa-F. A repeat and then the Hoosiers can look ahead to a mad Notre Dame.

Coll. Pacific at Kansas. Dnp. COP-F. The Tigers line just averages 217 per individual and they have some backs, too, one in particular, Dick Bass, but he's no fish on the field.

Mississippi at Kentucky. 14-21. Ole Miss-F. The Kaintucks handed the Rebs their last defeat, no later than last year and they have an adequate line this time but are not too offensive, offensively.

Texas A&M at LSU. 28-0. Tex. Ags-F. The Cadets still is got QB trouble and Mr. Dietzel will have the Tigers clawing. It could happen here.

UCLA at Michigan. Dnp. Mich-F. I told you not to sell Mr. Sanders short, just because he lost a dozen or so seniors, he still has some ball players left, but not enough for this one.

No. Carolina at Oklahoma. 6-13. Okla.-F. Mr. Tatum may want to pass this one, particularly since he's lost Dave Reed, his No. 1 QB, and now he doesn't care for the Wolfpack and it's "Recreation majors", either.

Penn. State at Penn. 20-0. Penn. S.-F. Penn. has lost 13 straight, likely 19 herewith.

Syracuse at Pitt. 12-22. Pitt-F. Don't rock this boat, it could go either way as it is.

Missouri at Purdue. Dnp. Purdue-F. The Boiler-makers still have Lenny Dawson, Lamar Lundy and at least one football to throw, a combo sufficient to cause any opponent to pause.

Georgia Tech at SMU. 20-7. Ga. Tech-F. The Ponies will have to forget last week, since this one brings on the Wrecks and they do, more often than otherwise.

Michigan State at Stanford. 38-14. Mich. S.-F. Stanford didn't have a vote against this club and they needed one.

Texas at Tulane. 35-21. Texas-F. Bet the Steers think the original Trojan horse was named Roberts, after him a "Green Wave" likely will resemble a mild mouthwash.

Minnesota at Washington. 0-30. Washington-F. Although the Huskies aren't going anywhere this lap especially not to Pasadena, this will be a grudge type battle, 'cause one of their handpicked boys, Bob Cox, is playing QB for the Gophers.

Hardin - Simmons at Wichita. Dnp. Tossup. Literally so with H-S, they threw 25 at Arkansas, caught 17 of 'em. Wichita caught nothing but trouble at Tempe, not being able to catch Messrs. Burton & Mitcham.

Denver at Wyoming. 6-3. Toss-up. The rhubarb of the '55 year happened here. Wyoming still contends Denver tallied after the gong to win, likely to exhibit their declaimer fieldwise.

Okla. A&M at Arkansas. 0-21. Ark. - F. If they could take this one, those green Cowpokes would have a rosy type hue.

'We're Out There To Win' - Russell

Hereford's Whitefaces, winless in one try, open the 1956 home football season against the weak Tulia Hornets in Whiteface Stadium Friday night.

Hereford Favored

The Whitefaces will be favored over the Hornets who have emerged victorious in but one game during the past two years. "I'd like to see them break their slump, but I hope it's not against us," Hereford mentor L. B. Russell said.

Russell, as in the past, has been working basically on fundamentals—blocking and tackling in preparation for the game. Players went through brisk three-hour workouts this week after taking an open date after their 46-13 drubbing at the hands of powerful Canyon.

"It's hard to tell whether the open date helped us or hurt us," Russell said, "but one thing is for sure. We're darn sure going out there to win that football game Friday night." But the head coach emphasized that the Hornets "are not to be underrated."

May Shake Slump

Lockney handed the Hornets a 20-0 defeat last week, but for the first time in almost three years they are showing hints of shaking their slump. Still winless this year, the Hornets could be tough to handle before the year is past, according to John Paul Jones, the Hereford line coach.

"I couldn't find anything they were particularly strong in," assistant coach Alex Glass, who scouted Tulia, said, "but I think they are better than they were last year."

Chandler Best

Scouting reports indicate that Billy Chandler, 150-pound left halfback, is the Hornets' best back. Other backs will be Byron Lewis at quarterback, Darrell Nelson at fullback, and Chris Ward at the other halfback. Glass said Lewis was not exceptional as a ball handler or passer.

"They stay on the ground and don't throw much," Glass reported. David Vickers, a 225-pounder, will anchor the defensive line. Offensively, however, the Whitefaces will outweigh the Hornets on the average of about five pounds per man.

Another of my pets, the quick kick, or rather 2 of them, helped Arkansas drop Hardin - Simmons. The Cowboys outgained the Hogs, 43-225 in yardage and 25-11 in first downs, but finished second. To get into this week's prognostications, I'll list the contestants, last year's scores, premature picks and my own mediocre mutterings, in that order:

Tulia at Hereford. 0-6.

Texas Tech at Baylor. Dnp. Baylor-F. A soph, Beall, squeeze the Baylor by Cal, with his toe, but Baylor's Traylor and fellow tossers got a total of 9 yards in the air and yielded 188 air-yards, but their tough line was just that. Instead of a bad night for the Raiders, this will be a bad PM.

Tulsa at Cincinnati. 21-21. Cincinnati-Favored. I don't believe it. Cornell at Colgate. 6-21. Cornell-F. Ditto.

Kansas State at Colorado. 13-34.

SPORTS GLANCES by Bill Knox

The Levelland Lobos, who in their opening game had a somewhat tougher time than expected with the Brownfield Cubs, apparently came into their own last week.

The Brownfield Cubs, doped to have nothing but eleven men in football suits, held the Lobos to a 31-27 score, much less than expected, in their season opener.

This seemed evidence that Levelland coach Johnny Hickman may have been somewhat too optimistic in his preseason publicity releases. But the Lobos last Friday mashed Big Spring, 41-13.

Read Own Releases

The Brownfield game was apparently a case of over-confidence on the part of the Lobos. They must have been reading their own coach's press releases.

Still Brownfield must have more than most people think because they had little trouble defeating Plainview, 33-0. Friday. Of course the Plainview Bulldogs haven't offered much competition to anybody during recent years.

Anti That A Shame

It's a shame, too, since the Bulldogs are in district 3-AAAA. They might do all right in AA or maybe AAA, but AAAA appears to be above their level of play.

Demons Normal

Dumas apparently returns to normal after a disappointing opener against the Palo Duro Demons. However, Ysleta hasn't been a group known to have powerhouse football teams, in fact quite the opposite.

But we hear the Demons were quite a lot more impressive against Yaleta than against Palo Duro and gave a hint of their capabilities.

Disappointed Observer

The Olton - Littlefield game was quite a tussle and of more than passing interest to Hereford fans since the Whitefaces play both teams. The game ended in a 12-12 tie.

Frankly, neither the Wildcats or Mustangs looked as good to us as they were doped to be. Could be both were having an off night at the same time.

The Wildcats' 38-13 victory over Plainview in their first game also

Gentry Tops Grid Contest This Week

James Gentry won the Hereford Brand football contest this week with 20 correct guesses.

Carl Covington took second place with 19 correct, and Lloyd Olson was third, also with 19. Covington edged Olson in the tie-breaker.

Only a very small percentage of the contestants picked Southern Methodist to derail perennially powerful Notre Dame. Only a few picked Texas Western over Texas Tech. Many more opening game upsets also took their toll among the amateur prognosticators.

Peacock Screams Scare Poor Ranch Horses Senseless

Brady, Tex. (AP)—Mrs. Slim Gambelin likes the peacocks she raises, but even she admits they have a number of funny traits.

She says they don't like to be seen in the nude, so every July and August when they shed their tails they hide.

And their scream sounds so much like a human that people often think some person is shouting for help, she says.

Mrs. Gambelin, who lives on a ranch in northeast McCulloch County, has been raising the colorful birds since 1940 "mostly because they're pretty to look at."

At times an ordinary pair of Indis Blue peafowls sells for $40 and the whites and the "black shoulder" birds bring $75.

The extended drought has hurt the market for peafowls, a luxury item, Mrs. Gambelin said.

Gambelin finds the birds as interesting as his wife does. The screams of the birds provide a lively background when Gambelin's friends come to the ranch for roping practice.

"The peacocks scare the horses senseless when they jump up and yell," he says.

Peahens make good mothers, can fly when they are a day old. Even though the birds run freely over the ranch, they seldom leave.

They have a long life up to 45 years. Mrs. Gambelin tried to sell one once "because it was nine years old."

"Why he's not in the prime of life yet," she was told.

She has sold her birds to customers all over the nation.

"People buy them just to have an oddity on the place. So far as I know I've never sold one for eating purposes, although I understand there are certain cafes that serve them."

"I wouldn't want to eat one, though," she said.

FLASH FROZEN FOOD
The new method of flash freezing foods such as with shrimp is done in two minutes at 60 degrees below zero. This new method prevents ice crystals from falling that may rip open package walls in ordinary packaging, freezing, allowing moisture and flavor to escape. The new shrimp that are flash frozen individually require no thawing; they may be put directly into the pot.

Blonde Personality Changes Everything

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

What does it feel like to be a blonde?
How is it different from being brunette, redhead or Mrs. Mouse Hue?

One working girl, who has been all four within the year, says that being blonde is the last word in girlhood—that she understands now why Marilyn Monroe and others enjoy the role and play it to the hilt.

"It's like being shot with high potency vitamins on top of Mt. Everest," says the girl with the new blonde look. "It makes you feel that you tower over other girls, except perhaps a n o t h e r blonde wearing a sable or chinchilla coat. It gives you poise, in-flates your ego like nothing else in the world. It makes you feel pursued, even when you aren't."

The story about blondes being dizzy is absolutely true, she says, adding:

"You feel exhilarated all of the time and you don't seem to have as many inhibitions as a red-head and none to compare with a brunette."

Miss X, who prefers to keep her identity secret, was a total flop as a brunette. She wore her hair in a bun, combed straight back, wore large horn-rimmed glasses, and wore black all the time "hoping to hide behind it." She felt drab all over, she says.

"I really wanted to be somebody else, but as a brunette I didn't feel up to it. Somehow nothing I wore looked right on me, and I couldn't look attractive, no matter how I tried."

When Miss X became a red-head she started to emerge from her cocoon.

"I began to feel more extrovert inside, even though I didn't display it at once," she says, "and I needed more prodding to be my true self. So I decided to become a blonde after eight months of being a red-head. Now I feel like I've joined the human race."

If you feel blonde inside, give yourself a chance to show it, this new blonde advises. But she cautions that you choose only an expert hair dyer and be willing to pay his price. She says:

"Whatever happens, you don't want a brassy-blonde look. Ash blonde is the popular shade now, and it looks natural. It's a good idea too, not to have it permanent waved as a more natural look may be achieved if the hair is kept softly waved by once-a-week shampoo and set."

If you become blonde you must be prepared to spend money on your head. You can't expect to look natural - blonde one day and

THE REV. CHAUNCY J. STUART, the pastor-farmer designer of an attachment to a tractor which enables his workers to "lie down on the job," works on his invention which he says makes cucumber harvesting easier, and faster.

Cucumber Pickers Can Now Lie Down While They Work

By EARL ARONSON
Kennebunk, Maine (AP)—Unlike most employers, this one prefers that his workers "lie down" on the job.

The Rev. Chauncey J. Stuart, 48-year-old pastor-farmer, has built a cucumber harvesting aid for his pickle pickers. The theory is that if the workers are more comfortable they'll do a more thorough job faster.

The contraption resembles a bi-plane, with folding wings attached to a tractor. The pickers will lie on the lower wings, reaching over the front to comb the vines of cucumbers. The bottom wings will be padded for comfort and the upper wings covered with canvas for shade.

Mr. Stuart, who operates a 250-acre farm, figures the machine will eliminate backaches from just stooping over the ground clinging vines. He says the constant bending and straightening up has been a major discouragement to expansion of his five acres of cucumbers. With the device, traveling about 6 feet a minute, the crew will be able to cover the area in 2 days. Ordinarily it takes that much time to pick 2 acres of pickling cukes.

The framework, of welded angle iron and pipe construction, can be mounted on the tractor in 10 minutes.

Mr. Stuart has been a minister for 26 years. He was pastor of the Kennebunk Baptist Church for 8 years until last September. He is now a supply pastor in the area.

Russell said Heard wouldn't be ready until Hereford meets Clovis or Portales. Both he and Jerry Malone, who injured a knee, have been inactive since before the season opener. Wayne Caster will see probably limited action because of an injured foot.

Brown Starts
Starting backs for Hereford will be John Bryant, Bobby Veigel, Ed Schroeter, and Robert Brown. A mainstay on defense, Brown is the only new starter in the backfield. "He's been doing a good job for us," coach John Poindexter said.

dark at the roots the next, otherwise you'll spoil the entire effect, she says. Touch-ups are needed about every two or three weeks to keep the hair looking natural.

How do you decide whether you will be happy as a blonde? The easiest way, she says, is the light-by-degrees method. That way you will know when you hit the exact shade for you, the shade that matches your skin, eyes and eyebrows.

Then too, if you don't feel that you can go along with the blonde incentive to be noticed, adored, or pursued by the opposite sex, envied by other women, it's just as well that you stay in your present state of brunette solitude, says Miss X, who adds:

"But what girl leading a dull existence can resist the challenge. As a brunette I had no dates. As a redhead I had many. As a blonde I must shoo the men away, but it will never get to be a chore."

If you've been wondering about the costs of remodeling your home, take into consideration how much the value may be increased by the improvements you plan. Accord On Elegance Is Global with pale-green velvet stole. At right, dinner or theatre ensemble in gold satin lavishly embroidered in jewels and beading; the sheath dress has flowing back panels, the matching coat repeats the embroidery motif. Designed by Don Miguel of Los Angeles.

International accord hits a new and elaborate high this fall when it comes to fashion, if nothing else.

On both sides of the Atlantic designers agree that ladies should look like ladies once more, that femininity and elegance should go hand in hand and that costumes for after dark should be important

The trend is toward rich satins and brocades, delicate embroidery, jeweled and beaded trimmings, in the manner of the "mauve" decade," currently recalled to high fashion by universal interest in the modes and manners of 1912.

Mrs. Pat Robinson, new president, presided over a short business meeting and Mrs. Deward Roberson, guest, conducted a workshop on making corsages. Each member of the club came prepared to fashion a corsage under the supervision of Mrs. Roberson and a wide variety of flowers were used to make corsages for almost any occasion.

Study Subject Is 'Corsage Craft'

"Corsage Craft" was the subject of study Friday afternoon when members of the Bud To Blossom Club met for the first study program of the new season in the home of Mrs. Ray Godwin.

Members in attendance were: Mesdames Irving Alexander, W. B. Goates, R. A. Daniel Jr., C. R. Higgins, Preston Hagans, Don Martin, W. H. Patton, Pat Robinson, John Sands, Jimmy White, Glenn Williams and the hostess.

Woman Told How Love Flowered As Life Ebbbed

"For I am one of the lucky ones who are granted the opportunity to prepare for death," wrote Hazel Beck Andre for the Farm Journal a few weeks before her death at 42 of cancer. Her remarkable document of selflessness, courage and cheerful preparation is condensed in the October Reader's Digest.

Of her last year of life, Mrs. Beck, whose husband is Dean of Agriculture at Iowa State College, says, "What a wonderful year it was! Maybe because my husband and I knew there was a chance I wouldn't be around, life became more precious. We crowded in extras, things we might otherwise have postponed."

A glorious camping, hiking and fishing trip in the Grand Tetons. Acquiring a farm. A riding horse. But it was a year of preparation.

too. The children had to be told—a girl of 17, a girl 13 and a boy of 12. They took it differently, but they were prepared.

Mrs. Andre's minister gave her a book—John Ballie's "A Diary of Private Prayer"—in which she quickly found the answer to her chief concern—for her family. One prayer said:

"I am content to leave all my dear ones to Thy care, believing that Thy love for them is greater than my own."

"Open Our Hearts" At the close of the article, Mrs. Andre says: "I have no regrets—my life has been rich and full; I have loved every minute of it. But if I were to live it over... I would get closer to people faster. When death is imminent we open our hearts quickly and wide."

"I would live each day as if it were my last one, as I am doing now."

Tips Offer Dads Success

By Dorothy V. Whipple, M. D. AP Newsfeatures

From the beginning, children need daddies as well as mothers. Some men find it easy to slip into the role of Dad, but for many the skills are not come by easily. Regardless of what else a man does in life, or how vital he is in the affairs of the world, there is hardly a job he can have that carries with it the life long significance of being Dad. It is here a man builds his immortality. It is here he lays his imprint on the world to come.

In the first half of this child-centered 20th century, a great body of knowledge has been built up about the nature of childhood and the factors that influence the personality of the adult-to-be. Much has been learned about the significance of Dad in the life of his youngsters, but the trouble is that for the most part only Mother reads this new knowledge.

A man begins being Dad when his first baby is born and he keeps right on being Dad for the rest of his life. But unlike almost every other job, the role of Dad is a constantly changing one. In the earning - your - living world a man learns a skill and repeats it over and over until he becomes expert. But in the paternal job, the skill of being Dad to an infant is hardly learned before it is obsolete and the new job of being Dad to a toddler is called for.

Jerry Hawkins got off to a good start with his daughter Gloria. Most every evening he got home in time to give her a bottle and tuck her into her crib. The evening came to be Dad's time with Gloria. Before long Gloria didn't want to lie back in Dad's arms and be fed, she wanted to poke the food into her own mouth herself. She wanted Dad to look at pictures with her and tell her stories. Jerry took his cue from Gloria and let the child decide how "Daddy" time should be spent. Jerry, ever, was no spineless rag. Gloria knew Dad's "NO" business. She loved and admired his strength. He was her imaginary MAN. Gloria loved her Mother, but, baby that she was, she understood the difference between them. As she got a wee bit older, would dress up for Daddy's admiration and her femininity-pleased when Dad liked her up.

Intriguing Works Available Now In County Library

FRANCOISE SAGAN

Françoise Sagan, author of a second novel, "A Certain Smile," is the young French lady whose own certain smile vastly intrigued Americans when she came here a year ago for the publication of her first book, "Bonjour Tristesse." Born of a well to do French family, writing under a pseudonym she borrowed from Marcel Proust, she has been on the receiving end of some extraordinarily high praise for a girl who produced her first novel at 18 and this one at 20. Her American publisher Dutton has 100,000 copies of this new work in print on the publishing date; that breaks a 30-year record at this house.

"A Certain Smile," rated as the No. 2 best seller in the nation this week, is available to readers here from the shelves of the Deaf Smith County Library.

Another of the new intriguing novels now available at the County Library, "The Children" by Babette Rosmond, is reviewed below by the critic, W. G. Rogers. Anyone who knows and understands young children will find the book very entertaining.

"The Children." By Babette Rosmond. Harcourt, Brace.

Father has just been sent on a six week trip to Paris, and mother temporarily is flat on her back in a sick bed. That leaves up and around, very much up and around, in a suburban Connecticut home, three children and two servants. The children are Brett, 3, Sarah, 5, and Janet, 7. Aurora is the long-time cook, tried and somewhat trusted; and Frill, as the children call her, is the unknown quantity, the new nurse, who comes with a handsome recommendation and a beautiful figure.

What's a beautiful figure, mother asks whimsically, with father across the Atlantic? But when Frill walks it through the streets the grocer's boy lays siege, and so does the druggist's. The laundry man can't keep his eyes off and she has trouble keeping off his hands. Besides her old friend Buddy, there is a new one, Bob Dawson. To dress for all her dates, she has at her disposal, if she tips, mother's entire wardrobe, jewel box, perfumes, lipsticks and powder.

The children romp through this mad tale to your delight and, mostly, their own as well. But the two servants, Aurora inanelly susceptible to praise and Frill with her mothering and her mating instincts overdeveloped, rival them for top billing. All of them talk inimitably. This is a bubbling, happy story, some people good, some naughty, nobody bad. It is an entertaining

Ex-Miss Universe Now Is Mrs.

By ROBERT McHUGH
COLUMBIA, S. C. (AP) — Miriam Stevenson, tabbed "the most beautiful girl in the world" two years ago, has graduated to a house wife.

The transition from "Miss Universe" to Mrs. Donald Upton is relatively gradual, however, domestically speaking.

She is continuing her television work at Columbia station WIS-TV where her husband is chief announcer.

Don's hours being what they are, Miriam figures they'll see about as much of each other with her working at the studio as they would if she remained home.

The advent of children, of course, would change all that.

"Interior decoration and fashion designing were my favorite subjects in college," she says. "In fact," she adds, "I majored in Home Ec to get those subjects."

Don had opportunities to sample her cooking before the recent wedding, and Miriam says, "he seems to like it."

She acknowledges the degree of kitchen proficiency one would expect of a graduate in home economics, but with characteristic honesty she doesn't brag about it.

After winning "Miss Universe" honors in 1954, Miriam tried a summer in Hollywood, but returned home in the fall to finish college.

Her sudden switch from the world's reigning beauty to a South Carolina college girl made headlines at the time. But those who knew Miriam best weren't too surprised.

She drinks buttermilk, wears very little makeup (not even enough to hide her freckles) and displays a frankness of manner incompatible with the pretense and tinsel standards that abound in the movie Mecca.

A studio colleague of Miriam's mused as follows: "If any girl in the country could be said to have gone through the strain of becoming Miss Universe without noticeable change, it would be Miriam."

Upton, in addition to his TV tasks, is the lyric end of a song-writing team. The musical half, Stanley Zabka, acted as best man when the knot was tied at Lebanon Presbyterian Church in Winnsboro S. C.

Wyche Community Ladies Practice Hat Making Art

For a special interest program this spring, the Wyche Home Demonstration Club chose hat making. Mrs. Henry Hamblin of Wayside and Mrs. Ira Ott of Wyche were among the Deaf Smith County club women who attended a hat making school in Canyon sponsored by the Randall County Home Demonstration agent.

Later, several of these women made trips to Black and Friona to help those clubs with their hat-making lessons.

The Wyche H. D. Club met in one all-day meeting and two afternoon meetings to study hat-making.

Beauty At Home

Q. What is an exercise good for hips and buttocks?
 A. Lie on side, legs straight out. Raise head and shoulders, bracing yourself with your arms. Lift legs about eight inches from floor, so that all the weight is centered on hip and thigh. Now, perform a vigorous seissors movement, moving one leg forward as far as possible while the other goes backward as far as possible. Be sure the flesh pads you want to work on are massaging against the floor. Repeat on other side.

Q. How can I check the dandruff which is beginning to appear on my scalp?
 A. Your answer to this should be provided by faithful and regular scalp massage, oil treatments and more frequent brushings and shampooing.

Q. What can I do about pimples on my face?
 A. Keep your skin scrupulously clean, and try leaving thick coats of soapuds on the skin until they dry, then rinse off. Calamine lotion is very drying to pimples. Drink lots of water, avoid sweets, eat fresh foods, and get plenty of fresh air and exercise.

Q. What is a good and effective under-arm deodorant?
 A. Chloramine, an antiseptic lotion, deodorizes without suppressing the natural function of perspiration. You can also dust a little boric acid under the arms as an added precaution.

Q. What rouge placement is good for the very short type of face?
 A. You can add color to this face as possible. Cheeks, blending it carefully outward from the rouge spot.

Q. What do you think men like best about a girl's hair?
 A. Of more than 1300 men polled recently, a decisive winner with 629 votes was "curled hair." The "short" was second with 532 males; "long" lured 473 votes; "Upswept" took 183 votes; "Sleek" scored 149; and only 33 went for "Bangs."

Q. What is a home remedy for getting rid of warts?
 A. The quickest, SAFEST thing to do is to take them to your doctor, who can get rid of them promptly with acid. X-ray or electrotherapy. A wart on the sole of the foot demands immediate attention, because it can become

Household Scrapbook

Lipstick Stains
 Lipstick stains are usually easily removed by laundering. But if it is the "indelible" kind, the stain should be rubbed with kerosene, washed in hot suds, and bleached with hydrogen peroxide. Or, sponging lipstick stains with carbon tetrachloride can be successful.

Painting
 Before starting to paint, always remove all dust and dirt. If the surfaces are not cleaned thoroughly, the result will be a streaky job that will peel off readily.

Brown Gravy
 If the gravy will not brown, pour a tablespoonful of coffee into it. It will contain no taste of the coffee but will brown immediately. This is a much quicker method than browning flour.

Cleaning Bathing
 When you've scoured the bathtub to gleaming whiteness, dash in a spoon of soap jelly, add a little water, and wash it about with a long-handled brush. This will remove those last persistent grains of cleanser which sometimes can't be seen, but certainly can be felt when next you bathe.

Dingy Rugs
 A way to clean a dingy rug is a small amount of cornmeal and dampening it with kerosene and sprinkling it over the rug. Then sweep the cornmeal up. The result will well repay the effort. CAUTION: Kerosene is inflammable!

Mice
 To get rid of mice, place a little oil of peppermint on wads of cotton about their haunts. They will soon look for other quarters.

Solled Parchment
 To clean solled parchment shades, dip a wool cloth into cold water and wring it quite dry. Then moisten with a little linseed oil and rub over the shade. Repeat until all the soil has been wiped off, then wipe with a cloth dampened slightly with furniture polish to bring back the luster.

Cream for the Coffee
 When cream is not strictly fresh it sometimes will curdle slightly when pouring into the coffee. This can be avoided by adding a pinch of baking soda to the cream before serving.

Erupt Stains
 When your hands become stained with fruits while preserving you can readily remove the stains by rubbing with tomato juice.

Patent Leather
 Patent leather shoes and handbags will respond beautifully to a milk bath and it is very good for the leather. Dampen a cloth with milk and rub over the bag. Dry with another clean cloth.

Program Material For "The Asking"

By ARGENT DRAPER
 Mrs. A. A. Hare of the North Hereford Home Demonstration Club and Miss Christine Fortenberry of the Bippus Club have decided to go to the THDA State Meeting. Sure wish all the club women could go along to the meeting as it will be a long time before Texas hosts the National Home Demonstration Assn. again. Mrs. J. E. Dyer attended the national meeting in Colorado Springs in 1949. She reported a wonderful program and fine entertainment. Have just talked to two women who have moved to Hereford from Red River County. They can't get used to being able to see so far.

Ross Williams was celebrating his first birthday Thursday at the North Hereford Club. His big brother, Lee, 4, was feeling very responsible for him. They are the sons of Bill and Oscar Lee Williams.

Some local people are taking the TV education course. This sounds like a good way of discovering some teachers.

The clubs in October will have drapery making and will have club entertainments. If any of the clubs want program material from the office come by or call for it. The program listed in the yearbook is only suggested.

County Road Barn To Be Located On Land At Bootleg

By MRS. S. N. THWEATT
 Mr. and Mrs. N. A. Brown were in Amarillo Friday on business. Bruce Coleman is harvesting maize for Joe Brown.

Mrs. S. N. Thweatt made a business trip to Amarillo Saturday. Spain Thweatt, brother of Mrs. Thweatt, went home as Mrs. Thweatt went to Amarillo.

County Purchase
 The county has bought two acres of land at Bootleg from Rodger Brumley as the site of a county road barn. They have already begun fencing the area.

Mrs. N. A. Brown left Sunday morning for San Antonio for a week's visit. Eldred and Floyd Brown took Mrs. Brown and Mrs. A. G. Hall to Amarillo to catch the bus.

Set Meeting

The Messenger H. D. Club will meet Friday, Sept. 28, with Mrs. Bob Howard. The subject to be discussed is "Religious Training."

A number of Garcia people attended the Walcott P-TA meeting Friday night. They included Mrs. and Mrs. Buse and children, Mr. and Mrs. S. N. Thweatt, and the Brown families. They enjoyed visiting and refreshments of cake and ice cream.

Bob Northcutt visited the Thweatts Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brown were guests of Mrs. Brown's sister, Mrs. France Decker, Sunday afternoon.

How Can I?

By James Hutchins

Q. How can I keep biscuit dough for any length of time?
 A. One need not wait until the last minute to mix the biscuit dough. It can be mixed in the morning and kept in the refrigerator until ready to bake. The biscuits will be just as light and delicious as when the dough is mixed immediately before baking.

Q. How can I avoid lumps of flour in mixing batter?
 A. By putting the salt in the flour before wetting. By pouring flour into the liquid, instead of liquid into the flour, and beating it with a fork, lumps will not form.

Q. What should be done when the shoe linings wear through inside of the heel?
 A. Cut a piece of adhesive plaster to cover both sides of the heel, warm slightly and press firmly in place.

Q. Should bread and cake be kept in a wooden box?
 A. No. Unless the wooden box is well seasoned, it is likely to give a disagreeable taste. Wrapping in brown paper should be avoided for the same reason. Bread and cake should be kept in tin boxes.

Q. How can I make cheese smoother when grating it?
 A. Cheese used for sauce or macaroni will be smoother if it is run through the chopper. Instead of grating it, using a medium knife in the chopper.

Q. How can I prevent dandruff?
 A. Try using a mixture of one part apple juice and three parts water. Apply it twice a week.

Q. How can I improve the appearance of an ugly back fence?
 A. Blackberry vines and grape vines planted along the back fence are not only valuable for their product, but add to the beauty of the yard.

Q. How can I remove acid from marble?
 A. One should avoid letting acids such as lemon or vinegar, come into contact with marble. But if they should stain the marble rub with ammonia.

Q. How can I stop hemorrhoids?
 A. Give a teaspoonful of granulated sugar and vinegar. If this does not give relief, repeat the dose.

Q. Is it necessary to sew the fowl after the dressing has been put in?
 A. Instead of sewing, after the dressing has been put in the chicken or turkey, stick a row of toothpicks into both sides, planting them in opposite directions. Then lace over these. They are easily removed after roasting.

Subscriptions to the Amarillo Globe News will be sold by all of the clubs as the council's money making project for the year, according to an announcement by Roberta Campbell of the finance committee. Materials for both new and renewed subscriptions are now available for all club presidents.

Mrs. P. B. Sowell of the expansion committee read a summary of reports given to the Commissioners Court, and Mrs. Dwayne Walker of the recreation committee announced that the Wyche Club will direct the recreation at the next council meeting.

The marketing committee presented a report read by Mrs. Carlos Vaughn. All club reporters were asked to attend an organizational meeting on Oct. 22, and they were told that report blanks for the newspaper were available in Mrs. Draper's office.

PROGRESSIVE

A special musical selection, "It Is No Secret What God Can Do," was presented at the regular meeting of the Progressive Club held in the home of Mrs. Cecil Boyer on Sept. 18. Mrs. Velma Hodges joined Mrs. Boyer in singing the selection in keeping with the study topic for the day, "Religious Training."

As the roll was called, the club members gave interesting testimonies as to the value of prayer in their lives. Mrs. Lester English, as program leader, stated that religious training brings forth a great nation and that the privileges enjoyed most are the result of such training.

Officers elected for the coming year are as follows: president, Mrs. Taft McGee; vice president, Mrs. H. L. Hershey; secretary-treasurer, Mrs. Harold Beauchamp; assistant secretary, Mrs. Cecil Boyer; reporter, Mrs. Lester English; council delegate, Mrs. Cecil Boyer; council alternate, Mrs. Floyd McGee; parliamentarian, Mrs. Pete Carmichael; citizenship leader, Mrs. Earl Plank; living room demonstrator, Mrs. Earl Plank; landscape demonstrator, Mrs. Helen Parsons; civil defense

Something Different With Ham

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
 Associated Press Food Editor

"What's different to serve with ham?"

Every once in a while we're asked that question. Most recently it came from a friend whose daughter was being married and who was entertaining the bridal party at a buffet supper after the wedding rehearsal. Baked beans and potato salad had been ever-present at previous parties for the bride-to-be and her mother didn't want to offer them again.

Our friend followed one of our suggestions. She boiled potatoes and then whipped them until they were velvet-smooth with hot milk, butter, salt and pepper. Then they went into a large shallow baking dish—one pretty enough to go to the buffet table. Over the top of the potatoes went a mixture of grated Parmesan cheese and cream, and finally a light dusting of paprika. (If the topping doesn't get a beautiful golden brown, the dish may be put under the broiler for a few seconds.) The potatoes can be prepared well ahead, of course, and the topping added just before roasting. If time is at a premium in our own household, we use frozen-whipped potatoes instead of cooking and mashing them at home. Sometimes we substitute grated Romano cheese for the Parmesan.

Another casserole we like to serve with ham is one of cooked beans or narrow noodles, cottage cheese and sour cream. It is seasoned with salt, pepper, Worcestershire sauce, crushed garlic and finely grated onion and baked in a moderate oven until it is piping hot. A number of cookbooks give this recipe under the title of "Noodles Ramanoff."

And still another favorite with ham is a mixture of cooked snap beans and cream sauce seasoned with soy sauce. The beans can be fresh or frozen (cooked) or the canned variety. And you can add sautéed fresh or canned mushrooms and sliced water chestnuts. The dish can be made ahead and reheated in a moderate oven, then several minutes before serving. firm, parboil them for five minutes in water to cover, then lift them out; reserve the water they were parboiled in and use it for the 2 cups pear liquid called for in the recipe ingredients. Mix the 2 cups pear liquid for the water if you have not parboiled the pears with the frozen lemonade concentrate, vinegar, sugar, salt, ginger, cloves and cinnamon in a large saucepan; boil 5 minutes. Drop in the pears and boil gently about 30 minutes—until slightly transparent and tender, but not soft. Turn the pears frequently in the syrup while they cook. When done, lift pears carefully into a bowl. Boil syrup hard about 5 minutes, then strain over pears. Let stand, turning occasionally, until cool, then store in refrigerator. Makes about 2 quarts.

Note: If you want the pears to lie flat on a platter, cut a slice from the side of each pear; use the flat end of a knife to cut the cut-off pieces later in a salad or some other way.

BRAINERD MIMM — When Pablo Del Moral's billfold was blown out of his plane by a gust of wind the pilot blew the vanishing waft a kiss goodbye. He didn't have to. Sunspots Used For Weather Prediction

By BOB HUNT

ST. LOUIS (AP) — Sunspots probably don't mean much to you but a university professor uses them as a guide to long-range weather forecasting.

So far, at least, the theory has worked.

Edward M. Brooks, a 40-year-old "weather conscious" six-footer, has made almost a life-time study of weather but says he came on the sunspot theory almost by accident.

"There's more that we don't know about sunspots," Brooks says "than we do know but it is receiving more attention now."

The bespectacled professor of geophysics at St. Louis university first popped into the St. Louis weather picture in the spring of 1952 when he called for and got a very scorching summer. The next summer was another hot one and Brooks predicted it in advance, too.

WEATHER FORECASTER Edward M. Brooks, a St. Louis University professor, sets up his telescope to view sunspots, phenomena which he uses as a basis for his long-range weather predictions.

His one close call, so far, came in 1954 when he said at the outset the odds were about 3-2 for another blistering three months. He changed this early in June. The '54 average equalled 1952 but it was 1/10 degree cooler than the previous year.

He then called for cooler weather in 1955. It came along. In fact, he predicted cooler temperatures through 1958. This year is right in line.

His theory doesn't get much house from Harry F. Wahlgren, government weatherman here who once replied to Brooks' prediction with the simple statement "Balderdash."

Brooks, who learned meteorology from his dad and started keeping tabs on the weather at six, says he noticed that in 1947 — a year of unusual weather — the maximum support activity was recorded.

"I went back and studied all weather records as far back as 1838," he recalls. "I found that over a period of 117 years the records showed that when we had least sunspots we had hot, dry summers; when we had most sunspots we had cooler and stormier summers."

The sunspots — believed by some to be areas of rotating electrical current on the sun — have an 11-year cycle ranging from a minimum to maximum.

"When we see them we usually have magnetic storms on the earth," Brooks says. "I don't say they cause them, but there is some connection."

Since 1947 was the year of maximum sunspots, Brooks figured it out mathematically and based his '54 forecast on the minimum period to produce hot, dry weather. It happened.

Brooks says the next maximum is expected in January, 1957. With that in view he predicts cooler and turbulent weather including more tornado activity and a "major flood on the Mississippi River between now and 1960."

Long Time Ago

45 Years Ago

Monday night of this week the tail end of a cold wave swung over the Panhandle and slipped the thermometer down to 31 degrees by Tuesday morning, but only a small trace of ice was found. The most tender plants were bitten. Wednesday night the small end of another aurora puff swooped down and by Thursday morning had whipped the mercury down to 35 degrees. Both of these native Texas "northerns" were "dry," that is they came without clouds or precipitation.

At the Fat Stock Show held at Kansas City last week, J. D. Thompson's steers and heifers carried off some good premiums. His Yearling Hereford steers won two premiums and his yearling heifers took one. The steers averaged 724 pounds and were sold at $6.50; the heifers averaged 714 and sold for $6.25.

The postal savings accounts are steadily increasing. The total for this week being $88.70 as against $64.10 for last week, showing $22.60 deposited during the week. The little 10 cent stamp will grow, famously if you will once get started in the right direction — go to buying them. Once you start, it gets to be a habit. Habits are hard to break, but the stamp saving one won't hurt you.

In its monthly report, Deaf Smith County Hospital shows 19 cases cared for in September, divided into classifications of nine surgical cases, one obstetrical case, one medical case, and eight accidents. In communities served Hereford furnished 12 cases, Friona two, Black one, Nazareth one, Wildorado one and McLean two.

Statistics in the office of the county superintendent show there are 456 pupils enrolled in the rural schools of Deaf Smith County. In the grades are found 368 of them and 88 are taking high school work. There are 18 schools, in which are employed 34 teachers.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry Sherman have returned from a three weeks trip through the Southeastern states. They found most of the Eastern people have strange ideas about the Plains. People there could not imagine such level fields and having so much in cultivation. They have an idea that it does not rain here and they would not believe that there are irrigation wells that never go dry. One lady said she heard that even the chickens were not good to eat because the meat was so dry, and she thought it was such a shame that we did not have good fruits and vegetables like they.

MEMPHIS (AP) — When the Rev. W. D. McDearis talks about wartime hysteria he speaks from experience. And his wristwatch often reminds him of it.

Back in 1942 the Church of Christ preacher was holding a revival meeting in Bristol, Tenn. — Va. when the rumor got around that his watch was a personal gift from Adolf Hitler with code instructions engraved on the back telling how to blow up TVA dams.

Ridiculous? Well, the rumor got the Rev. Mr. McDearis arrested, anyhow. He speedily proved his innocence. The watch was a graduation present from his grandmother.

BLIND FEAR DISAPPEARS IN WATER

DETROIT (AP) — Blind children are freed from one of their greatest fears in a gay hour of swimming pool fun.

That's the fear of bumping into things, which disappears for the youngsters shouting and splashing in an indoor pool once a week.

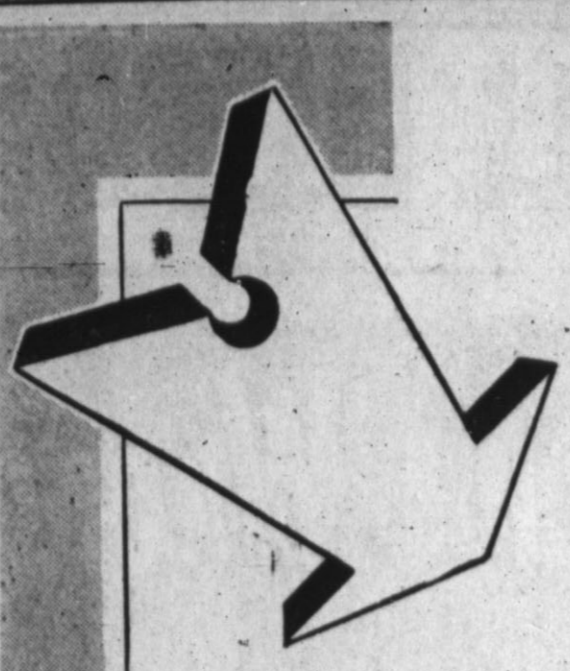

But even more important things are accomplished in the first swimming classes ever held for blind children in Detroit. Their teacher says the classes give the youngsters "a chance for free movement to let off steam."

They move as freely as fish in the water, knowing sudden motion won't mean a bruised knee or a bumped elbow from some unexpected hard object. They're learning to swim and even dive.

To appreciate the difference, the teachers say you should see the blind children in school — "they are quiet and subdued and always a little afraid. But they lose that fear once they are in the water."

LADY PLEASE!

Kimball, Neb. (AP) — A woman complained to her neighbors that their dog chased her chickens and asked that the animal be locked up. A few nights later the complaining woman phoned the neighbors to ask if they'd please turn the dog loose. She said she thought there was a peeping Tom at her window.

"Son, Your Direction's Wrong"

--- You look but don't see. Your thoughts are base... your direction down. I've noticed your horizon is about the top of the ditch you happen to stand in. Why, your whole formula is wrong. What makes it worse, you are trying to work out-of-it alone. You can't do it! Give God a chance! You are strong of body but what about that starved, selfish, shriveled soul of yours? I tell you son, God won't let you get away with it. Right now He is inquiring about your church attendance, your Sunday School record, how many churches you have helped build and what you did with the tenth that belonged to Him? Son, with all the love of a good father, and with the promised help of God... I beg you to make a change. Let your life count for Him because your business successes won't help much in the last hours.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. They see with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

SMART ANIMALS

SAN DIEGO, Calif. — Animals in theatrical performances must know how to act, says C. Y. Jones, who contracted to provide 50 head of horses and oxen for a "California story" pageant.
Jones, Hollywood animal agent, said that one of his horses once fell down on the stage in Hollywood bowl during the pageant production. "He just laid there," he said, "didn't thrash around and mess things up. That's what I mean, stage animals have to know how to act."

Hard Man Portrayed At Star

SEVEN MEN FROM NOW

Randolph Scott stars as the former sheriff Ben Stride in "Seven Men From Now," showing Friday and Saturday at the Star Theatre. The seven men who robbed the Wells Fargo office in Silver Springs didn't know the woman they killed during the holdup was the wife of Ben Stride. Determined to bring the killers to justice, Ben rides after them. It takes many months and long hours of riding and hard shooting for him to finally bring justice to a head in the outdoor adventure. Also starring in this movie are Gail Russell, Lee Marvin and Walter Reed. On the same program is "Raw Raw Rooster," the cartoon, and Paramount News No. 12.

THE LITTLEST OUTLAW

A heart stirring story in "The Littlest Outlaw" makes it a film every member of the family will want to see. Pedro Armendariz, Joseph Calleia and Rodolfo Acosta star in the film, and 10-year-old Andres Velazquez is introduced in the title role. The story concerns the plight of a small boy who attempts to save the life of a handsome horse to whom he is devoted. His devotion is returned by the animal, but the great general to whom the horse belongs has ordered it killed. Hence, a small matter of thievery is called for, and while both boy and horse are reluctant to enter the world of outlaws, they, along with a sympathetic padre are forced to make up new rules as they go along. This film shows Friday and Saturday at the Tower Drive In along with Walt Disney's "Johnny Appleseed" an animated cartoon with Dennis Day's voice in the background narration and song. "Daffy Dilly" is also showing as the cartoon.

SPLendor AFTER 'SIX—This up-to-the-minute young man emulates the elegance of the 18th century dandy in the portrait, photographed in the Verplanck room at the Metropolitan Museum. His resplendent evening vest is gold brocade, worn with latest dinner jacket with new continental lapels.

Men Take To Elegant Look

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Those men are beginning to feel their oats, sartorially speaking. After generations of drab conformity in dress, they are starting to step out of an evening looking almost as splendid as did the fathers of our country. They haven't yet adopted satin knee-breeches and lace jabots, but they are wearing evening vests of metallic brocade or embroidered velvet with their dinner jackets and tails.

Sam Rudofker, who turns out formal wear for a large section of the male population, says the time definitely is here when men are ready to dress up again. He does not stop at fancy vests for evening. In a recent showing of resort and holiday evening fashions, he showed dinner jackets in rich imported shantung and Pardah cottons from India in such colors as claret, gold, cognac and raven blue.

World's Champion Book Buyer Does Her Job For Uncle Sam

AP Newsfeatures
The undisputed title of world's biggest buyer of books is held by Miss Margaret Conlan, who has bought almost four and a half million of them in the last seven years.

MARGARET CONLAN

Miss Conlan, pert, smiling and efficient, is chief of the U.S. Information Agency's New York Service Section, and as such ships the books by the ton to some 200 libraries maintained by the agency all over the world. She figures she has spent about six and a third million dollars for books during her tenure as chief.

"I began young," says Miss Conlan. "My first library experience was when I set up a class book collection in the seventh grade, by swiping books and peddling bad lemonade."

THIS IS WHERE TOMORROW STARTS

A new "inner car" gives you a NEW KIND of FORD for 1957!

Coming October 3rd.

On Wednesday, October 3rd, Ford Dealers throughout the United States will unveil a new kind of automobile!

Cars are involved in every American's life. News of a new kind of car is the biggest kind of news to millions of Americans.

The Big New Kind of Ford is that kind of news... a car totally new in design from crest to trunk lock.

This completely new automotive package will sell at the traditionally low Ford prices.

This makes possible a new high standard of such honest-to-goodness value that it actually increases the purchasing power of your automobile dollar.

When you see it, other cars will look out of date, because... This is Where Tomorrow Starts... with a Big New Kind of Ford!

The New Kind of Ford is the fullest, most eloquent expression of Ford's special personality—the youthful grace, the whiplash action—and the reputation for durability known wherever there's a road.

To all this we have added true elegance—a kind of elegance never before seen in the low-price field. To make a car truly elegant, you must start deep-down inside.

The New Inner Ford
The Inner Ford—the car you cannot see—is a very remarkable structure. Its frame is actually a cradle. Side members extend almost the full body width; they serve not only as supporting members, but as concealed side bumpers of immense strength.

The New Ford Body
The new Ford body is a triumph of engineering in steel. The doors close with the solid ferocity of a bank vault. Even the door lock button has been moved up front—easier for you to reach, but out of the children's reach.

All these features are engineered to give you a solid new kind of comfort.

The New Ford Ride
The New Kind of Ford sits six people as no other low priced car has ever sat them—six elbows wide in each seat, with deep space around each one of six knees. And above all that space, there's hat room to spare for all six passengers.

First, the two Fairlane Series on a 118-inch wheelbase. The Fairlane 500's come in 4 body types, a four-door sedan, a two-door sedan, a two-and-four door Victoria with no center pillars, and a convertible coupe. The same body types (except for the convertible) are available in the Fairlane Series.

Second, two Custom Series mounted on the 116-inch wheelbase chassis. In the Custom 300 Series, a four-door and a two-door sedan are distinguished from the Custom models by more luxurious interiors and elaborate trim. The Custom Series also includes a Business Sedan.

Beyond all these, you also have your choice of five Station Wagons—the famous glamour cruisers that are the champions in this field!

The New Ford Look
That low, low cradle span frame means a low, low car. The Fairlane 500 is only four feet eight inches from roof to roof! The Custom is just over four feet nine inches!

The new Ford is not only low—but long. Ford gives you more than 17 feet of elegant length in the Fairlane Series, a shade less in the Custom. It's a nice kind of fun just to look at it. It's high priced in every way except price.

The New Ford Performance
You can have up to 245 wonderful Thunderbird horsepower in any Ford model. There's a moderate—and really moderate—extra charge for this engine of $12 cubic inches with its 4-barrel carburetor.

For "Six" lovers, we've got the 144 hp Mileage-Maker Six. Whether you choose Six or V-8, the going is great!

Here is where your own tomorrow starts
It starts at your Ford Dealer's showroom! The cars will be there on Wednesday, October 3.

These are the best Fords of our lives. They are the first symbols out of Detroit of the new automotive age that is beginning for you.

This is where tomorrow starts—at your Ford Dealer's.

This is when your tomorrow starts—October 3rd.

Come in and see us for the Big New Kind of Ford!
