Around Town

Friday is the deadline for farmers who plan to put either wheat or cotton allotted acreages for the current year into the government's soil bank program.

H. L. Allmon is recovering at his parents' home from minor injuries suffered in an accident near Dalhart on Monday night.

Seventy-seven boys and girls have completed beginners swimming classes conducted under Red Cross supervision at the Hereford pool this summer.

Just a word to clear up the matter of weather readings which run in each issue of the Brand.

Well, another political rally is being planned. This is certainly the season for them.

Bob Lawrence To Conduct Revival Service In Alaska

Conducting evangelistic meetings are nothing new to Bob Lawrence, educational director of the First Baptist Church for the past eight years.

He gets many invitations, but tries to limit his participation to about two a year. Last spring he was in his home town of Perryton for their revival.

Bob has been invited by the Home Mission Board of the Southern Baptist Convention to go to Alaska, join a crusading delegation of 32 other ministers and singers from throughout the Southern states and conduct a two week revival.

Local Church Pays Expenses The invitation hinged upon the local church's willingness to pay their representative's expenses to Alaska.

Several groups from the U.S. have been sent to Alaska before to conduct such meetings.

Bob doesn't know why he was chosen. The first he knew of it was, in May when the invitation came.

October Best Month But why October? Well, apparently October is the best month weatherwise.

Naturally, Bob is excited about his trip and is looking forward to his visit to Alaska.

Another new department store will open in Hereford this fall when Montgomery Ward initiates its catalogue order store here.

But the store won't be just a collection of catalogues, order pads and desks.

Company employees James Durham, Jim Russell and Richard Kistner had just climbed down from inside the building at about 7:25 a.m. when the explosion occurred.

Heavy gauge corrugated steel walls on three sides of the granary were blasted 80 feet or more from the site.

The contents of the granary, 70,000 bushels of government-owned grain sorghum appeared to be undamaged, according to Peppers.

The steel inner wall of the structure prevented the grain from spilling onto the ground.

Extent of the damages was not estimated pending appraisal by an insurance adjuster.

Seven Juveniles Are Arrested On Burglary Charge

BOB LAWRENCE

Seven boys, ranging in age from 12 to 16, were arrested Monday and Tuesday by Sheriff Lowell Sharp after investigation of a Sunday night burglary at the Hereford Fruit Market, 218 North 25 Mile Ave.

One boy was released to his parents, while two are lodged in the juvenile cell of the county jail, and four in the jail at Dimmitt pending a hearing Thursday before County Judge Homer Henslee.

Operated by Mr. and Mrs. J.D. Tyler since June 5, the market had been plagued since June 12 by a series of nightly thefts, according to Mrs. Tyler.

A sheriff's department spokesman said Tyler had discussed the burglaries with him about 10 days ago, but said he believed they were "just boys" and that he could personally handle the matter.

Cigars, cigarettes, candy, eggs, ice cream, fruit, Cokes and many other items disappeared from the market over a period of weeks, according to Mrs. Tyler.

Officers entered the case Monday after City Police were notified Sunday night that a break-in was in progress at the store.

Chief of Police Leo Box said his department's investigation was interrupted Monday by a "dog" call.

For refreshments there will be hamburgers, hot dogs, pop corn, ice cream, coffee, Cokes and snow cones.

Souvenirs will also be sold at all the booths, which will include such activities as bingo, Coke bottle pitch, cigarette pitch, keg pitch, glass pitch, doll rack, darts and numbers, darts and balloons.

Proceeds this year will go to the children's wing at the hospital; last year the carnival netted about $650 which was used to buy equipment at Kiddie Park.

Bi-State Water Users to Query Railroad Officials The Bi-State Water Commission, a group of irrigation farmers and business men organized to conserve irrigation water in the South Plains area, will query railroad officials to conserve water in the South Plains area.

One of the first projects of organization is a hearing with Santa Fe railroad officials to be held in Amarillo Thursday.

Commission members from Deaf Smith, Lamb, Castro, Pecos, Cochran and Bailey Counties in Texas, Curry and Roosevelt Counties in New Mexico will comprise the delegation which will explain the impact which the loss of 70 million gallons of irrigation water annually will mean to production costs and land values in the irrigation belt of the South Plains.

Among the leaders of the delegation will be the commission's chairmen, Witherhood, Algen Thomas and Lanley of Hereford and Al Hall, former regional staff member of the Amarillo Daily News and Globe-Times who this week became coordinator of commission activities.

A clean-up of alleys and vacant lots in Hereford as a means of eliminating insect breeding and other health hazards has been requested by Jack Gilliland, city sanitation officer.

Gilliland noted during recent inspections that weeds in some sections of the city have reached shoulder height.

Heart Attack Fatal To J. D. Story, 79

J. D. Story, 79, a long-time resident of Hereford, died of a heart attack in his home at 304 McKinley on Wednesday morning.

Born in Canton, Ill., Mr. Story moved to Texas in 1920. Settling south of Summerfield, he was engaged in farming for many years before retiring and moving into Hereford about 18 years ago.

Mr. Story married the former Mabel Churchill at Canton, Ill., in 1899.

Survivors include three sons, Donald of Phoenixville, Pa., Dr. Charles Dean of Ft. Collins, Colo., Joe of Hereford and one daughter, Mrs. A. L. Behrend of Dimmitt.

Gilliland Funeral Home will be in charge of arrangements which are still pending.

RETURN TO WICHITA FALLS Mr. and Mrs. Donald Gaetz have returned to their home in Wichita Falls after a few days visit in the home of his mother, Mrs. John Gaetz.

Three workmen narrowly escaped injury when an explosion ripped much of the outer walls from a metal building early Tuesday at the Hereford Grain Co., just east of the city.

Exact cause of the explosion is unknown, said Arthur Pearce, bookkeeper for the company, "but it was possibly due to explosion of an accumulation of dust within the walls."

Company employees James Durham, Jim Russell and Richard Kistner had just climbed down from inside the building at about 7:25 a.m. when the explosion occurred.

Debate Airport Financing

NEW COMMISSIONERS—Troy Moore, center, ducted by Mayor Henry Sears made official and Dr. R. R. Wills signed their oaths of office the expansion of the city commission from a Monday night, after brief ceremonies con-

Moore, Wills Installed At Commission Meeting

Two familiar faces turned up in new positions here Monday night, Troy Moore, oil distributor and Dr. R. R. Wills, county health officer, were officially installed and welcomed by Mayor Henry Sears as members of the City Commission.

Elected on Saturday to the two newly created posts which expand the city government from a three to five-man governing board, Moore and Dr. Wills took active part in all discussions during their first meeting.

But after absorbing details of the government's operational problems and pondering decisions from 7:30 p.m. until shortly after midnight, both men looked a bit tired.

While the two additional commissioners may have extended some problems' discussions a bit longer than usual, the votes on all matters were unanimous.

From the time the regular city commission session opened following a joint meeting on the airport issue with members of the Commissioner's Court and Airport Committee — until it adjourned, both Moore and Dr. Wills displayed a ready acquaintance with most of the city's operations.

Upon arrival at the city manager's office, Dr. Wills — generally regarded as a conservative — had seated himself in a hard-bottomed chair at the left of the entrance.

A few minutes later Moore arrived and claimed a cushioned chair to the right of the door.

There was no apparent significance to the seating arrangements chosen by the new commissioners.

In subsequent actions, they voted to purchase a new fire truck and to purchase a new fire truck.

Final Rites Held For Child Drowned In Conchas Lake Funeral services were conducted in the First Methodist Church of Morse, Wednesday afternoon, for Janice Lynn Woodruff, 4, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Woodruff.

The little girl was drowned on Saturday evening in Conchas Lake, when she fell from a boat where she was playing with her brother and sister. Her parents were fishing only a few feet away.

The Rev. Eugene Nauha, former pastor of the Wesley Methodist Church where the child attended Sunday School, conducted final rites at Morse where the family formerly lived.

Woodruff, an employee of the Texas Highway Department, has been in Hereford about two years. He started his vacation last week and the family had come to Conchas for some fishing.

Saturday evening the parents were fishing from the dock and the children, Kenneth, 6, and Janice Lynn, were playing in a boat that was tied about 10 feet from the shore.

Joint Meet Airs Views On Problem

A proposal to ante-up $139,500 through a bond issue to match an equal amount recently earmarked by the Civil Aeronautics Authority for building an airport here may soon be presented to local voters.

Several possible courses of action by the Commissioners Court and City Commission were debated by the two groups Monday night during a joint meeting with Dr. H. A. Cavness and Bill Dameron of the recently organized Airport Committee.

Group Visits Similar Airports Representatives of the court, the commission and the committee on Wednesday visited Plainview, Levelland and Littlefield to investigate airport financing and operation methods followed there.

This group is expected to report on its findings during a second joint meeting at 7:30 p.m. Monday, in the county courtroom.

It was agreed during the first joint meeting that no hasty action will be taken on the airport financing issue.

"We sure want to know what we're doing when we come out of the chute on this one," declared Mayor Henry Sears. He stated during the meeting that he is personally in favor of an airport.

Speaking for the Commissioners Court, Judge Homer Henslee said, "We're for an airport, if that is what the people want."

Time Warrants Spiked A possibility that the county board might issue time warrants on its own initiative to finance a portion of the construction was firmly spiked by the commissioners.

Judge Henslee said that no action will be taken without a vote of the people.

Commissioners J. T. Guinn and Marion Rutter agreed that bonds rather than "more expensive" warrants would be proposed if Deaf Smith County residents are

July 28 Is Date For Gubernatorial Precinct Meets

Precinct conventions are slated again. This time they are the state series of conventions as contrasted with the presidential series which met in May.

Gubernatorial precinct conventions will meet July 28, as provided in the state election code. Democratic groups will meet at the places listed below, according to Henry Sears, Democratic committee chairman. Notices have been posted on the bulletin board at the Court House.

Purpose of these conventions is to select delegates to the county democratic conventions Aug. 4, which will name delegates to the State Democratic convention on Sept. 11.

At that time the convention will decide on a platform of principles and announce nominations for governor and state offices (as chosen in the election, July 28). They will also select the chairman and vice chairman of the executive committee and name the 62 members, a committee man and committee woman from each senatorial district. Mrs. James W. Witherhood is currently serving as committee woman from this, the 31st senatorial district.

Earlier a similar series of conventions was held whose ultimate goal in the state was to select delegates to the National Democratic Convention in Chicago on Aug. 13, at which time the democratic candidates for president will be named. John Douglas Pittman was selected as one of the delegates from Texas.

Meeting places for the precinct conventions are as follows: Precinct 1, District Courtroom, 11 a.m.

Precinct 2, District Courtroom, 10 a.m.

Precinct 3, R. W. Mitchell residence, 3 p.m.

Precinct 4, Simms Community House, 3 p.m.

Precinct 5, Daniel School, 3 p.m.

Precinct 6, Ford Community House, 3 p.m.

Precinct 7, Dawn School, 3 p.m.

Precinct 8, Garcia Community House, 3 p.m.

Precinct 9, Ripus Community House, 3 p.m.

Precinct 10, Central School, 3 a.m.

Precinct 11, Central School, 3 a.m.

Carnival Time Composed of Balloons, Merry-Go-Rounds, Hawkers and Bingo

"Step right up folks, only 10 cents, one thin dime, one tenth of a dollar."

It's the Midway cry, the hawkers' herald and it will ring over the vacant lot north of the Bull Barn beginning Friday night when the Lions Club opens its annual carnival.

On Friday and Saturday night, the carnival offerings will be limited to fun-rides operated on a percentage basis by club members and supplied by Lone Star Amusement Company of Amarillo, the group who traditionally furnishes the rides.

For kiddies, who can ride for the "one tenth of a dollar" there will be a kiddie car circle and an airplane ride; older children and adults will pay 25 cents for rides on the Merry-Go-Round, Ferris Wheel or Tilt-A-Whirl.

Beginning Monday at 7 p.m. the booths at the carnival midway will open up, manned exclusively by Lions Club members. Dub Reeves, carnival chairman, points out that "Lions will be in charge of every booth and concession, including the food booths."

For refreshments there will be hamburgers, hot dogs, pop corn, ice cream, coffee, Cokes and snow cones.

Souvenirs will also be sold at all the booths, which will include such activities as bingo, Coke bottle pitch, cigarette pitch, keg pitch, glass pitch, doll rack, darts and numbers, darts and balloons.

Proceeds this year will go to the children's wing at the hospital; last year the carnival netted about $650 which was used to buy equipment at Kiddie Park.

Carnival will be open from about 7 p.m. until 11 p.m. each night closing July 28.

Texas Lunchroom Program Gets 22% Increase From USDA

Texas public schools will get about 22 percent more funds from the United States Department of Agriculture for 1956-57 than they did for 1955-56. This increases Texas' appropriation by some $853,453.

If Hereford public schools should get a proportionate share of these state funds, it would mean about $14,720.62 added to the cafeteria funds or 22% above this year's claim for $12,066.08.

However, authorities see little likelihood that this will be the result, although it is a possibility. They think it more probable that the added funds will guarantee that schools such as Hereford get paid the claims which they submit.

How Program Works
The program works like this: Under the National School Lunch Program, schools which serve what is called a Type A meal (meat or meat substitute, vegetables, hot dish, etc.) are reimbursed to the tune of five cents for each meal served with milk, three cents for each meal served to a child who refuses milk.

At the end of the month, cafeteria managers, total up the meals served in each category, submit their claims for reimbursement. According to Fred Baird, of the school tax office, Hereford Rural School district has already been paid some $9,080.85; however, claims for the last three months are still forthcoming. If paid in full they will amount to $2,986.03, bringing the total for the year to $12,066.08.

May Allotments Nipped
In the past, however, Texas schools have served more meals than there was money to finance under the program. Consequently, the requests for May meal reimbursements were sometimes a little short; so the state portioned out the money as far as it would go.

For example four years ago, this school district had its May request lopped off by 20 percent. During the next two years, however, claims were paid in full. Then the school was pinched another way. At one time the National School Lunch program paid two cents more per meal than it does now.

Same Money; More Schools
The current decrease was effected because Texas received a lump sum payment from the U.S. department of Agriculture each year while the number of school cafeterias kept growing. Thus, to provide for all the cafeterias, the per-meal payment had to be lowered.

There has recently been talk of cutting it to four cents. Mr. Baird suggested that the increased allotment of funds from the federal agency might be used to guarantee payment of five and last week of the increase in funds, three cents per meal, rather than slicing the allotment to four cents. Dr. J. W. Edgar, commissioner of education of the Texas Educational Agency, was just informed

Lockjaw, Which Plagues Older Areas, Doesn't Bother Us -- Yet

A disease 2000 years old that continually racks Southern states rarely rears its ugly head in Deaf Smith County.

That scourge is tetanus or lockjaw, and Dr. R. R. Willis, county health officer, who has practiced medicine in this area for about a quarter of a century, says he hasn't seen a case of lockjaw in all that time.

Why?

Because, he says, this is new country. Strangely enough, the history of lockjaw throughout the years has been that, the older a country or a civilization becomes, the more cases of lockjaw develop.

Bacteria Thrive in Manure
Because the disease is caused by bacteria found in earth, garden mold and manure, by bacilli which thrive without oxygen, it breeds and reproduces in contaminated soils. Naturally, the older the country, the more contaminated the soil.

Also the bacteria are normally found in the intestines of animals, such as horses, cows, sheep, and goats.

Since tetanus bacteria thrive where there is no free air or oxygen, a puncture wound such as that caused by nails, splinters, or gunshot is the most dangerous. Especially is this true when the injury occurs in a barnyard, cow pasture or where field manure has been used.

All such wounds should be taken seriously. They should be opened, cleaned and dressed by a physician.

Symptoms of Tetanus
If tetanus develops, such signs as restlessness, stiffness of the neck, a tight jaw and beginning stiffness of the arms and legs may be observed. Usually such symptoms develop about five to eight days after the injury. Children may have convulsions and there will be fever.

It was not until late in the 19th century that a preventive measure was developed. At first this protection against lockjaw was given separately. As years passed and research continued, doctors perfected a vaccine or preventive measure to protect the person early in life.

Now, of course, this protection is given at the same time that immunization is given for diphtheria

Get Money in July
First quarter allocation of this money will be made to Texas this month, according to John J. Slaughter, chief, southwest food distribution division, Dallas.

This office of the Agricultural Marketing Service deals with the states in this region on the National School Lunch Program. Slaughter explained that the 22 percent increase in the Texas allotment was the result of an increase of $16,700,000 over last year's appropriation by Congress. Federal funds are shared by the states on the basis of the number of children between the ages of 5 and 17, inclusive, and the need for assistance in the state as indicated by the relation of the per capita income of the United States to that of the state.

Slaughter praised the Texas Educational Agency for the way it has developed and administered the school lunch program.

Rings on Furniture
Oftentimes a guest will set a wet glass down on the newly-polished table, leaving a white ring or spot on its surface. Rubbing it with wax will frequently remove this spot if it is light, and if this fails, camphorated oil or a piece of gum camphor might prove successful. Still other methods are powdered pumice and linseed oil, or a thin paste of salad oil and salt.

Smoked Ceilings
If the ceilings have become smoked, they can be cleaned by washing them with cloths wrung out of water in which a little washing soda has been dissolved.

Furs
If sealskin fur is rubbed with hot salt, the dirt will be absorbed by the salt.

A Winter Plant
Late in the fall, transplant the bed of parsley to a pot while it is still strong and healthy. It will make a nice winter plant for the kitchen window sill, and is convenient when a garnish is wanted.

Furniture Cracks
To repair cracks that appear in table tops and chairs, use some melted beeswax on the end of a knife and press tightly and smoothly into the cracks.

Pastry
Pastry will usually shrink from the pan if too much shortening is used.

and make a lattice-work top. No one will know the reason you have done so.

Chairs
To clean shiny chintz curtains satisfactorily, first dust them thoroughly, then sponge them with lukewarm water and soapsuds, using a rubber sponge.

Lumpy Custard
If the custard for the pudding is lumpy put it through a medium mesh sieve. The lumps can be left in the sieve and the smooth custard placed in the pudding.

1. Approval of the zoning commission's recommendations for rezoning a lot at Lee and 25 Mile Ave. from "D" to "E" classification.

2. Approval of an auditors' resolution correcting $53 in errors noted on 1955 tax roll assessments.

3. Approval of a proposal to authorize any city department head, at the individual's option, to receive vacation pay as a bonus should he choose to work "round the calendar."

4. Approval of extension of city water mains to serve residents of Myrtle and Mabel Streets, if alleyways adjacent to the streets are dedicated for utility service purposes.

5. Amendment of a city ordinance to specify the distance sewer lines will be extended down existing alleyways to serve customers within the city limits. A distance of 150 feet was agreed upon. A provision providing that residents living within 300 feet of an existing sewer line must "tie-on" was unaffected by this amendment.

6. Approval of minor expenditures needed to get the city's road maintenance back into service.

In other discussion, establishment of arterial streets to serve northeast Hereford residents was seen as a pressing need. Members of the commission this week will make an inspection of Ave. K with this object in mind.

"Widening Ave. K to 50 feet of pavement from Park Ave. north past the new Aikman School is a project the commission is slated to begin next spring."

agreed that separate elections would be required for a joint financing program in order to comply with state laws. Their opinion was that it would be possible to hold the elections on the same day, and that common polling places might be legally established. But separate ballots would be required.

Cavness and Damron told the board members that the CAA has possible regarding the use of the proposed $139,500 airport construction grant. "After we've given them a firm answer, we will have until July 1, 1957 to use the money," Damron said.

Mayor Sears estimated that the City of Hereford would be able to finance half of the matching funds with either no increase, or a very small increase in taxes.

Earns Adjoining Land
Dr. R. R. Willis, meeting for the first time as a member of the City Commission, advanced the theory that farming the land adjoining airport's runways should make the operation profitable from the start.

After Line pointed out that it is not legal for a county to engage in farming activities, Mayor Sears advanced a suggestion that the county might be able to finance the construction through a bond issue and then lease the airport to the city at a rate that would retire the indebtedness.

With no legal "strings" to keep the city from operating farmlands, all members of the city's governing board appeared to be favorably to this suggestion.

Members of the county board reserved decision until a full legal basis for joint operation of an airport can be obtained and other details worked out.

Several methods of sharing construction and operation costs between the city and county were debated.

Prairie Pupils Unpampered

By PRESTON R. STEPHENS
HAYS, Kan. (AP)—Out on the West Kansas prairie, 17 miles northeast of here, there's a three-room frame building where a school unique in this day of sight reading, free lunches and self-supporting football teams is housed.
It is a school where reading, writing, arithmetic and discipline are emphasized in much the same manner as those lessons were impressed upon your grandfather.
Furthermore, the 23 pupils who attend the Emmeram rural school do so without benefit of a furnace, a lunchroom or an auditorium. Their playground is a patch of prairie. Its primary asset is space. Perhaps the most unusual feature of this departure from educational modernism is the faculty—two sisters who teach all 12 grades.
May and Rose Connor can't offer their pupils many advantages that are found in city schools, but they do provide the children with experience gained from long service in the profession.
Miss May started teaching at the age of 16 in Barton County, Kan., and recently completed her 50th year. Miss Rose is a relative newcomer. She's only been teaching for 28 years.
The sisters live in the third room of the little school. Emmeram is too far from the nearest town for easy commuting.
Miss May teaches the first four grades in one room, and Miss Rose instructs the older children in the other.

School patrons and former pupils honored Miss May on the 50th anniversary of her career. Highlight of the celebration was a play based on her life and staged by the pupils.
To children in urban schools, life at Emmeram might seem dull. Such is not the case. The student body is capable of breaking monotony.
For example, there was one cold day when the first youngster to arrive promptly burned all of the day's supply of coal in the old fashioned stoves.
"It took a lot of sunflower stalks to keep the fire going that day," recalled Miss May.
She also returned with some mementoes of the lighter side of the trip, including a gold ball dress designed for her by Parisian designer Lanvin, and a scarf given to her by Grace Kelly when she visited Monaco.
A student of home economics at Mississippi State College for Women, Marilyn hopes to have her own TV program when she graduates. These plans may be postponed, however, if a mooted exchange trip to study farming in Europe materializes next year.

All American Girl Tells World About US Youth

By HILARY DAVIES
AP Newsfeatures
REPRESENTING eight million young people — at a time adolescents get more than their fair share of breakbacks from the older generation—is quite a responsibility. It was one that fell recently on the willing shoulders of 19-year-old Marilyn Lee Graves, of Hebron, Miss., who was chosen to represent America's girls between the ages of 12 and 20 at an International Conference of youth in Paris.
Marilyn, whose home is a 260-acre corn, cotton and beef producing farm, was chosen as an "all-round American girl" on the strength of her qualifications as a homemaker and community leader. This is not the first time national recognition has come her way. She already has been named Miss Young America in 4H for her work with that group, and has traveled for them throughout the country, giving 230 speeches and appearing on TV and radio programs.
Aim of the informal conference was to get young people from all over the world together on a friendly basis to exchange information and opinions.
Also attending the conference were 20 French girls and delegates from 19 other countries, among them Great Britain, Germany, Japan, Israel, Egypt, Sweden, Holland, Belgium and the Cameroons.
Their Parisian assignments included meeting Rene Coty, President of the Republic, and the mayor of Paris, and their studies of French life took them from art galleries to farms, and from museums to the homes of ordinary French families.
Discussions between the delegates ranged from politics, economics, national traditions and customs to lipstick and dating.
Marilyn found herself the object of the majority of questions, as the girls had an overwhelming interest in America. Most of their knowledge had been acquired from American movies, and they had some strange illusions which Marilyn was quick to dispel. She was asked such questions as: "Are all American buildings skyscrapers?" "Is all the country industrial?" "Are there any poor people?"
All of them expressed a desire to visit America, and several of them had active plans to do so.
Many were surprised to learn that she came from a farm. Her good clothes (which she makes herself), her dress sense and her education told them that she came from a reasonably wealthy family — yet in their countries they were known as "country girls."

Beauty At Home

Q. How can I mix myself a henna shampoo at home?
A. Dissolve three teaspoons of powdered henna and 1/2-teaspoon of ordinary powdered borax in a quart of water. Strain through fresh muslin and add four ounces of shaved castile soap. Put this into an old saucepan and allow to simmer over a slow fire until all soap is melted. Stir well, then set aside to cool.
Q. What are the three important things to check when applying lipstick?
A. (1) That you have made the mouth symmetrical, with the line well-defined and unsmudged. (2) That due consideration in the makeup of the mouth has been given to your face-type. (3) That there is no surplus lip rouge left to leave an annoying stain on your coffee cup — or on "his" clean white collar.
Q. How can I make my rather thin eyebrows appear thicker and more luxuriant?
A. Try tracing a dark line, with your pencil, along the lash edges, and brushing a little mascara on the lashes.
Q. How can straw hats be cleaned at home?
A. With a paste of lemon juice and powdered sulphur applied with a toothbrush. Rub the paste in and dry in the sun or wind.
Q. How should one's powder shade be adapted to the size of one's face?
A. On the very large face, wear powder about two shades darker than the skin tone. On the very small or thin face, wear as light a powder as your skin will take.
Q. Is there a beauty mask that will help bleach facial freckles?
A. Some success has been claimed for this one: Mix the white of an egg and the juice of a lemon, add a teaspoon of almond meal or oatmeal to make a thin paste, apply this on the freckled area, and let dry. Then rinse off with warm water.
Q. What is the difference in the use of cream or liquid rouge and dry rouge?
A. Cream (or liquid) rouge is always applied before powdering. Dry rouge is used only after, or on top of, face powder.

Summertime Menus Feature Hamburgers, Fish, Cold Soup

What makes a summertime menu a success?

Mother says it's ease of preparation; father says it's taste; junior says it's hamburgers and teenage sister, diet conscious, likes salads.

Consequently these menu suggestions, from Cecily Brownstone, of the Associated Press, will fit all requirements. Hereford food stores carry all the ingredients to make them hurry-up affairs; and the menus are devised to take care of such can-opening foods as instant mashed potatoes, prepared onion soup mix, coldcuts, quick frozen fish, etc.

But to keep them from being ordinary, run-of-the-mill foods, the menus utilize brand new taste treats: icy-cold soup, for instance, and layered hamburgers.

For Dieting-Dolls, there is a jellied pineapple salad, and a Saturday supper that features honeydew melon for dessert.

But here are six menus to try, when deciding what-to-serve is worse than actually preparing it.

FAMILY SUPPER

New way to treat ground beef.

Onion-layered Hamburgers
Mashed Potatoes Spinach
Salad Bread Tray
Lime Pie Beverage

HAMBURGERS

Ingredients: 1/4 pound (1/2 cup) of butter or margarine, 1 package (1 1/2 ounces) prepared onion soup mix, 1 pound ground chuck beef.

Method: Have butter soft enough to cream; mix thoroughly with dry onion soup mix; chill. At serving time, make eight thin patties of ground beef; put 1 1/2 tablespoons of the butter mixture on the centers of 4 of the patties; top with remaining patties; work edges together well with fingers to seal. Brown hamburgers in a little butter or margarine in a heavy skillet and cook to desired doneness. Remove patties from skillet. Add a little water to drippings in skillet; stir well and heat; pour over hamburgers. Makes 4 servings. Store remaining butter-onion mixture in a covered jar in the refrigerator for use another time.

FAMILY LUNCH

This jellied salad is chock full of pineapple.

Smoked Tongue Sandwiches

Jellied Pineapple Salad

Cake Squares Beverage

JELLIED PINEAPPLE SALAD

Ingredients: 1/2 cup cold water, 1 envelope unflavored gelatin, 1 cup very hot water, 1/4 cup sugar, 1/4 cup lemon juice, 1/4 teaspoon salt, 1/2 cup thinly sliced well-drained canned pineapple chunks, 1/2 cup finely grated carrot, 1/4 cup finely diced green pepper, lettuce, mayonnaise.

Method: Put cold water in a medium-sized mixing bowl; sprinkle gelatin over surface of water and allow to soften. Add very hot water; stir until gelatin dissolves. Add sugar; stir until sugar dissolves. Stir in lemon juice and salt. Chill, stirring occasionally, until mixture begins to thicken. Fold in pineapple, carrot and green pepper until well distributed. Turn into individual molds or into a 7-inch square cake pan. Chill until set. Turn out of molds; if square pan is used, cut into portions and remove with wide spatula. Serve on lettuce with mayonnaise. Makes 6 servings.

PICNIC SUPPER

Hearty sandwiches for outdoor eating.

Special Liverwurst Sandwiches

Deviled Eggs Whole Tomatoes Fruit Cookies

Beverage SPECIAL LIVERWURST SANDWICHES

Ingredients: 1/2 pound liverwurst, 1/4 cup catchup, 1/4 cup finely diced celery, 1/4 cup finely diced green pepper, 2 tablespoons finely grated onion (pulp and juice), salt, pepper, 12 slices bread.

Method: Mash liverwurst; slowly stir in catchup. Mix carrot, celery, green pepper and onion together. Add to liverwurst-catchup mixture, stirring well. Stir in salt and pepper to taste. Make sandwiches of liverwurst mixture and bread.

FRIDAY FARE

Quick and delicious cold soup.

Creamy Chilled Clam Chowder

Crisp Crackers

Chef's Salad Beverage

CREAMY CHILLED CLAM CHOWDER

Ingredients: 1 can (15 ounces) New England-style condensed clam chowder, 1/4 cups light cream, 1 can (7 ounces) minced sea clams, minced chives.

Method: Turn clam chowder, cream and minced clams (including liquid in can) into a saucepan. Heat, stirring constantly, until blended; do not boil. Chill in covered container. Serve with minced chives. Makes 4 servings.

SATURDAY SUPPER

Scallops and Mushrooms on Toast

Cooked Vegetable Salad

Honeydew Melon with Lemon Wedges Beverage

SCALLOPS AND MUSHROOMS

Ingredients: 1 package (10 ounces) quick-frozen sea scallops (to be cleaned but not cooked), 1/2 pound (6 medium-sized) mushrooms, 3 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 cup milk, 1/4 teaspoon onion powder, 1/4 teaspoon of salt, pepper.

Method: Defrost scallops according to package directions; dry on paper towel. Quarter large scallops and cut other scallops to matching size. Wash and drain the mushrooms; do not peel or detach caps from stems; slice thin lengthwise. Melt 2 tablespoons of the butter in 10-inch skillet; add sliced mushrooms; cook and stir rapidly for several minutes so the mushrooms absorb butter and no juices collect in pan. Add remaining tablespoon of butter and the cut scallops; cook and stir over moderate heat for a few minutes—just until scallops are almost cooked through; do not overcook; and there should be no liquid in pan. powder, salt and pepper to taste; return to moderately low heat. Cook and stir constantly until the sauce is bubbly and thickened; do not overcook or scallops will toughen. Refrigerate for several hours or overnight to develop flavor. Re-heat in double boiler over sim-

SUNDAY DINNER

Delicious dessert that is sure to turn into a standby.

Fried Chicken with Gravy
Mashed Potatoes Succotash
Salad Biscuits
Lemon Freeze Beverage

LEMON FREEZE

Ingredients: 1 cup light cream, 1/4 cup lemon juice, 1/2 cup sugar, 3 eggs (separated).

Method: Pour cream into freezing tray of refrigerator; chill until thin layer freezes at bottom. Mix cream and 2 tablespoons of the lemon juice in a chilled bowl; whip until stiff; beat in 2 tablespoons of the sugar. With clean beater, beat egg whites until stiff enough to form peaks; beat in remaining sugar gradually; continue beating until very stiff. Beat egg yolks until pale colored; gradually beat in remaining lemon juice. Fold egg-yolk mixture into beaten egg whites, then into whipped cream. Pour into freezing tray. Freeze with control set at coldest setting. Makes 6 servings.

Two ferry boats now operate between Key West, Fla., and Cuba. They can carry several hundred passengers, about 100 automobiles, and if needed, some railroad cars.

ASSIGNED TO NEWPORT

Lenard Smith, EMF, United States Navy, left Sunday after spending two weeks here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. O. G. Smith. He is now assigned to duty aboard the USS Wagner at Newport, R. I. His visit here was at the termination of his basic training when he completed the prescribed course of study at the U.S. Naval School in San Diego, Calif.

East Outlasts West, 14-12, In All-Star Tilt

The East outlasted the West in a thrilling, free-scoring battle to win a hard-earned 14-12 victory in the annual Hereford Softball League All-Star classic, played at Veterans' Memorial Park field on Sunday afternoon.

Displaying power at the plate, the East team jumped off to a 2-0 lead in the first inning. Gil Carlyle started on the mound for the West, allowing two runs in the initial frame. Setting the East down with no tallies in the second, Carlyle was pounded solidly in the top of the third, giving up four runs before Tommy Albracht took over the hurling duty for the West with two away.

Ken Walterscheid started at the pitcher's post for the East, holding the West runless for the first two stanzas. The West bombarded Walterscheid for two runs in the third and four in the fourth. Buddy Pickens relieved Walterscheid in the fifth, baffling the West batsmen for no hits and runs.

Playing "catch-up" ball for nine innings, the West all-stars could never quite muster the needed batting strength to tie or overtake the East. The closest the West came was in the seventh inning when Duane Baize's aggregation scored four big runs to narrow the margin, 12-13.

Albracht was touched for four East runs in the fourth but held the Easterners scoreless in the fifth and sixth frames. In the seventh canto the East came to life and tallied three more runs to increase their lead, 13-8.

With one away in the bottom of the seventh, the West batters powered Pickens for four runs before starter Ken Walterscheid was hailed back in from right field to resume the mound chores for the East. Walterscheid snuffed out the West rally, preserving a 13-12 East lead.

Both teams went scoreless in the eighth inning. Taking no chances on letting victory slip from their grasp, the East added an insurance run in the top of the ninth frame.

With two away in the last of the final stanza, the West managed to get runners on second and third bases. The threat was quelled when Tommy Albracht made the final out of the game.

LOOKING AHEAD

Better Season Seen In SWC Football

By HAROLD V. RATLIFF
Associated Press Sports Editor

More than usual are the losses through ineptness on Southwest Conference football squads this year but few of them appear to be vital, so prospects are bright for one of the better campaigns next fall.

Baylor was hurt most through loss of two top guards — Willie Froebel and Gilbert Pelton. It left the Bears mighty thin in experienced men at the positions. But Baylor has 24 lettermen, including four from previous years, and hopes to start this campaign with everybody sound, particularly quarterback Doyle Traylor, who missed one season and part of another because of injuries. The loss of Traylor hurt because the offensive plans had been built around him in each instance.

Texas Christian can see some ominous signs. Everybody is going to pick the Horned Frogs to win the championship, justifiably so, and TCU can just remember what happened to the last team that got such a high pre-season rating. Texas in 1954 was the most overwhelming choice in conference history but wound up winning 4, losing 5 and tying 1. It's happened like that a lot of times although the favorite wasn't as pronounced.

Of course Texas Christian has everything it takes to have one of its finest teams. Even its coaches aren't trying to play the Frogs down. The coaches realize it's no use and the best thing to do is to tell the team it is supposed to win and to not let them down.

Texas in 1954 had disciplinary trouble. Also, the team didn't have enough desire. Just like in everything else, it's the hungriest team that usually wins — that is, the team that wants to win the most. A team that already has had prosperity often doesn't get up high.

Which is the hungriest team in the conference? It just might be Baylor, which hasn't won a championship in 32 years. And Baylor has the best looking prospects since 1951. In that year, it is to be recalled, Baylor had the best team in the conference but ran into TCU on a day when the Frogs were hungry and when about everything they tried clicked.

TCU has 21 1955 lettermen and four lettermen from 1954, including its great fullback of that year, Buddy Dike. But so good is the material at TCU that Dike will have a tough time making the ball club. TCU lost two men through scholastic ineptness but they were sophomores-to-be and neither was counted upon to play much this fall anyway.

Texas A&M, a few wails from Aggie land to the contrary, should have a better team than it had last season. The Aggies, however, may not do as well. They won't be slipping up on anybody this time and besides the opposition generally looks stronger. There are 21 lettermen at A&M. The Aggies lost one fine back, Bill Denny, but had plenty of backs to begin with. The Aggies fear a weakness at end, discovered in late season by the opposition, will continue. Bear Bryant also says he needs a quarterback.

Texas looks like the team for the big shots to be worried about. There are only 15 lettermen but Texas still has potentially one of the best offenses in the country, only more so through acquisition of talented passer, Vince Matthews, and the Longhorns ought to have a much stronger defense. Texas will be rated about fourth but it could win the title and occasion no great surprise. Look for the Longhorns to give Oklahoma a better fight than usual. They just might topple the big Red.

Arkansas has 21 lettermen and a lot of talent. This is another team for the top-ranked outfits to give serious thought. The big trouble is that Arkansas meets Texas Christian in the first conference game of the season and could be knocked out before the championship race has started to shape up.

Rice and Southern Methodist do not look capable of beating anybody much but they at least don't have to bear the cross of favoritism, and anything they may accomplish will be so much velvet.

"CAN'T REACH IT!"—Jim Curtisinger, Jr. Odd Fellows, leaps high in the air in an attempt to grab an overthrow in the fourth inning of play in the softball All-Star game. The ball went wild, allowing G. C. Merritt, Jr. Odd Fellows, to reach first safely. The East won over the West, 14-12. (Staff Photo)

Outdoor Wrestling Slated For Saturday

Open-air wrestling will be unreeled in Hereford Saturday night, according to Hereford Wrestling promoter Harold Wester. The outdoor affair will be held at the Whiteface football stadium, located just north of the Hereford High School.

Dub Reeves met with Hereford School board officials this week and obtained permission to use the football field for Saturday night's wrestling events. Reeves reported, "Weather permitting, we will continue to hold our wrestling at the football stadium until Hereford's proposed 'coliseum' is built." In the event of inclement weather on Saturday, the wrestling will be cancelled. Reeves says, "We will wrestle as long as it is not raining at mat time." Starting time will be 9 p.m. As far as is known, this will be the first outdoor wrestling ever conducted in Hereford.

Frankie Murdock will tangle with Tommy Phelps in the first event, a one-fall contest. In the second event two midget wrestlers, Tiny Tim and Tom Thumb, will grapple in a one-fall battle. A tag-team match is carded between a team composed of Murdock and Tiny Tim versus Phelps and Tom Thumb.

Dust, Rain Force Postponement Of Card, Bum Contest

A cold front bringing dust and rain forced postponement of the Little League game between the Cardinals and Dodgers on Monday night. Leading by a margin of 2-0, the Dodgers had the bases loaded when the game was called in the top of the second inning. The contest will be replayed later in the season. Managers of the Little League teams are expected to meet sometime soon to schedule make-up games which have been called off because of bad weather.

Swimming Parties Become Popular At Hereford Pool

Jiggs Hudson, manager of the Hereford Swimming Pool, reports that the number of enrollees for the second season of summer swimming classes dropped a little below that of the first half.

According to Hudson, 10 students signed up for the Senior Life Saving course, 13 in the intermediate division and 160 children took their first swimming strokes as beginners. Two instructors are being employed to teach the beginning classes.

Private swimming parties have rapidly become popular with seven being held thus far and three more on the pool's agenda. This number is a slight increase compared to last year at the same time.

Chris Van-Cuyk, former Dodger southpaw, is pitching for Chattanooga, Tenn., in the Southern Assn. Last year he had an 8-8 record for Oakland, Calif.

The antique cup which each year goes to the owner of the horse winning Delaware Park's $50,000 Oaks was made in England in 1829. Heavyweight Harold Carter of Linden, N. J., won 26 of 27 bouts as an amateur, losing only to Floyd Patterson in the Eastern Golden Gloves finals.

Nashua became the world's leading money-winning horse when he scored in the Camden Handicap on May 13.

Michigan State's explosive half-back pair of Clarence Peaks and Walt Kowalezyk averaged nearly 8 yards per carry during 1955.

Willie Mays of the Giants drew 79 walks in 1955. Thirteen were intentional.

SPEAKING OF SPORTS

By GIL CARLYLE

Retired heavyweight king Rocky Marciano vows that his retirement is for good. Marciano's stunning announcement of abdication came on April 27th of this year. Hundreds of boxing fans were puzzled over the champ's decision to relinquish his crown.

Many considered the Rock's retirement good for boxing. Others thought it was bad. Some of the doubters claimed that Marciano's retirement was forced upon him, leaving the path clear for the International Boxing Club to wipe clean its slate before the Federal courts.

Rocky gave more convincing reasons for his decision to give up boxing. At the age of 33, he no longer enjoyed the rigid training which a champion boxer must obey to the second. Marciano's wife had been after her husband to quit the fight business for several months. And also, Rocky declared that there was no one else to beat.

Whatever the reason, a great boxing champion is retired. Skeptics believe that Marciano will someday return to the ring. Not since Gene Tunney retired for keeps has a heavyweight fighter stayed in retirement. Some of the all-time great heavyweights—Jim Jeffries, John L. Sullivan, Jim Corbett and Joe Louis—retired but were lured back into the ring.

Many fistie enthusiasts were disappointed because there were no immediate, promising replacements for the heavyweight throne. Archie Moore was considered the top challenger but Marciano soundly whipped Moore in the champ's last title outing. A darkhorse contender, Floyd Patterson has since proven himself in beating Tommy "Hurricane" Jackson. Prospects are bright that Moore and Patterson will go for the vacated heavyweight title in a fight sometime in September.

After the Moore-Patterson bout, what happens? Should Patterson beat Moore, possibilities would be that an ensuing title match between Patterson and the retired Marciano would attract the largest gate in the history of boxing.

The question is, "Would the memory of cheering crowds, bright lights and big money be alluring enough to draw Marciano out of retirement?" It has been reported that Marciano is not a wealthy man. Despite the skepticism of those who think that Rocky will fight again, the Brockton "block" profoundly says that "he won't be back." What do you think?

IN RETURN BOUT

Myers' Revenge Plot Fails, Phelps Wins

Sonny Myers came to the Hereford Wrestling Arena on Saturday night with only one thing on his mind—revenge. The week before, Myers lost an unpopular decision to Tommy Phelps in a best two out of three falls match. In the previous contest, Phelps won a third and deciding fall over Myers while pushing Myers to the canvas and holding on to the ring rope for support.

Following the debated third fall, Myers told Hereford wrestling promoter Harold Wester that he would not return to the Hereford arena unless he could get a rematch with Phelps. The return-bout was arranged.

Myers probably wishes he hadn't been so eager. He left Hereford a mighty displeased person again. Myers was determined to take the fight and bite out of Phelps in the return match. After battling for nearly the full one-hour time limit, Phelps bounced Myers around the ring until the revenge-seeker was dizzy.

Winning the first fall, Myers evidently thought he was going to get his revenge. Phelps had other thoughts. He needed to gain the second fall. With about seven minutes remaining in the match, Phelps downed Myers for the third and final fall. Surprisingly enough, the fans enjoyed Phelps' victory immensely. Myers has always been the crowd-favorite in other matches.

In the second main event of the night, Babe Zaharias won handily over Gene LeBell. A masterful, straight falls.

MYERS, PHELPS BATTLE—Sonny Myers, right, tangles with Tommy Phelps in a return bout at the Hereford Wrestling Arena on Saturday night. Phelps won the match, spoiling Myers' attempt for revenge.

Palmetto Poloists Remain Unbeaten

Hereford's Palmetto Polo team retained their unbeaten record on Saturday night, riding over a well-mounted Fritch team, 12-7. The Hereford riders now have four consecutive wins and no losses.

As a result of Saturday night's victory, the Palmetto team is first in district competition. Fritch, Dalhart and Hooker, Okla., are the other three teams in Hereford's conference.

Hereford will have an open date on Saturday but arrangements are being made to try to bring a Lubbock team here for a practice game.

Next district play for the undefeated Hereford team will be against Hooker, Okla., on July 29. The teams will meet on a neutral field at Dalhart.

Westers Return From Trout Trip

Harold Wester turned sportsman last week, journeying to the cool, mountain resort at Lake City, Colo. He and his wife, Stella, returned to Hereford Monday after seven restful days of trout fishing. "Caught so many fish," said Wester, "It wasn't even funny." Lake City is a popular fishing haven for many Hereford fishermen. The mountain retreat is located southeast of Gunnison, Colo.

Wester said, "After I caught my limit, I helped my wife catch her share." The first day in the mountains, the Wester couple were issued a fishing license for 4 p.m. They began casting at five minutes past four and by 5:30, both had caught their limit for the day. "Real lucky," Wester said with a grin.

A BATH?
CHARLESTON, W.Va. — A pair of sudden-looking characters were wondering where they could get a free cup of coffee. One asked:

"Why don't we try Ken Hager's place — you know, Soul's Harbor Mission?"

The other replied: "Haven't you heard? They will make you take a bath every night before you go to bed."

Yank's Quell Rally, Top Giants

Staving off a desperate, last-inning rally, the Yankees swept to a 10-6 victory over the Giants on Tuesday night. Battling all the way, the Giants scored four runs in the last of the fifth before they were retired with the bases loaded. The Bombers unreeling their big frame in the fourth, scoring seven markers before the side was set down.

Leading off for the Yankees in the first inning, John Buck walked and scored when Butch Hoff singled down the right field line. Ronnie Greenway went down swinging for the first Yankee out. Then Danny McDowell walked to place runners on first and third. S. D. Baize and Van Smith looked at third called strikes, ending the Yankee first stanza.

Yankee starter Drew Kershner shut the door in the Giants face in the bottom of the first. Kershner sent three strikes by the first two Giant batsmen, Ronnie Duncan and Randy Dowell. Grounding out to first base, Larry Hair made the third out.

Jay Boynton fled to right field for the first Yankee out in the second canto. Giant starting hurler Ken Loerwald issued a free pass to Wayne Hastings and then got Drew Kershner on a slow bouncer to first. John Buck and Butch Hoff followed with free trips to jam the sacks. Loerwald settled down on the Giant mound and struck out Ronnie Greenway, leaving the Bomber runners stranded.

Falling to count in the second, the Giants sent only four batters to the box. Eugene Jennings boomed a towering fly ball to left field, Yank left fielder Ronnie Greenway grabbing the ball for an out. Mike Kelly whiffed and David Dowell walked. Giant catcher Don Shepard popped up to shortstop for the third out.

Giant pitcher Ken Loerwald had difficulty hitting the plate in the top of the third stanza, allowing two Yankee runs on a trio of walks and a single by Danny McDowell. Loerwald finally got Yankee second-sacker John Buck to line to shortstop to end the Bomber frame.

Fighting back in the last half of the third inning, the Giants tallied two runs on three walks and passed balls. Dwight McGee and Ken Loerwald score the Giant runs on passed balls after reaching base on free tickets.

Yankee big guns sounded in the top of the fourth as seven Bomber tallies crossed the plate before the frame was over. The seven runs came as a result of three walks and a trio of Yankee one-base hits by Dickie Slaughter, Drew Kershner and Butch Hoff.

In the last of the fourth, Giant runners filled the sacks with two away. Butch Hoff who relieved Kershner on the Yankee mound in the third quelled the Giant threat, striking out Randy Dowell to end the fourth inning.

David Dowell, second Giant pitcher of the game, went to work on the Giant pitching hill in the top of the fifth, giving up a single to Danny McDowell and a free pass to S. D. Baize. Van Smith stepped to the plate and propelled a sharp liner toward first base, Larry Hair snaring the drive and stepping on first to double Baize for the second out. Jay Boynton struck out to terminate the Yankee half of the fifth.

Four runs crossed the Giant pay-off post in the last of the fifth as a result of five walks and a one-base blow by Dwight McGee. After the Giants scored two runs, they still had runners at second and third. Yankee manager Joe Smith had pitcher Butch Hoff to intentionally walk Ken Loerwald to fill the bases, giving the Yankees a play at any base for the needed third out.

Ronnie Duncan was hit by a pitched ball, forcing in David Dowell with the fifth Giant run. Then with the bases still full, Randy Dowell walked, forcing in Dwight McGee with the Giant's sixth tally. With two away Larry Hair sent a ground ball to second, Yankee second baseman John Buck scooped

Local People Win Top Prizes In Literary Event

Two Hereford women, members of Panhandle Pen Women, received top place awards Tuesday when the group held its regular meeting at Amarillo County Club. Submitting stories on regional-type articles which were judged by a magazine editor, Bessie Patterson won first place for her story on Byrle Elliston entitled "Plains Booster." Roberta Campbell was third with a story on Larson's Lamb Feeding.

Membership in the organization is composed of women writers from Kansas, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Texas. Contests are held each quarter, with different types of articles submitted in each event. Both stories were gold to "Southwestern Crop and Stock" and will be printed in forthcoming issues.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat McCullough of Lubbock spent the weekend here with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. C. McCracken. Mr. McCullough is a student at Texas Technological College.

Rafael Cueto, father of nine children, was presented with a prize as the millionth visitor recently to the International Fair in the Dominican Republic. He was awarded a single seat motorcycle.

Fire Insurance Survey Crews Have To Have Wanderlust

After a weary month spent exploring their work, inspecting buildings, and compiling reports, the five members of the Fire Insurance Survey crews are folding their tents like Arabs and silently slipping away, so to speak.

From here, these nomadic individuals will go to Dalhart, where they will again set up shop and again begin their painstaking inspections.

Why would five young men, two of them married and one of them a father, spend their time chasing from town to town, spending a month or so in each place, carting their family with them?

Mainly because the State of Texas publishes a book of maximum specified fire insurance rates for each town. This book lists the address, occupant, type of occupancy and maximum specified fire insurance rate of each school, public building or business, in and adjoining that town or city. The inspectors report on each building visited and send that report into Austin headquarters where the compilation is completed.

No Bearing on Keyrates

This survey has no bearing on the "keyrate" insurance of a town but the book is distributed by the insurance commission to each agent and company who sends in a request. It is used as a basis for fire insurance policies, etc.

And, in order that such information be made available, somebody has to do the leg work.

Those somebody are George Finlay, Austin, crew chief; Tom Moore, Temple; Joel Read, Houston; Lamar Sauls, Laurel, Miss.; and Earl Wagner, a transplanted Ohioan, who now claims Austin as his home. Presently they are the only such crew serving the entire state.

However, when they came to Hereford about June 17, there were three active crews working throughout Texas. Because the boys on the crews get such excellent experience, however, insurance companies are forever raiding them and carting crew members off to work for private businesses.

Herefordites Cooperative

But the boys, on the crew, all of them in their early twenties, say that the job has its advantages. And they are lavish in praise of Herefordites, whom they claim were most cooperative.

"We certainly want to express our appreciation for the cooperation which we have received from everybody in town," Finlay said. "Were Herefordites friendly, he was asked?

"Well, sure, you know West Texas," he replied.

Offices at City Hall

Setting up office at the City Hall about the middle of June, the crew started out surveying buildings. First of all they requested permission of the occupant, explaining their project, and asking any questions about the building which might be necessary.

"However, when you get experienced at this you can just look around; a glance tells you what you want to know," Finlay said. What they check for is the type of construction, the nature of occupancy, any fire hazards, and any fire protection equipment installed such as extinguishers, sprinkler systems, etc.

All businesses, school and public buildings with the exception of some churches, which, because of location or type of construction, are excluded from the survey, are included.

The general rule is to include all such buildings within the city limits and within about a two or three mile radius of the city limits. The farthest they went beyond the city limits here was to the alfalfa dehydration plant.

No residences are inspected.

First Since 1937

This is the first time since 1937 that such a survey has been conducted here in Hereford. Ideally, it should be re-checked every five to 10 years, and there was a time, during the depression, when there was enough manpower to blanket the state and re-check towns about that often. Now, however, the picture is different.

While the boys were in Hereford, they split during the latter weeks, and two of them went up to Vega to conduct the survey there. Now, all the work is completed and it's on to Dalhart for the wandering minstrel type crew.

Paper Sees Potato Prices from Chip Makers Viewpoint

While Hereford area potato growers are delighted with the all-time high price of spuds, and a continuing good market, the Wall Street Journal points out that everybody isn't as pleased with the price picture.

According to the paper: POTATO CHIPPERS take a beating from the acute spud shortage. Loss Money on Chips

Many say they lose money on every bag of chips packaged. Scarcity of the tubers has pushed the price of California potatoes to around $10 a sack in Chicago last week. That's nearly three times the $3.50 price of a year ago.

Dealers see no relief in sight before next fall when big crops from Idaho, Maine, Long Island, and many other areas will hit the market.

Consumption Up

While dinner table eating of potatoes has dropped in recent years—from 125 pounds per person in 1947 to 100 pounds yearly now—chip munching has mounted. Chippers used 40 million pounds of potatoes last year. That was eight million pounds more than in 1954.

Average yearly consumption of chips per capita stands today at 3.7 pounds. But there is room for improvement. Detroiters eat seven pounds per person yearly, chip men claim.

Hereford To Have New City Directory

Work has recently been started on compiling a city directory, according to A. W. Ruff, representative of the J. W. Winter Publication House of Amarillo. The last directory for the City of Hereford was compiled in 1954.

Each directory when completed will contain the family name, the wife's name, husband's first name the names of children under 16, occupation and firm, city address, mailing address and telephone number of every resident in Deaf Smith County. The listings will be alphabetically by name and numerically by telephone numbers, street, and address.

The Rebekahs organization will begin working the residential sections of Hereford next week.

Mr. Ruff, who is in charge of the directory work, reports that "the Hereford businessmen have been very cooperative" in aiding him to compile the directory. When the work is finished, every resident of Deaf Smith County will receive a classified section from the directory, free of charge.

The book may be used for business references, and is handy when trying to locate a person in an emergency. Cost will be $25.

Willing Workers Study Posture

"Our Posture" was the subject of the program held by the Willing Workers 4-H Club last Tuesday, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. The club held a work-shop in the home of Mrs. Earl Plank.

The girls attending the meeting were told by Mrs. Plank to hold up your head, push out chest, push in stomach, and to put the feet in front of each other.

Two new members joined the Willing Workers Club. They are Alva Du Buttrill and Lu Ann Higgins. Visitors present were Earlene Plank and Mrs. Pete Carmichael, Ann Gentry, Janis Higgins, Dolores Brumman, Caroline Brumley, Dorothy Reznik, Linda Lemons, Shari Jo Carmichael, Helen Davis were present for the meeting, along with Mrs. Earl Plank, leader.

Jones Injured in Butane Fire While Working Around Tractor

By VERADELLE ANDREWS
Woodrow Jones was injured Saturday morning by a butane fire which started as he was working around his tractor and a butane tank. His face and hands received burns as he tried to turn off the butane tank. Mr. Jones was blown from his tractor when the fire started, and the fire destroyed the tractor seat and other parts of the machine. He went to the doctor, but then returned to his home. He is recovering there, but the wind and sun are painful when they strike the seared portion of his body.

Baptismal services were held on Wednesday evening at the Summerfield Baptist Church. Those baptised were Mrs. John David Owen, Barbara Roberts and Joyce Martin.

T. L. Sparkman Sr., was honored Sunday with a dinner in the Sparkman home. The occasion was to celebrate Mr. Sparkman's birthday on July 27. His dad and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Sparkman of Amarillo were present. Others there were Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Sparkman Jr., Tommy, Bonnie and Darlene, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Andrews, Glenn, Veradelle, Frances and Joe, Mr. and Mrs. Clark Andrews and Rocky and George Zetsche. In the afternoon, pictures were made of the various groups there and five generations present.

Play Volley Ball
The young people played volleyball Friday night at Frio. The group really enjoyed it as Darold and Eugene Baldwin had scraped the weeds from the court and made a nice place for playing volleyball. Those present were Godfrey Baldwin, Norma Battles, Olgaene Baldwin, Frances Andrews, George Zetsche, Glenn Andrews, Darold Baldwin, Shirley DeLozier, Robert Baldwin, Joe Andrews, Virginia Cox, Veradelle Andrews, Francis Smith, and Richard Price. Weldon Stephan came later as he and the other members of the Young Married People's Classes were visiting people of the community on Friday evening.

Mrs. Clellis Jones, sister of Mrs. E. B. Berryman, and Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Jones all of Amarillo visited Sunday in the E. B. Berryman home.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Roberts, Barbara, Janice, Billy and Charles went to Wellington Saturday evening to visit with their son, Jerry and Glen Roberts' parents, the O. E. Roberts. Jerry has been with his grandparents this summer as his grandfather lost his hand and needs the assistance of Jerry in his work. Jerry remained at Wellington and the Glen Roberts returned to their home Sunday.

Sunday Dinner Guests
Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Stephan and Rhonda were Sunday dinner guests in the home of Weldon's parents, the Moody Stephens.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Vinson, Carletta, Sammie and Ediana took dinner Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jeff Terrell, Kay Beth and Sandy.

Nice Rain
There was a nice rain Friday and Saturday night on the B. Sheward place just west of the old Bippus Ranchhouse. It measured better than an inch.

It is very dry here, we didn't receive any rain, and the grass is dying. W. D. Mount spent the weekend at home in Lubbock. He's a nephew of Mrs. Bruce Coleman and has been working for the Colemans all summer.

BETTY CROCKER'S Frosty Fruit Pie
Make 9-inch pie shell, using the STIR-N-ROLL Pie Shell recipe inside each package of Gold Medal Flour. Bring to a boil 1/4 cups crushed pineapple, orange juice or grape juice
Stir in until dissolved... 1 pkg. lemon-flavored gelatin dessert
Mix in 3/4 to 1 cup sugar (Depending on sweetness of fruit)
Cool until almost stiff
Whip until stiff 1 CUP CHILLED UNDILUTED CARNATION EVAPORATED MILK* with 1 tablespoon lemon juice
Pour on top of gelatin mixture. Beat in slowly with rotary beater or electric mixer. Pour into baked pie shell. Chill at least 1 hour. Remove from refrigerator 20 minutes before serving to take chill from crust.
*TO WHIP CARNATION, chill in refrigerator tray 15-20 minutes, or until soft ice crystals form around edges of tray. Whip 1 minute, add lemon juice and whip 2 minutes longer, or until very stiff.

Deaf Smith County Hospital

Citizens' Pride in Their $500,000 Investment Is Shown In Continuing Improvements

Few small cities in the Southwest can boast of a hospital as well equipped and staffed as can Hereford, home of Deaf Smith County Hospital. Begun in 1924 and dedicated the following year, the county-owned hospital has grown now until its value is about $500,000.

Recent donations and subscriptions have resulted in planning of a new $100,000 addition—a pediatrics wing which will add 25 beds to the building's present 36 bed and 10 bassinets capacity. The contract for the new wing will be let about Aug. 1, with construction to begin Aug. 17, to meet a completion deadline of April 17, 1957.

The last expansion of the building, addition of the medical and surgical wing to the original two-story building, was completed in 1949. That construction and previous building has been financed through bond issues.

Public support of the hospital program by county residents has given them one distinct advantage dwellers in most other "rural" counties. As explained by T. E. Seigler, hospital manager, "When some of our people need specialized surgery, doctors are frequently willing to come here rather than have the patients taken to hospitals in big, distant cities. They know that we have the facilities and the staff for most medical cases."

The hospital laboratory has the usual equipment found in an up-to-date hospital, plus one item seldom found in such a small facility—a spectrophotometer. This machine is of value in making specialized tests and is frequently used to analyze materials for other hospitals in this region. The Hereford hospital had a spectrophotometer before one was obtained by any Amarillo hospital.

On the staff to serve the community needs are six doctors and 34 nurses, specialists, "housekeeping" and supervisory personnel.

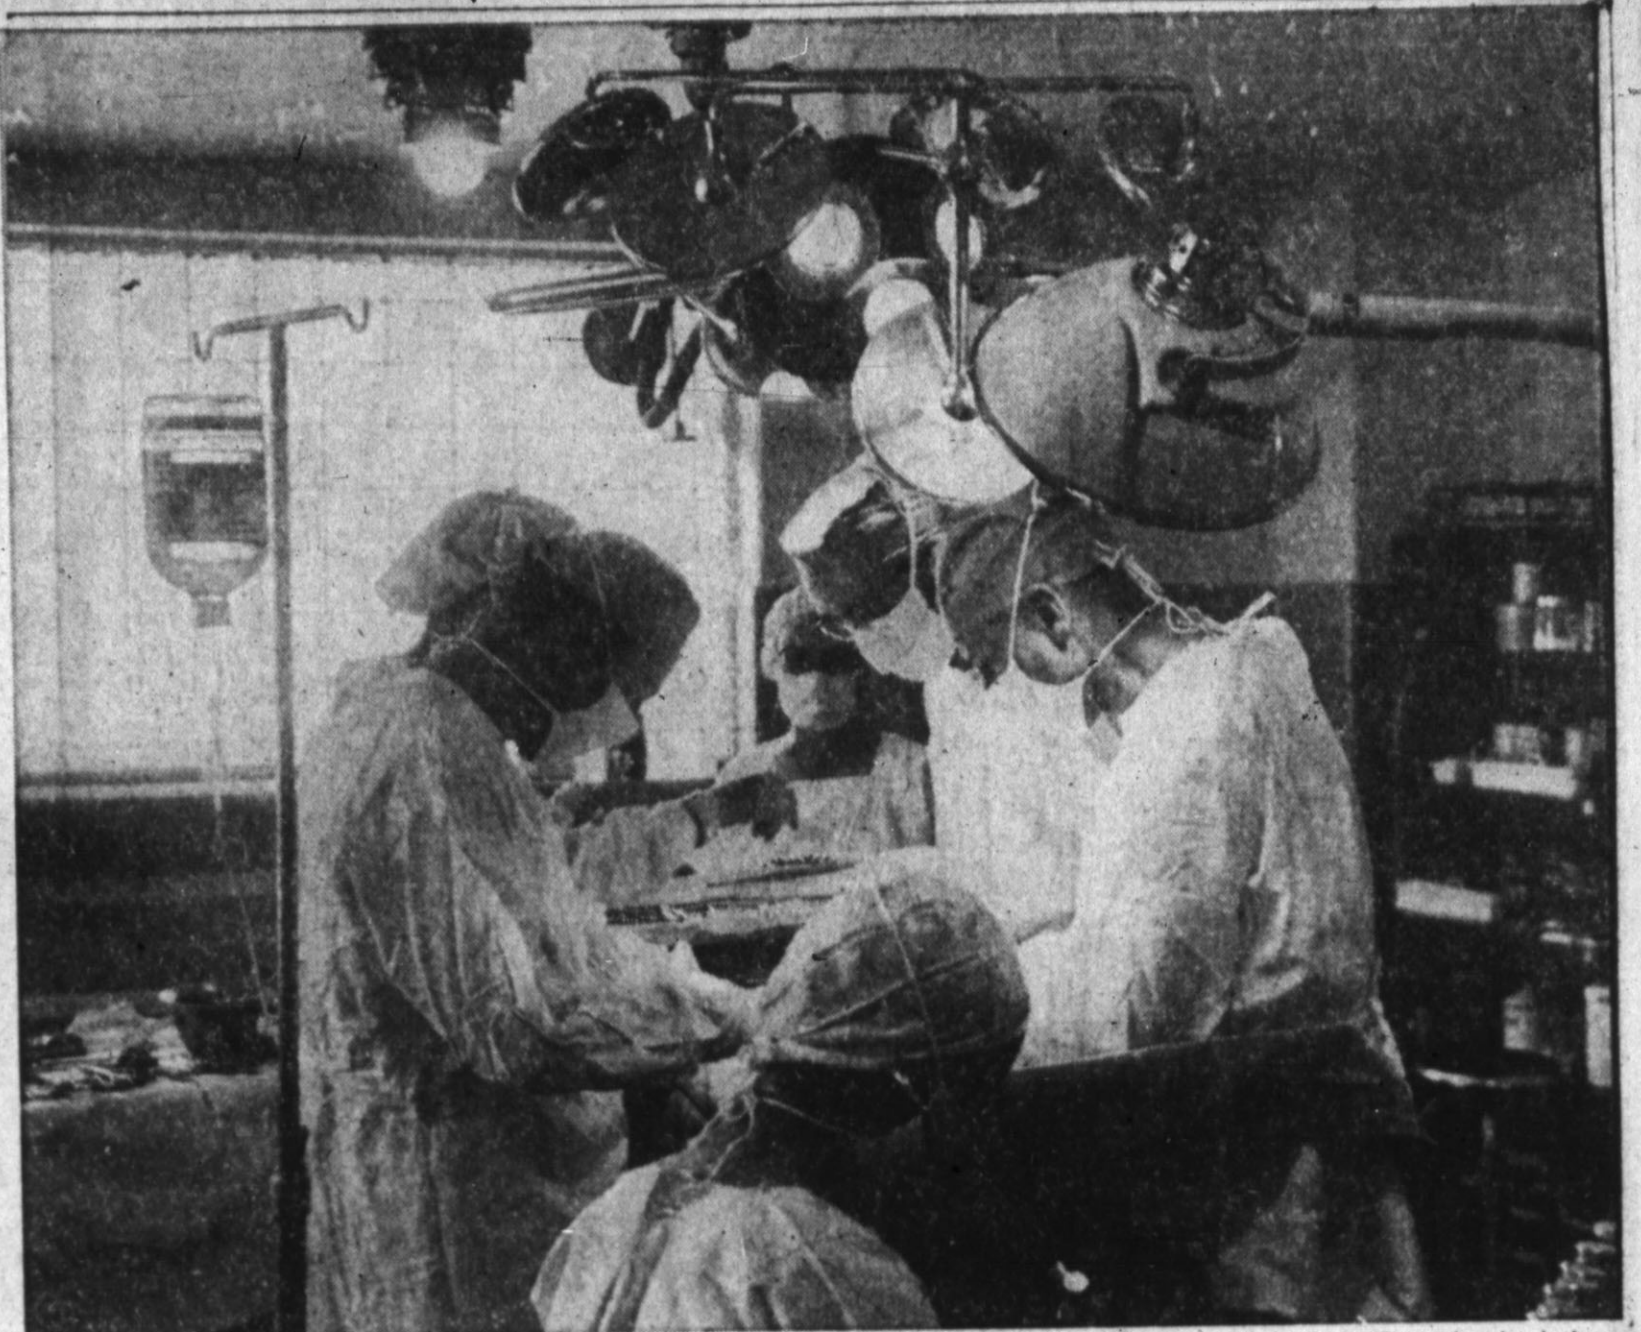

The annual bill for salaries, drugs, dressings, hospital supplies, maintenance and other costs necessary to the operation of the hospital runs to about $180,000.

Income this year is expected to be about $190,000. Operated as a non-profit facility, the $10,000 will not be regarded as surplus, but earmarked for purchase of equipment and other items needed to keep the hospital abreast of new developments in medicine and surgery, said Seigler.

Hospital policies and responsibility for its operation rests in a six man board appointed by the county Commissioners Court. Board members presently serving two year terms are Wayne Thomas, president; W. L. Davis Sr., vice president; Tom Robinson, secretary; and members Dr. A. T. Mims, Ansel McDowell and J. T. Gilbreath Jr.

Hereford One of Few Areas in Texas Without Water Rationing Problems

Hereford, thanks to the foresight of its people, has an adequate supply of water for this summer, according to city manager Dudley Bayne.

And that makes it one of the more fortunate areas of Texas. According to news service officials of the Texas Press Association, more and more Texans have less and less water. In its monthly report, the State Water Board listed gloomy details revealing that Texas reservoirs were down 17 percent and observation wells and springs were at all-time lows.

No Shortage Here
But Hereford has managed to evade the consequences of a water shortage. There has been no rationing of water, no watering your lawn on alternate days, or between the hours of 8 p.m. and 8 a.m. only, no other restriction on water conservation which have become a part of the residents' day down in more southern parts of the state.

"We have been low on water in the past," Bayne pointed out, "but we never did reach the emergency stage. Now with our new booster station and reservoir, we should have ample supplies, and when the water enlargement program is

Story Different Downstate
Downstate, however, the story has been different. Prolonged drought conditions have gripped eastern and central Texas in a situation that is critical from a municipal and industrial as well as agricultural point of view.

Specifically the reports show that: Storage in Trinity River basin lakes was at 27 percent of capacity in Red River lakes, 55 percent; in Lake Texoma, 51 percent.

Famous Comal Springs near New Braunfels ceased to flow for the first time in history.

Ground water levels, below average in almost all areas, hit record lows in four areas.

No general area of the state could claim normal rainfall. State-wide precipitation was 46 percent of normal.

launched a career that continued into the 1920s.

He made his own balloons and filled them with hot air by holding the balloon's mouth over a fire built in a trench. Stays from salt barrels were used for the fire because they did not make sparks.

Beneath the balloon, attached by a rope, hung a limp, open parachute and it was in a trapeze attached to the parachute strings that Gaines rode.

A small rope, attached to his wrist, went up through the center of the parachute to a cutting device which, when jerked, severed the rope to the balloon and dropped the man and parachute groundward. A sandbag on top of the balloon then overturned the balloon, letting the remaining hot air out, and the balloon fell earthward.

"I've landed on almost everything," he says. That includes the back of a horse hitched to a buggy standing in front of a church on Sunday morning.

One of Gaines' most spectacular feats was the shooting of fireworks from his aerial trapeze on a Fourth of July night.

basis now, and that is in El Paso," he said.

"In looking to the future, we are interested in improving the quality of instruction in all of our courses, and in working out an effective counselling and guidance program. It is very important to have skillful guidance for students on what courses they should take, on school problems and related aspects of their school life," he said.

He Had Atom-Age Thrills With Hot Air Says Aeronaut

LONDON, Ohio — The jet-age has its thrills, but none to cloud the memory of Milton E. Gaines, once the young man on a flying trapeze.

Gaines, now 80, likes to recall the days when he was better known as "Prof. M. E. Gaines, aeronaut," and a specialist in hot air balloon ascensions and parachuting.

In the gay 90s and early 1900s, he was the man who rode beneath the big bags sitting on a trapeze-like contraption, and then parachuted to earth for the pleasure of county fair crowds.

Gaines, in retirement now and in good health, made his first ascension at the age of 17 on May 29, 1893, in his home town. That

Met This Minimum
"We have been complying with this minimum for years," Cunningham pointed out, explaining that in meeting the standards of the Southern Association of high schools and secondary schools, Hereford schools have been a member of the association for years.

"Heretofore, however, we have had a health and education program that emphasized major athletics in season. We want to broaden that program to include formal, scheduled classes for all students, with an emphasis upon non-athletic competition, but minor sports and recreation which will carry over into adult life," Mr. Cunningham said.

Insofar as formal instruction was concerned, he felt that most study should go into the pros and cons of broadening a foreign language program.

Study Language Needs
"The faculty, staff and board members are interested in studying the needs of foreign language instruction in all classes," he said, pointing out that the new methods of teaching foreign language was to introduce it in the grades and teach it by the verbal method, with emphasis upon speaking of foreign language, rather than the classical methods with emphasis upon reading it.

"There is only one school system in the state so far, however, that offers Spanish on a 12-grade

HHS Curriculum Compares Favorably With Sister Schools

How does Hereford High School's Curriculum compare with that of other schools of similar size throughout Texas?

An answer to that question was partially forthcoming this week when Superintendent Fred J. Cunningham received a letter from the State Department of Education listing suggestions for curriculum offerings and recommendations for graduation requirements.

In both instances Hereford High School offered the courses suggested and required the courses recommended.

Suggests Curriculum
According to the suggestions received from Dr. J. W. Edgar, commissioner of education, the state committee thought schools should offer four units of English, two and a half of social studies (world and American history, government, economics, civics, etc.) four units of math (including algebra, geometry, general math), four units of laboratory science (general science, biology, chemistry, physics, etc.) foreign language and enough electives for alternatives.

It also recommended an adequate health and physical education program with a minimum of 120 minutes per week devoted to this course. HHS has all of these with the exception of the health and physical education requirements, a matter which is getting special attention in next year's curriculum, Cunningham reported.

The committee also recommended that the 16 units required for graduation should include nine and a half required subjects and six and a half elective courses. Required courses would cover three years of English, two and a half units of social studies, two years of math, two of laboratory science and at least three years of health and physical education meeting five days a week, for 120 minutes per week.

"We have been complying with this minimum for years," Cunningham pointed out, explaining that in meeting the standards of the Southern Association of high schools and secondary schools, Hereford schools have been a member of the association for years.

"Heretofore, however, we have had a health and education program that emphasized major athletics in season. NEIGHBORS

Today there are more modern homes that have septic tanks than ever before in the history of our nation. There has been no consideration given to the public for the treatment and care of septic tanks and grease traps.

We are all concerned with where the dangerous polio virus might be existing. According to medical science and bacteriologists, as long as we have proper bacteria reactions in our everyday life, plants and treatment of sewage, healthy and sanitary conditions will be maintained.

Anaerobic produced by the Capital Sanitation Company of Austin, Texas is new on the market and available to the public and cities for the treatment of sewage disposal. Capital Sanitation laboratories have been serving cities through out the United States with this product, and their technicians are ever searching for a condition that our product could not handle. Today we can say that we have been able to take care of most of the problems of the treatment of septic tanks, city sewage lines and disposal plants for seventeen years.

The septic tank is a device utilizing the theory of anaerobic digestion just as our large municipal sewage treatment plants practice, however the septic tank is more subject to upsets due to the fact that the waste is from one household or establishment and not a mixture of wastes that may tend to counteract each other, becoming balanced by the time it reaches the city plant. In the septic tank an extra amount of bleaching material, strong acids, or alkalis may kill off certain strains of bacteria, and promote the growth of others, causing the contents to become out of balance and they cannot do their job (decompose the organic matter).

Grease (fats) are more difficult to break down than the bulk of waste entering the septic tank, the fat splitting bacteria get behind with their work, and the result is an accumulation of the grease floating in the top and reducing the digestion capacity of the tank, this grease will work out into the drain field and clog the pipe and soil, this is usually when you have your tank pumped out. Of course, pumping is not the answer, for all you have done is to remove the already established micro-organisms. You have failed to correct the grease problem in the drain field and you as soon as the tank becomes full or shortly thereafter, you will experience the same problem.

ANAEROBICUL is a mixture of cultured organisms developed for the express purpose of speeding up anaerobic decomposition of organic matter, and includes a fat splitting bacteria which aids in breaking down the grease to bring the septic tank back into proper balance.

ANAEROBICUL will hasten the seeding of new septic tanks by establishing action much sooner than will occur by natural purposes.

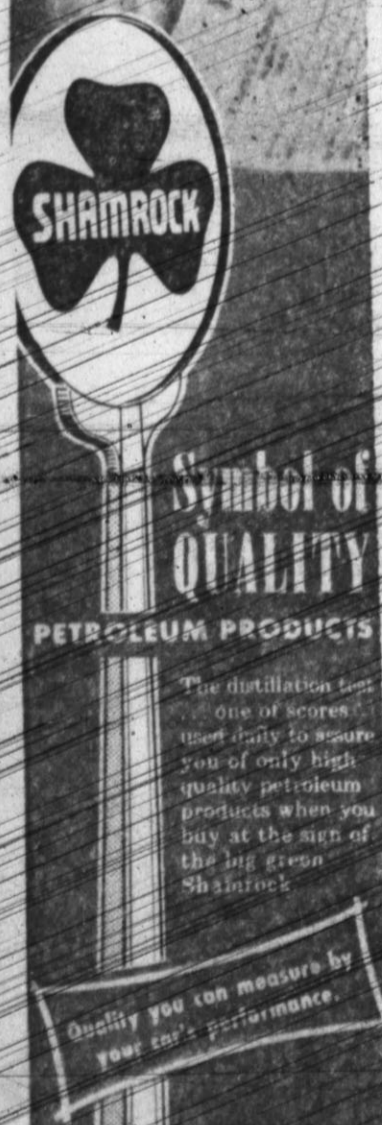

If your septic tank is overloaded ANAEROBICUL, by speeding action, will prolong the need for placing a new tank in operation. The culture would have to be introduced into the tank periodically, about every three months.

If your digestive system, septic tank or cesspool is working properly, not causing odors, draining good—you do not need ANAEROBICUL or any other product sold for the aid of digestion.

This is important! WHEN SOMEONE CALLS AT YOUR HOME WITH A TRUCK and TELLS YOU THAT YOUR TANK IS ALMOST FULL, THAT IS CORRECT, IT HAS TO BE FULL TO BE FILTERING PROPERLY AND THE MOST HARMFUL THING YOU COULD DO WOULD BE TO HAVE IT PUMPED, FOR PUMPING DESTROYS THE MOST VALUABLE PART OF YOUR TANK. PUMPING DOESN'T CLEAN YOUR LINES OR ELIMINATE ODORS AND YOU PAY AN ENORMOUS PRICE FOR THE HARM DONE.

The most harmful substance you can put in your lines to open them are highly caustic chemicals which can be found on the market ranging in price from 10 to 35 cents a can—under trade names which most people are familiar with. Proper bacteria reactions open lines and eliminate odors, also keep TANK FILTERING properly.

One-Sixth of HHS Seniors Enroll in Physics Class

Recently the charge was made that American high schools are ignoring basic scientific subjects at a time when the Russians are forging ahead in the production of engineers and technicians.

This touched off a controversy with educators, magazine publishers and anybody else with facts at their command hopping into the fray. It just isn't so, disputed the editors of Changing Times after collecting a set of statistics themselves.

Hereford High School stacks up pretty well in the science department. Next year general science, biology, chemistry and physics, will be offered in its curriculum.

77% Teach Physics

Thus it becomes part of the upper 77 percent, the group of high schools which do teach physics or chemistry. (Actually, the remaining 23 percent of schools which do not offer these courses contain only six percent of the total number of high school students.)

Biology, considered a sophomore subject, will probably be taught to between 60 and 70 students in Hereford next year, according to registration figures, Superintendent Fred J. Cunningham says.

Chemistry will also have about that many enrolled in its courses. Physics, which is generally considered a senior subject, will probably be taught to 20 students, about one-sixth of the Senior class.

This compares with a national average of about 23.5 percent of senior students who enroll in physics classes.

Error in Survey

Further examining the job the high schools are doing, the editors show figures that indicate that public school students have a better over-all record than private school students on College Entrance Board Examinations in most subjects. The only areas in which private school pupils score better are English composition, French and Spanish. In chemistry, physics, Latin, German, mathematics, social studies and biology, public school students outdistanced the Private school students

Room for Improvement

The editors conclude that the bulk of U.S. high schools are doing a fine job. There is room for improvement, however, in three major areas:

1. Smaller high schools usually do not offer the variety of subjects necessary to a full educational program. Consolidated schools provide an answer to this problem.
2. Classroom space is short almost everywhere.
3. Finally, the greatest shortage is not of space, but of teachers. Teachers of all kinds are scarce, particularly science and mathematics teachers. Good teachers of these subjects can command twice the salary in industry that teaching will bring them.

RAT REBELLION

EAST LANSING, Mich. (AP)—A Michigan State University psychologist has concluded that, even as you and I, rats rebel against boredom.

In a study of basic learning processes, Dr. M. Ray Denny, associate professor of psychology, placed food in two arms of a T-shaped runway. It fed more often in one arm of the runway, the rats highlighted it to the other runway, although the food was the same in both places.

SURPRISE WASH

Deaf Smith County went "dry" by a big majority, in the prohibition election in 1911. The votes in this county were 330 for the amendment and 60 against it. There was no speech making, sing or parading. The women did not take part in the election as solicitors.

Seventy-five citizens made up an interested audience Monday at the Chamber of Commerce luncheon to hear Hon. Marvin Jones, talk for forty minutes on present day affairs as affected by international, national, state and local conditions.

A heavy cloud in the west poured out a gully washer along the upper Tierra Blanca Friday night, causing the creek to rise. On the Witherspoon alfalfa field, west of town, a lot of new cut hay was floated away, but Witherspoon gathered a load of bass instead, securing one six pounder and several smaller fry. The fish were left in the overflowed field.

"Row crops have never given brighter promise than at present," declared E. S. Ireland, mayor of Hereford, to a representative of the Brand Tuesday, "and this includes Deaf Smith, Castro, and other counties in this immediate section." Much good has resulted for the shower from moisture falling during the past few weeks. Mr. Ireland is a wheat raiser of this section and is producing new crops on some of his land.

Fire, set by lightning, last Saturday afternoon destroyed a barn and badly damaged 22,000 bushels of grain in it for G. W. Brumley on his farm just east of Hereford. It took several hours to put down the flames in the burning wheat. Insurance was carried on the Bigger schools in the survey reported that they offered physics and chemistry courses every year. But many of the smaller schools offer these two subjects in alternate years and therefore neglected to report the course that was not being offered during the year in which the survey was taken.

Public Better Than Private

Further examining the job the high schools are doing, the editors show figures that indicate that public school students have a better over-all record than private school students on College Entrance Board Examinations in most subjects. The only areas in which private school pupils score better are English composition, French and Spanish. In chemistry, physics, Latin, German, mathematics, social studies and biology, public

SIDE DRESS with Phillips 66 AGRICULTURAL AMMONIA

Get more profits from fewer acres by side dressing your row crops with Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia. Now's the time your crops need plenty of nitrogen for vigorous healthy growth. Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia contains 82% nitrogen... more nitrogen per dollar than you can get in any other type of nitrogen fertilizer. Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia resists leaching. It stays deep in the root zone... helps stretch available moisture during dry spells. Side dress application should be made 6" to 8" deep with injection equipment.

Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia helps lessen your farming risk because it gives you a more uniform harvest date and helps lower unit production cost. See us today for complete information on side dressing your corn and other row crops with Phillips 66 Agricultural Ammonia.

Chevrolet takes first, second and four of the top six places! Beats its own stock car record by a full minute and 16 seconds!

Running against the hottest competition in the land, Chevrolet won the Pikes Peak climb—a towering challenge open to all makes of cars.

This is unquestionable proof of Chevrolet's supreme roadability—the accuracy of Ball-Race steering, the solidity of outrigger rear springs, the traction "bite" of balanced weight distribution.

There is no greater test of a car's road safety quality than Pikes Peak climb. Come in and drive the car that's won the "crown" twice in a row!

WILL SHE REACH?

How high will this giant rocket go? 20 miles? 100 miles?
That depends on her power lift... the height she was built to go.
She may never reach the expectation of her designers.
It may be that your prayers will never reach either.
How high do your prayers go? Do they really reach the heart of God? The great designer intended that the sincere prayer of every righteous man should reach all the way to God. Prayer is man's greatest means of tapping His resources. Do you pray with sincerity... with faith behind it? Do your prayers reach their goal???

How high do they go? Maybe you better

Mrs. Rudd Honors Daughter At Party On Fifth Birthday

By MRS. T. B. THOMAS

Mrs. Kenneth Rudd honored her daughter Teresa on her fifth birthday recently with a party in Dameron Park in Hereford. Favours of candy and baskets of candy were given to the guests and refreshments were served to the following: Janice, Carol, and Patty Turrentine, Franklin Earl and Jack Smith, Donna and Steven Olson, Lynn, Patsy, and Marie, Susan and Paul Road, Cindy and Lette Hanna, Paul and Susan Masley and Ricky Godwin.

Alma Paetzold of El Paso visited with Mr. and Mrs. George Turrentine.

Mr. and Mrs. S. L. Victor and Barbara of Tuscola, Ill., visited with Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wagoner and children. The Victors were enroute to California and points in Washington and Oregon.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Rudd of Springlake visited with Mr. and Mrs. Paul Rudd Sunday.

W. H. Acree of Redonda Beach, Calif., is visiting his daughter, Mrs. Jim Auten and family. He has just returned from Georgetown, Ark., where he has been visiting relatives. He plans to be here a week before returning to his home in Calif.

Mothers attending were Mesdames George Turrentine, Harold Rudd, Troy Smith, Morris Masley, Grant Hanna, Paul Rudd and Geo. Olson.

Mr. and Mrs. George Turrentine and girls and Mrs. Bess Werner were in Amarillo recently, where they attended the movies to see "Capeze."

Mrs. Carter Haley of Palestine and Mrs. Arnold of Leonard arrived Wednesday to visit with their sister and daughter, Mrs. Jack Renfro. Mrs. Haley returned home Friday night. Mrs. Arnold will remain here with her daughter for a longer visit.

Return from Montana

Diadra and Danny Thomas returned from their two week visit to Montana. They accompanied their grandmother and aunt from Post.

ARCHIE McDONALD
For DISTRICT ATTORNEY

"It shall be my purpose to vigorously enforce the law" against all types of cases to be tried in District Court, not merely "hot check" cases. EXPERIENCE has shown that felony (over $50.00) "hot check" cases represent a minor portion of cases handled by your District Attorney; that misdemeanor (under $50.00) "hot check" cases are one of the biggest problems of your County Attorney. Witness the record of cases tried in the District Court of Moore County, 1949-1955:

Assault with intent to murder	1
Assault with intent to rape	1
Attempt to fondle minor child	11
Burglary	19
Child desertion	12
D. W. I. 2nd offense	46
Forgery	4
Indecent Exposure	3
Murder with malice	4
Murder without malice	3
Malicious mischief (over $50.00)	2
Rape	1
Robbery	3
Removing mortgaged property	5
Sedony	4
SWINDLING (INCLUDES "HOT CHECK")	10
Theft	33
Total	160
1949-1955 MISDEMEANOR "HOT CHECK" cases
Tried in County Court	152

Archie McDonald successfully prosecuted his first "hot check" case in County Court on Jan. 5, 1949. He has had continued EXPERIENCE with the problem. He has also had ACTUAL EXPERIENCE during the past seven and one-half years in the handling and actual trial of the 17 different type felonies listed above, some of which he has tried alone. There is no substitute for ACTUAL EXPERIENCE and MATURE JUDGMENT.

Billy Carmichael, Rex Underwood Are At Fort Hood

FORT HOOD, TEX. — Two Hereford area men Cadet Billy B. Carmichael, son of Mr. and Mrs. Pete L. Carmichael, Route 1, of Hereford, Tex., and Cadet Rex W. Easterwood, 19, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Easterwood, Route 4, Dimmitt, Tex., are receiving six weeks of training this summer at Fort Hood, Tex., under the Army's ROTC program.

The training, which ends Aug. 3, includes weapons firing, tactics and bivouacs.

Easterwood is attending West Texas State College and is a member of Alpha Sigma Xi fraternity. He is a 1953 graduate of Dimmitt High School.

His wife, Shirley, lives in Dimmitt.

Carmichael is a 1953 graduate of Hereford High School. He is attending West Texas State College.

Add a little finely grated onion to a quarter cup of mayonnaise or mayonnaise type salad dressing, then beat a leftover egg white stiff and fold into the mayonnaise. Now spread the topping over four servings of broiled fish and return to the broiler for a minute or two—just long enough to puff and brown the mayonnaise mixture.

There are about 23 million bicycles in the United States.

Mr. and Mrs. Pat Merritt and sons Pat and Mikie, all of Midland.

Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Jackson, Kay and Wayne of Borger were recent guests of Mr. and Mrs. Joe Wagoner and children. Mr. and Mrs. Robert Wagoner and Elaine of Hereford were evening guests on the same day.

Coffee Honors Visitor

Mrs. Grady Wilson Jr., of Faith, S. D., was honored with a coffee Wednesday morning by Mrs. Joe Wagoner. Cake and coffee were served and the chief recreation was conversation. Those attending were Mesdames R. L. Wilson, C.A. Sauley, Marlin Pierce, Harold Rudd, Paul Rudd, Elmer Combs, P. B. Sowell, Harold Head, Merlin Kaul, the honoree and the hostess.

Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Durstine of Friona visited in the Merlin Kaul home Tuesday.

Hereford Visitor Has Met Bernstein, Perhaps Bridey

Have they, or have they not found Bridey Murphy? Probably not since the days of Wrong-Way Corrigan, has the American public been as aroused about did-he-know-what-he-was-doing-or-didn't-he? (or, in this case, did-she-know etc.) as they have since the tale of Bridey Murphy hit the book publishers.

And since the search for Bridey Murphy and the whole scope of hypnosis has been on millions of American's minds, a current visitor to Hereford is especially interested in the story. The woman, who prefers to remain anonymous, has met both Morey Bernstein, the amateur hypnotist who wrote the book, and his charming subject, a Pueblo, o. l. o., housewife.

"In my opinion, the book was an honest job of reporting just what actually happened," the Hereford visitor says. "Both of the people involved are respected Pueblo residents and there's a lot about the subconscious mind that hasn't been understood."

But on the possibilities of total recall or of a prior life—the'd rather not be quoted.

Screen Tells Story of New Kind Of Space-Man Hero, the Para-Medic

ON THE THRESHOLD OF SPACE

Riding the rocket sleds and being ejected from jet aircraft to fantastic speeds appears to be done by actor Guy Madison in "On The Threshold of Space" showing Friday and Saturday at the Star Theatre.

Guy Madison portrays an enthusiastic paramedic who defies the laws of nature to experience the results of jumps from jet bombers flying at terrific speeds and altitudes. Also starring are the late John Hodiak and Dean Jagger. Balance is brought to the story by Virginia Leith, who is a designer of shockproof helmets for various jet plane tests.

PRIZE OF GOLD

Nigel Patrick, one of England's top stars, teams with Richard Widmark and Mai Zetterling in the picture "Prize of Gold," which is showing for the first time in Hereford at the Tower Drive In Friday and Saturday.

This is a touching story of a U. S. Army sergeant who initiates the scheme of hi-jacking a prize of two million in gold bullion, newly-found Nazi loot dredged up from a Berlin canal and being air-lifted to London. Patrick begins to get too greedy, however, and plans go awry. Before Widmark turns himself in, he makes plans for his girl (Mai Zetterling) to get the money she needs to help the future of war orphans, her main interest.

MAN WITH THE GUN

Robert Mitchum stars in "Man With the Gun" as a tough, gun-slugging law-man with a penchant for cleaning up wild frontier towns the hard way, and Jan Sterling co-stars as a dance hall proprietress. This seems to be a run-of-the-mill-western, which will delight most of the small fry with its fast and loud action. "Man With the Gun" shows Saturday at the Tower Drive In.

Symphony Music Is Simple, It's Applause That Confuses

By STANLEY MEISLER (ADVANCE) NEW ORLEANS, June 16 (AP) — "Oh I am so ashamed of my people," moaned a native of Guayaquil, Ecuador, after his city heard a symphony orchestra for the first time.

But why, wondered the conductor, Alexander Hilsberg, Loud hand-clapping followed the finale. The Ecuadorians shouted for encore after encore. Surely the concert was a success.

"Oh I am so ashamed of my people," repeated the native. "For two hours you work and make music for them and they are so impolite as to shout for more. It is truly shameful!"

Hilsberg, conductor of the New Orleans Philharmonic Symphony, likes this story. Out it comes whenever someone asks how his orchestra fared with audiences that never heard a concert before.

The orchestra recently flew over 10,000 miles of Latin American territory, stopping 26 times for a concert. Sponsored by the State Department, the tour was the first there by a professional United States orchestra.

One spot that took in an orchestra for the first time was Port-au-Prince, Haiti. The 1500 natives in the hall quickly absorbed the intricacies of classical music but they just couldn't catch on to the applause technique.

In the middle of one symphony, they suddenly burst into applause. Hilsberg scowled. The musicians were obviously annoyed. So the applause stopped. Then the orchestra stormed through the final notes. There was silence.

"They just sat there," says Hilsberg in his thick, Polish-Russian accent. "So I made a gesture that it was over. Then they applauded. Very loud."

In Managua, another city etching an orchestra for the first time, Nicaragua's president, Gen. Anastasio Somoza, told Hilsberg: "I would rather have an orchestra like yours than an army."

Did he mean it? "Who knows," shrugs Hilsberg. "That's what he said."

Hilsberg has been asked how Latin American audiences that are familiar with concerts differ from those in the United States.

"Oh they shout, they stamp, they beat, it's pandemonium," says Hilsberg. "After the concert in Caracas, Venezuela, I thought the balcony would fall. Truly it was terrifying. And then one man, like a maniac, came rushing to the stage. He was shouting and crying. He screamed the concert was so wonderful it was worth seven years starvation."

DONALD ELDER, who has written the long due "Ring Lardner" biography, was brought up in Lardner's birthplace, Niles, Mich. He attended the University of Michigan where he won an Avery Hopwood award for writing. He went to Doubleday 10 years ago with a novel; the novel was not published but he stayed on as an editor until a couple of years back he quit to live in Orlando, Fla., and do this book.

Pair Good Books, Heat Waves

Good books and heat waves go together. That's because reading can be a completely motion-less activity; a rewarding attribute, indeed, in hot weather.

This summer Deaf Smith County Library has been busy keeping readers in the area supplied with books.

Four new ones which recently have been added to their shelves include Stanley Walker's "Back Home to Texas," "The Fateful Decisions," edited by Seymour Freidin and William Richardson, "Jubilee" by John Brick and "Men of No Property" by Dorothy Salisbury Davis. They are reviewed by AP Newstewart writers.

Their reviews follow:

BACK HOME TO TEXAS. By Stanley Walker. Harper.

These random recollections of a discerning man who rose from a brush country childhood in Lampasas County, Texas, to journalistic success on the New York Herald Tribune and then went back to the life of his ancestors provide a moderate harvest of insights on life in Texas and in the big city, both as it once was and as it is now.

The book is a collection of mainly autobiographical essays, some of which first appeared in the New Yorker magazine. They all are written in a relaxed mood, as befits a man who had his fill of the mad dash of New York—a city which he feels long ago reached the point of diminishing returns in size and concentration of power.

Texas Are Tired

His comments on life in Texas and Texas themselves may come as a surprise to those who have been deceived into thinking the activities of millionaire oilmen and cattle barons represent the character of a huge and diverse state.

It is Walker's observation that the marks of the Texan are not buoyancy, optimism and bustling energy. "I should say the average Texan is a tired man," he writes, "and has been tired ever since he can remember."

The total picture is far from bleak. In what appears to be a scrupulously honest appraisal of a pilgrimage that brought him back where he started, Walker finds more value in a life keyed to the elemental facts of soil, wind and water than one trapped in the complexities mankind has brought to a high stage of development in the big cities.

And there's no denying the life of a gentleman who earns his living from the soil can have moments both of high satisfaction and humor.

THE FATEFUL DECISIONS. Edited by Deymour Freidin and William Richardson. Sloane.

Once again the ghosts of Hitler, Goering and Co. and the bloody battles of World War II come alive in the pages of this book written in frankness and bitterness by seven key German generals.

The mists of memory, long after the event, are treacherous, but here are some astonishing disclosures, if true, and many intimate glimpses of one of the most reviled figures in history.

From Dunkerque and the Battle of Britain "a battle that should never have been fought at all" the story moves inexorably through a fantastic welter of blood-letting in Africa, Russia and Normandy to Hitler's last-gasp counteroffensive in the Ardennes in the cruel winter of 1944-45.

Why Did We Lose?

With a few minor exceptions, the German generals are less concerned with the heinous crimes and war guilt of Nazi Germany than with the question, "Why did we lose?"

Who was to blame for Germany's defeat? Who blundered? That is the major question postulated by the seven Hitler generals. One and all, they seem to agree it was Hitler, not the German general staff.

"Hitler was no true German," says one of the authors.

Summing up, Lt. Gen. Siegfried Westphal, who was Chief of Staff during the Allied invasion of Europe, writes:

"Did we have to lose the war? Today Germans know the answer. In view of the revulsion and hatred created by Hitler's criminal government the Germans could not hope indefinitely to defy the world with arms in their hands. The world was simply too big. It seems to have taken the German General Staff two world wars and millions of slaughtered human beings to realize that."

JUBILEE. By John Brick, Doubleday.

Jeff Barnes, West Point '61, scoring his cushy job in what was the Civil War Pentagon, goes back to his Hudson River hometown to become colonel of the 195th New York Volunteer Infantry, the "Appleknockers."

But there are hitches. In the first place he falls in love with a girl, Kathleen, already engaged to a man who will be an officer under him, and marries her before he even goes to camp. In the second place, Albany figures it's a bit more practical to give the colonel to a loyal politico, too fat to soldier but too influential to ignore, and so Jeff becomes lieutenant colonel. In the third place, he's a soldier right to his very marrow. He won't play favorites with his brother, his wife's brother, or the man who'd expected to win Kathleen. Furthermore, he thinks the time and place to toughen his men are here and now, far from the battlefield.

Ramrod

The troops call him "Ramrod." Some hate him; relatives can't understand or forgive his severity. But veterans know his worth and so do those superiors whose hearts and minds are as fixed on victory as Jeff's. His discipline begins to prove itself at Gettysburg, takes on more meaning at Lookout Mountain, and then the "Appleknockers" join Sherman for the March to the Sea. But what it means to Kathleen is another thing, for she would have loved to be first in her husband's affections and realize with a sore heart that patriotism outranks her.

Perhaps you won't wholly like Jeff, and you won't be alone in that. But you'll admire him, and sympathize. However much it hurts, he puts duty mercilessly first. He works for the jubilee and the rejoicing that come with victory, but he's not the kind to enjoy them, he leaves that for the rest of us. We enjoy his story, too.

MEN OF NO PROPERTY. By Dorothy Salisbury Davis. Scribner.

In 1848 the ship Valiant arrives in New York with a hold full of ranting and railing Irishmen, with a good word for the country they have left and nary a bad one for the one they're about to adopt.

In the crowd of more than 200 are the young men and women, boys and girls who compose the roster of this turbulent novel:

Vinnie Dunne, who gets a lesson in honesty from a man to whom he'll have occasion to return it before the book's end; Nora Hickey, innocent and guileless, a contrast to her bolder sister Patsy, a hoyden who'd like to win the love of Dennis Lavery, though he may not prove eventually so fine a catch and Stephen Farrell, gartled like a priest but in fact an editor and politician fleeing Ireland for a land he hopes will be more peaceful.

Men of Little Peace

There will be little peace in New York, home of most of these people, for the following 15 years. Long before Civil War breaks out, and the anti draft riots turn the New World city into a battlefield, there are the growing political rivalries, the business competition, the interracial tensions whether they involve Nancy, the black servant, or the puzzling Jeremiah Fin, and the usual clash of the varied temperaments of the ambitious, jealous, grasping, biased, fair and unfair.

Along with a feeling for people, for story, for talk, Mrs. Davis has a further encompassing sense of time and place, so that, good though the parts are, the whole is even better. Here, you are convinced, were the big city and its citizens, just a century ago, full of drive and fight and brawl, quick to reward and honor, quicker to punish, noisy, rickety, yet tremendous.

How Can I?

Movie Fans Predictable; Don't Follow Pattern

Hereford moviegoers simply do not reflect the same tastes that characterize America's movie fans as a whole.

Francis Hardwick, owner of the Star and Tower theaters reports "In Hereford we could show two Western movies a day, seven days a week, week in and week out and we would still please the majority of the crowd."

But if westerns are the traditional cowboy and Indian dramas or the badmen versus the goodmen—continue to draw the crowd, the award winning Oscar plays don't guarantee an audience.

Prefers Action Shows

"People out here like action shows. They don't particularly enjoy pictures that relay tales of emotional problems. I think that's because back East people are all jammed up together; they feed on one another's emotions; back here we've got plenty of space and room to walk around in. Consequently we just aren't as interested in emotional problems."

He pointed out that "Marty," a low-budget picture that surprised the industry by walking off with several Oscars, wasn't a rousing success here in town, and many people who say it expressed their disappointment.

Musicals Not Too Popular

As for musicals, people can take them or leave them alone. "They aren't particularly popular here. When we show a musical, we can just about estimate the crowd. It doesn't matter whether it's a remake of a popular Broadway show or some Hollywood-originated story about the same crowd will see it."

What is the most popular movie-going time? Hardwick says the biggest crowds are Saturday night and Sunday matinee. In fact, certain age groups seem to prefer certain times for movies. For lit-

Two Hereford Music Students Enroll at Kansas

LAWRENCE, Kans. July 25 — Two Hereford music students are among representatives from 26 states enrolled at Midwestern Music and Art Camp which is in the fourth week of its six week session at the University of Kansas in Lawrence.

Ann Smith and Sue Springer are enrolled in the music division of the camp.

Kansas, with 186 campers, has the largest state delegation, followed by Missouri with 85 and Oklahoma with 31. Ten campers are from Texas, nine each from Nebraska and Arkansas, eight from Illinois, six each from Ohio and Iowa and five from Indiana.

The group is divided into 248 music ensembles, 62 art, 22 ballet and 30 theater. Not included are the 87 students who attended the science and mathematics division held the first two weeks of the camp. The campers are not restricted to the division in which they are enrolled, but may study in other parts of the camp if they have time.

Time is a precious commodity to the campers, however. The musicians prepare weekly concerts by the 200-piece band, 100-piece or-
