UN Threatens Recess If Reds Propagandize

Allies Seek To Get Down To Business In Korean Parley

By GEORGE A. MCARTHUR MUNSAN, Korea (AP)—A United Nations spokesman said today Red truce negotiators will have to talk business without propaganda or the Allies again might recess the tightly deadlocked Korean Armistice talks.

Negotiations, 11 months old today, resume tomorrow at Panmunjom at 11 a. m. (9 p. m. Tuesday EST) after a three-day recess called by the U. N. Command over Communist protests.

Brig. Gen. William P. Nuckolls, U. N. Command spokesman, said there is a possibility of another recess "after this respite if the propaganda barrage once again becomes intolerable."

Brig. Gen. William K. Harrison, senior Allied truce negotiator, called the recess Saturday because of "Communist propaganda drive."

Each day since the Reds have sent a liaison officer to the truce site to demand immediate resumption of the talks. The demands were ignored.

The Red high command in a letter to Gen. Mark Clark, United Nations supreme commander, criticized the Allies for their action. The letter, signed by Gen. Kim Il Sung, premier of North Korea, and Chinese Gen. Peng Teh-huai, said:

"If you wish to break up the talks by this tactic, you should do it officially and take full responsibility for it. You should know that what you cannot get at the battlefield you cannot get at the conference site."

Clark's headquarters in Tokyo said his reply would be made public when it is delivered to the Reds, presumably at Panmunjom tomorrow.

An armistice is stymied by the prisoner exchange issue.

Red Cross Advisory Board Meet Today

A meeting of the local Red Cross advisory board has been called for 8 o'clock this evening, at Red Cross headquarters.

Chapter Chairman Olen Puckett urged full attendance. Reports of the nominating committee will be heard, and other important business matters considered, he said.

Addresses Solons As Talks Collapse

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—President Truman asked Congress today for power to seize and operate the struck steel industry.

Before a hastily assembled joint session of the Senate and House, Truman said the choice lay between federal seizure and use of the Taft-Hartley Act. The Taft-Hartley injunction against the strike of 650,000 United Steel Workers, he said, "is by far the worst of the two approaches."

Standing on the speaker's dais in the House chamber, Truman told the senators and representatives that the Supreme Court had ruled against presidential seizure of the steel mills, but had said Congress could vote to take private property. He said:

"The issue is squarely up to Congress... I hope Congress will act quickly. The issue of peace or war hangs in the balance and steel is a vital element in the outcome."

1. Permit the government to change the wages and working condition of the steelworkers. The government had been prepared to raise steel wages under the presidential seizure but was blocked by a court injunction.

2. Provide for a method of determining just compensation for the mill owners. Truman recommended special boards within the framework of the economic stabilization program. A factor in the strike was the failure of the steel industry to get government assurances of price increases the industry deemed necessary to pay higher wages.

"In this way," the President said of the two-side approach, "the legislation can assure continued steel production and fair treatment for both parties during government operation."

Truman condemned use of the Taft-Hartley Act's injunctive powers as "unwise, unfair and quite possibly ineffective." He said the union had voluntarily postponed strike action for 99 days as compared with the Taft-Hartley 80-day cooling-off period. Truman continued:

"Its (Taft-Hartley) effect would be to require the workers to continue working for another long period without change in their wages and working conditions. This would be grossly unfair. The Wage Stabilization Board, the government agency charged with responsibility on these matters, has found—and the companies have admitted—that the workers are entitled to improvements in wages and working conditions."

Truman seized the mills last April, acting under what he termed the inherent powers of his office. But the steel industry fought back in the courts and the seizure was upheld by a historic Supreme Court ruling on Monday of last week that Truman lacked such inherent power.

Immediately after the court decision, the steelworkers walked out. Pleading now for Congress to give him this power, Truman told the legislators in solemn words that full scale production of steel is absolutely necessary to the Western rearmament program. He added:

"The issue of peace or war hangs in the balance, and steel is a vital element in the outcome." Alluding then to the great court fight over his seizure powers, Truman said he believed he was only living up to his oath of office when he ordered seizure of the steel plants last April 8.

He continued: "Now a majority of the Supreme Court have declared that I cannot take the action I believe necessary. But they have said very clearly that the Congress can."

"Whatever may have been the intention of the court's majority in setting limits on the President's powers, there can be no question of their view that the Congress can enact legislation to avoid a crippling work stoppage in the steel industry."

"The issue is squarely up to the Congress. I hope the Congress will meet it by enacting fair and effective legislation." Truman said the seizure law he recommended should not prevent the government from changing wages and working conditions during the period of government operation.

The government had planned to raise wages under the original seizure but was blocked from doing this by a Supreme Court order. If Congress should authorize seizure but forbid a wage rise, Truman said, "The seizure would mean that workers would be compelled to work indefinitely without a change in wages, no matter how much such a change might be justified."

Since the owners of the property are entitled under the Constitution to "just compensation," the President went on, a ban on wage raises would be tantamount to a seizure of property.

YANK KILLED AS RIOTS ENDED

31 POWs Dead In Koje Revolt

By ROBERT B. TUCKMAN KOJE ISLAND, Korea (AP)—Tough U. S. paratroopers today cracked the Communist prisoner of war rebellion in a 2½ hour battle that made a shambles of notorious compound 76 and uncovered a prisoner plot to seize the island.

Thirty-one prisoners were killed and 139 wounded in the bloody fighting. Autopsies showed that 12 prisoners were killed by their fellow Reds with crude spears.

One American was killed and 14 were wounded. The slain American had been spared to death and not killed by a concussion grenade as first reported. Only one American was seriously wounded.

The fight broke out when the POWs disobeyed orders to move peacefully into new, smaller enclosures of about 500 each.

U. S. Army intelligence officers found a master plan in 76 to liberate all 80,000 Communist prisoners on Koje. It called for the Reds to seize the island and its U. N. garrison and turn its weapons against any force from the mainland. Further details were withheld.

Not a shot was fired in the barbed wire encircled battlefield. The 750 Americans of the "Angels From Hell" combat team used concussion grenades, bayonets, tear gas and fists to subdue the rebellion in a 2½ hour battle that made a shambles of notorious compound 76 and uncovered a prisoner plot to seize the island.

Soviet Gives In As Siege Ends At Berlin Radio

Russians Yield Several Border Areas As Result

By DON DOANE BERLIN (AP)—British troops removed their barbed wire barricades from Russia's Radio Berlin headquarters early today, ending a seven-day siege which won several concessions from the Soviets.

The British said they lifted the blockade on the station inside their zone because it had served its purpose. Under its pressure, the Russians loosened their squeeze on West Berlin to the extent of yielding several border areas they had seized.

Allied officials took the view that the siege, if continued too long, might have boomeranged. They felt the Allied-occupied part of this Communist-surrounded city is too vulnerable to invite heavy reprisals for slight gains.

"We must show moderation as well as firmness so as not to bring down further difficulties on Berlin's head," one official commented.

The Communists still held West Berlin in a potential strangle grip that could be turned any time into a new blockade. Zonal borders between East and West Germany, and even street boundaries between East and West Berlin, have been turned into fortified frontiers.

The Reds have cut off all but four of Berlin's highway lines to the West. Allied military patrols still were barred from the single Allied road passageway through the Russian zone.

Some small Berlin areas which the Russians seized or cut off from West Berlin before the siege remained in Soviet control.

These were the specific concessions won from the Russians: 1. They yielded entirely on Britain's No. 1 demand by withdrawing from the little British sector settlement of Eiskeller, which they had sealed off a week ago.

2. They withdrew their sentries from the shore of Lake Griebnitz, in the American sector.

3. They permitted to the tiny suburb of Steinstuecken, in the American sector, to resume contact with West Berlin via a road through the Soviet zone.

4. They also dropped their demand for a small piece of the Frohnau Cemetery which extends from the French sector into the Russian zone.

After British Tommies rolled away the barricading wire shortly before 2 a. m. today some 40 Russians and German Communists trapped inside the building for the week refused to come out. By telephone they said they would not emerge until relieved by a fresh staff.

During the siege they had lived in apparent comfort on stockpiled food and continued their insulting broadcasts against the West.

Embargo Placed On Steel Exports For Civil Use Abroad

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—The government today cut off all exports of steel by dealers for civilian use abroad.

The embargo affects even steel shipments for which export licenses have been issued, if the metal is destined for consumer goods use. The action was taken by the Commerce Department.

The order does not apply to exports to Canada, for which export licenses are not required.

Acheson Urges OK For German Pacts

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—Secretary of State Acheson today urged the Senate to give quick approval to the German peace contract plus a guarantee to help defend Western Germany in the event of Communist aggression.

The secretary told the Senate Foreign Relations Committee: "These agreements greatly advance all that we have been trying to do since the end of the war to build a strength and unity among the free nations."

As the administration's lead-off witness in hearings on the pacts, Acheson stressed the "great importance of early ratification." He said, too, he was confident other Western European governments would follow suit if this were done.

It has been speculated widely that France—and possibly other North Atlantic Treaty nations—would be cool to putting West Germany, a bitter enemy eight years ago, in a military alliance to which France was a party.

The two documents which require Senate approval are a peace contract between the United States, Britain, France and West Germany, and an amendment to the North Atlantic Treaty granting West Germany the guarantees of the alliance.

Acheson told the Senate the peace contract will grant the German republic "the greatest autonomy that is possible under present international conditions."

The contract was "freely negotiated" by the Germans, he said, and was not imposed by the U. S., Britain and France as conquerors, he said.

Two weeks ago, Acheson witnessed the signing of a third pact in Europe, an agreement setting up a European army composed of troops from West Germany, France, Italy, Belgium, The Netherlands and Luxembourg.

The U. S., was not a signatory to the pact and Senate confirmation was not required, but Acheson went out of his way in his testimony today to stress the importance of that agreement.

An appeal for quick Senate confirmation was expected also from John J. McCloy, U. S. High Commissioner in West Germany.

Chairman Connally (D-Tex) hopes to finish the committee hearings this week and get quick action by the Senate as a spur to approval by other treaty countries.

Sen. Wiley (R-Wis), ranking Republican on the committee, has joined Connally in urging swift approval of the documents. He told a reporter he knew of no opposition to quick Senate ratification.

The German documents are expected to be the last major project handled by the committee this session.

Yesterday members of the group helped win overwhelming passage of the $6,447,730,750 compromise foreign aid bill. The vote sent the measure to the White House where President Truman is expected to sign it although it falls short of the $7,900,000,000 he asked.

Forty-one Democrats and 18 Republicans joined to give the bill 59 votes, eleven senators opposed it—19 Republicans and a lone Democrat, Olin Johnston (D-SC).

No Action Taken By Local Officers To Do Military Policing

No action was taken Tuesday by city and county peace officers on a proposal by the Webb Air Force Base Provost Marshal's department that the civil authorities handle both military and civilian policing in Big Spring.

Local officers said they thought police and sheriff's department lacked sufficient personnel to handle the task. Air police representatives, Police Chief E. W. York, Sheriff J. B. (Jake) Bruton and other civil authorities participated in discussions of the proposal at City Hall.

FOR NEW HOMES HERE Little Effect Seen In Lower Payments

Lowering of curbs on minimum down payments for the purchase of homes will have little, if any, effect on the new home market in Big Spring, or elsewhere.

That seems to be the opinion of the local real estate men familiar with loan procedures and other steps in the financing of home purchases.

The problem of finding investors willing to make long term loans large enough to supplement the minimum down payments was cited as the principal stumbling block for persons hoping to buy homes with a small outlay of cash.

Two of three realtors questioned foresaw a slight possibility that FHA financing "might spur some." The third put a damper on this prospect by explaining the difference between the sale, or construction cost, value of a home and the FHA appraised valuation.

He pointed out that FHA appraisals usually result in valuations "10 to 15 per cent less" than sales value.

"On a $10,000 home this leaves a margin of $1,000 or more not covered by the FHA loan, a sum that must be covered in down payments," he declared.

For conventional loans (not backed by FHA or VA), investment firms haven't approached the minimum required before relaxation of Regulation X, it was emphasized. Private investors, principally insurance companies, normally refuse to finance more than 60 or 65 per cent of the cost of a home purchase.

The real estate men tend to boll the entire down payment question down to the difficulty of finding lending institutions willing to lend as much as 90 or 95 per cent in the cost of a house. Down payments on FHA houses prior to relaxation of credit restrictions Monday ranged from $500 to $1,000 above the minimum, a level realtors expect to see maintained because of the difficulty in "selling the paper."

On higher priced homes, effect of relaxation probably will be unnoticeable also. As one real estate man said, investors "frown on big loans, believing that if a person wants to build or buy an expensive home, he ought to have the money."

Relaxation of restrictions on down payments by the government Monday reduced down payment requirements to five per cent on houses costing $7,000 or less. On houses costing $25,000 or more, the minimum was lowered to 40 per cent. A sliding scale fixes requirements for homes costing between $10,000 and $25,000.

Commission To Meet

Parking Areas For Airmen Party Noted

The picnic area centered around the big barbecue pit in City Park will be site of Big Spring's Welcome Airmen Party June 20.

Streets leading to the area will be blocked off and guests will be asked to park either east of the amphitheater, where a variety show is to be presented, or in other sections of the park. Parking away from the immediate picnic grounds is planned to eliminate dust and forestall any traffic injury among the hundreds of airmen and Big Springers expected to attend sponsors of the welcome fete said Tuesday.

The welcome party will open with a hot dog supper at 7 p. m. and will be followed immediately by the variety show across the park in the amphitheater.

FLAGLESS FLAG DAY POSSIBLE

Unless an individual or business firm has its own United States or United Nations flags, there will be a flagless Flag and United Nations Day here Saturday.

A check of business establishments revealed that no flags larger than 11 inches by 14 inches can be purchased.

The two dates fall on the same day this year, as June 14, Flag Day, comes on the second Saturday in June, United Nations Day.

Riding The GRUB LINE

By Franklin Reynolds

Tom Good, who has been trying to hold his cattle on the home place until he could get some rain and grass, has finally had to give up, he says.

More than 700 head of his cattle have been shipped to three states to grass. Part of the cattle have gone to Scott City, Kansas; part to Des Moines, New Mexico, and part to Vinita, Oklahoma. This is the second time Mr. Good has had to move his cattle off the home range. The first time was in 1917.

Among others shipping out are E. T. O'Daniel of Cushman and Charlie Creighton of Big Spring.

County Agent Durward Lewter says many of the cattle being kept here are getting in pretty bad shape, and that several other cowmen are looking for grass or are planning to go to market.

Mr. Good plans to ship his cattle back here as soon as he gets enough grass.

Saturday afternoon I walked in a drug store and found Pete Green and Johnnie Underwood drinking lemonade together. They invited me to sit down and I did. I then proceeded to tell them how busy I had seen Jake Bruton and Jess Slaughter.

Johnnie and Pete each put up a nickel to cover my coffee and then took off. The last I saw of them one was going east and the other west.

On a state-wide basis and in spite of the severe drought, Texas farmers last year plowed under 1,513,398 acres of legumes with an estimated value of $15 million, as a soil conservation-improvement practice.

But this is just a drop in the bucket, just a beginning on what is needed, according to the conservationists.

Farmers should realize that saving the soil and keeping it in the highest possible state of production is their problem and not a problem of the government through the PMA or other agency. If it is a government obligation, then the government should actually take over the land and make a complete job of it.

The farmers should also realize that no man owns more than a life interest in the land. He may have legal title to it but the ultimate title is vested in God. When a man dies he can't take it with him. The land has been used to produce food for the people since the first people appeared on earth. The land must continue to render this service until the last human has disappeared. The government owes it to the people now living and to the countless generations yet unborn to save the soil that the soil may give them food.

If the farmers aren't willing to take care of the land on which they have a life tenure, then the government should step in and take it away from them.

And the Grub Line Rider predicts that unless the people on the farms and ranches take better care of the soil this is going to happen, and when it does it will be justified.

Nobody hates government regulation of agriculture more than this writer, but there are some things that cannot be denied. In the name of the "common welfare" the government can take over the farms and run them. And in time this may happen. The title to the farmlands will remain with the present owners but only "licensed farmers" will be permitted to cultivate these lands.

Anybody can own an automobile but only a licensed driver can operate it; anybody can own a barber shop but only a licensed barber can operate it; anybody can own surgical instruments but only a licensed surgeon can operate with them; anybody can own a prescription pharmacy but only a licensed pharmacist can fill prescriptions. The same principle can be extended to the farms and ranches, and for the sake of all humanity will have to be unless the farmers and ranchers take better care of the lands entrusted to their keeping for a brief period of years.

There is no doubt but that cloud seeding will increase precipitation as planned, according to an article in the June issue of Farmer-Stockman.

The authors are Ferdie J. Deering, editor of Farmer-Stockman, and Sam Whitlow, Texas editor of the magazine.

They illustrate their narrative proof with shaded maps of the seeding of the March 9-10-11 storm, both on the Oklahoma Panhandle and also on the McGregor-Temple-Mexia-Corsicana - Palestine area.

Speaking of this particular Texas seeding project, Deering and Whitlow said: "As it was seeded the area received 25 to 75 per cent of its monthly normal rainfall, compared to a usual 15 to 25 per cent from a single storm."

Army's Legal Experts Ponder MacArthur Political Actions

By DOUGLASS B. CORNELL

WASHINGTON (AP)—The booming of Gen. Douglas MacArthur for keynote speaker at the Republican National Convention may compel nervous Pentagon lawyers to lay out political ground rules for the former Pacific commander.

The Army's legal experts are known to have been tip-toeing for some time around the question of whether MacArthur's activities have strayed beyond the bounds of military regulations that forbid officers on active duty to engage in political campaigning.

Up to now, all they worried about were MacArthur's speeches, statements and support of Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio for the Republican presidential nomination. But unless he resigned from the Army ahead of time, acceptance by MacArthur of any bid to keynote the GOP convention would lead to even more fingernail biting. For the regulations specifically ban "activity at political conventions" and "the making of political speeches."

Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower freed himself for such activity by applying for retirement and getting it. Although it wasn't necessary, he also gave up his pay and allowances of $19,541 a year. MacArthur, by applying for retirement too, could make himself as free as Eisenhower to mix in politics. At present he is a salaried officer on active duty but without any command.

Even in retirement, some military lawyers say, it would be necessary for both Eisenhower and MacArthur to pull their punches at the Democrats. The uniform code of military justice, applying to active and retired officers, says in Article 88 that an officer who uses "contemptuous words" against the President, vice president, Cabinet, members of Congress, governors or state or territorial legislators "shall be punished as a court-martial may direct."

Eisenhower has said he does not intend to deal in personalities. If he sticks to that, he evidently would not need to worry about Article 88. But the legal authorities think it might be difficult for MacArthur to avoid clashing with that article in a keynote address that is supposed to whale away at the Democrats and glorify the Republicans.

Resignation from the Army would get either five-star general out from under the military code and permit political campaigning with no holds barred. Eisenhower has announced his intention to resign if he gets the Republican nomination. Some authorities believe it might be necessary for MacArthur to hand in his resignation in order to make the kind of speech that is expected of a convention keynote.

Johnson said Russell has handled the annual agriculture appropriation in the Senate for 19 years and has demonstrated his interest in the welfare of agriculture.

Guar Seed Arrives For Cover Crop Use

By FRANKLIN REYNOLDS

The supervisors of the Martin-Howard Soil Conservation District received 6,700 pounds of it yesterday, 300 pounds more is on the way, and they're considering buying another 5,000 pounds—all for a cover crop to prevent the almost complete erosion of West Texas soil.

The 7,000 pounds received or on order will be sufficient to plant approximately 700 to 1,000 acres, according to W. S. Goodlett, the Soil Conservation Service's district conservationist at Big Spring. This 700 to 1,000 acres, he says, is a very small portion of the total of the land that should be protected with a cover crop.

The seed will be available to all farmers, as long as the supply lasts, he stated, no matter whether or not they are enrolled as co-operators with the SCS. It will be sold to them at cost, as will the culture with which the seed should be inoculated to provide the highest possible germination. The seed should be planted, Goodlett explains, at the rate of from seven to 10 pounds to the acre, possibly 11 pounds, depending on percentage of germination, in 36-inch rows from one and one-half to two inches deep. SCS specialists are anxious to co-operate in the plantings, particularly in the process of inoculating the seed, Goodlett says.

Seed costs will run from $1.10 to $1.25 per acre.

Guar, the conservationist explains, is a soil conditioning, and also a supplementary cash crop. There is a market for the seed at four cents a pound and the average yield is from 400 to 900 pounds per acre.

General Mills, Inc., is now constructing a new commercial Guar processing plant at Kenedy, and Goodlett says he understands another plant is to be built on the South Plains. General Mills is also setting up a network of agents in Texas areas where Guar is grown to buy it from growers and ship it to their plants. This company has conducted extensive research on Guar for 10 years and has also had its experts studying the agricultural aspects of growing Guar.

Guar is usually up, Goodlett says, four days after being planted and is a crop that requires very little moisture either for germination or to reach maturity. It may be planted any time between now and July 30. This legume requires only standard farm equipment and may be planted with any standard planter equipped with maize or beaver plates and may be harvested for seed with standard grain combines. It will never become a pest, Goodlett comments, because unlike weeds it will not grow in the shade and the first frost kills the plant.

According to information he has received, Goodlett believes that farmers in this area may count on a frost about the middle of November. But he says this will give the Guar plenty of time to mature and afford the soil protection that will be so urgently needed.

He describes Guar as a drought-resistant, annual, summer legume, well adapted to the climate of Texas. Since it was introduced in 1946, he says, Texas farmers have been growing Guar successfully in rotation with cotton and small grains.

"It is a prime soil conditioning crop," Goodlett states, and when rotated with other crops it replenishes soil nutrients and improves the soil's physical character resulting in increased yields and profits from successive cash crops. It reduces the need for fertilizer and maintains profitable soil fertility at the lowest possible cost.

"But best of all," Goodlett declares enthusiastically, "it provides the protection needed by this West Texas soil. We've got to get cover crops on it and I don't think we can do any better this summer than to plant Guar."

This conservationist sees it as a wonderful dual-purpose crop. It can be grown strictly for green manure or for seed production. After the seed is harvested the dry residue returns to the soil as humus producing trash, where it produces a mulchy condition in the upper level of soil, absorbing rain and banking it in the form of sub-soil moisture for future use. It is adapted to a wide range of soils and is entirely suitable for rain and banking it in the form of sub-soil moisture for future use. It is adapted to a wide range of soils and is entirely suitable for rain and banking it in the form of sub-soil moisture for future use.

Goodlett says he believes there is an adequate supply of seed but that since several days are usually required to get it here after an order is placed, farmers who want to make plantings of it should place their orders as soon as possible.

Lung Cancer Is Higher Among Heavy Smokers

By The Associated Press
CHICAGO—Twice-a-year X-ray examinations for middle-aged men who are heavy smokers were recommended today by a Washington, D. C., doctor as a means of improving the attack on lung cancer.

Declaring that there is a higher proportion of lung cancer among heavy smokers than among non-smokers, Dr. J. Winthrop Peabody said he believed such an X-ray procedure would assure spotting any such cancers early enough to allow successful surgical operation.

He said that a definite diagnosis of lung cancer is now possible in 85 per cent of people who have it. He declared the diagnosis may be made early in the disease, even while in the "silent stage" or when cough is the only apparent symptom.

In another report to the meeting, two Chicago doctors said allergic diseases are apt to develop in children of parents who themselves are sufferers from allergies—and that therefore the children should be shielded from substances capable of producing allergic reactions.

They said that in such families, dogs and cats should be removed from the home, lest the children get a reaction from their fur; stuffed toy animals, heavy drapes and bedroom carpeting should be avoided; and mother should even watch the type of cosmetic she uses to make sure it does not contain a chemical derived from a certain form of iris plant.

Doctors Leon Unger and Albert Unger said youngsters showing any evidence of allergy "should be advised to avoid becoming farmers, bakers, furriers, upholsterers, grain mill workers, florists or workers around animals."

Boatman New Member Of Radio Ham Society

M. E. Boatman of Big Spring has been awarded membership in the DX Century Club, exclusive society of amateur radio operators who have made two-way short-wave radio contacts with at least 100 of the more than 200 countries of the world.

Boatman's is the 1506th amateur station to achieve the 100-country contacts since the war. The station, set up in his home, 903 East 12th, uses the federally-assigned call letters W5AWT, which have become well known to amateurs throughout the world. All contacts were made using radiotelegraphy.

All his communications have been proved, as required by the rules of the club, by written confirmation in the form of QSL (acknowledgment) cards, which bedeck the wall of his radio-operating room.

Lone Star Scout District Reaches An All-Time High

Scout enrollment in the Lone Star District has reached an all-time high of 688 according to the monthly Scout report for May.

Jimmy Hale, scout field executive for the four-county district, reported that the enrollment combining Cubs, Boy Scouts, and Explorer Scouts reached 688 through June 1—an increase of 107 over the May 1 report.

Included in the combined total are 337 Boy Scouts, 139 Explorers, and 212 Cubs. The Cubs increased 69, the Scouts 34, and the Explorers four over the previous month's report.

Hale noted that all the increase was in Howard County. Howard, Glasscock, Martin, and Sterling Counties comprise the Lone Star District.

Three new units—all Cub Packs—were added during the month, bringing the total of new units added since January 1 to seven. Of the total five are Cub Packs, while the Boy Scouts and Explorers have added one each.

In addition to the 107 increase in the Scout enrollment, 25 leaders—all Cub leaders—were added to the organization.

Hale stated that the District is striving for an enrollment of 750 by the end of 1952.

Assault Reported Against Man Here

Two Latin American men, one tentatively identified, assaulted Ella Chavarria late Monday at the north end of the west (Gregg Street) viaduct, Chavarria's son, Edward Chavarria, reported to police.

The younger Chavarria said his father was hit in the head with a rock after he was accosted by the two men about 6:30 p.m. The injured man displayed a large bruise near the left eye when he appeared at the city police station to lodge a complaint against the pair.

The Chavarrias later conferred with County Attorney Hartman Hooser who said a charge of aggravated assault probably will be filed against the attacking pair.

AS KEYNOTER

Ike Forces Seeking Opponent For Mac

By JACK BELL
CHICAGO (AP)—Supporters of Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower lacked a candidate today to oppose the choice of Gen. Douglas MacArthur as Republican convention keynoter.

Despite hurried hotel room conferences, backers of Eisenhower's bid for the GOP presidential nomination apparently could not agree on any opposition nominee.

This left it up to the convention arrangements committee at its meeting today to accept a proposal by G. Mason Owlett, Pennsylvania national committeeman, or begin its own search for a convention rallying speaker.

The convention opens in Chicago on July 7. Owlett, who has not taken sides publicly in the battle between Eisenhower and Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio for the presidential nomination, told reporters he intends to nominate MacArthur for the major convention role.

Owlett was reported to have rejected a protest by Herbert Brownell Jr., one of the field agents for Eisenhower, that it would be unfair for the committee to name as keynoter a man who has publicly supported Taft in the pre-convention campaign. Harry Darby, Kansas national committeeman and Eisenhower backer, told reporters that he has no particular interest in who is chosen for the keynoter's job. He said the Eisenhower camp has no candidate for the place, so far as he knows.

Previously J. Russell Sprague

New York national committeeman, said Eisenhower followers would fight MacArthur's appointment.

Gov. Sherman Adams of New Hampshire after meeting with Eisenhower in New York yesterday said he thought Republicans generally would object "in principle" to having MacArthur as keynoter; that MacArthur is "partisan" and the keynoter usually is neutral. Walter Hallahan, West Virginia backer of Taft, predicted the arrangements group would override these protests in short order.

No one expected MacArthur to serve also as temporary chairman of the convention, a role usually filled by the keynoter.

For this reason, there were signs that they might designate National Chairman Guy G. Gabrielson to continue wielding the gavel until the permanent chairman takes over. Rep. Joseph Martin of Massachusetts, House minority leader, was cast for this role. Martin hasn't come out for either of the two major contenders for the GOP presidential nomination.

AREA OIL

Work on Roeder Extender Offset Ready To Complete In Reef

Shell No. 7 Sterling, west offset to Magnolia No. 1-D Conrad, which jumped production east by a mile in the south Von Roeder extension of southeast Borden, set casing and prepared to complete Tuesday. It made 127 barrels of oil in three hours of testing, but had a small amount of salt water also.

Prospects that Humble No. 1 Blocker might make a small Spryberry producer in central south Martin County appeared better Tuesday as operator planned to set a pump.

The Parochial-Bade field in Sterling County got a shallow location. In eastern Borden Sinclair No. 1 Reeder got more slightly off and gas cut mud on a test but ran into considerable salt water.

Shell No. 7 Sterling, N. E. S. F. 70-25, H&TC, flowed 127.5 barrels on a three-hour drillstem test from 6,743-52. After the tool was closed recovery was 3,150 feet of oil plus 45 feet of salty sulphur water. Gas surfaced in four minutes, oil in 13. Then it was connected to storage and made 63.5 barrels the first hour, 25 the second, and 29 the third. Open flowing bottomhole pressure was 2,100; the shut-in pressure after four hours was 2,700. Operator ran the 5/8-in. string to 6,730 and cemented.

Sinclair No. 1 Roy Reeder, C. S. E. SE 41-07, H&TC, a mile north of the Myrtle-Pennsylvania pool of eastern Borden, took a second drillstem test, this time from 7,980-7,703 with the tool open four hours. Recovery as 150 feet of slightly oil and gas-cut mud, 90 feet of mud cut salt water, and 480 feet of salt water. Operator now is drilling below 7,748.

Cities Service No. 14 Dupree, C. NW SE 67-M, EL&RR, drilled below 10,399 in lime.

Sinclair No. 1 Clark, C. SW SE 41-35-4e, T&P, was coring at 7,090 in shale.

Sinclair No. 1 G. T. Hall, C. SW NW 6-34-2e, T&P, progressed to 3,221 in shale and anhydrite. This is in northern Glascock and just south of the Lomax community.

Stanolind No. 1 Modesta Simpson, C. SW NW 21-33-3n, T&P, progressed to 3,054 in anhydrite and lime.

Stanolind No. 1 A Snyder, C. NW NW 20-30-1e, T&P, four miles southeast of Coahoma, was below 8,211 in lime and shale.

Shell No. 1 Southland Royalty drilled ahead at 8,472 in shale and lime.

DeKalb No. 1 Knox, C. NW NE 253 CSL, 31 miles north of Tarrant, drilled at 10,777 in lime and shale.

Humble No. 1 Blocker, C. NW NW 10-35-1e, T&P, seven miles west of Stanton, swabbed through 55 barrels of new oil plus 40 per cent of formation water. Operator is preparing to put on pump.

Plymouth No. 1 Morris, C. NW SW 7-35-1e, T&P, a mile and a half northeast of Stanton, drilled at 7,622 in Spraberry section.

Phillips No. 1-C Schar, section 324 LaSalle CSL, was continuing to swab above plugged back depth of 8,800 but no gauges were reported.

Stanolind No. 1 Cowden, C. SE SW 30-40-in, T&P, drilled below 10,414 in lime.

STEEL DISPUTE

When the steel peace talks collapsed last night both the industry and the union said: "We have given assurance to our government that we will co-operate in assuring production of military requirements essential to our forces engaged in combatting Communist aggressors."

As a follow up to this the White House today called in top defense and production officials (12:30 p.m., CST) to discuss the arrangements for resuming enough steel production to meet "critical defense requirements."

Presidential Assistant John R. Steelman said Defense Secretary Robert Lovett, Munitions Board Chairman John Small, Defense Production Chief Henry H. Fowler and White House Aide David Stowe would go over the entire list of defense needs and decide how much production is necessary.

Steelman's office also said Steelman, who is acting defense mobilization director, probably would meet later in the day with officials of the steel industry and the steelworkers union.

The nation's output of steel is down to an estimated 12 1/2 per cent of normal capacity. For direct defense needs—not including "defense-support" production—to strengthen European defenses against Communism—the armed forces use approximately 15 per cent of total output.

Truman made it plain in his address that he did not set much store by the promise of steel for combating Communism. He told the lawmakers: "The fact is that we need steel, not just for immediate combat requirements, but also for equipping all of our armed forces—and to help equip those of our allies. We need steel for constructing defense plants and new atomic energy installations. These are vital industrial requirements of steel—for such items as power generating equipment, freight cars, and oil producing equipment. These needs are urgent and must not be indefinitely delayed by a steel shutdown."

Truman did not go into any details as to how and why the direct union-management negotiations broke down.

They were reported, however, to have collapsed largely over the union shop issue although union spokesmen said they were not satisfied by wage concessions offered by the industry.

Steelman announced the collapse of the talks to reporters assembled at the White House last night.

Federal Jury Indicts Former Senate Counsel

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—A federal grand jury today indicted Charles E. Shaver on charges of accepting $3,100 in fees to push cases before government agencies while he was counsel for the Senate Small Business Subcommittee.

The grand jury also indicted three associates of Shaver. They were accused of aiding the allegedly unlawful deals.

Shaver was charged, on 11 counts in three indictments, with violating a federal law which prohibits any government employee from accepting compensation to represent outside parties before government agencies in any matter in which the government is interested.

Shaver faces a total of possible maximum penalty of 28 years in prison and $10,000 in fines, or both, if convicted. However, maximum sentences are rarely imposed.

Others indicted along with Shaver were Leonard H. Cooper of Miami, Jerome H. Weinkle, Miami attorney, and Raymond W. Lopatka, Chicago attorney.

Soviet Rejects West Plan For Army Ceilings

UNITED NATIONS, N. Y., June 10 (AP)—Russia rejected today a Western plan for voluntary ceilings on the armed forces of the big powers.

Soviet Delegate Jakob A. Malik told the U. N. Disarmament Commission the proposal of the United States, Britain and France was designed to prevent a real reduction of arms and to avoid prohibition of atomic weapons.

The plan had been offered as a reply to Russian demands for a one-third reduction of armed forces of the big powers.

The Council bought a 76 horsepower Gallion maintainer from the Morton Equipment Company at the low bid of $9,570. This net price allowed $2,500 for the city's present maintainer.

The City National Bank was made depository for the next two years. A. L. Geer, councilman, asked City Manager Roy Dozier to bring in cost estimates on moving a city-owned house at the north water works and replacing it with a new one. Dozier had recommended the move.

The city voted to abandon its lease on the shores of Cherry Creek, part of Lake Colorado City, where it had maintained a public park.

Two Marine Corps recruiters T. Sgt. Wes Ward and Sgt. Winston Hall—will be here at the Postoffice Thursday to handle applications for the West Texas Buddy platoon.

This platoon, composed of men enlisted in this area for training together in boot camp, will leave sometime in June. The sergeants are issuing a special invitation to high school graduates to find out about the opportunities offered, including those in Marine aviation.

Coast Guard Just Bit Late On This Distress Signal

GALVESTON, June 10 (AP)—The Coast Guard station was a little late getting started on this rescue mission.

The station received a weak distress signal Saturday from a fishing boat about 35 miles out in the Gulf.

"It was very faint but the name of the boat sounded like Mrs. Melba," a guard spokesman said.

Five boats scoured 3,800 square miles of ocean but no craft was found.

There came a message from a Morgan City, La., resident who said he owned the Mrs. Melba.

"The Mrs. Melba caught fire two months ago and was a total loss."

Fort Worth Men Named To Board Of T&P Railway

DALLAS (Sp1)—Two Fort Worth men, both prominent in their respective fields, were elected to the board of directors of the Texas and Pacific Railway Co. at a board meeting here this morning.

They are Estil A. Vance, president of the Fort Worth National Bank, and Will K. Stripling, president of the W. C. Stripling Co., one of Fort Worth's largest department stores.

In other business this morning the board voted dividends of $1.25 per share for common stock holders, and dividends of 1.25 per cent for preferred stockholders. The dividends will be payable on June 30 to stockholders of record on June 23, 1952.

Wants Reports From US Attorneys On Criminal Cases

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—Atty-Gen. James P. McGranery told the nation's U. S. district attorneys today to give him an immediate report on the criminal cases which have been pending in their offices.

McGranery said he wanted detailed information on cases where no prosecution has been undertaken.

It was the first major step taken by McGranery since he was sworn in as head of the Justice Department May 27.

McGranery issued his instructions to some 94 federal prosecutors assembled here to get acquainted with their new boss.

Koje Riots

bat Team quelled the Reds. He said: "The discipline of the troops was superb. I have an official report that not one shot was fired in Compound 76. We captured the exact plan of resistance."

He referred to the map and papers found inside 76.

Boa net personally had ordered North Korean Col. Lee Hak Won, a Compound 76 leader, to assemble the POWs for moving Lee refused.

At 3:45 a. m. loudspeakers blared to the compound:

"In 15 minutes you will be moved into newly constructed compounds x x x. If you move quietly you will not be hurt. If you resist you do so at your own peril."

The Communists ducked into freshly dug trenches and waited. Fifteen minutes later the paratroopers attacked. They stormed through the barbed wire fences from several directions.

Twenty minutes after the fighting started Red Colonel Lee was captured.

Rugged paratroopers grabbed him by the seat of the pants and walked him "frog legged"—on hands and knees—out of the compound. Tears streamed down his face. He was clamped in solitary confinement.

Tents flamed and wooden buildings were torn from their foundations when concussion grenades which explode without scattering death-dealing fragments—set off fires and explosions in POW caches of gasoline.

Paratroopers bounded into the prisoners' trenches. Bayonets plunged into Reds who resisted. Some of the wounded fought as long as they could move.

Thirty minutes after the fight started the field was strewn with dead.

Many of the dead prisoners were slain by fellow inmates after they tried to surrender. In the trenches that surrounded all buildings bodies of decapitated Communists were found.

Three hundred hate-spitting Reds made a last stand on the South side of the compound. Six Patton tanks trained guns on the die-hard group but held their fire. Many of the 300 threw down their spears hopelessly and surrendered.

The fighting over prisoners were trucked off to the new enclosures, stripped, fingerprinted and given new clothing.

Military police found trenches and tunnels connecting many buildings. One tunnel led out of the compound in the direction of adjoining Compound 77. It did not reach the other compound but possibly had been filled in by the inmates of 77. The tunnel was elaborate and even had wooden ventilators.

Mac Is Selected As Republican Keynote

CHICAGO, June 10 (AP)—Gen. Douglas MacArthur today was named keynote for the Republican National Convention opening here July 7.

The choice of MacArthur was made on a voice vote in a closed meeting of the convention's 46-member Arrangements Committee.

William Mylander, Republican publicity director, told reporters he understood MacArthur had agreed to accept. The committee decided to split the keynote post away from that of temporary chairman and proceeded toward the election of a temporary chairman.

Walter S. Hallanan of West Virginia, a staunch Taft supporter, was chosen temporary chairman of the convention.

Mylander said the voice vote for Hallanan was unanimous. The West Virginian is a veteran member of the committee, having served on it since 1928.

Rep. Joseph Martin of Massachusetts, House minority leader, who has praised MacArthur as a possible GOP Presidential nominee, was named unanimously as permanent chairman of the convention.

The choice of MacArthur was a victory for supporters of Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio, candidate for the GOP presidential nomination.

Sen. Eugene Millikin of Colorado, a Taft supporter, was named by Gabrielson as chairman of the convention platform committee, completing an almost solid Taft slate of convention officials. Hallanan said he understood MacArthur would address the convention in civilian clothes.

Rev. John Kolar To Return Here

At a meeting of the Main St. Church of God Monday night, the Rev. John E. Kolar, a former pastor, now of Beckford, Ill. was elected unanimously to return to the charge here.

The Rev. Mr. Kolar has accepted the pastorate and will begin his charge July 6.

The Rev. A. W. Conn, supply pastor, served as chairman of the meeting and Mrs. Truett Thomas served as secretary.

The Rev. George Harrington, whom the Rev. Kolar succeeds here has resigned the post to enter the evangelistic field.

While here before the Rev. Kolar was active in the affairs of the Big Spring Pastors Association and in the Lions Club.

TO FLY WETBACKS

Alien Airlift Set To Operate Again

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—An alien airlift, set up by the Immigration Service to fly wetbacks to the Mexican interior, will resume operations Thursday.

Immigration Service officials said yesterday the new schedule calls for three flights daily from Brownsville to Guadalajara, three flights daily from Brownsville to San Luis Potosi, and two flights daily from Holtville, Calif. to Guadalajara.

The airlift, first instituted June 12, 1951, deported 34,657 illegal aliens to the interior of Mexico without mishap. The flights were discontinued last October when appropriations ran out.

Part of the $1,390,000 appropriated by Congress last week for the Immigration and Naturalization Service is to be used to pay flight costs.

The Flying Tiger Line, Inc., of Burbank, Calif., will fly the wetbacks to Mexico in 60-passenger, twin-engine C-46's. The line said "planes are tight" and there may not be enough equipment available to resume full scale operations immediately.

The contract with the airline is reported to provide for payment of about $1.25 per mile for hauling the deportees back into the two South Central Mexico cities and 85 cents per mile for the flight back.

R. Fred Abbott, San Antonio District enforcement officer for the Immigration Service, said "The airlift will be resumed with the approval and very close co-operation of Mexican authorities."

He said the purpose of the flights "is to get aliens away from the border and eliminate congestion in towns on both sides of the Rio Grande."

Two detention camps costing $250,000 each will be built.

One of the camps will be in South Texas. It was to be constructed near the Brownsville Airport but the Immigration Service said local interests objected. Another site may be selected, an immigration official said. The other camp will be built in California.

Link Between US Reds, Huks Said Uncovered

By SPENCER DAVIS

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—Philippine and American authorities have uncovered a secret communication link between Communists in the United States and Communist Huks fighting in the Philippines, Philippine National Defense Secretary Ramon Magsaysay said today.

Coded messages smuggled into the Philippines through air lines serving Manila and San Francisco were intercepted, he said. The messages supplied evidence of a close tie-up between the Reds, he asserted. Other intercepts have been found aboard airplanes from Hong Kong and Europe to Manila.

Means of breaking the communication line with the cooperation of air line officials are under close study, he said in an interview.

The husky 45-year-old defense secretary heads east today aboard a Military Air Transport Service plane for Washington. He will meet President Truman at the White House, and several top military leaders and civilians in a busy five-day visit.

He will stop enroute at El Paso, Texas, for a reunion with a World War II guerrilla comrade-in-arms, Col. Gyles Merrill.

Magsaysay for two years has led a winning battle against the will-o'-wisp Huk guerrillas. He revamped the Philippine Army into small, fast and hard-hitting combat teams. They have kept the Huks off balance and disrupted Red communications.

Last week the Justice Department turned down an offer by Lias to settle out of court for $1,600,000. Hauk has been called as a witness in the case. (AP Wirephoto).

Room Is Located Under Floor Of Vatican Basilica

NEW YORK (AP)—The Rev. Joseph Lynch, Fordham University geologist, says at least one room has been located beneath the marble floor of the basilica of St. Peter's in Vatican City.

Lynch, who returned here yesterday from Rome, said he made tests in attempts to locate Nero's Circus, where St. Paul was crucified, and the tomb of Palestrina, an early musician.

He said no positive evidence was obtained of Nero's Circus under the Belgian cobblestone and concrete surface outside the basilica. But in a try to locate Paletrina's tomb, he said, it was determined that there was a room beneath the floor of the basilica, which he said was built on the site of a pagan cemetery dating back to Nero's time. The seismographic tests were made at the request of Vatican authorities.

Texas GOPs Don't Want Demos Around

By The Associated Press

Those who run the Republican Party in Texas don't want a lot of Democrats cluttering up GOP precinct meetings on July 28.

This was made clear Monday by the State Republican Executive Committee which reminded Democrats it is against the law for a person to participate in the affairs of more than one party.

But the committee, meeting at Fort Worth, declined to pass a resolution that precinct chairmen examine poll tax receipts to make sure those attending hadn't voted in the Democratic primary the same day.

The resolution was proposed by County GOP chairman, L. J. Benkenstein of Beaumont, permanent chairman of the recent state convention at Mineral Wells, said it was unnecessary.

However, Dallas County Republicans adopted the plan for keeping the Democrats out. They decided to check poll tax receipts or exemption certificates and bar any one who voted in the Democratic Primary.

The Republican leaders at Fort Worth voted to hold their nominating convention on Aug. 25 at San Antonio. The date for the precinct conventions was set for the same day as the Democratic primary because it happens to be the fourth Saturday in July. That's when Republicans usually hold precinct conventions.

The committee voted to hold county conventions Aug. 2 and district conventions Aug. 12.

Film Studio Signs To Make TV Movies

HOLLYWOOD (AP)—There's a rift in the ranks of the major movie studios, which until now have been aligned solidly against the encroachments of television.

Columbia Pictures Incorporated announced yesterday it is going into the business of making films for TV. It is the first big studio to do so.

Columbia has signed a contract with the Ford Motor Company to produce 39 half-hour dramatic programs for "The Ford Theatre," to be presented over NBC beginning Oct. 2.

for a place on it within the May 8 deadline and who paid their filing fees at that time. It includes several who failed to comply strictly with the new law's provisions for filing their first reports of campaign contributions and expenditures.

Presbyterians Okay Plan For Group Insurance

CHARLESTON, W. Va., June 10 (AP)—Rev. John F. Anderson Jr. of Dallas, told delegates to the General Assembly of the Presbyterian Church (Southern) last night: "It is a spiritual fight that we must make if the South is really to rise."

Anderson spoke at a special service at the group's 52nd General Assembly. He is associate pastor of the First Presbyterian Church in Dallas.

The General Assembly approved a group life insurance plan for its ministers and full-time employees.

The plan calls for a maximum of $4,000 worth of insurance on each employe up to 65 years of age.

A. H. Burton, an elder from Paris, Tex., was an outspoken opponent of the measure in debate. He said:

"Since the benefits of social security far outweigh the payments, it has become another form of socialist and paternalistic government."

"If our schools, colleges and churches participate in such a program, it will be another federal wedge toward eventual control of these institutions."

Man Slashes Throat As Four Persons Watch

SAN ANGELO, June 10 (AP)—A Latin American man whose daughter was found slain beside a country road slashed his throat yesterday while four persons watched.

Rudolph Martinez, 43, of Wichita Falls drew a razor across his throat shortly after telling a policeman and three other men:

"I'm not scared. I'm not going to run off. I'm here."

The body of Dora Martinez, 19, was found about 20 miles south of San Angelo by a truck driver. She had been shot in the left arm and neck.

Martinez' condition was described at a hospital as fair.

Motorcycle Officer Harold Mathis and three employees of the truck line were en route to where the girl's body was found when they saw Martinez in a parked car.

When they approached, Martinez took several steps toward them and then cut himself.

Asked if he killed the girl, Martinez replied:

"No. She killed herself."

The girl had been shot several times with a .25 caliber pistol and appeared to have been beaten, said Justice of the Peace Justin Kever. He plans to return a verdict after an autopsy and further investigation.

Kever said a .25 caliber automatic pistol and three empty shells were found in Martinez' 1950 Buick.

Detectives said Martinez and his daughter left Wichita Falls earlier in the day after a family quarrel. She was the oldest of nine children.

Crude Production Declines In Weeks

TULSA, Okla., June 10 (AP)—Domestic crude oil and lease condensate production for the week ended June 7 averaged 6,106,400 barrels daily, a drop of 218,525 barrels from the last reported totals, May 3, the Oil and Gas Journal said today.

It was the first weekly report by the Journal since May because of the oil workers strike. The Journal gave these states as losers in production, comparing the weeks ended June 7 and May 3.

Texas, down 341,475 barrels to 2,898,650 barrels; Arkansas, off 200 barrels to 80,800; Colorado, down

8,200 to 77,500; the Eastern fields, 40 to 58,500; Kansas, 69,500 to 548,700; Kentucky, 1,200 to 23,900; Mississippi, 2,150 to 97,250; Nebraska, 600 to 6,000; Oklahoma, 5,000 to 526,200; and Utah, 300 to 4,000.

Pace Thinks UN Has Power To Defeat Red Korea Drive

WASHINGTON (AP)—Secretary of the Army Frank Pace Jr. thoroughly disagreed with Maj. Gen. Daniel H. Hudson on June 10 that United Nations forces in Korea lack the manpower to face the Communist hordes and win the war.

"Any opinion to the effect that United Nations forces in Korea would be defeated if the Communists should attack," Pace declared, "is contrary to everything that our highest military leaders in the field—the men who know most about the situation—have to report.

"For my part, I'll put my trust in the ability of the armed forces of our nation and those of our Allies to meet any challenge which the Communists may make," Pace said in a statement.

The secretary was commenting on an interview in Los Angeles by Hudson, a reserve officer who is returning to civilian life after 21 months active duty, including service as commander of the 40th Division in Korea.

Hudson, who said in his original interview, "I'm not sure why we're even fighting," told reporters later: "Secretary Pace is a fine gentleman, and as secretary undoubtedly has access to information not available to a poor old broken-down commander just back from Korea. I was speaking only from personal experience."

An oil company executive until his recall to duty, Hudson said he expects to be out of the Army within two or three days.

Sixth Army headquarters in San Francisco was asked to investigate the circumstances of Hudson's statement and to provide full details of what he said.

Fighting Tempo In Korean War Is Increased

By MILO FARNETI
SEOUL, Korea (AP)—Swelled forces of United Nations and Chinese Red troops clashed today in the fourth day of a sharp fight for an Allied-held strategic hill position on the uneasy Korean Western Front.

A U. S. Eighth Army briefing officer said "activity has increased" all along the Western Front and that patrol actions are "longer and more intense."

Fighting and shelling increased on the Central and Eastern Fronts, the officer said.

The Eighth Army said at least two companies of U.N. troops—about 400 men—skirmished with Reds today in the friction spot area near Chorwon.

U.N. troops killed 40 and wounded 100 of 250 attacking Reds who tried vainly for 3 1/2 hours Monday to win back the hill they lost Saturday. It was the third and largest assault on the hill by the Reds in 24 hours.

Lesser fights broke out Monday near the main hill battle but neither side won nor lost ground.

The Reds threw nearly 8,000 artillery and mortar shells on Allied positions around the Punchbowl on the Eastern Front Sunday night and Monday, the Eighth Army reported.

Clouds hampered operations of U.N. warplanes over North Korea Tuesday morning.

N.Y. Daily News To Raise Price

NEW YORK (AP)—The New York Daily News, whose circulation of more than two million is the largest for a daily newspaper in this country, will raise its week day price from 3 cents to 4 cents starting June 16.

Increased newsprint prices and other production costs made the boost necessary, the News said. The 5-cent price outside the city limits will remain unchanged.

This enabled many to devote their full time to evangelism. It wrecked the economic foundation of the membership so that Paul had to devote much time taking up collections for the poverty stricken church in Jerusalem.

What To Do About Older Workers Is Pressing Economic Problem

The other day there came a letter which expresses the thoughts that must be in the minds of many men. "I am speaking in behalf of all men between the ages of 55 and 65 years."

Private Negotiations Best, But Some Chart For Emergency Needed

It is possible that the steel crisis may be resolved soon through private negotiations between the parties most directly concerned, which could and should have been the case all along.

The need for this is made apparent by the recent Supreme Court decision which held that the President had no inherent powers to seize a basic defense industry, either in his role as President or as Commander in Chief of the armed forces.

Very Few People Know Branches Of Govt., Political Quiz Shows

By GEORGE GALLUP, Director, American Institute of Public Opinion

PRINCETON, N. J., —If you can answer all the questions in the Institute's second political I. Q. quiz given below, you may consider yourself something of a wizard on American politics.

You should be able to answer at least half of them without difficulty—one-half of the nation's adults were able to do that, the Institute found when it put all eight questions to a balanced cross-section of the entire U.S. adult population in a survey from coast to coast.

Ready? Here are the questions. We warn you that No. 8 was the one that stumped the most people.

THE QUESTIONS

Q. 1-5—Here is a list of people in the news. Will you tell me who each is—or what he does?

- 1. Robert A. Taft?
2. Adlai Stevenson?
3. Earl Warren?
4. Richard B. Russell?
5. Robert Kerr?

Q. 6—In what month will the national Republican and Democratic party conventions be held?

Q. 7—Will each of the 48 states elect members of the House of Representatives this fall, or not?

Q. 8—There are three major branches of the Federal government in Washington. Will you tell me what the three branches of the government are called?

Only 4 per cent of the adults who were given this quiz by the Institute were able to answer all eight questions correctly. Forty-seven per cent got half of them right.

Even among persons who have been to college, the score was one out of every 10 who answered all the questions correctly.

More than 7 out of every 10 adults know who Robert A. Taft, the Ohio Senator running for the Republican presidential nomination, is, and almost as many know that Earl Warren is the California governor who also is seeking the G.O.P. nomination.

Times Have Changed As People Look To Washington For Help

The opinions contained in this and other articles in this column are solely those of the writers who sign them. They are not to be interpreted as necessarily reflecting the opinions of The Herald—Editor's Note.

Back in the days when I was about knee-high to a short Winchester we needed a bridge across Clear Boggy Creek up there in the Choctaw Nation.

The nearest thing we had to a stock association was the Anti-Horse Thief Society, that met here and there, but mainly at the school house, and the principal purpose of which was, I now suspect, to see to it that no poor cowboy got such a start in life as most of the society's members had worked out for themselves with a fast loop and a running iron.

Before daylight one morning, after a meeting of the Anti-Horse Thieves the night before, my uncle told me to hitch up the wagon and head for town.

"We're going to get that bridge," he announced. "We agreed on it at the meeting last night. We're going to furnish the nails. We'll need about five kegs of them. Here's an order."

And we got that bridge. We furnished the nails. Other people furnished the flooring, still others the bigger timbers. Some hauled rocks, while some cut trees and provided needed logs.

The day to start construction soon arrived. Whole families had been brought along in the wagons. Some arrived the night before. Camp was pitched. The bottoms were full of squirrels and quail—and snakes. We boys provided the quail and squirrels and fish.

As I remember we were there about three days, but we got our bridge the hard way and we were proud of it. Red men, black men and white men worked side by side. Red children, black children and white children played together. Everybody was happy. Everybody was proud. Looking back on it now I wonder what would have happened if somebody at the Anti-Horse Thief Society meeting had suggested writing Oklahoma City or Washington asking for that bridge? I suspect they might have been shot, or dangled at the end of a rope, and certainly they would have been cursed more ways than a desert rat can wallop his jacks.

But that was back in the days when people honestly believed that God helps those who help themselves. That was back in the days before the late President Roosevelt taught the people that the taking of alms is respectable. That was back there before the days of mink coats hanging in White House offices.

That old bridge which has probably been swept away long ago will always stand out in my memory as a symbol of American liberty and independence and freedom.

A few days ago I attended a meeting called to discuss the matter of cover crops to prevent the erosion of West Texas farm lands. The whole of the discussion hinged around the problem of "how can we get the money out of Washington."

Not a single voice made the suggestion that the farmers be asked to put up a few dollars to save their own farms.

Times certainly have changed. Shades of Sam Houston and Jim Bowie and Davy Crockett!

There are times when I feel that the American people of today, farmers expressly not excepted, resemble the Americans of yesterday about as much and in the same way that Harry Truman resembles George Washington.

Ike's Criticism Of China Policy Held To Reflect On His Old Pal, Marshall

WASHINGTON. — The White House has been following with great interest—to put it mildly—General Eisenhower's maiden efforts in the political arena.

The President, who conferred pleasantly with Eisenhower just two days before the Abilene speech, was not exactly prepared for the mack-in-the-jaw attack which his administration got from the man he had once urged to run on the Democratic ticket. However, he gave no visible sign of being peeved.

In fact, on the morning after Ike's Abilene blast, the President got off a wisecrack indicating that "Mister" Eisenhower had quite a bit to learn yet about politics.

Talking to Eric Johnston, head of the Point Four program for helping backward areas, Truman said that after he left the White House he wanted to associate himself actively with Johnston's work. He praised the way Johnston was getting American experts to help increase agriculture and improve production in Asia and Africa, then added:

"You know General Eisenhower thinks we can solve these problems with birth control. "I told him," continued the President, "you make that speech in Boston, General, and the Democratic party will carry Massachusetts by 200,000 votes."

In the Pentagon, some of Gen. Eisenhower's old comrades-at-arms watched his Abilene speech and press conference with the keenest interest. They were interested not only because they favor Ike personally, but also because they are a bit worried over the idea of a military man getting mixed up in politics.

After the Abilene events were over and Ike had put himself on record for General MacArthur and criticized the loss of China, one friend recalled an incident in World War II when Gen. George Marshall, then chief of staff, summoned Eisenhower. Marshall personally had planned the North African campaign, but without telling Eisenhower what he had in mind, he called him in and showed him a map on which was charted the North African strategy.

"What do you think of it?" Marshall asked. "It looks o.k. to me," replied the younger man. "You'd better think so," shot back Marshall. "You're going to be in command."

That was the biggest break in Eisenhower's life. It put him on the road to being a national hero and the Presidency.

Yet, at Abilene, Ike's old comrades pointed out, Ike blasted U.S. China policy, knowing full well that Gen. Marshall, as ambassador to China, had first set that policy; then later, as secretary of state, he carried it out; and finally, as secretary of defense, he vigorously opposed the MacArthur policy of arming Chinese Nationalists, building up Formosa, and going all-out for Chiang Kai-shek.

Old military friends of Ike's and Marshall's also recalled that the bitterest feeling exists between MacArthur and Ike's old benefactor Marshall; and that Marshall supported President Truman in firing MacArthur. Yet at Abilene, Eisenhower, his mind on politics, indicated that he would reappoint MacArthur—if elected President.

Military men, of course, don't understand politics. If so, his old friends in the Pentagon might have been more charitable.

But not being politicians, and being fond of their old chief, Gen. Marshall, they also recalled that the most vicious attack ever made on Gen. Marshall was a 60,000-word diatribe on the floor of the Senate by McCarthy of Wisconsin. Under the cloak of privilege, McCarthy called Marshall every name in the book, even accusing him of cowardice. Later, McCarthy collected enough money to have the speech privately printed in book form, and it's now being circulated throughout Wisconsin.

Yet, when Eisenhower was asked about the senator who so bitterly castigated his old friend, Ike refused to "engage in personalities."

Wondering Children Have Some Pretty Good Queries

NEW YORK, June 10 (AP)—Children are superior to grownups because they have a greater sense of wonder.

Adults are always fretting about such dull topics as whether there will be another world war soon and who will be the next President.

Such prosaic cares never disturb the curly hair of my godchild, Nina. She is still a month away from her fifth birthday, and her world is such an exciting one I wish I could share it completely with her.

But I can't. No grownup can know the enchantment of a child's mind, because he loses the fresh joy of discovery. A child would like to know everything about everything, be flooded all at once with all the knowledge of the universe. Grownups have no such desire. Time and boredom too often build a wall around their minds.

They lose the will to learn. This puzzles children. They can't understand why grownups aren't as eager for information as they are.

Nina looks like an exclamation point and she is a living question mark. Queries pour out of her from dawn to dusk, searching queries of a little girl trying to decipher the magic of life.

What does a young lady "going on five" want to know? Well, her mother scotch-taped a piece of paper on the kitchen wall and scribbled down the questions Nina asked.

Here are a few from a two-day total:

"Why is it black when the fire goes out?" "How do you get hungry?" "Why does everyone in the whole world have to go to church and Sunday School?" "Do you love us (Nina and her sister) even when we are bad?"

"Do snakes come in houses?" "Are there any lions and tigers in the whole world?" "Why do people need lights?" "If we ate something at someone else's house and you didn't want us to, how would you know?" "Why can't mummies go to school?" "What color are crows' eyes?" "How do people make people?" "How do people get in the whole world?" "Why is there a moon in the morning?" "How does your nose get dirty?" "Why do we have two ears and not just one?" "How do you get measles?" "How do you forget?" "The mother gave me the slip of paper and suggested that, if I wanted to carry out my duty as a godfather, I might start in supplying Nina with the answers."

But after studying the questions, I put the paper in my pocket and decided to drop the project. What that child needs is five or six encyclopedias.

We went for a walk and Nina asked: "Hal, who turns off the fire-flies after I go to bed?" "Before I could stutter out an explanation, she wanted to know if clouds ever fell on people and hurt them."

"No, they—" I began. "But they must fall down sometimes," she said positively. "We strolled on in silence. I had an uneasy feeling that Nina thought her godfather was pretty dumb, considering his size."

Anybody ought to know a cloud would fall down sometime. It just can't stay up there in the sky all the time, can it?

Actually it was Ike's good friend Winston Churchill who more than almost anyone set back our China policy. Churchill bucked like a steer whenever Gen. Marshall urged more support for Chiang and more supplies for the Burma road. Eisenhower's campaign in Europe, and it was George Marshall more than anyone else except Gen. Al Wedemeyer who urged more support for China. He was so vigorous that in the late summer of 1943, the astute Churchill urged Roosevelt to appoint Marshall commander-in-chief of the Allied armies for the big cross-channel invasion. He knew that with Marshall absorbed in the European theatre he would forget his efforts to push the campaign in China.

Had Marshall encouraged that proposal, he, not Eisenhower, would have been the hero of Europe, and there would have been no speech at Abilene last week.

Today And Tomorrow—Walter Lippman

Ike's Sudden Change From Life Of Soldier Said Extraordinary

The program for last week which General Eisenhower agreed to while he was still in Paris, and then carried out, was a searching test of his own nerves. The test showed that he has the inner durability, the composure, and the self-confidence without which public men, no matter what their other gifts, must crack up and be overwhelmed in the crisis of our days.

Within the space of seven days, and without a day of rest in which to catch his breath and collect his wits, he was catapulted from one career to another. If he had been the man who is shot out of a cannon in the circus, it could not have been more abrupt. The change in his way of life is greater and sharper than that of any other man we have yet seen.

It seems to me something to marvel at, something really extraordinary, that he took it all in his stride without being rattled in the least or breaking down into phobias.

This, however, is the same man who bore the terrible burden of the final decision to launch or to postpone the Normandy invasion. His smiling good nature is not an act, something to be learned and practiced. It is the outer sign of a person who has been through the great tests of life, has met them and has acquired the self-confidence of one who knows he has nothing within to hide or to withhold.

The press conference in its fullest modern development, as at Abilene, is an ordeal which searches a man's personality far more deeply than it does his principles and his policies. The press conference has become an institution, created by the American press, for overcoming that growing threat to honest journalism, the ghost-written speech and the public relations facade. When it is operating fully, as it was at Abilene, it is virtually impossible to get away with deception or evasion. That is to say that it is virtually impossible in such a specially sophisticated audience to pretend to know more than you do know, or to pretend to have taken a bold stand when in fact you are sitting on the fence.

And so, while the quick answers to the very broad questions do not necessarily, or even often, throw great light on the problems and the policies, the net result is to disclose the man's temperament and personality. Nothing else, no set speech and no written document, can do this because so rarely nowadays are they the work of the man himself.

That is why the country, quite rightly, is paying much more attention to the press conference than to the set speech on Wednesday afternoon. For that speech, though no doubt General Eisenhower wrote it himself, has certain of the telltale marks—I would even say footprints—of having been edited by a committee.

Probably never heard of it, he was placing special emphasis on its fifth plank, which read: "Thou Shall Not Steal."

Literally coming out of nowhere, this flour-salesman radio entertainer was elected over eleven opponents without a runoff, re-elected by about the same majority, and then sent to the United States Senate.

Probably no more colorful candidate ever crossed the Texas political scene. His strategies baffled experts; he made no effort to organize his followers into a closely knit machine.

O'Daniel has since retired from the Senate into private life.

Eagles Adults In Three Years

The American eagle has become famed because it is the emblem of the United States, and because its image has appeared on many American coins.

A sadly mistaken name has been used to describe this eagle. Years ago it was dubbed the "bald eagle," and the name has clung to it too long.

The fact is that the heads of American eagles are well covered with feathers. Because the head feathers are white, and a bit hard to see, people who were without good eyesight, or who looked from too far, supposed the head to be bald. Now that we know the truth, it hardly seems right to go on calling this eagle "bald."

Another old name for this bird, and a fairly good one, is "white-headed eagle." It always has white feathers on its head after it is full grown. The rest of its feathers are mainly black or brown.

American eagles are found in various parts of the United States, also in some sections of Canada and Mexico. They commonly nest in tall trees, on branches from 20 to 100 feet above the ground. In making their nests, they use sticks, roots, twigs and grass.

Usually there are only two eggs in a nest. In rare cases there are three. It takes three years for a young American eagle to reach the stage of an adult. In the first year plumage of the young eagle is mostly black. In the second and third years, the feathers are brown, black and gray, with bits of white showing in a few places.

These birds sometimes have a wing-spread of seven and a half feet. They are excellent flyers, and possess very sharp eyes. It is believed that they can spy an object the size of a rabbit at a distance of more than a mile.

Snakes, rabbits and mice are among the animals which golden eagles seize for food, and a waterfowl falls victim to them now and then. Fish, however, are their most common food.

The birds known as fish hawks, or ospreys, often capture fish which American eagles eat. An eagle watches while a fish hawk seizes a fish. Then the eagle chases the other bird until it drops its prey. The eagle may get the fish in midair.

Claims Chapman To Issue Leases On Tidelands

WASHINGTON, June 10 (AP)—A charge that Secretary of Interior Oscar Chapman plans to issue oil and gas leases on the controversial tidelands came yesterday from Sen. S. L. Holland (D-Fla.). The report was discounted promptly by Senate Majority Leader Earnest W. McFarland (D-Ariz.) and Sen. Joseph C. Mahoney (D-Wyo.). Holland said on the Senate floor that Chapman plans "high-handed, arbitrary" action by taking over administration of the tidelands under the Surplus Property Act. The senator called on the Senate Judiciary Committee to investigate whether Chapman has such authority. Chairman Pat McCarran (D-Nev.) of the committee said he found cause for "congressional alarm" and would call a special meeting of the group immediately to ask for all papers bearing on the subject. At the same time, O'Mahoney introduced a bill similar to earlier legislation he had sponsored providing for federal operation of the disputed territory until Congress has determined the controversy finally. O'Mahoney expressed confidence that Congress would uphold President Truman's veto of the bill providing state ownership of the tidelands. A Senate vote on overruling the veto is not expected before next week.

Missing Bankroll Found

Yankee, cocker spaniel pet of Mrs. Sarah Mole, sniffs at a roll of money held by Police Sgt. Donald Watson after the money was found in Yankee's doghouse. The $670, rolled in a tight bundle, disappeared from a kitchen table in the Mole's Camden, N.J., home shortly before Christmas. It was found June 8 when the Moles cleaned out the doghouse. But to deepen the mystery, there was one ten dollar bill missing. And Yankee couldn't talk. (AP Wirephoto).

Ousted BIR Official Acquitted By Court

SAN FRANCISCO (AP)—James G. Smyth, third of the scandal riddled Internal Revenue Bureau's ousted collectors to be tried, was acquitted of backdating his own 1945 income tax returns to defraud the government. Two other ousted collectors—Dennis W. Delaney of Boston and James P. Finnegan of St. Louis—were convicted earlier this year. A Federal Court jury of eight women and four men last night freed Smyth after deliberating seven hours. They acquitted him of three charges after he and others testified his returns were duplicates, filed to replace lost originals. The nattily dressed deposed collector for Northern California commented: "I'm so happy. One of those trials is enough for a lifetime." However, two other indictments remain against Smyth. One, returned in December, was called "vague" by Federal Judge Alger Fee. A new indictment, to replace that one, was the basis for the trial at which Smyth was acquitted. However, the "vague" indictment has not formally been dismissed. Another indictment was returned just before the 10-day trial started. Judge Fee refused to consider it but it still must be disposed of. Smyth was dismissed by President Truman Nov. 28 on charges of "failing to manage his office properly" after a Federal grand jury was called to investigate reputed scandals in his department. He then was charged with backdating returns for himself and his wife in an effort to evade $402 in penalties and interest. The accusations of an improperly managed office led to indictments against several Smyth aides. His ousted chief deputy, Paul V. Doyle, awaits trial on a charge of backdating returns for three estates.

Only One Person Appears For Red Cross Aid Course

Only one person reported for the YMCA-sponsored Red Cross First Aid course that was to have started Monday night. Nancy Lovelace, instructor, stated that another attempt to organize a class will be made next Monday. Miss Lovelace said that anyone wishing to take the course should come by the YMCA Building and register before Friday. Then if no more than 10 have signed up, she stated the course would be dropped. Any person over 11 years is eligible to take the course, she added. Should a class be started, classes will be held in the YMCA Building every Monday night beginning at 7 p.m.

Ike Makes Bid Today For Southern Bloc Of Votes

NEW YORK (AP)—Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower makes a face-to-face bid today for a Southern bloc of Republican convention votes. Continuing his timetable conferences with GOP delegates, he meets groups from Alabama, Georgia and North Carolina—every hour on the hour during the afternoon.

Yesterday he met generally pro-Eisenhower delegates from New Hampshire, Connecticut, and Massachusetts.

Jordan Queen Leaves Hubby

LAUSANNE, Switzerland (AP)—Queen Zeine of Jordan and her son, 17-year-old Crown Prince Hussein, were reported today in hiding somewhere in Switzerland from her husband, mentally ill King Talal. A senior Lausanne police official said the Queen left her hotel in haste Friday, just a day before her husband arrived from Paris. "We know where she has gone," the official added, "but it would be against Switzerland's national interest to say any more." A friend of the royal family said the queen was "terribly afraid" her husband would find her. She and her son were reported living under heavy police guard. King Talal, the son of the assassinated King Abdullah, has been under treatment for a nervous disorder at a clinic on Lake Geneva. The monarch is in a hotel here, waiting news of his wife and son. The Jordan government a week ago appointed a regency council to take over the royal functions while the 41-year-old Talal is unfit to perform his duties.

Garfield Estate Set At $100,000

NEW YORK (AP)—Actor John Garfield, at first reported to have died almost broke, left an estate estimated at $100,000. This estimate appeared on a petition for probate of the will, filed yesterday in Surrogate's Court. Garfield, who died of a heart ailment May 21 at the age of 39, left most of the estate to his widow Mrs. Roberta Garfield. She was named executrix.

Convict Ends His Strike On Girder

JOLIET, Ill. (AP)—A Statesville prison convict ended an all-day perch on a girder 60 feet above the prison's mess hall yesterday after the prison chaplain convinced him he should come down. Marshall Parille, 25, shinned up a steam pipe while prisoners were eating breakfast. He reached a rafters directly under the mess hall's glass roof and began taunting guards. For more than nine hours he ignored guards' orders to come down but finally obeyed the request of the chaplain, Rev. Jervase Brinkman, and slid down the steam pipe. Warden Joseph E. Ragen said Parille told him he was angry about a decision in Sunday's Chicago White Sox-Washington Senators baseball game in Washington. Ragen said Parille was seeking publicity. Parille, of Chicago, is serving 15 years to life for armed robbery.

sachusetts. He also had a session with a Delaware delegation of still doubtful leanings. Out of these talks came Eisenhower's reported answer to the view that a "military mind" isn't suited for the White House. He was quoted as saying modern war makes its leaders all-around administrators, economists and diplomats.

Thus far, much of the South is claimed for Sen. Robert A. Taft of Ohio in 11 southern states—outside the Southwest—Taft claims 97 convention votes to 21 for Eisenhower.

But in these same 11 states there are 55 uncommitted votes, a coveted plum in next month's Chicago convention.

In the three states Eisenhower wins today, the AP tabulation shows:

Alabama—nine for Taft, four for Eisenhower, one uncommitted.

Georgia—all 17 uncommitted.

North Carolina—13 for Taft, seven for Eisenhower and six uncommitted.

It was Mrs. Clare Boothe Luce, former Connecticut congresswoman, who said yesterday that Eisenhower "explained that the techniques of war have changed and that the leader in a modern war must know a great deal, particularly about economics and diplomacy and other questions which in the past have not been in a military man's purview."

In this remark, Eisenhower apparently had in mind criticism from Gen. Douglas MacArthur, a Taft supporter, who has warned against a military group running the nation.

NLRB Rules Against This Definite 'No'

LOS ANGELES (AP)—The National Labor Relations Board has thrown out a ballot marked "hell no" in an election among employees of the National Screw and Manufacturing Company. The election was to determine whether the employees should join the CIO United Auto Workers union. The workers voted against unionization 63 to 36, not counting the "hell no" vote, which the NLRB said it considered a "defacement."

Mrs. Luce said Eisenhower recalled that another general's name was up for nomination at the 1948 GOP convention. The general was MacArthur, but Eisenhower was not quoted as identifying him specifically.

Mrs. Luce added that Eisenhower said he could not remember any statements from that general at that time that a military man should not be President.

Other visitors yesterday quoted Eisenhower as terming the Taft-Hartley Law the "best law on the books." But he was represented as not opposed to amending it. He said he was against "punitive laws."

Claire J. Killoran, chairman of the Delaware delegation, told reporters his group now is 7-3 for Eisenhower, with two uncommitted. It previously was reported 6-4 for Taft, with two uncommitted.

However, at Wilmington, Del., last night, former U.S. Sen. Daniel O. Hastings, a member of the delegation, said his own talks with delegates yesterday indicated seven are for Taft and four for Eisenhower, with one uncommitted.

Leaders of yesterday's visiting delegations said the groups arranged to pay their own expenses for the trip.

Those who start planning on a sports promotion in Forsan invariably call on M. M. (Blacky) Hines for assistance. Hines likes all sports. He helped organize the golf club there and worked with the school to provide a grass gridiron. Now, he's working with Lefty Shelton and others to give the community one of the best sandlot baseball parks in West Texas.

Dallas Grabs League Lead

The Texas League has had its third leader in as many days Tuesday as the Dallas Eagles moved up front by one percentage point. The league Monday night dealt in basis figures overall, three of the games being decided by a single tally, the other by two. Two of the one run decisions placed Dallas ahead of Beaumont. Dallas' Dave Hoskins pitched the Eagles by Shreveport, 3-2, while Joe Landrum of Fort Worth put down the Beaumont club, 2-1. Houston beat Tulsa, 1-0. San Antonio rapped Oklahoma City, 5-3, in the other game. Hoskins, target of possible action in Louisiana barring Negroes from playing against whites, made his first start in Shreveport and was well received. A crowd of 7,378, a record for the Louisiana city this season, watched the Negro right-hander twirl eight-hit ball and notch his ninth win against three losses.

Executive Of USGA Lauds Texas Links Standouts

DALLAS, June 10.—The greatness of Texas athletes was extolled last night as Ben Hogan and Joe Routt, two great names in the sports annals of the state, were honored by being placed in the Texas Hall of Fame. Joe Dey, executive secretary of the United States Golf Association, told of the Hogan who was able to talk of the trials of the crowd and whether a golfing buddy had qualified while playing for the National Open championship. He also told of the Hogan who took over-par scores on two tough holes in the National Open but "got" them the next time around with birdies.

"No state ever produced the great golfers as has Texas," said Dey, principal speaker at dinner honoring Hogan and Routt. "There are Hogan and Babe Zaharias and Betsy Rawls and Billy Maxwell who hold all the major titles of golf. And then there are Dick Metz and Byron Nelson and Lloyd Mangrum and Jimmie Demaret." "Routt was not only a great athlete—an all-America football player at Texas A&M—but he was a man who won at everything he tried whether it be in sports or in

Cayuses Trim Indians, 10-4

Visteur Clouts Grand Slammer

MIDLAND—Juan Visteur and Reggi Corrales teamed up to lead the Big Spring Bronces to an impressive 10-4 victory over the Midland Indians here Tuesday night. The win assured the Steeds of the edge in their current series with the Warriors and moved them within 5 1/2 games of the Longhorn League lead. They are still tied for the runner-up spot in the standings, since Sweetwater and San Angelo also won. But it also put more daylight between them and the second division, since fifth place Rowwell also lost.

Corrales bested Eddie Jacome in the mound test to achieve his fourth win of the season. Visteur, returning to the lineup after a date with the dentist, clouted a grand slam home run in the first and drove in a total of five runs, in all. He had four hits, in all. The homer was his third of the season. It was Midland's fifth straight reversal. The Tribe's slump followed an eight-game winning streak that had elevated them to second place. Jacome took his lumps for the second straight time at the hands of Big Spring. His record now showed eight wins and four defeats and half of those losses have been inflicted by Big Spring.

Corrales fashioned an eight-inning at the expense of the Midland club. Big Spring got things started immediately in the first frame when Rick Gonzales greeted Jacome with a single. Ossie Alvarez and Witty Quintana followed with one baser. Jacome forced in a run by walking Pat Stasey and then Visteur followed with his four-master. The Bronces picked up a single tally in the fifth on Stasey's double and Visteur's single. They added four more in the eighth on a double by Al Costa, singles by Omar Baez and Reggi Corrales, a walk to Gonzales and a three-run error by Midland Shortstop Scooter Hughes.

Giants Defeat Lamesa, 14-6

The Big Spring Giants felled the Lamesa Black Lobos, 14-6, in a baseball game played at Steer Park Monday night, the second win in two days for the locals. The Giants had battered Ablene on Sunday afternoon here, 8-5. Jimmy Lee Jolley hurled last night's game for the Big Springers. Harry Dooley received credit for the Sunday win. Sandman Guider hit a home run for Big Spring last night.

Sauer Becomes Most Feared NL Clouter

NEW YORK (AP)—Hank Sauer today is the most feared batter in baseball.

Every club in the National League has felt the sting of Sauer's big home run bat. Playing the role of "Cinderella man," the Chicago Cub's massive outfielder is leading in batting (.347), hits (66) and runs batted in (54), as well as in home runs (14). It's an old story, this current success of Hank Sauer. A good minor league hitter, he failed in several attempts with Cincinnati. He could hit the long ball but wasn't much in the batting average.

In 1949, the Reds finally traded him to Chicago, where he continued to pound the ball for distance but never once came close to the .300 mark—the accepted gauge of good hitters. This year, however, for some reason, he's been hitting the long ball and the "short" ball—meaning lots of singles. And it's boosted his average some 77 points over his lifetime mark of .270. He's reminding Cub fans of their immortal slugger, Hack Wilson. Sauer, who normally hits best at the end of the season, holds an eight-point lead over New York's Whitey Lockman (.339) in the batting derby. Brooklyn's Jackie Lockman (.338) is a point behind Stan Musial, St. Louis, .330, and Frank Baumholtz, Chicago, .321, round out the top five.

In the American League, Boston's little professor, Dom DiMaggio, took the lead away from Al Rosen of Cleveland. The younger DiMaggio is hitting .343, 10 more points than Rosen. George Kell is the only player close to the two leaders. The Red Sox' third baseman, now hitting in cozy Fenway Park, has boosted his average up to a third-place .328. Far back comes Nellie Fox of Chicago, in fourth place with .314, followed by Ed Robinson, Chicago, Mickey Mantle, New York, and Billy Goodman, Boston, all tied for fifth with .311.

Bonura Pitch Here Cost Him

It cost Manager Zeke Bonura more ways than one for a pitch he made in the recent Midland-Big Spring series here. In that one, the Midland boss grabbed the ball from the hand of Empire Bruce Averill and, in a fit of anger, hurled it over the grandstand. For that indignity, he was waded out of the ball game by Empire Averill. When League President Hal Sayles heard about it, Zeke was fined $10. In addition, Bonura must pay for the baseball, cost of which comes to $2. # Coahoma Plays Col-Tex Nine COAHOOMA—Two Colorado City Softball League games are scheduled tonight but the contest between Coahoma and Col-Tex holds the spotlight. The two teams are tied for the league lead. Both clubs hold identical one-win, one-loss records, with the losses going to the other. Coahoma bounced into the tie Thursday night with a 10-0 victory over Loraine while Col-Tex was idle. In the second game tonight, Loraine faces Sun Oil.

Hornsby Loses Brownie Post

ST. LOUIS, June 10.—Rogers Hornsby was fired today as manager of the St. Louis Browns by owner Bill Veeck and Marty Marion who was immediately named to replace him. Veeck, in making the announcement through the Browns' front office here, said he was relieving Hornsby for the good of the club. Hornsby had a three-year contract with the Browns but Veeck made a settlement with him, the terms of which were not announced. Associated Press Staff Writer: If the Brooklyn Dodgers are not careful, they may find themselves 13 1/2 games in front of the New York Giants on Aug. 11. And is there anybody who doesn't know what happened to the poor Brooks after that date last year? Even so, manager Charlie Dressen of the dauntless Dodgers is willing to gamble with such a long lead. He agrees that the Giants' unprecedented 1951 rush to the top in a playoff victory over the Brooks was nothing short of a miracle. And miracles just don't happen twice in a row this modern day and age. Currently the Dodgers are playing a better brand of baseball than they did at a corresponding time a year ago. They're playing remarkable 781 ball with 35 victories in 46 games. They've dropped just one of their 10 games on this second western swing. They lead the second place Giants by five games. On May 28, after losing three straight to New York, the Dodgers trailed the Giants by two and a half games. So they've gained seven and a half games on their chief rivals in two weeks. Last night's 6-2 triumph over the Cardinals in St. Louis ran Brooklyn's latest winning streak to eight in a row although only one Brooklyn pitcher—Ben Wade—was able to go the distance. On the other hand, none of the starting pitchers has been able to go the route against the Dodgers during that stretch. Boston's Red Sox also solidified their first place bid, opening up a one-game margin over the second place New York Yankees by vanquishing the Detroit Tigers.

LOOKING 'EM OVER

When the Big Spring Bronces surprised everyone, including themselves, by belling Eddie Jacome Monday night, it marked the seventh decision the Steeds had won from the Tucson control artist in three seasons of play. Eddie, the present series included, holds eight verdicts over the locals. Jacome really had the Indian sign on the locals back in 1948, at which time he was wearing the flannels of the Vernon Dusters. That year, Ed started five times against Big Spring and won four decisions, one of them in a game that went 19 innings at Vernon. In that one, Freddy Rodriguez struck out no less than 18 of the Dusters but Vernon prevailed, 6-5. Last year, Jacome won 29 games for Midland but the first three times he faced the provincials he took his lumps. Jacome eventually wound up with a 3-4 won-lost mark against the Cayuses. The Bronces were quite probably the only club to hold the edge over him ever in the season. In his first start against Big Spring this year, the likeable right-hander shut the door in the faces of the Big Springers, winning, 5-0. Then came the game last Thursday night, when he failed to go the distance and lost an 8-2 verdict. Last night, the Steeds made it look even easier, belling Jacome around to win, 10-4.

Jacome's boss, Zeke Bonura, thinks Ed would fare much better in Class A or AA ball than he would in a B league. Says Ed would fill the bill where his support was A-1, as it usually would be in A or AA ball.

Witty Quintana more or less promised Beatrice Stasey, wife of the Big Spring manager, he'd deliver with a home run against Midland in the final game of that set here last week. Quintana had hit a fence-clearing blow that was called foul by inches by Empire Bruce Averill the previous night. Several of the fans thought the ball was fair and set up a howl about it when Averill called Witty back. Before the Thursday night engagement, Beatrice sought out Quintana and asked him to 'park one' against Jacome, the Midland hurler for the night. "With the bases loaded," Mrs. Stasey added, as an afterthought. Needless to relate, Quintana did just that.

The first three Longhorn League players to hit ten or more home runs this season all were Artesia livers. They were Joe Bauman, Paul Haller and Pete Pichan in that order. Stumpy Jones, who used to dread the thought of facing Big Spring while wearing the uniform of the Sweetwater club, was recently named to Jinx Tucker's all-time Big State League team.

Big Spring failed to score a run off Midland in their first two meetings of the 1952 season but made up for lost time, after that, getting 24 in the next three games.

Giants Experienced Woes After Willie Mays Left

By GAYLE TALBOT. NEW YORK (AP)—It would, as a matter of fact, have been plain remarkable and against all the laws of probability if the New York Giants had not gone into at least a temporary decline after losing to the Army. The National League champions will be lucky if it proves only temporary. Some things about baseball are difficult to explain, and the tremendous role this joyous Negro boy with the high-pitched voice played in the day-by-day fortunes of the Giants is one of them. It transcended by a great deal the importance of his batting and fielding, good as they were. Almost from the day he stepped into the lineup just over a year ago, fresh from Minneapolis, Willie became a sort of symbol to Leo Durocher's team. Here was a kid so gifted that no one could even guess at the heights he might scale, and yet so completely guileless and unaffected and plain filled with the wonder of playing big league ball that he scarcely seemed real. The Giants adopted Willie, and Willie adopted the Giants. The Alabama kid became a sort of mascot, a winning symbol. The veterans of the club laughed when he ran out from under his cap on the bases and ribbed him like a bumptkin in the locker room, but when Willie wasn't around they told you he was making catches out in centerfield and throwing to the plate probably never excelled, if matched, in the history of the game. Willie's infectious spirit and the circus support he gave Giants pitchers were more important than the books will ever show in the club's sensational drive to the flag last year. His batting fell off badly toward the end, but there likely would have been a team insurrection if Durocher had benched him. In the final tense days Willie moukled to one of his heroes, Eddie Stanky. "I ought to be hittin' more," and Eddie told him, "Willie, you just do the catching and we'll do the hitting." The past spring at Phoenix the Giants were a carefree, confident team, and the "holer kid" was the star of their training sessions. The crowds and the other players watched delightedly as Durocher worked him unmercifully and conspired to beat Willie out of his turns in the batting cage. But Willie loved it. Possibly none of this explains entirely why the Giants figured to suffer an emotional reaction when Willie left. It might be difficult to understand how the loss of one player can drastically affect the fortunes of a club so solidly equipped with stars as the Giants. All anyone knows is that the Giants haven't looked like pennant winners since Willie went away.

Havana Rookie May Come Here

The Big Spring baseball club has been promised a rookie hurler by Havana but his name is unknown here. Manager Pat Stasey ran into manpower problems recently. At one time, only 12 men were in uniform. Longhorn League teams are allowed to carry 16 players. Stasey's mound staff is causing him much concern. Gil Guerra is not in the best of health. Bert Estrada has streaks of wildness no one can explain. Two of his regulars—Bert Baez and Reggi Corrales—have had to play the outfield regularly. He feels he needs at least one more starter and probably two for the 'dog days' of the campaign just ahead. Help has been slow in coming, however, because Havana, the parent club, has been having troubles of its own. The Cubans were recently eight games off the first place club's pace in the Florida International League. Joe Cambria, in a telephone conversation with Stasey Monday, said he might send a boy who was a big time winner here several years ago. The conversation was so indefinite though, Stasey said he preferred not to name him until he could talk with Cambria again.

Famechon Rally Edges Ankarah

NOTTINGHAM, England.—Ray Famechon of France still has his European featherweight championship today, but only after rallying strongly in the last round of his 15-round battle with Roy Ankarah from the African Gold Coast. A crowd of 35,000 gave the Frenchman a big cheer when Referee Andrew Smythe lifted Famechon's hand at the finish. Famechon started fast, and rolled up a good lead after the first seven rounds, but Ankarah came back strong from then on and the Frenchman had to go all out to earn the edge in the last stanza.

registered some dissents. They included several who now are backing Eisenhower for the party's nomination.

One of them, Sen. H. Alexander Smith of New Jersey, said in a separate interview today that the statements of Taft and Eisenhower indicate "that Republicans will present a united front once the nominee is selected."

"There has been some loose talk about a pre-convention contest splitting the party," Smith said. "I think this demonstrates that whether Eisenhower or Taft is the nominee, the party can and will be unified in the campaign."

The 1950 campaign document put the party on record as wanting "to win lasting peace, to build a country in which every citizen may make the most of his skill, initiative and enterprise, to hold aloft the inspiring torch of American freedom, opportunity and justice, assuring better and happier life for all our people."

Here in brief is what the statement said the party stands for:

Consummation between the President and leaders of both parties in developing a "united American foreign policy."

General reduction of taxes and federal spending, a stop to deficit spending and a return to a balanced budget.

Strict enforcement of laws against monopoly.

A non-partisan commission study to bring about a redistribution of governmental functions and sources of revenue between federal, state and local entities.

Fair prices for farmers aided by a system of price supports. Opposes Brannan Plan.

Continuation of the Taft-Hartley Act with improvements shown to be needed.

Legislation to protect the rights of minorities.

Federal aid to states for subsistence, shelter and medical care for those in need, avoiding "socialization" of the medical profession or of any other activity.

Extension of the coverage and benefits of old age and survivors' insurance.

Continuing and sympathetic consideration of the rights of veterans and their dependents.

Complete overhaul of the government's loyalty and security checks on federal personnel.

Prompt elimination of all Communists, fellow travelers and Communist sympathizers from the federal payroll and closer coordination between intelligence agencies in weeding out the disloyal.

FOR LOCAL AREA AF Civilian Safety Rules Agreed Upon

An area above and around Hamilton Field, northeast of Big Spring, was placed "off limits" for Air Force planes by agreement of civilian and military aviation authorities at Webb Air Force Base Monday.

It was decided during a safety conference at the base that Air Force pilots shall be restricted from flying at altitudes below 1,500 feet in the area immediately surrounding Hamilton Field and extending westward to Highway 87 restricted area includes all of Big Spring east of the highway.

In turn, civilian representatives agreed that private planes and other craft operating in or out of Hamilton shall be warned to stay within the restricted area for approaches, landings and takeoffs. An altitude of 4,500 feet was approved as a "safe minimum" for civilian aircraft flying over Webb Air Force Base and its approaches.

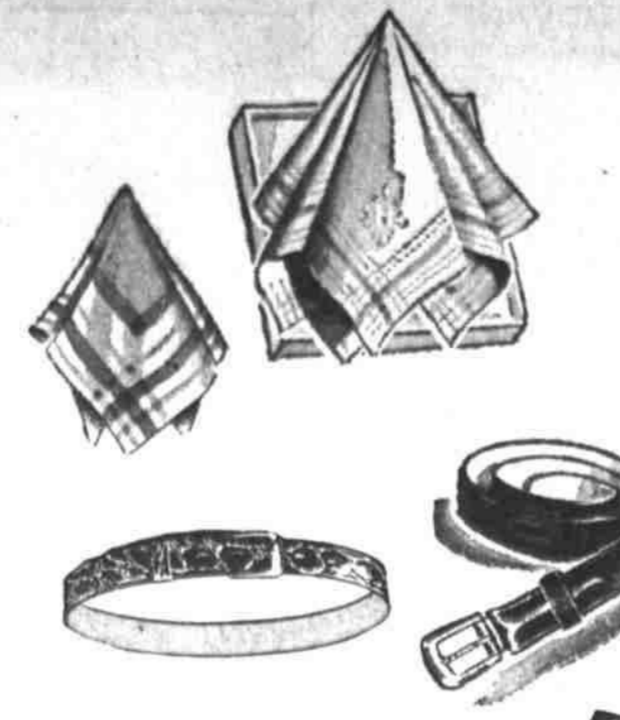

In addition, an area north of Hamilton Field was agreed upon by Cecil Hamilton, flight service operator, and Air Force representatives for acrobatic training of Hamilton's student pilots.

Maps showing the restricted areas and approach, landing and take off patterns for WAFB will be posted at Hamilton Field for the benefit of private airmen. Barney Edens, manager of municipal interests at the private field, will post information on local flying conditions for the benefit of transient pilots.

To clear the air immediately above Hamilton Field, Maj. Jack Terzian, group operations and training officer at Webb, agreed to extend approach "legs" and take off patterns for military craft to four miles (instead of two) in cases where the shorter patterns conflicted with Hamilton traffic.

Both civilian and military conferences emphasized the importance of watchfulness and caution in the immediate area where always often are congested with fast jet trainers and slower private and commercial planes.

Participating in the safety conference were Emerson Carpenter, safety agent for the Civil Aeronautics Administration; Jack Cook, former Municipal Airport Manager, H. W. Whitney, Big Spring city manager; Major Alec Streete, director of training and operations for WAFB; Lt. Robert A. Walker, assistant operations officer; Capt. Ralph Kauffman, base public information officer; Hamilton and Edens.

Membership Drive Opens For Jaycees

A drive to gain 25 new Junior Chamber of Commerce members got underway Monday when the club held its weekly luncheon meeting at the Settles Hotel.

The drive will last until July 7. It was decided to forego the usual contest angle between two groups in the club in holding this drive. Instead, the campaign will be a project of the club as a whole.

Discussion during the business meeting also touched upon the "Welcome Airmen" party scheduled at the City Park June 20. The Jaycees will join with the ABClub in furnishing volunteers to assist in the serving of food.

A report was also made to the club on activities of the USO board. Ray Rhodes, president, is a member of that board. The club expressed, again, a willingness to do anything it can to assist the USO to get organized.

Rhodes presided at the meeting.
