MRS. GENE DICKSON

Jerry Raybun, Gene Dickson Exchange Vows In Home Rites

In a double ring ceremony performed in the home of Rev. and Mrs. Howard Scott at 4 p.m. Friday, Miss Jerry Raybun became the bride of Gene Dickson with Rev. Scott, pastor of the First Baptist Church, officiating.

The bride's parents are Mrs. A. P. Wiley of Dallas and W. E. Raybun of Houston. Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Dickson are the bridegroom's parents.

Mrs. Bob Lawrence, pianist, played a short prelude of wedding selections and accompanied Miss Wanda Kirksey who sang "O Promise Me" and "The Wedding Prayer." Mrs. Lawrence also played the traditional wedding marches and played "Savior Like a Shepherd Lead Us" during the ceremony.

Close friends and relatives witnessed the marriage service as the couple and their attendants stood before an improvised altar arranged with baskets of blue and white daisies, bells of Ireland and gladioli, flanked by French blue tapers in candelabra.

Miss Beth Scott, as maid of honor, wore French blue organdy over taffeta made similar to that worn by the bride with a bandeau of flowers in her hair. She carried a bouquet of French blue carnations.

Dale Dickson, brother of the bridegroom, served as best man. The bride was given in marriage by O.M. Dickey, a personal friend of the couple. The wedding gown of white organdy over French blue taffeta was fashioned with a fitted waist having a high round neckline, with a wide band of lace dotted with seed pearls and sequins outlining a deep yoke.

The full waltz length skirt fell in unpressed pleats and the fingertip veil of illusion was attached to a matching half-crown studded with pearls and sequins. Short white mesh gloves completed the costume and she carried a cascade arrangement of white feathered carnations.

Mrs. Howard Scott, who took the place of the bride's mother in her absence, wore a light gray silk shantung dress and a corsage of blue and white daisies. The bridegroom's mother wore a rose pink eyelet sheer with navy accessories and a blue and white daisy corsage.

A white organdy cloth over French blue covered the bridal table at a reception held later in the Scott home. Blue and white daisies repeated the colors used in the wedding and the three-tiered wedding cake was topped with a miniature bridal couple.

Assisting with hospitality were Mesdames O. M. Dickey, E. J. Kirksey, Jimmie Allred, Misses Johnny Burkett, Earle Dean Gandy and Marlene Allred. Barbara Dickson presided at the guest book. For traveling the bride wore a turquoise silk shantung with slippers matching and white accessories. After a short wedding trip the couple will make their home at 908 Main St. in Brownwood.

Mrs. Dickson is a graduate of Carthage High School and of Parkland Hospital School of X-ray Technology in Dallas. She is now a sophomore student at Howard Payne College. He is also serving as secretary of her freshman class and was active in Baptist Student Union, Mission Band and F.T.A. For a time she served as X-ray technician here in the Hereford Medical Clinic.

Mr. Dickson is a graduate of Hereford High School and is now a senior student at Howard Payne College. He is also serving as pastor of the Bethel Baptist Church near Brownwood.

Out of town guests attending the wedding were Mr. and Mrs. Bob Lowry, Ann and Bobby of Hot Springs, Ark., Mr. and Mrs. Bob Duncan of Dimmitt, Mrs. W. B. McReynolds, and Mrs. Jerry Dailley of Amarillo, Mrs. W. T. Dickson of Lovington.

Pre-Nuptial Parties Honor Bride-Elect Jerry Raybun

An early summer tea was given in honor of Miss Jerry Raybun, bride-elect of Gene Dickson, in the home of Mrs. Ralph McCullough Monday afternoon.

Serving as hostesses with Mrs. McCullough were members of the Hankin and Edwards Circles of the Woman's Missionary Union of the First Baptist Church.

The refreshment table carried out the bride-elect's chosen colors of pale blue and white. The cloth was of white linen and the center piece was a large engagement ring set with a cluster of jewels, standing upright on a base of blue net edged in a ruffle of matching net.

Encircling blue and white daisies completed the center decor. All blue tapers at the back of the table gave candlelighting for the evening. Cakes were in the shape of wedding rings surrounded by pale blue carnations.

Another feature will be location of the safe deposit boxes immediately inside the entrance for the convenience of patrons. The vault will also be at the front of the building.

At the rear of the main room, three rooms of varying sizes will be provided.

The first, which may be entered from either the bank or from the parking lot area, will serve as a coffee room for employees and in addition will be available for meetings of small groups both during and after banking hours. Forty people can be accommodated for meetings, according to Architect Ward's plans.

The second room will serve for directors' meetings and for conferences with customers. The third and smallest room is the bank president's office.

The lots on which the new building will be built were formerly occupied by the Truly-Teague car lot.

And, incidentally, the change in day. Faust Collier, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation manager, said that loans have been averaging about $300. High protein content of much of the grain has brought premiums above the $1.87 loan rate.

This brings the total immediate cash return to about $400,000. Many farmers are still holding on to their grain, storing it at local elevators or in bins on the farm.

The rain Wednesday halted finishing-up work in the wheat fields for several days. It appears now that the last of the crop will be combined about July 4, the date when the harvest is normally just hitting full-swing.

July 4 To Be Legal Holiday

All Hereford merchants will close July 4, Independence Day. Chamber of Commerce Manager Bill Lenderman said Saturday. City and county offices, the post office and other federal offices will also close.

All the merchants are closing in cooperation with the Hereford Merchants Association, and the holiday is one of several sanctioned by the association throughout the year.

The bankers take a holiday, too, and summer school will also be closed, according to Buck O'Fall, principal.

Mrs. T. M. Cox Jr., and children left Saturday for Dumas where they are visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. Oscar Hise. Mrs. Cox will attend the wedding and be in the reception house party for an aunt, Mrs. Freda Albers, while in Dumas. Later in the week Mrs. Cox and children will go with her parents on a vacation trip to points in Colorado.

Estimates of the potato acreage here have varied widely, with 3500 acres being most generally accepted as the total. Most fields are in the hands of veteran growers. Newcomers turned to other crops after discouragements of the past two years.

Cabbage, one of the area's promising minor crops, had Leon Coffin smiling on Friday when he received his first order. He said he had accepted a price of $55 per ton for a load from his field and planned to begin cutting yesterday.

Coffin estimates that there will be 200 acres of cabbage produced here this year.

The harvest of carrots from the fields here is expected to get underway about July 15.

Hale and Washington County Farmers Do Something About Marketing Hay

Through the offices of the county agricultural agents in Hale and Washington counties, an alfalfa hay marketing program has been developed. It had a simple beginning. A conversation between Olive Liner of Hale, former Farmer County agent, and J. W. Stufflebeme of Washington county at last year's State Extension Service Conference started the ball rolling.

Need Hay Grader

The purpose of the new organization is to see that only a good quality hay, properly baled and cured is shipped. Inspection committees have been set up and at the present an attempt is being made to get a full time hay grader in the area. Arrangements between the two groups have been made so that the producer gets his money for the hay as soon as the load is weighed. The receiving group pays for the hauling when the hay is delivered.

Both Groups Benefit

Liner and Stufflebeme believe the program will prove beneficial to both groups. It has made a new market for the producers and will give the users the quality hay they desire. Liner further states that it may also give Hale County farmers a chance to do more market expanding since they annually produce about 32,000 tons of alfalfa each year. Special attention will be given, he says, to see that the hay is baled and handled correctly.

Plans are now being made for a Hale County group to visit the dairymen so that any problems relating to the program can be worked out for the mutual benefit of both groups.

family. Mr. Hill is a teacher in the Lockney Public School. While there, they attended the wedding of a relative, Joe Ed Foster.

Mr. and Mrs. D. H. Alexander left Friday for Fort Worth to spend the Fourth of July holiday with their son and family, Mr. and Mrs. Burl Alexander and daughter Susya.

Fireworks, Fun, Often Fatalities Mark and Mar Independence Day

By CAROL INMAN

Wednesday is the Fourth of July, the 180th anniversary of the signing of the Declaration of Independence of the United States. On this day, people everywhere celebrate with picnics, parades, vacation trips, pageant family reunions — and fireworks.

Fourth is also, traditionally — unfortunately — one of the most tragic holidays, with a high percentage of accidents and deaths from fireworks, drownings, and car wrecks.

Glorify in Fireworks
Before all the danger of fireworks there is glory in them. In the early days of the sparklers, the lighting of Roman candles, and the shooting arcs of red, green, blue and gold, as a rocket splashes against the sky.

Chinese and Japanese originate the idea of fireworks many centuries ago, and as they have been used for celebrations throughout the years, fireworks have become bigger and better than ever.

Some of the fireworks that will be heard and smelled across the nation this Fourth of July are the Roman Candles, Star Bombs, M-1's, Roman Candle Rockets, Sparklers, Star Cascade Fountains, and of course the inevitable firecrackers, which range from one-half inch to four inches long.

1200 People Injured
S. grimy-faced boys delight in the noise of giant salutes, the pungent aroma of burning powder, the suspense that attends the firing of a fuse, the blast that sends cans high into the air — the rising dangers. Well, over 1000 persons, mainly children, are annually killed, blinded, or permanently disfigured and disabled this holiday each year.

610,048 soldiers were killed during the Revolutionary War that followed the first Independence Day, 4, 1776. Since 1900, over 112 Americans have been killed or wounded celebrating that fiery of Independence.

A single death from fireworks attributed to the war year 1941-45, and injuries fell to 50 for the five years. First makers simply stopped making fireworks. Explosives were used for even more lethal purposes.

Early Day Laws
Many had statutes on the books forbidding or controlling the use of fireworks before she had an independence day to celebrate. A Rhode Island law of 1731 banned "The unnecessary firing of guns, pistols, squibs (firecrackers) or other fireworks. Pennsylvania adopted a similar law in 1751 and others followed the example.

As the zeal for Independence Day fireworks mounted, so did annual casualty figures. Carnage became so appalling that the American Medical Association in 1903 began compiling statistics. In 1909, the Fourth's fireworks toll was 215 killed and 5,092 injured, considerably less than the 348 killed and many thousands injured in auto accidents over the Fourth of July in 1954.

From these grim facts, it's no amazing wonder that 28 states have placed prohibitive laws on fireworks, and 14 now have restrictive laws on them. Only six states have no state statutes. They are Nevada, Texas, Oklahoma, Missouri, Mississippi, and Louisiana.

However, many communities in these states have enacted their own bans on fireworks.

Hereford is included in the list of these communities.

Local Sales Prohibited
Sales of fireworks, in Hereford within the city limits is prohibited by city ordinance and is punishable by a fine not to exceed $200. And the shooting of fireworks within the city limits is also prohibited.

Last year in Hereford there were two accidents over the Fourth of July holidays. On the 3rd, there were two car wrecks, and one girl injured. No accidents on the Fourth and the police had a quiet day, and just had to warn a few small boys about disturbing people with firecrackers.

Although small boys think firecrackers are "it," families also gather in the warm twilight on the Fourth of July to admire the dream landscape as it gleams before them, with showers and fountains, storms, cascades and chariots of fire. Just to think that a flashing second ago, this weird green was but a little acetate of copper, this awful red a bit of strontium, this pure, triumphant blue mere copper, these wild rains of flame and sparks a heap of iron filings.

City Displays
These fireworks with such pretty streams of light are nice to watch—at a safe distance, but many will sit up and take special notice to the displays put on in larger cities. Fancy fireworks such as the Japanese firecrackers, which are bombs burst in daylight and release American flags or other novelties, and the symbols of 4-H Clubs, Boy Scouts, VFW can be seen, and of course there is the giant Uncle Sam, or the red, white and blue American flag.

For even more on the fancy side of fireworks, there is the Christmas tree with a silver star and even falling snow, or maybe a reindeer with a bulbous scarlet nose!

Even a See-Saw
In Torrington, Conn., at a display a few years ago, the magnificent climax of the amazing fireworks display was two figures, one seated at each end of a see-saw, and they moved up and down, up and down — what a fairyland fantasy!

Fireworks are used, not only on Independence Day, but also at Christmas, winter carnivals, football games, state fairs, and anywhere and anytime someone wants fiery patterns plastered on the sky. Or just some noise.

Ford Foundation To Give Funds To 4-H Club Center

COLLEGE STATION, June 29 — One of the highlights of the 26th National 4-H Club Camp in Washington, D. C., June 13-20, was an announcement by the Ford Foundation of a grant of $490,000 to develop the National 4-H Club Center.

The grant to the National 4-H Club Foundation was made on a partial matching basis, according to G. G. Gibson, director of the Texas Agricultural Extension Service, which directs 4-H Club work in Texas.

To obtain the $490,000, the foundation must raise $245,000. Most of it will come from contributions of 4-H members. Texas 4-H'ers have already contributed $9,541.43, and about $120,000 of the nation-wide goal of $214,000 have been raised.

The 4-H Center property, the former Chevy Chase Junior College, is now occupied by the John Hopkins University Operations Research Office. The 4-H Foundation will take possession July 1, 1957.

Airplane Topples Over

Mrs. W. C. Briggs had quite an experience last weekend when her sister and brother-in-law of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Wes Anthony, came to visit in the Briggs home. They were to arrive by a small two seater plane. Mrs. Briggs had sighted the plane and was waiting to see just where to go to pick the couple up by car. She saw the plane land in a freshly plowed field and, much to her horror, topple over.

She rushed to them to find that they were not seriously injured but scratched up considerably. The plane was damaged extensively. A wrecking company from Lubbock was summoned and carried the plane back home.

Sunday morning Mr. and Mrs. Briggs took the Anthonys home. En route the two couples went by Olton to visit a son and daughter-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Jimmy Briggs and grandson, Jim Bob. Young Jim accompanied his grandparents on to Lubbock. They returned home Sunday night.

Tractor Accident Victim

Edd Pinnell added to local news when he was involved in a tractor accident late Wednesday afternoon. His foot was caught in a plow hitch and crushed. Muscles were torn and bruised in the left foot and the small toe was broken. Edd was taken to Northwest Hospital in Amarillo where X-rays were taken to determine the extent of damage done to the foot. The accident was very painful but after seeing the work shoe he was wearing, it is thought perhaps the shoe saved the end of Edd's foot. He is to stay abed for five or six days.

We're very thankful it was not worse. After much medication and elevation, his foot should show no damage. Hard luck, Edd.

Palks Are Here

Mr. and Mrs. Albert Palk "popped in" on Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Tomlinson, Mrs. Palk's brother and family, Thursday. They also visited with Mr. and Mrs. R. D. Sisk. Mr. Palk is now employed with "Pipe Life" and his home office is at Tulsa. He is now on his way to work in Illinois. The Palks were sporting a new Chevrolet. Their friends were very glad to see them once again.

Mr. and Mrs. Selden Tomlinson and Sandra of Coleman arrived on Wednesday to visit with Mr. Tomlinson's brother, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Tomlinson and Judy Nell. They are here to cut their wheat. About 20 miles out of Coleman they had the misfortune of turning their house trailer over.

A piece of the top of the trailer was turned over and the partitions were all torn loose. It was caused when the trailer started whipping and then whipped loose and turned over. Damage was not extensive and can be repaired.

This year when you call out to the house about blockeyed peas the next voice you hear may not be ours.

The telephone company is going to install one of those gadgets for us that answers the telephone when we are outside and it will even take a message so you won't need to call back.

Our lad, with a lot of interest in science, can hardly wait and we are also relieved to know that when the telephone rings after this there won't be any excuse for people to hang up before we can get there and leave us wondering who it was on the other end of the line.

Our peas are beginning to bloom so they should be ready to start picking around the middle of July which will be about three weeks earlier than we usually have them.

We had a nice letter and an invitation to visit the cannery in Plainview so we plan to make the trip when the canning season opens.

The president of the company wrote that he bought the machinery from the plant we had out west of town the first year we planted peas.

If anybody wants a pup Sissy has eight real pretty little fellows that will be big enough to take away around the first of August.

If your boy has a gun and rides in a real light colored car it might be wise to find out how he spends his afternoons and evenings. As we were walking in the field one day last week, a bullet whined past our head. Shooting was done from a car on the road which, of course, is a violation of the law. The law also says it is unlawful to shoot along or across a public road and another law in Texas makes parents liable for the delinquency of minor children with the possibility of a six months jail sentence.

les Hood, Mrs. Mary Seigler, and T. E. Seigler Jr., will attend the funeral.

Besides his brother, Charles Hood, and a sister, Mrs. Mary Seigler of Hereford, Hood is survived by seven other brothers and sisters, his wife, one son, Bill of Farmington, N.M., and two grandchildren.

Having A Wonderful Time, Wish You Were Here, Too

right are Mrs. Russell and small son, Jerry, Mary Russell, Ann Cunningham, Martha Russell and Helen Cunningham. Mrs. Cunningham ties the bed roll held by Coach Russell.

SERIOUS TALK—Coach Russell and Supt. Cunningham hold a serious talk session about those big trout they hope to catch while on the trip.

OFF TO SOUTH DAKOTA—Mr. and Mrs. Lyle Blanton are just about ready to take off for South Dakota where they will spend the next couple of months at their farm and ranch near Bellefourche. They returned Monday from Dallas where they attended the Texas Butane Dealers Convention. Mrs. Harold Reed of Bellefourche, S. D., right, returned to Hereford with them from Dallas and will make the trip back to South Dakota with the Blantons. Blantons' vacation will consist for the most part of work at the farm but there will also be side trips to the Black Hills and weekend journeys to points of interest.

NEXT STOP FLORIDA—Mr. and Mrs. Homer Brumley tell members of their family goodbye before leaving by plane for Miami, Fla. to attend the International Lions' Convention. He was recently elected secretary of the Hereford Lions Club. Standing behind his mother is David, who will stay home and run the farm, Mrs. Brumley's mother, Mrs. Maude Montfort, and Caroline, who gives her Dad a big bear hug in farewell. The Brumleys left from Amarillo Tuesday. Following the convention they will visit in Havana and Nassau before returning home.

TO DENVER—The children in this picture have already had camping trips and vacation trips and are not worrying about their parents leaving them for a trip to Denver, Colo. Dr. and Mrs. Roy Grubbs are shown with Jim, 11, Angela, 2, David, 9, behind his mother and Ricky, 6. Dr. and Mrs. Grubbs left Monday for Denver where he will attend a summer clinic in Pediatrics at the Children's Hospital. A short visit with relatives in Alabama may also be included while they are on the vacation trip. (Staff Photos)

MOVIE NEWS

Dramas of Emotional Conflict Plus All Night Ghost Convention to Show

ALL THAT HEAVEN ALLOWS
A deep and moving drama of a wealthy widow who must balance her love for a younger man against the inevitable antagonism of her teenage children and the ugly gossip of her friends is told in the exceptional interesting picture, "All That Heaven Allows," showing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Star Theatre. Jane Wyman gives an inspiring interpretation of the young widow who loves bravely and desperately, who must choose between what she wants, and what she fears she might lose. Rock Hudson enacts the part of "Ron Kirby," portraying a man with high ideals, but with a passion to win what he wants, even if it's the woman whose very name means scandal.

THE SPOILERS
"The Spoilers," showing Wednesday and Thursday at the Star Theatre, starring Anne Baxter, Jeff Chandler and Rory Calhoun, certainly qualifies as the lustiest, most action-packed film to reach the screen since the original version in 1914. Miss Baxter, as provocative, hip-swinging Cherry Malotte, proprietress of Nome's biggest and best goldrush days' saloon, the Northern, gives a wonderful characterization filled with both humor and drama. Jeff Chandler plays the handsome, husky "Glenister," the hero of this movie. Rory Calhoun is the charming villain of "The Spoilers."

A DAY OF FURY
One violent day, that mars the progress of a small frontier community to decency and respectability, is depicted with stirring dramatic impact in "A Day of Fury," showing Sunday and Monday at the Tower Drive In. It's an off-beat tale, one in which the conflict that arises is the result of the fundamental natures of the persons involved rather than of a struggle for material things, like money, land, or cattle. Dale Robertson, Mara Corday, and Jock Mahoney star in this exciting movie.

TRIPLE FEATURE SPECIAL
An all night ghost convention will be held at the Tower Drive In Tuesday night. The box office will open at 8:30 and close at 12 p.m. Three top horror pictures will begin at 9 p.m. with Frankenstein, Dracula, and Wolf-Man on the reels. Admission is $1.50 per car for these all night attractions.

MAN WITHOUT A STAR
The big, lusty "Man Without a Star," certainly rates all of those adjectives — as well as being one

Miss Linda Reese Feted at Shower In McGee Home

Miss Linda Reese, bride-elect of Robert Hicks, was favored at a shower tea given in the home of Mrs. Lawrence McGee Friday afternoon.

To carry out the honoree's chosen colors, the refreshment table was laid in white imported linen embroidered in blue and centered with blue and white daisies. Other flower accents and appointments emphasized the colors to be used in the wedding.

Mary Lou McCullough, Mozelle Telchiff, Daleine Tinnin, and Marlene Allred presided at the tea table and Sue Suggs and Marlene Gilliland presided at the bride's book of names.

Others assisting in the hospitalities were Mesdames N. D. Bartlett Jr., Gordon Witherspoon, Roy McCullough, Bonnie Brumley Lorenz Stanton, Cawthon Bryant, Elmer Patterson, J. H. Hinds, E. D. Hopson and Stamford Knox.

Forming the receiving line were Mrs. J. C. Reese, the honoree's mother, Miss Reese, the prospective bridegroom's mother, Mrs. C. M. Hicks, and Jan Susan Reese and Karen McGee who will serve as bride's attendants in the wedding.

Most women turn left and most men turn right when they enter a store.

of the most different western films to come from the film capital in a long, long time.

The cast, headed by Kirk Douglas, Jeanne Crain, Clarie Trevor and William Campbell, deserves acclaim for their sharp characterizations. The sparks that fly across the wide screen when brawling, untamed Mr. Douglas clashes with the beautiful but iron-willed Miss Crain are fiery as a 4th of July celebration.

This melodrama shows Wednesday at the Tower Drive In. Kiddies under five will be given a sparkler, and children ages 5 to 12 will receive a roman candle, that they can shoot under supervision on the play grounds, or take home.

MISS DONNA MARIE CAYLER

Miss Donna Marie Cayler Bride Elect of Mr. Burks

Mr. and Mrs. Harry Cayler announce the engagement of their daughter, Donna Marie, to James Donald Burks, son of Mr. and Mrs. M. W. Burks of Quitman. The marriage ceremony will be read in the First Baptist Church in the late summer.

A graduate of Hereford High School, Miss Cayler attended West Texas State College, Canyon the past two years. While there, she was a member of the Baptist Student Union and The Buffalo Gals. The prospective bridegroom was graduated from Quitman High School and is a graduate of the engineering school at Texas A&M

Miss Mattie Mae Swisher Is Feted At Journey Party

Miss Mattie Mae Swisher was complimented at a journey party Tuesday morning in the home of Mrs. W. A. Hunter. Other hostesses with Mrs. Hunter were Mrs. Oma Lee Simpson and Mrs. George Sumner.

The party, in the form of an informal coffee, included Mesdames A. C. Thompson, Alby Cockrell, T. W. Roberson, Wm. McGehee, Lucy Hupp of Long Beach, Calif., Cliff Estes, Sam Lesly, George Sumner, Oma Lee Simpson, the honoree and the hostess.

Miss Swisher will leave this week for Chicago, Ill., where she will attend a music workshop and then go to Grafton, W.Va., her home town to spend the summer. She will return to Hereford in September in time to open her Studio of Singing at the opening of the school term.

Randall McGee is expected home by plane today after a two weeks' stay with relatives in Murfreesboro, Tenn. He returned home with an uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Horace Johnson, who had visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence McGee, and other relatives here early in June.

College. He was a member of Baptist Student Union and American Society of Agricultural engineers. He is now connected with the Soil Conservation Service in Hereford and the couple plan to make their home in Hereford where he will continue his work as Engineer in the Soil Conservation offices.

Rebekahs Honor Nine Members

New members of the Rebekah Lodge were honored at the regular meeting of the group held at the IOOF Hall Tuesday evening. Included were Mesdames Bebe Taylor, Ouida Miller, Bessie Lawrence, Peggy Drummond, Jackie Bishop, Jeannette Boever, Stella Parker, Rosalie Saul and Eva Chambers.

Mrs. Anna Conklin, noble grand, presented the welcome service.

Hostesses for the social hour were Mesdames Verna Sowell, Alta Davis, Loveta Fitzgerald and Nellie Beauford.

An estimated eight million U.S. school children have vision difficulties.

HOME REPAIR DOs and DON'Ts

DO . . . wash or wax newly-laid asphalt tile after allowing at least a week for the adhesive to harden thoroughly.

DO . . . when washing is necessary, use a good neutral soap or cleaner, rinsing with clear water and drying with a clean mop.

DO . . . remove stubborn stains by rubbing the tile surface lightly with a fine grade of steel wool.

DO . . . wax the tile only with a water emulsion wax applied in accordance with the manufacturer's directions.

DO . . . keep the floor clean and attractive by frequent sweeping with a soft hair push broom which will lift the surface dirt without scratching the tile.

DON'T . . . use any strong detergents or cleaners which are not readily soluble in water. DON'T . . . allow any spilled liquids (especially grease and oil) to remain on the floor unless you want to risk a permanent stain.

DON'T . . . forget that most paste waxes contain turpentine, benzine or some other solvent that will soften the tile and cause the colors to bleed.

DON'T . . . ever put varnish, lacquer or shellac on an asphalt tile floor. . . also because of the damaging effect of the solvent contained in the finishing material.

DON'T . . . neglect to equip all furniture resting on asphalt tile with such protective devices as large soft rubber wheel casters, composition furniture cups and glides having smooth flat bases with rounded edges.

Cards Win, Yankees Lengthen Victory Skein

Redbirds Rally In Sixth To Edge Past Giants, 6-5

Joe Mack Hale smashed his second home run of the season Sunday night as the Cardinals vacated the cellar. But the Cards had to come up with a last inning rally to register the 6-5 triumph over the Giants, their second straight. They had previously lost four straight.

The victory gives the charges of Louren Knox sole possession of third place and tosses Blue Turans' Giants into the bottom spot in the league. The Giants have won one and lost five. Hale's mighty blast easily cleared the left field fence, only inches inside the foul pole. It came with the mate aboard and gave the Cards a temporary lead. The Giants had opened scoring in the first, and since then the lead had seen-sawed back and forth. Jackie Nichols went the distance on the mound for the first time this year and got credit for the win. Randy Dowell started for the Giants, but David Dowell took over in the fourth after Hale's home run.

It looked as though the Giants were going to have a "hey-day" in the first inning. Four straight singles caromed off the bats of the first four Giant batters to send two runs across the plate. Ronnie Duncan, Mike Kelley, David Dowell, and Eugene Jennings all hit safely.

The Cards wiped out the two-run lead in the bottom of the second when three runs crossed with the aid of only one base hit. Ronnie Welty smashed a hard drive down the left field line for a hit to lead off the inning. He reached second on a passed ball and got a third on Don Sheppard's throwing error.

Tommy Coffman walked as did Jackie Nichols. With the sacks all, Johnny Willoughby was out at first on a grounder, but Welty scored with the first Cardinal run. Nelson was hit by a pitch to fill the bases again. Turner's walk forced in another tally. The final hard run of the inning scored on Jim Bridges' grounder.

This Cardinal lead failed to last long. After Larry Hair had fanned Ken Loerwald walked. Two wild pitches and a passed ball meant a run for the Giants and the score was tied at 3-3.

The Giants regained the lead in the top of the fourth without garnering a hit. Randy Dowell reached first on an error. He was forced out second on Ronnie Duncan's grounder, and reached second on a wild pitch. He came all the way around on a throwing error.

However, this lead was short-lived. Hale's home run with Bill Nelson on base gave the Cards a one-run lead in the bottom of the fourth, but this lead, too, failed to last. Eugene Jennings led the fifth with a single for the Giants. Hair grounded out, but Ken Loerwald singled, Jennings holding at third. Tommy Powell forced Loerwald at second, but Jennings scored with the tying run.

Jackie Nichols bravely fought down a Giant threat in the top of the sixth. After allowing Randy Dowell to reach third with none out, he struck out the next three men to get out of the inning.

But David Dowell of the Giants wasn't so successful. Hale walked with none out. Richard Combes went down by the strikeout route, and Jimmy Bridges popped to catcher Jennings. Hale went to third when Welty's grounder was muffed. Then came the fatal mound for the Giants. Tommy Coffman lifted a high fly deep into left field which fell safely behind Randy Dowell to score Hale with the winning run.

SPEAKING OF SPORTS
By GIL CARLYLE

One of the fastest growing indoor sports in the nation is bowling. Why? Because you don't have to be a star performer to be a good bowler. Everybody can participate in the game, the old and young, the weak and strong, the lowly and mighty. So bowling has no special, physical, age or skill barriers.

The pattern of bowling originated in Egypt, 7000 years ago. Actual origin of the game itself was in Italy during the rule of Julius Caesar. Skittle competition, another ancestor of bowling, was the rage in England in the 14th century. Early settlers from Holland brought the sport to America in 1625.

Although bowling has lagged behind other big American sports such as baseball, football and basketball, it has gained wide spread popularity in the last 10 years. Bowling was once considered a "men's" sport. But today thousands of women record strikes and spares in alleys daily, from East coast to West coast.

Bowling is nearly a billion dollar annual sport in the United States. Over 20,000,000 men, women and children trek to bowling alleys regularly across the country to crash the maples.

Why all the talk about bowling? In the past several years progress has become the watchword in recreation in Hereford. To further progress Hereford needs a bowling alley. A completely modern bowling plant would be a tremendous asset to recreational activities in the city.

Of the millions of Americans who annually enjoy bowling, many are right here in Hereford. But to find bowling facilities, Hereford kegling enthusiasts must travel to surrounding towns. It would certainly be keen to be able to stay in the hometown and bowl. What do you think?

Wendell Burdine, president of the Hereford Softball League, reports that attendance at the softball games is steadily increasing. According to Burdine the league is just about "breaking even" with present gate receipts. Interest in the softball play should grow as the season progresses.

Managers of teams in the softball league are reminded that initial team rosters are due by midnight, July 2. However, this will not be a final roster. Final team-member lists must be submitted before the league's annual All-Star game, scheduled for Sunday afternoon, July 15.

Team managers will hold a meeting within the next ten days to make selections for the East and West teams which will clash in the mid-July All-Star tilt.

ON JULY 4TH Match Golf Play Slated

Club Team Matches are slated for the 4th of July at the Hereford Golf Course. Bud Posey, club pro, has announced. Each team will be composed of four players.

Participants will be placed in four groups according to scores. Players who shoot 80 and under will be classified as A golfers, 80 to 88 as B players, 89 and over as C linksters and Ladies. Women golfers will be allowed one half of their regular handicaps, with a limit of 36 strokes. Ladies handicap will be figured from ladies par.

Entrance fee is $1.00 for the match play. Golf ball prizes will be split among the low three teams on a 50-30-20 percentage basis.

Method of play will be on a point system with each bogie on a hole gaining one point, each par two points, each birdie three points and each eagle four points. A double eagle or a hole-in-one will garner 25 points for a team.

Bombers Blast Bums, 12-2 To Record Sixth Triumph

Dazzling fielding and superb pitching paved the way for the Yankees' sixth straight victory Friday night as the high-flying Bombers bombarded the scrappy Dodgers, 12-2.

Bill Overall, Yankee starting pitcher, handcuffed the Bums through 17 outs of the contest, allowing three hits and a lone walk while striking out nine.

The undefeated Yank nine jumped into an early first inning lead and were never in danger the rest of the game. After Jay Boynton, Yankee lead-off hitter in the initial stanza, struck out, Ronnie Greenway stepped to the plate and propelled a booming home run over the left field barrier to start the scoring. Bill Overall followed with a single. With one away Dan McDowell singled to drive Overall home with the second Yankee run. John Buck grounded out to end the Bomber half of the first.

Jay Boynton and Ronnie Greenway led off for the Yankees in the third with walks. A brief Dodger fielding lapse ensued and five big Bomber runs crossed the payoff sack before the top half of the third canto was over.

Lynton Allred took over the Dodger pitching chores from Dodger starter David Gray to begin the fourth inning. Twice in the frame, Allred pitched his way neatly out of bases-loaded jams, finally retiring the Yankee side without any damage.

Bill Overall, ace Bomber moundsman, mastered the first 11 Dod-

Hereford Folks Vacation Away, But, Like Chickens, Come Home To Roost

By CAROL INMAN

It's been said that chickens always come home to roost, and it must be so, too. Several Herefordites are home again, ready to settle back down to the routine of homelife and work, after lots of fun vacationing, visiting, and sight-seeing.

Dr. and Mrs. L. B. Barnett and children Lewis, Beverly, and Jennifer have returned from their ranch in Center, Colo. They vacationed there for a month at Meadow Ranch.

Also at home again are the J. E. Moads, after a two weeks stay at their farm in Checotah, Okla. After they stayed there for a few days, the Moads traveled to Dallas, Fort Worth, and other points in East Texas to visit.

Mr. and Mrs. L. E. Fields and daughter, Sandra Lynn, have also returned from a trip to eastern and southern Texas. Their destination was Taylor, where they attended the wedding of Luke's grandson, Randolph Huver, who was married June 23.

After their visit in Taylor, the Fields traveled to San Antonio to visit friends, and to Belton, where they visited Luke's brother, P. L. Fields. On their way back to Hereford, they saw the sights by way of San Angelo and Big Spring.

Back from a wonderful time in New Mexico are the Bruce Millers. They visited and vacationed in Taos and Santa Fe for a week—eating good food, swimming, seeing the sights, and best of all—having a good time!

Mrs. Jack Welty stayed with the Millers children while they were gone. Her children are Bruce, Katherine, and Pamela.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Swartzell and daughter Elisa returned to Hereford recently. They have been living in Jacksonville, Fla., where he is a teacher. Mrs. Swartzell plans to stay with her parents, the Earl Springers for two months, while Clyde attends school at Columbia University in New York. This fall, they will return to Jacksonville where he will resume his teaching.

The Rev. and Mrs. Roy Ford, now of Albuquerque but formerly Hereford residents while he was pastor of the First Christian Church, made a flying trip to Hereford on business Monday through Wednesday. With them were their two children, Susie and Doug. They visited old friends, the Troy Moores and Wayne Edwards and others.

It's been family reunion time at the Walter London Mrs. Ray, a private first class in the United States Marine Corps, arrived home Wednesday for a 30 day leave. He has been firing on a rifle team in Hawaii, which explains why he got home and cohort Franklin Boyd did not. The boys, who joined up together for a three year tour of duty, have about 11 more months of service. On July 19, Ray will report to Camp Pendleton. Also visiting the Londons last weekend was daughter, Ruth, who is employed in Amarillo.

A 3/c Everett Allen, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Allen, is now home on leave for 30 days. He completed his boot camp training, and plans to leave the third week in July to report to Parks A.F.B. in California to await transfer orders to Japan.

Everett, better known to his friends as "Speedy Allen," graduated from high school here and attended Wayland College in Plainview for one and one-half years. He was rated as an excellent basketball player while in high school and led the team in scoring during his junior year, scoring over 300 points.

Also home on leave for 30 days is Francis Miles, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Miles. He has been stationed in California for several months, and on his return July 24, will probably go to an overseas post. Francis is a corporal in the United States Marine Corps.

Visitors in the J. L. McFarling Sr., home over the weekend were Lt. and Mrs. J. L. McFarling Jr., and daughter, Linda Kay from Lincoln Air Force Base, Neb., and Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Fronbarger of Ft. Sumner, N. M.

Lt. McFarling has returned to Lincoln where he will be en route for an overseas assignment after the first of July. Mrs. McFarling and Linda Kay are residing in Hereford with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Gus Rutland, while awaiting J.L.'s return and a new arrival in the family.

Dyalitha Benson was in Lubbock, Brownfield, and Slaton Tuesday, and Wednesday visiting their credit unions in her official position as state director.

Mrs. Lydia Beach celebrated her 95th birthday last Sunday with the members of her family present at the informal celebration.

Hilda Havens, Sadye Rigler, Bonnie Kelly, and her mother, Mrs. J. D. Hadley, who is visiting here from Waco, went to Pampa Sunday. They attended a B&PW planning session and a tea honoring the district director and the incoming and out-going presidents.

Visitors in the J. O. Clark home on Sunday were his brother, Brit Clark of Summerfield, and two nephews and their families, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Clark and Scottie of Hereford, Mr. and Mrs. Harroll Clark, Ricky and Larry of Colorado Springs.

Attending a Business Women's Federation of the Tierra Blanca Baptist Association in the First Baptist Church in Canyon Monday were Mesdames Cora Thompson, Alwyn Savage, Mary Boren, Lorena Curtis, Hester McLallen, Leatrus Clark, Alice Christian, Costaline Lee and Mary Jo Sharp.

Miss Della Stagner, the president of the Federation, also attended the meeting as presiding officer.

Visiting in the home of Mrs. R. A. Daniel this weekend were her daughter, Mrs. L. B. Rae, Molly, and John. Judy, another daughter, has been visiting with her grandmother, Mrs. Daniel, since the first of June, and will return to Midland with her mother today.

Today will be "homecoming" for a group of Herefordites who spent the past week vacationing in Colorado. Leaving Sunday for their cabin near Antonia were Mesdames J. W. Barnett, R. R. Willis, Bill Dameron, Walter London Jr., and Wayne Phillips accompanied by assorted children and Easter Mae who went along to baby sit and do the cooking.

Off for a fabulous whirl through eight foreign countries are the Carl Perrins who left last weekend on the first lap of a journey which will take them to England, the Continent and back home again in August.

Traveling under the auspices of a Methodist Church planned tour, the couple left Hereford Sunday by train for New York where enplaned for the flight across the Atlantic. Also on the same trip are the Rev. and Mrs. Jim Pickens of Vega, who originally planned to join another tour, but were forced to change their itinerary when the other tour was cancelled. Anyway the group will see England, France, Denmark, Sweden, Germany, Switzerland, France and Holland. Just think—six weeks crammed with Westminster Abbey, the Eiffel Tower, the Matterhorn, —with Dutch chocolate and cheeses, French pastry and sauces, and genuine Danish rolls.

And the George Millards have been having a fine time — things have been much livelier around their house this week since their three grandchildren have been here. The three, Todd, Judy and Bruce Williams, with their mother, Mrs. Joe Williams, the former Arline Millard, arrived Monday from Rome, Ga., where they have been living the past two years.

Joe is to arrive this weekend or so, and from here the Williams will go to Paris, Tex., for a visit with his family before returning home. Not only was Arline probably glad to see Texas again, she was glad to get back to what she calls a "cool climate" — and this in the face of protests that "It sure is hot today."

Captain Billy Hall, who has spent the past 12 years in the Marine Corp and U.S. Army, is here until July 10 visiting his mother, Mrs. Beth Hall, his aunt, Mrs. Edna Mathis, and old friends. Bill, who arrived Monday, left wife and children with her parents in California, and will pick them up on his way back to Fort Lewis, Wash. Aug. 25, the family will leave for the next three years. Bill has a unique job—he's an army pilot for the second infantry division—not army air force, he hastens to emphasize.

We read in the papers where Mrs. Ralph Packard attended the wedding of her sister, Noraene

Clark, to James E. Stallings, June 17, in Muleshoe. Mrs. Packard helped serve the bride's cake at the reception following the wedding.

Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Buse and children, Johnnie, Bonnie, and David left Tuesday morning for a week-long trip to Colorado. Big intent: fishing.

A long time ago resident of Hereford visited in the home of W. L. Davis Sr., Wednesday. A lot of you probably remember B. H. Hopkins. He was a vocational agriculture teacher in the '30's, and in 1933, was Hereford Lions Club president. Mr. Hopkins and his wife now live in Casper, Wyo., where he is connected with the U. S. Department of Agriculture, in the Soil Conservation Department. Wednesday, Hopkins visited the Lions Club with W. L. Davis Sr.

Also here for the summer are Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Beene and daughter, Debbie. They arrived home from Dallas, where Bruce finished his junior year at Southwestern Medical School and will be here until fall. Her parents are Mr. and Mrs. Louis LeGrand and his grandmother is Mrs. J. W. Beene.

goodbye to Herefordites this weekend as they packed up bag and baggage and headed down south. Mr. and Mrs. John Estes moved to Dallas where he will be associated with a vegetable brokerage firm, and the Jim Calmes left for Big Spring where he will be associated with a pharmacy.

Heart disease caused 550,000 U. S. deaths in 1934.

Owners of Private Pools Find Rules Are Indispensable

"He who has his own swimming pool has a terrific responsibility for the safety of those who wander 'round'."

This isn't exactly an adage; it's more an axiom practiced by conscientious owners who are safety-conscious.

Out at the Jack Bradley's pool, for instance, they have set up a rules board, which is posted on the lamp post and it announces to swimmers that there will be no running or pushing in or near the pool nor is anyone allowed to throw objects in the pool.

Other rules established there, according to Mrs. Bradley, include regulations on small children.

About Little Children

"We invite little children to come with their mothers, and the mothers are warned to keep an eagle-eye on their brood," she said.

Another mandatory regulation involves swim suits. The family is required to rinse out their suits and hang both suits and towels on the line when they dress after their swim.

As an added safety venture out there, son Jimmy, who is possessed of a senior boy scout life saving badge, acts as life guard.

Alarm Buoys Available

The greatest worry many pool-owners have is of people tumbling into the pool. One manufacturer recently introduced a battery-run buoy which can be put in the water after the swimmers are out. It sets off an alarm-if anything falls into the pool, the alarm being regulated by the waves that would lash it in the event of a spill. It serves as a protector for small children, dogs, cats, etc.

Everyone who has had their pool for any length of time has had a rather frantic experience. Out at the John Paetzold's for instance, one small grandchild wandered too close to the edge and tumbled in. When that happened several devoted uncles poured right in after her - clothes and all. She was rescued in record time.

FORMER RESIDENTS VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. B. H. Hopkins, onetime Hereford residents, now of Casper, Wyo., were in Hereford on Wednesday looking up old friends, the W. L. Davis and other families.

Hopkins was head of the Agricultural division in Hereford High School in the early 1930's, moving from Hereford to Lincoln, Neb., where he accepted a position with the Soil Conservation Services. He is now in similar work in Casper.

The Hopkins are visiting relatives in Tulsa and Taylor and will also renew old friendships at Texas A&M College before returning to their home.

Parties Are Held For Jim Calmes

Among the parties given during the past two weeks to honor Mr. and Mrs. Jim Calmes who are leaving soon to make their home in Big Spring, was a coffee given Friday morning in the home of Mrs. Bill Frizzell. Mrs. T. M. Cox Jr., and Mrs. Ronald Babione were co-hostesses.

Come On In, The Water's Fine

Time was, ten years ago or so, when Deaf Smith County youngsters wanted to swim, they went to Amarillo, or hunted out a deep hole in Tierra Blanca Creek or sought-out a farmer who had an earthen dam.

But now things are different.

Now there is a municipal swimming pool which keeps pretty crowded most of the time.

And in addition, there are private pools, sprouting all over town, and today they are hardly more novel than a bathtub. Once a private pool was considered the epitome of success. In Hollywood it meant you had arrived; elsewhere it meant your ship had finally come in.

Now it means there are a number of people at this house who especially enjoy swimming.

New means of construction have slashed swimming pool costs sharply. Of course you can still build $100,000 numbers with hand painted tile, underwater lights and heated water.

But new processes: plastic pools that come in sections; gunite construction, a process by which cement is blown in under pressure; filtering plants for re-using water; giant machines for digging the pools, all combine to reduce the cost and make private pools a luxury that many people can enjoy.

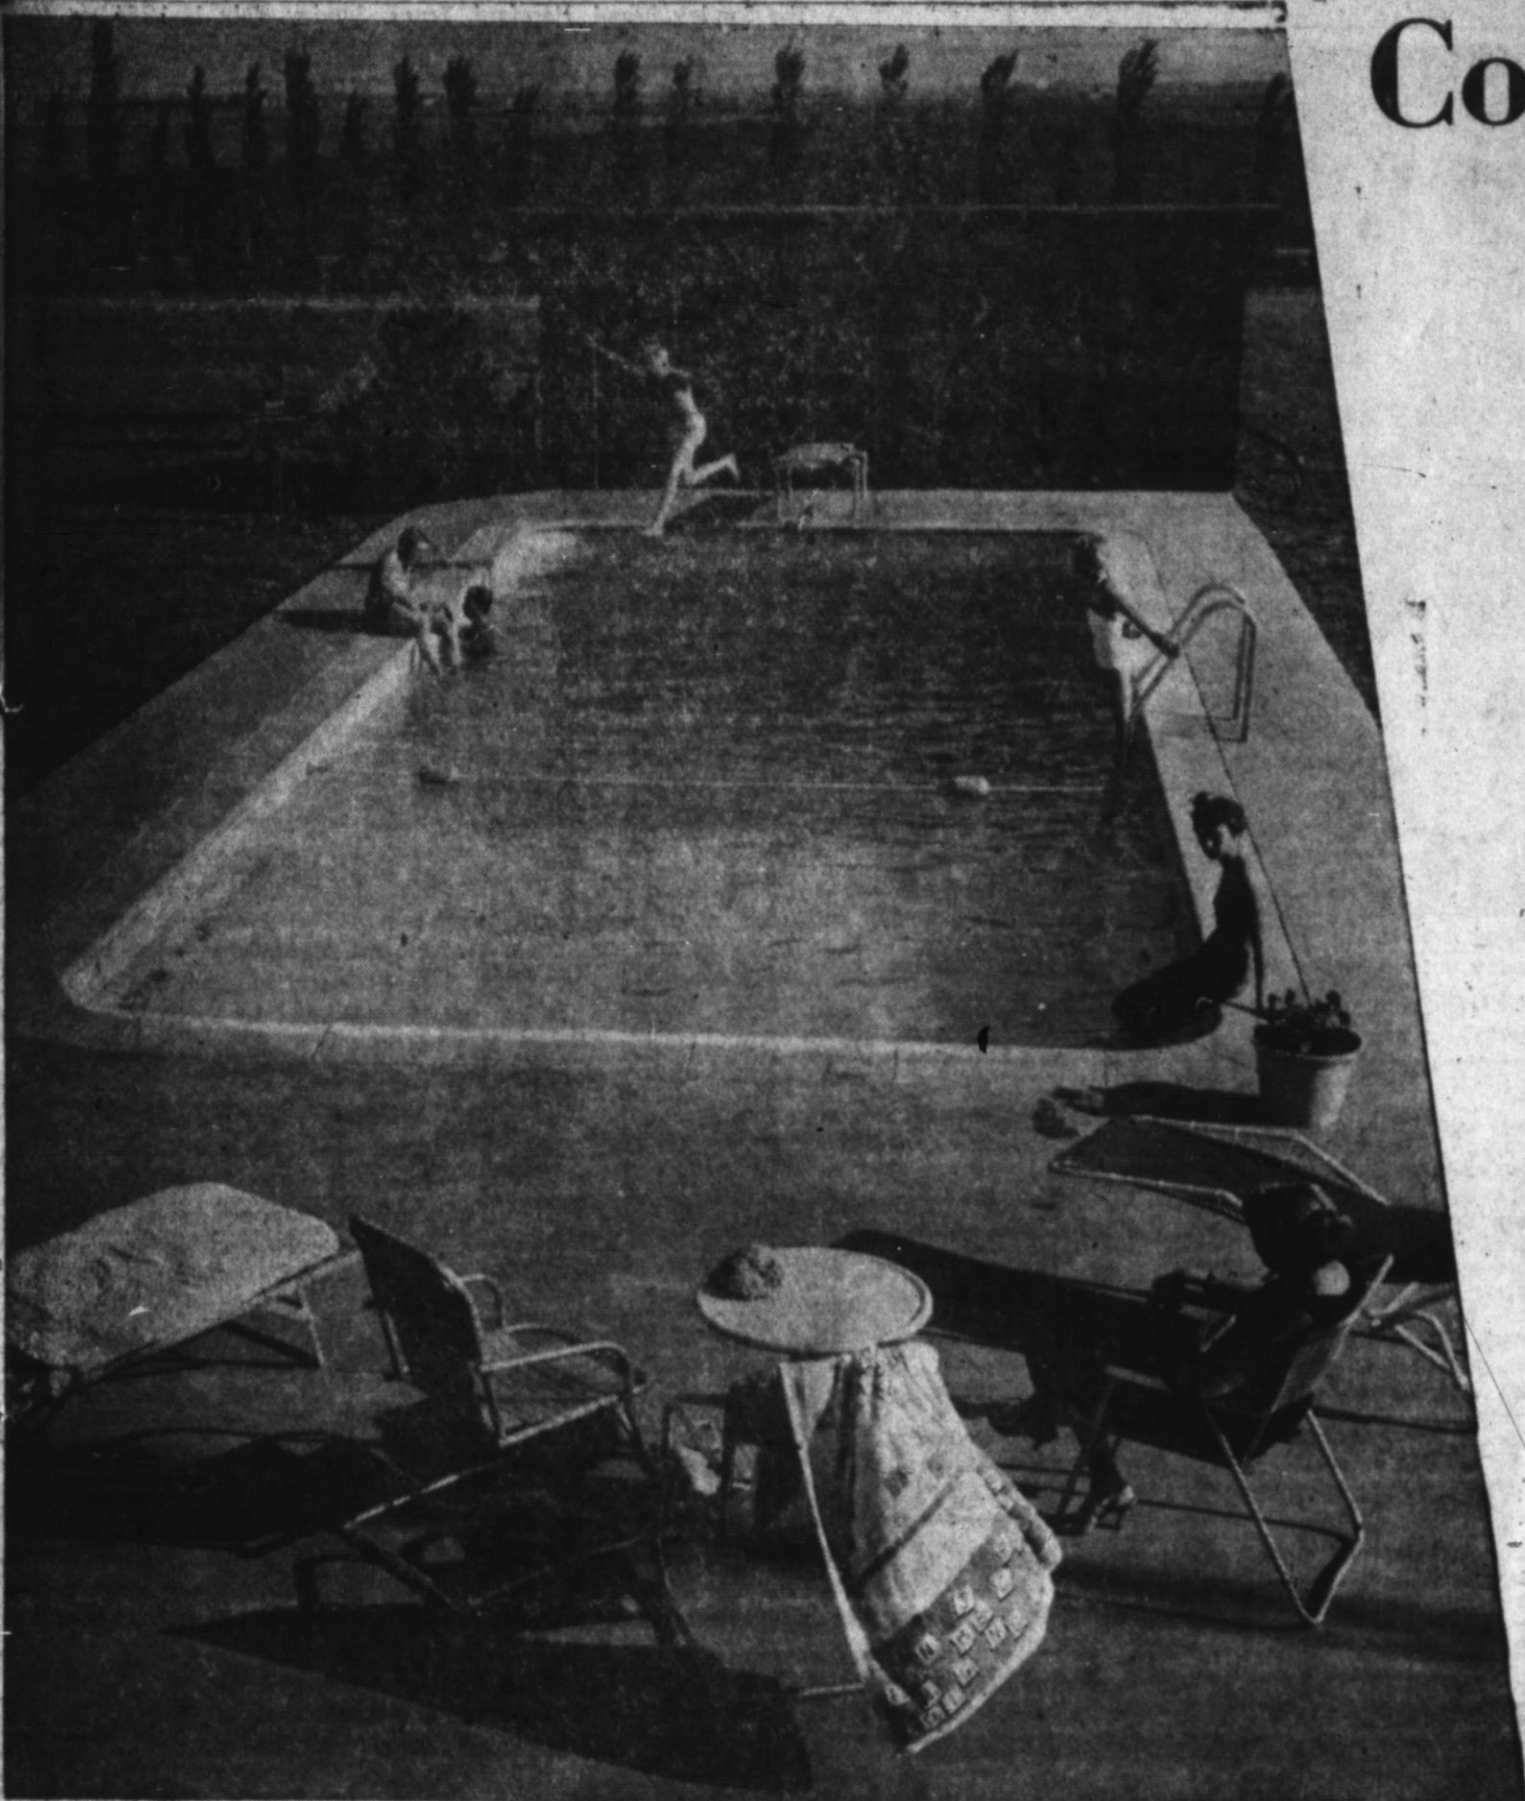

In Hereford there are such pools at the country homes of the Jack Bradleys, Milton Adamses, J. W. Paetzolds and in town at the J. W. Witherspoons and the Wayne Wallaces.

In each case, they are neighborhood delights. Children in the family invite their friends to come splash around, young adults entertain consistently and the adults re-discovered swimming as a summertime sport.

Section Three

LAST ONE IN—"The last one in's a sissy," yells Jim Bradley, above, as he jumps off the diving board of the backyard pool at the home of his parents. The 48 by 15 foot pool is of gunite construction ranging in depth from three to nine feet. Completed in May, 1955, it soon became a gathering place for neighbors and friends of all ages. Bordering the east side is the locker room building containing two dressing rooms, a bath and filter room. Shown in the picture, left to right, are Bob Bradley, Almona Ritchie, Jim Bradley, Judy Bradley, Mary Sanford and Mrs. Bradley.

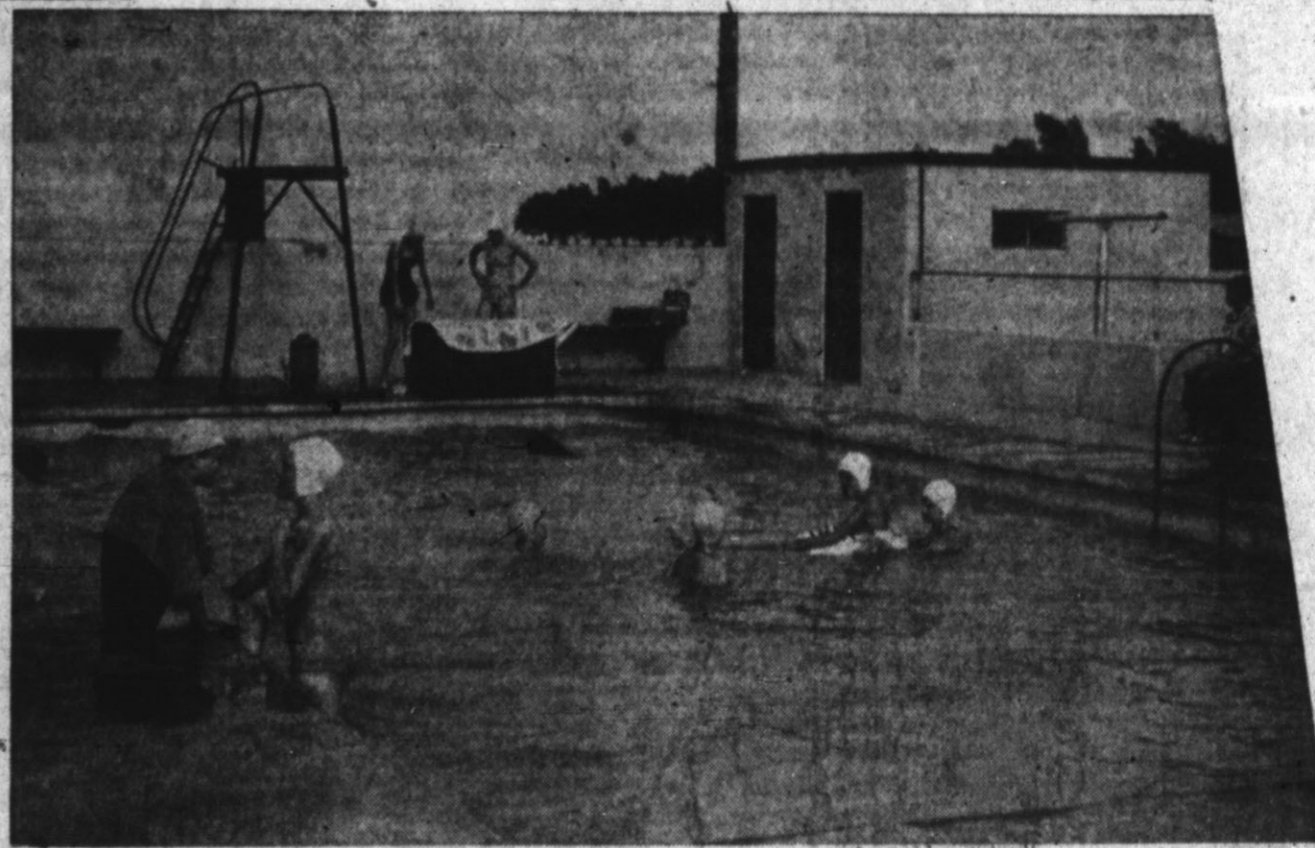

WATER SPRITES—Brothers Joel Wallace, in the pool, and Ronald, relaxing on the edge, are water sprites indeed, but look at the practice they get in the luxurious pool at the home of their parents, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Wallace. The 65 by 25 foot pool, one of the first constructed around here, was built by N. D. Bartlett Jr., and was first used during the summer of 1954.

BEFORE AND AFTER—The backyard pool at the James W. Witherspoon home undoubtedly takes a blue ribbon for being constructed in record time. The photo just above shows the bulldozer at work on June 9, first day that construction was begun. The photo at left shows Irene Witherspoon and her houseguests enjoying the pool on June 21, the third day it was opened. Also of gunite construction, with blue tile trim, the pool is 15 by 35 feet and with a depth range of three to nine feet. The houseguests, classmates of Irene's from Hockaday, agreed it provided "perfect entertainment", and as the family says, "It was built for fun and that's what we use it for." Shown in the picture are Joniece Frank, Sapulpa, Okla., who is diving off the board; Jean Irwin, Lufkin, wearing dark glasses; Lockie Sue Griswold, San Angelo, on the pool ladder, and Irene Witherspoon, just behind her. (Staff Photos)

WHEE, SEE THE FROGGIE—Three youngsters at the Dr. Milton Adams pool share the water with an uninvited visitor, Mr. Frog. This 35 by 15 foot pool is surrounded by a brick patio, a cyclone fence in front and a stockade fence in back, designed to protect young Bryan, nearly two, and his friends from wandering un-supervised into the water. Built both for its recreation and therapy aspects, the pool was completed in May, 1955. Shown here with Bryan are Sabra Traweek, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Curtis Traweek, and Leslie Heard, daughter of the George Heards.

FOR FAMILY AND FRIENDS—This pool at the John Paetzold home is one of the largest in the area measuring 20 by 60 feet. Built by Mr. Paetzold and his boys last summer, it is used as much as any pool in the country. The Paetzolds have seven boys and two girls, all of whom live here except Eleanor, who makes her home in White Deer. However, she comes up often during the summer, so the nine children and 17 grandchildren of the Paetzolds and their friends keep the pool busy. Here, it is put to use by a group of Horizon Girls, classmates of Paetzold grandchildren. The pool holds 20,000 gallons of water, and is rigged up with an underground irrigation system so that when the water is changed, the extensive yards around the home can be irrigated.

Don't Get Bewildered. Entering Fiber Land

WHEN the bride enters Fiber Land she is likely to be lost in a maze of wonderment. After all, she never had to think about such things as acetate or vicara, so she is likely to be bewildered as Alice was when the sheep in the shop explained to her that "you can't see anything at once."

There are three classes of fibers made by man: vegetable, chemical, mineral. Vegetable fibers were the first to be developed and the oldest is rayon.

RAYON, the most versatile, has been in commercial production for 45 years. It may be made to resemble wool, cotton, linen, silk and is adaptable to almost any type fabric. Filament rayon is used for lingerie, dresses, blouses, suits, curtains, draperies, upholstery, as well as lampshades. Rayon can be the high twist necessary to a rope. Staple rayon—short lengths—may be spun into ply yarns. Staple is used for suitings, upholstery, carpets, blankets. Crimped rayon fibers provide resilience needed for quality carpet.

Look for instruction labels when buying rayon. Some items are completely washable, others need to be dry cleaned.

ACETATE dyes well and has a rich silky appearance. It has a resilience that resists wrinkling. It is used in luxury fabrics such as satin, faille, taffeta, sharkskin as well as for tricot. A great deal of acetate is solution dyed, the dye being locked in. It is affected by too much heat so care must be exercised in ironing fabrics containing it.

CHROMSPUN is a color-locked, solution dyed fiber. It gives fabrics an unattainable color fastness to such common fading hazards as light, perspiration, salt water, chlorinated water, atmospheric fumes, crocking, washing and dry-cleaning. It is available in curtains, bedspreads, comforters, upholstery, slip covers, pillows, lampshades as well as clothing. An all-chromspun product may be machine laundered, but if it is combined with another fiber it may need to be dry cleaned.

FORTISAN is one of the strongest fibers ever made. It is classified as a rayon. It has unusual resistance to shrinking and stretching and is highly resistant to sun-light and chemicals. It has proved difficult to dye and is currently used in blends with other fibers. Fortisan, woven into curtain and drapery fabrics, may be machine washed or dry cleaned.

ARNEL is a new ease-of-care triacetate fiber. It can be heat treated, will not shrink or stretch out of fit, resists wrinkles even in humid weather, and holds pleats through many washings. It is found in new apparel fabrics and suitings. Most of these fabrics are washable. Look for care instructions on the tag.

VICARA is made from the protein in kernels of corn. It resembles wool, but is weaker than wool when wet. It blends with other fibers where it adds softness and comfort. It is used in blankets, upholstery fabrics, coats, suits. It launders easily and may be ironed at any temperature. It is found in blends with other fibers that may need special care. Examine the label for care instructions.

The largest group of man-made fibers have a chemical base: NYLON is tops in strength, abrasion, resistance and has an elastic quality. A little nylon can add tremendously to a fabric's durability, so nylon is used in many blends with natural or other man-made fibers. It may be pressure-dyed to rich colors. It is used for sheets, marquisette and lace curtains, draperies, upholstery, table cloths and carpets. Fabrics wash easily, dry fast, need little ironing, and will not shrink nor stretch.

ACRILAN is one of the acrylic fibers characterized by bulkiness, sun and weather resistance. It can be woven in any fabric construction and blends well with other fibers. It doesn't sag or stretch so is often used for seaters and jerseys. It is a good blanket fiber because it gives warmth without weight. It is used also in upholstery, suitings, sportswear. Easily washed, dries quickly and is high in spot and stain resistance.

ORLON rates high in strength, almost up to nylon. It has excellent resistance to deterioration from sun, heat, chemicals. It can take a sharp pleat that ordinary laundering or ironing at normal temperatures will not remove. It is being used in curtains, sheer fabrics, awnings and all sorts of clothing. Laundered well but should be ironed at low heat.

DYNEL, noteworthy for its resistance to flame as well as resistance to moths, weather, chemicals and sunlight, bulks well, but is light in weight. It is used in knit fabrics blended with orlon, pile coats, suitings, dresses, underwear, children's sleepwear and in drapery fabric for commercial use—it is rarely used by itself but blends well with other fibers. It washes well but like some other chemical fibers will wrinkle while wet.

DACRON is a fresh, wrinkle-resistant fiber. Humidity and moisture have little effect so it just won't wilt. It is strong and abrasion resistant. Dacron curtains require a minimum of care. It is used as quilt filling, and for lingerie, blouses, suits, draperies. It may be washed or dry cleaned, dries quickly, requires little ironing, but the iron should be set at a low temperature.

SARAN wins prizes for toughness, resilience, resistance to elements and to insects. It has inherent curliness and makes a good carpet fiber. It is being used for rugs, upholstery, drapery fabrics and for outdoor furniture. It does not absorb dyes well and its color range is limited. Washes well and is stain resistant.

FIBERGLAS, the only mineral based man-made fiber, is very strong. New finishing processes have made it softer, and more supple. It has great wrinkle and abrasion resistance. It is completely resistant to fire. It is chiefly used in curtain and drapery fabrics and may be found in a variety of weaves from airy sheer to a high count heavy fabric. Curtains may be hand-washed, blotted in a towel and rehung within minutes. No ironing is required.

SALESMAN'S FLIGHT ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. — A salesman, ran out of gasoline. He got a can full from a service station. When he got back to his car, his sample case was gone. He set the can down and went after a funnel so he could pour the gas into his tank. When he got back the can of gas was gone.

FROG FINE NASHVILLE, Tenn. — Fred Todd pleaded guilty to illegal possession of a bullfrog and a conservation agent told General Sessions Judge Brown Taylor there is a $25 minimum fine for possessing a bullfrog in mating season.

Taylor dismissed the case and observed: "I am not going to fine any man $25 for just having a bullfrog!"

Select Capable Best Man; He'll Be Your Staff Chief

CHOOSE a best man capable of coping with everything in the way of helping you.

Be sure your ushers know their duties.

Put aside the clergyman's fee in a special envelope. The best man will give it to him right after the ceremony.

Start off your new life with a well stocked wardrobe if possible. And make sure you have the proper clothing for the place you are going on your honeymoon.

Have Enough Money Sign the hotel register Mr. and Mrs. James Smith, not Mr. James Smith and wife.

Be sure you have your marriage license in a safe place.

Before going on your honeymoon make sure you have enough money on hand. Traveler's checks are safest on long trips.

The first dance at the reception is reserved for your bride, the next for your mother, the third with your new mother-in-law and then the maid of honor. After that it's up to you.

Remember to give appropriate gifts to your best man and ushers.

Suggestions for the ushers—tie-clips, billfolds or cigarette lighters. For the best man something special is in order—personalized jewelry like monogrammed cuff links.

Although the bride chooses the flowers, you must pay the bill. Other floral obligations include boutonnières for both fathers, best man and ushers plus a going-away corsage for your wife.

Wear Proper Clothes

Make sure you and your male wedding party are attired properly. For evening formal you wear full dress evening tail coat with trousers to match, white waistcoat, white tie. For evening semi-formal you wear single or double breasted black dinner jacket with matching trousers, black tie. Daytime formal calls for black cutaway coat, gray striped trousers, gray double breasted waistcoat, silk ascot. Daytime semi-formal demands black or oxford gray jacket, double breasted waistcoat, gray striped trousers, check silk tie. For an informal wedding a single or double breasted navy or dark gray suit with solid color tie may be worn.

Remember to tell your bride how lovely she looks—this is a good way to get your marriage started on the right foot.

About two out of five of the world's people are in the labor force.

Beauty At Home

Q. How can I remove powder stains from some of my clothes?

A. Powder stains on most hard-finished fabrics should be removed with cleaning fluid. On silks and wooleens, though, first treat the spot by rubbing with a piece of cheesecloth dipped in warm sudsy water and wrung out; then proceed with the cleaning fluid.

Q. How can I add luster to my hair, which is overly dry?

A. In addition to increased brushing and massaging, the use of some brilliantine before dressing the hair will help lots. Put it on stubbornly-dry ends before you wind them into pin curls.

Q. Can you suggest a method for removing blackheads from the skin?

A. Try applying some slightly moistened cereal grains (oatmeal for instance) to the infested area. Let the grains dry on the skin, then rub them off with a coarse towel. The friction helps dislodge the blackheads.

Q. How can I remove grass stains from washable garments?

A. Add a few drops of amyl acetate to a thick soap solution and rub this well into the stains. After that, rinse the garment at least three times in clear water. On whites, peroxide may be used if needed. Or, flush the stain with alcohol, and then with clear water.

Q. Do you advocate high school girls going everywhere with out hats?

A. While this is almost a universal practice, I don't exactly "advocate" it. The right hat can often mean the difference between a good-looking dress and a smart outfit. The right hat is as flattering and corrective as makeup; it accents a girl's good points, while minimizing her faults. By all means, I think a high school girl should have at least one hat—a neat, pretty hat that will stay on in a breeze.

Q. What is a good skin tonic and bleach I can mix for my use?

A. A very beneficial tonic for the complexion is made up of lemon juice and milk, rubbed into the face and throat before retiring each night.

Q. How can I add an illusion of length to a very round face?

A. Dress your hair close to the head at the sides, with height above the forehead. A side part is usually flattering. Avoid round spots of rouge. Starting on cheekbones, below center of eye, shade rouge off faintly to the hairline. Use the darkest rouge that goes with your skin tone, which tends to shadow some of the roundness of your face. Apply lipstick in a wide, shallow bow.

Q. How do I mix a lemon and magnesia facial mask?

A. Mix two tablespoons carbonate of magnesia with one of lemon juice and three of cold cream. Spread this pack evenly over face and throat, and relax for 20 minutes. Then remove with lukewarm water.

Q. Do you recommend my dyeing or bleaching my own hair?

A. I think this is best left in the hands of experts. Unless hair is dyed or bleached expertly, it may be injured and the results safe at best uncertain. It should be remembered, too, that coloring or bleaching the hair, once begun, must be kept up!

Q. How can I quickly remove the gummy residue left on my skin by adhesive tape?

A. With nail polish remover or cleaning fluid.

EDITORIAL COMMENTS

Blue Ribbons Are Fine, But It's What The Folks Think At Home That Counts

Recently The Brand was gratified to become the recipient of several outstanding awards, including the Sweepstakes division for semi-weekly newspapers made by Texas Press Association, along with first place in Texas on Editorials, News Writing and General Excellence.

It is only natural that every member of the staff would be proud of this recognition, because such awards can be achieved only through close cooperation, efficient work and sincere interest of each and every person connected with the newspaper. And taking the situation a step further, they can be achieved only through interest and cooperation of the entire community.

This, of course, is true of Brand Advertisers and Subscribers for they are the people who make operation of any newspaper possible through their purchases. It is just as true of the housewife in Hereford who calls in the names of a visitor and of the farm wife who turns in items to her community correspondent. News sources and cooperation can make or break a newspaper. Add all of these outside "helpers" to a busy staff and you have a true picture of what really makes for success or failure.

Like individuals, newspapers sometimes may be inclined to place too much emphasis on opinions of outsiders, rather than upon their public acceptance at home. The Brand, we feel, is published in the interest of and service to some 10,000 people in the Hereford trade territory. This is our objective and our sole excuse for existence as a newspaper. It is only logical, therefore, that we should prize the opinions of these people far above and beyond any blue ribbons, plaques or trophies.

A banker recently visited the office and was admiring the trophies. When we asked him how much he would value them as collateral, however, he only grinned and changed the subject. If we ever had any doubts concerning the situation, this definitely established their worth as intrinsic. Because they represent the opinions of six experts across the nation, we do naturally place considerable sentimental value on the trophies, however.

A newspaper is actually a mirror of the community it serves. A good newspaper can help its community to become active, interested and progressive. No newspaper, on the other hand, can ever become better than the community and the subscribers it serves. These things remain foremost in our minds, emphasizing the fact that any accomplishment made by The Brand also reflects accomplishments of our friends, our subscribers and our advertisers. Such is how we feel about the deal, at least, and we hope that your feelings will be along the same line.

COMMUNITY BUILDER

Mrs. Carl Gilliland Has Been Hereford Resident Since 1904

MRS. CARL GILLILAND . . . community builder

From the vantage point of her three score years and 10, this week's community builder can survey a town which has boomed in population, prosperity and progress since she first saw it in 1904.

Mrs. Carl Gilliland came to Hereford as Irene Estes, back in those days when Hereford consisted of wide open spaces, wooden sidewalks, friendly people—and lots of potential.

And as an active member of the First Baptist Church, as a leader of Red Cross work, as the mother of two children, and the wife of a leading attorney she has contributed much to its growth.

Born in Abilene
Mrs. Gilliland was born in Abilene Oct. 28, 1884, and was the middle child of 11 children of Mr. and Mrs. John Estes.

She had three sisters and two brothers younger, and three sisters and two brothers older. She started to school in Anson and later attended classes in Plainview where her family moved to the South Plains.

In 1904 they came to Hereford where she met Carl Gilliland, a young attorney who had been practicing law here, although his home was Lilydale, Tenn.

John Baptist Church
In 1908 Mrs. Gilliland joined the First Baptist Church and was particularly active in women's work, serving as chairman of the general missionary society for several years. In addition, for 22 years she taught in the adult and young people's department, resigning her position only in 1932.

Her two children, Margaret, and Jim, were born here, and while they were small she joined the Mother's Club, now known as the Pioneer Study Club. This group was instrumental in setting up what is currently called Mother's Park.

Heads Red Cross Work
In World War I, Mrs. Gilliland served as chairman of the women's work for Red Cross, taking over the job only three months after it was organized. The women specialized in knitting, but also made bandages, did other sewing, etc.

Rooms were made available in the courthouse for them to do their work, and churches were organized so that women's groups from each denomination had one Work Day per week. However, the chairman had to be there nearly all the time.

When World War II came along, Mrs. Gilliland was again called upon to fill this position now called Chairman of production. She headed a group of women that turned out 10,000 articles during the war.

Her children grew up, Margaret, now Mrs. James W. Witherspoon, attended Randolph - Macon; Jim attended Virginia Military Institute and the University of Texas School of Law. He returned to Hereford and was county attorney when he entered the services during World War II.

At this time, his father was appointed to fill the vacancy, and served in this position for several years.

Always Enjoyed Hobbies
After the children were grown, Mrs. Gilliland filled her time with hobbies, for she had always had some sort of avocation. As a little girl she made doll clothes. When her children were small she kept complete camera record of their growth. Later she turned to more artistic pursuits, developing an interest in ceramics.

One of her pet projects is her doll collection, all of which she has made herself. Some are replicas of old fashioned china dolls made from molds which she herself created.

She explains her active interest in such pursuits by a philosophy learned in childhood. "My mother always kept us busy, even when she had 11 children to look after. When we were babies, she hung strings of safety pins over our cribs to give us something to play with. As we grew up we had chores to do. The girls learned early to cook and to sew. We were always busy."

With 70 busy years behind you, it isn't easy to sit still.

FOR NEAT PAINTING

A cloth moistened with water, when you are using water-base paints, or dampened with turpentine or mineral spirits when working with an oil-base paint, makes it possible to wipe up stray splatters quickly. If such spots are allowed to dry, they are tough to remove.

WHAT IS PECKY WOOD?

Pecky wood, such as pecky cypress, has become popular in recent years for paneling. This wood which has been attacked by fungi, birds or insects. Saw mills used to throw it on the bonfire before people appreciated its rustic appearance.

WORST INFESTATION OF THIRP IN HISTORY

This area has one of the heaviest infestations of thrip in history, according to Dub Jones, Chipman Chemical Co. entomologist from Plainview. "It's the worst I've ever seen," Mr. Jones declared. Mr. Jones said thrip made its first noticeable appearance in this country about 1949 and has been a threat to cotton crops since. He said thrip can travel as far as 300 miles on the wind. Thrip stunts cotton and delays maturity as much as two weeks. Infested cotton takes on a dogeared appearance as if it had been hit by hail.

FIRST LIAR CAN'T WIN

Proving again the adage, "The first liar doesn't have a chance," three wheat growers of the Black community were getting a big kick out of kidding one another at the awards meeting Monday night. The men of the community while awaiting the beginning of the evening's program, were discussing matters in general and wheat harvest was a subject that popped up. First Gus Schlab came up with a 58-bushel yield on his Concho wheat. Then, it was Fern Barnett's turn. "My Westar is making over 60 bushels," he declared. Bruce Parr, the last one to get in on the conversation, turned up with a report of Kiowa wheat that was cutting better than 70 bushels per acre. Whether the others in the group believed Parr or not has not been determined. It was hard to tell by the look on their faces.—THE FRIONA STAR.

"The Fire Station is open to the public at all times, and we would like for you to drop by and see our new fire truck, the resuscitator and other new protective equipment recently purchased by the city," said Isaacs.—THE BROWNFIELD NEWS.

What Happened to Modern Salesmen The Country Club?

What happened to the proposed Country Club?

A few years ago there was quite a drive to convert the present golf course facilities into a country club. "A lot of talk, a little interest and no action" seems to be the final result.

All of which leads the average person to wonder if the community wants or needs a country club. Other towns this size, some smaller, maintain and operate successful country club projects. It is possible, of course, that golf is the chief reason for a country club and, since the golf situation is in good shape here, there is no actual need. This might also be emphasized through the fact that public swimming pools, tennis courts and other community property appear adequate and ample.

On the other hand, the existence and maintenance of six private swimming pools in the immediate area indicates that some of the citizens prefer more exclusive facilities not open to the public. Unquestionably, privately owned pools are more expensive than club owned facilities. It is also apparent that the very existence of such facilities might deter in the creation of a club which would replace them.

Meanwhile, the community seems to function very well without a country club. All of which, as we said, lends credence to the thinking that perhaps we did not need one in the first place.

Modern Salesmen

Salesmanship, like merchandising, has undergone radical changes in recent years. And, chiefly because all of us are directly and in the annals of history. The modern trend most of us live has also seen some renovations.

The high-pressure artist is definitely a thing of the past and is seldom found except chieftain. The well trained ones are always of most successful salesmen has become that of honesty, dependability and fair service to the customer. He still must be astute, however, and alert to meet any occasion thrown at him by the customer. Today's salesman, as in the past, must likewise be a shrewd pessimistic, well mannered and take a positive view of things instead of negative. The following true story may, in a measure, explain better what we are trying to get across.

E. J. Ticoilat, vice-president of Crown-Zellerbach and board chairman, National Sales Executives while in Texas recently, told about one of these salesmen calling on a purchasing agent who practically ordered him out of the office. "I don't like your line of goods, I wouldn't trade with your company, you're not getting anywhere calling on me and I do not want to see your card come in here again," said the buyer.

The salesman answered, "Mr. Smith, I wish I had a hundred customers like you," and he closed the door softly and left.

The buyer was so surprised he jumped up, rushed to the door and called the salesman back. "Why did you say that?" he asked.

"I've got a thousand like you," the salesman answered, "and I wish there were only a hundred."

Scientists now announce that women and children can survive famine better than men. Any husband who has grown thin and feeble, while his wife was gaining three pounds on a new "reducing diet" knows all about that.—The Marshalltown Times-Republican.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

New Bull Barn Should Serve Variety Of Purposes

The County Commissioners are going to replace the Bull Barn. What services do you think this new public building should provide? What all should it be used for?

MRS. HENRY HASTINGS

I think it should be used for a place for the 4-H Clubs to show their livestock, and it could be worked into a wonderful recreational center.

MRS. EARL WAITS

I think it would be very nice to have a new building, and I also think it would be a good place to have the wrestling matches and a place for people to gather.

HUGH CLEARMAN

Of course I think it should be used for show purposes. However, anything it can be utilized for will benefit the community.

HUB HOMER

It should continue to be used for livestock shows and any worthwhile community projects.

LARRY SUMMERS

A nice bowling alley would be about the best thing I could think of. It would go over good with the right management.

Smooth Sailing for This Sailor's Wife

Check List Helps Bride Steer Ship

IF YOU love the job you'll marry him anyway. Just be prepared, says a young Navy wife, for running into problems that will never afflict a stock broker's wife.

Pretty Ruth Nehls, married five months to Robert Nehls, aviation electronics technician 2/c, has already learned that when you marry the Navy, you can't live quite like anybody else. Some of the differences are subtle; others hit you like the Battleship Missouri.

For you prospective brides who will have the "Wedding March" mingled with "Anchors Aweigh," Ruth offers a check list. If you can answer yes to all the questions, you should have fair weather and smooth sailing ahead.

1. Can you take it like a lady when you have dinner ready at 6 and your sailor spouse calls at 7 to tell you he's on his way to Bermuda and will be back in a couple of days?
2. Can you exclaim "Oh goodie, a new challenge," when you finally get your apartment fixed just the way you want it and he comes home and says tomorrow you leave for Zanzibar?
3. Can you smile indulgently when he makes noises about why can't you run a tight ship, keep the house shipshape and make as good coffee as he gets in the Navy?
4. Do you have a hobby to keep you busy when he unexpectedly—legitimately—drops out of sight for interminable periods?
5. Can you count to 10 when your feet hurt from looking for housing and the landlord says sorry we don't rent to service people, especially service people who have children or intend to have them?

6. Can you lock the door and go to sleep without a worry when he's away on night duty?

7. Can you refrain from the martyr routine when he has to go to sea, realizing he isn't any happier about the separation than you are?

In her Union City, N. J., apartment dark-haired, 19-year-old Ruth admits her seven-point check list takes a bit of practice and self control.

"What still bothers me most is I never know when to expect Bob home," she sighs. "He'll suddenly go on a long training flight to Bermuda or California."

"I worry when he's flying, but if he's late coming home I never know if it's the plane—or our car. It's not the latest model."

Bob, 25, is stationed at Floyd Bennett Field on the far tip of Brooklyn, where he works on aircraft electronic equipment and also files as radar and radioman. He leaves the house in the morning around 6 and reaches the field by 8. Off at 4, if everything goes well, he reaches home by 6, about the same time Ruth gets home from her secretarial job.

A Coffee Addict
She cooks dinner, they eat and he helps with the dishes. Then, she complains, he starts in again with the coffee.

"It's an old Navy habit, I guess," he says. "I never drank it before I got into the Navy."

Every fifth night he stays all night at the base. At first this upset Ruth. "But I'm not scared anymore," she admits. "That's one good thing about living in a two-family house. The people upstairs look out for me."

So far Ruth hasn't run the gamut of problems peculiar to Navy wifehood. But Bob keeps telling her what to expect. His father, now a chief quartermaster on recruiting duty in Milwaukee, has been in the Navy since 1919, and his mother has been all over the world with him.

Housing Difficulties

One difficulty, says Bob, is trying to find housing around military establishments. "Most people are afraid to rent to service people because they can break leases. They ask you if you plan to have children and you say yes and they say sorry. If they do rent to you, they'll probably ask twice what it's worth."

"And we want to have as many children as we can afford," adds Ruth.

Ruth met Bob in 1953 at a funeral where he was a pall bearer for her cousin, one of his flying buddies. "From then on we dated about every weekend for 2½ years. She didn't think too much of the Navy then—I had enlisted after World War II—and she talked me out of it."

Bob tried working days and going to school nights. Finally he decided the Navy was for him and a year ago he joined the reserve on active duty status. He plans to go into the regular U.S.N. soon as a career.

How does Ruth feel about it?

Security Is Wonderful
"I don't mind too much any more. The security is a wonderful thing. You know just how much is coming in and when. It makes budgeting so much easier."

"And Navy marriages are happier than most others. The families are usually closer because they aren't together all the time, and it means so much more when they are together."

She giggles. "And he isn't around long enough at a time for you to get tired of him. You can put up with his little idiosyncrasies for a short time without it affecting your loving disposition."

Batting her eyes at him, she adds: "Not that Bob has any."

And Bob, being an honest sailor, says: "Honey, we've only been married five months. Give me time."

Rent or Own Is Problem For Couple

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER

WHERE to live is one of the biggest problems that confront the newlyweds. Should they establish their honeymoon home in a rented apartment, a rented house, or in a home of their own?

No pat answers to this question apply to every couple. The problem is not entirely economic. It has its emotional side, too.

Older folks may regret the course they followed when first married—having paid rent for years. They may wish they had started to pay for a house much earlier in life. But it isn't always fair to young people to saddle them with immediate responsibilities that may cramp their care-free happiness.

There are many arguments for and against home ownership.

Sometimes home owning is economical. More often it is an expensive luxury. It can offer security, but it also can be a burden. It can be an incentive to harder work, more thrift, serious citizenship. But when it becomes too much of a load, you encounter disillusionment, shock of failure and lost efforts.

Examining Pros and Cons

Renting is attractive to young people. It calls for no big investment—no long term commitment. Jobs may be insecure, or jobs may be bettered by moving to another place. There is freedom in renting. Up until six years ago the majority of families in this country rented. Only since 1950 has the majority owned homes.

Of course, the advantages of home ownership are great. A young couple buying or building a small house has a big start when family grows and a larger house is needed. They will not be starting from scratch as will be the family that outgrows a rented apartment and buys for the first time. The sale of a small house usually nets a sizable equity to launch the purchase of a better house.

Home ownership makes for stability. It gives children an unbroken life of continued friendships and steady schooling. It is a long term family project, usually involving a mortgage that takes 15, 20 or even 30 years to pay off. Because of this, the earlier it is undertaken, the greater its rewards.

When owned free and clear, a home can offer old age security—providing it can be maintained on pension accumulations.

The Renter's Side

On the other hand, the renter is not tied to one place for a quarter of a century or more. When children grow up and move away, you can rent smaller quarters and in retirement years it is easy to pull stakes and move to the climate of your desires.

Taxes, upkeep and insurance on a home mount larger than you'll anticipate. Taxes are running high everywhere. General maintenance, lawn mowing, garden care, painting and repair consume spare time or call for hired help. Ask the man who owns a house how much he spends for these items plus heat, water, power.

Then consider traveling time and cost. Most new homes are in outlying areas. Draw up lists of pros and cons as you see them. Only the importance you place on each of these aspects is important to you.

If country living appeals to you more strongly than down-town convenience, or vice versa, you will be willing to pay for the way you want to live.

SECURE HIDING PLACE

FORT BRAGG, Calif. — A nest of acorns was uncovered in the heart of a redwood tree by workers at Union Lumber company's shingle operation. Foresters estimated squirrels had placed the acorns there before Columbus discovered America.

WOODCOCK BEPLACE GROUSE

LANSING — With a downward trend evident in grouse population in Michigan, more and more hunters are bagging the long beaked woodcock as a consolation prize on an otherwise luckless day. The woodcock, also known as a timber doodle, is a relatively small bird weighing from four to 10 ounces. It is still plentiful in Michigan.

SEE FINGER SILHOUETTE THROUGH FINE CHINA
There are two categories to remember when you buy your china. The first is earthenware, it is thicker, no light appears through it and it has a tendency to crack. Pottery is the cheapest kind of earthenware.

Fine china is porcelain, and although it looks more fragile, it actually is stronger. To test real china, hold a dish up to the light and you'll see your fingers silhouetted through it. Fine china also will give a bell-like ring if tapped by a pencil or fingernail.

A HOUSE WEDDING
In a house wedding the bridal couple does not take a single step together. The groom meets the bride in front of the clergyman where the ceremony is to be conducted. At the conclusion of the service there is no recession.

She Keeps A Nursery School Because She Loves Children

NURSERY SCHOOL—Mrs. H. V. Williamson supervises the play of some of her charges including 18 month old Tommy Yates, who offers his help to Gary Gore while Gary hums. Some people keep children to make money; some, like Mrs. H. Williamson, keep children because they'd rather do that than anything else they can think of. "There are no bad children," said Mrs. Williamson, and she speaks from experience — 32 years teaching four to six year olds in the First Methodist Church Sunday School, years raising her own two boys, years spent in Cub out work, and 15 years spent raising for other people's children. Today she maintains a nursery school at her home, 301 Avenue B.

Montague County, attended school there and in 1916 married H. V. Williamson. In 1921 they moved to Hereford and Mr. Williamson is now with Brumley Hog and Cattle Company.

They are the parents of two boys: Howard, a graduate of West Texas State College in Canyon, who is now with the Soil Conservation Service in Brownfield, and Thurman who with the Pink Boll Worm Control division of the Bureau of Entomology in Arlington. He is a graduate of Texas A&M.

There are no grandchildren, although Howard has a step son, 15 year old Ayers, who has been a favorite of Mrs. Williamson's for years.

Neighborhood Children
But with her children growing up, Mrs. Williamson found time to help out other mothers. Many neighborhood children were her special friends and they visited her often, sometimes spending as long as a week at her house, if the parents were going to be away.

The first child she ever kept as a bona-fide "baby sitter" was Willa Sue Channer, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John H. Channer. One summer her family were vacationing and Willa Sue stayed with Mrs. Williamson.

Keeps First Child
The next fall, one of the nurses at the hospital, Mrs. Ray Campbell, asked Mrs. Williamson if she would keep her little boy while Mrs. Campbell worked.

At one time she was keeping nine children, ranging in age from one to five-years. The child who stayed with her the longest was the Scott Kirkpatrick's daughter, whom Mrs. Williamson kept from the time she was 18 months old until she started to school.

Others who have stayed with her for two years or longer include Charlotte Hodges, daughter of the Charlie Hodges, Robbie and Kent Lindsey, sons of the Bob

Reports Indicate District Gets Gentle Showers

By JIM WIMAN
We've heard reports of varying amounts of rain from the Thursday morning showers. Amounts ranging from three tenths to eight tenths inches seemed to pretty well cover the District with a reported one half inch falling in Hereford.

Gentle showers like these are always a pleasure to anyone who considers himself a conservationist. However, we find ourselves forced to face facts and recognize that most of our rains do not come in such gentle showers but in downpours that challenge the ingenuity of the man who shares responsibility for the permanent productivity of the land he owns.

The regular monthly meeting of the board of supervisors of the Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District was attended by four of the five board members. Present for the breakfast meeting at the Western Wheel - Inn Cafe were Board chairman Luther Lesly and members Ira Scott, Hardy Benson and Charles R. Hoover.

Others attending were Roy Smith, Ira Ott, L. H. Lookingbill Jr., Roy Clark, of the Brand, Blue Turpin, bookkeeper for the board, and Jim Burks and myself of the Soil Conservation Service.

Smith, Ott and Lookingbill represented the VFW in a consideration of the possibility of a dam across the Tierra Blanca Creek. They proposed that a small structure be placed across the lower channel on the property that is owned by the VFW in the Hereford city limits. The structure would impound a relatively small amount of water but would provide a permanent storage pool that would add to the usefulness of the area for recreation purposes. It was pointed out by Burks that such a structure would, in time, result in changing the course of the main stream since it would not be practical to construct an adequate spillway for the small amount of water that would be impounded.

All agreed that a dam across the Tierra Blanca, with its resulting lake, would be a decided asset to Hereford and the surrounding territory. At the same time it was recognized that a major structure would be required to meet the needs of the community.

It was announced by Lesly that permission to erect District signs in State Highway rights of way had been refused by the Texas Highway Commission. Signs purchased by the District several months ago, had been held in storage pending a ruling by the Commission.

Plans were made to secure permission from private landowners for placement of the signs which will read, "Entering the Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District" on one side and "Leaving the Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District" on the other. Erection of the signs is expected to be completed within the next few days.

Cooperative conservation agreements were approved on farms of T. L. Sparkman Jr., George E. Herbert, Joe Frank, I. H. Pickens, W. A. Green, Edward Barbee, Glyn Carroll and Carl Berend.

John D. Burkett, who has served as conservation aid in the Hereford Work Unit of the Soil Conservation Service, was transferred last week to Canyon where he will work in a similar position. Burkett has been with the local S.C.S. office for the past 12 years.

At Canyon, he will be working in the Randall - Potter Soil Conservation District which is a newly formed district covering Randall and a part of Potter County. He and his family will continue to reside in Hereford until the fall term of school begins. They will then move to Canyon where a son and daughter, Jimmy and Johnnie, will enroll in the college there.

New Switchboard Addition
A crew of installers from the Western Electric Company moved to Hereford last week. They are here to enlarge and rearrange our switchboard. They tell me the installation will be complete by the last of July.

His will increase our capacity to handle local calls by about 15 per cent. It should allow us to take care of the business we are expecting from the crop harvest this summer without impairing the local service.

Incidentally, from August to November long distance usage in Hereford increases about 50 percent each year. With crops looking good now, and our population on the increase we are planning a mighty busy summer.

Vacation Tip
I guess everybody looks forward to that once-a-year vacation, and probably wishes it came round more often. And since this is the start of the vacation season, it's a good time to remind you how your telephone can help you have a better vacation.

After you have the fishing gear and everyone's bathing suit packed away in the car ready for an early morning start, why not call ahead long distance?

It's the courteous thing to do if you're visiting relatives or friends. That way, they'll know about when to expect you.

It's the smart thing to do if you're stopping at a motel or hotel on the way. With reservations, you can drive a couple of more miles and put more miles behind you. No need to stop early to get accommodations.

More and more, nowadays, people count on Long Distance to help them enjoy their vacation more.

Remember: Your calls go through twice as fast when you call by number. And rates are lowest on station-to-station calls every night and Sundays.

A Family Friend
You know, the telephone has always seemed to me to be a real friend of the family. Mother uses it to do a lot of her shopping, and to "visit" with friends round town.

For Dad, it's a big help in carrying on his business, and keeping in touch with what's happening in community affairs.

And for the growing children at your house, it's probably a "must" for asking their friends over to visit, or asking them where's the best place to meet for the weekly walk to the movies.

These are probably just a few of the ways in which the telephone proves itself as a family friend—always ready to help you and your family keep in touch.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.
