56TH YEAR — NO. 7

Trade Area Boost May Result from New Farm Route

Paving of a 2 1/2 mile length of county road south of Hereford as the county's share of the state farm to market road program for 1957 was assured Monday by the County Commission's acceptance of a highway department proposal.

miles south of the city — will be extended next year for some 7 1/2 miles through Castro County to link-up with an existing farm-to-market road that extends to Earth in Lamb County.

Another Route Asked. The commissioners last year had asked paving of a spur road running west from Highway 51 about 20 miles north of Hereford. At the time the request was presented, highway engineers said the commissioners' choice would create a spur road that would be costly to maintain and that its extension in future years would be a debatable question.

The state department apparently did not seriously consider the local board's recommendation. Castro County's Commissioners Court has, reportedly objected in previous years to highway department proposals to open the road north from the Summerfield road to the Deaf Smith County line.

Links Three Counties. Frío community residents will see immediate benefits from the completion of the paved road, and its ultimate completion as a link from Hereford to Earth will improve rural transportation systems in three counties, observers noted.

In requesting the route north of Hereford, the Deaf Smith County board had noted that previous paving contracts had largely benefited the immediate Hereford area. The paving they proposed would have brought benefits to citizens of a part of Precinct 4, Precinct 2, in which the newest road link will be constructed received about seven miles of paving as a result of the state's 1956 farm road program.

New Minister of Church of Christ

Russell Ingalls, formerly of San Diego, Calif., assumed his duties as minister of the Central Church of Christ here last Sunday. He replaced J. V. Davis, who left Hereford in January to become minister of the Southside Church of Christ in Lubbock.

Ingalls is a former minister of the Northside Church of Christ in Amarillo and is well-known in this area. He was with the Amarillo congregation for five years, leaving there in September, 1954 to work with the Pacific Beach congregation in San Diego.

Reared in Tacoma, Wash., the new minister attended George Pepperdine College, Los Angeles. He had served as minister of churches in Banning and Corona, Calif., before coming to Texas.

The Ingalls family includes Mrs. Ingalls, the former Billie Bartley, who was reared in Dallas and is a graduate of Pepperdine; a daughter, June, 13, an eighth-grader at Stanton Junior High; and Gerald, 10, in the fifth grade at Alkman School. Also moving to Hereford with them was Mrs. Ingalls' mother, Mrs. Lela Bartley.

Grain Producers See Opportunity for Better Deal

The administration's action in slashing 200 million dollars out of government price support commitments for farm crops came as no surprise to Hereford area farmers. Most farmers and grainmen here had feared even more drastic cuts than were announced by Secretary Benson.

The cuts, as announced, dropped the national average support from $1.97 to $1.83 a hundred pounds for grain—sorghum, and from 29.34 cents a pound to 28.15 cents a pound for cotton—about $6 a bale. Similar cuts were made in supports for oats, barley, rye, soybeans, flaxseed and cottonseed, but milk and butterfat supports were retained at last year's level.

But Hereford observers of the national farm program are not counting as final the Secretary's announcement on price levels. They took a deep breath when the cuts were announced and took new interest in Congressional proposals for new farm laws.

Two Opportunities Seen. Grainmen, who have seen 1956 milo sell above the support level from the time harvest began, see at least two good prospects for the crops selling above the newly established support level — whatever that may be:

A continuation of the drought could keep prices above the support level as was the case last year.

Or, Congressional action might nullify the Administration's proposed levels.

But just what the exact support level for the county's principal grain crop will be is still an official mystery. Set at $1.88 for Deaf Smith County farm stored grain for 1956, the support level is expected to be dropped about 14 cents—the national average reduction—here unless Congressional action rules otherwise.

Farmers' Views Are Terse. Most farmers who were queried by The Brand regarding their opinion of the new support levels had very little to say. "I told 'em so" (referring to the November general elections), or simply "Damn it!"

Should the support level prove to be about the $1.74 mark for farm stored grain here — around $1.60 for grain stored in elevators—and if the support level proves to be the market level, the affect on the Hereford economy might be severe.

The trend to production of higher yielding hybrid sorghums could prevent the havoc that resulted from $1.50 maize in 1955, but the increase of production costs during the past two years could largely cancel that increase in net benefit from increased production.

Administrators, Specialists Get Salary Increases

Salary increases ranging from 12 to 15 per cent were approved for Hereford school principals during the board of trustees meeting on Tuesday night. Smaller increases were also scheduled for a number of special teachers and athletic coaches.

The boosts, cited as needed to raise the school administrators' salary schedule to levels of schools of similar size in Texas, were recommended by Fred J. Cunningham, superintendent of schools.

After acting on the salary schedule increases, the trustees also accepted Cunningham's recommendations to offer new two year contracts to the five public school principals, Buck Overall at the high school; W. C. Quattlebaum, junior high; D. C. Martin, L. C. Thomas and Robert Naylor of the elementary schools.

Scale Down Two Requests. The trustees scaled down recommended increases for Assistant Superintendent Bill Stanford and Tax Assessor - Collector and Financial Secretary Fred Baird. Recommended for salaries of $7,200 and $6,350. Both totals include allowances for expenses of operating the two offices.

The total increased outlay for administrative and specialists' salaries for 21 positions in the schools is expected to be about $10,000. Effective for the 1957-1958 school year, the increases will be made without "straining the budget," Cunningham said.

Smaller Budget Seen. Before presenting the salary requests, he had submitted a tentative budget for the next school year that — before the salary increases — called for $40,000 less than was earmarked for the current year. The budget proposal did not, however, provide for any expansion of the school buildings.

A building program to begin this summer or fall has been cited by school officials as essential if Hereford is to meet minimum education requirements in the future.

Keeping Competitive. Increases in salaries for the principals had been previously cited by Cunningham as essential to keeping "Hereford competitive" in the teacher-job market. No raise above the $300 state minimum salaries for classroom teachers was requested. The raise for principals and some specialists was declared overdue as an adjustment in compensation for the responsibility exercised in the past.

Around Town

No candidates have announced, and the three retiring school board members have said they will not seek re-election. But the posts now held on the board by Robert Wagener, W. R. Hair and Don Zimmerman will be open after the trustee election on April 6. Open, that is, unless some legal residents — or their friends — file notice of candidacy with either the County Judge or Hair, school board secretary, within 10 days before the election. It appears likely that some filing will be done in the near future.

Speaking of school board members, Fred Baird at the school's fax office is compiling a list of all former members. He would appreciate your calling him with the names of members of early-day boards.

RAYLAN EVANS PLANS MOVE Herman Neff Buys Implement Firm

Announcement of sale of the Hereford Implement Co. to Herman Neff was made Wednesday by Raylan Evans, manager of the firm, who said that the transaction becomes effective immediately.

Evans, who plans to move with his family to their ranch near Alamosa, Colo., said that he will remain with the firm for several weeks to help Neff become familiar with details of the business.

Neff, well known in this area as a vegetable grower and processor, comes to Hereford from Friona, where he has been active since 1941 as a grower. He also established a processing plant in Friona in 1943, but says that he has sold an interest in the plant to growers of that area in order to devote his full time to the implement business.

No Changes Planned. "It is our plan to operate the Hereford Implement Co. along the same lines as in the past," said Neff. "All of the same employees will be on the job, and no changes are planned in the operation at the present time."

The Neff family moved to Hereford on March 27, 1941, from Blackfoot, Idaho, when the Hereford vegetable deal was getting on its feet. In 1943, he opened a potato processing plant with Raylan and Wayne Evans but in 1950 disposed of his interests in this area and moved to the Gulf Coast. In 1951, Neff returned to the Friona area and pioneered potato farming. The venture led to establishment.

Delay Action on Rest Home Plans

The hospital services director of the state board of health wants more information on the proposal for a county-operated home for the aged. A request for an architect's drawing of the home, suggested as a third hospital wing, was received this week by the Commissioners Court.

In Monday's regular session, after reading the state official's letter, commissioners debated again the need for better care of the county's elderly, and often dependent persons. The court members took no action on the request for plans for the home.

One commissioner said that it might be more desirable to have a privately operated nursing home located here than for the county to take on additional responsibilities.

It was noted that construction of the home by the county might result in some elderly persons being disqualified for state old-age assistance payments. But under existing laws, the home might be built with the aid of federal funds.

Credit Union Open House

Open house will be held Sunday at the Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union, 380 Schley. Coffee and cookies will be served from 2 to 5 p.m.

Mrs. Dyalitha Benson, managing director of the credit union, said preparations are being made for 500 visitors. The credit union moved into its new headquarters Dec. 26, 1956.

Shriners Plan a Tri-County Club

Officers and directors met here Wednesday morning to set Monday, Mar. 4, as the date for a ladies night and organizational meeting of a new three-county Shrine Club. The group also approved sponsorship of the annual Crippled Children's Clinic, held in 1956 under sponsorship of the Scottish Rite Club, but deferred action on adopting a name for the new organization.

"All Shriners in Deaf Smith, Castro and Parmer County are urged to become active members of the new Shrine Club," said Dr. L. B. Barnett, president. "The meeting Mar. 4 will be held at 7:30 in Hotel Jim Hill, and will include a buffet dinner."

Officers attending the meeting were: Dr. Barnett, D. C. McWhorter, vice president; Dub Reeves, second vice president; D. C. Kinsey, secretary - treasurer. Directors present were: Bruce Wooddell and W. W. Gilbreath of Dimmitt, Hugh Mosely of Farwell, Regan Looney and Aubrey Brock of Bovina, J. B. Nolan, the other director, was not able to attend the meeting.

DUMAS WINS FINALE

Herd Finishes Fourth

By BILL KNOX. The Hereford Whitefaces tumbled to fourth in the final District 1-AAA basketball standings with one swish of the nets.

John Cleveland, ace Dumas cager, accounted for the swish which gave the Demons a thrilling 58-56 victory over Cuby Kitchens' Whiteface cagers Tuesday night at Dumas.

left. The Herd rallied, but the clock won the race. Breaks Slump. Jim Curtisinger pulled out of a slump to pace the Hereford attack and share high-point honors for the game with Dumas' Cleveland. Both netted 24.

The Demons played a tremendous fourth quarter. Timely tips, two of them accidental, were a main telling point. "I thought our boys played pretty well," commented Kitchens after the game. "We just didn't get the breaks, and you've got to get them if you win."

Cleveland had only a fair first half, and his hot streak in the fourth quarter was obviously what inspired the Demons. Field Goal Percentage. However, the Whitefaces hit a better field goal percentage than the Demons did. In the last half scoring was even. Hereford hit nine of 13 shots and Dumas canned nine of 22. Dumas' points came when they counted, though.

PAVING PROGRAM STALLED—A flood of requests for paving on streets like the rutted one above was anticipated last week when the City Commission announced it would draw-up a street improvement program at its next regular meeting on Feb. 18. But so far, not a single request has been filed at City Hall, reports Dudley Bayne, city manager. The commission has okayed widening and resurfacing of Ave. K, but delayed action on other streets pending requests from home owners. (Staff Photo)

Final Rites for O. C. Thompson. Funeral services for O. C. Thompson, 59, were held Monday afternoon in the Progress Methodist Church near Muleshoe. Mr. Thompson died at 4 a.m. Sunday. He lived on Rt. 3, Hereford.

Mr. Thompson was born June 6, 1897 in Abilene and moved to Deaf Smith County from Muleshoe in January of last year. He was a member of the Wesley Methodist Church. Burial was in Muleshoe Cemetery under direction of Singleton Funeral Home. Survivors include his wife, Lorena; two sons, Dan and John, both of Hereford; two grandchildren, three brothers, four sisters, three half-brothers and one half-sister.

Both county funds and funds of the Hereford and Walcott school districts will be transferred from one bank to the other as a result of the decision. No interest is paid on the monies, but a number of extra banking services are afforded by the banking institution, said County Judge Homer Hensley.

Board To Change Funds Depository

After more than three decades of depositing the county funds with the First National Bank, county officials on Monday agreed to patronize the Hereford State Bank for a two year period. The action, by the Commissioners Court, followed the receipt of identical bids from the two banking institutions to serve for the next two years as the depository of the county funds.

Whitefaces, however, defeated both teams which finished ahead of them, with the exception of Phillips, by 15 point margins earlier in the season.

Phillips gave everybody enough chances to take the title away from it, but still managed to come out winner, thanks to Levelland's Lobos who didn't lose a game on their home court and defeated only Littlefield away from home.

The Neffs have purchased the Frank Lookingbill place on Texas Ave., where they will make their home. In addition to Mrs. Neff, they have three children: Alan, age 16; Barbara, age 10 and Kim, age 3; a married daughter, Mrs. Lamona Linsey and Mr. Lindsey also plan to move here from Sireveport in the near future.

The Hereford Impiement Company was formed in 1946, when Wayne and Raylan Evans purchased the firm from Mr. Calhoun. Wayne Evans served as manager until 1952, when he turned the business over to Raylan and enrolled in school at Ft. Worth, Ind. Wayne, who was still a partner at the time of the sale is now employed as business manager of the Baptist Theological Seminary, Ft. Worth.

"Although we will leave Hereford with regret, it has been our ambition for some time to devote our full time to the operation of our Colorado ranch," said Raylan Evans. "Everyone has been wonderful to us, and I am sure that Mr. Neff will receive the same sort of cooperation."

Evans, in addition to the implement business, is currently a member of the City Commission of Hereford, and is active in numerous local organizations, including the Baptist Church, Masonic Lodge and Lions Club.

Felt and velour hats may be cleaned with ordinary wall paper cleaner. Break off a small piece of cleaner, knead it in the hands until soft, then rub well over the hat and the dirt will roll off. Brush well with a good whisk broom to remove the crumbs of the cleaner.

Smoke Stains on Brick

A simple method recommended for removing smoke stains from bricks is to use wood ashes. Moisten them with water and rub the bricks with a rag dipped in the ashes.

As approved by the trustees, the high school principal will receive $1,800 above state salary schedule, plus housing accommodations. The junior high principal will be $1,400 above salary schedule, and elementary principals are $1,200 above schedule. With allowance for the state foundation funds salary paid to the teachers, the increases will result in Hereford principals receiving salaries ranging from $4,900 to $6,782 annually, depending on their length of service and educational experience.

The chief pastime around Hereford this week seems to be that of griping about the new tax forms recently sent out by the City. Everyone you meet, especially merchants, has a new and different gripe, centering mostly on the paper work involved. However, when you boil it all down, none of us like to pay taxes — and it is probably a safe bet that most people are expecting some sharp increases as a result of the new type evaluation sheets.

Others feel that city evaluations are out of line as compared to rural property, and they definitely feel that increased valuations for the City will automatically skyrocket their school and county valuations as well. Such was the result of the last city evaluation program. All in all, it is not a popular movement, although it is probably legal and proper tax assessing procedure. What most people want is to pay their fair share of taxes on an equalized basis. This should be the objective of all governing bodies and equalization boards. Only on this basis can a democracy continue to prosper and flourish. Any other form, sooner or later, is bound to kill the goose that lays the golden eggs.

Remember back before the holidays when Eula Lee Cave said all she wanted for Christmas was a popcorn machine. Well, she finally got it. She brought me the first four sacks of popcorn — and I can see why she was so eager. It was really good. She is about the happiest gal on Main Street these days.

I was visiting with Cameron Gault, who says he had a card from Howard and Mrs. Gault. It was mailed from Gibraltar, I believe, and Cameron reports that the Hereford couple is having a glorious time. They especially enjoyed the boat trip.

A young lady who learned about the perils of skiing the hard way is Pam Clay, age 14, who broke her wrist while on a ski trip in New Mexico last week. It happened some five minutes before the crowd was ready to depart for home. Understand that her dad, T. J. Clay, also has a few bruises to report from his encounter with the sport. Otherwise the group had a big time. Gene Moore, another of the sponsors, apparently got by without undue trouble.

You run into a lot of tricky people from time to time, but I believe these old timers are the worst. Ezra Norton, for instance, has been trying to involve me in a bunch of manual labor — and he knows full well that I have little patience with hard work. My advice to Bill Waldrop is to ignore anything Ezra tells him and to make other arrangements for wrecking the old Parker house at Fifth and McKinley.

I got even with Roy Jowell the other day. We got to talking a streak in the drug store and, as we walked out, Roy had a bright new parking ticket on his windshield.

Cotton Classing Office To Get Humidifying Gear

The go-ahead signal for installation of humidifying equipment in the Lubbock Cotton Classing Office was given by the U. S. Department of Agriculture in Washington, D. C. recently to the four representatives of the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., and other agricultural organizations, who presented the plans.

W. H. Andrews of Deaf Smith County, Director of the PCG, explained the representatives were selected from various agricultural organizations which met last November to discuss the classing situation and make plans.

George Pfeiffenberger, Executive Vice-President of the PCG, Curtis Boyd, Lubbock, Kenneth Purcell, Brownfield, and John I. Bowling, Hale Center, went to Washington with the recommendation for cotton classing improvements drawn up at the November meeting. Pfeiffenberger, who served as chairman of the meeting, said the U.S.D.A. agreed installation of such humidifying equipment would improve classing conditions.

The owner of the new classing building also has agreed to such changes and plans are now underway to provide the additional room.

Prior to Classing Present plans call for cotton to be allowed to humidify 12 to 24 hours before classing. The work will be done this year prior to classing of any of the '57 crop, officials said.

Pfeiffenberger also said the U.S. D.A. officials were favorable to the plan that cotton from different areas on the South Plains be classed by the same classers and should not be shifted about to different classers, if the group desired it this way. Also the Washington officials said establishment of a classing review board consisting of a government classer, a Plains Cotton Growers classer and a cotton trade classer is acceptable. Details of this program remain to be worked out.

'56 Cotton Crop Surpasses 1955

ABILENE — J. C. Porter of Wichita Falls, chairman of the agriculture committee of the West Texas Chamber of Commerce, reported today that preliminary figures of the U. S. Department of Commerce indicate that the total amount of West Texas cotton ginned from the 1956 cotton crop tops the cotton ginned in 1955. Porter said that approximately 2.24 million bales of cotton were ginned in the 132 county region served by the WTCC. He said that the total number of bales for 1956 was about 11,000 above the total in 1955.

seed, would be nearly 400 million dollars. He pointed out that the value of the 1956 crop was below the value of the 1955 crop. Only 38 counties in the WTCC region ginned less cotton in 1956 than was ginned in 1955, Porter said. He added that the total value of the crop was about $392,443,800.

COLLEGE STATION - Sorghum alumum was first described in literature from Argentina where according to available evidence, it originated as a hybrid between Johnson grass and a sorghum. In Argentina it is known as Sorgho negro, Sudan negro and Sorghum aluum and as Columbus grass in South Africa. It has been introduced into the United States from Argentina, South Africa, Australia, New Zealand, Nigeria and Algeria. It has been grown on the Chilled and Lubbock Experiment Stations for about 12 years.
E. M. Trew, extension agronomist, describes sorghum aluum as a perennial very similar to Johnson grass in appearance. Generally, it produces wider leaves, larger stems, longer and more spreading heads and usually grows taller than Johnson and Sudan grasses. The underground stems or rhizomes are short, thick and firm up close to the crown. New growth comes primarily from buds at nodes or joints just above the ground with relatively few new shoots coming from rhizomes. It is not uniform and the types vary as to stalk size and height, leafiness and degree of tillering. The stalks, generally, are pithy and non-sweet.
Crosses with Johnson Grass
The seed shatter when mature. They generally are larger than those of Johnson grass but seed coverings of both grasses are the same color and shape. Sorghum aluum does not appear to cross readily with Sudan grass and other cultivated sorghums but some types apparently cross freely with Johnson grass.
In clipping tests at Denton, Temple and in the Brazos River Bottom near College Station, it produced about the same or slightly more hay than did Sweet and Common Sudan grass. Greater yield differences, based on observations, have been reported from the Rolling Plains area. On the lighter soil of that area, it seems to be more drought tolerant than either Johnson or Sudan grass.
During 1956, Sorghum aluum was grown in more than 60 grass-legume demonstration nurseries in the eastern half of Texas. On the deeper, more fertile soils, production often exceeded Johnson and Sudan grasses but on the shallower, poorer soils, it often produced less. Production in nursery plots has declined, the second and third years on shallow, poor soils.
Best for Grazing
Trew observes that best use of the grass appears to be for grazing purposes and perhaps soil conservation. Nutritive value should be about the same as for Johnson and Sudan grasses. It has survived the winter and acted as a perennial in the Rolling Plains area since 1954 but has winter killed some years at the Lubbock Experiment Station.
The specialist says the grass should be planted in 36 to 42-inch rows on a seedbed prepared as for Sudan or grain sorghum. Row planting permits cultivating for weed control. He suggests using three to five pounds of seed an acre to insure a good stand and small stalk size. Planting depths of one to two inches are suggested. Fertilizer should be applied at or before planting time wherever needed. And Trew advises a soil test for determining this need.
Divided into Blocks
Plantings for grazing should be divided into at least four blocks to permit rotation grazing and the plants should be at least 24-inches high before livestock are turned on it. This will decrease danger of prussic acid poisoning.
Sorghum aluum for pure seed production should be planted in fields free of Johnson grass and at least a half-mile from Johnson grass stands. Harvesting the seed from standing plants with a combine results in excessive seed loss from shattering. To prevent this loss, hand harvesting is often practiced. In other cases, the plants are cut with a binder when the seed are almost mature, the bundles are shocked and after drying the heads are threshed by combine.
A new Extension publication, L-329, Sorghum Aluum, is now available through the offices of County Agents or from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

ALMOST A DOZEN
Child a Year Is Family's Motto
HOUSTON (AP) - The first thing Donia told her husband, Charlie Caspersen, when she became a bride 12 years ago was that she wanted a large family.
Charlie agreed.
"The family began to grow a year after the marriage in 1945. Donia, 32, has had a baby each year since except in 1956. But she made up for that by having Kevin on Jan. 4, 1957.
All 11 children were born in the same hospital and delivered by the same doctor.
Advantages
Living with 11 kids isn't boring. And there are advantages, too. No draft board will look at Charlie, who is 41.
The income tax people don't give him any trouble.
The disadvantages such as a typical shoe bill for $100.
Charlie, who owns a realty company, bought a three-bedroom home into which everybody fits rather closely.
"Supper is a bad time," Mrs. Caspersen said.
"We never know whether all the kids at the table are ours. It's unusual to have 22 children eating with us. But we don't care."
Charlie has quit trying to count the kids to see if they are all there. But he still calls the roll when they go riding in their station wagon. The children often confuse him by answering each other's names.
This resulted in the family getting out on the highway once before discovering one was left at home in a bathroom.
At bedtime Charlie calls from the front door.
"I stand back and wait until the house is full. Then I shut the door and lock it," he said.
Mrs. Caspersen said she has "spotters in the neighborhood that help keep up with the children during the day."
"Come home by supper-time anyway," she added.
One of the children was locked in the bathroom recently. She called the fire department.
"The kids liked it so much they locked one of the smaller ones in the bathroom and called the department."
Statistically there are eight girls and three boys. Five go to school. Will there be any more?
Household Tips
Allow one to two medium-sized potatoes per person when you are preparing French-fries.
Garnish those fish filets and they'll look really appetizing. Any of the following make fine edible garnishes: pickled beets, carrot curls, fluted slices of cucumbers, hard-cooked egg cut attractively in thin slices or into quarters or eighths, sprigs of water cress, rings of green pepper, bread-and-butter pickles or gherkins.
Some cooks like to add a little applesauce to mashed cooked yellow turnip.
Add a couple of canned pimientos, cut into thin strips, to French dressing and serve over wedges of head lettuce. Garnish with hard-cooked egg slices and capers.
Save the small cans in which salted peanuts come. The cans are fine for steaming puddings or baking tiny fruitcakes.
Want a steak noted for its tenderness? Choose Porterhouse or T-bone.
Some cooks like to add a little crushed garlic to the melted butter used for basting broiled lobster tails.
Salad-dessert: small peeled baked apples served with cottage cheese on a bed of crisp greens. Pass your favorite salad dressing.
Making cream gravy for fried chicken? Add a dash of ginger and one of allspice for interesting flavor. But use a very light hand with the spice.

State Dairymen Urged To Seek School Market

COLLEGE STATION — One of the largest milk markets yet to be tagged by Texas dairymen is the two million students enrolled in state elementary and high schools. This was pointed out today by Arch Meekma, extension dairy husbandman.

Rapid expansion in the consumption of milk by students at school started two years ago when the U. S. Department of Agriculture initiated the Special School Milk Program, said the specialist. Two-fold Purpose Purpose of this milk program is two-fold; to help improve the welfare and health of children and to help dairymen find larger outlets for fluid milk.

Records show that students will buy as much milk as they can drink — often four or five half pints a day in addition to the milk they drink at lunch — if the milk is priced competitively or lower than other beverages.

So that schools can drop milk prices to the lowest possible point to stimulate consumption, USDA reimburses them from federal funds. Texas has been allocated

Fumigation Stops Root Knot Disease

COLLEGE STATION—Root knot disease can be controlled in garden soils by fumigation. Extension Plant Pathologist Dr. Harlan E. Smith says the fumigant should be nearly three million dollars by USDA for reimbursements this school term.

"Whether all of these federal funds are spent for milk or not depends largely on how well local dairymen can interest schools and other eligible institutions such as nonprofit child-care centers in this program," Meekma said.

Consumption Rate On the average, Texas boys and girls are drinking about 225,000 half pints of milk every day at school. This includes only the milk served under the special USDA program, and is in addition to the milk students drink at lunch.

If dairymen could interest all of the schools in Texas in this program, daily milk consumption would more than double, Meekma pointed out.

The Special Milk Program is handled by Charles M. Hicks, Consultant, School Lunch and Milk Programs, Texas Education Agency, Capitol Station, Austin.

FFA Week Is Proclaimed

Gov. Price Daniel issued a proclamation designating the week of Feb. 16-23 as National Future Farmers of America Week in Texas. The proclamation was one of the first to be issued by the Governor.

In presenting the proclamation to Kenton Harvey, State FFA President and E. C. Weekley, Executive Secretary of the Texas FFA Assn., the Governor praised the work of the Future Farmers of today who will be the successful farmers of tomorrow. He pointed out that the FFA constitutes one of the most effective programs yet developed for training boys to be good farmers and helping them to become established in the farming occupations of their choice.

Gov. Daniel said that in view of the nation's need for new farmers, it is fitting that recognition be given these young men who are preparing for careers in farming. Encouragement at this time will do much to stimulate them to harder work and greater achievement.

Kenton Harvey, State FFA President from Azle, received the proclamation in behalf of the 36 thousand FFA members in 905 local chapters in Texas. The local chapters are under the guidance of 979 teachers of Vocational Agriculture in the Texas public high schools. Weekley pointed out that National FFA Week comes every year

Sen. Johnson Hits 'Tight Money' Policy

Small business concerns are hit much harder by the "tight money" policy than big companies, Sen. Lyndon B. Johnson declared last week.

Johnson, in a Senate speech, also pointed out that high interest rates add greatly to the charge of servicing the national debt and place a heavy burden on municipal governments.

"The continual trend toward mergers of big companies leaves a smaller share of the market for the average businessman," the Texas Senator told his colleagues. "Rising costs all along the line add to the difficulties of a small firm in meeting expenses. Of those increasing costs, one of the most important is the increasing cost of money."

"This is something that is felt all along the line — by business, by government, and by the average citizen."

Johnson said if 1952 interest rates had been applicable to the national debt last year, American taxpayers would have saved approximately $717,000,000. He added that high interest rates also cause municipalities to assume excessively heavy obligations in order to see their bonds.

"This is a situation that can change our whole economy," he declared. "The rising cost of money and other necessities represents a constant squeeze on small business — and the squeeze will eliminate many as time goes on."

The Hallmark of Circulation Value

In the same way that STERLING on silver signifies a standard of known value, so is the A.B.C. emblem a symbol of integrity for the circulation of newspapers and periodicals. It means that circulation so identified is measured according to the rules and standards of the AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS.

The A.B.C. is a cooperative and non-profit association of 3,450 publishers, advertisers and advertising agencies. Organized in 1914, these buyers and sellers of advertising brought order out of advertising chaos by setting up standards for paid circulation and establishing rules and methods for measuring, auditing and reporting circulations.

Therefore, the work of the A.B.C., of which this newspaper is proud to be a member, provides you with a direct and valuable service. You can buy advertising as you would make any other sound business investment — on the basis of well known standards, known values.

At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors makes a thorough audit of our circulation records. The results of this exacting audit show: How much circulation we have; where our circulation goes; how it was obtained; and many other facts that you need in order to know just what you get for your advertising dollars. This audited information is published by the Bureau in easy-to-read A.B.C. reports which are available to our advertisers on request. Ask for a copy of our latest A.B.C. report.

A.B.C. REPORTS — FACTS AS A BASIC MEASURE OF ADVERTISING VALUE

Dryland Farmers Are Helped by Land Leveling

SPUR — Dryland cotton lint yields have been stepped up 59 percent by land leveling clay loam soils on terraced land having less than one percent slope and receiving supplemental runoff water, says C. E. Fisher, Spur substation superintendent.

It's an economical investment too, according to Fisher who says land at Spur was leveled for $17.88 an acre and will be effective for several more years. He says annual gross return per acre was increased $23.76 on leveled land with supplemental runoff water and $8.10 on leveled land without supplemental runoff.

Fisher believes a more uniform distribution of moisture increases uniformity of yields on leveled lands. He says land leveling increased the average yield of cotton 30 pounds per acre in Spur tests without supplemental runoff. Greatest benefits, however, occur from leveling the land between terraces on relatively flat areas of fine textured soils receiving supplemental runoff, he adds.

Work for the Spur tests was done with a 4-pow tractor and a combination hydraulic scraper and land leveler.

Fisher urges farmers to use special precautions in land leveling since it has a tendency to pulverize topsoil and can result in a serious wind erosion hazard if done incorrectly. Technical assistance from Texas Agricultural Extension Service and Soil Conservation Service personnel is available, and should be sought says Fisher, especially if water spreading is to be undertaken.

More details on the work are available in Progress Report 1914 which is available from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Tex.

Entertainment provided for the visitors included selections by the boys' quartet, including Gwinn Morris, Leon Roberts, Glenn Reeves, and Doug Womble.

Selections provided by the host club included music by Ann Winget, and Phyllis Wimberley; a book review, Lincoln Almanac, presented by Peggy Hampass; and pantomimes given by Doug Womble and Carroll Wolloughby and by Pat Dawson and Martha Logan.

School Names Miss January

Mary Lou McCullough was named "Miss January" during the assembly program at the high school last week. Martha Bookout, who made the presentation on behalf of the Student Council, read a citation giving "friendliness and cooperation" as the basis of the selection of the popular senior as student of the month.

Mary Lou has served as one of the cheer leaders for the current school term. She is secretary-treasurer of the Senior Class, photography editor of the school yearbook, and a member of the Speech Club and F.H.A. She was active in the Pep Club for three years, and has served as chairman for several banquets, including last year's Junior-Senior banquet, during her high school career.

The 17-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ray McCullough plans to attend Abilene Christian College following her graduation. She has chosen interior decoration as her major field.

Football Team Is Awarded Jackets

Letter jackets were awarded to 22 Football "A" team members and to 16 members of the "B" team by Coach Scar Russell during an assembly at the high school last Wednesday. Also recognized were the team managers, Terry Hale and Don Cocanougher.

Eleven of the "A" team lettermen will be lost to the team next year by graduation or by ineligibility because of age. They are Chick Weemes, Glenn Mutter, Ed Schroeter, Wheeler Sears, Taylor Sims, Jerry Malone, Bill Callaway, John David Bryant, Bobby Veigel, Danny Elliston and Gene Waits.

"Others receiving 'A' team letters are Glenn Reeves, Bill Draker, Nathan Wilson, C. D. Fitzgerald, Pete Plank, Bobby Eurus, Ed Wakefield, Charles Self, Robert Brown, Leslie Sharp, and Fred Lookingbill. The jackets are maroon wool with white leather sleeves and maroon and white letters.

Other relatives joining him here were Mr. and Mrs. Cliff Estes, Mr. and Mrs. Claude Morris and Mr. and Mrs. John L. Wilson of Vega.

L'Allegra Club's Sweetheart Party Fetes Husbands

Members of L'Allegra Study Club entertained husbands at the annual Sweetheart Party given last Thursday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Francis Hill.

The romantic theme was carried out in decorations and appointments for the supper with the large table from which the meal was served, laid with a Valentine red cloth and centered with a large red heart edged in white lace, resting on a cloud of white angel hair. Cupid's arrow pierced the heart emphasizing the traditional custom on St. Valentine's Day.

Small tables were covered with red cloths and centered with white velvet arches anchored to a white styrofoam base having red hearts suspended in the center.

Following the meal, games of hearts were enjoyed with guests choosing heart-shaped tallies, matching place-hearts at tables, from an old fashioned Valentine box in the shape of a lovely lady, complete with a miniature old-fashioned girl with white ruffled dress and parasol trimmed in red. At the conclusion of games Mr. and Mrs. Hilton were the winners of high score prizes.

IT'S: HER POINT OF VIEW Cat's Clamoring Alarms the Hills

By Pardy Liner, Betty Babione

I guess Jim Gillentine and Roy Clark were tired of getting blamed for what I've written in this column, and 'twas decided that the anonymity of Pardy Liner should be kept no longer. There are some smarties who say they've known my identity for a long time; then there are the poor unfortunates who've been accused of the crime at one time or another. The funniest thing of all was that some of the readers who have so determinedly tried to unmask me, didn't even notice my by-line last week.

The timing for the big revelation put me at somewhat of a disadvantage concerning the bridge hand I gave. I'm certain I received more calls about it than did Doug Pitman, whose name I mentioned for just that purpose. Doug says that the credit for figuring it out should not be hers because John Douglas and Mary Jane were the ones who racked their brains over it. Lois Dodson knew how to play it, but she had seen it in a magazine some time ago—answer and all.

Here's the Secret

It took Margaret and Jim Witherspoon until a wee hour of the morning to work it out, but they were successful in the grand slam bid. Here is what they found to be the only possible way to make seven on the hand (and congratulations to anyone else who did same under your own brain power): Sluff a little diamond on the King of clubs lead and take the trick with the Ace in the player's hand. Use the hearts to get to the board twice and trump the Queen and 3 of spades to get back to your hand twice. After you lead your last heart to the board, you'll have a high heart to sluff the Ace or King of diamonds on while drawing the opponent's last trump. Sluff the remaining diamond on the Ace of spades, and the diamonds on the board are good for the rest of the tricks. Interesting?

Small Game Search

Now if anyone knows a surefire way to get a cat out from under one's house, please notify Charlie and Temple Hill. They were feeling a bit discouraged after saving a hole in the floors of two closets, making a special opening in the foundation of the house, and using all manner of enticements—both humane and inhumane.

The Hills don't mind that the big tom prefers the lower vicinity of their abode, except for his not-so-melodious singing during the night. Also a point of concern is the fact that they'll have to close up all ports of exit before finishing the new addition on their house. Then what would happen to kitty?

An Interesting Home

Speaking of houses, have you been by to take a gander at the Jiggs Hudson home at the end of Star Street facing south? It's gray frame with rock-faced Norman brick and white, iron trim has been used most effectively. Two unusual features in the house are the three-level floor plan and the high, glass window panels. I think it is one of the most interesting houses you'll see anywhere.

I was so busy waving at Dudley Bayne the other day that I almost ran into one of the new STOP signs that grace the middle of the street at the intersection of Third and Miles. I suppose the abundance of stop signs at that corner is to remind us that Miles is now a "through" street. Land, you can hardly miss the signs—I mean that literally!

Before I ring off, I've just got to tell you about Kay McWhorter. I couldn't afford to say before now, but did you know that her real name is not Kay, nor is it Kathleen or Catherine. It's HENRIETTA... and what do you think about that?

Upholstery Workshop Plans Near Completion

By ARGEN DRAPER

The plans for the Upholstery Workshops are about completed. We will have the workshops as soon as all plans are finished and will try to finish the workshops in time to do the Dressmaking before April.

There will be a workshop in each Commissioner's precinct so everyone can take advantage of them. A group of women can choose their two leaders and come to the workshops. All groups will be called together in the next two weeks to make final plans. These planning meetings will probably be in the mornings and will not take more than an hour. The Westway group met with Mrs. George Turrentine Tuesday and the Messenger group will meet with Mrs. S. N. Thweatt Friday morning.

Mrs. W. D. Howard had her clothing notebook at club last Friday when we met with Mrs. Bruce Coleman. Mrs. Howard had her book covered with pretty pink print. I hadn't realized how many times I have asked club women to get a notebook to put printed information in it until Mrs. Elmo Hall commented on it last month at club. Anyway, that is an excellent way of getting organized and having information at your fingertips; having it in a notebook keeps it from getting misplaced. It sure bothers me to have to look for anything and not find it until I'm looking for something else.

At the hat demonstration last week, Mrs. Earl DeHart told us to clean straw hats with three parts of water and one part of rubbing alcohol. Straw hat-season will soon be here; you will need to freshen up last year's hats. There is some interest in glove making. I have heard some plans for print gloves—sounds like it will be interesting. Maybe a polka dot or striped hat and gloves.

My thanks to Mrs. R. L. Criswell for giving my part on the program at Hereford Garden Club. I've heard some nice compliments on it. We can depend on Mrs. Criswell to do a good job when she's on the program. I remember one program she helped with some time ago; it was Merry Christmas on the front door.

Feb. 22 will be a big day for the clubs. The Education and Expansion committees of clubs in Precinct 2 will have their annual meeting in the morning. Council in the afternoon. We will have our District Agent at Council so it will be nice visiting her. Too, after Council you will select the delegates to the District Meeting. Also, it is time to elect the County THDA Chairman.

IT'S A HELLBENDER—Jeff Kirby, 12, picked-up this odd creature while exploring Tierra Blanca Creek on Saturday. No common waterdog, the "thing" was first identified by Jeff as an oxadole, but later his father, Doc Kirby, 107 Ave. H, found it described in a reference volume as a mudpuppy or hellbender. It resembled a cross between a catfish, a pollywog and a salamander. (Staff Photo)

Aoudad Sheep put in Palo Duro Canyon for Hunters

AUSTIN — A potential challenge for the more agile Texas big game hunters has been released in Palo Duro Canyon country in the Panhandle in the form of 31 head of aoudad sheep.

The big, wary animals, imported from the wilds of New Mexico, were turned loose in a rugged, forbidding area described by owners as "not good for anything else." The parting admonition by the rancher who trucked them in was: "You'll never git 'em outta there."

The project was described by the executive secretary for the Game and Fish Commission as the latest in the broad restocking program authorized by the Game and Fish Commission. In this vast experimental movement, including big game and upland game birds from as far away as Pakistan, the Commission hopes to adapt new species to far-flung Texas to augment native wildlife populations.

A New Home

Wildlife Biologist A. S. Jackson of Canadian, who supervised the aoudad transplanting effort, said the heavily-horned sheep which originated in North Africa on the fringe of the Sahara desert, "ought to find the Canyon country to their liking."

Jackson said the area, about 30 miles wide and 60 miles long, "is nothing but waste land — mostly jagged rock — but apparently just what the wild aoudad will thrive on."

Palo Duro Canyon is southeast of Amarillo and is surrounded by flat plains country. But Jackson said the accessibility practically ends at the edge of the cavernous stretch which includes countless vertical peaks and depressed locations up to 1,200 feet deep.

East Everything

Jackson said the aoudads (generally pronounced Oh-Dads) are accustomed to weather extremes such as prevail in the Panhandle, thrive in arid periods, live along ledges and rimrock and "eat about everything." Tufts of wild grass, leaves, twigs, weeds and berries will be the main diet in their new home, he added, with springs providing ample water.

The resident biologist said New Mexico tried a similar restocking plan with "considerable success."

"That is," he added, "the aoudads seemed to thrive and increased rapidly, but the hunters haven't done so well."

Jackson envisioned the time within a few years when Texas can have a short open season, probably under the special permit system. But he suggested that only the most seasoned and best-conditioned hunter would try his hand at aoudad hunting.

Extremely Elusive

"These sheep are masters at elusiveness when they are alerted to danger," he said, adding that they have a natural brown camouflage, just like their new surroundings.

"Besides," Jackson went on, "a man finally bagging one of the aoudads would have a hassle retrieving the carcass from the rugged terrain, since they weigh 250 pounds."

He said the old bucks have long body hair that hangs below their knees, have long locks extending from their brisket, have a short tail, long horse face and have a yellow eye area with a brown mark through it. Both males and females have heavy curled horns.

Jackson said, from what he has heard, aoudads "are a hunter's dream from the viewpoint of edibility."

How Can I?

Q. How can I make the leaves of a head of lettuce part in perfect condition without tearing?

A. Cut the core off with a sharp knife, and then hold the lettuce under the cold-water faucet, allowing the water to run into the hole made by the knife.

Q. How can I test table linen?

A. Secure a sample and dip it in any kind of oil. The linen thread will become almost transparent, enabling one to see very readily how many cotton threads it contains.

Q. How can I remove red wine stains from linen?

A. By dipping the stained portion into boiling milk. Keep the milk boiling until the stains disappear.

Q. How can I prevent lumpy cocoa?

A. Cocoa will not lump if a little sugar is mixed with it before pouring on the milk or hot water. A pinch of salt will greatly improve the flavor.

Q. What is a good method for making buttonholes?

A. Baste a strip of cloth on the underside of the hem. Then cut and work the buttonhole through both strip and hem. Cut away the surplus strip.

Q. How can I prevent an oily skin?

A. Wash daily with hot castile soap suds. Rinse in hot, then cold water. Do not eat fats. Drink plenty of water.

Q. How can I hold the broken parts of china together until the cement is thoroughly dry?

A. After cementing any china or glass that has been broken, apply adhesive tape and the parts will be held in place.

Q. How can I clean neck-chains and bracelets that leave ugly marks on the neck and arms?

A. Such pieces should be washed occasionally in baking soda and water, rinsing and drying carefully.

Q. How can I sharpen the sewing machine needle?

A. Stitch an inch or two through a piece of sandpaper and the point will be sharp again.

Q. How can I remove warts?

A. Castor oil, lemon juice, or kerosene, applied two or three times daily for four or five days

Failproof Stew Bride's Delight

By CECILY BROWNSTONE Associated Press Food Editor

So many brides lament that they cannot produce a savory stew—the sort their husbands relish—that we hope this easy recipe will help them. We've streamlined this stew-and-dumpling formula; it really should be failproof.

We use large shoulder lamb chops in this stew because it is easy to cut away excess fat from them and have substantial lean servings of meat of which a man will approve. Canned tomatoes, rather than water, are the liquid added for savory flavor.

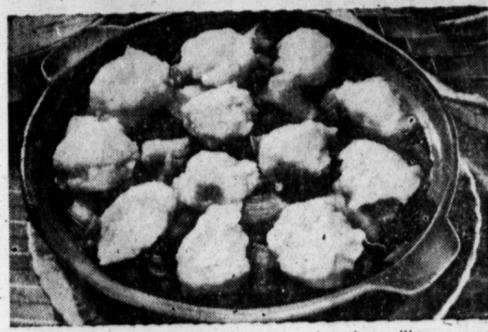

We use an old-fashioned black iron frying pan for browning the lamb, then we transfer the meat to a deep copper-clad stainless steel skillet with a dome-shaped cover—for simmering and cooking the dumplings. But other sorts of frying pans, skillets or kettles can, of course, be used advantageously.

The dumpling recipe that accompanies this stew produces dumplings that have a dry and airy texture.

This stew looks as good as it tastes: the meat brown, the gravy tomato-colored and the dumplings snow white. Serve bright green peas on the same plate as the stew and you'll have an extremely attractive-looking combination.

SKILLET LAMB STEW WITH DUMPLINGS

Ingredients: 4 large (1 3/4 lbs.) round-bone lamb shoulder chops (at least 1/2 inch thick), 1 can (1 pound) peeled tomatoes, 1/2 teaspoon salt, 1/8 teaspoon pepper, 1/2 teaspoon tomato seasoning powder, 4 medium-small yellow onions (peeled and cut into halves), Marjoram Dumplings. Method: Cut each chop into 5 or SKILLET LAMB STEW is a failproof recipe that will overcome a traditional bride's lament.

6 pieces, removing most of the fat; do not cut away any of the bones; they add flavor to the stew. Now grease a very hot heavy skillet (about 10 inches) with a bit of lamb fat; add the meat and brown on both sides over high heat. Pour off any fat in skillet. Add tomatoes, salt, pepper, tomato seasoning powder; place onion halves underneath pieces of meat. Cover tightly and simmer about 1 hour. Skim excess fat from surface of stew with a large spoon. Add more salt to stew if necessary. Bring to a gentle boil; pile several pieces of meat on top of each other if necessary so dumpling batter can rest on them. Drop dumpling batter by spoonfuls on top of meat in 8 portions. Cook uncovered, keeping stew boiling gently, for 10 minutes; cover tightly and cook 10 minutes longer. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings.

Note: The tomato seasoning powder called for in this recipe comes in a 3-ounce jar and includes savory, onion, garlic, celery, salt, and pepper.

MARJORAM DUMPLINGS

Ingredients: 1 cup self-rising flour (do not sift before measuring), 1/4 teaspoon dried crumbled marjoram, 1/2 cup milk.

Method: Stir flour and marjoram together in a mixing bowl. Stir again with a fork while gradually adding milk; stir only until dry ingredients are moistened; do not beat smooth. Mixture will be on the thin side. Cook as directed at end of recipe for Skillet Lamb Stew with Dumplings.

Note: If the self-rising flour called for in this recipe is not available, use 1 cup sifted flour and sift it again with 2 teaspoons double-acting baking powder and 1/2 teaspoon salt.

Schoolday Thrill: Valentine's Day

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D. AP Newsfeatures

What's going on in your child's school on Valentine's Day? Keep your finger on the pulse of school activities and you can often help your youngster grow and mature in the ways that will help him all his life.

Most elementary schools have a Valentine's Day celebration. There will be a big decorated box in each classroom. Maybe it will be there a week before the big day. The children will drop into it Valentines for their classmates. On the big day, February 14, the box will be opened and the precious letters distributed.

The popular children always receive a lot of Valentines, but often there are a few children who, either because they are new in the school or for one reason or another are not too popular, receive very few. It's often hard on a child to have his popularity measured in such concrete terms as the number of Valentines received.

Talk over with your child this question of which children will receive Valentines from him. Of course, encourage him to send them to his special friends, but ask about the other children in the class.

Even young children can understand the heartache of unpopularity, and with a little help from you they can even understand that the unhappy feeling inside can make a child do nasty things. Try to get across to your child the idea that making other people feel good inside helps them want to act more pleasantly.

Try your best to break through some of the cruelty children often show each other. If there is one little fellow in the class who is not liked, there may be a pact among the others to see to it that he is "paid back" by not receiving any Valentines.

With help from you, your child may take pleasure in sending one of his very nicest Valentines to this child.

Much of this talk can be quite casual as you sit across the table from him as he makes hearts and pictures on cards. See to it that he has enough supplies and take an interest in the Valentines he makes. Buy a packet of plain white cards and envelopes. Make sure there is paste in the house. Special Valentine decorations for the cards are inexpensive. Maybe you can use that pile of Christmas cards for some special pictures for the Valentines.

Homemade Valentines are much more fun for children than bought ones. In addition, helping the child make them is a wonderful opportunity for those good casual talks that mean so much to both you and your child.

It's a dear bargain if you have to sit down and write long letters of explanation to an insurance company and then wait around for answers that may involve more long letters.

We have a hunch you'd rather

The water wheel

A big old-fashioned water wheel! Round and round it turns and oh, how slowly! Sure, water below the wheel has gone but water above the wheel still possesses potential power that may influence the lives of millions. It is that way with human life, too. The gigantic wheel keeps turning while life keeps passing. "The wheels of the gods grind slowly but they grind exceedingly well." One generation comes while another goes... 3,600 souls go over the wheel every hour... 86,000 every day. Stop right where you are! Think of your opportunity! Act immediately! You have only a little moment to make your contribution to the sum total of human goodness. Just what are you going to do about it, sir? Perhaps you should join the increasing millions who are finding solution to their problems through regular church attendance. You may also find a better way to expend your potential for good.

YOU IN THE CHURCH THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions that fortify and influence for a better citizenship and a stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

Let us Forget: "God alone can make your heart chaste and keep it clean from sinful lust. Our duty prayer should be: Create in me a clean heart, O God, and renew a right spirit within me. When temptation comes near you, when you feel in your heart the sinful lust, remember: God is with me; He sees and hears everything I do, even the innermost thoughts of the heart. Stop, and think: How, then, can I do this great wickedness and sin against Him? Watch over yourself and keep away from all places where temptation is sure to come.

A most cordial welcome to you!

At The Movies

A Kiss Before Dying

This one is based on Ira Levin's novel of the same name. It tells the story of a college lad who kills his girl friend when she tells him she's going to have a baby. He then plots to marry her older sister to get in on the family fortune. His plot, of course, goes awry and he gets what he deserves. Robert Wagner, Jeffrey Hunter, Virginia Leith and Joanne Woodward play the leading roles. Today and Friday at the Star.

Curucu, Beast of the Amazon

This double feature is at the Star Saturday, only. Curucu, Beast of the Amazon is a jungle melodrama and The Mole People has a strange race of creatures from underground. The twin-bill is a horror package by Universal International. Both have heroes, heroines, monsters, troubles and happy endings.

Simple Spray Best in Insect Control

COLLEGE STATION — Simple one-nozzle spray attachments will control cotton insects as effectively as the more complex arrangements and often tend to produce higher yields, according to Agricultural Engineering Professors at Texas A&M College.

Tests conducted at the Brazos River Valley Laboratory with nozzles producing hollow cone patterns and others producing flat fan-shaped patterns favor the one-nozzle-per-row treatment over a five-year period. No spray arrangement has shown a consistent advantage other than the simple operation and low initial cost of the one-nozzle-per-row system.

Tests were conducted with a six-row rear-mounted tractor sprayer using detachable drops and arrangements varying from one to four nozzles per row. Spray solution was applied at the rate of 4.5 gallons per acre. More details on the tests are given in the Progress Report 1906 which is available from the Agricultural Information Office, College Station, Texas.

U. S. piano sales grew from 145,000 in 1947 to 178,000 in 1955.

Tag Team Match Scheduled Again

Rip Rogers and Dory Funk are teaming up again Saturday night in a tag team match against the Great Bolo and Leo Newman.

Rogers and Funk won a team victory last week from Ray Gunkel and Dizzy Davis. Funk and Rogers took the match in two straight falls.

Newman and Bolo are billed as "rough and mean" wrestlers. Bolo was banned from the ring in Texas for using unfair tactics. He has been reinstated. Newman is the boss of the tag team.

Funk and Rogers hold the world's championship in tag team wrestling. This will not be a title match. It will go two out of three falls with a one hour time limit.

Two shorter bouts will precede the main event. Funk will take on Bolo in one fall or 20 minutes time limit and Rogers and Newman will have the same situation.

In the other two bouts last week, Rogers and Dizzy Davis wrestled to a draw and Gunkel was awarded his bout with Funk when Funk was disqualified.

About 500 fans saw last week's matches in the Coliseum.

Long Time Ago

45 Years Ago

St. Valentine's Day at 5 p.m., the young ladies of the Martha Taliaferro Circle of the First Christian Church Mission Society were given a luncheon at the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. E. Shirley on 25-Mile Ave. The table was decorated in hearts and wreaths, with a centerpiece of silver candelabra resting on a reflection over which "Cupid" was suspended. The place cards were red and white hearts pierced with an arrow. Mesdames Ramsay and Shirley dressed in white costumes trimmed with red hearts served the tables. Mrs. R. A. Tynes was toastmistress, and between courses appropriate toasts were given. Mrs. S. J. Dodson, president of the Society, opened with a toast to "The Occasion," the response being said to Miss Roberta Nance. Miss Nannie Jowell and Miss Willia Elliott each gave a toast to "The Significance of the Day."

25 Years Ago

The beautiful country home of W. I. Valentine, on an acreage tract in South Hereford was apparently completely destroyed by fire just after dark Wednesday evening, and a number of outbuildings were lost at the same time.

Next Sunday afternoon Hereford will have its first Sunday picture show, to keep up the procession set by other Panhandle towns for some years. Hereford is the last one to join the ranks of those showing on Sunday.

FLYING MULE
FORT CAMPBELL, Ky. (AP)—The Army's mechanical mule, a successor to the jeep, is likely to be found anywhere. This one was found in a tree.
The mule, dropped by parachute from a plane, landed in a giant tree, 40 feet from the ground. Soldiers used a block and tackle to lower it to the ground.
Platinum was used for personal adornment by South American Indians long before Columbus discovered America.
