Around Town

Darrell Blanton, general manager of Blanton Butane, Inc., announced Saturday that he has purchased the stock held by Mack Bainum in the firm. Bainum, in turn, has purchased the Friona branch of the company and will operate it now as sole owner. Blanton's operations in Hereford and Dimmitt will continue with no changes in personnel or policies.

Texas in Review this weekend is filming a story on Hereford. Recent activities of the Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union and of the Christmas Card Project attracted the attention of the sponsors, and these and other activities in the community are expected to get a statewide "pat on the back" from the television show.

Johnnie Haney, 200 Grand Ave., has entered the Veterans hospital at McKinney for several weeks of treatment. His "fix-it shop" will be closed while he is away. Haney, who has been repairing guns, fishing equipment and appliances while recovering from injuries suffered in an accident at a welding shop here, is hoping that the current therapy treatments will help get him on his feet. And while at McKinney, he hopes to gain experience in typewriter repair to add a new service to his business.

The Garden Beautiful Club is hoping to organize a bus tour in early March to the Bellingrath Garden near Mobile, Ala. They will go via New Orleans, La., and Natchez, Miss. The trip will take about one week, and reservations will be open to 29 people. Local garden club members will be given first choice, but the club is hoping that garden club enthusiasts in surrounding towns will join the group. All interested are asked to contact the club president, Mrs. Ansel McDowell, or Mrs. Robert Weigel.

The Hereford High School Whiteface Band and the Stanton Jr. High School band will be presented in concert on Thursday, Jan. 10, at 7:30 p.m. Popular music will be

BANK DEPOSITS AT RECORD HIGH

Drouth Conditions Result in 'Run' on Soil Bank

Funds for 1957 Exhausted but Applications Continue

Funds allocated to Deaf Smith County for operation of the soil bank in 1957 were exhausted on the second day of the year. But new soil bank applications are to be taken by the Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation office here until further notice, with additional funds to be secured on a weekly basis, said Faust Collier, ASC office manager.

The continuing drouth is evidently creating the "run on the bank," observers note.

A total of $156,000 was the first allocation to the county for the long range soil bank program's expansion here in 1957. That sum was expended, Collier said, on Jan. 2. On the last reporting date for the program in 1956, a total of 15,731 acres had been placed in the "bank" with contracts to be effective in 1957, and qualified the 48 land owners participating in the conservation reserve program for $141,583 in payments.

In 1956, a total of 46,706 acres in the county — practically all of it on dryland wheat farms — was "banked." Approved contracts for 155 landowners will bring them $420,456 in payments each year that the contracts remain in force. Most of the conservation reserve contracts here have been made for five years, while a lesser number are for 10-year periods.

The 1957 budget was established for the county by the state ASC board. But officials at College Station have explained that they anticipated some drouth area counties would exceed their budget, and funds are to be diverted to such counties from areas where less interest is being shown in the soil bank program.

Annual payments here under the conservation reserve program have been set at $9 per acre. The acreage dedicated to the program

Construction Is Underway Now on 25 Mile Project

Street widening work on 25 Mile Ave. — Highway 51 — was begun on Jan. 1, according to information received by City Manager Dudley Bayne from the Texas Highway Dept.

Work on the detour south of Tierra Blanca Creek from Highway 51 to Main St. is scheduled to start on Monday, with construction work on the new storm sewer system along 25 Mile Ave. to begin Jan. 16, according to highway department officials.

First work has consisted of crushing and stockpiling caliche base material to be used on the project.

The street will be widened from the northern to the southern city limits and will include building of an underpass beneath the Santa Fe tracks.

While extensive survey work for the project was completed last summer, and residents along the street saw their sidewalks, curbs and gutters and trees removed, actual construction work has been delayed nearly six months.

Earlier, highway officials had cited last summer's nationwide steel strike as a reason for the delay.

W. G. Bureson left Wednesday for Lubbock after spending the holidays here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. S. E. Bureson. He is a student at Texas Technological College and will resume his studies there.

'Get Out the Vote' Drive Set by Airport Boosters

WHO CAN VOTE

The telephone at City Hall last week rang often as interested persons checked on qualifications for voting in Tuesday's $100,000 airport bond election. City officials said that the points on which most people appeared stumped were "What poll tax do I use?" and "what is the property ownership requirement?"

Here, as explained by City Attorney Earnest Langley are the things you need to possess in order to vote:

1. A 1955 poll tax receipt — the one you paid for before Feb. 1, 1956 — the same one on which you qualified to vote in all other recent elections. The new receipt isn't to be used until Feb. 1, 1957. If you are over the age limit for paying poll taxes, affidavits will be available at the polls.
2. A place of residence within the city limits. Voters must reside within the city limits and must have done so for at least the past six months.
3. Property assessed on the city tax rolls. This may be either real property (a house and lot, for example), or personal property (an automobile will qualify you on this count).

Last Rites Honor Mr. C. B. Thomas, Local Contractor

Curtis B. Thomas, 72, Hereford building contractor, died on Thursday in Deaf Smith County Hospital after an illness of several weeks. Funeral services were conducted on Saturday at 2 p.m. at the Avenue Baptist Church.

The Rev. Grady Allison, pastor, conducted the final rites. Deacons of the church served as pallbearers. Burial followed in West Park Cemetery under the direction of Gilliland Funeral Home.

Born June 7, 1884, in Tennessee, Mr. Thomas was the son of the late Isaac and Docia M. Thomas.

Mr. Thomas came to Texas in 1912 from New Mexico and moved to the Hereford area from Plainview in 1933.

LEADERS FOR 1957

Heading the energetic Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce this year will be Dr. A. T. Mims, center, as president, with Marcus Latham, right, as vice president, and Ed Skypala as treasurer. Elected on Wednesday, they will take office on Jan. 24 during the C-C's annual banquet. Tickets to the banquet, one of the year's outstanding civic events in the community, go on sale Monday to members through the C-C office at the Jim Hill Hotel. (Staff Photo)

Funeral Services Held on Friday For Mrs. Sullins

Funeral services for Mrs. Ida Florence Sullins, 86, were conducted Friday afternoon at Rose Chapel of Gilliland Funeral Home. Mrs. Sullins died at her home, 773 Kibbe, on Wednesday after a short illness.

The services were conducted by Arthur Carlson, pastor of the Seventh Day Adventist Church here, and the Rev. Howard Scott, pastor (Continued on Page 2)

Gain $3 Million Over 1955 Total as Result of Crop Prices, Yields

Bank deposits in Hereford were reported at $13,048,463 — believed to be an all time high — on the Dec. 31, 1956, conditions reports of the two local banks. The total represents a $3,152,542 gain over the report for the same date one year ago.

New Officials to Be Elected for Water District

Three Hereford men — Virgil Dodson, Jack Brown and Austin C. Rose Jr. — are candidates for offices of the High Plains Underground Water Conservation District 1 with the election set for Tuesday, Jan. 8.

Polling place for this area is the Deaf Smith County Courthouse. As the incumbent district director from Deaf Smith, Armstrong, Potter and Randall Counties, Dodson is opposed by Anton Handing of Rt. 1, Canyon. Brown and Rose are both candidates for county committeeman. Floyd Walton is retiring after three years in the position.

All residents of the district have been urged to vote in Tuesday's election and to take an active interest in the water problems of this area by Ed Dziuk Sr., chairman of the five-county committee.

Interested persons are invited to meet with the county committee on Monday preceding the election to discuss either water or election problems. The Deaf Smith group is composed of Dziuk, Ralph Hastings, George Muse, George Turrentine and Walton.

J. J. Clark will act as election judge, assisted by Clinton Jackson, Francis Damron and George Phillips are to be the election clerks. Residents are qualified to vote if they hold a 1955 poll tax or exemption and have rendered real or personal property for taxation by the county. Those living within the city limits, as well as rural residents, may vote in the water election.

Report a Decrease in Postal Receipts During Past Year

A decrease in postal receipts at the Hereford Post Office for the year 1956, as compared with the year 1955, has been reported by Postmaster J. R. Lipscomb.

Lipscomb said that a major factor in the decrease was the diverting of Christmas Card mailings to the furnishing fund of the children's wing now under construction at Deaf Smith County Hospital.

Receipts of the post office here during 1955 totaled $76,075.32 and those of 1956 reached a figure of $74,306.90. This marks a decrease (Continued on Page 2)

Bumper crops and bonanza prices for vegetables are generally credited with the deposits percentage increase of over 31 per cent over the $9,895,921 reported at the end of 1955. Two years ago deposits were $11,887,498 and loans totaled $2,001,337.

Loans at the end of 1956 totaled $4,030,252.33, compared to $3,191,357 at the same period in 1955.

Capital stock of the two banks has increased $100,000 in the past year, now totalling $300,000 compared to $200,000 at the end of 1955. Undivided profits total $138,571.63, and the combined surpluses total $270,000.

The sharp increase in deposits during 1956 is credited by qualified observers to the big payoff from the Hereford area's diversified farm crops.

"Consider what's happened during the past few months," said one banker, "who ever thought that potatoes might net up to $1,200 an acre, or that onions and lettuce could net $1,500 an acre.

"But that's not all, our farmers are really getting the 'know-how' to produce under irrigation; many produced cotton at the rate of a bale and a half to two bales to the acre, and grain yields were generally the best we've known. While we may never again see our vegetables sell at such good prices, the cotton and grain yields are probably just an indication of the average yields we will expect in future years. And our sugar beets this year did better than ever before, with the sugar content bringing premium prices on the same high tonnage we have had in the past.

"While we have had some good yields in past years, they have not had the splendid selling market that we knew in 1956," he concluded.

Illness Fatal to Mrs. J. A. Bell; Rites at Friona

Mrs. Ila Bell, 77, died at her home, 130 Ave. G, on Wednesday after a lengthy illness. She and her husband, J. A. Bell, moved to Hereford on May 22, 1954, from Friona to make their home near their son, Aubrey Bell.

Funeral services for Mrs. Bell were conducted on Saturday at 2 p.m. at the First Methodist Church of Friona of which she was a member. The Rev. H. L. Thurston of Dalhart and the Rev. Bernard Seay and the Rev. Eugene Naugle, both of Hereford, conducted the final rites.

MISS NEW YEAR—Mrs. Fleman Valdez gazes proudly at her new daughter Genevieve, the first baby born at Deaf Smith County Hospital in the New Year of 1957. She arrived on Wednesday, Jan. 2, at 9:24 a.m. with Dr. Roy

Grubbs as the attending physician. The parents, Mr. and Mrs. Fleman Valdez, live at 122 N. Main. A number of gifts will be presented to the baby, courtesy of 15 Hereford merchants. (Staff Photo)

NEW CREDIT UNION OFFICE—Open now for business in its new building just east of the courthouse "on the square," the Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union is seen as another indication of the community's growing economy. The building provides 2,200 square feet of office space, with provisions already made for future expansion over a 10 to 15 year period, according to Mrs. Dyalitha B. Benson, treasurer-manager. Assets on Dec. 31, 1956 were reported at $973,000, representing an increase of $239,434 over the $733,566 in assets at the end of 1955. Started "in a desk drawer" in 1936, the union now has over 2,900 active members living in Deaf Smith, Parmer and Castro Counties. (Staff Photo)

At The Movies

The Bad Seed

"The Bad Seed," showing Sunday, Monday and Tuesday at the Star, is probably the most shocking story ever filmed. It deals with the controversial theme that evil can be inherited as a woman discovers that her daughter is as dangerous and deadly as a maniacal killer.

Starring Nancy Kelly, Patty McCormack and Eileen Heckart, the movie is definitely not for children, who might have bad dreams about it later on.

That Certain Feeling

Bob Hope's new comedy, "That Certain Feeling," will show Wednesday and Thursday at the Star. Costarring with him Eva Marie Saint and George Sanders, the movie is not up to Hope's par, but has a few good laughs.

The story has Hope as a talented cartoonist whose quirks keep him unemployed and cause him to lose his wife. She becomes secretary and fiancée of comic-strip artist Sanders, who employs Hope as a ghost writer. The housekeeper, played by Pearl Bailey, plots to revive the romance between Hope and his former wife.

FIREMAN'S DILEMMA

A QUEENLY CANDIDATE—Representing the Hereford Riders Club, Mrs. Harold Beauchamp was a candidate for the national queen of the American Association of Riders Clubs and Sheriff's Poses at the AARCSP convention held in Lubbock on Dec. 7 and 8. Other honors came to the Hereford club with the election of Faust Collier of Hereford as the new national secretary of the organization. Mr. and Mrs. Beauchamp attended the two-day meeting. He is the newly elected president of the Hereford Riders Club.

Art Guild Plans Special Meeting

Members of the Hereford Art Guild will attend a called meeting to be held on Monday, Jan. 7, at 3:40 p.m. in the art room at Hereford High School.

An evening class in painting will be taught at the school, under the sponsorship of the Art Guild, if the demand is sufficient. The class, when organized, will be taught by Miss Isabel Robinson of West Texas State College. This will be a problem class in which each person can work at his own level.

Anyone interested in enrolling is asked to call Mrs. Ernest McGee at 2016 or Mrs. Albert Farris at 1181.

An advanced course in oil painting is slated to begin on Feb. 7 with Board Fitz of Amarillo, instructor. The enrollment in this group has already been filled.

ARRESTING DEVELOPMENT

SCORE IS 64-48 WHEN

Plainview Cagers Quell Whitefaces

By BILL KNOX
The Plainview Bulldogs quelled Hereford's ambitious Whitefaces, 64-48, Friday night in Plainview. For the Bulldogs it was their second win of the year over the Whitefaces.
The issue was never in doubt. Plainview didn't allow the Whitefaces to make much of a contest out of the game. A flashy start by the Bulldogs enabled them to practically coast after building a 20-point lead.
Hereford threatened only once. That was in the second quarter when the Herd trailed, 20-18, but Hereford never gained the lead. Plainview led at the quarter points, 19-13, 35-23, 52-38.

Billy Taegel, who hits the basket consistently against Hereford, was hot again. Taegel accounted for 22 points to be the game's high scorer. Twelve of his points were free shots, only five baskets coming from the field.
Hereford's two tallest men, 6-5 Terry Higgins and 6-4 Jim Curtsinger, fouled out late in the third quarter and early in the fourth. Curtsinger was having a good night. He scored 19 points before he left the game.
Plainview almost monopolized the backboards. They controlled about 65 per cent of the rebounds. Bobby Grace and Jim Bob Nichol, both 6-5, gave them the advantage.

The Dogs started quick. They massed an 8-1 lead before Hereford could sink a basket from the field. The Whitefaces narrowed the gap to 8-5 but couldn't get any closer than that. The Bulldogs led, 19-13, at the conclusion of the first period.

Hereford flurried briefly at the outset of the second quarter. The Herd dunked in five tallies while Plainview was scoring only one to chop the lead to 20-18 with about five minutes remaining in the half. Then Plainview came to life, scoring 15 points while the Whitefaces were scoring only five more in the remaining time.

Plainview outscored the Whitefaces by only four points in the last half. They tallied 17 in the third and 12 in the fourth against Hereford's 15 in the third and 10 in the fourth.

Referees for the game, Luther Lawless and Bill Reisdorff, had a field day. They called 37 fouls, 19 on Hereford and 18 on Plainview. Two Hereford men fouled out and another had four fouls. One Plainview man fouled out and two more committed four fouls.

High scorer for the night was Plainview's Taegel with 22 markers. Bobby Grace had 16. For Hereford, Jim Curtsinger accounted for 19 points and Fred Lookingbill scored 12.

Plainview "B" team, losers in only one game this year, bopped the Hereford "B", 64-44. The junior Bulldogs were off to a magnificent start, leading at one time by 16-2 in the first quarter.

The Plainview victory in the varsity game runs their season record to 11 wins and five losses. Hereford's record is now nine wins and four losses.

Candlemaking Is Studied by Club
Farm and Ranch Club resumed regular meetings after a holiday vacation, at the home of Mrs. G. S. Solomon Thursday. New Year decorations and appointments marked the luncheon table and the program centered around new ideas in making decorative candles. Mrs. Elmo Hall presented the program, demonstrating the making of wax candles — showing how to mold the different shapes and sizes, and using paraffin for sequins and other decorations. Mrs. Morey Bussel won the floating prize.

Members in attendance were: Mesdames Phillip Dufur, Sherman Dufur, Elmo Hall, N. E. Tyler, Waldron Melton, Richard Boyd, Charley Hoover, Herschel Burrus, Morey Bussel and the hostess.

BORDER LINE DROPPED
ASHEVILLE, N. C. (AP) — The North Carolina border was extended into South Carolina 66 feet without fanfare after a survey team discovered an old error in private property lines.

Politely the variation was called to the attention of both Tar Heel and Palmetto state officials and the error rectified, including the replacing of border markers on Highway 107.

Broken Your Resolutions Yet?

By MARGARET BELL.
The question being laughingly asked these days is "Well, have you already broken your New Year's resolutions?" Many answer with the quip "I didn't make any because I knew I couldn't keep them."

Our reaction to such statements is that people are pretty complacent or conceited, to think that their actions of past years don't require review and revision. Every person we know can stand some improvement or, in other cases, some changes are in order.

Easy to Resolve
One lady we could mention could greet the world every morning with a bright smile and a kind word. Another miss we have in mind could do well to resolve to say one word each day to boost the morale of others.

resolution to pray each day for the less fortunate of the world and to add a special word of thanks for our own good fortune.

After the holiday eating orgy which most of us have indulged during recent weeks, our best resolution of good deeds for our own welfare would be that of eating just a few less helpings at family dinners in the weeks to come. Not only will the budget benefit but our waistlines as well.

Receives Football Letter
Cadet Sammy Lesly, son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Lesly of Hereford, has been awarded a high school football letter at Wentworth Military Academy by the school's athletic council, Capt. John Readecker, athletic director, reports to The Brand. Sammy was recommended for this award for his performance on the gridiron last season by Capt. Al Hamra, coach of Wentworth's high school squad.

Reports Still Coming
Reports of holiday activities continue to be received here at The Brand office, and it's hard to decide whether more folks came to Hereford for Christmas and New Year's or whether more Herefordites departed for out-of-town holiday visits. From all indications, it was just about a draw.

Anyway, we've concluded that it was a good holiday season in all respects with much happiness for many many folks. May the New Year that lies ahead be equally as prosperous and satisfying.

School Was Out
One Christmas trip that is just now being reported is that of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Garner. The Garners departed when school was out (both are teachers, you know) on Friday, Dec. 21, for a visit with her mother, Mrs. Rosalie Hill, in Fort Worth. After a week of good eating and visiting, they returned home on Friday, Dec. 28. Bet those fine blooded bird dogs missed them... as did their many friends and neighbors.

Another family from the school who went out of town during the holidays were the V. C. Overalls who spent a few days in their old hometown of Cisco and with their friends in Sweetwater.

Journey from Oregon
The Frank Tacketts and the John Torbits enjoyed a Christmas visit from their son and brother, Frank Tackett Jr., and his family. The younger Frank and family came from Sandy, Ore., to spend Christmas with his folks here and with her parents, the Virgil Mortons. The children of the family are Carol Jan and Jon Richard.

More Service Notes
Specialist Third Class Robert L. Odum, son of Mr. and Mrs. David G. Odum, 607 Bowie St., recently took part in "Operation Cheer" in Berlin, Germany, where more than 3,500 orphans and refugee children were entertained by American soldiers during the Christmas season.

Specialist Odum, assigned to the 7781st Army Unit, entered the Army in May of 1955 and completed basic training at Fort Ord, Calif.

Lucky Alden Winner
Marie Loerwald of 715 Blevins has been informed that she is the winner of an Alden's 10 Dollar Certificate for an entry submitted in Alden's recent nation-wide "Name the Tire" Contest. Mrs. Loerwald suggested the name of "Comfotour" for the Alden tires and was given the certificate as a runner-up award. Alden is a mail order company in Chicago.

Mr. and Mrs. Ronny Durham and family of Lander, Wyo., were in Hereford recently visiting Mrs. Durham's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Knox, and his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Byron Durham. They left Jan. 1 to return to Lander where Mr. Durham teaches school.

Agent Further Recognized
Wayne B. Stark, representative of the New York Live Insurance Co. here, has been invited to attend a special meeting of his company's leaders at the Statler-Hilton Hotel in Dallas on Jan. 12. The meeting will give recognition to Stark and other of the company's leading representatives who have helped to make 1956 a successful year.

An interesting sight in Hereford a few days ago was a freshly plowed garden up on North Main with the owner very vigorously spreading compost over all. The new magazines are full of gardening and yard information with very generous offers of free seed catalogs throughout. Despite the continued dry weather prospects, folks are beginning to plan their gardens and will be ready to till the soil and sow the seed, come spring.

Cinnamon stick and whole cloves add spice to a red cherry sauce to be served with cottage pudding.

MR. AND MRS. DOYLE ROSE

Mr. and Mrs. Doyle Rose Observe 36th Anniversary on New Year's

Twenty close friends and relatives attended the wedding of Miss Lola Bradley, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. R. Bradley, to Doyle Rose on Jan. 1, 1921. Tuesday marked their 36th anniversary which coincided with quiet New Year observances in their home.

The wedding took place in the home of her parents with the Rev. John M. Asbell, pastor of the Christian Church, officiating. Wedding music was provided by her sister, now Mrs. Bruce Rose, pianist, and Bryan Osborn, violinist. Mrs. Rose, whose parents pioneered the cattle business in Deaf Smith County, was born in Hereford. Mr. Rose came to Hereford in 1918 from Abilene and engaged in the registered cattle business, which he still operates. After their marriage they lived on a farm eight miles northeast of Hereford, moving into town in 1935.

They are the parents of two children, one daughter who died in 1937, and another daughter who is now Mrs. R. L. Dowell Jr., of Amarillo. Their two granddaughters are Lindsey Rose and Delyse Dowell.

At present Mrs. Rose is assistant County Superintendent working in the office of County Judge H. E. Henslee.

Whirl and Twirl Dance Club Holds Annual New Year's Dance in Hotel

Dozens of balloons in varied colors and silver stars transformed the ballroom of the Jim Hill Hotel into a festive setting for the Whirl and Twirl Dance Club's traditional New Year dance Saturday night Dec. 29. A huge sign hung between posts near the entrance established the "Happy New Year" theme of the occasion.

The refreshment table was centered with silver-leaved branches offset with red carnations. Top hats and noise makers were distributed at 11 o'clock to provide added welcome to the New Year.

The Collegians, dance orchestra from the West Texas State College, Canyon, provided appropriate music throughout the evening. Sponsors who served as hosts for the annual affair included Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Alexander, Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Blythe Jr., and Mrs. Frank Prowell. Over 100 teenagers signed names in the guest register.

Open House Held by the Pitmans

Among the traditional open house affairs to celebrate the New Year was that held Tuesday evening in the John Douglas Pitman home.

Hosts were the John Douglas Pitmans, the J. A. Pitmans and the J. A. McWhorters.

Punch in a silver bowl was served from a beautifully laid table done in red and white. Festive red and white carnations in a silver bowl formed the table centerpiece. A glittering white Christmas tree added to the new year welcome scene with baskets of white chrysanthemums and red candles featured in other decorations about the house.

Approximately 200 guests were entertained during the calling hours.

Reunion Highlights Bowmans' Celebration

The Christmas holidays held extra special significance for Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Bowman for it was not only marked by a family reunion with all of their five children present, but also by their golden wedding anniversary.

Both celebrations were turned into one and it was hard to tell where Yuletide memories left off and happy recollections of other anniversaries began, so crowded with good times were the 10 happy days spent together.

Children here for the double celebration were Mrs. Virginia Buzzell and daughters, Kay and Jonnie Sue of Springfield, Colo., Mr. and Mrs. H. K. and son Reggie of Lake Arrowhead, Calif., Mrs. Harvey George of Blythe, Calif., and Mrs. J. C. Plott and children, Charles, Anna and Ginger, of Frederick, Okla. The four sisters were joined here by a brother and his family, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Bowman and children Dorothy, Eugene and Sandra, who live on a farm near Hereford.

Marry in Hereford Miss Nellie Diebel and C. C. Bowman were married in the par-

How To Pick Right Dress For Big Date

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

How do you buy a formal — that one-and-only-wonderful dress of the season, more important if it also happens to be for the first big dance of your life.

A noted fashion designer, Ceil Chapman tells you how to make a brilliant debut. She says:

1. Take time out to select the most flattering style for you, no matter what your friend plans to wear.

Don't let figure problems bother you. If your legs are skinny or too-fat avoid the intermission length dress. Long dresses are fashionable, more graceful on anyone other than the slim-ankled type.

Large bosomed? Flat chested? Both types should avoid the completely strapless dress. Actually some semblance of a strap is more fashionable this year than the all-bare top. Choose from the new-looking square, drape or shoe-string effects.

If your waistline isn't apparent, avoid center attention by picking a smooth-line model that doesn't begin and stop right at the waist. If you are tiny-waisted, pinpoint this asset with wide sashes or cummerbunds.

Heavy arms require a cover-up sleeve, (preferably narrow). Try to expose your neck instead with a scoop neckline, perhaps.

Stay away from bare to the waist back styles. These are in poor taste for young girls.

colors that look too vivid in daylight are likely to look soft and lovely in the evening.

3. If you want to be a young sophisticate, don't dress like a siren. Favor smart re-embroidered laces, applique flowers, light scatterings of rhinestones or self-colored sequins.

Youthful glamor may be achieved with fresh-looking white instead of silky black. A girl with strong coloring may choose red if the dress is softly-cut. Black should be avoided by the very young unless it is demurely styled, fashioned of net or organza. Black satin or overall black sequins are definitely out.

4. Be sure your dress fits properly. Men do not like to watch tuggings, pullings and hitchings on the part of a date.

Perrin Family Is Honored at Party

By JUDY PINNELL

The Woodrow Perrin family was honored with a going away party on Wednesday evening at Fellowship Hall, First Methodist Church, Adrian. More than 50 guests were present for the fellowship and refreshments.

The serving table was centered with a large punch bowl, cut flowers and tall triple candelabra. Individual cake wedges, each topped with a lighted candle, and ice cream were served.

Balloons, crepe paper streamers and posters with such quips as "Adrian's loss is Center's gain" were used as decorations.

The group enjoyed games of "42," scrabble and canasta. The honorees were presented an electric blanket.

FREEZE SPACEMAN SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — Dr. George Gamow, Russian-born physician said it may be necessary to freeze space pilots so their conscious lives would be suspended during long trips.

He told the San Diego chapter of the American Rocket Society that it would take 10 years at the speed of light for a space ship to reach the nearest star.

A frozen pilot would have no feeling of the length of time. He would be thawed out by instruments before arrival.

Gamow said such freezing could be possible, perhaps in not too many years.

Creamed ham and chicken is delicious served over split squares of cornbread. If you need to stretch the sauce, add hard-cooked egg or mushrooms to it.

Ten Best-Dressed Women are Named

IT'S HER POINT OF VIEW

By PARDY LINER

As per usual at this time of the year, the New York Dress Institute has announced its selection of the world's best dressed women. Roo-tie toot for them!

For many years there were 10 names on the list, but in recent years a dozen women have been named annually by The Institute. There are 14 names included in the selections made this week; either more women are dressing better or else The Institute people couldn't make up their minds.

In case you're interested, here is the list—several of the people are better known than others to us, and dearie me! I must confess I don't know a single one personally:

1. Mrs. William Paley (you know Bill, her husband. He's the boy that runs the Columbia Broadcasting System).
2. The Duchess of Windsor (and she's written her memoirs, too).
3. Princess Grace of Monaco (Grace Kelly, star of stage, screen and the royal maternity ward).
4. Mrs. Winston Guest (her, I don't know much about except that she's a former Bostonian and makes the list every year).
5. Audrey Hepburn and Marlene Dietrich (two of filmdom's representatives to this elite group).

6. Mrs. William Randolph Hearst Jr. (Her hubby dabbles with a newspaper syndicate among other things).

7. Countess Consuelo Crespi of Rome (she had the Irish moniker of O'Conner before she married and left New York).

8. Rosiland Russell (she must have really had to act to play the part of the school teacher in the movie, "Picnic." The character had very poor taste in clothes).

9. The Duchess of Kent and Princess Margaret Rose of Great Britain (a tie between two royal ladies. Queen Elizabeth lost her usual place on the list, but Princess Marge is holding her own).

10. The Countess of Quintanilla, Madrid (wonder what she wears to the Bull Fights?).

11. Mrs. Henry Ford 2nd of Detroit (bet she has clothes designed especially to match or complement the different colors of cars she drives or vice versa).

12. Countess Mona von Bismarck of Paris (don't let the "von" fool you. She used to be plain Mona Williams of the U.S.A.).

Now all this world fashion publicity got me to thinking, and I decided to bring things to a Hereford level and mention a few gals here who would certainly be considered well dressed in our locale.

First, I must give my own definition of "best dressed." She is the woman who:

1. Is not conspicuous in a crowd. That is to say, your eyes don't focus immediately upon her because of part or all of her attire.
2. She wears her clothes stylishly, becomingly and in a manner that makes you recall later (with compliments) what she wore.
3. She has a knack for looking stylish even in last year's suit or hat.
4. She does not conform to a new fashion style if it is not becoming to her.
5. She gives consideration to every article of her ensemble, from hose to jewelry.
6. She is always appropriately dressed.
7. She's an example of the rule

LIGHT-WEIGHT PLAY CLOTHES GET ALL WEATHER INSULATION

AP Newsfeatures
There's news in cold-weather clothes for small fry.

A new patented insulating material is responsible for the feather-light outfits you see around nowadays, that look like ordinary cotton jackets, shirts, caps and pants, but are warm enough to wear in zero temperatures. The insulation adjusts to body temperature so that these modern clothes also may be worn indoors.

They come in matching or contrasting sets of shirt and slacks, caps and mittens, coats and wind breakers, and are worn with outstanding that good grooming is an essential part of the well dressed being. Good grooming includes clean shining hair in a becoming coil; attractive use of make up; and perfumes; neatness, etc.

8. She has good posture.

9. She's a portrait of harmony in style, color and suitability in her attire.

10. She is one about whom people say, "She always looks nice!"

Now these gals may not wear creations by Fath or Dior, and you may catch them with their hair in curlers while they do the breakfast dishes. And for these and other reasons they might not meet the prerequisites set by the New York Dress Institute. But by worthy, Hereford standards, these are some of the best dressed women in our fair community:

(Note: I'm not about to put them in order as the Institute does; I'll just list them alphabetically.)

- Frances Block (Mrs. Ivan)
 - Eula Lee Cave (Mrs. Clyde)
 - Gwen Davis (Mrs. W. L.)
 - Billie Johnson (Mrs. Ray of Summerfield)
 - Clarice McCallin (Mrs. Carl)
 - Elizabeth McDowell (Mrs. Ansel)
 - Kay McWhorter (Mrs. D. C.)
 - Wilma Hill (Mrs. Francis)
 - Earlene Ross (Mrs. Dick)
 - Mary Thomas (Mrs. Wayne)
- And that's just to mention a few!

JUST RIGHT—Modern cold weather outfit for small boys has new insulating material that laughs at zero temperatures, yet is light enough to wear indoors.

ordinary underwear beneath—none of those bulky layers of sweaters necessary. Made of close-woven cotton tarpoon cloth in stripes, plaids or solid colors, the new insulated outfits are water repellent and machine washable.

STILL MEET DEADLINE
MAXTON, N. C. (AP)—Staff members of the Scottish Chief newspaper worked under umbrellas to meet the deadline after an electrical storm ripped off a portion of the roof of the office.

Letters To The Editor

Dear Sir:

Our family every generation since John Smith and Pocahontas was on the Frontier. In one generation the sons left the Plantation east of Nacogdoches for California. Thus our folks came to treasure certain yarns of Pecos County like the following:

A Covered Wagon company captain walked ahead of the first prairie schooner's oxen. For several days, his people had no fresh meat. He spied antelope beside a little butte. He ran back for his rifle. Returned, the antelope had moved out of sight behind the butte. Nothing daunted, he bent his rifle barrel between his wagon's wheel spokes. He then fired. The bullet followed the bent rifle barrel's curve around that butte, killed an antelope. This, a yarn of American Know How.

Roadrunners, rattlesnakes know nothing of a fortified border between Mexico and U.S.A. Even we humans, who monumented that line, find no need of machine gun nests and barbwire such as glare across the Frontiers between Free Europe and Iron Curtain Slave states.

Canada jolted Europe into knowing that the expense of a fortified border meant needless taxes when that Dominion welded her Water- ton Lakes National Park to our Glacier N. P. When will Mexico do likewise across the Rio Grande from Big Bend N.P.?

Faithfully,
C. M. Goethe

HOMES FOR AMERICANS

A LARGE AND CONVENIENTLY LOCATED family room, two well placed bathrooms, "L" shaped living and dining room area and three bedrooms feature this attractive ranch house. This is plan 7462AP by Herman H. York, architect, of 90-04 161st St., Jamaica 32, N.Y. The house covers 1,675 square feet without garage and porch, which figure separately at lower building rates.

Pretty Patrice Is A Natural In Opera, TV Or Just At Home

NEW YORK — The only famous soprano in world history—surely this is an absolutely safe statement—who ever, sober as a judge, in daylight, for the sake of being comfortable and nothing else, walked down Madison Avenue for blocks and blocks barefoot is—Patrice Munsel.

"At the end of the day," Miss Munsel said, suiting the action to the word and shucking them off under the table, "I take my shoes off."

"At a reception," said her husband, "and a diplomatic and dressy one, too, I found her going around without shoes."

What does a gentleman do? Take his off, too? Nobody did in these instances. But Miss Munsel declares—and to prove it she fingered around and unhooked a hook and let out a sigh of relief:

"If you're uncomfortable, get comfortable."

Utter naturalness is only one of the many charms of this Metropolitan Opera star: she sings, she acts, she dances, she capers; she swings from Broadway to the Met to TV with ease.

The new generation of opera-goers is pretty stuffy about looks. The girl isn't a looker, she isn't a singer, for their money. So for their money, Miss Munsel comes in two singers.

As Adele in "Die Fledermaus" at the Met in 1951, she stonned the show with her smart prancing, acting and singing. This year the Met signed her up for another piquant Offenbach role in "La Perichole."

She's a great believer in the usefulness of Broadway as a preparation for the higher-browed Met operas—if we may call the work about the gay and irrepressible Perichole high brow.

"There is nothing like experience in the theater. We need to take it with us to the Met when we go there. I don't know anything that extends our possibilities so much," she claimed.

"I never could have made my success in 'Fledermaus' without operetta first. In 'Naughty Marietta' I did a high note while I was acting, so I could do a high note running upstairs in 'Fledermaus'."

Among her opinions are these: "A prima donna should be a prima donna without being difficult; she should have temperament but not be temperamental."

"I love TV, and the feeling of creeping into living rooms; a camera to me is not impersonal. I feel the audience, a camera is 60 million pairs of eyes."

"TV people never believe opera singers can do anything but stand up stiff as sticks, like Wagnerian-style sopranos." Her husband, Robert Schuler, TV director, is an exception.

Miss Munsel comes from Spokane, where her father, a dentist, and her mother backed her in her aspirations for a career from her early teens on. Mother and daughter moved to New York for concentrated study in voice, music, languages, with no time for play. Miss Munsel made her Met debut at 17, in 1943.

For a few years she worked her voice to the limit; every time you turned on the radio, you heard her. But this popularity, and catering to it, left her no time for her own concerns, and she made a break, a difficult one, too, from full-time to part-time singer.

"I run my career now," she says, "instead of it running me."

gave him $10.

Navy Discarding Propulsion Design Of Unsuccessful Jet Submarine, Seawolf

By ELTON FAY

WASHINGTON (AP) — When the Navy began moving into nuclear propulsion development six years ago it announced several types of reactors would be built and tested to decide which were best.

It started its work with submarines.

The first nuclear submarine was the Nautilus. It was highly successful.

The second was the Seawolf. It was a flop. No more power plants like the one installed in that sub will be used.

What is the difference between the two types of power plants, developed under the Navy and the Atomic Energy Commission?

Why has the Nautilus been able to log more than 30,000 miles of operation? Why hasn't the Seawolf moved from its pier?

Both power systems operate by using the heat generated in a reactor by controlled nuclear fission to produce steam to drive a turbine which turns the propellers of the submarine.

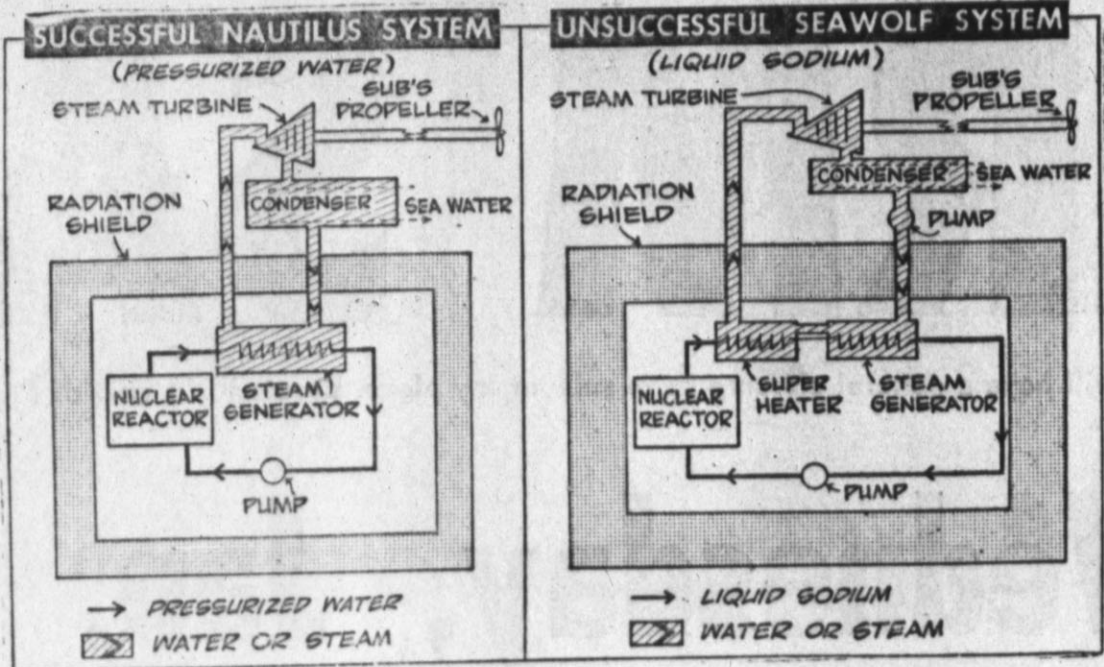

There is this difference, however:

In the Nautilus the heat energy from the atomic firebox is transferred to the steam-producing unit by passing water through the firebox and then through the steam generating unit. The heat of the pressurized flow of water is transferred, through the walls of pipes, to the steam-generating unit. The steam so generated spins the turbine. In the heat exchanger, radioactivity is not passed on, but remains in the shielded section of the power plant.

The Seawolf propulsion system, the heat exchange medium is liquid sodium metal. To keep the sodium flowing through the heat exchange system, a magnetic little "pump" is used. A field of electricity is created by wires wrapped around the pump. The sodium is drawn through by the magnetic action of the field.

In theory, the sodium system should be more efficient. The material is a better conductor of heat than water. The pumping system is far smaller, much simpler in operation than the big pressure pumps used for water.

However, when the Seawolf's reactor was started up and run for some time the Navy says it discovered that the chemical reaction of the sodium worked into the pipes, resulting in cracks. The Navy announced several weeks ago that it "hoped" to send the Seawolf out on sea trials in January. However, since then there has been a growing belief that a new heat transfer system will have to be installed in the Seawolf. In addition to the Nautilus and Seawolf, the Navy has seven other atomic powered submarines in its active building program. Authority has been requested for construction of six more.

All of the new subs will use some form of water transfer, instead of sodium, in their propulsion system.

Household Tips

When you are making petits fours, arrange the small squares, rounds or triangles of cake on a rack and pour the icing over them, then re-use the frosting that has dripped down.

Slice those leftover cooked potatoes, spread out in a pan, brush with melted butter or margarine, dust with paprika and broil. Nice to do this in a baking dish that can be brought to the table.

One good cook likes to spread sponge-cake shells with a mixture of honey and butter or margarine; then the shells are toasted in a hot oven. The shells are filled with sliced fruit, given a dollop of whipped cream and served at once.

Make up a package of angelfood mix. Serve slices of the cake with scoops of vanilla ice cream and a sauce made by thickening canned cherries.

How to prepare good-looking slices from a fresh pineapple? First slice off the plume top. Now, using a sharp heavy knife, remove the rind from top to bottom. Last, cut out the "eyes" with a small sharp knife, slice into rounds and cut out the core from each round.

Season that cream sauce for flaked crab meat with lemon juice, Worcestershire sauce and dry mustard.

Thicken a can of stewed tomatoes and heat with a can of flaked tuna (drained).

Ever marinate cooked cauliflower—separated into flowerets—in a French dressing to serve as a salad with crisp greens? Dust the cauliflower with paprika for pretty color.

For weight-watchers: cream sauce made with water, nonfat dry milk powder, salt and pepper—and no fat!

Features of Modern Lighting

By DAVID G. BAREUTHER
AP Real Estate Editor

Modern architects seem to be indebted to the cave man when it comes to getting day-light into houses. Windows and even window walls create so much glare when we enter any good-sized room that we have to turn on a light to read a telephone book at any time of day. The cave man was lucky. He couldn't read.

Of course, our cave women are partly to blame for this handicap. Their pretty curtains and draperies cut down our cave openings to spotlight sizes. How can you see enough even to appreciate a cave woman's makeup while you stare at a blinding sunbeam?

The University of Michigan's Daylighting Laboratory decided that with all of our inventions for getting flowers and shrubbery and fresh conditioned air into homes, it might be a good idea to include some healthy daylight. To prove that this was no highbrow dream, Dr. Robert A. Boyd, director of the laboratory, built himself a house in Ann Arbor, Mich. He calls it a house without dark corners.

He turned the trick by using a maximum of the newest inventions in glass, including prismatic glass block skylights designed to reject glare and heat from the summer sun and to admit more light and warmth from the lower winter sun.

Skylighting the inner reaches of the house, says Dr. Boyd, cancels the contrast of concentrated window light.

"Looking at a brightness area in a house is like driving into an automobile's headlights," he says. "Face headlights in darkness and their brightness is blinding. Meet the same headlights in broad daylight and you may have to look twice to be sure they're on. Brightness ratio is the answer."

Various clever devices of design were used to diffuse daylight through Dr. Boyd's house. Harris Armstrong, architect of Kirkwood, Mo., planned the house. For privacy on the road side he wanted a ground-to-roof brick wall. To have this and still admit light for a stairway from kitchen to basement the brick wall was perforated with single glass blocks.

The entrance foyer needed no view, but needed light. Its walls were built of glass blocks to simulate the effect of colonial bullseye glass.

Living room and dining room enjoyed picturesque views of a wooded ravine, justifying the use of walls of clear glass panels. But these rooms faced south and therefore called for broad roof overhangs to shade their window walls from the blazing summer sun. Overhangs of this width tend to darken rooms as much as an addition of a porch. This problem was solved by using a clerestory of solar-selective glass block above the window wall and above the roof of the overhang.

This clerestory arrangement was designed to drop the overhang about a foot or so below the room ceiling, increased shading and still lighted the ceiling. The solar block reflects sunlight up to the ceiling in the manner modern school rooms are lighted.

Toplighting of the prismatic skylight type, used by Dr. Boyd, is opening new opportunities in house design. For example, artificially ventilated bathrooms, proven practical in hotels, can be used in homes to free exterior walls for more important use. Dr. Boyd likes the skylight in his bathroom so much for shaving that it still fools him.

"Even after months of living in the house," he says, "I find myself automatically reaching for a switch to turn off the light after I've finished with the razor."

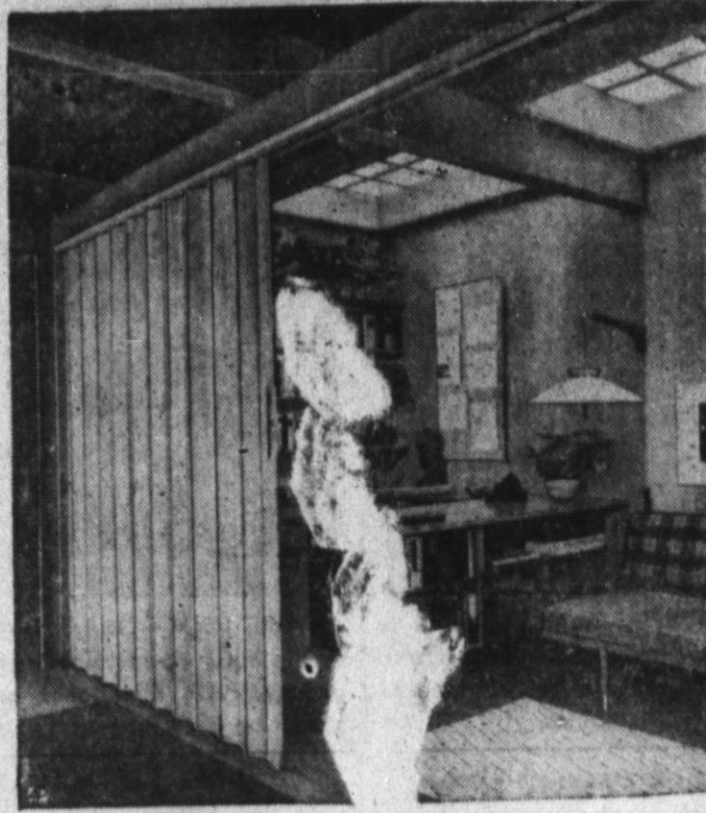

"I didn't realize proper daylighting would be that good."

IT'S 1957 "Time to Live Electrically!"

SAYS MRS. BRUCE BURNEY of LEVELLAND, TEXAS

"We remodelled our kitchen and, of course, made the new one all-electric. The kitchen features built-ins like this lovely wall refrigerator," says Mrs. Burney.

Trouble is eliminated in the Burney kitchen with this electric garbage disposer. "Peelings, unused ends of vegetables, other waste literally 'go, down the drain,' out of sight and out of mind," observes Mrs. Burney.

"I don't spend near as much time in my new electric kitchen," says Mrs. Burney as she demonstrates ease of electric dishwashing. You can start your electric kitchen by adding this time and labor saver.

"Christmas dinner for 17 was a simple task with my all-electric kitchen," recalls Mrs. Burney as she prepares a tasty dish on her electric built-in cooking units.

Your Reddy Kilowatt Electric Appliance Dealer can help you remodel your kitchen into an all-electric one just as the Burney's have done. You can do the entire job at one step or add and replace appliances one-at-a-time.

Party Hairdoes To Add Sparkle

By VIVIAN BROWN

AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor

Feathers are going to the head this season. Wear your hair up or wear it down, but chances are that if you want the sophisticated look of a gracious lady you'll wear plumage. Any minute now no doubt somebody will revive the feathered fan too, so the ensemble will be complete.

New feathered accessories are bejeweled, some are beaded. Ostrich feathers are burnt down to the vein, combined with rhinestone hand-worked on a small comb trimmed with tortoise - shell sequins. There are sweeping plumes that highlight the coiffure like the egrets of old, only this time the feathers designed by Sustain are ostrich dyed black. But just wait until designers begin to take their inspiration from some of the gay birds — the scarlet tanager, evening grosbeak, the bluebird, Australian finch or the other wonders on nature's wing.

More conservative types may prefer jeweled and golden hair ornaments. There are gold and also rhinestone encrusted expandable bracelets to wear around a chignon, adjustable pony-tailers of silver or gold with pearls or rhinestones, fancy chignon caps and chignon tiaras in jewel-trimmed gold or silver mesh. Chop sticks hair accessories are a leaf taken from Island vacationers. American style hair sticks resemble the old fashioned stick pin, only over-sized. Two are worn criss-crossed across a bun or chignon. Jeweled headbands, stone encrusted on tortoise shell or metal bands are popular with short or long-haired types. Tiaras and tailored barrettes are handsome hair accessories. Even the time-worn hair comb has come in for unusual treatment with rows and rows of pearls, rhinestones or other stones. Hair ornaments should never give the impression of over-burdening the head. If that is the effect you achieve with any style headdress, it is not for you. Strive for simplicity or a simple elegance for the ultimate in hair beauty.

DRIVE SAFELY — Accidents don't just happen. They are caused.

SWEEPING PLUMES—This is a fake egret handworked into a tiny comb by Sustain, trimmed with shell sequins.

LADYLIKE LOOK—Ostrich feathers are burnt down to the vein, combined with rhinestones and worked on a comb.

STATIONED AT NORMAN—Houston Boyd, 18, son of Mr. and Mrs. W. A. Boyd of Hereford, recently reported for additional schooling at the Naval Air Technical Training Center at Norman, Okla., to study math, physics, blueprint reading and general familiarization with aircraft. Houston enlisted in the Navy in August and spent three months at the San Diego Training Center. Classified as an Electronic Field Airman Apprentice, he is a 1956 graduate of Hereford High School.

SMART BIRDS
ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — A "wolf-whistle" around the Children's Zoo on Mill Mountain here doesn't mean a thing, girls. The zoo has recently acquired two new mynah birds. The birds are supposed to talk. So far, however, all they've done is let out a low whistle when people — particularly pretty girls — walk by.

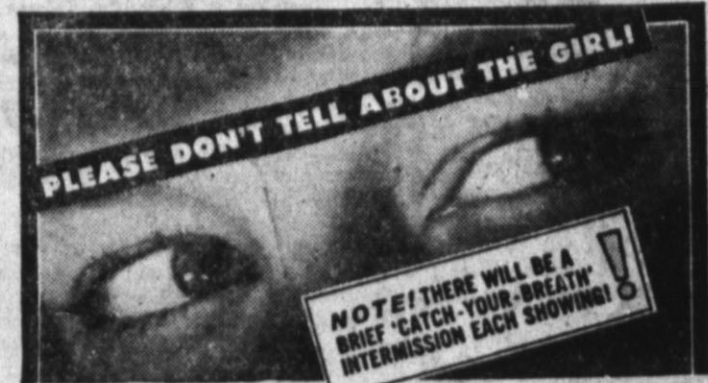

DOUBLE DARING THIEVES
GUTHRIE, Okla. (AP) — Police have no doubt that the burglars who cracked the safe of a supermarket here were daring. They did their work in the front window of the store where anyone walking by could see them. Steve Douglas, the store manager, said the thieves actually were double-daring. They braved two vials of tear gas attached to the safe, that went off. The burglars stole several hundred dollars.

DEER WINS
WADENA, Minn. (AP) — A large buck deer with a distaste for sports cars sent Joseph Christensen of Fargo, N. D., to the hospital for treatment. Christensen stopped his convertible when he saw the animal. The deer charged the car without warning in a flying leap, tearing the fabric top, smashing the windshield and bending a door post. The driver was treated for cuts and bruises.
