Ready to pay off on their promise of a one cent per pound bonus on all livestock entries sold at the show Saturday, officials at the First National Bank now have a complete list of weights and entries. Youngsters who had animals at the show can collect their bonus by calling at the bank.

The Hereford FFA livestock team will enter the judging contest at Amarillo today. Members are Lynn Boomer, Robert Diller, Jerryce Rowland and Billy Duffer. The FFA grass judging team will also compete the Amarillo show. Members are Jimmy Jones, Ray Skelton and Leland Duggan.

Rancher Cecil Guseman was up and around town yesterday, greeting his many friends again after having undergone an operation for a heart condition and spending a number of weeks recovering. He looks as good as new.

Our Pardy Liner had her wire crossed on club bookings at the new community room in the Hereford State Bank. It is true that some groups have booked meetings a year ahead, but there are still open dates on the calendar according to Joel A. Hodges of the bank.

Charles (Chili) Smith, new district highway engineer, said Tuesday that work on the widening of 25 Mile Ave., will probably get underway with starting of excavations for storm sewers today. The detour route just south of Tierra Blanca Creek, which will bring traffic from Highway 51 down Main St. and Miles, has been prepared for hardtop paving by the state highway department "as soon as warmer weather comes."

Jimmy Conkright's steer, champion of the show here Saturday, placed sixth in the medium-weight Hereford steer class at the Amarillo show this week. The class, with 36 entries, was won by the animal that later became grand champion for Lyle Letwer of Lubbock. Only Jimmy and Weldon Tatum of Black had animals from Hereford that got past the sifting committee at Amarillo. Young Conkright's second Hereford placed 17th in a field of over 50 steers after having almost been ruled out of the show by the sifting committee — a committee that reported it did not win many friends through its selections.

Top Showmen Are Awarded Trophies and Cash Prizes

Presentation of showmanship awards and announcement of winning teams in livestock judging contests were highlights of the 11th annual Rotary-sponsored Junior Livestock and Poultry Show which closed Saturday evening. The Farm Bureau, two individuals and the Kiwanis Club presented the individual and team awards.

Showmanship awards totalling $100 in cash were presented by Ed Dziuk Jr., Farm Bureau president, to boys in the three livestock show divisions. Jerry Cluck received $50 for calf showmanship, Jigger Roland was awarded $25 for swine showmanship and Pete Plank received $25 for lamb showmanship.

Donald Curry of Dimmitt won the outstanding showman award, a trophy presented by Colby Conkright. Donald had exhibited animals in all three divisions.

Jimmy Conkright won the Bill Dameron award, a Stetson hat, for showing the champion Hereford steer.

In the FFA livestock judging contest, held Saturday morning, with the banner award presented by the Hereford Kiwanis Club, the Dimmitt Chapter won first place; second went to Friendship FFA; third to Tulla; fourth to Spur and fifth to Vega. There were a total of 12 teams entered in the event.

In the 4-H livestock judging contest, Hale County won first; Deaf Smith, second. Only two teams were entered. The contestants judged classes of barrows and gilts, light and heavy steers, and classes of fine wool and Southdown lambs.

Dr. Lewis B. Barnett of Hereford was named to membership in the American Hereford Assn. on Jan. 14. His herd is located at Center, Colo.

New Chief Starts School for Police

Chief of Police Henry Aycock, who took office last week, has started an improvement program in his department.

A basic police school opened Monday night with Aycock as the chief instructor. Classes are being held five nights a week, 7 to 9 p.m. in City Hall. The school will last four weeks.

Canyon's chief of police, Ralph Pray, taught the first class. He discussed handling of juveniles and juvenile problems.

Aycock said he hopes to bring in other outside officers to teach classes.

Other Approaches
In addition to the school, Aycock has other plans for improving the police.

He noted the turnover of personnel has "been terrific." "We're going to try to keep this turnover down," he said.

Aycock said the city commission is aware of the personnel turnover and wants to keep it at a minimum.

"I hope to be able to get a salary to attract the caliber of men needed for law enforcement, with periodic raises and working conditions to keep them here," the chief added.

Times Have Changed
"You used to hire the town tough, put a badge and gun on him, and let him keep order by force. That's no longer true. You have to keep ahead of the criminal and do it scientifically. We don't have, and don't want, pistol bums for officers here."

"By the time you get a new man broken in and experienced, he'll move on to a better-paying job," Aycock noted.

The starting salary for a rookie patrolman in Hereford is $250 per month.

"That doesn't let him take many groceries home," said Aycock. The chief said he prefers married men "with both feet on the ground, and it's hard for a married man to live on that salary."

Stresses Public Relations
The police school is stressing public relations, according to Aycock. Included in the classes are lectures on traffic laws, arrest and seizure with and without warrants.

4-H Clubs Slate Fun Festival for Monday Evening

A "Share-the-Fun Festival" has been scheduled for 8 p.m. Monday in the high school auditorium by the county 4-H clubs.

Also scheduled is the election of a 4-H king and queen to represent the county in district competition this spring.

Skits, music and other types of entertainment will be presented by the various clubs. No admission will be charged.

Each girls' club will present its queen candidate and each boys' club will have a king candidate. Winners will be judged on achievement and leadership in club work. The audience, after hearing from each candidate's campaign manager, will select the winners.

City Dads Eye Airport Sites; Okay New Housing Additions

Hereford City Commissioners on Monday night approved the plats on two new additions, took initial steps toward widening Fifth St. on both blocks east and west of Main and handled a series of routine items at their regular session. The group also discussed several proposed airport locations, but tabled action on the sites until further investigation could be made.

The commissioners voted unanimously to widen Fifth St. following a discussion of traffic congestion during church hours in which much of the trouble was traced to "bottlenecks" from the alley west of the First Methodist Church to Miles, and from the alley east of the First Baptist Church to Sampson.

In both instances, it was pointed out that the City already has sufficient right-of-way to make the necessary improvements. Plans call for extending the present 27 feet of paving to 36 feet in width, making it uniform with existing paving on the remaining portion of the two blocks.

Six Tracts Discussed

courtroom procedure and general law enforcement.

Aycock said Morris L. Brown, 36, has been hired as a patrolman. Brown served with the Hereford force before, leaving here in November for civil service work in Amarillo. Brown started work Saturday night.

He is a graduate of the San Antonio police academy and a fingerprint and identification technician.

Dispatcher Raymond Morrison has been released by the department. He has been replaced by Stanley Vinson, 202 Lawton. Vinson assumed his duties Monday.

Last Rites Honor Mrs. Oberthier, Pioneer Woman

Funeral services for Mrs. F. H. Oberthier, 81, wife of a pioneer Deaf Smith County rancher and businessman, were held Wednesday afternoon in the family home at 127 Avenue F.

Mrs. Oberthier died at 6 p.m. Monday in her home. She had been ill for several years.

Dr. Lester L. Jones, pastor of St. Thomas Episcopal Church, officiated at the services. He was assisted by Dr. George Cutrell, pastor of the First Christian Church in Amarillo.

Burial was in West Park Cemetery with arrangements under the direction of Gilliland Funeral Home.

Mr. Oberthier was born June 13, 1872 at Uvalde. She married Mr. Oberthier Jan. 10, 1894 at Comanche. They came to Deaf Smith County in 1908. She was a member of the First Christian Church.

Surviving are her husband; three daughters, Mrs. Frances Hennrich of Hereford, Mrs. Elizabeth Lawrence of Tyler, and Mrs. Louise Gaines of Maplewood, N. M.; a brother, T. R. Holmes of Comanche; a sister, Mrs. Fannie Moore of Comanche, eight grandchildren, and eight great-grandchildren.

Palbearers were E. H. Norton, Miles Robertson, Harry Seel, Elliott Brooks, Wilson Giles, and W. G. Harris.

Also approved was a plat in East Hereford presented by Guadalupe Alvarado. The property is already located within the city limits on Block 14 of the Mabry Addition.

This tract was divided into lots covering some three acres. It was bounded by Wolf St. on the north, Mable on the south, Whittier on the east and by Brevard on the west.

West End Water Contract
The Commission approved termination of a water supply contract with Santa Fe Railway Company to close on Feb. 15, 1957. This contract covered use of Santa Fe wells and storage tanks during the past two years, during which time the city found itself critically in need of additional water supply.

The governing body also discussed improvements in the United Daughters of Confederacy park, located across south from Stanton Junior High. The triangular park was designated as such in 1907 in a grant made by R. N. Mountz in a deed which specified in case it ever ceased to be used as a park that it become the property of U. D. C., Texas Division. Action was deferred on the topic to allow further investigation.

New Additions Okayed
A new addition to the City of Hereford was approved by the commission, subject to changing the proposed width of Plains Ave. from 60 feet to 70 feet, conforming with the width of the street in other areas. The new addition was presented by N. D. Bartlett Jr., as an extension west of the present Westhaven Addition. The addition is bounded by Plains on the north and by Elm St. on the west; it falls short of reaching Highway 51 on the south by approximately one-half block and is bounded on the east by the alley between Center and Douglas Sts.

Biggest Banquet in Region Is Attraction Here Tonight

Offer Golf Course to City

Club Leaders Say Fairway Watering System Is 'Must'

Hereford's nine-hole golf course, including 113 acres of land and approximately $25,000 in course improvements, was offered to the City of Hereford Monday night at regular City Commission meeting.

A trio of golf club officers told Commission members that "something must be done in the immediate future, or the golf course will become a thing of the past."

Blow conditions and serious wind erosion were cited as chief problems by Bill Davis Jr., president, Earl Springer and Edward Robertson, who represented the golf association.

The trio carefully pointed out that the association was in excellent financial condition at the present time, but was in no position to install a water system on the fairways or to purchase water necessary to operate the course in a manner to prevent wind erosion damage which they feel will ultimately ruin the course.

Drought Is Big Factor
"We are clear and free of debt at the present time," Davis pointed out, "and if we had anything like normal rainfall we would not be up here talking to you commissioners."

The golfers, acting in behalf of the club directors, indicated a strong belief that the course would operate itself financially, except for the present emergency drought condition. They estimated approximately $10,000 annual income from green fees on the course, adding that general operation had not been a problem in recent years.

Fairways Need Water
"Directors feel that we must start watering the fairways, or lose the course," said Robertson. "We thought that it might logically become a part of the City Park System."

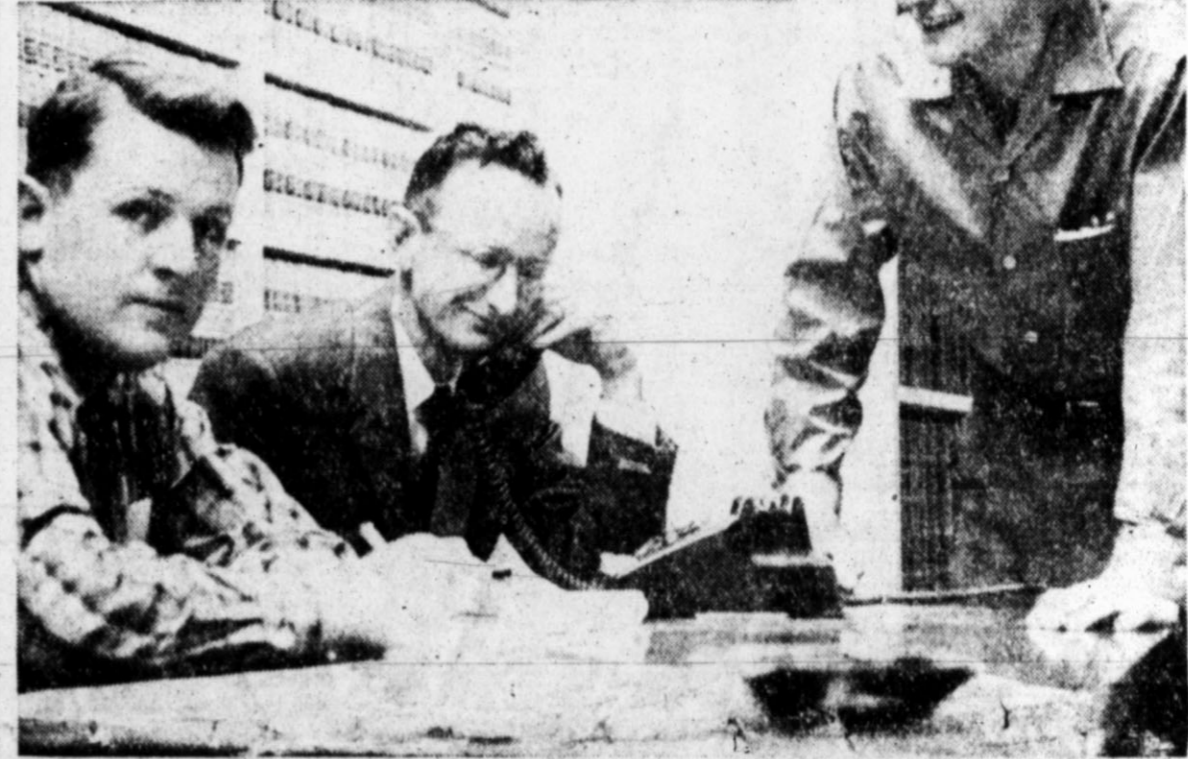

"On what basis do you propose the deal?" asked Mayor Henry Sears.

"That we do not exactly know," replied Davis. "Mainly, we want to start the ball rolling." Each of the trio again emphasized an urgent need for action to prevent erosion damage.

General discussion brought out the fact that many players from Dimmitt, Friona and Bovina are leaving the Hereford course for those in Tulla, Muleshoe, Clovis and Littlefield due to damage already suffered on the Hereford course. The club's representatives also indicated to the City Commission that the association would

"PAID YOUR POLL TAX?"—Oliver Streu, John Aikin and Paul Schroeter were among 13 Jaycees who worked Sunday afternoon to boost the number of qualified voters in Hereford. By contacting residents by telephone, then sending deputized collectors to the homes of persons who wished to pay their poll tax, the Jaycees brought in 158 receipts. But with just eight days to the Jan. 31 deadline, barely 1,400 voters have qualified for 1957 elections in the county, compared to some 3,200 last year and 1,874 in 1955. (Staff Photo)

Teachers Meet to Study Here Friday

School children get a break on Friday in the Hereford public schools. They get the day off while the teachers do the studying at an In-Service Education Meeting which will bring some of the region's authorities to the high school to discuss general education problems, guidance and counseling and the teaching of reading.

Parents and other interested persons are invited, according to Supt. Fred Cunningham, to attend any part or all of the program.

Dr. Morris Wallace of Texas Tech, Lubbock, is the first speaker scheduled for the program at 9 a.m. Other out of town specialists who will participate in discussion of guidance and counseling programs are Dr. J. B. Roberts, and Marvin Smithman, Marvin Shaw and Helen White Moore.

Mary Kate Tripp of the Amarillo Globe-News will speak at 12:30 p.m. on "Reading, the Layman's Viewpoint." Regional news editor for the Amarillo newspapers, Mrs. Tripp is a former resident of Hereford. She was salutatorian of the Hereford High School class of 1934, then studied journalism at West Texas State, and returned to Hereford. She was news editor of The Brand and is a former president of the B&PW Club.

Membership at the end of 1956 stood at 2,197, compared to 1,859 in 1955. Savings were at a total of $838,000, compared to $650,000, and assets reached a total of $973,000, up $240,000 from the 1955 total. All

Credit Union Pays 4 Per Cent for Loans During '56

There were 413 members of the Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union present Tuesday night when the group's officials announced a four per cent dividend to be paid on savings and a six per cent refund on loan interest for the year 1956.

The credit union's annual meeting, held in the high school auditorium, this year attracted about 100 more members than attended the 1956 gathering. Reports to the membership showed that the group had enjoyed a very "good business" year.

Membership at the end of 1956 stood at 2,197, compared to 1,859 in 1955. Savings were at a total of $838,000, compared to $650,000, and assets reached a total of $973,000, up $240,000 from the 1955 total. All

Seek Performers for Talent Show

A March of Dimes radio-marathon will start at 1:30 p.m. Sunday afternoon and continue until 6 at the high school auditorium. Sponsored by the Jaycees, the program will be aired over KPAN.

"We'll use all the local talent we can find," declared Oliver Streu. "If you sing, whistle, quote verse, hanker to howl like a howl dog, want to sell any old white elephants, livestock or mustache cakes, even axle grease or toboggans, you'll find room to perform or take part in the campaign."

High school students will furnish pickup service for persons wishing to donate. Jaycees will personally call for any white elephants you may wish to sell. Streu, at phone 48, will handle talent bookings prior to Sunday.

Two Cars Collide on County Road Near Summerfield

No one was injured in a two-car collision Tuesday at 5:45 p.m. on a county road near Summerfield. The cars involved suffered a total of $500 property damage.

Drivers of the autos were Alton W. Short, 131 K Avenue, and C.C. Combs of Westway, Highway Patrolman Dan Dowdy of Canyon, who investigated the accident, said Short was pulling onto the road from the George Warner farm when the accident occurred.

Dowdy said Combs' car had $300 damage and Short's $200.

The wreck happened three miles north and four miles west of Summerfield.

Joins Brand Staff

Sterlin Holmes joined The Brand news staff Monday. Holmes, 24, comes from Amarillo, where he worked on the Daily News and Globe-Times for 2½ years.

Holmes is a graduate of West Texas State College, a veteran, is married and has one child.

Half-Million Paid for Carrot Crop

F. H. Vahlsing Inc., one of four carrot contractors and packers who operated in the Hereford area during the past season, paid out over $592,000 to growers, field hands and packing shed employees during the past five months.

The Vahlsing firm, which began its harvest here of 1,480 acres of carrots on Aug. 2, wound up the season's operations this week, said Newt Harding, manager. There were an estimated 3,400 acres of carrots in the area with four packers, Troutman Bros., The Great Atlantic & Pacific Tea Co., and Dell Smith active during part of the season.

"In Good Demand"
"Hereford carrots, due to their unusually uniform color and texture, were in good demand on the market from Sept. 1 until the end of harvest," Harding said. Shipments were made by Vahlsing to cities throughout the eastern, southern and northern parts of the nation and to Canada.

"We shipped a total of 9,623 tons of carrots — that 15,300,528 cello bags plus 40,288 sacks of jumbos packed 200 to the bag — for which we paid the growers $30 a ton," said Harding. All shipments were of "No. 1" grade, he added.

Big Payroll
While farmers realized a gross margin of $288,690 from the crop, field hands received another $103,000 and packing shed employees were paid a total of $201,000.

During the peak three months of the harvest, the packing shed employed two shifts of 120 workers each.

Asked about plans for the coming season, Harding said that F.H. Vahlsing Sr., president of the company, has indicated acreage may be increased somewhat this year. Earlier this month, Harding said that planting will begin about March 1, with the harvest season planned to begin about 15 days earlier than in 1956.

Chorus, Speaker, Citizen's Award Are Highlights

The annual Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce banquet, unquestionably the biggest in the Panhandle and probably the most enjoyable chamber meeting in Texas, starts at 7:30 tonight in the high school gymnasium.

Sold-out for the past nine days, the banquet is expected to draw 850 members and visitors to eclipse the record attendance mark set last year at just under 800.

Three features are on the entertainment calendar for the program, the Hereford High School Chorus performance, the presentation of the Lions Club Citizen of the Year Award, and the address by Tom Collins of Kansas City, Mo.

Entertainment Features
The chorus, directed by Don Moore, will be hard pressed to surpass its performance last year, but is certain to present a memorable musical program.

The Citizen of the Year announcement, always a top secret until the minute of the presentation will again take the form of a recognition of devoted work for betterment of the community and its citizenry. Ernest L. Langley, Boss Lion, will make the presentation.

Principal Speaker
Speaker Tom Collins is to be introduced by Jimmie Gilentine, Collins, publicity director of the City National Bank and Trust Co. of Kansas City, has made more than 5,000 talks during a 24 year period. A former newspaperman, he has appeared in movie shorts and has been featured under his own name in several long time radio shows.

Invocation by Rev. Scott
The meeting will open with the invocation given by Rev. Howard E. Scott, pastor of the First Baptist Church.

W. M. (Bill) Lenderman, chamber manager, will introduce guests. Retiring directors will be introduced by Townsend Douglas, retiring chamber president, Ivan Block, Douglas, J. T. Gilbreath Jr. and Don Little will step down from positions on the board tonight.

Incoming Directors
Incoming President Dr. A. T. Mims will be introduced by Douglas and in turn will introduce new directors Charles Hill, John Douglas Pittman, Don Zimmerman and M. R. Latham, and carry-over directors Edgar Skypala, B. F. Cain and Louis Woodford.

Dinner is to be served by Walter Jettton, caterer from Fort Worth. The Hereford Garden Club is in charge of decoration for the banquet, with Mrs. Art Manjeet as decorating committee chairman. Prelude organ music will be played by Mrs. John T. Sims.

Telethon Drive Had Big Assist From Students

The March of Dimes telethon fund drive in Hereford got a big boost from the efforts of 21 high school students, according to George McLean. The students pitched in voluntarily on Sunday afternoon with a house-to-house canvass that netted $342.66 for the work of the National Foundation for Infantile Paralysis.

McLean said that Lions Club members, who worked through Saturday night and most of Sunday to make collections prompted by the television program, collected a total of $1,108.16, including the students' collection.

The students who participated in the drive were Charlotte Moore, Betty Ferguson, Martha Bookout, Alvina Ritcha, Almora Ritcha, Dorothy Williams, Mary Sandford, Janie Bookout, Judy McGee, Joan Brown, Jimmy Bradley, Donny Renfro, Bill Callaway, Lewis Block, Edwin Morrison, David Block, Troy Don Moore, Carol Ann Newell, Marilyn Newell, Ron Cook and Pat Caywood.

MARCH OF DIMES TELETHON WORKERS—Thirty Lions Club members worked through Saturday night and into Sunday afternoon to receive calls and collect donations during the telethon program presented on Channel 10 to boost the March of Dimes fund drive. A total of $1,108.16 was collected, with $342.66 of the total coming through a house-to-house drive staged voluntarily by 21 high school students. Shown at the campaign's temporary headquarters in the Hereford Clinic are George McLean and Bob Lawrence "on the phones" and Bruce Miller and Raymond White, a home-collection team. (Staff Photo)

WALCOTT NEWS

By MRS. T. L. COLLINS
Mrs. Carl Perrin showed color slides of her family's trip to Europe at the Walcott P-TA's January meeting.
The Perrins spent 48 days in Europe, leaving in July. They visited Newfoundland, Ireland, Holland, Germany, Switzerland, Italy, Denmark and France.
Members present asked Mrs. Perrin about details of the trip. Coffee and pie were served during a break in slide-showing.
Guests at the meeting were Mr. and Mrs. Travis Alston of Westway, Mr. and Mrs. C. H. Hammock of Friona (formerly of Walcott), and Mrs. M. C. Davis and Pat of Hale Center.
The next P-TA meeting will be held on Feb. 15, when the 7th and 8th grades will present a play, "Willie Gets Girl Trouble."

Hereford, Walcott boys entering hogs were J. V. Perrin and Ray Northcutt. Wayland Northcutt had entries in the poultry show.
The Jack Weaver children have chickenpox. John Hall also has it.
Mr. Wallace Lumpkins, Marilyn and Linda of Whiteface visited the Walcott School Tuesday morning.

Hereford Woman Held in Tucumcari on Bigamy Charge

A Hereford woman, Mrs. Ann Della Flaek Livesay Hodges, has been charged with bigamy in Tucumcari, N. M. The charges were brought about in district court there by an annulment suit.
Lester Hodges, who gave his age as 47, and Mrs. Hodges, 31, both of Hereford, appeared before Dist. Judge J. V. Gallegos Tuesday seeking annulment of their marriage which allegedly took place early Sunday morning in Tucumcari.
Hodges and the woman said she is a principal in a divorce action pending in 69th District Court here. District Clerk Lucille Posey verified the divorce action. The woman has not as yet been divorced from H. W. Livesay of Lubbock.
A marriage license was issued to Hodges and Mrs. Livesay in Tucumcari at 1:15 a.m. Sunday. At that time she signed a statement saying there was no hindrance to a legal marriage.
Judge Gallegos halted action on the annulment proceedings, called a deputy sheriff to take the couple into custody and called Dist. Atty. Victor Breen to file a bench warrant charging the woman with bigamy.
The judge then signed the annulment decree.
Appearing in court a short time later, Mrs. Livesay waived a preliminary hearing and pleaded not guilty to the charge. She made an appearance bond of $100 and was released.

A 500-foot tunnel has been built by the Atomic Energy Commission at its Hanford, Wash., plant to "bury" equipment which is too radioactively "hot" to be used any longer.

At The Movies

Dakota Incident
At the Star Theater is Dakota Incident, starring Dale Robertson and Linda Darnell. Guns, Indians, love, stagecoach and justice are the major ingredients. The film will show Friday and Saturday.
Dale Robertson is a bank robber on the run; Linda Darnell is the beautiful young woman mad at her lover, John Lund is accused of what Robertson did. All get on a stagecoach together, the stage is shot up by Indians, only Linda and Dale survive. Dale spares the life of an Indian, is given two horses and he and Linda make up and start a new life.

Course Seen As Asset
The golf course was discussed at some length by commission members, who generally agreed that the course is a definite asset to the community and that it might well become one of the outstanding courses in the nation.
City Manager Dudley Bayne was instructed to secure cost estimates on a practical water system, along with estimated operations cost and probable income in order that the city could more carefully evaluate the situation before definite action was taken on the proposal.

Still "Free of Debt"
Despite the increased operating cost, Davis reported the association to be "free of debt" at the present time. Along with the other delegates, he once again indicated a belief that the golf course might well operate on a "break-even or small profit basis" once it passes the present erosion crisis.
History of the course, prior to the present corporation, dates even further back into the 1900's, when the course was privately operated by a group of stockholders in the same location. The stone house was constructed by CCC boys located in Hereford during the '30s and at the same time the club house was constructed in Veteran's Park.

Opened in 1949
The Hereford Golf Club, a non-profit corporation, was organized here in 1948 following a membership and donation drive in which $18,000 was raised to improve the course. The new course was opened in June, 1949, complete with grass greens, following a series of

IN THIS AREA

Nine Traffic Deaths in '56

Nine persons were killed in traffic accidents in the Hereford Substation area in 1956. These deaths include only the ones investigated by the Texas Highway Patrol.

One death occurred in Castro County, five in Parmer County and three in Deaf Smith.

No traffic deaths have occurred in this area in 1957.

In the Amarillo District, which includes 26 Panhandle counties, 12 persons died in December.

The highway patrol listed the following violations, in order of importance, as causing the accidents: speeding, driving while drinking, failure to grant right-of-way, wrong side of road — not passing, and following too closely.

Property damage in the Amarillo District reached $97,442 in December.

Will Vacation in Africa and Europe

Mr. and Mrs. Howard Gault and daughter, Glenna, left Sunday for a six weeks or two months trip to North Africa and points in Europe.

They went by plane to New York City. They will sail from New York to French Morocco where they plan to visit their daughter, Mrs. Phillip E. Kendall and her husband, Ensign Kendall, for two weeks before going to Europe.

The Gaults will be accompanied by Mrs. Kendall on a part of their European jaunt which will include visits to Spain, Germany, Italy, France, Scotland, Switzerland, and the British Isles where they will embark for home.

Mrs. Cockrell on Lubbock Program

Mrs. Alby Cockrell will lead a group discussion of "My Job," on Saturday at the Northwest Texas Methodist Conference Convocation for Adult Workers with Youth in Lubbock.

Mrs. Cockrell is one of six discussion leaders. She will direct study by Women's Society of Christian Service secretaries of youth work.

The convocation begins Friday morning and ends Saturday afternoon.

Speech Course Is Offered to Adults

A college extension course in speech will be offered here if enough interest is shown, according to Della Stagner.

Miss Stagner said Dr. Jack Walker of the West Texas State College speech department will teach the class. The course may be taken either for credit or non-credit purposes. The majority of the class will decide the nature of the course.

Interested persons should call Miss Stagner.

Autos Collide in Residential Area

A two-car collision at the intersection of Avenue D and Union Tuesday afternoon resulted in $450 property damage to the automobiles. No one was injured.

Involved in the collision were cars driven by Mrs. Ludy Turner Greason, 28, Hereford housewife, and Billy Duane Williams, 25, of Route 5, Hereford.

City Patrolman J. L. Willier investigated the accident.

She will be in school a week. She works for IBM in Dallas. She is a graduate of Eastern New Mexico University, Portales.

YOUNG MODERNS

Urge to Run Away Is Common Feeling Among Teenagers

AP Newfeatures

Why do young people get the urge to run away from their homes particularly in their teens, asks a mother. She had that urge in her own youth so could understand when her daughter suddenly talked about leaving home. But she'd never been able to figure out what actually makes home so repulsive at certain periods of life.

A group of seven girls, 18 and 19-year-olds, who were asked that question confessed they'd all had the run-away feeling sometime or another. But only one had made her threat good.

"Actually I guess it was because I knew that if I ran in that particular direction (to an aunt's house 100 miles away) my parents would look for me there. And they did. And I thought I'd made them realize something by my actions — what I don't know."

Why did she run away? Because her parents wouldn't satisfy a little whim of hers, she says. Her aunt always had seemed to be the type she could tell things to, so it was to her she poured out her troubles.

The girls seemed to think that kids want to run away because they feel they are not understood at home.

A favorite reason for wanting to run away seems to be because of a lack of freedom. Two of the girls rebelled against their homes on general principles — the fact that their parents would not let them entertain boys alone in the living room and sat "like watchdogs" as one girl put it.

"I always thought that if I could be left alone with a boy long enough under favorable romantic conditions he'd propose to me. We would come home from a movie, kiss a soft record and then just when he'd look as if he was about to kiss me up would pop my mother or father."

Another reason given for the runaway urge is family favoritism — one girl thought her mother gave her sister more of everything — affection, freedom, clothes, bigger allowance. She decided to "show them." But she never did anything about it. "It's still that way," she says. "my mother always has favored my sister, and I've grown away from my mother because of it. But I can't understand why I thought the only solution was to run away."

The girls felt that running away was just trying to escape from a situation you just couldn't cope with in any other way. Once you give some intelligent thought to "where will I go," "what will I do," "how will I get along?" you very likely change your mind, they say.

"I kept thinking how much I would miss family birthday parties and Thanksgiving, and Christmas at home. It would be so cold and dreary without them," one girl gave as her reason for not running away as she planned.

Did any of these girls upset their parents by threatening to run away? No. It seems none of the parents ever took them seriously.

"If parents would stop to think why their children become dissatisfied with their home," one girl said, "maybe they could help them over the hurdle more easily."

Lutherans to Meet in Amarillo

Lutherans of Circuit Number 1 will meet at Trinity Church in Amarillo on Sunday at 3 p.m. for a family life training seminar.

The purpose of the Institute is: 1. To give guidance to each church in evaluating and improving its service to its families. 2. To acquaint the churches with content, materials, and methods of Christian family life education. 3. To help train church officers, educational leaders, youth leaders, and adult leaders of every parish for this work.

The Rev. Andrew Szegedin, pastor of Immanuel Lutheran Church of Hereford, will conduct the discussion on the topic "Adults Have Home Needs" and "Making Marriage a Success." He will be assisted in the discussion by a panel of local members, who will discuss the sub topics "Chief Needs of Young Adults" and "Preventing Divorce and Unhappiness in the Home." Members who will participate in the discussions are Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Tiefel, Mr. and Mrs. George Tiefel and Mrs. Earl Springer.

EYES WRONG

HARTFORD, Conn. (AP) — An appliance store owner reported to police that a man with a black right eye had stolen a portable television set.

Det. Capt. Joseph P. McDonald's squad picked up four men with black right eyes within a short time after the complaint was made.

The thief was not among them.

Variations on a Yam Theme

Associated Press Food Editor

Yams are good mixers. Their smooth texture, sweet and bland, combines well with other foods.

We like to bake them in their skins, scoop out the orange flesh, mash it with butter and salt and add finely diced celery — for crisp texture contrast — along with other flavorsome tidbits. Then back the filling goes into the shells and the stuffed yams are returned to the oven for reheating. If you don't wish to spoon the pulp back into the potato shells, you may turn it into individual scallop shells or a shallow casserole — a pie dish is fine — for reheating in the oven.

Here are several variations on this basic theme. You'll find that although each flavor — change has a distinct personality of its own, all of them taste good with roast chicken, duck or turkey.

These recipes were tested with the deep yellow, sugary and moist sweet potatoes called yams and so no extra sweetening or liquid were needed.

BAKED STUFFED YAMS—with flavor changes.

SPICY STUFFED YAMS

Ingredients: 4 medium-sized yams (1½ pounds), 2 tablespoons butter or margarine, 4 tablespoons apple butter, ½ cup finely diced celery, salt.

Method: Scrub yams in cold water; dry. Bake in hot (425 degrees) oven until soft — about 45 minutes. Immediately cut thin slice from the top of each potato with a sharp knife or kitchen scissors; scoop out pulp and put through ricer or food mill. Stir in butter and apple butter, then celery and salt to taste. Spoon back into the shells; return to oven until very hot — about 15 minutes. Serve at once. Makes 4 servings. (Once the yams have baked tender, don't let them stand around in or out of the oven or skins will probably get soggy and it may be impossible to scoop out pulp without tearing them.)

Note: The amount of apple butter called for in this recipe gave a delicate spice flavor; a little more of the apple butter may be added if desired.

WALDORF STUFFED YAMS

Use recipe for Spicy Stuffed Yams but substitute ¼ cup finely diced peeled raw apple for the apple butter.

GOLDEN STUFFED YAMS

Use recipe for Spicy Stuffed Yams but substitute 9 to 12 dried apricots for the apple butter. Soak the apricots in very hot water for 5 to 10 minutes, then drain and dice fine before adding to the yam mixture.

MISSION STUFFED YAMS

Use recipe for Spicy Stuffed Yams but substitute 4 dried figs for the apple butter. Soak the figs in very hot water until softened, if necessary, then clip stems and dice fine before adding to the yam mixture.

KITCHEN NOTES

Use yams promptly after you bring them home from the market because they do not keep well at room temperature.

Leftover cooled yams are delicious when sliced or diced and browned in butter in a skillet.

Always drain yams you are boiling as soon as they are tender so they don't become water-logged.

Both grated lemon and orange rind add good flavor to masked yams.

Yams are worthwhile using in family meals because they are a rich source of vitamin A; they also provide worthwhile quantities of vitamin C and small amounts of the B vitamins and minerals.

Now comes the fender line in fashion.

Streamlining of some of the 1957 cars has inspired designers in New York to create an evening gown with a neckline cut like a fender. Good-looking dress, too.

A girl with a fender neckline, of course, deserves no less than a diamond ring inspired by a headlight.

STREAMLINED SWANK — This sleek evening gown in silver-gray satin was inspired by the flight-sweep lines of new automobiles, says its designer, Mignon. Line of bodice echoes angle of fenders.

MR. AND MRS. W. P. CARAWAY TO NOTE 50th ANNIVERSARY

Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Caraway, 118 Lake, will be honored at an open house at their home on Sunday in observance of their golden wedding anniversary. Children of the couple will serve as hosts.

Friends of the family and relatives are invited to call between the hours of 2 and 5 p.m.

The Caraways have lived in Deaf Smith County since Nov. 1924. They were married in Stephens County Jan. 27, 1907, and moved to a farm near Ranger.

They lived in the Ward and Dawn communities until 1948 when they purchased their present home. Their children are Hartland of Stratford, Mrs. Iverson Leake of Canyon, Johnnie B. of Dawn and Obed of La Junta, Colo.

The Hallmark of Circulation Value

In the same way that STERLING on silver signifies a standard of known value, so is the A.B.C. emblem a symbol of integrity for the circulation of newspapers and periodicals. It means that circulation so identified is measured according to the rules and standards of the AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS.

The A.B.C. is a cooperative and non-profit association of 3,450 publishers, advertisers and advertising agencies. Organized in 1914, these buyers and sellers of advertising brought order out of advertising chaos by setting up standards for paid circulation and establishing rules and methods for measuring, auditing and reporting circulations.

Therefore, the work of the A.B.C., of which this newspaper is proud to be a member, provides you with a direct and valuable service. You can buy advertising as you would make any other sound business investment — on the basis of well known standards, known values.

At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors makes a thorough audit of our circulation records. The results of this exacting audit show: How much circulation we have; where our circulation goes; how it was obtained; and many other FACTS that you need in order to know just what you get for your advertising dollars. This audited information is published by the Bureau in easy-to-read A.B.C. reports which are available to our advertisers on request. Ask for a copy of our latest A.B.C. report.

NOTHING SAFE
OKLAHOMA CITY (AP) — Detective Ed White isn't sure whom the joke is on. Burglars hauled off a safe, typewriter and adding machine. The safe later was found abandoned with a note scribbled across the front of a burglary policy: "This is a good, big joke. Ha. Ha. Ha."

The burglars had pried open the safe, only to find the policy and a few old coins.

Cancer caused 237,000 U. S. deaths in 1954.

Australia's population was 9,313,292 at the end of 1955.

W.M.U. MEMBERS DISCUSS DUTIES OF ORGANIZATION

By MRS. GEORGE ZETZSCHE
Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Berryman were Thursday night supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dobbs and Larry.

The Frio W.M.U. met Thursday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Owen Andrews. The guest speaker, Mrs. J. F. Cheatham talked about the duties of the W.M.U. Those present for the meeting were Mesdames Ernest Harder, T. J. Sparkman Jr., Leonard Schmidt, Frank Robbins, H. M. Mobley, T. L. Sparkman Sr., Weldon Stehman, George Zetzsche, Miss Alma Andrews, Mrs. Cheatham, and the hostess.

Rev. and Mrs. S. H. Baldwin and Rev. and Mrs. Bill Wadley of Spade visited with Rev. Baldwin's brother and family, the M. D. Baldwins, in Midlothian while they were gone to attend the Evangelistic Conference in Fort Worth last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Frank Robbins, Carol Stevie, Connie, and Jerry were in Texline Thursday evening on business and to visit with Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Little, Peggy and Becky.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Robinson were Sunday dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Yandell. Visit in Amarillo
Mrs. T. L. Sparkman Jr., and Miss Alma Andrews were in Amarillo Monday on business and to visit with a daughter and her family, the Charles S. Kings and the Jerry Kings.

Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Parker left Sunday morning for Ardmore, Okla. where they were to visit with Mrs. Parker's sister, Mrs. Flora Wallace and family. They plan to return home after about a week.

Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Davis and home of Pontias N. M. and Mr. and Mrs. K. D. Arnote of Amarillo were guests Sunday in the Clark Dobbs home. The Davises are Mrs. Dobbs' parents and Mrs. Arnote is her sister.
Darlene Sparkman was a guest Sunday of Carol Robbins, Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Vinson, Edana, Sammie, and Carleta visited with the Frank Robbins Sunday afternoon. Visit in Texline
Mr. and Mrs. Weldon Stehman and Rhonda and Mr. and Mrs. L. W. Martin of Hereford left for Texline Saturday night to visit with the E. H. Littles. They planned to return home Sunday night.

Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Dobbs were in Amarillo Thursday to shop.

Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Miller were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. H. M. Mobley of Austin, and Don.

Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Robinson visited with the Millers Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Jeff Terrell, Kay and Sandy accompanied the Baldwins and Wadleys to Fort Worth Monday. They went to visit with Mrs. Ferrell's parents. They plan to return to their home at the last of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Darwin Miller were supper guests Monday night in the home of the Johnny Robinsons.

The Weldon Stehans and the H. D. Robbins were among those who went to Clovis, N. M., last week to see Ike.

Mr. and Mrs. George Zetzsche were in Amarillo Sunday to visit with the Charles Kings.

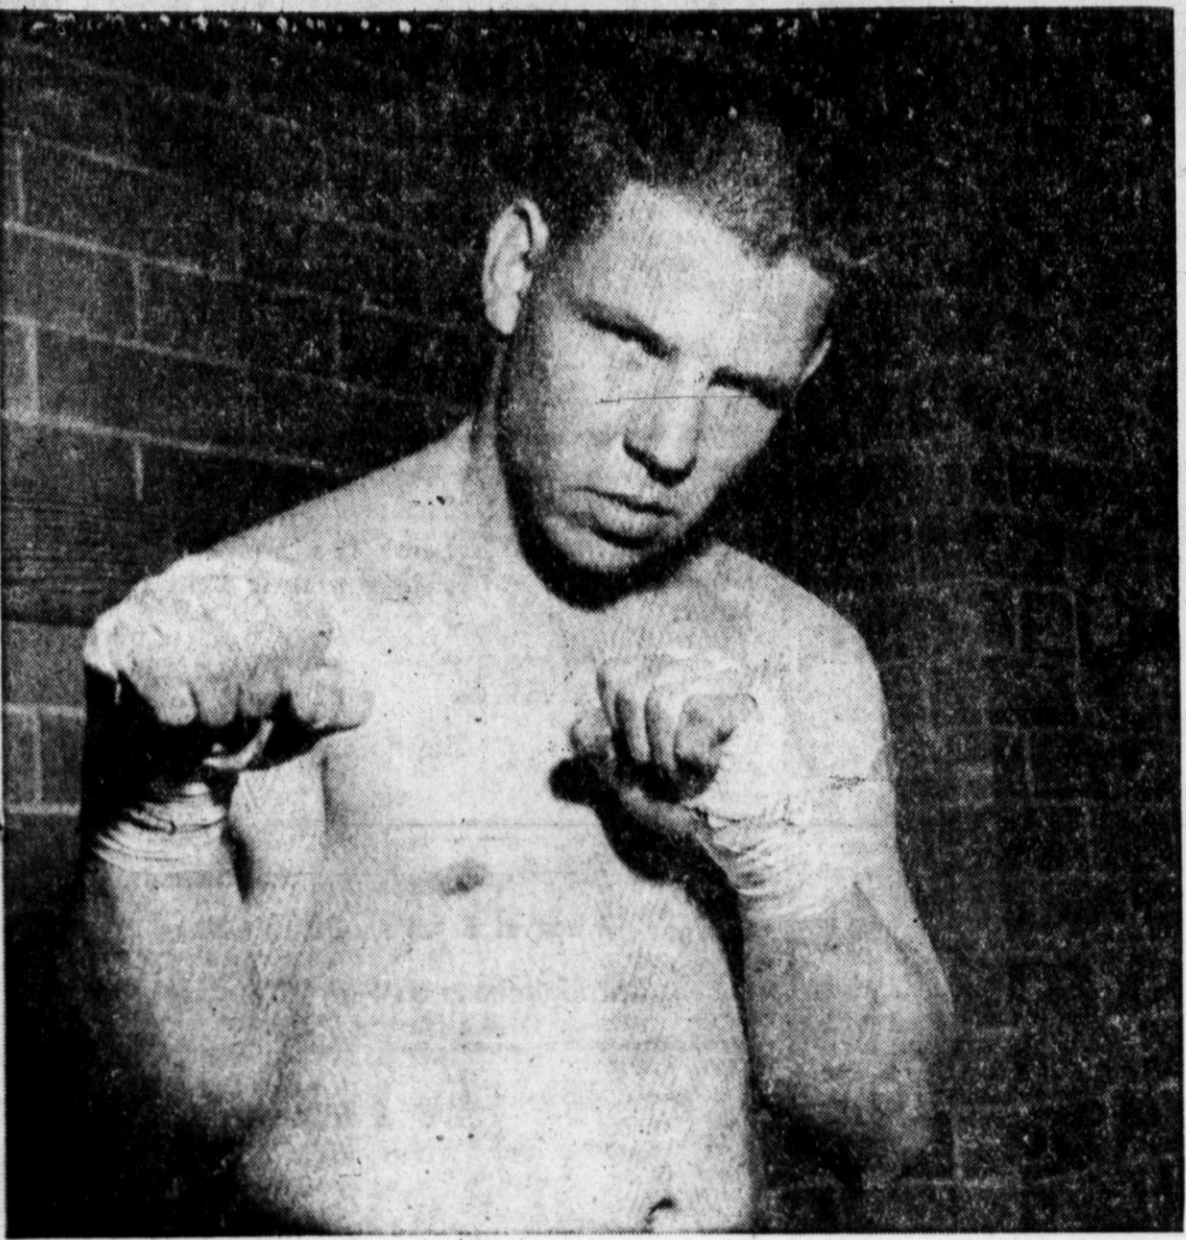

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Warrick of Wellington spent Sunday night with Mr. Warrick's folks, the J.E. Warricks. They were on their way to Roswell, N. M., on business. They plan to return by here on their way back to Wellington.

Mrs. W. A. Springer and her daughter, Mrs. Elbert Summers of Dimmitt, were in Canyon Monday to visit with Mrs. Springer's sister, Mrs. Joe Mercer. Mrs. Mercer, who lives in Silvertown, is in the Neblett Hospital in Canyon.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Sparkman Sr., and Mrs. W. A. Springer were Sunday dinner guests of Mrs. Sparkman's brother and wife, Mr. and Mrs. F. J. Springer, in Kress. Their main purpose for making the trip, however, was to visit with another brother of Mrs. Sparkman, D. M. Springer, who is in the Tullia Hospital. He and his wife also live in Kress.

Richard Price is in the hospital at Dimmitt following an accident last Thursday. He was burned while filling a tractor with butane. He was hoping to be able to return home the first of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. G. D. Thomas of Wellington and their son and family, the David Thomases of Plainview, visited Saturday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Andrews and Miss Alma Andrews. Mr. Thomas and Mr. Andrews were boyhood friends.

FOR THRILLING DECISION

Waits Bops Forrester in Wellington Boxing

Home Town Favorite Is Clouted

Hereford's Gene Waits captured a bruising decision from big Jim Forrester of Wellington, much to the dismay of some 350 fans who witnessed the Wellington Golden Gloves Tournament last Friday.

The two heavyweight boxers put on one of the most thrilling boxing exhibitions ever witnessed in the Wellington ring. Waits was the only Hereford boxer entered.

Unanimous Decision

The decision for Waits was unanimous, but it took a strong last round to ice the match for the Hereford boxer. The pair had fought on almost even terms throughout the initial two rounds.

Then in the final round, Waits harrassed the tired Forrester with left and right jabs and his dancing antics. Forrester's knees buckled and he almost went to the canvas when Waits caught him with a left hook as the bell sounded and the match's end.

Forrester Heavier

Forrester weighed in at 220. He was an honorable mention all-state football star for the AA Wellington Skyrockets. Waits tipped the scales at 175, giving away 45 pounds to Forrester.

Waits had opened the first round by cutting Forrester's lip and starting his nose to bleeding. Forrester also got in a couple of hard punches to just about even up the first round.

Begins to Fire

The Wellington boxer went to clinching tactics in the second round and began to tire about midway in the round. After that it was Waits' fight.

At the end of the second round, the crowd was so excited and making so much noise the boxers failed to hear the bell and continued to fight for about 30 seconds after the round was officially over.

Waits said he plans to enter the Amarillo Golden Gloves Tournament Jan. 30-Feb. 2 in Amarillo. He will box in the light heavyweight division there.

SOME ATTENDANCE!

DENTON, Tex. (AP) — Berk Kaufhold, a junior at North Texas State College here, was given the job of promoting attendance at the college's radio club.

He made numerous telephone calls and personal contacts, and the result was a large crowd.

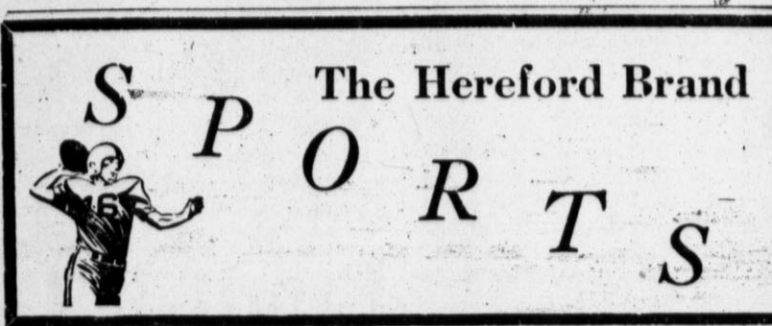

But when club officers sought Kaufhold to congratulate him, they found he slept through the meeting.

WEEKEND MAYOR

SILVERSTREET, S. C. (AP) — Silverstreet's population of about 150 apparently feels the community is small enough to get along with a "weekend" mayor.

Henry M. Havird fills the office only on Saturdays and Sundays when he stays at the old family home. The rest of the time he lives 65 miles away in Columbia where he holds a position with the South Carolina Employment Security Commission.

HERD TAKES IMPORTANT WIN FROM DUMAS DEMONS

Hereford, Texas, Thursday, January 24, 1957 Section Two

The District 1-AAA race was thrown into unexpected turmoil by Levelland's upset win over Phillips.

You can leave it to Levelland to pull something like that. And we're glad that it happened at the first of the year.

Levelland never has had any particular affection for Phillips. Rivalry with Phillips in any sport, has been a bitter one.

We figured Levelland had the best chance (other than Hereford, of course) of knocking off Phillips, but we were surprised as much as everyone else when it happened.

We can't say that it made us altogether unhappy.

Who Will Do It?

We figured Levelland had the best chance (other than Hereford, of course) of knocking off Phillips, but we were surprised as much as everyone else when it happened.

The way we see it, Hereford now has the best chance of derauling the Hawks for the district championship. The Whitefaces have proven themselves better than all the other district teams.

Dumas: Canyon defeated Dumas in the Hereford Tournament, and the Herd clouted Canyon, 62-47, with no sweat. Levelland: The Lobos are a hot and cold team. They must have been mighty hot when they played Phillips because they couldn't do a thing in the Hereford tourney. Dumas defeated them with ease. Littlefield: Hereford defeated Littlefield, 89-40, recently. That's proof enough for us.

What Happen?

Phillips was sporting a 10-point lead as it went into the fourth quarter. It had a four-point deficit as the game ended.

He Won, Anyhow!

What are Hereford's prospects for winning next year? Coach Cully by Kitchens thinks that they are better for next year than they are for this year. Hereford will have just as much height next year, maybe a little more. Everybody except the Whitefaces will lose almost all their starters.

By BILL KNOX

Hereford's Whitefaces climbed into a tie with Phillips and Levelland for the District 1-AAA leadership Tuesday night.

Spearheaded by lanky Jim Curt-singer, the Whitefaces whipped Dumas, 77-67, for their second conference win after losing the opening game to Phillips.

The two teams merely exchanged places, Dumas, which had been tied with Phillips for the top spot, tumbled to fourth with Phillips. Hereford and Levelland all deadlocked for first with two wins and a loss in conference play.

The Whiteface win was comparatively easy. Phillips had stopped the Whitefaces by 17 points and defeated Dumas by only five.

However, the issue was never once in doubt. The Demons just didn't have enough height to match the Whitefaces on the boards. Gary Ward (6-2) was the only Dumas starter over the six feet mark, while Hereford sported four men (Terry Higgins, 6-5; Jim Curt-singer, 6-4; Bill Dufur, 6-3; and Bill Callaway, 6-2) over six feet on the starting lineup.

Curt-singer had his best night of the year while pacing the Hereford win. The 6-4 guard tossed in 30 points to pad his 20-point per game average. He was uncanny from the floor and worked well on the boards. Only four of his points came on free throws.

Hereford had four men over the 10-point mark. Fred Lookingbill also had a good night, scoring 16 points. Danny Elliston, front post on the tandem offense, counted 12, while back post Terry Higgins meshed in 11.

Hereford's specialty, the full-court zone press, worked well, baffling the Demons long enough to give the Whitefaces the advantage they needed. The Whitefaces scored the first two points of the game and never trailed.

Dumas went into a man-to-man full court press in the third and fourth quarters but made little headway with it. At one time early in the fourth quarter the Herd held a 68-50 lead.

Cuby Kitchens' boys held a 14-point lead at half-time, but the Hereford mentor still wasn't too confident of victory. Dumas has been a team with a strong finish all year.

Hereford didn't stop pressing until late in the fourth quarter. The Herd played ball control for much of the last period, being content with its lead.

FUNK AND JOE AREN'T SATISFIED; MEET AGAIN

Dory Funk and Tokyo Joe aren't satisfied. They shed enough blood last Saturday night for a half dozen transfusions, and they still want some more.

In one of the bloodiest brawls ever fought in the Hereford wrestling ring, Tokyo Joe came out winner over Funk, Southwest States Junior Heavyweight Champion, in the "winner - take - all" event. The crowd didn't like it.

The rules of the match were this: best two of three falls, no time limit, no disqualification. The two wrestlers followed these rules so closely that referee Johnny Us-sery asked a police escort to leave the arena.

"Every time Us-sery got up one of them would knock him crazy again," said Harold Wester, Lions wrestling promoter.

The falls were even at one a-piece when the fireworks broke loose. Referee Us-sery became so much of a nuisance that one of the wrestlers knocked him unconscious and threw him out of the ring.

Then Funk wiped out Tokyo Joe, and the Japanese Karate expert lay unconscious in the middle of the ring long enough to be counted out three or four times. But Us-sery was in no condition to do the counting.

Meanwhile, while Us-sery was sacked out, Joe came to and butted Funk's head into the ring post, giving the foreman of the Flying Mare Ranch a view of the stars. Us-sery came to just in time to enter the ring and count Funk out.

The fans were very displeased with the proceedings. So, after considering the facts, Us-sery changed his decision to "no contest." However, Joe wouldn't give up the dough, so Funk said he was going to get along without it anyhow.

The brawl accomplished nothing. The pair will meet again Saturday night, this time for the Southwest States Junior Heavyweight Championship. More blood is promised.

In a preliminary event, Rip Rogers will tackle Tommy Phelps in a best two of three falls or one hour time limit.

After the match last Saturday, Lions promoter Harold Wester issued this statement: "I don't intend to schedule any more matches with no disqualification in Hereford. They get too bloody. When something like that gets started you just can't stop it."

DISTRICT CAGE ROUNDUP

3-Way Tie for Lead Develops in League

First place in the District 1-AAA basketball race is getting mighty crowded.

Stacked in the lead are Hereford, Phillips, and Levelland. All three clubs have 2-1 records in conference play.

The Whitefaces moved up with a 77-67 win over Dumas and Levelland whopped Littlefield 73-45 on Tuesday night. Phillips' district standing was unchanged in a 91-64 non-conference win over Childress at Phillips.

Dumas won the B game, 54-50. In action Friday night the Black-hawks were handed their first district loss by Levelland, 67-63. That gave Dumas a temporary tie with the Hawks until Hereford came through Tuesday.

Also on Friday, Dumas clubbed winless Littlefield, 54-36. Dumas now stands in fourth place with a 2-2 record. Littlefield has the cellar all to itself with an 0-3 status.

Hereford hosts Levelland this Friday in a game that's sure to break the 3-way tie and Littlefield goes to Phillips. Dumas takes an open date.

Don't Marry the Piano Player If You Like To Hear Her Music

By W. G. ROGERS
Associated Press Arts Editor

NEW YORK. (AP) — Don't get the idea that if you marry the famous pianist you'll have more chance to hear her play.

The husband hears her least of all — so says Moura Lympny, the fine-sounding name of the fine-sounding pianist who has been a married partner for about five years to Bennett Korn, Dupont-TV vice president.

"Would you like to go out please whilst I practice?" she says, and out he goes.

The "whilst" instead of "while" shows she's English; and so does her pronunciation, as of Devonshire, her one-time home in England — an accented "Dev," not much "n," no "i" at all: "Devo-shr."

The Korns live on New York's upper East Side when they're not at work. He goes on trips occasionally, and she declares tartly: "I resent it very much, too."

How unfair a wife can be! He's gone a few days at most, she goes off for weeks and months touring this country, England, and Europe and other continents.

They met here at a cocktail party. He flew to England to marry her. She gave a recital that very night in London, and he attended that one. A few days later, he had a second chance to hear her when she played at Harrowgate. She remembers that occasion because he performed one of his first and last professional services for her. Although it was August, it was at the shore, and chilly, and to warm up her fingers she uses a hot water bottle. He filled it too full, and as she was kneading it in her lap minutes before she went on stage, it burst, and soaked her. She had no extra dress; she had to play drenched.

That would make any husband nervous at future concerts by his wife, but he was nervous anyway. When he sped off to marry her, his secretary explained: "My, how wonderful! You can hear Moura Lympny play all the time!"

But it has not worked out that way. Once when she was doing a recital in nearby Newark, he drove her to the hall.

"Are you nervous?" he asked. "No, not a bit, why, not a bit!" she assured him, and asked in turn: "Are you nervous?" "No, not a bit! why, what a question!" he assured her.

By the time they reached Newark at her concerts he suffers and she knows he suffers; she suffers and he knows she suffers. It even starts before she leaves home, and he tells her:

"The last two weeks before you go you're impossible to live with."

But once she's on the road, everything is fine again. Miss Lympny has just been on the West Coast, and she talked with her husband every day by phone. By some telepathic chance, she says, there were five times when she and he called each other at precisely the same minute. Each ran into a busy signal.

Miss Lympny has had an exciting career — brought up in convents in England, Belgium and Austria, teaching languages while waiting to earn a living at the piano, being the first Western woman pianist to play behind the Iron Curtain, premiering the Khachaturian concerto in London, Paris, Brussels and Milan. She even used to sleep under the piano, but not out of devotion to this instrument; merely because it seemed safer during the blitz in London.

In her opinion, it's easier to get a start in London than here. She goes back twice a year and, on each trip, plays three to six times in the English capital.

"I couldn't do that in New York; there aren't the halls or the orchestras. Furthermore, over here one manager handles an artist for the entire country. But, if you are based in London, there is a manager for every European country and no end of dates, consequently, with each one."

Mamie's Tastes in Fashions Aren't Unusual

By JANE EADS

WASHINGTON — Mamie Eisenhower's bangs and her favorite pink stirred a brief flurry in the fashion world four years ago. However, the First Lady's style preferences could hardly be jotted down as trend-setters.

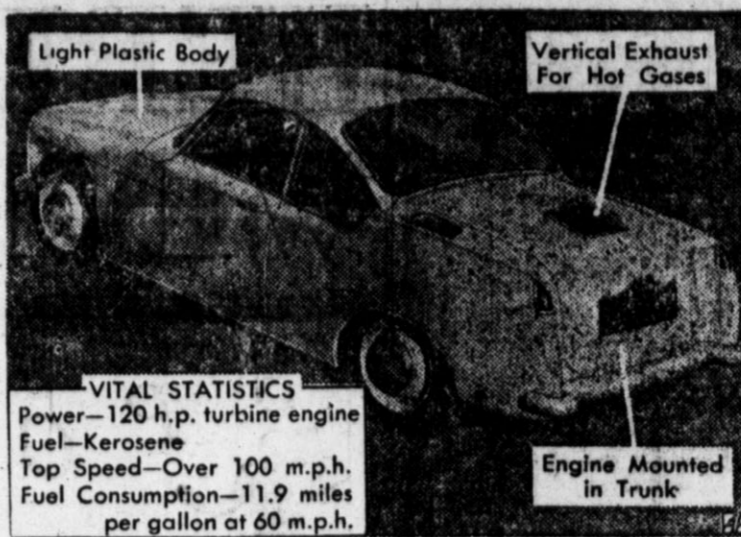

There is nothing unusual about her tastes, for a great many women like the same fashions. Mamie likes wide skirts worn over stiffened petticoats. She likes little hats, gloves and accessories in the matching colors. So do a lot of women. Mamie loves furs of all kinds and has a luxurious wardrobe of scarves, stoles, capelets and wraps of fur, but there is nothing very revolutionary in the styling of these pieces.

When you get right down to it, most First Ladies have been on the conservative side and none, with the possible exception of the glamorous Dolly Madison, has ever had any real impact on fashions. Alice Roosevelt, Teddy's daughter, and Eleanor Roosevelt who lived longest in the White House as the wife of the three times re-elected FDR, both had their favorite shades of blue named after them.

Dolly Madison had originality and imagination. She had been accustomed to wearing a Quaker cap before coming into the Capital limelight. Then she took to wearing turbans, wrapped head-dresses of bright, rich silks, brocades and velvet trimmed with feather cockades and jeweled ornaments. Prominent ladies of the nineteenth century copied these and many other innovations she introduced.

One of the most unusual hair-dos worn by a White House lady was that of Mrs. Andrew Jackson Donelson, niece of President Andrew Jackson and his official hostess. It was also one of the ugliest and no one ever was tempted to copy it. The style which is featured on the plaster of Paris figurine in the Smithsonian Institution's Hall of First Ladies, wearing Emily Donelson's inaugural gown, shows the hair parted in the middle and swept up into two great rolled-under puffs on top.

Turtles, crocodiles and alligators are first cousins of dinosaurs. The latter prehistoric animal is now extinct.

English Turbine Car Near Production

AP Newsfeatures

The Suez Canal crisis — which has returned wartime gasoline austerity to British motorists — has heightened interest in a "car of the future" now reaching advanced stages of development in Britain.

The car is the Rover T3 gas turbine sedan, a two-seat sport model powered by a turbojet engine yielding 150 horsepower. Unlike the reciprocating engines requiring high test gasoline, the Rover turbine burns kerosene.

Low Fuel Consumption The T3 is a descendant of the Rover Co. Ltd.'s JET I, which the company calls the world's first gas turbine car. The early model underwent road tests in 1950 and achieved speeds of over 150 m.p.h.

The T3 has a somewhat slower top speed, but boasts an engine less than half the size of the original and drinks far less fuel — getting about 12 miles out of each gallon of kerosene at 60 m.p.h. The company claims the most important feature of its latest fully-operative turbine model is that it was designed from the start to take full advantage of all the features which make the turbine power plant attractive. The main advantages are the lightness of the engine in relation to the power it is capable of delivering, the absence of a clutch and multi-speed gear box and the fact there is no need for a radiator or other water cooling equipment.

The T3 has a glass reinforced plastic body and four-wheel drive. The exhaust duct is located in the top of the trunk, throwing the hot (392 degree Fahrenheit) exhaust gases straight into the air.

Easy to Drive As with all turbo cars, the only pedal in addition to the accelerator is the brake, which together with the hand brake and the reverse gear constitute the total controls.

Rover Ltd. explains that the chief hold-up in producing practical turbo engines in the past was the difficulty of mass-producing the blades for the turbine. This has reportedly now been overcome but much more testing is expected before the Rover car moves from enticing display at auto shows to dealer showrooms.

When eventually produced for sale, the price is not expected to be less than $7,000.

The Hallmark of Circulation Value

In the same way that STERLING on silver signifies a standard of known value, so is the A.B.C. emblem a symbol of integrity for the circulation of newspapers and periodicals. It means that circulation so identified is measured according to the rules and standards of the AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS.

The A.B.C. is a cooperative and non-profit association of 3,450 publishers, advertisers and advertising agencies. Organized in 1914, these buyers and sellers of advertising brought order out of advertising chaos by setting up standards for paid circulation and establishing rules and methods for measuring, auditing and reporting circulations.

Therefore, the work of the A.B.C., of which this newspaper is proud to be a member, provides you with a direct and valuable service. You can buy advertising as you would make any other sound business investment — on the basis of well known standards, known values.

At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors makes a thorough audit of our circulation records. The results of this exacting audit show: How much circulation we have; where our circulation goes; how it was obtained; and many other FACTS that you need in order to know just what you get for your advertising dollars. This audited information is published by the Bureau in easy-to-read A.B.C. reports which are available to our advertisers on request. Ask for a copy of our latest A.B.C. report.

A.B.C. REPORTS — FACTS AS A BASIC MEASURE OF ADVERTISING VALUE

A CARLOAD OF BURGERS

Baltimore Chef Delivers Orders On Realistic Model Freight Train

NAT BEGUN presses the starting button . . .

BALTIMORE (AP) — It may be a heckuva way to run a restaurant, highballing hamburgers to the customers by mainline fast freight. But it has the small fry ga-ga and Pop on the edge of his seat.

And if Mom doesn't give a hoot for model railroading, at least she can enjoy her food unmolested while her offspring give their attention to Nat Begun's "built-in baby sitter."

At Begun's "Hamburger Junction" on Baltimore's northeast fringe, a model freight train circles the inside edge of the counter. The chef loads the freight — a hamburger and french fries, perhaps — on the flat cars at the kitchen window. He pushes a button, and a two-unit Diesel engine, its horn tooting, drags the load down the main line.

When the freight reaches its destination, a waitress punches one of the strategically located control buttons beneath the counter and the train stops. After she unloads it, the empty freight deadheads back to the kitchen window where it stops automatically.

What's the reaction of the customers? One, a regular, bangs through the door each noon and calls: "Start the train!" A kid? Not so much.

Another once asked Begun for a job. "You don't have to pay me," he said. "Just let me run the train." A kid? No, again. Full grown.

The junction is the brainchild of a young man liberally indoctrinated in commercial art, GI cookery and practical selling experience.

Begun, a New Yorker by birth, concentrated on art in high school and worked at it following graduation. He was tapped for Army service early in World War II, and went through cooks and bakers' school. He later wrangled his way into an art section and eventually wound up in the Air Force.

Out of service, he sold women's lingerie made from nylon parachutes for awhile and then bought a surplus Army bus at an auction.

He yanked out its seats, installed a grill and refrigerator, slapped on some new paint and labeled the mobile eatery "The Sad Sack."

The bus was sold when Begun went to work for a manufacturer of powder puffs and cosmetic bags. In eight months his novel merchandising ideas won him promotion to general sales manager and took him to New York. He remained with the firm for six years.

The desire to settle in his wife's hometown and to operate a unique drive-in restaurant brought him back to Baltimore. The result is Hamburger Junction — one heckuva way to sell a hamburger.

. . . AND A LOAD of burgers reaches the customers.

Draft Board Lists Classifications for Young Men

The Selective Service board during the past month issued new classifications and reclassification notices to a number of area residents. Reclassifications were also issued to five active reservists.

The reservists and their new classifications are Judson E. Line, Jim R. Roden Jr., James W. Barnett and Robert B. Avent, all now in IR (available for duty), and Easton E. Harmon, 2R (not available for duty).

The regular registrants and their change of status are as follows: Virgil A. McCee and Richard S. Wright, from IV-A (registrant who has completed service or a sole surviving son) to IC-Enl. (member of the Armed Forces). Lester F. Burnett, who was in I-A was also transferred to IC-Enl.

To Armed Forces
Leon J. Friedrich, I-A-F, Fredin, James B. Marshall, Marvin T. Cole, Rex E. Blackburn, Billy W. Nazworth, Larry B. Berry and Ramon N. Davila were men whose classification was changed from IA to C by means of induction.

Johannes Hess' status was changed from 2A (registrant deferred because of civilian occupation) to IA (eligible for induction). Alvin T. Finkle's status changed from 4F to 4A. Bruce B. Buhoe, 2S (deferred because of activity in study), is now IA. Charles W. Cole, formerly IA, is now 2S.

Other miscellaneous changes included George E. Dowden, IA to 2S; Lloyd C. Brown, 1A0 (eligible for induction) to 2C; Roy H. Curvin, IA to 2C; Calvin R. Irie, IA to 2S; Wayne Pinnell, IA to 2S; Jackie L. Coneland, IA to 4F; Lonnie A. Demott, IA to 4F; Larry E. Porter, ID to IA; Robert F. Ford, ID to IA; Kerry N. Franklin, 4F to 4A; Clarence H. Kube, 2C to 1A; Thomas L. Byrd, IA to 4A, and Raymond W. Eilston, IA to 1A0.

Released From Active Duty
Robert W. Smith, Jimmie W. Owens and Norman R. Taylor and Cecil D. Black, were changed from IC-Ind. to 4A. Changed from IC-Enl. to 4A were James W. Henderson and Johnny R. McDowell.

One new registrant, James K. Holloway, was classed IC, as a member of the Armed Forces.

New Registrants

New registrants classified as IA are Jesus Villela, Henry Taylor, Clay W. Stanberry, Isamel A. Barraga, Jimmy Aragon, Henry D. Conder, Travis I. McGaughy, Ralph D. Paul, Jarrett B. Ransom, Victor C. Diaz, Jerry L. Dye, Joe K. Briggs, Paul T. Drerup.

Wesley J. Hagar, Lone E. Fanning Jr., Jackie L. Ppuett, Barry L. Jones, Richard Whitson, George E. Ford, Larry E. Ezell, George W. Lynch Jr., Don A. Hamilton, Norman B. Bookout, Edward M. Hinders, Hubert H. Green, Elton M. Kiser, Danny M. Bainum, Harold B. Taylor, Erith A. Hawkins, John J. Brorman, Paul V. Torrez, Robert L. Davis, Jon G. Fraser, John P. Gallagher and Willie F. Artho.

Members of reserve components or students taking military training who reached draft age and received ID as their initial classification are Carroll H. Herring, Thomas J. Roberson, Don K. Sheffy, Joe C. Newton, Joe E. Dredrup and Fred E. Ball.

The state of Tennessee derives its name from the Cherokee Indian village of Tanasi.

Carolyn Brumley to Head Group

New officers were installed last week at the regular meeting of the Dakonva Camp Fire group.

Carolyn Brumley was installed as president; Kathleen Knox was named secretary to succeed Joyce Lindorfer, and Sandra Vaughnt succeeded Nancy Boardman as reporter.

Outgoing officers were Sheri Dameron, Joyce Lindorfer, and Nancy Boardman.

Librarians Enjoy Bookmark Snacks

ALBANY, N. Y. — Librarians think bacon and eggs make interesting bookmarks.

They also find teen-age love notes more fascinating than some of the books they are found in.

"You name it, we've seen it," says Mrs. Barbara Rau, librarian in the suburban town of Bethlehem.

"If they can be eaten, we eat them," she adds. "We had a fried egg last week; cold, of course. And we've had several strips of bacon, lettuce leaf, bread rinds and celery stalks."

Mrs. Rau reports garters and suspenders are not as popular as they once were. But "if it's clothing, we wear it if we can't find the borrower."

Other bookmarks found at her library have been a $20 bill, government bonds, cleats, zippers, jewelry and love notes carved with lipstick.

One note read: "Darling, I am leaving you for Jim. Goodbye. P. S. Your supper is in the refrigerator. Hope you like ham and cole slaw."

The writer, however, left no snack for the librarian.

By Jimmie Gilentine

Probably the biggest piece of propaganda ever fostered on the unsuspecting people of this county is that old tripe about how a fellow gets fed up and discontented because he cannot go to work. I always thought it was the bunk, and now I know for sure. For the past three weeks I have been unable to do anything except loaf around the house, get waited on by the wife and kids — and appreciate the sympathy and kind words of friends and neighbors. I loved every minute of it. I guess my only regrets would lie in the fact that they got along so well without me at the office.

If they had run into a lot of trouble, I would have probably been even more unhappy but, still, it sure goes against the grain to know beyond any doubt that you aren't very important. I guess this is a good example of the cross-winds of human nature.

Also, you get a little bit fed up sometimes with people telling you how stupid you were to catch on fire. This is emphasized because you already know it, but do not especially care to admit it to yourself. For a while I had considerable trouble getting food into my mouth, due to severe burns on my hands. I appreciate the kindness of the family in spooning food during the period, but I still contend that no one knows when you want another bite like you know yourself. Another thing is TV. I am afraid that I shall never again be the TV fan I was before the accident. Some of those daytime programs get downright irritating — and the old favorites have lost most of their interest.

All in all, though, it was a real nice rest and I sure did develop a hankering for those banker's hours. Don't let anybody kid you. Not working is a lot better than working — even with the handicap of severe burns.

While I was busy catching on fire and getting too hot, Wm. H. Drager, 125 Avenue G, went to the extreme opposite and got too cold. He was pulling a trailer with his tractor in 15 degree weather and part of his face froze. Strangely enough, the reaction to heat and cold seems to be about the same. His face is peeling off like my leg and hands — and he is having a rough time. The Dragers moved here recently from Friona.

Following my accident in Wellington, I ran into Rev. Russell Pogue, former pastor of the Temple Baptist Church here. Russell got to telling me about his broken ankle last summer. He said the itching and burning inside the cast was running him crazy, so one hot night last August he put on his overcoat, got three wool blankets and went down to the ice plant, where he got into the freezing room, propped his cast on a block of ice and cooled off. It kept on bothering him, so he finally got a brace and bit and drilled a hole in the cast; next he put the vacuum cleaner hose up against the hole and started sucking air down through the cast. Russell said it worked real well, especially after he put Mexican heat powder around the top of the cast and let it circulate down over the irritated spots. He said it even got a write-up in the American Medical Journal, but the main thing was that it helped him get through the hot, sultry nights.

The grapevine has it that George Heard has accepted a job at Pantex, and that the Heards are moving up that way. Also, he has had an unusually good job offer in Iraq. Probably many of his friends never knew it, but George is a tip-top engineer and quit a good job in Chicago, when he came back to Hereford to operate his dairy farm. I always enjoyed arguing with George more than anyone I knew, and will miss him a lot. However, the Heards have not sold their farm, which indicates they might be back someday. Meanwhile, a lot of people will miss them. They are real nice folks.

Maybe we have over-emphasized news coverage on the 1956 carrot crop, but some of the facts are startling indeed. From a measly 1,480 acres of irrigated land last year a total of $583,780 flowed into local pockets during the past five months. Of the total, $288,690 was paid to growers at the rate of $30 per ton, $103,000 went to field labor and $201,000 went to shed labor. If you divide the spendable income $583,780 by the 1,480 acres, you will find that it runs a little bit over $394 per acre.

These figures are exclusively from the Vahlsing deal and, in addition, there was a smaller carrot volume handled through the A&P plant. Newt Harding tells me that Vahlsing will have another 1,500 acres in '56 — maybe a few more. He also says that the deal will run probably 30 days longer; planting will start in March and packaging in mid-July.

The Hereford C-C has done it again. More than twice as many tickets as the Amarillo C-C banquet and many times more than most of the small towns across Texas. This is something of which the entire community can well be proud.

Gov. Price Daniel looks worried. Such was the opinion of most of the 300 publishers who met in Austin last weekend. Gov. Daniel was speaker at the luncheon Saturday, then host at a scheduled trip through the Mansion. Most of us figured that he must be running into a lot of unscheduled static. Mrs. Daniel, too, seemed to be having her troubles. This was the first official reception in the Mansion and, it seems, most of the help had gone with the Shivers when they departed earlier in the week. Many of the newsmen voiced the opinion that the State of Texas should transform the present Mansion quarters into a museum and build a new home for the governor. Truly, it is a historic place: high ceilings, Sam Houston's original bed and most other facilities in proportion. They have some family quarters adjoining the mansion, but still use the Mansion bedrooms and dining rooms for guests.

"We slept in the Houston bed the first night," said Gov. Daniel — "and it sure does sink in the middle."

As a result of the official reception, I am having a lot of trouble getting along with my wife. She was selected to help with the reception at the Mansion and wound up pouring coffee from the big silver urn in the State room. This, she figures, is the height of something or another. With a crowd of 300 in attendance it looked like a lot of hard work to me, but she was real happy. Also, I will have to admit that the coffee was unusually good.

Also visited with the Jess Osborns, Jess being Representative from this district; saw A. M. Aiken, John's brother who is in the Senate, and met Judge Norvell, a good friend of Earnest Langley and other lawyers of the area.

People down in that country are complaining about the drought everywhere you go. It is bad, of course, but nothing like this part of the country where there is no irrigation. There are rumblings of extreme rigid water controls to come up before the Legislature this year. Everyone should keep their ears tuned to Austin and be prepared to protect their interests. Some type of regulation is logical, but one which would work well in Central or East Texas could wreck havoc in this part of the country. Texas is a big state. It is almost impossible to help one part with a blanket law which will not work a hardship on some other part.

This could be the most important thing our area will meet face to face within the next 12 months.

land, set a swift scoring clip for the Demons with 19 markers. Gary Ward had 12, but Jim Boxwell, Jerry Edwards, and Kent Vick were held to eight points each.

Hereford led at the quarter points 24-15, 44-30, and 62-50. Dumas fouled 29 times, and the Whitefaces took advantage of it. They sank 23 free shots. The Herd fouled 15 times, and Dumas duplicated the number with 15 free throws.

HERE'S HOW:

You Can Add to a Dining Theme

AP Newsfeatures

Home is getting to be a co-ordinated decorating project. One takes a theme or a color scheme and develops it into the home decor. Sometimes the decorative accent in a rug or draperies sets the idea in motion.

One way to experiment with this idea is in the dining room. There you can coordinate your table-linens, glassware, china, silver.

You may choose your favorite design in tableware and use it even in a mobile to provide interest above the table. If you love a particular season — spring, summer, autumn — play up that theme all the year round with a design of seashells, boats or floral shapes for summer; leaves, acorns and golden hues for autumn.

One woodland mobile modeled after a set of everyday crystal is always attractive.

Materials Needed

Making it requires heavy paper, pencil, scissors, small round-nose pliers, an awl or center punch, .006 gauge sheet metal (brass was used to provide a gold color without painting), 16 gauge galvanized iron wire, a spray paint in orange.

Here is the construction procedure:

Draw, free-hand, the designs from glassware or china on the paper, cut out the shapes and trace them on the sheet metal. Cut the shapes from the sheet metal with scissors. With a center punch, simply make a hole in the shapes about one-half inch from the top. Choose two shapes you wish to appear at the bottom, placing them as far apart as you want them to be, measure that distance on the wire, adding an inch and a half for the connecting loops and balance loop. At each end of the wire arm, make a loop by bending the wire back against itself with the pliers.

Finding Balance

You can find the balance point of the arm by resting the arm (with two shapes attached) across your forefinger. Make a loop at this point by bending the wire arm back against itself and on around to its original position. Choose the shape you wish to appear above the first two, measure the arm, attach the shape to one end of the arm, making a connecting loop at the other end. Attach this loop to the balance loop of the first arm. Find the point of balance by holding this arm at various places until the mobile is balanced to suit your taste, make a balance loop, and proceed in this fashion until all of the shapes are attached and the mobile is completed.

Spread newspapers on the floor, place the mobile on them and spray the shapes that require any paint. Then hang your woodland mobile up to dry.

Pianist Gets Ovation as Prodigy at 6

By WOLF HEYEN

MUNICH, Germany (AP) — In the land of Bach, Beethoven and Brahms, a little six-year-old American girl is getting rave notices as a pianist.

Of Giordina Bender, daughter of a retired U. S. Air Force colonel, German critics have written: "She is a wunderkind (prodigy)." "She is a new starlet of the heaven of music."

"A miracle of musical memory with striking deep musical expression." And, one newspaper noted, she is a bit temperamental, refusing to perform if the piano is not to her taste.

PRODIGY—Giordina Bender, 6-year-old daughter of retired U. S. Air Force Col. and Mrs. George F. Bender, sits at piano which made her famous. The child has won acclaim from German critics, who call her a prodigy. She lives with her parents at Dissen.

Giordina is the daughter of former Lt. Col. and Mrs. George F. Bender, who live at nearby Dissen. He retired in Bavaria, he said, because he finds his Air Force pension goes further here.

The child was born in Ohio. Her parents have been on the move so much that they no longer have a "home town." Mrs. Bender is a sister of Frank Ricciardi, a New York opera singer who lives in Badminister, N. J. Col. Bender's Giordina started learning to play the piano at the age of 3½. Her first teacher was her mother. Now she is under the guidance of Prof. Richard Trunk, 73, who composed a "musette for piano" as a present

Expanded Services of the Met Make It a National Institution

By W. G. ROGERS

Associated Press Arts Editor NEW YORK (AP) — The Metropolitan Opera is turning into the Cosmopolitan Opera.

The big house at Broadway and 39th used to cater almost exclusively to New Yorkers, but now it is beginning to reach out widely all across the land.

You can't go to performances without coming to the house itself, except of course for its regular but rare out-of-town trips. But the Met will do a lot of other things for you without your budging from your home town in Texas, Virginia, Florida, Michigan, Colorado or Washington.

Most of these off-campus activities center in the National Council of the Metropolitan Opera Assn., founded in 1952 by Mrs. August Belmont, headed now by Mrs. Frederick K. Weyerhaeuser of St. Paul, and becoming stronger every year. Reaching into local communities on a scope far greater than any Metropolitan organization of the past, the council's efforts may finally bring the day when you in Oskosh and you in Kalamazoo can speak of "our Met" with as much justification as we say "our Met" in New York.

The Council helps finance new productions here, admits members to some dress rehearsals; holds annual meetings; has published "Opera Manual" and plans a monthly Bulletin.

Service Important From the out-of-towner's point of view, it exerts its principal influence through the new Central Opera Service (COS) and regional auditions.

The COS, working from files kept at the Met in New York, provides hundreds of hints and helps to all the member opera groups and workshops across the country.

What's a translation of "La Boheme"? How do we hide the on-stage hand in "Aida"? We have two tenors and two sopranos, what is a good opera we could put on to use them? We have a fine ballet group, what opera would show it off to best advantage? Answers to questions such as these are an important part of the direct service COS is providing for communities throughout the nation.

As a measure of the size of the operation, more than 500 organizations have been asked to file date with COS, organizations that are so active now that nine operas are produced every day in the United States.

Auditions Expanded The second big community service of the council is its financial support for a greatly expanded auditions system that through local and regional competition feeds talent to the annual Auditions of the Air.

Begun in the 1930s, Auditions of the Air up until recently operated only in New York. Perhaps 500 singers were heard each year. Thanks to efforts of local chapters of the council, about 1,000 young people were screened last year and the number may rise to 1,500 this season. About one in 10 of the prospects has a chance to be heard by the ultimate authority.

Art Guild Plans Beginners' Class

The Hereford Art Guild is asking all persons who are interested in the proposed evening art class for beginners to call 2016, 1181 or 141. Enrollment must be completed by Tuesday.

The class will meet from 7 to 9 p.m. once each week for 10 weeks and will be taught by Miss Isabel Robinson of West Texas College, Canyon. The first session will be Thursday, Feb. 7.

ATOMIC DEER LOS ALAMOS, N. M. (AP) — The Isaac Walton League has been painting white deer on many of the roads in and around this atomic laboratory community. The idea is to alert residents and visitors of the chance of deer-car collisions. There are 25 to 30 deer killed each year in this way in Los Alamos or nearby, the State Game Department said.

On U. S. railroads a milk car is classed as a passenger (not freight) train car.

for his star pupil when she was six a few weeks ago.

The curly-haired little girl has performed here several times and her mother says that three more concerts are scheduled.

She plays 11 classical pieces without notes. "It's hard to imagine," one critic wrote, "how those little fingers can handle such difficult music."

PRINCIPALS OF CHANGE—The Metropolitan Opera is becoming cosmopolitan. Important to the expansion are Howard J. Hook, left, chairman of regional auditions, and Marguerite Wickersham, center, director of the National Council of the Metropolitan Opera Assn. The two are showing off the Met to Robert Nagy, right, who won a $2,000 scholarship in the council's expanded audition program.

ty, a Met assistant general manager.

Miss Marguerite Wickersham, director of the council, maintains that these auditions yield great benefits locally. In the past, local companies have complained that the Met was too remote, and didn't pay any attention to local problems. Now the Met — through the COS advisory service and the audition program — goes right into the community.

Beneficial Effect Just the organization of local auditions results in closer cooperation among all the individuals in the local music world — the press and radio, the director, manager, conductor, music club. And many local singers get a chance with the local symphony which, without publicity stemming from the audition, had been denied them before.

Auditions this year have already been held in Seattle. There will be others this winter in Salt Lake City, Tulsa, Chicago, Cleveland, New Orleans and Minneapolis, first-community to start them back in 1952.

The council has more than 200 members, who pay $300 a year, and associate members, who pay $250. Besides financing the auditions program, the council also gives the Met a new production every year — Offenbach's "La Perichole" was the scheduled 1956-57 novelty.

French Crows Can't Decipher American Calls

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP) — If you don't think birds can talk just ask three scientists at Pennsylvania State University.

Dr. Hubert W. Frings, Mabel Frings and Joseph Jumber report that birds of the same species from different countries have difficulty understanding each other.

In a series of tests with French scientists the Penn State trio found that "cries of a French crow had brought no reaction from crows in Maine although a small percentage of the crows in Pennsylvania responded.

Crows, they said, have various specific sounds that might be classified as assembly calls, food finding calls or alarm calls.

The assembly call of the American crow, when played to roosting French crows, prompted some of the French crows to fly toward the sound. All other calls, however, brought no reaction, the scientists reported.

Approximately 40 percent of U. S. public and private secondary schools now offer automobile driver instruction to students.

Bud To Blossom Club Names New Officers

Officers for another year were elected at the Bud to Blossom Club meeting held in the home of Mrs. W. H. Patton Friday afternoon.

Those who will take over duties of office in May are Mrs. Preston Hagans, president; Mrs. Sam Long first vice president; Mrs. Jim White, second vice president; Mrs. Ray Godwin, third vice president; Mrs. W. H. Patton, secretary; Mrs. R. A. Daniel Jr., corresponding secretary; Mrs. C. R. Higgins, treasurer; Mrs. John Sands, reporter; Mrs. Pat Robinson, federation director; and Mrs. R. N. Yarbro, parliamentary.

Mrs. Ray Godwin gave a discussion on the planting, care and culture of roses, naming various types of plants that grow well in this area.

Following the program, Mrs. Jim Wood showed colored slides of her own rose garden. The arrangement for the day, made by Mrs. Ray Godwin, was of dried materials sprayed with gold.

Members attending were Mesdames R. N. Yarbro, R. A. Daniel Jr., W. B. Goates, Ray Godwin, Preston Hagans, Ray Godwin, J. T. Martin, Pat Robinson, John Sands, Lloyd Sharp, Delmo Williams, W. Glenn Williams, Jim Wood, E. R. Kendall, and the hostess.

New Task-Force 57 Chevrolet Trucks

Six heavily loaded Chevy trucks ran all the way up the rugged Alcan Highway in less than 45 hours! That's cutting more than a full day off the normal running time! They ran right around the clock, stopping only to refuel.

But the important fact about this run was that it proved new Chevy trucks through and through. The Alcan Highway is a supreme test of every truck component. Engines had to prove their power up high-climbing grades and through washouts. Frames and suspensions flexed their muscles over axle-deep ruts and miles of pounding gravel. "And not a single truck turned back or dropped out due to mechanical failure," states the official AAA report of the test. Every model proved its over-all economy by its ironclad ability to stay on the job! Stop by, we'll talk about it.

Bird's Death Is Attributed to Dejection

A hen committed suicide early Saturday at the Bull Barn. She hung herself by catching her head in the wire mesh at the top of a display cage.

"This was the first fatality in 11 years of Junior Livestock and Poultry Shows in Hereford," said Mrs. Argen Draper, county home demonstration agent.

The bird belonged to Mary Helen Maples of Hart, who earlier had seen another of her fowls win the champion bird of the show award.

The suicide was attributed to either the hen's dejection over having placed fourth in her class or to her overhearing the latest quotation on the price of eggs. "Either thing would have sent a hen to feeling mighty low," one poultry entrant commented.

Vets' Land Sale Deadline Is Near

AUSTIN, Jan. 23 — Texas veterans were reminded today that they have only until Feb. 5 to submit bids on 56 tracts of land which the Veterans' Land Board has for sale.

Land Commissioner Earl Rudder, who is chairman of the V.L.B., explained that — unlike normal procedure in the Veterans' Land Program — veterans are not required to obtain an application number to purchase any of these tracts.

The lands to be sold, which are located in all sections of the state, have been forfeited by original owners who purchased the property through the Veterans' Land Program.

Commissioner Rudder urged veterans who are interested in this sale to inquire immediately of the Veterans' Land Board in Austin for information.

7 Home Demonstration Clubs Hold Meetings

Home demonstration club meetings held recently covered four subjects: what to do in case of a highway accident, clothing, planning the wardrobe, and health and safety.

Mrs. Argen Draper, county agent gave the program at four of seven meetings.

Detailed reports on each of the meetings follow:

Westway

New officers were installed at the Westway H. D. Club meeting held Jan. 10 at the home of Mrs. George Turrentine.

Mrs. Turrentine was installed as president; Mrs. Kenneth Rudd as vice president; Mrs. Morris Easley as secretary; Mrs. C. A. Saulcy as council delegate, and Mrs. Clifford Moreland as reporter. Mrs. Ernest Flood was elected council clothing demonstrator.

Subject of the meeting was "What to do in case of a highway accident." Mrs. P. B. Sowell gave the program.

Coffee and cake were served by the hostess.

Members present included Mrs. Ernest Flood, Mrs. Roy Wilson, Mrs. Harold Rudd, Mrs. Kenneth Rudd, Mrs. Paul Rudd, Mrs. C. A. Saulcy, Mrs. P. B. Sowell, Mrs. George Turrentine, Mrs. Morris Easley, Mrs. Joe Landers, Mrs. Charles Owen, Mrs. Waldron Melton, Mrs. Bess Werner, and Mrs. Clifford Moreland.

Bypass

"What to do in case of a highway accident," was the subject at the Bypass H. D. meeting held Jan. 16 at the home of Mrs. Elmo Hall. Mrs. G. V. Hall gave the program.

This was the first meeting of the year for the club. A dust storm forced postponement of one scheduled Jan. 9.

Members present were Mesdames J. G. Fortenberry, G. V. Hall, Christine Fortenberry and Elmo Hall.

Ford

Members of the Ford H. D. Club discussed clothing at the home of Mrs. L. J. Straffuss, Jan. 16. Mrs. Argen Draper presented the program.

Mrs. Draper said, "It takes careful planning to be dressed appropriately and attractively every place you go."

Visiting the meeting were Mrs. Marvin Finley, Mrs. W. O. Conn, Misses Lovilla Finley, Stella Jo Wiseman, and Loretta Straffuss.

Members present were Mesdames Leroy Williamson, Willa Williamson, Dwayne Walker, Clifton Corley, J. L. Fite, Henry Browning, R. E. Simmons, J. E. Dyer, Tom Draper, L. J. Straffuss, and S. T. Wiseman.

Immediately following the meeting, a bridal shower was given for Mrs. Marvin Finley.

South Hereford

Meeting in the home of Mrs. Clara Shore, the South Hereford H. D. Club discussed clothing with Mrs. Argen Draper leading the program.

Mrs. W. M. Lenderman and Mrs. Glenn Weir were guests. New members are Mrs. C. O. Wilkins and Mrs. J. C. Moody.

The club voted to have a luncheon at the second meeting each month. A meeting will be held Jan. 29 in the Friendship Room of the Hereford State Bank.

Members present were Mesdames Leona Matthews, Eldon Craig, G. G. Williams, A. L. Flowers, Ethel Layman, Otto Massie, Roy Manning, Evelyn Bell, Clara Shore, Edna Draper, John Hacker, Draper and Goettsch.

Homemakers

"Planning Your Wardrobe," was the program subject for the Homemakers H. D. Club as it met in the home of Mrs. Ray Barclay, on Jan. 10. County Agent Mrs. Argen Draper gave the program.

Mrs. Draper gave suggestions on how the homemaker can most economically clothe her family. Mrs. Henry Kinsey was chosen as clothing demonstrator for the club.

A recreation committee was named. Elected were Mrs. Cruse Richardson, Mrs. Kinsey and Mrs. Barclay.

Present were Mrs. Don Hicks, Mrs. Bobby Thuet, Mrs. Richardson, Mrs. Barclay, Mrs. Tom Barclay and Mrs. Draper.

Messenger

Friday, Jan. 11, the Messenger H. D. Club met at Mrs. Ernest Brown's home for its first meeting of the year. Nine members and three visitors were present.

The year book was filled out for the first half of 1957. Mrs. Floyd Brown was installed as treasurer.

Planning one's wardrobe was the program subject. Mrs. Argen Draper gave the program.

A luncheon was planned for the next meeting at Mrs. Ruth Coleman's home. Mrs. E. M. Jack and Mrs. S. N. Thweatt won prizes. Mrs. N. A. Brown and Mrs. Jack received gifts from their secret pals.

Visitors were Mrs. Eldred Brown, Mrs. E. M. Hix and Mrs. Draper. Members present were Mesdames Bob Howard, W. D. Howard, J. M. Jack, Elmer Northcutt, N. A. Brown, Ernest Brown, Floyd Coleman, S. N. Thweatt, and Ruth Coleman.

Wyche

Mrs. Richard Pickens gave pointers on health and safety for the Wyche H. D. Club meeting held Jan. 17 at the home of Mrs. J. V. Pickens.

Mrs. E. C. Hewitt Jr., a former member, re-joined the club.

Mrs. Pickens' talk told what to do in case of a highway accident.

Next meeting will be held Feb. 7 at Mrs. H. L. Ward's home.

Present were Mesdames Wilburn Axe, C. C. Ellis, C. R. Damon, H. L. Ward, George L. Olson, Richard Pickens, E. C. Hewitt Jr., J. V. Pickens, O. B. Sumner, and Ira Ott.

Poultry Show Is The Best One Yet

By ARGEN DRAPER

The 1957 Junior Livestock and Poultry Show was certainly the best yet.

In the poultry division 175 birds were exhibited by 27 entrants. The Rotary Club was called on for more prize money than ever, which is an indication the exhibitors have learned to fill the classes and to bring better fitted birds to the show.

Our sincere thanks go to the many people who helped in setting up the show and in cleaning up the exhibits.

Dorothy Prowell did an excellent job as superintendent of the poultry division. The poultry show ran very smoothly. I saw her and Ray Northcutt watering and feeding all the birds after the judging. That's a job you exhibitors should thank the folks for doing for you.

We've had the first casualty at the poultry show. Saturday morning we found a hen had hung herself. There was a lot of speculation as to the cause. The most logical reason was that she was a poor loser and couldn't take it. The pen that she was in had won only 4th place.

Doris Mahaffey Starkey has sent some pictures of the two children. Two of the photographs are in the office as I know you would like to see them. Also there's an album which Doris made. It is snapshots of the children's activities of the last few months. The album is stitched together on the machine with the snapshots pasted on. Doris has written real cute comments under the pictures.

Last fall, Doris entered a nationwide sewing contest. There were 5,000 entrants in this contest and Doris won one of the 13 honorable mention places. This contest was on making children's clothes and the judging was done by snapshots.

At club the past week, I saw some cafe curtains which were made from old living room curtains. The club hostess said that she liked these better than when they were new. It's like making over a dress. Often the made-over dress gives the wearer more satisfaction than a new one.

The agents will be in Amarillo next week attending a clothing workshop and a meeting with Miss Eloise Johnson, who is family life specialist.

Rep. Osborn Will Serve Committees

Rep. Jesse Osborn of Muleshoe has been re-appointed to the appropriations committee in the State Legislature in session now in Austin. This is the second year Osborn has served on this important committee. Osborn is also chairman of the sub-committee or appropriations for the hospitals and special schools. Serving with him is Rep. Sam Wohlford, of Stratford.

Osborn has also been appointed a member of the following committees: conservation and reclamation, labor, judicial districts, and is vice chairman of the contingent expense committee, which handles expenses of the legislature.

Ann Royal Enters Skiing Program

Ann Royal, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Royal, Hereford, will participate in the winter ski program at Colorado Women's College in Denver.

Five trips to the Winter Park ski area have been planned for the students.

The Blankets
The blankets that are in constant use may be rinsed in soapy water as well as washed in it. It results in a more fluffy, soft blanket. However, if the blanket is to be packed away it is safer to rinse in clear water and remove all the soap granules.

EVERY WOMAN NEEDS:

Pretty Party Aprons

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

There's nothing like a pretty, crisp organdy apron to make a party of the simplest occasion. And when they're so easy to make, every woman should have several.

Local sewing center experts suggest you pick up one-yard pieces of organdy in various colors, the next time your piece-goods store has a remnant sale. Since organdy is so light, you can cut as many as three or four aprons at once, sew them up and have fun with decorations.

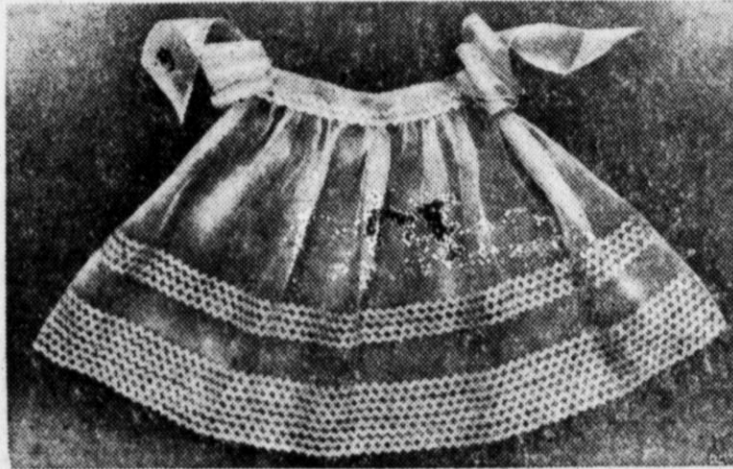

To make the basic apron, take a one-yard piece of organdy. Cut the main apron section 36 by 18 inches. Cut two ties, four inches wide and about 30 inches long. Cut a waistband, five inches wide and about 16 inches long.

Fold, press and stitch a three-inch hem in the apron. Hem apron sides and ties, using the narrow hemmer attachment for your sewing machine. Gather the top of the apron to fit waist band. (For this, you use a long stitch on the machine and pull up the thread to gather.) Press in raw edges of the waistband one-quarter inch. Fold in half lengthwise. Slip over apron top and machine baste. Slip ties in side openings. Top stitch sides and lower edge of waistband.

Now it's time for decorating. All sorts of gay effects can be created with rickrack, using the braid in contrasting color, in silver or gold or by combining several kinds of rickrack.

Pastel rickrack with silver glitter is decorative enough to be stitched on all by itself, in even rows. Be sure to stitch so the points meet, so the organdy shows through in tiny diamond-shaped patches.

GALA APRON—Easy to make of white or pastel organdy trimmed in rows of matching or metallic rickrack.

A festive effect can be achieved by use of silver or gold rickrack, or a combination of the two. If you want to be really gay, add some glittery sequins.

Metallic rickrack is guaranteed washable and non-tarnishing, so you'll have no worry about your pretty party aprons losing their glamor on washday.

Sadie Lee-Oliver 4-H Club Meets

The Sadie Lee Oliver 4-H Club met recently at the home of Mrs. Frank Zinser and held a recreation program. Two new members, Nicky and Glenda Bradford, were present.

Other members attending were Nancy Green, Kathryn Flood, Jackie Nunley, Sandra Moreland, Jo Ann Moreland, Sandra Green, Janice Head and Deborah Pierce. The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. C. L. Moreland.

Reviving Rugs

You can improve the color of your worn rug by adding half a cupful of vinegar to half a pint of water, wringing a large clean cloth out of this, and going over the carpet with wide strokes.

Stains

To remove cod liver oil stains from fabrics, sponge freely with carbon tetrachloride and then wash in warm soapsuds. This should be done as soon as possible.

The wood preservative industry in the United States has a payroll of more than 14,000 persons.

Brady Re-Enrolls at A & M Tech

James Brady of Hereford has enrolled for the spring semester at Oklahoma A&M Tech, Okmulgee. Brady is in the school of diesel engineering.

Federal government employment in Colorado is 33,200. This is more than the state's mining industry payroll.

SUBJECT OF SURVEY—Mothers, like daughters, were taking the Betty Crocker homemaking test in the Hereford High School homemaking department last week. The girls take the tests in competition for college scholarships, and the mothers, this year participated to give a comparative basis for analyzing the effectiveness of the courses taught in the school. The scores will be compared in an article to appear soon in Farm Journal. Mothers taking the test were Mrs. Carl Williams, right, Mrs. Guy Newsom, center, and Mrs. Frank L. Daniel, Mrs. Ralph Paul, Mrs. S. T. Wiseman, Mrs. Frank Huckert, Mrs. A. M. Kershen, Mrs. Edgar Skypala, Mrs. Earl J. Springer and Mrs. Roy McCullough. (Staff Photo)

Beauty At Home

Q. Can you tell me how I can clean one of my clear plastic belts?
 A. This can be cleaned safely with lukewarm water and mild soap, either by brush or by soaking. Only surface stains are removable, however. Discolorations that go all the way through the plastic or stains that penetrate are usually hopeless.

Q. How can I prevent brittleness in my fingernails?
 A. By daily buffing, and by once-weekly soaking in warm oil.

Q. What makeup technique will help de-emphasize a long, thin neck?
 A. Use a foundation cream on the neck one shade lighter than your natural skin tone. Long-necked persons should also dress their hair as low as possible, and should refrain from wearing dresses with low necklines which tend to accentuate the neck length.

rules of true beauty.
 A. Beauty begins in the heart—think pleasant thoughts, and these will be reflected in your face. Lifetime beauty depends upon daily beauty care. Know your face and skin-type, so you can put your best face forward. For a fresh and a glowing complexion, you must remember to cleanse, lubricate, and stimulate. The best makeup is one that your friends can't see. Know your feature attraction, and feature it. Keep in shape — you have to catch a man's eye in order to win his heart.

Q. Where do you think women show their age first?
 A. According to one recent poll (and I can't find much fault with it), the eyes were first, followed in order by the skin, the neck, the hips, the hands, the mouth, the hair, and finally the legs.

Q. What is a good, regular treatment for dry hair?
 A. Very beneficial is the practice of adding a few drops of olive oil to the liquid soap shampoo.

Household Scrapbook.

Greasy Gravy and Soup
 When soup stock or gravy is too greasy and there is no time to cool it so the congealed fat can rise to the top, wrap a couple of ice cubes in a small piece of cheesecloth and run over the top of the soup or gravy. The excess fat will collect on the cold surface of the cloth and thus can be removed easily.

Fresh Bread
 Fresh bread should never be placed in the container along with stale bread, or it will also become stale very quickly. Keep the stale bread in a separate box.

Chocolate Stains
 To remove cocoa or chocolate stains, soak in cold borax water before washing in tepid suds and drying in the sun.

Window Boxes
 If you wish to prevent trouble from insects in your window boxes, whitewash the insides of the box before putting in the dirt. This will also prevent the box from rotting.

Cleaning Stove Pipes
 To clean a stove pipe, place a piece of zinc on the coals of a hot stove. The vapors arising from this will carry off the soot by chemical decomposition.

Olive Oil
 Olive oil or salad oil will not become rancid if a pinch or two of sugar is added to the oil as soon as it is opened.

A Hemming Hint
 When hemming a skirt, if a double stitch is taken every few inches it not only strengthens the work but should the hem rip, it cannot be a long ope.

Q. What have you to say about over-powdering?
 A. The flour-barrel look hasn't been in since the day of the powdered wig. Powder eaked in the crevices alongside the nose, around the eyes, and in the eyebrows and hairline — not to mention powder-stains on the neckline of the dress — are unsightly and signs of carelessness and poor grooming. There is a correct way to apply powder so that it will be a FINISH for your loveliness, rather than a blot on daintiness.

Q. Just what is the "taper" system of cutting the hair?
 A. Taper cutting is done by running the scissors in a quick, light scraping motion toward the scalp, starting at the point where your fingers are holding the hair. The result is a tapered end, which is softer, curlier, and more manageable for the average head of hair.

Q. What can I add to my bath water to promote greater body skin beauty?
 A. A pound of epsom salts to a generous tubful of hot water is very beneficial to the skin.

Q. How can I help to induce more plumpness into the front of my neck?
 A. Massage some olive oil or a pure cold cream freely into the skin with the fingers of each hand, massaging first the right of the neck, then the left. Use a rotary movement, which is circulation-inducing.

Q. Please suggest some good

Long Time Ago

45 Years Ago
 A pleasant afternoon at "42" was afforded to guests at the home of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Head Wednesday from 4 to 6 o'clock. She was assisted by her friends, Mrs. Leslie Moreman and Miss Nell V'yehe. In the evening, the young people enjoyed a similar hospitality, when Miss Head and Miss Wyche had with them a number of young people, surrounding four tables of progressive "42." During the evening Misses Gallaher and Gregg rendered a few piano numbers. Refreshments of bisque and cake were served to those present, who were Misses McLean, Gallaher, Clingman, Elder, Gregg, Wyche and Mrs. Tucker, and Messrs. THE MIGHTY CHRYSLER

Most glamorous car in a generation

Look how little it costs to own the world's most modern motor car

If you have believed the cost of a Chrysler to be out of your reach, you owe it to your pocketbook to stop in and inquire about the new Chrysler Windsor illustrated above.

Here is a car which in beauty, bravn and engineering quality has always been compared with the most expensive cars made. Yet it is priced right smack with the medium-price cars.

Remember, too, that this is all Chrysler... full size outside and in. It brings you all of Chrysler's triumphant new 1957 achievements... the new Torsion-Aire suspension that eliminates rock and roll... new TorqueFlite transmission... a 285-horsepower airplane-type V-8 engine, Total-Contact brakes and many others.

When you compare these pace-setting advances with what the three other major cars in its price class offer you for the same money... we think you'll be satisfied with nothing less than the most glamorous car in a generation. Come in soon and drive it!

See the Chrysler Windsor the only premium-class car that sells at a medium price!

CPL. DELTON R. COCHRAN
Cpl. Cochran Is Serving in Japan

Serving at the U. S. Naval Air Station, Iwakuni, Japan with the 1st Marine Aircraft Wing is Cpl. Delton R. Cochran, son of Mrs. Zona Cochran of 206 Grand Ave., and husband of the former Miss Nelda Pfifer of 206 Ross St., all of Hereford.

Before entering the service in August 1954, he was graduated from Hereford High School. He arrived in the Far East on Dec. 8.

ROBBERY ROADBLOCK IS FINE
MURPHYSBORO, Ill. (AP)—Truck driver Robert Reed Welch learned about a bank robbery the hard way.

He was arrested by Jackson County Deputy Sheriff Arch Edwards for passing a car in a "double yellow line no passing zone."

When he paid his $14 fine in a Justice of the Peace Court, he was told that the car he passed was held up by a roadblock set up after a bank robbery at Campbell Hill.

Tea production hit a new world record in 1955 with India, Ceylon and Africa reporting bumper crops.

How Can I?

Q. How can I make a cement for mending broken china?
A. By stirring freshly slaked lime into the white of an egg until it becomes the consistency of paste—apply to the edges of broken china and let dry for at least three days. This cement can also be used on marble and glass.

Q. How can I store potatoes for the winter?
A. Discard all the potatoes that show the least sign of decay or sprout. Pile potatoes in the basement and cover well with straw, or with burlap.

Q. What is a good treatment for frostbite?
A. Rub gently with snow, or with cloths wrung out of ice cold water, and keep the patient away from any direct source of heat.

Q. How can I remove grease spots from linoleum or wooden floors?
A. Do not wash the floor with hot water, as this will set the grease. Wash with cold water and soap powder until the spots disappear.

Q. How can I clean windows during freezing weather?
A. If the weather is so cold that water cannot be applied to the windows without freezing, dampen a piece of cheesecloth with kerosene and the windows can be cleaned quickly.

Q. What is a substitute for mince meat?
A. A good substitute for the usual meat for mince pies is two bouillon cubes.

Q. How can I stop the eyes from watering in windy weather?
A. Relief may be had by bathing them in a solution of 10 grains of boric acid to 1 ounce of hot distilled water.

Q. How can I keep quinces?
A. Place them carefully in a barrel, using only perfectly sound fruit. Fill the barrel with water, fasten on the head of the barrel and put in a cool place. They should keep fresh all winter.

Q. How can I protect the blankets to prevent frequent laundering?
A. Sew a piece of thin muslin to the blanket, reaching about 8 inches down from the top. This will lighten the cleaning bills.

Q. How can I keep from soiling the wall paper when washing the woodwork?
A. Try using a strip of tin, about one foot long and six inches wide, holding it against the edge of the woodwork. Also use this method when painting or varnishing the woodwork.

Q. How can I clean velvet slip-pers?
A. Brush the slippers well with a stiff brush and then steam them over a boiling kettle.

Library Bulletins Attract Attention of School's Youth

A book for every month in the year is featured on the bulletin board arranged for the high school library by two enterprising student librarians, Kaye Kerschen and Elane Wagener. Almost without exception the titles of the colorful book jackets imposed on the page of the calendar has a significance to tie it in with that month.

"Let's Read More in '57" is the slogan spelled out above the display.

Sonja Henie's "Wings on My Feet" gets the display off to a moving start for the month of January, while the patriotic emphasis in February is reflected in "Sally Townsend, Patriot," by Dorothy Horton McGee.

Of course Texas dominates the month of March with "Sam Houston, The Tallest Texan," by William Johnson. The stir of farm activity in April is suggested by "Fields of Home" by Ralph Moody.

Looming large in the calendar of events is "Senior Year" by Anne Emery marking May, the graduation month; then the vacation mood of the school-free youngsters suggests for their reading "Adventure Calls" by Elva S. Smith for the month of June.

July, the harvest month, features "Winter Wheat" by Mildred Walker, while school again looms large in the eyes of the college-bound graduate, and surely he will want to read "How to Pass College Entrance Tests" by Turner and Peters during August.

September suggests "Gridiron Challenge" by Jackson Scholz, and October's colorful fall weather should put students in the frame of mind to read "A Leaf of Gold" by Sarah Louise Barrett.

The junior librarians recommend for any month "How to be a Successful Teen-Ager" by Wm. C. Menninger, which they chose for November. And December's holiday season should be just the right time for reading "Christmas without Johnny" by Gladys Hasty Carroll, the library assistants suggest.

"This bulletin board has attracted more attention than almost any we have had this year," commented Mrs. Olean Leggett, high school librarian.

LOOK!
...more than a car
...more than a truck

LOOK again!
IT'S THE NEW FORD RANCHERO

Looking at the boldly modern styling of the new Ford Ranchero, you may find it hard to believe that it's actually a man-sized truck. But, you'll find there's a lot of left behind the glamour.

It carries more than half a ton. That's more capacity than many standard pickup trucks offer you. Loading height is less than any pickup. No matter how you look at it, the new Ford Ranchero is a real workhorse.

And it's a show pony, too! The Ranchero looks, rides and handles like a passenger car. Its low, crisp lines have a wonderful way of saying how progressive you and your company are.

The new Ford Ranchero is surprising in many ways. Never has so much style and luxury been packed into so rugged a vehicle at such a low price.

HERE'S MY 10%

Now come on Mister... Don't Try to 'Tip' God. That is only your tithe. Jesus put it very plain to those who fail to give back a tenth. He called them robbers and made it stick. What manner of man is he who will accept the Lord's proffer and (it all belongs to God) then fail to give back a tenth of his profit? Sir, "The tenth is Holy unto the Lord," Lev. 27:32. Tithing is God's invitation to form a partnership with the only corporation that can't go broke. If you are in the oil business; if you are a man of industry; if you are a financier, and not full partners with God... beware of the crash!!! You can't win when you cheat God. His collection plans are many and make no mistake, He'll collect from you. Go to church and 'turn in' your tithe, for "Those who withhold more than is right will come to poverty," Prov. 11:24.

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions stronger democracy, in the church the ministerial are molding religious character. Statesmen today declare that the church alone can furnish leadership to handle the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then we on Sunday, "You in the Church and the Church in you" form a combination for good. Be a regular CHURCH-GOER and a daily BIBLE READER.

On Using a Hacksaw

AP Newsfeatures

DO... be certain in placing a hacksaw blade in the frame that the teeth point away from the handle.

DO... use blades with 14 or 18 teeth per inch for cutting hard metal of fairly thick stock, those with 24 and 32 teeth per inch for light tubing and sheet metal.

DO... always have the metal in the vise so that the line being cut is fairly close to the vise jaws—and always file a notch in the metal as a starting point.

DO... bear in mind that a hacksaw cuts only on the forward stroke, therefore release your pressure as you bring the blade back.

DON'T... try to resharpen a hacksaw blade, since it cannot be done satisfactorily; always keep extra blades on hand to replace dull and broken ones. DON'T... overlook a trick used by professionals to determine whether the proper tension is present. Pluck the blade lightly after setting it in place. A slight hum means the blade has the correct tension.

DON'T... try to chop your way through the metal. Use a long, sweeping stroke, with the blade in a straight line on the stock.

DON'T... try to save money by buying cheap blades. A good one that costs only a little more will give far better service and last much longer.

TANKS FOR THE SUGGESTION
SANTA ANA, Calif. (AP) — Battalion Chief Vernon Gross of the Santa Ana Fire Department, says it may not be the best idea to "fill 'er up" when you pull into a service station.

He said calls to the fire department to check on leaking gasoline tanks have prompted a warning that a tank filled to the brim with cool gasoline may not be big enough for the expanding fuel when the temperature climbs at midday. In addition, he said, the car may be parked with the tank opening on the down-slanted side, and a leak may result.

CAT NIPPER
PRAGUE, Okla. (AP) — Chiquita King, a registered Siamese cat, is just a bottle baby.

When he was a kitten, he was taught to hold a nursing bottle and drink warm milk from it. After seven months, the cat still demands a bottle. He lays on his back and holds the bottle in his paws.

Hints Offered to Aid in Starting and Keeping Lawn

Good lawns don't just happen. They are the product of considerable time and effort, says E. M. Trew, extension agronomist. A fertile soil, adapted grasses, and drainage along with proper watering, fertilization and mowing are essentials for establishing an attractive lawn.

A sandy loam soil high in organic matter is considered best for lawns—the lawn area should be graded for proper drainage and smoothness. Sand may be added to clay soils or clay to loose sandy soils in order to make them suitable for lawns, says Trew. A soil test is recommended in order to know just what kinds and amounts of plant food should be added to the soil. The fertilizer should be worked into the soil by plowing or spading. The addition of organic matter will improve the tilth and water holding capacity of the soil but in new lawns, Trew recommends the use of a nitrogen fertilizer along with the organic matter to take care of the decomposition process.

Use Adapted Grass

Only adapted grasses should be used in the lawn. Bermuda is the most widely adapted lawn grass for Texas. Buffalograss is recommended for areas where watering facilities are not available except in East Texas and Gulf Coast areas. Centipede is not generally recommended for lawns. Zoysia is adapted in Texas but unless the home owner is willing to do all the necessary things for establishing and maintaining a beautiful lawn this grass is not recommended. Perennial ryegrass, tall fescue and Kentucky bluegrass can be used in the Panhandle area for permanent lawn grasses if irrigated.

Trew recommends that only high quality seed of a single grass, not a mixture, be used for lawn seeding. Lawns may also be established with sprigs or by sodding depending upon the grass used. The new lawn should be watered lightly and frequently until it is established. Then less frequently and in increased amounts as needed. Mow frequently, clipping only about a half inch of growth at each mowing—fertilize throughout the growing season for an attractive, vigorous growing lawn.

GOING TO DOGS

FARMINGTON, N. M. (AP)—When the city poundmaster resigned in this northwestern New Mexico city the Farmington Times solemnly reported that it was safe to say the town was going back to the dogs.

Gentility Keynotes Spring Styles

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

An easy, gentle look distinguishes spring fashions, as previewed by New York designers.

There's no straining for effect, no exaggerated lines, no unnatural contortions of waistline or bustline. Instead the new clothes for spring fit easily and loosely, permitting freedom of movement and comfortable poise.

It often has been said that no woman can look pretty if she is uncomfortable in her clothes, and this year fashion designers agree. So skirts, while slim, have room enough for walking and jackets, while slender, have no nipped waists or built-up busts. The way to look smart this spring, it seems, is to look natural and at ease.

Suits are almost uniformly slender in line, with brief jackets and skirts that give freedom of movement by means of panels, poptops or tunics. The bolero, the box jacket, the bloused-back jacket and the cape are all in the picture.

Dresses for street wear usually have slim lines also, but for afternoon and party wear there are plenty of full skirts — not the exaggerated kind that require layers of crinolines, but softly gathered or flared skirts that are easy and flattering to wear.

Dress-and-jacket costumes continue as a favorite of American women, while ensembles of full-length coat or cape and coordinated dress also are important.

Fabrics are feather-weight, often draped, always soft and sometimes floating. Colors are lighter in tone, with many tender pastels in the spring lineup.

It's a season for the gentleman.

PARTY DRESS—Braniff designs a black tissue silk dance dress with easy, full skirt and all-over tuck-over jacket of white chiffon.

NOTICE OF SALE OF SCHOOL PROPERTY

The Board of Trustees of the Hereford Rural High School District, having rejected all bids received last Tuesday, January 15th, on the proposed sale of school owned land as advertised, again proposes to sell this tract of land, described as the West one-half of Block No. 4, Welsh Addition to the Town of Hereford. Sealed bids will be received in the school tax office in the court house, up to 5:00 p.m., Tuesday, January 29th. Bids should be filed in a sealed envelope which is plainly marked with the words, "Bid on Land."

Your school board, in consideration of the trust and confidence placed in it by the voters and taxpayers of the Hereford Rural High School District, believe that it is in honor bound to dispose of this property at the very best price obtainable. Each member of the Board feels that the bids received on January 15th were not as high as this property might reasonably be expected to bring.

We want to express our appreciation however to those who did submit bids and we hope that you may again, along with others, file your bid for the proposed sale for Tuesday, January 29th. The Board must again, as a protection to the taxpayers and property owners of the school district, reserve the right to reject any and all bids. Robert E. Wagoner, President, Board of Trustees, Hereford Rural High School District.

Stop dreaming... PRICE IT!

The Chieftain costs less than a lot of the "low-priced" cars yet delivers MORE POWER—MORE WHEELBASE—MORE ROOM!

Think this big, brawny beauty would fetch a fancy figure? Not the Chieftain. It's made to order for wishful thinkers—priced right down there with the strictly budget jobs! Surprised? You'll be even more so when you look over the long list of premium features in this brilliant newcomer. Under that glamorous garb, for example, is a big, rock-rugged X-member frame, riding solidly atop a whopping 122-inch wheelbase! Cushioning each wheel is Level-Line Ride, Pontiac's new dimension in suspension, bringing you the smoothest, safest ride you've ever known. And up front is the deep-chested new 347 cu. in., 10 to 1 compression ratio Strato-Streak V-8 engine—as sweet a performer as ever came down the pike! So, come on, stop dreaming! Come in and have a look at this big and beautiful automobile's eye-rubbing price! Size it up! We're willing to wager your next step will be into a Pontiac Chieftain!
