Bill Dufur, son of Mr. and Mrs. Sherman Dufur of the Dameron Ranch, is the regional winner of the Producers Grain Corp. talent contest for 4-H Club members, reports Hugh Clearman, county agent. Pat Dawson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Dawson, 219 Lee St., was selected as alternate in the girls' division of the contest. As talent contest winner, Dufur will receive an all-expense paid trip to Colorado in mid-August to visit scenic points and attend the American Institute of Cooperatives meeting at Fort Collins.

Six Deaf Smith County 4-H girls and boys this week will attend a district camp for farm youth at Camp Don Harrington near Amarillo. They are Sharon Bezner, Peggy Browning, Nancy Parsons, Bill Dufur, Nathan Wilson and J. V. Perrin Jr. Mrs. T. J. Parsons, Mrs. Dorothea Prowell and Hugh Clearman will accompany the group. The camp starts tomorrow morning and ends Wednesday afternoon.

Ted Kroll has purchased the Lincoln-Mercury dealership from Dale Zant. The sale was effective this week. Kroll has been in Hereford since 1949, operating ice cream drive-ins.

The Senior Youth Department of the First Methodist Church will hold a Work Day Monday to raise money for their local budget. The youths will do such jobs as window washing, car washing, cleaning house, mowing lawns and baking cakes. Anyone interested in having any of these or various other jobs done may call the First Methodist Church office at 2198 on Monday.

Pioneer Day Draws Crowd of 6,000

Rain Ruins Rodeo but Old-Timers Enjoy Celebration

Three hundred pioneers were joined by 6,000 younger residents of the Hereford area Friday in the celebration of Pioneer Day. The pioneer meeting and visitation at the Jim Hill Hotel was termed a big success, the parade proved popular with a total of 18 entries, but the scheduled three-day rodeo was washed out by heavy rains, as was the merchants' drawing — now rescheduled for next Saturday at 4 p.m.

Mayor Ray Godwin welcomed the pioneers — they came from as far away as Canada and Mexico — back to the city for Friday's celebration, and congratulated the earliest settlers on the manner in which they founded Deaf Smith County and built the City of Hereford.

Vern Witherspoon, a resident of the county since 1896, made the response for the Mid-Plains Pioneer Assn., to the mayor's welcoming address.

A basket lunch on the courthouse grounds was a second highlight of the day for the pioneers. About 200 persons attended the luncheon.

Many of the pioneers then returned to the hotel ballroom to visit with old friends.

AN ESTIMATED 6,000 persons crowded onto Main St. at 2:30 p.m. Friday to view the parade, sponsored by the Hereford Riders. Trophies were presented to the three riders clubs judged "best" among the entries in the parade. The Hale County Sheriffs Posse from Plainview won first place; the XII Rangers from Dalhart, second; and the Will Rogers Range Riders, Amarillo, third.

The mayor's welcome to the old-timers included an assurance that the present city administration intends to continue guiding an orderly growth of the city. Mayor Godwin traced the growth of Hereford from 400 residents in 1900 to 2,500 in 1940, to 7,500 in 1955 and said that a population of (Continued On Page 2)

Policy Projects Washed-Out Rodeo

The three-day Hereford Riders Club rodeo was completely washed out Thursday, Friday and Saturday, but an unusual insurance

Harold Beauchamp, club president, said the rodeo has been rescheduled for June 20, 21 and 22 with the same producer, Morris Stephens of Silverton.

The Riders Club had taken out a policy with the Farmers Fund Insurance Group against being rained out Thursday and Friday. The policy stated at least .10 of an inch of rain must fall between 5 and 8 p.m. each day before the club could collect. Each performance was insured for $1,000 at a cost of $50 and both nights the club collected.

By 8 p.m. Thursday, .13 had fallen and the club collected $333.33 for each .01 of an inch. Friday the cost per hundredth dropped at .50 was recorded by 8 p.m.

Antique Display Attracts Large Crowd of Viewers

A DISPLAY of pre-historic and pioneer Deaf Smith County relics and antiques attracted hundreds of viewers here Friday as a feature of the annual Pioneer Day celebration. The display was termed "Just a sample" by members of the Mid-Plains Pioneer Assn. historical survey committee.

"Just a sample," explained Mrs. Corinne J. Neely, newly elected association president, "of the thousands of articles that would be immediately available for display in a museum—if we could get one established here."

A library-museum, perhaps of adobe construction, is a goal of the survey committee. J. Byrle Elliston, a booster for over 60 years of "Deaf Smith County and the Town Without a Toothache," has painted a vivid description of the adobe structure and its purpose for survey committee members who now reflect his enthusiasm for the project.

"Just to be realistic about this library-museum," declares Elliston, it could be worth thousands of dollars in trade to Hereford merchants if built, furnished and advertised."

ELLISTON and his fellow committee members are confident that furnishing the museum would be easy. They personally have thousands of items suitable for historical displays—Elliston has displays on loan to museums in Canyon and East Texas—and know of items in dozens of homes in this area or on loan to museums that would be donated by their owners for display in a local museum.

The success of the many small museums in New Mexico and Colorado has fired the imagination of the local museum project boosters. Historical survey committee members are W. G. Harris of Sumnerfield, Mrs. Clara (Continued On Page 5)

HEREFORD RANKS HIGH IN SALES, EARNINGS

NEW YORK, June 1 — On the basis of a new, national study of buying power, Hereford stands out as a high-powered market, with families earning more and spending more than those in most parts of the United States.

The facts and figures bearing this out are disclosed in a copy-righted survey of buying power. The study, just released by Sales Management, covers every area of the country. The prosperity of the Hereford economy in the past year was evident in its record level of income, much of which promptly found its way to the retail stores.

Local merchants, as a result, had a good year, chalking up a sales volume of $17,739,000.

THIS WAS a larger amount than should have been expected for a community of its size. On the basis of population, local retail activity should have been only .0040 per cent of the national. Instead, it reached .0092 per cent.

The large-scale buying is seen as the expression of a confident, growing population. It resulted in gains in nearly every retail category, with non-durable goods going ahead most. Many stores experimented successfully with higher-priced items. They found that people were ready to spend more for better quality.

Bigger earnings were the force behind the business surge. The study shows that Hereford families had a net income last year, after deducting personal taxes, of $13,470,000, compared with $12,744,000 (Continued On Page 5)

SET TO GO—Joe Mack Hale, 13, son of Mr. and Mrs. Buck Hale, 123 Ave. G, is ready to play in the Pony League opener tomorrow at 8 p.m. when the Tigers meet the Indians on the baseball field in Veterans Park. The game will be the first of a 36-game season. (Staff Photo)

Golf Teams Tie for First Place

Golf teams captained by Frank Cogdell and Harry McCauley tied with 14 under par 58s in the first club team matches of the year at the municipal course Thursday.

Playing with Cogdell were Wimpy Walker, Wendell Burdine and Lucille Posey. Members of McCauley's team were Henry Lewis, Wayne Stark Sr. and Rowena Posey.

The match play had been scheduled for another 18 holes today, but has been cancelled.

Each player of the two top foursomes received $7.35 in merchandise.

Winning third place was a team composed of Dale Tinnin, Reno Archer, Troy Moore and Al Yeager. Each of this foursome was given $4.50 in merchandise.

The Fourth place team was composed of Dale Taylor, Donald Bridges, Curtis Tate and Marvin Coffey. These players received $2.10 in merchandise each.

A total of 28 players competed in the match play.

MOISTURE TOTAL CLIMBS

More Rain Soaks Area

HEAVY rain hit Deaf Smith County Thursday and Friday nights and Saturday morning, disrupting telephone service and pushing the year's total moisture almost equal that of all of 1956.

In Hereford, wind blown rain was whipped into telephone cables and knocked out 400 of the city's 3,000 phones. It also soaked a cable at Dawn and put 50 phones out of service.

The rains apparently covered the entire county, with more than three inches being reported at Dawn and in the Westway and Frio areas. Rain in the county was "slow and soaking."

In Hereford the hard rain washed out all three nights of the Hereford Riders Club rodeo and two nights of Little League baseball.

It also forced postponement of the Hereford Merchants' Assn. give away drawing Saturday afternoon. The drawing will be held this Saturday.

Disaster Fund Totals $1,262

Four local collection agencies have turned in a total of $1,262.23 for the Silverton Tornado Relief Fund. Bill Lenderman, chamber of commerce manager, yesterday dispatched the money to James F. Smith, president of the First State Bank in Silverton, to be distributed to survivors of the May 15 disaster that claimed 22 lives and destroyed much property.

Deaf Smith County residents made donations to the fund through the First National Bank totalling $351, the Hereford State Bank $769.23; Radio Station KPAN, $15; and The Brand, $127.

MOISTURE from the Thursday night rain totaled .50 and 1.06 was notched Friday night in town. Another brisk shower Saturday morning dumped .10 in about 30 minutes.

The down pours brought this year's total to 7.58 and May's total (Continued On Page 5)

MUSEUM BOOSTERS—Among the persons who loaned material for display in Friday's popular historical exhibit at the High Plains Savings & Loan Assn. offices on 3rd St. were Mrs. Clara Shore, left, Jimmy Conkright, Mrs. Corinne J. Neely and J. Byrle Elliston. Mrs. Neely said the exhibit represented a sample of the items that would be available for display in a museum, should one be established here. (Staff Photo)

Schedule Program for Bible Schools

Three Vacation Bible Schools are in progress, five begin this week, and others are scheduled for later in the summer, according to Hereford pastors and educational directors.

The First Methodist Vacation Church School, which began Saturday, will continue through next Sunday morning, with classes taking the place of the regular Church School. Classes are 9-11 a.m. Closing exercises Sunday will include open house 6:45-7:30 p.m., a sharing program at the evening service, and recreation in the Fellowship Hall at 8:30 p.m. Director is Mrs. Wayne Edwards.

St. Anthony's Catholic Church is holding a summer school in Vega which began the middle of May and runs through June. The sisters will conduct another six-week school at Bovina during July and August. The summer school here will run through the summer with classes one day a week.

The Temple Baptist Church Bible School opened Wednesday and ends Friday. Mrs. Robert Laceywell is principal. Classes are 8:30-11 a.m. daily, with commencement exercises scheduled Friday at 8 p.m.

VACATION BIBLE Schools begin Monday at the First Baptist, Assembly of God, Immanuel-Lutheran, First Presbyterian and Wesley Methodist Churches.

The Rev. Howard Scott will be principal of the First Baptist Bible (Continued On Page 5)

Tornado Siren Fund Drags

Volunteer efforts to raise money for a special tornado warning siren for Hereford had practically come to a halt this week. Only $60.50 had been turned in to The Brand office as of Saturday morning, and $54.50 of that had been collected by Wednesday. Money will be returned to donors if the drive poops out.

Rains Ruin...

14,000 is expected by 1970. He declared that a survey of Deaf Smith County, conducted in 1952 by the Crowe-Gulde Cement Co. (Godwin is local manager for the firm), showed that this is the only county in the region that could be completely self-supporting if cut off from the rest of the world.

IN A TALK he styled as "rambling," Vern Witherspoon recalled that 67 years ago the county did not have enough voters to incorporate. The problem was solved by inviting some New Mexico ranchers to participate in an 1890 election to form Deaf Smith County. Six of the 99 voters later were charged with voting illegally, but the county's first grand jury refused to indict the men, Witherspoon said.

The pioneer brought chuckles from the audience with his recollections of the droning of the early '90s. "Why in 1893," he said, "it didn't even cloud up."

J. C. Allred, president, presided over the pioneer association meeting Friday morning.

Mrs. Corinne J. Neely was elected to succeed Allred as president. Other officers and the persons they replace are W. Jesse Stanford, vice president, succeeding H. C. (Mike) Baird, and Mrs. C. Ora Cockrell, succeeding Mrs. J. T. Gilbreath as secretary-treasurer.

A MOTION by Mrs. Bess Werner that membership in the association be opened to 30-year residents was approved without a dissenting vote. Allred noted that the change in requirements from 40 to 30 years residence would result in a big increase in potential membership of the Mid-Plains group.

YOUNG MODERNS

Pre - Shower Gift Hints

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Today's bride-to-be doesn't hesitate to say what she'd like from the girls who plan for showers. The tactful way is to make up a list of needed things and give it to the girl who is planning the shower when she asks for it (and she will if she is a good friend). Then the word should get around.

Popular showers are: metals, appliances, linens, china. "Personal" and "miscellaneous" showers have died off, the average girl being more practical these days than in the last generation: She wants things she needs and can use. If the shower is to be a surprise are expected to "tip off" the crowd what the couple's requirements are.

Choose a fun motif for the party. You don't have to limit it to the large umbrella; that's been overdone. A North Pole party could be fun anytime of the year. Serve "blubber" sandwiches — hot dogs with cheese sauce, penguin punch — Cola with toasted marshmallows. Snowballs may be made in advance, kept in the freezing compartment of the refrigerator. Just roll ice-cream balls in coconut and wrap in wax paper, remove a half-hour before serving.

Use a flameproof snowflake crepe paper in a midnight blue color as a runner across the buffet table. Place an icicle design crepe paper around the edge of the table. Place gifts attractively under the table or at one corner of the table.

The new idea is to give one gift from the entire group. Silver vegetable dish, tea or coffee service, coordinated table linens and china steel service is popular with the young couples who may like to start it off at the dining table until the silver comes along, moving it into the kitchen later. One stainless steel picnic chest has the added advantage of a removable lid that serves as a cutting board and well-and-tree platter. It may serve indoors or outdoors.

One young couple who adore the outdoors and who have everything set for the home, selected the "outdoors" category for the bride's fourth shower. This bridal shower idea works best for the couple planning to live in a house with a backyard where they can dine out, however. Their gifts included a barbecue grille, ice cooler, gay tablecloths, melamine and stainless steel tableware, wooden salad bowl, barbecue implements, steak tongs, chef's aprons, caps and gloves, and a handsome supply of charcoal.

WAYWARD JUROR
JANESVILLE (AP)—Otto F. Preuss made two mistakes while on his way to answer a summons for jury duty.

He drove through a traffic signal that was clearly against him. Then he nearly clobbered one of the police department's new squad cars that was going through the green light at the intersection.

Preuss got to court all right and with a police escort. After paying his $10 fine, Preuss took his seat in the jury box, this time on the side of the law.

BYPRODUCT

RICHMOND, Va. (AP)—One of the byproducts of the city's campaign to spray elm trees to prevent Dutch elm disease is a lot of irate citizens. They found the spray solution on their cars and it wouldn't come off immediately no matter how hard the cars were washed.

Peewee League Plans Week of Practice Games

Practice games for Peewee Leagues have been scheduled each afternoon of this week and site of the practice field has been moved to Alkman School.

Team rosters and the league schedule have not been completed as yet.

"This is going over bigger than we thought," said W. W. Buck, one of the league's organizers. "We are receiving wonderful cooperation from the parents."

"We had planned to have about 12-15 boys on each team but it looks like we'll have about 17, now."

"We'll give them all a chance to play. We're not so interested in winning as we are teaching them how to play and getting them ready for Little League," Buck added.

Practice and practice games will begin at 6 p.m. each day, Buck said.

"We're still in the red, but that insurance sure helped," Beauchamp said.

"We might hire out as rain-makers and let the farmers vote on when they want it to rain," Beauchamp remarked. The club's quarterhorse show also was rained out this spring.

"We're not hollering though as long as this rain keeps helping the country," he added.

Beauchamp said holders of advance tickets to the rained-out performances should keep their tickets and they will be good for the June 20, 21 and 22 shows.

Shore, James C. Cox, Elliston, C. R. Smith and Mrs. Neely, all of Hereford.

The display they collected in a single day for display Friday included a wide variety of material, ranging from dinosaur teeth and bones, to Indian artifacts, through firearms carried by the pioneers, to home furnishings used in early-day residences. A rare Antonius Stradavarius violin, made in 1713, was probably the most valuable item on display; owned by Mrs. J. L. Mauk, it was brought to this region by her father, F. H. Brittain.

Other donors were J. C. Allred, Willie Gilliland, J. A. Buckner, Mrs. C. C. Ferguson, Vern Witherpoon, Bruce Rose, Mrs. J. C. Alford, Mrs. Henry Benson, Mrs. Doe Robinson, Leroy Price, Mrs. C. B. Williams, Clara Shore, Mrs. J. L. Mauk, Mrs. Audrey Thompson, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Jowell, Mrs. Neely, J. C. Cox, Byrle Elliston, Jimmy Conkright, Joe Green and George Millard. to 2.10. Last year the county had received only 3.72 as of May 31 and notched 7.71 for the entire year. Homer Estes of Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. said four of his firm's cables went out when the hard rain went through cracks. The 400 phones were knocked between midnight and dawn Saturday.

ESTES said all the Hereford crew plus two crews from Amarillo and a group of cable splicers from Canyon were working on the cables Saturday.

George Stambaugh of the West Texas Rural Telephone Co-op reported that a cable to Dawn was soaked, shorting out 50 phones in that community. He said they went out Thursday night and would be repaired when the ground dries a bit. Only three houses in the country were without electricity from the rain, according to Emerson Roland of the county electric co-op. "We had a few interruptions in service, but they were only temporary," Roland said.

Southwestern Public Service said it had had reports of several blown fuses but knew of no other damage.

IN THE Dawn community, F. J. Waltersheid recorded 2.70 inches of moisture in the 48 hours ending Saturday at 10 a.m. Waltersheid's farm is eight miles north on the Progressive Road. Waltersheid said that it was still cloudy and sprinkling lightly.

The Harold Beauchamp place near Dawn recorded 3.20 in 24 hours.

Porter Johnson, of Westway community recorded 3 inches of moisture since Thursday evening. The Johnson farm is 15 miles west of Hereford. Johnson said the sky was still thickly overcast and it was sprinkling.

H. L. Ward of Frio community received about 2 inches of moisture since Thursday evening. The Ward farm is 5 1/2 miles southeast of Hereford. Mr. Ward was receiving a light sprinkle Saturday morning.

Some observers said some rank wheat may have fallen over as a result of the downpour. Almost all the farmers said they received no hail and little if any wind, the rain fell slow and easy and the farmers received the full benefit of the downpour.

James and Herman Hund, five miles north of town recorded 2.80 inches. W. T. Axe, nine miles south-east, marked 1.70 while Merlin Kaul, south of Westway, had a total of .80.

Sherman Dufur on the Bill Dameron Ranch reported 1.25. W. H. Andrews, four miles south of Hereford, had 2.20.

Joe Williams, 6 1/2 miles northwest notched 2.50. "This is sure wonderful for those who've been short of moisture," county agent Hugh Clearman said. "It will interfere with the operations of some people, but those things growing now will sure get up and go."

in 1955. THE EXCESS of sales over earnings is accounted for by the fact that the local market is the trading hub for the surrounding area. The income total, divided by the number of local families, represents a net income of $7,483 per family.

It was more than most families in the United States had to spend, the average being $5,736. In the West South Central States, it was $4,888.

The business vigor of each community covered in the survey is indicated by an "index of sales production," which relates the retail volume done to the population. For Hereford, the index given is 230, or 130 per cent above average.

New Taste Thrill from Old Recipe

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Enormous pleasure comes when you try a dish enjoyed in your childhood and find it measures up to your memories of it.

This was our own recent and delightful experience when we reconstructed a cheese spread, that was dreamed up by mother many years ago, and it was just as delicious as we remembered it.

In our home, when I was a little girl, this spread was used mainly as a filling for sandwiches for large and small "teas." By the time I was a teen-ager I was serving it at high-school and college parties when there were lots of healthy appetites to satisfy. We usually combined it with fresh white bread and bought extra-long loaves, cutting them into thin horizontal slices. In this way the cheese mixture, left at room temperature long enough to soften, could be spread quickly on the slices and dozens of sandwiches made in a short time. One of our sisters usually helped and we both prided ourselves on our professional approach!

A persuasive feature of this spread is its keeping quality. We have had it on hand in a covered jar in the refrigerator for a couple of weeks and found it endlessly useful.

The original spread was always made with homemade boiled salad dressing; but if you haven't any of this old-fashioned ingredient at hand, use mayonnaise as suggested in the recipe.

MOTHER'S CHEESE SPREAD

Ingredients: one pound natural cheddar cheese, 1 jar (4 ounces) pimientos (drained), 1/2 cup sliced pitted green olives, 1/2 cup broken walnut meats, 1/3 cup mayonnaise or boiled salad dressing to taste.

Method: Put cheese, pimientos, olives and walnuts through food chopper using fine blade. Mix in mayonnaise or salad dressing. Put in covered jar to store in refrigerator. (Makes 3 1/2 to 4 cups.) Use as a sandwich filling alone or with sliced ham, turkey or tomatoes.

Note: This spread may be made with a soft-type cheddar cheese and the pimientos, olives and walnuts knife-chopped in fine or medium-fine pieces.

RECIPE NOTES

If you want to take a little of this spread as a gift to a friend, pack the empty pimiento jar full and recap.

Besides using this spread as a filling for sandwiches, my mother liked it as a stuffing for celery. After the celery ribs were spread with the cheese mixture they would be cut into short lengths and served as nibbles. Or they would be arranged on salad greens and served as a salad.

My mother also liked to use the spread with fresh pears. The pears would be pared and halved and have their stem structure removed. Then the cavities would be filled with the cheese mixture. The stuffed pears would be served with crisp greens and salad dressing as a salad.

When we gave this cheese-spread recipe to a friend recently, she told us she used it in the following ways:

Tomato Salad — Cut a thin slice from the bottom of each tomato. If necessary, to have them stand straight. Cut out the stem ends. Slice tomatoes into wedges but not all the way through. Spoon a mound of the cheese spread into the center of each tomato and serve with salad greens and salad dressing.

Hamburger Bonus — Put a dollop of the cheese mixture on a grilled hamburger and put back under the broiler just until the cheese melts.

SIGNS OF RHEUMATIC FEVER MAY BE OBVIOUS OR SUBTLE

By DOROTHY V. WHIPPLE, M.D.
AP Newsfeatures

Rheumatic fever as the name implies is a disease that causes pain in the joints. If this were all it did we would not be as concerned about it as we are. Rheumatic fever takes many forms and affects many parts of the body. The most serious part of rheumatic fever is its effect on the heart.

Rheumatic fever seems to have some tendency to run in families. The first attack usually occurs during childhood but attacks may come on in early adult life.

The disease is variable. It may start with an acute illness, high fever, prostration, red, swollen and very tender joints. There is no doubt about the diagnosis

If it begins in this severe form. But rheumatic fever may smolder for weeks with vague pains flitting about from joint to joint. The child may be pale and irritable and lose his appetite. He may have a little fever in the evening.

Whether the disease comes on acutely or whether it starts slowly and mildly, it may attack the heart. The germ of the disease travels to the heart and causes little sores on the valves of the heart. When these sores heal the danger is that they may pull and form a scar which shortens the valve. When this happens the valve no longer can close the heart openings tight. Each time the heart beats a little blood slips through the leaky valve and causes a murmur — the sound the doctor hears when he listens to the heart with his stethoscope.

A child with rheumatic fever, whether it is severe or mild, needs to be under the care of a careful doctor who can watch his heart and do everything possible to prevent these scars from forming. The doctor will probably insist that the child be kept strictly in bed — even if he doesn't seem very sick — until all danger to the heart is past. This may take several months. There are many things we do not know about rheumatic fever. We don't know for sure just what causes the disease. The best evidence we have now is that a germ called a streptococcus which also causes sore throats is the culprit. It does seem that many children who develop rheumatic fever have had many attacks of tonsillitis and that there may be a connection between these diseases. However, thousands of children have tonsillitis and never develop rheumatic fever.

Take your child to your doctor whenever he has an acute, sore throat and get him over the disease as quickly as possible. Long drawn out chronic sore throats are more dangerous than ones that are cured promptly.

If your child is listless and pale have him checked by your doctor. If he has pains in his joints be sure to call it to your doctor's attention. Every ache and pain in a leg or a joint doesn't mean rheumatic fever, but the doctor is the one to set your mind at rest that this serious disease is not lurking in the background.

They spent hours answering frantic calls from various parts of the community, each reporting a strong smell of gas. Finally the frustrated firemen, finding no evidence of a leak, called the gas company.

SAYS EXPERT:

Everybody's a Musician

By DOROTHY ROE
Associated Press Women's Editor

Making music is a basic human need, too often thwarted by an inferiority complex, says Dr. Sigmund Spaeth, noted music authority, lecturer, editor, TV "tune detective" and author of 30 books on music.

"You don't need any special talent to make music just for your own pleasure," says genial Dr. Spaeth. "And once you've overcome your original shyness, you'll be amazed at how much fun you are having."

Music — any old kind of music — is one of the best ways of letting off steam, in the opinion of this expert. And he considers it simple to get rid of your inhibitions by playing the piano, blowing a horn or even playing a harmonica than to end up on a psychiatrist's couch.

Dr. Spaeth's most recent instrumental enthusiasm is the harmonica, which he calls a "self starter" for anybody who wants to make music but doesn't know how. It's the simplest of all instruments to play, he says, and yet has unlimited possibilities, functioning equally well in solos and in groups.

"Children can play the harmonica, and have fun with it," says he. And the boy or girl who becomes expert with this simple instrument will find a sudden rise in popularity whenever groups get together with the common urge to sing."

MRS. H. A. M. WHITE

Illness Is Fatal for Mrs. White

Mrs. H. A. M. White, formerly of Hereford, died Saturday morning in Corona, Calif., after a long illness. She was the mother of Mrs. Frankie Ruland and Mrs. Atha McIver, both of Hereford.

Mrs. White and her husband lived in Hereford from 1936 until 1945 and were members of the First Methodist Church here.

She is survived by her husband; three daughters in this area, Mrs. Ruland and Mrs. McIver of Hereford, and Mrs. Floy Arden of Amarillo; two other daughters and a son, all in California; 15 grandchildren and one great grandchild.

Dr. Spaeth has written a pamphlet, "How to Play the Harmonica," with simple diagrams and explanations of exactly how to blow in and out on the "mouth organ" to produce specific tunes. After you've mastered these, he says, you'll be able to play practically any tune you like, or make up your own.

Right now he is teaching his two granddaughters, Katherine and Constance Lane, aged 10 and 12, the delights of making music via the harmonica.

"They're doing well, too," says he. "Probably be leading school singing groups in no time at all."

AUTO TESTERS

LOS ANGELES — An organization that hopes to win recognition as an authoritative, unbiased testing agency for the automobile industry has been formed in Los Angeles.

Under the name National Automotive Testing Assn., the organization is contacting major auto manufacturers with an eye to conducting special performance trials and tests, the results to be advertised nationally.

Wally Parks, automotive magazine editor, is the president of NATA, which claims a staff of 37 experts from nearly every automotive research and development field.

Parks says NATA will have no connection with auto racing but will operate strictly for the benefit of the automobile industry and the car buyer.

Headquarters will be in Los Angeles but the association will undertake testing activities wherever necessary, says Parks.

The Hallmark of Circulation Value

In the same way that STERLING on silver signifies a standard of known value, so is the A.B.C. emblem a symbol of integrity for the circulation of newspapers and periodicals. It means that circulation so identified is measured according to the rules and standards of the AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATIONS.

The A.B.C. is a cooperative and non-profit association of 3,450 publishers, advertisers and advertising agencies. Organized in 1914, these buyers and sellers of advertising brought order out of advertising chaos by setting up standards for paid circulation and establishing rules and methods for measuring, auditing and reporting circulations.

Therefore, the work of the A.B.C., of which this newspaper is proud to be a member, provides you with a direct and valuable service. You can buy advertising as you would make any other sound business investment — on the basis of well known standards, known values.

At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors makes a thorough audit of our circulation records. The results of this exacting audit show: How much circulation we have; where our circulation goes; how it was obtained; and many other FACTS that you need in order to know just what you get for your advertising dollars.

This audited information is published by the Bureau in easy-to-read A.B.C. reports which are available to our advertisers on request. Ask for a copy of our latest A.B.C. report.

Texan Fights Southpaw Habits

ALBUQUERQUE, N. M. (AP) — A southpaw Texan says this business of being lefthanded has got to stop, and he has extended a campaign to do something about it from his home state into New Mexico.

"Our civilization is designed for righthanded people," submits H. M. Wiley of Wheeler, Tex. He cites righthanded shears, golf clubs and fishing reels as examples of things making life unnecessarily difficult for a portlander.

The old theory that children are born lefthanded or righthanded just isn't so, Wiley argues. To prove that every youngster can be trained righthanded, he undertook a five-year survey in 1955.

The Texan is a retired operator of a natural gas utility firm and board back home.

SO FAR his survey has covered about 21,000 first to sixth-grade pupils in four Texas schools, 3,955 students and teachers 15 to 60 years old at three state colleges, 808 industrial workers in Dallas and, more recently 2,541 Indian pupils in northwestern New Mexico.

Wiley's theory is that the percentage of lefthanders varies according to individual training. He says it increases during periods of business depression or war years, when mothers may not give children a normal quota of attention.

But you've got to catch 'em young, he concedes—after a child is 4 or 5 no effort should be made to change his habits.

Why the campaign? It's prompted by years of resentment over the personal handicap of being lefthanded.

BEACONS IN THE NIGHT — Middlesboro, Ky. (AP) — Hearing an airplane circle about the town at night, residents here knew what to do.

One hundred motorists headed for the airport, lined up their cars on either side of the landing strip, and kept their lights burning.

The pilot made a perfect landing and out stepped a Middlesboro physician who had been helping staff a clinic in Knoxville, Tenn. Why the need for the motorists? The airport has no facilities for night landings.

A.L. Manjeots, Liston Wilsons Return From Tour of Europe

MR. AND MRS. A. L. Manjeot and the Liston Wilsons are home again after an approximate 40,000 mile trip abroad. The couples left Hereford on March 16 for New York where they boarded a TWA plane for Frankfurt, Germany.

They were met there by their sons, Lt. Dwight Wilson and Capt. Lloyd H. Manjeot and their families who took them to their respective homes for a visit before beginning a tour of Europe.

The Manjeots accompanied their son to Gelsen, Germany, where he is stationed with the Eighth Army at the Quartermasters Supply and Accounting Center. The Wilsons went to Wurtzburg where their son is stationed with the Military Police of the 10th Infantry Division.

Both Lt. Wilson and Capt. Manjeot had arranged leaves so that they could accompany their parents to parts of Europe, after which each couple joined guided tours for trips to desired countries. Highlight of the trip was seeing granddaughters, Beverley Gale Manjeot, and Terri Ann Wilson, both eight months old, whom they had never seen.

The Manjeots visited Ireland, England, Germany, France, Switzerland, Austria, Denmark, Holland, Belgium, Italy and Canada where in most instances Springtime was "bustled out all over", especially so in France which was bedecked from boundary to boundary for the coming visit of Queen Elizabeth and Prince Phillip of England.

Elizabeth and Prince Phillip of England.

It was tulip time in Holland, it was Easter time in Switzerland, and in Denmark the tourist season was opening with fanfare. In Rome they visited Vatican City, saw Pope Pius XII make his first public appearance for tourists and they were in St. Peter's Cathedral when he extended greetings in four languages. They attended the annual Spring Festival in Ireland and took many sight-seeing trips including along the Rhine, Mosel and Mein Rivers.

THE WILSONS visited Italy with their children stopping at Venice, Florence, Pompeii, the Isle of Capri, the Riviera and Rome. They returned to Wurtzburg for a few days before flying to Vienna, Austria, Switzerland, France, Holland, taking all the time needed for tours of each country.

They visited historic spots, beauty spots, and churches taking two or three days in the cities in each country. They toured the whole of Belgium stopping longer at Liege where the largest of the United States cemeteries for World War II heroes is located. There they visited the grave of Mr. Wilson's brother, Lt. Kermit Wilson, who was a pilot in World War II.

They went to Berlin where they found West Berlin thriving and prosperous, but in East Berlin only one street has been rebuilt. The contrast was further noted in that in East Berlin scarcely anyone is allowed on the streets. They toured London and arrived home on May 24, two weeks ahead of the Manjeots.

MOST YOUNGSTERS have a yen to become a fireman, a cowboy, a journalist and, once in a great while, a candy store proprietor. You seldom find one, however, who craves to be an undertaker — possibly because they do not fully realize the possibilities offered through the profession.

Mrs. Reed Williams — "Cecil" to her host of friends — is sister of Matt Gilliland, Hereford's longtime mortician, and is personally employed at the funeral home. It was only logical, therefore, when the firm bought a new ambulance that Cecil should requisition the old Cadillac ambulance, which she and Reed converted into a "deluxe fishing wagon," complete with roll-away bed and all. It still remains logical to those who know them, Cecil and Reed, that they would be fishing this week at Lake Conchas, since neither require a lot of coaxing to organize a fishing junket.

It wasn't routine, though, when the car-door hit Cecil, who did not get up in knots and had to be rushed into Tarrant county for medical attention. The doctor examined her, pronounced "strangulated hernia," ordered hospitalization, then said: "You'll have to be returned in an ambulance. Shall I get one here, or would you rather that I call one from Hereford?"

"Never mind!" answered Cecil, who couldn't suppress a grin. "I'll go back in my own." And that is exactly what she did.

I finally got to see some of Howard Gault's travel pictures. They are very good. Glenna is a top-notch projectionist and, along with Howa-'s commentary, this makes an excellent club program — only, they usually run out of time. The slides are outstanding and of well selected material.

SPEAKING OF PICTURES. I learned the other day that Rev. Howard Scott is a camera addict, which shouldn't happen to anybody — much less a preacher's wife. Moreover, he is an amateur artist and has done several very good stills. He got interested in the photo business because he found it practical to shoot color slides then, in leisure hours, he paints his pictures from the photographs. Folks who have seen his work offer nothing but praise for his ability. He insists, however, that he took up the painting hobby long before like.

Paul Schroeter is a youngster who is also coming up with some good photographs these days. His tornado shot which appeared recently in The Brand was very good.

FARMERS GALORE are worked up over the proposed tax equalization plan. Some are quoting percentages and appear quite confused, especially concerning the editorial stand of The Brand. What The Brand advocates is TAX EQUALIZATION on county and school levels. EQUALIZATION does not mean discrimination — just the opposite! Tax equalization is a sound basic principle in our national and state constitutions. Right now, no one knows what will be raised — some farms may even be lowered. There are no percentages available. All the school and county considers is assessing taxes on a basis of equal, honest values — regardless of race, color or creed.

No one likes taxes. Yet, we all know that we must pay them to maintain our government and our schools. Equalization is the only true American answer. What could be more fair? I still think the man who opposes tax equalization openly admits that he wants to take advantage of his friends and neighbors.

Equalizing taxes does not necessarily mean raising taxes — though some will unquestionably be raised, just as some will probably be lowered. It takes just so much money to meet county and school budgets. The best we can do is pay our part on the basis of equalized valuations throughout the county and the school district. If we think these budgets are too high, we should attend the public hearings and protest. If necessary, we can even elect officials who will curtail expenses toward lowering them. Our officials try to give us what they think we want as a majority. To my knowledge, not 50 people have attended the budget hearings of the combined school, city and county during the 20 years I have lived in Hereford. Honestly, I doubt if there have been 10 people, but I was playing safe.

IF AND WHEN our valuations are equalized, each governing board will take the budget, divide it into the total and, thus, arrive at a percentage to be used on the fixed tax rate of that particular governing body. What could be fairer? If we think the budget is too high, that is another question — and should be taken up with the body or group in charge of that particular governmental sub-division.

Lynn Kester has a couple of new recordings of songs which he composed. I heard them the other day but, having no ear for music, could only state that they sounded "OK to me". I've heard quite a few on juke boxes I didn't like as well. But, like I said, I'm no critic. I don't even like Elvis Presley — and my 'teenage daughter says Elvis is "strictly droopy."

I was interested in how you sell songs these days, however. You write one — music and words — then have it photostated with all of the curlyque notes, next, you send it to a recording studio, where they make a demonstration record. Lynn had six before they got one which suited him. Next you bundle up the record and send it, along with a nice letter, to a publisher — and h-o-p-e! About the only thing that hasn't changed is the "hope" part. The new system has put folks all over the country in a position to write songs, whereas they once had to spend a lot of money traveling to New York for interviews, auditions and the like.

There was a barber shop discussion Friday morning about how long one had to live here to qualify as an "old timer". Finally, a bystander offered the following suggestion, "If a fellow can remember when they sold lollypops in the candy store instead of giving them away on slot machines, he should qualify." Seems fair enough.

JUNE NEEL, pronounced by company service men as one of the most accurate and fastest teletype operators in the whole USA, is leaving The Brand to move to Amarillo, where her husband, Ray, has accepted a position with Pantex. June has been with us five years and, needless to say, we will miss her — but plenty. We will also miss her good disposition, willing attitude and smiling face. She is one of the finest persons I have ever known. The only redeeming feature is her replacement by Rose Curry. Rose seems to possess many of the same attributes — and the Major Schroeters hate to lose her just as much as we regret to see June leave. Anyway, June, "Thanks a lot, good luck, and best wishes. We around The Brand office will remember you — from now on and will always number you among our friends."

By now, the Gillentines will be on their way to California, where we will attend the National Editorial Association meeting in San Francisco, beginning Wednesday. Afterwards, we plan to vacation in LA and San Diego, probably spending most of our time at Disneyland if the kids have their way — and they usually do. None of the family, save myself, have been to California, and I was only 12 years of age when I went, so it is possible that a few things may have changed. Anyway, I will try to do a column or two — and if none come back, you can figure I am having a good time.

GEORGE HEARD WRITES:

Noon Is Always Sundown in Iraq

(EDITOR'S NOTE: This is another letter from George Heard of Hereford who is now working for an oil company in Iraq. This letter was written to Bob Lamm and is printed with Lamm's permission.)

May 20, 1957

Dear Bob:
We want to thank you and Teresa for sending the prints of the films to us from home. Everyone that has seen them has enjoyed them. The first night we had them we were out to dinner at an Iraqi home and he showed them through his projector. It was the general opinion that the men's costumes at the party were all right but that the women were immodest.

As you are a watch expert you probably know all about Arabic time but it was surely a surprise to me. The other day at noon one of the Iraqi fellows said that it was 4 o'clock. By their standards it is always 12 at sundown. We got talking about it and he almost convinced us that his kind of time was accurate. In fact he and another Arab were so earnest that they could not get anyone to bet that against them. Their contention was that if a clock is set at 12 at sundown, it will always be that time when the sun goes down. They claimed that it was a fact they had grown up with and had seen demonstrated all their lives.

When we pointed out that noon stayed constant and that sun rise and sun set varied but we got the argument back that sun set stayed constant and that the time of noon and sun rise varies.

When we asked them how it was determined when sundown was we got the answer that sundown was at 12 and that was the time the priests call everyone to prayer. All three things coincide, the call to prayer sunset, and 12.

I do not think that the Arabs are going to change their way of time because of us and we surely did not shake their faith in the way the priest determines it. Their plan has a lot of merit particularly for farmers who do not like daylight saving time.

I am not sure but what Arab time would be just about as good as the way they do Standard time. As it is clocks about the town have only a vague similarity in the time they keep. Several minutes difference is about as good as can be expected. Electric clocks here are a nuisance as the electric company does not adhere to a strict cycle. They have given good enough service since we have been here but I am told that it is very common to turn it off during the night for repairs. One district here had the electricity off every morning for about two months. This is surely bad on the sale of electric clocks.

Another one of the unusual customs about time is the determination of some of the official holidays. They are determined by the moon and not by any scientific determination at that. We just went through the confusion and anticipation of a holiday period the first of May and we have another one coming up in July. The way of determining is whether anyone sees the moon at sunset without the aid of any instrument.

If two people (Moslems) will come before the judge that is the religious judge and signs a sworn statement that they have seen the moon the period of Holiday or feast starts. On the last one the people in Syria saw the moon and it rained in Baghdad so they got started a day sooner and got one more vacation than we did. Now they are stating that they EXPECT the next feast to start the day after the fourth of July. It is a heck of a way to try to run a business or plan a trip but I suppose we can get used to it.

Your store would be a very large store here in Baghdad. There are of course some rather large stores for distributors and those more like a department store, but of your type store I have seen only one that would be larger than yours but not as large as the one Kester has. But the amount of merchandise they pack into a store is amazing. They do not go in for display, they merely stack it in. It is stacked to the ceilings, several layers deep around the walls, and only enough floor space is left for a customer.

The short time the few people have been here from the states has had a tremendous effect so the people who have been here two or three years tell us. The stores are improving and have out signs advertising things as American made or things like American type beef or an American buffet restaurant. I think that is quite a compliment as the British have been here 40 years and I have yet to see an Iraqi advertise anything as being British type.

More About Tornado Warning System

Civil Defense Corps Is Dual Purpose Solution

The tornado siren situation pretty well remains status quo, despite the fact that it in these days a frequent and popular topic of conversation, ideas concerning the proposal are varied, but most people do have one thing in common—they all feel that some sort of warning system be installed!

All phases of the situation have merit but, when you analyze the situation carefully, there is but one practical answer. Hereford and Deaf Smith County should unite in a joint effort in organizing a county-wide Civil Defense unit. This unit could automatically take care of the tornado situation, handling the alerts over the entire area.

Working with the group, the city (or the city and county) could install necessary warning equipment, depending upon who would benefit from its installation. The federal government would share in costs of alarms on a 50-50 basis, similar to the airport set-up. Beyond any doubt, it appears to us that any local expenditures should be paid with tax money—because everyone will benefit.

An organization of this type seems most practical for several reasons. Primarily, this area appears to have completely overlooked the importance of Civil Defense—despite war threats in various parts of the world. An active trained Civil Defense group could spot and report accurately on tornadoes passing out accurate information in rural areas through cooperation of radio and TV outlets, possibly better than any other group. Accurate, reliable information from authorized spotters is today the most needed single factor in tornado alerts according to broadcasting agencies.

There may be other plans just as good but, to us, an overall, long-range, dual purpose plan such as the one above, would seem to be the only permanent solution to two serious problems which are likely to be with us for many years to come.

Sorry, No Vacancy

Despite the building boom seen in Hereford during the past decade, the community is today faced with a housing shortage. Worse still, remains the fact that a seasonal influx of labor will hit the community during the next three months to make the situation more acute. "We find quite a few houses we can buy," say incoming residents, "but practically no two and three bedroom houses which can be rented."

Building costs have consistently forced rent into higher brackets over the period but, despite the increases, very few landlords find it practical to build houses for rental purposes. The result is that potential residents each week locate in other towns, because they cannot find adequate homes to rent here.

Certainly, no one is directly to blame for the condition. Investors cannot be expected to put their money into ventures which will not break even. Newcomers cannot be expected to live in hovels or in tents, nor can they pay rents beyond their income.

All in all, the condition results chiefly from a national economic situation, and it exists in most growing communities across the nation. The solution, if any is possible, will apparently have to come on a national level, involving low interest rates, looser credit restriction or sponsored housing developments.

Only The People Can Ban Carnivals

Deaf Smith County side-stepped the carnival issue this week, when commissioners reported a proposed carnival ban "out of their jurisdiction."

Unquestionably, the commissioners were right. We doubt if they could actually restrain an individual from renting private property to a legalized carnival operation which conforms with state and federal laws. They can, of course, levy a special tax if they so desire.

On the other hand, do we want to build a fence around our community? Carnivals, in our opinion, are parasites on the American way of life. Often they carry personnel of questionable character, and frequently they operate questionable concessions. They also take literally millions of dollars out of communities across the nation each year. Sometimes the result creates hardship cases, causing small children to go hungry.

However, so long as we call our nation the "Land of the Free," it does seem that its citizens should have the right to choose for themselves concerning their patronage of lawful entertainment. If people are stupid enough to throw away their income in folly, it should be a personal choice.

Unquestionably, the sheriff's department should constantly survey all carnival operations with an eagle-eye; they should make sure that all laws are obeyed to the letter and, beyond that point, the choice becomes a problem of the people.

No government in history has been able to successfully legislate either morals or good judgment, both of which are a matter of education and religion. When the people learn that carnivals are non-productive parasites—many times "gyms"—they will cease going to them. And when people quit attending them, the carnivals will fold up and stop coming to town. Then, and then only, will this form of questionable entertainment cease to be a part of the American way of life.

Here's a Brief Primer on Foreign Aid Fight

By DAVID L. BOWEN
AP Newsfeatures

What is foreign aid?

The battle between the administration and some elements in Congress over where to draw the line between a reckless gamble with peace and inefficient overspending has once more put a spotlight on this always controversial segment of the nation's budget.

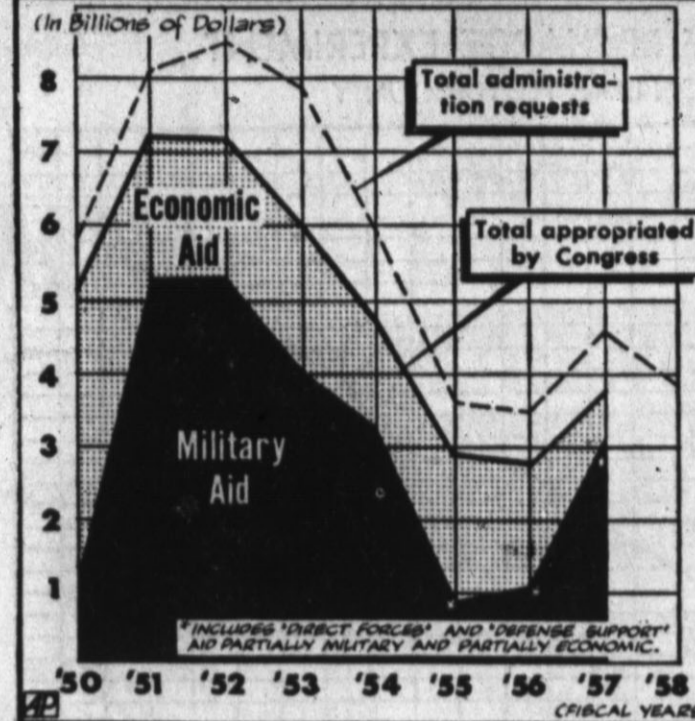

The first point to keep in mind in assessing reports from Washington is that Congress has never been known to give the administration all the money it wants to spend overseas. Since 1949, the discrepancy between administration requests and congressional appropriations has ranged between slightly more than one-half billion dollars to nearly two billion.

There have always been two main categories of financial help to foreign countries in aid programs: military assistance and economic assistance. Unfortunately, the line between the two has not always been easy to draw.

Military aid has had two forms: (1) direct help in the form of funds for purchase of weapons, material and services for allied armies, and (2) so-called "defense support" designed to enable allied countries to finance a larger military establishment than they could otherwise afford.

Since 1949, military aid has far

FOREIGN AID: The Past Performance

outweighed economic aid except in the 1950, 1955, and 1956 fiscal years. This year the President asked for a total of $2,800,000,000 in military aid—$1,900,000,000 of it in direct

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Opinions Divided on Special Tornado Siren

The drive for a special tornado warning siren has bogged down. A temporary siren can be made by altering the present fire whistle. Do you think this will suffice or do you think Hereford needs a special system? If so, who should finance it?

BILL ANGEL—I think the present one would do if we could work out certain signals for a tornado warning. I really don't think a separate siren would be necessary.

ANSEL McDOWELL—I think Hereford should have it as protection for the town. I don't know how it should be financed, but other towns such as Amarillo and Pampa have it. Why don't we check and see how they financed theirs?

W. D. LAWRENCE—I believe that altering the regular fire call system will be adequate since the chances of a widespread need for the system are very small.

THE REV. V. W. MARCONTELL—I think that if the present system that we have can be altered so that the signals would not be confused for fires and for tornadoes, that our present siren would be sufficient, but if it could not be arranged so that there would be no confusion, I think a special system is the only answer.

MRS. JACK BROWN—If our present facilities can be used, it looks to me like the best thing to do would be to alter the fire whistle.

E. B. HARRIS—I really think we need one and all I know is the citizens would have to chip in and finance it.

TERRY KIRBY—I don't think we need a special system—the recent tornado was the first one I've seen around here in a long time and I think we have sufficient warning.

DALHART SCHOOL VAULT ROBBED

One or more burglars took about $300 from the Dalhart Senior High vault in Principal Charles Hester's office Monday, May 27, it was learned from city and county investigating officers. The officers said the burglars evidently used a heavy hammer to force an outside door, and apparently used chisels and sledges to smash a hole in the brick and concrete vault wall large enough for them to reach through it and release the vault door from the inside. Similar school burglaries, officers said, have been happening at various places in the Panhandle.—THE DALHART TEXAN.

DELAY GAS RATE ACTION

No action was taken by the Shamrock City Council Monday night on the Shamrock Gas Co. request to raise domestic rates by approximately 60 per cent. # The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm has some advice for a well known farmer this week.

Dear editor:

I know that President Eisenhower, with the budget on his hands and the fate of the world hanging on the size of it, has no time to be worrying about farm problems, but a little matter has come to my attention which he ought to know about in advance.

According to an article I read in a newspaper last night, the manager of Ike's farm at Gettysburg said the farm isn't making any money right now because they aren't selling any of the cattle they're raising. They're keeping the calves to build up and improve the herd.

Well, now, I'll tell you, I guess all herds ought to be improved, probably the same thing goes for human beings too if anybody can figure out how to do it, but just in case Ike is interested in the benefit of somebody else's experience, I'd like to point out to him it's possible to sell cattle and still not make any money on a farm.

I mean, just because he's not selling any calves off that Gettysburg farm, doesn't mean that's all that's keeping him from making a profit on it. I don't know anything about the financial details of the place, I have enough trouble keeping up with the financial details of this place out here at Bootleg, but I can tell you Ike and his farm manager too that there have been years when I sold calves and lost money just the same.

That is, there's more to making money in the cattle business than just getting some calves ready for the auction ring, and it's possible to work all year with a bunch of cows, pouring feed to them in the winter, fighting blood in the spring, doctoring them through the summer, and getting their calves safely born and up to market stage, only to find out when you get your check you ain't any better off financially than you were when you started. There are more cattlemen in this country who are richer in experience than cash.

I'm not saying Ike's farm wouldn't make any money if he sold his increase, I'm just saying that if he has any time left in between fighting for his budget and modernizing the Republicans and dodging the Democrats, he ought to prepare himself and consider the possibility his farm may not show a profit, even after he sells some calves. It wouldn't be the first time for something like that to happen to a cattleman.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Experiment Recharge Well Taking Over 1 Million Gallons Per Day

By W. L. BROADHURST,
Chief Hydrologist

AT LAST — the rains came — as we have believed they would for eight long years. Many people in the High Plains, who are now aware of the diminishing supply of underground water, are concerned with the problem of saving the large quantity of water that has recently collected in the thousands of wet-weather lakes by draining the water into the underground reservoir for storage and future use.

Numerous farmers throughout the High Plains have installed dual-purpose wells near the lakes for the purpose of draining the lakes and producing irrigation water. Such practice has been described by them as highly successful. Although the practice is not yet fully acceptable to economists and engineers, many of whom are naturally skeptical until shown, the High Plains Water District has developed some important information from the recharge experiment that is being carried out at the Allmon Gin in southwestern Floyd County.

In the fall of 1953 a well was drilled near the edge of the lake. Total depth was about 380 feet. It was cased with 12-inch steel casing, the bottom 150 feet being slotted. It was developed by pumping with a test pump and produced about 1,400 gallons a minute.

A PIT was dug around the well and filled with cotton burs. An 18-inch concrete pipe was laid from the bottom of the lake to the pit, the lake end being equipped with a valve and the pit end had a meter for measuring the flow of water from the lake to the well.

Assistance to the project was given freely by numerous local interests recorded on a sign at the recharge site, including: Southwest Public Service Company; Fox & Higgins Drilling Co., Petersburg; Bill Wolf Irrigation Service Co., Abemathy; Peerless Pump Division; W. C. Allmon, Route 1, Petersburg; Gifford - Hill - Western, Inc.; Commissioners Precinct No. 1, Floyd County; Commissioners Precinct No. 2, Hale County; West Texas Gas Co.

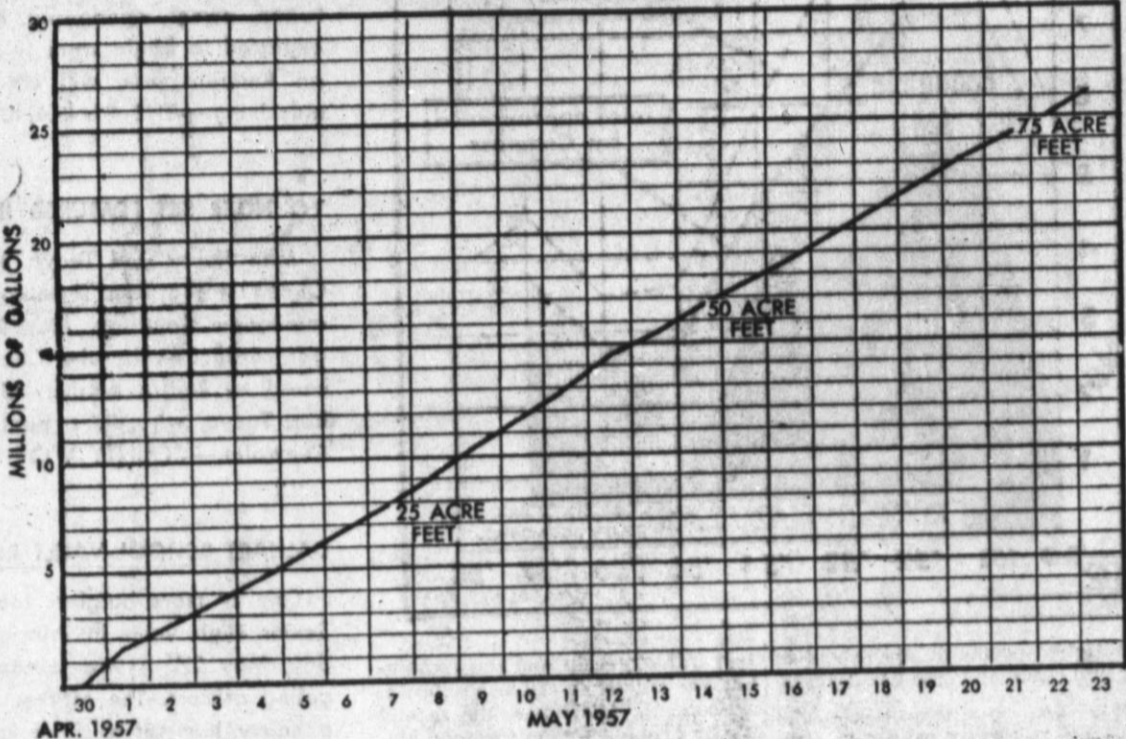

In June 1954 the area received a heavy rain and the lake caught 52 acre-feet of water. After a few hours wait, in order to let the coarse silt settle to the lake bottom, the valve was opened and the water flowed by gravity into the pit. However, it was soon discovered that the cotton burs, although fully composted, did not prove satisfactory as a filter. Nevertheless muddy water entered the well at the rate of 1,050 gallons a minute.

The well was not equipped with a pump and as a result, after eight days of recharging, the formation became clogged with silt. A test pump was again installed and after a few hours of pumping several yards of sand and silt were removed from the well and it produced equally as good as after the first development.

THIS ORIGINAL test proved that the lake water could be drained by gravity into the water bearing formation; but it also proved that unless the mud and silt were removed during the recharging period, the formation would become clogged and would no longer take water.

During the last week in April 1957, the area again had about 5 inches of rain and again the lake became filled with water. In the meantime a concrete meter box was built at the pit-end of the 18-inch concrete pipe, and an 8-inch steel line, equipped with a flap valve, was laid from the meter box to the well. The pit was filled and a pump base was built around the well. The land owner, Bill Allmon, had agreed to install a permanent pump but the day he intended to set his pump the rains came. On April 30, 1957, at 10:35 a.m. the valves were opened and the water entered the well at the rate of 1700 gallons a minute, going into the formation and filling the well casing. The rate at which the formation took water is indicated in the chart shown below.

RESULTS OF RECHARGE EXPERIMENT
ALLMON LAKE, FLOYD COUNTY

IT IS significant to note that during the first 24 hours the well took water at the average rate of 920 gallons a minute, that during the second and third days the rate was about 770 gallons a minute, and that during the fourth day the rate was 720 gallons a minute, showing that the silt was gradually clogging the sand.

On Saturday, May 4, 1957, a 7-stage number 10 pump bowls and 180 feet of 8-inch pump column pipe and 10 feet of suction pipe were set in the well. The pump was operated for four hours and produced a large quantity of silt, sand, and water at the rate of about 1,000 gallons a minute.

The pump was stopped, the valve was opened, and again water started pouring into the well. During the next 20 days the recharge is shown graphically in the illustration.

Again it is significant to note that whereas the rate of recharge during the first 4 days of the experiment decreased from 920 gallons a minute to 620 gallons a minute, with pumping only once a day to remove silt, the rate of recharge was maintained at a rate of about 920 gallons a minute until the lake was drained.

Just as the lake was drained the rains came again and the lake refilled to the previous level and the operation of recharging continued.

Although the problems of artificial recharge are not fully solved by any means, the work that has been done by numerous individuals, by the cooperative work of the Board of Water Engineers, U.S. Geological Survey, City of Amarillo at the McDonald Well Field in Randall County, and the work of the Water District shows that the problems can be solved and in the future millions of acre-feet of surface water can be salvaged that otherwise would be wasted.

HOW TO SPELL NEW DELHI — It's "Dilli," not "Delhi."

Officials of the Indian capital's Municipal Administration have ruled that the twin-cities of Delhi and New Delhi should be spelled, in the Hindi and Urdu languages, as "Dilli" and "New Dilli." The officials say these spellings are closer to the correct pronunciation. However, the English spelling will remain unchanged, the officials say, because the form of "Delhi" has "already gained international currency."

In Dallas, They're Now Building Apartment House for Millionaires

By IRWIN FRANK

DALLAS, Tex. (AP) — A 23-floor plush apartment house — designed to give the Texas millionaire the things his money has not been able to buy — may help end the housing shortage for the fabulously wealthy.

The Dicker and Frank firm are building an apartment house they say "will beat anything in New York or the West Coast."

"This apartment house will give the rich, those who have been living in huge hard-to-keep-up mansions, a place to live, said Edward T. Dicker, president of the firm.

Rents in the apartment house will range from $350 a month for a one-bedroom layout on the lower floors to $1,500 a month for the two penthouses, both of which are already rented although construction is far from complete.

NO MATTER how simple the apartment, no matter how low the rent, all residents of 3525 Turtle Creek can use the swimming pool located near the putting greens, the greenhouse if they like to raise flowers, or the night clubs if they prefer to raise Cain.

Dicker said he looked at apartment houses all over the nation before deciding on the plans for what he calls "a dream of mine for 20 years."

"The rich man has been neglected in the past 30 years. I made a survey of the nation and found that the only first-rate things being built for the rich were hotels. The rich want to get out of the big mansions after their children have married but they can't. There is no place for them to move," he said.

Dicker said he has taken care of all the housing needs of older persons in planning the apartment. No apartment is more than 30 feet from the elevator to eliminate long walks; each apartment has a shower stall, because Dicker says older persons don't like stepping over a bath tub rim; each apartment has two ovens so the cook can roast a turkey and bake a pie at the same time, and each apartment has three exposures.

The penthouses have 5,000 sq. feet of space. The one bedroom apartments have 1,253 square feet of space — more space than many three bedroom homes, Dicker said.

THE THREE bedroom apartments, which rent for up to $700, have 2,627 square feet of space and Dicker says that some persons have leased two of these apartments and are having their own architects draw plans for combining the two apartments into one huge layout.

"We have people from Fort Worth, California and New York moving here. We are getting architects from Austin, Tex., and Cleveland, Ohio, and other cities who are going to design apartment interiors for certain people," Dicker said.

The second floor will contain a recreation room with showers and a television set for servants. Maids will have a powder room on each floor for their own use. Each apartment will have a servant's entrance.

The structure will be completed in September or October.

By MRS. R. L. PINNELL

Due to the absence of your regular correspondent, the space is being occupied by her tottering old mom. The senior class left Thursday morning at 4:30 for a week's trip through Oklahoma and Arkansas to Nashville, Tenn.

If other news is overshadowed by the unusual amounts of moisture which fell this past Friday. There were amounts varying from one inch at the Grubbs' west of town to five inches plus at the Jimmie Stocks' at Simms. The most unusual sight was to see the old Zerrell Thomas lake full brim to brim. The improvements are in the center of all.

A single man living in the house left when water put out the fire in the hot water heater. Only a few days ago the neighbors to the north, the Bentons, boarded out their 150 grown hens to the chicken houses on the Thomas place. Living on FM 1412 had proved fatal to so many hens. Now, the hens that are left are marooned by all the water.

Much damage was done by hail and washing. Only a small top of the telephone poles going through the lake to the Thomas home are visible. But the rains were very beneficial through the community. More fell in six hours than fell in 1956 at Simms.

Saturday was the annual clean up day at Memorial Park Cemetery. Among those from Adrian assisting were... Davis Brown, Flins Brown, Oscar Bronniman Sr., Oscar Bronniman Jr., Robert Jacobson and Edgar Jacobson.

Mrs. Poole Doherty is home from Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo. She returned Saturday.

The Rev. Johnnie Williams left Sunday afternoon for Abilene to bring his daughter Glenda, home from McMurry College. Erna Fae Bronniman will also accompany the Williams home from Abilene Christian College.

Mrs. Dee Bales was called to the bedside of a sister in Bowie the first of the week. She returned Sunday, accompanied by a nephew, Jimmie Shoots.

The Methodist Vacation Church School is to be held the week of June 10.

"We Were Amazed"

Says CAR LIFE,
The Family Auto Magazine

We were amazed as we drove the Special four-door hardtop, to find that an automobile could be completely changed yet retain so much of its former appearance and character. The 1957 models have all the familiar, solid Buick virtues.

THE ABOVE brief clipping tells you worlds about the '57 Buick.

It tells you we went all out to make this car completely new—yet we didn't sacrifice a single Buick virtue.

So you still get that unmistakable Buick styling.

You still get that big-car room and comfort and that solid Buick quality.

But you also get so complete a change in the vitals of this car that the driving of it is a wondrous new experience.

You get a brilliant brand of performance that's different from anything else that goes on four wheels.

Words won't describe it. Telling you there's an all-new engine, an instant new Dynaflo,* a completely new power train—none of that will convey this news to you.

What you have to do is get in this car and drive it. Drive it around the block, through town, out on the highway. Actually feel what happens when you press the gas pedal, turn the steering wheel, touch those powerful new brakes.

Then—and not till then—will you know why folks call this "the dream car to drive."

The best advice we can give you, by far, is this: Ask your dealer for a trial run today.

*New Advanced Variable Pitch Dynaflo is the only Dynaflo Buick builds today. It is standard on Roadmaster, Super and Century — optional at modest extra cost on the Special. Safety-Buzzer is standard on Roadmaster, optional at extra cost on other Series.

ROOSTER CAPS—They'll keep Junior's egg warm. Easy to make on your sewing machine.

Barnyard Motif Helps Stimulate Sis' Appetite

By DOROTHY ROE

Associated Press Women's Editor
Sometimes mother must resort to tricks to get a reasonable breakfast into small fry. Child psychologists approve the technique of unusual table settings geared to arouse a child's interest.

Egg cup covers are ideal appetite stimulators, especially for the children with balky appetites. The bright-eyed rooster cup covers are easy to make, suggest local sewing center experts, and will perk up any child's egg cup.

Each rooster requires only the scraps of fabric—a piece of quilted chintz 5 inches by 10 inches for his body, a solid red piece 4½ inches by 6½ inches for his comb, and a tiny piece 2 inches for his bill. A small black shoe button stitched over a white button makes a beady eye.

Quilted fabric is good since the extra thickness helps to hold in the heat. If you can't find ready-quilted fabric to your liking, you can make quilting yourself by sandwiching a double layer of flannel between two sections of chintz. The quilting bar attachment for your sewing machine will help keep your spacing on an even keel.

The pattern suggested for the rooster egg covers contains directions too, for a toaster cover, tea cozy, dish towel, pot holder and mixer cover. It would be fun to have these items match Junior's very own egg cup cover. If you own one of the automatic swing needle sewing machines, you can have a fine time doing applique work or decorative stitching on these kitchen items.

"Kathy likes cooking with her fudge set and the fast surface units are certainly our answer when working on a tight schedule".

Hereford Credit Union Featured in Magazine

MADISON, Wis. — Good relations between the community credit union and two banks in Hereford, are featured in an article in the June issue of The Credit Union Bridge, official monthly magazine of the Credit Union National Association.

The article tells how bankers welcomed the credit union's formation in 1936 and how the two types of financial institutions have thrived in the 8,500 population county seat of Deaf Smith. Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union is a member of the Amarillo Chapter of Credit Unions, the Texas Credit Union League and the Credit Union National Association (CUNA). CUNA is a nonprofit organization serving 22,900 credit unions in North America with 11 million members.

The credit union treasurer-manager, Mrs. Dyalitha B. Benson, is pictured visiting officers of both Hereford State Bank and First National Bank of Hereford. The story includes examples of how the credit union, with 2,400 members and more than $1 million assets, has cooperated with and secured cooperation from officers of both banks.

THE BRIDGE, with circulation of more than 43,000 is written for credit union career people throughout the Western Hemisphere. Each month the editors choose one credit union and feature its operations.

The Hereford credit union story was written by Bridge Assistant Editor John A. Lovelace, a Texas native who joined the CUNA magazine staff in January.

The Hallmark of Circulation Value

In the same way that STERLING on silver signifies a standard of known value, so is the A.B.C. emblem a symbol of integrity for the circulation of newspapers and periodicals. It means that circulation so identified is measured according to the rules and standards of the AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATION.

The A.B.C. is a cooperative and non-profit association of 3,450 publishers, advertisers and advertising agencies. Organized in 1914, these buyers and sellers of advertising brought order out of advertising chaos by setting up standards for paid circulation and establishing rules and methods for measuring, auditing and reporting circulations.

Therefore, the work of the A.B.C., of which this newspaper is proud to be a member, provides you with a direct and valuable service. You can buy advertising as you would make any other sound business investment — on the basis of well known standards, known values.

At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors makes a thorough audit of our circulation records. The results of this exacting audit show: How much circulation we have; where our circulation goes; how it was obtained; and many other FACTS that you need in order to know just what you get for your advertising dollars. This audited information is published by the Bureau in easy-to-read A.B.C. reports which are available to our advertisers on request. Ask for a copy of our latest A.B.C. report.

HERE'S HOW:

You Can Give Old Chair a New Look

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Perk up an old chair with a stylish new cover. If you upholster it in vinyl, you'll have the added advantage of easy care, especially important in the home with children, pets and party-giving adults. It'll take about three yards of material in 54-inch width to do an average sized armless chair. Choose one of the colorful fabrics available, equip yourself with hammer, screwdriver and shears, as well as burlap and cotton filling and get to work.

HERE ARE some hints for expert upholsterers on using vinyl fabrics.

Remove all old upholstery and tacks carefully. Put burlap over the springs, cutting the burlap slightly larger than that area so that you can pull it taut and double the edges over before tacking it. Trim off the surplus after it is tacked. Throw away the old burlap and cotton filling.

Use the old seat cover as a rough pattern for the new upholstery. It's a good idea not to try to cut it exactly as vinyl fabric upholstery has a lot of stretch and should be fitted directly on the chair to be sure there are no wrinkles. It's best to use oversize pieces and trim after tacking.

Put new cotton filling over the springs. Then take your rough piece for the seat cover and fit it lightly over the chair seat. Mark the exact line of the edge of the seat as the line for sewing. Cut out about one-half inch beyond this line. Then cut out the side and front panels, make welting and you are ready to sew.

Welting is an important item in upholstering with vinyl. It is made by sewing a narrow strip of vinyl fabric, about 1 1/2 inches wide, around a fairly heavy cord. Make plenty of it and make all you are going to use at one time. THE TOP of the seat should be sewn to the welting, then the welting sewn to the side and front panels. On all four pieces you should fold under about one-half inch and sew it to the welting face to face. (When sewing vinyl fabrics on the sewing machine, regulate it so that the stitches are about six to an inch, not closer together. Use a 16 number thread with a size 18 or 20 needle.)

Keep the seat cover pulled taut as you tack it to the bottom frame of the chair with the front corners and then do the back.

Cut notches for fitting after the seat cover has been put in place. Do this carefully. After you make the notches, tack the seat cover between chair back and seat. Pull it taut in back and tack it to the frame of the chair back. Finish tacking around the bottom, placing tacks one inch apart. Between chair back and seat. Pull it taut in back and tack it to the frame of the chair back. Finish tacking around the bottom, placing tacks one inch apart.

For the inside chair back cut a piece 6 to 8 inches oversize in both dimensions. Put tacks in two or three places at the top and pull it toward the bottom and tack it to the chair frame. Get the material as tight as possible from top to bottom first, then work from side to side.

usually easy. The welting can be carried up the sides of the chair and across the top and tacked with regular upholsterers' tacks. Then the large piece for the outside back can be brought right up to the welting, folded under, and tacked with decorative tacks in a color-matching fabric.

A few buttons may be added as an interesting touch and also because they help keep the vinyl tight. Cover large metal buttons with vinyl, and sew them on to the front back before the outside back is covered. Use a long needle for the job. Sew the buttons through the vinyl fabric on the inside back and around the rope or wood supports in the back of the chair.

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (AP) — The board of supervisors authorized a $110 increase to approved remodeling costs for the interior of the county probation's new officers.

Planning to serve drained canned pineapple rings or chunks with lamb chops or a chicken curry? Refrigerate the pineapple syrup and use as the liquid for cooking apples for applesauce, adding sugar to taste and a dash of salt.

When you are broiling frankfurters, place them several inches from high heat and allow about four minutes for each side.

For the bride's punch bowl, half of a square of unsweetened chocolate with half a teaspoon of butter or margarine over hot water, dip pink mints (each about 1/4 of a square) into the chocolate so the candies are half covered. Stick the mints around the edge of a chocolate frosted cake.

Chicken liver is similar in nutritive value to other kinds of liver.

A utility knife, from five to six inches long, is a handy kitchen tool. Use it for cutting grapefruit in half, for example, when a paring knife would be too small.

Marinate cube steaks in a mixture of soy sauce, cooking sherry and crushed garlic; add a little sugar. Drain and cook quickly in a little peanut oil or butter in a skillet.

Add slivered leftover cooked ham to frozen chicken a la king to make it stretch.

Marinate canned asparagus stalks in a spicy dressing and serve with hard-cooked eggs and greens for a luncheon salad.

If you use a baking pan that is about 11 by 7 inches for Yorkshire pudding, you'll need about 1/4 cup beef drippings for the bottom of the pan before the batter is added.

When you are snipping pitted dates with a kitchen scissors, dip the blades into hot water often so the fruit won't stick.

Next time you bake a chocolate cake from a mix, add finely chopped walnuts to the batter. Then as soon as the cake comes from the oven, pour an orange syrup over it. Make the syrup from grated orange rind and orange juice.

Next time you broil lamb chops, try brushing the tops with garlic-flavored olive oil before cooking.

Canned Bing cherries are delicious in orange gelatin. Pit the cherries before adding.

School Is Calm in Storm Alert

IT'S: HER POINT OF VIEW

By BETTY BABIONE

Every year about this time there is much ado about the federal budget. The hubbub has quieted down considerably by now, but there for a while every news outlet featured the tug of war between the budget committee and the administration. The rate and volume of governmental spending does seem fantastic to Jane and John Q. Public, but there is this that we can be grateful for: In the U. S. A. the budget and government spending is a public issue . . . unlike some countries where the governmental spending is nobody's business except the head of the government and perhaps a few select office-holders. Here, anyone can have a voice in the matter — whether it be by letters to our congressmen or by election ballot (to mention only two means).

AND THIS leads me to the only valid reason I have heard concerning the failure of the jail bond proposal. Perhaps the majority of voters felt that the county government was spending too much money. I don't agree with their reason, but I agree with their use of the ballot to express their opinion.

My neighbor, C. F. Finley, chatted across the backyard fence with me about the matter. He said that anyone who had ever had a glimpse of the inside of the jailhouse would surely have voted to build a new one. He also told me about a sure-fire way to get rid of those thriving red ant beds around my yard. Couldn't print this information because a brand name product is involved, but I'll be glad to share the secret in some other way with any party wishing same.

Meanwhile, back to the budget: the various levels of political administrations have their yearly wrangles and wringlers over their budget, but the lowly housewife struggles all year long to make ends meet within her own mean budget. And many the disgruntled husband if wifey exceeds her limit by a dollar or few.

IT'S usually this time of year (in this area) when last fall's crop money has dwindled to the point of pinching and this season's profits have not yet materialized. Hubby wants the little woman to cut down expense, and she just doesn't see how she can. "After all, the family must go on living even though the last of May seems to be an inopportune time for it." And the wife might add that hubby might lop a few of his own expenditures such as: buying new equipment (it may be falling apart but she's sure that he could get by with it a little while longer), loaning money to the hired man (and collecting no interest), bringing people home for dinner (thrifty meal planning is for naught when free-loaders have big appetites), and buying those quarter novels when he hasn't read books and magazines he already has on hand (one can invest a small fortune in paper-backed books before he realizes it).

And furthermore: how many husbands appreciate their wives for what they're really worth? Why, statistics have been shown to prove that if the average housewife were paid by the wage-scale for each household duty she performs, her income bracket would be near that of bankers and financiers! Men should certainly keep that in mind when they dole out their wives' allowances . . . even when one eye is cocked at the figures in her budget book.

IT SEEMS to me that nowadays the wife has to worry about more than budgeting money. If she is a busy person at all (and who isn't?) she needs to budget her time. But there again, as with a financial budget, unforeseen circumstances can wreck havoc with a time budget. Plan to delve into this problem at a later date. Wish I could get some good ideas on the subject.

About the town: lots of hoopla

during Pioneer Day celebration, and our city has looked so festive with all the red, white and blue bunting . . . Hereford has received good area publicity because of the celebration. . . Freda Beauchamp, Lavern Davenport, Mrs. Cecil Parker, Mrs. Joe Kendall and Don Fellers made up one group who boosted the rodeo in a television appearance.

Cap Oldham tells me that his lengthy stay in the hospital made an avid Brand reader out of him. . . the patients appreciate the copies that are distributed gratis by a local business house, and most of them form the reading habit while in the hospital.

The Lady Bug Co. has the most unique name of any business concern I now . . . speaking of unique names, "Shyla" is the one selected by the Wayne Thomases for their darling daughter — isn't that pretty! . . . Novella Slagle kept wondering why her spring bulbs were bursting forth so she dug up the earth to take a looksee — someone had planted them upside down! . . . Dub Reeves has bought so many different kinds of tickets lately that he has to double check to make sure he has the right ticket for the right event at the right place and he keeps track fairly well. Only once did he try to palm off the wrong tickets and that was unintentional, of course.

June Neel, the perky teletype operator at The Brand office for so these many months, is moving to Amarillo and we surely hate to see her go. . . not only is June extremely popular around the office, but she is also an A-number-one teletypist — one of the best three in the country, as a matter of fact! She will certainly be missed in a number of ways. Modest June just might try to keep this copy from reaching the presses, but she had better not or I'll accuse her of being a thief and smear her name in the next column.

Make Plans for Baby's Room

By VIVIAN BROWN
AP Newsfeatures Writer

Planning a child's room? It's a good idea to adopt a long range plan, says interior designer and color consultant, Ruth Strauss, a member of the American Institute of Decorators. It'll save you time, energy and money, she points out.

"Instead of redecorating your child's room in every stage of development, it's a good idea to plan the nursery for a 5 or 10-year stretch so that redecorating may be kept to a minimum, perhaps a new color scheme from time to time.

Start with a well-constructed crib, one that may grow with baby if possible. A good roomy chest of drawers is a good investment. A child will need every inch of the space as his wardrobe grows.

Mothers who must operate in a small space may consider a small table with a quilted pad over it that may be used as a dressing table and as a place to put a porcelain tub for baby's bath. The tub may be put out of sight after the bath, instead of using a space-hogging fabric bath tub. The table may become a desk for the youngster later on.

A BOOK CASE is another good investment for the nursery. Miss Strauss reminds us. It may be used to hold baby's stuffed animals, rattles, baby book and later—record player, books, airplanes, dolls and hobby equipment.

"A child of 4 years or more should have a room that helps express his creativeness," Miss

Strauss says. "It's a good idea not to wallpaper the entire room as one should anticipate the crayon and paint era. If one wall is painted instead of papered, then it may be equipped with washable vinyl fabric later to hold Junior's kindergarten efforts and clippings."

Miss Strauss suggests that a section of the vinyl wall be equipped with a molding, painted a contrasting color so that the framed area resembles a bulletin board. Into that space a child will learn to put his creative efforts and pictures he likes.

"It's not a good idea anyway to cover four walls in a child's room with patterned wallpaper — too stimulating usually for youngsters. One wall and ceiling is plenty of pattern or two walls with a plain ceiling," she says.

CHILDREN LIKE primitive colors, Miss Strauss reminds us, but she usually avoids exciting reds, except as accent, preferring restful shades — yellows, turquoise blues and pink tones. Lilac is fashionable now, and with white makes a chic color scheme for a little girl's room, powder blue and yellow has real boy appeal.

Air conditioning is another bet for a child's room, but it is important to place it where it does not hit the child directly, she says. It helps keep the child cool in summer and the room dust-free in winter, she points out.

Air conditioners no longer spoil the appearance of a room. This blue style with no objectionable overhang may be used in top or bottom sashes, sprayed to harmonize with the decor.

Rubber tile or linoleum are best floor coverings for the nursery, topped with cotton or avicose throw rugs for winter warmth. It will help make a room where a youngster may enjoy himself, instead of a room to be admired by others. He should be able to enjoy his niche so fully that he will not be a source of worry in other rooms where parents who with this comfort may display their own elegant furnishings without fear of their child's abuse, she says.
