County-Wide Mosquito Control Program Under Study

Around Town

Senior live-saving courses will begin Monday at 6:30 p.m. and be held every night except Sunday for three weeks, according to Barbara Damron, chief Red Cross swimming instructor. Pool fee will be $10 for the course. A junior live-saving course began Tuesday. It will be held each Tuesday, Thursday and Saturday at 11 a.m.

Bud Posey, municipal golf pro, says persons wanting to learn how to play golf can still sign up for a series of free lessons. The lessons are given every Tuesday at 4:00 and 8:00 p.m. The first lesson was held Tuesday. Posey said about 25 persons are taking the lessons.

A field representative of the Amarillo Social Security office will be at the courthouse today from 9:30 a.m. to 12:30 p.m. She will be able to furnish any assistance or information which would be available in the Amarillo office, including accepting claims for social security benefits, applications for an account number card, change of name card or employer identification number and giving information about the program.

An all day singing will be held Sunday, June 30, at the Biopus Community House. The public is invited. Buffet lunch will be served during the noon hour.

Final count in last weeks wheat referendum in Deaf Smith County was 269 for marketing quotas, 36 against, according to Faust Collier of the ASC office. The latest report from Washington shows that about 83 per cent of the wheat growers favored marketing quotas, and that they will be in effect for

EMERGENCY IS DECLARED IN DEAF SMITH

A state of emergency for Deaf Smith County, based on the danger posed to residents by encephalitis-bearing mosquitoes, was declared Tuesday afternoon by County Health Officer Dr. R. R. Willis.

In a message to the county commissioners court, Dr. Willis directed that the commissioners take whatever measures necessary to offset possible danger to the health of the area's residents.

HIS ACTION followed a discussion of the mosquito problem on Monday by members of the county board. Commissioners said then that they were gravely worried over the infestation of mosquitoes in most rural areas throughout the county and debated possible action.

They conferred with aerial spray operator Hollis Schunter after debating the advisability of spraying shallow lakes throughout the county. Schunter volunteered to spray the lakes "at cost" if it should be determined that chemical control of mosquito larvae in the lakes is practical and desirable.

While he gave a tentative estimate of cost at $12 per lake, he said that any concrete proposal would be based on the recommendations of experienced entomologists at Lubbock.

LAKES, with estimates of the number in Deaf Smith now holding water and serving as mosquito breeding places ranging from 150 to over 300, were seen by the commissioners and Schunter as a prime source of infestation. But bar ditches, streams holding stagnant water and water tanks ranging from tin cans to hoof prints in irrigated pastures were also cited as problems.

Commissioner Don Hicks said that he intends to have his road maintenance crews carry diesel oil to pour over bar ditches holding water.

W. D. Power, field representative with the state health department office at Lubbock, said

Commissioners Start Action on Tax Rolls

Action leading to a partial solution to the tax equalization—between rural and city properties—was begun Monday by members of the Deaf Smith County Commissioners' Court. The commissioners gave tentative approval to a proposal outlined by County Judge Homer Henslee for an immediate start on tax equalization, then recessed until 8 p.m. Wednesday night.

Results of that meeting were not obtained in time for today's newspaper, but will be reported in The Sunday Brand.

Judge Henslee outlined the court's position on tax equalization at the end of Monday's meeting, as follows: "The commissioners court is trying to work out a plan whereby an immediate adjustment can be made. We do not think that the adjustments we propose will hurt anybody."

"In our meeting Wednesday, the commissioners will consider changing the outlines of our rural property valuation zones as means of achieving some progress toward tax equalization. This action seems to be the best we can do for the time being."

If the proposed changes are made, the commissioners agreed that it would be desirable to hire extra help for the tax assessor-collector's office in order to make changes in the current year's tax rolls.

If these changes are affected, the judge said that a full-time appraiser may be employed by the county to inventory and adjust property valuations for the 1958 and subsequent years' rolls.

Hereford Scouts Win Honors at Summer Camp

Hereford Troops 50 and 52 of the Llano-Estacado Council won the swimming-meet at the council's Boy Scout Camp June 16-22 at Camp Don Harrington.

The two Hereford troops beat Troop 56 of Canyon for the swimming title. David Green, troop 50, was top archer with 46 out of a possible 54 points. Jackie McNeese and Eugene Turner, also in Troop 50, both qualified as marksmen with 22 rifles.

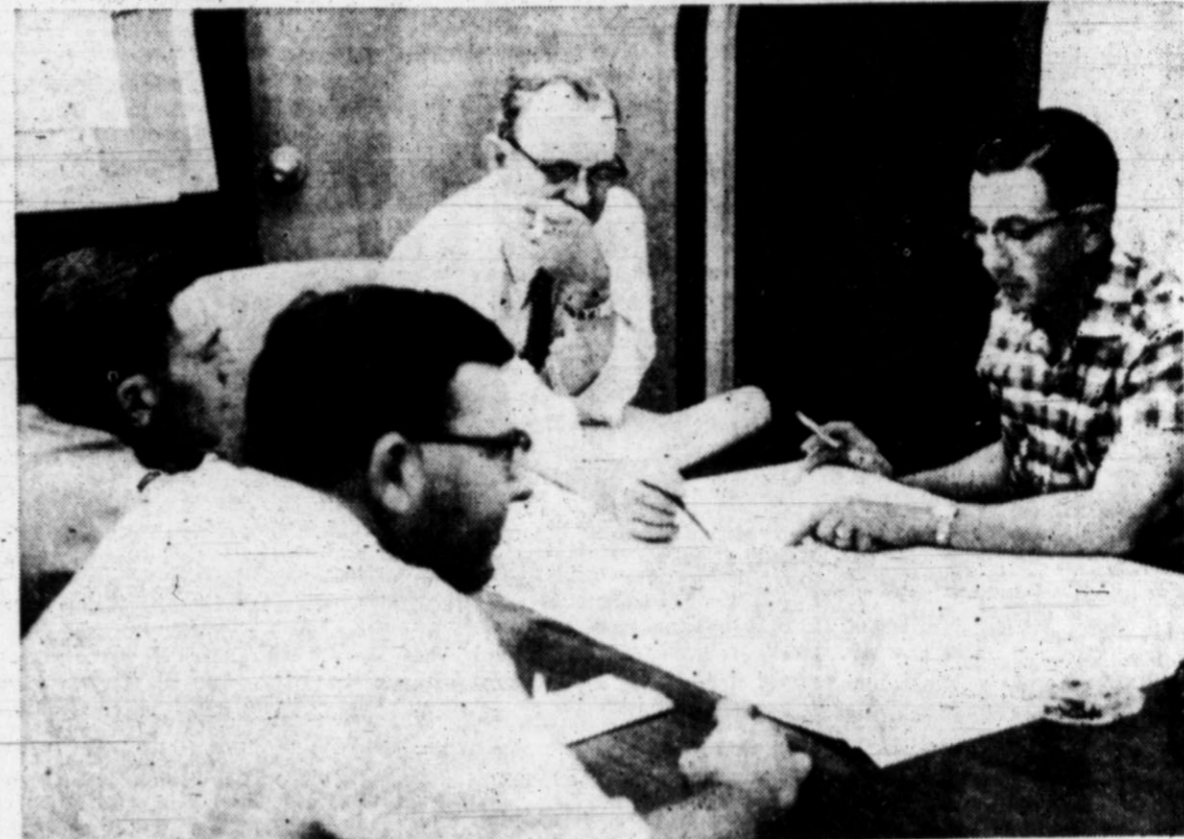

Twenty Hereford scouts from Troops 50 and 52 attended the camp. They were accompanied by Wayne Lawrence, Troop 50 scoutmaster.

BUT: LADIES ONLY

Pool To Be Open Monday Evenings

Ladies' night at the swimming pool started Monday night and will be each Monday from 6:30-8 p.m., according to Charles Bell, manager.

Pat Hill and Barbara Damron will give free swimming instruction to those who desire it, Bell said. Admission will be the regular adult price, 35 cents.

TRUSTEES AND ARCHITECT—B. R. Cantrell, with pencil, of Cantrell & Co., architects, underwent a third-degree questioning on costs and details Tuesday night as Hereford school trustees debated at length before finally giving unanimous approval to his drawings for a proposed expansion of the high school building. Estimate Cost of High School at Half-Million Trustees of the Hereford Rural High School district climaxed a year's study of the school system's "growing pains" with unanimous approval of a proposed expansion of the three-year-old high school building.

They also accepted a $500,000 cost estimate made by architect B. F. Cantrell as necessary to cover building construction, architect's fees and new furnishings.

The proposed expansion would provide for a wing, to be located just east of the present building, that would include 11 new classrooms, a girls gymnasium and a cafeteria. The new unit would provide about 30,000 square feet of floor space, compared to the 64,000 now in use in the high school building.

Board President Tom Robinson said that a bond election should be called by early September. But the election order will depend on the petitioning of the board by citizens of the district.

THE TRUSTEES anticipate calling for adoption of Senate Bill 116 in the district at the same election. The revised financial structure afforded by the new state law was recommended by two citizens advisory groups that aided in the school needs study.

Senate Bill 116 would permit an increase in the bonded indebtedness of the district above levels allowed under current laws.

School Superintendent Fred Cunningham said adoption of SB 116, and issuance of the proposed $500,000 in school building bonds on a 20-year maturity basis would raise the district's tax rate by 1 1/2 cents.

Breaking down the cost of the new structure to layman's terms, Robinson figured that the 1 1/2 cent increase in taxes would raise the annual school tax bill on a $10,000 house in Hereford by just $5—or from $60 to $65.

Bert Boomer, vice president of the board, said that the "question is, do we want to call a bond election for a half-million dollars or put the kids in the churches."

CUNNINGHAM said that the proposed expansion is not for future years but for the immediate present. "We will have the students to fill the building during the coming school term," he declared.

Questioned about the building costs, Cantrell said recent surveys in the Panhandle area show construction prices have gone up 32 per cent since 1954, the year the high school plant was completed. He said cost estimates for the new structure are based on a 32 per cent figure, with the proposed wing to match the present building.

Cost of the high school in 1954 was $10.58 per square foot, while the expansion will run about $14 per square foot, Cantrell said.

Cantrell's fee on the work will be based at 5 per cent of construction costs.

His estimate of the construction

Hereford To Host District LL Play

Hereford is scheduled to be host for the District 1 Little League play-off tournament, July 29-30-31, and will be in line to possibly handle the area play-off between Districts 1 and 2.

"West Texas area winners will go to Lubbock for a final series, then to Abilene, where a state champion will be selected," according to Bill Moore, Muleshoe district commissioner for the West Texas area.

THE DISTRICT 1 play-off will include five leagues: Hereford, Childress, Dumas and two teams from Panna. District 2, which plays in Muleshoe at the same time includes Muleshoe, Plainview, Morton and two teams from Levelland. Other West Texas teams, which will play in districts in the Lubbock area are Slaton, Ropesville, Walford, Suptown, Brownfield, Denver City and six Lubbock teams.

Following the state tournament, teams will go to Louisiana for a regional play-off, following which the four winners will go back east to compete in the Little League World series. Roswell, N. M., had the 1956 championship team.

Varying slightly from regular Little League play, the play-off series features an all-star team, composed of 11 and 12-year old boys, "and the 12-year-olds merit every preference," said Moore. This team is chosen from the entire league.

HEREFORD Little League officers and coaches reviewed the district play-off requirements in a special meeting Tuesday, discussed housing problems which might be supplemented with cots in the school gymnasium, and voted unanimously to host the tournament. The coaches also discussed selection of the Hereford All-Star

Club Plans Meet on Recreation With City Dads

Directors of the Hereford Athletic Club will take some problems before the city commission Monday night, it was decided Tuesday at a breakfast meeting.

It was also announced the club will give a demonstration in the Bull Barn Tuesday night. Youngsters who have been taking gymnastics, tumbling and weightlifting will show what they have learned.

The directors will see the city dads about improving and expanding the two city tennis courts and about methods of handling swimming pool fees for Athletic Club youngsters enrolled in swimming courses.

Mayor Ray Godwin sat in on the meeting and recommended that the directors meet with the commission. Bruce Miller, one of the club's tennis coaches, will bring a set of estimates before the commission. The estimates will cover surfacing the courts all the way to the backstop and repairing the backstop.

Les Kilgore, regional director of the Amateur Athletic Union, of which the local club is a member, will bring two expert trampolines and tumbling teams here to participate in the demonstration. No admission will be charged.

The club also is going to get on the mailing list for military surplus athletic material. President Guy Lawrence said the material could be purchased much cheaper that way and the club is on "a limited budget."

Club athletic director Melvin Young said the organization is still registering youths from 6 to 18 in the AAU. The club at present is sponsoring tennis, swimming, weight lifting and gymnastics. Wrestling was dropped for the summer because of lack of interest.

The club was formed last winter to coach and promote athletics for the young people in the Hereford area. Competitive events will be held in most of the club's sports next winter and spring, Lawrence said. The club also promotes amateur boxing.

Extensive Damage in Two Accidents

Two auto accidents outside the city limits Tuesday and Wednesday mornings resulted in heavy property damage to all four vehicles involved. No one was injured.

Wednesday morning two vehicles driven by Rufus Eric Jeffery, 56, of Amberst and Charles Digby, 47, of Hereford were involved in a

HIGHWAY PROJECT IS DISCUSSED IN MEET

Mayor Ray Godwin said Tuesday that following a special meeting on Highway 51 construction problems, the city, state highway department and contractor will be working together "now" to get the street work completed.

He said that contractor Ivar Dement assured state and city officials that the part of the street, extending north of Highway 60 to the city limits will be completed this summer.

The three parties to the construction work were said to have met Monday afternoon in City Hall. Newsman and radio reporters did not learn of the meeting until Tuesday morning.

Mayor Godwin said that he did not know why reporters were not notified that the meeting had been scheduled.

REPORTED to have attended were Dement of Amarillo; Chill Smith of Amarillo, district highway engineer; Vernon York of Canyon, resident highway engineer; L. J. Clark Hereford representative of the highway department; Godwin; Commissioners Tony Moore and Neal Cooner, and City Manager Dudley Bayne. Commissioners Dr. R. R. Willis and Don Little were absent.

Announcements of the meeting were obtained from Godwin, Bayne and Moore.

The Monday session was apparently the result of a call paid last Wednesday on Marshall Formby of Plainview, new head of the state highway commission, by Moore, Little, Cooner, Bayne and former Mayor Henry Sears. The call on Formby came as a result of sharp complaints made in the last regular session of the city commission concerning the performance of the contractor on the highway widening contract.

AT THAT TIME, and presumably in their talk with Formby, the city officials complained that the highway work appeared to be going unduly slow. The work contract, covering 2.4 miles of new paving, an underpass and storm sewer was awarded Dement in mid-May, 1956 on his bid of $603,909.

It was noted in the earlier session that persons residing along the highway route, designated as 25 Mile Ave. in Hereford, are suffering considerable hardships due to the manner in which the street is "torn up."

Bayne told the commissioners at that time that he had been unable to obtain any satisfactory answer when questioning either Smith or Dement as to the probable completion date for the project.

On Tuesday, Mayor Godwin said, "We may have jumped to some unwarranted conclusions in regard to the highway contract, and the work being done."

Both the city and Pioneer Natural Gas Co. have some work to do, relocating utility lines, primarily, before the contractor can begin his paving project and curb and gutter laying work, the mayor noted.

It is expected that the city's relocation of a water line will be completed this week and that the gas company's service line relocation work will be completed in about three weeks, city officials said.

DURING THE discussions Monday, it was learned that the highway widening project does have a deadline.

L. J. Clark reported yesterday that Dement was working on the 120th day of his 300 working day deadline contract.

Highway engineer Smith was reported to have cited "Hereford's delay in putting up its share of the cost of the contract" as one reason for the slow progress of work.

The city manager was said to have replied that the city's money had been posted in March, 1956, while the contractor had not arrived on the job until February, 1957. It was this initial delay, during which no satisfactory answers as to the time at which the contract would start, or work be completed that prompted the first criticism of the project by local officials.

Noting subsequent delays, members of the city commission in a recent "open" meeting noted that "such delays and the experience of residents of 25 Mile Ave. may make it difficult to obtain right of way for future road improvements through Hereford."

While the north half of the 2.4 mile project on the state highway is expected to be completed "this summer," Dement was said to have reported that steel for the underpass at the Santa Fe tracks is due to arrive Sept. 30.

Two Policemen Are Awarded Promotions

Two promotions were announced Tuesday by Chief of Police Henry Aycock.

Morris Brown, 37, was promoted from sergeant to captain and Joel Newman, 22, was raised from patrolman to sergeant.

Brown has been with the department since January of this year and Newman joined the force in November, 1956.

Brown had worked with the Hereford police department once before. A former member of the Amarillo and San Antonio police forces, he is a graduate of the San Antonio police academy. He is a fingerprint and identification technician.

He has served 12 years with the U. S. Army and Air Force. He was promoted to police sergeant March 1.

Newman is a graduate of Hereford High School and the basic police course given by the local department. He is married and a Marine Corps veteran.

J. T. Sanderson was reduced from captain to patrolman, effective Tuesday, Chief Aycock said.

7 Crash Victims Said "Improving" in Hospital Here

Duane Noyes, 6, one of seven persons injured in a car-truck collision June 18, remains in improved but critical condition at Deaf Smith County Hospital.

Duane's father, Johnnie Noyes, 37, of Tulsa, Okla., died of injuries in the crash driven by Roy J. Norman, 44, of Clovis. The wreck occurred west of Summerfield.

Norman has been charged with negligent homicide and will be arraigned when he is released from the hospital here. Hospital officials said Norman probably will be released "in a day or two." He suffered a broken shoulder and internal injuries.

Listed in "painful but improving" condition at the hospital are Mrs. Johnnie Noyes, 34; Harold Noyes, 10; Brenda Noyes, 3; Johnnie Steven Noyes, 12; and Mrs. Anna Williams, mother of Mrs. Noyes.

Last Rites Held for Mrs. Phillips

Funeral services for Mrs. Earl Phillips, 50, were held Tuesday afternoon in the First Christian Church here. Mrs. Phillips died Sunday morning in Deaf Smith County Hospital after a long illness.

Mrs. Phillips, who lived at 104 Ave. I, had lived in this county since 1920. She was born at Panna, Ill., in 1907. She married to Earl Phillips June 23, 1924, in Amarillo.

The Rev. Gilbert Davis Jr., First Christian Church pastor, officiated at the services. Burial was in West Park cemetery under direction of Gilliland Funeral Home.

Surviving are her husband; a son, Wayne of Hereford; two daughters, Mrs. Margaret Carnahan of Hereford and Mrs. Rosemary Melton of McLean; a sister, Mrs. Elizabeth Callet of Indianapolis, Ind.; two brothers, Roger and Paul Corbett, both of Hereford and five grandchildren.

PRAYER VIGIL TODAY MARKS CHURCH DEDICATION START

The first service to be held in the new First Christian Church on Harrison highway will be conducted throughout the day today. Beginning at 6 a.m. and continuing until 10 p.m. the members of the church are joining in a Prayer Vigil in the chapel of the new church building.

WILLIAM T. PEARCY

The day has been arranged in 15 minute periods with a member of the church taking each period so that there will be someone praying in the chapel throughout the entire 16 hour period. In addition to those accepting definite assignments all other members of the church are requested to come at any time during the day and join in the prayers of dedication and consecration of the new church home.

On Friday evening at 8 there will be a supper meeting for the church members with guest leader, William T. Pearcy, executive secretary of the Board of Church Extension of Disciples of Christ, with headquarters in Indianapolis, Ind. Mr. Pearcy travels extensively throughout the United States and Canada, consulting with Christian churches regarding their building programs. He has been in Hereford a number of times assisting the local church with its planning and construction of the new building.

These two events are the opening activities of the dedication of the new First Christian Church of Hereford. The formal dedication services will be held at 3 p.m. Sunday, June 30.

Tired Eyes
To relieve eyes that are tired from close work, try bathing them in hot Epsom salt solution before retiring. Dissolve a half-teaspoon of Epsom salts in a cup of hot water and apply pads dipped into this solution, just as hot as can be borne. Repeat several times and the strained feeling will disappear.

Paint
If a can of paint has been partly used, and it is not wished to cover the can securely, stir the paint thoroughly, then fill to the top with water. When needed pour off the water very carefully.

Easy Hat Cleaning
Any kind of felt hat, except white, can be cleaned easily and effectively by rubbing over it with a piece of stale rye bread.

Rusty Screws
If a rusty screw is obstinate and will not move with an ordinary screw driver, apply a heavy skewer heated red hot and hold it there until the screw is hot. Then use the screw driver and it will turn easily.

Geraniums
If some cigar or cigarette ashes are dropped in the soil in which geraniums are growing, it often helps to induce a long and healthy life for these beautiful plants.

Bruises
It is claimed that a paste of pure starch and water covered thickly over a bruised skin will prevent the skin from turning black.

Dingy Dishcloths
Coffee and tea stains are the most common cause of dingy looking dishcloths. Keep these cloths sweet smelling and clean looking by keeping them in a wide-mouthed jar filled with half water, half laundry bleach, when not in use.

Patent Leather Shoes
Patent leather shoes and belts can be cleaned by mixing a solution of two-thirds vinegar and one-third water. Apply this with a soft cloth and polish with a dry one. Petroleum jelly will do a good job, too.

Unbleached Muslin
A good way to whiten unbleached muslin is to wet it thoroughly and hang in bright sunlight on a very hot day.

Petroleum Jelly
Petroleum jelly stains can be removed from clothing by moistening the spots with a mixture of 1 part aniline oil, 1 part powdered soap, 10 parts water. Allow it to remain for 10 minutes, then wash with water.

Tuesday that the season for the culex tritaenata mosquito - one of two culex types that are known to carry encephalitis in this region - is just beginning.

Contacted by telephone at his Lubbock office, Power said that culex larvae have shown up in recent samples of water from Lubbock County ponds. He said that while his office offers an identification service to aid in spotting outbreaks of carrier-type mosquitoes, "wigglers" infested water samples have been received only from Plainview and Lubbock health officials this season.

No reports of sleeping sickness disease have yet been received this season by the state health office at Lubbock from county or city health officers in the High Plains area. About 300 cases were reported in the area last year, Power said.

He noted that, if carried out, the county-wide control proposal in Deaf Smith, would be the largest ever undertaken as a precaution against the outbreak of sleeping sickness disease.

squad, which carries 14 members, and decided to meet next week to make tentative selections.

The district games will have to be played in the daytime, according to Moore, who inspected the Hereford field and classified it as one of the nicest parks in the district. "There may be some as good," said Moore, "certainly, there are none better."

He also reviewed Little League growth at the meeting, pointing out that the present 22 leagues in the Panhandle will increase to 43 leagues in 1958. "Each of these leagues has from four to six teams composed of 15 boys on each team," he said. Moore also said that Amarillo, as yet, has not gone into the Little League play, although Lubbock has six leagues. Nationwide, there are 4,300 Little Leagues in the United States and foreign countries, including Mexico, South America, Hawaii and Africa.

The district meet will be financed with a $5 entry fee from each team, plus collections from spectators. Any proceeds above necessary operating expenses will be used to help the district winner finance its appearance to other tournaments on down the line.

A large number of BHC-DDT chemical pellets, for use in treating small ponds for mosquito larvae, has been received by the City of Hereford. They can be obtained at City Hall for five cents each - enough to treat 1,000 square feet of surface water. The pellets are said to be relatively harmless to fish and livestock, according to Dudley Bayne, city manager.

costs for the new wing is $425,000. The additional $75,000 would be used in equipping the cafeteria, classrooms, paving a new parking area between the football field and the school, the architects fees and for incidentals. Just $25,000 "slack" is provided in the proposed half-million dollar bond issue. "A five per cent miss in Cantrell's estimate would run us over the bond money," one school board member noted.

PROPOSED SCHOOL PLANT EXPANSION—These scale patterns, above, depict the present Hereford High School building and the proposed three-unit addition which would include 11 classrooms, a cafeteria and girls gymnasium. Suggested recently by an educational advisory group on the basis of expected enrollment and the recommendations of two citizens groups, the design has been incorporated in drawings by the school architect and Tuesday night was accepted by the board of trustees. Future action will hinge on a citizens' petition to the trustees to call a bond election and build the 30,000 square foot school addition. See story, page 1. (Staff Photo)

LITTLE LEAGUE

Yankees Edge Cardinals, 4-3

The Little League Yankees rallied for three wins in the bottom of the fifth inning to nip the Cardinals 4-3 Tuesday night.

Monday night's game between the Giants and Dodgers was postponed because of wet grounds.

The Cardinals were leading 3-1 until the Yanks scored on three walks and a single. Gary Smith, the losing pitcher, gave up only three hits to the first-half champions. The Cards got seven safeties off Drew Kershen and Bill Overall.

League officials have announced the first-half minor league games that were rained out will be made up to determine the championship of that half.

The Giants had a 5-1 record at the close of the first half. The two teams will meet at 8 p.m. Saturday and should the Giants win, they will be champions. If the Yanks win other rained out games will have to be played.

TELEPHONE TALK

by W. L. Leavy, Manager

SHE'LL GET YOUR NUMBER
Is your personal list of out-of-town telephone numbers complete and up-to-date?
If it isn't, we'll be glad to get any new numbers you need—free of charge, too. Just call Long Distance and ask the operator for the numbers you want.
As always, you'll find Long Distance service is much faster and more convenient when you KEEP A LIST AND CALL BY NUMBER.
Long Distance is a real bargain, too. You can call from Hereford to Lubbock for only 55c (station-to-station, after 6 p.m. and all day Sunday).

I LIKE MY PHONE BECAUSE...
If you were asked to name the one "main" reason why you like having a telephone, what would it be?
Time-saver, maybe? Housewives, especially, get so much more done during the day by using their telephone as an errand boy.
Business aid? The phone is an essential tool for most business and professional people.

Companion? Folks who have to stay close to home because of illness or family responsibilities find the telephone a reliable friend. Frequently, it's their number one means of keeping up with friends they don't often get to see.
Others find it reassuring just to have a telephone close by, knowing they can use it to call for help in an emergency.
But most of us, I imagine, like having a telephone simply because it's an easy, pleasant way to visit the people we enjoy and want to talk to.

Telephone service means a lot of different things to a lot of different people. For whatever reasons you like having a phone, you can be sure we're always searching for new and better ways to make it even more useful, convenient, and economical.

NOT OUT TILL YOU COUNT TEN
Remember this old saying? "Don't lose your temper. Count to 10." Still pretty good advice, I guess.
And 10 can be a magic number for saving your telephone temper, too.

When you make a call and don't get a quick answer, a good rule of thumb is to wait at least 10 rings before you assume no one's home.

Especially during the summer—when people are out in the yard so often—it's a good idea to allow them some extra time to reach the phone.

Call by number. It's twice as fast.

The Hallmark of Circulation Value

In the same way that STERLING on silver signifies a standard of known value, so is the A.B.C. emblem a symbol of integrity for the circulation of newspapers and periodicals. It means that circulation so identified is measured according to the rules and standards of the AUDIT BUREAU OF CIRCULATION.
The A.B.C. is a cooperative and non-profit association of 8,450 publishers, advertisers and advertising agencies. Organized in 1914, these buyers and sellers of advertising brought order out of advertising chaos by setting up standards for paid circulation and establishing rules and methods for measuring, auditing and reporting circulations.
Therefore, the work of the A.B.C., of which this newspaper is proud to be a member, provides you with a direct and valuable service. You can buy advertising as you would make any other sound business investment—on the basis of well known standards, known values.
At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors makes a thorough audit of our circulation records. The results of this exacting audit show: How much circulation we have; where our circulation goes; how it was obtained; and many other FACTS that you need in order to know just what you get for your advertising dollars.
This audited information is published by the Bureau in easy-to-read A.B.C. reports which are available to our advertisers on request. Ask for a copy of our latest A.B.C. report.

Mosquito, Fly Control Talks Popular Now

By ARGEN DRAPER

The club programs on mosquito and fly control and safe water supply are very popular with club women this month. The club members are doing an exceptionally good job on club programs this month. Particularly those who attended the training meeting given by employees of the State Health Department.

The local stores have received mosquito repellent in spray cans. This is easy to use and is probably what you need in protecting yourself and your family from mosquito bites.

There are a few bottles in the office to be used in testing home water supply. You may have these by coming to the office. You are more likely to find the office open on Monday, Wednesday and Friday mornings.

There are two pressure cooker gauges—testers in the office. If your gauge needs testing before canning season, why don't you borrow the gauges now before there is a rush for them?

We have just learned that I am the agent from District 1 who will attend the state meeting at Houston in July. The club women asked that I be chosen last January. I am very flattered at the women's interest in sending me to this meeting.

A letter from Mrs. R. N. Cooke formerly of Hereford and now of Nacogdoches saying that Jan was chosen Dairy Queen in Nacogdoches County. Also she won at Houston in the regional meet. They have had a good time appearing on TV and radio programs. She has made a number of talks to civic clubs in that area. Also she was featured in a movie film to be used on television. She will go to Austin in August for the state meeting. I am anxious to know who the

New Texas Egg Law Explained by White

The Texas Egg Law, which becomes effective in a few weeks, will have probably a more far-reaching impact on the citizens of Texas as a whole than any agricultural legislation of recent times, according to John C. White, state commissioner of agriculture.

Although regulations will extend only to certain areas of the egg industry itself, the effect of the law will be felt not only by producers and other industry men, but by consumers as well. And the effect felt will be a good one, White states.

What the law actually does is to stop misrepresentation of inferior eggs as quality merchandise and to place emphasis on accurate product labeling of quality eggs and a better product for consumers.

THIS IS accomplished through a system of egg grading which requires all eggs offered for sale to consumers through retail outlets to be accurately labeled according to size, grade and condition of freshness.

Heretofore, labeling of eggs as to grade and condition was a free and open affair with no recourse available even in the most flagrant violations. The new standards require that no egg below actual "A" quality be sold or advertised as fresh, selected, infertile, cage, or any word of similar import.

Producers of eggs who sell only the production of their own flocks are exempt from provisions of the act unless they claim some kind of grade. If producers choose to claim a grade, their eggs must conform completely with provisions of the law.

Following is a summary of the law, its requirements, exceptions and the means of its enforcement, as explained by the state commissioner.

1. All eggs offered for sale must be handled properly and in a sanitary manner. Inedible eggs, or those unfit for human consumption, must not be sold.
2. All eggs sold to consumers must be graded; or, if not graded, the word "ungraded" must appear on the carton.
3. An egg below Grade A quality cannot be sold or advertised as fresh, yard, selected, cage, or words of similar import.
4. Egg containers must:

- A. Be accurately labelled as to size and grade, each bearing the name of the one for whom the eggs were graded.
 - B. Not advertise price without also designating size and grade of eggs contained therein.
 - C. Be labelled "cold storage eggs" if the eggs have been under refrigeration for 30 or more days.
5. Where eggs are uncartoned, a sign must be displayed showing size and grade.
 6. The commissioner of agriculture, administrator of the law, and his agents, may take samples of eggs for inspection and may enforce a "stop sale" order on eggs held in violation of the act.
 7. Licensing: Retailers, dealers, wholesalers, processors and brokers must be licensed to buy and sell eggs. The retailer pays no fee. Dealers, wholesalers and processors pay fees according to their volume of business. A broker's fee is $5. Producers, hatcheries, restaurants, hotels and food manufacturers are exempt from licensing.
 8. Licensees must keep on file for two years a record of all eggs purchased or sold, excluding retailers in purchases of less than case lots. Licensees also must deliver signed invoices with each transaction.
 9. Violation constitutes a misdemeanor and carries penalties of from $50 to $1,000 in fines.
 10. The act creates a nine-member Egg Marketing Advisory Board appointed by the Governor with the commissioner of agriculture as chairman.
- Exemptions: Producers selling only the production of their flocks are exempt from the act unless they claim some kind of grade. If a grade is claimed,

BACK HOME and, as usual, Hereford stands out as one of the best towns seen on the trip. The country around Fresno, Bakersfield and Salinas is just as productive and has been developed to a much greater extent, but the things I liked most about them were the things we have here in Hereford. Indio and El Centro were also similar, but the heat was terrific; the thermometers read 113 in the shade when we passed through El Centro last Thursday. Like this county, they can grow just about anything — if they can get water.

I was downright amazed at the interest shown in the Bull Columns shipped back from California and was definitely "ham" enough to be quite flattered, although I know that many of the people were only being nice.

DICK BARNARD is also just back from Disneyland, and he agrees that it was built 100 percent for kids. However, Dick thought it quite an accomplishment and says

By ANDREW C. LANG AP Newsfeatures

Some time ago we wrote a brief item on the effect of adequate insulation on the cost of air conditioning a home.

The questions have been coming in ever since. Some persons asked them immediately. Others apparently saved the clippings and sent along the queries when they were ready to do something about getting their houses ready for the sweltering days of July and August.

In any case, we decided to ask some questions on our own. We contacted the engineers of four major concerns which have something to do, in one way or another, with keeping homes cool. We asked them to pass along any information on cooling that might be of interest and value to the home owner. Here are some of their replies:

A. "Air conditioning costs can be cut considerably by the use of maximum insulation; adequate attic ventilation; shading where needed by trees, trellises, roof overhang and heat-repellent screening; and, wherever possible, a house design in which large glass areas face north and south. We call these comfort-engineering principles and have tested them in more than 100 houses in 29 states."

B. "Where there is thick insulation and a simple air circulation system, a single 1/2-ton or one-ton room air conditioner can cool a house of about 1,000 square feet of living area. To cool an entire house this way, the cool air in the room where the unit is installed must be circulated to other rooms. This can be done with a wall vent grille or two, a wall fan and a kitchen exhaust fan."

C. "Many people get the biggest air conditioner they can find to make sure they stay cool no matter how hot it gets. But this is almost as bad as getting a unit that's too small. An oversized unit cools too rapidly, resulting in uneven temperature-humidity balance."

D. "An exhaust fan to cool the attic and lower the temperature throughout the house should be centrally located (such as the second-floor ceiling of a two-story dwelling) where the flow of air is unrestricted. The fan capacity will be greatly reduced if the location is too close to a wall or in a corner."

The comfort-engineering principles mentioned in A are equally important in keeping down heating costs. The tests indicated that, when these principles were followed, an average house of 1,200 square feet can be both heated and cooled for $10 a month. When Robert Tullman, a former official of the United States Housing and Home Finance Agency, made an estimate along that line last October, there were quite a few raised eyebrows.

that he and Mrs. Barnard enjoyed it the first six or eight hours. Dick says they made the mistake of buying one of the larger books covering all rides — and had a rough time prying the children loose. He couldn't even tell them he was out of money, since they still had coupons.

Maybe I was a little rough on the place but, honestly, it is just a big, Hollywood-style carnival. They had a tilt-a-whirl with seats built in the shape of coffee cups. This was called the "Mad Hatter's Ride", but it was still basically a tilt-a-whirl to me.

ONE INTERESTING place I didn't mention was Pershing Square in downtown Los Angeles. This square was across the street from our hotel and has three tiers of parking lots constructed below the beautiful flowers and grass covered park. The interesting thing about Pershing Square, though, is the fact that it is the focal point of California free speech. People haunt the benches 24 hours out of the day and, unless it is an exception, some character is always making a speech. The topics vary, running from politics to religion. The square is infested by communists, religious cranks, disgruntled laborers and other varieties of soap box orators. When one of these men or women get an audience of five or more people, they cut loose on a triade centering around their pet peeve. Once in awhile one of them will attract a crowd of 150 to 200 people.

Three different speeches were in progress one night at 11:30 p.m., when we passed through the park. I was talking with a member of our NEA group who said he got back to the hotel at 3 a.m., — and that two orators were holding forth to large crowds at that time of the morning. Religion and communism seem to be the two favorite topics. Some of the speakers, they say, are quite well educated. They keep four or five policemen in the park at all times, but I never saw any instance of physical violence. It is quite an interesting place.

ANOTHER THING that takes a little getting used to is the manner in which Californians translate distance into time. If you ask someone how far it is to a given place, instead of saying "Two Miles", he will invariably answer "Five Minutes". If it is 15 or 20 miles, he will say: "30 or 40 minutes". I couldn't find any fault with the system, which seemed highly practical, due to the heavy traffic and congested conditions. However, they give the same answer on the highway. At Indio, I asked service station man how far it was to Yuma, and he replied: "Oh, about four hours."

I also figured out why they use so many of those small, foreign cars in California. When they have an accident, they don't lose so much as with a larger automobile.

My son, Buz, has also risen sharply in my esteem. He got back home with $15.80, which was pretty fair for an 11-year-old who started out with $24. Next time I am going to let him handle the finances for the whole trip: things might not be so pleasant along the way, but I am convinced we would get back with a lot more money. If I asked him for a dime to buy a Coke, I can just hear him telling me to get a drink of that "good, cold water, which circulates through the Coke box, anyhow."

MEANWHILE, someone is always taking the joy out of life. I'llin Strou after asking me about this and that, which I didn't see anything in California. Dib Reeves, who spent three years in Frisco in the service, had the same idea. However, I did find out that Dib, who was an official army mess sergeant, spent most of his time eating in the different Frisco restaurants. This proved what I have always thought: namely, that cooks and mess sergeants find it necessary to eat a way from the base, just like other people.

These "greener pastures" invariably catch up with people. C. N. McClure sold his farm last fall and moved to town to "live it up", the idea being to get away from all of the hard work on the farm. After fighting the lawn situation on Star Street the past few weeks, however, he is ready to make a deal: "If I could find someone with a half section, I would be glad to farm it for him in exchange for his taking care of my yard," says Mr. Mac — "and that includes Johnson grass and all."

CECIL MASSEY, former C.C. secretary and Hereford city manager, has by now resigned his post as City Manager at Haltom City, near Ft. Worth, according to a copy of the Haltom City News dated June 7, which I found on my desk this week. Massey, according to the item, is leaving Haltom City to become City Manager at Weatherford, Texas.

Johnny Pool called to tell me that Bert Neelley, former Brand advertising manager, has undergone a severe heart attack at Perryton, where he is now employed. Bert was still under an oxygen tent Tuesday and Pool's information indicated that he would possibly be on the shelf for perhaps a year following his release from the hospital.

ONE OF THE MOST heartening things to happen around here in years is the manner in which our city and county governments are going after the mosquitoes. In addition to the city spraying program, I understand that the county commissioners are planning a spraying program over the rural area. In view of the larger number of "sleeping sickness" cases in 1956, this is the only sensible and practical approach. At the same time, it is most heartening to see two governmental sub-divisions working hand-in-hand to combat a general menace. This way, the people are getting the most possible return from their tax dollars. It's the way things should be; it is an example of our democratic form of government functioning at its best.

About the weather: It rained the night before I left and it rained the night I got back — but I am not taking any credit. However, have you noticed that our rains have fallen just when we needed them? No floods, very little crop damage and no lives lost! Just good, above-normal rains, which have fallen in such a manner as to do the most good. All of which is in line with my October and November predictions. Like I said, 1957 will be a good year; 1958 through 1960 will be lousy. Wait and see. The sun spots are here. The drought is over for the next few years.

First words spoken over the telephone were, "Watson, come here! I want you," spoken by Alexander Graham Bell to his assistant.

CLOSE RACE
NEW BUFFALO, Mich. (AP) — Frank A. Castelluccio won the job of township highway commissioner in a recent election. The vote was 1-0.
When he received his ballot, he says, he saw NO one was running for the job.
"We can't have this, I said to myself, so I wrote in my name, feeling sure there would be others."

There were no others. Of course the job pays nothing, Castelluccio says, but that's all right because to the best of his memory, the highway commissioner does nothing either.

Mystery Writer Provides Clue to Her Craft: Scare Thyself!

By W. G. ROGERS
 Associated Press Arts Editor
 NEW YORK, (AP) — "I have to be scared first or I couldn't make a reader scared," said the author of books so successfully scary that they have made her president of the Mystery Writers of America. "Ooooooh!" she cried. "By the time I was through writing 'Beast in View' — winner of the Mystery Writers' Edgar in 1956, it is a case of terror built up by a succession of telephone calls — 'I'd jump 20 feet every time the phone rang.' "I always take things seriously, terribly so," she went on — she is Margaret Miller, pronounced Miller, wife of Ross Macdonald, pseudonym for another mystery writer who, like her, has a dozen or more books to his credit. "My husband said: 'I'm glad I married you instead of those two women who do all the frightening telephoning.' "TO WHICH I replied: 'But you did marry them! I am those women.' I have to throw myself into these things. I'm the actor writing his own lines." There is another sample of the way she scares herself and the shivery reader in her newest book, due from Random House in July: "An Air That Kills." It also has a lot of telephoning. The title is borrowed from Housman. She finds the poets a great help: "Beast in View" is Dryden, "Vanish in an Instant" is Blake, "Do Evil in Return" is Auden. Her first mystery, published in 1940, was written in 15 days. Now she takes longer; writing long-hand in notebooks, of which about nine add up to a printed book. She spends four hours at it in the morning, it being too scary for night work. While her husband keeps somewhat irregular professional hours, she gives her afternoons to her garden at their home in Menlo Park, Calif.

THE PLOT THICKENS—Writing in long hand in a notebook, mystery writer Margaret Miller confines her homicidal labors to the morning hours. Too scary at night time, she says.

SHE MISTRUSTS New York City as a place to live; 10 days here recently wore her down, she complained. But she is tempted to try it for a few months. She was born in Kitchener, Ont., where she and her California-born husband met. On a visit there not long ago, she was presented, to her delight, with a copy of the high-school yearbook which contained the first short stories written by her and by him to find their way into print. The Mystery Writers of America, founded 12 years ago by a group of eight men at a lunch table, was intended in general to improve the lot of writers of their category. One member was Rex Stout; Baynard Kendrick was first president. While a couple of the best known writers do not belong, they are friendly, and others famous in the field are loyal members, such as Simenon and Ellery Queen.

Membership amounts to nearly 450 at present, and it reaches outside the United States to Japan, Australia, Turkey, Lebanon, England, France and other countries.

Miss Dorothy Gardiner, executive secretary, who however is resigning this June to give all her time again to her own writing, presides over the New York office, and there are chapters in Chicago, Los Angeles and San Francisco. Here there are monthly meetings, but locally the schedule is more flexible. Some writers turn out a couple a year, some do even better.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Aury of Las Animas, Colo., spent the weekend visiting with Mrs. Aury's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. D. F. Yandell, and Mr. and Mrs. Johnny Robinson.

Whites and Billy Gene's sister and family, the C. D. Bucks, spent Tuesday afternoon and Tuesday night of this week in the B. G. Cotton home.

Our sad-faced friend is Bill McGoo,
 Who thought he'd bought a car brand-new;
 And while he got a "special deal"
 His disappointment he can't conceal!
 While others drive in Swept-Wing style
 Poor Bill just mutters curses vile:
 "They got new styling, features, too—
 "I bought a 'deal'—boo-hoo, boo-hoo!"

Moral: Yesterday's looks and features are no bargain at any price!

No car is a bargain if it's obsolete in styling and engineering features. And the Swept-Wing Dodge actually obsoletes other cars in its field with its low, low look of tomorrow and revolutionary advances like Torsion-Aire Ride, Push-Button TorqueFlite and Total-Contact Brakes. So don't get "bargain-talked" into yesterday's styling and features. The same money buys the car that's years ahead. See your Dodge dealer. Join the swing to the Swept-Wing Dodge.

ON THE HOUSE

By ANDREW C. LANG
AP Newsfeatures

JUNE MARKS the 25th anniversary of the introduction of one of this country's most popular building materials - asbestos - cement siding shingles. Introduced in 1932, enough asbestos - cement shingles have been made to side approximately seven million homes.
Asbestos - cement siding is made of asbestos fibers and portland cement. It is rigid and strong, cannot burn, rot or be eaten by termites or other insects. It is weather - resistant and, while it can be painted if desired, it does not require painting for preservation.
THE VARIOUS asbestos - cement sidings being made today represent the results of years of laboratory and field research. The big news for home builders are the recent developments in the quality, style and methods of applying the siding. In the past 18 months, manufacturers have introduced a wide variety of new colors, textures and sizes.
One of the most popular trends is an improved application method, emphasizing the horizontal shadow lines between siding courses. This deep shadow - line effect is achieved through the use of a fiber-board shingle backer, or nailing strip, under the siding. Because shadow lines change with the position of the sun, adding interest and character to house exteriors, this new application method has caught on with home builders throughout the country. In addition, the fiber-board backer provides insulation and makes exterior walls more weather - resistant. The new method meets the standards and requirements for use on homes financed by the Federal Housing Administration.
ASBESTOS siding shingles now come in a wide range of sizes. The standard 12 by 24 inch shingles are still the most popular. However, there now are long, narrow shingles - twice the length of the customary shingle - which can be applied clapboard fashion. This style is especially adapted to the long, rangy type of house and is filling a long-felt need. There also are over - size units to meet other architectural requirements. The larger shingles reduce the number needed and simplify the application procedure.
Color stylists have worked with product engineers to develop new surface textures and colors. The sidings are available in many colors, ranging from pastels to deeper tones and shades. Surface textures have been developed which emphasize, both vertical and horizontal striations, with some having a glazed surface smooth to the touch.
THESE multi - colored, many - sized shingles are vastly different as is more fully shown by Plaintiff's Petition on file in this suit.

HANDYMAN'S DEBUT
HUNTINGTON, W. Va. (AP)—George Feyer, concert pianist, was playing before a Marshall College audience when a pedal on his piano broke in the midst of "Echoes In Paris."
Flustered, Feyer turned to the audience and inquired: "Does anyone here know how to fix a piano pedal?"
A lanky freshman made his way to the stage and saved the day. He received Feyer's thanks and a tremendous ovation.
STRICT PRECAUTION
VICTORIA (AP)—Under British Columbia's new traffic act the victim of a car theft can be taken to court, as well as the thief, if he failed to turn off the motor, lock the ignition and remove the key.

SAVORY SMOKE
RUSTBURG, Va. (AP)—The firemen were almost overcome with hunger, but they saved 50 hams.
The fire started when a rafter broke in F. W. Merryman's smokehouse. Some of the 150 hams plunged into the fire over which they were being smoked. The aroma was delicious but the fat was in the fire and it blazed. The 50 hams saved were in an adjoining smokehouse and were the property of Ed Evans, Rustburg's high school basketball coach.
Oddly enough, it was as a result of a military need for camouflaged buildings, during World War II, that the first colored shingles were developed. Today, they are among the most widely - used materials for residences.

What's Your Story?

... what? You haven't written one? Then you'll be surprised to know that you write a line every day. God laid clean white pages before you and challenged you to give an accounting of your days on earth... one by one. What you write may embarrass you or it may make for happiness. One fact is sure. It becomes a permanent record. Every day comes from God. He offers us new opportunities with the dawn of each new day... opportunities to write with integrity and trust and genuine goodness. What will you write today? Were you a blessing to another? Did you attend church this week? Have you helped the poor? What are you writing? What's Your Story???

YOU IN THE CHURCH
THE CHURCH IN YOU

Character is a by-product of the church. It is here that young and old alike are showered with benedictions, stronger democracy. In the church the ministerial are the affairs of state in these perilous times. Then, we with our children should go to the church of our choice on Sunday. Pin Your Hopes on This Snack CLOTHESPINS are a valuable tool for this treat. Just wind strips of dough, left, around clothespin and bake. Then fill "scrolls" with cheese mixture and reheat before serving.

By CECILY BROWNSTONE
Associated Press Food Editor

Want to have some fun? Make up a batch of our yeast dough and get yourself some clean non-spring clothespins. Wind strips of the rolled-out dough around the pins and bake. Pull the pins out and fill the "scrolls" with a savory cheese mixture, then reheat and serve with tomato juice or some other cold drink for an unusual party snack.

We kept some of these scrolls in a tightly covered container for about a week, and although they hardened we filled them with the cheese mixture and heated them. We liked them just as well then as we did when they were fresh because they were so crisp.

CLOTHESPIN SCROLLS
Ingredients: 1/2 cup milk, 1/2 cup sugar, 2 1/4 teaspoons salt, 4 1/2 teaspoons shortening, 3/4 cup warm (near 105 degrees) water, 1 package active dry yeast, 4 1/2 (about) cups sifted flour.

Method: Scald milk. Stir in sugar, salt and shortening. Cool to lukewarm. Measure warm water into large mixing bowl; sprinkle in yeast; stir until dissolved. Stir in lukewarm milk mixture. Stir in about half the flour; with spoon, beat until smooth. Stir in remaining flour. Turn out on lightly floured board. Knead until smooth and elastic. Place in greased bowl; brush top of dough with shortening. Cover with clean towel; let rise in warm place (about 85 degrees) free from draft, until doubled in bulk - about 1 hour. Punch down and turn out on lightly floured board. Roll dough to 1/4-inch thickness. Cut in strips 1/3 inch by 6 inches. Wind each strip around a greased wooden non-spring clothespin (round or square). Bake in hot (400 degrees) oven about 12 minutes. Pull out clothespins gently. Makes about 60 scrolls.

Note: These scrolls are more crisp than "bread" due to the one rising.

Letters To The Editor

DEAR SIR:
It was certainly a pleasure to read about all the awards won by our Panhandle newspapers at the annual convention of the National Editorial Assn. in San Francisco. I noticed that The Hereford Brand won first place in the General Excellence contest. The Brand is a very excellent newspaper, and I am sure that the judges had no problem in naming The Brand for this award. I congratulate you and the staff, and my best wishes always.

Walter Rogers, M. C.

Dear Sir:
We are consumed with envy at your NEA feat—we want to see how you did it. Can you send us a copy, please?

May I join your many friends who were proud to learn of your recent award from the National Editorial Assn. The recognition is certainly well deserved.

Dear Sir:
Along with many other of your newspaper friends, I was certainly thrilled to hear the good news that The Hereford Brand had won the coveted general excellence prize in the NEA contests this year. Allow me to extend to you my sincere congratulations on this splendid achievement.

I have always contended that the best doggone newspapers in the U. S. are right here in the Texas Panhandle and your accomplishment this year certainly gives weight to my argument!

Cotton Varieties Tests Underway at New Station

Research on cotton varieties at the new High Plains Station of the Texas Research Foundation at Halfway, will consist of observation plots, test plots and variety comparison in acreage plots.

Sixty one varieties have been planted in observation plots 22 feet long. Each of these 61 varieties are repeated four times on plots in different areas of the 310 acre farm. These cotton varieties are new or untried in this area.

Thirty four varieties have been planted in one hundred foot plots with four rows to the plot. The tests will be made from the two center rows. The outside rows will not be used because the results might be influenced by the fertilization or irrigation program conducted on the adjoining plots. Each variety plot will be repeated four times. The research results to be determined by the average of the center rows in the four plots.

Eight leading varieties of cotton have been planted for comparison in acreage blocks. These varieties are those now in common use in the High Plains Area. A prominent farmer visiting the Station and observing the planting in process

Santa Fe

The Big Job is under way

Santa Fe is now loading thousands of cars of grain and grain products on its lines

Santa Fe has been serving agriculture since 1874, when we sponsored the migration of the Mennonite farmers who established the Kansas wheat belt, and brought with them from Europe the ancestors of the better varieties of wheat grown in America today.

During harvest time, Santa Fe has a big job to do. At the country stations and terminal elevators along the line, as agriculture's "hired man," Santa Fe loads over 121,000 boxcars of grain a year—the total production of over 9,000,000 fertile acres. We also load over 34,000 cars of grain products on our line annually.

An important part of this job is done in advance by our own agriculture department, by collecting data on planted acreage, weather, crop damage and other factors that affect yield.

These statistics provide useful information for farmers, elevator operators and others interested in grain movements, and assist us in spotting grain-tight boxcars at strategic points at harvest time.

Our agriculture department works with the Federal and State agriculture departments, land grant colleges, and county agents in fighting destructive insects and plant diseases.

We are also privileged to award university scholarships annually to many farm youths in our territory.

We of the Santa Fe are proud of the part we have in serving the farmers of the West and Southwest in their essential task of feeding the Nation.

Beauty At Home

Q What is a good, simple exercise for improving the contour of the bust?

A Merely extend your arms sideways and swing them up, describing complete circles with the arms - elbows rigid.

Q How can I remove iron rust stains from some of my cotton dresses?

A After moistening the stains with water, squeeze some lemon juice directly onto them and then hold them in the steam from a boiling teakettle for a few minutes. Then rinse with water and repeat as many times as is necessary.

Q Please give me some tips for successful application of my mascara.

A The consistency of mascara is all-important. Always start with a clean brush. Wipe it off. Dampen the brush slightly and rub on the cake of mascara, until a paste-like consistency is achieved. Now brush your mascara on lengthwise, following the growth of the hair from the root to the tip of the lash. When the lashes are very thin, a second coat applied a little drier than the first will result in thicker-looking lashes.

Q What kind of a facial mask is a good treatment for whiteheads on the face?

A A thick paste of fuller's earth and witch hazel, with some gauze wrapped over this to keep the mask in place. After awhile, wash off with cool, then cold, water.

Q How can I, with my makeup, camouflage a raised scar on my face?

A Use base or stick makeup, two shades darker than over-all tinted base normally used, on the raised area. Don't extend the color beyond the area of the scar. Pat powder on and brush off excess. Blot with a damp towel, puff or cotton. Now apply over - tinted base makeup, and proceed with your general makeup.

Q What is a makeup hint which will help to make one's legs appear slimmer than they really are?

A Try shadowing the legs lightly with some dark foundation cream.

Q What is the formula for an oatmeal facial beauty mask?

A Three ounces of oatmeal, the juice of one lemon, and some witch hazel, mixed to a paste. Apply to face and throat, and let remain for 30 minutes before washing.

Q Can you suggest something I can do to remove a mole from my cheek?

A My advice is - DON'T tamper with this! Some moles are harmless, but others are not. Better check with your physician concerning its treatment, or removal.

MADISON, Wis. (AP) The ladies of the Wisconsin Farm Bureau have discovered that too many children think milk comes from bottles.

They've announced a campaign to do something about it.

The organization is distributing posters of a "Good Health Giant," who explains it really comes from cows. And besides, the children who do the best coloring job on the posters will be eligible for prizes at county fairs next summer.
