Three Hereford men have been certified as recommended applicants for the post of Hereford postmaster. The announcement this week said Jack Nolan Grady, Bill Hutson and Billy Miller had passed the Civil Service examination and were being approved for consideration. There were 13 applicants for the job.

Next step will be nomination of one of the three candidates by President Eisenhower and final approval by the United States Senate.

Final action is expected to be taken during the next session of the legislature, which starts in January.

A 20-INCH HOLE was torn in the windshield of a Hereford School System bus Friday night, when Halloween pranksters threw a watermelon into the path of the bus as it was returning from the Hereford-Littlefield game. Escaping serious injuries were 22 passengers. The driver, John Gandy, 17, suffered a deep laceration of his

CROP Drive Goes Over Goal

This year marks the most successful so far for CROP (Christian Rural Overseas Program) donations from the Hereford area. By 9 Thursday night Hereford residents had already contributed the prescribed goal of $1,000 set for this year's work. And when the more than 200 Hereford youngsters stopped soliciting, a total of $1,246.34 had been collected.

The success of the operation is attributed to the cooperation and hard work of the committees, officers and young soliciters. It is through this program of good will that Halloween has achieved a new meaning, adult advisors said.

Participants of the canvass met at the First Christian Church on Harrison Highway Thursday night, were assigned routes and began collecting from homes with porch lights burning. Within two hours, $1. 000 had poured in, almost doubling that of last year.

Heading the program locally were James Brogdon, president of the group; Gwen Morris, mapping chairman; Ann Wagouer and Larry Edwards, publicity; Linda No-land, food chairman; Karen Albright, secretary; Beth Lemons, treasurer; and Cecil Billingslea, sponsor.

Frost Prepares Harvest Finale

Grain elevator operators felt that the frost which hit the area Saturday morning "did the job", in reference to preparing the 'greenhead' type of maize for harvesting. Gin operators felt that the frost paved the way for the stripping of cotton.

A low of 28 was recorded at the Hereford Fire Station Saturday morning. Recordings for previous days were 35 on Thursday and 32 degrees Friday.

Growers, however, indicated that Saturday's frost was the season's first "killing freeze." With an unofficial estimate of 90 per cent completion of the maize harvest, the growers felt that the frost provided the weather needed for the final stages of the harvest. They had been waiting for a frost to prepare long-maturing types of maize for harvest, as the moisture content had not been acceptable for storage in eleva-

'Charley's Aunt' Comedy Slated By High School

A situation comedy, written in the 19th century, will be staged when the cast of the fourth annual All-School Play presents "Carley's Aunt" in the Hereford High School auditorium Nov. 24-25.

Written by Brandon Thomas, the play was first presented in London in 1892, The musical adaption, "Where's Charley", later became a hit to American audiences. Several revivals of the English comedy have been staged in the form of road tours. stock and amateur production, both silent and "talkies", according to Carroll Hickey, high school drama instructor.

Cast of the play includes Durward Jacobs as Stephen Spettigue, Richard Leggitt as Col. The "situation" of the comedy begins when two boys, roommates in college, invite their girl friends to meet a rich aunt from Brazil who is planning to visit them on her trip to England.

At the last minute, they receive a telegram from the aunt saying that she will be delayed.

Not wanting to disappoint their girl friends, they ask a friend to impersonate the aunt. He agrees, dresses for the part, and is introduced to the students' girl friends. Then the plotunfolds - the real aunt shows

YOUNG MODERNS

Popularity Is Always A Problem

By VIVIAN BROWN Are you faced with that old popularity issue now that you are back in school? If so, don't despair.

There are girls who are not popular with boys, and girls who are so popular with boys they aren't popular with girls.Every girl needs both, the com-panionship of girls and boys, to have a happy teenhood. She should make an effort to achieve that goal with her new classmates.

Let's look at a couple of popularity problems, and see how they may be handled effective-

There is the girl who is popular with boys, but not-with girls.

One reason is that she devotes herself entirely to the boys, and has little time for girls. Another is that she doesn't double-date with girl friends and their dates.

The attitude of other girls to her may be indicated by their failure to try to interest the girl in extra-curricular events or that they do not invite her to their special little hen parties. The girl who is snubbed may suspect she is being slighted and campaign to gain or regain these triendships. She can do it (1) by having an all-girl party or if she suspects that won't attract her friends, (2) by having a soiree they can't resist such as a big win-ding with you know who - BOYS. Even the perennial grudge carrier will forget her chip-on-the-shoulder for a party with boys, and a popular type should be able to pull off that party.

It is more difficult to gain popularity with boys so the girl who finds that her prob-lem is in attracting the male animal to her hunting grounds had better make a new pitch. Strike a happy medium pose with males you like — do not gush over them, but don't ignore or belittle them, if that has been your technique.

Let a boy talk about himself and his pursuits, and be prepared to gain a little knowledge on his favorite subjects so you will not be left in the lurch when he asks you a simple question a-long those lines. Be a good lis-

Oh, yes, you may talk occasionally, but don't pick a dull subject. Once the conversation gets into the realm of "girl-talk" boys become uneasy. Wait until you know him well to spout off about your girl friends, your parents; the size of your allow-

McCracken explained there is a continued demand for more meat in Europe and that poultry appears to be the commodity that will satisfy their needs. He said poultry requires less capital and less time before it reaches the table. As a result, Europe in the near future will see a great demand for feed grains.

Bill Nelson, executive secretary of the association, said the contract between the Grain Producers Association and the government will pave the way for extensive feed grain promotional and educational pro-

Nelson, in a report to grain sorghum producers here this September, stressed both these programs and that of research developments.

Nelson and McCracken said the contract could be signed within several weeks. Hanna said he was not sure when exports under this program would be initiated.

Various directors of the association reported on harvest operations in their counties at the Amerillo meeting and indicated the West Texas maize harvest is 85 to 95 per cent complete this year.

Other officers of the local chapter of the association are Charles Hill, vice president, and Bill Messick, secretary.

Hereford people probably in-P. T. Barnum, the fellow who es. originated the quip about a sucker being born every minute, would have probably upped the ratio if his circus had ever played here.

other end of the line said one gold mine. He said he had several investors from Hereford, and he figures they will be driving Cadillacs pretty soon if they keep on doing what he tells them. I asked him if he drove a Cadillac and he said he wouldn't ride in anything else. I figure this is good. Anyone who has a telephone bill the size of his should have at least one Cadillac, I still don't know if I should buy the stock or not. It really worries me. It was cheap enough at 26 cents a share, but the man didn't seem to want to fool with 15 or 20 shares.

I have to admit that it was educational, although somewhat disillusioning. I always thought folks who drove Cadillacs were real smart - and won them on quiz shows. I didn't know you could get them by purchasing stock in a hydraulic gold mine.

The Kiwanias are getting ready for their annual Pancake Supper. It will be held at Shirley School, 5 to 8 p.m., prior to the Hereford-Dumas football game. I hear that some of the local boys drove up to Dumas and sold 200 of their tickets to the Dumas Kiwanians, who will sell them out to Dumas fans who plan to attend the game. If you attended last year, you will remember it is a real good deal. All you can eat for 50 cents!

Several people have been won-Golves matches. Melvin Young and Don McNeese are working out with 15 boys, and report that they have some good prospects, though most of them are small. Roy Gonzales is about to KO the flu and get back into the ring: Chester Lee West, Dickie Elliott and Donnie Cornelius are three more youngsters who are showing unusual promise this season. The first matches will be held in around two weeks. Melvin says we will meet either Borger or Pampa; he doesn't know which as yet.

The new California driver's licenses came out Saturday - and they carry the photo of the person to whom they are issued. In addition to helping the Highway Patrol, they are also calculated to help slow down passing of forged checks.

I am a little bit worried about some private roads which Lyle Woodford, Jim Bob Allison and Robert Veigel are considering. They were talking the other morning about hauling the caliche in their spare time - and after noticing how much spare time those three boys have, I am afraid the road may get so high that it will be dangerous.

Next to the food stores, the furniture boys are really getting competitive. I notice notice three furniture ads in this particular issue of the paper, whereas a few years back we carried hardly that many in a 12-month period. They are selling a lot of furniture, too; some of it even delivers into Amarillo and points east.

A lot of people helped open the duck season Saturday morning, but very few families are likely to have duck for dinner today. There are two things the ducks are going to have to improve before they regain their popularity: first, they are going to have to start coming in at a later hour; second, they are going to have to learn to dress (or undress) themselves. These heat and serve deals put homemade rolls out of business and I predict they will sooner or later do the same thing to Thursday, Oct. 30, at 12:19 p.m. migratory fowl.

Rev. Joel Treadwell, new Episcopal vicar at St. Thomas, told members of the Lions Club Wednesday that people were always accusing him of having his collar on backwards, but added:

Mrs. Walter Seed says she never before appreciated that song, "The Music Goes Round and Round", until she recently rode back from Amarillo on a band bus, while some of the boys and girls practiced all of the way home.

It was a different deal Friday night, however, when sometossed a watermelon through the window of a bus returning from the Littlefield game. The kids really kept their head. I understand that some of the boys helped apply the emergency brake to keep the bus from backing into the underpass, while others rushed out to call an ambulance for the injured driver. If this was a Hallowe'en prank, it got out of hand fast and surely it must have been just that. I cannot believe that anyone would actually attempt to sabotage a school bus carrying 35 or 40 boys and girls. It just doesn't figure.

New Cub Scout Pack ds First Meeting

By CHARLIE SEEDS

Ie was the great lover of his time. . . the ideal of millions of women. From his black hair to flashing eyes and brilliant smile, he was the average woman's idea of a dream come true.

Through smash movies made. . like 'The Four Horsemen of Apocalypse" and the famous "The Sheik". he portrayed dashing lovers fearless officers and flashing-eyed Arab chieftains.And he made women swoon.

Then, at the peak of his career, tragedy struck. Black became the gown of the year for women all over the nation. Thousands came and mourned when he was laid to rest. There were many who never forgot him, the silver screen's most famed romantic idol. Few women who were moviegoers then, and few of their husbands, will fail to recall the time when Rudolph Valentino died.

Remember the year?

People admired the sleek good looks of the new cars that year, too. . . and it was a big buying year. Still, most people looked for savings when they bought, and they got them.

The year was 1926.

If your're looking for real savings this year on a new car, come in and see the new an appraisal on your present car. You'll be surprised how save you. . . it costs per

ABOUT HEREFORD

The One Thing He Envied Most

Most of us, as Americans, are prone to accept our blessings as a matter of course, rather than far their honest value. The same thing, in a smaller degree, is also true of the residents of Hereford.

Recently, we entertained for a couple of hours an unexpected visitor from another Panhandle town, perhaps a bit larger than our own. The visitor thought Hereford's two modern banks were unusually nice; maybe a bit ahead of his hometown. He estimated that paving and schools were on a par, along with the shopping center, swimming pool and several other improvements.

"Hereford's hotel is the thing of which your citizens should be most proud," he declared. "It probably isn't perfect, and you folks take it for granted-but where would you be without it?"

The question is truly hard to answer. Before Hereford acquired its hotel—at considerable expense—it was the community's foremost problem. Just as the sponsors predicted, the hotel has become a community center, a meeting place for drives, civic clubs, banquets and other gatherings. In providing living quarters for buyers, it has spurred along the cattle, vegetable and produce businesses. No other single factor has probably contributed so much to the community as has the hotel, which even resulted in erection of several new and modern motels as the area grew and expanded.

The hotel was built by the people of the community and, without question, all of us have directly and indirectly prospered as a result. These days, we take it for granted. It has become so much a part

United Fund Is Here To Stay

Hereford's United Fund drive is scheduled for Thursday, Nov. 6, and leaders are hoping to close the annual solicitation in a big, one-day sweep to raise the $21,000 goal.

All in all, United Fund has pretty well done what its sponsors promised. It definitely eliminated 10 separate drives and, in many instances, actually saved money for the donors, especially among the few who generally carry most of the Several who failed to cooperate in the drive last year will come in this year. Others will likely not cooperate, but few of them cooperated prior to the creation of United Fund.

Probably the greatest contribution United Fund has made on the local level has been a clear cut definition of services offered by various agencies in the community, thus eliminating unnecessary drives from time to time. People have come to realize that certain type cases will be handled through Red Cross, Salvation Army and other agencies and, more important, have started sending various cases to these agencles for help. So long as this system continues, United Fund has definitely served a real and important purpose.

Another important phase of improvement has been the presentation of a budget by each of the agencies. This has made sponsors conscious of their needs, and has given them sound business advice from some of the best business men in the community regarding their operation.

All in all, it seems to us that United Fund in 1958 proved itself to be worthwhile. For this reason, we predict that the 1959 drive will be a success. It may even go over in the one-day drive planned by its sponsors.

United Fund is here to stay. It is not a cureall for community troubles but, from every standpoint, it is by far the most efficient and best plan to have come our

An Open Expense For Legislators....

Second most controversial in the nine proposed amendments to be voted upon Tuesday is No. 1, which deals with Annual Sessions of the Legislature. As last week, The Brand presents a "For" and "Against" discussion of the amendment, compiled by the League of Women Vo-

This amendment would provide for Annual Sessions of the Legislature, an Annual Salary of $7500 plus an unspecified amount per diem for Legislators, and a temporary residence in the Capital Building for the Lieutenant Governor and the Speaker of the House of Representatives. The Contitution now provides that the Legislature meet biennially and that Leaislators be paid $25 per day for the first 120 days; no provision is made for the residence of the presiding officers.

Annual sessions would allow time for adequate and proper consideration of legislative matters and would permit attention to emergency problems which now se allowed to wait for the every-two-year ses-

Projected financing for state agercies over a 2-year period is difficult and unsound. Annual sessions would permit yearly budgeting and appropriations.

Salaries and allowances equal to actual expenses of the office are realistic approaches to the problem of attracting the best aualified persons to make our laws and develop a strong state government. Texas is the only state among the top ten in population which does not provide legislative salaries. AGAINST:

This amendment would add to the confusion of state government and to the burdens of its lawmakers since the proposed First Regular Session will be identical to the present overloaded biennial session and the Second Session could consider only the budget appropriations and emergency matter submitted by the Governor.

Not only does the amendment propose an annual salary of $7500, it also permits the legislators to vote themselves a per diem-with no limit set. It is estimated that these costs will more than double the expenses of the Legislative Department.

The pay offered would still not be adequate to attract top-notch lawmakers. This amendment would open the door to incompetents and professional office holders -candidates whose motivation is finan-

Waste Water Is Problem Of All

Deaf Smith County is on the verge of taking a firm stand on the subject of "tailwater" turned into bar ditches in this area. A definite pattern will likely be announced following their proposed joint meeting with our commissioners and High Plains Water District officials at the next regular meeting of the court.

While the problem touches several persons intimately, the Commissioners Court feels that it is also a community-wide problem which indirectly affects every individual in the country. They are, of course, right in their overall opinion.

The water user who infringes on the rights of his neighbors—although perhaps at his own expenese actually falls into the same category as any other person who injures his neighbors in the operation of a business which might be undesireable or illegal. Water, in addition, carries an exceptional legal status in that it is a natural resource upon which all citizens must depend.

How far the commissioners will go, no one knows. Much will probably depend upon outcome of test cases in other portions of the water district. Much will also depend upon whether the court members are willing to irritate those who happen to be careless, indifferent or belligerent concerning tail-water. While most of us feel that sufficient water exists in this area to last another 50 to 100 years, the water still remains as a natural resource of the area, and every possible means should be pursued to conserve the resource and to make it last as long as possible. With these things in mind, most citizens of the community should back the Commissioners Court in its stand for general welfare of the community, including the violators. Such, after all, is the primary duty of the men we elected to do the job. They are merely trying to carry out the solemn vows they made when they were sown to their individual posts of public ninth grade students are 14 years old and, as you know, that is the age when driver's licenses may be acquired.

As to the actual driving of a car, I think 14 years old is about the right time to start driving in accordance with

Texas laws. But I do feel that a course of rules and reg-

HART EXPLOSION

Two separate explosions, only seconds apart, caused some $2,000 damage to Hill's General Store in Hart and injured a Mexican youth employed by the store about 3 p.m. Tuesday. The explosion knocked the youth from his feet while he was trying to stop butane spurting from a container which apparently had been averfilled. Hoses on a 50-gallon butane tank broke under pressure and spurted the fuel into a small house beside the store. An air compressor running inside the building used for tire repair, apparently triggered the blasts. Homer Hill, owner of the store, said the building, which was joined to the store proper, was demolished. The fuel continued to spurt into the wreckage and a second blast scattered merchandise inside the store and caused the ceiling to collapse, although the roof remained intact. The youngster was injured while attempting to bring the broken hoses under control. Following the first explosion, the youth's father ran to aid his son and was knocked sprawling by the secand blast. Both were rushed to Olton for treatment and dismissed.—CASTRO COUNTY NEWS (Dimmitt)

DALHART DIAL SYSTEM

The General Telephone Co. of the Southwest-with general headquarters in San Angelo-will cut over its Dalhart exchange from the present common battery system to dial operation at 12:01 a.m. Dec. 27. The announcement was made late yesterday by District Manager Vic Reynolds and District Plant Supervisor Jack Shelly, both of Guymon, Okla. They said at least 75 per cent of the 2.036 phones in Dalhart had been altered for dial operation; and that alterations would be complete within another few weeks. Testing of dial equipment in the remodeled and enlarged telephone office and plant building at Sixth and Denver will get under way within about two weeks; and testing of individual phones for dial operation will get under was in about three weeks, the two officials said. A special five-man crew, under foremanship of C. D. Cummings, has been in Dalhart a month making the essential changes for dial operation, and will be here until the actual cut over is made.—DALHART

GINNINGS REACH 43,300

The biggest ginning week of the season brought Lamb County's total to 43,300 bales this week. A total of 15,-300 bales were ginned as many gins went to work on a round-the-clock schedule, said Carl Pillion of the Littlefield Texas Employment Commission office. Continued good weather over the area during the week gave harvest hands full days every day. Too, cotton was being machined, especially in dryland areas, Pillion said. Some observers were predicting a boost in the expected production this year for the county, but Pillion and County Agent Bill Kimbrough stuck with their forecasts that the county will produce 160,000 bales. A shortage of harvest workers is still plaguing farmers, however. Pillion estimated the county still needs about 8,000 workers.—COUNTY-

BOOTLEG ---Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm discusses foreign policy this week, which is out of his field.

Dear editar:

All during the Congressional campaigns throughout the past few weeks I've been reading indignant statements by different people saying we ought to keep our foreign policy out of politics, and I wish to say that if foreign policy has been injected in to politics, I didn't do it-I don't even know what our foreign policy is.

For example, I know we must have some policy toward say Formosa, but how can you expect me to know what is is when nobody in Washington does either?

However, I'm not sure there's anything wrong with injecting foreign policy into politics, lots of candidates inject honesty into politics and some of them don't know what that is either. If you're going to limit politics to what a man knows. I know some candidates whose camnaign wouldn't last longer than five or ten minutes. I figure mine, if I was running, would last one or two.

Speaking of foreign policy, I read the other day where a man in Washington said the United States now has fewer friends in the world than ever before. This is the cort of statement that intriques me.

In the first place. I don't even know how many friends I had abroad before, not to mention now. Foreign friends added up by somebody else are somehow different from friends in your own neighborhood. With the latter, you can find out for yourself, but with the former, you have to take somebody else's word for it, and as a result you never know which side they're going to turn up on when the chips are down.

Some of our best friends in the first world war were our worst enemies in the second, and some of our allies in the second are our worst enemies now. You get the feeling that foreign friends frequently are like your welcome in some stores. You're welcome only as long as you're spending money there.

If you catch any politician injecting our foreign policy into politics, I wish you'd let me know about it. I'd like to corner him and ask him what it is.

Yours faithfully,
