By JIMMIE GILLETINE

Hereford is a wonderful place to live. It affords many advantages which other towns do not offer. I knew we had more fishermen, per capita, than probably any other town in the U. S. A., but it had never before occurred to me that we live in a fishing paradise. Otis Hall figured the deal out — and no question, he is 100% right!

"Hereford is the center of the world's best fishing," declared Otis. "You can go 500 miles in any direction, and you will find plenty of fish."

Meanwhile, I haven't run into anyone yet, who did not expect to spend the long week-end at Conchas. I'll bet it is so crowded over there Sunday that you can walk all over the lake, just stepping from one boat to another.

One thing I appreciate about the gang that went to Canada last week is the fact that they haven't mailed me any of those cards saying, "Having a wonderful time. Wish you were here."

Nothing burns a fellow who stays at home more than this sort of message. I often wonder why they haven't passed a law against it. Maybe the new 3-cent post card rate will help take care of the situation.

Curtis Roach says he always gets to the fishing holes "just after they quit biting — and they never start until the week after he goes back home." This is bad, but not half so drastic as Dick Barnard's report: "Everybody was catching them except me!" It is experiences of this sort which account for the universal popularity of golf and crossword puzzles.

Mrs. J. J. (Margaret) Durham is coming in for some long overdue recognition. Some five years ago, she was active in starting the Foreign Exchange student program in Hereford.

"That's all the Lord charges," opines Deward, "and I figure the government ought to work as cheap as He does."

It looks as if those "rapid bugs" left just as they came — overnight. None too soon, either. Marvin Knox says they did eat one of the parking meter posts and if I don't believe it to look out in front of Piggly-Wiggly.

Creating a lot of comment these days is the Allen house under construction at Plains and Buttram Streets. The house is a large one, but the item that attracts attention is the fact that it includes a 4-car garage. So far as I know, this is the only home in Hereford which can boast four garages.

Kenneth Coker is usually overboard on something, and this time it is memory. He can sit down and review a magazine, then tell you everything on every page, including the ads. Friday he reviewed a deck of cards briefly, then remembered each of the 52 cards in the order which they appeared. I asked him what was the date of his wedding anniversary — and he stammered around quite a while before giving me a date. I still don't know if it was right or not.

Mostly, though, my trouble lies in not being able to forget certain incidents. This can be more important than being able to remember others. Your wife and the kids will remind you of the things you really need to remember and, by the same token, they very seldom let you forget the ones you would rather not ever hear about again. Coker really is getting good, however. He has a system of association, and it seems to function remarkably well.

Harry Cayler gave a blood transfusion to a friend some time back — and the lady immediately had a chill. Harry's friends say they had always heard bankers were cold blooded, but this is the first time they ever had proof of the fact beyond any question of doubt.

Popular these days in the coffee spots is the story about an old boy who was hailed into court for fighting.

"Let's hear your side of it," said the JP.

"Well, I am in this phone booth talking to my girl," said the prisoner, "when this big brusier comes along and wants to use the phone. He opens the door, grabs my collar and throws me out on the concrete floor."

"And that made you mad?" asked the JP.

"Nope," answered the fellow. "It was when he reached in and got my girl and threw her out that I got really mad."

The judge was righteously indignant.

"I can't think of anything worse than a man beating up his wife," he informed the defendant sternly. "What made you do it?"

"Well," replied the man, "she kept saying, 'Hit me! Go ahead and hit me! I'll have you brought before that bald-headed old baboon of a judge in court, and he'll fix you!'"

New Residents Take Part In Community

IT'S: HER POINT OF VIEW

Dear Winnie,
Well Cousin, it's been so long since you last heard from me that I'm gonna have to write fast to catch ya up on all the news.

First of all I know you'll be interested to know that our town has continued to draw many fine new residents. Two families in particular that I think of are the Bill Thompsons (he is our Chamber of Commerce Secretary - Manager) and the Don Baugouses (he is director of music for the First Methodist Church).

Both families have lived here just long enough to begin to feel that Hereford is really home and already have made lots of friends and shown a wonderful zest, as well as talent, for contributing to community life here. And both have added substantially to Hereford's population of male children — the Thompson's two offsprings are boys and the three Baugous chillun are boys.

This doesn't have anything to do with the general idea here, but — everyone knows Mrs. Thompson as "Pick". I happen to know her real name is "Myrtle".

Then there are the Russell Carvers. As you may know, they moved to Hereford only a few weeks ago so that Russell could take over the chair behind the president's desk at the Hereford State Bank, and they certainly are proving a welcome addition to our citizenry. Virginia Carver is quite a charming person (met her at Duplicate bridge one Thursday night — she and partner Lu Davis fared very well, the Townsend Douglas home on Texas St., and the Dudley Baynes purchased the Seeds house up on the north end of Star. Haven't heard where the Douglas family will move to when they leave that lovely home they built less than five years ago — everyone is so scared they'll be leaving Hereford!

The Leonard Watson family moved to 3rd Street — right across from the hospital. So handy for Leonard to walk to work (in his job as hospital manager) and Meiba can keep the car all day!

Golly Winnie dear, I've just gotten started good but am gonna hafta continue this next week. Right now got lotsa stuff to do for the Memorial Day weekend. Be sure to look for the end of this epistle next week — might even have some scandalous gossip by then!

More than half of the 182,000 population of El Paso, Tex., speak Spanish.

WELL PREPARED
NEW YORK — A special effect in the new Broadway drama "Sweet Bird of Youth" is being done with special care.

In one scene the audience sees part of a television show. A movie projector enlarges the episode on a big screen. Because of its importance to the plot, the episode was filmed twice — once with star Sidney Blackmer, the other with his understudy, Duke Farley — just so there would be no spectator confusion should the standby go on at any performance.

Most of the things we wait for aren't worth the delay.

GALLIC COMEDY PLANNED
NEW YORK — Three leading French stars are booked to appear on Broadway next fall in a Gallic comedy, "Caprice." They are Louis Jourdan, Claude Dauphin and Jean Pierre Aumont.

"Caprice" is adapted from a play by Armand Salacrou that has had three successful runs in Paris.

Many people reach great heights by putting up a bluff.

Tammany Hall has been the ruling organization of New York City politics most of the time since 1800.

Hospital Notes

VISITING RULES

As visitors at Deaf Smith County Hospital, we want you to know that you are most welcome and that your visits help in keeping the patients cheerful during their stay at the hospital.

Since it is your desire along with ours to see that your relatives or friends make a complete recovery as soon as possible, we know that you will appreciate some helpful suggestions in making your visit most beneficial to the patient.

The hospital has set up a schedule of visiting hours which we feel is necessary, both to the speedy recovery of the patients and the efficient management of the hospital. The limitations of these hours keep the patient from becoming overly tired and the hours are set so as not to interfere with the hospital routine. We wish you would help us by making every effort to comply with this schedule.

Visiting hours are from 2 to 4:30 p.m., and from 7 to 8:30 p.m.

We further request that the number of visitors be limited to two per patient at any one time. We ask that children under fourteen years of age not be permitted to visit in the hospital.

Bible Words for Today

JOHN 10:10 "I am come that they might have life, and that they might have it more abundantly." (KJV)

There is something in which we are all interested and that thing is life. It greatly concerns us how "to stay alive all the days of our life." A poet once said, "Our spirits grow gray before our hair." Napoleon once commented: "Men grow old quickly on the battlefield." To that observation we are forced to reply: "And so they do in life unless they are on guard!"

Staying alive all the days of one's life—we might say that that is the chief business of life. All around us we see people who are being satisfied with what is not life at all. They grasp hold of something and then too late they realize that what they thought was life was not life at all.

There was One who dared say, "I am Life," and He is eternally issuing His "invitation to live." Abundant life is what we all want!

Lovett-Corder Vows Exchanged

Wearing a gown of her own design and making, Miss Margaret Jane Lovett of Clovis, N. M., became the bride of Luther Lavern Corder in a double ring ceremony Saturday in the Calvary Baptist Church of Clovis.

Rev. Donald Kimbrough, Pastor of the First Baptist Church of Clovis, officiated at the 2 p.m. rites.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. E. L. Lovett and the late Mr. Lovett of Clovis, N. M., and the bridegroom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. N. H. Corder of Dalou. White tapers rising from branched candleabra lighted altar decorations of greenery and baskets of pink majestic daisies and palms.

Musical selections were presented by Mrs. Grace Dean of Fortales, N. M., aunt of the bridegroom, who played "No Other Love", "My Hero", "Schubert's Serenade" and "Always" preceding the ceremony, and accompanied Kenneth Malon, who sang "I Love You Truly" and "Because". The pianist also played the traditional wedding marches.

In similar ensembles Miss Vanise Lovett, sister of the bride as maid of honor, and Mrs. H. M. Underwood Jr. of Dallas as bridesmaid, wore pink cotton satin ballerina dresses with sweetheart necklines and banquets in their hair fashioned of pink velvet cord and nylon tulle. Each carried a cascade bouquet of pink daisies.

Janine Corder of Lubbock served as flower girl, wearing a V-necked aqua taffeta dress and carried a dainty little basket made from the same material as the bride's dress, filled with pink rose petals. Tip and Kip Kimbrough, twin cousins of the bride, carried the rings on white satin pillows.

Harold Corder of Lubbock assisted his brother as best man, and ushers were Donald Pamplin of Amarillo and Donny and Johnny Adams, twin brothers of Abernathy.

The bride was escorted to the altar and given in marriage by her brother, L. C. Lovett of Clovis. Her bridal attire was of white embroidered cotton satin over blush pink taffeta fashioned with fitted bodice, having a portrait neckline and short sleeves. The very full intermission length skirt, worn over hoops, fell to a longer length in the back.

Her double fingertip veil of illusion was held by a tiara of seed pearls and iridescent sequins and gaudlets of the same material as the dress, completed her costume. She carried a white Bible topped with a single white orchid.

Mrs. Lovett, the bride's mother, wore an aqua afternoon dress with white accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

Mrs. Corder, the bridegroom's mother, wore a navy dress with white accessories and a pink carnation corsage.

Following the wedding, a reception was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. B. J. Pierce. The bride's table was laid in aqua net over pink garlanded with pink satin ribbon caught at the corners with nosegays of pink daisies. Members of the house party included Mrs. Eric Pierce, Mrs. Gordon Smith, Mrs. Lowry Winkler, Mrs. Louis Bomberger, Mrs. Vernon Lovett, Mrs. Grady Pierce and Miss Florine Coker.

For the wedding trip to points in South Texas and New Mexico, the bride chose a Teal blue suit with all-white accessories. Her shoulder corsage was the orchid from the wedding bouquet.

The bride graduated with a B. A. degree from Eastern New

July Wedding Date Announced By Earleen Plank And Bill G. Moore

Wedding plans were revealed for Miss Earleen Plank, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Earl Plank, and Bill Gene Moore, son of Mr. Cyrus C. Moore and the late Mrs. Moore of Dalhart, at a luncheon given by the bride-elect's mother at their home Saturday, May 30.

As the guests registered in the bride's book-of-names, the story of the romance was revealed on the hand painted china book cover bearing the names "Earleen and Bill" - July 18, 1959". The buffet table laid with a white imported line cloth repeated the story in the center piece which was a pink bridal tree accented with clusters of pink carnations. A miniature bride and bridegroom rested in a dainty swing hanging from one of the branches with the names and date of the wedding inscribed on ribbons attached to the swing.

Miniature bridal trees also centered quartet tables. They held small favor corsages among the branches which were removed and worn by the guests.

Out-of-town guests attending the luncheon were Mrs. Jerry Swearingner, Mrs. George Snider, and Mrs. E. E. Plank of Canyon; Mrs. Hugh Rose, Mrs. E. S. Roper, Mrs. E. S. McKie, Miss Teabelle Sludder, Mrs. Joe Allender and Miss Shirley Glasco of Dalhart; Miss Lu Durham of Dallas; Miss Patsy Heishell, Miss Jeannette Palmer, Mrs. John Plank, Miss Laura Plank, Miss Margaret Plank of Amarillo; Miss Nancy Crawford of Denton; Mrs. E. How Can I?

Q. How can I frost the glass of a window?
A. Dissolve 6 ounces of Epsom salts in about 20 ounces of warm water. To this add 2 ounces of white dextrin, which will act as an adhesive when the mixture is applied to the glass. The salts will crystallize into a covering similar to hoar frost.

Q. How can I determine whether yeast is old?
A. If there are dark spots on the yeast cake, it is better not to use it, as some of the yeast plants are dead. A good cake of yeast is moist, uniformly creamy in color, and can be easily broken into crumbs.

Q. How can I soften the skin?
A. A good treatment for softening and whitening the face, neck, arms, and hands is to mix a little raw cornmeal with sour milk, and apply.

Q. How can I keep chamois soft?
A. After having used the chamois, wash it carefully in warm soapy water; then press carefully on a flat surface to dry. Do not hang it in the air or place on the radiator, as this will only make the skin hard and dry.

Q. How can I keep eggs from bursting while boiling?
A. They will not burst if one end of each egg is pricked with a needle before placing in the water. This makes an outlet for air and prevents the shell from cracking.

Q. How can I prevent grass and weeds from growing between the bricks of the brick walk?
A. Pour crank case oil over them two or three times a season. The oil will soon evaporate and the weeds will be killed.

Q. How can I remove old wall paper?
A. Put a heaping tablespoonful saltpeper into each gallon of hot water, and apply liberally with a brush. Keep the water hot and after a few applications, the paper can be pulled from the wall very easily.

Q. How should molasses be measured?
A. Grease the cup lightly before measuring molasses, or dip it full of flour and then empty it. Either method will enable every drop of molasses to come out of the cup without sticking.

Q. How can I make a floor polish?
A. Equal parts of melted candle grease and turpentine makes a good floor polish.

Q. How can I facilitate the threading of a needle?
A. Cutting the thread on a slat before threading a needle eases the task of sticking it through the eye of the needle.

REMEMBER WHEN?

By CHARLIE SEEDS

CARL HUBBELL was famed for his screwball — a curve that broke the wrong way for a left-handed hurler. It made him one of the National League's greatest pitchers, for years the "meal ticket" of the New York Giants.

His biggest moment, and one of the greatest pitching exhibitions of all time, came in one of the annual All Star games... a year when he faced the most murderous collection of power hitters ever assembled.

Carl didn't start out very hot. The first two men to face him got on base. Charley Gehring singled and Helnie Manush walked. Two men on... and the hitter was Babe Ruth. That's when Hubbell earned the nickname "King."

Remember the year? That was a depression year... and a man who bought a new car had economy in mind. He looked for real savings... and shopped around till he got the best deal.

The year was 1934. If you've shopped around, you'll know we're offering real savings when you discover the price, the trade, and the monthly terms you can get right now on a brand new 1959 FORD. Shop here save, at CHARLIE SEEDS MOTOR CO., INC., 46 E. Second, Phone EM 4-7271.

Household Scrapbook

Whipping Cream
Add one-fourth teaspoon of lemon juice to each cup of heavy cream to hasten the whipping. Be sure to have the cream and utensils thoroughly chilled, so as to prevent the mixture from turning to butter. This is particularly important during the summer months.

Olive Oil Substitute
When your supply of olive oil is running low, when making salad dressing, melt butter and add it to the oil. It makes a good substitute.

Adding Weight
Cream, taken after meals, is excellent in many cases for increasing the weight.

The Chinese Way
The Chinese method for removing ink stains from clothing is to wash the spots with boiled rice. Rub the rice on the stain as you would soap, and wash with clear water. If the first application is not effective, repeat the process.

Tea Flavor
According to some authorities, the flavor of tea is enhanced by the adding of milk. They further state, however, that cream and lemon tend to disguise its flavor.

Rugs
If the rugs have a worn appearance around the edges, try button-holing with coarse yarn. It will lengthen the life of the rug, and will give it a neater and fresher appearance.

Cotton Crepe
Cotton crepe, cut into one-yard lengths, makes very serviceable dish towels. They do not require any hemmings nor ironing. They give a fine polish to glassware, do not shed lint, and are very inexpensive.

Lumpy Salt
To prevent the salt from hardening and becoming lumpy in the saltcellar, mix a little cornstarch with the salt before filling the cellar.

Spiders
Saturate some cotton or cloth with pennyroyal and place it in infested places to rid the house of spiders.

Mashed Potatoes
Before adding the milk to mashed potatoes, it should always be heated. This is even more important to remember during the winter months, because then the milk is so cold and the potatoes are chilled by it, therefore becoming heavy in texture.

Store brown sugar in the bread box, if you have room, to keep it moist.

Serve iced coffee topped with whipped cream flavored with a little vanilla.

TOWN.
A birthday party for Marion Russell was held in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Zed Stewart Tuesday evening. Those present were Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Beauty At Home

Q. How can I help to preserve the auburn tint in my hair?

A. Try diluting a little salts of tartar in a pint of warm water. Rub this well into the hair until a good lather results. Leave on about a half-hour, then rinse out.

Q. What is a good, beneficial treatment for perspiring hands?

A. A warm water and alcohol bath helps to dry them. Two or three times daily, use an astringent lotion made of one part boric acid to 20 parts water. Then dust the hands afterward with some talcum powder.

Q. What is a good makeup routine for an acne-pitted face?

A. Fill in the pits with a cream base that is lighter than skin tone. The cream base can be pressed in and set by using a puff lightly dusted with talcum powder. For the makeup, use a liquid foundation cream of a skin-matching tone, smoothed on evenly and carefully so as not to disturb the first cream base. Then the rouge, and finally powder.

Q. What kind of facial pack is good for toning the skin, and helps to correct enlarged pores in the complexion?

A. Mix equal parts of peroxide and witch hazel, and add this to some fuller's earth — enough to make a smooth mixture. After cleansing face and throat, apply the pack and let it dry on the skin. Then remove with water, and pat some cream in.

Q. How can short, stubby fingers be made to appear longer and more slender?

A. By wearing longer nails, with oval shaping. You can also help with the application of your polish. Leave a small, curving, uncolored rim on each side of the nail — which will help the ovalized appearance.

Mrs. L. B. Barnett and Mrs. Frank Prowell presided at the table to pour and Mrs. Virgil Young and Mrs. Larry Paschel served dainty cake squares. Mrs. J. O. Covington of Amarillo, the bride's aunt, kept the guest register. Approximately 85 guests attended the shower affair including the bride's grandmother, Mrs. J. B. Finley and her granddaughter, Shelley Polk of Lubbock; and the bride's aunt, Mrs. Robertson of Lubbock.

Shower Courtesy Honors Mrs. Allmon As New Bride

Mrs. Jackie Allmon, the former Miss Carolyn Kester, was honored Tuesday afternoon with a miscellaneous shower courtesy given in the home of Mrs. Louie LeGrand. Other hostesses were Mesdames Owen Stagner, J. J. Durham, Virgil Young, A. O. Thompson, R. C. Anderson, Frank Prowell, Jimmie Gillentine, A. N. McRight, Larry Paschel, J. B. Sowell, Jimmie Alfred, Byron Durham, Carrie Mae Doak, O. R. Sanders, G. W. Newsom, E. W. Young and Paul Harvey. The refreshment table carried out the colors used by the bride in her wedding. The cloth, used for the wedding reception, was white net banded in wide white satin, laid over pink satin. In the center was an arrangement of pink roses and peonies surrounding two linked pink tulle hearts standing upright before tall pyramiding pink wedding tapers. Tiny wedding bells and a small white Bible completed the setting.

Shrinking Material
To shrink dress material place it folded in a tub of cold water, to which a few handfuls of salt have been added. After a few hours, hang on the line without unfolding. The weight of the water prevents wrinkles drying in, and the salt sets the color.

Waterproof Wood
To render wood waterproof soak it in a mixture consisting of 6 parts boracic acid, 5 parts ammonium chloride, 3 parts sodium borate, and 100 parts water.

Pink Underwear
The color of pink underwear may be restored by adding a few drops of mercurochrome to the rinse water.

Headache Treatment
Many persons have relieved a throbbing headache by drinking the juice of half a lemon in fresh water, following with the other half in half an hour, and rubbing the sifted lemon over the brow and temples.

Tough Rolls
Do not brush the rolls with water after they are taken from the oven, as this makes the crust tough. Brush them with water or butter before putting into the oven.

Skin Softener
To soften and whiten the face, neck, arms, and hands, mix and apply a little raw cornmeal and sour milk.

Mustard Stains
To remove mustard stains from linen, boil in water in which has been dissolved 1 teaspoon baking soda to each quart of water. Boil until the stain has disappeared, and then follow with the usual laundering.

Care of Hams
Large hams, after they have been cut, are often inclined to mold. To prevent this, spread lard over the cut portion and put away as usual. Then, when another slice is cut, the meat will be as fresh as ever.

Removing Odor
The odor of fresh paint or cigarette smoke can be removed from a room by leaving overnight a large bowl of water, into which has been mixed a teaspoon of ammonia.

Zany Beach Hats And Bags Big Business For Ex-Model

LOS ANGELES (AP) — "I was modeling bathing suits at this fashion show — I was still in college then — and this lady asked me, would you like to buy a business?"

Kay Cantonwine settled a big straw hat on her champagne-blonde hair and slipped a trifle off the subject.

"Isn't this one fabulous?" she asked, "I call it, 'Take Me to Your Leader.'"

She tipped the straw forward and viewed herself, in her office mirror, through the celluloid-covered eye holds in the drooping brim. Giant blue eyeballs, made of fabric, were glued above the eye slots.

"Of course this one isn't for me," said Kay. "My eyes are green. But we make them with all color eyeballs."

By we, 25-year-old Kay was speaking of her own firm, California Accessories, which grossed a quarter of a million dollars last year. It supplies a good share of the beach hats and bags bought by girls who can afford $15 to $36 to look fetchingly bizarre.

"I always wanted to be either an actress or own a business," said Kay, switching hats and subjects. (This time the hat was topped with a plastic lobster whose claws dangled realistically.) "So I went to Daddy and told him I had to have the money to buy this business right away."

Her father, Howard Cantonwine — a former wrestler and now a sports promoter — didn't have to put up much money. "It got pretty complicated," said Kay. "There was someone else trying to buy the business, and they had a big old law suit."

"But finally I got it for just a little cash. I paid it off in a couple of months. Business was fabulous, right from the start. You know, we grossed $15,000 that first year?"

Oldtimers in the dog-eat-dog apparel industry look with awe on the success of this young business woman, who is pretty enough to be her own best model. What's her secret of success?

"You have to keep up with the changes," said Kay. "Like this. Bikinis are big this year. Right away we got this one out. It's called 'Bikini in a Basket.'"

She opened a bag decorated in the shades of aquamarine, green and purple gleaming this spring from every fashion shop's display windows. From it she pulled a couple of hanky-sized wisps of cloth in matching color and a pair of sun glasses with big purple flowers at the up-swept outer corners.

"I often wear one of them myself," she said, adding demurely, "on the terrace of my apartment." She slipped on the glasses. "Do you think they make a girl look overdressed?"

Kay and her mother own a factory in Laguna Beach where 23 women stitch, cut and glue the designs Kay helps create.

Kay's younger sister, Betty, a brown-eyed girl with lavender hair, helps Kay model her products. Even their father sometimes gets pressed into work, helping out at the factory.

WISH YOU WERE HERE?

MILWAUKEE (AP) — "Don't worry about a thin," Charles Andrews told his boss. "Go to Florida, relax and have a good time."

The boss, Charles Mansfield, took Andrews at his word and departed for Florida leaving Andrews in charge of his children's furnishings store in the suburban Bay Shore Shopping Center.

The vacation, however, turned out to be a nightmare for Andrews. First he had to all the boss and tell him that he had skidded Mansfield's car and smashed the front grill. Then he had to telephone the sad news that a water main had broken and flooded all of the stock in the store's basement.

Finally a $300,000 fire swept the shopping center and Andrews had to break the news to Mansfield that the stock was virtually a complete loss.

TOWN IS RECRUITER

SALINA, Kan. (AP) — Schilling Air Force Base took official notice of the unusually harmonious relationship between the base and the city of Salina.

Men of the base gathered on the flight line and spelled out "Peace is our profession."

Base officers credited the city's friendly atmosphere with decisions of many of the 1,464 Air Force men at the base to re-enlist during 1958 — believed to be an Air Force record.

Jones Came Near Losing '29 Open, But Won Easily

By FRANK ECK

MAMARONECK, N. Y. (AP) — Thirty years ago Joe McCarthy's Chicago Cubs and Connie Mack's Philadelphia Athletics were heading for baseball pennants.

Babe Ruth had his sights on his 10th of 12 American League home run crowns and Lefty O'Doul (.398 that year) and Lew Fonseca (.369) were heading for batting titles.

Here at the immaculately manicured Winged Foot Golf Club, a 27-year-old amateur golfer, Robert Tyre Jones Jr., was making a shambles out of the National Open golf championship. He beat Al Espinosa of Glenocoe, Ill., by 23 strokes in the 36-hole playoff. The tally was 141 to 164.

Accounts of the most lop-sided of 19 USGA Open playoffs tells that Espinosa had a two-stroke lead after three holes but birdies by Jones' on the fifth and sixth holes evened the match. On the eighth, Espinosa three-putted and lost all control of his game.

He began hooking his shots and the more he struggled to right his game the more he hooked. He finished the first 18 in 84 to Jones' 72.

Despite the carnage, Jones had almost blown his chance to tie Espinosa the previous day. Bob entered the fourth and final round with 215, three shots ahead of seasoned pro campaigner Gene Sarazen and four in front of Espinosa. Benny Shute was five strokes back.

"Jones had a 79 that final round," says Al Cluci, the Fresh Meadow pro who was rooting for his former caddy, Sarazen. "He almost blew the whole thing. Bob had to hole a downhill putt of 10 to 12 feet for his 79."

For the first time since that memorable 1929 Open, the West Course at Winged Foot will be the scene of the 1958 Open. It's set for June 11-13, and if there's a playoff it will be only 18 holes. Playoffs have been one rounders since 1947 when Lew Whorham beat Sam Snead by one putt at St. Louis.

Claude Harmon, Winged Foot pro who shot a record equaling 70 to win the 1948 Masters, says the course is in great shape right now.

"The course will play 500 to 600 yards longer than in 1929," says Harmon, recently elected president of the Metropolitan PGA, the nation's largest PGA section. "Years ago, the fairways were like concrete and it was nothing to hit a ball 300 yards. Four back tees and the watering system put in four years ago are the difference."

Where 294 tied for the 1929 Open, 284 or less may win it this time.

TEE SHOTS: In the 1929 Open, 990 golfers started at Winged Foot but only 63 of the 67 who made the final cut finished

JUST LIKE MOM—Baby's favorite toys imitate the grown-up world. He loves this soft-plastic telephone, for instance, because he sees his mother using a similar phone. This toy phone fastens to table or high-chair tray with suction cups, is pleasantly scented and squeaks nicely when squeezed. Baby's own instincts guide selection of right toy for right age.

Mother Beats The So-Called Experts

By Dorothy V. Whipple, M. D.

"What's the right way to pin a diaper on a baby?" "Should a baby sleep on his stomach?" "Is it better to pick him up when he cries?"

These and thousands of other questions make some young inexperienced mothers so jittery they are like the June bug in the old tale.

The young "intellectual" June bug lay on his back and tried to think how to turn over. He carefully moved one leg, then another, then stretched a third; finally he was beating the air with all six legs and getting nowhere. An old Grandpa June bug came along and said: "Stop thinking, sonny, and get up and walk."

Many a young mother needs to stop worrying about the damage she might do her baby if she doesn't do everything exactly right — right being what some expert has said was right. There isn't one right way to care for a baby, while all other ways are wrong. In general the very best way for you to care for your baby is the way that makes you feel comfortable and at ease. A baby thrives on peace, contentment and a sense of being loved. How you accomplish this doesn't make any difference.

The atmosphere in which a baby grows is by far the most important part of child care. If you are a friendly, reasonably happy woman, and your marriage is working along smoothly, you are completely safe in just following your instincts in the way you handle your baby.

On the other hand, if you're a grumpy, whiney, dissatisfied young woman convinced you're married to the wrong man, then the experts on child care can't tell you much either. If that's the kind of person you are, your baby is going to grow up like you regardless of just how you care for him. A baby knows what kind of a person you are. If you are cross and nervous he feels it in the tense feeling of your arms and the crack in your voice. You transfer your feelings to him. When you are on edge, he gets on edge too and he cries and fusses, a crying baby doesn't soothe a nervous mother!

Take yourself in hand, before you have children if you can. Try to understand what you are like and come to some sort of terms between what you are and what you'd like to be. When you are at peace with yourself, then you will make a good mother.

The details of child care seldom do much of anything about the basic climate of the home. However there is no doubt that these people who call themselves experts on child care do have a few pointers it's worth finding out about.

Experts can give you lots of short-cuts — easy ways to do things. Experts can tell you reasons why your baby does as he does — what to expect, next week and next month and next year. Experts can certainly help you and they can make the whole job of bringing up a child easier and more interesting.

But don't expect the impossible from any expert, no matter how firmly he speaks. By going through all the most approved motions of scientific baby care you will never persuade a baby his mother is anything different from what she really is.

Refreshments were served to those attending. Attending were Jana Cole, Jo Anne and Barbara Cole and Carol Robbins. Also present were one mother, Mrs. Ruth Robbins, the leader, Mrs. Floyd Cole and Mrs. R. L. Cole, and Mrs. Stringer.
 The next meeting will be held June 12 in the home of Jana Cole.

PRIZES FOR TRANSLATIONS
 NEW YORK — Three awards totalling $1,000 are to be given for the best translations into English of Latin-American plays.
 The prizes, posted by the U. S. National Commission for UNESCO, the American Educational Theatre Assn., and Theatre Arts magazine, are designed to stimulate interest in foreign playwrights.

 MARTINSVILLE, Va. — Frank B. Netherland, 22, has always loved theatre organs. So when a North Carolina radio station wanted to sell one, Netherland bought it. He took it down, shipped it here and re-assembled it. Trouble was, it wouldn't fit in his home. A theatre gave him space and he drops in regularly to play.

Beauty At Home

Q. What do you have to say concerning lip hair?
 A. I'd say that, almost invariably, hair on a woman's lip interferes with the beauty and the smooth application of her lipstick. Consequently, it should be removed regularly with a depilatory or permanently with the electric needle. Every modern beauty keeps her lips free of unwanted hair by one or another method.

MEMO TO ADVERTISERS

for advertising, too!

What a fix we'd all be in without those standards of measurement for the goods you buy and sell. Imagine the confusion, waste and doubt in business transactions if we didn't have accepted standards of weights and measures—known values.

We believe it is just as necessary for us to tell you what you get for your advertising dollars, in terms of known circulation value, as it is for you to do business with your customers on the basis of recognized standards. That's why this newspaper is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

WHAT IS THE A.B.C.? The Bureau is a cooperative and nonprofit association of 3450 publishers, advertising agencies and advertisers in the United States and Canada. Organized in 1914, A.B.C. brought order out of advertising chaos by establishing a definition for paid circulation, rules and standards for measuring, auditing and reporting the circulations of newspapers and periodicals.

WHAT A.B.C. DOES FOR YOU. At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors comes to our office and makes a thorough audit of our circulation records. He has access to all of our books and records to obtain the FACTS that tell you what you get for your money when you advertise in this newspaper.

WHAT A.B.C. REPORTS TELL YOU. The circulation FACTS obtained by the A.B.C. auditor are condensed in easy to read A.B.C. reports which tell you: How much circulation we have; where the circulation goes; how it was sold and many other FACTS about the audience we provide for your sales messages. Make your advertising investments on the basis of this audited information. Ask for a copy of our A.B.C. report.

London's Good Samaritans Never Further Away Than A Telephone

By EDDY GILMORE
LONDON (AP) — "I've called you," said the flat, tired voice on the telephone, "because I think I'm going to kill myself."
"You must do nothing of the kind," said the voice that answered the call. "Just give me your name, address and telephone number — and do nothing until we get there. We'll come in a hurry."
There was a long pause. A desperate sigh. And then the caller identified himself.
"It's true then," he asked, almost with the pathos of a child, "that you care whether or not I kill myself?"
"Of course we care."
In less than 10 minutes a Samaritan arrived at the address, listened patiently to a story of loneliness and despair and talked the man out of committing suicide.

The initial visit was followed up by others, and the man who thought he had nothing to live for, found a new interest in life and friends.

In Business Five Years
This remarkable organization, the Samaritans, was started five years ago by the Rev. Chad Varah, rector of St. Stephen Walbrook.

In this city of eight million — where a human being can become more lonely than in the heart of a jungle — he felt there was a great need for such a service.

The Samaritans offer a 24-hour service seven days a week for those "tempted to suicide or despair."
In the five years they have answered over 1,800 desperate calls.
Of these, about 40 per cent were from people on the brink of suicide.
All of them were persuaded from self destruction.
Apart from a small full time staff of workers, whose salaries are paid from a grant by the Gulbenkian Foundation, the Samaritans rely on voluntary help. Presently there are about 125 volunteers.

They devote their spare time to visiting clients, do telephone duty during the evening and on weekends.
They sleep in the "bunk room" in the church tower so they can answer calls that come in the night.
These people, men and women, have had no previous training in such work. But once a Samaritan they attend special classes.
They offer their assistance with religious problems, arrange for the treatment of seriously disturbed clients and give readily of their friendship to the lonely.

Overcome Shyness
The Samaritans are unable to help people with financial or housing problems. They don't have money enough for this.

Their investigations have found that shyness is behind a lot of the troubles: a shyness that prevents people from joining clubs and organizations where they can meet others.
Their job is to overcome this shyness.
Christmas day is the peak time for suicides and would-be suicides in London.
The Samaritans say the explanation is obvious.
On days meant for family reunions and general good companionship, the very lonely are driven to desperate acts.

marketing, picking up children, washing dishes at the sink and preparing meal, then you must observe the rules of good foot-ing."
These are his timely tips to relieve summer foot ills:
1. Bathe feet daily. Dry them carefully and keep them dry.
2. Prevent athlete's foot by using a good powder between your toes and dust the inside of your shoes.
3. Cut the nails almost straight. Do not round the nails or cut them shorter than the flesh area.
4. Give immediate attention to wounds, blisters, skin eruptions. Avoid the use of strong medicines or sharp instruments on the feet. This may help prevent serious infection.

5. Exercise the feet. It's a good idea to walk each day in good shoes, properly fitted.
6. Change shoes and hose daily to help relieve fatigue and excessive perspiration.
7. Avoid run-over heels, wrinkles in hose or shoe linings and other creases which may cause friction or pressure.
8. Children's feet should be examined regularly by a foot doctor. It's a good idea to have them walk and stand with the toes pointed straight ahead.
9. Wear the right shoe for the right occasion. Foot trouble may occur when this is not done.
10. Foot health depends upon proper care of feet every day. At the first sign of foot disorders, don't do it yourself, see a foot doctor. If you work fast small corns and other foot blemishes may be corrected.

RICCI TAVI IN TRAINING

ALWAYS READY—Marjorie Brown discusses plight of a night caller with Jennifer Stephenson during an overnight tour of duty in the Samaritan bunk room. The girls can summon any of 100 volunteers to visit a caller who sounds in real distress.

Care For Your Feet

By VIVIAN BROWN
When mother nature designed our feet, she obviously expected they could weather grass, earth and sand, but modern civilization has created a good crop of foot-resisting surfaces such as concrete, asphalt-tile and hard wood.

It Took...

(Continued from page 1) the water; the open sky and the wonderful soil that my father came West with the hope the dry climate would help his health.

"We made the trip in a covered wagon and came by Breckenridge, to visit my grandparents. We planned to stay only one day, but one of my sisters came down with the measles. We did not know we had been exposed, but she was broken out the next morning and we had to stay in Breckenridge for six weeks before we could again be on our way to the great Staked Plains.

"We traveled slowly, and if we found a good fishing spot or an especially beautiful place we would spend several days camping and enjoying the lovely countryside and the lovely summer days.

"We landed in Swisher County and lived on a ranch for a few years but were so far from school we had to move nearer. Much as we loved the ranch, where the cowboys had given us a baby antelope for a pet, we moved to Hereford. Father had visited Hereford, and since the railroad was here it looked like a fine place for a dry goods store. He ran the store for four or more years, but his health failed him and he was forced to sell.

"We went to school at the old Central School. The next spring the older pupils marched to the creek and planted 35 or 40 cottonwood trees. Some of these trees are growing where we planted them in 1901. Some have died and others were lost in different ways, but our work of so many years ago still beautifies Tierra Blanca Creek.

"The creek was a wonderful place to fish. Mother would spend hours fishing and caught many perch and Black bass.

"Our first teacher was J. R. Overstreet. He lost his wife the second year he taught here and did not return to Hereford. Everyone loved him very much, and in later years our class started a reunion and named it the Overstreet Class Reunion.

"We have met during the Pioneer Days Celebration for many years and would have a class dinner at the Western Wheel Inn, where we would visit and recall the happy times of our youth. On our 50th reunion, we had a picture made with wives and husbands of the original class included in the picture. The latest picture made in 1956 was 14 people of the original class, which is very unusual and a great percentage of a class once numbering 20 or more and this was made some 50 years later.

Collecting Demitasse spoons of silver and copper is a hobby of mine, and I have 48 from all over the world. I have them from most of the countries of Europe, one from Cuba, Hawaii, Victoria, British Columbia, and from the different states Canada and other foreign places.

"I have loved and enjoyed living in Hereford and have seen the country develop from a rolling sea of grass to its present modern homes, roads and lovely trees, which break the distance to the horizon but it is still the most wonderful place to live on the great Staked Plains.

"I have six children, three boys and three girls, and thirteen grandchildren. They are the joy of my life. Grandparents can enjoy their grandchildren much more as they aren't in such a rush making a living for them."

SPOONER WAS FASTEST

GLEN COVE, N. Y. — During his years as a Brooklyn Dodger catcher, Roy Campanella would take Don Newcombe as the pitcher having the best fastball start after start.

But for the one blazing moment, Campy says Karl Spooner was the fastest pitcher he ever caught. Campy was referring to the two shutouts Spooner pitched against Cincinnati when the husky southpaw broke in late in 1954. Spooner also showed well in a World Series game against the Yankees in 1955. In the second game he fanned five of the 10 Yankees he faced in relief. Spooner started the sixth game but was shelled in the first inning.

OFF THE Shelf

By H. A. TUCK

Summer is the traditional time for travel. If you have the urge to see Africa, but not the money, try I Followed The Sun from the Deaf Smith County library.

Jill Wordsworth's book describes her adventures on a hitch-hike tour from England to Johannesburg, South Africa.

From your easy chair, finding a free plane trip with an amorously-inclined pilot from England to Egypt is a snap. Jill discovered it was just a matter of talking to enough people.

One hop to the land of Pyramids is a cinch for this brash young lady, who seldom had to stick out her thumb.

Cheating slightly, she travels by boat and rail, third class naturally, to Khartoum, Sudan. With a single stencil to her credit many years ago, Jill finds herself working in an office in Khartoum, where the employers beg for workers.

She wrangled space on a truck convoy to Malakal, then to Juba. The next leg was as sole passenger on a millionaire game hunter's private plane to Nairobi.

Again in a worker's paradise, she found herself being dragged into an office to replenish her finances. A surveying party provided another lift to Mbe-ya, where a dope smuggler and his cohorts provided a short ride.

It was during this leg of the journey that Jill was forced, for the first time, to actually use her thumb to get transportation... but it worked and she landed in Salisbury, and still another typing job.

In what was now expected fashion, a driver showed up going to Johannesburg, her destination.

There are some delightful first-hand observations for any reader who might be planning to thumb his (or her) way the length of Africa.

On having an elephant charge your car: "You just get out! The theory is that as it is the car that has excited the elephant, it is the car he will pound to a pulp... And if you stand very still beside a tree, he won't even see you."

On methods of hitch-hiking: "You can simply exist, ignoring the traffic and relying on the curiosity or kindness of some of the drivers to make them stop. You can thumb a car with your back to it, so that the driver can pass without feeling too much of a cad; or you can dance about the road in front of the traffic so that even the most hard-hearted driver thinks maybe somebody needs a doctor."

On the irony of poverty: "The poorer you are, the more you have to shell out on hotel bills, since you aren't important enough to be asked anywhere."

On taking a bath in public: "With my clothes on I was an oddity, without them I was of no interest."

Foods Program Heard At Meet

The West Hereford Home Demonstration Club met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. W. H. Awtrey Sr. with Mrs. Vern Witherspoon, president, opening the program with a poem, "Ideas And View-points."

Roll call was answered by each member present relating some experiences they have had or known someone else to have with food poisoning.

Mrs. Argen Draper, county home demonstration agent, spoke on ways to prevent food poisoning. She stressed the importance of keeping all foods clean, properly refrigerated and away from chemicals such as insecticides and cleaning fluids.

She named the five foods that most often have caused food poisoning and also said the custom of cooling foods to room temperature before placing them in the refrigerator originated when old-fashioned ice boxes were in use and should no longer be practiced.

Members present were Mesdames John Jacobsen Sr., Vern Witherspoon, E. B. Mosley, W. A. Waters, Alice Bradley, Carlos Vaughn, P. H. Luck, Hugh Witherspoon, Ida Vaughn, J. B. Shirley, Miss Evelyn Bell and the hostess, Mrs. Awtrey.

The next meeting, which was originally scheduled to be held in the home of Mrs. P. H. Luck, will be held in the home of Mrs. John Jacobsen Sr. on June 9. 4-H Club members will present the program.

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Worried about guilt by association, the Toledo Police department decided to shift the directorship of the Police Athletic League from a patrolman to a civilian. The turning point came after an amateur boxer, arrested in Michigan on an armed robbery charge, told Michigan State police he had trained at the police gymnasium in Toledo.

MARRYIN' GEORGE FEEN SAYS:

Weddings Plain Hard Work

NEW HAVEN, Conn. (AP) — Dressing ushers for a wedding is tough work. They're the dumbest things you ever saw. They can't put a button in a collar or a pair of cuff links in their sleeves.

"You take the smartest guy in the world, talk to him at a wedding and all you get out of him is uh-uh-dug!"

And that is why the wedding specialist of one of the nation's most high-faluting men's clothiers turns up at fashionable weddings in a tee shirt and tennis shoes.

"I strip right down and get busy," says George Feen, who has handled more than 150 weddings for the more wealthy customers of J. Press Inc.

...ish Columbia to oversee a wedding, but his most exciting trip was to a huge society wedding on Long Island.

Feen, driving from New Haven with his car jammed with specially tailored cutaways took a wrong turn. Instead of arriving at noon, he was still tearing toward the church at 1:45 p.m. The wedding was at 3 p.m.

But the bride's panicky father had called out the state police, who collected Feen and sped him — sirens screaming in a special motorcycle escort — to the scene.

"I got 'em dressed and to the church on time." The weddings dearest to Feen's heart are those where the bridegroom, best man and ushers all invest in expertly tailored tails or cutaways to the tune of about $150 for each complete outfit.

"But if they insist on renting, we recommend an establishment," added the practical Feen. Even so, the purchase of shirts, ties, socks and collars mounts up.

"We average $150 to $200 on little last-minute details," he said. Feen throws in his services — which cover a wide range.

"I have my wedding suitcase. I have a needle and thread — bridegrooms and ushers always have loose buttons—shoe horns, shoe polish, aspirin and smelling salts.

"I've had bridegrooms pass out on me so many times it isn't even funny. Fathers of the bride, too. One fellow, I tied his ascot with one hand and waved smelling salts under his nose with the other.

"I've got common pins, extra collars and shirts in a whole range of sizes, spare ascots and shoe laces. Men got all fussed at weddings and they're always ripping out their shoe laces just as the music is starting."

Small, dapper, black-haired Feen doesn't limit himself to just dressing the men in the wedding party.

"I was at one wedding where the three bridesmaids somehow misplaced their dresses. That's right — lost 'em. The father of the bride was ready to die.

"I'd been at another wedding in the morning and was bringing back the bridesmaids dresses to be cleaned. So I said, wait a minute, and ran out to my car.

"The dresses were a little bit loose, but the girls got down the aisle. The bride's father nearly wept on my shoulder.

"I usually spread the bride's train before she starts down the aisle. Listen, you've got to be a showman to run a wedding!"

Then there was the New Haven customer who felt he could get along without Feen. The wedding was at 1 p.m. At 11:30 a.m., a frantic telephone call summoned Feen.

"You never saw such a mess. The rented coats didn't fit, one fellow had the striped cutaway vest. One had a brown cordovan shoes — with a cutaway!"

Feen's brow creased in pain at the memory.

"I ran back and forth from the church to the store 15 times. But they were all ready to go when the music started."

Stays Calm
After the men are dressed, Feen grabs a shower, dresses rapidly in a conservative dark suit and reappears with impassive face.

"I've got to stay calm—somebody has to." After the wedding, he has

Beauty At Home

Q. Please suggest a good waist-slimming exercise.

A. Lie flat on back on floor, palms flat on floor next to hips. Now, with knees stiff, toes pointed, heels together, bring both legs straight up and over the head, making an effort to touch the floor behind the head with the toes. Slowly bring the legs back down to original position, and keep repeating.

Q. How can I remove coffee or tea stains from unwashable dresses?

A. Apply some glycerine and rub the material lightly between the hands. Let the glycerine stand on the stain for about an hour, then sponge with water. If a grease spot still remains, let the fabric dry, then sponge with carbon tetrachloride.

Q. Please suggest a good way to disguise an unsightly facial pimple.

A. Cover it with some pink calamine lotion. You can keep this on all day, and when you wash your face you can give it another coating immediately. It will not dry the skin, is mildly antiseptic, and provides an excellent covering for your "hick-ey."

Q. I have a naturally olive complexion, but it seems to have taken on a rather sallow appearance lately. Is there anything I can do about this?

A. One good way to counteract this is to wear a foundation makeup near your own skin tone, but with a slight touch of flattering pink added to it.

Q. Please suggest a good, invigorating treatment for a skin that is too dry.

A. Very good for dry skin are frequent and regular skin massages, which can be made even more effective if the skin is lubricated with oil or cream. Once either is removed and the face washed, the skin should be further stimulated with hot and cold rinsings of water. Dry the face by brisk hand-patting.

Q. How can I treat fingers which have been roughened by much sewing?

A. Wet them thoroughly, then smooth them off with some pumice.

Q. What exercise will help to trim fat from my waistline and hips?

A. Kneel on floor, arms circled overhead. Twist to the right and sit on the floor (sitting down on right hip sharply). Rise on knees and twist to left, sitting on the left hip sharply. All the movement is in your middle. Do this rapidly eight or ten times. Then rest, and repeat.
