After 28 Years E. Ramey Retires As Rural Carrier

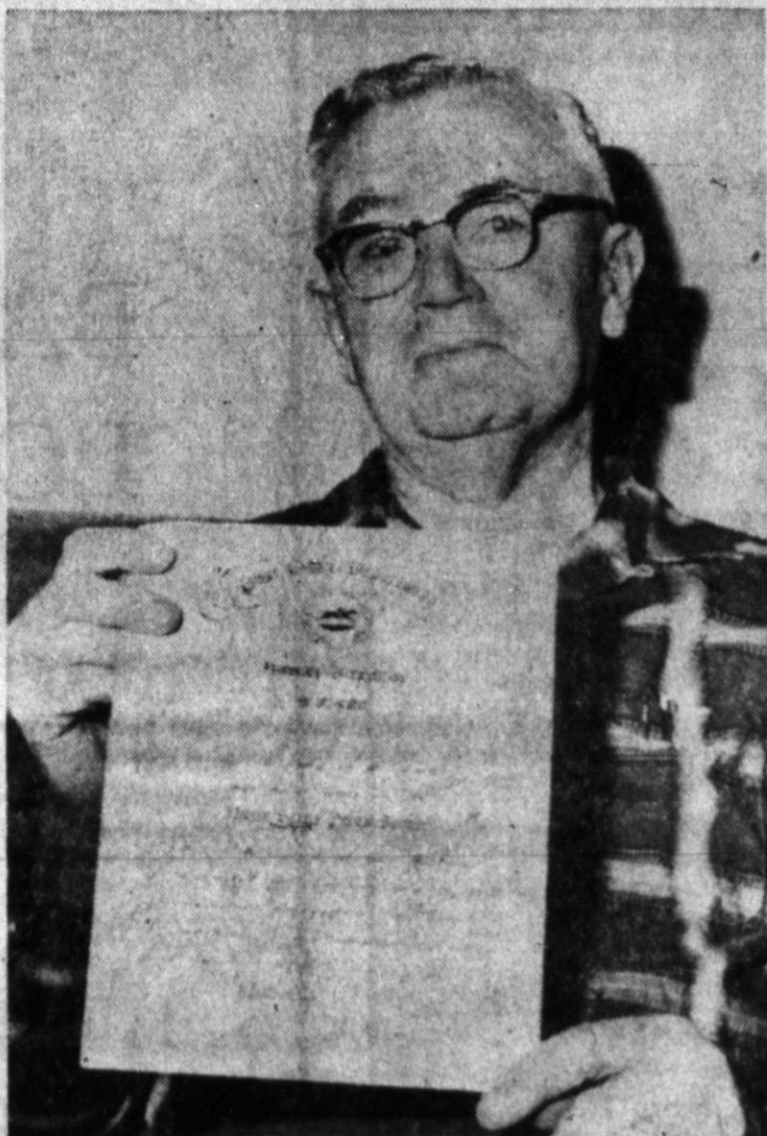

By VERITA SANDERS BRAND STAFF REPORTER

Almost 28 years of faithful service as a rural mail carrier came to an end Saturday for Elijah Ramey of Hereford.

Ramey recalls his years in the postal service with great personal satisfaction and tells his story humbly.

"My wife and daughter and I moved to Hereford in December of 1929," Ramey states, "and I got a job as butter maker at the Hereford Creamery. During the time I worked there we produced over one million pounds of butter.

"Since the depression was on it was pretty hard to support a family, so I took three Civil Service examinations, one in Amarillo and two in Hereford." Ramey was on the waiting list at both places when Charlie Jowell, rural carrier on two tri-weekly rural routes, Routes 1 and 2, died. He was appointed

Assess 20 Years On Rape Charge

A 20-year term in the state penitentiary was levied on Francisco Garcia Palmares, 45, shortly before noon Thursday in 69th District Court after a jury panel of 11 men and one woman found him guilty of the statutory rape of his 16-year-old daughter.

After nearly a day of jury selection from a 120-member venire and another day and a half of testimony and summations, the trial came to a close at 11:45 a.m. Thursday.

Palmares' daughter appeared on the witness stand for the prosecution during morning and afternoon sessions Wednesday. District Attorney Frank McKown was prosecuting attorney.

County-appointed defense attorneys for Palmares, were Wayne Thomas and John D. Alkin of Hereford.

Palmares and Ted Tijerina, 42, convicted of statutory rape Monday and sentenced to five years in the penitentiary, will be transferred to Huntsville Penitentiary sometime this week.

Public Invited To Attend 1959 Licenses On Sale Monday

Hereford school patrons and friends will have a chance next week to attack a three-phase problem on schools and education. Friday, Feb. 6, a day-long "Community Conference" will be sponsored by Hereford Schools.

Purpose of the conference is: 1. To bring school personnel and school patrons together to study the school program in Hereford; 2. To arrive at some conclusions concerning the quality and quantity of course offerings for students; 3. To give school administrators direction in developing a three-year junior high school program.

School superintendent Fred Cunningham stressed that the public is invited to attend the conference. He asked that, if possible, those planning to attend should call his office, EM 4-0618 and make advance registration. There is no registration charge for the sessions, although those eating lunch at the school would be charged for the meal.

Registration will start at 8:30 a.m., with the first general session at 9 in the Hereford High auditorium.

A general view of the conference will be given by Dr. Emmitt Smith, director of teacher education at West Texas State College. Dr. Doyle D. Jackson, professor of education at Texas Tech, will briefly outline, "Who Shall Be Taught?"

First work group sessions will start at 10 a.m. There will be two groups each for elementary, junior high and senior high studies. Immediately after the lunch break the group will hear Dr. Glenn Barnett, associate dean of education at the University of Texas, talk on "The Community School." After the second work group sessions, an evaluation session will be held. (Continued on page 2)

Plans to solicit funds for a proposed Community Center were solidified at a breakfast meeting in the Jim Hill Hotel Friday morning.

Heading the general campaign as chairman will be Ben Childers. Also named were four sub-committees to work in specialized areas.

Purpose of the meeting was to organize for a drive to collect $40,000 for the citizens' part of a proposed community center. The executors of the Jim Hill Estate last fall offered $60,000 toward the construction of such a center, if the public would provide the remainder of the funds.

The finance committee has set another meeting for 7:30 p.m. Monday in the First National Bank's Community Room, Childers announced.

During the meeting it was voted that the Hereford High School Student Council be invited to attend the meetings and assist with the fund-raising campaign.

Don Zimmerman and John Douglas Pitman, co-chairmen of the planning committee, announced the following committee appointments:

Mrs. Argen Draper will serve as chairman of the rural committee. Serving on the committee will be Mrs. J. B. Noland, Mrs. Ray Johnson, Bob Lamm, Mrs. J. V. Perrin, Mrs. Ralph Hastings, Mrs. Glenn Burrus, Mrs. George Turrentine, Mrs. Eugene Noel, Mrs. Bill Gentry Jr., and Mrs. Joe Reinauer.

as successor to Jowell and entered the service officially Sept. 8, 1931.

Speaking of his first years as a rural mail carrier, Ramey says, "At that time there were no paved or graveled roads, even some of the roads were not graded and there were times when the going was not easy."

Regulations at that time required all mail picked up and

County Studies Jail Sketches

Preliminary drawings for a new county jail and a renovated courthouse were studied by Deaf Smith County Commissioners during a called meeting Friday afternoon.

John P. Work of Amarillo was on hand to present a sketch of the exterior of the jail and drawings for the new building, which is to be voted on soon. Work also explained how renovation and remodeling of the 50-year-old courthouse would be handled.

Another meeting has been called for Wednesday, Feb. 4, at 1:30 p.m. to confer with a representative of Kerr and Kerr, Amarillo architectural (Continued on page 2) delivered each day on tri-weekly routes be classified and counted and a record kept of it as well as the amount of postal supplies sold and the value of postage on mail collected on route each day.

"When I began working the cost of living was not so great as now, neither were the salary and maintenance allowance which was four cents a mile. But a little later the depression grew worse and salaries were reduced and maintenance allowance slashed to one cent per mile with a 15 per cent discount. That means we carried the mail 100 miles for 85 cents. We paid the difference in that and our expenses out of our salary."

Ramey was transferred to Rural Route 3, the only daily rural route out of Hereford, on March 1, 1935.

Concerning his many experiences during his career, Ramey says, "All in all, my experiences during those approximately 27½ years have been pleasant. I have enjoyed the association of my fellow employees in the office and all of my patrons through the years. They're wonderful group and I appreciate more than I can express the co-operation and consideration (Continued on page 2)

Lobos Tough As Herd Wins 68-55; Blackhawks Next

Levelland's Lobos threw a scare into the rangy Hereford Whitefaces Friday night in Hereford. Only a determined effort by the Herd finally pulled out a 68-55 victory and a tighter hold on the district lead.

Coach Gano Tubb's cagers took advantage of miscues and errors to lope into a 20-9 first period lead. With four players hitting well, the Lobos had the overflying home crowd shaking, but the Herd settled down and started playing.

Two Receive Minor Injuries

Two Hereford residents received minor injuries in a two-car accident at the corner of McKinley and Sixth St. at 2:58 p.m. Wednesday.

Hospitalized and released from Deaf Smith County Hospital Saturday morning was Mrs. Hubert Grant White, 56, who received minor lacerations and bruises. Her husband, 58, driver of one of the cars, was treated for minor injuries at Hereford Clinic.

Driver of the other car in the accident, Arnold Henry Husmann, 40, Route 1, escaped injury. White was issued a ticket for failure to grant the right of way. Damage to the White car was estimated at $400. The Husmann car was not damaged.

Don Little seeks re-election Little Files For City Commission

Seeking reelection to the Hereford City Commission, Don Little filed application for candidacy for Place One at the City Clerk's office Friday morning.

Election for post of mayor and two city commissionerships has been scheduled for April 7. To date, Little is the only applicant to announce candidacy for either commissioner post.

Commission posts will be left vacant by Little and Neil Cooper, whose terms expire this year.

Deadline for filing candidacy at City Hall is March 8, City Manager Dudley Bayne said. Little has been a member of the commission since April, 1957.

Poll Tax Sale Short Of '58

With less than five hours remaining for sale of poll tax at noon Saturday, less than 2,000 receipts had been sold at the Deaf Smith County Tax Assessor-Collector's office and by members of Hereford Jaycees.

A total of 1,784 receipts were sold at the tax assessor-collector's office through Saturday morning.

In a last-day campaign, the Jaycees set up sales tables at the Hereford State and First National banks Saturday morning.

Dala Barkley, Jaycee member, said 150 receipts had been sold through Saturday morning, which climaxed a week-long drive for sales by the group.

The Jaycees hoped to sell 200 receipts by deadline, which was at 5 p.m. Saturday.

The 1,934 total through Saturday morning was considerably less than last year's total of 2,642.

In addition to the campaign at the bank, Jaycees canvassed Hereford throughout the week. They covered homes from door-to-door and telephoned residents for sales.

Deaf Smith County 4-H Club boys placed third in the stock judging event during the Amarillo Stock Show last week. Members were Jody Bezner, Joe Reinauer, Pete Plank and Dick Plank. Jody placed second in individual competition and Pete was first in lamb judging and third in steer judging. Their coach was Lefty Thomas.

Don't know exactly what coach Cuby Kitchens has been teaching his senior basketball players, but all six of them earned their letters in osculatory exercises Friday night when they crowned pretty, blonde Judy Bradley as their basketball queen prior to the game. The crowd cheered as Bobby Shelton, Donnie Renfro, Steve Slagle, Ken Clearman, Milnet Duvall and Paul Higgins took turns bussing the queen. For a while, though, it looked as though the experience had overwhelmed them as they stumbled through the first quarter and trailed by 11 points.

Like most rural carriers, Ramey became closely associated with those he served. He had to call on all his talents as a mechanic to help start cars, a plumber and on one instance he even had to play cupid.

"I was once asked by one of my patrons to help reunite him and his wife — to act as sort of a go-between. I was slow to accept responsibility of that kind but he kept insisting and I finally agreed and was made happy when they went back together. The last I heard they were very happy and as far as I know they still are. I surely hope so."

Remembering the close friendships of his patrons, he recalls with sadness, "Most of the time I was happy to carry the letters to my friends. But during the war I delivered many a letter telling of wounded sons and loved ones. I've always been saddened when I have had to carry bad news to people I know."

"As to my experiences in bad weather," Ramey states, "I suppose they have been similar to those of other carriers. "During the Dust Bowl days I have driven many miles when I could scarcely see more than the top of an occasional fence post to guide my steering. Some times I had to abandon the car and carry the mail on foot, holding on to the fence, to know where I was going."

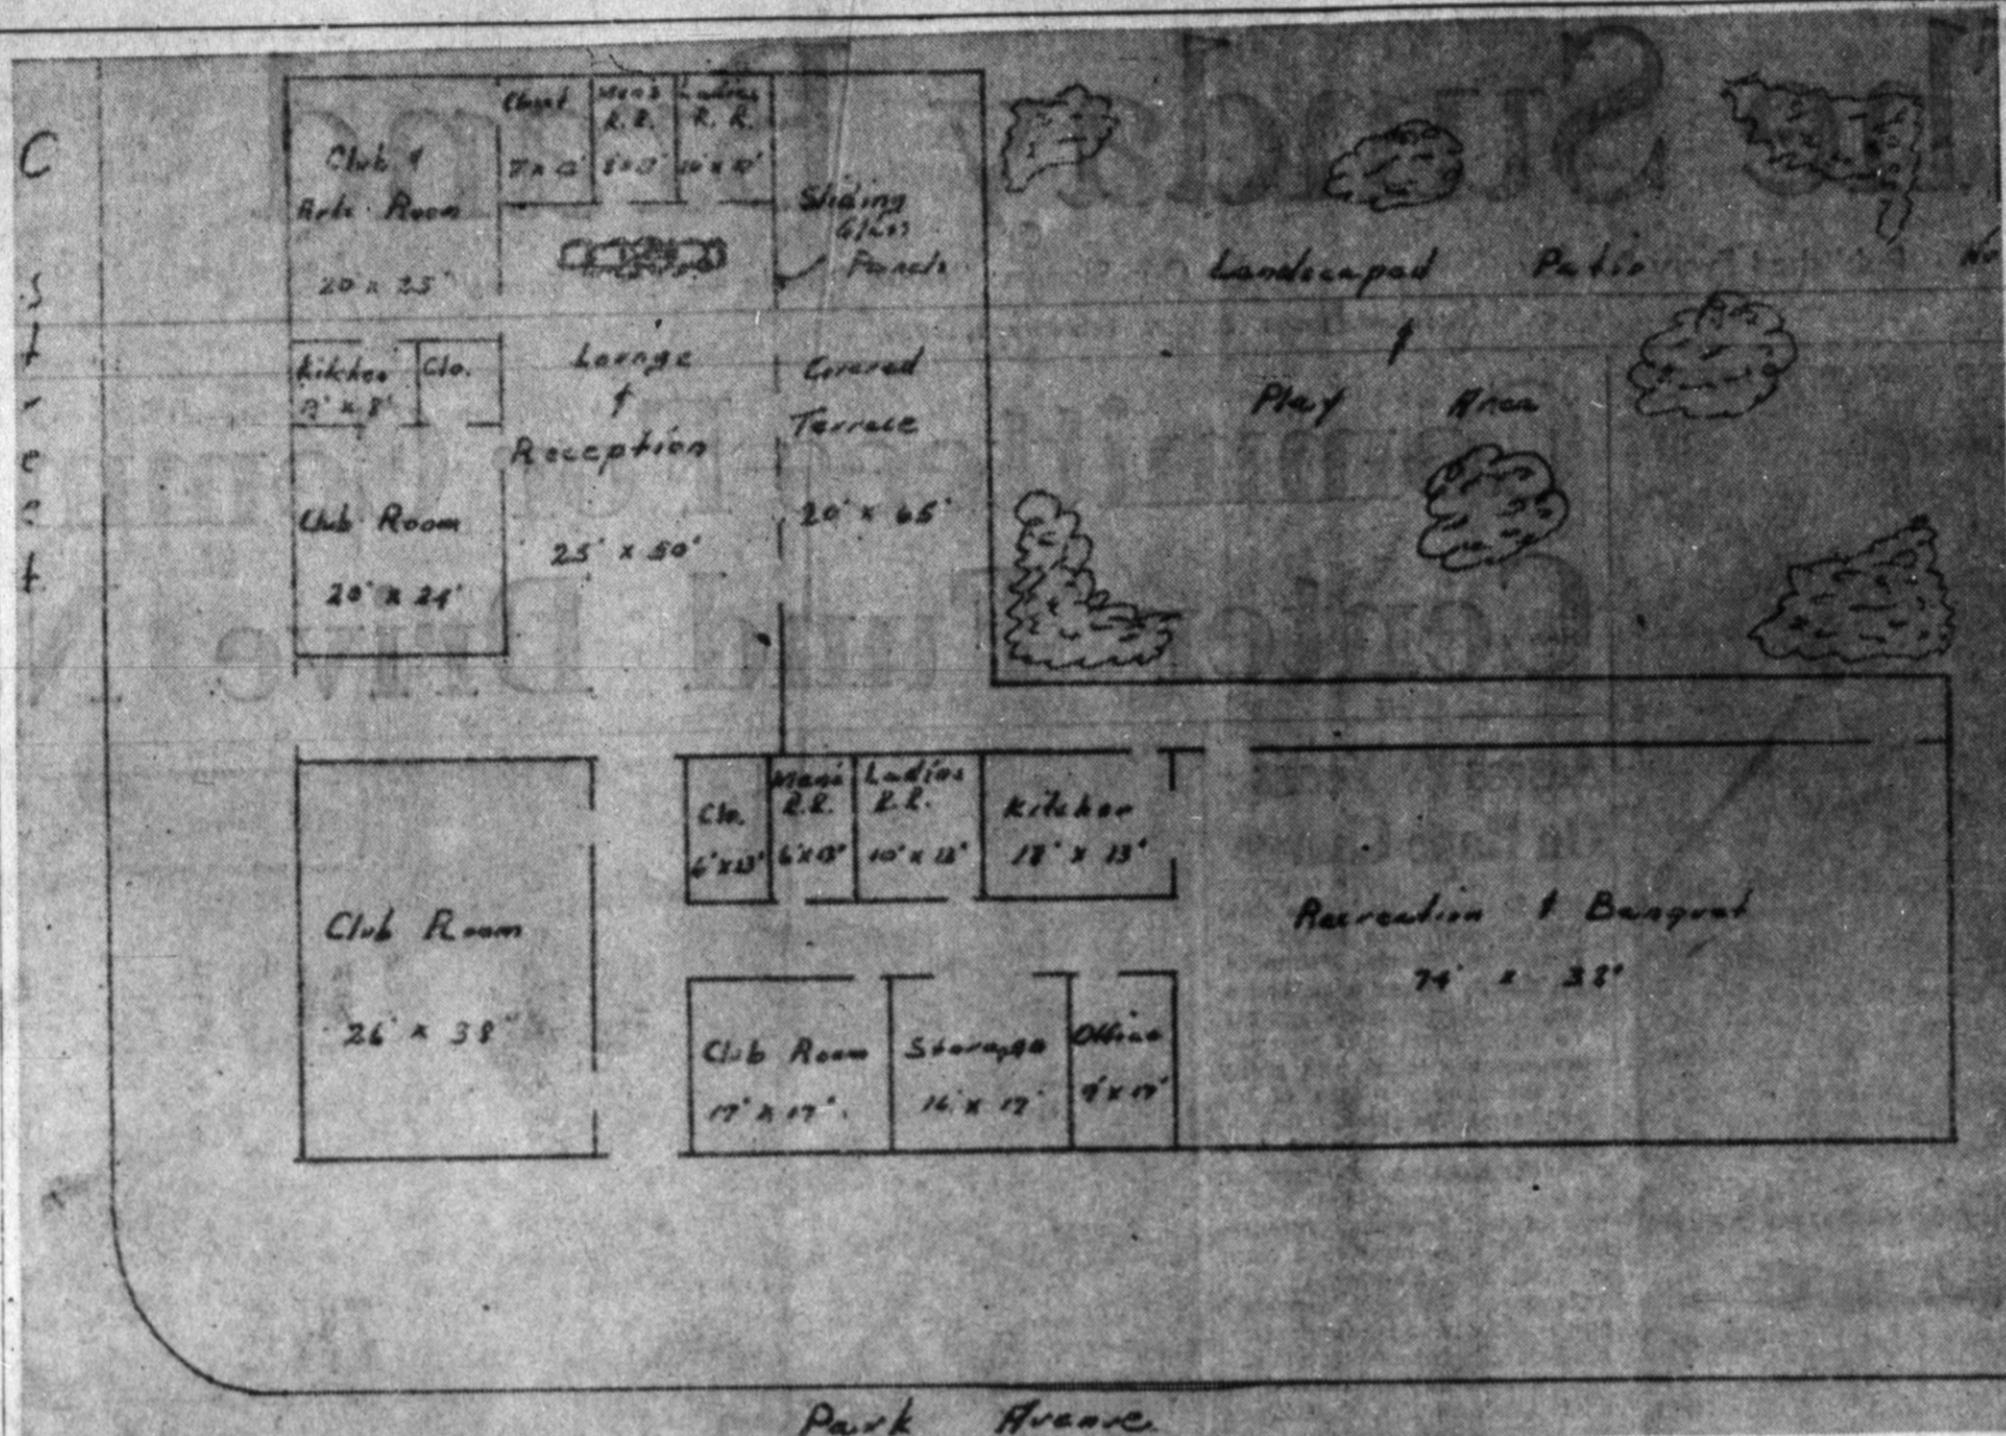

"In the February snow three years ago I almost lost my life. In 1941 it rained so much all the lakes were over the roads. It's times like that when a carrier's patrons are a great help."

Many times Ramey's patrons would express their appreciation for his service by leaving melons, roasted ears, frying chickens, fruit cakes, cookies and candy in their mail boxes.

"You can imagine what a surprise it is to open a mail box and find a live chicken looking out at you."

Ramey, who is the youngest of three children, was born in Fannin County, Tex., Feb. 11, 1889, and was raised on a farm. He attended a one-teacher rural school and a normal school, which is somewhat similar to the modern high schools. He attended a commercial college, graduating in the Bachelor of Accounts course, and for a time attended East Texas Teachers College at Commerce while Professor Mayo, its founder, was head of the school.

On Dec. 24, 1911, he was married to Miss Nora Stone and lived on a farm until 1929 when they moved to Hereford. Their only child, Eunice Olive, now Mrs. Hartland Caraway of Stratford, was born on the farm and graduated from Hereford High School in 1932. He and his wife are the now the grandparents of three girls, Ann, Kay and was a different matter, as the Herd finally pulled into a 30-30 tie with 1:35 left, and swapped baskets to hold a 34-34 deadlock at the intermission. Bobby Shelton swished in 16 points during the period.

SIZE, LOCATION AND ARRANGEMENT of the proposed Community Center are shown in this sketch, from which detailed architect's plans are being made. The wing at lower right will be primarily for youth activities. The top wing will be used for adult activities and will include a carpeted club room, kitchen, lounge, kitchen and other facilities. The banquet room at lower right will seat 240 persons with removable chairs and tables stored when not in use. A fund-raising campaign for $40,000 is scheduled for Feb. 22-28. The Jim Hill Estate has offered $60,000 toward the cost of the building if the community will donate the remainder.

After Levelland opened the third quarter with a free throw, Hereford was never behind, although the Lobos pulled up to within six points during the middle part of the period.

Holding a 54-43 lead, Hereford dominated play during the last period to earn a 4-0 district record and push the tally to 23-3 for the season. Shelton led the scoring for the night with 26 points, while Ken Clearman looped in 18. Tops for Levelland was Roy Sage with 15, while Jerry Garrison had 14 and Bill McKenzie added 10.

The Lobos' chances were hurt when Garrison fouled out in the third quarter and McKenzie got his third personal early in the fourth.

It was a rugged contest for both teams, as officials caught 19 fouls on Hereford and called 22 on Levelland. The Lobos now stand 2-2 in the district, but were slated to host the Dumas Demons Saturday night.

Tuesday night, Hereford will be at home, to the Phillips Blackhawks, who scored the Whitefaces before losing 70-62 in the first district game at Phillips. That is the only district game slated for Tuesday.

In the "B" team contest, Hereford swamped Levelland 75-45. Whitaker led the victors with 15. Thomas had 13, and Burrus and Botkins added 10 each. High for Levelland was Miller with 11.

Of his retirement, Ramey says, "My feelings are mixed. I am glad and I am sad. I've met some wonderful people and made a lot of friends."

"I don't know whether I want to travel or not. After wearing out 15 ears and driving about 500,000 miles, I think I've had enough traveling to suit any man. I think my wife and I are going to just enjoy resting and having plenty of free time."

Heading up the business-area drive will be Mark Woodall. He will be assisted by Gerald McCaskill, Dale Litsch, Gaylord Newell, Darrell Blanton, Ansel McDowell, Dean Herring, Lea Combs and Oliver Streu.

Drive for funds will be held Feb. 22-28, according to the group. Tentative plans now are being made to block off the city and the county for a complete, intensive fund drive.

According to the stipulations of the Jim Hill Estate, the Community Center will be located on land donated by the city, at Park Avenue and C Street, and must be free of debt and/or bond issue. The city will pay the maintenance cost of the building after it is completed and will be responsible for its supervision and operation.

Campaign leaders are building their plans around the theme that the drive will be a "once in a lifetime" affair and that everyone in the community should share in the cost of the building. Present plans indicate that solicitors will ask families to contribute one-half of one per cent of their annual income to the building. This would be $25 for a family with an income of $5,000 per year. This, the group felt, would be the most equitable approach, enabling all to contribute according to their ability.

Fines Bracketed By Most Cities

AUSTIN — Approximately one-third of the Corporation Courts in Texas base their speeding violation fines on a predetermined bracket, according to a report issued recently by the Texas Municipal League. Another one-third of the speeding fines of Texas cities are based on a rate by miles per hour over speed limits and the remaining Corporation Court fines are based on a combination of the two methods.

The League reported these findings today in their new booklet, "Traffic Fines in the Corporation Court," which additionally points out a consistency of standardization among all Texas Corporation Courts in determining traffic fines.

Some are talking about a proposed remodeling of the building, now under study by the commissioners. Judge Harry Shultz apparently did not help the situation, however, when he pin pointed conditions to prospective jurors. Maybe it was the wrong time or the wrong place, but several were a little bit upset.

"Judge Shultz knew what our courthouse looked like when he asked us to vote for him," said more than one prospective juror. "If he didn't like it, he should not have run for the office."

However, they did generally agree that the building is in need of modernization, and the judge's remarks are not likely to have much effect on their final decision in the matter. No official estimate has been released, but guesses run from $175,000 to $200,000; some even a bit higher. You even run across an occasional fellow who thinks the whole building should be replaced, but they are few and far between.

Coy Phillips was in the other day with another one of those brain teasing puzzles. You take any five of the following numerals, and try to add them up to a total of 20:

- 111
- 333
- 555
- 777
- 999

It can be done, according to Coy, but he says you sure won't do it in 46 seconds. Remember, you cannot use four or six. Use any five of the numerals for a total of 20.

And here is one for the Chamber of Commerce to crow about. Frankie Ridgeway dropped in and left me some delicious almond cookies. The almonds were home grown at their place, 508 Union. I missed Mrs. Ridgeway when she was in — and I also ate up all of the evidence. But I do believe this is a new crop for Deaf Smith County. Anyway, it is the first time I have heard about almonds growing here.

Ross Latham and Dub Reeves are just back from Sugar Lake, Mexico, and they have a refreshing, new angle. They are apologizing for their small catch, due to the weather. Here is what they say:

"It rained cats and dogs all of the time. We only had two clear afternoons during the entire week. All we got back with was 600 pounds of filleted catfish."

Police Chief Henry Aycock is still reminding C. E. Coleman about his trip to Sugar Lake last year. C. E. was going with a group and got all of the way down to San Angelo before he discovered that Sugar Lake is not in New Mexico. Henry says he can just hear C. E. telling his wife:

"Sugar Lake? Everybody knows where that is, honey. It's just across the line in New Mexico."

Several people have wanted to know what the telephone company is building out back of their new structure. I asked Bill Levy the other day and he says it will be a warehouse, including truck storage and some materials.

I notice where they are about to get the drive underway to finish financing the new Community Center. It will take around $40,000 in addition to the Hill Estate $60,000 grant — and that will be a real bargain. No bonds, no debts to worry about for the next 40 or 50 years.

A round of applause is due Charley Bell and his two school bands. They did an outstanding job with some difficult music at the concert Thursday night. Had a nice size crowd, too. No discredit to Charley, but when I see these bands in action, I invariably wonder if he doesn't need an assistant. Personally, I don't see how the man does it.

Several people have been around asking if we know anything about a fertilizer manufacturing plant moving into this area — and we don't. Also hear considerable talk about a California group may open a feed lot here, but nothing definite. It may all be rumor, but it does pep up the conversation — and where there is a lot of smoke, sometimes you find a spark or two of fire. Anyway, we have nothing on either proposal.

Meanwhile, things are picking up in general. Most local merchants report a slight (2 to 3 per cent) gain over January of last year. The car dealers, in particular, seem a lot busier than at this time in 1958 — and you can notice a quite a few new models around on the streets. Most stores also report greater interest in clearance events and sales than in several years. Dollar Day, Monday, has all of the earmarks of being a honey of a day, because there are some unusual bargains in nearly all lines.

Mrs. Harold Meacham sends in a clipping about the banning your small son out of bed of any reference to Christ or God in some public schools, especially New York, New Jersey, California and Illinois. It is based on a letter from Warren Harrington of Canadian, which warns: "It Can Happen Here". Very few people want denominational doctrine in our public schools. In a Christian nation, founded on the Pilgrim concept of religion, it does seem inconsistent to eliminate any reference to God, or to ban religious books from school libraries. If such conditions do exist, it seems that they might well be discussed in the proposed adult curriculum studies scheduled at the high school next Friday. However, to my knowledge, no such bans have occurred in schools in this area, or in Texas.

For a meal you will long remember, try the K. C. Sausage Supper, scheduled at St. Anthony's Sunday night, Feb. 1.

Club Studies China Painting

The next meeting will be held Feb. 25 in the home of Mrs. John Robinson.

'Long Days' Are Part Of The Past

IT'S: HER POINT OF VIEW

By BETTY BABIONE
Have you noticed how much longer the daylight hours are with us these days? Gradually the days will lengthen with the amount of daylight. But the amount of time in each day remains the same. And time is the commodity most of us need more of. You hardly ever hear anyone say, "My, what a long day this has been!" anymore.

Saturday was the opening day for the most publicized trial to take place in this county for many a moon, the murder trial of Karen Andre. Courtroom scenes are always intriguing to the public on television or at the movies but very few folks attend actual trials merely as interested spectators. However, the unusual aspects of the trial of Karen Andre should result in an all-time high for public attendance at a trial in our local county courtroom.

Certainly one of the unusual aspects is that, whether you attended the trial on Saturday night, or will be in attendance on Thursday or Saturday nights of this week, the entire trial is witnessed in one evening. And of course the most unique thing about this courtroom event is that it is in reality a play, produced and staged by students of Hereford High School, and directed by the high school speech instructor.

Who ever it was who originated the idea of staging the play in a real courtroom, deserves a commendation for his brainchild I'd say. That, together with audience participation as jurors, plus the fact that the play is being presented to raise funds for both the Thespian Society and the March of Dimes, plus the suspense of the play's ending (depending on whether the verdict is "guilty" or "not guilty"), plus the talent and enthusiasm exhibited by the high school participants, should make for a highly interesting evening's entertainment as well as a record attendance.

Runner-up publicity-wise with the trial of Karen Andre is the Community Center fund campaign, which officially began Friday morning.

So far the City Commissioners have been very pleased over the public response to the plan for the Community Center. We'll see if the public will respond just as favorably to the appeal for funds to finance the center.

Let us hope so!

While visiting in the office of City Manager Dudley Bayn in regards said Community Center the other day, I spied an elegant, oversized clothes pin. It was labeled "Complaints". And it was empty (if you call a clothespin empty). Dudley remarked that occasionally he does manage to clear his desks of complaints. For a City Manager I think that is nothing short of amazing!

Now that our teenagers are successfully launched in the correct steps and techniques of the art of dancing, through the Junior and Senior Cotillions, the adults have decided they might learn something through lessons too.

Neil Hess of Amarillo is now coming to Hereford twice a month on behalf of a class of adult dancers. When the current period of instruction is over, it looks as if another may begin. If anyone is interested, I bet I know who you can contact.

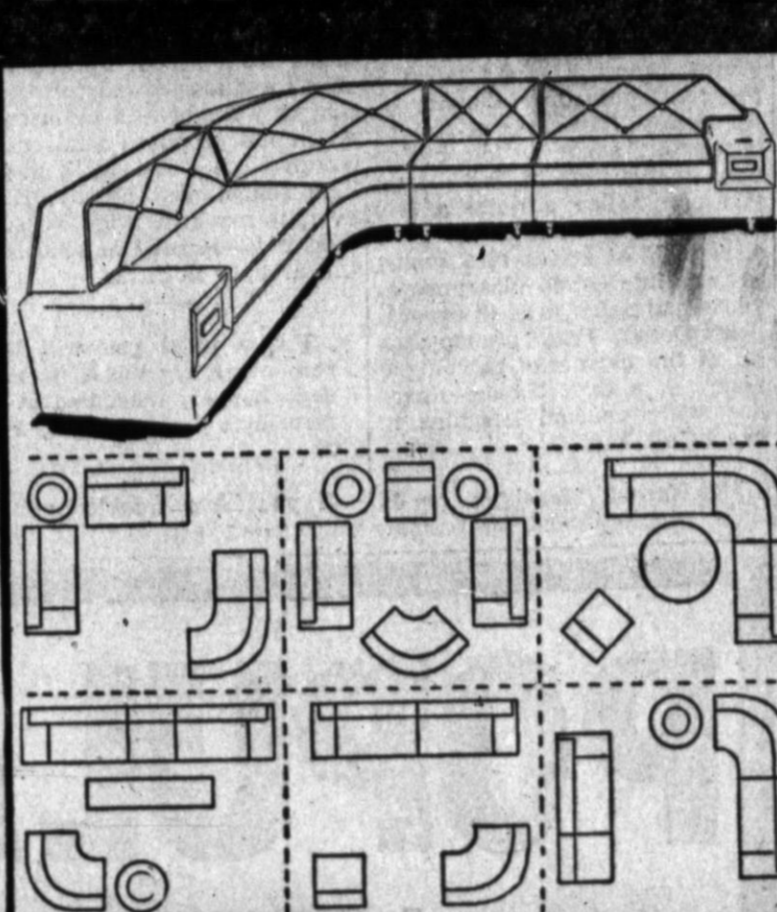

With a little encouragement from a faithful reader, I have decided to devote my column at the end of February to a listing of well-dressed women. It will differ from a similar list I published a couple of years ago, in that it will not constitute my opinions only but those of my readers — sorta like my account of Hereford's best dressed men last spring. So, if there is an individual or two whose manner of dress and coiffure you think are deserving of mention — whether she be housewife or business woman — I expect to hear from you!

Say, whether or not you have any complaints about the school system or how little Johnny is getting along in school, it might pay every parent to take in the Community Conference on Public Education this Friday.

As yet I am not aware of the exact place people are supposed to go (you should find it somewhere in this same issue of The Brand) but I do know that the conference starts at 8:30 Friday morning and lunch will be served in the Shirley Cafeteria.

Grated cheddar cheese may be added to condensed celery soup for a sauce for fish or for eggs.

Beethoven's Life Subject Of Meet

"Beethoven and the Sonata" was the subject of study at the Music Study Club session held Monday afternoon in the home of Mrs. J. C. McCracken. Mrs. Steve Clements was co-hostess.

Mrs. J. R. Allison, leader, gave a brief sketch of Beethoven's life and works, his struggle to overcome handicaps and of his production of pure instrumental music. She said, in part, "Beethoven was the kind of man we would have liked. He stormed and fought his way through life with full confidence in his own artistic ability. He recognized his own genius and felt that if the world wished to aspire that high - here was its music."

She concluded by saying, "One of the saddest things in Beethoven's life was that his music was not appreciated during his lifetime. He had given the beautiful, the earnest, and the sublime in music to the public which failed to recognize his greatness until after he was gone."

The musical program featured three of Beethoven's sonatas. Mrs. Joe Hacker played, "Sonata, Op. 31 No. 2", Mrs. Howard Scott played "Sonata Pathetique Op. 13", and Mrs. George McLean played, "Sonata in A Flat Major, Op. 26".

P. Slaton and the hostess.

Fashion Program Held At Meeting

Young Mother's Study Club made plans to take part in the Mothers March of Dimes at the regular meeting of the club held in the Community Room of the First National Bank Tuesday evening. Mrs. James A. Russell served as hostess.

Roll call was answered with comments on the latest fashions and a program on fashions was presented.

Mrs. Joe Silverli, program leader, introduced Mrs. Don Steele, who spoke on styles, jewelry and personal grooming.

Mrs. Steele suggested a two-piece suit and co-ordinates for practical use, and one basic black dress for dress-up occasions. She suggested that hats and accessories and the selection of colors be chosen for the overall effect rather than for its individual appeal, and urged her listeners to watch their posture as an important factor in appearing well-groomed.

Dr. Weslie Owen showed the film on polio and congenital defects in connection with the annual March of Dimes Drive.

Members present were Mesdames Labry Ballard, Jimmie Bownds, Bill Brady, Wendall Burdine, Hugh Clearman, Arthur Dean, James Headstream, Geraki McCaskill, Jess Robinson, James C. Russell, Joe Silverli, Bill Stanford, Dale Young and James Alston.

March Of Dimes Movie Is Shown

Bill Hardwick showed the film, "The Challenge", in the interest of the March of Dimes at the regular meeting held by El Nino Study Club Monday night in the home of Mrs. Melvir Young.

The program on "Famous Homes" carried out the study course for the year, "Home Life Around the World", with Mrs. Darrell Blanton presenting five historical American homes and telling something of the history and the lives of the people who lived in them, giving descriptions of the architecture, and furnishings. She also told about the social life that centered around the homes.

Homes included were The White House, The Hermitage, Andrew Jackson's home, the plain but very comfortable home of Abraham Lincoln, Thomas Jefferson's "Monticello" and George Washington's home, "Mount Vernon," which was once known as "Little Hunting Creek Plantation".

Members attending were Mesdames Darrell Blanton, Ivan Block, Jim Bookout, Ben Childers, Bill Decker, John Jacobsen Jr., Wayne Thomas, Bill Waldrep and the hostess.

United Church Women Plan To Sponsor World Day Of Prayer

"World Day of Prayer," sponsored by United Church women's Council, will be observed here Friday, Feb. 13, at the First Christian Church at 3 p.m.

Mrs. Marcus Bell, local president, has announced.

Theme for the day will be "Lord I Believe", with Mrs. Grant Hanna serving as leader. Mrs. Fred Axe is chairman of the program committee.

"World Day of Prayer" will be observed on Feb. 13 by Christian Women around the world. In the U. S. A., the sponsoring group is United Church Women, a department of the National Council.

The purpose of the day is not only to unite all Christians in a bond of prayer but also to make offerings for Christian interdenominational missions at home and abroad.

Offerings for World Day of Prayer are divided between the Divisions of Home Missions and Foreign Missions of the National Council of Churches. At home, funds help agricultural migrants and their children and low income farm families, as well as Indian - Americans. These include education for Christian leadership, rehabilitation, Christian broadcasting, and Christian literature for new literates.

Each year the National World Day of Prayer committee sends out a service from a different national group as a means of deepening and broadening Christian experience. The service this year was composed by a committee of nine Egyptian women of the Coptic Orthodox, Anglican, Evangelical churches and the YWCA.

They represent graduates of the French School of the Sacred St. Mary's English School and the American College for Girls at Cairo. Everyone is invited to attend.

OBSERVANCE SET—Mrs. Marcus Bell, president of the local United Church Women's Council, and Mrs. Fred Axe, program chairman for the World Day Of Prayer observance on Feb. 13, arrange posters now being placed in churches in Hereford. (Staff Photo)

B&PW Members Finish Course

Three Business and Professional Women's Club members completed a course for Red Cross instructors in First Aid Wednesday in Amarillo at the close of a five day school.

The trio, Erma Walker, Della Stagner and Mrs. Ruby Lee Hickman, completed a course in standard and advanced classes in first aid previously, which made them eligible for the instructors' course.

They will be authorized by the local Red Cross chapter to teach the course in Deaf Smith County, and will work under the direction of Marlin Gilliland, chairman of Red Cross First Aid activity in this county.

Working with the local Red Cross is one of the B&PW Club's projects toward the betterment of the community.

Decorative appointments in the assembly room featured the new adviser's colors of silver and yellow. Baskets of yellow roses were placed about the hall and before the adviser's station was placed a large white Bible opened to reveal her theme for the term "Love For God". Her motto for the term will be "Where God Is - Love Is", and she has chosen "You'll Never Walk Alone" as her song.

As the worthy adviser was installed, Judy Patterson presented her with a sheaf of roses and Linda Russell sang her chosen song. She was presented with a white Bible by her parents, and her sister, Martha, a past worthy adviser, presented her with a gavel.

REMEMBER WHEN?

By CHARLIE SEEDS

Turner said the closely guarded group was a picked "cross-section" of the Air Force's best men... the top pilots, navigators, bombardiers and crewmen. They were here for months, in closely guarded isolation from the rest of the base.

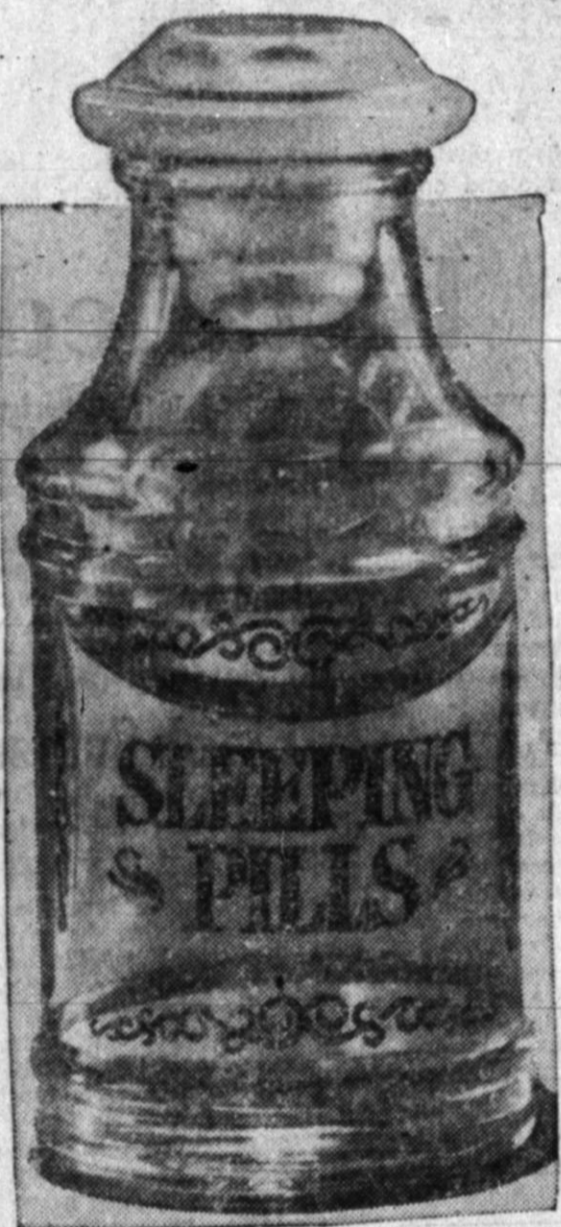

They flew the big new B-29's. Regularly the group went out on bombing runs over Japan. The strange thing was that, each time, they dropped only one bomb. All that secrecy, all that massive preparation, and they only dropped a single bomb that didn't do much damage.

Then came August 6th. The group flew again, carrying one bomb, a bomb that wasn't even assembled until the plane carrying it was in flight. All the careful planning and drilling had led to this one moment. Over Hiroshima, the bomb dropped, exploded. Agiant mushroom rose above the obliterated city.

This was the Atom Bomb, and the world's destiny had changed.

Remember the year? From all over the world, America's finest started coming home that year... some to the almost forgotten luxuries that meant so much. Remember how it was to climb into a luxurious American car once more? The year was 1945. We guarantee any driver will get a thrill out of taking the wheel of a brand new 1959 FORD. And you've got a pleasant surprise in store when you find out how easy it is to own a new FORD right now. We're trading high... and our terms are the lowest! CHARLIE SEEDS MOTOR CO., INC. 146 E. Captain Emmerson D. Price (AAFB Photo)

AFB Jet Instructor To Speak at Church's Father, Son Banquet

Captain Emmerson D. Price, assistant base operations officer at Amarillo Air Force Base, will speak at the Father and Son Banquet at the First Christian Church Thursday at 7 p.m. Subject of his talk will be "Jet flying."

The Rev. Gilbert Davis, pastor, emphasized that all men and boys of the church are invited to attend the banquet. The meal will be provided by the Christian Women's Fellowship, of which Mrs. B. F. Cain is president. In addition to his duties as assistant base operations officer, Captain Price is an instructor pilot in the two-place Lockheed T-33 jet trainer, and is responsible for training Amarillo pilots in the operation of aircraft.

More than 1500 hours are recorded in Captain Price's log book. He has logged time in multi-engine and single-engine propeller aircraft and 400 hours in single engine jets. Most of his time in jet aircraft is in the F-80 fighter which he flew in combat during the Korean conflict and the T-33 which he flew. Captain Price now averages more than five times jet flying time of the average pilot who also performs administrative duties.

Captain Price earned a BS Degree in Aviation Maintenance Engineering from Parks College of St. Louis University before entering the Air Force, and since then he has completed many service school courses. The Captain's versatility is shown in his Air Force specialty fields, as he has been Flight Test Maintenance Officer, Aircraft Maintenance Instructor, Aircraft Maintenance Officer and Air Operations Officer.

Captain Price flew 85 combat missions with a total of 109 combat hours. He has been awarded the World War II Victory Medal, the American Campaign Medal, the Korean Service Medal, the United Nations Service Medal, and the Distinguished Flying Cross with one cluster.

TURN-TO'S DAY

CAMDEN, N. J. — The Irish-bred colt Turn-to further proved himself as a sire when Chris T. Chenery's First Landing won the rich Garden State for his 10th victory in 11 starts.

While First Landing was winning the race his sire won in 1953, another Turn-to colt was scoring at Jamaica. Waltz, a 2-year-old bay gelding owned by W. A. Hanger, won an allowance race at one mile and a sixteenth by six lengths. Waltz is a gelded son of Turn-to-Harmonica.

Waltz's time was 1:45.1. First Landing, a colt to be named 2-year-old champion of 1958, was timed in 1:46 2/5 for the same distance at Garden State Park. Both races were run over sloppy tracks.

A little sugar, added to the milk - and - egg mixture, in which you dip bread when you are making French toast, helps the slices brown.

Mrs. J. B. Snead also entertained with a stunt imitating an Hawaiian guitar.

Sharing in the celebration were Mesdames W. A. Long, Lee Lambert, Addie Minor, A. H. Cook, Joe Bob Hampton, Sank Ramey, Roy Kelly and B. E. Roberson, all long-time friends of Mrs. Allred.

Mr. and Mrs. Allred were married in 1907 at her father's ranch near Hereford by the only available minister, a missionary, who had not married a couple before and was more frightened than they were. They ranched in the Palo Duro community and helped develop that area.

Life on a ranch in those days was never dull, Mrs. Allred says. "There was always plenty to do, carrying water, washing clothes on a rub board and boiling them in a big iron pot in the yard, ironing with a flat iron, sewing, cooking and acting as a nurse and doctor for the entire family."

Now Mrs. Allred has all the electric appliances available and enjoys using them, but she still considers those days the happiest in her life.

They moved to Hereford in 1930 and built the home now occupied by Dr. and Mrs. R. R. Wills. The couple has five living children; one daughter Mayme, died in 1928. The children are Cecil of Amarillo, Mrs. D. W. Henry of Plainview, Mrs. R. C. Anderson and Jimmie Allred of Hereford and Mrs. Garland Mayo of Seattle, Wash.

Mrs. Allred looks and acts much younger than her years and her friendly, happy way of living has been a source of inspiration to her family and friends. One of her mottos has been "Don't Ever Give Up". She is still active in the First Baptist Church and attends regularly and in the summer, she never fails to have a flower garden.

She has an almost perfect health record. She can't remember ever having a headache and she has never been in a hospital except to visit somebody else. She is very careful to get regular medical check-ups, but nothing has ever been wrong. She hasn't even had any kind of a shot.

She and Mr. Allred keep up with the world through television and Mrs. Allred says she hopes she will have many more birthdays. "There is too much going on in the world now that I want to know about!"

Toastmasters Plan Contest

The Hereford Toastmasters Club will meet Tuesday night at 7:30 in the Jim Hill ball room for Ladies Night. Also slated for that night is the elimination contest to determine the winner in the speaking contest.

Winner of the contest and an alternate will be chosen. The winner will represent the club in the area contest to be held in Hereford March 7. Four speakers competing in the contest are Milton Adams, Kenneth Coker, Grant Fuller and Dale Young.

"A Stitch in Time Saves Nine"

Courthouse Repairs Mean Future Savings

More than 100 citizens, called this week for jury service in District Court, got a first-hand glimpse at the interior of the Deaf Smith County courthouse, and many of the group are talking about its condition.

The Georgia marble structure is actually one of the more scenic courthouses on the Texas Plains but, like other structures of long years standing, it is seriously in need of remodeling. Fortunately, the building provides ample space for years to come; it also affords our county one of the lowest cost halls of justice in the state.

In the past, our commissioners have frequently considered a remodeling program with lower ceilings, efficient lighting and practical plumbing. In addition, we understand that the proposition is once again being pondered by the court, possibly in connection with proposed jail improvements. Such a proposal, we feel sure, would have the support and endorsement of every citizen who sat in the antiquated courtroom and awaited the nod for jury service.

While we do not think a new courthouse is to even be considered, we feel that it is "penny wise and pound foolish" to allow the present courthouse to further deteriorate. This is especially true when such a small expenditure would be required to modernize and improve the property, making it one of the most efficient buildings in the Panhandle. Frankly, it seems a shame to allow the building—basically sound—to continue to decline to the point that it parallels our county jail, recently condemned through state minimum requirements.

To borrow another adage, "a stitch in time saves nine," some sensible courthouse improvements can easily save the taxpayers of the county $500,000 to $800,000 during the next 10 years. Certainly, no one could classify such an expenditure as "spendthrift economy," even in these days of tightened purse strings and talk of lower budgets.

Meanwhile, if there is any doubt in your mind, why not make a special trip to the courthouse. Look over the condition with an unprejudiced mind, and we believe you will agree. This was the thinking of many of the citizens who reported for jury service this week and who inspected the building briefly for the first time in several years.

A landlord in private life who failed to keep his property in no better repair would lose his tenants; or, at best, he would find his building filled with an undesirable class of people. The courthouse belongs to the people of Deaf Smith County. These same people keep their homes and other property in good repair and in a modernized condition. Why do we not find the same rule applicable to our courthouse?

Get Herefords From Hereford

A return of interest in the purebred cattle business to this area is an event which merits general attention. During good times and bad, the Hereford industry has served the community well; today, the purebred cattle industry offers greater potential than ever before.

Emphasis on other forms of progress during recent years has tended to overshadow the growth of fine cattle. Nevertheless, the area has always boasted some of the best basic stock to be found in the nation. The town even got its name from the Bradley herd which grazed adjacent to the Santa Fe tracks, under construction in 1900. In the late 1930's, this area boasted approximately 40 fine herds of outstanding purebred Hereford stock, and the occasional sales drew buyers from all over the country.

That this territory is a natural for livestock was discovered early in the history of Texas due to climate, soils and native grasses. These basic factors are just as true today as they were back in 1850.

Breeding finebred cattle is highly similar to growing certified seed. Our conditions, fortunately, meet all of the requirements—and this is one industry which we know from experience to be profitable, practical and generally beneficial to the entire area.

It behooves us as governmental divisions, as organizations and as individuals to help the breeders in every possible way. The more Herefords we have in the area, the greater our diversification and the better our balance will be as a community. With a little effort, we can once again establish as a national by-word: "Get Your Herefords From Hereford."

Will Space Age Help Humanity?

Methods alter along with ultimate goals but, strangely enough, people seem to remain pretty well the same.

In checking over the Thursday issue of The Brand, we noticed the "Long Time Ago" feature. In the 45-Years-Ago column, the girls were riding a victory crest in basketball, and in the 25-Years-Ago section folks were quite excited over an aerial show and parachute jump.

Last Thursday carried pretty much the same news, except it was the boys' basketball team which was on top, while a score of amateur pilots were flying fares to help the local polio drive.

Despite the occasional vocal tirade some do-gooder aims at the citizens of 1959, we could not help but feel that the people, after all, are putting modern improvements to work for good forces, instead of being entirely evil. Certainly, the air age developed from those old Jennys back in 1924. Some of them may have been used to fly contraband liquor and narcotics, but mostly they are working on the side of law, order, humanity and justice.

People now are a lot like they were back 25 and 45 years ago; some are good, some are bad. For the most part, however, it does seem that the good far exceed the bad—and this is a most important factor with the American people as they embark on a complete new era known as the "Space Age."

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

More than two miles below the surface of the earth, these words echoed in a black-jagged tunnel.

"Oh, touch the hem of his garment And thou too shalt be free; His saving power this very hour Shall give new life to thee."

It was one of the hymns that strengthened the 12 men trapped in the recent mine cave-in at Springhill, Canada. They were no longer alone in the dark tunnel. God and His light were with them.

They prayed, as one miner recalled, for "... God to save us and bring us back to our families. Also to keep the rescuers safe in their work of coming to get us." The men's faith gave them the courage and the strength to keep going in the heat and foul air, without water or food until they were rescued a week later.

"The powers of the soul," Emerson reminds us, "are commensurate with its needs."

STILL HIS FAVORITE HOBBY

Berry Orr Learned To Make Quirts As Child

By MRS. E. L. CRISWELL

Mr. and Mrs. Berry Orr, 210 Whiteface Ave., came to Deaf Smith County in 1902. They grew up here and were married in a quiet wedding.

"I was born near Denton, Texas," said Mr. Orr. "We lived on a farm which my grandfather had bought when he first came to Texas. Denton was 'West Texas' at that time. Farther west was still the land of the Indians."

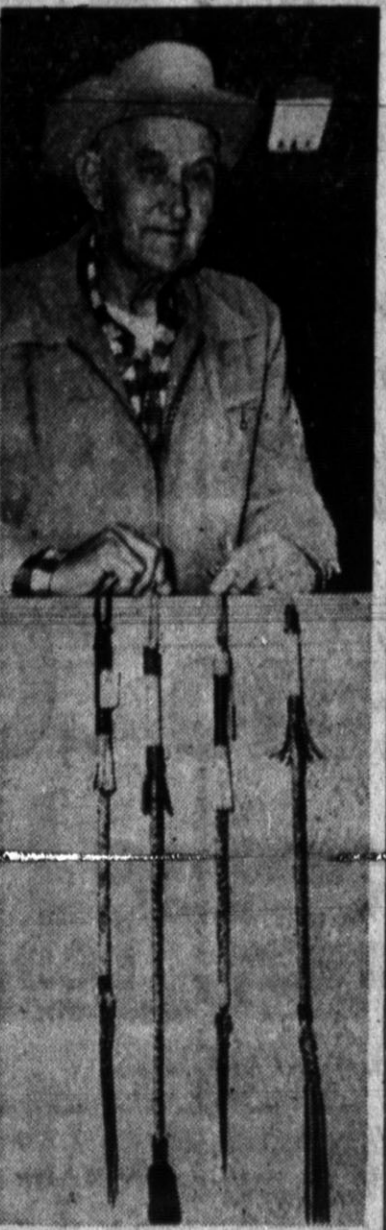

"Grandmother was ill with tuberculosis. Grandfather made a bed in a cart, put her upon it and started out for the West in the hope that she would regain her health. His quest for her health failed as she died in less than one year after her arrival in the West."

"Grandfather and the children walked. The cart was pulled by a mule and a cow. My mother was given a little pig about six weeks old when they left Louisiana, and it walked along with them. The little pig grew and her progeny kept them in meat for many years."

"Grandfather worked for John Chizum for many years and he

MAKING QUIRTS is still a hobby for Berry Orr, 210 Whiteface Ave. He learned to make quirts as a child, and in recent years has sold and made gifts of his handiwork. He says he has given away more quirts than he has sold. (Staff Photo)

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Strict Spending Habits Might Balance Budget

What steps should be taken to balance the federal budget? Why?

KENNETH COWAN—Well, the way to balance the federal budget, I think, is that they don't need to increase the taxes any more, but try to have less waste. For instance, in defense they could spend the tax dollars a little more wisely and it could go a lot further. But as for increasing taxes, I don't think that would help in any way.

GLENN WILLIAMS—One way would be to take immediate action in dismissing from the federal payroll all employees holding unnecessary jobs, which are created for the purpose of being passed out as political plums to various people who are in a position to influence votes.

DON ZIMMERMAN—There have been studies made by the Hoover Commission and recommendations made, followed in part by some of the departments of the government, but not enough. If there could be a complete study of eliminating some of the cost of operations, and if that study would be followed closely by all the departments involved it would go a long way in lowering the federal budget. There are new departments being created all the time that have little or no value to the workings of the government. If we could curb inflation, but not the inclination, it would be a great help. Any business, and government is a business, must comply with certain operation costs and limit themselves to a strict budget. As it is, the government is spending far more than it is taking in.

BOB LAMM—That would be an impossibility! People are now paying far more taxes than they can afford to pay. The only way to attempt to balance the federal budget would be to cut down on government spending, on government waste and on foreign aid. But with the cold war as it is, it is impossible to cut foreign aid, so the whole thing is impossible.

TO REQUEST FOREIGN STUDENT

The fund drive to bring a foreign exchange student to Tulia to spend his or her senior year in Tulia High School has been completed and the $650 goal reached, according to T. L. Fore, treasurer. The Woman's Study Club, in cooperation with other clubs and organizations, sponsored the project. Two contributions of $50 each and four donations of $25 were received. Other contributions ranged from $15 to one cent. Papers are now being completed which will start the machinery moving to bring the senior here in time to start school next September. The sex of the student and the country from which he or she comes is determined by the agency which handles the program. Several Tulia families have volunteered to keep the student. The selection of the family is also made by the agency. Tulia will also be eligible to send a Tulia student to a foreign country for his or her senior year under the exchange program.—TULIA HERALD

TV TRANSLATOR CONTRACT SIGNED

A contract for the construction of a television translator system to serve residents of Wheeler County was entered into Wednesday afternoon between the Wheeler County Farm Bureau and O. L. Setliff of Turkey. The contract calls for the construction of a 100-watt translator system, including a 160-foot tower to be erected in the northwest corner of the county. Construction is to be completed within 60 days after the Federal Communications Commission issues a permit which is expected to be received in 30 days. Cost of the project will be $35,000. The project should be in operation in 90 days, said Glynn Bell, chairman of the Farm Bureau committee in charge of the program.—SHAMROCK TEXAN

WHERE DID THE BORDER GO?

Anyone seen Sherman County's northern boundary lately? A lot of folks thought they had seen it a number of times over the years, but J. W. (Buck) Buchanan, the area's new representative in the Texas Legislature, says, "Tain't so!" One of the first bills introduced in the new session, which started this month, was one by Buchanan which would direct the Sherman County Commissioners' Court to resurvey their northern boundary. Buchanan said a "no man's land" had recently been revealed between the county line and the recognized Texas-Oklahoma border.—MOORE COUNTY NEWS (Dumas)

APPRAISAL TO GET UNDERWAY

Appraisal of right-of-way costs for widening of U. S. Highway 84 to four lanes in Lamb County is expected to get underway this week, County Judge Pat Boone Jr. said Thursday. The county judge said he had contracted Homer Robbins of Lubbock, the appraiser, and the two discussed plans to get started in the next few days. Background work on the appraisal has been underway several weeks, with information on comparative sales of property along the route being compiled, Judge Boone said.—COUNTY WIDE NEWS (Littfield)

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm must be a little tax-conscious, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:

I was sitting by the fire the other night flipping through a magazine when I ran into an article saying the United States government is looking for inventors, and it went ahead and listed a long string of things this country needs to have invented.

Now I never have invented anything, outside of a few excuses, but I've had a lot of experience trying to keep other people's inventions running, and what impressed me by that list was what it left out. It left out what looks like the Federal government itself ought to be the first to think of and put at the head of the list.

What the country needs, over and above all other gadgets and labor-saving devices and handier hydrogen bombs, is a new source of tax revenue.

It doesn't make any difference whether it's President Eisenhower in Washington, Governor Daniel in Austin, or the governor of any other state, including Alaska, and the mayors of most cities and towns, everybody is looking for a new source of tax revenue.

Right now, everybody seems to be in a rut, and about all anybody can think of is to put a new tax on cars and gasoline. An time any official has to wrestle with the problem of finding new revenue to balance a budget, he generally comes up with the idea of raising the tax on gasoline.

This makes sense, in one way, as most people will give up nearly everything, including groceries and clothes, before they'll stop driving their car.

But I'm afraid they can go too far in this direction. Of course their argument is that we're building 30 billion dollars worth of new highways across the nation, not counting all the side roads and local highways, and the best way to pay for them is to tax the users.

Well, I'll tell you. You can tax a driver to pay for a simple highway, one he uses every few days, and it makes sense, the user ought to pay, but it's going to be mighty hard to tax a man going one way for three more lanes going in the same direction and four more going in the other. The average man just can't use enough gasoline to pay for an eight-lane highway, unless they make cars that burn eight times as much gas, and I think they're working on that too.

The problem is too big for me, but if a man wants to go down in history two notches ahead of Thomas Edison, Alexander Graham Bell, Robert Fulton, and the Wright Brothers, let him invent a new source of tax revenue. And I think he'd better hurry.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

kept them in milk cows. My parents were real pioneers as they came to Deaf Smith County and also went to New Mexico and filed on land. Later, they returned and made their home in Deaf Smith County. My mother told many stories of hardship during pioneer days, but with a vein of happiness running through the stories that showed how wonderful life was and they always looked forward to something better.

"My father rode with John Chizum and once each year would make the trip to Dodge City with a herd of at least 2,000 steers. After his first year, he was point man with the herd. A point man leads the herd, when it is on the move, and when they would come to a river, he would lead them across the stream without losing a single head. On this first trip to Dodge City, they came to Red River. It was running bank full, but Chizum would never slow down for a little thing like a swollen river. My father asked to lead the herd across.

"There was always a lead steer, and he was trained to lead with a quirt across his neck. If he broke to run, it was a simple matter to use the quirt and bring him back into place. On this particular crossing, they followed and made the crossing without accident.

"The chuckwagon was something else, and at times was more difficult to get across than the herd. The wagon was pulled by four oxen. They had large wooden bows with chains attached to pull the wagon. These chains were so heavy that they would pull the oxen under the water as oxen are not very good swimmers.

"With the chains off and the wooden yokes turned upside down on their necks they served as a buoy, and with the help of a few cowboys who attached their ropes to the wagon in different places and had good swimming horses, the wagons were soon pulled across.

"The beds of the wagons were made waterproof and this, too, helped to get them across. Sometimes the hood wagon would capsize, and when it did the cowboys were stuck with wet beds until the sun shone again. However, most of them were wrapped in waterproof tarps, but sometimes were not wrapped tightly enough and the water would get inside the tarp making a very soggy bed for a tired cowboy. From that trip on, my father was the point man for as many years as he worked for John Chizum.

"I came to the Staked Plains on the Fort Worth and Denver Railroad. I rode the top of an immigrant car. I got a wonderful view of the plains and loved it.

"Somewhere on the Goodnight ranch the train split a herd of buffalo in two. There was probably 150 head in the herd. They grudgingly moved out of the way of the engine and then back together as the train passed. At this time you could see antelope in any direction you might look, as they were scattered on the prairie. If you saw one lone antelope, it was probably a mother with the baby antelope near. The little one would lie perfectly flat, with his head stretched out on the ground before him.

"They were hard to see as their color blended in with their surroundings. We cowboys would ride in a wide circle around to get behind them, then get off our horses and slip up and grab them. If you missed, they were gone as it was impossible to catch them. They could run much faster than a horse. I caught a number of them in this way, but you really had to be quick and sure to get a good tight grip to hold them. They made nice pets.

"I was working for Art Thompson when he went to Kansas City and bought his five-year-old son a small saddle. At night he would saddle me and I would let him ride me on all fours, but I did not throw him off. When he saddled Art, he would throw him high wide and handsome. He had a lot of fun with that small saddle, horse or no horse.

"When we first came to Deaf Smith County, we went to Sunday School in the morning at Ford Schoolhouse and would have a rodeo in the late afternoon. We had great fun and got 'thrown' many times.

"We were always planning fishing parties. On one fishing party, we set out trot lines and each would take a turn in seeing after them throughout the night. There was one guy that just slept through and did not take his turn. We caught an eel on this shift and placed it so near his bed that we knew he would get his hand on it while asleep.

"We went back to bed and before we had gone to sleep we heard him yell 'Snake! snake!' We lay still until he caught on that he had been the victim of a prank. He was always ready to take his turn afterward.

"We often went down into Palo Duro Canyon to spend several days camping and fishing. There were several farmers (nestors we called them) living there and they would ask us to their homes for a meal. We always took advantage of these invitations as there was usually a pretty girl there too, and we got a treat for our eyes also.

"I worked in the Sheriff's and tax collector's offices for six years and learned to know practically everyone in the county, but this is not so now. I ran into an old friend downtown not too long ago. This was before coffee went up to 10 cents a cup.

"He said 'come on Berry I'll buy you a cup of coffee.' We went into the City Drug store for coffee; we got to reminiscing and when I came out, I had a parking ticket on my car. That cup of coffee cost me $1. But I guess it was worth it, as I seldom see very many of my old friends.

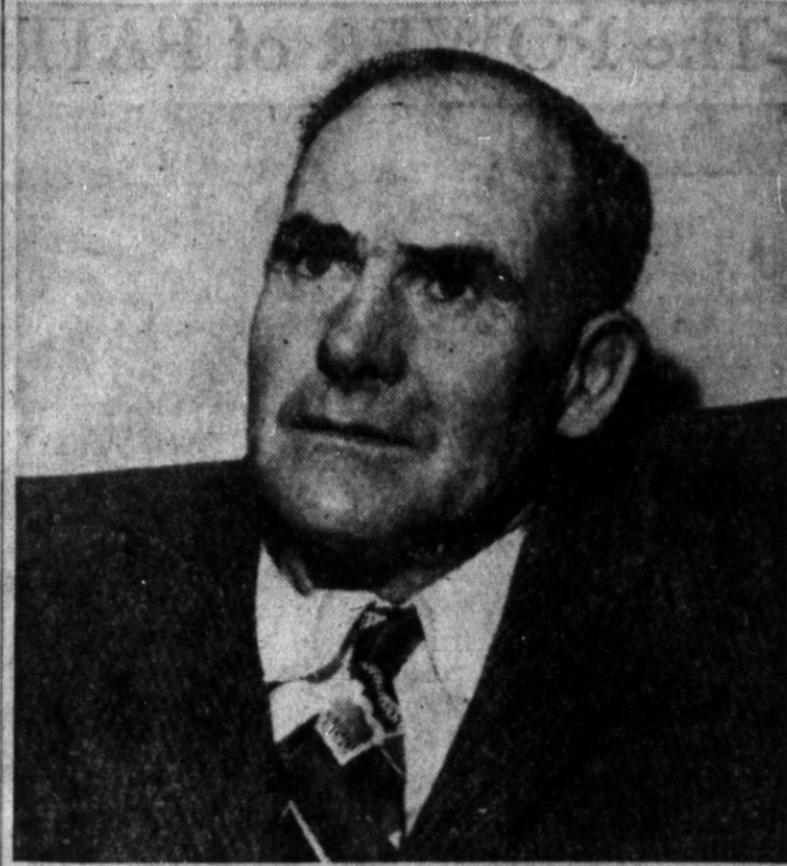

"I make quirts as a hobby. I do not know just how many I have made. Some of them are real fancy and others just ordinary. I have given more a way than I have sold.

"I learned to braid them when I was a kid, but had not made one in years. I almost had to learn over. I make the centers of birch and have made a few with glass rods. But like the birch better as it is easier to tack the strings in place to hold them for a smooth braid job. The rawhide is cut in 1/4" strips and soaked in lime water until soft and manageable. I twist two together over the slim birch rod let it dry. When dry, it is ready to braid. I tack the braid strings in place and braid. The braid strings are tapered to make the quirt taper as it is braided, and the thongs are then attached.

"There are three kinds of quirts. The old fashioned, with split thongs; the split bat; and the Jockey bat. The bat quirts are used in racing, and when used properly, give a loud pop to give the horse a quick start. A jockey can make a very loud noise and does so to make the horse leap in fright for a quick get-away.

"The modified or split bat thong can be changed easily, but the Jockey bat is braided on and is much more difficult to change as it must be unbraided and removed completely to change it to a split thong.

"We met each other in Mother's Park," said Mrs. Orr. "We had ever owned. I am sure I have never felt so well-dressed in all my life. Silk hose were not for anything but the most formal occasions.

did most of our courting there. The fountain had water in it. Then, we enjoyed playing in the water as we talked with each other. He would walk me home. He would rent a buggy and team if we wanted to go out in the country.

"On one drive we passed through a gate and he decided to have some fun. He talked me into opening the gate and then drove off and left me.

"I just turned the tables on him and set out for home walking. Of course, I did not mean to walk all the way home as it was several miles, but he thought I did. We saw another buggy coming and he began begging me to get in the buggy, but I did not until we saw the other rig. I wasn't too anxious for them to see me walking either, but he was scared to death it would get out over the community that he had driven off and left me on the prairie. I know the folks in the buggy were curious as they really looked us over, and I knew they were wondering what I was doing walking, with Berry in the buggy.

"I chose a white serge suit for my wedding but I was most proud of my stockings. They were silk — black silk — the very first pair of silk stockings

High Winds Scatter Dust In Community

By MRS. CARL WIMBERLEY

High winds early Thursday morning caused the most blowing dust that has been here for some time. Most of the wheat pasturage here has been grazed down very low.

Sickness is still quite prevalent. E. M. McDill was admitted to the hospital in Canyon Tuesday afternoon. He is to undergo major surgery Monday.

Mr. and Mrs. William Wimberley returned home late Wednesday night from Dallas, where he had surgery two weeks ago. He is reported to be getting along fine.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Polan were in Ranger over the weekend due to the death of her grandfather, John I. D. McMinn, who died suddenly after a heart attack. McMinn, who was 86 years old, lived near Gatesville for many years but moved to Ranger 16 years ago, when his farm was taken over to establish Camp Hood.

The Polans returned home last Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Strain and son, Wesley, went to Spearman Saturday where they visited until Monday with Mr. and Mrs. Orville Latham and other friends. The Strains formerly were teachers in the Spearman High School.

Mr. and Mrs. Strain spent Monday night with Mr. and Mrs. Dan Trew in Berger. Mrs. Trew is Mrs. Strain's cousin.

A group of members of the Dawn Music Club held a surprise housewarming Tuesday morning for Mrs. Gayle Neal at her home at 816 Ave. K in Hereford.

Those who were present were Mesdames H. H. Miller, J. B. Caraway, H. V. McCabe, Zed Stewart, Ray Polan, Melvin May, Carl Wimberley and Mrs. Neal. Gifts were sent by Mrs. R. T.

Stewart and Mrs. Orval Galley. A conference on education will be held at the high school in Hereford Friday, Feb. 6, and all parents are urged to attend the meeting. There will be no school that day.

Xan Benson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Tony Benson of Lubbock, is staying this week with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Hagar and daughter have moved to Canyon, where he has enrolled in West Texas State College for the second semester. Richard will receive his degree in May.

The Hagers moved their trailer house to Canyon.

Mr. and Mrs. R. T. Stewart and children were supper guests

Tuesday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Oglesby in Canyon.

Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Caraway and children visited Wednesday evening in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Gandy in Hereford. The occasion was Mrs. Gandy's birthday.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Vinton visited Sunday with her brother, Mr. and Mrs. Emil Huseman, at Nazareth.

T/Sgt. and Mrs. John Brechtel and daughter, Frieda, moved Jan. 9 from France to an air base near Oxford, England, where he has been transferred.

He has enrolled at the University of Maryland to study German.

Mrs. Brechtel is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. L. Airhart.

About Your HEALTH

Rabies is serious business, but there is a lighter side. Early this month for instance, the laboratory technician whose duty it is to prepare the brain tissue for microscopic scrutiny on suspect rabies cases was enjoying a game of dominos during the noon hour.

He was interrupted and informed that there was a "head" outside, but desiring to finish the hand he said he'd be out in a second. He would have forgotten the game had he known what kind of head.

Because two ladies were waiting with a real genuine African lion's head. It seems that the lion had been raised from a cub, but lately turned on its master and had to be destroyed.

There was little chance of rabies, but it pays to be sure about any suspect case. So the head was sent to Austin for examination. It was negative.

Lab technicians have examined fox heads, skunk heads, cat heads, thousands of dog heads and even a nutria head a short while ago. Among the strangest was a deer head. It proved to be negative, but the man who brought it in insisted the horns be cut off. The technician was convinced the hunter just wanted a cheap way to get those horns.

Winter and early spring see a slight rise in the number of positive findings of rabies in State Health Department laboratories. More effort is needed to inform and educate the public about the dangers of rabies and the means of controlling outbreaks.

Last year there were 491 laboratory cases of rabies plus 163 reported clinical cases in animals. In the past two years vaccine for 3,600 cases of human exposure to rabies was distributed by the State Health Department.

In 1955 a state law made it possible for county commissioner's courts to enact legislation for control measures during a rabies emergency. These measures can be carried from year to year as a sustained program to keep rabies at the lowest possible level.

Well-trained personnel from the Texas State Department of Health are available to counties and other local health jurisdictions to help launch their own rabies control programs.

The rabies battle is a year round fight. A let-up in any particular season may mean an outbreak later on. Everyone should have his dogs and cats vaccinated, especially if they are often on the loose.

Rabies control is a necessary and interesting program even if you don't get a lion's head in every day.

Mrs. Banner Is Honored Tues.

Those attending were Mesdames Dean Robbs, Jerry Albracht, Tony Hoffman, Raymond Paetzold, Ray Wilhelm, Frank Wilhelm, Gene Loerwald, Ed Loerwald, Russell Hunter, Victor Elliston, Leslie Wagner, Reynold Herr, Werner Koelzer, Frank Brinkman, Larry Gargan, Elwood Skypala, Nolie Elliston, W. ### Test Plot Report Slated At Meet

LUBBOCK — Reports on extensive use of fertilizers on test plots of cotton and grain sorghum throughout the High Plains area during 1958 will be announced at the first annual meeting of the South Plains Soil Fertility Committee to be held from 9 a.m. to 4 p.m. Feb. 10 in the Caprock Hotel.

This committee is composed of fertilizer manufacturers, chemical dealers, farmers, businessmen, the Plains Cotton Growers, Inc., and the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station. It was organized to foster and promote more efficient and profitable use of fertilizer materials in a sound soil and water management program by support of research, education, legislation and a high standard of ethics.

A PCG grant of $4,000 was matched in funds and materials by fertilizer dealers and manufacturers and with this financial support, Texas Experiment Station personnel were able to expand fertilizer research at the Lubbock and Terry County locations and also were able to conduct cooperative tests on cotton and grain sorghum in Bailey, Lamb, Hale, Crosby, Terry, Dawson, Gaines and Lubbock counties. Results of these tests will be announced at this meeting. Charles Fisher, experiment station superintendent, has announced.

The meeting is open to the public and farmers and others are invited. August Balzer, president, said. One of the future aims of the group is to work on legislative appropriation support for 1959 and future years.

Also at this meeting plans for the 1959 program will be discussed and new officers will be elected. This meeting precedes the Agricultural Chemical Conference, sponsored by the West Texas Chamber Of Commerce and Texas Tech, which begins the evening of Feb. 10 in Lubbock.

Coach Ed Doherty of the University of Arizona was asked about his team's chances.

"I think we could beat any junior college team in the country," said the coach, "but the last time I looked I didn't see any junior colleges on our schedule."

Arizona won its opener 7-6 then lost five straight.

Adrian Captures Win From Hartley, 55-54

By MRS. R. L. PINNELL
The fourth conference game of the season took place Tuesday night between Adrian and Hartley.

Adrian's participating team makeup was changed this year in District 2-B. In years past Adrian has played the teams to the south but school enrollment forced out Farwell and Friona two years ago. With the possibility of Bovina and Lazbuddie outgrowing class B, officials moved Adrian to join teams to the north.

The 2-B District conference is made up of Vega, Channing, Hartley, Texline and Adrian. The Matadors stamped the Hartley Tigers in two games Tuesday night.

The girls, coached by Malcolm Kennedy, led their game all the way with a final score of 42 to 36. Forwards' scores were Wanda Pinnell, 18, Betty Cavitt, 16, and Alma Mosteller, 8. High for Hartley was Hendrix with 22.

The boys' game was a thriller from beginning to end. Adrian teams had met once at the Stratford Tournament some time ago and Adrian won by only two points then. The Hartley boys started out hot on their home court and during the first quarter pulled ahead of Adrian by eight points.

By the second quarter Adrian caught up and see-sawed the score lead back and forth, never more than three points at a time. The Hartley boys fouled considerably and lost two of the main string in the fourth quarter. Zaring of Adrian lost out to fouls also and was a real loss to the rebound ability.

In the last minute of the game, with a score of 52 to 51, in Hartley's favor, Pinnell was fouled and laid up two free throws, changing the lead, 53 - 52. Hartley received the ball and promptly laid in a field goal, again changing the lead 54 to 53.

Adrian received the ball on the opposite court and passed to Pinnell who was directly under the basket, well-covered by two Hartley men. He passed off to Hubert Bronniman, the only starting freshman on the team. Hubert, younger brother of senior Oscar Bronniman, turned and laid in the only two points he had made in the game, but by far the most important ones. The scoreboard flashed 55 to 54 in Adrian's favor as the buzzer sounded.

Adrian's boys' coach is Joe Cullender for the sixth year. Box score for the Adrian-Hartley boys' game:

Player	fg	ft	pts
Bronniman, O.	3	2	18
Hopfield, L.	7	2	16
Zaring, J.	3	0	6
Pinnell, P.	5	13	23
Bronniman, H.	1	0	2

Hartley's top scorer was Bookout with 24 points.

Mr. and Mrs. Malcolm Kennedy are the parents of a boy, Randy Wayne, born Tuesday, Jan. 27, at 7:05 a.m. at Northwest Texas Hospital in Amarillo and weighing eight pounds and 14 ounces. Mrs. Hazel Chilton was ill Wednesday and out of her regular place in the seventh and eighth grades. Substituting was Mrs. Lorin Creitz.

Mrs. Hazel Chilton's seventh and eighth graders had a class party in Amarillo Monday afternoon. They bowled at the Western Bowl and also had supper together. Afterwards the group saw the movie, "Tonka."

SCRIPT CHANGE

NEW YORK, (AP) — The script requires Star Tom Poston to drink two bottles of Scotch during "Drink To Me Only," but the prescription was varied for a recent performance attended by 200 Kentuckians.

With a bow to regional preference, all references to Poston's imbibing on the occasion were changed to bourbon.

What he actually downs during the show remained unchanged, of course — caramel water.

The new home on the county line is going up in a hurry. The frame work and plumbing is underway, and in a short time the community will have a new family.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Howard and children are making plans to move to his father's place near Farwell sometime in February.

Manager Of Housing Is A 'Father Away From Home'

COLLEGE STATION — Harry Boyer has no children of his own but he has been a "father away from home" to thousands of boys who have attended Texas A and M College during the past quarter of a century.

Although his title has changed from time to time, Boyer, who studied to be a scientist, has headed the housing office at Aggie land since the early thirties.

As manager of housing, Boyer's principal job is to assign living quarters to the more than 7,000 students at A and M College, including over 1,600 married students. But he has many other duties at the college, many of which he has taken on himself.

Boyer's office is listed under information in the telephone directory and is open 24 hours a day, including weekends and holidays, to take care of queries from near and far.

He is one of the men whom Aggies have called over the years when they were in need of emergency assistance. For instance, during the cold spell of the recent Christmas holidays, a student called from his hometown over a hundred miles away. His problem was that he had neglected to drain the radiator of his T-Model which he had left parked on the campus.

"I'm afraid the water will freeze and the block will burst," he pleaded. He was assured that the matter would be taken care of and Boyer personally drained the radiator on his way home for lunch.

The housing manager cannot recall an A and M Corps trip that some Aggie didn't leave his football tickets behind in his dormitory room. "They call us for help and so far we have always managed to get the tickets to the boys before game time," Boyer said. Being listed under information, his office gets all sorts of calls. After a football game not long ago a man called all the way from New York City requesting the exact score. Others call to ask about the school colors, enrollment, or such things as who was the third president of the college.

After 5 p.m. and on holidays, Boyer's office is the telegraph office. It is also the clearing house for messages from staff and faculty members to students. Last year the office handled more than 25,000 departmental messages.

Although he doesn't claim to know every boy by name, or where every boy is quartered, Boyer can get a message to any student within minutes. In case of emergency, the message is taken directly to the student whether he is in his dormitory, classroom or laboratory.

It is Boyer's office, too, that supervises the flying of the national colors on the main campus, and arranges for the flag to be flown at half mast after the death of a student or staff member.

Boyer is in charge of two twelve-passenger cars and four nine-passenger station wagons owned by the college. They are rented to college groups and departments. He also arranges tours of the campus for visitors.

A native of Blanket in Brown county, Boyer has been employed by the A and M College System since graduating from John Tarleton College in September, 1926. He was named postmaster and assistant manager of the exchange store at John Tarleton, now Tarleton State College.

Three years later he entered A and M College and graduated in June, 1931, with a Bachelor of Science degree in entomology. Soon afterwards, he became office manager of the Commandant's Office and was in charge of college housing. He was named chief of housing in 1946.

Your potato plants can tell you but then it's...

TOO LATE FOR TOP-PROFITS

When your potato plants show a yellowing between the veins of lower leaves, they're telling you they lack available magnesium and can't produce maximum yields. Few magnesium deficiencies in potatoes are seen as easily as this one... but the unrecognized deficiency steals profits before you know it.

Our special SPM Premium potato fertilizer can help increase yields of U. S. No. 1 potatoes 50-80-100 bu./A. because it contains Sul-Po-Mag to supply fast-acting, water-soluble magnesium lacking in most potato soils of this area. Sul-Po-Mag does not raise soil pH or increase the danger of potato scab. Practical potato growers, and experiment stations too have proved conclusively that premium quality (low chloride) sulphate or potash from Sul-Po-Mag in our SPM Premium potato fertilizer helps grow potatoes of greater specific gravity, higher starch content, and better shipping quality. For top profits from potatoes, invest in our SPM Premium potato fertilizer.

We use this Seal of Approval as your guarantee that our SPM Premium fertilizer contains recommended quantities of genuine Sul-Po-Mag.

CHEVY'S NEW HI-THRIFT 6

More miles are back in a gallon of regular-grade gas—up to 10% more—and Chevy's new Hi-Thrift 6 engine puts them there. It also gives you more "git" in the speeds you drive the most.

Here's an engine that always seems able to coax extra miles out of a tank of regular-grade gas. In fact, if you're one of those drivers who keep tab on things like gas mileage, you'll soon see for yourself that this new Hi-Thrift 6 gets up to 10% more miles a gallon.

Another thing you'll like about this 135-h.p. 6 is the extra pep it gives you for passing and climbing hills. This is due to higher torque at normal speeds.

It may be hard to believe anything that looks and moves like this '59 Chevy can be such a stickler for economy. But—whether you pick the Hi-Thrift 6 or a vim-packed V8—this is just one more reason Chevy's the car that's wanted for all its worth. Stop by your dealer's and see.
