Meet Plans Made With 13 Beauties In 'Miss REA'

Thirteen beautiful high school girls from Hereford, Dimmitt, Friona, Adrian, Farwell, Texico and several other communities will vie for the title "Miss Deaf Smith County Rural Electric of 1959" at the meeting of Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative Inc. at the county Bull Barn Thursday, April 30.

Other highlights of the meeting will be a barbecue lunch for members and guest at noon, a business meeting at 1 p.m. and tentative entertainment plans featuring the Frio Trio.

During the business meeting, matters pertaining to the local Coop will be presented, plus discussions of long range planning and legislation concerning the Cooperatives of Texas. Merrill Riggen, operations field representative for Rural Electrification Administration, will talk on long range programs for an electric cooperative.

The Frio Trio was scheduled to furnish entertainment during the meeting, but one of the trio, Jerry Hodges, received a chip-bone in his elbow during track practice this week. An attempt will be made to acquire somebody to take the boy's place.

The group consists of Jerry and Dennis Hodges and Walter Parris, all Hereford High School students. They live in the Frio Community, and their parents are members of the local Co-operative.

The members will elect two directors to fill places presently filled by Webb Gober of Farwell and Raymond Higginbotham of Hereford. Nominating committee selected Webb Gober and Donald Watkins for the Parmer County place and Raymond Higginbotham and C. C. Ellis for the Deaf Smith County place. Other nominations may be made from the floor during the business session.

A statement of the general operating report will be presented by an official of the Cooperative. Final event will be a drawing for attendance door prizes. An array of electrical appliances will be given to

Parking Survey Sought By Merchants' Group

Informal Poll Gives Mixed Replies On Parking Needs

In an effort to find out what the public thought about Hereford's downtown parking situation, the Brand staff called a number of people to get their reactions.

About half of those who answered the question felt that there was a need for some type of parking lot. Of those who felt there was some difficulty in finding parking space, traffic congestion on Dollar Days and Saturdays was mentioned most frequently.

Purpose of the brief, informal Brand poll was not to presume upon the request to be made by the merchants to the City Commission, but simply to find out what some of the area residents thought about parking.

Replies of those contacted by the Brand were:

Mrs. Gerald M. Banner — It's all right, but a parking lot would help.

Mrs. Lee Roy Burges — A parking lot would help. Lots of times I have trouble finding a parking place.

Troyce Carmichael — I think we could use a parking lot.

Jane Caudle — It's usually pretty easy for me to find a parking place.

Mrs. C. L. Conklin — I think we need a parking lot.

Mrs. W. H. Embanks, Erie — No, I never have any trouble.

Mrs. Marvin Finley — Dollar Day and Saturday's are the only times I think we might need a parking lot.

Mrs. S. L. Garrison, Frio — As far as I'm concerned it is adequate except on Saturdays.

Mrs. Albert Ricketts — It depends on the day. Most of the week it's adequate.

Mrs. Glenn Gripp, Frio — Usually during the weekdays you can find a parking place.

Lucille Hoffman — Right now I don't see a pressing need for one but with the way the town and business centers are expanding I think we will probably need one before too Concerned with the future, Hereford merchants Friday voted to contact the City Commission with a request for a study and survey on parking needs for the next ten years.

Several of the merchants commented that existing parking facilities are inadequate for peak shopping periods and some steps need to be taken to alleviate the situation.

Some of the merchants suggested they might operate their own parking lot for the convenience of downtown shoppers, sharing the expenses and profits, if any. Others said the need for such a convenience should be determined, which led to the motion to ask the city for planning assistance.

Hereford Mayor Woody Wilson, attending the meeting as a merchant, said he felt sure the City Commission would consider the request at its next meeting but did not know how they would answer it.

Primarily, the merchants want to know if the existing parking facilities are sufficient

District Head Kiwanis Ladies Night Speaker

About 150 Kiwanis Club members and wives gathered at the ballroom of the Jim Hill Hotel Thursday night for the Division VII of Texas-Oklahoma District, Kiwanis International, charter night buffet dinner and to hear an address by Carlos L. "Cotton" Clover of Odessa, district governor.

Eight clubs in divisions VI and VII were represented, and about half of the attendance was comprised of out-of-town guests.

Musical entertainment for the ladies night affair was furnished by the Charles Bell Trio. The Hereford trio is made up of Bell at the piano, Woodie McDermitt on the bass and Alex Schroeter at the drums.

The principal speaker was introduced by James Denton of Lubbock, lieutenant governor of the district. Clint Formby, local club president, gave the welcome address.

In speaking here, the district governor probably made his only visitation to the division this year, Formby said.

Jess Robinson introduced guests; and group singing was led by the Rev. Alby Cockrell, pastor of the First Methodist Church in Hereford.

Around Town

Saturday seemed to be the first official "Short Sleeve Shirt Day" of the season. Friday's sunshine drew out some, but most men cautiously waited until the sun peaked up brightly Saturday before discarding winter wear. But most of the summer shirts disappeared beneath rain coats before noon.

Hereford was one of the towns covered by radiation fall-out following a mock a-bomb attack on Clovis Friday. One of the first recognizable symptoms of radiation sickness is falling hair. That could mean that some of us skin-heads might be dead before we even knew we were sick.

We were saddened to hear that two Smiley High School basketball players were killed in a car wreck Thursday night near

'Public Art Show Proceeds Going To Civic Center

An arts and crafts sale starts a four-day run in Hereford Wednesday, with all proceeds going to the Community Center building fund.

The show opens Wednesday, April 22, and will continue through Saturday, April 25, in the Henry Sears building just south of the Jim Hill Hotel. The formal opening of the exhibit will be Thursday, April 23, when coffee will be served from 2 until 5 p.m.

Prices on art items will range from $1 to $100, with special arrangements for time payments running until Dec. 31.

Added attractions will include free registration for several door prizes.

And for the hard-to-please, special orders will be taken for any item, such as a portrait, oil painting, mosaic or other art work. Patrons may even choose the artist to execute special work.

County Land Deal Under Scrutiny Of Government

Operation of the soil bank program as it affected one land transaction in Deaf Smith County was among facets of the program under investigation by the House Appropriations Subcommittee in Washington Thursday.

Agriculture Department attorneys, testifying before the subcommittee, said the transactions made by Hubert T. Turner, Deaf Smith County landowner, were legal at the time they were made in 1956.

At that time, the investigators said, Turner, of Hale Center, had purchased 3,520 acres of land in Deaf Smith County, which he divided into small units.

Faust Collier, manager of the Agriculture Stabilization and Conservation Act in Hereford, said Thursday the Turner contracts were negotiated in the early days of the soil bank program and that specific rules as to eligibility were not laid down at that time.

Since August, 1956, however, Collier said, the Agriculture Department has issued administrative rulings forbidding transactions such as those involved in

The event will be played by the low ball system with players using one-half of their handicaps. Players must have a handicap card signed by their professional before they may play, according to Bud Posey, local professional.

Those planning to participate in the event and have not acquired a handicap card should contact Posey at the Hereford golf course.

City Patrolman Joins Corsicana

A patrolman on the Hereford police force for the past seven months, Melvin M. Byrd, 29, this week tendered his resignation to accept a patrolman post on the Corsicana police department.

His resignation becomes effective May 1. He and his wife have lived in a house trailer at the corner of Ave. A and Grand since he joined the force here.

Before coming to Hereford, Byrd was chief of police at Pearsal.

6 Indicted By Grand Jury As 4 Get No-Bill

Six indictments and four no-bills were returned by 69th District Grand Jury in its session here Wednesday. Jury convened at 10 a.m.

Indicted were Eloy Soliz of Alice, 17, breaking and entering; James Orin Brock of Dimmitt, 35, driving while intoxicated, second offense; Andres Jasso of Hereford, 27, driving while intoxicated, second offense; and Joseph Alvin Swindle, of Dimmitt, 32, forgery and passing forged instruments. All are in custody of the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department.

Two other men were indicted but are not in custody. The indictments are for forgery and passing forged instruments and removal of mortgaged property.

Soliz, arrested by authorities in Alice, was returned to Hereford last week by County Sheriff Charles Skelton. He was believed to have been implicated in the Oct. 5, 1957, burglary of Hereford Hardware Store, according to Skelton. His bond was set at $2,500.

Hereford police arrested Brock March 9 in Hereford. Bond was set at $1,000.

Herd Opens Loop Play With Dumas Squad Here Tuesday

With a puny 2-9 record thus far, the Hereford Whitefaces will open District I-AAA baseball competition Tuesday, entertaining the Dumas Demons at 4 p.m.

Both teams will be seeking wins in the conference opener for an abbreviated three-team loop. Dumas is fielding its first diamond squad in the school's history, while Hereford is playing again after a four-year lapse. Levelland is defending district champ.

The Demons should be a little bit stronger, although they have been plagued with first-year jitters. They have a good pitching staff and moderately-good hitters. They are coached by Jerry Good, former Texas University baseball All-American and minor league professional.

Hereford suffered through a manager's nightmare Thursday as the team committed 11 errors in dropping an 8-1 decision to the Childress Bobcats on Whiteface field.

Bobcat lefty Fred Cawthon earned the decision with a great one-hitter for the seven innings. The stocky fast-baller struck out 13, walked three and hit three batters. Only hit off him was a single by Jimmy Collier in the third inning.

District Literary Contest Draws 28

Twenty-eight Hereford High School students competed in the Interscholastic League's annual spring Class 1-AAA literary contests at West Texas State College in Canyon Saturday.

The Hereford students competed with students of four other District 1-AAA schools from Phillips, Dumas, Littlefield and Levelland.

The junior and senior boys and girls delegation competed in division of declamation, extemporaneous speech, poetry reading, number sense, slide rule, spelling and typewriting. In the declamation division, David Larsen and Linda Hair competed in the senior class, and Mickey Bonesto and Sharon Hill competed with junior students. Jimmy Reinauer was Bonesto's alternate.

In slide rule competition, Stanley Fuhrmann, Jan Wallace and Bill Ponder represented Hereford, and typewriting contestants were Thomas Coffman, Zell Crump, Cherry Holt, June Meacham, Joe Hershey, Donnie Marcontell, Linda Witherspoon, Twyla Springer, Gail Miller and Merry Kay Truitt. In the typewriting division, five were to

Set Bond For Theft Suspect

A 26-year-old Hobbs, N. M., woman, Mrs. Martha Ann Clarke, was charged with theft over $5 and under $50 by Hereford Police Friday, and County Judge Homer Henslee set the woman's bond at $1,000, pending trial in County Court.

Mrs. Clarke was arrested by Amarillo police and held for Hereford police. She was charged in connection with the theft of a dress from a Hereford woman's shop earlier this month.

No date for trial had been set Saturday morning.

Two Youths Face Hearings After Break-In Series

A Juvenile Court hearing has been scheduled for 10 a.m. Tuesday for two Latin-American youths, 13 and 14 years of age, who were arrested this week in connection with five burglaries in Hereford.

Hereford Police Chief Henry Aycock said the burglaries were at three local vegetable sheds, Trautman's, Vashing's and Chalmar, and Hereford Live-Stock Auction and Hereford Ice Co., east of Hereford.

All the thefts in the burglaries were of petty nature, Aycock said, and have occurred in the past five or six months. Most of the items recovered were pencils and ball-point pens.

No vandalism was reported in any of the burglaries.

FULL EFFORT by Hereford catcher Edwin Thomas went into this slide into third base Thursday afternoon, but it came too late. Childress third-sacker Cecil Goff had the ball on a throw from catcher Mickey Carter and was ready for the steal. The action came in the fourth inning after Thomas got on base when hit by a pitched ball. Childress won 8-1. (Staff Photo by H. A. Tuck) the Turner case.

It was said that Turner kept some of the land for himself and sold land to two sons-in-law, W. C. Johnson and Billy Doyle Walls, both of Plainview.

Other parcels of land were placed in a trust fund for a minor son, Beverly Joe Turner; a grandson, Doyle Wesley Walls, and two granddaughters, Debra and Amelia Ann Johnson, all of Plainview.

Collier said so far as the Turner child and grandchildren are concerned, the land is placed in an irrevocable trust and soil bank payments go into the trust funds.

The separate parcels of land were said to have been put into the soil bank and conservation reserve.

Investigators said Turner paid approximately $156,590 for the entire tract of 3,520 acres, which is located about 25 miles northwest of Hereford. Total government payments on the land come to nearly $25,000 a year, or a total of $250,000 over the 10-year contract period, the investigators said.

This is nearly $100,000 more than the original purchase price of the land.

The case of the Deaf Smith County land transactions was first mentioned in a staff report on soil bank abuses printed in agriculture appropriation hearings in February, 1958.

Highlights of the same report were released Thursday in a transcript of hearings held last March. A committee aide said highlights of the report were printed simply to refresh the members' recollection of a case mentioned earlier.

Jamie L. Whitten, a Democrat from Massachusetts and chairman of the appropriations subcommittee, is a strong critic of the soil bank, a part of the farm program introduced by the Eisenhower Administration.

The case was one of several which Congressional investigators have questioned. All involved the breaking up of large farms to be put into the conservation reserve in sections.

Under present conservation reserve regulations, payments to any one landowner are limited to $5,000 a year, or a total of $50,000 over 10 years.

Agriculture Department attorneys said the Turner contracts and others cited by congressional investigators were perfectly legal when they were made.

Vehicle registrations in Deaf Smith County have climbed steadily for the past few years. For example, there were 3,674 vehicles registered in the county in 1949. Five years later, in 1954, there were some 5,488 vehicles registered. Currently there are 6,175 vehicles registered.

Number sense entrants were Stanley Fuhrman, Dudley Bayne Jr. and Ronald Anderson, with Bill Ponder, Gene Meacham and Jan Wallace as alternates.

John Gilliland and Mildred Wester entered the extemporaneous speech contest. Accompanying the delegation was Carroll Hickey, Jiggs Hudson, Ed Stanley and Mrs. Billye M. Buck, all high school teachers here.

Results of the contest were not available at press time, but a complete story of ratings will be carried in the next issue of the Brand.

Medals were to have been awarded to first, second and third place winners. First place winners will be certified by the judges to go to the regional Meeting April 25 in Odessa. Winners from the regional meet go to the state finals held in Austin in May.

About 500 students and teachers were expected to be on the WTSC campus for the events. Competing in the District 3-AA AA contests were Amarillo High, Borger, Lubbock, Monterey, Palo Duro, Pampa, Plainview and Tascosa.

Dr. Crannell Tollier, head of the speech department at West Texas State, is general contest director. Some 40 faculty members and advanced students at the college were judges of the contests.

Two singles and an error gave the Bobcats one run in the first inning. Caython pitched a shut-out for five innings, giving up just one hit.

A tragedy of errors gave Childress five runs on just one hit in the sixth stanza. Four errors, a single and a walk added up to Hereford's defeat. Two more errors and two hits gave Childress two more runs in the seventh inning.

Hereford got its only run in the bottom of the sixth when Ken Clearman scooted to third on an error by the Bobcat center fielder and came home on another error.

There was only one extra-base hit in the game, a double in the seventh by Childress catcher Mickey Carter.

Donnie Marcontell started on the mound for Hereford and was tagged with the loss. He allowed six runs on four hits, struck out seven, and walked five. He was relieved in the sixth with none out by Wakey Northcut, who gave up two hits, two runs, walked none and struck out none.

On Thursday, Hereford will play the Bobcats at Childress. Friday they will be host club to the Nazareth team, which they beat 6-5 Tuesday.

'Smoke Scare' Is Answered Friday

The Hereford Volunteer Fire Department Friday morning answered an alarm after Mrs. J. H. Jones, 310 Ave. B, said smoke was coming from her attic from an outside vent.

No evidence of fire was found by the fireman, and they said it was probably smoke which escaped from the kitchen to the attic and had then gone out the attic vent.

Mrs. Jones said that smoke had gathered in the kitchen that morning after food she was preparing burned on her kitchen stove.

Accidents each year claim the lives of more than 25,000 Americans aged 65 and over.

Beauty At Home

Q. Can you suggest a facial beauty mask or pack that will help tone down freckles?

A. Mix the white of an egg with the juice of a lemon, and blend with enough almond meal to make a thin paste. Spread this on the face, and leave on at least 20 minutes. Then rinse off with warm water.

Q. What makeup technique will counteract the appearance of a very small face and a neck that seems quite short and thick?

A. The use of a darker foundation makeup cream on the neck than on the face will help to reduce the apparent size of the neck.

Q. What is a good bleach I can mix at home for my hands and arms?

A. Cucumber juice, mixed with equal parts of rose water and glycerine.

Q. What astringent can you suggest to help absorb dandruff on my scalp, my hair being of the extremely oily kind?

A. Witch hazel is good for this, and has a drying effect, too. Apply, then follow with a good scalp massage, then your shampoo.

Q. How can I remove some rubber cement stains from one of my dresses?

A. Sponge with carbon tetrachloride, gasoline or benzene, or dip the stain into it. (CAUTION: These are inflammable!). If the cement has dried, rub petroleum jelly into it to loosen it, then sponge with solvent; or rub first with dry-cleaning soap.

Q. What kind of body bath is especially soothing and refreshing?

A. The sponge bath of alcohol and cool water at frequent intervals, followed by a talcum powder rub.

Q. What is a good cleansing compound for a skin that is infested with blackheads?

A. The abrasive quality of this treatment should help to dig out those blackheads: Mix a tablespoon of oatmeal and one of cornmeal with soap and water, and rub this over the infested areas. Then scrub and rinse.

Lions Hear About European Culture

Dr. Jesse J. Northcutt, dean of the school of theology at Southwestern Baptist Theological Seminary, presented his observations of Europe during his stay there in 1956-57 at the noon meeting of the Hereford Lions Club in the Jim Hill Hotel Wednesday.

Dr. Northcutt conducted revival services at the First Baptist Church of Hereford through the past week. Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Hunton of the Fruitdale Baptist Church of Dallas furnished musical selections during the services, and sang "It's In My Heart" at the Lions Club meeting.

Dr. Northcutt said the average European has no conception of what a standard of living is as it is so far below that of the average American family. They consider the average American as a very rich man when contrasting his standard of living with that of their own.

Academically, he said, schools in Europe are advanced over those of the United States. Their form of education is classical, or in preparation for university.

In lower grades, he explained, students are separated, and sent in "different directions." Only the select few are sent to universities, he said.

Languages and mathematics are stressed, but little emphasis is placed on social studies or development of personalities, he told the group. All in all, for this reason, the American student would probably succeed over the European student.

In general, he observed, people in Europe do not like Americans, although they don't hate them. The Communists inspire unlike toward the United States to some extent, Dr. Northcutt said, but Americans "inspire much of it themselves."

The average tourist makes a bad impression, he said, by being too loud, getting drunk publicly and being too "flashy" with his money.

They realize that they are dependent on the United States for what economy they have, but think we "throw our weight" around because of our better economy.

If we are to maintain peace in the world, he said, we must be friends to Europeans as we need them to keep freedom in the world today.

Visitors at the meeting were Mrs. S. O. Wilson of Hereford, and Dean Kelley and Herb Lewis of Amarillo.

Lion Dub Reeves outlined the District Convention to be held April 25-28 in Plainview.

Among the events, he said, would be golf, bowling, hospitality time, church services, Sunday luncheon, a concert, District Queens Contest, and other business and recreation sessions.

DOG BEATS GUN

LOCKPORT, N. Y. (AP)—When pheasant hunting, jury commissioner Benjamin L. Donner may not always hit his game, but he has something extra going for him. When Donner missed a bird recently, his dog Betty sprinted after the pheasant as it scurried through the brush, caught it, and brought it back to her master.

A wild swan, say naturalists, can break a man's leg with his wing.

Beauty At Home

Q. The upper inside parts of my thighs do not meet. Is there an exercise I can practice which will help to develop the inner line of my legs?

A. Very good for this condition are deep-knee bends. Also, following: Lie on floor and back with legs straight and arms resting on floor. Raise your legs halfway up, holding them in this position as you swing them apart and together again.

Q. What sort of makeup technique will help to camouflage an acne-pitted complexion?

A. Fill in the pits with a cream base that is lighter than skin-tone. The cream base can be pressed in and set by using a puff lightly dusted with talcum powder. For the makeup, use a liquid foundation cream of skin-matching tone, smoothed on evenly and carefully so as not to disturb the first cream base. Then comes the rouge, and finally the powder.

Q. What is a quick, easy, and SAFE way to bleach the hair on my upper lip?

A. Lemon juice is quite often helpful for this.

Q. What is a good makeup procedure for the girl with quite a high forehead?

A. She should use only dark powder on her forehead, and highlight the lower part of her face with light makeup. The eyebrows should be darkened a little more than normally.

Q. How do I go about giving myself an egg facial treatment?

A. Apply the whipped yolk of egg over face and throat, and let dry. Then apply the whipped white of egg over the yolk, and let remain for about a half-hour. Finally, remove with warm water, and follow with an application of light-odd cream.

Q. Isn't it all right to use a cake of soap for shampooing the hair?

A. Sorry, but I cannot go along with this! The use of cake soap makes the thorough rinsing of all soap from scalp and hair too difficult. Much better is liquid shampoo.

Q. How can I help to build up the calves of my legs through exercise?

A. Stand barefooted on tiptoe with arms outstretched for balance. Lower your heels, then rock forward on the toes again. Repeat this heel and toe movement ten times daily. Besides benefiting the calves, this will strengthen the ankles and feet.

Walking about on the balls of your feet is another good exercise for the same purpose.

OPTOMETRY: The Art and Science of Visual Care

You can be SURE...

that there is a never-ending research into the problems of vision. For instance, research conducted at Purdue University shows that some nearsightedness comes from too much visual tension, in reading and studying, in the early school years. And, that temporary preventive bifocal or training lenses can, in many cases, reduce that tension. Thus, nearsightedness may be halted or even prevented. Cooperate with your professional optometrist if he prescribes preventive bifocals for your child. He is practicing preventive vision care.

Five, 30 Days To Pistol-Toter

Roy Lee Mosley, 25, of Hereford entered a guilty plea to carrying a prohibited weapon Thursday in County Court. County Judge Homer Henslee sentenced Mosley to 30 days in the County Jail and assessed court costs of $27.45.

Mosley was arrested after police last week stopped a car driven by Charlie Johnson, 40, who was later charged with driving while intoxicated, first offense.

Police Chief Henry Aycock said a .38 caliber revolver was found in possession of Mosley, a passenger, at the time the car was stopped by police at Knight and Catalpa streets.

Drivers Contest Slated Sunday

Hereford Road Knights, a local automobile club, will sponsor a "Go-Whoa" driving contest at 2 p.m. Sunday.

The contest will be held on Blevins St., which will be blocked off just east of Alkman School. Three trophies and several merchandise awards will be given and the public is invited to attend. The contest is open to anybody having 1959 license plates, an inspection sticker and a valid driver's license. Entrance fee is $1.

Entrants will test their ability to stop on a white line, without skidding to a stop, in the fastest possible time. Smooth take-off and stops will be observed by judges in selecting winners.

Two "Go-Whoa" contests were sponsored by the club last year.

By JIMMIE GILLENTE

Farmers are pretty sharp people these days. I was reading this week about a farmer whose barn caught on fire and burned down. Before the smoke had cleared away his insurance man was on the spot, and the farmer wanted to know when he would get the money. "If you read the fine print," said the adjuster, "you will note that we have the option of rebuilding your barn just exactly as it was before the fire — and that is what we expect to do."

"OK," responded the disappointed farmer, "but if that is the way your company operates, you get back to the office as fast as you can and cancel that life insurance policy on my wife."

Terry Kirby dropped in to tell me that I am all wet about this duplicate bridge. Terry says it is already plenty big — and still growing by leaps and bounds.

Duplicate bridge, according to Terry is not a party game; instead, it is a highly competitive sport, chiefly because it takes some of the element of luck out of the game and puts all players on a more equal basis. Terry says that most towns now have clubs, which welcome visitors, and make the life of tourists and travelling men happier indeed. In addition, they have regional and national tournaments and last year contributed more than $150,000 to charity. The local group has an attendance of around 32 each week, and would like to have 48. Anybody is welcome, Terry points out, and says it is a lot of fun. He adds that he and Jane, when planning a trip, always get down their directory and map the route to coincide with overnight stops where the duplicate clubs are meeting. He adds that they meet many interesting people from day to day.

My wife had already warned me that I was off the beam in saying that duplicate bridge would never become tremendous in scope. Like Terry, she avowed that it already is big. Therefore, I guess I was wrong, but I still don't understand why I would much rather play a game where I could blame my boners on bad luck, than to have a bunch of smart alecs playing the same hand, just to prove that I was merely ignorant. Furthermore, for every expert there must be at least 100 or more blunderers. I will admit, though, that you could learn a lot more about bridge by playing duplicate, rather than the party type.

Earline Ross recently moved from the hospital back to the hotel, and seems to be having the time of her life greeting old friends. She seems to cheer up the whole place more than a little bit.

Things were really humming around Rogers Drug Friday when they moved in some new display fixtures. It got so bad that even Grady and Bill were helping with the heavy lifting — and that's what you call a real rush.

Earnest and Mrs. Langley are going to Washington, D. C., for a brief vacation, and to get Earnest admitted to the Supreme Court. I didn't know it, but a lawyer has to have recommendations and go through quite a rigid inspection before he is allowed to plead before that august body. Nor can the admittance be made by mail or telephone; one of the rules is that the lawyer must appear in person. Anyway, the forthcoming Dumas School suit provided the requirement, but I think the Langleys are looking forward to the trip with considerable personal interest — and I don't blame them at all. Especially, since it will probably be "deducible".

Several people have been unkind enough to comment on the fact that I reached the golden age of 50. Like most 50-year-olds, I would much rather talk about something else, but it does have one advantage. You can pop off about things and folks will shrug their shoulders and say: "What else can you expect from an old duffer like that?" This brings up the subject of our modern day teenagers "going steady". It seems that a gal don't get many invitations now days unless she goes steady. This is really bad — or was in my day, especially on the freshman and sophomore levels. The kids, both boys and girls, miss half the fun of growing up. They will have no future memories of dates with numerous others. Going steady seems to be part of the changing times and, somehow, I can't help but feel that the boys have been suckered into the set-up. It sounds like a feminine idea to me.

It's the woman who will pay, though. A wife, who starts going steady early in high school and later marries the guy, is really behind the eight ball. How is she going to remind him about how much better off she would have been had she married his nearest rival? The one who drove the sports car, brought candy when he called and never thought of taking her to a function without a corsage? This particular character has been an important part of the American household ever since we so rudely poured out all of that tea at the big Boston Tea Party. It looks as if the only thing left to fight about will be household expenses and the neighbors new car. Even the mothers-in-law are becoming so doggone nice these days that a guy has to look twice before he can conscientiously complain.

Back when I was a boy, the

Jacksons Attend Funeral Services For His Mother

Mr. and Mrs. Anell Jackson attended the funeral services for his mother, Mrs. Dasha Jackson of Muleshoe, Monday at the Anton Primitive Baptist Church with Elders W. R. Dale, Jimmie Bass and Kenneth Martin officiating.

Burial was in the Anton Cemetery.

Mrs. Jackson died Saturday at the age of 74 following a short illness.

She is survived by her husband, B. L. Jackson; three sons, Marvin, Hubert and Anell; and four daughters, Mrs. Eufala Spradley, Mrs. Pauline Ramage, Mrs. Esta Lee Barnard and Mrs. Ruth Dalton.

gal sat by the telephone all afternoon wondering if someone would call her for a date and, when he did, she got even by making him wait 15 to 30 minutes while she supposedly finished dressing. I still have to wait when we go anywhere, but I also still think it is a sort of cat-and-mouse game — and there is no question about who is the mouse.

Bob Hope, listening to Jack Benney play the violin once remarked: "That is the first time I ever heard music that made me think the strings sounded better when they were in the cat."

A fishing trip to dream about is the one planned by Bill Dameron, Hap Caviness, Dr. A. T. Mims, Don Little and Lyle Blanton. They plan to fly in private planes into Minnesota, then do some fishing in Canada. Probably in June. Also, it is refreshing to see someone going north of the border, instead of south.

MR. COTTON FARMER

May we recommend The Wet Acid Process as the process to be used in chemically delinting your grain seed? Here's Why —

1. Seed stays in contact with the acid for a period of 30 seconds or less.
  2. Water is used as a neutralizer.
  3. Does not eat the bags.
  4. Wet and green seed can be safely delinted.
  5. Seed can be safely stored and used for a period of several years.
  6. Does a more thorough job on angular leaf spot and other seed borne diseases.
  7. Heat is used only to dry the seed after the acid has been washed off.
  8. Planting 12 lbs. per acre the cost is less than 10c per acre more using wet acid.
  9. More uniform planting.
  10. More even stand.
  11. Quicker emergence.
  12. Plant faster.
  13. Get bigger yields.
  14. Gravity table floats out weak seeds.
  15. Treating prevents seed rotting even in cold, damp weather.
  16. No sticks, stems or lint to clog the planter.
  17. In warm soil seed will sprout in 12 hours—a stand in 5 days.
  18. Less moisture required for germination.
  19. For only 1 lb. of lint cotton per acre you can have your seed chemically delinted using the safe WET ACID PROCESS.

Dale Tinnan says not to mention anything about Henry Aycock losing so many lures on the recent trip they made to Possum Kingdom with Ross Latham. After losing several rigs, (paid for out of the pot) Henry procured another from the tackle box, carefully tied it together — and heaved the $250 rig over the side of the boat. The only trouble was that Henry had forgotten to tie the lure to the line on his rod.

Dale gave Henry a lot of state over this deal, but didn't tell him about the time he was fishing at Possum Kingdom a few years back and hooked a 4-inch fish. Dale got the fish into the boat and, disgusted with the size unhooked it, dropped the fish into the bottom of the boat with his left hand — and absent mindedly tossed his rod, reel, line and tackle into the lake with his right hand. I thought Henry would like to know about this, just to keep the record straight.

New Stadium Is Quite A Hole

IT'S: HEP POINT OF VIEW

By BETTY BABIONE
If you'd like an exhilarating surprise, I think you'll find one in the form of the new West Texas State football stadium — especially if you drive up to the north rim and look down.

Really folks, that's quite a hole they've dug over there near Canyon, and you can't begin to tell it just from what you see as you drive by on the expressway. And it's not just a big hole; it's a beautiful big hole!

Already, the north slope of the bowl sports a blanket of green grass, and with a little imagination, you can picture the finished stadium as sompan to really be bragged about in this part of the country. But you have to see it to believe it!

The local art groups have completed plans for their special sale of arts and crafts, and this is the big week. The event is scheduled to run for four days, Wednesday through Saturday, at Henry Sears' office building across the street south from the Hotel Jim Hill.

With Mother's Day and graduation time right around the corner, the sale is certainly appropriately timed. And no matter what the occasion, if it would please you to have or give an original work of art, Golden Opportunity doth now appear!

As I have mentioned previously, this event is to benefit the Community Center Building Fund and since all of the sale articles are donated, the Center will get 100 per cent of the proceeds.

The items are priced from $1 to $100 — prospective patrons might be interested to know that arrangements may be made for installment payments on the higher-priced objects. Also of special note is that anyone desirous of having a special oil painting, portrait or mosaic, etc., may obtain same by placing an order with any artist participating in the project.

The artists, by the way, include members of the art classes of our local schools as well as, the talented adult personalities of our city.

As added inducements to attendance, registration prizes will be awarded (and I hear they are quite lovely!) and the public is cordially invited to attend a coffee held simultaneously with the sale from 2 p.m. to

Local Bar Group Offers Services

Attorneys in Hereford and five other cities and towns in 69th Judicial District Bar Association will observe Law Day, U. S. A., on May 1.

Lawyers here will offer their services as speakers to any school, church, civic club or other organizations before, on or shortly after that day, according to John D. Aikin, Hereford attorney.

President of the district bar association, Floyd H. Richards of Dalhart, appointed Aikin as Deaf Smith County chairman of activities and Hereford attorneys Ray Cowser and Bruce Miller as committee members of the second annual observance.

Groups wishing to acquire a speaker for a meeting should contact a member of the committee or any Hereford attorney as soon as possible so that a lawyer can be obtained from Hereford or any of the other five towns in the district for the engagement.

Purpose of the day, Aikin said, is to bring to lay persons the position law has in society and to familiarize them with their judicial system.

President Eisenhower recently proclaimed the day nationally, and the mayor of Hereford will probably proclaim it locally, Aikin said.

Towns and cities in 69th Judicial District are Hereford, Dalhart, Dumas, Stratford, Vega and Channing. Last year, Aikin said, more than 20,000 ceremonies were held in observance of the day throughout the nation.

5 p.m. on Thursday.

This is one affair of which it cannot be said that only a few of the sponsoring group do all the work — every single participant has devoted hours and hours in the creation of beautiful and unusual art objects for this sale, Here's wishing them much success!

Children Give Music Program

Children and grandchildren of members of the Music Study Club presented the annual "Music in the Home" program Monday afternoon at a meeting of the club held in the home of Mrs. A. O. Thompson. Assisting hostesses were Mrs. Thompson's daughters, Mrs. W. T. Carmichael and Mrs. A. J. Schroeter.

Mrs. R. P. Coneway, leader, gave the setting for the program in a review of "Everybody Sing" by Mary Martin, which is a warm and wonderful program of do-it-yourself music for the entire family from one of America's most popular singing stars, Mrs. Coneway said.

Quoting from Miss Martin, Mrs. Coneway said, "Music in the home, I'm convinced, has to be started by the parents and the earlier the better. I often hear parents complain that there is so much automatic music today that kids are too lazy to make their own."

"I don't think it's true at all. They don't sing because they have never heard their parents sing. They don't know that making music is fun because they've never heard their parents treat it as fun.

"There is one thing about music that has impressed me all of my life; of all the families I've known, the ones that sang at home were always the happiest. I suppose you might argue that they sang because they were happy, but I think it works the other way too — a family can be happy because it sings."

The program presented included "March of the Wee Folk" (Gaynor), by Janet Bradley; "Snowbird" (Gest) Carey Dameron; "The Little Shepherd" (Hayes), Barbara Clements; "Ripples" (Mark Nevin), Stephen Coneway; "The March Hare" (Moneymaker), Karen Sue Stanford; "Old Home Windmill", Merle Carmichael; "Summer Showers", Katherine Nell Stanford; and "Waltz" (Schubert), Ruth Ann Allison.

In conclusion, the hymn of the month, "Christ The Lord Is Risen Today," was sung by the club members. Miss Frances Dameron gave the history of the song and Mrs. J. C. McCracken served as director. Mrs. A. J. Schroeter was the accompanist.

Members attending were Mesdames J. R. Allison, Bill Bradley, W. T. Carmichael, Steve Clements, R. P. Coneway, B. Y. Crosthwait, W. E. Dameron, Cliff Estes, H. K. Fox, J. C. McCracken, Nofman Moore, C. J. Mount, T. W. Roberson, A. J. Schroeter, W. J. Stanford, Bill Stanford, J. E. Beyer, S.

O. Wilson, J. D. Neill, J. P. Slaton, Miss Frances Dameron and the hostesses, Mrs. Karl Wallace of Washington, D. C., was a special guest.

During the social hour, refreshments were served from a tea table laid with a pink organically cloth centered with a flower arrangement of redbud, flo-owering crab and iris backing miniature gold band instruments. Pale green tapers in silver holders flanked the arrangement and appointments were in crystal and silver. Mrs. W. J. Stanford, president, presided at the punch bowl, and Mrs. Carmichael and Mrs. Schroeter assisted at the table.

Doctor Zhivago Book Reviewed

This book, which is a historical, political and religious novel all in one, was the 1958 Nobel Peace Prize winner, which the author accepted and later refused. The book has been translated into many foreign languages including English.

Nominating Committee Is Named At Young Mother's Club Meeting

Young Mother's Study Club met in the home of Mrs. James Headstream Tuesday evening.

During the business session, a nominating committee for new officers was named, with Mesdames Gid Brown, Wendell Burdine and James Headstream to serve. Plans were also made for the installation dinner which will be held in May.

Members answered the question, "Do your children feel free to discuss their problems with you?" during roll call.

Mrs. Gid Brown presented the program on "Living With Children in the Home." She said, in part, "Rarely does a delinquent come from a home where he is wanted and loved. There has not been found any substitute for the home in supplying basic security. The most important things about a home to a child is privacy, a place to bring his friends, good food, and a happy, wholesome atmosphere."

Members in attendance were

Mesdames Labry Ballard, Jimmie Bowns, Bill Bradley, Gid Brown, Wendell Burdine, Hugh Clearman, Arthur Dean, Jay Hammond, L. J. Jones, Gerald McCaskill, Wayland Smith, Bill Stanford, Dale Young, James Alston and the hostess.

Mrs. Audrey Thompson Feted By Eastern Star

Mrs. Audrey Thompson was presented a fifty-year certificate of membership by Hereford Chapter no. 312, Order of Eastern Star, at a stated meeting held at the Masonic Hall Tuesday evening.

Mrs. Clara Shore, past worthy matron and long-time friend, made the presentation as Mrs. Hester McLallen, worthy matron, pinned an orchid, the gift of Mrs. A. L. Manjeot, a past worthy matron and friend for many years, on the honoree's dress.

Mrs. Thompson was initiated into the Order on March 18, 1909, shortly after she married Alex Thompson, a Mason, and has filled every office during the past fifty years.

Her first office was Adah, first point of the Star. She served two terms as worthy matron, 1919-21, filled the office of warden, marshal and chaplain. She served as associate conductress and conductress, and as secretary and treasurer.

Her late husband also joined the Order of Eastern Star and served as worthy patron for thirteen different terms. There were not many men members then and few would serve as worthy patron. He was presented with a life membership several years ago.

Eastern Star work was a family affair with the Thompsons. Alex's mother, the late Mrs. Jennie Thompson, was a worthy matron of the Order at Gainesville before moving to Hereford and served the local chapter as worthy matron, and his aunt, Miss Jessie Morris, is a past worthy matron of the Hereford Chapter. All four served as members for fifty years.

In presenting the fifty-year certificate, Mrs. Shore recalled the early days when it was difficult to keep the chapter alive and told of the time and effort "Audrey and Alex" expended to keep the chapter going. There were 35 members then, in the good years, compared with 175 on the rolls today.

A short business session was held following the special program, when new officers were elected. They were Mrs. Argen Draper, worthy matron; H. C. Baird, worthy patron; Mrs. Estaline Gleaton, associate matron; E. V. Gleaton, associate patron; Mrs. Virginia Yandell, secretary; Mrs. Jennie Clark, treasurer; Mrs. Ludie Greeson, conductress and Mrs. Catherine Moore, associate conductress.

Marvin Coffee received the degree of the Order.

Hostesses for the social hour included Mesdames Belle Hromas, Jerry Jackson, Bessie Hill, Stella Parker and Vivian Major.

Mrs. Audrey Thompson and Mrs. Virginia Patton served punch and coffee from a refreshment table laid with a white linen cloth and decorated with yellow daffodils and forsythia. Appointments were in silver.

She stressed how the general health habits make for good grooming. At the conclusion of the discussion she showed the Texas Food Standard pamphlet to the members.

After the scheduled demonstration the girls planning to enter the county-wide Elimination Demonstration to be held in Hereford Saturday practiced their demonstrations.

Doris Horton gave her talk under Public Speaking entitled "Juvenile Delinquency." Myrna Zaring and Linda Pinnell gave their Dairy Foods demonstration. Paula Creitz also presented her Dairy Foods demonstration.

Those present were Paula Creitz, Marlene Williams, Coralie Fortenberry, Glenda Hornfeld, Peggy Sifford, Doris Horton, Truby Benefield, Martha Gruhkey, Laura Jobe, Linda Pinnell, Joan Lane, Myrna Zaring, Bonnie Blasingame, Gail Gruhkey, and Mesdames C. F. Hornfeld, Jeannette Hadaway, Alfred Jobe, Troy Benefield, M. H. Zaring and R. L. Pinnell.

Keeping Records Meeting Subject

Comments about lost records and the safekeeping of important papers answered roll call Thursday for the North Hereford Home Demonstration Club at the home of Mrs. O. C. Williams.

The program was given by Mrs. Tony Hoffman, who stressed the importance of a specific place for keeping all important papers, such as deeds, insurance policies, birth certificates, social security information, bonds, securities and wills and numerous other valuable papers.

Mrs. Hoffman said these papers should be kept in a safe deposit box at the bank, a fire-proof box or a steel filing cabinet at home.

The recreation period was conducted by Mrs. Wilma Bryan.

Reports from the committees were heard and a discussion was held on the style show and luncheon to be held at the Bull Barn at noon on April 27 at which time the "Woman of the Year" will be announced.

Members present were Mesdames Martin Wagner, Otto Olson, Frank Brinkman, C. L.

Students Place At Music Meet

Several students of Stanton Junior High School received high ratings in the Region II Music Festival in Canyon held recently.

NO ELDER AMBITIONS

NEW YORK (AP) — Sir John Gielgud, one of England's ranking actors, is determined not to become an elder statesman of the theater.

"I wanted to show young people in America the method of a skilled executant, an old hand," he says of his recent national tour. "But issuing dicta on theatrical subjects is boring."

"Each time you are on stage you learn something more, and as you get older you simply become more perceptive to sensing what audiences want."

The National Parks in the United States cover 24 million acres.

Whitehead, June Roberts Clinton Ward, R. A. Fullwood, Zelda Kendrick, Bell Williams, Tony Hoffman, Wilma Bryan, Aubyn Hodges, Otto Massie, W. H. Russell, a visitor, Mrs. Lena McCrumb, and the hostess.

The next meeting will be held in the home of Mrs. Frank Brinkman with a luncheon on May 7.

Modern Art And Poetry Topics Of Group Meet

A two-part program marked the final study session of the season for the Bay View Club Thursday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Ansel McDowell.

Mrs. E. L. Naugle opened the program with a discussion dealing with "The Evaluation of Modern Poetry", defining a poem as "a peculiar insight into an emotional situation and recording it," and saying that it must be universal and in some way touch the individual experience.

She pointed out that good poetry must be written in clear pictures and told how to select poetry for its true meaning. She mentioned Carl Sandburg and Edna St. Vincent Millet as exponents of modern poetry and read excerpts from contemporary poets. She also compared the good and bad poetry of the past century with that of the present.

Mrs. O. Wertenberger, Hereford High School art teacher, was guest speaker. She presented a program on "Modern Day Art," introducing her subject by saying "understanding art is in itself an art."

She told of the romantic words of art and suggested that too many people miss much because they are not aware of the art all around them, and told how to develop an appreciation of art in order to know what to look for in a painting.

She discussed the religious influence in art and suggested studying the new in art as well as the old. She mentioned Picasso and told of his murals and showed paintings by Gilbey, Ward Lockwood, Hans Hoffman and some of Renoir's.

In conclusion, she said, "educate yourself as to form and color and try to find out what the artist is saying, as an important step in the understanding of any art."

Mrs. Will S. Kerr, president, presided over a short business session and read some of the resolutions to be presented to the convention of the General Federation of Women's Clubs to be held in Los Angeles.

Members of the club attending the meeting were Mesdames Phillip Barkley, Lee Benefield, Colby Conkright, T. M. Drever, Howard Gault, Francis Hardwick, E. W. Harrison, Will S. Kerr, Paul Mathers, John McLean, R. B. Miller, Eugene Naugle, J. W. Spradley, J. W. Kirby, J. P. Slaton and the hostess.

Former Resident Listed In Who's Who In Poetry

Mrs. Edith Canant, formerly Miss Edith Rayzor, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Rayzor, of Hereford, has been honored by a listing in the "International Who's Who in Poetry," Vol. I of this year's edition.

Mrs. Canant graduated from Hereford High School and is now an art teacher at Blocker Junior High School in Texas City.

Mrs. Canant's copy of the Who's Who volume, published by Cranbrook Tower Press in London, was received recently. She has had her poems published in about a dozen American anthologies.

A poem called "Permanence" is coming out this spring in the National Poetry Anthology of National Poetry Association. This anthology accepts about 400 to 425 from all over the country.

"Permanence" was inspired by a building Mrs. Canant saw during a visit to the Presbyterian Camp Cho-Yeh whose builder had died before it was finished.

Mrs. Canant's poetry has appeared in "Pen Points," an anthology published by the Panhandle Pen Women, in five editions of "From Sea to Sea in Song," American Poetry League, and in six National Poetry Anthologies.

Nova Scotia has some of the highest tides in the world. The highest tide was 103 feet in 1869 at Burncoat Head, Nova Scotia.

REMEMBER WHEN?

By Charlie Seeds

The dramatic events of that year came to a head on April 5th, when Gen. Douglas MacArthur, Commander of the United Nations forces in Korea, replied to a letter from Representative Joseph W. Martin, House Minority leader. In his reply, MacArthur backed the use of Chiang Kai-Shek's troops to open a second front against the Communists in Asia, and advocated the bombing of "protected" Red Chinese bases in Manchuria, from which the Reds were able to send planes against U. N. forces without fear of counterattack.

On April 11th the electrifying announcement came. President Truman announced that he had concluded that Gen. MacArthur was "unable to give his wholehearted support" to U. S. and United Nations policies. MacArthur was fired from all commands, an action which sparked one of the greatest controversies in our history. Remember the year?

In spite of the Korean War, that was a boom year in the automobile business. Americans were clamoring for new cars, even though the new models weren't much different from those of the previous years.

The year was 1951. You'll see a tremendous difference in the new 1959 Ford. You'll feel the difference in surging power and handling ease. See it in advanced styling that's years ahead. Changes In Farm Methods Bound To Alter Lives Of Our Farmers Farming methods, like a lot of other things, are undergoing radical change.

Today, for instance, 38 per cent of all persons, age 14 and over, who live on farms are drawing off-the-farm pay checks.

This side of the farming picture is a far cry from two decades ago when the farmer arose before daylight, worked far into the night, and still did not get all of his chores done.

An exact opposite, however, is found in some of the more productive farm areas, Iowa, Illinois and our own territory.

Some observers even predict huge farming corporations, which may even go on the stock exchanges in a fashion similar to our larger industrial firms.

The larger, scientific, better managed farming method will probably win out in the long run, it seems to us, basing the prediction on growth of American industry as it adapted improved methods and automation. The part-time farmer and industrial worker will, sooner or later, become a full-time industrial employee.

Meanwhile, the United States is producing more food than we can eat, more clothing than we can wear—all with less manpower than ever before in our history.

Same Letters Spell 'Taxes'

"Texas" and "Taxes," despite the interchange of two letters, are just about to become synonymous, if you can believe all of the comments and releases flowing from Austin these days.

Like most other states, Texas is now face to face with spiraling costs, due to inflation, progress and growing pains. The money has to come from somewhere and, no matter where the bite goes, there is bound to be some screaming.

Looking with an unprejudiced eye, however, there really are a lot of people who enjoy schools, roads, police protection, fire protection and public parks who never directly pay one cent in state, school or county taxes.

Frankly, we doubt if this tax-pinch has barely begun. We will hear more and more from it in the immediate years to come. Many historians point to over-taxation as causing the downfall of ancient Rome.

Buffalo Lake As Fishing Resort

Buffalo Lake will be closed to fishermen this year, according to current announcements. The idea, it seems, is to rid the lake of rough fish and to restock with those of more desirable types.

Although Hereford sportsmen and civic organizations were active in promoting the lake, it seems that very few of them will be effected through the new policy. This is chiefly because most of our sportsmen had already shifted their fishing interests to Lake Conchas in New Mexico.

Poor catches, which are now in process of long-range improvement, contributed greatly to the shift, also of tremendous importance was contrasting management of the two lakes.

Buffalo Lake was constructed with government money, primarily for entertainment of the people who live in the area. It is easily accessible to this community, and should have most of our patronage.

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

FAITH AMERICANS LIVE BY-3

In the steaming mountains of Luzon, in the Philippines, Lt. Clay Conner found faith. It was hardly a time for a man to think about anything but his own skin. For it was 1942 and the Japs were pouring through our lines.

Hiding out among friendly Filipinos, Conner bided his time until the fever left him by reading from the gift book. "I was freed from consuming fear," he lived to report, "and my budding faith strengthened me."

Armed with the courage of his reading, he formed a guerrilla band of GIs, Filipino scouts and sympathetic natives. A scout brought an American flag, and though constantly harassed by Jap patrols, they kept it flying throughout the entire occupation.

Now Clay Conner is an Indianapolis insurance man. He repays the gift of courage that faith brought him by working actively in community affairs.

Spending By Consumer On High Level Locally

Hereford contributed its full share, and more, toward ending the recent year of recession. The evidence is seen in the part it played, through local consumer spending, in holding the gross national product to as high level as was maintained. The GNP, which is generally recognized as a principal index of economic conditions, represents the total value of goods produced and services rendered.

ed. This output, which dropped to $430 billion during the recession, several billion below the prior year, included industrial investment, Government spending and personal consumption outlays.

But the backbone of it all was consumer spending for goods and services. Nationally, this amounted to 71 per cent of the total GNP, according to reports by the Department of Commerce and other agencies.

Hereford accounted for $25,500,000 of this amount, which was more than its quota in terms of population. Specifically, with .0040 per cent of the national population, it consumed .0083 per cent of the nation's output of goods and services.

The spending ranged in all directions, from haircuts to house furnishings, from automobile repair services to apparel and from movies to general merchandise.

Locally, of the $25,500,000 in personal consumer expenditures, $19,942,000 was for goods purchased in retail stores and $5,558,000 was the estimated amount spent for services of all kinds.

The turn upward, away from recession, which became apparent in the latter half of 1958, is attributed by most economists to such steadfast consumer buying.

The average wage earner, according to a survey study made for the U. S. Chamber of Commerce, refused to be panicked by the voices of economic doom. Instead, he retained an optimistic outlook.

The economy, he reasoned, cannot always maintain a fever pitch of boom. There must be breathers on the upward climb and this was one of them.

He apparently decided, the survey brought out, to exercise self-control in using installment credit until the situation eased. But, in other respects, he chose to work, spend and live as normally as possible.

Army end Don Usry was a freshman at Texas A and M before going to the U. S. Military Academy.

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Transportation Service Is Needed In Hereford

Does Hereford need taxi and/or bus service? Why, or why not? If bus service is needed, how should it be financed—publicly, privately or by municipal government?

MRS. ROY HARTMAN—Yes, I think we do need a taxi or bus service. A lot of people have had to buy two cars to the family because of the shortage of transportation.

IRVING ALEXANDER—I think Hereford needs both taxi and bus service. But as to whether Hereford could support either one or both is very questionable in my mind.

REV. JOEL TREADWELL—I would say it does need a taxi service. There are many citizens who find themselves stranded when emergencies arise and they have to call upon others with automobile transportation, which both inconveniences themselves and others.

FRANCIS THOMAS—Well, I think a taxi would be good for our city, but I don't know whether there would be any call for a bus service. At any rate, I don't think Hereford could support both types of transportation.

BARTLEY DOWELL—I don't think Hereford needs either one of the services. In fact, there have been two or three taxi services before and they went broke. If we did have a taxi service the city would have to help operate it because one individual just couldn't make a living at it.

REV. ALBY COCKRELL—I think we need a taxi service, but I don't think a bus would pay. Whether or not taxi service would pay, I can't discuss that. I believe it would have to be combined with some other legitimate business to put it on a paying basis.

More About The 'Ugly American'

Americans are frequently resented by natives of the countries in which they visit, according to Dr. Jesse J. Northcutt, who made appearances before local service clubs this week.

The matter of individual outlook probably contributes much to the situation. The American, definitely on a vacation for which he has sacrificed and saved a long time, seldom conducts himself as if he were back home.

Natives of Mexico, Hawaii, France and England, on the other hand, must judge the average American by those tourists with whom they come into contact—and the conclusion is frequently unfavorable.

As Dr. Northcutt pointed out, most of the countries we visit are already accepting "handouts" from the United States and, in many cases, they have a preformed animosity toward the American. Since most Americans tend toward an established set of rights, we over-emphasize inherent rights to the point of not helping the situation.

Strangely enough, very few Americans actually stop to realize what is happening; instead, they consider their journey abroad in much the same light they would view a trip to the super market, where they pay their money—and certainly expect value received in return.

In addition, most Americans do honestly feel a little bit superior to natives of many countries in which they visit. This feeling is bound to crop out once in a while. However, we thought Dr. Northcutt pretty well summed up the situation when he said:

"America has the greatest public relations ability and the most extensive salesmanship at home. Yet, we have made the poorest showing along these two lines of any other country on an international level. Why can't we apply some of this ability abroad?"

Panhandle Paragraphs

SQUARE GETS TRAFFIC LIGHTS

Canyon is just about to go uptown with two traffic lights on Fourth Avenue at the square. Approval for the traffic lights, which will be at 15th and 16th Streets, was given this week by the Texas Highway Department.

SAFFLOWER PLAN FLOPS

Moore County farmers apparently turned "thumbs down" on proposals by Texas Farmers Union representatives to locally grow small quantities of safflower. In a meeting Wednesday afternoon, about 25 farmers heard the plans explained by TFU representatives but failed to sign any contracts to grow the plant.

COCKLE BURRS AND SHINNEY TABOO

Owners of cattle and swine were warned this week by Dr. E. Byron Range Jr., veterinarian, to protect their herds from shinnery and cockle burrs. The local veterinarian said that six deaths occurred in a small herd of cattle within a 24-hour period earlier this week.

FRON ON UNION ATTEMPT

Oilton farmers this week viewed with alarm an attempt to organize workers at Plains Co-Op Mill in Lubbock as an indirect threat to organize all agricultural workers in this area. Farmers feel that organizing a union at the Lubbock mill may be an entering wedge to organize farm labor.

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm may have his tongue in his cheek this week; although you can't tell, it may be his fact.

A new fad is developing among politicians that has me worried and it ought to be worrying everybody else. If it keeps going, the science of government will be destroyed.

It works like this: a delegation of citizens, say school teachers wanting a raise, a Chamber of Commerce wanting a new project, etc., goes before Congress or a state legislature committee or the city government or some other government outfit and lays out its requests.

Then some official pops up and says all right, you want us to spend this money, we're willing, but where would you like us to raise it? Name the tax you'd like us to vote to cover this new expense.

As far as I'm concerned, this undermines the whole idea of democratic government. Thunders! If we have to tell a politician what we want, and then tell him where to find the money for it, what's the use in having politicians in the first place?

How many politicians do you think would ever get elected if their campaign promise was, Vote for me and if elected I'll give you anything you want if you'll show me where to find the money for it?

It's sort of like telling a farmer he can have as high a price support as he wants for his crops if he'll deposit the money in the bank to pay for it. It's like telling an airline you'll subsidize it if it'll increase its income tax enough to pay for it. It's like telling your son you'll send him through college if he'll furnish the money. It's like going into a bank for a $500 loan and having the banker tell you he'll let you have it just as soon as you put $500 in the bank. Better make that $530 to cover the interest.

The danger in this whole thing is that it strips an office-holder of all his magic. Government is supposed to be a science and who ever heard of going up to a scientist and asking him to make a car that'll run forever on one tankful of gas and then being told he'll be glad to if you'll tell him how to do it.

If a government can't furnish more services than the people are willing to pay for, what's a government for? We've got to stamp out this new fad quick before it spreads any further. Government is a science and it ought to stay that way.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

Six-Month-Old Korean Is Adopted By Former Residents Of Hereford

The Rev. and Mrs. James Martin, formerly of Hereford and now of Salt Creek Community near Brownwood, last month acquired their adopted six-month-old Korean son.

The Rev. Martin is pastor of Salt Creek Baptist Church and a student at Howard Payne College. He served in the World War II Pacific campaign.

Mrs. Martin, who is the sister of Mrs. Hoot Poarch of Hereford, is also a student at HPC.

The Martins have had their application in proper channels for the past three years and last year received a letter asking if they were still interested in adopting a baby. They replied that they were.

When the baby, Kjm-Gary, now Gregory James Martin, was eight weeks old he legally became the son of the Martins. He had been left on the city hall steps in Seoul by his family after his mother had died.

When he was completely cured of any communicable disease, and became well enough to travel, he boarded a plane for the trip to the U. S. Mrs. Martin was waiting in Portland, Ore., when he arrived, and saw her new son for the first time March 16.

The Martins are the parents of three other children, Alice, 11, Judith, 9, and Randy, 7.

Mrs. E. R. Standifer of Claremore, Okla., is a visitor in the home of her sister-in-law, Mrs. O. M. Dickey.

Mrs. Standifer has received recognition as a writer of humorous verse under the pen name of Belle Killough Standifer. She has written approximately 500 poems, with more than a third, having been published in newspapers and magazines.

Several selections from one of her collections have been published in anthologies, including her latest; "Baby Shoes," published in the Davis Anthology. Here is one of Mrs. Dickey's favorites:

The scowling pessimist complained
Half empty is my glass
The optimist said - mine's half full
And smiling, let it pass

The pessimist could only see
The empty space above
The optimist saw that below
And filled the space with love

Also a guest in the Dickey home is a nephew, Herman Branch, of Tulsa, Okla.

"I planted earlier than ever using ORTHOCIDE Soil Treater X...."

reports Lloyd Hahn, Brownfield, Texas

"I planted earlier than ever — and under very cold and wet conditions. I treated my entire 170 acres with ORTHOCIDE Soil Treater X and got an excellent stand." Mr. Hahn (right) with ORTHO Fieldman Jim McCarty, adds enthusiastically: "I'm going to use it again this year — I can't afford not to, planting as early as I do."

Growers prove ORTHOCIDE Soil Treater X brings higher yields, greater profits. ORTHOCIDE Soil Treater X is the best insurance against the high cost of replanting. It creates a protected zone in the furrow allowing the tender seedling to develop normally in spite of cold, wet, infected soil. The early maturity and better stands which result can bring greater profits from higher yields of top grade cotton.
