Winter Makes One Final Slap With Howling Winds And Snow

Drifting snow, accompanied by winds up to 80 miles per hour, threatened the county with a blizzard Friday but fear of serious damage was lifted when northerly winds died down at about midnight.

From .10 to .25 of an inch of moisture was reported in the county. Temperatures ranged from a high of 40 to low of 22.

Traffic east and west of Hereford on Highway 60 was cut off by the Highway Department at about 9 p.m. Friday when officials feared that the storm might reach blizzard proportions. Telephone lines and power failed at scattered areas of the county, but no major trouble was reported Saturday morning.

The cement block wall at the south side of the Hereford swimming pool was flattened to the ground as result of steady howling winds. The whole section of the wall fell during the blinding snowstorm late Friday night.

About 600 customers of the Deaf Smith County Electric Cooperative were without power services for nearly 1 1/2 hours when a 66,000 volt transmission line, serviced by Southwestern Public Service, failed to power two Co-op substations.

Southwestern Public Service officials said the wholesale power to the substations failed when gusty winds slapped tree limbs against cables.

Southwestern Public Service reported that television anten-

Thirsty Cropland Gets Small Drink

A dying dry-land wheat crop drank up about one-fourth of an inch of moisture which fell in Deaf Smith County Friday.

The moisture, which doubled the 24 of an inch of moisture reported previously this year, fell in the form of an ey rains and snow. Wheat farmers this year have restlessly been awaiting some form of moisture for their crops. Many vegetable producers have started planting potatoes and have been preparing their fields for other row crops.

Potato planting started in the county about three weeks ago. Carrot crop planting should begin about April 15 and continue through the end of July.

Most farmers Saturday morning were undetermined as to the effect of the moisture which fell Friday.

The half-inch of moisture this year contrasts with the 4.56 inches of moisture which fell here through March 13 last year. Total through March, 1958, was 5.38 inches.

Wheat farmers having irrigated fields say that the crop so far this year looks "real good." With the exception of a little damage caused by green bugs, the crop is in no danger.

Vegetable producers in the area speculate that the harvest this year will be slightly better than last year, but it is expected that the maize crop will be as large as that of 1958.

Tennis, Baseball Teams Face Palo Duro This Week

Spring sports really get underway this week, as Hereford High baseball and tennis teams face Amarillo squads in tough competition.

The baseball team, trying for its first win of the season, will have its first home game Tuesday against the Palo Duro Dons of Amarillo. The tennis team will be in Amarillo Wednesday for matches with Palo Duro netters.

Coach Jerry Don George is beginning to get away from Amarillo baseball teams. His young squad has lost two contests, both to Amarillo schools, as Amarillo High and Tascosa fattened their averages.

A pair of games was snowed and blown out last weekend. The Herd was to play Plainview on Friday and Borger on Saturday, but weather cancelled out both contests.

Despite the snow, the Hereford High diamond is expected to be ready for use Tuesday. It is being readied near the northwest elementary school, which is under construction.

Hereford netters will be making their first appearance of the year Wednesday, directed by coach Jerry Murphy. On the boys' team are Richard Leggett, Herman Jesko, Richard Jesko, Louis Block, Gary Guseman and Troy Don Moore. Only Leggett is a letterman from the 1958 team.

Included on the girls' team are Patsy Loerwald, Shirley Curtis, Carol Snead, Jan Reese and Barbara Jacobs. Although the track team has nothing on its schedule for the week, coach John Thompson probably will schedule a dual meet Friday or Saturday.

Hereford House Plans Blown To Plainview?

Man, you think that crazy wind didn't blow! Mrs. Josie Chandler, who lives at 508 West 12th in Plainview, stepped out of her house Saturday morning and found a set of building blueprints that belonged in Hereford!

Bob Hillburn of the Plainview News-Herald called, after hearing about the plans, and the Brand discovered they were for a house at 134 Buttram, which is being built by Mike Allen, 404 Star.

Since Allen was out of town Saturday, there was no way to find out how the plans might have gotten to Plainview. So, let's presume the wind carried them 65 miles Friday and deposited them in Mrs. Chandler's front yard.

Anyway, it makes a dandy story to send back to Yankee.

Mrs. Jennings Services Held

Funeral services for Mrs. Maxine Jennings, 61, were held Friday in Rose Chapel of Gilliland Funeral Home with the Rev. H. V. Fields, pastor of the Grace Gospel Church, officiating.

Burial was in West Park Cemetery under direction of Gilliland Funeral Home. Pallbearers were Bill Hawker, C. J. Finley, W. T. Elder, E. B. Miles, Luther White and Grady Morton.

Mrs. Jennings died early Wednesday morning in the home of a sister in Dallas. She had been in Dallas for the past ten weeks in a Dallas hospital.

She was born Feb. 23, 1898, in Woodsprings, Tex., and came to Deaf Smith County in 1927 from Dallas. She was married to Waldo Jennings Dec. 27, 1926, in Dallas.

She is survived by her husband, Waldo of the home at 208 Eleventh in Hereford; a sister, Mrs. U. G. Hardy of Dallas; two aunts, Mrs. Eva Staples of Tyler and Mrs. Lonney Cassels of Amarillo; and an uncle, Mr. Staples of Tyler.

Boy Hurt When Hit By Vehicle

A 10-year-old boy was slightly injured Thursday evening when the bicycle he was riding was struck by a pickup truck at the intersection of Union and Ave. I.

Charles M. Lynch, son of Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Lynch, 213 Ave. J, was treated for a minor laceration in the emergency room of Deaf Smith County Hospital and released shortly after the accident, which happened at about 5 p.m.

Driver of the pickup was John Eugene Turner, 58, 1003 Grand. No ticket was issued to the driver.

The youngster was taken to the hospital by a Hereford police squad car.

Theft Charges Filed On Pair

Formal charges of theft over $50 were filed against two Hereford men by the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department Thursday.

They are Leslie Lee Malena, 29, and Eugene Carlton Hester, 25. Bond for each was set at $1,000 by Justice of the Peace Berry Miles Friday morning.

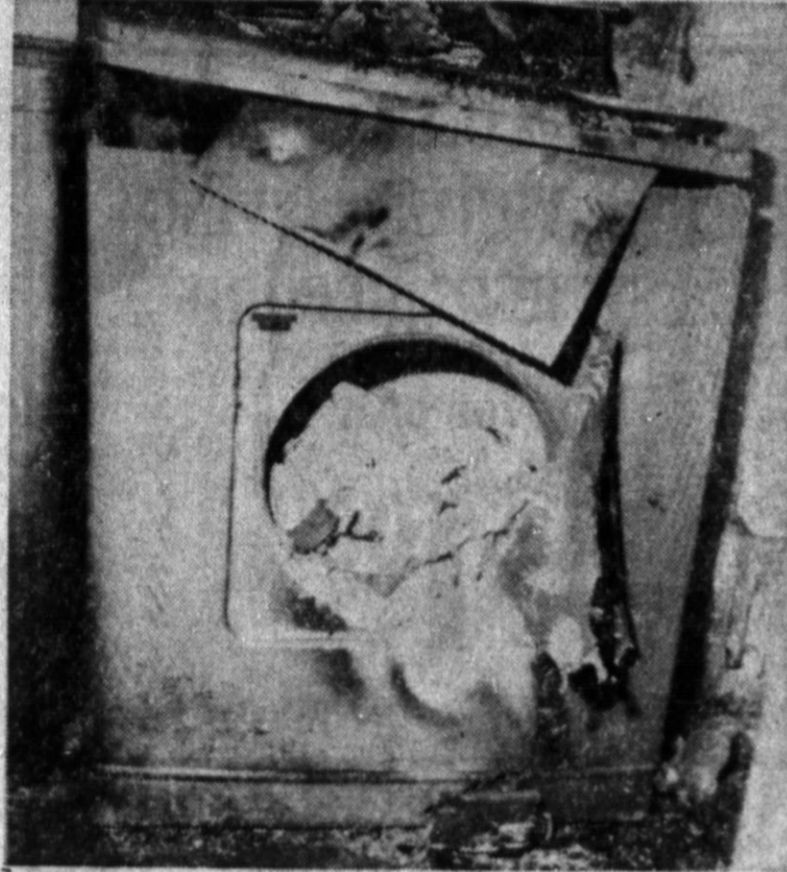

Malena was arrested by the Amarillo Police Department Wednesday afternoon and returned to Hereford by Sheriff Charles Skelton.

Hester was arrested in Hereford Thursday evening by Deputy Sheriff L. R. Cherryhomes. Next session of the 69th District Grand Jury is scheduled to be held April 15.

Court Tuesday

69th District Judge Harry Schultz is scheduled to be in Hereford Tuesday to hear civil cases, according to District Clerk Lucille Posey.

Court will convene at 10 a.m. Schultz did not say whether or not he would hear guilty pleas on criminal cases during the session.

SAVAGELY RIPPED, this electric clothes dryer was pinned to the cause of an explosion and fire Friday evening, during the height of a howling snowstorm. Jesse Barrett, 342 Ave. D, and his family heard an explosion, which blew out a window and tore two doors from their hinges. Also damaged in the utility room blast and blaze were a couch, several chairs, water heater, clothes washer and a freezer. Damage was estimated at $1,500 to $2,000. (Staff Photo)

Around Town

The violent land slapped out at complacent residents Friday, reminding them that only the unexpected is normal in this country. But Spring came right on schedule Saturday and Mother Nature smiled brightly, at least for the moment.

Hereford merchants were told Friday that 35 firms had signed up for the new owner welcoming service and that first calls would be made by Mrs. Nell Culpepper right after Easter.

A fire drill for the Hereford volunteers was cancelled Friday night because of the bad weather, but a fire at 342 Avenue D brought them out anyway. Some days you just can't win.

Lanky Steve Slagle was the only Hereford track team member to get in the finals of the West Texas Relays at Odessa Saturday. He qualified for the high jump finals by clearing 5-6. After jumping against Lewis Qualls in basketball, a leap like that should have been a cinch.

W. A. Campbell Rites Conducted

William A. Campbell, 74, of 608 Grand Ave., died about 10:30 p.m. Wednesday at his home following an illness of about two years.

Funeral services were held Friday in Rose Chapel of Gilliland Funeral Home with Russell Ingalls, minister of the Central Church of Christ, officiating.

Mr. Campbell was born Nov. 2, 1884, in Boone County, Ark., and was married on April 7, 1906, to Tommie Helton in Haskell.

He came to Texas from Arkansas when he was eight years old. He and his wife moved to Deaf Smith County in 1931 from Crosbyton.

Mr. Campbell was a retired farmer and a member of the Church of Christ.

He is survived by his wife of Hereford; three brothers, F. M. of Hereford, S. R. and Oscar, both of Crosbyton; and three sisters, Mrs. Margie Mangum of Plainview, Mrs. Winnie Mitchell of Harlingen and Mrs. Ethel Logan of Hereford.

Burial was in West Park Cemetery under direction of Gilliland Funeral Home with nephews of the deceased serving as pallbearers.

County Spelling Bee March 26

The annual Deaf Smith County Spelling Bee will be held Thursday, March 26, at 2:30 p.m. in Stanton Jr. High School, according to Miss Della Stagner, county director.

Contestants will be from Jr. High, St. Anthony's School and Walcott. Winner from the contest will go to Amarillo April 25 to compete in the District Bee with 44 other counties in the tri-state area.

A Junior Spelling Bee will be held March 25 at Shirley School at 2:30 p.m. with contestants from the fifth and sixth grades from Shirley, Alkman, Dawn, Central, St. Anthony's and Walcott Schools.

Winner of the Junior Bee will be named the County Junior Winner and is entitled to attend the April 26 Bee in Amarillo as a guest.

Miss Stagner stated the public is invited to attend either of the Spelling Bees.

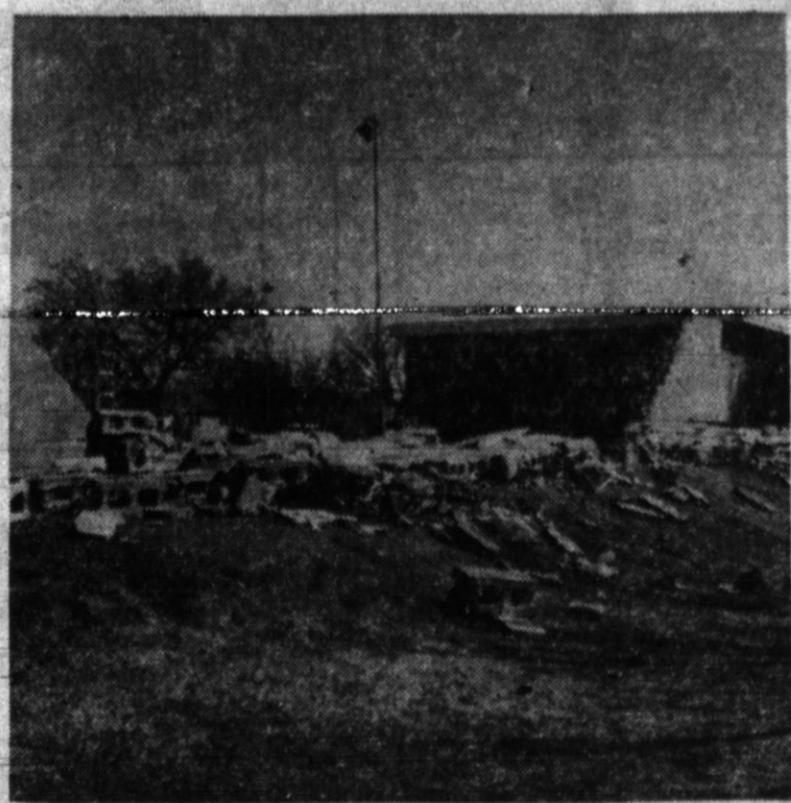

B&PW Slates Fashion Show

The 14th annual fashion Style Show, sponsored by the Business and Professional Women's Club, will be held Monday evening at 7:30 p.m. in the High School auditorium.

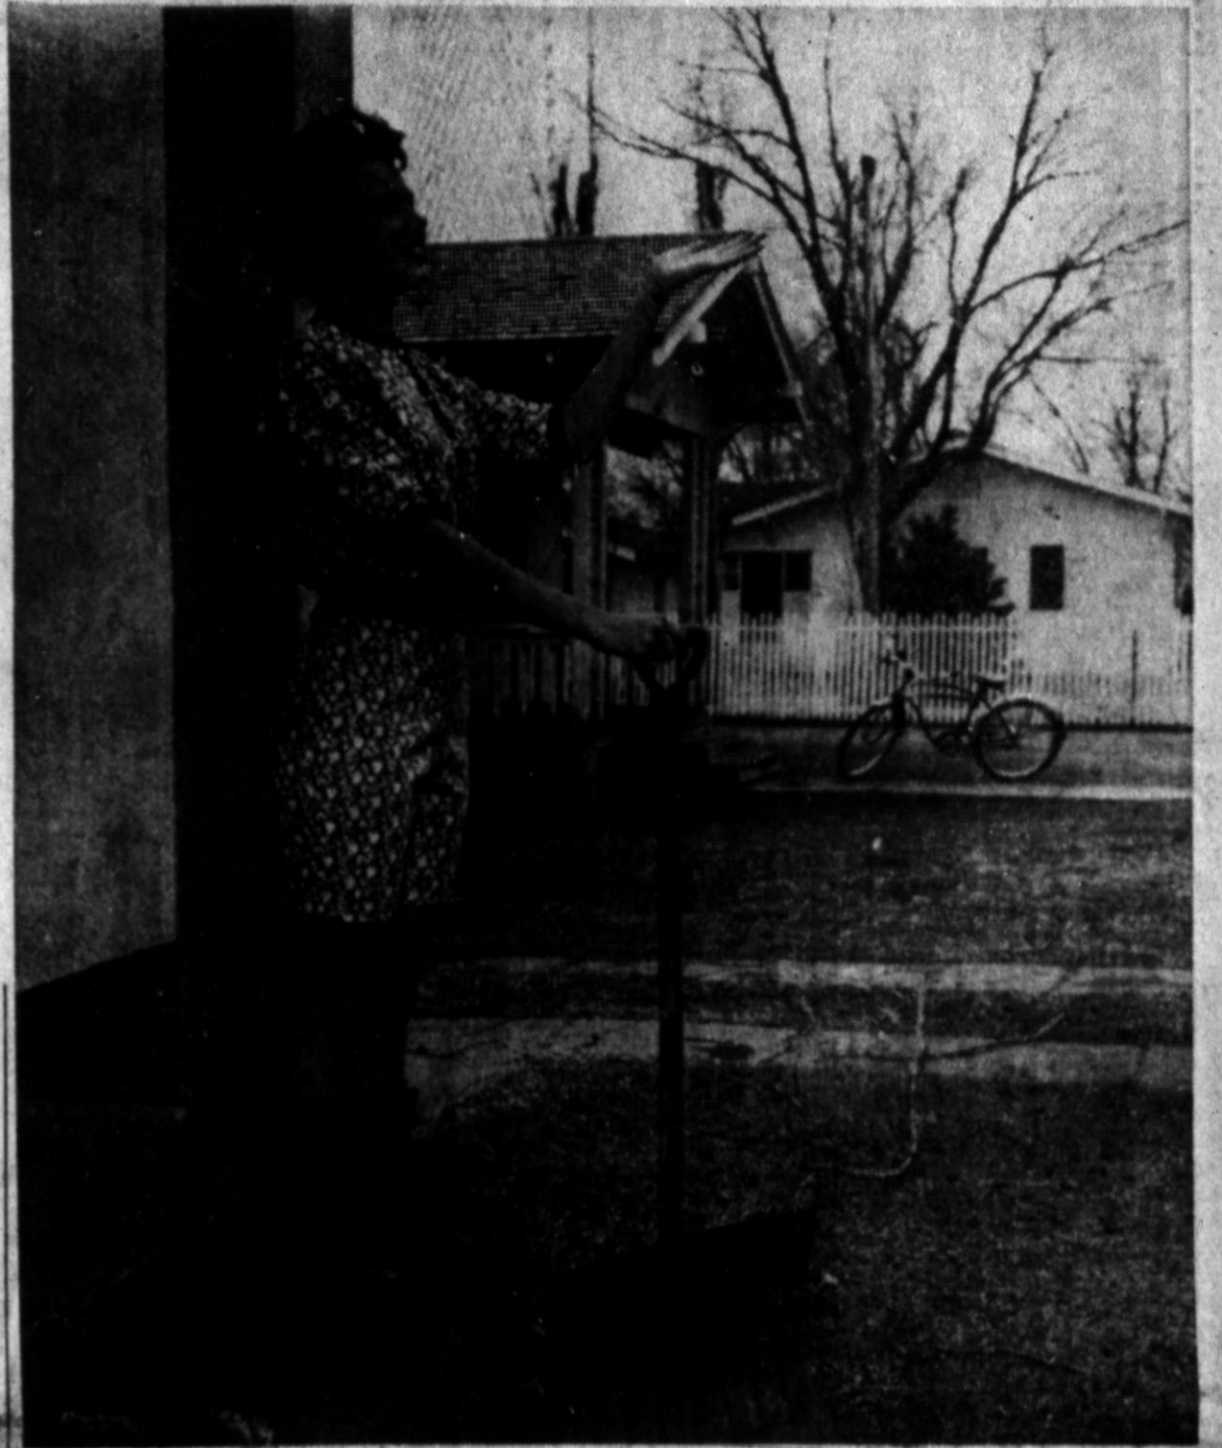

The benefit affair has become a local tradition with proceeds each year going to some worthwhile civic project. This year the proceeds will go to the Community Center project.

Eight Hereford stores will contribute showings of spring and summer costumes for all occasions.

VELOCITY OF WIND during Friday's snowstorm, which fell in the wall of Hereford's swimming pool, was fanned from the force of gusty winds up to 80 miles per hour. The cement block wall at the south side of the pool fell sometime Friday night during the blinding snowstorm which hit Deaf Smith County. Most of the day, velocity of winds was steady at 55 to 60 miles per hour. (Staff Photo)

WELL PREPARED for the arrival of spring Saturday was Janie Bookout, 18-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jim Bookout. Winter ended its reign reluctantly Friday with a combination of rain, snow and high winds that battered the Panhandle. But Spring showed up on time with bright sunshine and mild weather Saturday. But Janie, wise in the ways of local weather, took no chances as she combined a fetching costume, overshoes and snow shovel. (Staff Photo)

TRY TO LOWER COST

Revised Plans For Civic Center Go To Low Bidders

Revised specifications for the proposed Hereford Community Center this week were distributed to Killinsworth Construction Co., of Dimmitt and Doyle Construction Co. of Amarillo, the companies which offered the lowest bids for contract Monday.

Of nine bids opened Monday afternoon, the lowest bid for contract was $131,131 by Killinsworth. That total was more than $30,000 over the $100,000 the Hereford City Commission had hoped the center would cost.

Second low bid was $135,400 by Doyle. High bid was $146,950.

Revisions for the building, City Manager Dudley Bayne said, include changing lighting, wiring, air conditioning, heating and glass specifications.

"We are trying to cut down on the cost of the building without cutting down on the size," Bayne said. Bayne said a meeting with representatives of the companies turning in the lowest bids may be arranged at a special meeting of the commission next week.

Bayne, City Engineer Bill McMorris and company contractors met Thursday to consider what changes might be made to lower cost of construction.

Killinsworth and Doyle companies are now considering what amount could be saved by eliminating some of the glass area of the building and installing evaporative instead of refrigerative air conditioners.

The companies also are considering what changes could be made in the wiring and lighting systems of proposed plans. Revisions also included installation of a lower cost glass in construction.

Mrs. Martha Jane Bourn, 94, Buried Saturday

Funeral services for Mrs. Martha Jane Bourn, 94, of 711 E. 4th St., were held Saturday in the First Baptist Church with the Rev. Howard Scott, pastor and the Rev. Gilbert Davis Jr., pastor of the First Christian Church, officiating.

Mrs. Bourn died at 12:15 p.m. Thursday at her home following several months of illness.

She was born July 1, 1864, in Wise County, and was married Oct. 11, 1883, to John Dudley Bourn. He preceded her in death on April 11, 1912.

The couple moved to Deaf Smith County in February, 1906, from Denton County. She was a member of the First Baptist Church of Hereford.

Survivors include three daughters, Mrs. Essie Cardwell and Miss Mary Bourn, both of Hereford. (Continued on Page 2)

Farm Grain Storage Picks Up After Milo Price Cut

The recent drop in price supports for maize may increase interest in farm storage for grain in Deaf Smith County, Faust Collier, manager of the county Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation Office, predicted this week.

In reference to the possibility of farmers building storage facilities on their own farms, Collier said approximately 159 buildings, with a capacity of 3,084,000 bushels, have been financed with a total of $558,892 in loans by Commodity Credit Association since the program was initiated in 1949. Of the 159 loans made, Collier said, all but 25 have been repaid. Term of loan is five years at the rate of four per cent.

Farm storage facility loans are limited to 80 per cent of total cost of the building. Capacity is determined by average production of the farm.

In considering applications for the program, it is required that the County Committee be furnished credit reports and financial statement, similar to the requirements for commercial loans.

Additional security also is required in the form of a first lien on at least sufficient acreage for a commercial bin site, except on small structures that could be classed as movable.

Reporting on the 1958 Agricultural Conservation Program, Collier said 13 livestock dams had been placed on 12 farms, 12,140 acres on 127 farms benefited from reorganization of irrigation systems and land was levelled on 28 acres of two farms.

Other operations included bindweed control on 107 acres of 45 farms, emergency tillage

Total of funds used, $141,405, represented less than 50 per cent of the average cost required to complete the practices.
"Based on our conservation needs," Collier said, "we were allocated $190,100; therefore, we were short of our goal by dollar measurement of approximately $90,000."
The program does not allow funds to be carried over from one year to another, Collier explained. Any funds not used are returned at the end of the program year.
The Agricultural Conservation Program plans for 1959 include the improvement of vegetative cover on range land by deferred grazing and the construction of dams, pits or ponds for livestock water as a means of protecting vegetative cover.

Initial establishment of permanent sod waterway to dispose of excess water without causing erosion is being planned, as is the construction of terraces to detain or control the flow of water and check soil erosion.
Also planned, Collier said, is the construction of diversion terraces to intercept runoff and divert excess water to protected outlets and reorganization of farm irrigation systems to conserve water and prevent erosion.

To prevent erosion, land will be leveled for more efficient use of irrigation water. Irrigation ditches will be lined to prevent erosion and loss of water by seepage.
The establishment of winter legumes in the fall of 1959 for winter protection from erosion and contour listing, contour chiseling and cross-slope chiseling also is being planned, as is control of bindweed as a necessary step in the control of wind erosion.

The company reported that a tree limb broke a wire at Union and Ave. B Friday afternoon but the line was repaired about an hour after the cable fell.

Frank Farmer of Southwestern Bell Telephone Service said only a few lines were damaged in Hereford. About six phones were out of order from six to eight hours, but other service failures were "spotted" and temporary, he said.

George Stambaugh, coordinator of West Texas Telephone Cooperative, said 10 spools of telephone cable pulled loose from poles, putting about 100 phones out of commission near Dawn. The circuits were being repaired Saturday morning.

The Hereford Volunteer Fire Department answered a call at the home of Jesse Barrett, 242 Ave. D, during the storm at about 7:30 p.m. The fire resulted from the explosion of an electric clothes dryer in the utility room of the home.

FBI Chief Hoover Urges Fight Against Hot Checks

J. Edgar Hoover, director of the FBI, has called for the united efforts of merchants, the public and law enforcement officials in an intensified counter-attack against fraudulent check passers. In a recent law to law enforcement officials, Hoover revealed that the annual loss due to fraudulent checks amounts to a staggering $335 million.

"Based upon available data and police experience," Mr. Hoover stated, "employment in the criminal occupation of 'bad check passing' is at a new high level, with no recession in sight."

Bill Thompson, Manager of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, commended the noted FBI chief for spearheading an attack against check swindlers, a constant source of loss to local merchants. Thompson urged all business and professional people and all citizens in this area to cooperate in this effort by exercising greater care in cashing checks for strangers without adequate identification.

The text of J. Edgar Hoover's letter to law enforcement officials on the fraudulent check problem follows:

"The plague of fraudulent check passers who day to day amass a fortune in illegal profits from American business and citizens is assuming proportions of a national pestilence. Based on available data and police experience, employment in the criminal occupation of 'bad check passing' is at a new high level, with no recession in sight. Continued financial success for this type of criminal — considered the elite in the crime world — can only enlarge the problem and further victimize the public.

"A survey of law enforcement agencies by an American industrial firm in 1957 reflected that the annual loss due to fraudulent checks amounted to $535 million. In the fiscal year of 1957 there were 30,903 bad checks having a face value of $5,053,846 submitted to the FBI Laboratory for examination. Our services in this field mounted in the fiscal year of 1958 when 33,027 fraudulent checks totaling $7,933,827 were examined. Recently, a police official asserted that the estimated annual loss from worthless checks in his State was $20 million. Even these stark statistics reveal only a partial view of the enormity of the problem, as there is no way to tabulate the countless worthless checks which go unreported by indifferent individuals.

"In the battle against fraudulent check passing, the 'victim' represents the principal hope for success. The bad check passer does not have to contend with the danger of physical violence confronting the armed robber. His major obstacle lies in alertness and good judgment on the part of his 'victim.' Although these unscrupulous criminals rely on skill and cunning, a fundamental factor in their prosperity is the carelessness of shopkeepers and business concern employees in requiring adequate identification. Numerous recorded instances of checks cashed, such as one signed 'U. R. Stuck' and one drawn on the 'East Bank of the Mississippi,' serve to illustrate the extent of this negligence.

"In addition, there is certainly a need to re-examine the all too prevalent theory that acceptance of checks without demanding sufficient identification is a necessary business gamble. A nationwide chain-store organization recently estimated that it loses nearly $700,000 a year on bad checks, a loss amounting to the profit of $25 million worth of sales. Another frequent advantage enjoyed by the bad check passer is the reluctance of many merchants and other victims to prosecute the known offender. If restitution is made. This common practice is nothing but a form of license to steal for the violator with no fear of penalty.

"In many localities, business and civic groups have joined with law enforcement in countermeasures against the bad check passer. The organization of bogus check squads in local police agencies, the establishment of telephone warning nets systems in local communities, the use of crime laboratory facilities and the utilization of hidden cameras and other scientific techniques are commendable efforts.

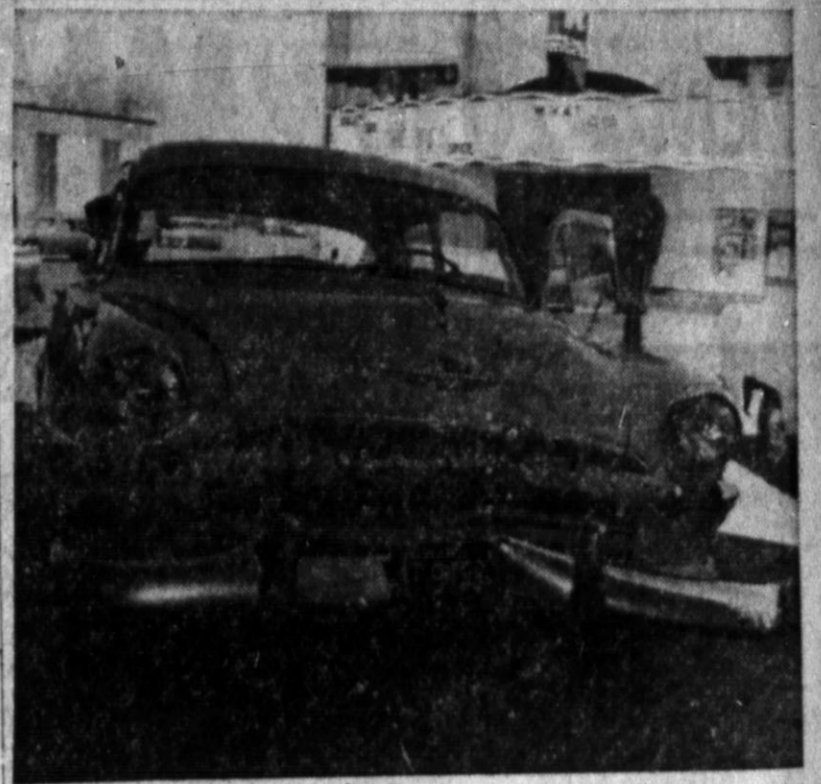

"To cope with the far-ranging activities of this class of criminals, however, the counter-attack must be intensified on a nationwide scale. Carelessness of the victims themselves — which keeps bad check passers in business — must be a primary target. The united efforts of merchants, the public, and law enforcement authorities are essential. Only when the work becomes difficult, the profits small, and the risks great will the nefarious trade of worthless check passing cease to flourish."

BUT IT STILL HURTS
CORONADO, Calif. (AP) — Retired Marine Corps Maj. Gen. Walter G. Farrell testified he was bitten by a Chinese poodle. He had sued retired navy Capt. Theodore J. Schultz, the poodle's owner, for $100,000 damages. Schultz' attorney contended Farrell was bitten by his own Labrador retriever while separating the fighting dogs. The jury denied any damages.

A PARASOL IS A GIRL'S BEST FRIEND—So says glamorous Marilyn Monroe, who always has one with her when she goes out on location during the filming of a movie. Marilyn says getting sunburned is not her idea of fun—or beauty. When there isn't an umbrella handy, Marilyn uses a big hat.

Marilyn Monroe Top Sun-Dodger

By VIVIAN BROWN "Grandmother's greatest beauty secret was the parasol," claims Marilyn Monroe. So run, don't walk, to the nearest attic for a sunshade, girls. Women spend endless time and money courting the very thing that grandma considered harmful to her beauty, says glamorous Marilyn, who believes: "Getting in the sun is bad for a woman. It adds 15 years to her face in no time at all, and creams cannot repair the damage."

Marilyn practices what she preaches. Some recent brilliantly sunny days in Southern California had to be spent on the set of "Some Like It Hot." But she didn't. So every time a scene was finished Marilyn dashed off to a small pup tent set conveniently a few feet from the scene's action. Crowds watching her performance were curious as to why Marilyn didn't race instead to the portable dressing rooms on the set. But the fair-skinned Marilyn wouldn't risk that small brush with old Mr. Sun. Marilyn hid her pale jowliness under a big black umbrella when she was on the set.

"There's good reason for doctors to classify sunburns as first, second and third degree burns. That's what a sunburn is — a burn and not a tan. You burn your skin in the process of acquiring that healthy tan," she says.

Her ambition is to grow old gracefully. She says: "I'm 32 and proud of it. You can't do anything about growing older, so don't fight it. At the same time don't add the ravages of years to your face in the mistaken notion that it is healthful. You might think you look healthy with a tan while it lasts, but is it worth it? Even a deep tan lasts only a couple of weeks. But the damage done to your skin may last a lifetime."

Marilyn has the pale, pink, translucent skin that mothers love in babies. She uses creams to remove makeup, creams to lubricate her skin around the eyes and mouth and creams for facial massage. But no cream or lotion can replace the natural oils lost, burnt out of the skin by the sun, she believes.

Her starring role in the movie with Tony Curtis and Jack Lemmon is a semi-dumb jazz era dance band singer, and Miss Monroe has been pretty good about showing up for work on time, unusual for her, according to film director Billy Wilder. "I don't mind waiting for Marilyn, though," Wilder says. "Hollywood is full of fine actresses who show up on time every morning and know their lines perfectly, but Marilyn's name on a marquee is box-office magic."

NO SUNTAN FOR M. M.—Marilyn Monroe, emerges briefly from pup tent during filming of "Some Like It Hot." She likes it cool.

Her ambition is to grow old gracefully. She says: "I'm 32 and proud of it. You can't do anything about growing older, so don't fight it. Dry Spell Comes To Abrupt End

IT'S: HER POINT OF VIEW

By BETTY BARIONE
 Cousin Winnie,
 I was beginning to think that it's never been out of the rain. Sister Marthy loaned me the entire six months of it. Never, until today, it's Yes, Winnie, we finally a little moisture. If the rain could decide to turn into something really worthy, I expect it'll be dancing in the streets this weekend. Folks here have been blue over the long dry spell.

And the month of March has certainly behaved in the reverse manner came in like a lamb and appears to be going out like a lion. But there are seven more days before April is with us and anything can happen 'tween now and then.

This month we've had more of weather than Bradley with his bird prints! I couldn't be at all surprised to find a ground covered with snow before the end of March. And badly as we need the moisture, I doubt that very many herefordites would mind snow even if it meant wearing hats and McIntoshes to church on Easter Sunday.

Well Winnie, Monday is the night for the gala B&PW style show I've told ya about. I just imagine that, as usual, the array of finery will be "dook-worthy".

Am sure hoping the show will be well-attended. For one thing, the B&PW gals deserve it — they always work so doggone hard to make the event sompnuous as fashion previews go.
 For another thing, the proceeds from this year's show are earmarked for the Hereford Community Center and it could survival a shot in the arm to the fund campaign for the Center (said campaign, being kinda sick, would doubtless benefit from a shot in the arm or anywhere else).

General chairman for Monday's "Symphony of Fashions" is Evaline Potter, with Hilda Havens next in charge. You can bet these two working gals have used their "coffee breaks" and lunch periods plus many evening hours in preparation for this style presentation.

From clothes to more clothes, this might be an appropriate time to talk a little bit about Elizabeth Witherspoon. Hereford's best-dressed woman according to readers of my column who took the time to answer my plea for votes.

As you know, Winnie, Elizabeth and husband Jim have just recently returned from a wonderful honeymoon trip to New Orleans and the Carribean. Elizabeth loves to travel and she who seems to have a special talent for choosing those "just right" articles when she packs for trips. Furthermore, "living out of a suitcase" doesn't appear to present any problems at all to her.

Manager of her own insurance and abstract companies, Elizabeth has an enviable knack for planning an active schedule of business and social affairs, and she is known to appear well-dressed wherever she goes and whatever the occasion. One of the people who voted for her made this remark: "Elizabeth looks well-groomed whether she is at the office, the bowling lanes, or attending a formal affair."

Favoring the more tailored styles in her clothing, Elizabeth chooses designs which are soft-feminine and distinctly active in cut and style. For the most part her wardrobe is composed of basic pieces which can "dress up or down".

but she also has carefully-chosen garments which are distinctly dressy or distinctly casual.

When selecting her clothing and accessories, she buys with an eye toward practical wearability as well as the current fashion trends. And when it comes to dressing appropriately, Elizabeth obviously knows the secret: Her neat and becoming hair-do's, and her peaches and cream complexion were also mentioned by voters — these, of course, greatly enhance anyone's appearance and here again Elizabeth evidently knows the secret.

Completing the well-dressed picture, is the pleasant facial expression Elizabeth always wears. This is a trick most of us forget sometimes, and it is real important because "the look on your face is always noticed before the look of your clothes" — the otherwise pleasant effect you have strived for in your appearance can be completely ruined if you never wear a smile. Don't you agree, Winnie?

While I've been writing dearie, the wind has blown snow, rain and dirt and it is really quite dreadful out.
 We'll have to bundle up like Eskimos, but we're not gonna miss the high school production of "Carousel".

Oh, one more thing before I close. Isn't it wonderful about Jim and Winona White expecting a little bundle in October?
 (and hey nony-nony to the gals of the Thursday morning bridge sessions). Hope you are fine and dandy, Cousin.

Love,
 Betty

Summerfield Study Club met Thursday in the home of Mrs. J. R. Euler, with Mrs. K. W. Neill as co-hostess.

Mrs. K. W. Neill was program leader, giving a discussion of "Latin America Growing Pains." She said, in part, "The countries of South America absorb about 23 per cent of American exports, and account for 29 per cent of our imports. Latin America is the storehouse of oil and minerals in increasing importance to the U. S. To American business, no land is more seductive, except Canada, where U. S. firms operate about like they do at home."

Mrs. R. B. Baker reviewed the book South America by V. S. Pritchett. "The author tells the story of his travels which took him from Panama down the Pacific coast of the continent," she said, "over the Andes into Argentine and up through Buenos Aires, Montevideo and into Rio De Janeiro and the coastal towns of old Portuguese Brazil to the Amazon. In the months that he was there, he flew over ten thousand miles, saw men and women at their most primitive and most civilized, crossed from sea to sea and from mountain to jungles."

Black Widow Misconceptions Are Cleared Up By Texas Biologist

DALLAS, (AP)—A prominent Texas biologist has come up with some interesting facts about the feared black widow spider.

First of all, he says bites of the dreaded spider aren't as deadly as people have been led to believe.

And further, according to Dr. Elmer P. Cheatum, chairman of the biology department at Southern Methodist University, the black widow spider is not as numerous in this area as it was 10 years ago.

Dr. Cheatum says records show comparatively few deaths as the direct result of the black widow spider's bite. He said only 17 lost their lives from 380 reported cases in the United States within the last 15 to 20 years.

"Death usually is caused by the failure of the victims' respiratory or circulatory system," Dr. Cheatum said. The biologist added that an anti-toxin given shortly after the victim had been pierced enhances the patient's chances of recovery.

Patterns brought out by clinical reports, explained Dr. Cheatum, show the symptoms of black widow bites are similar to those of an attack of acute appendicitis.

"Ordinarily, the patient will become dizzy, weak, thirsty and nauseated, and show symptoms of shock," Dr. Cheatum said.

The biologist says most black widow spiders usually found in the back yard are the male and immature female — not the feared adult female.

How can you distinguish one from another? "Take a stick, turn the spider over and see for yourself," Dr. Cheatum says. Both the male and adult female are coal black and each has an hour glass marking underneath. There the similarity ends.

The hour glass on the male is either pink or cream color while the adult female's is a reddish or orange color. Additionally, the male is only about one-half the size of the female, which is about a half-inch in length. The immature female has the same color markings as the male spider.

Long Time Ago

45 Years Ago

One of the highest winds in the memory of old timers visited Hereford Wednesday evening and night. It "struck" town about 5:30, bringing with it a cloud of dust and sand that made it quite dark. While no serious damage was done, the housekeepers are complaining about the unwelcome guest of dust. We suppose this must be the equinoctial storm; is so, were on the tail end of the "whip-crack," judging from the way the loose things were flung around. The wind velocity has been variously estimated at from 50 to 70 miles per hour. The Amarillo weather station reports 65 miles per hour as the highest.

Spring football practice for the 1934 Whiteface team of Hereford High will begin Monday at Whiteface Field, announces Coach Tommy McCollum. Only line candidates will be worked out during the opening week and probably for two weeks, McCollum said.

From the line the team will lose four men, Walter Seed, end; H. D. Blythe and Pots Baker, guards, and George Smith, center. G. B. Hagar and R. A. Daniel, tackles; Wilbur Womble, end, and J. D. Clayton, converted fullback, now playing at end, will form the nucleus of the new forward wall. A number of good prospects will report, the coach believes.

MR. COTTON FARMER

May we recommend The Wet Acid Process as the process to be used in chemically delinting your grain seed? — Here's Why —

1. Seed stays in contact with the acid for a period of 30 seconds or less.
2. Water is used as a neutralizer.
3. Does not eat the bags.
4. Wet and green seed can be safely delinted.
5. Seed can be safely stored and used for a period of several years.
6. Does a more thorough job on angular leaf spot and other seed borne diseases.
7. Heat is used only to dry the seed after the acid has been washed off.
8. Planting 12 lbs. per acre the cost is less than 10c per acre more using wet acid.
9. More uniform planting.
10. More even stand.
11. Quicker emergence.
12. Plant faster.
13. Get bigger yields.
14. Gravity table floats out weak seeds.
15. Treating prevents seed rotting even in cold, damp weather.
16. No sticks, stems or lint to clog the planter.
17. In warm soil seed will sprout in 12 hours—a stand in 5 days.
18. Less moisture required for germination.
19. For only 1 lb. of lint cotton per acre you can have your seed chemically delinted using the safe WET ACID PROCESS.

REMEMBER WHEN?

By Charlie Seeds

INVASION! D-DAY! This was the day for which the world had been waiting tensely. The time and place had been the most carefully guarded secret of World War II. Now it was here.

That gray morning 4000 ships and 11,000 planes combined to launch the greatest air-and-sea invasion in the history of the world, as Allied troops stormed up the Normandy beaches and drove inland into the Cherbourg peninsula.

There was no other news that day that counted.

The entire free world echoed the message sent by Gen. Eisenhower, Supreme Commander of the Allied Expeditionary Force, to his troops: "You are about to embark on a great crusade. The eyes of the world are upon you and the hopes and prayers of all liberty-loving peoples go with you. . . . We will accept nothing less than full victory. Remember the year? War years. . . and those at home bobbled along in their old cars, coaxing every mile they could out of them. Drivers came to appreciate economy in those years. . . the car that stood up under years of use and gave them economical service. . . the car that didn't gulp gas. The year was 1944.

Economy in driving is just another reason for buying a new 1959 FORD. . . the car that's engineered to go further on a tank of gas, the car that stands up under highway punishment, the car that keeps its value when trade-in time comes! By JIMMIE GILLENTE
Chairmen of the proposed Community Center are probably sharpening their pencils to do some systematic cutting. The low bid, $131,131, came as a shock to everyone concerned, including the Architects. With the contributions goal still some $8,000 short of the $100,000 estimate, it hardly seems practical to up the ante, which leaves some deletions as the logical conclusion.

In addition, the situation dramatically points out that building costs are still on the upgrade. Furthermore, it is a fairly safe bet that they will continue to increase during the next 24 months, perhaps even longer.

Thanks to the Hereford Medical Society, composed in part of doctor's wives, for a box of delicious cookies and candy. Along with the package came a nice little note thanking The Brand for assistance in their Christmas Card Project. Personally, I wouldn't want to be a doctor, but I would much rather be a doctor than a doctor's wife. The preacher's wife, no doubt, has her problems, but the successful wife of a doctor has possibly even more. In the first place, she must be the world's champion psychologist, along with her numerous other duties. Come to think of it, I don't believe I ever knew a doctor's wife I did not like. They really are thoughtful people.

Meanwhile golf is making great strides in its attraction as a game. I notice where they are coming out with a new putter which has a built-in spirit level for use on rough or sloping greens. I got quite interested in golf when they came out with those little electric automobiles you can ride between holes. Having already eliminated the exercise feature, they will probably come out with an atomic robot driver soon, where you can adjust for wind allowance and be on the green in one shot. The engineers, of course, will have some advantage, but who cares? Sooner, or later, instead of going around the course, they will install a full 18-hole push button game where you will never have to leave the club house — and that's the day I am going to take up golf.

A sort of legalize pinball machine, as it were. No caddies to worry about, no lost balls. Golf will be cheaper, too, because no showers will be necessary, since everything will be operated from a chair in the club house.

The Rotary Club sponsored a meeting Friday to discuss a volunteer organization for study of alcoholism, which was cited as the nation's third major public health hazard. It was brought out by those attending that 250 arrests in Hereford each year can be traced to alcoholism, along with 75 per cent of the cases appearing on Deaf Smith County public welfare rolls. The group would have no affiliation with AA, except to refer cases.

Elmer Gollehon was a visitor in Hereford this week, and tells Joe Hodges is the champion pancake ticket seller in the Lions Club. He moved 157 tickets, and said he would have done a lot better if Wayne Edwards had not encroached on his territory: Slim Wester was second with 97. A total of 1,414 tickets were reported sold to the tune of $707, which left the club a net profit of $563.43.

Do the people of Texas want a sales tax? This question you may have to answer sooner than you think as Texas officials scrape the bottom of the barrel for more money. A merchant Friday morning passed out petitions at the Merchant's meeting, pointing out that people who oppose a state sales tax should get on the ball — otherwise, it will be with us sooner than we realize. When you consider the number of people who pay no state taxes, it has merit. However, most opponents say that the lawmakers would "just spent that much more" — resulting in no improvement over the present system. Anyway, it is something to be thinking about, and many super markets are already somewhat worried, since they would be hardest hit.

Somewhere in Hereford there is a shoe salesman par excellence, Jack Allman showed up the other day with a pair of red suede shoes, and along comes Dan Mudd with a pair of blue. If someone gets a white pair, things will be really patriotic around The Brand office.

I did my best to convince her that someone had gotten an old

The snow wasn't supposed to come this early, anyway. I was figuring on predicting it for this coming week. Therefore, so far as I am concerned, it just didn't happen.

And speaking of weather predictions, I was reading about two scientists, working in a huge observatory and surrounded with tons of delicate instruments. One was looking through a huge telescope, when he shouted: "Hey, it's gonna rain!" "How can you tell?" asked the other, crowding in closer for a peep. "Because my corns hurt," answered the observer.

Church Music Studied At Dawn Musette Meet

Church Music was the theme of the program presented at the Dawn Musette meeting Tuesday afternoon. The meeting was held with Mrs. Ray Polan, with Mrs. C. C. Stewart serving as co-hostess.

"Church Music should be enthusiastic," stated Mrs. Dee Buttrell in a discussion of the subject. She pointed out that good church music helps the worship program and suggested that people should use their talents, time and energy as a part of their religious service.

Mrs. Orval Galley told of famous hymn writers, describing the first chants and the Latin hymns. She told how Martin Luther restored the lost art of congregational singing and discussed other hymn writers, Charles Wesley, Isaac Watts, and Fanny Crosby.

Musical selections included "Higher Ground", a piano number by Linda Tooley; "What A Friend We Have in Jesus", sung by the group; "Jesus Loves Me," sung by Janice Galley; "I Gave My Life For Thee", played by Linda Stewart; "He Lives", sung by Jon David Miller, Robert Caraway and Robert Galley; and vocal solos "Where You There", by Mrs. J. B. Caraway and "The Holy City" by Mrs. Robert Galley. Group singing of hymns completed the program.

Gail Miller presided over a business session, when plans were made for a recital on April 5, and April 17 was set as a tentative date for the stunt night program to be sponsored by the group. Gary and Phyllis Richardson were welcomed as new members.

Others present were Wainie Beavers, Alva Dee Buttrill, Laura Ann Caraway, Ann Gentry, Laura Higgins, Lucy Beth Miller, Glenn Polan, Buddie Stewart, Mrs. L. W. Tooley and Mrs. Carl Wimberley.

'Under Cover Story' Is Topic Of Demonstration

Mrs. Tom Draper, county home demonstration agent, presented a demonstration entitled "The Under Cover Story" to the Cultural Home Demonstration Club Tuesday in the home of Mrs. J. T. Richardson.

"Shopping for foundations before buying ready-to-wear is a wise practice to follow," said Mrs. Draper. "The woman who first selects a dress or suit, intending to invest later in new foundation garments, may find her measurements slightly different, the fit wrong and the dress less stylish in appearance."

"It saves both time and trouble to have foundations fitted first," she added.

Mrs. Earl DeHart, president, called the meeting to order with Mrs. Edgar Telchick acting as secretary.

During the business session

Modern Trends In The Home Is Presented At Study Club Meet

Mrs. Joe Lyons was hostess for L'Allegria Study Club in the home of her mother, Mrs. Evaline Potter, Thursday afternoon.

Mrs. Gilbert Davis was in charge of the program, presenting a guest speaker, Mrs. Carl Johnson, who spoke on "Trends in Modern Home Design". She suggested that the home should be planned with all members of the family in mind — the husband and his occupation, the age of the children and older members, if any in the home, bearing in mind the size of the family budget at all times.

She said, "Good decorating is not just a question of period only so much, as it is a question of one spirit only."

During the business session, plans were made for the annual guest day tea which will be held on April 2 at the home of Mrs. V. O. Hennen. Guests will be members of the mother club, the Lone Star Study Club.

Those in attendance were Mesdames Hilton Higgins, J. D. Pittman, Charlie Seeds, Fred Cunningham, Walter London Jr., James Higgins, Bill Dameron, Terry Kirby, Stanley Slagle, Gilbert Davis and the hostess, Mrs. Charles Skelton was welcomed as a new member.

B&PW Style Show Will Sound High Fashion Note

Benefit Affair Set For Monday

CHECKER GAME—The fashion world presents a real game of checkers this spring. Judy Bradley models a black and white check silk organdy in a bold design from The Vogue. The oversize bow at the neck falls below the waistline over a very full skirt. She carries a black patent bag and wears white stretch gloves. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Bradley.

SPRING FAVORITE—Mrs. Bill Hampton typifies a young matron dressed for Easter Sunday. She is shown modeling a two-piece dress in favored navy silk linen from Little's. The very slim skirt is topped with a belted blouse having a straight boxy back, and matching pleated jabot tucked under the soft round collar. She wears a matching cloche, white shortie gloves and carries a white corde bag. Bracelet and earrings are of blue and brown stones.

With the rustle of silk, the whispering of chiffon, organdies and imported linens and cottons, models of the Business and Professional Women's Club's Style Show will sound a grace note of high fashion.

The 14th annual fashion event will be staged again Monday evening, March 23, at 7:30 p.m. in the High School auditorium. The benefit affair has become a local tradition with proceeds each year going to some worthwhile civic project. This year the proceeds will go to the Community Center project.

Eight Hereford stores, many models and much behind the scenes work on the show combine to make this Hereford's outstanding fashion event.

"Symphony of Fashions" is the theme of the presentation. Spring and summer costumes for all occasions will be featured, as well as beautiful hats, gloves, bags and shoes. Each ensemble will speak for itself in tones of harmonious high fashion as obviously right as Spring-time itself.

Mrs. A. Petersen is president of the club, while Mrs. Evaloe Potter is general chairman of the show with Miss Hilda Haven serving as co-chairman. Every member of the club is working with one of the committees to make the show a success.

Decorations in keeping with the theme of the show will mark the stage setting. Multicolored spring flowers, symbolizing a symphony of color, will provide a background frame for the colorful parade.

Mrs. J. T. Sims will provide appropriate music during the show.

Tickets may be obtained from any member of the club, at the Hereford Brand or at the door Monday evening.

SPRING BONNET—Pretty little Kathy Brown wears a black and white gingham torso dress from Helen's Youth Shop. Trimmed in Venetian lace at neckline and on bodice, the very full skirt has a net petticoat. The matching Easter bonnet has red velvet ribbon on it, and she carries lace trimmed bag and gloves. She is the daughter of G. D. Brown and the granddaughter of Mr. and Mrs. O. C. Brown.

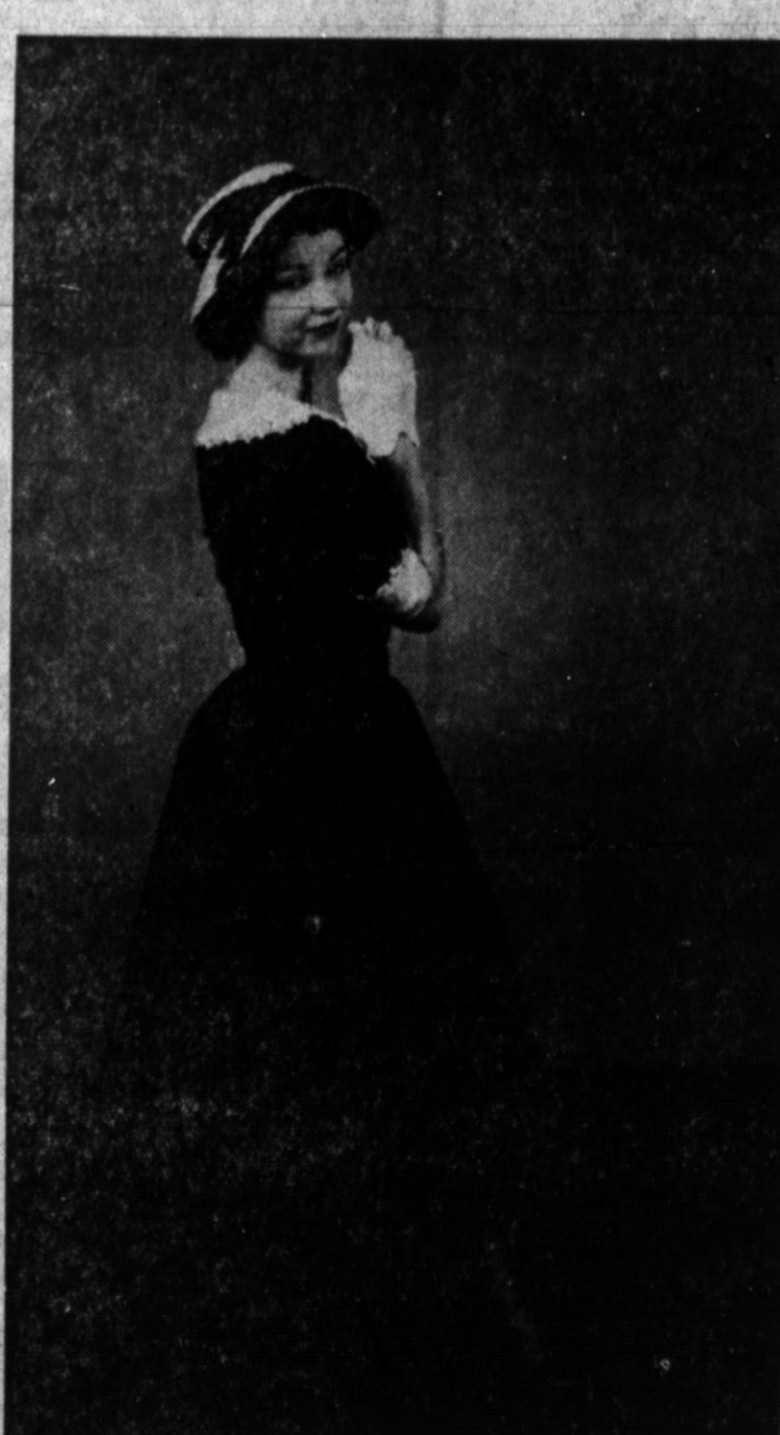

SUMMERTIME—Rita Latham, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. M. R. Latham, models a black Lastex swim suit from the beach wear department of The Popular Store. The suit features an all-over sequin trim in scroll design, and is fashioned with a boned-bra so that it may be worn with or without straps.

FAIR LADY—Mrs. S. A. Fangman, modeling for Harman's, wears a picture hat of straw and flowers in the new cantaloupe shade to give contrasting accent to a navy suit. The 100 per cent wool crepe suit has a pert belted peplum in front with blouson back making it an easy style to wear. Shoes and bag are in black patent and the gloves and scarf match the lovely cantaloupe colors in the hat.

SPRING SONG—Bonnie Sparkman presents a lovely picture in brown and beige striped cotton from C. R. Anthony Company. The big sailor collar fastens with a smart tie in front and the long torso complements the full pleated skirt. She wears a brown linen hat with beige shoes, bag and gloves. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Sparkman Jr.

EASTER PARADE—Joni Lee Blocker joins the Easter Parade for Rutherford's wearing a full skirted Easter church dress of navy silk shantung. The white portrait collar and matching cuffs are edged in dainty lace. Her white straw hat has a bandeau and a band and bow of black velvet ribbon and she wears white knit gloves. Her shoes are black patent. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Blocker.

DESPITE TV

School Teacher Here To Stay

Tax payers who dream of cutting expenses through TV classes may as well start thinking up a new angle, according to an unofficial report made recently by Supt. Fred Cunningham before a meeting of trustees and former trustees of the Hereford district.

Touching briefly on the subject, Cunningham said that extensive tests have been made in Texas, including one at Snyder. Teaching methods, according to the superintendent, are acceptable, but they fail to eliminate qualified teaching personnel. Since just as many qualified teachers are required as through conventional teaching methods, TV falls short on cutting expenses, or in helping overcome the serious teacher shortage in the Southwest.

College and advanced classwork, including the science and English classes now conducted at early morning hours over Amarillo stations, he reported as being far more successful. The situation was attributed to advanced adulthood and interest of the students. These courses were also cited as bringing knowledge to thousands of interested citizens, many of whom do not care or expect to receive college credits on the courses.

Unlike the assembly line worker, it will be a long time before the school teacher can be replaced by automation. Such, at least, appears to be the thinking of our educational department and those of other states. TV, on the other hand, they accept as a supplemental aid, along with moving pictures, slide projectors and other visual aids methods.

While improvements and developments may alter the present outlook, it seems that TV is destined to increase—rather than lower—the cost of public education. Measured in terms of results, however, it can also improve the quality enormously, and will probably do just that in years to come.

Meanwhile, additional clinical tests will probably be conducted. Open minded school administrators definitely admit that TV can be a powerful educational instrument. Evidence of this fact is noted most emphatically among first grade students who, after listening in recent years to TV, far outrank their earlier counterparts in pre-school knowledge, thinking ability and general interest.

Auto Sticker Time Is Near

Vehicle sticker time is with us again as the deadline, April 15, draws near.

The operator's sticker, based on minimum mechanical qualities of automobiles driven on public highways, was instituted after accident statistics pointed the finger toward faulty lights, brakes, horns and mirror devices as resulting in a large number of wrecks, including numerous fatalities.

Protection for your own car and its occupants figure just as greatly in the program as does the protection of cars with which you might collide.

Lack of the stickers can also prove expensive, as many people discovered in 1957 and 1958, when fines of $16.50 to $215.50 were assessed. In addition, the operator was still required to purchase and display the sticker.

Failure to get stickers is a case of "everything to lose and nothing to gain." The quicker you apply, the shorter the time you will have to wait—and well over 50 per cent of the stickers in this area still remain to be secured.

Firm Stand On Berlin Crisis

Possibly the most universally approved action by President Eisenhower since he took office was that of his unquestionably firm stand against patronage to Russia in connection with the Berlin crisis.

All over the world, in fact, there seems to be just no place where the stand was not approved and endorsed; that place, of course, is on the Russian home front. Meanwhile the stand has been lauded by England, France and Germany, along with thousands of telephone calls and letters which are pouring into the White House.

Even before World War II, Americans predicted that a war with Russia was inevitable. Since that time, a policy of pacifism has been followed, it seems, to no avail.

No American—especially those who saw action in World War II or their parents—wants war! In addition, there seems little doubt but that Russia will back down, chiefly because they are not in a position to profit by an all-out atomic war. Russia's stated intention, instead, has been that of taking the United States from within which, as they point out, will place them in a position to better use our plants, factories, and our people.

Therefore, with both sides averse to conflict at this time, it seems logical that a compromise settlement will likely result—and the firmer the American stand, the better our position.

At the same time, it is well to remember that international relations is a fast game, played always for keeps. A wrong move, and the world could be plunged into atomic chaos, even possible annihilation of human kind.

Even this, bad as it is, many Americans regard as being above a life of slavery to Communist dictators and, apparently, people in other parts of the free world have the same feeling.

This Amazing Loan Business

One of the most amazing business categories in the history of Deaf Smith County is that of small loans.

Approximately four years ago, with only one agency in the small loan business, the total ranged from $500,000 to $750,000. Since that time both banks have entered the small loan business, and the total today would probably run above $2 million. Even the original agency has shown a sizeable increase.

The situation, though partly due to competition, can be traced chiefly to the offering of services which were not previously offered in the community. Car loans, advances on household items and scores of other commodities which formerly went out of town, are now being handled in Hereford. Everyone, it seems, is happy over the situation. Loan agencies are operating at a profit, while borrowers find it cheaper and more practical to secure their loans at home.

This same yardstick can, no doubt, be applied to many other types of business. By meeting competition or, better still, by setting the pace, many firm owners who now complain about business leaving town might well take a personal inventory and find out "why."

There are always a few people who can't stand the thought of spending their money with their friends. Generally, though, the local merchant is rewarded on a basis of quality, price and service. In support of this fact are hundreds of successful, aggressive business firms now operating in the community.

Viewpoint

Trumpeter Louis Armstrong showed his callousness toward the American republic of which he is a citizen in the statement he made in Vienna. Commenting that he may go into Russia on his current world tour, Armstrong added "My trumpet knows nothing about politics."

His instrument knew about politics in his own country. Last fall he cancelled a State department-sponsored tour in protest against what he termed the mistreatment of his people in the United States. He noisily criticized the United States.

But when it comes to the Communists, he isn't interested in passing judgment. —The Houston Chronicle.

Quart Oil Cans Used In Building Of Daniel Home

By MRS. R. L. CRISWELL

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Daniel, 213 Higgins St. live in an unusual house, the only one of its kind as far as is known. It is built of quart oil cans.

Daniel needed to build a residence along with a greenhouse, and lumber could not be bought. This was during World War II. The idea struck him that he could use the oil cans the filling stations threw away.

Using cement plaster, he laid them side by side and plastered them together. The outer wall is stuccoed, a Spanish-style house.

There is no wood used in the wall and floor construction except the window and door frames. Daniel used only cans that had the oil burned out, as the oil would show through the stucco and it would not hold a finish. The empty cans serve as an insulation and make the walls 8 inches thick. There was a total of 11,772 cans used in building the house. They have lived in the house some 12 or 15 years, and it appears to be in good condition, inside and out.

There is a greenhouse with glass roof attached. He has never carried insurance because of the high cost for a glass roof. He has operated a greenhouse for 29 years, and last July was the first time he has suffered heavy hail damage. The roof was a complete loss. Undaunted he built again and has thousands of tiny plants growing.

"I was born in Montague

County, Tex., in 1885," said Daniel. "I do not have many memories of my childhood but do remember my first shot with a 12-gauge shotgun. I took careful aim and fired. That gun knocked me as flat as a pancake, but somehow I hung on to it and I got my rabbit. It kicked me many times after, but not flat on my back again.

"I have a Bible that originally belonged to my Uncle Johnny McClean. In it I can trace my ancestors back for 175 years. Some of the writing is so old and dim it is hardly legible, but it is there for us to read as best we can. I also have a bench-screw, or as it is called today, a vise. It is made of rock maple wood and is 100 years old. I treasure it highly.

"Uncle John was a Baptist preacher. He rode a horse from place to place to preach and in his later life was pastor of a few churches. But he spent most of his life riding from one community to another preaching, once a month in each place, and places were most always school buildings.

"In one community there had been much strife between two men. They had both sworn to kill each other, and since Sunday was preachin' day, they had decided to wait until the service was over. The people of the community were very worried and had told the preacher that there was trouble and that the two men were planning to kill each other in a fight after preaching was over.

"Well! Uncle preached on the 'Love of God,' and before the sermon was over the men had forgotten their differences and were shaking hands.

"My parents came to the Staked Plains in 1905. Father hauled lumber from the Burgess Lumber Company of Amarillo to build a home about seven miles north of Dawn. I might add that the lumber company is still in operation in Amarillo today.

"I came to Umberger in 1906, and my first job was working for George Day. I did not have a saddle so he loaned me his wife's saddle. I sure had a time staying in that lady's saddle and was very glad when the day's work was over.

"I also worked for the Trulys — helped them dip cattle. There was a lot of dipping done for ticks. Now I read that the cattlemen are dipping for scab. (Continued on page 5)

QUESTION OF THE WEEK

Feel Home Is Needed For Elderly Residents

Do you think a home for our older citizens should be built in Hereford? Why? If so, how should it be financed? GASTON BAER—I think it would be a good thing because we have a lot of elderly people who have to go out of town for that sort of thing. As to the financing of the matter, I should think that it would be a state and county proposition.

KENNETH COWAN—I think it would be a wonderful thing rather than have our aged be forced to go out of town to some of those larger places. County taxes, together with state assistance, should take care of the thing completely.

ELMER D. COOK—Well, I think we should definitely have some way of caring for our older citizens. I think it might be run better financially if it were a private concern. The matter of how it should be run would be the most important thing about it. I think it should be run in a way to better the community as well as help the older citizens, some way that their usefulness through experience could help the community and area around them.

MRS. MARIE BROGDON—Well, I think it would be a fine idea in order to care for our older citizens properly. Financially I think a private concern would solve the situation better than any other way.

KENNETH COKER—I don't have enough knowledge on the background of the subject to know whether we need one or not, but if it were needed I feel it should be privately owned and who lived in it to be charged.

DR. M. C. ADAMS—Yes, I think we definitely need one because this is a healthful area for older citizens and we have a great number of people who have built the community still living here and these people need a place where they wouldn't be alone and could still be of great use to the community. I think it should be financed on a private and county basis.

GUSLER CONSIDERS TULIA

Gusler Products, Inc., of Amarillo is considering moving its plant to Tulia. The 18-year-old concern manufactures Thervo, a handcleaner; So-Soft, fabric softener; Western Wind and Weather, a hand lotion, and several other related items. At a meeting Monday afternoon attended by 35 Tulia businessmen, company representatives explained their desire to expand and to move to a smaller community. The company would need 11 acres of land on a railroad siding. It would expect to sell enough new stock in Tulia to buy the land and to build suitable buildings. The concern is now employing from 15 to 20 persons, but expansion would require many more. Tulia Chamber of Commerce is preparing an informational letter which will be mailed to all members of the chamber.—TULIA HERALD

SCHOOL BOARD CONSIDERS CHANGES

Policies of requiring more credits for graduation and physical education for all students is being studied by the Canyon school board. The proposed policies were submitted at the regular school board meeting Tuesday night. If the policies are adopted, beginning next fall all entering freshmen will need 20 credits before they can be graduated four years later. The school requires 17 now. The freshmen will also start taking a new course, Health and Safety Education, which will include health, general safety, physical education and the textbook phase of driver education training. Other proposed policy changes include the granting of a full credit for band or choir rather than the half-credit required now. If the requirement for 20 credits is adopted, students will be required to take four in English, three in social studies, two in mathematics above general math, two in science (students may substitute two years of vocational agriculture or two years of homemaking for general science), four in physical education, and sufficient electives to make up the necessary 20 credits. CITY BOND ELECTION SET

Dimmitt voters have the novel opportunity of voting on a $90,000 bond issue next month, which, if passed, will not cost them a cent in taxes or increased water or sewage rates. The City of Dimmitt, it seems, is making enough right now to pay off the bonds in due time, but the City Commission needs the approval of the voting citizens before raising the money. The city lies in desperate need of new improvements. According to City Manager E. B. Noble, it is possible that the water system, operating at peak efficiency, could fulfill the requirements of the City of Dimmitt this summer, but a major fire or a breakdown in the water pumping system could cause a calamity. About $50,000 of the bond issue will go for the water improvements. The other big item—costing about $40,000—is the sewage plant. A few years ago other city officials came to see Dimmitt's model Sewage Disposal Plant. It was built to serve a town of 3,500 and do it unattended. But this population has just about been reached. The system is being taxed to its limits to keep up with the processing it must do. It can be upped only by having a full-time attendant.—CASTRO COUNTY NEWS (Dimmitt)

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm discusses the weighty problem of controls this week, with what results it's hard to say. Dear editor:

Every once in a while some thinker, after wrestling with the farm problem generally from a desk in a city, comes out with the announcement that if a farmer can't make it on a farm, let him move to town.

I never paid any attention to this, as I'm not planning on moving to town, as I don't know anything about a town that'd make me more efficient than I am out here on this bindweed farm, and the best I can judge, city people have about as many economic problems as country people.

But I'll admit I'm a little puzzled by a farmer in the state of Michigan who has announced government controls have finally gotten him down and he's selling out and moving to Australia.

Now if anybody wants to move to Australia, it's all right with me, but I'm afraid if that Michigan farmer thinks he's going to farm down there without any so-called controls, he'd better hold back enough money for a ticket to some place else. According to an article I read last night, an Australian farmer can plant what he wants to, but he can't sell to anybody except the government, at a price the government figures up after it buys all the stuff and sees what it can sell it for.

If this Michigan farmer doesn't like that system, he can move to England, where the government not only has controls, but even will put you off your land if you don't take care of it.

If that farmer doesn't like that system, he can move to Russia, where he could farm all right but couldn't own his land or what he grows.

Come to think of it, I don't know where that farmer can move to to escape controls, and the way I see it, he may find Michigan isn't such a bad place after all.

As a matter of fact, controls probably are about like taxes. Everybody complains about them, it's sort of a duty nowadays, but we might be in worse shape without them than with them.

Personally, I'm going to stick with the United States, I'm going to stick with Texas, and I'm going to stick with this bindweed farm here in Deaf Smith County. Any time us farmers get tired of controls, we can vote 'em down, just like city people can vote to drive on both sides of the street at the same time if enough 'em want to.

Say, taxes sure are high, ain't they? Yours faithfully, J. A.

The feed was cut, bound and in shocks. Those shocks were covered with snow turned to ice, and it was several inches thick. We used a pick and an axe to cut through the ice and dig out the bundles in order to get the feed to the cattle.

"We hauled it on a home-made sled as it was impossible to get through the snow with a wheeled vehicle. We sledged on top of the snow and ice for those 56 days and it was very cold.

"In the heaviest part of the storm, 400 head faced into the wind and we thought they were gone for good, but when spring arrived we found we had lost only 11 head. We never knew how they survived unless they got with another herd and were fed along with the owner's cattle. Many people lost every head of stock they owned and we felt that we were fortunate indeed.

"It was a rare treat to look across the horizon on a clear day and wonder just how far the human eye could see. I have counted as many as 40 head of antelope in a herd that were no farther away than a quarter of a mile from our farm home. We had much more moisture then than now and we did not have dust storms; there was too much grass. There was a complete cover of green and no dust to blow. "I have worked as a railroad hand and helped to build the Santa Fe railroad from Canyon to Happy. It was heavy work and I took up carpentering instead. I helped to build many of the buildings in both Amarillo and Canyon.

"While driving a transfer wagon in Amarillo, I found a cap and ball muzzle-loader pistol in the middle of the street. I guess it was a 38 caliber as it wasn't too large. Someone relieved me of it, but I never knew when or who. I wish I still had it as old guns are very interesting.

"I came to Hereford in 1921 and built the first or one of the first floral shops here. This was where the Texas Theater now stands and the first greenhouse on the First Methodist Church location. I opened a second hand store and bought and sold many of the old-fashioned parlor organs. I often wish I had kept one of them as they are all gone now and there are very few treasured as antiques.

"I have an old Calumet Baking Powder clock which I bought from the Spratt grocery. The calumet sign was painted in gold on the glass door, but I scraped it off and it is still in good condition except for the hands. They are loose and sometime fall back after reaching the top of the face.

"I am a great lover of nature and all kinds of growing things. Each part of the country has different plants and grasses, and is indeed a wonderland in the spring when there is moisture enough to make plants grow. "Hereford is a wonderful little town and it has been a pleasure watching it grow and knowing the good people that have contributed to its growth," he concluded.

Minstrel Show Presented In High School Auditorium

By MRS. R. L. PINNELL
An old fashioned Blackface Minstrel was presented Saturday evening in the High School auditorium, sponsored by the local P-TA. The complete evening was a success, bringing in from $225 to $250 to the local treasury.

Carroll Gruhkey was master of ceremonies and the program consisted of a group of skits put on by local talent directed by James Sessions.

The first skit was a school room scene. The second was a gossip session over the backyard fence between Clara Gruhkey and Noreen Garrison. The third skit was by Wilbur Harris and Lorin Creitz, entitled, "Coon Creek." The evening's proceedings concluded with a cake sale and a charleston contest. Officers spent much time and effort in organizing such an affair, and the patrons supported it very well. The funds are to be used for an annual project for the school and for the athletic banquet in the spring.

Parent-Teachers Association met Monday night in the High School auditorium for a program given by James Sessions' speech class. Roberta Larsen presented the declamation, "The Failure of Success." She plans to enter in the spring interscholastic league contest.

Kippy Morgan and Alma Mosteller presented poetry readings entitled "Hymn of the Alamo" and "The Creation." The class presented a blackface comedy act entitled, "Uncle Joe's 80th Birthday." Participating in the play were Ninnette Pounds, Cynthia Kromer, Maureen Sugart, Sue Johnson, Alma Mosteller, Sandra Heaton, Twilla Story and Linda Gruhkey.

Mrs. Earl Brown, P-TA president, led a discussion on the fund-raising project to be held Saturday evening in the High School auditorium.

School was turned out Friday to enable the teachers to attend the annual teachers' convention held in Amarillo in the Municipal Auditorium. Dr. James H. Jauncey, an ex-Australian and present pastor of the First Christian Church of El Paso, was the main speaker. Following the general session the group broke up into special meetings. Superintendent A. P. Jones and Mrs. Chilton attended the language arts while Mrs. Kromer attended the primary science group.

Jones announces about 90 patrons visited school last week for National School Week to see their school in action. He also says trophies for the district interscholastic meet have arrived for March 24 and April 10 to be held in Vega.

Lions Club met Thursday night in the High School cafeteria. The program was built around the 4-H Club work. Oldham county agent G. C. Franks represented the boys' organization and spoke on its work as did Mrs. John Horton, local girls' sponsor.

Sam Brown and Perry Gruhkey presented a method demonstration on the conservation of grasslands. Paula Creitz spoke on What 4-H Does.

Guests were Lion Louis Hair, zone chairman of district ZTI of Olton and Lion Joe Harper, superintendent of schools at Olton. Hair discussed the coming district convention to be held April 26, 27 and 28 at Plainview.

During the business session the group voted to buy a trophy for the coming senior rodeo. Mrs. Johnnie Williams left last week to attend the annual conference of W. S. C. S. held at Midland. She went by Abilene where she also attended the Wesleyan Service Guild Saturday and Sunday. While in Abilene she visited her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Jim Briggs and Johnnie Brent. She plans to be away two weeks.

James Sessions' speech class will present a one act play entitled, "A Shadow of a Dream," by Roland Fermand, March 23 at 6 p.m. at the Interscholastic League Meet at Vega. Four or five plays will compete in the district.

The cast of characters are Bill Gudgell, who plays an ambitious young state's attorney whose ambition overrides his sense of values; Alma Mosteller, his wife who, joined by the family, attempts to prove circumstantial evidence is not always true evidence; Morris Leg Blankenship, who plays the chauffeur; Cynthia Kromer, the maid; and Wanda Pinnell, a character witness.

April 4 has been set as the date for trustee election for the Adrian Independent School District to be held in the school auditorium. The ticket will bear three names. Incumbents are E. K. Pinnell, Bill Leslie and James Cavin. Others are Lorin Creitz, R. D. Sisk and Oscar Bronniman. Bob Caldwell is the presiding judge.

The sophomore class attended a party Tuesday night in Amarillo sponsored by Mr. and Mrs. A. P. Jones. The members and their guests were Linda Gruhkey, Hubert Bronniman, Gail Brown, Oscar Bronniman, Roberta Larsen, Chubby Sasser, Sue Johnson, Gene Still, Twilla Story, Wayne Milner, Kippy Morgan, Sandra Heaton, Terry Creitz, Mildred Harris and Cecil Blansengame. The group bowled, ate supper and attended a movie.

The local congregation of the Church of Christ will hold their annual revival meeting from March 23 to 29 with 8 p.m. services. Joe Lomax of Amarillo will be the evangelist. Any interested persons are urged to attend.

Mrs. Irene Brown spent Monday night in Amarillo where she attended the Regional Five Tournament in which her son, Davis, participated. He attends Amarillo College.

Mrs. Mary Weaver arrived for an extended visit from Corydon, Ind., Saturday afternoon. She will visit her sisters, Mrs. Nellye Davis and Mrs. Grace Baker.

Recent visitors in the A. P. Jones home were his brother, Mr. and Mrs. George Jones and family of Frions Harvey, Lucille and Gaye Bell

By CORINNE J. NEELY

The Red Cross is an expression of our concern for one another in time of need. There are seventy independent national Red Cross societies throughout the world. The American Red Cross is one of the largest societies, having over 3,700 chapters in the United States and its possessions.

The American Red Cross operates through the national organization and the chapter and gets its authority from a congressional charter by which the government charges the organization with specific responsibilities.

These are: to provide services and assistance to members of the armed forces, to conduct a disaster preparedness and relief program, and to provide other government - requested assistance in carrying out the terms of the Geneva Conventions. This charter must be carried out nationally and locally, but the chapters may carry out other programs according to the need in the local communities.

The work of the Red Cross is done primarily by volunteers. Every job done by a volunteer helps the organization locally, nationally and internationally, because all volunteers have joined hands in the common purpose of service.

Some of the services performed by the Red Cross are: helping members of the Armed Forces, veterans, and their families; and helping the disaster victim. Some important programs are the blood program, safety program-first aid and water safety, nursing program-home nursing and mother and baby care, Junior Red Cross-gives youth a place in the organization. Each chapter performs the programs which are more important in its community.

The American Red Cross is an organization through which everyone can work and help his neighbor in need. As long as there is such an organization America will indeed be a strong nation.

(Note: This essay on Red Cross is one of the best I ever read from it you get an over-all picture in a few words. It was written as one of the chapter's staff-aides training for her position. - Corinne J. Neely, Exec. Secy)
