Around Town

Clean-up efforts in Hereford officially ended Saturday on a slightly soggy note. The house painting, which definitely will take place, has been held up by wet wood, the Jaycees couldn't get through the alleys Wednesday to inspect and cite residents for special cleanliness and Boy Scouts were weathered in Saturday in their efforts to clean vacant lots. In spite of all the troubles, it has still been a right good campaign and one that should be repeated each year.

Thursday's Brand will be fatter than ever with a salute to the high school graduates, including pictures of each senior. Everyone in town is engulfed by the end-of-school activities, vacation planning and so on... and on... and on.

Our advertising department's high school helper, Melba Gay Lawrence, is a charming girl. But amid all the flurry about graduating Thursday night, she suddenly came to a dead-stop this week upon receiving an invitation to join the United States Army... not the Women's Army Corps... the men's Army! Deadpan, she answered the questionnaire sent to all high school senior boys, listing her age, education, etc. She closed by asking for assignment as a "Missileman", but we think she wanted to have, not be, one. The visiting Army recruiter claimed it was all a clerical error, but hasn't had any luck signing up Melba Gay for any type of Army, since she has already enrolled at Draughon's Business College for the fall semester.

Little League teams got soaked out of two games, Thursday and Friday, but one of three make-up games was set for Saturday between (Continued on page 2)

Local Man's Mother Dies

Funeral services were held Friday for Mrs. John W. Truly, mother of Clyde Truly of 107 Star St., Hereford, in Sanders Memorial Chapel in Lubbock. Burial was in Tech Memorial Cemetery under direction of Sanders Funeral Home. Mrs. Truly, 68, of Lubbock died in Muse Rest Home in Lubbock at 8 p.m. Wednesday following a long illness. She was born in Abilene and had been a long-time resident of Lubbock. She was a member of the Methodist Church. Survivors include her husband, J. W., also of Hereford; two sons, Clyde L. of Hereford and R. M. of Midland; three daughters, Mrs. R. N. Hillin of Midland, Mrs. C. H. Tipton of Lubbock and Mrs. John Poff of Lafayette, La.; 14 grandchildren and two great-grandchildren.

Up-Dating Farming Goal Of Pakistanian's Study

By DAN MUDD BRAND STAFF REPORTER Lack of up-to-date agriculture methods has made young men in the northern part of West Pakistan the toughest fighting Army men in the world, according to Muhammad Alim Mian, a soil scientist from Rawalpindi, Pakistan, who is making a study of soil and methods of farming in Deaf Smith County. The reason the men have been labelled with that reputation, Mian said, is that the heavily-populated country cannot depend on agriculture alone for its economy. Thus, when the young man in that country reaches the minimum age for Army duty, he joins fighting forces to make his fame and fortune. Few there can make an adequate living by farming. But Mian and two of his countrymen are trying to remedy that situation by studying soil practices in the United States. They hope to gather enough data in the next few years to help revolutionize the farming industry in their country and to make the land produce enough crops to feed its own people. A 1961 graduate of the University of Punjab in Lyallpur, Pakistan, Mian is studying here under direction of the Tierra Blanca Soil Conservation District in Deaf Smith County. (Continued on page 2)

Trustees Approve Projects, Equipment Totalling $65,000

About $65,000 worth of equipment and services was approved by Hereford Rural High School District trustees during a special meeting Friday night.

Federal Loan, Over 1 1/4 Million, Repaid By Hills

A Deaf Smith cattle company, O. G. Hill and Sons, this week finished repaying one of the largest emergency "drought" loans in Texas, if not the United States.

Principal and interest on the loans made to the company totalled $1,389,941.00, according to Walter Johnson, director of the local Farmers Home Administration.

The cattle business has been good in the past five years, as the repayment would indicate. The first loan was made to the Hills in September, 1953, immediately after Congress had authorized the establishment of special livestock loans, giving emergency credit to established livestock raisers. It was approved and signed by Secretary of Agriculture Ezra Taft Benson. The loans were administered through the F. H. A.

First loan to O. G. Hill and Sons was for $236,000, with additional loans made after that time to a total of $1,266,925. Interest during the period totalled $102,116.09.

Loans to the Hills were among those pointed out in a national wire story about two years ago based on information released by a Congressman from Rhode Island.

O. G. Hill told the Brand Friday that the emergency loans had enabled him to maintain his basic beef cattle herd of about 2,000 animals during the long drought that covered the Southwestern United States.

At the time he applied for the first emergency loan, Hill said, the family company had a loan of about $1,200,000 outstanding with a Kansas City bank. About $200,000 was loaned on Hill land and the remainder on cattle. This loan also has been completely repaid.

Crops Not Hurt In Area's Hail

Light to heavy rainfall, seasoned with a sprinkle of hail, left varied amounts of moisture in Deaf Smith County Thursday. Hereford's official rain gauge at City Hall recorded .76 of an inch.

Most farmers in the area said the moisture received had little effect on county crops. No hail damage was reported to the wheat crop.

Heaviest rainfall was reported west of Hereford. Near Westway Community, reports ranged from .75 to 1.80 inches, with light, spotty hail.

A Dawn resident said about a half inch fell in that area, and a report from Summerfield showed that .75 of an inch fell.

L. J. Stratus and Luther Lesly, who live north of Hereford, said that area received just a sprinkle of rain and no hail.

The moisture received in Hereford brought the year's total to nearly four inches, compared to the 8.47 at the same time last year.

Special and replacement furniture and equipment for new buildings under construction and one room in the present Stanton Junior High building were ordered purchased. This totals about $22,000.

Services and equipment for the renovation of the old Stanton Junior High building were approved, with two exceptions.

Total on the portions approved is about $43,466, with another estimated $10,000 in work still pending.

On May 12, trustees had let bids for about $15,000 of classroom furniture for the new junior high building and the new northwest elementary school. Equipment ordered purchased Friday night included $684 for furniture at the northwest elementary school.

In the new junior high building, furniture and equipment included: $2,022.57 for a kitchen laboratory and a sewing laboratory; $982.25 for an arts and crafts room; $1900.57 for a shop; $1013.95 for the band room; $3217.30 for two science rooms; and $1456.75 for library furniture in the old building. Principal's office furniture and equipment will cost about $3250.

The last figure includes about $750 for furniture and an estimated $2500 for buying and installing an intercommunication system for the old and new buildings.

This totals about $11,909.89. Cafeteria equipment is an estimated $895.50, while the new finance or business office furniture is an estimated $2000, for a total of $10,695.50.

Consulting architect Herbert Brasher of Lubbock met with the board to discuss bids on several renovations projects for the present Stanton building.

The projects, in many cases are contingent upon decisions still to be made by the board and bids are firm estimates which may be revised slightly.

Approved by the board Friday were the following jobs: millwork, $3507; electrical, Owens Electric of Hereford, $4718; acoustical ceiling tile, Southwest Specialty Co. of Lubbock, $9943; shower and restroom partitions, Lubbock Building Products Co., $4882; asphalt flooring tile, Brick and Tile Company of Lubbock, $7182; painting, F. A. Tucker of Hereford, $7384; and plumbing fixtures and installation, Anthony Co. of Lubbock, $5850.

Still underlined are contractors on exterior brick and stone repair and renovation and ceramic tile for restrooms. Total of the tentative bids let Friday is $43,466.

Decision on the remainder of the work is expected in the next week or two, after Brasher in- (Continued on page 2)

Hold Career Day Senior Program

Hereford High School students Tuesday heard local and visiting business and professional leaders talk on a variety of occupations. It was the annual senior Career Day.

Speaking on the professional field in the study hall were Earnest Langley, local attorney at law, and Dr. Bruce Beene, Hereford physician.

Joel Hodges, local businessman, spoke on business and merchandizing in the auditorium. Bill Phillips, High School vocational counselor, spoke to a group in Room 111 on the field of science.

Agriculture was the subject for J. W. "Lefty" Thomas, county agricultural agent, in Room 107.

Speaking on the field of engineering in Room 104 was Bob Goyette, Lubbock architect.

Dr. Emmitt Smith, West Texas State College at Canyon, spoke on teaching in the library.

Mrs. J. D. George of Hereford spoke on beauty operating in Room 107 and Mrs. John Thompson discussed air line hostess work.

Jimmy Gilentine, local newspaper publisher, spoke on journalism, and Mrs. Don Steele of Hereford spoke on the field of modeling in Room 109.

ST. ANTHONY'S GRADUATION SUNDAY

Baccalaureate Slated For 121 Seniors Sunday, 8 p.m.

Baccalaureate services for a tentative list of 121 graduates of Hereford High School will be held at 8 p.m. Sunday. The Rev. Gilbert Davis Jr., pastor of the First Christian Church in Hereford, will deliver the sermon in the high school auditorium.

Seventeen eighth-grade students are scheduled to graduate from St. Anthony's Parochial School during exercises slated for 4:30 p.m. Sunday at St. Anthony's Catholic Church.

Hereford Elementary school classes will be dismissed at 2:30 p.m. Friday, May 29, according to school superintendent Fred Cunningham.

Classes at St. Anthony's are scheduled to be dismissed at noon Tuesday, May 26. An all-school picnic will be held by the parochial school Monday.

There will be no graduation exercises at Stanton Junior High School this spring as the ninth grade will be included in junior high next year, according to W. C. Quattibaum, principal. An awards assembly was held at the school Friday morning.

The Hereford High School Mixed Choir, under choir director Don Moore, will sing "How Lovely Is Thy Dwelling Place" and "Lost In The Night" at baccalaureate services.

Invocation will be by the Rev. Claud Northcutt of Hereford, and the Rev. Joel Treadwell, vicar of St. Thomas Episcopal Church in Hereford, will deliver the benediction.

Mrs. Bill Stanford of Hereford will present the processional and recessional.

High school commencement exercises will be held in the high school auditorium at 8 p.m. Thursday.

W. R. Hair, president of the Hereford Rural High School District board, will present diplomas to graduating seniors. High school principal Bill Stanford will present the class and make presentation of awards.

Announce Retail Study Committee

Hereford Merchants Committee chairman Gene Moore Friday named five persons to study the needs and organization of the lines of Brownfield.

The study committee were Guy Lawrence, Monk Johnson, Johnnie Pool, Jack Nunley and Mrs. Arthur Thompson.

In last week's meeting, Brownfield C-C manager Joe Satterwhite explained how that town has organized its retailers and services into an effective, working group.

The committee will report on their findings and recommendations on Friday, June 4.

There will not be any merchants meeting next Friday because of the special trade promotion scheduled for that day.

Merchants will stay open on Friday, May 29, until 9 p.m. They will be closed Saturday, May 30, in observance of Memorial Day.

Tigers Snarl As Yanks Drop Lead In C-C Contest

The Detroit Tigers, Dick Ross and J. W. Robinson of Hereford, bared their teeth this week by "coming ahead" of New York Yankees, Monk Johnson and Palmer Norton, in the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce's current membership drive among Hereford business- (Continued on page 2)

Chamber of Commerce manager Bill Thompson reported that Ross and Robinson have recorded 57 points in the drive, which contrasts with the 43 points gained by Johnson and Norton since the drive started May 11.

Leading team in the national league, Thompson said, is the Milwaukee Braves, Gene Moore and Johnny Pool, with 22 points.

He said all but three teams in both leagues have submitted points. Only five teams have made all the contacts to which they were assigned.

Life Is All Adventure To Your Two-Year-Old

By Dorothy V. Whipple, M. D.

A few years ago a somewhat unimaginative researcher wanted to compare the activity of a child with that of a young adult. He set up an experiment. He persuaded a husky 20-year-old college football player to follow a little 2-year-old around all day and do everything the child did.

The experiment started at six o'clock in the morning. The child woke up and bounced out of bed, the man was awakened, and bounced too — he too was full of vim and vigor. The child ran over and rocked in his rocking chair — the man followed suit. A few moments later the child was distracted by the sight of his teddy bear under his bed, he crawled after it, the man crawled too.

Mother came in and dressed the child, the man was allowed to dress himself. They had breakfast and went outdoors. The child rode a tricycle, he lugged some lumber and piled

Bible Words for Today

LUKE 11:9 "Ask, and it will be given you; seek, and you will find; knock, and it will be opened unto you." (RSV)

There are two avenues open to every member of the human race. The one is to give up and drift with the tide. The other is to get up and help to turn the tide.

If we are filled with a strong enough desire to make good, and a strong enough belief that it is possible to do so, we will not be held back by false theories or by opposing circumstances. We will test the theories for ourselves and we will overcome the circumstances. We will help to turn the tide.

It is not a difficult thing to get people to see that there is a tide with which we may drift. But it is sometimes most difficult to get people to realize that it is possible to turn the tides that are against them.

We can give up and drift with the tide. Or we can get up and do our best to turn the tide. When we give up we generally go down with the tide. When we GET UP and do our best we are the victors, even though we may be swept under by the tide.

even when he cannot tie his shoes or button his jacket. Occasionally in the midst of a demand to be let alone with a difficult task he will suddenly throw it down and want to be cuddled.

Two is when a child learns "no" and does he use it! It becomes the most used word in the language.

Like the rest of his two-ness "No" is part of the age. Parents must take the "No" in their stride and live through the stage. The less of an issue is made of his apparent refusals the better. A 2-year-old often says "No", but goes right ahead and does what is expected of him.

Two is a charming age to watch — from a distance. It is exhausting to be the parents of a 2-year-old. But before you get to the state of the college athlete, we hope your child has passed on to three.

PHILANDERING THEORY

TOLEDO, Ohio — Anthony Pizza, assistant county prosecutor, believes the dwindling value of the dollar is responsible for a rise in complaints about husbands running around with other women.

With purchasing power curtailed, he theorized, money spent in philandering is reflected quickly in the family budget and the wives become suspicious. Maybe, he ventured, "the amount of chasing is about the same as always."

Spring Vegetables Menu Inspiration

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Come springtime, to market we go to gather in bright and beguiling fresh vegetables. Asparagus, young carrots, green peas, snowy heads of cauliflower; at this time of year, the connoisseur of fine flavor never resists these. Do right by these garden foods when you prepare them and your table will benefit:

Asparagus, first off. Here we preach our yearly piece: don't go to the trouble of standing the stalks in a double-boiler or percolator to cook them. Just break off tough ends; use a swivel-blade vegetable parer to remove the fibrous outer covering up to the buds, cook in a deep skillet with a dome-type cover in a small amount of boiling water a minimum of time — only until tender-crisp. Watch like a hawk! Drain and serve with nut-brown butter and serve one of the simplest epicurean dishes.

When carrots are given a partner they become interesting. Cook diced celery with diced carrots for flavor contrast. Or cut carrots matchstick size and julienne snap beans; cook the two together, drain, douse with butter and freshly-grated pepper. Add an orange sauce to cooked carrot rounds — this probably is the most popular partner of all.

And here's a way to show off cauliflower on a vegetable platter.

CAULIFLOWER WITH CELERY SAUCE

Ingredients: 1 large head cauliflower, 3 tablespoons butter or margarine, 1 tablespoon chopped onion, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 1/2 cups milk, 1 teaspoon salt, 1/2 teaspoon paprika, 1/4 teaspoon pepper, 1 teaspoon Worcestershire sauce, 1 1/2 cups diced celery (cooked), 1 1/2 tablespoons minced parsley, 1 tablespoon diced pimiento.

Method: Wash cauliflower well; remove green stalks. Leave head whole and cook, covered in 1-inch of boiling salted water — 20 to 30 minutes. Cook onion lightly in butter; blend in flour. Stir in milk. Cook and stir constantly over moderately low heat until boiling and thickened. Season with salt, paprika, pepper, and Worcestershire sauce. Add celery, parsley and pimiento. Serve hot with cauliflowerer, adding asparagus, carrots and green peas to the platter.

BASEBALL PREDICTION

Future Uncertain For 10 Managers

By FRANK ECK

The best job in baseball belongs to a manager whose boss tells him point blank: "Just keep 'em hustling. We know you can't win."

And of course there's nothing wrong with a job managing a team like the New York Yankees.

But these jobs are rare, and never more so than in 1959. Of the 16 big league pilots beginning the pennant races, this writer knows of 10 who might not finish them.

The American League seems more stable than the National this year, largely because it is out of balance. The Yankees and Casey Stengel always win. Well, 9 of the last 10 anyway, and 7 of 9 World Series. No manager is expected to beat the Yankees, but there are other considerations that make employment a fragile thing.

The Chicago White Sox are fancied for second place, for example, because that's where Al Lopez always seems to finish. But Bill Veeck and Hank Greenberg are in the picture as part of a group controlling 54 per cent of the team's stock. Willie and Hank like to win every game.

If Lopez is smart he will do all his winning for Veeck and Greenberg and all his losing for Chuck Corniskey who has a slipping grip on 46 per cent of the stock. No use winning for a man in an uncomfortable position. The division of ownership puts Tampa's No. 1 citizen on the spot.

Now take Bill Norman, who has the Detroit Tigers for the first spring. The Tigers were only two games out of third place and coming fast when the '58 season slammed shut. Since then the 11 or so owners have made a good deal for Norman.

They traded a second baseman who couldn't play shortstop, Billy Martin, for Ray Narjeski and Don Mossi who were just about half of Cleveland's 1958 pitching staff. The pair won a combined 20 games and finished 36.

But Detroit has no power hitter and Norman, wise after 27 years' minor league experience, warns: "Now, don't pick us too high. We didn't lose fourth place by a half game the last day. We lost it somewhere between April 15 and Sept. 30." Still, the Tigers are expected to improve.

Mike Higgins enjoyed springtime in Arizona because Ted Williams enjoyed swinging a bat again. Higgins has other good hitters and promising pitchers. But Boston has been promising since 1946 when it won its last American League flag. Still Mike's job is safe. Owner Tom Yawkey is the type who would rather fire the fans than the manager.

Paul Richards of Baltimore and Joe Gordon in Cleveland aren't so fortunate. Richards, who has a habit of popping off about what's wrong with Stengel, the Yankees and the league, is on a big spot despite a fine pitching coach in Harry Brocheen and fine pitching. He lacks hitting.

The time he spends blasting others might well be spent helping his hitters. But we hope he crashes the first division. He makes good copy.

Gordon did well in his last stint last year in Cleveland, but now he has too many pitching question marks and infield holes on the left side where the good right-handed hitters send their drives. He has a powerful hitter in Rocky Colavito, but after Minnie Minoso, the attack could wither.

We have the Indians picked a bit low. That's because General Manager Frank Lane, a man of considerable trading fame, has failed to pick up any of the Yankees' surplus talent. Harry Craft of Kansas City and Cookie Lavagetto of Washington will have better horses someday, if they can take the barbs that will come their way this lean season.

Six of the eight pilots in the National League are on hot spots because the pennant is up for grabs. Four might not last out the season.

The Milwaukee Braves seem to have enough pitching and stick-work to make it three pennants in a row. Felix Mantilla, an untested rookie, or a veteran obtained in a deal could be the second baseman while Red Schoendienst is recovering from tuberculosis.

The Braves should get a pitching pickup from Carl Willey, who could win 20 with a regular turn. Warren Spahn wants his 10th 20-victory season and Lew Burdette is a fair country toaser. Hitting is solid with Hank Aaron, Wes Covington, Ed Matthews, Bill Bruton, Joe Adcock and Frank Torre.

But if the Braves don't win, Manager Fred Haney might find it difficult explaining why to Milwaukee's new vice president, ex-Cincinnati manager Birdie Tebbets.

Mayo Smith grins when you tell him Cincinnati can win it all. He never had that grin in four years in Philadelphia. With the most improved team in either league, the Redlegs will be expected to make a race of it.

They got slugger Frank Thomas from Pittsburgh and have outstanding rookies in Vada Pinson, Jim O'Toole and Orlando Pena, the latter two pitchers.

We picked the Reds second a year ago. But they dallied and Tebbets got so disgusted he quit. Jimmie Dykes rallied them for fourth. This is no time to quit on them. They should finish no worse than third.

Danny Murtaugh and the Pirates were lucky last year. They came home an unexpected second, yet couldn't beat last place Philadelphia. The 1959 team has a little more depth, but no slugger. Thomas to drive in 109 runs unless first baseman Dick Stuart proves himself over a full campaign.

Pittsburgh is long on pitching with Bob Friend and George Witt the co-stars. Look for Curt Raydon and Bennie Daniels to pitch some fine games. Murtaugh faces pressure this year, something he didn't know in 1958. He is expected to win, or at least make a good fight of it.

San Francisco's pitching must be better if Horace Stoneham is to land the 1959 pennant he predicted sometime back. The boss' prediction puts Manager Bill Rigney on the hot seat. The Giants might finish fourth, and may have to beat out Los Angeles.

Remember a year ago? The Giants were way up there on ninth-inning rallies with relief pitching by Marv Grissom. This year Grissom is in St. Louis. The Giants have Willie Mays and Orlando Cepeda, but are questionable on the double play and on the mound.

Los Angeles figures to get a better start with Duke Snider able to swing better on a fully-recovered knee. Rookie Ron Fairly is a cinch to make the team and could battle Cincinnati's Pinson for rookie of the league honors.

Manager Walt Alton's job seems safe. His boss, Walter O'Malley, would like a controversial manager, but Walter O. has never been known to fire a quiet man.

Bob Sheffing has hitting-plus at Chicago, but his pitching is a question mark. Owner Phil Wrigley expects no miracles. Bob's job seems safe.

Philadelphia and St. Louis figure to fight for seventh place with Eddie Sawyer getting the edge on experience over Solly Hemus.

Sawyer's bright spots are hitters Harry Anderson and

Receive Awards For Shop Work

Albert Erdman and Billy Legg, students at Hereford High School, received awards this week for designing the most outstanding shop projects of the year in Woodworking II class. Erdman won $25 in hand tools from Carl McCaslin Lumber Company of Hereford for his first place project, a desk of cherry wood.

Legg, winning second place, received $20 in hand tools from McCaslin for his gun cabinet of ash, and Dale Carter took third place with a China cabinet of Korina wood.

In Woodworking I, Richard Ward won first place and Johnny Buse won second place for their projects.

John A. Gillis and Craig Johnson, instructors in industrial arts at West Texas State College, were contest judges. The projects were exhibited recently during Achievement Night at the high school.

High school shop teacher Alvin Smith said the annual awards created a great deal of interest among Woodworking II students.

Richie Ashburn and pitchers Robin Roberts, Curt Simmons and Roman Semproch. Sawyer rates Anderson (.301 with 23 homers last year) as "a coming great hitter."

The Phillies, however, no longer resemble the Whiz Kids of 1950 who brought Sawyer a pennant. Therefore, he's on a spot.

It's the same thing with Hemus and the Cardinals. He has inherited a team lacking in hitting. Stan Musial no longer is the big 100 runs-batted-in man. Owner Gussie Busch has better than eighth place money. If he finishes near this predicted spot, his only out will be to blame an inexperienced manager or ex-General Manager Frank Lane and some of his trades.

MEMO TO ADVERTISERS

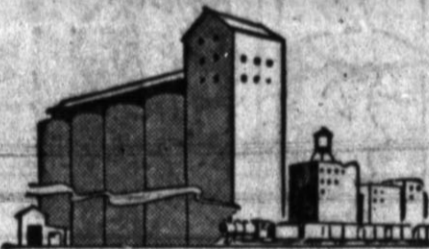

Coal—by the ton

There are standards

Lumber—by the foot

Gasoline—by the gallon

for advertising, too!

What a fix we'd all be in without those standards of measurement for the goods you buy and sell. Imagine the confusion, waste and doubt in business transactions if we didn't have accepted standards of weights and measures—known values.

We believe it is just as necessary for us to tell you what you get for your advertising dollars, in terms of known circulation value, as it is for you to do business with your customers on the basis of recognized standards. That's why this newspaper is a member of the Audit Bureau of Circulations.

WHAT IS THE A.B.C.? The Bureau is a cooperative and nonprofit association of 3450 publishers, advertising agencies and advertisers in the United States and Canada. Organized in 1914, A.B.C. brought order out of advertising chaos by establishing a definition for paid circulation, rules and standards for measuring, auditing and reporting the circulations of newspapers and periodicals.

WHAT A.B.C. DOES FOR YOU. At regular intervals one of the Bureau's large staff of experienced circulation auditors comes to our office and makes a thorough audit of our circulation records. He has access to all of our books and records to obtain the FACTS that tell you what you get for your money when you advertise in this newspaper.

WHAT A.B.C. REPORTS TELL YOU. The circulation FACTS obtained by the A.B.C. auditor are condensed in easy to read A.B.C. reports which tell you: How much circulation we have; where the circulation goes; how it was sold and many other FACTS about the audience we provide for your sales messages. Make your advertising investments on the basis of this audited information. Ask for a copy of our A.B.C. report.

Bible Words for Today

ROMANS 12:21 — "Do not be overcome by evil, but overcome evil with good." (RSV)

When a cloud charged with electricity moves over a house it induces an opposite charge in the house. If it comes near enough there will be a destructive flash of lightning unless there is a lightning rod through which a steady stream of the opposite kind of electricity flows out to neutralize the cloud.

When a person filled with hatred or resentment comes in contact with others, the same attitudes may be induced in them and revengeful words and actions may result. But if people have a good connection with the divine source of love which dissipates hate and bitterness, they can prevent much that would destroy character and human relationships.

Hate generates more hate but love inspires more love. Through private and public worship and study of the Bible we maintain our relationship to God, keep our hearts filled with love and learn how to counteract hate with love and overcome evil with good.

SANDMAN'S COMING . . . Play period helps at bedtime.

Does Your Baby Battle Bedtime?

By Dorothy V. Whipple, M. D.

Daddy came downstairs for the fifth time. "I hope he is down for good now," he said to his wife, "but you could never dream up what he said this time."

She looked up expectantly. "Daddy," he said, "I can't go to sleep, my mouth is so full of words."

"When I went upstairs," her husband continued, "I was thoroughly annoyed and I was going to be firm and show that young'un who was boss. But he was so cute, so serious and so sure I'd understand that I couldn't do anything but sit down beside him."

"Danny said if he didn't get those words out of his mouth they'd be there in the morning and then he couldn't eat his breakfast."

"So we talked, Danny had some little thin words that tickled his mouth — they were squeaks, he said, like a mouse made — then he had some big fluffy words. After a while he said 'All gone' and opened his mouth up big for me to see. I patted him and I hope to Heaven he's gone to sleep."

When a parent and child can get together like this, problems fade away, but it is not always so easy.

Danny was wound up tight when he was put to bed. He just couldn't relax without that last bit of reassurance.

But how can you avoid putting a youngster to bed a dozen times every night?

Every child is different and every child and family situation has to be handled according to its own merits. There are, of course, a few general principles, but no one prescription is guaranteed to succeed with every child.

It certainly helps to have a routine. Bedtime should be a definite fixed time. For the parent it can be measured by the clock; but clock times doesn't mean much to a child. To a child routine means that one thing follows another.

A child comes in from play, has a bath, eats his supper, plays with Daddy downstairs, then goes up to his room, has a story or a talk with Daddy, goes to the bathroom and then gets tucked into bed. This means routine to the child and he expects to do the next thing which is sleep.

This is fine when it works — and it does work a good bit of the time.

When it doesn't, try to figure out why. Upsets in the routine disturb a child and no family lets so monotonously that these are not often necessary variations. When you can explain to the child ahead of time what is going to be different. There is no hot water tonight, so we will have to skip the bath, but he can play with his cars during the time he would have had a bath. This isn't too difficult.

But suppose there are to be guests and Daddy cannot spend the usual time with the child. This makes the perfect setting for trouble. The child feels pushed out of the way and someone; he is almost sure to resist bed and sleep. Again, preparing him helps. Tell him who is coming.

Let him help with preparations, tell him you need Daddy to help the guests have a pleasant time and ask him if he could help you by giving up Daddy tonight. Then the child is doing something positive instead of just being deprived. Often it works.

But suppose your child resists bed every night in spite of all your careful routine. Maybe you are putting him to bed too early. Children vary a lot in the amount of sleep they need. You can say that on the average a five-year-old needs ten hours of sleep. But no child is average.

Some five-year-olds do fine on nine hours and some need 11 or 12. Be careful in deciding your child needs less sleep. An overtired child is jittery and jumpy and finds it difficult to relax, even though he needs the sleep. More sleep rather than less may be what your child needs.

Try and figure out your own problem. When you can get things balanced out smoothly your child will sleep.

Column Author's Back In The Groove IT'S: HER POINT OF VIEW

By BETTY BABIONE
Well, hail-o everybody! It is kind of nice to return to this column of nonsense after a little vacation away from the type-

The dark colors have really come into their own around Hereford lately, and I'm all for it! White houses always look nice and neat but the trouble here is that they don't stay white very long.
This seems as good a place as any to offer belated congratulations to the folks in the Walker Refrigeration building — their remodeling job certainly turned their location into a handsome corner of town. . . and to Doc and Ann Cowan, whose new store contributes much to the appearance of Main Street (and is beautiful on the inside too).
Speaking of fixing-up, some people have real good luck at do-it-yourself jobs around the house. And then there are other people. . . like Paul Harvey. . . who learned one day last week that even a simple job like mowing the yard can be little short of catastrophic.

Lots of interesting happenings these days. National attention is focused on the big Paris conference. Area-wide notice has been given the trial in Wichita Falls of Randall County Judge, Roy Joe Stevens.

And local attention has been divided among end-of-school activities, the beginning of the Little League season, and the closing of the current year for many clubs and organizations.

But none of these overshadowed the exciting television debut of little Miss Debbie Boardman on Friday. Debbie, the daughter of Herb and Irene Boardman, appeared on Channel 7's six o'clock children's program along with sisters Nancy, Linda and Deedee. Her sisters got quite a few words in edgewise, but Miss Debbie was the featured speaker because she named a little train "Toot Toot" and won a beautiful new bicycle and that was the reason for the Boardman girls' being on TV in the first place.

Another local activity in full swing has been in the form of "Clean-up, Fix-up, Paint-up Week". Have you noticed how popular maroon has become for painting exteriors of houses?

Orange rind and date strips added to a loaf of quick bread give it fine flavor.

Bible Words for Today

PHILIPPIANS 4:19 — "And my God will supply every need of yours according to his riches in glory in Christ Jesus." (RSV)

At first glance this is a promise beyond our wildest dreams. But we must remember that NEEDS are not seen alike by God and man. When we view life through the divine perspective our needs become rather simple. The promise to meet these needs is then a comfort and strength.

God makes this promise — "Who never fails." His eternal resources are at our disposal, in Christ Jesus our needs are to be met. The condition is plain but essential. We are to be "in Christ Jesus" where the available grace is to be found. Then we may draw upon the "riches in glory."

In this day of abundant material wealth we need to hear the Divine Voice evaluate life in terms of actual needs. We need life, salvation, peace, love — all of which are abundantly supplied by God in Christ Jesus; Needs are then seen to be essential to becoming a worthy child of God. Only then can one be a worthy son of man.

By JIMMIE GILLENTE
Good news on the vegetable front. Jack Renfro is predicting $4.50 to $5 spuds this season — and Jack has a habit of keeping his finger on the potato pulse. The reason, he says, is around 30 per cent drop in acreage in the area, which will exert a tremendous effect on the market. Some new acreage from the low-support-milo-growers, but not enough to swell the acreage as a lot of people feared. This sounds good. Real good. After last year, these boys really deserve a break.

Time changes everything, they say, and the adage seems to include boys and girls. Career groups met at the high school this week with business and professional men and women of the community to learn some of the advantages and disadvantages of the various careers. In looking over the list, I was no little surprised to note that 27 students had signed up for modeling; 14 were on the list as air line hostesses, and seven as beauty operators. The largest list was business and merchandising with 35 prospects as compared with 23 for science, 23 for engineering, 23 for professional and 24 for teaching careers.

Who would figure that 27 girls would choose modeling as compared with 24 prospective teachers? Journalism was next to the lowest group with 11 students interested in this field as a life career. However, when I get into one of my jams I can't help but think that they might be fairly smart.

Right now, I seem to have all of the painters mad at me, chiefly because of the house at 507 McKinley, which the boys have donated their time to fix up in connection with Clean-Up week. Jerry Carter says the deal, all of the time, was to do the job when the boys were not too busy. He figures, instead of giving them a bad time, I should be giving them a pat on the back for the public spirited cooperation in making the town a better place in which to live. Jerry wants to know what other group of workmen would give so willingly to such a cause?

I guess he is right, but had he listened to the 50-odd complaints Monday and Tuesday because we had the picture — and the house wasn't painted yet — he might also have been a little bit upset. Anyway, I am sure they will do the painting, as soon as possible, and they do deserve a lot of credit.

Sometimes, I wonder how I get into these messes. I didn't have a thing to do with the clean-up campaign in the first place, much less the painting business. It reminds me of the time all of the barbers got mad, and I had to get my hair cut in Friona and Dimmitt for three or four months. I remember Bob Burns once made a movie about a smalltown newspaper, and when he got into one of those deals, he always said: "Aw, heck. Nobody reads that little old paper, anyhow." I tried it one time, but the fellow answered:

"Well, I read it — and that's all it takes to make me mad!"

Another fellow I seem to owe an apology is Lee Kent. At least a 100 people have informed me that we do have sea gulls in this country. It's the truth (I guess). F. W. Dool says: if I would get up at a decent hour (like 4:30 or 5:00 a.m.) I would know these things, and wouldn't be ridiculing honest, upright citizens like Kent. Dub Reeves says he sees them all of the time; also Gaylord Newell. This of course, leads me to believe they must be visible at more moderate hours — but it does look as if Kent really knows whereof he speaks.

Sheriff Charles Skelton is the one fellow who seems to appreciate me. He allows if he ever gets that TV show I was talking about, he will give me a job. "You would make a perfect villain," says the sheriff. "I can see you chomping down on one of those cigar butts, and the sweat popping out on that bald head — just before I come in and carry you off to jail."

You can come fairly close to estimating how much it rained by the size of Al Smith's smile — and I haven't seen him frown in two weeks.

Fishing must be good in the Conchas area. At least, I haven't seen Jim Lipscomb for quite a while — and that is the best indication I know. Glowing reports lured Johnny Simms, Neil Cooper and Dudley Bayne over Conchas this week. If they tell you about the trip, you can figure fishing was real good, if they don't mention it, you can safely guess that it was pretty bad.

I foolishly asked Florence Traweck about her noble experiment in using geese to weed cotton — and I judge she was not too happy over the deal. Anyway, she said: "Please don't ever mention it to me again — and I will promise not to mention it to you."

The Hereford Speculators decided Friday night to cease speculating and liquidate. Things should wash out fairly close to breaking even, depending on sale from current assets in real estate and a few shares of gin stock. The general idea seemed to be that each of the 25 members were too busy with their own affairs. The Speculators did talk about a Country Club as a family need for the area, but considered it outside the realm of the small group. During the two-year period they drilled one oil well, grew a crop of potatoes and generally had a lot of fun — none of which was too profitable.

TWO JOKES

First Youth: "I want to know how long girls should be courted?"

Second Youth: "The same as short ones."

"Iceland," said the school teacher, "is about as large as Siam." And she was surprised when all 24 of her students wrote on their examination paper: "Iceland is about as large as our teacher."

Sunshine Club Marks 14 Years

The Sunshine Club held its 14th anniversary in the community room of the First National Bank Thursday night. Club colors of blue and gold were carried out in the table decorations.

The club donated a quilt to the Arthur Blackburn family. Elsie Miner received the 25 cent slice of cake and penny ante was won by Lois McDermitt.

Those present were Mesdames Dorothy Landry, Elsie Miner, Helen Watts, Rhoda Mays, Margie Kemp, Edith Sheppard, Doris Burgess, Willodyne Brooks, Netherie Bradford and Lois McDermitt. Guests were Martha Laney and Terry Laney of Fullerton, Calif.

New Officers Are Installed At Les Meres Study Club Dinner

Les Meres Study Club held its annual installation dinner in the Western Wheel Inn dining room Tuesday evening. Mrs. Charles Packard, outgoing president, conducted the ceremony. Tables for the dinner emphasized the club colors of red and white, with decorations of roses.

Officers who will assume duties of office in the fall at the beginning of the club year include Mrs. Doc Carter, president; Mrs. John Smith, vice president; Mrs. Delmo Williams, secretary; Mrs. Wade Thompson, treasurer; Mrs. Cliff Kerr, parliamentarian; and Mrs. Kenneth Maxwell, historian.

Following the installation service, Mrs. Carter read her list of committees for the 1959-60 season. Included are Yearbook — Mesdames Cliff Kerr, Armand Lauderback and Alvin Smith; Membership — Mesdames John Smith and T. E. Brisendine; Finance — Mesdames Wade Thompson and Nelson Reiger; Social — Mesdames Delmo Williams, Ervin Robinson Jr., Charles Packard and Kenneth Maxwell; Courtesy — Mesdames Dick Ghossein and George Olson; and Special Committee — Mesdames Eugene Noel and Glenn Gripp.

During a short business session, members voted to contribute to the Council of Church Women project, the Day Center at the Hereford Labor Camp and plans were made for a summer party with husbands as honor guests.

Following the fun-feast, Mrs. Ray Suit, outgoing president, conducted installation services for new officers. Included were Mrs. Ernest Wade, president; Mrs. Ed Line, vice president; Mrs. Aubyn Hodges, recording secretary; Mrs. Ed Johnson, corresponding secretary; Mrs. J. B. Whitaker, treasurer; and Mrs. Norman Moore, civil defense officer.

Appointive officers include Mrs. Byrdie Dee Fellers, historian; Mrs. Ray Suit, photography; Mrs. R. J. Cramer, scrap book; and Mrs. Ed Johnson, rosebud chairman. Mesdames Ed Line and Charles Laing were elected City Council representatives.

Mrs. Wade, the new president, announced committee appointments for the 1959-60 season. Included were Program — Mesdames Ronald Babione, J. D. Whitaker and Aubyn Hodges; Social — Mesdames Ed Line, Harold Beauchamp and Norman Moore; Ways and Means — Mesdames Charles Laing, Paul Harvey and J. D. Whitaker; Publicity — Mrs. Jess Robinson and Mrs. Lloyd Warren; Yearbook — Mesdames Ed Johnson, Clyde Russell and Ernest Wade; and Contact — Mesdames Norman Moore and Ray Suit.

At the conclusion of the meeting, Mrs. Ray Suit, outgoing president, presented her staff of officers for the past year, with gifts of appreciation for their cooperation.

Plans were made for a joint meeting with Kappa Iota Chapter during the summer months.

Those attending the final meeting for the season were Mesdames and Mesdames Ronald Babione, Paul Harvey, Aubyn Hodges, Ed Johnson, Charles Laing, Ed Line, Ray Suit, Ernest Wade, Lloyd Warren, J. D. Whitaker, F. H. King and the hosts.

RETURN FROM VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Beyer have returned from a two weeks stay, including Mother's Day, with their son, J. E. Beyer Jr., and his family in Hutchinson, Kan.

Leaton Clark

Leaton Clark To Get Diploma

Leaton Clark, a 1953 graduate of Hereford High School, will receive a Bachelor of Science degree in Pharmacy at the University of Texas School of Pharmacy on June 6.

He is a member of Phi Delta Chi, honorary professional fraternity of pharmacy, and holds the office of editor of "The Bleat" the College of Pharmacy paper. He is also a member of the Longhorn Pharmaceutical Association, and holds the office of parliamentarian and news editor of the "Longhorn Pharmacist".

While attending the university, he has served as director of Music for the Gouville Avenue Baptist Church.

Mr. Clark, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. O. Clark, married Miss Wanda Block, formerly of Hereford, in September, 1954, and she is active in the "Pharmacetta" Pharmacy Wives Club, and she will receive her PHT (Putting Hubby Through) degree at the graduation exercises.

Following his graduation Mr. and Mrs. Clark will move to Plainview to make their home. He will be associated with the Plains Drug Store in Plainview.

Final Session Is Held By Kappa Iota Chapter

Kappa Iota Chapter, Beta Sigma Phi Sorority, held its final session of the season in the home of Mrs. Bess Moore, sponsor, Tuesday evening.

The end of the year party was in the form of a salad supper, with the social committee, including Mesdames Irving Alexander, Ann Woodward and Charles Bell, serving as hostesses.

During the business session, members made plans for three social affairs during the summer months, when husbands will be included. Mrs. Irving Alexander was voted first place in programs presented during the year. Her program was on "Pleasures of Possession".

Mrs. Guy Cornelius Jr. presented the concluding program of the year reviewing the last lesson in the study book "The Beautiful — Substance for the Art of Life".

The program was built around the quotation, "Beauty can belong to things only by being contributed to them by some living soul" (Geo. Santayana).

Mrs. Cornelius told of the beauty in words, such as poetry, prose and song, even the nursery rhyme for the little ones. She told how dancing may be described as beauty in action and of the aesthetic attitude as a result of beauty in thought.

"Beauty comes as an experience, in thought, action and words through personality into an art of life", she concluded.

Social Is Held By Legion, Auxiliary

The local American Legion group and Auxiliary were entertained at a regular monthly social affair in the Legion Hall Tuesday evening. Bingo games and other contest games were played, with prize proceeds going to the Community Center project.

Plans were made for the monthly social event to be held the third Tuesday in each month, which will be open to the public as well as members of the Legion and the Auxiliary. Coffee and Spudnuts were served.

Baugous, T. B. Thomas Jr., Larry Summers and the hostess, Mrs. Leland Holderman and rs. John Schneider were special guests.

Assisting the couple in receiving the guests were Mr. Fridley's sister, and brother in law, Mr. and Mrs. K. P. Clark and their daughter, Mrs. Vince Adolphsen and her husband, all of Wichita, Kan.

The refreshment table carried out the anniversary theme, with a lace cloth over gold. Centering the table was a double heart-shaped cake iced in white and ornamented with tiny gold flowers on a mirror reflected surrounded by golden throated white orchids. Backing the cake were tall orchids centered with a gold "50". Gold tapers completed the setting.

Mrs. A. L. Manjeot and Mrs. M. T. Rutter, representing the Hereford Garden Club, made the arrangements and assisted in the house party. Others assisting with the hostesses were Mesdames Don Zimmerman, Norman Moore, J. B. Sowell, G. W. Newsom, Charles Sowell, A. N. Hopson, Jim Lovling and Jeff Roberson.

The granddaughter, Linda Jacobsen, had charge of the guest book, and the grandson, Marcus Jacobsen, had charge of the record player, which provided appropriate background music for the occasion.

Out of town guests attending the anniversary affair included Mr. and Mrs. Ed Plank and Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Noel of Canyon, Mr. and Mrs. K. P. Clark, Mr. and Mrs. Vince Adolphsen and children Karen and Gary of Wichita, Kan.

Observe Golden Anniversary

Mr. and Mrs. E. E. Fridley had to call the minister the second time for their marriage ceremony when they were wed on May 16, 1909.

They were married in the home of her parents, and when the time came for the ceremony, the preacher failed to appear. He had forgotten the date, but two hours later he pronounced them man and wife.

After their marriage they moved to Gage, Okla., where he was employed in a hardware store owned by his uncle, L. J. Bennet, who made his home in Hereford for a time. They moved to Hereford in 1925, when he served as manager of the Great West Mill and Elevator Company. He is now engaged in the insurance business.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Fridley are lifelong members of the Methodist Church. He is a member of the IOOF, and she of the Rebekahs. He is also a member of the Woodmen of the World and still represents that Order here.

She has been active in the WSCS of the First Methodist Church and in the children's work of the church since moving to Hereford. Her main hobby is growing beautiful flowers, and has most any flower you can name in her garden. Favorites with her are iris, roses and peonies. She is a member of the Hereford Garden Club.

The couple has one daughter, Mrs. John N. Jacobsen Jr. and the grandchildren, Linda and Marcus are their pride and joy.

The Fridleys celebrated their golden wedding anniversary on Sunday, May 17, at a reception held in the home of their daughter, and son-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. John Jacobsen Jr., 209 E. Sixth St. Over 100 guests signed their names in the guest book.

Assisting the couple in receiving the guests were Mr. Fridley's sister, and brother in law, Mr. and Mrs. K. P. Clark and their daughter, Mrs. Vince Adolphsen and her husband, all of Wichita, Kan.

The refreshment table carried out the anniversary theme, with a lace cloth over gold. Centering the table was a double heart-shaped cake iced in white and

L'Allegra Club Has Installation

Members, associate members, new members and special guests attended the L'Allegra Study Club installation luncheon held Thursday in the home of Mrs. Gilbert Davis, 207 N. Knight St. Assisting Mrs. Davis as hostesses were Mrs. Walter London Jr. and Mrs. Oliver Streu.

The club colors of red and white were featured in decorations and appointments for the luncheon. The buffet table was laid with a white linen cloth and centered with an arrangement of red roses, the club flower. May Poles, featuring multi-colored streamers, centered tables for four. Bouquets of spring blossoms were used throughout the house.

Following the luncheon, Mrs. Bill Dameron, outgoing president, conducted installation rites. A plaque bearing a letter of the club name which emphasized office duties was presented to each officer as a reminder that each would be required to carry out her part to make the whole complete. New officers installed were Mrs. J. W. Robinson, president; Mrs. Joe Lyons, vice president; Mrs. Charles Skelton, recording secretary; Mrs. Don Veigel, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Walter London, treasurer; Mrs. Stanley Slagle, reporter; Mrs. Donald Shipley, historian; and Mrs. Bill Dameron, parliamentarian.

During the business session, plans were discussed for a club coffee to be given during the summer and activities for the coming season were discussed.

Associate members attending were Mrs. Ronald Babione and Mrs. Charlie Hill. New members present were Mrs. C. L. Hicks and Mrs. Dwayne Walker. Mrs. Wayne Thomas was a special guest.

Other members besides the Season Closed By Dawn Music Club

To mark the closing of the year's activities, members of the Dawn Music Study Club held their annual luncheon in the home of Mrs. Ray Polan Tuesday, May 12.

Following the luncheon, Miss Lucy Beth Miller, senior at Hereford High School, played "Clair de Lune" by Debussy, and "Leibstrum". Mrs. Thelma Fulton of Canyon sang "Wouldn't It Be Lovely" "I Could Have Danced All Night", "Home of the Range", and "Hills of Home", accompanied by Mrs. Helen Mickey of Canyon.

During a short business session, Mrs. Bill Gentry was named as assistant junior Music Club sponsor, and Mrs. Charles Davenport was elected secretary.

Bud To Blossom Names Officers

Bud To Blossom Club climaxed the year's activities with a luncheon held at the Colonial Cafeteria in Amarillo on Friday, May 15.

Following the luncheon, Mrs. J. B. Noland, guest of the club, conducted installation ceremonies for new officers, using a lighted candle service as a torch for new officers to lead the way to better club work and cooperation.

Those assuming duties of office were Mrs. Delmo Williams, president; Mrs. Glyn Bilby, first vice president; Mrs. Don Martin, second vice president; Mrs. Don Steele, third vice president; Mrs. Clinton West, recording secretary; Mrs. C. R. Higgins, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Ernest Kendall, treasurer; Mrs. Joe Story, reporter; Mrs. Lloyd Sharp, federation director; and Mrs. Glenn Williams, parliamentarian.

The new president announced her committees for the coming year. They include Yearbook — Mesdames Don Steele, Glenn Williams and Ernest Kendall; Membership — Mesdames Glyn Bilby and Clinton West; Social and Cheer — Mrs. C. R. Higgins; Flower Show — Mrs. Don Martin; Plant Exchange — Mrs. Lloyd Sharp; Horticulture — Mrs. Bill Patton; Project — Mrs. Pat Robinson and Mrs. Joe Story; Conservation — Mrs. Ira Scott; Camp Fire — Mrs. R. A. Daniel Jr. and Arrangement Clinic — Mrs. Don Martin.

Gallaghers Honored With Farewell Party

By MRS. T. L. COLLINS
A farewell party was given to honor Mr. and Mrs. Leo Gallagher at the Sims Community House Saturday evening. About 50 friends and neighbors were present and each presented individual gifts to the Gallaghers. Mr. and Mrs. Gallagher are moving soon to La Junta, Colo. Visitors Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. N. E. Tyler and family were Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hall of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Hall and Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Hall.

Davis and Donald and Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Davis of Enos visited recently in the home of their relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Archie Webb.

Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Burrus and Elizabeth entertained their daughter, Kathryn, who graduates from the eighth grade, and her classmates at their home Tuesday afternoon and evening with a hamburger fry. The guests rode the school bus home with her that afternoon.

Guests were Joyce Webb, Sylvia Ivie, James Burrus, Donald Tice, Carl Myers, Steve Patton and Richard Connally.

Mr. and Mrs. Thomas L. Collins visited with the group later Mr. and Mrs. Bertram Jacl and family ate dinner and visited in the afternoon Sunday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Dor Kirby.

WORD ECONOMY

NORFOLK, Va. (AP) — Ralph Pool of the Virginian-Pilot, a reporter in North Carolina when autos were a novelty, had his model-T bog down one day and was pulled from the mire by a farmer. The farmer gave him cool water from a well near his unusual cabin. Pool thanked the kindly man and recalls this conversation:

"Whose house is this?"
"Moggs."
"What is it built from?"
"Logs."
"Any animals hereabouts?"
"Frogs."
"What sort of soil do you have?"
"Bogs."
"How about the climate?"
"Fogs."
"What do you live on most ly?"
"Hogs."
"Any friends around?"
"Dogs."

FJI RUNWAYS LENGTHEN ED

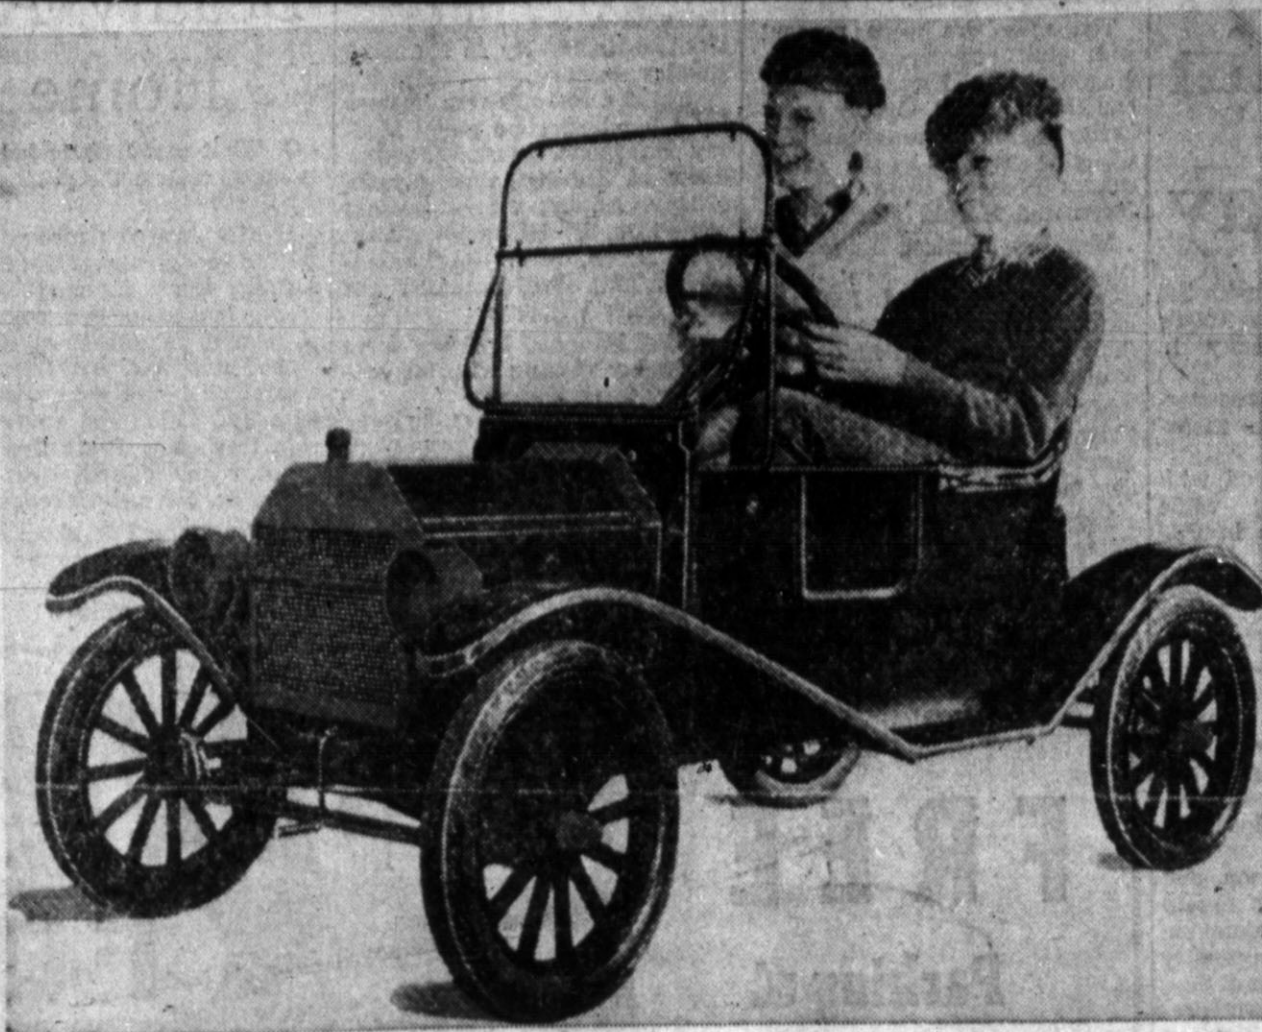

SUVA, Fiji (AP) — Nadi international airport in Fiji is being enlarged to take jet aircraft that will fly the Pacific route next year.

The main runway is being extended from 7,000 feet to 11,000 feet. The secondary runway is being strengthened, and new taxiways as well as a new control tower and radio station are being built.

The $8,400,000 job is being done under the direction of the South Pacific Air Transport Council, which comprises the United Kingdom, Australia, New Zealand, Canada, and Fiji.

Eugene O'Neill's first Pulitzer Prize play was "Beyond the Horizon" in 1920.

Because of two poor seasons in its vineyards, France is importing wines.

Household Scrapbook

Cigarette Stains
 To remove the yellowish stains from the fingers caused by cigarettes, rub them with some powdered pumice mixed with a little peroxide. Follow this by a good wash in soap and water.

French Dressing
 The following is a good recipe for French dressing: 2/3 olive oil, 1/3 lemon juice, salt, pepper, mustard, paprika to taste; a pinch of thyme, 2 bay leaves, a bean of garlic. Shake well and allow to stand.

White Felt Hat
 To clean a white felt hat make a paste of equal parts of arrow-root and magnesia and cold water, brushing this over the hat. When thoroughly dry, brush off.

Lace
 A good way to mend a hole in lace is to place a piece of paper under the hole and stitch on the sewing machine until the hole is filled. Then pick out the paper. Very fine thread should be used for the stitching.

New Shoes
 When shoes are being worn for the first time, stop at a shoe-shining parlor and have them professionally shined. If this is done, only the surface will be marred by scratches.

Steel Fittings
 The brown stains on the steel fittings of the range can often be removed by rubbing with a rag-dipped in vinegar. Then polish in the usual manner.

Suede Gloves
 When cleaning suede gloves put on the glove, then rub all over it with a stale bread crust with about an inch of crumb to it. Change the bread when soiled. Pipeclay well rubbed in is the best method for cleaning white suede gloves.

Biscuits
 Try using a knife and cutting the biscuits for a change instead of using the customary round biscuit-cutter. This will save time working the dough over and over in order to use all of it.

Match Scratches
 To remove match scratches from painted surfaces, rub with out side of a lemon, and rinse quickly with cold water applied with a cloth.

Heavy Showers Fall, Light Hail Thursday

By MRS. CARL WIMBERLEY
Fairly heavy showers fell in this area from about 5 p.m. until 9 p.m. Thursday evening. A very small amount of light hail fell in the northwest part of the community.

Approximately one-half of an inch was reported to have been received by Walter Lemons, R. L. Johnson, W. H. Gentry, Orval Galley, H. S. Fuller Sr. and Carl Wimberley. Melvin May reported .30 of an inch and H. V. McCabe reported that he only received a sprinkle.

A shower fell here at sunrise Wednesday morning. A total of .04 of an inch was received in the vicinity of Dawn.

The Dawn School Parent-Teacher Association Tea held Monday evening at the school honored the teachers, Mr. and Mrs. J. N. Killingsworth and Mrs. Ray Wells of Canyon. Roy Polan presided at the meeting.

Another special guest was Dub Hair of Hereford, president of the Hereford School Board. Ray Wells of Canyon was also a guest.

Gifts were presented to the teachers. Mr. and Mrs. Killingsworth were given the book, A Shirt-Tail To Hang On To, by Beth Day, and Mrs. Wells was given two pairs of gloves. A gift was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Polan who have served as P-TA president.

Hostesses for the meeting were Mesdames Ted Richardson, Melvin May and H. H. Miller. A total of 36 people were present.

After the tea an executive board meeting was held with Mrs. Orval Galley presiding. Committees and tentative room mothers were decided upon. Those attending the meeting were Orval Galley, Mr. and Mrs. Muri Little, Mrs. May, Mrs. J. B. Caraway, Mrs. R. T. Stewart, J. N. Killingsworth and Mrs. Carl Wimberley.

Cafeteria officers which were elected following the P-TA meeting were Mrs. R. T. Stewart, chairman; Mrs. Muri Little, assistant chairman; and Mrs. H. S. Fuller, secretary and treasurer.

Retiring officers who served the past three years were Mrs. Fuller, chairman; Mrs. Stewart, assistant; and Mrs. J. B. Caraway, secretary and treasurer. Officers are elected for one year's term.

Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Gentry attended an appreciation dinner for Sen. Ralph Yarborough Saturday, May 16, in Fair Park Coliseum in Lubbock.

Mrs. Dick Golden and Mrs. Ted Richardson had a birthday party Tuesday afternoon for the pupils of the first and second grades at Dawn. The party was in honor of Diane Golden and Mrs. Ted Richardson Jr. on their seventh birthdays. Both are in the first grade.

Robert Galley went home from school Tuesday with a case of the mumps.

Mrs. John Arrington of Miami visited here last Friday in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. V. McCabe.

Mr. and Mrs. L. A. Smith and their daughter and family, Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Johnson and three sons, traded house Tuesday. The Smiths have been living in a large, spacious two-story home. The Johnsons lived in an almost new two-bedroom one-story home.

The families report that swapping houses is quite complicated. The furniture in one house had to be moved into the yard while the furniture for the other house was brought in. Fortunately, the weather was fine. Mrs. N. R. Miller helped with the moving.

Mr. and Mrs. Leon Vinton and Donald Vinton attended funeral services Monday afternoon in Hereford for Kim Brownlow, two-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Brownlow of Hereford. Mrs. Brownlow is Leon Vinton's niece.

Ed Young, a former resident here, is reported to be very seriously ill in a Wichita Falls hospital. He is a brother of Mrs.

L. B. Drake and did considerable carpentry work throughout the community when he lived here.

Mrs. Ward of McAlester, Okla., left Wednesday night for her home after spending the past two weeks here with her son, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Ward Sr.

Construction is underway on a new home on the farm of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Telchik on Jewell Road. The Telchik farm is west of E. C. Rehnauer's and Virgil Owen's farms.

The Telchik family will move here from Hereford when the house is finished.

Guests at a party in the home of Mrs. L. L. Alhrart Wednesday afternoon were Mesdames Milton Newman, Kate Wilson, H. V. McCabe, W. T. Beavers, Rea Cox, H. S. Fuller, Tony Burrus, Marion Russell, W. H. Gentry, Muri Little, William Wimberley, Zed Stewart and Jim Gandy of Hereford.

Mrs. Richard Frye visited part of this week with Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Frye. Mrs. Richard Frye has just completed a course in a beauty school in Lubbock, and has gone to her sister's home in Summerfield, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Thomason.

Mrs. Frye is making plans to open a beauty shop in Summerfield. Her husband, Pfc. Richard Frye, has been stationed in Germany since last fall.

Lucy Beth Miller, senior at Hereford High School, received a merit award for scholarship Wednesday at an Awards Assembly at the school.

Mrs. H. V. McCabe went to Black Wednesday to visit with Mr. and Mrs. Bill Carthel.

Luanna Olsen of Amarillo spent Wednesday night in the home of Mr. and Mrs. H. H. Miller.

Bill Tucker and sons, Walter, Pat and Ronnie, visited the Armed Forces Day at Amarillo Air Base Sunday. Mrs. Tucker visited Mrs. Ernest Whalen while the men were at the Air Base.

Mrs. Bobby Jones and sons of Amarillo came Sunday to visit her grandmother, Mrs. John Cammack, who is making an extended visit with Mr. and Mrs. Alfred Smith.

Sunset Lanes Schedule First City Tourney

Hereford's first annual city tournament will be held at the Sunset Lanes beginning May 26 and run through May 31.

The tournament will be sanctioned and operated in accordance with American Bowling Congress and Women's International Bowling Congress rules.

This tournament will wind-up the regular bowling season of the Hereford Bowling Association. Tournament winners will receive cash prizes instead of trophies.

Mayor "Woody" Wilson will officially open the season by rolling the first ball to kick-off the event. Approximately 100 bowlers are expected to compete in the affair with divisions for men and women.

Ford HD Club Hears Program

The Ford Home Demonstration Club met Wednesday in the home of Mrs. L. J. Straffuss with Mrs. Argen Draper, county home demonstration agent, presenting the program on Food Poisoning.

Mrs. Draper stressed that foods should be kept hot until ready to serve. If foods are allowed to stand before serving there is a greater chance of spoiling. Reheating does not destroy the toxins which cause food poisoning.

Members present were Mesdames Bill Gilleland, Willa Williamson, LeRoy Williamson, J. L. Fite, Argen Draper, S. T. Wiseman and L. J. Straffuss.

The next meeting will be held June 3 in the Ford Community House with the club being host to the Jolly Girls' 4-H Club.

The tournament will be scored on a handicap basis which means a per centage value will be added to individual scores in order to afford all bowlers as much of an equal chance to win.

Master Point Play Is Held Thursday

Master point play was held at regular open duplicate bridge in the Rock Clubhouse in Veterans' Park Thursday night with 24 players present. Mr. and Mrs. Ronald Babione played high. Mr. and Mrs. Terry Kirby were second, and Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Coker, Lucille Posey and Mozelle Nell tied for third.

Those playing average or above were Mrs. Ann Combs, Mrs. Nadine Wade, Mrs. Margaret Sigman and Mrs. Wilma Hill.

Final Meeting Held By Club

The La Plata Study Club met Tuesday night in the home of Mrs. Liston Wilson for an installation dinner and the final meeting of the club year.

New officers were installed by Mrs. Don Steele. They include Mrs. Clint Formby, president; Mrs. Elmer Patterson, historian and reporter; Mrs. T. E. Seigler Jr., parliamentarian; Mrs. Joel Hodges, recording secretary; Mrs. Jack Brown, corresponding secretary; Mrs. John Blocker, treasurer; and Mrs. Raymond White, vice president.

Foods Studied By Homemaker's Club

The Homemakers Home Demonstration Club met Thursday in the home of Mrs. Henry Kinsey with Mrs. Tom Draper, county home demonstration agent, presenting the program on Food Poisoning.

Mrs. Draper pointed out the importance of proper refrigeration and washing of fresh vegetables.

Those attending were Mesdames Bobby Thweatt, Eddie Rohrbeck, Don Hicks, Cruse Richardson, Ray Barclay, Tom Draper, Hicks, Gaskill, and the hostess.

ECONOMY-MINDED COUNCIL

WILLCOX, Ariz. — Willecox City Council had a problem: A favorite TV program of councilmen was scheduled on meeting night, the second Tuesday of each month.

Suggestion: Buy a TV set so the councilmen could watch. Rejected.

Solution: Reschedule the meeting on the Monday preceding the first Tuesday. Approved.

Food Poisoning Is Subject For Club Program

The North Hereford Home Demonstration Club met at the home of Mrs. C. L. Whitehead Thursday with roll call being answered by remarks on experience with food poisoning, and how to prevent food poisoning.

Mrs. Argen Draper, county home demonstration agent, presented the program on food poisoning, stressing the point that cream pies and fillings, also potato salad, dressings, and tuna fish salad should be kept under refrigeration as quickly as prepared. She stated these were a few of the foods that are susceptible to food poisoning.

All home canned foods should be boiled 15 minutes before serving, she added. In case of food poisoning one should call a doctor immediately or drink a glass of warm soda water or mustard water and take a dose of salts, and quit eating for the time being.

Recreation leader, Mrs. Wilma Bryan, led in a game of names of soaps and detergents. Minutes of the last meeting were read by the secretary Mrs. Zeldia Kendrick, and committee reports were heard.

A shower for the Arthur Blackburn family was held following the business session.

The next meeting will be held in the community room of the First National Bank on June 5, sponsored by Roberta Campbell, with the program to be given by 4-H Club girl members.

Present were Mesdames A. E. Hodges, Bell Williams, Otto Massie, Mary Botkin, Zeldia Kendrick, R. A. Fullwood, June Roberts, Charlene Rigger, Dorothy Klein, A. A. Hare, Martin Wagner, Marcella Hoffman, Lena Olson, O. C. Williams, Frank Brinkman, Fred Barrett, Wilma Bryan, Argen Draper, a visitor, Mrs. Lena McCrume of Colorado, Miss Roberta Campbell and the hostess, Mrs. Whitehead.

A. C. THOMPSON of Hereford pauses on the tennis courts near the old Christian College in Hereford with a classmate. Thompson has lived in Hereford since 1915.

ages and not to worry whether they were either very old or very young or the same age as we were — we just enjoyed living.

"Some of our neighbors of that time included George Hagans, Charlie Donald, Charly Hodges, C. R. Norman and Mrs. Hattie Rutherford. They were wonderful neighbors; one could not ask for better.

"My mother often said that since prairie chips were used for fuel and for cooking that in very cold weather it took at least three people to keep warm by a prairie chip fire — one to feed chips to the fire; one to remove the ashes; and one to sit near and absorb the heat. The old fashioned stoves would dance with the heat and in a few minutes were cold and so was the room in which the stove stood.

"In some way, we managed and enjoyed life then, as much or more than with all the appliances and automatic heat that we have today. Not that I would want to go back; we just enjoyed living with whatever we had and forgot the discomforts or drawbacks. If we only had life in the raw, we lived and enjoyed it without complaint.

"We went to Central School. The building was a large two-story square affair, with the First Methodist Church on the west side and the Baptist on the east. They have long since been replaced with modern brick structures and with many more members than they had then, but there could not have been a more friendly atmosphere than in those days of long ago.

"This school was in the same location as the Central School of today. I also attended the old ADD Ran or Christian college which stood on the Stanton Jr. High School location. It, too, was torn down to be replaced by a more modern building, and the college was relocated several times before it reached its permanent location in Fort Worth and given the name of Texas Christian University.

"I remember bringing in a herd of cattle and had not planned to go in to Kansas City with them, but father insisted that I go. I had on old clothes and a hat that had flopped in the high winds, until the front brim was broken in a slit from the crown, above my eyes. I felt a little uncomfortable, but decided I could buy clothes in Kansas City so I did not worry about it.

"Ed Connell played a joke on me by calling the freight conductor and telling him that a tramp was seen on the train after it left Hereford, and would they please put him off. He called more than once.

"The conductor came to me, and since my clothes really looked the part of a tramp, he ordered me off the train. I told him I belonged with the cattle, but he refused to believe me until I showed him the papers that showed I had 40 cars of cattle en route to Kansas City. "He was amazed and said 'why man you own the whole train'. There were only two other cars of cattle for another shipper. Ed surely enjoyed kidding me about being a tramp for years afterward.

"It may sound improbable, but Dameron Park was a lake and it was used by the cattlemen to water their stock and to hold them there until the freight cars came in with enough cars to load the cattle for shipment. I have a picture of a herd held there when the lake was fairly full. Only one side of the lake is shown.

"I have seen the lake fill and overflow, and the water would rush down Main St. and over the railroad in a swift moving stream. Of course there was no drainage then, and most of the western part of town drained into the lake. Many fish have been caught from Tierra Blanca Creek where the present bridge stands, including catfish, largemouth bass, channel cat and others, some of them as large as six and eight lbs. This may sound fantastic as there is so little water there now, but it was wonderful fishing and one did not have to go more than a mile either way to catch all the fish he should care for.

"We had wonderful times in that long ago. I was not a good dancer, but I enjoyed being with the crowd. On Halloween, there was a certain place where anyone who owned a hack, surrey or buggy always looked for their vehicles the next morning. The lake would have a general roundup of their vehicles.

"The water was never deep enough to damage them in any way, but we thought we were having the time of our lives in sneaking up to the homes and slipping out with them; then pull them into the lake with our ropes and horses.

"I have caught antelope from my horse. I would find a mother with a young one and chase them until I was near enough to jump from my horse and catch the little one. We kept them for pets, and they made nice ones.

"When plowing, they would follow the furrow round and round, walking there for most of the day. We supposed they were shot by hunters as they would disappear and we never knew what happened to them. Antelope would not go under a wire fence if the wire touched them on the back, so it was easy to keep them in a pasture.

"One day the fellows bet me that I could not rope a young buffalo, and if I did my horse could not hold if I managed to rope one. Well, I roped

"Tenderfoot In Europe" Shown At Monthly Meet

By MRS. GENE WELCH
The monthly community meeting of the Black community was held Thursday night at the club house with five couples serving as hosts. They were the Jimmy Buckleys, Bill Carthels, Nelson Coons, Lester Deans and the L. L. Deatons.

In the absence of the president, vice president J. R. Braxton had charge of the business meeting, after which the film, "A Tenderfoot in Europe" was shown. Cotton John planned to be present, but it was not possible for him to do so. Approximately 75 were present to see the film.

Mrs. Travis Stone and daughter, Linda, and Mrs. Bill Carthel and son, Davy, spent Thursday in Amarillo shopping. Steve and Gary Stone stayed with Mrs. Lester Dean while their mother was gone.

ed one and my horse held it and we made a pet of it. But it soon wandered off and ended up with the Goodnight herd of buffalo.

"Buffalo were so wild that the only way they could get them to the train was to toll them with a load of feed. They would follow along and sometimes would wreck the chute before they could be gotten into the cars. Once in, they were tied until they were at their destination, or I suppose they would have torn the freight cars to splinters as they did the chutes.

"When threshing time came, each man would take a team and wagon and a bed roll and go with the thresher. Sometimes it would last a month or more but we had to stay until the last grain was threshed and in the granary or sold. We used an old-fashioned thresher which was powered with eight teams of horses or mules.

"These would be hitched, one team behind another, until all were in a circle. Each team was tied to the team in front and went in a circle, much as a merry-go-round, to keep the separator going. There was a tumble shaft laid in a ditch and ran some distance from the separator.

"The ditch was covered with a heavy board to keep the horses from stumbling over the shaft as they walked. The faster the separator would run and the more grain was threshed. Two men stood on either side of the feeder and cut the strings of the bundles as they went into the thresher.

"Another man stood between and pushed the bundles into the machine. If he worked too fast, it would choke the separator down and the teams would have to stop while he dug out the sheaves enough for the machine to start again.

"The grain was ejected from the side of the separator into a one-half bushel basket, and when the container was lifted to em-

Rodeo Sponsored By Adrian Senior Class

By MRS. E. L. PINNELL
The arena just east of Adrian was the scene of much excitement the past weekend, when the senior class sponsored the fourth annual Junior Rodeo Friday night through Sunday afternoon.
For weeks the class and their sponsor, Max Kennedy, have been repairing chutes, lights and fences in order that the grounds would be "just right."

Mrs. J. S. Stocks.
Mr. and Mrs. J. S. Stocks visited recently with her mother in Pampa.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Hoover and daughters visited Sunday afternoon in the Jim Adkins home.

Mr. and Mrs. Bud Mays of Bovina visited in the Melvin Henderson home Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Shorty Hill visited Sunday afternoon in the Jim Adkins home.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Higgins and son, Mr. and Mrs. Jack Dowd and sons, Mrs. Melva Fortenberry and sons, and her mother, Mrs. Claude Rea, were guests in the J. G. Fortenberry home Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Dowd went to Amarillo that night to visit her sister, Mrs. Jim Bradley, and plan to return to their home in Hamilton, Ohio, Monday morning.

The Rev. Eugene Naugle was a dinner guest Sunday in the J. S. Stocks home.

Mr. and Mrs. Glen Hetzler were visitors in the J. G. Fortenberry home Monday night.

Mr. and Mrs. Jim Hall, Mr. and Mrs. Elmo Hall and Mr. and Mrs. G. V. Hall were guests in the N. E. Tyler home Sunday. G. V. was taken to Amarillo that evening to the doctor for treatment of a back ailment.

The boys borrowed the bleachers from Vega's football field so spectators could get plenty of places to view the scenes.
The roster was completely filled and a waiting list for stock set up early in the week. Six events were set up which included ribbon roping, calf roping, barrel racing, flag racing, bull riding and bareback bronc.

Judges were George Avant of Amarillo and Butch Boydston of Vega. Rodeo announcer was Wayne Eaff of Portales, N. M., and Earl Brown of Adrian was arena director.

Trophies were presented to all first places in two go-rounds and in averages. This list sported winners from all over the panhandle and in New Mexico.

First go-round winners were ribbon roping, J. Bassett Smith of Plainview, 14.5; calf roping, Allen Ehresman of Glen Rio, N. M., 15.8; barrel race, Donna Kirkland of Tucumcari, 19.9; flag race, John Pickett of Clovis, 16.8; bull riding, A. D. Reed of Spearman; and bareback bronc, Rusty Gray of Amarillo.

Second go-round first place winners were flag race, Earl Mortis of Muleshoe, 15.0; ribbon roping, Allen Ehresman of Glen Rio, 13.4; calf roping, Leroy Bolinger of Springlake, 13.8; bareback bronc, Butch Betts of Adrian; barrel race, Linda Kirkland of Tucumcari, 19.8; bull riding, Jeral James of Springlake.

Average winners were John Puckett of Clovis in flag race with 32.9; ribbon roping, Allen Ehresman of Glen Rio, 35; calf roping, Allen Ehresman, 32; bareback bronc, Johnnie E. Howe of Panhandle; barrel race, Donna Kirkland of Tucumcari, 39.8; and bull riding, Jeral James of Springlake.

A huge trophy was presented to Allen Ehresman for having the highest average for All Round Cowboy of the rodeo. Allen is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Homer Ehresman of Glen Rio, N. M.

Proceeds from the event are to take the class and its sponsors on a week's trip into Missouri and surrounding territory. They plan to attend the Red Foley television show Saturday, May 23, in Spring Lake, and a big league baseball game in St. Louis Tuesday night.
Seniors are Phillip Pinnell, Lloyd Homfeld, Oscar Bronnman, Jimmy Zaring, Betty Cavitt and Maureen Shugart.

Bible Words for Today

MATTHEW 10:39 "He who finds his life will lose it, and he who loses his life for my sake will find it." (RSV)

William James, an American psychologist around the beginning of the 20th Century, said to an inquirer: "The greatest use of life is to spend it for something that will outlast it."

What is that thing that will outlast our lives of 70, 80, 90, or 100 years or more? What is that thing for which we should spend our lives to secure?

To know and to do the will of God - to attain this goal is worth all that we are and have. Accomplishing this goal will outlast our lives.

It is God's will that every person upon the earth should have the opportunity of growing as Jesus grew - in wisdom and stature, and in favor with God and men.

It is God's will that His resources should be so used by men that all the children of men should experience abundant living upon the earth. God has given us the resources for the production of plenty of bread for the body, mind and spirit of all human beings; yet two-thirds of the people in the world are undernourished, and three-fourths of the people can neither read nor write. We know how to provide enough food, clothing and shelter, and we know how to teach the people to be able to read and write, but the sad fact is that we are not now doing it. We really know more about God's will than we have been willing to do.

People sin now as they did in the first century: "For all have sinned . . . " Romans 3:23. People need salvation now as they did in the first century: " . . . Save yourselves from this untoward generation. Acts 2:40. The gospel of Christ saves men now as it did in the first century: " . . . It is the power of God unto salvation . . . " Romans 1:16.

Therefore, since God is the same, obedience to the gospel today will make saved people of us as it did then, and it is true that first century Christianity is not only possible, but actually exists today when people follow the New Testament.

The churches of Christ urge a return to original Christianity. We work for religious unity. We stress the plan of salvation originally delivered by Christ and His apostles. There is only one way these desirable spiritual goals can be realized . . . a complete return to the teaching of the Scripture. On this basis alone can there truly be the "one Lord, one faith, one baptism of first century Christianity. You can be just a Christian! Why not investigate the churches of Christ?"

Announcing

the installment of the Check Credit System at

The First National Bank

Within the next few days, the First National Bank of Hereford, will install a system of personal loan credit based on the revolving credit principal.

This system, known as 'Check Credit' is a fundamentally new and far better way of extending direct unsecured installment credit.

This type of credit is designed for the man with a weekly, semi-monthly or monthly income who has to meet an annual round of expense peaks that are hardly ever geared to his regular income.

We are proud to be the first bank in the tri-state area, one of the first in Texas and quite possibly the only bank of our size in the entire nation to bring this new service to their customers.

'HEAVYWEIGHT' CHAMPION

Badgers Don't Come Big, But Boy They're Tough

ROCKPORT (AP) — Badgers, which inhabit some of the more arid sections of Texas, don't come very big, but they are considered the heavyweight champions although fighting at bantamweight size.

The holes thus made do, not endear him to cowhands and ranchers. For many a horse has stuck his foot in such a hole and turned a double flip while his rider flew without wings.

animals were in great demand for this. A special breed of dog, the Dachshund, was developed to enter the holes and rout them out. Once the badger was captured, it was pitted against dogs of the various breeds and was ordinarily an odds on favorite.

Beauty At Home

Q. Please suggest a good hip-and-thigh reducing exercise. A. One excellent one is the scissors kick. Lie on right side, right arm up, head resting on arm, left arm in front on floor for support.

Q. What is a good treatment for oiliness and enlarged pores in my skin? A. After washing face with soap and water, cover it with a piece of absorbent cotton wrung out of hot water to open the pores.

Q. What is a good lotion for use when setting the hair? A. Fresh beer makes an ideal hair-setting lotion. It keeps the hair in place, dries quickly, and leaves no odor.

Q. What sort of makeup do you need? A. Brown shadow on the lids, careful grooming, and a curling-up of the lashes.
