County Makes Written Offer To Help Pave Moreman Ave.

By H. A. TUCK BRAND NEWS EDITOR

County Commissioners of Deaf Smith County, in an unexpected move, made a written proposal to participate with the City of Hereford in cost of paving Moreman Avenue.

The move was in the form of a letter to Mayor W. B. Wilson, offering to pay half the cost of the paving.

City Planning Extra Meet On Moreman Offer

A special City Commission meeting scheduled for Tuesday afternoon was cancelled when Mayor W. B. Wilson was unable to get all the Commissioners together.

Mayor Wilson said he would have a special meeting as soon as possible to discuss the offer made by the County Commission to participate in the cost of paving Moreman Avenue, only major access route to Northwest Elementary School.

Wilson said he was encouraged by the letter and the offer of cooperation in solving the problem of the unpaved street. However, he would not speculate on any action which might be taken by the City Commission.

Moreman Avenue, which runs west from U.S. Highway 385 past the Northwest Elementary School, has been the cause of controversy since the school opened last fall. The street is not paved.

The letter, addressed to Mayor Wilson, said:

"Dear Sir:

"Being mindful of the needs of the citizens of Deaf Smith County, Texas, and the students and parents of the Hereford Rural High School District, and in a spirit of cooperation with the City of Hereford, the Commissioners Court has this day again considered the matter of paving and improving Moreman Avenue from U. S. Highway 385 to Northwest Elementary School.

"We have been furnished with a cost estimate, dated June 3, 1960, as prepared by B. R. McMorries, Engineer. Based upon these cost estimates and other considerations, the Commissioners Court, acting in behalf of Deaf Smith County, has this day unanimously approved, and does here now make the following offer or proposal:

"The County of Deaf Smith will pay for up to one-half of the total cost of such street improvements on Moreman Avenue from U. S. Highway 385 to Northwest Elementary School, including all engineering costs, but excluding the curb and gutter cost; provided, however, that the City of Hereford expend on such improvements a sum equal to that amount to be spent by the County of Deaf Smith under this proposal.

"We are keenly aware of the need for the street improvements, and of the short period of time now available for the completion of the same before the commencement of the school year. We here now offer our

Hold Rites For James Conyers, Drowning Victim

Funeral services for James Thurman (Jimmy) Conyers, 15, who drowned Sunday afternoon in a lake 11 miles northwest of Hereford, were held at 3 p. m. Tuesday.

Services were conducted in Temple Baptist Church of Hereford, with the Rev. B. H. Baldwin, pastor of the Frio Baptist Church, and the Rev. H. V. Fields, pastor of Grace Gospel Church of Hereford, officiating.

The youth, the son of Mr. and Mrs. John Conyers of Hereford, was swimming in the lake with a companion, Glenn Williamson, 14, who lives a half mile west of the lake.

The boy, who reportedly could swim, was swimming with the aid of a tractor tire innertube. The accident occurred at about 1:30 p. m., and the body was recovered shortly after 5 p. m.

The lake was swollen as a result of recent rains, and the body was recovered in about 10 feet of water approximately 100 yards from the edge of the lake. Rescue units from Hereford, Amarillo and Friona assisted in the search for the victim.

The lake covered a narrow dirt road and hampered rescue units. Ten boats searched for the body about two hours.

The accident occurred on the Laurence Carlson farm. The Conyers boy was visiting the Williamson family. Parents of the drowning victim were visiting.

The body was recovered on the north side of the lake.

Burial was in West Park Cemetery, under the direction of Marcum - Scott Funeral Home of Hereford.

The youth would have been a ninth grade student at Stanton Junior High School here this fall.

He was born Aug. 11, 1944, in Ardmore, Okla. He came to Hereford with his parents in 1951, moving here from Bovina.

Survivors include the parents and two brothers, Billy and Freddy, all of the home, one mile west of Hereford; and his grandmother, Mrs. Birdie Conyers of Wilson, Okla.

The purpose of the number sense contests is to generate more interest in mathematics and the scholarships that can be obtained by the students if they do well, Garner explained. A $500 scholarship can be obtained by students who place in the contests.

"My main interest is promoting the scholarships, encouraging more students to take mathematics seriously and making them realize that math plays an important part in the modern world," Garner said.

Garner has been sponsoring students about seven years, and each year he works with about 12 to 20 students. In the last seven years, Hereford has won the District number sense contests five years, the Regional contest four years, and has had four that placed in the State contest.

In 1954 Richard Tucker placed first at state. On his test he only missed one problem, and he graduated with honors from college. Carroll Jones placed fifth in the 1956 State contest, Stanley Fuhrmann placed second in the 1959 State contest and Dudley Bayne placed fourth in the 1960 State contest.

Carroll Jones also graduated with honors from college. Stanley Fuhrmann took the advance standing exam at the University of Texas and was able to skip trigonometry and algebra, and he also was on the University honor roll, Garner said.

Garner explained that he is interested in trying to enter the contest. He would like to give a number sense test once a week in the high school math classes and then take the top students to Interscholastic League contests.

Garner, now living at 223 Ave. C, is from Turkey, Tex. His father is a country doctor there and is still practicing at 87. Garner received his Bachelor's degree from Texas Tech and his Master's degree from West Texas State.

If more than one-third of the voters oppose the quotas, there will be no quotas, or penalties for the 1961 wheat crop, and price support will be available at 50 per cent of parity, as directed by law. Allotments will remain in effect as a condition of price - support eligibility.

Collier said that all local growers who will produce more than 15 acres of wheat as grain in 1961, and their wives, will be eligible to cast ballots in the referendum.

Growers who will have smaller wheat acreages in 1961 and those who are taking part in the feed wheat program are not eligible to vote, since the wheat from such areas would not be subject to marketing penalties under a quota program.

Collier reminded farmers that those who vote in the referendum will be the ones who decide what kind of program will be in effect for the next wheat crop.

Official notices of farm allotments for the 1961 wheat crop were mailed to 1,231 wheat farmers in this county last Friday. This county received a 4,082 acre allotment reduction on next year's crop.

The county received a reduction of from 200,423 acres in 1960 to 196,341 acres in 1961. Texas received a 1.1 per cent cut, and this county received a reduction of two per cent.

School Slates Budget Session

Hereford Rural High School District trustees will hold a meeting July 26 to study budget for the 1960 - 61 school year.

Items of business for that meeting will include: setting tax rate for the coming school year, consideration of salaries for school principals and non-professional personnel and further discussion on a letter to trustees, signed by school cafeteria employees, requesting that salaries be raised to $40 a week.

Date for the budget study meeting was set Tuesday night by District trustees meeting in regular session.

Board financial secretary Fred Baird during the meeting announced that the tax roll must be started soon and that tax rate for the coming school year should be set in the near future. The current tax rate is $1.70 per $100 valuation.

Hired as a new teacher for Stanton Junior High School during the meeting was Mrs. Marie Ratcliff, who will teach English and Spanish I next school term. She taught in Hereford several years ago, and has also taught in Amarillo and Stinnett schools, according to school superintendent Paul Stevens.

Appointed to another year on the District's board of equalization were Charlie Noland, Sam Nunnally and Jim Bob Allison.

Trustees accepted a resignation submitted by Noal Clemmons, assistant principal at Shirley Elementary School, who will become a primary school principal at Post, and leaves of absence for Mr. and Mrs. Claude McDougal.

In other action, the trustees rejected a bid of $200 for a 1946 model school bus advertised for sale.

Former living quarters of the school superintendent at 807 E. Fourth St. will be advertised for sale, the trustees decided.

Bids on gasoline, milk and bread to be supplied to the school system next school year will be opened at the next regular meeting of the board, on Tuesday, Aug. 9.

School superintendent Stevens said applicants for high school and junior high band director are still being interviewed. The post was opened by the recent resignation of George Hill, who was band director at the two schools during the 1959 - 60 term.

A request for use of the high school football field for the annual Shrine Circus was granted by the trustees. The circus probably will be held sometime in September.

No further action was taken on a bid from McMorries and Company of Amarillo to do a property valuation study for the school district.

Stevens said all reports he has received on studies made by the company have been favorable. He announced that about 15 school districts in this area use studies made by the firm.

It was announced by Stevens that repairs on the Dawn School began last Friday by three male teachers in the school district. At the present time, the men are painting the interior and repairing windows. The exterior also will be repaired and painted, he added.

The trustees set the school superintendent's salary to begin on May 15 this year. Salary of former superintendent Fred Cunningham ended May 15, it was pointed out.

The letter was signed by Commissioners Otto L. Massie, J. T. Guinn, Chas. R. Sowell and R. Donald Hicks and by H. E. Henslee, County Judge.

Engineering estimate of the paving cost, as prepared by McMorries and Associates of Amarillo, is $15,236.96 from U. S. 385 west to the southeast corner of the school property. This includes $3,693.02 for curb and gutter, in which the county would not participate.

Estimated cost of paving on two sides of the school is $6,415.43. County would share in the cost of this, exclusive of the estimated $1,568.80 for curb and gutter.

Wayne Thomas and Henry Sears of Hereford appeared before the Commission Monday afternoon to request that the court again consider helping to get Moreman Street paved.

The court, referring to an oral proposal made some time ago, said it would be willing to make a written offer to participate in the paving program.

In other action, the court authorized purchase of $3,598.41 worth of shelving for the county library. This includes 100 three-foot shelves and 12 sections with wider shelves for magazines.

General Office Supply Company of Amarillo was awarded the contract.

In the only bid received, Armco Corporation bid $2,525 for a large culvert to be installed on a county road southeast of Hereford. The price was for the culvert only.

The court also voted to buy five $1000 road bonds issued by the county in 1949. They were offered by Dallas Union Security.

Bayne Talks To Optimists About City's Problems

Dudley Bayne, Hereford city manager, spoke to the Optimist Club Tuesday concerning the city and its problems.

"The main city problem now is financial," Bayne said. Water revenue is down due to rains, he explained.

The mosquito problem is slowly being solved with the repellent. This type of mosquito breeds without water in plants, Bayne said.

The city needs someone to operate the airport, he said. The airport needs a mechanic for the planes. There are 30 planes in the airport now.

There are about three greens under water on the golf course but there was no damage done, Bayne explained.

The community center is in a slump now. The teen agers are not using it probably because many are helping with the harvest, he said.

How Can I? By Anne Aubrey

Q. What can I do about a screen door that sags and is out of plumb with the door opening?

A. You can square this door with a turnbuckle, procurable at your hardware store. The top of the turnbuckle wire is attached to the hinge side of the door, and then the wire is stretched diagonally across the door, and the turnbuckle screwed until the door is brought back square.

Q. How can I discourage fleas on my dog?

A. Wash your canine in salt water or, if it is convenient, let him swim in the ocean. Keep salt around the crevices of the doghouse to discourage fleas.

Q. How can I remove chocolate stains from fabrics?

A. By applying a paste made of cold water and borax.

Q. What is a good way to iron a pair of men's unwashable trousers?

A. A good, safe way is to cover the trousers with newspaper and use your iron on top of that. In this way, there's no need to wait for the pants to dry because they haven't really been steamed. If the trousers are shiny, try using a pressing cloth that's been dipped in bluing water and wring out.

Q. How can I clean casseroles which have burn stains on them?

A. Soak these casseroles in a little baking soda and cold water to fill the dish. Let stand awhile, and then the stains will be easily removable.

Council, Commission Fight Alcoholism

(Editor's note: This is the first of six articles on the growing menace of alcoholism and steps being taken to combat it in Texas.)

The Texas Commission on Alcoholism is an official arm of State Government which, at the state level, deals with the nation's third most serious health problem.

Working hand in hand with the Commission is the Deaf Smith County Council on Alcoholism, which was organized more than a year ago to aid the state organization on the community level.

The Council is made up of 15 members, who recognize alcoholism as a treatable disease, a public health problem affecting the general welfare and economy of the community and as a state, national and community responsibility.

The State Commission includes six prominent Texas business and professional men, appointed by the Governor to work at the problem because each has reasons for being personally interested in alcoholism and its treatment and are especially well informed on the subject.

First off, the Commission points out alcoholism is an illness - a sickness - a disease. The American Medical Association flatly asserts that alcoholism is a "chronic illness."

There are approximately 5,000,000 alcoholics in this country - 200,000 in Texas. Each directly affects the health and welfare of four non-alcoholics, which means that 25,000,000 Americans - 1,000,000 Texans are victims.

In Deaf Smith County, there are approximately 500 alcoholics, the Council estimates. That means that about 2,500 are affected by alcoholism in this county.

Even if we've never set eyes on an alcoholic, it's still our problem because it is picking our pockets every day, the Texas Commission points out.

A nationally circulated magazine calls alcoholism "Industry's $1 Billion Hangover" - the amount drained off annually through alcoholism - caused absenteeism, inefficiency, slow-downs, accidents and loss of trained personnel. We, the consuming public, foot the bill. Alcoholism's grim accounting shows up in figures on crime, fire loss, traffic accidents, concomitant illnesses, and early deaths. We get the tab through higher insurance premiums. The disease takes an unhealthy bite from our tax dollar for care of its indigent, its institutionalized, its abandoned families.

Purpose of the local Council is to prevent broken homes and save human life by offering consultative and referral services of alcoholics, their families and employers, and carrying on an extensive educational program in the community.

The County Council emphasizes that it is neither "wet" nor "dry" in nature and is concerned solely with providing information and assistance about alcoholism, which is termed the third major health problem in the United States.

Much remains to be learned about this ancient malady which claimed Noah, the ark builder, among its illustrious early victims. Its causes are obscure, though evidence indicates that they are rooted in combination of physical and mental - emotional factors. We know that while about 70,000,000 Americans drink alcoholic beverages, only about one in 15 becomes an alcoholic. This seems to rule out alcohol as the cause, in itself, of the illness.

Loss of control is the most significant symptom and the one that separates the alcoholic from the heavy drinker. Control gives way to a pathological compulsion. Therefore, telling the alcoholic to heal himself by exerting will power is like telling a cancer victim to will away his tumor.

In the light of existing knowledge, complete abstinence is the alcoholic's only salvation. But this can be achieved only through appropriate and often complex treatment.

Alcoholism is not hereditary, but neither is it selective - striking high, low, rich, poor, dull, and brilliant with fine impartiality. Like an iceberg, alcoholism reveals only a small portion of its bulk to the casual observer in the form of so-called "skid row" alcoholics. The great mass of the problem - 85 to 90 per cent - lies beneath the surface, throughout our communities, among our apparently healthy co-workers and acquaintances, the guy next door. One in five or six alcoholics is a woman. Only 10 per cent of the alcoholics in this county represent the "skid row" type.

Charles A. Jowell Hold Rites For Charles Jowell

Funeral services for Charles A. (Sandy) Jowell, 48, 1141 Jefferson Drive in Abilene, were held July 2 at 3:30 p. m. in Elliott's Chapel of Memories. The Rev. C. R. LeMond, pastor of Elmwood West Methodist Church, officiated.

Mr. Jowell was the son of Mrs. Nona Jowell of Hereford and the late Mr. Charles W. Jowell. He was also a nephew of Roy Jowell of Hereford.

He died at 12:25 a. m. July 1 after an illness of several months. Mr. Jowell, a salesman for Morrison Supply Company for 25 years, had been hospitalized for 11 days.

He was born in Hereford on June 19, 1912. He was a member of the First Christian Church, a veteran of World War II and a member of the Elk's Club.

He attended Hereford High School and will be remembered as one of the football players in Coach McCullum's championship team of 1929.

He was married to Miss Alice Moore of Amarillo May 32, 1936. Survivors, other than Mrs. Jowell, his mother, and Roy Jowell, his uncle, are his wife; a son, Charles A. Jr., (Chuck); a daughter, Carolyn, all of the home; a brother, Jerry P. Jowell of Waynoka, Okla.; two sisters, Mrs. Ace D. Hoxper of Plainview, and Mrs. Robert K. Gentry of Clovis, N. M.

Burial was in Elmwood Memorial Park under direction of Elliott's Funeral Home.

Technically, the alcoholic is "incurable" in that there is no known way to restore him as a "social drinker." But he can achieve complete and lasting recovery through absolute abstinence.

During the past year, the local Council has presented programs for 800 - 1,000 residents in churches, clubs and schools. About 1,500 pieces of literature have been distributed to persons wanting to know about the problem of alcoholism.

Plans for the future include conducting an education program at the high school, and holding workshops on county level for teachers, ministers and law enforcement agencies.

Within the past two decades, The American Medical Association has formally designated alcoholism a disease, set up a special committee to deal with it.

Scientists initiated research projects to probe its mysteries, notably the Yale School for Alcohol Studies.

Church leaders have re-evaluated the religious approach to the problem, advocating fresh attitudes in various statements including one by the National Council of Churches.

The American Federation of Women's Clubs formally joined the ranks of those combatting alcoholism.

AFL-CIO urged its members to support local alcoholism abatement programs through their Community Services Committees.

Dedicated plain citizens banded together as the National Council on Alcoholism, launched a nation-wide program of education and service.

State governments realized they had a special stake in the fight against this serious public health menace, and in the last 15 years all but a handful have established agencies to deal with it. The Texas Commission on Alcoholism is one of these agencies.

Uniquely Texan, the Commission is embarked on a program of public enlightenment, prevention, treatment, and rehabilitation for our vast state. Subsequent articles will tell of its work and the people it is helping.

Basement Walls
If you wish to paint a basement wall that has been previously whitewashed, you will, of course, have to remove the whitewash. You can soften the lime in this with a solution of one muriatic acid and five parts water. Afterward, this should be brushed down with a stiff wire brush, followed by a hosing with clean water. Wear rubber gloves when working with muriatic acid, and be careful of splashing this on your clothes and your skin.

Beater Cleaner
A handy gadget for cleaning the blades of your electric or hand mixer is a small toothbrush kept in the kitchen. With it you can easily reach all those hard-to-get-at surfaces of the beaters in a short time.

Drip Coffee
Drip coffee is seldom hot enough to please most people. To prevent cooling place the pot on an asbestos plate over a low gas flame while the water is filtering through the coffee.

Work Camp Students Tell Of Experiences At Rotary

Mrs. Robert Story (Staff Photo)

The 12 students who are working with the migrant people and building a community center for the labor camp gave the program for the Rotary Club Monday.

It was explained by Mrs. Bob Story, one of the work camp sponsors, that the work camps started long ago in Europe and spread all over the world. Now they are working in co-operation with the World Council of Churches and the National Council of Churches.

All camps have three common characteristics. They are all located in a place of need, they represent different churches and different faiths, and they have people of different races, nationalities, cultures and backgrounds participating. Mrs. Story said.

After Mrs. Story introduced all the students, four gave their own ideas about why they had come to the work camp and what it has meant to them.

Mrs. Merle Oleson said the key to the meaning of the work camp was in the phrase, "We find ourselves by losing ourselves." By getting to know the people, finding out their problems, giving ourselves to help them meet their problems and making them feel wanted, we have found our goal and a meaning for being here.

Mary Jimenez said she knew that she would be building for and helping the migrant people, and she was very interested in the work.

"We become so involved in our own individual lives that we lose sight of the fact that there are so many people in the world that need help," Roberta Steger said.

She explained that through service there is a way to realize the needs of others.

In closing, David Baker explained that there is a problem in our own backyard that should not be backed away from but met by all pitching in and working. Bob Story closed the program by explaining more about the schedule for the camp and thanking the public for receiving them with kindness.

He said this was the first community in which they had been welcomed.

250 Progressive Residents Hold

The Progressive Reunion was held Saturday night in the Flame Room of the Pioneer Natural Gas Company. A large number of people gathered to visit and play 42.

Sunday about 10 a. m. the people gathered at the Hereford Community Center. Mr. and Mrs. David Boyer of Amarillo and Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Sheets of Texline were the hostesses.

A basket lunch served about 250 people. Cecil Boyer gave the invocation, and Howard Higgins was master of ceremonies. Millard Gregory lead the group in singing and the former "Gregory Quartet" consisting of Jake and Millard Gregory, Eunice and Cecil Boyer, sang "A Beautiful Life" and "On The Jericho Road."

A. S. Higgins gave a talk on Progressivism in the past years. The Edwards Quartet consisting of Norma Tomberlin, Pearl Bowman, Calvin Edwards and D. Y. Edwards sang "Farther Along" and "This Side Of Heaven."

A short business meeting was held in which it was decided to make the reunion an annual affair. Bill Bowman was elected president and Augustino Gregory was elected secretary.

OFF THE Shelf

By H. A. TUCK

One of several new English novels at the Deaf Smith County Library is Call Me Captain by Paul Stanton.

This is a delightful story, clever in plot and excellent in characterization.

Former Wing Commander Richard Saracen is confident when he applies to Atlantic Airways for appointment to a captaincy of one of their planes. But he is rather shaken when he finds that his impressive record of flying hours and aerial skill won't get him the left-hand seat.

But they almost promise he will be a captain within six months.

Elizabeth, his fiancée, is a living doll. A successful model who aspires to be an actress, she turns the head of every man. But she firmly declares she won't marry Dick until he is a captain.

Saracen dons his uniform as First Officer and is immediately met with the seniority list—those 18 names ahead of his, all waiting for the captain's chair. If that weren't enough, there are the captain's reports, any one of which could keep a First Officer out of the left seat permanently.

It would seem life wasn't worth living when he is stationed in Montreal, but he finds a lovely and loving stewardess in Canada.

And, of course, there are a number of appealing stewardesses en route to and from England.

The months turn into years and Elizabeth still will not break her vow to wed only when Dick becomes a Captain.

Only at the eleventh hour, possibly some minutes after that, does Dick succeed in satisfying his aerial soul.

As a scoundrel, Richard Saracen is delightful. He is selfish, egocentric and with a tendency to ignore the truth. He uses others and pulls some strange tricks out of his Atlantic Airways cap.

For a couple of gay, very humorous evenings, we recommend that you fly several hundred times across the Atlantic with Richard Saracen, the fly-boy who says Call Me Captain.

Abraham Lincoln was rather informal about writing his bank checks. In 1860 he wrote one signed "A. Lincoln." It was for $3 and was made payable to "Mr. Johns (a sick man)."

JULIE HARRIS SIGNED
NEW YORK (AP)—Julie Harris, who is appearing in Shakespeare productions in Canada this summer, will return to Broadway on Nov. 28 in the James Costigan play, "Little Moon of Alban."

The drama concerning the 1916-1921 troubles in Dublin will be Costigan's first Broadway play, and will be the first theater production of Mrs. Mil-dred Freed Alberg. Both Costigan and Mrs. Alberg have previously done television drama productions.

Miss Harris will play the role of a deeply religious girl.

Kin Hussein of Jordan pilots his own plane.

HUNDREDS OF SPECTATORS waited anxiously Sunday afternoon while boats were being launched to search for a drowning victim. A single, narrow dirt road leading to the lake hampered efforts to get the craft into the water. Searchers found the body of James Conyers, 15, about four hours after he drowned. (Staff Photo)

DAWN NEWS

More Than 11 Inches Of Rain Is Received

By MRS. CARL WIMBERLEY

Over 11 inches of rain fell in parts of the Dawn community the past week. Edgar Lemons, who lives in the northwest area, reported 11.30 inches. The amount decreased gradually to the southeast and only seven inches fell in the immediate vicinity of Dawn. No hail was reported.

The wheat that has not been harvested is reported to be dry enough to cut as soon as the ground permits. The rain was beneficial to the early milo but young feed was beginning to turn yellow due to large amounts of moisture. Some lakes which had water over the roads had gone down so the roads were passable, but rain this week has filled them even higher than before. A new road had been made in June around the lake on Highway 1062 by the Beznar farm. This week the new road and the cattle guards were submerged.

Rainfall for June as reported by Carl Wimberley was 9.86 inches, making a total for the year to July 1, 14.69 inches.

The Woman's Missionary Society will meet Thursday afternoon in the Dawn Baptist Church at 3 p. m. Officers for 1960 - 61 will be elected.

Ralph Atchley arrived home July 4 from National Guard Reserve Training at Fort Hood near Belton. Because he is attending school at West Texas State College this summer, Atchley was required to have only one week of training instead of the usual two weeks.

Linda and Peggy Jean Lemons recently participated in the 4 - H sewing course which was held in Hereford. Linda made a summer dress with jacket and Peggy Jean made a school dress for fall.

The Rev. and Mrs. Paul McClung and children of Taboka spent the night of the Fourth of July in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Lemons. The McClungs visited Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Beavers on Tuesday before returning home.

Mr. and Mrs. Zed Stewart left last week for their home in Oklahoma City, Okla. They have been in Dawn during the harvest. He assisted Pat Miller with combining.

Mr. and Mrs. Stewart went home by way of Pampa where they visited Mrs. Boyd Stewart and family.

Mr. and Mrs. Carroll Miller of Austin were guests over the recent holiday in the home of the H. H. Millers. Audni and Jon David Miller went home with the Carroll Millers for a visit.

The Millers enjoyed an outing at Palo Duro Canyon while in Dawn.

J. B. Caraway, Mrs. W. B. Caraway and Obed Caraway of Hereford, Mr. and Mrs. Iverson Leake of Canyon and Hartland Caraway of Stratford went to Ranger Tuesday. On Wednesday they attended funeral services for Mrs. Vallie Jones, who was a sister of Mrs. W. P. Caraway.

NEW 'GIRL CRAZY'!

NEW YORK (AP) - The George and Ira Gershwin musical "Girl Crazy" is reappearing around summer theaters with a new book written by Guy Bolton, who was co-author with John McGowan of the book in the original version which made its Broadway debut 30 years ago.

Bolton recalls it was the original of this musical in which Ethel Merman made her first appearance on Broadway.

Miss Merman had been a secretary until then. But her clarion voice singing "I Got Rhythm" and "Boys, What Love Has Done To Me," quickly won her Broadway stardom.

"Ethel had just turned 21," Bolton says. "And when she sang 'I Got Rhythm' on opening night, she held high C for 16 bars."

TURN OF THE TABLES

DELAFIELD, Wis. (AP) - For three years the all male Raconteurs Club sponsored an essay contest on the subject, "Why Men are Better Writers than Women." Each year a woman won first prize.

This year the club changed the subject to "Why Men are More Romantic than Women." At last a man won. He was Conrad Rinelli of Milwaukee. His wife, Victoria, however, placed third.

President James A. Garfield was a preacher in the Disciples of Christ Church.

Baize Pitchers No-Hitter In First Game; Warren Shuts Out The Tigers

S. D. Baize pitched a no-hit, no-run game as the White Sox blanked the Red Sox in the first game of a night at Pony League park. In the other contest, Lynn Warren shut out the Tigers 13 - 0 for the Indians.

In the Sox game, the Whites lost little time as they scored one run in the first on a double by Pete Encinas and singles by Ronnie Roberts and Joe Hernandez.

They added one more in the third on a single by Roberts, a dropped third strike and two walks.

In the fifth, the White Sox added four more on three hits. Higgins and Encinas got on by fielder's choice. Roberts singled, and Baize walked. Baize later scored on a single by Hernandez and walks given up to David Grubbs and Gayland Ward.

Baize gave up three walks while striking out ten. Danny Loevwald was tagged with the loss. He gave up six runs on nine hits while walking four and striking out two.

In the second game, Warren effectively handcuffed the Tigers as the Indians took advantage of eight hits. Warren gave up three hits, all singles.

The Indians marked up five runs in the first inning. Wayne Edwards opened with a double. Gary Stagner walked, Larry Minks doubled with two away, Gay Royal was hit by the pitcher, Billy Hill drew a walk and David Stevens singled.

In the third, the Tribe added six more runs on three hits. Minks walked and Royal was safe on a fielder's choice that failed to get Minks. Stevens walked, Stagner walked, Ronny Duncan singled and Gaylan Otis doubled.

Two more runs were added in the fourth when Hill doubled and Lynn Warren homered.

Warren struck out eight and walked just one. Loser was Frank Cain, the starter. He gave up eight runs of three hits, struck out four and walked five. Mike Ranspot came on in the third. He was charged with five runs on five hits, struck out none and walked none.

Announce Plans For Exhibition

Dallas — The Agriculture Show at the 1960 State Fair of Texas, Oct. 8 - 23, will have as its theme "better foods through the wise use of agricultural chemistry."

The central exhibit which will be the focal point of the Agriculture Building at the State Fair will show the different ways agricultural chemicals are used on modern farms and ranches.

It will show how chemicals are used as fertilizers to make plants more healthy; increase their yield, as fungicides to treat seeds and soil, as herbicides to kill weeds and other un-

Flocculent May Be Successful

College Station — Tests conducted recently on the High Plains indicate that a commercial flocculent, Separan AP-30, may prove successful for removing sediments from playa lake water used for groundwater recharge. Application of the flocculent reduced the amount of silt plus clay entering a recharge well in a 24-hour period by 49 per cent.

During the test, which consisted of a 24-hour recharge period, the flocculent was added at a constant rate of 0.7 ppm to the water at the inlet pipe in the lake. The irrigation pump was operated for one hour at the end of the recharge period. Samples were taken of the unflocculated water at the pipeline intake and of the flocculated water at the well inlet.

All samples were mixed for a minimum of 3 minutes, and no dispersant was added. The sediments in the flocculated samples were determined in only two categories: sand and silt plus clay.

There was an increase in sediments in the untreated water about 4 hours after the test was started. This sediment increase was caused by an increase in wind velocity. A correspondingly smaller increase in sediments occurred in the treated water. The smaller increase in the sediments in treated water indicates that the flocculent may be more efficient when used in water containing higher amounts of

AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS

Things Rather Quiet During 'Off Season'

By VERN SANFORD
AUSTIN, — Things are rather quiet around the State Capitol these days.

For one thing, it's the "off season," the hiatus that regularly occurs between state elections and the convening of a new Legislature.

For another, it's vacation time with a part of almost every agency staff off to forget it all for a time.

But mostly, for this week, the Austin lull stems from most people's suspenseful interest in the activity of Texas in Los Angeles. Gov. Price Daniel, vice-chairman of the Texas delegation to the National Democratic Convention, and numerous others have been away for several weeks working in behalf of Sen. Lyndon Johnson's nomination for the presidency.

Despite these distractions, state government goes on. Studies are under way on many subjects, on budgets, tax plans and other future legislation. It's important work, but quiet, during this digging and analyzing stage. It'll break into the news next fall as reports are made and trail balloons are run up on bills to be introduced in January.

Surest indication that state government is still on the job is that even now it's hard to find a parking place near the Capitol or the adjoining state office buildings.

During the summer a dozen or so parking slots by the Capitol's east entrance are set aside for tourists. As a rule, tourists don't keep them filled, and Capitol guards are regularly beset by the persuasiveness of local people who need a place "just for a minute."

Child adoption procedures, under Texas law are about as final as a thing can be — more so than marriage or divorce.

Texas Supreme Court underlined this in a recent decision that denied the right to change her mind to a mother who had given written permission for her children to be adopted.

In the case at issue, the mother, a widow, gave written permission for her two children to be adopted. Two months later, having remarried, she sought to regain the children.

Lower courts held in favor of the natural mother, but the Supreme Court ruled that only fraud could be a basis for revoking of adoption consent.

Said the court opinion of the adoption laws: "The Legislature had the safety, education, care and protection of the children uppermost in mind and not primarily the contentment or welfare of either the natural or adoptive parents."

In another ruling involving adoption, the Supreme Court held that an adopted child could not inherit a trust set up for a direct descendant.

As a result, a four-year-old boy lost the chance to claim $830,000.

In the case originating in Dallas, lower courts had upheld the child's claim to the money from his late grandfather's estate.

In his will, the grandfather had instructed that the $830,000 trust be set up if "any child of my son is born after my death."

High court ruled that this made it highly unlikely that the maker of the will intended the money to go to a child born to persons other than his son and daughter-in-law.

If Texas' truck licensing law had a loophole you could drive a truck through the State Su-

'Deaf' Smith Says

To: The Spirit of General Sam Houston
From: The Spirit of Erastus "Deaf" Smith
Subject: Scouting report on the activities of my Chamber of Commerce

Sam, the Hereford Harvest Festival has sure got a lot of people working and planning. This is the second in the series of this annual event, and plans get bigger each year. In case you hadn't heard, Sam, those dates are July 28 - 29 - 30; but, there are going to be several very big events before then.

The big Lions Club Carnival will open for business at the Bull Barn grounds on Monday, the 25th. That same night the Chamber of Commerce will honor the livestock industry with a special appreciation dinner at the Hotel Jim Hill. Hereford businessmen will be the hosts.

On Tuesday night the Jaycees are planning a big contest to pick a queen to reign over the Harvest Festival. Girls will appear at the high school auditorium for judging in bathing suits and in formal gowns. Bet the carnival has tough competition that night.

On Wednesday, because of church activities, no events have been planned, but Thursday, the official opening date will be a busy one. The Harvest Festival Queen will officially open the exhibits at 2 p. m. The Bull Barn will again be decorated and contain interesting displays of the products of Deaf Smith County. Forty booths have been sold. In addition to the commercial exhibits the 4-H Clubs, the Boy Scouts, The Heart Association, and possibly one or two other will have displays of their work.

Thursday night the big Hereford Riders Club sponsored Rodeo will open its three night

REP. WALTER ROGERS WRITES:

How Do We Get There?

To the people of the 18th District:

For a number of years now virtually all of our "best minds" have been telling us how vital are the good wishes of our uncommitted and neutralist neighbors in Asia and Africa. We have also been reading that either a thoroughly unpleasant fate or a diabolic trap awaits us in Cuba. And in the backwash of the summit flop and fiasco in Japan, the arguments over "personal diplomacy" and "U. S. prestige abroad" have become particularly intense.

All this discussion is, of course, justified. It is important. But I often wonder if perhaps we are tragically overestimating this importance, or at least looking at it in the wrong light.

First of all, we wonder incessantly about how "complex" the world is today. And indeed it is complex. But while this should spark our imaginations, it often serves merely as an excuse to further inaction.

Another of our favorites is the well-worn complaint about how crucial the decisions are today.

We seldom remember that man's decisions have always been "modern" and the armaments "dangerous." Again, this should step up our efforts and our tolerance, not paralyze our will.

For the fact remains that after all the study groups, college professors, and bureaucrats have planned and mapped, weighed and considered, it will still be up to the American people to determine the direction that is taken. I don't mean that a big election is going to settle our objectives once and for all, or that newspaper headlines will herald an inspiring national purpose. It's a lot less sensational than that.

The enduring decisions are made in divorce courts and hospitals, prisons and classrooms. And they are made in spite of, not because of, all the "complex" and "crucial" bogeymen that have been conjured up amid the clamor of a thousand spokesmen for various purposes and objectives.

This is, I think, healthy and as it should be. For I have long had a feeling that somewhere amid all the scrambling and scrambling something has been misplaced. In the past 20 years our interest and our concern have largely shifted to the outside world.

But in addition to enlarging our outlook, which was perhaps inevitable, too many of our professional spokesmen would have us measure ourselves and our behavior in terms of world-wide standards and viewpoints.

We have buried hopeless jingoism and blind isolationism, but I am not sure we want to replace them with a massive popularity contest in which our every action is to be judged by what others think of us. We cannot gain world friendship—which we are assured is so important — without first winning world respect. And I question the possibilities of achieving this with a pathetic, purposeless grasp for everyone's and anyone's good will.

America has been around for a good long while now. Certainly long enough to give virtually all nations an opportunity to look at our history and judge our intentions themselves. Naturally we would wish them to look upon us favorably, but obviously a number of them have not.

This is their decision to make, and all the evidence indicates that those opposed to our purposes, and our very existence are not going to be swayed by begging and pleading. Nor are we going to convince them of our good intentions with reason, and not even with threats.

This is certainly no reason to begin doubting ourselves, and it is not an excuse for inaction in a cause we believe to be right. Do we really wish to allow Cuba to disrupt a policy of more than 100 years standing because we are afraid of an international frown? Or do we seriously propose to allow the Soviet Union to continue its massive blackmail and propaganda activities merely because we don't wish to risk the disfavor of "uncommitted" nations? We certainly want to, and will, make every effort to achieve solutions. But we should never forget that our self respect and our heritage will always be the greatest weapons of all to combat conspiracies against liberty.

Former Resident Is Visitor Here

By ARGEN DRAPER
Extension Agent

Last week Mr. and Mrs. Jack Drye and son of Muleshoe were visiting here. Jack says that he has worked for R. E. A. for nine years. He formerly worked for the local Electric Co. - Op.

Also visiting en route to California to take a new job, which I understand is quite a promotion, are Mr. and Mrs. Bill Morgan. Mrs. Morgan is the former Mozelle Techik. Mozelle is prettier than ever.

Good luck to the Morgans. Irene Techik tells me that they will be twice as far from here as they were in Arkansas.

I see that bet sugar is half a cent a pound cheaper than cane. Evelyn Bell is looking for snap beans for canning.

A young woman who I am teaching to can asked me when a person got over being scared of a pressure cooker. I told her I hoped never, as fifteen pounds of pressure in a cooking utensil is too much to be comfortable around.

Mrs. Garland Smith, who lives 25 miles northwest of Hereford, came by the office. She is a pleasant person and you folks should get acquainted with her. They moved here from Swisher County and she was a member of the Lakeview Home Demonstration Club. Loreta Fowler and I judged the 4-H Dress Revue in Tulla Tuesday.

Not many times since 1942 have I wished for a special vacation. But it sure was hard to stay on the job during the L. A. entertainment.

Have you ever seen anything so interesting as the new hair

Program Is Expanded For Grain Market Development

The entire feed grain industry including corn producers, the grain seed industry, export firms and cooperative and independent grain dealers, it was announced last week, are mustering forces behind the foreign market development program which the Grain Sorghum Producers Association of Amarillo initiated and has been administering the past two years.

It is expected that this new and broader interest in financing and directing the export program will increase activities in this connection as much as five times over the present program.

The announcement relative to the expanded program was made after an area directors' meeting of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association in Tulla, July 6. The Board acted on the recommendation of R. G. Peeler, director of Hereford, and Bill Nelson of Amarillo, the Association's Executive Officer, who have been negotiating with the other grain interests the past several months.

Organizations joining with the Grain Sorghum Producers Association are the Hybrid Corn and Hybrid Sorghum Divisions of the American Seed Trade Association, Chicago, Illinois, the National Corn Growers Association, Boone, Iowa, The North American Export Association, New York City, Farmers Grain Dealers Association of Des Moines, Iowa, Continental Grain Company, New York City and Cargill Grain Corporation, Minneapolis, Minnesota.

All of these grain industry groups are combining forces for this effort through a newly formed organization which is to be known as the U. S. Feed Grains Council. The expanded

HEAR THESE WORDS

...from an old Guide Book. It says we are travelers on the way. And since we pass this way but once, we want good directions.

Through the centuries, long lines of tall, serious-thinking men have cried, "Which way shall I take?"

Well, here is a man who found it. Then, won't you hear the challenge? It says that ultimately men want the rewards of one who walks a straight and narrow path, but few there be that earn them. It speaks to all,

"Keep My Commandments,"

but few there be that keep them.

No one questions the brevity of this book's directions. Its commands come with all the authority of Heaven and earth, from God to man...

to you. Centuries of human experience declare its words to be true. Your own soul recognizes the importance of its teachings. Then why not accept its challenge? Make all this a personal matter.

Straighten up your life. Use religious ethics in your business dealings and start going to church to prove you mean it!

You In The Church
The Church Is You
 — form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs
 the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker, a daily bible reader and attend services regularly.

 preme Court has, in effect, halted the traffic.
 High court ruled that a motor freight line cannot register and pay license fees on its trucks in Texas and use Mississippi licenses on its trailers. Texas' fee for a truck trailer is $226, compared to $10 in Mississippi.
 High court ruled that if the truck line is resident in Texas, it must pay the Texas fee for the trailers, even if it pays in Mississippi, too. Result: $20,000 more taxes owed by the line in license fees to the State Highway Department.

On the heels of a U. S. Supreme Court decision that Texas owns its tidelands 10 1/2 mile out comes a ruling that the state also owns the right-of-way along public roads.
 Atty. Gen. Will Wilson ruled that the state, not the county, owns the road right-of-way and that the counties cannot lease the land for mineral development.

Whether the state should exercise its right and lease right-of-way lands for oil and gas exploration probably will not be decided until the Legislature sets a policy. Involved is some 1,200,000 acres of land on 228,000 miles of public roads, some of it across areas with oil-bearing strata.

State Board of Education took a jaundiced view of a proposal of state-supported driver education in public schools. Plea for driver education, one of the main planks in Governor Daniel's program for increased traffic safety, was presented by Brad Smith, director of the governor's Highway Safety Commission.
 Driver education in the schools is the only way to reduce the flow of uneducated drivers into the stream of traffic, Smith declared. A statewide driver training program has been the goal of the huge Texas Federation of Women's Clubs for some years.

Board members said they felt the matter did not properly belong in a school curriculum. They declined to make a recommendation to the Legislature.
 Board of Education decided to consider again in September the dilemma of school districts which stand to lose their state aid money under terms of a 1957 law governing school integration.

Under this law, districts which integrate without approval in a local election automatically lose state aid.
 Dallas and Houston schools are under federal court order to integrate this fall. Houston voters turned down integration. Dallas' election is set for Aug. 6.

State Education Commissioner J. W. Edgar said he had written Houston and Dallas school authorities telling them their state aid would have to be cut off if they integrated without a voter mandate.

Board discussed seeking an attorney general's opinion on the problem, probably in September after the Dallas election.

Safety Week Is Set By Council

Safety should be practiced every day of the year; for special emphasis, and to "dust off" our thinking, the week of July 24 - 30 has been set aside as Farm and Ranch Safety Week.
 Texas is in the top ten states for the number of farm and ranch accidental deaths caused by drownings, fire arms, burns and electricity. This is one occasion when being in the "Top Ten" is not good, it has been announced by the Texas Farm and Ranch Safety Council.

The rate of accidental deaths from work and recreational activities on farms is increasing slightly each year. This is in no way necessary. Recognize and correct hazards. Excessive haste, unsafe equipment, improper care and use of equipment, lack of knowledge and improper attitudes are all human failures and can be corrected. Impatience, anger, false confidence and thoughtlessness are out, they are killers.
 The Texas Farm and Ranch Council cooperates with the Texas Safety Association and the National Safety Council. They seek the cooperation of all rural families, ministers, service organizations and all other groups and individuals anxious to stop accidents.

 sediments. The total silt plus clay-flocculated from the water that entered the well, using Separan AP-30, was 1,576 pounds, or 49 per cent of the total sediments in the water.
 Results from this test indicate that, under more favorable conditions, Separan AP-30 may prove to be a successful flocculent for removing sediments from playa lake water used for tests are planned for the future in which conditions will be varied to determine if more efficient results can be obtained.
 These studies were conducted cooperatively by the Texas Agricultural Experiment Station and the Soil and Water Conservation Research Division of the USDA.

Program...

Council program is to remain under the administrative direction of Bill Nelson, who is to serve as the Executive Director.

It is expected that this Council approach will provide for an increase in the exchange of county agents and other agricultural leaders in potential U. S. grain market areas, as well as allow for the bringing of an increased number of foreign feed grain users and processors to the area to study grain sorghum and other feed grains, and provide greater understanding of our grades, standards and trading practices.

In addition to Frank Moore of Plainview, Elbert Harp of Abernathy, R. G. Peeler of Hereford and Sam Gilbreath of Dimmitt, who will represent the Grain Sorghum Producers Association on the Council's Board of Directors, other officers are: Walter Goppinger of National Corn Growers Association, Boone, Iowa, Nelson Urban, Pioneer Hi-Bred Corn Company, Des Moines, Iowa, Fred Maywald, Farmers Grain Dealers Association of Des Moines, Iowa, Bill Pierce of Cargill Grain Corporation, Minneapolis, Minnesota.

Other business at the Grain Sorghum Producers Association meeting in Tulsa included a report from Charles C. Gidney, Jr., from Rome, Italy, who is administering European feed grain market development projects. He is encouraged at the potential for expanding grain sorghum and other U. S. feed grain exports to the European area if continued efforts are made toward removing or lessening trade barriers, import duties and licensing restrictions. He further praised the work of area county agents and other agricultural leaders who have served as consultants from this area at the agricultural trade fairs and other education programs throughout Europe.

Martin Gossett, Moore County Agent from Dumas, reported on the expanded efforts of grain sorghum producers in his county in attempting to interest livestock feeders in establishing feed-lot operations in their area. He pointed out that the first result of this effort will be seen with the opening in August of at least one big feed-lot now under construction.

The exhibit to explain why agricultural chemicals are essential to the mass production of wholesome, flavorful, healthful and tasty foods in today's world. The specialized training required of farmers and ranchers in order to use such chemicals properly and wisely will be illustrated in the State Fair show.

In addition, district exhibits for all sections of Texas ranging from the Panhandle to the Rio Grande Valley will feature the crops and by-products that are raised in each region.

Crops and products that will be featured include wheat, soybeans, sesame and castor beans, grain sorghum, milk, livestock, cotton, wool and mohair, corn and oats, forestry, guar, peanuts, flax and broom corn, rice, citrus fruit and vegetables.

chips or potato chips

1 can tuna
 1/2 cup sliced celery
 1/2 cup chilled canned peas
 Mix mayonnaise with pickle juice. Combine with pickle; tuna, broken up; celery and peas. Toss. Just before serving, add crushed chips and toss. Use diced beef or pork or combination; Salmon; Chicken or Turkey. If you use home canned peas remember to boil them in an open pan for fifteen minutes. I would suggest using cooked salad dressing. Shred lettuce thin and place salad on lettuce bed.

FLAMING PEAR SALAD
 Place pear on lettuce leaf seed side up. Put cherry in seed hole. Add 1/2 to 1 teaspoon brandy extract or other mild flavored extract, that will burn, over cherry. Just before serving, light the extract with a match. Have salad dressing in separate dish and pass after the extract has quit burning.

Fruit salads are served with French dressing. Very tasty dressings can be easily made. Make a dressing at club or have it made before hand. There are a lot of recipes; the following makes 1/2 cup dressing.

DRESSING FOR FRUIT SALAD
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 teaspoon sugar
 Dash pepper
 Dash paprika
 1/3 cup salad oil
 2 tablespoons vinegar
 2 teaspoons honey
 2 teaspoons lemon juice
 1/4 teaspoon grated lemon rind
 The fruit must be dry for the extract to burn properly. If you have, trouble getting the salad to flame sprinkle a little granulated sugar (beet, of course) over the fruit.

SOUR CREAM SALAD DRESSING

1 cup sour cream
 1 egg slightly beaten
 1/2 cup vinegar
 2 teaspoons salt
 2 teaspoons sugar
 1 teaspoon mustard
 1/8 teaspoon pepper

Add the egg to the cream and mix well. Mix the dry ingredients thoroughly, and stir into the above mixture. Cook in a double boiler, stirring constantly until mixture thickens.

There is a very good leaflet in the office Let's Prepare and Eat Vegetable Salads. This is written especially for 4-H girls, but it has a lot of good suggestions and will help you in your meal preparation.

CINCINNATI — The Milwaukee Braves, favorites to win the National League pennant back in March, played 35 games before Manager Charlie Dressen could start his regular lineup. In the 36th game, left fielder Wes Covington, second baseman Red Schoendienst and first baseman Joe Adcock were in the starting lineup for the first time this season.

Injuries and ailments had them out at various times. The Braves beat the Reds 5-1 behind Lew Burdette.

Alston Gives New View Of Season's Key Play

By FRANK ECK

VERO BEACH, Fla. — Was Daryl Spencer the goat — or was Joe Pignatano the hero?

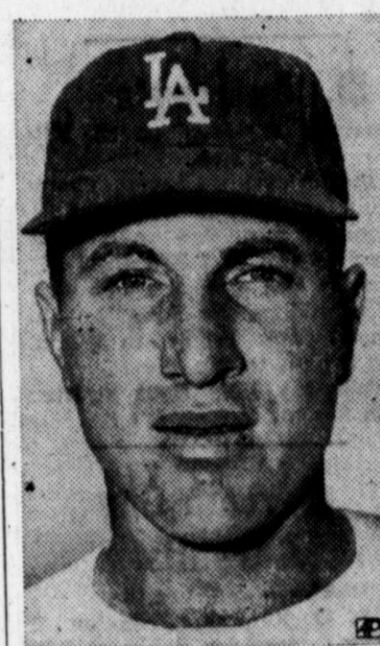

Most of the people who have tried to explain that crucial play at second base in a late season Giant - Dodger game last year are inclined to put the horns on Spencer.

But Dodger Manager Walt Alston has a different idea.

"The Giants were leading 1-0 and we had the bases loaded," Alston recalls. "Chuck Essegian hit the ball to Jim Davenport at third base. It was hard enough for a double play which would have gotten the Giants out of the inning."

"But Pignatano had a big lead off first and, just as Johnny Antonelli made his pitch, Joe took off for second. He arrived there at the same time as the ball."

"The way Pignatano went into second base kept us alive. It was a perfect 'take out' play."

JOE PIGNATANO
 Running Star?

Spencer was charged with the error and we went on to score four runs and wrap up the game.

"It was a big break for us. I like to look back on Pignatano's heady base running as our turning point. There were only eight days left and we were two games behind. Had we lost one game the Giants or Milwaukee would have won the pennant."

Last December, Giant owner Horace Stoneham, explaining why the Giants petered out in the stretch, told this writer: "Our second baseman dropped a ball on an important play and we never recovered."

But the way Alston saw it the running of Pignatano was an offensive gesture that made defensive play all but impossible.

Pignatano is No. 2 catcher on the Dodgers — a long No. 2 behind John Roseboro, since the latter's hot catching streak in the World Series.

says Joe, "for the number of chances I got."

In Walt Alston's eyes Pignatano couldn't have done much better.

He says he will always remember Joe's base running in a series in which the Giants pennant hopes exploded.

The play changed at least two baseball lives, too.

First chance they got, the Giants shuffled Spencer off to the St. Louis Cardinals, a top favorite to finish in second division.

He was traded for Don Blasingame, a spark plug in any infield who could help the Giants to their first National League pennant in San Francisco.

SEE Texas FIRST

More and more people are enjoying the fine sport and the great fun of fishing in Texas... and savoring their delicious catches at their dinner tables.

Texas' gulf coast is a fabulous "dream come true" for anglers. Many return home with ice chests full of such tasty salt water fish as speckled trout, red snapper, flounder, and many, many others.

The big ones are there too! Fact of the matter is the world's record catch in a giant sea bass was made in Galveston Bay. It weighed a mighty 551 pounds.

Everyone, young and old, has read about "Old Rip." He has traveled as a dignitary all over the USA and even visited Pres. Calvin Coolidge in the White House. (Which, incidentally, is pretty good for a little old "Horny Toad.") vides the best avenues to get there.

Texas has more private roads than any state in the Union. Today there are 1,591 miles of superb divided concrete highways. The total will reach 2,700 by 1975.

Truly, there's more to see in Texas — and you can see it better.

Stone houses over 500 years old in Texas?

Yep, in our Texas panhandle. Nope they don't build 'em like they used to any more.

Texas Revolution and the final battle where General Sam Houston and his valiant Texas Army, thundering "Remember the Alamo," defeated the Mexican Army of Santa Anna?

Today, this San Jacinto Battleground, just east of Houston, is a beautiful sight to behold.

On this "Battleground of Victory" there now stands the world's tallest stone monument. You can take an elevator up the 570-foot massive, air-conditioned, giant edifice and survey the entire battlefield.

Scenic, quaint, metropolitan, recreational capitol, year 'round weather — these words, true as they are, — just don't describe San Antonio adequately.

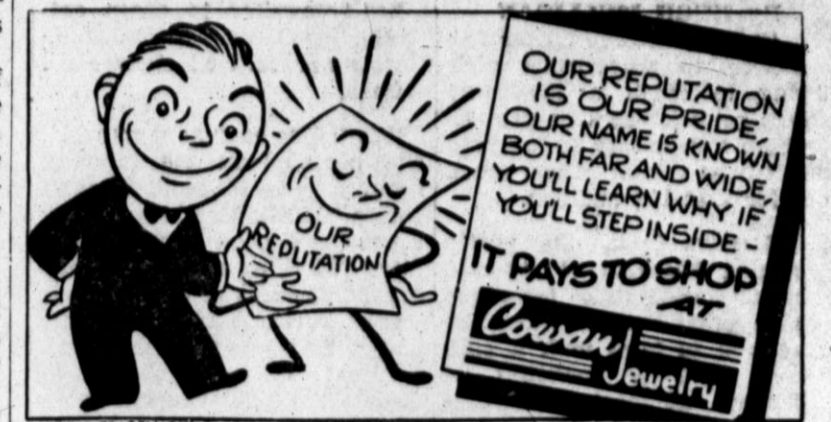

This historic city has a little of everything.

It's the home of the Alamo and has many old and famous missions.

It's America's Venice, too. You can glide down the San Antonio River that meanders through the city. Your gondola or cycleboat will take you along the same river banks where a quiet Indian village once stood. You'll see beautiful semi-tropical plants and flowers. You can stop off at a sidewalk cafe for an adventure in exotic foods, too.

Better than a long stay in San Antonio. There's so much to see that you'll never want to leave.

ALL IN VAIN
KNOXVILLE, Tenn. — Casting a quick, slightly guilty glance around the lobby of a Knoxville hospital, a woman visitor produced a pair of scissors from her purse and proceeded to snip slips from the luxuriant plants.

Then, she carefully wrapped the greenery in paper moistened at a drinking fountain and hurried outside — apparently to transplant the pretty — and artificial — growth.

What made Old Rip famous? This little horned frog slept for 31 years in a dehydrated state in a little tin box in the cornerstone of the courthouse in Eastland, Texas. You can see him today in his plush casket at the Eastland Courthouse and read his fabulous story again.

In the days of the old west, you were a big man if you were quick on the draw with your Colt single — six. Men died with their boots on and were buried the same way at the famous Boothill Cemetery in Tascosa, Texas.

To relive the old west, visit Tascosa, some 25 miles northwest of Amarillo and present site of Cal Farley's Boys Ranch.

An old railroad touring car belonging to Jay Gould, the railroad magnate, now stands as a museum in Jefferson, Tex. in the northeast corner of the state.

When the town council refused him a right-of-way for his railroad through the city, in the mid-1900's, Gould noted in the hotel register, "This is the end of Jefferson."

But Jefferson still stands, and so does the railroad car! Northeast of Crowell, Texas, at the cradle of the Panhandle, is the Pease River Battlefield. I

Beauty At Home

By LYNN CARTER

Q. My pet grievance is the ever-persistent hangnail. How can I avoid this?

A. By making a habit every night, before retiring, of massaging around each nail with a bit of cuticle pomade or oil. By keeping the cuticle soft, you will discourage that "pet grievance" of yours.

Q. What can I do about a cotton stain on one of my good cotton dresses?

A. If the scorch is a light one, and not deeply burned into the fabric, you might be able to do some good with the following: Wet the spot with water, cover it with a thick paste of laundry starch, and, after this dries, sponge off with peroxide, iron the article, and place in the sun for a few hours.

Q. Can you suggest a household treatment for removing blackheads from the skin?

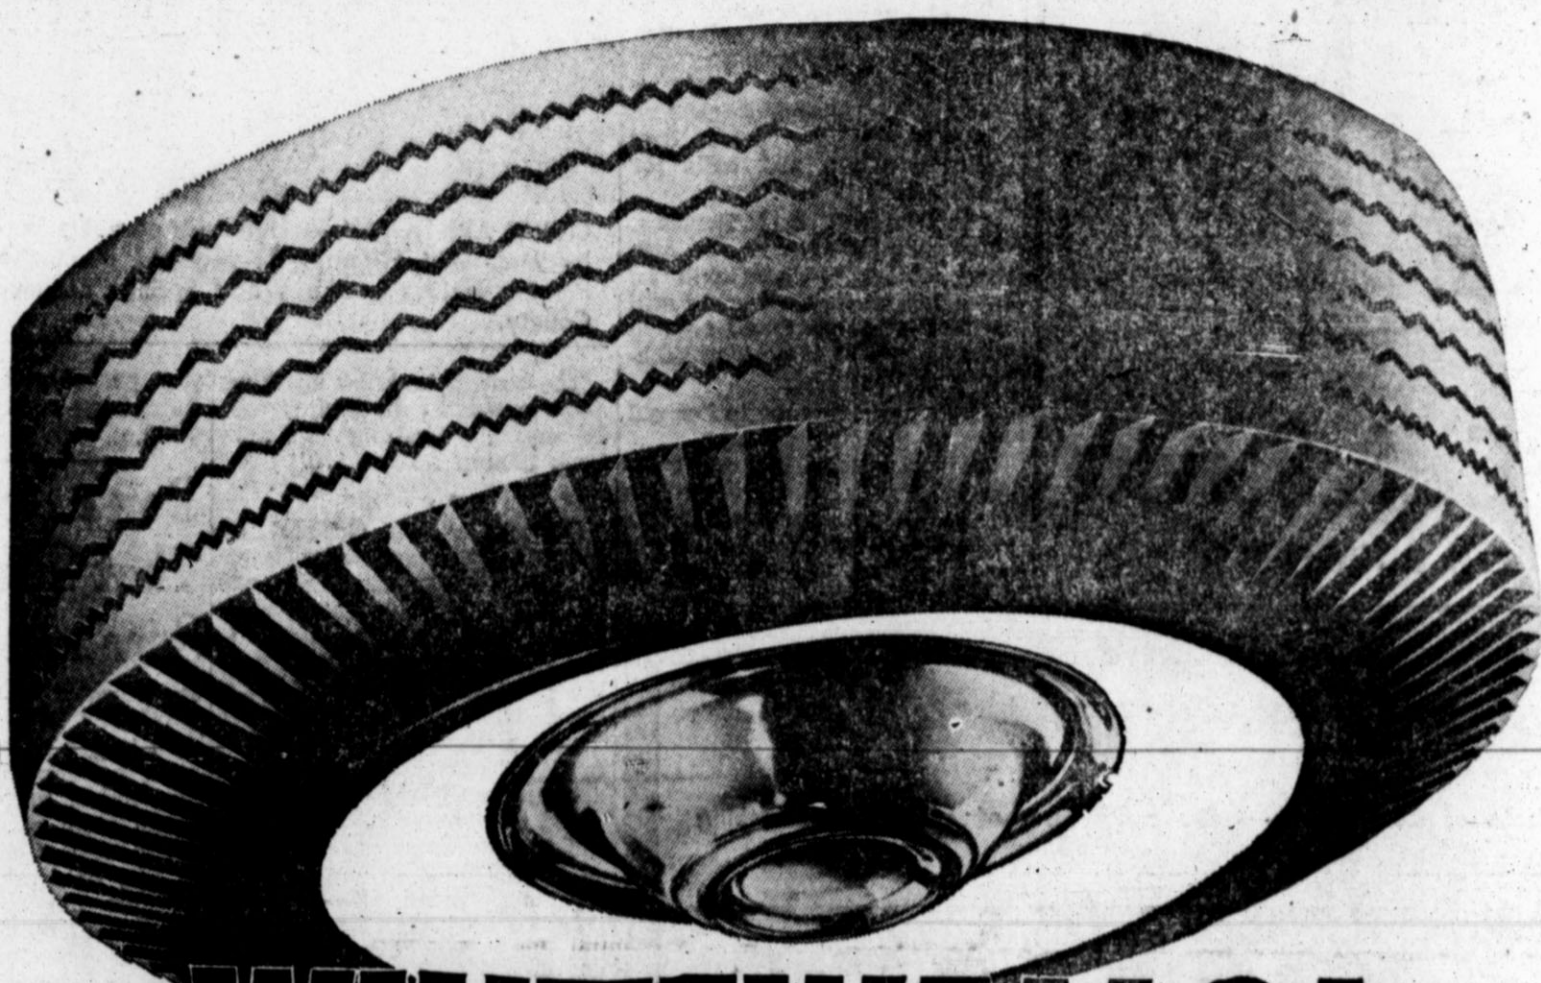

A. Here's one good treatment: Apply some slightly moistened cereal grains (oatmeal, for instance) to the infested areas. Then, after letting these grains dry on the skin, rub them off with a coarse towel. The friction or abrasive action helps to dislodge the blackheads.

Q. Should water always be used for moistening the mascara?

A. This usually makes for easier application. If, however, you should happen to use too much water and your lashes stick together, before they are fully dry, take a small dry brush and separate them. See that your mascara brush is washed clean after every using!

Playing Hookey Pays Off For Barbara Cook

By HUGH MULLIGAN
Newsfeatures Writer
Advice to stagestruck girls trying to crash a Broadway show: get a job as a typist rather than a secretary so the boss won't miss you when you sneak out for that big audition.

her typewriter to camp outside producers' doors and wait her turn at show auditions.

"It's not as easy as it sounds," she confided in the dressing room of the Majestic Theater where "Music Man" has settled down for a good hunk of eternity. "Most agents and directors won't see you at all unless you're known, and at auditions you just have to wait your turn. "Most show auditions are held during the day. Unfortunately, most offices also are operating during the day. If I was a secretary, the boss would have missed me the minute he called for a letter.

"But I was in the typist pool and nobody ever really knew where I was. The other girls were very sympathetic. They knew I was trying for a stage career and helped to cover up."

Did the boss ever find out? "I think he may have suspected," said Barbara with a melting smile that would have driven any boss to type his own letters. "They were all very nice. Let's just say I managed to be gone without being missed."

When the break came it took Barbara not to Broadway but to Boston for a sole engagement in a big supperclub, this in turn led to an appearance at New York's "Blue Angel." There she caught the attention of a producer, starred in a flop called "Flahooley," toured with "Oklahoma!" and "Carousel," was a smash in "Plain and Fancy" and "Candide" and finally hit the top in "Music Man."

Has the boss been around looking for tickets? Barbara parried the question by talking about her budding career as a record album star. In addition to Capitol's cast album of "Music Man," she has scored a big hit in Urania's "Songs of Perfect Propriety," a collection of Dorothy Parker's wry and ironic poems set to music by composer Seymour Barab. The combination is a Urania best selling album and calls for another.

"This time," said Barbara, "I'm allowed to pick my own songs. Most of them will be from hit shows, but some will be just old songs that I happen to love, like "I Get Along Without You Very Well."

Is that a reference to her old boss at the oil company? Barbara insisted that she looked back with pleasure on her old career as a white collar girl with one eye on the typewriter and the other on the casting notices in Variety.

QUILTS ARE HOBBY — Hundreds of quilts have been made by Mrs. Will Pittman, 81-year-old mother of nine. Mrs. Pittman resides in the Wood Springs community of Smith County. (AP Photo)

The boss, if he knew anything about personnel matters, should be eagerly awaiting the new Cook album. So are we.

Capitol's "Judy Garland at the Grove" serves warning on Garland fans to save their old records. The new album, despite strong backing by the Freddie Martin orchestra, hints that the girl who has made more comebacks than a playground swing is not the girl that we used to know. The throb and sob are still in the voice, the mood is plaintive as ever, even most of the songs are the same — "Over the Rainbow," "Trolley Song," "Swanee" — but the voice is no longer the voice of the great Judy Garland. Even the buckets of applause that swash around every number seem to be but an echo of yesterday.

Miss Patti Page, on the other hand, may have lost her television show but the voice is still clear and true. Witness Mercury's new album, "I've Heard that Song Before," as indeed you probably have, but with Patti Page singing it, you don't mind.

Don't Neglect That Simple Speck In Eye

By Dorothy V. Whipple, M. D.
THERE IS hardly a person who hasn't at one time or another got something in his eye. The tiniest little speck can cause a lot of discomfort. For the most part nature takes care of bits of foreign matter that fly into the eye. Tears wash out the offending substance.

But when it doesn't wash out by itself we must do something about it. Specks which remain in the eye can cause serious trouble. Simple home remedies will work in many cases.

The first which almost everyone knows is to take hold of the eyelashes, pull the lid away from the eye and downward. This gives the tears a better chance to wash out the speck.

If this doesn't work, try an eye cup, which every home medicine cabinet and every first aid kit should have. It amazes me how few people know how to use this important first aid device.

Wash the eye cup before you use it. Fill the cup with plain clear water. It's a good idea to boil and cool the water first. The child tips his head down, opens his eye, applies the filled eye cup to the eye socket, tips the head back and blinks several times into the cup. If the first washing doesn't remove the speck the procedure can be repeated several times. Often this simple procedure will clear the eye.

If the eye still hurts after ample washing we must do more. For many people this is the time you should go to the doctor. However, if your child is cooperative and you are skilled you can take the next step yourself. This is to turn back the lid and remove the speck with a swab.

Locate the speck first. Have the child follow your finger with his eye as you move your finger in an arc in front of his eyes. When the eyeball goes over the speck it will hurt and the child can tell you where the hurt is. Have the child look down and keep on looking down.

Take hold of the eyelashes, pull the lid down, then turn it back over a matchstick and you have laid horizontally across the lid. Look on the under side of the upper lid with a good strong light and if you see a speck remove it with a cotton swab moistened with sterile water.

If the pain stops you have been successful.

However, if after all these procedures the child still complains you must go to the doctor. Don't ever try to remove a speck from the eyeball yourself. This is a doctor's job. In unskilled hands a real damage to the eye can be done.

Time counts in getting a speck out of the eye. Don't just hope it will be better the next day. A speck which has stood through all the above procedures isn't just going to Jump out all by itself. If there should happen to be some germs in that speck they will have a good chance to grow if they stay in the eye overnight.

If it happens to be evening or Sunday afternoon or some time when you hate to bother your doctor take your child to the emergency room of the local hospital. If there should be an Eye and Ear Hospital in your neighborhood that's the ideal place to go. But the doctor's in almost any hospital emergency room will help you. Of course if there is no hospital, call your doctor regardless of hour.

MAN OF MANY VOICES
HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Herschel Bernardi is an actor of many talents — and voices.

Bernardi is Lt. Jacoby in the "Peter Gunn" television series at $750 a week or thereabouts. But it's his sideline of supplying voices for commercials that really keeps the money flowing in.

He's heard in varying pitches and dialects, extolling products from perfume to gasoline.

"I could make more money if I'd forget about acting and do commercials full time," he says. He admits he'd be rich but completely anonymous.

FAMILY PUTS 2,000 MILES A MONTH ON CORVAIR THINKS IT'S MARVELOUS GAS MILEAGE "OUT OF THIS WORLD"

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Kahelin of Plant City, Florida, couldn't be happier with the way their new Corvair has worked out as a combination family and business car. On their newspaper distribution route alone they travel more than 400 miles a week over all kinds of roads. Little wonder they're so pleased with the gas mileage they've been getting — "at least twenty-three miles to the gallon with an automatic transmission . . . and we've had no trouble with our Corvair." The Kahelins have equally good things to say about Corvair's easy-going comfort and unique convenience features. They especially like the way the fold-down seat doubles as a built-in baby sitter.
