

Art Recalls Tempest

BY J. W. DAVIS

Three priceless paintings, serene in their magnificence, are stirring to life the memory of one of America's most tempestuous times.

Newly hung by the National Gallery of Art, which welcomed them as exceptionally important, the pictures are a gift to the American people in memory of Alvan T. Fuller (1878-1958).

And who, the younger generation may ask, was Alvan T. Fuller?

GAINSBOROUGH'S MASTER JOHN HEATHCOTE Reminiscent of 'Blue Boy'

For one thing, he was one of the most interesting and controversial public men of this century. He was a Boston millionaire auto dealer who got his start selling bicycles.

He is best remembered as the unyielding governor of Massachusetts at the time of the still debated Sacco-Vanzetti trial and executions of the 1920's.

When Fuller died, President John F. Kennedy, then a senator, joined in the eulogies with a statement saying, "Massachusetts has lost one of its most able public servants."

Another prominent man who remembers Fuller is Supreme Court Justice Felix Frankfurter, but Frankfurter was not one of the eulogists. In fact, in a book published last year, the Justice scorned Fuller as a "crude, illiterate, self-confident, purse-proud creature."

was prominently mentioned as a possible Republican vice presidential nominee in 1928 and 1932.

The paintings which honor Fuller are three from the golden age of British art:—The Dogana and Santa Maria Della Salute, Venice, by Joseph Mallord William Turner, a view of Venice from the entrance to the Grand Canal, a glow with gold and red reflections.

—Master John Heathcote, by Thomas Gainsborough, a portrait rated by the National Gallery as "one of the most winning renditions of childhood ever created."

—John Musters, by Sir Joshua Reynolds, a portrait of a gentleman huntsman, set in an open field with a great expanse of sky.

The gallery won't say what the paintings are worth, in dollars. However, it comes in its that the picture of the Heathcote child is "reminiscent in its appeal of Gainsborough's Blue Boy." And Lord Duveen sold it to Henry E. Huntington 40 years ago for the Huntington library in California.

There's another unusual memorial left behind by Fuller: a batch of uncashed paychecks, totaling $80,646.94, which he received as salaries in his terms as congressman, lieutenant governor and governor.

"Across the backs of the checks he had written: 'Cancelled and left to my sons as a souvenir of my public service.'" der to take care of the immediate family of the senior. That is done in many places now. Or move graduation to the football stadium and hope it doesn't rain.

Our younger son fell on his head After tumbling off a pick-up bed. A tough lesson, but he finally did meet Something harder than his head... concrete!

Another group that is young in spirit, if not in years, will be out in force Wednesday for the Pioneer Day meeting. They certainly aren't a gloomy lot. In fact, you probably find more cheerful optimists in the group than in the average bunch of coffee-drinkers on Main Street.

The auditorium was packed again Friday night for graduation. It looks like the school might have to start a quota system of reserved seats: so many seats per graduate, in order.

pre-school age classes this year have been cancelled due to the fact that the results of the classes did not justify the number of volunteers required to oversee this group.

He further explained that the same number of volunteers will now be able to concentrate their efforts in other children's classes, which will result in maintaining the high standards required.

All classes, Dr. Cavness said, will be limited to 12 students per class.

The car driven by Dungan, the investigating officer said, hit the right rear fender of Flesher's vehicle. Both automobiles were headed east on Highway 60 at the time of the accident, Patrolman Skinner said.

Flesher was taken to Hereford Clinic for treatment by Gilliland ambulance of Hereford.

Damage to Dungan's car was estimated at $500, and to Flesher's car, $600.

TWO PERSONS WERE INJURED in a car-truck collision at Summerfield about 5:05 p. m. Friday. Mrs. Roberteen Dugan, 50, of Clovis, N. M. was admitted to Deaf Smith County Hospital and was listed in "good" condition Saturday morning. Her husband, Kenneth James Dugan, 50, was treated and released. Their teen-age son was not hurt. Highway Patrolman Charles Skinner said the accident occurred as the Dugan's 1956 sedan collided with a 1955 trailer-truck which was turning left. Jessie Curtis Wyatt, 30, of Abilene was driving the truck. Both vehicles were travelling east of U. S. 60. Skinner said there was about $800 damage to the car and about $100 to the truck. ## Household Scrapbook

By Roberta Lee
HIGH-UP STORAGE
 When a house is very small and storage space is at a premium, out-of-the-way storage units for articles that are used only occasionally can be installed high on the walls. Build cupboards of plywood 24 inches long and about 12 inches wide, and fasten them to the walls above doors and windows. Cupboards can be left open as shelves or closed with doors 15 inches wide. Store only the articles not frequently needed. Everyday storage should be more accessible.
PREVENT TARNISH
 Does it annoy you to have the metal parts of a handbag or travel luggage tarnish? You can avoid this just by covering those metal parts with shellac.
EASIER CLEANING
 You can protect your precious hands and do a better job of dry-cleaning your own dainties if you'll use a wire potato masher as a plunger through the cloth. Or, buy a special little cleaning machine equipped with its own no-hands plunger.
TABLE TENNIS BALLS
 Dented table tennis balls or pingpong balls can be renovated if you pour some boiling water over them. The heat of the water expands the air inside the balls, and the dents disappear.
ENAMEL ON ENAMEL
 When applying enamel over enamel, you can prevent its running by adding a little cornstarch to it.
HEAT-SEALING
 Cellophane or ployfilm wrappings may be heat-sealed with a warm hand iron, curling iron, or specially made electric heat sealer. Don't apply the heating tool directly to the ployfilm, but iron through cellophane so the ployfilm won't melt or stick to your iron.
CAKES AND COOKIES
 When baking cakes or cookies, in which honey is used as the sweetening ingredient, be sure to use a rather moderate temperature, as they will burn if the oven is too hot!
SOILED LEATHER
 Strong ammonia water is good for cleaning leather. Moisten a cloth with this, then rub the soiled leather until it is clean.

 In the newspaper business you soon learn to take most of the stories you hear with a grain of salt, but J. H. Early tells one about Dr. Roy Grubbs which, true or false, is worth repeating.

Roy has long been an admirer of Woody Wilson's haircuts, according to Early, who says that the doctor walked into a barber shop this week and said: "Gimme a haircut like the mayor wears!"

Roy, it seems, had completely forgotten about the recent election — and the fact that Wilson has been succeeded by Ray Cowers. I haven't seen Roy, but if the barber followed instructions literally, he no doubt now has a head of bare skin which glistens and shines with fluorescent brilliance.

Chicken is one thing I really like and after looking at the grocery ads for Thursday and today, I am really glad, because I already know that I would be eating chicken next week whether I liked it or not.

Several people have mentioned the tremendous improvement in appearance of the post office grounds since they trimmed up the plants and hedges.

Ph. EM 4-0544

I was talking with Louis Hagar, custodian, and he says that the pruning orders came as a result of a visit this week by post office inspectors. He also pointed out that not one leaf or twig can be removed without explicit permission from the department — unless the shrub or tree happens to be dead.

This is one red tape development I really like. I wish I could get things set up in this manner around the house. If we had to get permission from President Kennedy before I mowed the lawn, I would at least have a good alibi to give my wife.

John C. Hicks this week announces purchase of Blanton Butane, effective June 1. John has been with the organization for around 12 years, and plans several changes for the new firm, which will be known as "Hicks Oil and Gas, Inc."; the improvements include moving the office out to the plant tanks, east of town on U. S. 60. Lyle Blanton, who established the firm back in 1939, plans to continue making his home in Hereford — and will retain and operate the sulphuric acid division. For the time being, at least, he will office the present location with Hicks. Hereford is the only place in the world, according to Mr. and Mrs. Blanton "that will ever seem like home."

The striking thing I notice around town these days is the number of strangers who are roaming the streets. Dennis Lomas and I were talking about this Friday and Dennis said: "At least, I hope they are strangers, otherwise there are a heck of a lot of citizens I do not know."

It is surprising to me how many 1961 graduates plan to attend technical and trade school. In visiting with six graduates, three of them have indicated that they will attend this type of school — and 50 percent is a big average, though I feel sure it would not hold true for the entire class. The reason, in all probability, is due to the general shortage of trained technicians; this situation has sent salary rates spiraling while the white collar jobs have failed to react in proportion. A period of 10 months to two years, and you have the groundwork for a career in secretarial work, television repairs, auto mechanics, printing — and on and on. The hours are shorter, the pay is good and the future is bright in most of these fields.

When I finished high school some 35 years ago, the situation was just the reverse. Mechanics and carpenters were a dime a dozen, and most graduates frowned upon the trades. One of my classmates went into the post office, saved his money and today, I hear, owns a dozen rent houses and several buildings over town. What you make is not half so important as what you save.

Charley Sowell has achieved a record of some sort or other. He opened an office in the Whiteface Barber Shop around two years ago and, according to Abe Martin and Charley Morris, Sowell has not been in the office a total of more than three hours during the entire period. I asked Charley about it, just to check, and he honestly takes pride in the fact that he is never there. Charley says, "You can't dig up any business sitting in an office" — which is the same excuse I use when the Brand employees start giving me a bad time about being out so much. The only difference is that I can't always make it stick. My wife says she tries all of the coffee places first, and if she doesn't locate me, she then checks the office as a last resort.

Last Tuesday I came out with a rain prediction in this column, and we got the rain Wednesday night — before the paper got delivered Thursday morning. We need around three more of these showers, however, and I figure they will come along during the next few days. The moisture situation reminds me of the old saying about folks living from hand to mouth. We are just barely squeaking by.

No reserve. No security.

Each shower is sort of like a reprieve for a condemned prisoner. On the other hand, dry land wheat is an even bigger gamble than the dice tables in Las Vegas — and that's how the ball bounces.

Troy Martin, over Canyon way, tells me that he has been snagging nice catches of pan size bass out of Buffalo lake once or twice each week. He banks fishes with a casting rod and uses minnows for bait. However, if he is anything like two or three Hereford fishermen I could name, I wouldn't put too much faith in his reports. Local anglers, meanwhile, are beginning their annual trek to Conchas. Reed Williams was seen on Main Street this week, armed with a portable ice chest, and I hear that Jim and Suzie Lipscomb have already opened their cabin. Fishing in that area, they say, is picking up.

Right now I am trying to figure out who matures faster during adolescence — parents or teenagers.

The death rate from tuberculosis continues to drop. In 1960, it was estimated at 6 per 100,000 population.

Curator Notes Horoscope How Can I?

BY MARY CAMPBELL.
As museum curators go, the boss of Thailand's National Museum is unusual in two respects. He's a prince, and — though he follows it only when he wants to — he consults a horoscope as regularly as he consults scholarly books.

"If the horoscope says to leave the house at 3 in the afternoon instead of 2, I do it," says Prince Subhadradis Diskul. "After all, it's only an hour and it's best to be on the safe side."

"But if it says to leave at 3 in the morning, I wouldn't do it. It's not convenient for me."

The 37-year old prince is in the United States superintending a traveling exhibit of Thai art — the first time such a treasure has been permitted to leave the nation.

Prince Diskul is the son of Prince Damrong, one of 81 children of 19th Century King Mongkut. There is so much royalty in Thailand, Prince Diskul says that "to be a prince is not important at all."

King Mongkut was the monarch represented in the musical and film, "The King and I," and this is a subject which stirs Prince Diskul to consider eloquence.

"The movie was forbidden to be shown in our country," he says. "We don't like our people to be angry — because our king was portrayed in such a stupid manner. He was not like that — a barbarian or half savage."

"He was a very clever man, intelligent, much respected. He could see so much that was coming. I think he is the one who saved our country. Otherwise we would have been fighting against Western powers. He just signed a treaty and opened our country to trade and we never lost our independence."

The Thai exhibit is made up of 295 objects spanning 14 centuries and 50 photographs of buildings and monuments, all insured for $700,000.

Half of the exhibit is sculpture, Thailand's favorite art form, and most of the figures are of the Buddha, favorite subject of Thai sculpture. There are Buddhas in stone, bronze, and gilded bronze, standing, walking, reclining, seated on the coiled body of a snake, meditating, preaching, calling the earth goddess to witness to his deeds of merit.

PRINCE DISKUL AND BUDDHA
Royalty is Unimportant

Also on display are the accordion-folded, illustrated Royal Manuscript on Massage; tiny wooden replicas of the instruments in a Thai percussion orchestra; huge architectural fragments — chunks of carved stone from ceilings and sides of buildings; undecorated, modern-appearing ceramic pots from the 13th Century; exotic, gold-edged theatrical masks for three of the most popular characters in Thai plays — monkey, hero and demon.

Probably the most valuable piece in the exhibit is an 8th to 13th Century bronze, Bodhisattva Avalokitesvara, which got to the National Museum by chance. One day while riding through the southern provinces, Prince Diskul's father saw the bodhisattva on the ground, stopped his elephant and just picked it up.

Q. How can I frost a window glass?
A. The glass must be thoroughly clean before it can be painted successfully. A mixture of rubbing alcohol, household ammonia, and powdered whiting will remove all dirt and grease. Wipe clean with a dry cloth. For the frosted effect, mix a pint of three parts white lead, one and one-half parts boiled linseed oil, and one-half part spar varnish. Apply with a wide brush in small squares and, after each square is painted, stipple with a bag made of several folds of cheesecloth wrapped over a ball of cotton.

Q. Is there anything I can do about vegetables, meat, or fruit that I have accidentally scorched while cooking?

A. If you'll drop a small piece of charcoal in, that unpleasant burned taste will disappear.

Q. How can I remove fruit stains from my teeth?
A. Try rubbing these stains with a small quantity of salt, rinsing the mouth out afterwards with some hot water.

Q. How can I make my own rug shampoo?

A. By mixing up a pail of lukewarm water and rich, mild soapsuds. Soak a cloth in this, wring out partially, and scrub a small area at a time with it. Dip another rough cloth into lukewarm clear water, to which a little powdered alum has been added, and wipe off the suds with that.

Q. How can I avoid steaming up my bathroom when I draw my bath?

A. You can do this if you'll turn on the cold water first, and then add your hot water. After a shower, turn on the cold water for a few minutes to dispel the steam.

Q. What is an easy method of removing spots and stains from felt hats?

A. One of the easiest methods is to rub over the spots gently with some fine sandpaper.

Q. How can I remove grease spots and other similar blemishes from wallpaper?

A. One very effective way to cope with this problem is to hold a clean WHITE blotter over the grease spots with a warm iron for several minutes. The heat of the iron should melt the oil or grease so that it will be absorbed by the blotter.

Courtship At The Library

Newsfeatures

Dorothy Goldberg, a small woman with black hair and a vital and alive look about her, has made a reputation of her own as an abstract painter. She has had one-woman showings in New York, Chicago and Washington. With three other painters, she runs a gallery in Washington.

The wife of Arthur J. Goldberg, the new secretary of labor, was born Dorothy Kurgans in St. Louis, she grew up in Chicago. She worked for a while for the now-defunct Liberty Magazine as a secretary and in promotion and research during the depression to make enough money to get her college education.

She met her husband on the Chicago campus of Northwestern University where he was doing research in the law school and she was taking night classes in journalism. They would eat together in the cafeteria and study in the library, but "I don't think we got too much studying done," she says.

After their marriage in July, 1931, her husband insisted that she go back to school and get her degree. She got her degree in art education at the University of Chicago and also took extra courses at the Art Institute of Chicago.

She also studied at the University of Chicago's school of social service administration and came within one quarter of getting her master's degree. Volunteer art teaching at Chilcago's Hull House started her interest in social welfare work. She also was a case worker with steelworker families in South Chicago.

She quit soon, however, when her first child was born. She resumed her art when her children were well grown. They are Barbara, now 24, who plans to get her master's degree in June from the same school of social service which her mother attended; and Robert, 19, a sophomore at Amherst college, studying law.

Messy Desk
Mrs. Goldberg says: "I feel a real humility for people who can manage a career and a family — I never was well enough organized."

"Everyone in my family is beautifully organized except me."

She adds that her husband will work on something, get it done and have a clean desk. "Yet he is able to do a million different things."

Mrs. Goldberg says her own desk always is a mess. "But I know where to look under that mess and find things," she adds in good humor.

COPTER LAYS LINES

ROANOKE, Va. (AP) — The Appalachian Power Company is experimenting with helicopters to build power lines. The company says it is trying to determine if it is more economical than conventional methods.

AN AMARILLO MAN was injured early Thursday morning while helping dismantle a hot mix machine for Gilvin-Terrill, Inc., four miles north of Hereford. Jack Johnson, 19, was treated at Deaf Smith County Hospital, then taken to St. Anthony's Hospital in Amarillo for surgery. He received two broken legs, broken pelvis and internal injuries about 7:15 a. m. when a gravel chute (in foreground) fell and hit Johnson, who was halfway up the stairs. Johnson was knocked to the ground where the chute is seen. He was brought to Hereford and then taken to Amarillo by Gililand ambulance. (Staff Photo)

Carrots Can Be Glamorous

BY CECILY BROWNSTONE

Associated Press Food Editor

No doubt about it, you can treat vegetables in such interesting ways that family and friends will gobble them up.

Take the carrot. Serve it with an elegant French sauce and it becomes positively glamorous.

The sauce? It's a variation of the classic Hollandaise that ought to be better known in this country. Called Maitaise, it adds orange juice and rind to the basic mixture and achieves delightful flavor.

One direction for the sauce intrigues us. The late Louis Diat, who was chef of New York's Ritz-Carlton Hotel, said that Maitaise Sauce should be pink and added a few drops of red food coloring. We did just that and found that coupled with the carrots it achieves a notable effect.

France's famous gastronomic dictionary, Larousse, gets even more exotic. You may, it suggests, substitute tangerine juice and rind for regular orange and then "perfume" this sauce with a few drops of the orange-flavored liqueur, curacao.

Larousse says that Maitaise is used for "legumes bouillis"—boiled vegetables. Louis Diat served it with asparagus. We've tried it with both vegetables but — much as we revere Diat — we are convinced that Hollandaise is the superb sauce for asparagus while Maitaise is superlative with carrots.

This version of Maitaise Sauce is strictly up-to-date; it uses the new corn-oil margarine with fine results.

Maitaise Sauce
Ingredients: 1/4 pound (1 stick) corn-oil margarine, 2 egg yolks, 1/2 teaspoon salt, cayenne pepper, 1 tablespoon lemon juice, 1 tablespoon orange juice, 1 to 2 teaspoons grated orange rind.

Divide margarine into sixths. Place egg yolks, salt, a dash of cayenne, lemon juice and orange juice over very hot (but not boiling) water until mixture is heated; stir constantly with a whisk. Add one piece of the margarine, whisk constantly until it blends with other ingredients; add remaining pieces of margarine the same way. Add orange rind. Continue to cook, whisking constantly, until sauce is thick enough to mound slightly when dropped from whisk. Serve at once.

For preparing sauce, use a double boiler or a 1-quart heat-resistant glass bowl set in a small skillet of very hot water.

Skillet Carrots
Ingredients: 8 to 10 medium-sized carrots, boiling water, 1 teaspoon sugar.

Pare carrots; cut in half crosswise; cut into quarters lengthwise. Arrange in 2 layers in 10-inch skillet; add boiling water (to a depth of one inch) and sugar. (Sauce supplies enough salt.) Boil gently, covered, until just tender — about 12 minutes. Drain and serve with Maitaise Sauce.

Slaw Relish Proves Racy

BY CECILY BROWNSTONE

The seven sweets and seven sour of Pennsylvania - Dutch tables have inspired a racy accompaniment to a simple meat course. Recently test ed, this Hot Slaw Relish is one we will make many times. Try it and see how it stacks up with your family's and your own meat course. Recently test ed, this Hot Slaw Relish is one we will make many times. Try it and see how it stacks up with your family's and your own taste buds.

Frankfurters and boiled new potatoes "go good" with this sweet - sour cabbage. One reminder about the franks: they need only to be plunged into boiling water and allowed to simmer, covered, for 8 to 10 minutes. They should never be boiled.

After scrubbing the new potatoes in cold water, pare a wide band from around the middle of each and steam the spuds in their jackets. Don't drown them in water! You can steam a pound of new potatoes in as little as half a cup of water with a teaspoon of salt. Keep the saucepan on high heat until the water bubbles again, then turn the heat low for the 25 or 30 minutes of cooking they'll need. If any water remains, drain it off, and shake the potatoes in the saucepan over low heat for about a minute so they will dry.

We find this Hot Slaw Relish tastes delicious also with roast beef and buttered noodles and with broiled or pan - fried steak and creamed potatoes. Keep it in mind, too, when you are roasting a leg of lamb or baking a half ham because it should do a lot for some of the leftover meat that is usually sliced thin and served cold.

HOT SLAW RELISH
1/3 cup firmly - packed light brown sugar
2 teaspoons salt
1/2 teaspoon celery seed
1/3 cup cider vinegar
1/4 cup corn oil
2 tablespoons horseradish mustard
1 head (2 pounds) green cabbage

In a large heavy skillet, stir together the brown sugar, salt, celery seed, vinegar, oil and mustard. With a large sharp kitchen knife, shred the cabbage; there should be about 8 cups firmly packed. Add the shredded cabbage to the mixed seasonings in the skillet and toss together. Simmer 15 to 20 minutes or until the cabbage is as tender as you like and fall - vors are blended.

Note: If the relish is to be served sandwich - style with frankfurters in buns, there will be enough of the hot slaw for about 12 franks.

As a general rule, it is better to let the hair dry, at least partially, before waving or curling.

Party Fetes Bride-To-Be

The home of Mrs. J. B. Snead, 125 Ave. D was the setting for a miscellaneous shower recently honoring Miss Phyllis Ward, bride-elect of Charles Brown. The couple plan to wed June 17 at the First Baptist Church with the Rev. B. L. Davis officiating.

In the receiving line with Miss Ward were Mrs. Snead; the bride-elect's mother, Mrs. Harley Ward; Mrs. Bert Brown, mother of the groom-to-be; and Sharon Farmer who will serve as maid of honor.

The entertaining rooms boasted a profusion of roses. The focal point in decoration was the serving table which was covered with a white handmade cloth and centered with a large silver bowl harbouring white peonies surrounded by white snowbird roses and petals of mock orange. To carry out the bride's chosen colors of blue and white, blue candles flanked the floral arrangement. Appointments in silver and crystal were presided over by Miss Kay Packard and Miss Sandra Brunley.

Miss Carolyn Hammett was in charge of the guest registrar, which rested on a table with an arrangement of Queen Elizabeth roses surrounding a miniature bride.

Miss Tommie Kay Robinson and Miss Carole Snead provided background music for the 100 guests who called between the hours of 3 and 5 p.m.

Hostesses for the affair were Mesdames Snead, Jimmie Allred, Louie Olson, Richard Winget, Earl Stagner, Carlos Anderson, Robert Thompson, Roger Brunley, John Robinson,

M. W. Sumner, O. H. Culpepper, Gil Dodson, Wayne Cartmel, James W. Witherspoon, W. T. Carmichael and Guy Newsom.

Garden Beautiful Club Visits Olton Garden

The Garden Beautiful Club recently ended its club year with a trip to Olton where members visited a typical Iris Garden.

Mrs. I. V. Fent, who is a sister of Mrs. Earl Springer of Hereford, lives in a picturesque bungalow in Olton. The home, called "Cedar Nook Gardens" is nestled in the center of a circle of tall red cedars, bordered with elm trees. Mrs. Fent has a half-acre of Iris plants which she has collected over a period of years. Her interest first became tantamount when she attended a convention of iris growers several years ago in Portland, Ore.

Following the tour of the Fent gardens, the club members were taken to a private dining room for a luncheon hosted by Mrs. B. E. Roberson, outgoing president.

Mrs. Roberson installed the following officers for the ensuing year: Mrs. Weslie Owen, president; Mrs. Howard Walker, vice-president; Mrs. Budie Evans, recording secretary; Mrs. Charlie Noland, treasurer; Mrs. Tom Carter, corresponding secretary; Mrs. Lloyd Pool, parliamentarian; Mrs. Roy Smith, librarian and Mrs. G. P. Owen, federation chairman. Members and guests who enjoyed the trip were Mesdames Dick Miller, Wayne Edwards, Charlie Noland, Weslie Owen, Ray Cowser, Buddie Evans, Homer Newton, B. E. Roberson, L. H. Lookingbill, Howard Walker, Earnest Langley and Alex Thompson.

Jones Wedding Plans Revealed

The engagement and forthcoming marriage of Miss Carole Jones to Bobby Lloyd Byers was announced this week by the bride-elect's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John A. Jones of 819 Blevins.

Miss Jones and Byers, son of Mr. and Mrs. John Byers of 401 E. Third, plan an early June wedding. The ceremony will be performed in the sanctuary of the Central Church of Christ with Ernest Highers, minister of the church, officiating.

Miss Jones attended school in Canyon and presently is employed by McCaslin Lumber Company. Byers attended school in Hereford and is associated with Owens and Hollingsworth.

The couple plans to make their home in Hereford.

Travelers Hold Reunion

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Perrin and Mr. and Mrs. Homer Newton were hosts for a buffet supper honoring "Round The World" trip members at the Newton Home, 103 West Haven on Thursday evening.

This was the first time the group had all been together since their world tour. Over the serving table, suspended from the chandelier, was a plane circling a large world globe, symbolizing the trip the group had enjoyed together.

Following the dinner Mrs.

Bonnie Haberer and Mrs. Norman Cleavinger served cake and the group adjourned to the Community Center where Ralph Wheeler of Edmondson showed films from around the world. Hawaii, Japan, Singapore, Bangkok, Hong Kong and India were featured in the films which were taken by Wheeler.

Present for the reunion were Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Wheeler of Edmondson; Mr. and Mrs. Chester Caswell and Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Motley of Hollis.

Miss Kylene Hodges, bride-elect of James Howard Gentry, was honored at a miscellaneous shower in the home of Mrs. Tom Robinson last week.

In the receiving line with Miss Hodges were her mother, Mrs. Norman Hodges; Mrs. Bill Gentry, mother of the groom-to-be; Miss Sandra Hodges, who will serve as her sister's maid of honor; and Mrs. Robinson.

The entertaining rooms were decorated with spring flowers, emphasizing the bride's chosen colors of green and white. The serving table was laid with a white hand-crocheted cloth and centered with an elaborate arrangement of white peonies in a hand-cut crystal bowl. Appointments were in crystal.

An arrangement of pale green leaves and streamers in a low green bowl graced the coffee table.

Misses Susie Yarbro and Joy Wiman dispensed punch and Misses Shirley Hodges, Ann Gentry and Cherry Holt assisted in the house party.

Hostesses for the courtessy were Mesdames Robinson, C. C. Ellis, S. A. McCathern, Bill Lemons, Edgar Lemons, Carl Wimberley, William Wimberley, Jim Wiman, Clinton Jackson, Calvin Edwards, R. A. Daniel Jr., Louie Olson and Maurice Tannahill.

The couple will be married June 11 in the Temple Baptist Church, with the Rev. Charles Davenport, minister of the Dawn Baptist Church, officiating.

"Summertime Melodies" Is Theme Of Garden Club Show

Floral arrangements suitable to the hours of the day were displayed last week when members of the Hereford Garden Club presented their annual spring flower show at the Community Center.

Sweepstakes winner for the entire show, with 24½ points, was Mrs. A. L. Manjoet. Mrs. Manjoet took six blue ribbons on artistic arrangements in the "Summertime Melodies" display.

Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr. was sweepstakes winner in the horticulture division with 21½ points.

She took four blue ribbons, three reds, two third-place ribbons and two honorable mentions.

Both Mrs. Manjoet and Mrs. Hill are active, not only in the Hereford Garden Club, but in the other clubs in town and are noted for their outstanding arrangements for showers, parties, weddings and informal gatherings of both young and older groups. Both are qualified as National Judges for flower shows, as are two other members of the club, Mrs. John N. Jacobsen Jr. and Mrs. M. T.

Rutter.

Mrs. Hill was general chairman for the show and Mrs. Jacobsen was the staging director.

For the morning hours, members displayed attractive arrangements for a breakfast tray or table. Paired arrangements suitable for church sanctuaries were keyed to emphasize the morning hours of worship.

For the afternoon hours some of the outstanding designs featured a "Welcome" theme and others depicted "Afternoon Hobbies." Displays for evening included combinations for patio supper tables, and a group of corsages for evening wear.

The show was divided into four divisions and there were 55 entries in the horticulture division, 68 entries in the artistic division and 36 entries in the youth division. The educational division pictured a library for a gardener and was pronounced outstanding by the judges.

Mrs. Manjoet placed high in the horticulture division as well as the artistic division, taking two blue ribbons, one red ribbon, five yellow ribbons and one honorable mention in horticulture.

Mrs. J. P. Slaton was awarded two blue ribbons, three red ribbons, two yellows and one honorable mention.

Mrs. Ralph McCullough took three blue ribbons and one red ribbon. Mrs. G. W. Newsom had two blues, four reds, one yellow and one honorable mention.

Mrs. E. Ramey had two blue ribbons, one red ribbon and one yellow ribbon.

Mrs. M. T. Rutter was awarded one red and two yellow ribbons; Mrs. Jennie Clark, one blue, one red and one yellow; Mrs. Frank Brinkman, two red; and Mrs. Roy L. Wilson, Mrs. C. C. Ferguson, and Mrs. C. D. Kelton, one red ribbon each.

In the youth division, blue ribbons were awarded to Marsha Hardwick, Susan White, and Linda Blackburn. Red ribbons went to Sandra Willis, Susan White and Becky Summers. Third-place ribbons were awarded to Susan White and Barbara Buckle with honorable mention going to Linda Jacobsen, Kanda Hill and Barbara Barrett.

Youth winners for their corsages were Sherri White, Linda Jacobsen, Cindy Hale, Jennifer Barrett and Barbara Barrett. In the older youth group recognition was given to Cieta R. Rutter, Joyce Stoy, Bill Steele, Karen Sue Daniel and Joyce West.

Judges for the show were Mrs. Bill Jenkins from Amarillo and Mesdames M. R. Dorman Jr., V. M. Osborn and Thelma Bray of Pampa. The library exhibit and special pot plant exhibit were not entered in competition.

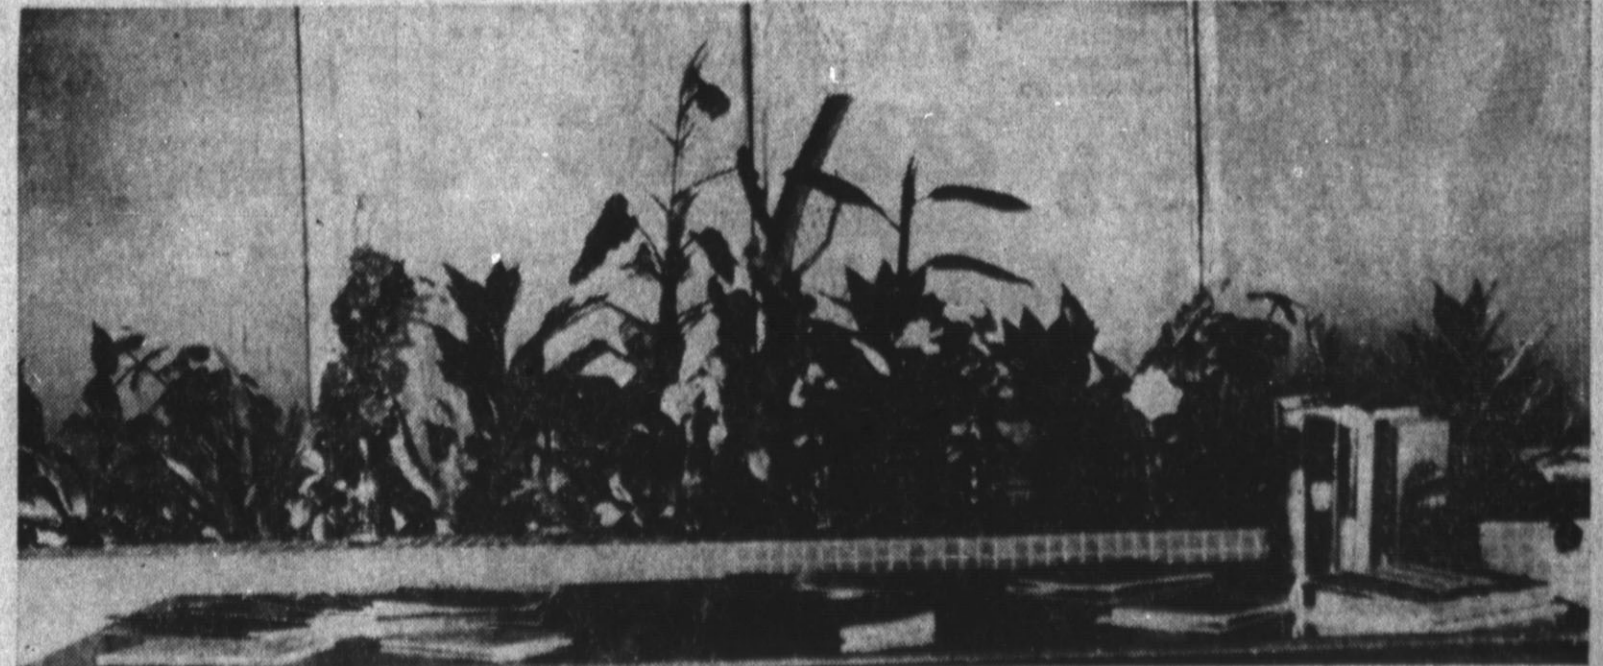

"SUMMERTIME MELODIES" WAS THE THEME of the annual spring flower show presented last week by members of the Hereford Garden Club. Mrs. O. G. Hill was general chairman for the show and Mrs. John N. Jacobsen Jr. was staging director.

MRS. A. L. MANJOET WAS sweepstakes winner when Hereford Garden Club held their annual spring flower show last week at the Community Center. Mrs. O. G. Hill, left, was high point winner in the artistic division. The show was viewed by garden enthusiasts from several counties and was judged by nationally qualified women from Amarillo and Pampa.

EDUCATIONAL EXHIBIT for the show featured a gardener's library, with exceptional and new plants contributed by members of the club. This exhibit was not entered in competition. (Staff Photos)

C OF C SCOUTS

'Deaf' Smith Says

TO: The Spirit of General Sam Houston
FROM: The Spirit of Erastus "Deaf" Smith
SUBJECT: Scouting Report on the new Solicitation Control Policy

"A solicitation control policy," Sam, is a mouth full of words for a simple statement concerning the great problem faced by all of us in determining what is a worth cause to give our money to and what is not.

Most people have neither the time nor the means of verifying whether a cause is worthy, or whether the solicitor calling upon him really represents the cause he claims to represent, or whether the organization to be benefited gets a proper share of the proceeds.

The study of this problem started in a committee made up of the financial institutions of Deaf Smith County. Dy Benson, as chairman of that group, spent a lot of time in surveying the problem in Hereford and solutions that had been found acceptable and workable in other towns. The objective of the committee's work was to come up with a policy statement which would give the public a guide to their giving.

Agreed upon was a plan originating in Saginaw, Mich., and coming to them through the National Better Business Bureau. The plan was worked over and revised to meet the particular situation in our area. After thorough study it was submitted to the Chamber of Commerce Board of Directors where it was approved in general outline subject to approval of the retailers and other groups. The plan was discussed at a recent meeting of the Trade Promotions committee of the Chamber of Commerce and accepted there. It has now gone to the printer for general circulation.

In its final form the policy states certain principles which will be used to determine whether a solicitation shall be approved or not. Each proposed solicitation is to be submitted to a secret committee of five people made up of a preacher, a business man, a rural resident, a professional man and a housewife. In order to protest the members of this committee from economic or other pressures which might influence their decision on other basis than the merits of the proposition the committee members will not even know who the other members of the committee are. The Chamber of Commerce office will gather all of the pertinent information and submit it separately to the committee members.

Specifically excluded from the provisions of the policy are the United Fund and other long established agencies accorded similar public approval but only on single annual drives; commercial or strictly institutional advertising in recognized publications having established periods of issue of not less than eight per year and similar advertising over radio stations; donations of merchandise or money as part of a regular business promotion; solicitation of individuals as fellow members of individual clubs for the benefit of the particular organization; and solicitation for membership in any regularly constituted organization.

The policy statement ends up with twelve rules headed "How Not To Get Took":

1. Don't deal with a solicitor until you have secured the facts from your Solicitations committee.
2. Never pay in cash. Don't make checks payable to a solicitor. Get the name and address of the treasurer and mail the check.
3. Don't rely entirely on a credential or list of subscribers. Lists may lie.
4. Don't believe everything the solicitor says just because he or she makes a good impression.
5. Don't contribute or buy just because you recognize the name of the organization.
6. Don't lend your name to anything without first learning the facts.
7. Don't sign for anything unless you know all the facts.
8. Don't under any circumstances contribute or buy just to get rid of a solicitor.
9. Don't pay for advertising in advance but demand proof of publication.
10. Don't sign subscription

MRS. JOE HENRY, outgoing president of La Madre Mia Study Club, presents the gavel to the new president, Mrs. John Smith, at a luncheon last week at the Hereford Country Club. (Staff Photo)

La Madre Mia Club Installs Officers

Members of La Madre Mia Study Club held their annual spring luncheon in the main dining room of the Hereford Country Club on Wednesday.

An elaborate arrangement of Peace roses in a crystal bowl was focal point in decorations. Roses were also used with white candles by Mrs. Joe Henry when she installed the new officers. The roses signify the beauty of motherhood while the candles represent the light of leadership.

Mrs. John Smith is the new president of the club. Other officers include Mrs. Bobbie Owen, vice-president; Mrs. Joe Brooks, secretary; Mrs. Leon Billington, reporter; Mrs. Dean Herring, parliamentarian; Mrs. Harlan Voyles, treasurer and Mrs. Gerald Martin, historian.

Members attending were Mesdames Charles Frye, Joe Hacker, R. V. Hale, Ted Hardwick, Joe Henry, Dean Herring, Dennis Lomas, G. C. Merritt, Bobby Owen, Harold Morton, Homer Lee Owen, Richard Pickens, John Smith, Eugene Sparks, Bobby Williams, George Frye,

Local Man Weds Dodd City Girl

Double ring wedding vows were exchanged recently by Miss Judy Kay Fletcher of Dodd City and Raymond Morrison of Hereford. Parents of the couple are Mr. and Mrs. Henry Joe Fletcher of Dodd City and Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Morrison of Hereford.

Billy Barr, minister of the Southside Church of Christ in Bonham, performed the ceremony before a wrought iron archway entwined with greenery and flanked by branched candelabra.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a slipper satin and chantilly lace wedding gown, designed with a Sabrina neckline, a sweetheart bodice and petal point sleeves. The bouffant skirt, appliqued with lace medallions and sequins, ended in a chapel train. Her Gerald Martin, Harlan Voyles, Joe Brooks and Leon Billington.

MISSILE BLACKOUT

SPRINGFIELD, Ohio — An intercontinental missile caused damage at Wright-Patterson AFB without even being launched.

The 94-foot Atlas was being towed to the base by truck, police said, when the pod clipped off a utility pole, cutting off electrical service to the city's east side.

CORRECTION BY ERROR

COLUMBIA, S. C. — A typing error in a South Carolina Supreme Court opinion inadvertently lent judicial weight to a long-held suspicion among Army recruits. It said that the man in the case "has been in the Army 12 years and has risen to the 'rank' of sergeant."

POLITICAL PARTY heads Kenneth Rudd, left, County Republican Chairman, and Louis Woodford, right, County Democratic Chairman, each told why his candidate should be elected to the Senate to fill the seat vacated by Vice President Lyndon Johnson at a "Town Hall" meeting in Hereford Thursday night. Rudd spoke on behalf of John Tower and Woodford spoke for Sen. William Blakley. Forty-eight residents attended the meeting, which was sponsored by the Government Affairs committee of Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce. The runoff election was held Saturday. (Staff Photos)

THE GARDEN AND PATIO area of the Lisle Woodford home, 118 Avenue B, was chosen as Beauty Spot of the Month by a committee from the three local garden clubs. It features a white fence and archway leading into a flagstone patio and is flanked by large rose bushes. The patio area is lined with an array of flowers and features a brick barbecue grill. Honorable mention awards went to Mr. and Mrs. Ralph McCullough, 139 Texas, for their rose display; Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Richardson, 315 Union, for a lovely back view of their home; and to Mr. and Mrs. L. H. Lookingbill Sr., 115 Avenue J, for a profusion of roses, set off by a tiny ornamental tree.

WALCOTT NEWS

Judge Zimmerman Talks At School's Graduation

BY MRS. T. L. COLLINS
Walcott Grade School held its eighth grade graduation program Tuesday at 8 p.m. The stage was decorated with spring flowers. The auditorium was filled with family members and friends that were present to wish these ten graduates well: Dianne Jack, Larry Minks, Don Barnett, Vicki Burns, Marilyn Tice, Damon Davis, James Barnett, Nancy Tyler, Elizabeth Burrus and Jimmy Roberts.

The girls wore white dresses and heels and the boys wore suits and white shirts. Maroon caps and gowns with white tassels and collars and white roses were worn by the graduates as they marched down the center aisle from the outside building. Marla Jack gave the procession; Mrs. Norman Minks, invocation; Larry Minks, Address of Welcome; Don Barnett, Class Will; Vicki Burns, class prophecy; Dianne Jack, farewell address; County Judge Don D. Zimmerman, graduation address; Thomas L. Collins, presentation of diplomas and Golden Rule marbles; and Mrs. B. E. White, Benediction.

In his address of welcome, Larry Minks stated their motto, "Ever onward and upward" and expressed thanks for interest shown in them during the foundation of their education, which would prepare them for high school and college.

Dianne Jack expressed appreciation for the high standards upheld by Walcott School teachers and help the school board and P.T.O. has provided in so many ways.

Judge Zimmerman congratulated each member of the graduating class upon reaching this milestone in their life. He told them, "Advice is cheap. Everyone has it to give away except a lawyer. It's all up to you to decide what your goals will be in high school and life. Now you will set examples for your community standards. It is important how you act and how you live. Get good reading and develop good study habits. Don't think mother's cook book and dad's check book will help most. This is a crossroad in your life — your interests will broaden. Now there is a greater need for college education — as progress continues there are fewer jobs for the unskilled. Help yourself to the education that is yours for the asking. The future belongs to you and what you make it. Lead or lag behind — it's all up to you."

Special guests present were Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Jaek and Veri Miller from Floydada, Mrs. Alta Wylie and Mrs. Leo Bails and Rebecca from Friona, Mr. and Mrs. Gene Cope from Hereford, Mr. and Mrs. Leonard Walterscheid, Dan and Douglas, Mrs. J. E. Cupell, and Linda Williams and Judy Jan from Vega, Mrs. Maydell Young and Buck Young from Hereford, Mrs. Berdie Ballard of Paris, Mr. and Mrs. Buck Hooser, Greg and Kelly of Westway, Mrs. J. W. Hamersley and Mrs. Pan Henderson of Lubbock, Mr. and Mrs. Ray Roberts, Mrs. Arlice Garrison and Mrs. Virgil Watson of Amarillo, Mr. and Mrs. Tom Hall of Hereford, Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Womble, Dusty and Denise and Mrs. Loyd Reynolds of Amarillo and Cindy Shields of Melrose, N.M.

These mothers worked collecting flowers from several homes in Hereford and the community, which they fixed into lovely flower arrangements for the stage graduation afternoon: Meslames Glenn Burrus, Leland Burns, Bertram Jack, Veri Miller, Norman Minks and Thurman Davis.

Walcott Grade School closed at 3 p.m. Wednesday.
These children had perfect attendance for the entire year: Elizabeth Burrus and Marilyn Tice, Sheldon White missed only two half-days, Clyde Wylie, one day and Ronnie Buse and Sharon Tice, two days.
Those with all A's or A-'s on their report card for this last six weeks are: Barbara Brown, Galen Jack, Nancy Minks, Kathy Monroe, Sheldon White, Chris Burns, Gary Coleman, Kent Jack, Joe Don Weaver, Sherrie West and Kathleen and Deborah Nance.
One-tenth inch of rain fell in the Walcott area Wednesday evening.

An early birthday party was given Tuesday afternoon for Kelly Tyler, the last period of school by his classmates of the fifth and sixth grades. Games were played. Refreshments of ice cream, cookies and pop were served.
A farewell party was given to Monya Neal, who will be moving, and Tom Timberlake, who will be away this summer, by their third and fourth grade classmates after dinner Wednesday. Each told of their plans for the summer. Popcorn, kool-ade and bubble gum were served.
Carmen West and Stepheny Bryant visited school that last day.
Bruce Collins received a telegram Thursday morning from H. L. Bill, superintendent of the Grand Teton National Park at Jackson, Wyo., offering him employment there again for the summer.
Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Brown are the parents of a new son born early Thursday morning in an Amarillo hospital. He has two brothers, Roger and Earl.

RUSSIA LAUNCHES MOON! Remember that dramatic announcement? It came on the morning of October 5 when Moscow Radio reported "the successful launching of the first man-made satellite." It had gone up the day before.

Seldom has any scientific achievement generated so much excitement. All of a sudden the fantastic dreams of the science-fiction writers weren't dreams any more. A 23-inch, 185 pound artificial moon was circling the earth, 560 miles high, at a speed of 18,000 miles per hour. The beep-beep-beep of its radio signals was being picked up all over the world as the little earth satellite circled the globe in its orbit. It was hard to grasp what a great step forward had been made.

The era of space travel seemed at hand... and wherever you went people talked of little else but the "Sputnik."

Remember the year? That was a year when some car dealers were promising the moon, or close to it, in claiming bigger and better deals. But a wise buyer relied on an established dealer, one who could give expert service and who would stand behind his sales.

The year was 1957.

Buying from an established, reliable dealer, with a reputation for fair deals and dependable service is the only way to buy a car. The deals we make, and the service we give, are strong reasons why so many people who buy from us come back again for their next car. For a good deal on a new or used car, see CHARLIE SEEDS MOTOR Co., Inc. W. Hwy. 60 at Miles. Phone EM 4-2727.

Hold Demonstration At Group Meeting

Mrs. Charles Packard gave a demonstration on avocado salad, creole onions and huevos rancheros at the recent meeting of the Wyche Club in her home.

Roll call was answered by a favorite way to use onions.

Refreshments of angel food cake, whipped cream, punch and coffee were served.

Members present were Betty Olson, Ruby Dameron, Louise Axe, Paula Elliston, Ruth Newsom, Elsie Cocanough, Gloria White, Norvella Hewett, Mrs. H. F. Ward, Mrs. Ira Ott and the hostess, Mrs. Charles Packard.

"Bughouse Square" is the name of a small park in Chicago, situated on land given to the city with the stipulation that it was to be a place of free speech.

A Note To Our Non-Catholic Neighbors

Catholics and non-Catholics, as a rule, get along right well together. Our families live amicably next door to each other and often become lifetime friends. Our sons fight side by side on every battlefield. We work together in the same shops and factories and we play together.

But in religion . . . where this close association does not exist . . . there is often a regrettable lack of understanding and a corresponding absence of good-will. Many people, for instance, have all sorts of false ideas about Catholics and the Catholic Church. They actually believe that Catholics worship statues. That many sordid things happen behind convent walls . . . that Catholics do not believe in the Bible or that Catholics practice superstitions.

If you wish to know the truth about the Catholic Church and her teachings, write for a free pamphlet explaining Catholic teachings. Write to: Home Study Center, P. O. Box 5644, Amarillo, Texas.

Former Superintendent Of Cuban Refinery Talks Here

The former superintendent of the Texaco refinery at Santiago de Cuba traced the background of the rise of communism in Cuba from 1933, when Batista gained control, through the rise of Castro at the noon meeting of Hereford Kiwanis Club Thursday in I.O.O.F. Hall.

The speaker, Charles M. Cutbirth, now is superintendent of the Texaco refinery in Amarillo. He was superintendent of the refinery at Santiago and had held that position for five years when the refinery was expropriated by Cubans last year.

His personal property in Cuba was confiscated by Castro's Cubans, and as he explained it, "my wife and I left Cuba with only what we could carry in our suitcase."

"There is no such a thing as an 'average Cuban,'" Cutbirth said. "They are either rich or poor, but the average Cuban would be industrious, a good family man, sober, religious and be an individualist."

He expressed a sincere liking for the Cuban people and said they are willing and competent workers. A Cuban is a complex individual, a product of his environment, he commented.

"In the five years that I was

in Cuba, no Cuban ever spoke to me an unkind, unfriendly or impolite word," Cutbirth said.

"Castro came into power with the greatest opportunity ever afforded a man in Cuba," Cutbirth said. "He could have protected foreign and private capital and could have launched Cuba on its greatest period of prosperity."

"Instead, he chose to work steadily to bring his country to a typical communist dictatorship," he added.

He urged the members to consider the following steps in keeping the United States free: stay together, make religion and our churches strong and take pressure off the legislature by not asking for handouts.

FRIO NEWS

Dy Benson Talks At Club Meeting

BY MRS. OWEN ANDREWS

Frio Home Makers Club met Tuesday in the home of Mrs. T. L. Sparkman Jr. Guest speaker for the occasion was Mrs. Dyalhia Benson of Hereford. She spoke on "Family Finance," encouraging women to take an active interest in the saving and using of family income. She pointed out that women of this generation have control of more of the family income than in past years and should train themselves in wise budgeting and in saving.

During the business meeting it was voted to have the summer club meetings at 4 p.m. rather than the usual 2:30 p.m.

Those attending were Mesdames David Hutchins, James Dobbs, Henry Dobbs, Edgar Vinson, Earnest Harder, Connie Smith, Glenn Andrews, Carlton Dobbins, Frank Robbins, David Patterson, E. F. Vogler, Floyd Cole, Owen Andrews, Glenn Gripp, Jim Brooks, Weldon Stephan, the hostess and the guest.

The next meeting will be with Mrs. David Hutchins, who lives three miles west and one half mile south of the Olin Parrises.

George Amegia of Bryte, Calif., is helping the David Hutchins farm part of this summer. Amegia, a native of Russia, but now a citizen of this country, was graduated from W. T. S. C. last Sunday. He and Mrs. Hutchins' brother, also a W. T. S. C. student, were college friends. He has also been a student at Wayland College and is planning to study dentistry in Mexico City this fall.

Mr. and Mrs. Carlton Dobbins spent last weekend visiting her father, G. W. Scott, at Bradshaw, her brother, C. R. Scott, at Abilene and other relatives in the Winters area.

The Dobbins have started on their new house, getting the foundation built the first of this week. D. C. Miller is building it for them. The house will be brick veneer construction and will have three bedrooms. It is located at the same place as the old one, which was moved away. It is the place owned and occupied by the Kenneth Coxes for the last several years.

Mrs. H. M. Mobley had Sunday dinner with the Floyd Coles and they attended the music recital in which Jana Cole was a participant on Sunday afternoon.

A supper at her home on Saturday night honored the eighth birthday of Cheryl Cole. Guests included her grandparents, Mrs. H. M. Mobley, Mr. and Mrs. Earl Cole and Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Miller.

Earnest Brooks of Comanche, Okla., spent the weekend visiting in the home of his brother, Jim Brooks. On Sunday, they and Mr. and Mrs. Durward Taylor, L. D. Kenny, Robin Kay and Martha Wages, all of Frio, went to Palo Duro Canyon for a picnic.

Area Wrestlers Give Program At Lions Meet

Two noted Panhandle wrestlers, Dory Funk and Bob Geigel, presented the program at the noon meeting of Hereford Lions Club Wednesday in the ballroom of Jim Hill Hotel. Program chairman Earnest Langley said in introducing the wrestlers that Funk had attended Indiana University and Geigel attended the University of Iowa, and that both played football as well as making names for themselves in intercollegiate wrestling.

In the Panhandle, they are noted as a main event tag team. Both live in Umbarger, and appear on the Saturday night wrestling card in Deaf Smith County Bull Barn frequently.

Hereford Lions Club sponsors wrestling every Saturday night at the Bull Barn in Hereford. The club took on the weekly project in 1949.

"Up to four years ago," Funk said, "Hereford had always drawn more people to wrestling matches than any other town in its size in the United States."

He pointed out that wrestling is currently enjoying the biggest boom it has ever had, and that Hereford Lions should make every attempt to improve attendance at Saturday night matches here.

Dory Funk

In answer to a question asked by a member of the club, Funk said: "We have to be showmen to make wrestling more entertaining — but don't ever get in the ring with a wrestler. Every sport, to some extent, uses showmanship because that is what the crowd likes."

Wrestling, however, is not a "fake" or a "put-on, staged sport," he added. "A 'blood capsule' is about the most ridiculous thing I have ever heard of," he commented, pointing out that he was thrown head-first through the door of a dressing room one time by another wrestler.

Horse And Buggy Highways In Texas

Texas is trying to get by with horse-and-buggy highways in the space age.

That is the hard truth proclaimed by top Texas highway officials as the State observes National Highway Week, May 21-27.

Planter Boxes Hold Interest

Recently we mentioned the newfangled planter boxes on Main Street, but little did we realize the tremendous interest these boxes were to attract from visitors.

Everyone, from California to New York it seems, has been heard or read about some community which inaugurated a similar plan with exceedingly favorable results. Most visitors even appear to have a far better background on what the community is attempting to do than does the average citizen of Hereford.

At least one out-of-towner was so impressed that he borrowed a one-minute camera to get a picture to take back to his own home town, and the boxes invariably hold the interest of a major proportion of all visitors.

Beautification and general improvement were the primary aim of the committee in erecting the planters but, forgetting this angle entirely, the secondary reaction of creating goodwill seems to have already more than repaid for the efforts of the sponsors. Hereford is definitely getting much favorable publicity throughout the panhandle.

All in all, the planter boxes are one of the best public relations achievements the community has ever known.

State Highway Engineer D. C. Greer called the occasion "not a week of appreciation but of challenge."

"Highway Week is not to brag on what we have done," Greer said, "but to focus attention on the immense highway problems that now confront us."

Foremost among Texas Highway problems, he said, is the fact that more than one-third of the total State-maintained highway mileage in Texas is obsolete, or about to become so. This is Texas' 25,000-mile network of U. S. and State-numbered highways. The system has been "almost totally antiquated," Greer said, by an enormous increase in traffic.

This system of "trunk" highways is literally the lifeline of the development of Texas. These highways serve more than a thousand Texas cities and towns. Many were built in the early days and are now out of date and completely inadequate for the 18 billion vehicle miles traveled on them in a year.

The problem is compounded by lack of money. The trunk highway system is not only obsolete but underfinanced, so that Texas is getting farther behind each year. The trunk system is in effect a highway stepchild — it is caught in a squeeze on the highway dollar, between demands for matching funds so that Texas can participate in Federal-aid programs, and demands for funds for year-to-year maintenance of the State's vast highway network.

The obsolescence of our trunk highway system will continue and will rapidly increase, warns Highway Engineer Greer, "to the point where we may struggle in our own traffic of we are unable to make desperately needed improvements."

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

"By this shall all men know that ye are my disciples, if ye have love one to another."

Southern ladies inspired Memorial Day when they strewed flowers on the graves of both Union and Confederate dead in 1863, easing the bitterness of the Civil War. Northerners at first glorified Union victory, but their hearts melted: "The thought could not but come to us that there were graves lying southward above which bent a grief as tender and sacred as our own. Invisibly we dropped unseen flowers upon these mounds," said Thomas Aldrich. The ceremonies at Gettysburg became a celebration of unity: "The Union has become, not merely a physical union of States," Herbert Hoover once said, "but rather a spiritual union in common ideals of our people." Franklin D. Roosevelt said, "It was an inspired prophet of the South who said: 'My brethren, if we know one another, we will love one another' . . . We are all brothers now in a new understanding."

Panhandle Paragraphs

BLOCKS CONSIDERED FOR PAVING

Seventy-five blocks are under consideration to be placed in paving districts to be determined by engineers as work continues on the street improvement program approved by the voters in the city last month in a $50,000 bond issue. Districts are to be established so that the majority of the property owners in a district may petition to have their district paved. About 50 blocks of the 75 under consideration will be paved in current project. The project will pave about one-third of the streets in town which are in need of paving. Long range plans made by the city council include the paying off of indebtedness of about $50,000 owed by the city in three years so that a $50,000 street improvement bond issue as passed last month can be again approved by the voters to pave another third of the streets in town.

WHEAT GROWERS UNIT ORGANIZED

A meeting of interest to Dallam and Hartley county wheat growers was held Thursday evening in the Hartley high school auditorium. Kenneth Kendrick of Stratford spoke on the possibilities of the wheat program for 1961-62. He explained that there is little chance for much change in the program this year, except for a few minor ones on an emergency basis. However, he had high hopes for a 1962 program that seemed to appeal to the approximately 30 farmers at the meeting from the two counties. This, he said, is the certificate plan advocated by the National Wheat Growers Assn. It advocates a bushel allotment supported at $2 per bushel, based on 90 percent of the national demand, with the remainder of the demand coming out of CCC stocks at parity or $2.36 per bushel. The plan contemplates permitting the farmer to plant as many acres as he desires but allows him to market only the amount on his certificate.

1,200 EXPECTED FOR LIONS CONVENTION

Between 1000 and 1200 Lions Club members and their wives are expected to descend on Levelland June 1-3 in the biggest convention ever hosted by the city. Dormitory facilities of South Plains College will be pressed into service to take care of those who can't be accommodated in regular hotel and motel facilities and that's expected to be a good many. The entire San Andres Hotel has been reserved for the event, which will feature a contest between Jack Strong of Lubbock and W. A. Hewitt of Plainview as candidates for district governor. There will be a district queen's contest with a total of 36 candidates. Another highlight of the convention will be the annual governor's banquet and ball, honoring District Governor J. D. Dyer Jr. of Tamesa. Music will be furnished by Ray Wray of Dallas and a floor show will be presented featuring "Uncle Willie." A golf tournament will be staged at the Levelland Country Club starting at 9 a. m. Friday, June 2.

Here's How Your Community Looks To At Least One School Teacher

A Hereford High School instructor, who is moving to Austin, took time this week to write a letter which, in our opinion, stands as one of the highest possible tributes any community could receive. In part, he said:

" . . . we expected to find, as in other cities, at best a small group of interested students and parents, and a general desbelief in the value of this field of learning (cultural art theatre)".

"Instead, we found a city of individuals anxious to accept and help us as individuals; students willing to strain the budget of their time for long, hard hours of work after school . . . an interested press . . . and a school administration anxious that their students be given an opportunity to develop a cultural program far more extensive and difficult than many larger schools support."

While the letter appearing in this issue speaks for itself, it seems that additional comment is well in order, chiefly because we have heard Don Moore make a highly similar statement regarding his choir, and because numerous band directors have pretty well repeated the same words from time to time.

We doubt if Hereford is much different from other Panhandle towns in this respect and, certainly, much of the success in such fields may well be attributed to these individual instructors and the interest which they are willing to assume.

At the same time, it is nice to know what our instructors think about our schools, our community, and about those of us who are fortunate enough to know them as friends and neighbors.

Hereford has some truly brilliant youngsters. We also boast some interested, outstanding parents and civic leaders but, most of all, it seems to us, that the picture presented by this particular instructor is a far better reflection than one of juvenile delinquency, hoodlums and lawlessness so often connected with American youth in many cities and communities in our nation.

Bovine Dentures Upset Applegart

There are scores of people who will argue that Hereford, despite all of its diversification, still benefits most from cattle — and that this huge industry stems chiefly out of the Hereford breed from which the town originally got its unusual name. Now it seems that this purebred animal is turning "fifth columnist" and may well undermine our slogan of "The Town Without A Toothache".

Appearing in our own community newspaper last Sunday was an article concerning development of special stainless steel caps for bovine molars, designed to eliminate those spine-tingling chills which invariably accompany enamel-thin teeth. Later in the week, a similar item appeared in an Amarillo paper and, we presume, other stories will gain like attention and circulation.

What the Chamber of Commerce will think about these metallic "bovine bicuspeds," we cannot imagine, but we feel sure that most of us will come in for plenty of ribbing on the grounds that "even our cows have toothaches".

The circumstance does prove one point, though: You can't trust a cow! Books, stories and poems have been written about dogs, generally accepted as man's best friend. The horse likewise rates high for native intelligence, loyalty and service to mankind, but the only cow we ever heard eulogized in a poem gained her reputation chiefly because she was not purple.

The primary contribution of the lowly cow seems to be in the form of milk and steaks — and we feel sure that they will continue to be equally as delicious "with steel plates" as without them.

Mocking Bird Truly A Remarkable Creature

BY MRS. R. L. CRISWELL

For the first time we have a pair of mocking birds between Star St. and Ave. J. After the rain, he is trying to burst his lungs in telling his mate how happy he is that they have a home and soon there will be children — or baby mocking birds, that is.

It is wonderful to listen as he tells us that the meadow-lark is a pretty bird; the familiar chirp of the sparrow and the little song of the song-sparrow, but not sung so soft and low as the song-sparrow sings, and the many, many other bird songs he repeats as well as a few of his own compositions.

There also is a new bird in my neighborhood, or at least it is the first time I have seen it here. It is a yellow and gray bird, with the breast a pure canary yellow and he sings a little song similar to the wild canaries I have heard in North Central Texas, so I am sure it is a canary.

The mocking bird is a beautiful bird and there are several different colors; but the one most common is a soft gray with a few white feathers and blue-black on the tail. It is a long, graceful bird and flirts his tail up and down if he lights on the ground in search of food. The mocking bird will pierce fruit on the tree and take a long quaff of the juice, thus ruining it for human consumption. He also will pierce strawberries in the same way, but not until they are ripe.

May time is graduation time for the high school seniors, and it is a proud time not only for the seniors — and who has a greater right to puff up with pride as they have studied for twelve years to gain that diploma — but also for their parents. It has been a great struggle for them to keep that boy and girl in school and encourage them when they were sure they would never make the grade. But not it is made and commencement night is one of the happiest nights of their lives.

There was a time when seniors were told to "hitch their wagon to a star." For some reason we do not hear that any more, I wonder if it is because we are in or nearing the space age.

With our own Shepard and Russia's Gagarin perhaps we are too near the actual stars to use "it as an inspirational line.

We loved Cmdr. Alan B. Shepard as he refused to take all the credit for the feat of riding in space. How he quickly pointed out that he could never have flown into the higher atmosphere without the aid of all the scientists, the cooperation and hard work of so many people in getting ready for the flight.

He was only one of many bringing about the trip into space, but how about the Russian cosmonaut? He took all the credit and applause the people, plus Khrushchev, poured upon him and not even Khrushchev mentioned the many who had worked so hard to put him in space.

Americans are not only the most educated people in the world but they are also the most modest; as always, they give the little fellow, or the many the credit deserved — in fact, they almost bend over backward to do so.

Who knows? One of our own seniors may be the first man or woman to not only go into outer space to circle the globe — not once, but many times in a controlled wingless vehicle that can be piloted with ease and precision.

We are living in a great age, and surely the seniors realize it and will strive to be an aid for their country. Where is it and will strive to be an aid for their country. Where is there another people that helps

Farm Experts Due At Water Carnival Here

50 YEARS AGO

No town in Texas ever had such corps of prominent irrigation and soil experts as will address the Congress to be held here today and tomorrow. To mention their names is to insure interest in what they will say. Prof. Townsend of Garden City, Kan., is the acknowledged sugar beet expert in the United States. He will be here. Mr. McPherson, now of Roswell, where he is developing 12,000 acres with pumping plants, is the leader in soil experimentation and the effects of water when applied as in irrigation. His address alone will be worth the price of the Water Carnival. The other two experts are well-known in Texas, Fuller and Rockwell. No two men have given this territory such exhaustive study as far as water is concerned. They are experienced water experts and have been the entrusted employees of the government for a number of years. No man in Hereford or in the shallow water belt should fail to hear all these men. Whether you ever intend to irrigate a foot of land, it is your duty to know what we have. To hear these men is to be enthused with the bigness of our water supply and its possibilities. Besides the special addresses there will also be an array of speaking talent. Hon. J. C. Hunt, representative to the legislature, is billed to speak. Judge W. E. Lindsey of Portales will tell us about the irrigation project at Portales. H. M. Bainer, agriculturist for the Santa Fe, will talk and his talks are always good. L. L. Johnson, the poultry expert of the United States, will tell us about the productive hen,

The BOOTLEG — Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm gets into international affairs this week. Anything to get the spotlight off his own shortcomings.

Dear editor:

I've never been interested in trying to tell the President of the United States how to operate things, I've got more than I'm interested in tackling out here on this bindweed farm and anyway, it's a lot easier to criticize yesterday than to prescribe for tomorrow, but I'm going to break my rule and offer some advice.

As I understand it, the President is going to meet in Europe with Premier Khrushchev so the two can start to get acquainted and size each other up and discuss future relations of the two countries.

Unless the President has other business in Europe, I have a suggestion to make.

Why doesn't The Brand run a contest to pick the most unreliable man in the United States and let him sit in for Khrushchev and hold the summit meeting in this country? It'd save time and travel expense and we could hear all the lies in English.

Discussing the future with Khrushchev is like trying to draw up a contract with the weather.

I'd just as soon rely on my corn to tell me when a tornado's coming as to bank on what Khrushchev promises.

What we ought to do is find the most unreliable man in this country, let him sit in for Khrushchev, hold the meeting in Washington, solemnly report what he has to say, toast him with vodka, and get to work on some accurate missiles.

You know, around here, after a man has pretty well established a reputation for breaking his promises, nobody sells to him on credit. Based on what Khrushchev has promised and what he has done, I'd say he couldn't even buy a second-hand tractor with steel wheels on time in Deaf Smith County.

Khrushchev makes a great pose of representing the great moral fibre of a dedicated nation burning with zeal for humanity, but that's mostly hogwash. He's a tough, smart, shrewd character whose promises today have no relation to his deeds tomorrow. He proclaims his word is as good as his bond, but you've got to remember that's a Russian bond he's talking about.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Record Attendance During Shrine Children's Clinic

A record throng of children showed up in Hereford Saturday for the sixth annual Shrine Children's Clinic. A total of 268 youngsters were examined during the day-long clinic. They were as young as one year up to 19 and they came from a huge area. From as far north as Pueblo, Colo., down to Midland, and from Clovis, N. M., to Perryton, they congregated in Hereford for the largest of the annual clinics.

In the past history of the affair, average registration had ranged between 100 and 125 each year.

In addition, six nurses from Lubbock volunteered their services and came to help for the day. Five are students at the Methodist Hospital school of nursing, while the sixth is a registered nurse. A number of nurses from Amarillo also came over to lend a hand. All off-duty nurses in Hereford aided with handling the huge crowd.

This year, Shriners from a 38-county area were asked to bring children to the clinic and they responded in record numbers. They had crowded into the clinic long before the 9 a.m. opening and were overflowing onto the sidewalks and lawn during most of the day.

But time passed quickly as the Khiva Klowns from Amarillo kept the children laughing and giggling. A precision motorcycle team from Lubbock provided siren blasts and skillful riding demonstrations throughout the day.

Among the special guests was Galloway Calhoun of Tyler, chairman of the national Shrine hospital board. Calhoun said he was very favorably impressed with Hereford, its friendliness and the many aspects of the annual children's clinic. He told local Shriners that he hopes to have representatives of his medical and research staffs on hand for the clinic next year. Also present during the day was Mel Kruse of Amarillo, Illustrious Potentate of the Khiva Temple.

Dub Reeves was general chairman of the clinic, with Dr. L. B. Barnett and Dr. A. T. Mims serving as co-chairmen of the medical arrangements. Henry Sears was chairman of guest arrangements.

At noon Saturday, wives of the Oasis Shrine Club served a free luncheon for all patients, their parents and visiting Shriners in the Hereford Community Center.

Specialists who donated their services for the clinic included:

Orthopedic (bone and joint): Dr. Charles F. Gregory, professor of orthopedic surgery at Southwestern Medical School, Dallas; and Dr. James E. Lovelless, Lubbock.

Ear, Nose and Throat: Dr. Gaylord Chase and Dr. James Wright, both of Amarillo.

Neurology and Neuro-surgery: Dr. Jack I. Woolf, Dallas, Dr. Jack Dunn, Lubbock, and Dr. J. Victor Ellis, Amarillo.

Speech: Dr. Dean Harris, Dallas, and Cal Foster, Amarillo.

Plastic surgery: Dr. C. T. Blocker, professor of plastic surgery at the University of Texas Medical School, Galveston; and Dr. Willard C. Sellman Jr., associate professor of plastic surgery at Southwestern Medical School, Dallas.

Oral surgery: Dr. Robert

V. Walker, professor of oral surgery at Southwestern Medical School, Dallas.

Ophthalmology (eyes): Dr. Weldon Murphy and Dr. William Campbell, both of Amarillo.

Radiology (X-ray): Dr. Parker Allen, University of Colorado medical school, Denver.

Internal Medicine (heart and lungs): Dr. J. C. Blount, University of Colorado medical school, Denver; and Dr. C. E. Hicks, Hereford.

Nutritional problems: Dr. John R. Connell, University of Colorado medical school, Denver.

Assisting the visiting specialists and making general physical examinations were many doctors from the 38-county Panhandle area.

NEW ELECTRIC HOME FREEZERS AND REFRIGERATOR-FREEZERS BRING BIG SAVINGS — AND EXTRA FOOD FRESHNESS — TO SOUTHWESTERN HOMEMAKERS

Every family can now enjoy the advantages of buying food when prices are low — or preserving home grown fruits and vegetables. The new electric home freezers or combination refrigerator-freezers make this food saving possible — save money, too. For the smaller families, the refrigerator-freezer is the answer. These combinations will provide freezer space for up to 200 pounds of food. And the real beauty of it all is that, in many of these models, you get nearly twice as much refrigerator-freezer capacity in the same amount of space that old refrigerators used. Big family or small there's a freezer for you — with big money savings.

THE BEST REFRIGERATION — ELECTRIC — OF COURSE

5 PLASTIC BOWL COVERS FREE!

That's right. Public Service customers who see a freezer or refrigerator-freezer demonstration now from their Reddy Kilowatt Dealer will receive five attractive and useful bowl covers. Get them now — while they last.

PARENTS CAN HELP IN HISTORY

AUGUSTA, Maine (AP)—Maine social studies teachers are advising parents to hit the road if they want to help their youngsters with history.

The Social Studies Newsletter of the Maine Teachers Assn. suggests that teachers can promote summer learning by "advertising" nearby historic houses, forts and museums to their pupils.

Children find their history studies have more meaning, the letter says, when they have seen the places where history has been made.

Graduation Speaker Bob Izzard Challenges Seniors

BY MRS. R. L. PINNELL
Bob Izzard, newscaster for KGNC-TV, was the guest speaker at the 1961 graduation exercises held Wednesday evening in the Adrian High School auditorium. Graduates were Barbara Gail Brown, Marian Arthur Ferguson Jr., Betty Sue Frasier, Linda Sue Johnson, Kenneth Wayne Milner, Twilla Jean Milner and Ronald Ray Morgan.

Izzard held the audience spellbound with his discussion of the wonderful heritage which has been passed to this 1961 class. He challenged the group to carry on for history from here.

The processional and recessional were played by Mrs. Ted Boydston. The valedictory address was by Betty Frasier, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. C. T. Frasier, and Sue Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. P. N. Johnson, served as salutatorian. Diplomas were presented by Supt. A. P. Jones.

Ronald Ray "Kippy" Morgan, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Morgan, was given a special award for being the boy with the highest scholastic average in the class.

After graduation the class left Thursday morning for a ten-day tour of the northwest. The group plans to visit Grand Canyon, Marineland, Disneyland, Yosemite Park, Boulder Dam, Las Vegas, and San Francisco.

The Seniors were not the only class graduating Wednesday. The eighth grade graduation was held Wednesday at 9:30 p. m. The processional and recessional were played by Ross Blassegame, Doris June Horton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Horton, was highest scholastically and read the class history. Ricky Gruhkey followed closely behind to serve as salutatorian and read the class prophecy. Billy Perry gave the class will, Linda Pinnell read an original poem written by Mrs. Chilton, Doris Horton, Linda Pinnell and Myrna Zaring presented a musical trio.

Supt. A. P. Jones presented diplomas to the entire class. Six of the seven graduating started together in the first grade. The Rev. J. R. Manning pronounced the benediction.

Special awards went to several in the school. Interscholastic medals and trophies went to Donna Brownlee for senior girls poetry reading; Perry Dale Gruhkey for boys extemporaneous speech; Paula Creitz, girls extemporaneous speech; Kathy Kromer, girls senior ready writing; Sidney Blankenship, ready writing, senior boys declamation and typing;

Talbert Anderson, typing; Phyllis Peters, junior girls declamation; Gary James, high school boys poetry reading; Sidney Blankenship, high school spelling; Paula Creitz, high school spelling; Johnnie Lewis, story telling fourth grade; Kathy Garrison, Roxanne Brownlee and Raymond Jones, picture memory; Rita Speed and Bonnie Gamble, fifth and sixth grade spelling; grade number sense; Carroll Weidner, grade school declamation; Linda Pinnell, grade school girls declamation; and Doris Horton and Linda Pinnell, seventh and eighth grade ready writing.

Lorin Creitz as a representative of the Adrian Lions Club presented the Desire Award to the students chosen by the faculty to best represent the school. The choices were Sidney Blankenship and Kathy Kromer. Several phases were touched to qualify the student. Some were citizenship, social ability, general attitude, scholarship and physical appearance. The plaque will bear each student's name and be on display in the trophy case. Individual awards are forthcoming.

Donnie Morgan, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. W. Morgan, will leave for the six-week ROTC training offered at Ft. Hood June 16.

The Cub Scout family cook-out occurred Monday night in the country home of the James Cavins. The group enjoyed barbecued weiners and homemade ice cream.

After the meal the boys ran their car races and played baseball. Attending were Messers and Mesdames Ross Blassegame, Joel and Kim, O. A. Bronniman and Wayne, Jim Perrin, Jim, Bob, Joe and Carol Sue, John T. Lewis and Johnnie, Fred Harwood, Charles, Bobby and family, Mrs. A. P. # Davis Homers Fail To Halt Yankee Power As Cards Bow

In an old-fashioned slugfest, the Cardinals fell before Yankee power Thursday night, 15-10. But the Cards' slender first and third sacker Alvin Davis was the star of the show. He slammed out three home runs off three different Yankee hurlers and finished out the night with a slashing single. In all, Davis saw only seven pitches thrown to him during the game.

Big Jimmy Allison hit a base-loaded homer for the Yankees. After the Cards went down in order in the first, the Yankees banged out four hits to take a 2-0 lead. Randy Baize singled, went to second on a passed ball and to third on an error. Gene Duvall, Danny Lester and Danny Baize singled in succession to drive in the runs.

Davis teed off on the first pitch of the second inning and sent it looping over the right center field fence. But that was all the Cards could muster.

Three more runs scored for the Yankees in the last of the second. Felix Albiar and Jim Sheppard singled. Randy Baize got on by error and Mike Horton singled and took second on an error.

But the 5-1 lead wasn't too secure with Davis coming up in the third. Jerry Kendrick and Larry Brown walked before Davis blasted the first pitch over the left center field fence. That left the Cards down one run as the Yankees held on 5-4.

Danny Lester scored for the Yankees in the last of the third. He singled, took second on a passed ball and came in on two fielder's choices.

Three strikeouts put the Cards down in order in the fourth.

When it was time for the Yankees to show their power, Randy Baize walked but was erased as Mike Horton got on by fielder's choice. Gene Duvall singled and Danny Lester got on by fielder's choice that failed to get a runner. Danny Baize walked to force in one run. Allison then sent the ball over left center for a four-run homer. Albiar singled. Johnson Benefield singled and Jim Sheppard got on by fielder's choice. Sheppard got on by fielder's choice and Randy Baize singled.

In the bottom of the fifth, the Yanks added another pair of runs. Lester doubled before Danny Baize, Jim Allison and Felix Albiar walked. Benefield got on by fielder's choice as the second run scored.

That made it 15-4 at the end of five innings, but the Cards didn't give up. Davis again homered over left center on the first pitch. David Vines and Johnny Wall walked and Pat Higgins singled. Lee Robinson, Roger Suttle and Jerry Kendrick walked and Davis singled, this time hitting the third pitch.

But it wasn't enough to overcome the Yankee lead, in spite of the six runs.

LOW PRICE IS ONLY HALF THE STORY

(The other—and even more satisfying—half you'll discover the first time you drive a Corvair!)

And when we say "low price," we mean more than merely the pint-sized figure on the window sticker of a new Corvair. You're going to be saving like sixty on gas. And on the antifreeze you won't buy next winter, and the radiator repairs you'll never have to pay for. About the only things Corvair doesn't skimp on are room, smoothness, style and pure driving joy. But that's the other half of the story. Talk to your Chevrolet dealer about it soon!

Graduation Occupies Time For Many During The Week

BY MRS. OWEN ANDREWS
 Graduations this week are taking most attention of several in this community. In the high school graduating class in Hereford are Eugene Baldwin, son of the Rev. and Mrs. B. H. Baldwin; Tommy Sparkman, son of Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Sparkman Jr.; Carl Miller, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. C. Miller; Ann Sheppard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy Sheppard; Leon Vogler, son of Mr. and Mrs. E. F. Vogler; Jeannette Hodges, daughter-in-law of Mr. and Mrs. Al Hodges; and Norma Jean Warwick, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elza Warwick. They and their families attended Baccalaureate services on Sunday night. Commencement was on Friday, May 26, in the High School auditorium.

Jimmy Barber, son of Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Barber is a member of the Dimmitt graduating class, also had Baccalaureate services on Sunday night and graduation was Tuesday night, May 23. Johnny Mousner is a member of the Hart graduating class, which graduated on May 26. He left Sunday with other members of the class on a trip to San Antonio and other points in the area.

Graduating from Texas Tech with a B. S. degree will be Robert Baldwin, son of the Rev. and Mrs. B. H. Baldwin. He majored in Math and Physics and plans to teach this fall. Graduation at the Lubbock School will be on May 29.

Mr. and Mrs. Homer West and Linda were visiting his mother, Mrs. Bill Maddox, and other relatives at Sayre, Okla., during the weekend.

Mr. and Mrs. Owen Andrews, Mr. and Mrs. Glenn Andrews, Veradelle Andrews, Mrs. Elmer Jones and Miss Alma Andrews were among those attending funeral services for Francis Reisdorf at Amarillo on Monday afternoon. He was killed in a car accident on Friday. He was a teacher at Crosbyton. His wife is a sister of Charles King, brother-in-law of Owen Andrews and Mrs. Jones. He is also survived by a son, W. E., a teacher at Dimmitt, and a daughter, Mrs. Franklin Springer of Amarillo.

They visited his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Owen Andrews, and brothers and sisters, the Glenn Andrews, Clark Andrews, George Zetsches and Veradelle Andrews on Thursday and Friday. Also they visited his grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Sparkman and Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Andrews.

On Sunday, the Andrews family had dinner at the family home. Guests were Mrs. Joe Andrews' parents, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Haseloff, and her brother, Robert, of Abilene. Also present were her grandmother, Mrs. Hattie Haseloff, her aunt, Mrs. Haseloff and cousin, Pam Haseloff, all of Vernon. Also present was Ed Bueing, a college classmate of Joe, from Vernon. Mrs. Joe Andrews grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Zerrel Pilgreen of Vernon, came to Canyon on Sunday for the graduation service.

The Rev. B. H. Baldwin and Henry Dobbs were in Lubbock last Thursday, to visit Mr. A. R. Glenn who was in Methodist Memorial hospital there. Glenn had undergone surgery on Wednesday. He is improved some and if this continues, will be allowed to come home the last of this week. He is in room 229.

Thurman Mousner and daughters, Nahette and Carol of Hart, were visitors at Frio Baptist Church Sunday. They had dinner with the Roy Sheppards and in the afternoon Nanette and Ann Sheppard and Mrs. Earnest Harder visited Mrs. T. L. Sparkman Jr.

Mr. and Mrs. D. P. Schmidt, of Clinton, Okla., have been here several days visiting their children, Herb Schmidt, Leonard Schmidt and Mrs. Earnest Harder. The Schmidts have sold their farm home near Clinton and have bought a house in Clinton. They will be moving in a few days.

Vacation Bible school is to be held at the Frio Baptist church June 5 through June 9. All children in the area up through Intermediate age are invited to attend. Mrs. Weldon Stephan is principal of the school. Workers met Monday to plan a schedule of work.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Barber and Virgil and Mrs. Bill Williams attended graduation exercises of Junior High School at Stanton on Thursday evening. A nephew of Mrs. Barber, Tommy Bullard, was a member of the class.

Mr. and Mrs. Harlan Barber attended funeral services for his aunt, Mrs. Earl Shelton, at Amarillo last Tuesday.

Jill and Rhonda Stephan spent Friday night with their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Moody Stephan and Linda. On Saturday night, the Stephens and Mr. and Mrs. Dale Wright and Judy had supper with the Stephens to celebrate Stephan's birthday.

Having Sunday dinner with the Weldon Stephens were Mr. and Mrs. Wendell Maloney and Dana Kay, Mr. and Mrs. Wayne and Mrs. D. C. Miller and Carl.

Rhonda Stephan was among the pupils of Mrs. Sam Long, who were presented in music festival at the Temple Baptist Church in Hereford Sunday afternoon.

Jana Cole, music pupil of Mrs. Glenn Synder, was one of those presented in recital at the First Christian Church in Hereford, also on Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. T. L. Sparkman were in Amarillo Monday for Mrs. Sparkman to receive attention from an eye specialist. They also visited her sister, Mr. and Mrs. W. I. Johnson and Mrs. G. W. Sparkman.

WINS WITHOUT CAMPAIGN
PORTLAND, Ore. — Pvt. Marv Owens couldn't get a leave from Camp Roberts, Calif., and thus made no campaign speeches, no public appearances, but still managed to win the Democratic nomination for Congress in Oregon's 1st District.

Says Owens: "I really can't explain where the votes came from."

Letter To The Editor

Editor of the Hereford Brand:
 Teachers, being incurable idealists, stay with teaching not because of the pay, or working conditions or hours spent, but because of a frequently indefinite "something" they experience in teaching. That "something" goes well beyond the limits of their own knowledge and the realm of their textbooks, into a grinding desire that tomorrow's generation may be better informed, a little wiser, a little more far-seeing than the previous one.

We have been in Hereford two years now, pegging away in our own field of teaching a "cultural art" — theater. We expected to find, as in other cities, at best a small group of interested students and parents, and a general disbelief in the value of learning in this field.

Instead we found a city of individuals anxious to accept and help us as individuals; students willing to strain the budget of their time for long hard hours work after school in production of good plays, and equally willing to delve into the difficult realms of Aristotle, Euripides and Shakespeare in class; parents, willing to give unlimited assistance in time and energy; an interested press willing to give us good publicity and support; and a school administration anxious that their students be given an opportunity to develop a cultural program far more extensive and difficult than many larger schools support.

That the Thespians have made money; that they have won many trophies and medals for their school should be enough. But that young people have spoken in a loud excited voice for intelligent high quality use of the artistic side of our culture, speaks well for some hope of a strong generation on whom we may well depend.

It is, then, with a great deal of regret that we must leave Hereford to return to school and fulfill the certification requirements for teaching in this state. We have loved Hereford, the many friends we have here and had hoped to make Hereford our home. After all, we, as other parents, want our children reared in a city which will under any circumstance progress, and allow her young people to grow with her.

If our leaving is sentimental; it is because we have loved this city and her young people with all our hearts; and if we are sad, it is because we are losing far more than we would have ever been able to give.

Our thanks and appreciation to everyone —
 Burney and Lisa McClurkin
