Until then she had fancied herself desperately in love with Billy Brown.
"I can't tell you his name, said the old rascal, because my art doesn't carry me so far, but I can tell you that this man means to call on you this very evening, and some time during the visit he will sing "I Arise From Dreams of Thee."

"You know Rivers always hated publicity of any kind," returned Barlow. "But he really couldn't keep that Egyptian affaff dark. He had to tell some one, and it chanced to be me. It was here in this very club one evening last summer. He said he nearly died when Billy Brown started up and sang 'I Arise From Dreams of Thee,' almost at the very instant he began to sing it, but he just put it down as a remarkable instance of thought transference, until Mollie herself confided the whole story to him."

Test of Flour.

The letters XXXX, which decorate our flour bags are a source of mystery to the average housewife, but get there very naturally. In the largest flour mills several tests are given all flour sent out, but the final test is the baking trial. In a kitchen attached to the flour mills, which is resplendent with shining pans, electric ovens, and white cooling boards, there are loaves of bread made daily from the different samples of flour which have just been ground. Cooks are kept the year around for this purpose, for as many as sixty loaves are made daily by one mill alone.

Exacily at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, after the bread is done, the head millers file into the kitchen and cut and inspect the different loaves. No mak knows which flour has come from kim line, a vote is taken on the best loaf, and the flour from which that was made is marked with the mysterious X's. So great has this business of testing flour become that one building in Minneapolis has testing-rooms to which samples of grain are sent from all over the United States and Canada. These samples are made into bread after going through a miniature flour mill. After the bread has been made the package of grain is sent back to the miller who shipped it with full directions how to mark his flour, whether heads of the process of the miller who shipped it with full directions how to mark his flour, whether heads of the process of the second best.

Japanese Newspapers.

The standing of the three leading Japanese Journals, says the London Chronicle, is as follows: the London Chronicle, is as follows: the London Chronicle, is as follows: the John Markett Standard Chronicles as the Times of Japan. The staff is a paper, and may be rearded as the Times of Japan. The staff is mong whom appointments are often made to the chief posts in government departments. Rumors are never admitted to the pages of the "Jiji-Shimbun," and it has a great reputation for truthfulness and sincerity. The "Nichi Nichi Shimbun".

—I. e., "Day and Day New-hearing," or, as we should say, Dally Chronicle—is the organ of the Progressive party in Japan. While the "Koku-Miu Shimbun"—i. e., "Countrypeople's News"—which has been calling for "fearful musters and prepared defense," in its character of the nation's Journal is regarded as a less responsible paper, but is perhaps all the more interesting for that.

Would Step in the Way.

Would Stop in the Way.

I once had a dog that was good to track But to catch them he always would fall. For whenever the rabbit was started, you He would stop to play with his tail. His stopping would hinder the other canines.
For he always would stop in the way;
He seemed to think more of his tail that of meat,
And was never too hungry to play.

I know of some men in high stations to-who balk every good resolution. That is started in Congress, for they get in the way, And play with their tail, Constitution. This playing might do, if the time was their own.
But the people do not think it neat;
They would rather the playing was stopped, I am sure.
They do not want barking, but meat.

Wheat in Tennessee.

As a result of some experiments carried on for four years by the Tennessee station, the following conclusions were arrived at:

Of the 48 varieties of wheat grown on the station farm for the past four years a limited number only can be recommended for general culture.

Poole made the highest yield in 1903—48.5 bissels; the average for four years was 71.28 bushels. Niger made 44.27 bushels in 1903 and average made 44.27 bushels in 1903 and average of a state of the four years.

Mediterranean made 42.55 bushels for four years. Mediterranean made 42.55 bushels for four years.

Early Red Clawson, White wheat No. 6, Winter King, Ecipse, New Monarch, Gold Coin, Dawson's Golden Chaff, American Bronze and Beardless Fulcaster have been discarded after four years trial as unsuitable varieties for this state.

Some of the reasons for the low rields reported by Tennessee farmers are, a failure to rotate and to prepare the seed-bed properly, a deficiency of vegetable matter in the soil, late seeding, and unsuitable varieties. The climate and soil of Tennessee favor the production of wheats con taining a very high percentage of protain. The average percentage of protain four years, with 13.19 per cent. This is only one of many examples.

The protein content was highest in 1909 and 15 per cent in 1903 and 15 per cent in 1907, respectively, at the end of four years. Knowing the Business.

Knowing the Business.

To be a successful breeder of swine, a man must know the business thoroughly. He must be so well ac quainted with every detail that mistakes will be few and always small. The man that knows all the lins-and-outs of his business can alone keep it straight. It is impossible to make rules and have rules do the work. Rules are good but it takes effort to execute them. The big dealer must know all about his business even if he cannot carry out the details. Unless he does know about all the parts of his work he cannot know when the details are properly carried out. There are a good many men that make a success of swine raising, and there are a good many men that make a failure of it. It is evident that the men that make not a swine so with the successes comes to the men that know about their business only in a general way.

Soil for Apple Growing.

A good fertile soil, porous, loamy, with plenty of humus, potash and lime, so as to give fair to good crops of grain or grass, is the most to be dealing, while the nearest approach to these requirements would be my next choice—a soil that dries out quickly, so that it can be plowed soon after a rain, one that works easily, so as to get the best results with the least labor; a soil that will give a good crop of corn while we are growing the trees; a soil that will give a good crop of corn while we are growing the trees; a soil that will not bake too easily, is the one that is always desirable. Now comes a rocky or gravelly soil, which is nearly always good, the only drawback being that it takes more found in abundance in all as the soul of cound in abundance in all as the soul of the soil of the

All the new gowns have moderately full skirts. One needs only to glance at the beautiful models at the 'openings.' where the freshest conceits from abroad are shown, to discover in what charming ways this full skirt can be attained without exaggerating the size of the hips. A favorite mode is to hold the fullness flat in clusters of fine pinch tucks for a few finches below the walst, from whence they flow out into the required sweep. Vote next Saturday to build ammodious school house. Pros commodious school pectors from abroad must know that their children will have ample school facilities when they come to New Mexico.

J. D. Walker, the genial candidate for collector and treasurer of Eddy county, spent Sunday and Monday in Artesia, rubbing up against the dear voters. He left for the Hope country Tuesday morning.

Contractor Joe Clayton ran up against a small-sized strike Saturday. He had a half dozen union carper ters at work on a building and put his younger brother, Cecil, on as a helper. Three of the union men immediately walked off. Their places have been supplied.

Sperry & Chapman this week to the firm of Phillips, Dent & Walling an American rotary well drill, to be shipped from the factory. It will be a machine similar to the one now in use by Sperry & Chapman and there is no question about it being a good rig.

E. A. Cox, who recently came to the Valley from Madisonville, Kentucky, has bought land three miles south of Artesia and will locate on same with his family. His brother-in-law, B. F. Sloan of the same town in Kentucky, has also purchased land near Artesia and will locate.

Mr. John Richey, the pioneer farmer and real estate man, is very much in favor of an issue of bonds with which to build a new school house. He says we must show the people from the east that New Mexico is not behind in school facilities. So far as we know our people all agree with Mr. Richey on that ques-

"Christopher North" (Prof. John Wilson), a glant over six feet high, whose 'tread seemed almost to shake the streets, thought nothing of tramping forty miles in eight hours, or of walking from Liverpool to Elleray, a walking form Liverpool to Elleray, and walking for a twenty-mile stroll, and used to boast that he had walked six times 'round the earth. Charles Dickens was always at his brightest and happlest when he was striding gayly along when he was striding gayly along an hour. On one memorable occasion he covered twenty miles "fair heel and toe" in a shade over four hours, and very proud he was of his deed, Professor Fawcett, blind though he was, tramped his thirty miles many a day over Cambridge roads; and in our day, Mr. Swhalunen, Mr. Bryces our day, Mr.

IMMENSE TOBACCO PURCHASE.

Forty-Eight Thousand Dollars Paid for a Fancy Lot of Tobacco.

for a Fancy Lot of Tohecco.

The biggest purchase of high grade tobacco ever made in the West by a cigar manufacturer was made hast Wednesday by Frank P. Lewis, Prorta III., for his celebrated Single Binder cigar. A written guarantee was given that the entire amount was to be fancy selected tobacco. This, no doubt, makes the Lewis factory the largest holder in the United States of tobacco of so high a grading.—Herald-Transcript, Dec. 21, 1902.

A PECULIAR CASE.

Bridgeport, Ala, April 25th.—A remarkable case and one which has puzzled a great many people is reported here. It is the case of a lady who evidently came very nearly having paralysis. Her name is Mrs. Martha Glasscock, and she tells the following interesting story:

"I was afflicted with a tingling sentation in my feah and buring in the soles of my feet and at times I would be chilly and my feet and legs would feel as if they had gone to sleep. I suffered in this way for over six years. I was very much run down, and did not seem able to get anything that work me good, until I commenced bodd's Kidney Pills.

"In a short time every sympton of my old trouble was gone and I was feeling better and stronger than I had for years. I gained ten pounds in weight in three months. I can est heartly and I don't look like the same person. I feel that I owe my life to Dodd's Kidney Pills. I wish I could tell every sick woman what they have done for me."

Recently some very expensive and lavishly furnished apartments were erected in a well-known western city. Two ladies, eminently respectable and possessed of means, being in that neighborhood, decided to call and investigate. Unfortunately they had been on a long constitutional furnishment of the parks and wore had been on a long constitutional furnishment of the parks and wore had been on a long constitutional furnishment of the parks and wore had been constitutional furnishment of the parks and wore had been critically and entered the agent's office. That individual was absent, but his understudy, a young male thing, with an inflated idea of his own responsibility, eyed them critically and with an overhearing manner endeavored to impress them with the encornous reratas placed on the apartments. It was more evident than pleasing to the visitors that they were being "sized up" as entirely to "cheap" to be worthy of consideration. Much disgusted and more indignant, they withdrew to the street.
