Rugged Herd Drops Hawks 25-14

Around Town

Only major topic of conversation in Hereford Saturday was about the Phillips Blackhaws having the rug pulled from beneath them by the Whitefaces. The Herd sneaked up on the Hawks like Mule-shoe had sneaked up on Hereford. The victory threw the conference into its usual mess.

Coach Bobby Williams, beating his old high school and the team which he once coached, was walking on air Friday night. Hereford assistant Buster Hodges, who was a member of the 1950 Phillips team which was beaten by Hereford, kept telling folks last week, "If I don't stop hearing about that, I'm going to leave town."

Next Friday, Hereford will face Dumas, probably taking over from Hereford now as the most underrated team in the district. Don't kid yourself, Dumas is dangerous, and has some of the best backs in the conference in Ray Casas, Charlie Dean and Mike Boswell.

Spooks, goblins and witches will be out in force Monday night for their usual handout. Only the smaller ones will be thinking of their own stomachs. The teens will be out working for the stomachs of undernourished children in the world as they collect for CROP.

TEENAGE 'GOBLINS' Monday night will march from door to door in the city seeking funds for Christian Rural Overseas Program. They will be identified by solicitor tags and will have half-pint milk cartons to carry donations. Showing the tags and milk cartons are LuAnne Higgins, left, chairman of the Trick or Treat drive and Diedra Thomas, who was chairman of the Stanton Junior High School CROP assembly Friday morning. Funds collected on the Halloween Night drive will be used to feed hungry children overseas. (Staff Photo)

Heart Operation Termed Success

Ten-year-old Mary Sue Hassell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Hassell, Route 1, Friona, Saturday was reportedly making a successful recovery after she underwent a delicate heart operation at Children's Medical Center in Dallas Thursday afternoon. Twenty Hereford residents returned to the city Thursday afternoon after donating 11 pints of fresh blood to be used during the 2 1/2-hour course of the operation. The young girl's heart was still for a period during the operation, and the donors' blood was circulated through her arteries and veins by a heart and lung machine.

Hold Arizona Man On Swindle By Bad Check

Charles J. Obert, 52, of Somerton, Ariz., who has been indicted for swindle with worthless check by 69th District Grand Jury, was returned to Hereford Wednesday evening by the Deaf Smith County Sheriff's Department. Bond for Obert has been set at $2,500. He was indicted Oct. 10 this year by the Grand Jury. He was placed under arrest this week in Somerton, which is in Yuma County, Ariz. Arrest was made by County Sheriff Lowell Sharp of Hereford. Obert was charged in connection with writing a check in amount of $6,000 to Thurman Jones, Inc., on Oct. 26, 1957, Sheriff Sharp said. The check reportedly was for payment of lettuce cartons and staples.

Ten Years Since 'Faces' Last Won

Hereford football fans carried Whiteface players off the field and held a wild victory celebration outside the Phillips fieldhouse Friday night. They were celebrating history that had repeated itself. A fired-up, determined Herd outplayed and outscored the vaunted Blackhaws 25-14 in a 1-AAA District contest. The loss was the first of the season for Phillips after running up a string of six victories.

75 Absentee Votes Counted; Deadline Nov. 5

Pace in absentee balloting picked up considerable steam during the latter part of last week as 75 votes were recorded in the Deaf Smith County Clerk's office Saturday morning. As tension continues to mount in local, state and national races, some are expecting a record turnout at the Nov. 8 General Election polls. Absentee balloting will continue through Friday, Nov. 4, at 5 p. m. Absentee votes will be accepted through mail or at the County Clerk's office. The County Clerk's office had taken in 49 absentee ballots by Wednesday morning. At least half of the absentee ballots mailed out from the County Clerk's office have been sent to Armed Forces personnel or college students, indicating many young voters are taking an active interest in next month's election. A total of 106 ballots were cast in the first 10 days of May, which set a record for this county. Local races of interest are for County Clerk and County Tax Assessor - Collector, both with Democratic and G. O. P. candidates. Unopposed Democratic candidates are on the ballot for election to five posts, including County Attorney, County Sheriff, County Judge, and County Commissioners of Precincts One and Three. Applications for absentee ballots by mail will be accepted through 5 p. m., Nov. 4, and mail-in ballots will be accepted through noon on Nov. 8.

Safe Halloween Goal Of Police

Hereford Police Chief Henry Aycock has asked the cooperation of all local youths in "avoiding destruction of property or creating obstacles or hazards which might cause accidents" in issuing his pre-Halloween night warning this week. "We want our youngsters to have a good time, as long as they do not destroy private or public property, or create dangerous situations," Chief Aycock said. He added that any person doing anything to jeopardize safety of residents or motorists, or anyone destroying property will be arrested. "Some youths, a small minority, feel that this is a night when they can do what they please, irrespective of another person's property and welfare," he pointed out. "That is not a healthy attitude." Last year, he said, there was no property damage on Halloween night and few hazardous conditions caused by pranksters.

Pep Rally Sets Victory Stage

A dramatic pep rally at Hereford High School set the stage for the Whitefaces' upset victory over Phillips Friday night by a score of 25-14. "History can repeat itself," principal Bill Stanford told the team, visitors and student body. He then introduced eight members of the 1950 Hereford High team which upended highly favored Phillips 35-3. That is the only time Hereford had ever beaten Phillips until Friday night. Earlier in their rivalry, Hereford had won a tie game on penetrations.

'Galloping Poll' Has Dick Ahead

BY H. A. TUCK, BRAND NEWS EDITOR. A "Galloping Poll" by the Hereford Brand news staff during the past week indicated a trend for the Republican presidential team, but was too small to be conclusive. Of the 212 persons polled, 132 indicated they planned to vote for Richard Nixon and Henry Cabot Lodge, the Republican nominees. Democratic nominees of John Kennedy and Lyndon B. Johnson attracted 52 votes in the informal headcount. Another 32 persons lined up in the ranks of undecided, said by some to be the factor which will influence the voting on Nov. 8 for one of the parties. This is the faction which is being wooed most assiduously by workers for both groups. And another five persons cast their votes for other candidates. Senator Barry Goldwater, Arizona congressman who is termed "the voice of the conservatives," drew two votes. One person voted for Sullivan, the Constitution Party candidate. Still another voted for a ticket of Arnold Palmer for President and Ben Hogan for Vice President on the grounds that if the president is to be a golfer, we might as well have a good one. And the fifth dissenting vote went for a local ticket. Most of the polling took place during meetings which were held in Hereford during the week. If anything, the poll included too many persons who live in town and not enough rural residents to be completely representative. By groups, the poll went this way: One group of 50 voted 31 for Nixon, 16 for Kennedy, two undecided, and one for Goldwater. A group of eight went four for Nixon, three for Kennedy and one undecided. Another group of 23, included 13 for Nixon, three for Kennedy, six undecided and one for the Palmer-Hogan ticket; a group of 75 voted 49 for Nixon, 19 for Kennedy, six undecided and one for Sullivan; a group of 40 polled 23 for Nixon, 10 for Kennedy and seven undecided. And a group of 15 voted 12 for Nixon, one for Kennedy, one for Goldwater and one undecided.

Group Studies TB Examinations For Residents

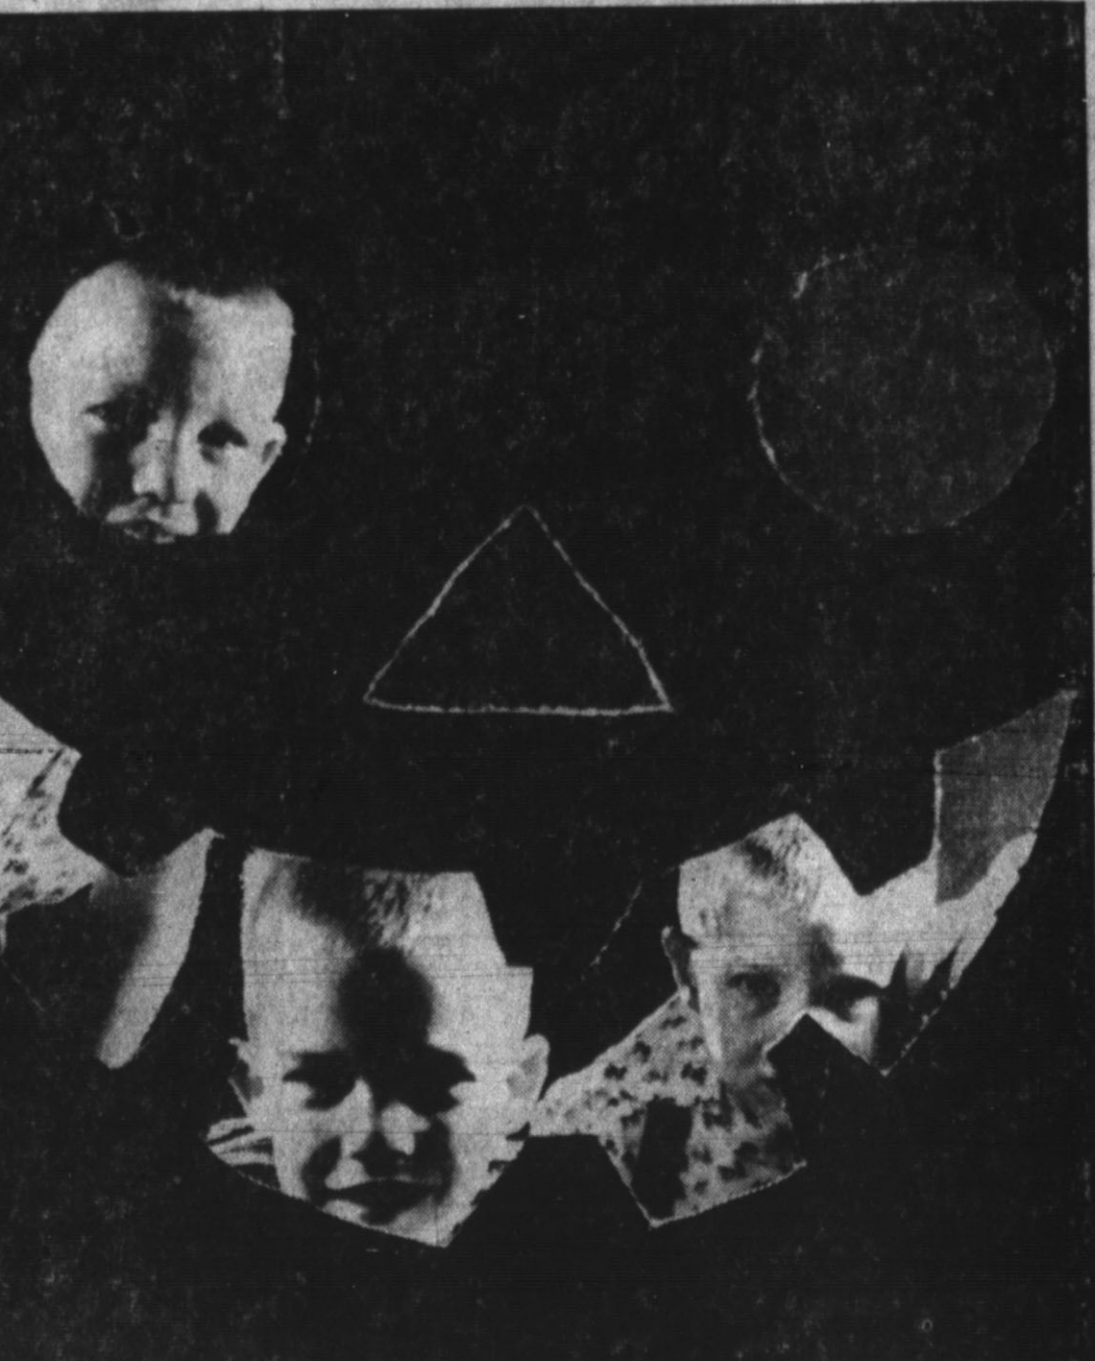

The possibilities of conducting a tuberculosis examination for all residents of Hereford and the Labor Camp were discussed by Hereford Migrant Ministry Committee Wednesday morning. The examination program would be conducted through the Texas Tuberculosis Association, with headquarters in Austin. No action resulted from the discussion, however. The Migrant Ministry Committee met with a state child-welfare representative and a United States medical social consultant to discuss health education among migrant families in the Migrant Ministry Community Center at 10 a. m. Wednesday. No specific action or request was made by the Migrant Ministry Committee other than looking into the possibility of a tuberculosis examination. Meeting with the Committee were Mrs. Rosalind Giles of Austin, director of the Child Welfare Division of the Department of Public Welfare; and Miss Catherine W. Erwin of Dallas, medical social consultant, Dallas Regional Office of the U. S. Children's Division. Also meeting with the Committee was Miss Betty Whitaker of Austin, director of Migrant Ministry, Texas Council of Churches.

MY ACHIN' MUSCLES Optimists - JCs Set Grid Game

New rays of light will glow on football stars of past years when two Hereford organizations square off for a game at Whiteface Field here on Nov. 12. Hereford Optimist Club and Hereford Junior Chamber of Commerce plan to field teams made up of Hereford men who hung up their shoulder pads and helmets long ago. The game is tentatively scheduled for 7:30 p. m. Saturday, Nov. 12, and proceeds will go toward the Little League, Pony League and the Optimist Club's boys work program. The game will not be "Touch" or "flag" football; it will be rough and tumble tackle style. Most players, still being recruited by the two clubs, have played football in high school or college. Prospective players must be 22 years or older. Basically, the game will be played according to high school rules. Each organization may recruit up to 35 players from membership of their club or non-club members.

Optimists - JCs Set Grid Game

Advance tickets for the game will go on sale sometime this week. Children 12 years of age or under will be admitted free. Winning team will receive 60 per cent of game proceeds, and the losing club will receive 40 per cent. The Jaycees will donate their proceeds into the Little League and Pony League allotments of the United Fund, and the Optimists will use their proceeds to carry out their boys work program. No person actively engaged in football at the present will be permitted to play. Tentative plans are to have the Stanton Junior High School band, under direction of Ben R. Gollehon, play at half-time ceremonies. Game committees include Charlie Sheetz, Bill Drummond and Kenneth Malone of the Optimist Club, and Dale Barkley, Kenneth Brock and Dan Mudd of the Jaycees. Coaches of the two teams will be announced this week by the two teams.

A JACK-O-LANTERN is a wonderful thing for children. But how do the children look to the pumpkin? This view gives some idea as it picks up expressions of delight, interest and apprehension from David, Alan Ray and Craig Baugous. LIVING HISTORY that Hereford can beat Phillips in football was exhibited Friday morning during the HHS pep rally. Eight members of the 1950 Whiteface team were introduced to the present players and student body.

Introduced as regulars on the 1950 squad were: Leonard Walterscheid, Buddy Pickens, Ken Brock, Jim Lookingbill, Stanley Slagle, Harold Morton, Dwaine Walker and Burl Fish. They are the only ones from the team who still live in Hereford.

Stanford read brief accounts from the Hereford Brand story of the 1950 game. The north wall of the gymnasium, facing the students, carried the Brand's 1950 headline: "Whiteface Smashes Phillips In Upset Of Year!" Another banner carried the score and a notation, "It's Time For Another Victory In 1960!"

Cheerleaders introduced the coaches and players, presenting them with shining new, good-luck pennies.

Persons making application for absentee ballots by mail should send in a poll tax receipt or exemption certificate when making request for ballots. A poll tax receipt or exemption certificate must be presented when voting absentee at the County Clerk's office.

Voters may vote a split ticket if they wish. They must have lived in the state a year and in the county six months to be eligible to vote.

On the local, state and national level, the Democratic Party will have Republican Party opposition in various races. The election will name a President and Vice-President, and four proposed Constitutional Amendments also are listed on the ballot.

Combines were out trying to cut the latter part of the week, but the maize was still testing high on moisture. Some of the farmers were going ahead, since they felt they had to get the land cleared and planted to wheat very soon.

Most of the maize is still in the fields, along with the majority of the cotton. In fact, we may see harvesting operations until nearly Christmas if this night-time dampness continues.

Calendar for the first of next week is fairly open. The Chamber of Commerce is inviting its members to drop in for coffee and conversation on Monday morning.

You've heard a lot lately about the Texas Sugar Beet Grower Association activity. Apparently, direct action is one attribute of the people who raise sugar beets. For example, a little story in the latest edition of the U. S. Beet Sugar Industry's newsletter was headlined: "Liveliest Meeting Since Hector Was a Pup. The story said: "Irate sugar beet growers meeting at Hector, Minn., to discuss a recurrent shortage of gondola cars to haul their crop to the processing plant at Chaska found a quick solution to the problem. They simply adjourned the gathering to the railroad tracks. After a train had been held up for about two hours by the impromptu picket line, the growers were promised ample cars would be

SAVING FROM SCRAPS
MECHANICSBURG, Pa. (AP)—The U. S. Navy reports it's anything but down in the mouth about the results of a scheme to salvage scraps, sweepings and discard items from its dental laboratories.

Operating under the theory that gold is where you find it, the Navy undertakes a regular collection of old crowns, bridges, fillings and dentures as well as dust and grindings from dental lab work.
The products of this broomstick prospecting are shipped from Pennsylvania and Maryland dental labs to the Mechanicsburg Naval Supply Depot.

One of the purposes of the drive is in the giving of material help to needy overseas and reduction of property damage from mischievous stunts.

While Hereford teenagers are conducting their campaign, youth in 215 or more other communities in the state will be making similar drives.

All Trick or Treat funds over $50,000 collected throughout the state will go to a special rice campaign for the seriously undernourished school children of Hong Kong.

Funds will be used to send food to children in destitute countries of the world. A dollar will send no less than 300 pounds of food to the hungry overseas, according to the Rev. H. L. Thurston of Hereford, chairman of the state board of directors of CROP in Texas.

"We believe the Trick or Treat drive is one of the best showings of brotherly love that youth have for one another," the Rev. Thurston said. "We think they are making Halloween what it should be—a sacred evening."

Solicitors will be given tags and milk cartons to hold donations at the First Methodist Church.

Youth who attend the First Baptist Church and the Church of Christ of Hereford and planning to take part in the city-wide canvass are asked to take a dozen cookies each and all participants are asked to take four sandwiches each to the First Methodist Church at the time of the drive. Beverages will be furnished at the church.

In past years, Hereford has raised more money per capita than any other town of its size in the United States in its Trick or Treat drive. Students at Hereford High held their drive kick-off Wednesday and Stanton Junior High held a drive kick-off assembly Friday morning.

Hereford High drive officers besides Miss Higgins are Suzanne Langley, vice chairman; Jan Reese, treasurer; Terry Anderson, publicity; Sammy Saul, arrangements; Eugene Baldwin, in charge of food arrangements; Cherry Holt, map chairman; and Walteen Beavers, rural chairman at Dawn. County CROP chairman is Hugh Clearman of Hereford.

23 times and averaged more than six yards to try.

Midway through the first period, Phillips took over on their own 31 and marched 69 yards in 12 plays. Quarterback Jack Gray kept, then had fullback Danny Renuau and halfbacks Delbert Duncan and Phillip Johnson carrying on the march.

Key play in the drive was a 26-yard pass play from Gray to Johnson, down to the Herford 20, Renuau skirted left end for 12, then hit the line three times before scoring on a one-yard dive over left tackle. Gray then passed to Renuau for two points with 1:52 left in the first quarter.

Early in the second quarter Cansler punted 39 yards to the Phillips 15, with the Hawks being penalized half the distance to the goal. They quickly moved to the Herford 38, where Gray fumbled and end Wendell Wilson fell on the ball.

In 11 plays, Herford covered 64 yards. Skypala got nine and three and Cansler moved 26 yards on a quick opener to the Hawk 25.

Skypala got four, Hodges two, Skypala four and eight, as the ball rested on the Phillips 7. With second and two, Skypala got two. With first and goal, Skypala lost one, Cansler made one and Skypala drove over left tackle from two yards out to score.

Collier was dropped trying to pass for the tying two points and Phillips had an 8-6 lead with 4:17 remaining in the first half.

Duncan returned Poarch's kick off from his own 15 to the Herford 46 as the Hawks battled back.

With third and nine from the Herford 25, Gray hit end Eddie Pennington with a 20 pass.

With fourth down and five on the Herford nine and just 34 seconds left, Gray ran to his left for six yards and a first down.

From the Herford three, Renuau got two, but the Herford forward wall yielded just half of the needed yard to Gray as time ran out in the first half.

Herford kicked off to open the second half, with Phillips returning to the Herford 49. In the first play from scrimmage, Gray's pass was intercepted by Wesley Poarch on quarterback Jim Collier's pitch-out and ran eight yards around left end.

Cansler then took the ball on a quick opener and scored 32 yards past ineffective grabs to score. Fullback Clyde Whitaker booted the extra point for Herford, the last score made with 1:16 left in the game.

After three incomplete passes and time down to a matter of seconds, Gray called a fake punt and ran 19 yards to the Herford 30. After two incomplete passes, Gray lofted one down to the Herford ten.

But tackle Butch Walterscheid wrestled it away from the intended receiver and almost added insult to the terrible injury given Phillips. Just as the ball went into the air, the buzzer sounded.

But since the play was not yet finished, Walterscheid took off for pay-dirt. He wandered from the Herford ten, down to the Phillips 25 before he was knocked over. He covered 65 yards, besides the lateral distance, on the interception.

Jubilant Herford fans swarmed on to the field to carry off the beaming Herford players. Phillips players caught napping by a determined team of Whitefaces slowly walked off the field with their heads down.

When Coach Bobby Williams finally assembled his team in the dressing room, he looked at them proudly for a moment and then said, "To win a game, you've got to play your heart out. We won a game. Now, let's get us a Demon."

It was a double-sweet victory for Herford coaches Bobby Williams and Buster Hodges. Williams played and coached at Phillips before coming to Herford. Hodges was a member of the 1950 Blackhawk team which lost to Herford.

The win gave Herford a 4-2-1 record, while Phillips is 6-1. Next Friday the Herd will host the Dumas Demons, who lost 29-16 to Littlefield in the other conference game. Levelland took on Canyon in a non-conference tilt and won, 44-0.

It would be impossible to single out one or two players who made the victory possible. It was definitely a team effort. Fullback Eddie Skypala carried the bulk of the attack, while Cansler lugged the ball 13 times for a 7.1 average. Hodges carried four times and averaged 11.75 yards per try.

Quarterback Jim Collier called a smooth game, mixing up his plays and keeping the attack moving. The offensive line included James Gentry, Bill Steele, Troy Don Moore, Edwin Thomas, Eugene Baldwin, Lee Kimball and Wesley Poarch. Defensive alignment included Butch Walterscheid, Leon Vogler, Dick Plank, Wendell Wilson, Donny Lesley, Clyde Whitaker and Jim Pavilleck.

Walterscheid and Thomas teamed up to stop the hard-running Hawks backs, while Poarch, Whitaker and Pavilleck defended on the frequent Phillips aerial attempts. It was a clean, hard-hitting game from start to finish, with only six penalties called all night.

How Can I?

By Anne Askey
Q. How can I restore the appearance of a rain-soaked felt hat?

A. First let it dry partially, and then press out the creases in the crown. Next, turn down the band and place the hat in some cool place away from any heat and let it dry thoroughly. Then reshape the crown and brush the hat gently. If the work has been done carefully, the hat will look almost as good as new.

Q. What is the best way to caramelize sugar?

A. In a dry skillet in the oven. In this way, it heats from the bottom and top at the same time, thus caramelizing quickly and smoothly.

Q. How can I clean copper easily and economically?

A. Rub it with half a lemon dipped in salt, then rinse it in hot water, and polish with a soft cloth.

Q. How can I make the removal of a tiny, almost imperceptible splinter easier?

A. Touch the spot with some iodine. The wooden splinter will dark, which not only makes it easy to see and remove, but also cleanses the wound and helps avoid infection.

Q. How can I save the paint that inevitably collects in the indented rim of a paint can, flows down the outside of the can, and is usually wasted?

A. If you'll make a practice of punching a couple of nail holes in the bottom of this indented rim, the paint will run back into the can again.

Q. How can I most easily remove cat and dog hairs from upholstered furniture or car seats?

A. Simply by wiping lightly over them with a board which has been wrapped with adhesive tape, sticky side out.

Stanton Junior High's Frosh met their second downfall of the season at the hands of the Coronado Freshmen from Plainview by the score of 34-6 in a game played there.

The Dogies were also defeated by Levelland. Both of these losses occurred in conference play, as Stanton went undefeated during their first five games.

Top this — a filigree of Schiffli embroidery gives Carlye's well-known wool jersey strategy a dramatic build-up in this Kimono-sleeved dress that buttons with jersey twists. Step in... and step out looking your newest. Sand with tapestry beige-to-brown embroidery, camel with tapestry orange-rust-grey, lovebird with tapestry shades of aqua. Sizes 6-18, 7-17.

PLAN NOW TO EDUCATE YOUR CHILDREN

Every year education becomes more important as more and more jobs require a good education. You can see it happening every day. At Credit Union you can save a little from each paycheck for your children's education and by the time your children grow up you will be able to give them plenty of help. At Credit Union you can also borrow for education. In fact, we can't think of a better reason for a loan than to help your children properly prepare for a better future.

If you want to avoid having to borrow, start saving now. Simply figure the amount you will need to send John, George, or Sue to college. Now divide that amount by the number of years until time for the child to enter college. Next divide the number of years by 12 and see how little you will need to save each month to have ready for college.

Your money will increase rapidly through our 4% dividend and remember we provide life savings insurance at no cost. Even saving as little as $5 per month would amount to $1833 in 20 years.

See Credit Union soon and start your educational plan now!

Film About Air Defense System Shown Tuesday

"Seconds For Survival," a new film about our nation's defense was shown to the Hereford Optimist club on Tuesday. Bob Wood and Ray Ainsworth, with Southwestern Bell Telephone Co. in Amarillo, explained the nature of the film and showed it to the club. Narrator Raymond Massey told how the United States and Canada had cooperated in setting up the Dew Line (Distant Early Warning) radar stations near the Arctic Circle, backed up by the Mid-Canada Line and the Pine Tree Line.

Ring of radar around the nation is completed with continuous radar search planes and picket ships.

The North American Air Defense Command depends solely on its communications network to defend instantly against any invading air force. Most of this utilizes the regular telephone network, which has provisions to by-pass critical areas which might be hit by attack.

Western Electric, the film told, was asked to design an anti-missile missile. The company came up with the Nike-Zeus.

Highlight of the film was the portrayal of our air defense

SAVE OUR SUB

MILWAUKEE (Operation S. O. S. (Save Our Sub)) has

system in action during a simulated enemy raid. Jet planes took off as rockets and missiles roared into the air, searching out the enemy seen only on radar screens.

"If peace is to come," Massey concluded, "It can come only with eternal vigilance."

been launched by the Milwaukee County Allied Veterans Council to rescue the submarine Tautog from threatened relegation to the scrap heap.

The Tautog, a heroine of World War II Navy encounters, has been tied up in the Milwaukee harbor in recent years. Veterans groups want to save the sub as a shrine.

These so-called "undecided votes" I cannot buy. Surely, by now, every man and woman of voting age has at least some idea of how he plans to vote a week from Tuesday. The undecideds may exist, but I figure most of the people are kidding themselves; they want to vote one way, but cannot admit to themselves that they are willing to desert their party. In the washout, the undecideds will probably go about 50-50. It is also possible that this is the poll taker's method of "leaving the back door open."

J. H. Early, 336 Star, sure isn't undecided. He now has six or seven GOP campaign signs in his front yard. He started out with one sign, then added another along from time to time. It is quite a novelty.

This is just a block beyond County Demo Chairman Louis Woodford, 216 Star, I have been expecting Louis to come back with his own sign display, but haven't yet noticed any developments.

I was also interested to discover that one of our former Brand employees went as a special newspaper guest (one of 46) to the L. B. Johnson ranch recently. She was Carolyn (Inman) Pingleton. Carolyn graduated from HHS in 1956, worked on The Brand for around a year, then moved to Laredo with her husband, who was stationed there. She went to work on the Laredo Times - and is really doing a jam-up job.

T. L. Sparkman Jr., director of Hi-Plains Water District, is attending a special meeting in Austin. He is taking the job seriously, and seems to be making a real hand. T. L. says he will give us a report on his return, probably Tuesday.

An interesting sidelight on the recent heart operation of Mary Sue Hassell, ten-year-old Friona girl for whom the Oasis Shrine Club flew to Dallas and furnished fresh blood:

"Nine out of 10 of these particular heart operations have to be cancelled," said one of the doctors, "because the donors fail to show up on schedule. Towns your size seem to do better. City donors probably the most unreliable of all."

The particular operation seems to be quite unusual, but still not so rare as 20 blood donors who travel 400 miles, and show up right on schedule, all at the same time.

For one of the few times in Deaf Smith history, the Republicans are going to make a bid for local offices. Verna Lyons, candidate for Tax as-essor-Collector, was complaining because even her closest friends didn't know her first name; she says they all call her Mrs. Red Lyons. Lanette Mobley Miller, the Democratic nominee, ran into some of this same trouble in the Demo primaries. The Clerk's race will, of course, have three candidates: B. F. Cain on the Demo slate; Oneta Rudd, Republican ticket, and Able Crume on a write-in ticket.

Despite the innovation, the Democrats will still be the only party with a complete line-up of candidates for every office. Most people presume that GOP ballot in this county will be on a "split ticket" basis, and that there will be many variations. All of which means early morning hours when it comes to tabulating the results.

Cliff Arnold called to say that the Hereford Coin Club has been reorganized. The group will meet Thursday, Nov. 3, at 7 p. m. in the Blue Flame room at the gas company to complete organization. James Edmondson is president, and said that all collectors are urged to join. They now have 12 members, and figure they should have at least twice the number.

Everyone I see has either a cold or sinus infections, or both. No one has come up with logical explanation, but it is bound to be the mixed weather conditions of recent weeks.

Coffee time was smile time Saturday morning as a result of the 25-14 victory over Phillips. Reports say that it took the Hereford boys more than 20 minutes to get into their dressing rooms after the game. The fans carried the boys off the field - and every time they put one of the players down, someone else picked him up. H. A. Tuck called the result in to the Lubbock paper, and said it took a bit of doing to convince them that Hereford, not Phillips, was on the long end of the score.

A lot of things change, but not youngsters and that first haircut. James Alston was in the barber shop with James Lowell this week - and off came those long, beautiful curls.

"It took a long time to convince his mother," said James, "but everyone started saying, 'What a darling little girl' - and that did the trick."

Scoring Punch Lacking As B Team Falls To Phillips

BY WAIN MILLER
BRAND SPORTS WRITER

The Hereford Bees dropped their fourth defeat this year as they were downed by the Phillips Blackhawks to the tune of 22-0, in a scrimmage held at Whiteface field Thursday night.

The sparkling Blackhawk defense turned the Herd back after they had first downs within the nine yard line on three occasions, as the Herd failed to score. The Hawk's speedy backfield, led by hard-driving fullback P. R. Styles, just couldn't be contained by the Herd's defensive squad.

The Blackhawks scored early in the first quarter after an 80 yard drive which racked up six first downs. Halfback R. P. Styles scampered over to score the first of the Blackhawk touchdowns from the line.

Arnold Powell was forced to punt from his own 30, as the Herd faced a fourth down, 11 to go situation, and he sent the ball rolling into the end zone. Phillips totaled three firsts and moved the ball to the Herd's 21 yard line, before Craig Griffith dived in to recover a backfield bobby by the Blackhawks.

Hereford's speedy halfback Arnold Powell took off from his own 30 and raced 27 yards to the Blackhawk 43, setting up what might have been a score for the Herd. The Herd added three more firsts, and then they failed to make a fourth and one situation on the one yard marker, and the Blackhawks gained control.

Phillips was forced to punt from their 20, giving the Calves the ball on the 45. Fullback Fred Martin carried for 10 to the opposite 45 for a first. Quarterback Austin Hodges fired one to Powell who made it to the 14 before being upended on a shoestring tackle by Blackhawk R. P. Styles.

Hodges tossed another pass to back Glen Nelson which fell incomplete in the end zone as the buzzer sounded ending the second quarter.

The Herd was forced to punt from the 50 in the third quarter which gave Phillips the ball on their own 23. Blackhawk back Donald Bickly launched an aerial to end Bobby Roley who went all the way for the second T. D. early in the third quarter. Styles made the conversion which set the score at 14-0.

The Hawks gained control a

Young Mother's Study Club Has Recent Meeting

The Young Mother's Study Club met Tuesday night in the Community Center. Several money-making projects were discussed during the business session and club members voted to support the Federation of Women's Clubs in their drive to outfit the Community Center with new dishes and tableware. Plans were also made for the Christmas party.

Dr. Wes Owen, guest speaker, gave an interesting talk on the importance of proper care of children's teeth. Dr. Owen stressed the fact that each child should be brought to a dentist as soon as he is old enough. A question and answer period followed.

Mrs. Joe Lindsey and Mrs. Ed Runn, hostesses, served coffee and cake to the following: Mesdames Bruce Fink, Weldon Roberson, A. W. Self, Charles Springer, Marshall Wilson, Homer Rudd, Jerome Duderstadt, Ceel Morrison and a guest, Mrs. James Arney. A hearty welcome was given Mrs. Rudy Kessler, a new member.

Electricity Is Subject Of Meet

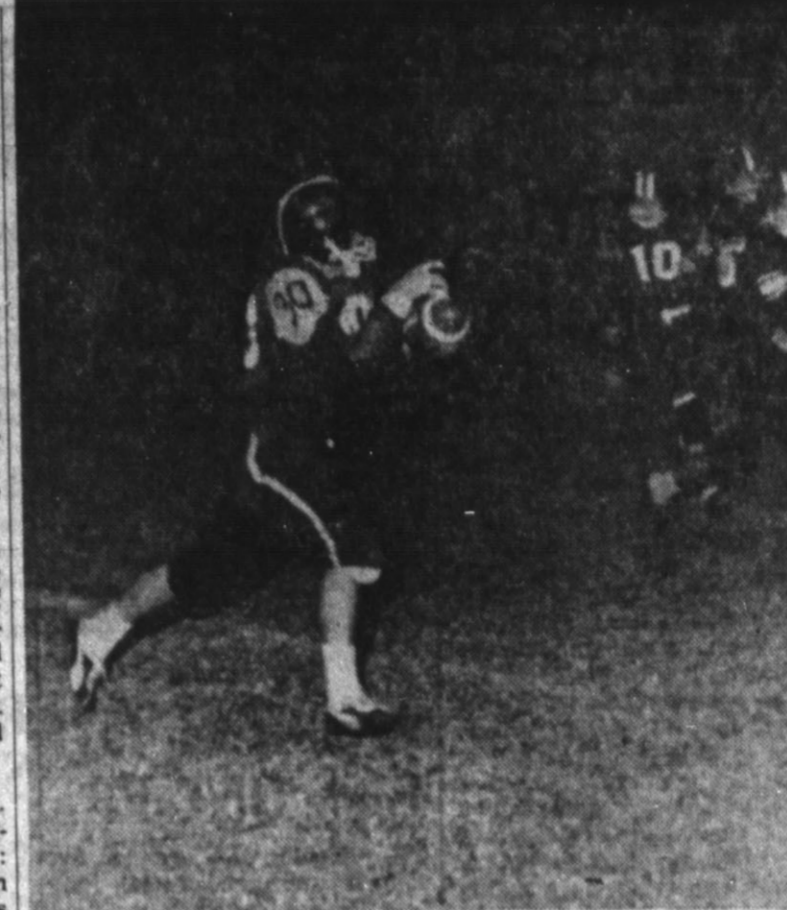

Hereford Boys 4-H Club met Wednesday, Oct. 19, in the Stanton Junior High School library. Sam Morgan from Deaf Smith County Electric Coop spoke to the group about electricity on a farm. He also gave the group ideas for demonstration.

For the month of November the boys will fit livestock for show at the Bull Barn Saturday, Nov. 12. They will have two meetings or an all-day meeting from 10 a. m. to 3 p. m.

gain on the 20 on a blocked punt, to set up their third T. D. Fullback Styles scored on an 11 yard end run, and he also scored the extra points, ending the scoring at 22-0.

Both teams racked up 12 first downs, with the Herd drawing 55 yards in penalties, while Phillips received 40 yards. Hereford completed four out of six attempted passes, as the Hawks completed only two out of six attempts.

The Bees have won three and lost four thus far this season, with Dumas and Littlefield remaining to be tried.

CATCHING A PASS with hands above the ball is almost impossible as Hereford's Eldon Howell found out to his dismay in Thursday B team contest with Phillips here Thursday night. The fourth down play in the third quarter was unsuccessful and the young Blackhawks took over. Phillips won the game. (Staff Photo)

As a special event, an achievement program will be presented Nov. 7 at 7 p. m. in the high school cafeteria.

Dr. Hicks Speaks To Local Parents And Teachers

Compromise, freedom, and respect were cited by Dr. C. E. Hicks as fundamental ingredients in a happy emotional relationship between husbands and wives when he spoke to the Deaf-Blind Council of Parents and Teachers at the high school cafeteria Thursday night. Mrs. Earl Springer, health chairman for the council, introduced the local physician.

chore necessary in a home. To meet those needs, each would have to make some compromise and be able to recognize the partner's position objectively, he commented.

Going further into his subject, "Understanding Emotional Problems to Improve Human Relations," the physician pointed to the growing practice of giving people things, from agencies, the governments, and even from well-meaning friends as one of the chief problems of this century. He declared that in giving commodities to able bodied people on a mere statement of need is actually sapping their will to do for themselves; this part of his discussion was based on his own experience in a mining town of some 14,000 population where 70 per cent of the people are on some type of relief.

"You couldn't get a person to mow your lawn for $1.50 an hour there," he stated, "It had become the smart thing to do to get all you could for nothing."

Increased medical aid for older people also was questioned by the speaker, who commented that on the surface it seemed like something everyone would want to do. But he added that it meant the taking away of another of the rights which produced the rugged individuals who built this nation.

"When we have lost the right to provide for ourselves, what rights have we left?" he challenged.

He went on to explain that this loss of individual initiative and freedoms, not a fear of poorer compensation, has been the motivating factor in the American Medical Association's fight against each step toward socialized medicine.

During the business session conducted by Mrs. Glenn Allred, president, plans were made to hold a Parent-Teacher Leadership Training Course in the junior high school library on Nov. 14 at 7 p. m. All officers of Parent - Teachers units and others who are interested are eligible to take the course. Mrs. Allred must know by 4 p. m. on Nov. how many plan to take the course so that mater-

Boys Ranch Is Topic Of Talk

Ray Noblitt of Clarendon explained operation of Cal Farley's Boys Ranch, located near Amarillo, at the noon meeting of Hereford Rotary Club Monday in the ballroom of the Jim Hill Hotel.

"Without support from clubs such as yours, Boys Ranch could not grow," Noblitt said. He said the Ranch is currently in an expansion program, with a goal of 500 boys set. "Few boys at the Ranch know a mother's love," he said. "Many of the children have lived in houses, but not in homes before going to Boys Ranch."

He pointed out 20 boys graduated from the Ranch's high school last year. Some 14 vocational subjects are taught at Ranch schools.

When boys leave the Ranch, they are mentally and spiritually accepted by society when they go out into the world.

"Boys must have something to do - jobs requiring responsibilities," he concluded.

Visiting Rotarians at the meeting included Ned Curtis of Davenport, Iowa, Bob Lindsay of Borger and Buddy Taylor of Canyon. C. W. Frye of Hereford was a guest.

ials may be ordered from the state office. Fee for the materials needed is 75c. Mrs. Virgil Marsh was named historian of the council to fill a vacancy. Twenty council members and guests attended.

Sheryl Patterson Member Of LCC Meistersingers

Sheryl Patterson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Patterson of Hereford, has been selected to sing this year with the Lubbock Christian College Meistersingers Chorus, directed by Wayne Hines. She also was chosen to sing with the girls' sextet.

The chorus is planning several concerts on the campus and in the surrounding area this year. The Meistersingers, organized this fall, is one of the major choral organizations of the college. The group includes 53 members.

Recent Bride Is Shower Honoree

Green and white, chosen colors of the bride, were used throughout the decorating theme at a recent shower held in the telephone building in honor of Mrs. Jimmie Gilliam.

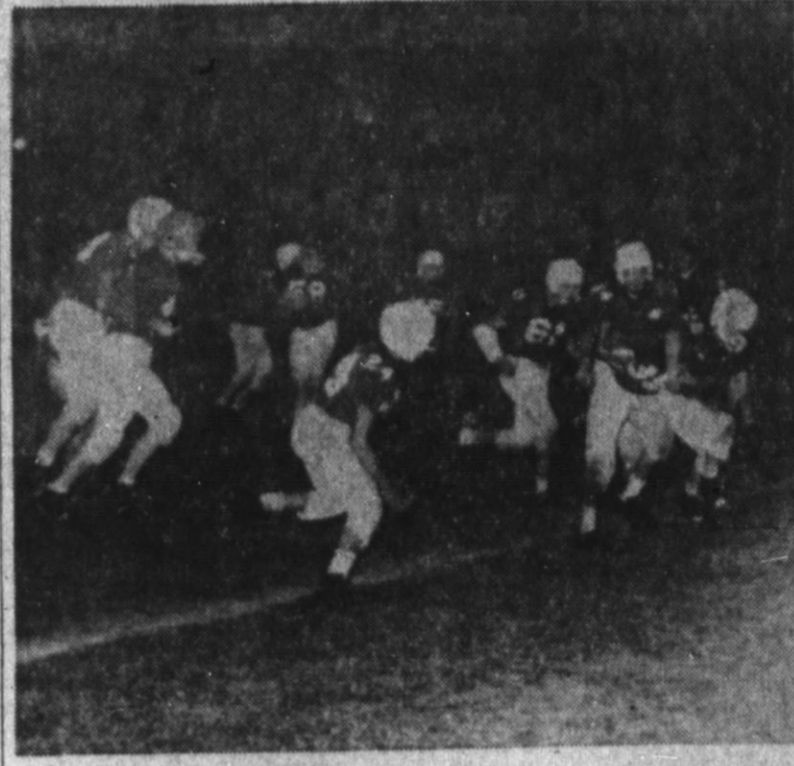

Mrs. Gilliam is the former Lorraine Morton and the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Virgil Morton.

The bridal table was laid with a white linen tablecloth and centered with an attractive arrangement of roses and other fall flowers. A three-tiered cake, iced in white and decorated with rosebuds and topped with a miniature bride and groom, was placed at one end of the table. Table appointments of silver and crystal completed the arrangements.

Over 100 guests called during the affair, which was given by the Traffic Department of the telephone company.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. Ella Croft and Mrs. Betty Ruth Ford of Amarillo, Mrs. Jim Lookingbill of Summerfield, Mrs. Rosemary Thomas of Dimmitt.

German Recipe Offers Variety

"What in the world will I fix for dinner tonight?" echoes throughout many households every day.

The answer to this housewife's lament is this old German recipe brought in by Mrs. Douglas Kelley, who moved to Hereford six years ago with her GI husband from Sulzbach-Rosenberg, Bavaria. It is sure to open wide the eyes of your family and have the morning Koffee Kitch begging for the recipe.

Mrs. Sorrows Is Honored Sunday

Five generations were present Sunday, Oct. 23, when Mrs. C. D. Sorrows of Clovis, N. M., was honored with a combination birthday party and family reunion in the home of a daughter, Mrs. Edith Sheppard, 402 N. Roosevelt.

WOMEN OF INTEREST

Sprightly 90-Year-Old Recalls Distant Past

BY MONA JETTE
WOMEN'S EDITOR

Isn't it a busy life, this being a woman? There is always so much to do and it seems the day never has hours enough.

And how quickly life passes by! One day you are cuddling your first-born son and the next thing you know, you are sitting in a church pew, watching him marry the girl he has chosen to share his life.

Such has been the life of Mrs. Sophia Haberer. Sophia celebrated her 90th birthday on Oct. 16, but she can still recall events which happened 70 years back.

"I had many beaux," she mused. "But the only important one in my life was a shy young man named John. He wanted to take me to church and it wasn't long before he wanted to change my name. We married and had six fine children."

In the spring of 1910, John Haberer came to Texas and Sophia and the children followed in July. They settled at Big Square, where they were to make their home for many years.

And what a contrast this arid land made to their native Nebraska! In Nebraska, the Haberers crops were destroyed by flood. But in Texas, the first crop almost perished for lack of moisture.

"I shall never forget how awed I felt, and a little lonely, at the wide open spaces of the Texas plains," recalled Mrs. Haberer. "Our ranch house was isolated and the dust storms of the plains were discouraging, but as time passed, I accepted these things as part of our life in Texas."

The last of the Haberer babies made an appearance, and the family of eight filled the chairs around the big old oaken round table.

But time didn't stand still for Sophia, either. She found her sons growing into tall, stalwart young men, and her little girls acquiring the subtle animal grace that spoke of approaching womanhood.

The years passed and Sophia and John found themselves alone. But after all, that's how they started.

In the late forties, the Haberers moved to California. But John developed a heart condition and the couple returned to Texas, where they made their home in Earth. John died shortly after their return in a Littlefield hospital.

Sophia continued to live in Earth, but dissatisfaction moved her again to California, where she was able to be near one of her daughters.

Still Sophia was unhappy, so she packed her bag and returned to Hereford. Here, she bought a little house located at 603 Lee.

Today Sophia lives in the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Carter, at 501 W. 4th. She is not lonesome here, for she enjoys the company of four women in her same age range. Mrs. H. A. May, 85; Mrs. Abbie McCube, 89; Mrs. Margaret Holdeman, 89; and Mrs. Irene Eubanks, 83; are all "room-mates" and have a fine time yelling away at each other, since they are all almost completely deaf.

But Sophia remembers how it used to be. And her eyes sparkle when she talks of times gone by. And she always could

Golden Anniversary Is Celebrated On Sunday

The doors of the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. T. Jones were opened wide Sunday, Oct. 16 as the couple celebrated their golden wedding anniversary.

With the couple's children acting as hosts and hostesses, Mr. and Mrs. Jones greeted over 60 guests who called between the hours of 2:30 and 6 p. m.

Miss Verna Brown of Dimmitt registered the guests in a lovely golden anniversary book, which was presented to Mr. and Mrs. Jones by Mr. and Mrs. Marlin Gilliland.

The refreshment table was covered in gold satin, overlaid with gold net. It was centered with an elaborate arrangement of miniature and giant gold mums, inter-mixed with sprays of pyracantha, held in a chalk white china vase. Appointments were of silver and crystal.

A three-tiered cake, iced in white and adorned with gold mums, was topped with white bells, with "50th" spelled out in little gold cake decoys. Mrs. Elmer Jones presided at the cake service. Coffee was served from the silver-coffee-service by Mrs. George Jones.

American Prestige, Like Personal Prestige, Based On Way We Live

The topic of "American Prestige" is bandied about rather loosely these days as the Presidential campaign swings into the home stretch. The situation, confusing to many Americans, must appear downright impossible to those people who do not understand our national characteristics or our political methods.

A Sidelight On Local Beet Plan

The drive to erect a beet sugar refinery in Hereford has had as much publicity as anything we know; nevertheless, there is still one facet of the program which merits mention.

This is the unselfish attitude of our area in trying to help other irrigation districts secure beet acreage, along with our own. People in Littlefield, Plainview, Dumas, Lubbock, Pecos, New Mexico, Oklahoma and Kansas are just now beginning to realize that they will benefit right along with farmers in Deaf Smith, Castro and Parmet Counties.

It is hard for them to realize that someone else is working for their interests. Invariably, they listen with crossed fingers and, once convinced there are no ulterior motives, they are just as enthusiastic as our own boosters. Chiefly, location of the refinery in this area is the only advantage our producers will have over the other communities.

Those who have studied the situation fully realize that it could not be otherwise. A successful refinery operation, of necessity, would draw beets from over the three state district, chiefly to assume production when any single community might be wiped out through unforeseen hazards. In addition, local sponsors honestly feel that a subsidized item of this type should be spread over a large area to be equitable. Only on this basis, they feel, could they conscientiously seek increased quotas for the proposed refinery.

Frankly, it seems to us that this "live and let live" policy has done more for our community than any other promotion we have seen in recent years. We have substituted the Golden Rule for the usual "big I" attitude, and the reaction in other communities is tremendous.

Is it possible that the same plan might not do wonders on local and international levels, as well as on a regional basis? At least, it is worth our sincere consideration.

A Bright Spot In Crime News

These days our newspapers, magazines, radio and TV outlets are too often overflowing with news of crime. We read of thievery, drunkenness, treason and rape until we honestly wonder about the future of mankind.

There was a little item in The Brand Thursday, however, which is worth clipping out and saving. It told of 20 Hereford business men and farmers who dropped everything to join an airplane caravan, which flew over Dallas in order to give a little eight-year-old girl a fighting chance to live a normal life.

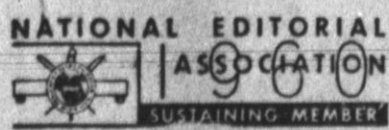

These men do not want or expect anything in return. They merely hope the 11 pints of fresh blood they provided can mean that the child will recover from the complicated operation.

So long as we have people of this type along with organizations such as the sponsoring Oasis Shrine Club, it seems that our country cannot be in such deplorable shape as we occasionally imagine.

Like the little girl, America at least has a fighting chance.

The younger brother in the average American home may call his brother names, but let some outsider use the same terms — and both brothers will turn upon him. Unfortunately, on an international level, we cannot bandy these accusations about in our own country and still cut them off from the remainder of the world.

Along the same line, the United States so far as most of us know is the only nation which ever fails in the testing of missiles. How often do you hear of Russian "duds"? Yet, it hardly seems possible that every shot from the very first succeeded and fired as planned. And the same is true with other dictator nations.

Deaf Smith County and Hereford got a dose of this same medicine a few years back when health authorities came into the community to check our Labor Camp conditions. Publicity went out all over the country, whereas most of us would have preferred keeping it within the family circle.

Some people consider this condition a decided asset, others say it is a liability. Certainly, it is requisite to the operation of a modern, well informed democracy.

Meanwhile, it isn't a bad idea to take a good look at ourselves "as other people see us". Frankly, it seems to us that America's greatest failure has been that of trying to run a relief program for the whole world. Both parties have pursued the course started by Franklin D. Roosevelt and continued on through Dwight Eisenhower.

This effort to buy friendship has often been further complicated with inefficient and ill-trained ambassadors and envoys, many of whom cannot speak the language of the people where they are stationed.

Summed up, you might say that few people — regardless of class, station, color, creed or beliefs — have much respect for stupidity. Furthermore, they do consider the international American "hand out" to be stupid. The fact that we send them roast beef and caviar instead of their customary diet of rice does not seem to overcome the general resentment.

United Fund Is Not A Cure - All

No question about it, the Deaf Smith United Fund needs a shot in the arm. It is now lagging around the half-way mark, when it might have gone over the top the first day.

This situation is due to one of two circumstances: solicitors are not following through, or the people do not approve of the organization and its collection methods. We say this because other drives of far less local significance have gone well; some even report an excess over quotas. In addition, our banks and savings institutions have more deposits today than ever before in history.

The greatest complaint we hear about United Fund is the fact that it does not stop other solicitations.

"We give to the United Fund with the idea of covering our donations for the year," said one merchant, "but we still seem to have as many calls as ever, plus the United Fund for good measure."

This, of course, is a fault of the merchant who might easily refer all donation seekers back to UF for a place in the budget. At the same time, it is a problem for United Fund and, until solved, will probably continue to be a thorn in the flesh.

On the other hand, experience in larger communities has always indicated that United Fund, while not a cure-all, has certainly been the best method developed to date. It would be our opinion that UF has been worthwhile here in our own area, despite the frequent complaints by numerous donors. When you take money from people, either by donation or by taxation, it seems difficult to make them happy — and you cannot expect to please them all.

Amendment No. 4 Hits Loan Sharks

Amid the current national political scramble many people have lost sight of the four state amendments which will appear on their ballots. All of these proposals merit careful consideration, but Amendment No. 4 seems to us by far the most important.

Amendment No. 4 deals with state control of lending agencies and has the objective of removing Texas' unofficial title of "the loan shark state."

In Hereford and Deaf Smith County very few people are confronted with this evil, which flourishes in many larger cities and takes an estimated $100 million from Texas citizens each year. Needless to say, this vast amount would mean much to legitimate loan channels, and to the peo-

John Purcell Recalls First Hereford Herds

BY MRS. R. L. CRISWELL
"I came to Deaf Smith County in the fall of 1902," said John M. Purcell, long time resident of Hereford, now of Clovis, N. M. Mr. and Mrs. Purcell have been visiting friends here for a few days.

"My parents had come to the county a year or so earlier and father had bought land from Louise Bradley," he said. "We lived about a mile east of the old stockpens."

"My wife and I worked for the Jowell brothers for a number of years. They owned the first registered cattle brought into Deaf Smith County. I do not remember just how many head was in the herd, but they bought 50 head to add to it in 1914. These were bought from Guggel and Simpson and shipped here from Independence, Mo.

Clovis Team Defeats Hereford High School

The unlucky star of Hereford High's which appeared in their horizon in the recent game with Portales was still in the ascendancy on Saturday, when they met the Clovis High School team — and defeat — on the Clovis gridiron. The opposing team had the advantage in size, for while it's not made up of heavy weights, they're a much heavier all-around bunch than the local team, which is made up this year of new material, most of it new to the game. There was some good playing on both sides and a few really brilliant plays to the credit of the Hereford team. Captain Wheeler has made several changes among his men since Saturday, placing them so that each can do the work for which he is best fitted, and the next game will see an altogether different lineup. The home boys have ability and grit, and with a little more muscle development and careful coaching they can soon retrieve their fallen fortunes.

The Hereford Chapter of the Red Cross will launch a campaign to eliminate accident-causing hazards in the home, along with the national home and farm accident prevention program next week. The campaign here will be conducted under the direction of Jimmie Gammill, Central School principal and chairman of the Red Cross committee, through the children of the Central School. The pupils will be given questionnaires which they are to take to their parents. Information concerning accident hazards in the homes of Hereford will be compiled in this manner. The questionnaires will contain questions concerning the following: stairways and steps kept clear, repaired and lighted; porches and balconies with secure railings; toys and utensils properly stored; a step ladder available in the home; safety matches used, kept out of reach of children; bonfires prohibited, fireplaces screened; utensils filled with hot liquid kept away from small children; garage door or windows kept in good condition; gas shut off entirely if equipment is defective until repairs can be made; medicines stored in clearly labeled containers, necessary poisons stored out of reach of children; food removed from tin cans promptly after opening and many other phases of home safety.

PROFITS REPORT SOUGHT

Littlefield City Council has delayed action on a request to increase gas rates here by 10 per cent. The decision to wait until the next meeting of the council was reached at Thursday night's session after Pioneer Natural Gas Co., Amarillo, had filled a formal request for a boost in fees "to compensate for increasing costs." The councilmen asked for a report from Pioneer on the company's earnings for the last two years. The company was represented by the local manager, Charles Duval. The elaborate brochure which the company had presented to the council with the request for the raise was one of 47 identical brochures filed with West Texas City Councils during the past few weeks, and the rate hike here was among those included in the general prospects. The councilmen told Duval that the city officials would like to "see a separate report for Littlefield, showing exactly what profits, if any, the company has made here in Littlefield during the last two years. Pioneer officials have promised to have the profits and losses breakdown ready for the next session of the council, probably Nov. 3. In its blanket petition, the gas firm had pointed out that this was the first rate boost the company has sought since December 1957, when the minimum charge fees were boosted slightly. The company said that rates were reduced in 1930, 1935, 1937 and in 1940, but that an increase was approved in November 1951.

DRIVE GOES OVER TOP

With a final report of gifts exceeding $1,785, Moore County Community Chest leaders and workers Friday celebrated another successful campaign with a victory luncheon at a restaurant. As each division chairman presented final reports of the efforts of his workers, Chairman Darby Trotter summed up the combined total to reveal that contributions had reached $33,593.97 or 103.3 per cent of the goal of $32,527. Although extended for one week the drive was completed in only three weeks because of extensive advance planning. Chest officials praised workers in the newly created women's division, pointing out that funds collected in that area were more than twice what had been obtained last year from the same sources. A highlight of the victory luncheon was presentation of "Outstanding Citizenship" awards to various Moore County firms and industries for 90 per cent participation from employees in contributing an average day's wages.

FACILITY BIDS SET

A new post office building has been authorized for Levelland, Postmaster General Arthur E. Sumerfield announced recently. "This new and modern postal facility," the Postmaster General said, "will be constructed under the department's commercial leasing program, which utilizes the resources and investment funds of private enterprise to obtain needed postal buildings." It will be located at the northwest corner of Avenue G and Eighth Street on property now owned by the government. The new post office will be modern in every respect and will be equipped with air conditioning. It is estimated to cost more than $150,000. Postmaster Rex Hudson said bidding forms, specifications and other pertinent data are now available to prospective bidders. Construction under the commercial leasing program will mean that an equitable construction value will be established on a competitive basis, and also that the property now owned by the government will purchase the building site from the government and then lease the building back to the Post Office on a 20-year lease which has one ten-year renewal option and four others for five years each. A price of $23,000 has been put on the site.

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editors note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his bindweed farm has discovered the election is getting close at hand, his letter this week reveals. That must mean everybody knows it by now.

Dear editor:

It's getting closer all the time to the election on November 8 and I heard a man on television last night say he'd be glad when it's here and past so the country could get some work done.

I don't know what part of the country he's talking about, but it's not my bindweed farm out here. I fail to see any connection between electing a President and me going to work.

I thought it was the other way around. When we elect a President, he's the one that goes to work.

One of the troubles with this country is that we take time off to elect an office-holder, then go back to work and forget about him till next time. I don't follow that procedure, I like to keep my eye on him all the time, and any man who can't look over the grass and weeds in his own crop to keep his eyes centered on Washington, is taking the type of short-sighted view that results in farm surpluses.

I don't intend to work any more after the election than I did before, and I'll say this, if whichever candidate gets elected works as hard running the office as either of them did running for it, the fur ought to fly in Washington.

One reason I don't think we'll ever have one government for the entire world is that no candidate for World President could ever make all the whistle stops around the earth. As it is now, presidential candidates have three months from the time they're nominated till election day to crowd in every section of the country they figure they ought to show up in, and they still miss a good many; but if they had to cover the entire world, it would take em five years to do it and by the time they'd gotten to the last country, the people in the first would have forgotten what they said.

The problem is too big for me. I'll be glad when the election is over, but not because I'm going back to work.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

But Sophia doesn't worry about that. She knows that someday someone will lightly tap her on the shoulder and say, "A job well done, Sophia, a job well done."

(Continued from page 2) day. There was a lot of turnover as it would be too much for one and he would pass on, perhaps thinking he wanted a horse to ride.

"We all slept in single bunks, except one man. He had a double bed, and if anyone came to spend the night he would sleep with this man. This would make him furious, and before bedtime he would wire a board from a quitting frame down the middle of the bed to keep the other guy in his place. This was great fun to Rat Jowell, and he would often spend the night there just for the fun of making him tie the quilting frame in place."

"The year 1918 was not only a hard winter for cattle, it was also a year of the flu epidemic. All the cowboys became ill at the same time and the snow was so deep the cattle could not find food and thousands of them starved to death. The railroad had a strong four wire fence with posts near enough to hold and the cattle, which would drift against the three wire fence until it would break, then they would go on until they came to the next one. They would drift against the fences as water to a dam, and when the wires broke would flow out much the same as water through a break in the dam."

"In every southwest corner of any pasture they would be drifted and dead in great piles, especially against the railroad fence as it was so strong."

"The snow was so deep that our car stood in it from December until March. Of course we could have gotten it out, but it could never have pulled the mud and snow so we just let it stay buried."

"I met my wife at a dance in a big rock house. It was 16 by 32 foot without a partition. The partition was added after the dance and before the family was ready to move in."

"We had only two lamps with globes for this long room and they were hung at either end and at the best it was rather dim lighting. There were about 30 people there and we were enjoying the dance very much when some way one globe was broken, leaving one end of the room in candle light, so to speak. No one seemed to mind and we danced merrily on. This was not just a crowd of young people as ever member of the family attended and all had a great time."

"My parents," said Mrs. Purcell, "came through Deaf Smith County on our way to New Mexico to file on land. Father filed on a section of land; I filed on a quarter section and later my husband filed on half section. I always say that I served three terms in New Mexico and I guess I will live the rest of my life there."

"We had no schools at all, but later the first one had four or five white girls and three Mexican youths. Our news of the world came from the semi-weekly Dallas News.

"My father worked as straw boss on the How Ranch. The brand was the same as the ranch's name and was put on with the H on the shoulder and the O and W on the hips. Sometimes the brand would grow with the calf and the "How" would show up almost as soon as the animal."

"Some time in the 90s my father traded land for a fenced half section, the fence made of cedar posts and strung with three strands of barbed wire. The wire then had many more barbs than now, but the interesting thing about it is that the fence is still standing after more than sixty years and is a firm, stout fence."

"We really depended on our family for entertainment during the long days of winter. We would read for hours and sometimes read the same book over and again as we did not have enough to last the long winter hours. One winter we went for three months without seeing another woman besides the family. This was in 1906, before the circuit riders or preachers began to come in."

"Robert Fullwood's mother lived a few miles from us and she was a wonderful woman; she cared for the sick or helped any one in need for miles around. Mr. Fullwood was known for making sorghum molasses."

"One time we went to camp meeting at San Jaun and stayed for three days. These were the first sermons we children had ever heard."

"There was a Methodist preacher who would come to our house and bring colored Sunday School cards for we kids and how we loved them. My sister still has the New Testaments that he gave us for memorizing verses of the Bible. Many years later, after my children were about ready for school, he visited us and gave the children a quarter a piece when he was leaving. He told them not to spend the money for tobacco or whiskey or chewing gum. He was a wonderful soldier; or rather a drummer boy as he played the drums as they went into battle. He said the nearer we got to the battle ground the more playing cards would be found on the ground in passing as the soldiers did not want the cards to be found on their dead body if they should be killed in battle.

"I remember the dance very well when I met John. We had a wonderful time but he did not propose to me there. It was after an all-church service with 'dinner on the ground.' He came in a double teamed buggy (he says I was impressed by the team and the fact that he and father owned and ran a livery stable in Hereford), but anyway I accepted him and we were married in 1907."

"My father and mother went with us and when we were about a mile and a half from home, mother missed her suitcase and father rode one of the horses back home to get it.

On his return with it he was very disgusted by the ride and said to mother, 'Well By Grabs Banty, you ain't got but one dress and you went off and left that for me to ride bare-back to bring to you.'

We made it to Hereford and bought the license and drove to Judge Russell's home and he performed the ceremony there. I told my husband after that I guess we weren't really married but it didn't make much difference as if you married a cowboy, you were doomed to take second place in his life for the rest of your days as he will always put the 'Cow first,' she concluded.

According to that remark, and I have heard many ranch women say the same, the cowboy must have a way with women as there are few bachelors among them.

You Hear Strange Things About Catholics

Yes, you do hear some strange things about Catholics. You hear it said that Catholics believe all non-Catholics are headed for hell . . . that they believe non-Catholic marriages are invalid. Some think Catholics believe the Pope is God . . . that he can do no wrong . . . that they owe him civil allegiance and that he should have the political power to rule America.

It is said that Catholics want religious freedom only for themselves . . . that they oppose public schools and separation of Church and State as evils which should be destroyed. The claim is made that Catholics pay the priest for forgiveness of their sins . . . that they must buy their departed relatives and friends out of Purgatory . . . that they adore statues . . . are forbidden to read the Bible . . . use medals, candles and holy water as sure-fire protection against loss of a job, lightning or being hit by an automobile.

But what is worse, some say, Catholics corrupt the true teachings of Jesus Christ with the addition of pagan superstitions and practices that are nothing less than the inventions of the devil. If all these things or any of them were true, it would be a pity. For at least one out of every four Americans is a Catholic and it would be a national tragedy if one-fourth of all Americans entertained such erroneous ideas. If you have heard and believe any of these false claims, and want the truth, we will gladly send you a free pamphlet explaining the true teachings of the Catholic Church. This free literature will be sent with the compliments of the Knights of Columbus of this area.

Miss Channer Selected "Miss Student Nurse"

Miss Sue Channer, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. John H. Channer, has been chosen as "Miss Methodist Student Nurse" at the Methodist School of Nursing in Dallas.

She will represent that school in the national contest, sponsored by the National Association of Methodist Hospitals and Homes, in cooperation with the Board of Hospitals and Homes of the Methodist Church.

The winner will be selected on the basis of two themes written by the contestants, describing themselves and giving the reasons for choosing nursing as a profession.

The girl chosen will be a guest of the National Association of Methodist Hospitals and Homes, at the convention scheduled for Jan. 31-

Feb. 2, 1961. All expenses, including travel, will be paid by the convention in Kansas City, Mo., and the lucky girl will be a guest at the Muehlebach Hotel there. She will be introduced in ceremonies on Feb. 1, and will make radio and television appearances as arranged.

Miss Channer, a 1958 graduate of Hereford High School, is a senior nurse at Methodist School of Nursing Dallas, where she will graduate in August ceremonies.
