HOSPITALIZED THREE MONTHS

Boy, 12, Faces Cheerless Prospect This Christmas

BY H. A. TUCK
BRAND NEWS EDITOR

Christmas in a small hospital room is the cheerless prospect for young Tony Piland.

For almost three months, Room 120 of Deaf Smith County Hospital has been the limits for a good-looking boy who loves sports and the outdoors.

Tony admits that he probably won't be home for Christmas — and the doctors agree.

He has an extremely serious heart condition that has wasted his husky body from 160 pounds to a scant 116. "But I'm going to try to be home for my birthday," he said shyly.

Tony will be 13 on Jan. 1. The last three months haven't been easy for Tony, and certainly no easier for his mother.

Mrs. James M. Piland has been trying the last few weeks to find a small house to rent in Hereford. A practical nurse, she has been driving back and forth between Hereford and Bovina, where another son and her elderly mother are living.

"The doctors said that Tony might be able to go home if he lived here, so he could get back to the hospital in a hurry," she said quietly.

"But, so far, I haven't been able to find anything."

Mrs. Piland said she and her children came to Bovina because of her mother, 87, who has a heart condition and bronchitis. Another son, 16-year-old Jimmy, is staying in Bovina with his aunt right now.

The Pilands came to Bovina in April and Tony spent most of the summer playing Little League baseball. When school started, he enrolled in the seventh grade and went out for the football team.

"I was always playing rough, but I noticed that my left arm kept getting hurt all the time," Tony said.

"The doctor said he thought I had rheumatic fever and put me to bed."

A few days later, his condition worsened and Tony was rushed to the hospital in Friona. He was there from Sept. 19-23 before being brought to Hereford for specialized treatment.

Surgeons here operated on Tony on Nov. 5 to remove excess liquid from his chest. On Nov. 7, they started X-ray treatments. These were discontinued this week to allow Tony to recover some strength and gain some weight.

Light Vote OKs Cotton Market Quotas For 1962

A light turnout of Deaf Smith County cotton producers stamped their approval on marketing quotas for the 1962 upland cotton crop it was announced here following a canvass of the vote by the County Committee.

Of the 99 votes cast in the referendum, 75 were for the quotas and price supports of the 1962 crop. Only 24 votes were cast in opposition.

The light vote was attributed to the bad weather which blanketed the area with a coating of ice and snow. An estimated 605 producers in the county were eligible to vote in the referendum.

A total of 13 votes were cast Tuesday at the Dawn school by residents of District "A". Five of the votes cast were for marketing quotas with seven against. One ballot was challenged.

Residents of District "B" and "C" voting at the County Commissioners' Courtroom cast 30 votes for quotas and price supports with seven votes against. Of the 73 votes cast, 36 were challenged.

Voting in District "D" at the Ford Community Center was a very light with eight votes cast in favor and five against for a total of 13 votes.

The County Committee met Wednesday afternoon to canvass the light vote. Challenged ballots were reviewed as a routine matter.

All farmers who produced cotton on their farms were eligible to vote in the referendum. Even though the vote was light, it was heavier than balloting in two previous referendums.

This was the sixth consecutive year growers have voted for marketing quotas. The issue carried nationally with 88 per cent of the farmers voting for quotas.

In Texas, a total of 35,072 ballots were cast Tuesday with 31,177 for and 3,901 against.

Highway Patrol Begins Annual 'Death Watch'

With the approaching Christmas season, a somber note is sounded as Operation Death Watch goes into effect during the year's end as violent deaths are recorded across the nation and in Texas.

Plans have already been made by the Texas Highway Patrol for Operation Holiday during the long Christmas and New Year's weekends as a total of 173 violent deaths are expected in Texas.

The National Safety Council, which makes the predictions, estimates that 88 of the deaths will be in traffic accidents, according to Highway Patrol Sergeant Roger Sosebee of Hereford.

All patrolmen will be on duty plus extra men from the Motor Vehicle Inspection Division and those usually assigned to the License and Weights Division, he continued.

The veteran highway patrolman is urging motorists to be doubly cautious, to start early, take plenty of rest stops and leave drinking to soft drinks and coffee.

If the weather is bad, the sergeant suggests that motorists "check equipment and take extra time for travel so they won't be rushed."

All radar sets in the department, Sosebee warned, will be in operation during the two weekends. Patrolmen will be watching especially for hazardous drivers and those that have been drinking.

Speed was listed as the number one cause of accidents during last year's holiday season, he continued, and was a contributing factor in 65 per cent of fatal accidents.

Listed next, he stated, was drinking which was a contributing factor in 49 per cent of all fatalities.

Youth Improving After Accidental Shooting Here

A 15-year-old Hereford youth, who was shot accidentally Thursday, was reported by the Deaf Smith County Hospital to be in fair condition, but improving Saturday.

The youth, Dean Crofford, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Crofford, Hereford, was shot about 4:30 p.m. in the right side as an "unloaded" .22 cal. rifle discharged.

Crofford was reported to have been scuffling with another youth, Billy Jack Gilliland, 14. According to the investigating officer, Deputy Sheriff Kenneth Maxwell, a companion, John Newton, took the gun from the closet of the bedroom where the boys were playing.

Newton is the son of Mrs. Rena Rea Newton, 112 Ave. J. The accident occurred in the Newton home.

Young Newton told the investigating officers that he did not think the gun was loaded. He stated that he pumped the action and the rifle fired, according to Maxwell.

Herd Takes On Canyon After 58-59 Loss To Sandies

A fairy-tale character named Peter once had trouble keeping his wife, so he put her in a pumpkin shell and apparently had no more trouble.

Unfortunately, you can't put a basketball lead in a pumpkin shell. Hereford saw victory slip from its grasp in the face of a determined rally by the Amarillo Sandies on the tiny Armory court Friday night.

Whittling away at Hereford's lead, the Sandies finally pulled out a 59-58 win in a cliff-hanger for their fifth victory against two losses.

For Hereford, it was the sixth loss against District 3-AAAAA foes compared with three wins. On Tuesday, Dec. 19, Hereford will play the Canyon Eagles for the second time. This game will be played in the new Eagle gym at 8 p.m.

Big Bob Begert, Canyon's smooth center, continues to pace Eagle scoring in almost every game.

At Amarillo Friday night, the Herd was down 3-8 when it garnered nine straight points and a 12-8 lead. Hereford held the lead until midway in the second quarter. Dennis Hodges and Mack Cansler, Whiteface guards, paced first period scoring efforts. Hereford held an 18-14 lead at the end of the period.

It was more of the same in the second quarter as Hodges, Cansler and Jerry Curtisinger piled in points.

Sandie smoothie Chester Dunavin evened the score at 25—all and then hit from close in to put Amarillo in front 7-25 with 3:11 left in the second period.

Hereford went almost three minutes without scratching as everyone missed on wild shots. Then it was Amarillo's turn to be frigid as it failed to score while Hereford was dumping in nine points for a 34-27 lead at halftime.

The Sandies gained a little in the third period, as Hereford hit for 12 points, two less than Amarillo. Curtisinger and Virgil (Continued on page 2)

The Eagles fell to Dumas 34-65; beat Stratford 53-35 and then dropped an overtime decision to Panhandle 43-50. After that, Canyon clicked off three straight Texas State tournament victories, over Farwell 60-43, Adrian 41-37 and White Deer 51-49.

After losing to Hereford 38-58, they beat Phillips 69-54, fell to Plainview 48-80 and beat Tullia 81-65 for third place in the Plainview tournament. Thursday they fell to Borger, 48-52, and got knocked off by White Deer Friday in the second round of the Tullia tourney, 51-53 in overtime.

Lois Rutter

Lois Rutter Is Candidate For Treasurer Post

Lois Rutter this week has authorized the Brand to announce her candidacy for the office of County Treasurer, Deaf Smith County. Her candidacy is subject to the action of the Democratic primary on May 5.

Mrs. Rutter is a member and past president of the Hereford Garden Club, a member of the First Baptist Church and a long-time resident of Hereford and Deaf Smith County.

The following is Mrs. Rutter's statement to the residents of this county:

"After careful consideration and consultation with many Deaf Smith County residents, I have decided to announce my candidacy for the office of County Treasurer.

"I am a graduate of Hereford High School and have been a resident of this county most of my life. Since the death of my husband, Marion T. Rutter, in 1959 I have devoted myself to our children and to a limited amount of community service as time permitted.

"If I am elected, I feel that my experience will enable me to carry out the duties and responsibilities of the office to the best interest of the county. I would appreciate your consideration and support in the coming election."

Turkeys Think Spring's Near, Start Laying

Have unusually early winter storms upset the timetables of animals as well as humans?

Jack Fortenberry, who lives 45 miles northwest of Hereford, thinks it must be something of the kind. He reported that he found five turkey eggs last week from his flock of 70 birds.

"I've been raising turkeys for 40 years, and I can't ever remember them starting to lay before Feb. 1."

Not noted for their brains, the turkeys may have gotten confused as to the season by the heavy, early winter weather Fortenberry theorized.

Thespians Present 'Diary' Two Nights

Kay Seamonds portrays the lead role of a girl whose story has thrilled millions in "The Diary of Anne Frank," to be presented by the Hereford High School Thespians Monday and Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the high school auditorium.

Taken from the book Anne Frank — Diary of a Small Girl, the Pulitzer Prize winner was adapted for the stage by Francis Goodrich and Albert Hackett.

Telling the inspiring story of two Jewish families who remain hidden from the Nazis during World War II for almost two years, "The Diary of Anne Frank" is one of the best-selling hits of the times throughout the world, both as a book and a stage drama.

The story is one of an unyielding faith — that of a teenage girl who declares that there is some good in all humans, even the Nazis.

Hinkley, Thespian sponsor. Tickets will be on sale at the door. Anne Frank is characterized by Kay Seamonds. Playing the part of a young girl in the lead role, Miss Seamonds has appeared in other Thespian productions such as "Our Town" and "Trojan Women."

Appearing in the male lead is John Pavlicek, a sophomore, as 17-year-old Peter Van Daan. As the Van Daan family shares a secret hiding place with the Franks, young Anne soon finds that Peter is not such a bad guy, after all, and a romance blossoms.

Richie Albracht portrays a Jewish dentist who comes to join the two hidden families in hiding. Termed by Anne as "grouchy," Dussell's arrival creates many problems.

Shari Carmichael acts as Melip, an office girl who keeps the Jews supplied with a meager food ration, at the risk of her life. Carmichael held lead parts in three Thespian shows (Continued on page 2)

ATTENTION ALL MEN:

There are only six shopping days left before Christmas. This should give you enough warning so you can think about what to buy for five days and have a day left for shopping. Then you can operate on the gift selection system that we heard one Hereford woman uses. She waits until the last day. "That way, half the things I wouldn't have and the other half I'm forced to get!"

Business is really hopping in Hereford. One of the fabled shopping centers in Amarillo late Friday afternoon didn't have nearly as many customers — or buyers — per store.

An extra-special meeting of the Whiteface Booster Club will be held Monday, Dec. 18, at 7:30 p.m. in the Community Center. A film of one of the West Texas State out-of-town football games will be shown. Either head coach Joe Kerbel or assistant Jack Harris, former Hereford grid coach, will be on hand to talk about the 1961 season and the prospects for next fall. Woman Held On Indictment For Check Swindle

An 18-year-old Tullia woman is being held in the Deaf Smith County jail on a grand jury indictment for felony swindling with worthless checks.

The woman, Mrs. W. E. Warden, was arrested in Tullia by Sheriff Lowell Sharp after she had been apprehended Thursday by law enforcement officers there.

She is reported to have passed some $246 in worthless checks at local businesses in 1960, according to Sharp.

Mrs. Warden had been out on $1000 bond and was awaiting trial. When the trial was called in September, the woman failed to appear, he stated.

Two other misdemeanor cases of swindling with worthless checks are pending against the Tullia woman.

Bees Fall Twice To Sandies, Pampa

Hereford High School B-teamers were downed twice during action at Pampa and Amarillo last week. The Herd started off with a 66-41 loss at the hands of the Pampa Bees Tuesday night and was also outdone by the Amarillo Sandies by 76-60.

Pampa's AAAA Harvesters racked up 20 points during the first quarter to gain an overwhelming 20-6 lead, which the Whitefaces were unable to shorten throughout the remainder of the game. Eugene Green netted 12 points to take scoring honors for the Herd, while Mike Ferguson contributed ten. Bill Hill added nine, Austin Hodges six, and David Dowell four.

Austin Hodges racked up 20 points to lead the Whitefaces in scoring as the Amarillo Sandies took a 76-60 decision there Friday night. Amarillo's Mac Whittenburg ripped the points for 25 Sandie markers. Sandies jumped to a 19-13 first quarter advantage, to which they gradually added points the remainder of the tilt. Hereford closed the gap only one point during the second quarter, with a 35-30 reading.

The second half saw the Sandies hitting more often, while compiling 24 points during the final period to clinch the final 76-60 score.

Hereford plays at Canyon Tuesday night. The Canyon Bees took a fourth quarter lead here in their first encounter to win 42-49.

BASEBALL'S GOLFERS

RIDGEWOOD, N. J. (AP) — George Jacobus, former PGA president who originated the first baseball players' tournament in 1932, says plans for the 1962 event are progressing. It will be held in Miami, Fla., Feb. 15-17.

Four major league managers will be back on the links. They are Fred Hutchinson of Cincinnati, Al Lopez of the Chicago White Sox, Gene Mauch of the Phillies, Alvin Dark of San Francisco. Ex-managers who will play are Paul Richards, Billy Herman, Mayo Smith and Charlie Dressen.

Peanuts Lowrey, coach with the Phils, won last winter's event with a 295. He beat Richards by three strokes.

Cansler hit a field goal, but Hill canned a field goal and Dunavin added a pair of free throws.

Jim Hill grabbed a rebound and shoved it through to give the Sandies the points they needed with 10 seconds left.

Hereford came down fast and called time out with four seconds still showing on the clock. The ball went to Hodges, but his desperation shot was no good.

Dennis Hodges continued to pace Whiteface scoring efforts as he hit 20. Jerry Curtsinger came through with 18 and Mack Cansler added 10. Chester Dunavin was high for the Sandies with 19 and Jim Hill had 12.

SIZE ALONE IS NOT ENOUGH!

The stature of a man or an organization cannot be based on size alone. Other measuring sticks must be used to reveal the true worth of a man or an organization, so it is with Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union.

The Hereford Texas Federal Credit Union can point with justifiable pride to its rank as the largest federally chartered community type credit union in the nation. Our assets are now above two and a half million dollars.

The reasons for this growth can be attributed to the credit union philosophy operating "not for profit, not for charity, but for service," by offering its members a place to practice thrift thereby accumulating savings from which members obtain loans at low cost. The credit union is owned and operated by members and its leaders are dedicated to service.

More than 14 million dollars loaned since 1936 reflects the significant services rendered directly to members in the past twenty-five years of operation which has indirectly contributed to the betterment of the entire area.

4000 members are proud of our significant growth which makes possible security through services and returns! YOU ARE INVITED to become a member - AN OWNER MEMBER!

Two Community Residents Succumb After Illnesses

BY MRS. OWEN ANDREWS
Death claimed two women from this area on Wednesday, Dec. 13, at the Deaf Smith County hospital. Both had undergone surgery a week earlier.

Mrs. Sallie Goodin, 88, mother of J. J. Goodin of this community, and Mrs. Floyd McGee, of Hereford, had lived in this community about three years. She and her husband, the late Mr. Goodin came here from their home at Maud, Okla., to live near their children. They lived in a small home on the J. J. Goodin farm. Mr. Goodin passed away in August, 1960, while in Maud to attend funeral services for another son, Wes Goodin, and his funeral and burial was held there.

Mrs. Goodin continued to live here at their home, and has been in fairly good health until recently. Among those who came to visit during her illness were a brother, Mr. and Mrs. Harvey Bullin of Levelland, a daughter-in-law, Mrs. Wes Goodin of Maud, and her daughter, Mr. and Mrs. Lee Brooks, and their children, of Wichita, Kan.

Members of the family who went on Thursday to Maud for the funeral and burial were Mr. and Mrs. J. J. Goodin, their son, Calvin Goodin, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd McGee, their daughters, Mrs. Dwain Walker, Mrs.

Bob Hardin, both of Hereford and Mrs. Pat Livesay of Lubbock and their son, Mr. and Mrs. Floyd McGee Jr. and their children, also of Lubbock.

Mrs. J. D. Whitaker is a granddaughter, also.

Mrs. J. E. Andrews passed away at 10:15 Wed. She had not been too well for several weeks. She entered the hospital three weeks ago and celebrated her 74th birthday Dec. 5. The Andrews and their daughter, Alma, had moved to Hereford in October, 1960, after having lived 33 years in this community in the same place. They came here from Wellington in 1927. Their sons, Owen and Henry, and their families live in the community; a daughter, Mrs. Charles King, lives in Amarillo; and the other two daughters, Mrs. T. L. Sparkman Jr. and Mrs. Elmer Jones live in Hereford.

Grandchildren surviving are Jerry King, Amarillo; Clark Andrews, Glenn Andrews, Joe Andrews, Tommy Sparkman, Veradelle Andrews, Mrs. George Zetsche, all of this area; Mrs. Chesley Johnson, Cleburn; Mrs. Merle Finely, Amarillo; Bonnie Sparkman, Darlene Sparkman and Doris Jean Andrews, all of this area.

Grandsons and grand sons-in-law acted as pall bearers. The Rev. B. H. Baldwin and the Rev. R. L. Shannon of Rankin, pastor and former pastor, respectively, of the Frio Baptist Church were in charge of the funeral service, held at 10 a.m. Friday at Gilliland Funeral Home.

Mrs. Andrews had been a member of the Frio Baptist Church since its organization on Aug. 17, 1930, when she, her husband and their six children were baptized into membership of that body. They were active in church and community life as long as their health permitted.

Out-of-town relatives and friends here to visit the Andrews family and attend the funeral were the Rev. and Mrs. William Benson, Ft. Worth, Mrs. Allie Burris, Wanda, Zadi ne, and Gary, of Texico, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Hart, Clovis, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Benson, Dimmitt, W. E. Reisdorph, Dimmitt, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Benson, Shamrock, Mr. and Mrs. W. F. Andrews, Melrose, Mr. and Mrs. Wiley Andrews, Melrose and Mrs. Laura Littrell, Orange, Ala.

Mrs. Littrell came to stay several days visiting her relatives in this area.

On Sunday, Dec. 3, Holt Sode-man, Director of Student Recruitment at Wayland College, accompanied by Lawrence Chu, senior student from Hong Kong, and Miss Judy Sato, junior from Hawaii, were guests at the Frio Baptist Church. Miss Sato brought her testimony and accompanied Lawrence Chu as he sang, "When Jesus Came", in Chinese and in English. Chu brought the message of the morning, a missionary message. He plans to be a preacher and Miss Sato is training to be a Social worker.

After the service, the guests, the Rev. and Mrs. B. H. Baldwin, Eugene Baldwin, Veradelle Andrews and Larry Dobbs had lunch together in Hereford.

Frio Home Makers Club met Tuesday afternoon in the home of Mrs. Floyd Cole for the Christmas Party. Carols were sung by the group and Secret Pals revealed with Christmas gifts. New pals were drawn for the new year.

Those attending the party were Mrs. Edgar Vinson, Mrs. Henry Dobbs, Miss Alma Andrews, Mrs. Harlan Barber, Mrs. T. L. Sparkman Jr., Mrs. Earnest Harder, Mrs. Bill Williams, Mrs. Buster Thomason, Mrs. David Hutchins, Mrs. James Dobbs, Mrs. Carlton Dobbins, Mrs. Owen Andrews, Mrs. Joe Autry, Mrs. Jim Brooks, Mrs. Glenn Andrews and the hostess.

The next meeting will be on Jan. 9 in the home of Mrs. James Dobbs. Members are to bring program suggestions and plan the year book for the new year.

D. L. Thomason left Saturday morning to visit relatives in Lubbock, Spur and Eastland.

Eating dinner in the Earnest order home Sunday were the L. Sparkmans, Bonnie, Dar-Tommy and La Prael Wilona Clark, daughter of Mr. Mrs. Ed Clark, was ill with pneumonia the first of last week. The other daughter, Terese, visited her grandparents, Mrs. Mrs. Henry Bass, at in the while Dianna was in hospital.

Beauty At Home

Q. How can I achieve powdering perfection?

A. As with your foundation, but never heavily. Dip into your powder liberally, press it on firmly from throat to brow. Using a powder brush, dust off the leftover, brushing down so that any fine hairs standing up along your hairline are smoothed down so that they do not catch the light.

Q. Is there a way, please, that I can promote more softness in my coarse hair?

A. Add one-third cup of vinegar to your post-shampoo rinse water, then rinse this out with clear water. Famous blonde beauties often add the strained juice of a lemon to their rinse water — which doesn't bleach the hair, but does help to keep it light.

Q. How can I make an easier and better job of my lipstick application?

A. If you'll make a practice of dusting a light coating of powder on your lips before applying your lipstick, the color will usually stay with you longer, it will go on more smoothly, and it will hold a more even line.

Q. What can I do about the unsightly enlarged pores in my nose?

A. Frequent and regular bathing of your nose with a mixture of lukewarm water and borax will usually go a long way towards alleviating this condition.

Q. Please suggest an exercise that is especially effective for reducing the flesh along the outside of the upper thighs.

A. Lie on your back, arms out at the sides. Pull your right knee back to your chest, swing it across to the left side, then straight down. Repeat this exercise with the left knee, alternating legs. After doing this for at least five times, rest — then repeat.

Q. Please comment on the art of adding a delightful fragrance to one's person.

A. Here are some good suggestions: Spray your closet with a light cologne. Don't throw away empty perfume bottles — instead, tuck them into your lingerie drawer to give your underthings a light fragrance. Put a few drops of perfume on a bit of cotton and tuck it inside your bra. Pour a little toilet water or cologne into the final rinse water when you're subsiding your undies. Makes 'em smell yummy. Smooth a little cologne on your body before stepping into the shower — its scent will cling pleasantly. When you shampoo your hair, spare a drop or two of perfume for the rinse water.

Tam Sosebee Aid Sought

A drive was started this week by a group of Hereford men to aid a courageous little girl.

They are trying to collect enough money to pay off a staggering medical bill for Tamara Sosebee, who was severely burned last winter.

After a battle for more than three months, she was allowed to go home. The daughter of Highway Patrol Sgt. and Mrs. Roger Sosebee, Tam had exhausted all the insurance and other resources available to her parents.

Tam is back in the hospital again, this time for more skin grafts and other treatment.

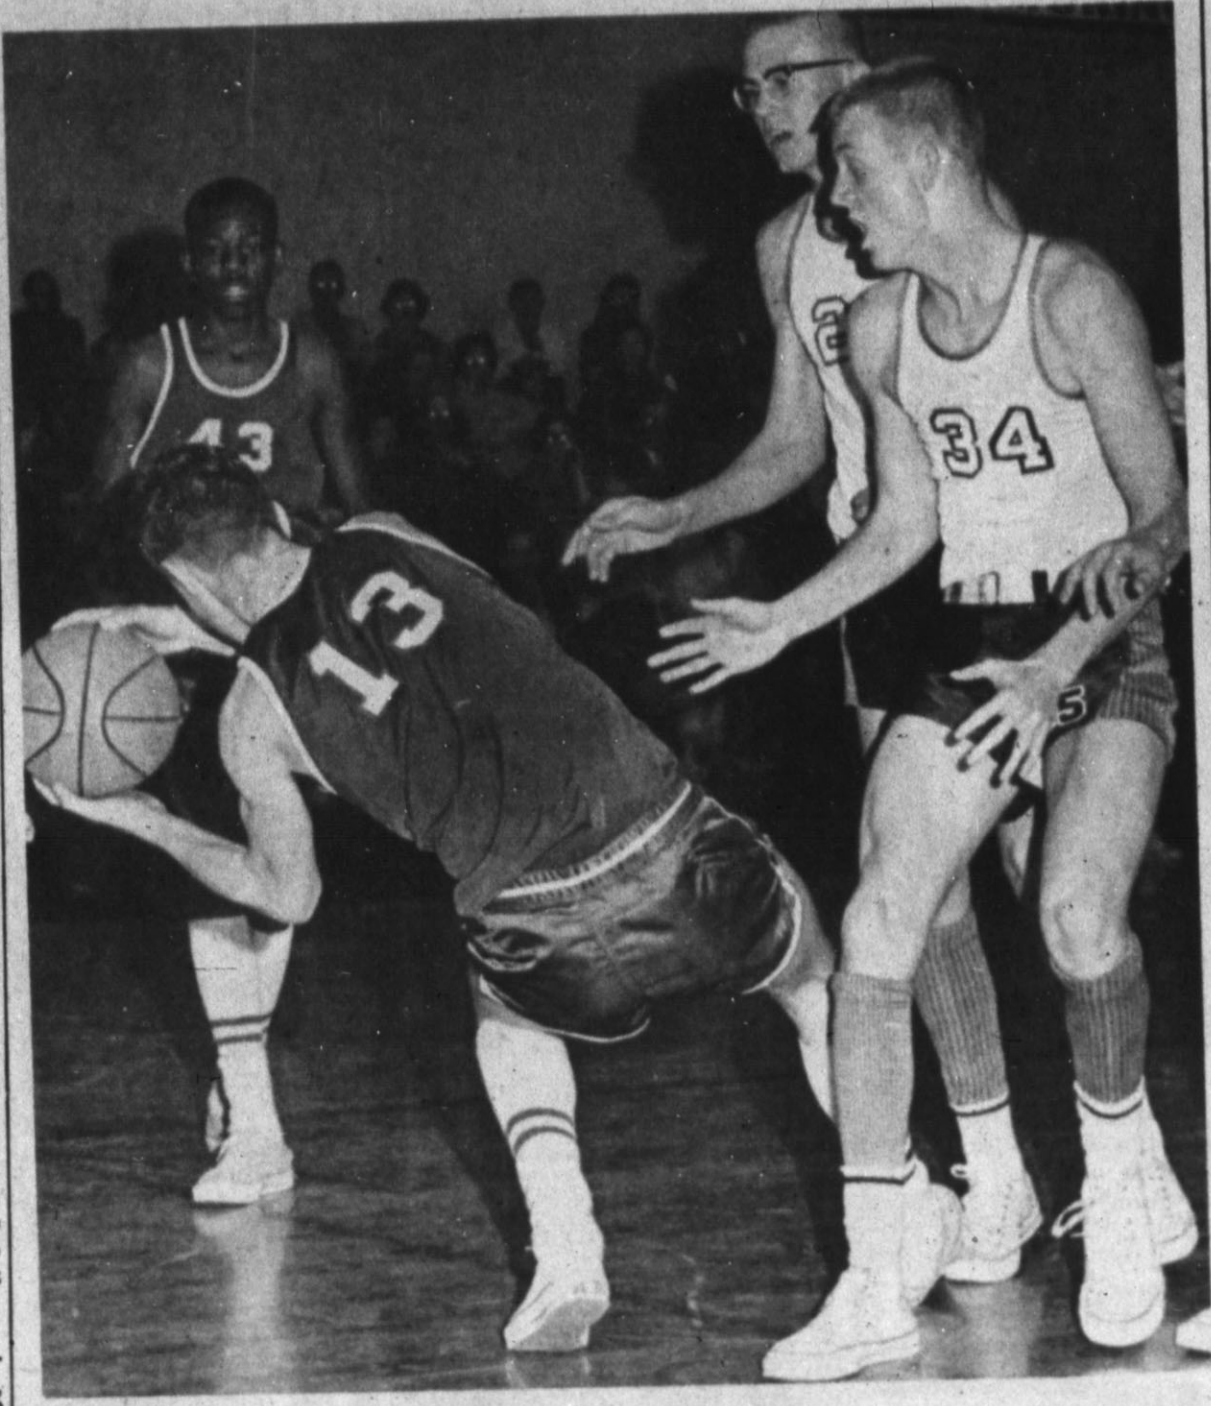

Men seeking to aid her explained that the original hospital stay was extremely expensive. About $1,800 in unpaid bills remain, not including what her current treatment will cost.

In one morning, a small group of men collected more than $660 to be applied to the debt. They are asking now for public donations to help clear away this financial burden.

Persons wishing to donate may mail or bring their contributions to any of the following: J. W. Witherspoon, J. D. Kirkland, Henry Sears at the First National Bank or the Rev. Herschel Thurston at the First Methodist Church.

Albania, a center of controversy in the Communist bloc, has a population of 1,581,000 living in an area a little larger than Maryland. According to legend, Albanians are descended from an eagle. Hence the Albanian flag shows a two-headed eagle on a solid red field.

An artificial lake in Rome's Cinquilia, the motion picture capital of Italy, is dyed to fit the script's needs. Green usually indicates a river; blue, the sea. Huge paddle wheels churn the water into violent waves.

TAKING A SPILL after grabbing off a rebound is Jerry Wheeler (13) of the Clovis Wildcats. He was contesting with White-face guard Dwight McGee (24) and center Randy Dowell (34) for the loose ball in the fourth period of play. The determined Herd, seeking its third win in six starts, rolled past the surprised Clovis, N. M., team by an 83-59 score. (Staff Photo)

BY JIMMIE GILLENTE

One of the most amazing things about our recent cold wave has been the fact that we continued with telephone and electric service through it all. I understand that everyone had their fingers crossed when ice started forming on lines, but the area squeaked by with a minimum of loss. George Stambaugh was telling me that Sam Morgan has some pictures of REA lines with a full three inches of ice on them. Many lines sagged down to the ground and some did break, but it was surprising how many did not. All crews stayed on top of any breaks that occurred, and very few people seem to have suffered even minor inconvenience.

F. H. Oberthier dropped in the other day and remarked that this winter reminds him more of 1918 than any he has seen since that time. I also heard Jess Ford make the same remark a week or two ago.

A lot of people are still talking about the Lions Club Ladies night, held Thursday at the school cafeteria. Most everyone seems to consider it the best yet. The entertainment was 100 percent local talent, including a German band, a combo and a quartet known as the "Deaf Smiths." The one which seems to have stolen the show, though, was billed as the "Navel Quartet." This group, composed of J. W. Robinson, Dub Reeves, Jack Kassahn and Oliver Streu wore big hats, which came down beyond their shoulders, and painted faces on their tummies. The effect, when they wiggled, was startling and from all reports, hilariously funny. However, all four say they have had enough of show business. Absolutely no more local performances. Reeves says they will settle for nothing less than the Jack Paar show, and even that is questionable.

Postmaster Nolan Grady says to remind everyone again that Christmas comes on Monday, which will make deliveries inconvenient to folks receiving yuletide packages—so be sure and mail early enough to get them delivered Friday or Saturday.

He was also telling me that we have had a postal inspector in this area checking on the destruction of mail boxes, and he says they reported several leads. Mostly, the boxes are being mutilated by indifferent people who use them for shotgun targets. Such offenses, of course, come under federal jurisdiction, and they can get more than a little bit rough. Literally scores of mail boxes have been damaged—and a few have been completely blown off the posts. Generally, the boxes cost six to 10 bucks, which makes the owners unhappy, but is nothing to compare with the offenders who get picked up by the post office department, which boasts the highest ratio of convictions of any law enforcement body in the nation.

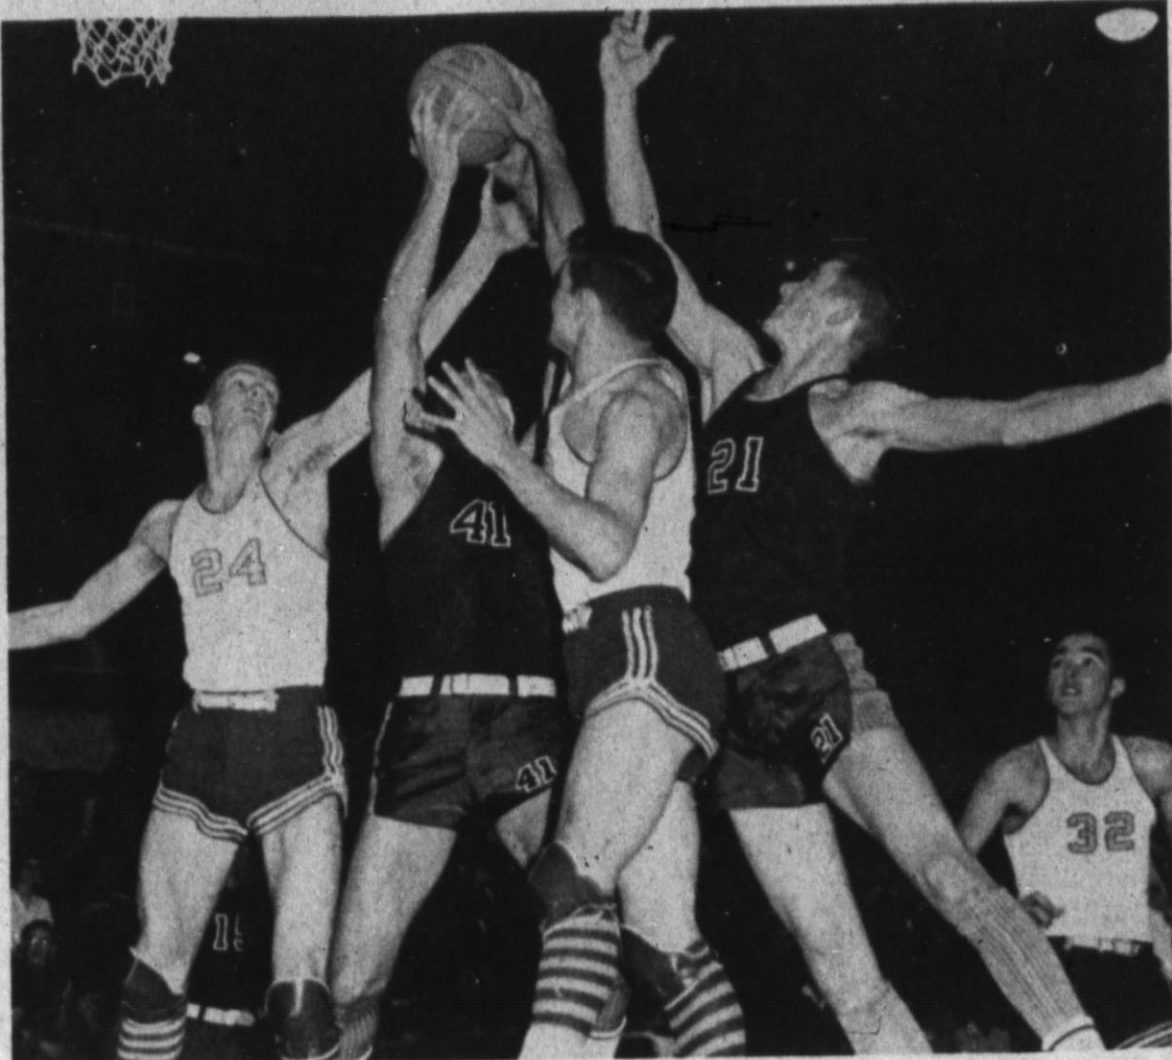

I notice where they are having an indignation meeting in Amarillo, but it seems to be politically inspired and really doesn't count. Anybody, but anybody, can get indignation about politics. To even consider this type of indignation is like cheating at solitaire.

Besides, I am fed up with the whole business. My wife is just a wee bit indignant over the things I said last time—and she is demanding "equal time." This grew from an idea she got from watching TV. Newspapers are not under FCC but, knowing her, she is liable to figure out some way to get it—and I will be in a heck of a spot. Besides, my conscience bothers me about the deal, and I figure she really is due an apology. She is an even-tempered, easy going gal, or she couldn't have put up with me all of these years. She really doesn't get indignant too often and, even then, she usually has a good reason.

Recently, I had a letter from a newspaper publisher downstate regarding production costs. He said he had the lowest typesetting cost in Texas. His wife did the work, and it cost him $3 for a marriage license 23 years ago. A lot of us find ourselves in about the same shape, but don't fully appreciate our good fortune. Even baby-sitters are pretty expensive these days.

I figure C. E. Coleman is the champion when it comes to finding sitters. He needed one Thursday night, when the Lions were holding their big party, which was bad enough—but he had to have one who had already had the measles and the chicken pox. Many, many people are calling off Christmas trips this year, due to a general outbreak of measles among the younger generation.

The city department merits a pat on the back for spreading sand during recent icy weather, which coated the streets. I heard a lot of talk about this service—and everyone seemed to appreciate it. Usually you see people rocking cars to help them back away from the curb, but I didn't observe one single instance during the past 10 days. Spreading of sand at intersections was also invaluable in cutting down on minor collisions.

Many people are prone to get a bit upset when our school buses do not run but, when you pause to consider the present sadness at Greeley, Colo.—where they will bury 20 youngsters and the lives of 13 others hang in balance—there is no doubt that the operation of school buses is an important and serious business. On bad days Bob Wilson and Paul Stevens are always out by 4:30 a. m. to check and re-check conditions. Our transportation system has a remarkable good record over a long period of time. I don't know many of the drivers, but they are undoubtedly well qualified and super-careful. In addition to the responsibility involved in operating the cumbersome buses, they also face problems in discipline and citizenship. I doubt if many of them ever get a word of thanks. Every parent and student connected with our bus system might well send the driver a Christmas card this year. In a lot of ways, these drivers are the unsung heroes of the century.

And if you haven't done your Christmas shopping, now is the time to get with it. Only six more days to go. Stocks in most lines are still in excellent shape all over town, so please don't push and shove. I never did like to be jostled around—and I'll likely be in the line with you.

Missionary Tells Story Of Christmas In Congo

Mrs. David Eugene Currie, 70, of Waco is making an extended visit in Hereford with her foster daughter, Mrs. Buddie Evans, and family.

Mrs. Currie is a former medical missionary to the Belgian Congo in the period from 1925 to 1928. Memories of this portion of her life are so vivid they could have taken place today.

Mrs. Currie is a graduate of Baylor University in 1915, and also a graduate of The School of Nursing at John Sealy Hospital in Galveston, a three year course. Two years of school teaching, her first love, at Waco High School and at Taylor, preceded a year spent at West Texas State College as an institutional nurse in 1920-21. She returned to Waco for two more years of teaching before going to Columbia University in New York for six weeks.

She went from New York to an orphanage in the mountain region near Garrett, Ken., to do mountain mission work for the Southern Presbyterian Church. Having always had a desire to do foreign mission work, she left the mountain mission for New York, the first lap of her journey to the Congo.

Mrs. Currie sailed from New York in July, 1925, with a group of American Baptist and Swedish missionaries to Belgium, where supplies were purchased. The group of dedicated people then sailed, by Swedish steamer, on the next lap of their trip to Africa.

They first landed for a few hours at the port of Casablanca, and then proceeded to Dakar and the Canary Islands. A carriage trip was made across the island to view the extensive banana plantations. The ship then sailed on to the mouth of the Congo River, a three-week trip from Belgium.

The ship dropped anchor at the ports of Boma and Matadi in Belgian Congo, situated on opposite sides of the river in a small tract of land between the French and Portuguese colonies. A huge pile of forbidding black rocks fill the mouth of the river, lending truth to the legend of "darkest Africa." This rock pile prevents steam ships from navigating the river, which is otherwise navigable to Stanleyville.

The missionaries boarded a narrow gauge train at Matadi, traveling by way of Banningville to the Kasai region along the Kasai river, the home of the Baluba and the Lulua tribes. The missionaries had learned the native language of the Balubas, which was similar to and understood by the Lulus.

There were five missionary stations in the Congo at that time, located at Luebo, Baulape, Lubondal, Mutoto and Bibanga. The station where Mrs. Currie was located, was established in 1891, and was located six degrees below the equator in the rain forests. Mrs. Currie worked with four American doctors; Dr. Stickruth, an American of Scandinavian descent, Dr. Cowser, Dr. King and Dr. Kellersberger. Mrs. Currie was in charge of the mission school for boys, located in the compound.

Missionaries lived in huts made of poles, interwoven with the thick, flexible Nkodi vine. The structure was then covered with mud, and finished with a thatched roof. This same vine is woven into thick mats for the floor, and into chairs, similar to wicker furniture, to make a primitive but comfortable home.

The land surrounding the station is wooded and similar to the area around Kerrville, Tex., but more open. The land is very sandy.

Mrs. Currie pointed out that the natives are clean, considering how little they know of sanitation and hygiene. Their villages are not crowded. Fat natives were never seen except for those who worked in the mission compound kitchens.

Their main food is a very thick mush, made from the Cassava root. The root is dug from the ground, soaked in water for a long period of time, dried on the roof tops, broken into chunks and beaten into a fine flour. The tse-tse fly prevents the raising of cattle, consequently, chicken is the main meat. (Continued on page 2)

Sheppard-Mousner Wedding Vows Read In Formal Service

Miss Wyndolyn Ann Sheppard, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Roy M. Sheppard, and Johnny Mack Mousner, son of T. G. Mousner of Hart, exchanged wedding vows on Saturday, Dec. 16, at 6 o'clock in the sanctuary of the Frio Baptist Church.

The Rev. B. H. Baldwin, pastor of the Frio Baptist Church, read the double ring ceremony as the couple stood before the altar, flanked by seven-stemmed candelabra, and arranged ments of mistletoe, holly and cedar. Bouquets of poinsettias decorated the organ and piano. The pews were marked with red velvet bows.

Don Baugous, organist, played traditional wedding selections and accompanied Mrs. Betty Stephens as she sang "Because," "Wedding Prayer" and "O Promise Me."

Miss Linda Richardson of Santa Fe, N. M., attended the bride as maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Miss Sheila Sheppard, sister of the bride, and Miss Carol Mousner, sister of the groom. Miss Debbie Lehnick and Miss Ellana Turner, cousins of the bride, were flower girls and carried baskets of flower petals. All the attendants wore identical dresses of red velvet, fashioned with princess lines, scooped necklines and cap sleeves. Red velvet pill box hats completed the costumes. They carried nosegays of red-flecked white carnations.

Doug and Denny Greeson, cousins of the bride, served as candlelighters. Miss Patricia Mousner, niece of the groom, was ring bearer, wearing a princess dress, fashioned with high neckline, puff sleeves and pill box hat.

John Smith of Hart served the groom as best man and groomsmen were Tommy Sparkman and Don Sheppard, brother of the bride. Jerry and Jimmy Sheppard, brothers of the bride, served as ushers.

The bride, given in marriage by her father, was attired in a formal wedding gown of satin with lace insets, scalloped neckline trimmed with seed pearls. The sleeves were long, tapering to a point at the wrists. Her fingertip veil was made of net, falling from a crown tiara, accented with seed pearls. Her only jewelry was pearl earrings. The bridal bouquet was fashioned of white feathered crysanthemums and red balls falling in a cascade.

Mrs. Sheppard, mother of the bride, wore a navy blue ensemble with white accessories and a mum corsage.

Immediately following the ceremony the bride's parents hosted a reception in fellowship hall of the church. Parents of the couple and members of the bridal party formed the receiving line.

The bride's table was appointed in crystal and silver with an arrangement of the bridesmaids' bouquets making the centerpiece. The wedding cake and punch carried out the bride's chosen colors of red and white.

Miss Kay Cole and Miss Sandra Inman of Hereford presided at the serving table. Miss Nancy Mousner, niece of the groom, registered the guests.

When the couple left on a trip to Oklahoma, the bride was attired in a red velvet ensemble fashioned by her aunt, Mrs. Henry Turner. Her accessories were black and she wore a corsage lifted from the bridal bouquet. After Dec. 27, the couple will be at home in Dallas, where the groom is employed by Taylor Publishing Company.

The bride is a 1961 graduate of Hereford High School where she was a member of FHA and DE. She is employed at the Hereford Rural School Tax office.

Mousner is a 1961 graduate of Hart High School where he was art editor of the annual staff. He is presently employed at Master Cleaners.

Out-of-town guests were Mrs. R. M. Sheppard Sr. of Arlington, grandmother of the bride; Mr. and Mrs. Billy Mousner and family of Wichita Falls; T. G. Mousner and family of Hart; Mr. and Mrs. Ad Lehnick and family of Panhandle; Miss Linda Richardson of Santa Fe, N. M.; and John Smith of Hart.

IN APPRECIATION

Our heartfelt thanks are extended to the many friends who offered their expressions of consolation when our beloved husband and father, passed into God's nearer presence. The beautiful floral offerings, food, visits, cards and calls giving comfort made us deeply grateful to each of you.

Hunters take care of the other meats for eating. Natives eat cabbage worms that taste like bacon when cooked. Locusts are also part of the diet.

In the dry season, the tall grasses are burned. The animals run from the fire and are killed with bows and arrows. The huge rats that infest the grasses are killed and dried for eating.

In the wet season, immediately after the daily rainstorm, every man, woman and child is seen with a banana leaf made into a tepee shape with a tiny hole in the top. The leaves are used to catch the flying ants as they emerge from their holes in droves. The wings are removed and the ants eaten as rapidly as possible.

Many diseases are prevalent: malaria, dysentery, sleeping sickness, whooping cough, diphtheria, pneumonia, leprosy, violent forms of anemia, trachoma, elephantiasis, worms; all forms of diseases of the alimentary tract. The natives are more susceptible to diseases, mainly because of their lack of protein in the diet, leaving them with little resistance to the diseases.

Mrs. Currie feels that medical missionaries are the best foreign aid that we have. She observed during her stay that the people would not come just to hear an evangelist speak, but would always come and bring the sick for healing. However, their superstitious fears prevented some treatment. Her feeling

I like toys I want a pogo stick And A doll that you can Squeeze Her Stomach and Her will do everything for you
I will see you some time

is that evangelists, doctors and nurses should go to the mission fields first, then be followed with teachers and builders. She stressed the life of Jesus in his missionary journeys, who went about healing, preaching and teaching.

The natives dress in cloth made from palm fronds, that is split, the thin lining, similar to plastic, is removed and it into threads. These threads are woven into cloth. The natives are taught by the mission workers to raise gardens. The men feel that they are disgraced if they use a hoe; the women do this. The people are eager to learn and will work, as required, on the plantations or compounds to earn their schooling.

They are intelligent people, using primitive methods, but far from crude ones. They learn eagerly the care of babies, whose mortality rate is over 50 percent. The natives make excellent mechanics. She related an incident of a native getting on a huge dirt moving machine and driving it without previous instruction. They excel athletically and are most certainly not inferior in any way to the white race, Mrs. Currie said. They are backward only because of a lack of education. She found them quick to learn, with a natural talent for work with the sick. The natives were used for laboratory workers in the mission hospitals.

The missionaries continually lived on the path, using a victrola to attract the natives, who would come to hear it. Only then could preaching be done. A native, thought to be fully converted, bought fertility medicine from the village medicine man. The man was an ordained elder in the native church near the mission compound. All natives want children and grieve if they don't have them. They feel that the ability to bear children has something to do with their eternal life. Problems of this type can be handled only with tact, because of their deep-rooted lore and superstitions that are not easily up-rooted. The village medicine men take advantage of this belief to practice many taboos and gain power. Mingling with the natives and living on the same level with them gives one a different attitude toward them and their problems.

Mrs. Currie returned to America in December of 1928, resuming her teaching career. She is now a retired school teacher, a woman with wonderful memories, and the personal satisfaction of knowing she has had a part in spreading the gospel to other lands and to the people she considers to be her brothers and sisters. She feels the salvation of one soul makes any sacrifice worthwhile. She thanks God each day for allowing her to serve Him in this way.

Mrs. Currie has written, in her own words, the story of her first Christmas spent in the Belgian Congo in 1925: Christmas in the Congo This time was years ago, when the Congo was a more or less peaceful dependency of Belgium. At least that was the situation in the Kasal region where we were stationed. The two preceding years I had spent in the Kentucky mountains where one could wake up on a Christmas morning and see a beautiful mantle of snow spread over the little valley and the sunshine on the ice-covered limbs of trees on the hillsides forming a veritable fairland.

"What a contrast," I thought. Here it is warm, the Congo summer in December, with green grasses, palms, banana trees, roses and other flowers blooming, and gardens flourishing. Outwardly, nothing to remind one of the Christmas season. A faint feeling of nostalgia possessed me for a few moments. But knowing that a real celebration of Christ's birth is the exuberant joy and infinite peace that springs up in one's heart as he contemplates the wonder, the marvel, the miracle of Christ's coming to earth in bodily form to bring salvation. I said to myself, "Christmas is everywhere the same; if only we know Him."

With prayerful heart I closed my day that first Christmas Eve I spent in the Congo. Just imagine my amazement when I was awakened shortly before dawn by the strains of "Silent Night, Holy Night" and other Christmas carols being sung in the native language by strollers in our mission compound! To make me so happy — a happiness that set apart that day forever in my memory. The senior missionaries had not told me that they had taught the house boys (domestic help), when the boys first became Christians, this beautiful custom.

Property Damage Reaches $7,200 In November

The Highway Patrol investigated 10 accidents on rural highways in Deaf Smith County during the month of November according to Sergeant Roger Sosebee, Highway Patrol Supervisor for this area.

These wrecks accounted for six persons injured and an estimated property damage of $7,200.00.

The rural traffic accident summary for Deaf Smith County from January through November of 1961 shows a total of 72 crashes. As a result of these crashes there were 4 persons killed and 40 persons injured. The estimated property damage amounted to $81,399.00.

The veteran patrol supervisor announced that a stepped-up traffic law enforcement program is being launched in an all-out effort to stem the tide of traffic deaths during the remainder of the year.

"We find ourselves confronted with the alarming fact that statistics indicate some 238 persons will be killed in traffic crashes in Texas this December," the Sergeant stated.

"But we feel confident that with an accelerated enforcement program and most important, the active support and cooperation of the driving public—the statistics can be made to lie. And that is exactly what we propose to do.

"We feel that the traffic death tragedy cannot be over-emphasized. When it is considered that during last year alone, there were 2,254 violent deaths on the streets and highways of our state caused by colliding motor vehicles, it can readily be seen that concerted action on the part of everyone concerned is in order," the Sergeant added.

The weather has been quite disgusting to the farmers of the area. The snow of the last bad spell has not melted as of yet and at this writing the sun is shining and it is raining. Typical weather for this part of the country.

When the weather was dry the farmers tried to finish harvesting their maize, which many accomplished. The cotton is still in the fields and some of it was too green to gin. It looks as though now that this year's crop might be harvested next year.

REMEMBER WHEN?

BY CHARLIE SEEDS

The trial began in February that year, when Josef Cardinal Mindszenty was accused by the Hungarians of treason and espionage. Imprisoned for more than a month, undergoing pressures that were to shock the world, Cardinal Mindszenty had previously declared that any confession would be null and void. Now he pleaded guilty.

After hearing charges for three days, the 5 man People's Court convicted the Cardinal of treason and trying to overthrow the government. He was sentenced to life imprisonment.

The trial evoked a storm of protest. President Truman called it a "kangaroo court."

Diplomats of 33 nations united to protest the mock trial as "an offense to religious, personal and political liberty." No one believed Cardinal Mindszenty's plea of guilty. To the free world he became a hero, a symbol of Red tyranny.

Remember the year? In the United States, cars were still scarce that year. Buyers were excited about the new models, but there wasn't much chance of getting immediate delivery... and no one talked about "savings."

The year was 1949. You can get delivery today on a brand new 1962 Ford from our big stock. You can choose the model, the color, the accessories you want... AND you can get real savings... Hereford's "6-3-3" Education Plan Merits Study By Enter Citizenship

A few years ago residents of this area became familiar with the term "6-3-3" in conversations centering around schools. At present trustees are considering the former "5-3-4" plan, which is basically the system used until the past few years. They carefully point out, however, that the proposal is strictly one of discussion, rather than definite action.

Chief argument against our current "6-3-3" system centers around a possible need for moving students into high school one year earlier, thus allowing specialization in various subjects including languages. At the same time, a compromise between high school needs and junior high needs more or less confuses both divisions in our junior high operation. Many educators further indicate that larger classes are more practical in lower grade levels than in high school.

Possible return to the old "5-3-4" plan brings up once again the question which led primarily to the shift to the "6-3-3" schedule — and that is finances. Should the district return to a four-year high school program, it would immediately create a need for expansion of our high school facilities to take care of several hundred more students or, at even greater cost, the construction of a second high school building.

This question of system, we presume, is one which will be discussed extensively by citizens in the study forums now under way. At the same time, it seems to us that all residents of the community should become familiar with the two plans. So far,

Drop Outs Face Difficult Time

Every year, one of the problems most high school teachers and administrators have to face is that of discouraging students from dropping out of school before they receive their diploma.

There are always those youngsters who think they would be happy if they were free from the discipline of school and were free to make their own money and do as they please.

The sad fact is that those who quit high school face a lifetime of subnormal employment unless they are truly remarkable persons.

The government has made a study of these high school students who quit school before graduation and the results are alarming.

Some 2.5 million of the 10.8 million students now enrolled in grades nine through twelve in the nation's public and private schools will depart before graduation, the government report reveals.

This brings on a situation that is becoming increasingly troublesome.

These people without even a high school education are finding it hard to get and keep a job.

Technology has cut out a lot of unskilled jobs. Elevator operators used to make a living but now most elevators are automatic and the elevator operator job is gone.

Manual labor is becoming less. The time-honored vocation of ditch digging is rapidly passing out as machines have been developed that can dig a ditch faster and cheaper than men with shovels.

The railroads used to employ "gandy dancers" who maintained the roadbed with manual labor. Machinery has taken the place of this type worker.

Sylvania Electric Products put in a new system on a transistor testing line a year ago and cut the number of unskilled workers on this assembly line from 102 to 6.

Companies are having less and less place for uneducated workers with no particular skills.

The youngster who applies for a job and desperately says, "I can do anything", actually can do very little.

And too many of these youngsters want to make the same money that an experienced, skilled worker makes, but of course they are not equipped to do so and probably never will be.

The Perryton schools have some drop-outs, but not many. Those who do drop out of school fit into the usual pattern. They usually are not doing well in school or have found companions who have already dropped out of school.

Those who quit high school before graduation often join the army of unemployed youths on the streets who are inevitably short of cash and easily influenced into some petty crime.

There are a number of reasons for remaining in high school until a diploma is earned. Not the least of these reasons is purely selfish—if a person expects to earn a living he had better start with a high school education.

—OCHILTREE COUNTY HERALD

we have heard few complaints on the "6-3-3" system, but there could be many and we know the board members and study forum members will appreciate reaction and suggestions from school patrons and from the citizenship at large.

Once again, we are presented with a general problem centering around school operation and the board has pointed out general circumstances. Thousands of people advocate keeping control of public schools in the community, rather than on federal levels, but if we fail to study situations of this type and to make recommendations, we are definitely defeating the privilege which we now possess.

Farmer Gets 37¢ Of Food Dollar

Possibly no other industry has been revolutionized so much in recent years as that of farming and farm production. Literally millions of people can testify to this fact, having shifted away from the land into the large cities and manufacturing centers.

Still, we produce more per capita than ever before, thanks to the tractor, the combine and other mechanized farm methods. Due to centralization, most farmers seem to be doing very well. Recent Agriculture Department estimates show that the farmer in 1962 will receive 37 cents from the average consumer food dollar.

The remaining 63 cents of the food dollar goes for processing, packaging, transportation and marketing costs. While these costs are necessary in our specialized way of life, it does seem to be a rather huge bite.

Still, we do have a nation of well fed people, a boast which no other country in the world can honestly make. Socialism and communism fall short on this particular problem perhaps more than any other.

Meanwhile, even the farmer prefers to purchase his milk in cartons, rather than keep a cow and produce it on the farm; the same is true of poultry, swine and even beef, to say nothing of such difficult items as flour, meal, lard and soap which a generation back were seldom purchased in stores by the farmer.

While some of the circumstance can be attributed to prosperity, there is much to say for the importance of specialization in production and distribution. Besides, the fancy packages, attractive displays and general suggestions help to whet our appetites—and we must find something to offset this particular factor, formerly created through physical exercise.

Home Is Place For Censorship

Now that the smoke has cleared away concerning the highly controversial "Tropic of Cancer," it seems that people should face the facts about books and magazines in the area.

Never before has there been such an outpouring of trashy literature in the history of our nation. Many magazines carry headlines and suggestive titles which arouse indignation in citizens from time to time. On the other hand, we doubt if any of these books or periodicals actually contain material more questionable than much of our accepted literature in the field of arts and science. And, questionable as some of the covers appear, they are probably no more candid than many paintings which may be found on display in the average art gallery.

The intangible factors of "art, literature and life" all come into arguments concerning literature, and it is hard to condemn one group without using the same yardstick on others. Meanwhile, magazine distributors have developed a patent system of waiting until things cool off, then going back with the same old releases.

There seem to be almost as many opinions as people on this subject. Everyone agrees that outright pornographic material should be snatched, but beyond that point the arguments develop.

While we grant that the family has lost much status in our social activities at the present time, this particular question appears to be one which might be best settled on the family level. Parents should make a sincere effort to observe the reading habits of youngsters; they should join the school in encouraging the reading of accepted books, most of which are far better than offerings found in questionable productions. Today, as in the past, there is always someone who is willing to take advantage of a loophole to make a fast dollar, and we presume this situation will exist in the future as well as in the past.

Censorship centers around "who" will make the decisions concerning our reading material and that of our children. We still think the best place for this censorship is in the average American home.

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

"And so it was, that, while they were there, the days were accomplished that she should be delivered. And she brought forth her firstborn son, and wrapped him in swaddling clothes, and laid him in a manger; because there was no room for them in the inn. And from the humble manger would come a loving faith that would change the world."

Ice Storm Changes City Into Winter Fairy Land

BY MRS. R. L. CRISWELL

Monday and Tuesday made Deaf Smith County a wonderland of winter beauty. I hope each person took time out to feast their eyes on the beauties at hand. The Chinese Elms put on their winter dress with fronts of silvery white in a form more beautiful than their summer green.

The Pack Brogdons had a small 'Christmas' tree of such beauty that Pack braved the cold and snapped it for future enjoyment in all its glory of pompons made of the purest crystal. For contrast, the Pampas grass cluster bent its tall spears down and looked for all to see, like a huge ostrich with its head buried, not in the sand, but in the snow with silvery plumes waving gaily in a bright winter sun.

Snow is the greatest beautifier of all as it can take a drab tan and brown world and transform it over night into a fairyland of the greatest beauty, a beauty for all, at no cost just for pure delight.

Perhaps Christmas will give us traveling weather that will encourage all the younger folk to visit the older ones and every one can be happy.

Speaking of Deaf Smith County and of Hereford, I wish to take time out to tell the young people of our county that I think they are the greatest. We have had so many to win great honors in club work as well as school work, and also a number to be toppers in singing and in acting in our school plays that I just want them to have a word of appreciation.

There are so many I can't name them all (isn't that something?) but will mention a few.

Donna Rogers for being chosen by the All-State choir, and the group of boys are on tour with the capella choir of West Texas State College under the direction of Dr. Houston Bright, professor of music theory, and a composer in his own right.

These boys from the county and in Hereford are Bob Miller, choir president, Gary Wertberger, stage manager; his brother, Erin, artist and stage director of plays in Canyon; Ken Betzen, Bill Wimberley, and Dave Dzuik. We are proud of them in more ways than one.

For some strange reason news isn't news unless it is bad and then it is very very bad. But I am glad to say that news of our young people has been very, very good. Here is to them and we are proud of each and every one.

Has Christmas 'snuck' up on you inspite of all the commercials that have been pounding your ears for the past six weeks? Have you just listened with half an ear or just shut your mind to what you were hearing?

We hear so much until it becomes a din. Before we realize it, we are shy some wrapping paper or cards or something. Then we receive a card with a little note from someone that hasn't been heard from in a long while. It is so good to have the bit of news.

Then the Christmas rush begins immediately when YOU want to send a note and hear from others.

I have several friends that only write once a year at Christmas time, just to let me know how they are doing or perhaps to tell you of a new grandchild or some sorrow that has come to them through the year.

These greetings are the ones that will be treasured through the years and will make you remember when the Christmas Season was brought to mind by a smell or a strange box in a familiar place.

You catch junior rummaging through the closet in search of "nothin'" if you question him. But, you know that he is wondering just what Santa has in mind for him. Perhaps you remember sewing for a certain doll and the chore of finding a secret place to keep the clothes from small daughter's eyes as she, too, begins wondering what is new in the clothes closet.

Sometimes there is a sudden hurry in getting home from school by the youngsters. They are hoping mother is shopping or, at least, she will be gone awhile.

Why this sudden interest in mother being away?

"Sh-h-h its hearing Christmas and I wantta see if they have bought my bicycle. I have been asking for it for weeks."

"Sh-h-h maybe Mom has bought my present. I want one a mouton coat. I don't care if my legs get cold, I want a short one. It's the most stylish."

Ah yes! Christmas comes but once a year. Though at times the Christchild is forgotten for a moment in the joy of a much wanted gift, there comes a time when He is remembered with great joy for all His love to the world.

ELEMENTARY BUILDING PLANS EYED

Plans are in the mill for a new elementary school here for use during the 1963-64 school term. School trustees met with chairmen of the citizens' advisory committees Tuesday night to discuss building needs. There had been some feeling that needs for the present and the immediate future could be met by adding to the existing elementary building. This opinion appeared to melt as discussion progressed. There was sentiment that an elementary school will be needed for the northern part of the district within the next few years.

COURT NEGOTIATING FINAL CLAIM

With condemnation proceedings pending in six cases where the land owner on one hand and the County of Floyd and State of Texas on the other, have been unable to reach agreement, the end is in sight for the procurement of right-of-way on the four-lane highway projected now nearly five years ago from Floydada to the Hale County line. Pending still is the actual transfer of title from the Santa Fe Railway Co. and Phillips Petroleum Co. to parcels in the vicinity of Lockney on which terms have been reached.

NEW BLOOD BANK PROGRAM BEGINS

A new nation-wide blood bank program, which makes all types of blood available around the clock, is being inaugurated at Quannah Clinic and Hardeman County Memorial Hospital. The Blood Bank program, a cooperative venture for hospitals and clinics around the nation, will supplement Quannah's famed "walking blood bank," reputed to be one of the best in the state. Tom Clevenger, laboratory technician for Quannah Clinic described the program this way: "Blood of all types will be available here 24 hours a day. The drawing and processing of the blood will be handled by the Red Cross whose bloodmobile will visit Hardeman County two to four times per year to draw blood. For each pint they draw, Quannah's blood bank will be credited with one pint which we may use any time needed."

HEPATITIS HITS OLTON

"There is no indication that the disease will reach epidemic proportions," one doctor said this week after two cases of infectious hepatitis were reported in the Olton schools. One case was reported in the first grade and one in the seventh grade, according to Johnny Clark, superintendent. Shots are being given by some doctors to their patients in grades one through junior high. It was not felt that the shots should be recommended for anyone other than those in these grades unless a special condition in the individual indicated it. The shots are said to be effective in lessening the chance of getting the disease or in modifying the case.

THE BOOTLEG

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his blindweed farm discloses his problems in keeping up with world affairs, his letter this week indicates.

Dear editor:

I haven't taken a public opinion poll, but my guess is that not over three per cent of the people in the world understand what's going on in the Congo, China, France, Germany, South America, etc., and I guarantee you I'm not in that three per cent.

Take just one segment of the world, take the Congo. Every day the newspapers are filled with big headlines and news articles about the current situation in the Congo, and I'm frank to say it's not clear in my mind yet whether Tshombe is president of Katanga or Katanga is president of Tshombe, and when the articles get down to what's going on in Kolwezi and Jadoville, I turn to the sports pages or the latest murder.

Now I'll admit this may be regrettable, but I would like to point out that it's going to get worse, not better, on account of the limitations of a man's mind. The mind can handle just so much territory, and by the time I get through keeping up with this immediate locality, then this county, then this state, then part of the United States, then a few high points around the world, I haven't got any more time to spare and still get any work done. I can't even do it and not get any work done.

But what's going to happen when man, as it looks now like he will, gets out to other planets and finally gets them populated? And the headlines start pouring back in about a political upheaval on the Moon, the downfall of a government on Venus, economic aid for the drought-stricken people on Mars? Etc.

I tell you, if man is smart, he'll pass a law right now making it illegal for any reporters ever to get off the earth. You let reporters scatter throughout the universe and before long the newspapers will be so jammed with crises from all over everywhere that the human mind will snap.

The world hasn't got many more problems now than it ever had, they're just better reported, and the better they're reported, the less of the total anybody understands. If it wasn't for reporters and modern communications, this world still might not be any better off than it is, but everybody would think it was.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

REP. WALTER ROGERS WRITES

Failure To Apply Principle Reason For World Conflict

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT:

The Christian world again approaches the celebration of the birth of Christ. The stories of that night in Bethlehem when Christianity came into being will be told and re-told throughout all parts of the world where there are Christians and where there is freedom of religion. I suspect that these stories will be told in many of the countries where there is no freedom of religion... perhaps in secret, but told nevertheless. Our Lord and Saviour will be referred to in many of the relations as the Prince of Peace, and certainly He was the advocate of God Almighty to bring peace to the earth.

In St. Luke, Chapter 2, beginning with the 8th Verse in the story of the birth of Jesus we find the following words:

And there were in the same country shepherds abiding in the field, keeping watch over their flock by night. And, lo, the angel of the Lord came upon them, and the glory of the Lord shone round about them: and they were sore afraid. And the angel said unto them, Fear not: for, behold I bring you good tidings of great joy, which shall be to all people. For unto you is born this day in the city of David, a Saviour, which is Christ the Lord. And this shall be a sign unto you; Ye shall find the babe wrapped in swaddling clothes, lying in a manger. And suddenly there was with the angel a multitude of the heavenly host praising God, and saying, GLORY TO GOD IN THE HIGHEST, AND ON EARTH PEACE, GOOD WILL TOWARD MEN.

It would be well if every adult Christian on each Christmas Day would stop and ask this question: "What have I done since I last celebrated the birth of Jesus Christ to carry His word and His teachings and to contribute to peace on earth and good will toward my fellow man?"

I am sure most everyone could list many things, such as church attendance, contributions to charitable organizations, underwriting programs designed to promote peace, aiding underprivileged, etc.

What would the answers be if the question is asked in another way, such as: "What have I done during the past year which would not have been conducive to peace on earth and good will toward men or what have I failed to do that I could have done that would have been a contribution to peace on earth and better understanding and good will as between men?"

In other words, how many times have I failed to follow the teachings of Christ; how many times have I done things big or little that were not in keeping with Christian principles; how many times have I lost my temper; have I been neglectful or discourteous; or failed to do some little thing that would have added to the comfort and convenience of others; how many times have I failed to do unto others as I would have them do unto me?

Perhaps this would be a good season for us to realistically face these issues from a Christian standpoint. In so doing, we may find the cause of the trials and tribulations that have taken us further and further away from peace. We may discover why, during the last half century we have been engaged in two violent world conflicts which have destroyed unbelievable numbers of lives and amounts of property. We may discover why we have been constantly beset by small wars all over the world. We may discover why the world is now divided into two ideologies eyeing each other as strange dogs, and engaged in a cold war that hangs like a Damocles Sword over the head of Peace.

We may find out why peoples throughout the world live in constant fear of a miscalculation or a misstep that could trigger a holocaust that could wipe out our civilization. We may find out why the cities of Jerusalem and Bethlehem and Jericho, the very heart of the Christian world, are not the center of a conflict between two peoples, neither of which is Christian. The continuing conflict of deep-seated hatreds between these people — hatreds that cannot be reconciled easily — are nurtured by practices which are diametrically opposed to Christian principles.

The conflict has the walls manned by soldiers waiting to engage in violence at the first sign of aggression on the other side of the wall. In buildings hidden behind sandbags, are machine guns and rifles and stocks of hand grenades and other explosives to be used at the first sign of adverse action across the narrow no-man's-land strip that surrounds the wall. It is within these walls of Jerusalem that Christ carried his cross to Calvary; where the Prince of Peace was crucified to save man more than 1,900 years ago. When we look at the scorecard we find that we have either failed to do what we should have done, or we have done what we should not have done. WALTER ROGERS MEMBER OF CONGRESS 18TH DISTRICT OF TEXAS

EMPTY SEAT SAVES MONEY
NEW YORK (AP) — A reduction in the number of seats sold at each performance is saving money for the musical, "Irma La Douce."

The show, which recently transferred to the Alvin theater from the Plymouth, has been in the 1,100-seat category under contracts with the musicians' union. The Alvin has 1,324 seats, but 234 are being kept vacant. If they were put on sale, the show would be required to add several musicians to the pit band, hiking the weekly payroll by $1,600.
