Hereford Urged To Observe Beef Week For State

The week of Dec. 3-9 was designated "Beef Week" in Hereford this week when Mayor Ray Cowser signed a formal proclamation paying tribute to the many significant contributions made by the state's cattle industry to the welfare of all Texans.

Mayor Cowser presented the proclamation to Colby Conkright, who is Texas Beef Council chairman for Deaf Smith County.

"Historically, the cattle industry in Texas is older than Texas itself. Economically, the cattle industry has set the pace for Texas, and continues to be a leading growth factor in the state's economy, constantly seeking new techniques for building an even more rewarding future for all our citizens," the proclamation read.

In proclaiming Beef Week, the Mayor urged "appreciation and recognition from county citizens for the many continuing contributions of this great industry."

Another activity planned during Beef Week, according to Conkright is the annual Beef Supper which will be held at the Pioneer Hotel in Lubbock Dec. 6.

This wonderful weather is taking precedence over everything else as farmers race to finish maize harvest, pick cotton, pull carrots and dig sugar beets before the moisture takes over again. Many farmers are running combines until 10 or 11 p.m. trying to get finished. It's slow going for some as they are having to use pick-up reels in order to harvest fallen grain. This weekend should just about wind up the maize, although there is still a lot of cotton left in the fields.

You should have heard the gasps of amazement and envy at the end of Bill Hayes' campaign talk in the hot 1 Friday. He spoke about 15 minutes without notes and then called each person present by name, pointing out which of those he had not met personally before the meeting started. I don't know whether it was the Dale Carnegie method, or another, but it was a smooth, effective technique for a politician.

Project Christmas Card Helps Many

More than 400 mothers and babies will be benefitted this year by the funds given to Project Christmas Card, if it is successful.

This year, the Hereford Medical Auxiliary is planning to purchase a new obstetrical delivery table and operating light for Deaf Smith County Hospital. In addition, a scholarship for a student nurse will be available.

Project Christmas Card sponsors ask that you deposit with either the Hereford State Bank or the First National Bank the amount you would normally spend for Christmas cards to friends and acquaintances in Hereford only.

Your name will be included in a joint Christmas Greeting in the Hereford Brand.

More than $17,000 has been shared in this way during the past five years. More than $10,000 was used to buy furniture for the children's wing and the obstetrical floor of the hospital. A surgery table was purchased for $3,000 for the operating room and an Isolette for the hospital nursery. About $1,650 was used to improve the hospital kitchen and $1,700 to help furnish the Hereford Community Center.

In addition, $1,100 has helped three student nurses with their training, since a scholarship is given annually to a member of the Hereford High School graduating class who plans to enter nursing training.

Deadline for participating in Project Christmas Card is Friday, Dec. 15.

Herd Slams Tulia, 57-46; Canyon Here Tuesday Night

Hereford won its first basketball game of the season Friday night, slamming Tulia 57-46 and hitting most of its points from the floor. The Herd hit 26 field goals and played strong defense in the last half to pull in front. It avoided the lack of scoring in the third and fourth quarters that had spelled defeat in three previous contests.

Dennis Hodges hit long shots and short ones to pile in 23 points and scoring honors for the night. Dwight McGee, who finished the game despite having four fouls in the first half, hit for 11; Mack Cansler added ten, all from the floor.

Canyon's Eagles, picked to finish high in their district, had a 3-2 record before playing in the finals of the West Texas high school tourney there Saturday night. They will play Hereford in Whiteface gym Tuesday night.

They lost to Dumas 65-34, then knocked off Stratford 53-35. Then they lost to Panhandle 50-48 in overtime. In the tourney they beat Farwell and Adrian to earn the finals.

A pair of two-year lettermen, 5-10 Richard Green and 6-0 Ronnie Harris, will provide experience for the Eagles. But Coach Allen Simpson has depth with five other lettermen. Wayne and Warren Rutherford are 6-2 twins, both seniors, with Junior Bob Begert, 6-4; Harry Leslie, 5-10; and Davis Price, 6-8.

As the game started, the teams swapped baskets, with four Whitefaces hitting for 14 points. Whistles blew almost continuously, however, as four fouls were called against Here-

Mrs. Posey Is Candidate For District Clerk

The Brand this week was authorized to announce the candidacy of Lucille Posey for reelection to the post of District Clerk from Deaf Smith County. Her candidacy is subject to the action of the Democratic primary in May.

"As 69th District Clerk for Deaf Smith County, I have endeavored to cooperate in every possible way with the people of this county and to assist in the actions of the 69th District Court and its functions in this county. If elected, I pledge my continued efforts toward the service of this office and the people of this county," she said.

Tulia finally went ahead in the second period on the basis of more free throws. Hereford, during the quarter, hit five field (Continued on page 2)

COTTON STRIPPING OPERATIONS in Deaf Smith County shifted into high gear this week with the return of warm dry weather. The harvesting of the crop has been delayed here in this area due to damp weather which plagued all farmers. Other-area farmers were finishing up the cutting of maize left standing in fields. Clubs Hear Talks About Alcoholism

Three of Hereford's community service clubs — Optimists, Lions and Kiwanis — had as guest speakers this week members of the Deaf Smith County Alcohol Information Committee. The speaker at the Optimist club meeting held Monday evening was the Rev. Joel Treadwell, Francis Hardwick, chairman of the information committee, spoke at both the noon meeting of Kiwanis and Lions.

Grain Sorghum Producers Set Meet Wednesday

A county-wide meeting of grain sorghum producers is scheduled for 7:30 p.m. Wednesday, Dec. 6, 1961, in the Community Center at Hereford.

Tommy Carnahan, Deaf Smith County chairman of the Grain Sorghum Producers Association, said the meeting has three items of business of great importance to area farmers. They are (1) the review of the effectiveness of this year's feed grain program in raising farm income; (2) appraisal of proposed 1963 grain sorghum legislation; and (3) election of county officers to direct the Association during the coming year.

Bill Nelson, GSPA executive vice president from Amarillo, will be principal speaker. He has been in Washington in recent weeks discussing possible future legislation with officials there, and has conferred with individual members of Secretary Freeman's farm advisory groups. Nelson points out that these county meetings are the place where farmers who have supported the Association's Research, Market Development and Service program through deductions at the local elevators, should assist in developing the program for the coming year.

The Association leader has indicated that 1961 was a decisive year in getting grain sorghum recognized on an equal basis with corn in farm legislation, but that the real challenge ahead in 1962 is to maintain this gain and to establish positive expansion programs in the production, marketing and utilization of grain sorghum.

Williams Seeks Judge's Office

H. C. "Hank" Williams will be a candidate for election to the post of County Judge of Deaf Smith County. He authorized the Brand this week to announce his intention of seeking nomination to the post in the Democratic primary.

Williams was appointed to the office of County Judge in November upon the unanimous vote of the County Commission.

"Although I did not seek the office of County Judge, I agreed to serve full time and have also agreed to serve a four-year term if it is the voters' wishes. I do this out of a sense of service to this community and particularly through the work that I might be able to do with the juveniles and their problems."

A farmer in the county, Williams is a member of the Methodist Church, a Mason and a Shriner. He was associated with a Federal Reserve Bank for many years in Oklahoma City before coming to Deaf Smith County.

A stiffer policy in prosecuting persons charged with auto accessory thefts and a drive to get motorists to put identifying marks on their cars' accessories was announced by Henry Aycock, Hereford chief of police.

Automobile dealers are also being asked to place identifying marks on equipment since a rash of hub cap thefts has been noted in the city, said Aycock.

"Any theft of property over $5," he warned, "carries a mandatory jail sentence. We will be asking the courts to hand down a sentence in these cases."

Persons who do not actually take hubcaps or other accessories, but are with others who do, can be charged and prosecuted as accessories or accomplices, continued Aycock.

"We would like every individual owner of a motor vehicle to put identifying marks on all accessories," he stated.

This will help the police department, he stated, restore the lost property to owners and law enforcement officers will be able to prosecute offenders.

In explaining the rash of thefts here, Aycock pointed out that normally they are committed by persons from out-of-town. Most occur during either basketball or football games played at night.

The bulk of the offense reports handled by the police department are reports of thefts involving automobile accessories, he continued. These reports would probably total about 50 per cent of all investigated.

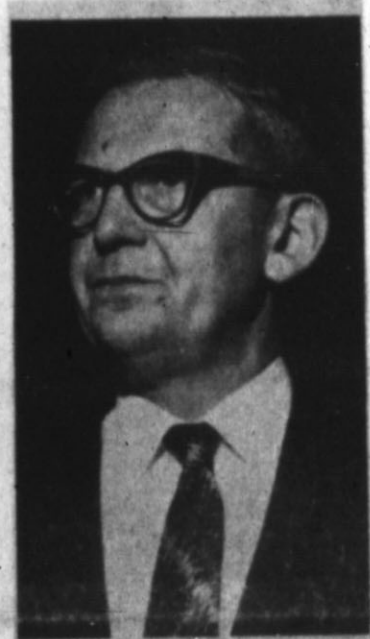

All persons who have hubcaps and other accessories taken off their cars should re-

Forgery Spree Ends Here As Charges Filed

The forgery spree of a Dade City, Fla., man ended here Thursday as he was arrested by deputy sheriff Ed Roberson and felony charges were filed.

Charged with the offense is William Martin Hudson, 41, who was living in the Jim Hill Hotel at the time of his arrest. Bond of $2500 was set in Justice of the Peace Court, C. B. Miles, presiding.

The man allegedly had been passing the forgeries within the area for the past ten days, according to Roberson. Checks which he passed were written on several area farmers.

O. W. "Bill" Hayes

GOP Candidate Is Luncheon Speaker

About 25 persons attended a luncheon meeting here Friday for Republican candidate for Lt. Governor, O. W. "Bill" Hayes of Temple.

During his brief speech, Hayes lost no time in drawing the battle lines that he has assumed for the race. He stated that it is a battle between liberal and conservative factions.

"A socialistic group has decided that a world court and a world government should be better capable of running our lives than we can do," he declared. Such groups, he contended, favor a "watered-down Americanism" that is far from the precepts of the Constitution.

"I feel that the Republican Party is the only vehicle for a conservative government. Splinter groups can't do it and the Democratic Party can't do it... A government never regresses from such items as national and state income taxes," he declared.

Medical care for the aged, he stated, is the first real step toward socialism and is being pushed because it tugs at the heart strings. "But a dollar sent to Washington returns 40 cents, at best, to the people and the old folks don't get the other 60 cents either. Individuals, communities and states can do a better job of taking care of the aged than the federal government," he said.

Medical care to the aged becomes a government function, he said that it would soon be followed by federal aid to education, with its attendant controls, and the loss of other individual and state freedoms. In closing, Hayes said, "What am I for? I favor states rights, the sovereign rights of the people, individual and community (Continued on page 2)

Poll Tax Sales Still Lagging

County tax office officials report that sales for the 1961 Poll Tax have been slow, with only 471 receipts issued as of Friday. Deadline for paying a poll tax is midnight Jan. 31, only two months away.

There are an estimated 2500-4000 eligible voters in Deaf Smith County according to officials, who predict that only 2000-2500 will pay poll taxes coming in 1962.

Although the governor's race is taking the spotlight, many important state, county, and city elections are also slated.

Cain Files For County Clerk

B. F. Cain this week authorized the Brand to announce his candidacy for reelection to the post of County Clerk. He will run as an incumbent in the Democratic primary.

Cain was elected last fall to fill an unexpired term of the office.

He is a member of the Hereford Rural High School District board of trustees, the Lions Club, First Christian Church and a Mason. He also is active in youth baseball activities in the community.

"Since taking office I have devoted full time to the office of County Clerk and will continue to do so in the future if re-elected," he said. "It is my aim to operate the office in the most efficient manner possible and to provide whatever service may be needed by the public."

Mrs. Hodges Is Candidate For Treasurer Post

Velma Hodges this week authorized the Brand to announce her candidacy for reelection for the office of County Treasurer of Deaf Smith County, subject to the action of the Democratic primary.

"I will appreciate the consideration of each person who votes," she said. "It is a privilege to serve the people of this county. I always try to do the work of this office in the best possible manner. If I am elected to this office I shall continue to give my best efforts to the work of the office and to the people of Deaf Smith County."

ONE OF LIFE'S MORE TEDIIOUS moments occurred here Wednesday at the intersection of U.S. 385 and Highway 60 as a Highway Patrol Car and the 1957 model sedan collided. The patrol car, driven by Carl Parker, was on its way to an accident north of the city. As Parker drove through the intersection, the other driver, Harmon E. Lindley, 62, Star Route, apparently failed to see the flashing lights or hear the siren, according to investigating officers. Approximately $250 worth of damage was done to the new Highway Patrol car and $300 worth to the other vehicle. (Staff Photo)

AA is a religion to many alcoholics, he continued, but it is not a church or denomination. He explained to the groups that he did not think that the definition of the term "religion" in the dictionary went far enough.

"Religion to me," Hardwick explained, "is an act of faith that endows life with a purpose and meaning." Both pointed out that the alcoholic is a very sick person. He does not want to drink, they stated, and would do anything to quit, but he unable to do so by himself.

In speaking, the Rev. Treadwell pointed out the figures on alcoholism in the United States. There are five million or more alcoholics in the U. S., he said, with the figures increasing 200,000 each year.

In this county, according to national averages, there are approximately 500 active alcoholics, he stated. Two hundred of these are men between the ages of 30 and 50 and 100 are women.

As Hardwick spoke to the Lions and Kiwanis Clubs, he read the summary of the 12 steps to sobriety from the AA handbook and discussed each.

He pointed out that each member of the family has to follow these steps as well as the alcoholic for the disease to be arrested.

The programs at the local clubs were part of the information program sponsored during the week by the Deaf Smith County committee. This past week had been designated in the county as Alcohol Information Week.

rights. I am in favor of firmness and courage in dealing with foreign countries. I favor free enterprise, the ideals of our American heritage.

Hayes emphasized that it was important to vote in the Republican primary, which will be held in Texas in May, since the party cast more than 600,000 votes in the governor's race. To do otherwise, he said, would be compromising with the desire for conservative government.

goals and two free throws. Tulla hit three field goals and 11 free throws as eight fouls were called against Hereford and two against Tulla.

The Hornets led 29-26 at half-time on the basis of eight straight free throws, not hitting a field goal from more than four minutes.

It looked bleak for Hereford early in the third quarter. Hodges hit a field goal and then Jerry Sarchet got three points and Timmy Tucker four for Tulla, which led 36-38.

The Whitefaces fought back for nine straight points and a 37-36 lead with 2:50 left in the period. Paul Caraway hit a field goal to put Tulla back in the front for the last time.

McGee and Jerry, Curtsinger each hit field goals to put Hereford in front 41-38 at the end of three quarters.

In the fourth, Hereford dominated action, playing stronger defense and ball control. Caraway was the only Hornet who stung the nets during the final period as he hit four field goals at scattered intervals.

The Whitefaces added 16 points in the period, including three in the dying seconds as Hodges made a free throw after a deliberate foul by Tulla in an effort to stop the clock.

But Hereford stole the ball and Curtsinger tipped in a rebound for the last two markers.

Caraway paced the Hornets with 16 points while Mack Mitchell added 11. Tulla now has a 2-2 record.

biggest gamble in their business — public acceptance of the product.

There is some evidence that the cattlemen are winning their fight — that producing cattle for a living is less a gamble than it once was. Consumption of the inexpensive forequarter cuts of beef has increased every year since the Beef Council was organized. When every homemaker is aware of the value of beef to her family, the demand will be steady, the price will fluctuate less, and ranching will be what modern cattlemen are trying to make it — not a gamble, but a business, Conkright said.

HEAVILY LOADED COTTON TRAILERS crowded Hereford area gins as Deaf Smith County farmers began stripping operations this week. Gins are hard pressed to keep up with the seemingly endless string of trailers brought in during the day. One area gin reported working a full 24-hours Thursday in an effort to catch-up. Ginners reported Friday that the crop looked good and apparently there was little damage from ice and snow which blanketed the county several weeks ago. With continued good weather, farmers should have the crop out of the fields within the next several weeks.

Jones, a Ropesville resident since 1951, died at 7:17 p.m. Thursday in Methodist Hospital, Lubbock, after a lengthy illness. Jones was born in Tulia and lived in Brownfield eight years before moving to Salinas, Cal., where he resided 20 years before moving to Ropesville.

He was a member of the Methodist Church, the American Legion, and Texas Retail Grocers' Association. He formerly served on the Ropesville city council and was a past member of the Lions Club and the Ropesville fire department.

Survivors are his wife, Mary; a daughter, Mrs. Albert Kahlich of Lubbock; five brothers, J. J. Jones and R. D. Jones Sr., both of Brownfield; W. O. Jones of Hollis, Okla.; L. J. Jones of Hereford; and W. W. Jones of Ropesville; two sisters, Mrs. L. R. Goodwin of Eugene, Ore.; and Mrs. R. B. Bell of Argyle. Pallbearers were nephews R. D. Jones Jr., Jerry Jones, James Neal Jones, L. J. Jones Jr., Buster Jones and Ronnie Jones.

An Avenue of Heroes near the main gates of Arlington Cemetery will honor outstanding Americans. The first statue which has been placed on the avenue is that of the late Rear Adm. Richard E. Byrd.

COMBINES MOVED INTO GRAIN sorghum fields as Deaf Smith County farmers began again the long, somewhat delayed harvest. Fields are now dry enough in all sections for combines to enter and harvest the remaining grain. Some damage was reported to the milo due to snow and ice during November. The yields are expected to be cut, but the quality of the grain does not seem to be hurt, commented a grain elevator operator. Cutting of the remaining milo should be completed within a week or two. BY JIMMIE GILLENTE
Right now I am burned to a crisp. I went through Lewisville this week and my pal Cleo Clements was telling me that they have just finished the National Indignation Convention in Denton — and I wasn't even invited. Can you beat that? I can get more recommendations as an indignant than probably any other character in Texas. In addition to my wife, family and everyone around The Brand office, the commissioners court, city commission and school board would gladly nominate me. There are also a few thousand people who get unhappy with the weather, to say nothing of the pheasant lovers, the Democrats and the Republicans, who will go along with me on this one item.

Fact is, I have been indignant about so many things for so many times that I should be vice president of the organization. Before they had plumbing facilities I always got indignant about taking a bath on Saturday night; now I get indignant because I can never get into the bath room, Saturday or not. When I was about 10 years of age, I got indignant if a girl happened to smile at me; now I get indignant because none of them will. When I was a teenager, I was always indignant over the attitude of adults and, now that I am an adult, I frequently get indignant over the attitude of teenagers.

I could go on and on, and make quite a case out of this — but I think most everyone understands and agrees that I should have had a seat of honor at the head table of any indignation meeting. On the other hand, maybe they do not include professionals. Perhaps this was merely an amateur gathering, in which case I certainly would not have been eligible. But it still makes me indignant to think those East Texans are trying to pull the wool over my eyes. My only consolation is that they really missed the boat, when they failed to send me an invitation.

Meanwhile, I intend to go am sure they have it figured out, but it keeps worrying me as to how they are going to segregate the mama flies from the papa flies. I know they will do it, but it sounds like a long, tedious chore — and they will definitely need bifocals. Also, I cannot figure why they don't try the same method on house flies along with blow flies.

Recently I have encountered many people who want to know why Don Zimmerman took the Boy's Ranch job, when they thought he would be a candidate for the State Senate, running against Andy Rogers. Naturally, I have no idea, and I was quite surprised at the tremendous interest advocated in such a race.

George Stambaugh is back from Rockport, where he did some fishing and resting, and he tells me that Pack London is one of the best fishermen in those parts. He also gave me a clipping from the Corpus Christi paper, which had a big headline, "Potato King of Texas in Rockport." It was quite a story about Jack Renfro of Hereford, who was credited with growing 150 million pounds of potatoes a year, valued $3 million to $5 million annually. The item closes as follows:

"He plants 6,000 acres of Irish potatoes annually. His first planting is in the Rio Grand Valley at Mission in December. His second planting, in January, is at Pearsall in the Winter Garden district, followed by a third in February at Munday; a fourth in March and April at Crosbyton and Hereford, and a fifth in May at Questa, N. M., and a sixth in June at Texline and Dalhart."

I guess this proves the old saying that a prophet is unsung at home. I knew Renfro was a "wheel," but I had no idea that his operation was so extensive. The article did not mention it, but he is also making quite a splash in the pure-bred cattle business.

I sure like the paintings which youngsters are putting in store windows all over town. They are attractive, colorful and lend a festive atmosphere to the season. I am indignant about them, though, chiefly because I didn't think of the idea myself. I understand the project is Chamber of Commerce sponsored and the kids like it double — well, because they get to miss a school session or two in the process of decorating.

This week I broke even with the city, which is more than most people can boast. I served on two juries Monday at the rate of 50 cents per trial, got a check for $1 Friday morning — and a parking ticket Friday afternoon. I just endorsed the check and mailed it back, but am still wondering if everyone on the jury got a ticket. Anyway, it is nice to break even.

Mark Woodall expressed his appreciation for the past few days of beautiful weather. He says it will be fine to have it continue right on through Christmas, which goes to show how little he knows about people and weather, a truly volatile combination. Everybody wants a white Christmas, even the kids who have to shovel off the walks. Sometimes I wonder what would happen if people could control the weather. There are many conflicting opinions, I figure it would be even worse than Congress.

Right now we are being lulled into a sense of false security, but we are due for some rough weather in December; also in January and February. Now is the time to fix your roof, lay in a few cow chips — and don't forget

Beauty At Home

By Lynn Carter
Q. Why is perfume best tested on the skin, rather than in its bottle?

A. In even the finest bottle of perfume in the world, there is one missing ingredient — the chemistry of you. The final test of a fragrance is in its meeting with your skin. This is part of the mystery and the challenge of perfume. The perfect one is not only becoming to you — it literally and chemically becomes part of you and as personal as your way of walking, talking or smiling.

Q. How can I make my rather small eyes appear larger?

A. By the deft application of your shadow. Then trace a fine line all along the upper and lower lids, tilting this slightly up at the outer corner. False eyelashes, trimmed to be longer at the outer eye, also help very much to enlarge small eyes.

Q. Please, what can I do about very thin hair that is, in fact, almost bald in certain spots?

A. You require vigorous massage, warm - oil treatments, lots of brushing — plus a diet rich in Vitamin C, yellow vegetables and fruits. If it's a hopeless case, don't despair. Resort to velvet bows, or veiling bow caps to camouflage the thin spots.

Q. My foundation base makes up always seems to dry too fast on my skin, which happens to be quite dry itself. Any suggestions?

A. You can try leaving a thin film of your cleansing cream on when applying your foundation.

Man Receives Fine, Jail Term For Hot Checks

A Hereford man received two fines and two jail sentences Friday following a plea of guilty on two misdemeanor counts of swindling with worthless checks. Fines and court costs amounted to $54.90 and the jail sentences handed down in County Court, Judge H. C. Williams presiding, totaled ten days. Arrested and charged with the offense was Bobby Lee Tyler, 20, 405 B Ross St. The arrest was made by Ed Robertson, deputy sheriff.

BUSINESS FOR HIMSELF CHARLESTON, W. Va. — Jobless and the father of 16 children, Theodore E. Lovejoy, 45, was near the top of the list for aid under an emergency public works program set up to combat unemployment in West Virginia.

But officials took another look at Lovejoy's status when they found he had apparently launched his own recovery program. Federal authorities have charged him with possession of a copper still and 150 gallons of raw material for making moonshine whisky.

Square Dancing Is Cure For Left Feet

BY VIVIAN BROWN

If you can't get that man on his feet, try the square dance approach.

It's a sure-fire cure for a man who feels he has two left feet," explains Al Brundage, Westport, Conn., a well known square dance caller.

The revived interest in square dancing is partly due to middle aged couples.

"Everything has been competitive in their lives. In bowling, golfing, fishing, hunting or playing cards, winning is based on greater personal physical stamina or mental prowess," Brundage says.

Square dancing is a cooperative venture he explains. A couple has fun without competing. Dress is casual. The evening is inexpensive and non-alcoholic.

Drinking is discouraged, he says, "because it doesn't help reactions on the dance floor."

More than the 3 1/2 million members have registered at square dance clubs in this country. There are about 4,000 active callers.

Today square dancing is as urban as it was rural. Town members include brokers, store keepers, doctors, lawyers, everybody.

Brundage's square dancing activities began as a 4-H Club project 26 years ago.

His mother formed a small orchestra when he was 12. Al played harmonica and coronet, his brother played drums. He was 15 when they took over a one-room school house for Saturday night square dances.

His wife Mary and he conducted a dance barn for awhile, but in the last decade his activities have become nationwide.

"There are two calls," he explains. "One follows a melody such as 'The Trail of the Lonesome Pine,' or a modern tune, 'I Don't Know Why.' The other is a patter call designed to give dance direction. A command patter introduces the dance action by a rhyming word, and a trailing patter follows the command. It is used for emphasis.

A rhyme pattern goes like this: "Forward eight and back you reel, Pass through and wheel and deal."

By the time Al reaches "reel," his dancers have been clued that eight will walk forward, back up, pass through the other line by brushing right shoulders with the person opposite. They will go away from each other and the couple on the right hand side will wheel around, the couple on the left hand side will fall behind. Instead of having two lines of four, there are now four lines of two. Dig it?

Square dancing was born during the Revolutionary War as a combination of the French Quadrille and the English court dances.

"The common man bitter at the King didn't want to learn his dance, but took snatches of it with him as he went west," Brundage says. Here or there a fiddler or dancer would call out directions interpreted in their own way as time went on."

LEASE BANS BURLESQUE
NEW YORK (AP) — The lease bans burlesque shows, but an entertainment entitled "This Was Burlesque" is being planned anyway for the Phoenix Theater. Ann Corio, one of the former queens of striptease, is to star.

Michael Iannucci, who has taken over operation of the playhouse with Milton Warner, says that the program is a satire of the oldtime mixture of girls and gags, and not burlesque itself.

Women Hold Financial Bulk

Women are the money bags of the country says an expert in finance, Mary G. Roebell n.g. "And if they are going to continue control of the nation's purse strings, they should learn to do it well as a contribution to our economy," she says.

The first woman to head a major-banking institution and the first woman governor of the American Stock Exchange, Mrs. Roebell points out that 80 per cent of the nation's money is spent by women, "yet women are timid about seeking information that will answer their money problems."

Women own 52 per cent of all stock out today, she says, and when they become aware that high finance isn't a big complicated mishmash of egghead proportions, they become eager for financial knowledge.

"What they fail to realize is that they could stand on a street corner and ask the Tr questions of the first 10 men they meet, and the men would not know the answers either."

Mrs. Roebell, who studied economics and business administration at New York University, started her financial career as a customer's woman in a Philadelphia brokerage house. Fourteen years ago she assumed her late husband's post as the director of the Trenton Trust Co. She is now president and chairman of the board. The bank's resources expanded from 17 million dollars to more than 90 million during her tenure.

Her aim has been to encourage women by education in finance, and she has persuaded brokerage houses to point up their advertising to women, service them with a monthly magazine and to institute investment clubs.

Hereford Bees Edge Tulia By Two Points In Thriller

In a ballgame which was not decided until the final seconds, the Hereford Bees edged out the Tulia Hornets 54-52 in a thriller at Tulia Friday night. Taking a two-point lead at the end of the third quarter, the Herd was able to hang on to it as the squads traded points during the fast-moving final quarter.

Hereford's B-team also played at Plainview and Dimmitt last week, while being downed both times. The Bees host Canyon Tuesday at 6 p.m. in Whiteface gym.

In action with the Dimmitt Bobcats, the Herd was handed a 47-34 defeat after leading through the first half. Gaining a narrow 8-6 advantage during the first quarter, the Bees maintained their two-point lead with 16-14 at the half.

Dimmitt's Bobcats caught fire in the third quarter, while waiting for 21 points to claim a 35-26 stronghold, and went on to win 47-34. Bill Hill was high-point man for Hereford with 13 points, while Neal Lueb had seven.

At Plainview the outclass ed

Bees were downed 55-31 by the AAAA Bulldogs. Trailing 10-12 after the first quarter, the Hereford Bees were unable to keep the pace set by their hosts. Plainview led 28-14 at halftime.

Hill netted nine, Austin Hodges eight, and David Dowell six as the Whitefaces lost.

In a game which found both teams matching point for point after the first quarter, the Herd ended up with a two-point advantage as the clock ran out at Tulia.

Trailing 11-4 entering the second quarter, Eugene Green, Dowell, Hodges, Hill, and Danny Cates poured in 22 points to claim a 26-24 halftime lead. In an exciting second half, the lead changed hands frequently with neither squad able to muster a stronghold.

The Herd's two-point half-time advantage made all the difference as the Whitefaces led 10-28 after the third quarter, and went on to win 54-52.

Sophomore Eugene Green netted a total of 19 points for Hereford, while Tulia's Frank Hoopnack up 20 points. Austin Hodges was good for 17 Whiteface points during the close affair.

Coach Joe Brooks' B-teams have won one of five games thus far this season, and will host the Canyon Eagles Tuesday night at 6 p.m. A de-ceiving record, the Whitefaces have lost to the Pampa Harvesters, Plainview Bulldogs, the Palo Duro Dons, and were downed by the powerful Dimmitt Bobcats.

Grid squads were honored at the affair, including the varsity football team, which finished its season with a 7-2 record, the best in nine years.

WANDERING PLAYERS
 GREELEY, Colo. (AP) — In this era of far - ranging football players, the Colorado State Col- lege team is something of an oddity. Only 4 of its 36 play- ers are from outside Colorado. By contrast, of the 70 players listed on the University of Co- lorado roster at the season's start, only 18 are in their home state.
UNFINISHED PLAY
 NEW YORK (AP) — The Royal Dramatic Theater of Stockholm expects to stage the world pre- miere of another posthumous Eugene O'Neill play in Jan- uary. "More Stately Mansions," an unfinished work by the Nobel prize dramatist, originally was scheduled for presentation by the Swedish company two years ago. Kari Ragnar Glerow, troupe director, has called the stage version from the author's man- uscript.

Jim Higgins Heads Junior Breeders

Jim Higgins of Hereford was elected president of the Junior Hereford Breeders of the Panhandle in elections held Tuesday in Amarillo. Also elected to office in the area organization was Becky Higgins of Hereford, who was named reporter.

Each year the young Hereford Breeders organization is active in livestock activities across the Panhandle. The club hosts the Junior Hereford Steer Show and sale at Amarillo.

Other activities include assisting with a Hereford booth during the Fat Stock Show for the American Hereford Association, sponsoring a social during election of officers at the Tri-State Fair in September, and staging a field day during the summer at one of the area Hereford ranches.

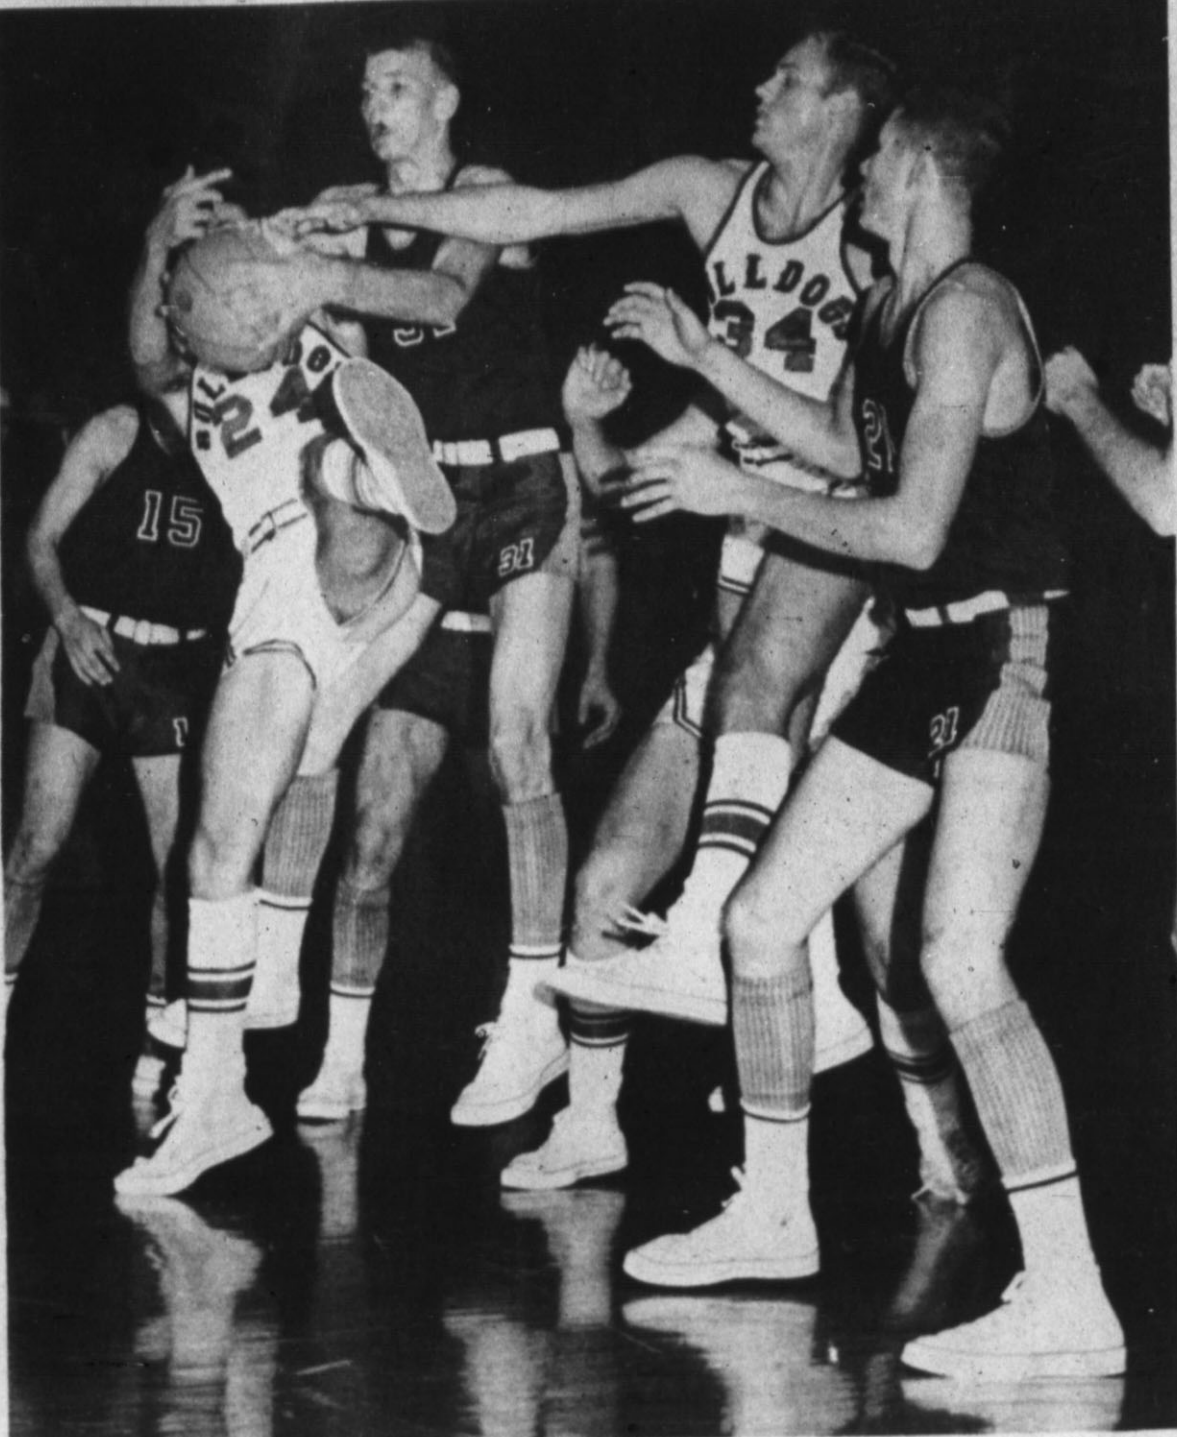

Main purposes of the organization include the general promotion of Hereford cattle in the Panhandle area. Club members appear on radio and television broadcasts to create interest in the area.

Other officers elected in Amarillo Tuesday were Lewis James Kerrick, vice president; Scot Whorton of Stratford, secretary; James Austin of Childress, treasurer; Dennis Howell of Friona, director; and Gene Gloyd of Hedley, director.

Adult advisors for the Young Hereford Breeders include Karroll Higgins of Hereford, Hereford breeder; Ernest Goule of Stratford, county agent; Calvin Horn of Oton, vocational - agriculture instructor; and Hal Ramsbottom of Fort Worth, assistant State Secretary of the Texas Hereford Association.

Next meeting for the young Hereford Breeders will be Dec. 8 at the Herring Hotel in Amarillo. During this meeting plans will be made for the coming year and committees will be appointed to carry out the plans.

DeWitt Clinton, governor of New York and father of the Erie Canal, was instrumental in founding the state's first savings bank in 1819.

A SCRAMBLE UNDER THE BASKET finds Hereford's Virgil Strange attempting to reclaim the basketball as the Whitefaces were defeated at Plainview last Tuesday; Bulldog George Ragle also has a hand in the proceedings. Dennis Hodges (15) and Jerry Curtsinger (21) look on from a safer distance. Hereford plays host to the Canyon Eagles Tuesday night. (Staff Photo)

Utopian Living More Than Talk

BY VIVIAN BROWN
That wonderful home of the future we've been hearing about is just around the corner. A few lucky ones are enjoying some of the marvels now.

After a conversation with William Street, chairman of the Seattle World's Fair, Century 21, one finds that utopian living is beyond the talking stage.

Street advises that "one of the big wonders of Century 21 will be an electronics home of the future, never before shown."

Some of the ideas have been put to use, and other have passed the drawing boards, says a more possibilities for the fair which opens in April.

The house of the future can be taken apart, and if you're lucky enough to own one of these mobile units the wings of which can be moved, discarded or replaced at whim, you can enjoy a vacation in a wing of your very own house. Just move the bedrooms to the shore when you get tired of the mountains or vice versa.

Heating, plumbing and wiring will be a one-unit core delivered to your site complete. The home will be equipped with its own power plant, and be dust and bug-free.

We mustn't let the joys of anticipation be ruined by the thought that this home of the future will probably need built-in service men. Push - buttons have a way of getting out of whack. And if we think we have troubles now with modern appliances and other gizmos . . . well!

Here are some more joys for that home paradise:

The use of light materials—foamed plastics, foamed cement of plastics, paper and light metals. Materials impregnated with color.

Air curtain walls that offer complete protection from weather but give us open living space.

Heating devices woven into rugs, and installed in walls and furniture.

Showers for lazy types that will envelope them in a spray of water and soap; rinse and dispense a solvent to evaporate the moisture, making it unnecessary to dry with a towel.

A pillow-phonograph that will put you to sleep and wake you up.

Windows that close automatically when it rains.

Thermo electric panels that will heat, cool and light a room. Doors that will open when you approach and a method of hanging coats without touching them.

Wall-size television screens and closed-circuit TV for more togetherness.

We'll be playing bridge with people on TV and our electric and gas meters will be read by telephone, and we won't see the garbage man either, as we shrink the waste into pellets to be used as fertilizer.

We may not be around when the home computer really becomes a status symbol but we can't help but note that it will help round up the children, plan the menus and remind mom of dentist appointments.

How Can I?

Q. How can I prevent my pie shells from bubbling or shrinking during the baking?

A. Try baking your pies between two pie pans of the same size. These tins should be of light material such as tin or aluminum. After 10 minutes in the oven, remove the top tin, and continue baking until brown.

Q. How can I clean acoustical ceiling and wall materials?

A. Use the brush attachment on your vacuum cleaner to do this job. Stubborn smudges can be removed with walpaper cleaner, or a cloth moistened with soapy water.

Q. What can I do for pictures that have been stored away for some time and have become somewhat dingy-looking?

A. Remove the glass and the frame, and then rub the picture gently with a slice of bread. The bread crumbs will often rub the dirt right off, and leave a protective film on the pictures, too.

Q. How can I clean the inside of a deep vase or jar?

A. You can usually make a good job of this by adding bits of wrapping paper to warm soapy water and shaking the vase or jar well. Ammonia in the rinse water makes the glass more brilliant.

Q. How can I repair a small leak in a water pipe?

A. Wind some adhesive tape around it, then give it a coat of shellac. This repair will last quite a long time.

Q. What is the best way to remove rain spots from a felt hat?

A. Rub the surface of the hat with steel wool until the nap is raised, and you'll find the spots have disappeared.

MAIL WENT THROUGH CORTEZ, Colo. — Merl Coppinger, who delivers the mail from Cortez down McElmo Canyon into Utah, ran into a problem. A flash flood had swept the bridge away.

Peggy Chaperones American Queens

BY DORMAN CORDELL ATLANTIC CITY, N. J. — Peggy O'Neill is a tiny, lively, fortyish blonde who practices an almost-vanished profession. She's a chaperone.

Her charge for each of the past six years has been a talented young beauty who is one of the best-known girls in the world — Miss America.

But the job of chaperoning, like almost everything else, has changed since the days of long ago.

For one thing, Mrs. O'Neill finds no need to spend her time fending off would-be Casanovas along the 100,000-mile route she and Miss America travel annually.

"Of course, the girls have a lot to do with that," she says. "But I think too, that there is great respect for the Miss America Pageant throughout the nation. It's just a problem that never seems to come up." "Sometimes it's harder to arrange for an escort than it would be otherwise, if anything," interjects the 1961 Miss America, Nancy Anne Fleming of Montague, Mich., with a rueful smile.

The official term isn't chaperone nowadays — it's public relations representative of the Miss America Pageant and traveling companion to Miss America. But it still translates "chaperone."

Mrs. O'Neill and Miss America are together almost every minute of every day for 11 months of each year. The only exception is February, when Mrs. O'Neill takes a month's vacation. Miss America goes on a fashion tour then, accompanied by a representative of a sponsoring textile firm.

Don't two women spending so much time together get on each other's nerves, especially with the exhausting schedule followed by Miss America?

Mrs. O'Neill, who has traveled with every Miss America since Sharon Kay Ritchie won the title in 1955, insists the answer is "no." The 1961 Miss America agrees.

"Both of us have many of the same interests," Mrs. O'Neill says. She points to a plastic bag full of needles, pins and thread. "For instance, Nancy and I are always sewing."

"And when we really feel the need to be alone for a while, we find we can isolate ourselves just by sitting in different corners of the room," Nancy says.

ANSWERING SERVICE NEW YORK — Broadway ticket brokers and boxoffices aren't open on Sunday, so a telephone service is being started by the sponsors of the hit show, "The Caretakers."

Curtsinger, Slagle On Buff Cage Team

Two Hereford players are on the varsity basketball squad at West Texas State College in Canyon, which will be attempting to make a come-back this year.

With five sophomores on the 11-man varsity roster, Coach Metz LaFollette is justified in saying the 1961-62 West Texas State basketball team is inexperienced.

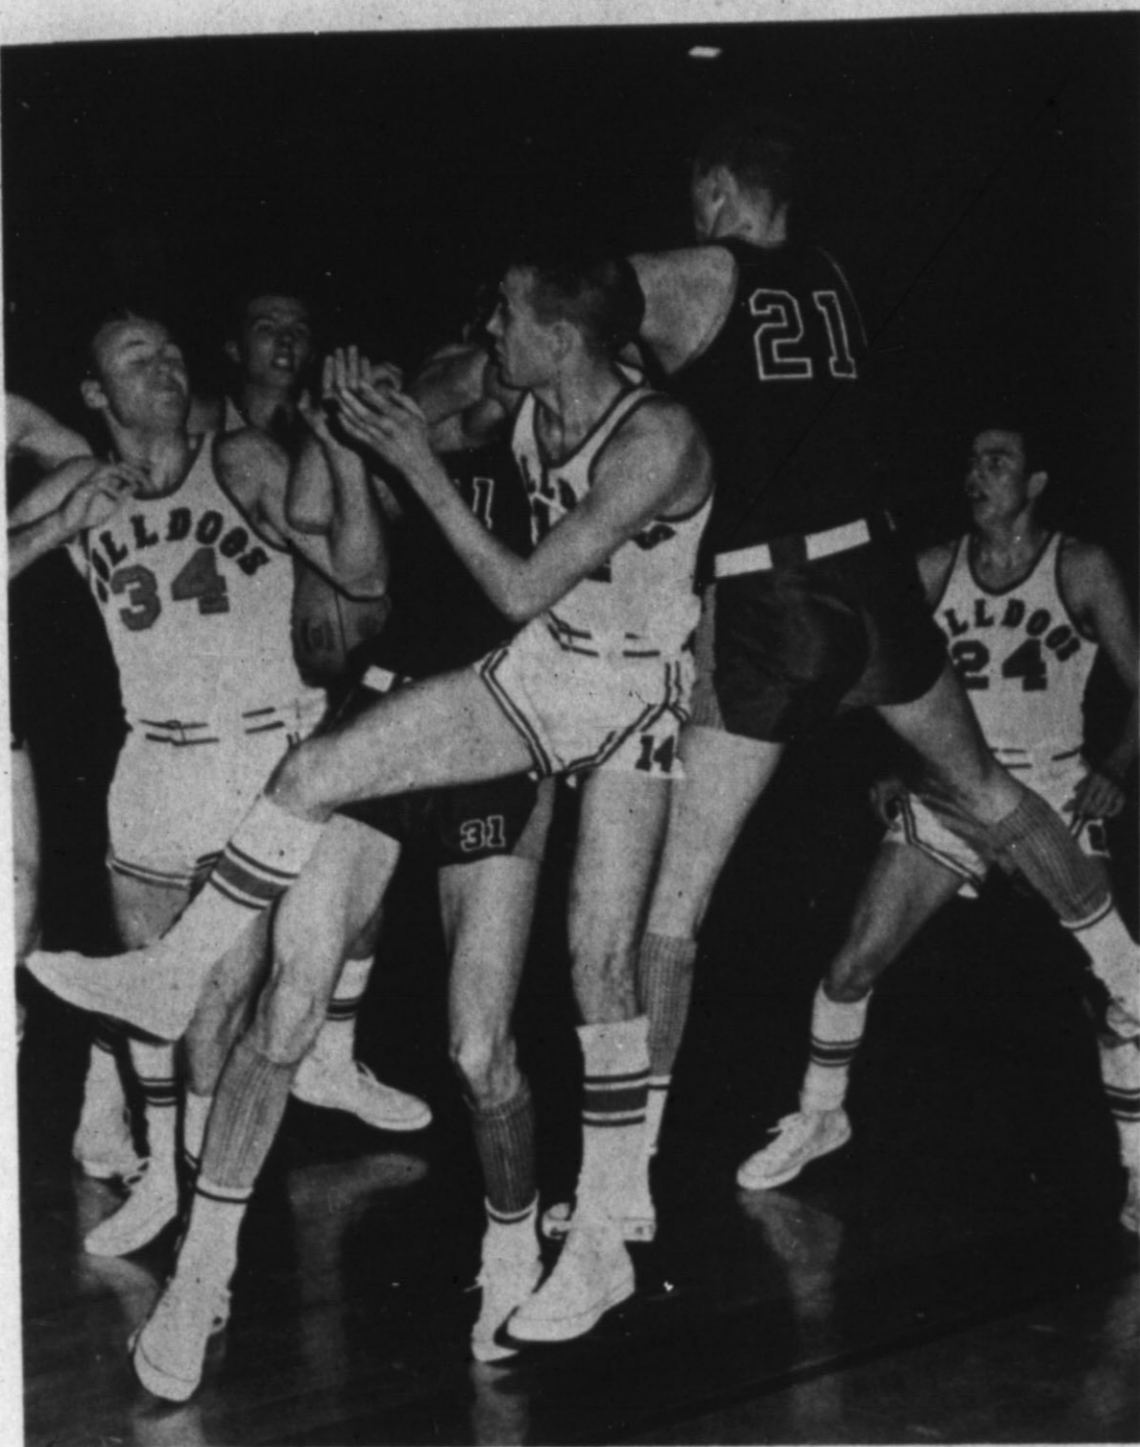

He'll admit, however, the squad has good speed and adequate height, and has a fine potential. Just how well they will fare against a tough schedule is anybody's guess, but he isn't expecting much early in the season.

Two starters return from the 1961 club that won seven and lost 16 and tied for last in the Border Conference. They are guards Sonny Blankenship, a 5-10 junior, and Jim Curtsinger, a 6-4 senior. Blankenship, a fine passer and playmaker, averaged 8.8 points last year, while Curtsinger tossed in points at a 11.8 per game clip.

All of the post men will be young or relatively inexperienced. Conner, 6-8½ senior from Childress, is in his fourth campaign but has been hampered with a bad knee. Early workouts indicate he may be the key to the success of the Buff five, and may have his best season.

In Border Conference play, Coach La-Follette believes Arizona State is a top-heavy choice and New Mexico State the top contender. The Sun Devils went to the finals of the Far West NCAA Regional Tournament last year, and have all starters returning.

INGE DESCRIBES PLAY
NEW YORK (AP) — Playwright William Inge describes his latest work as "the closest I've written to a tragedy." "Natural Affection," scheduled for debut early in 1962, concerns a mother and her son in present-day Chicago. Dented Rugs
The deep marks made on rugs by heavy furniture will disappear if cold water is poured into the cuplike imprints and allowed to stand for about eight hours. The nap will snap back and give you a smooth rug again. Or, place a damp cloth over the dents in the carpeting and press with a moderately hot iron to raise the nap. Finish off with a slight brushing with a stiff brush.

Pleasant Smelling
If you should happen to receive gifts of perfume or cologne in scents that do not particularly appeal to you, use them in your bath water. Diffused in the water, most of them will prove very pleasant.

Sewing Machine
Is your sewing machine needle catching on fine fabrics? Run it through some steel wool a few times. Get the point?

Handy Applicators
Refill empty roll-on deodorant bottles with water and use as a ballpoint pen for marking boxes. Open the bottles by prying the plastic top off the bottle.

Cork Inside Bottle
A cork that has inadvertently dropped into an empty bottle can be removed by pouring enough ammonia into the bottle to float the cork, and leaving it for a few days. Enough of the cork should be destroyed by then to permit its removal.

Ink Renewal
Pour a little vinegar into ink that has thickened. This will dilute it to a better writing consistency.

Renew Shoe Polish
When some old shoe polish has become hard and caked, put a few drops of benzine or turpentine in the polish and place the open can into simmering water in a shallow metal container. When cool, your polish will be as good as new.

Vacuuming Hints
The weekly carpet vacuuming should consist of at least seven strokes over every foot of the carpeting surface. Sprinkling salt over the carpets before vacuuming will help to loosen the dirt and insure a more thorough job.

Handmade Articles Displayed At Guild

St. Anthony's Guild met Thursday, Nov. 30, at 8 p.m. in the parish rectory with the president, Mrs. Arhart Reinart, presiding. The moderator, Father Angelus Delahunt, was present. A cash donation was voted to help finance the Christmas party for the Spanish children to be held at St.

Council Holds Monthly Meet

The First Christian Church was the meeting place Wednesday at 7 a.m. for the monthly breakfast of the Deaf Smith County Council on Alcoholism.

During the meeting a committee of Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr., Charles Frye and Lowell Sharp was appointed by Frances Hardwick, president of the council, to select a meeting place for the monthly breakfast.

The program was given by Ford Porter, guest speaker from Lubbock.

Porter began by complimenting the council and Alcoholics Anonymous. "The group here in Hereford is doing a fine job and I urge you to continue with the good work."

He stated, "Alcoholism is a two-fold problem. You need the alcoholic and the alcoholic needs you. This work is good — it's God's work — and we are instruments of God."

The question, "Why is it so hard for a person to admit being an alcoholic?" was asked Porter by a member of the council.

Porter answered, "The person doesn't want to give up. He has always been able to do things for himself and he hates the idea of turning his problem over to someone else for help. Alcoholics like to do things the hard way. First, they have to find out they're whipped, then gradually comes the realization of the power of God."

Attending the breakfast were: Wynq Buck, the Rev. Gilbert Davis, Paul Stevens, the Rev. B. H. Baldwin, Mrs. O. G. Hill Sr., Mrs. H. E. Miller, Mrs. Lois Rutter, Mrs. Jewell Smith, Bill Hardwick, Lowell Sharp, Herb Boardman, the Rev. Joel Treadwell, the Rev. B. L. Davis, Charles Frye, Harry Cayler,

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I prevent some of my pumps from constantly slipping off the heel of my foot?

A. Try using a half-inch width of elastic about six inches long, fastening the middle of this strip on the inside of the heel of your pump. Stretch the ends slightly, then fasten them to the sides of the shoe. Place them where they will be concealed from sight, of course.

Q. How can I cope with white spots left on furniture by alcohol?

A. Apply some petroleum jelly, and rub vigorously with a wad of cotton. Fresh spots usually disappear after one application, but old spots may require several treatments.

Hank Williams, Frances Hardwick and Mrs. Eugene Noel.

Q. How can I remedy the slipping and sliding of some of my small rugs on my polished floors?

A. Apply some ordinary rubber cement to the underside of the rug. Sometimes, just coating the underside of the rug at its corners will do the job.

Q. How can I clean light felt hats?

A. One of the best methods is to rub the soiled spots, or the entire hat, with a cube of French chalk, which may be purchased at any drugstore. Allow this to remain on the hat for a few hours, or overnight, then brush off with a soft brush.

Chi Rhos Study Alcohol Problem

Matthew 25: 31-46 was the subject of the lesson for the evening study when the First Christian Church Chi Rho group met recently. The leader, Mrs. Walter London Jr., read verse 35: "For I was hungry, and ye gave me meat: I was thirsty, and ye gave me drink: I was a stranger, and ye took me in: and verse 36: "Naked, and ye clothed me: I was sick, and ye visited me: I was in prison, and ye came unto me." These passages of scripture awakened the interests of the children who asked to be allowed to visit prisoners in the local jail.

Sheriff Lowell Sharp conducted a tour for the group, allowing them to select cards at random from the files in order to observe for themselves the reasons for the arrests. The children observed that 90 per cent of the arrests made by the sheriff's department were caused either directly or indirectly by alcohol.

The visit to the jail has stimulated an interest in the problem of alcohol. A series of studies about this problem is in progress; Bill Hardwick speaking on the personal problem of alcohol, Rev. Gilbert Davis Jr. speaking on the church's responsibility toward the alcoholic, and the series to be concluded with a return visit to the jail and a talk with the prisoners.

Making this study is the Chi Rho group of the First Christian Church of Hereford.

MODELS FOR THE style show Tuesday, Nov. 28, were wearing ensembles made by themselves for entry in the "Make It Yourself With Wool" contest sponsored by the Deaf Smith County Home Demonstration Council. Seamstresses Model Entries In Make It With Wool Contest

Mrs. Argen Draper welcomed the guests to a meeting featuring a style show by the five local entries in the "Make It Yourself With Wool" contest on Tuesday evening at 7:30 p.m., Nov. 28, in the Hereford Community Center. A symposium on the care and cleaning of clothing and labels on ready-made garments and piece goods, followed the style show.

The judges graded the construction of the garments before the meeting began. Mrs. Dortha Prowell was narrator for the modeling of the wool garments by the contestants.

Nancy Edwards modeled her four-piece mix - match ensemble of pink and black. The suit was fashioned with straight skirts in both plain and plaid, with a box jacket and sleeveless overblouse and small roll tie belt. The accessories were black with a small pink feather-trimmed pillbox hat that she had made. Her costume was complemented with gold jewelry.

A green two-piece suit, with other accessories, was made and modeled by Royce Ann Gilliland. Her suit was fashioned with a sheath skirt and semi-fitted waist length jacket.

Sharon Bezner wore a pink sheath dress, fashioned with a boat neck, three-quarter length sleeves and narrow belt. Her accessories were a white fur beret and short white gloves, brown bag and shoes. Jewelry worn was a single strand gold necklace.

Maribeth Gilliland showed a black wool coat, fashioned in straight lines, wrist length sleeves and roll collar. The coat was fastened at the neck with a gold leaf pin. She completed her ensemble with black gloves and shoes and a green fur beret.

Mrs. Theresa Revel, adult division, modeled a three-piece beige suit. The skirt was fashioned in straight lines, with a collarless jacket and the blouse with a high neckline. The costume was worn with two gold leaf pins and a bracelet. Her accessories were black bag, long black gloves and black tapestry shoes.

The winners, Mrs. Theresa Revel, Maribeth Gilliland, Royce Ann Gilliland, and Nancy Edwards, will compete in the district contest in the near future. Judges were Sybil Stringer, Castro County HD Agent; Mona Hildreth, Randall County HD Agent; and Ettie Mussil, Parmer County HD Agent.

A symposium followed the style show. Woodie McDermitt, local dry cleaner, spoke on "the care and cleaning of clothing." He said, "the definition of dry cleaning is a process to restore a garment to its original condition with both solvents and detergents used in different cycles of the cleaning process. The time element is important. If you ask your cleaner to give you a rush job, it will be necessary for him to leave off some of the services required for an excellent job. There is no substitute for quality cleaning in the insuring of long life for your clothes. The label should identify fully the fabric content, so the garment can be cleaned and pressed properly. The Dry Cleaners Association is pushing for legislation requiring the proper labeling of garments."

He referred to the dry cleaner as a finisher. He also urged the consumer to label spots before sending a garment to the shop for cleaning.

Sybil Stringer presented the second part of the symposium on "labels on ready-made garments and piece goods." She said, "The qualities you expect in clothes are quality of appearance or style, comfort, durability, ease of care and reasonable cost. The label should show the information about blended fibers and the application of special finishes to textiles. The labels and hand tags should give clues to the care necessary for the garment. The law requires that the generic content of the textile be listed on the label in the order of the content predominance, and if imported, the country from which it came. Your label is a clue to the cleaning, washing and storage of the garment. Characteristics of materials are determined by fiber content, twist, weight and color. Hand tags reveal the information about fast color, washing temperatures, whether the garment should be washed or dry cleaned and pressing instructions."

Mrs. Dortha Prowell and Mrs. Argen Draper announced plans for a consumer day program, which is scheduled for Feb. 28.

Club Exchanges Holiday Ideas

Members of the Opti - Mrs. Club met Tuesday evening, Nov. 21, in the home of Mrs. Roy Boyer for the regularly scheduled meeting.

The program consisted of the exchange of favorite holiday recipes and the many individual holiday decoration ideas.

Refreshments were served to Mesdames Charles Scheetz, Kenneth Malone, Marvin Coffey, Gene King, Vance Crume, Tom Marks and the hostess, Mrs. Boyer.

BEING INTERVIEWED FOR A MAGAZINE feature article is Dr. Lena Edwards (right), who is in charge of the clinic at the Hereford Labor Camp. The story, plus photographs of Dr. Edwards and her work at the camp, will appear in Ebony Magazine. Discussing material for the article are, from the left, Mike Shea, a free-lance photographer from Chicago, Mrs. Dyalitha Benson, Gerri Majors from the New York office of the magazine, and Dr. Edwards. Mrs. Benson was responsible for getting the national publication interested in the story. (Staff Photo)

WHEN GIRLS REACH junior high school age, a sudden change usually occurs almost overnight, as they trade blue jeans and a baseball bat for high heel shoes and a party dress. This is the time when they become aware of their feminine charms, and the teenager becomes a young lady with stars in her eyes. Party-going and dating occupy most of their time, as illustrated above. Eighth and ninth grade girls enjoying an evening's activities include Becky Duncan (82), Cynthia Leasure (35), Sandra Thomas (62), Kay McKee (70), and Dorothy Walser (85). Actually there were among the many girls who took part in the annual football classic between the eighth and ninth grade girls, raising funds for the junior high athletic fund. (Staff Photo)

Mrs. J. T. Gilbreath and Mrs. T. W. Roberson were hostesses to the members of the Hereford Music Study Club on Monday, Nov. 27, in the home of Mrs. Gilbreath.

Mrs. A. J. Schroeter was the leader for the program on the medieval and renaissance period of music. Mrs. Bill Bradley played a piano solo, "Corrente in A Minor" by Frescobaldi.

Mrs. Ellis Coombes, president, presided at the short business meeting. Plans for the Christmas party on Dec. 11 were discussed.

Members present were Mesdames J. R. Allison, James A. Alton, Bill Bradley, J. E. Beyer, Ellis Coombes, W. E. Dameron, Cliff Estes, H. K. Fox, Paul

Favorite Desserts Sampled At Meeting

Mrs. Gid Brown was hostess to the members of the Valeda Study Club on Tuesday evening, Nov. 28, in her home.

Roll call was answered with each member's favorite dessert recipe with the members bringing copies of these favorite recipes for sharing. Samples of the recipes were brought also and tasted by the members. Each member brought four dozen cookies to the meeting to be pooled and sent to Boy's Ranch for their Christmas gift.

Mrs. Don Baugous, program leader, described a recipe for dessert as one that is delicious, nourishing, attractive and easy to prepare. Each cook described her own sample of dessert and why she liked it. Mrs. Baugous distributed Christmas dessert pamphlets at the conclusion of the program.

Those present were Mesdames James Boyd, a guest, Don Baugous, Charles Bell, Gid Brown, Wendell Burdine, Hugh Clearman, Charles Hoover, Gerald McCaskill, Gwynne Owen, Jess Robinson, George Ritter, Robert Spaulding, Don R. Johnson, Gene Matthews, John Seiver and Labry Ballard.

GUESTS ATTEND PLAY

Sandra Charleton, Don Wickard and Mike Davidson of Clovis were supper guests of Barbara Pulliam Friday evening, Nov. 30. The group later attended the production, "South Pacific."

"To War Has Gone Duke Marlborough" was the song for the French era. The period of the colonists was given in the song, "O God, Our Help In Ages Past." Group singing of "Yankee Doodle" was a reminder of the troops in the American Revolution. The entertainment of the early settlers was brought to mind with the playing of "Virginia Reel."

The program continued with a recording, "Listen To The Mocking Bird," depicting dancers. "Chisholm Trail" and "Turkey In The Straw" were symbolic of the cowboys and cowgirls in our colorful history, played by Mrs. Albert Ricketts as piano solos. A recording by the Wayland Choir, "Motherless Child," presented a mind's view of the slave period.

A jazz recording of "Deep Purple" was played. The song, "You'll Never Walk Alone," was played as an example of the modern-day musicals. "America" was sung by the group as a grand finale of the history of American music. The meeting was completed with the singing of the hymn of the month, "Let Us With A Gladsome Mind."

Refreshments of salad and spiced tea were served to Mesdames Henry Turner, Frank Ford, Albert Ricketts, Joe Curtzinger, Floyd Messenger and the hostess, Mrs. Sam Long.

Art Guild Plans Class In Oils

The Hereford Art Guild met for a business meeting on Nov. 27 in the Art Room of the Hereford Community Center. Plans were made for an art class in oils to begin in February. All interested persons are urged to get their reservations in as soon as possible. The number of students will be limited.

The Guild members were pleased with the response and attendance to the Wertenberger show. More than 200 people viewed samples of his work in ceramics, sculpturing, designing, water colors and oils. Mrs. Wertenberger displayed needlework, fall flower arrangements, china painting and many oil paintings.

Hot punch, cookies and nuts were served from a table laid with a lace cloth. The centerpiece of fruit in a three-tiered silver compote was flanked by three stemmed candelabra with blue candles.

The club members are selling tickets for a Madame Alexander Doll and a complete wardrobe, made by the members, to be given away on Dec. 23. The doll and its wardrobe will be shown by several members of the club on KFDD-TV, Dec. 10.

Mrs. Edd Rinn, hostess, served refreshments to Mesdames Don Newman, Homer Rudd, Dallas Phillips, Charles Springer, Darrell Dirks, David Patterson, Don Jackson, Edd Richardson, Bert Ferguson, Bobby Shelton, Howard Hunter and a guest, Mrs. J. W. Inman.

WT's A Capella Choir Will Present Concert On Monday

A concert by the 75-voice A Cappella Choir of West Texas State College will be presented Monday, Dec. 4, at 2 p.m. for Hereford High School students in the high school auditorium. The Hereford program is one of 11 to be presented during the week for area schools on the annual pre-Christmas tour by the choir. The group will also appear in Tulla, Dimmitt, Dalhart, Dumas, Borger, Phillips, Perryton, Pampa, and Hale Center before concluding the tour singing at Lubbock Christian College Friday night.

Director Houston Bright organized the choir in 1941, and two distinct groups have since grown out of the original organization. The Grand Choir numbers more than 90 voices, and the Concert Chorale consists of 48 singers selected by audition. The touring choir includes a combination of both. Dr. Bright, a prolific composer of piano, instrumental, and choral numbers, keeps his choir's repertoire fresh by special compositions especially for his group. He holds the Ph. D. in music from the University of Southern California, where he sang and studied under the nationally renowned Dr. Charles C. Hirt. A large number of Dr. Bright's compositions and arrangements have been published. Repertoire of the group is characterized by wide variety, consisting this year of works from Bach to Berger, traditional and contemporary, sacred and secular, serious and novel.

This season audiences will hear such things as the deeply devotional music of Pergolesi's "Agnus Dei," and J. S. Bach's motet for double chorus, scheduled are the intense evangelical fervor of Christiansen's "Lost in the Night," the brilliant tonal pageantry of Jean Berger's "Alleluia" from "The Brizlain Psalm," the majestic splendor of Tanley's "Sunrise in the Orient," and the sparkling good-humor of Houston Bright's "Winter Song," with lyrics adapted from M. Goose. In addition, there will be selected favorite Christmas season music.

ANNUAL PRE-CHRISTMAS concert tour of the West Texas State College A Cappella Choir will include a program at Hereford High School at 2 p.m. Monday, Dec. 4, in the school auditorium. The choir, directed by Dr. Houston Bright, includes 75 students. (WT Photo)

FEW FISHERY STORIES

COLUMBUS, Ohio — Most fishermen are honest when they tell game protectors they left their fishing licenses at home. This is the conclusion reached by Eldon Sturgeon, a district law-enforcement supervisor for the Ohio Division of Wildlife. Sturgeon made a survey to learn just how many anglers actually did forget their licenses—and how many were concealing fish stories. When fishermen made this excuse, game protectors in Sturgeon's southwestern Ohio district asked the offenders to mail in their licenses as proof. During a three-month period, 122 anglers were given this break. Game protectors received licenses from 101 of them. Three were never located. Eighteen were arrested and fined. And what could be more humiliating than a fisherman being caught by a Sturgeon. Sales amount to a million television sets a year in Japan.

Seventh Day Adventists Start Annual Mission Appeal Monday

The 58th Annual World Mission Appeal, sponsored by the Hereford Seventh Day Adventist Church, opens Monday. Leading the volunteer workers participating in the city-wide drive is Willis Dufur, church home missions director. Funds will go toward extending welfare, disaster aid, and educational services at home, as well as widespread medical, welfare, and educational ministry in 194 countries. The local church operates a Health and Welfare Center at the church on Harrison Highway. Beginning Jan. 1, 1962, the center will be open 2-4 p.m. Tuesday and Wednesday.

On a world basis, volunteer Adventist workers in 1960 gave 6,930,464 hours in welfare service to 6,899,332 persons. More than $1,533,334 in cash, some 6,496,913 articles of clothing, and 4,105,104 food baskets were contributed. Approximately 50 percent of this aid was given in North America.

Seventh-day Adventist members themselves contributed more than $90,474,000 last year toward the support of their world church program in addition to welfare activities. The appeal collected 160 tons of clothing to be distributed among victims of the recent Hurricane Carla, while furnishing over 100 volunteer workers, and establishing a temporary 60-bed hospital. All but 23 miles of the Oregon coast is publicly owned. Have you read the classifieds?

Proposed Study Group Represent Local School Control At Its Best

Those advocates of keeping control of public schools as "near home" as possible will no doubt rejoice over an announcement this week that four study groups, including some 40 citizens, will make a careful study of Hereford schools, followed with an analysis of possible future needs to be reported to trustees of the district.

The study will include physical plant, along with curriculum, and will at the same time make an effort to anticipate future problems which the district is almost certain to face within the next five years. The groups, representing numerous community interests, will be given a free hand in making their studies. While trustees are primarily looking for constructive criticism, they also instructed the delegates to recommend elimination of any frills they may consider unnecessary.

Certainly there can be no more democratic method of operating a school system. If the people do not respond under these circumstances, they can hardly blame anyone except themselves.

In addition, this is the first time we can remember when our school leaders have actually made a serious effort to plan ahead to meet occasions which are likely to arise. In the past, we have pretty well followed a policy of waiting until the last minute, then taking action as a necessity. A proposed plan — in case a beet sugar refinery should be constructed here, for instance — might prove invaluable. The same thing would be true concerning the ever-increasing percentage of Latin-American students who attend our schools.

Of tremendous importance in accomplishing the school study mission will be the amount of time spent and interest shown on part of study group members. Their task will be long and tedious, but we feel that many of them will become more thoroughly familiar with our schools. If they study and read text books, for instance, they should eliminate any immediate infiltration of communistic books; if they find an over-emphasis on athletics, which is often mentioned, they will have a chance to at least "speak their piece", and should they discover lack of emphasis on spelling or reading, that same privilege will be open.

This places the operation of our schools as much on a "local level" as it is possible to accomplish, and looking over the study group names we feel sure that the board members will receive many worthwhile suggestions. At the same time, Hereford finds itself a leader in the theory of practicing what we preach. Why should we continually demand local control of our schools, then turn our back and pay no attention to their operation?

The trustees will and should make final decisions, because they have been elected to their posts — and the responsibility for our schools will ultimately fall into their laps. On the other hand, their attitude of seeking advice and assistance with an aim toward better, more efficient schools indicates that we have a group of trustees who are not likely to make too many mistakes.

Need For A Common Market

Free trade — or protectionism through high tariffs.

This, to say the obvious, is a question which has engaged the minds of businessmen, labor spokesmen, consumers and the officials of government for generations out of mind. It has been a political issue of high magnitude in this country as in others. Our own approach to a solution has been highly varied. We have gone through periods of extremely high tariffs, which all but excluded foreign products competitive with ours. More recently, tariffs have been reduced and in many instances eliminated, and mutual agreements have been made with numbers of friendly nations in the interest of stimulated trade.

Now, abroad, we are witnessing the expansion, on a great scale, of a concept that could change the economic thinking and doing of the world—our own included—in basic respects. This is the common market, formally known as the European Economic Community. Six nations started it, 1957—France, West Germany, Italy, Holland, Belgium, Luxembourg. Now Great Britain is to join and, if plans go through, so will an impressive list of smaller but highly advanced nations, including the Scandinavian countries, Ireland, and Switzerland. Before long, it is expected, still more nations outside the Iron Curtain will apply for membership.

The common market idea, while complex in detail, is simple in principle. The participants—over a period of time—will operate on a free trade basis among themselves. Economic cooperation will be complete, even though political identities will be maintained into the foreseeable future. And these participants, let it be noted, are, in the main, the countries which have been most successful in post-war development and rebuilding and which are really important factors in world production and trade.

There are opponents of the common market. In Britain, for instance, some of the traditional groups fear that it will ultimately lead to undesirable political alignments. And in Canada, according to C. Norman Senior, an informed writer on Canadian affairs, powerful groups both within and without the government, think that it may destroy the British Commonwealth by first destroying the existing Commonwealth preferential tariff system. But, whether that view is right or wrong, the tide is moving, and it will not be stopped.

What about the United States in this situation? The problem is clear. As Walter Lippmann puts it, "... we shall find that we have to live with and trade with and negotiate with an economic and indeed political bloc which will in a few years have a common tariff against all the rest of the world and free trade internally among its members." But as he sees it, there is another side to this coin: "... the solitary American preeminence in the non-Communist world was not a normal and healthy thing. It was the reflection of the sickness of Europe. Morally and politically the dependence of Europe upon the United States was unhealthy for them and unhealthy for us. Now Western Europe has recovered, and we may be glad that we started the recovery. . . . We are now long past the time when we need to worry about the economic health of Europe."

What it all adds up to is the longest step toward free trade yet taken in the world. Economist think this is all to the good—and, also, that U. S. policy must adapt itself to an irresistible trend.

Medical Care For Old Folks

One of those items often overlooked in the everyday hustle and bustle is the introduction of some $8 million a year in state and federal funds for the purpose of providing nursing service for elderly Texans, effective Jan. 1, 1962.

We sincerely hope the program will produce the desired results. Today, approximately 30 percent of Texas' population consists of people over 65 years of age — and many of these people are faced with dire circumstances. When we look over some of the other well-meaning programs, especially the unemployment division, we are prone to wonder, however, just what will come from the new medical program.

There is no doubt that a real problem exists, including a lack of qualified nursing homes and rest homes across the state. There is also the question of whether the tax payers of the nation can successfully finance these needs.

Meanwhile, if the old age medical problem continues with us, it should kill for all time to come the possibility of "socialized medicine" on a national scale such as that to be found in England.

All of this is a far cry from grandpa's thinking when he put away that "nest egg" for his old age; besides, grandpa has been gone a good while now — and he never did have to worry about things like car payments, utility bills and income taxes.

The POWER of FAITH by Howard Brodie

Joseph led the way to Bethlehem. The "just man" protected and guided his beloved wife, Mary. He would dignify fatherhood, fostering the Son: Providing a home, imparting the dignity of labor, yet, allowing the freedom for the Son's spirit to develop, "And the child grew, and waxed strong in spirit, filled with wisdom . . . and in favor with God and man."

'Endless Chain' Method Can Tie Up The Unwary

"Like to own a shiny new car, Neighbor? Give me the names of six prospective buyers . . . for $100 a piece! Then come in and collect $50 for every name one of them gives me. In no time you'll earn enough to pay for the car of your choice!"

Would you buy a car, vacuum cleaner, water softener, based on that pitch? According to Bill Thompson, manager of the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce, hundreds of gullible people have. Result: remorseful customers, obliged to pay for things they didn't really want or need!

One of the "something - for nothing" deals now current, this scheme is known as "Referral Selling." The prospect is told that he can get some article free, if he's willing to cooperate in a word - of - mouth advertising program. Sound harmless enough?

One gentleman thought it did. By the time he realized what had happened, and got around to reporting the operation to the National Better Business Bureau, he was legally bound to purchase a new car.

It all began when Mr. John Dough was approached by a promoter who immediately embarked on a long dissertation on the fantastic amount of money spent on advertising in the United States.

He then explained that a poll of automobile manufacturers revealed 45 per cent of their sales were made on the strength of word - of - mouth recommendation. The manufacturers had decided it would be worth their while to pay a sum of money to an individual who would advertise a particular car.

The "salesman" went on to explain that his company would put Mr. Dough in a new car if he would, in turn, set up appointments for six of his friends who might be interested in buying.

For every friend Mr. Dough sent, he was told he would get $100 from the company's word - of - mouth advertising campaign. Moreover, an additional $50 was offered for everyone who signed up as a result of interviews set up by the original six friends.

Mr. Dough saw a rosy picture of sums of $100 and $50 pouring in. From this point on, he was sold! He picked out the car, signed a contract, and left a deposit. Soon after, he found he wasn't getting enough "referral payments" to meet even a small portion of his obligation!

Consider a chain which starts off with one person who gets six other to participate, and each of the six gets six more, and so on. Here is how the pyramid would progress:

36
216
1,296
7,776
46,656
279,936
1,679,616
10,077,696

This is the "endless chain" — and it is endless. There aren't enough people around anywhere to sustain this method of selling!

According to the National Better Business Bureau, with which the local Chamber is affiliated, this type of gimmick selling is operating all over the country. In some places, it has a new twist. One firm made long distance calls to its prospects, informing them they'd won a new appliance, and all they'd have to do was come in and pick it up.

When the "lucky" person arrived one "winner" estimated the excursion had cost him $25 in taxi, train and baby sitting expenditures) he found he had not really won anything after all, but had been chosen to participate in the company's "referral campaign."

There is nothing new in this plan. It has been used in sales promotions involving water softeners, garbage disposals, home siding contracts, and even vacuum cleaners and sewing machines.

The "referral scheme" preys on the gullibility of individuals and can be put over with enough conviction to disarm many otherwise prudent buyers. However, its earmarks, as outlined below by the National Better Business Bureau, are readily identifiable.

1.) A friend or neighbor urges you to agree to an appointment to learn how you can get something for nothing.

2.) At the appointed interview, the salesman explains how you can participate in an "advertising" campaign.

3.) He points out that through his person - to - person advertising plan the car, water softener, or what have you, will be "free" to you.

4.) He tells you that it's easy to interest a few of your friends or neighbors in getting the same article without having to pay for it.

5.) He implies that you will probably make money over (Continued on page 8)

THREE AREA SCHOOLS BURGLARIZED

Schools in this area seemed to be the main target for robberies this past week end with the Hedley, Clarendon and Claude schools being hit Sunday night (Nov. 19). The loss in all three robberies was estimated at between two and three hundred dollars. Sheriff Behrens reported the robbers broke into the superintendent's and coach's offices at Hedley and took money from Coke and candy machines amounting to approximately $20. They broke into the high school principal's office here and took approximately $160 from two cash boxes. One of the boxes contained petty cash and the other contained student picture money. Damage to doors and the vault here amounted to more than the cash taken. The thugs broke two glass doors and then pried open the vault door. This same procedure was followed at Hedley and Claude which indicated that all three jobs were done by the same party or group, Sheriff Behrens stated.

BOND ELECTION CALLED

Acting on a petition from taxpayers, the Perryton school board called a $250,000 school bond election to be held Monday, Dec. 4, to construct a 10-classroom addition to South elementary school. The action came at a special meeting held Monday night. Voters will be asked to approve the issue, to be paid off in 15 years which will relieve the crowded condition at three of Perryton's four schools. Crowded conditions exist at the junior high school and at both South and Central elementary schools.

FORGERY ATTEMPT FOILED

A quick thinking bank teller foiled an attempt to cash a forged check for $135 early Monday morning and resulted in the arrest of a man attempting to cash the check. Manuel Robles Diaz, 27-year-old citizen of Mexico, was arrested and charged with attempting to pass a forged instrument. The check was made out to Odesmo Martinez, also a citizen of Mexico, and bore the signature of G. A. Poteet of Littlefield. The bank teller, Katy Winters, took the check and compared the signature with the one they have on file and discovered it was a forgery. She reported her findings to Robert Bridges who in turn called the sheriff's office. Diaz was detained by First National Bank officials until the officers arrived.

THE BOOTLEG —Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his birdweed farm discovers an amusing problem for the Russians, in his letter this week. It is something to think about.

Dear editor: Ever since Russia startled the world by being the first to put a satellite into orbit, not to mention a man into orbit, the rest of the world has sort of lost its sense of humor about that country.

For example, too many people get the notion that every test the Russians make comes of successfully the first time, that it just never does make a mistake, that it has no problems to speak of, etc.

Well, I've been thinking about one of Russia's problems, and I'm surprised nobody else has mentioned it. You know, the late Stalin, who was a hero in Russia for a long time, has now been re-classified as a bum by Khrushchev, and the Russians are busy trying to eliminate all reference to him. History books are being re-written, Stalin's body has been removed from Lenin Square, his statues are being torn down, his pictures are coming off the wall, etc.

Now I can see how they can change the name of Stalin-grad to Leninville, and Stalin Avenue to Lenin Alley, and things like that, but have you ever stopped to think that during the long dictatorship of Stalin, when he was the Russians' substitute for God, there must have been thousands of babies named after him? What are they going to do about that?

There must be hundreds of grown men in Russia, born when Stalin was a hero, named Stalin Jansky, Stalin Smithsky, Stalin Brownsky, etc. After all, it'd be the natural thing to do. In our country, we've got hundreds of George Washington Smiths, Roosevelt Browns, and such like.

This is bound to be a ticklish problem in Russia right now. After a man has been called Stalin Smithsky for 20 years and more, it's mighty hard for him to switch with a straight face and say, "My parents made a grave historical error, my name is really Nikita Smithsky and I hope you'll bear it in mind." You know that when a friend yells, "Hey Stalin, let's grab a bite of borsch and go bowling," he's bound to respond, before he remembers his first name is really not Stalin, starting week before last. And what's Nikita Smithy going to do when whoever re-replaces Nikita Khrushchev comes to power?

There are a lot of funny things happening in Russia these days, and the rest of the world is missing a bet if it doesn't start laughing at them.

Yours faithfully, J. A.

Lunchroom Needs An Official Name

By Ann Atchley
Discussion on the subject of renaming the junior - senior high cafeteria has been or is being taken up here at Stanton Junior High. The cafeteria really does need a new name. Did I say "new name?" I have a question first: Has the cafeteria ever been officially named what it is called - the "Junior - Senior High School Cafeteria?" The answer is no. Many people would surely like to see the cafeteria with a name of its own.

Maybe another name should be added to the present one. As many people already know, Northwest Elementary's fifth and sixth grade students are eating at the cafeteria. So really it isn't junior-senior high school cafeteria.

The public doesn't always feel that it should use the cafeteria, but since it was built by the public, they are welcome to it. Many people still don't feel right because of its name. May I remind you that there are public offices in the building also. This should be a very excellent reason for naming the cafeteria. A shorter name would be much more practical for all.

Fodder Box

By Judy Crume
Well, welcome back from the Thanksgiving weekend. We're sure that you enjoyed it as much as we did, but right now I would like to tell you a few things that I found out this long weekend.
First of all we would like to know what happened on the trampoline Nov. 21, S. T. . . There has also been some comment on the number of students that appear in the library during second period choir. Anybody know? . . . Does anybody know what Joe Ella did to the gym floor? If you do, do you want to tell? . . . Hey! J. M., what makes a trail from the front room to the bathroom at your house? Is it carpet? . . . G. R. R., the "girls" are wondering what funny books you've been reading lately . . .

Club Presidents Reports Heard

The Deaf Smith County Home Demonstration Council met Nov. 27 with the vice chairman, Mrs. A. E. Hodges, presiding. The Cultural Club presented the opening exercise. Mrs. Earl DeHart read a poem on memory, "What To Forget And What To Remember." Eight clubs were represented with three clubs having 100 per cent attendance. Club reports were heard on the year's work from the presidents of the Cultural, Dawn, Progressive, North Hereford, Westway, Wyche and Happy Homemakers Clubs. Committee and council officers reports were turned in to the secretary.

Announcements were made of coming events. The council Christmas party will be Dec. 11 at the Community Center from 2 to 4 p.m. Club ladies will hold the cotton referendum on Dec. 12. Voting places will be Precinct 1 at Dawn, Precinct 2 and 3 at the courthouse and Precinct 4 at Ford School. Plans for the District Training Meeting to be held in January were discussed and completed as near as possible. The state meeting for 1962 will be in Dallas on Sept. 19-20 at the Baker Hotel.

Those present for the meeting were Mesdames Earl DeHart, M. W. Sumner, H. S. Fuller, J. B. Caraway, P. L. Carmichael, Taft McGee, E. C. Hammett, H. L. Hershey, Clinton Ward, O. L. Williams, A. E. Hodges, Bess Werner, R. F. Mitchell, R. L. Wilson, C. W. Newsom, Kenneth DeHart, Derrill Carroll, Argen Dra per and Miss Christine Fortenberry.

Stanton Teachers Enjoy Their Work With Students

By Cindy Sanders

(Editor's note: The following is a continuation of a series of articles that will run until all the teachers in Stanton have been introduced. This is a public service series, and it is hoped that this series will help you to become better acquainted with the teachers who work with Stanton students every day.)

One of the homemaking teachers in junior high is Mrs. Martha Sullivan. She teaches eighth and ninth grade homemaking, sponsors F. H. A., and the pep club. Mrs. Sullivan was born in Amarillo, Jan. 21, 1931. She attended West Texas State College and Texas Tech. Before becoming a teacher she lived in Fort Worth and Tyler. Then she taught in Muleshoe High School before she came to Hereford. Mrs. Sullivan has been teaching for five years. Mrs. Sullivan couldn't think of an embarrassing moment, but she gave her pet peeve as that of people who ask stupid questions. She enjoys teaching and because she admired one of her teachers as a child and followed her.

Stanton Junior High School band director is Ben R. Gollehon. He was born in Amarillo on Aug. 10, 1936, and attended West Texas State College in Canyon. He was married June 5, 1958 and has one son, John Noll.

Mr. Gollehon is also qualified to teach choir. He taught in Pampa for four years. Mr. Gollehon plays the clarinet and has played for 15 years.

His most embarrassing moment was when he made third division in a contest. His pet peeve is students who don't practice.

Mrs. Fay Holt teaches eighth grade social studies in Stanton Junior High School. Mrs. Holt was born in Cordell, Okla. She attended Southwestern State College in Weatherford, Okla., and received her B. S. degree. She received her Master's degree from West Texas State College in Canyon. Mrs. Holt was married to Mr. Earl Holt in 1938. They have three daughters, Clarabeth, Cheryl, and Jenny. Before coming to Hereford, Mrs. Holt taught in Canute, Okla., in 1941-43 and in Cloud Chief, Okla., in 1944-46. She is qualified to teach in elementary school, art, history and is also a qualified counselor.

Mrs. Holt said that she became a teacher because she enjoyed going to school and still does.

Fred Mercer, who teaches eighth grade science in junior high school, was born in Sherman, Dec. 2, 1922. He attended Southwestern State College. He was married in May 1956. Mr. Mercer taught in Oklahoma for three years and in Stratford for three years. He is also qualified to teach math.

When asked what he likes best about teaching, he said he likes everything about it. He said he has had many embarrassing moments but couldn't think of any at the time. His pet peeve is kids complaining about not having any time to do their homework.

Someone would like to know who the P. C. is that gets to cut across the "forbidden football field" going to lunch? Coaches, what's his name? . . . This month we would like to recognize our reporters. They have been doing a fine job. Keep up the good work! . . . There has been some talk going around school about the un-touchables, or is it the immortals? Hey! L. S., what's the capital of the United States? Well, that's about all the time we have for now. See you next month!

A survey was taken of some Stanton students as to their feelings about the school paper. It was found that as a whole almost all of the students in Stanton Junior High read the Dogie month.

They all said that they enjoy and look forward to its coming. Suggestions for improvement were also solicited.

Roger Owen asked for better sports coverage. Jimmy Huckert suggested an ideal personality sketch for teachers. Roger Ruland wants a short report of an "A" student. Sandy Williams wants jokes. Mr. Jones' homeroom wants some original student poetry published.

Jacob King would like to have the "Fodder Box" explained!

VISIT PARENTS

Mr. and Mrs. Carl Oldham and family of Woodward, Okla., have been visiting in the homes of their parents, Mrs. C. Ora Cockrell and Mr. and Mrs. Cap Oldham.

MRS. MELVIN YOUNG of 331 McKinley is a student teacher in Mrs. Ratzliff's seventh grade English classes and ninth grade Spanish classes. Mrs. Young is a senior student at West Texas State College. She has two daughters, Penny who is eleven and Holly who is seven. Mrs. Young will be doing her student teaching for nine weeks. (Brand Staff Photo)

Band Personality

By Ann Mercer
Janice Medley has been picked as the Band Personality for this month. She plays a clarinet in first section, fifth chair. She is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. B. Medley and lives at 114 Fuller.

Her hobby is listening to the radio; her ambition is to get married. The reason that she joined the band was because she liked music very much. Her advice to young band members is to stick with it and all the hard work will be rewarded in the Big Domino Band.

Announce List For Cage Squads

By Sports Staff

Stanton's cage teams this year look very good. We think that the school will have a very good season if everyone hustles and the student body will back the teams all the way.

It looks like the ninth grade starters will be Frank Cain, Johnny Dowd, Robert Strange, Gary Don Roberson, Lynn Cook and Larry Minks. The rest of the roster includes Lewis Barnett, Jerry Don McCaslin, Dan Thomas, Douglas Watson, Steve Seiger, Charlie Moreno, Kenny Justice, Stan Sigman, Terry Hill, and Gil Sims. Alex Glass is the ninth grade coach.

The eighth grade roster includes Jimmy Young, Roger Owen, Steve Hodges, Jerry Hudson, Sammy Curtsinger, Gary Payne, Gary Gore, Walter Williams, Wynn Buck, Mike Moore, Robby Lemons, Jimmy Gutierrez, Jack Ferguson, Randy Tooley, Edward Mims, and Brant Knox. Jerry Don George is the coach.

The seventh grade Dogies are Mike Davis, Jimmy Allison, Gene Duvall, Phillip Cain, Bill Watts, David Evans, Billy Frank, Felix Albiar, Larry Noland, Brad Johnson, Eddie Collins, Dennis Latham, Larry Brown, Dale Smith and Don is coach.

The team needs the support of the entire student body.

PARENTS VISIT

Mr. and Mrs. J. Sam Locke of Plainview were weekend visitors in the home of their daughter, Mr. and Mrs. T. A. Pencie and family.

What If This Were That?

Jean Roberson has been wondering what if . . . Kathy Pool were Kathy Creek? Gary Payne were Gary Ache? Sharon Lamm were Sharon Goat? Linda Lynch were Linda Hang? Jan Hardy were Jan Softy? John Lesly were John Morely? Ronnie Nunley were Ronnie Monkley? Sharon Garrison were Sharon Fort?

Linda London were Linda Berlin? Terry Hill were Terry Valley? Mrs. Gripp were Mrs. Hold? Susan Neill were Susan Bow? Cynthia Hale were Cynthia Rain?

Robbie Lemons were Robbie Oranges? Janis Dean were Janis Professor?

It would be different wouldn't it?

Ideal Girl

By Dan Thomas

(Editor's note: Dan Thomas is did some scouting around in search of an ideal girl on the Stanton campus recently. He was unable to come up with any one girl who could meet all the qualifications; therefore, he lists all the girls who wants to make up his ideal girl.)

"My ideal girl would have the hair of Cheryl Parker, the sparkling eyes of Cathy Bilby and the pug nose of Beth Ballard. She would have the talkative mouth of Ann Brady, provided with a voice like that of Janice Medley. She would be as cute as Sharon Tinnin.

"She would have the height of Cheryl Edmondson or the shortness of Peggy Neff. She would have the figure of Judy McCarver, the feet of Barbara Langley, and the stunning walk of Joe Ella McGee. She would have a mixture of friendliness like Brenda Shelton and the intelligence of Barbara Neff. She would be flirty like Myrna Botkin.

"I have checked the list over again and again and I have found that Debbie Beene is the all-around girl."

Students Asked To Use Library

By DEBORAH LEE

Did you know that the junior high library is open until 5 p.m. Monday through Friday, and did you know that not nearly enough people are taking advantage of this opportunity that is being made available to them? Teachers have volunteered to stay for this purpose for one week at a time to assist students who need to work in the library.

According to many students, this is a very helpful aid in making reports and studying for all subjects.

We hope that the library will continue to be open after school and that more students will take advantage of this opportunity.

Roving Reporter

By Phyllis Warrick, Janie Baber, and Kathy Pool

The question of the month is what is your idea of a good teacher?

Toni Beauchamp is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Harold Beauchamp and lives at Route 1. She is in the seventh grade and is 13 years old. Her life's desire is to become a reading teacher.

Her favorites are: teacher, Mrs. Hodges and Coach Souter; subject, English; food, Chinese; color, pink; show, "Rain Tree County" and book, "King of the Wind." Her most embarrassing moment was when at a high school ball game some seventh grade boys called by the name of an eighth grade boy. Her pet peeve is people who call teachers "Old Lady."

She says that a good teacher should have a sense of humor, be friendly, and be helpful at all times.

party and got her skirt torn off. Her pet peeve is a "Green Gas Moocher."

Her idea of a good teacher is a fair and understanding person who treats no one with partiality.

Lewis Barnett is the 14-year-old son of Dr. and Mrs. L. B. Barnett of Route 5. He is in the ninth grade. He is five feet, seven inches tall with blue eyes and black hair. His life's desire is to live fast, love hard, die young, and leave a happy memory. Some of his favorites are: teacher, Mr. Jones; subject, shop; food, steak; color, red; show, "Psycho," and book, "Father Was a Doctor."

His most embarrassing moment was on the way to Dalhart for a football game when Coach Glass got possession of a letter and read it. His pet peeve is people who don't have a good sense of humor.

Lewis' idea of a good teacher is a teacher just like Mr. Jones.

John Lesly is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Luther Lesly of Route 4. He is 13 years old and in the eighth grade. John's life's desire is to be a scientist. Some of his favorites are teacher, Mrs. Legg; subject, science; food, steak; color, green (money); movie, "Pit and the Pendulum"; and book, "Rain Tree County."

His most embarrassing moment was when he was in the sixth grade he wrote some love notes to the girl he was going with. The teacher got them and passed them around the class. John's pet peeve is people who want to borrow money all the time.

John's idea of a good teacher is a teacher with a pleasant personality, firmness, and understanding.

Janet Fryar is the 13-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Fryar of 404 Roosevelt. She is a five feet - two inch brown-eyed, brown-haired eighth grader. Her life's desire is to ride around.

Some of her favorites are: teacher, Mrs. Gripp; subject, English; food, pizza; color, orange; show, "Gone With the Wind," and book, "Gone With the Wind." Janet's most embarrassing moment was when she got caught chewing gum in Mrs. Hodges' class last year. Her pet peeve is people who are always griping.

Her idea of a good teacher is a teacher who doesn't give a lot of lessons and a lot of tests and doesn't have a bad temper.

Mr. and Mrs. Monroe Parker of 415 Knight Street have a 15-year-old daughter in the ninth grade. Cheryl Parker is five feet four and one-half inches tall and has gray eyes and blond hair. Her life's desire right now is to get a certain person.

Some of her favorites are teacher, Mrs. Sullivan; subject, algebra; food, Italian; color, red; show, "Cimmarron," and book, "House of the Seven Gables." Her most embarrassing moment was when she was at a fun in the classroom.

Jimmy Allison lives at 113 North Texas with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Allison. Jimmy is 13 years old and he wants to be a rancher. His favorites are teacher, Mrs. Todd; subject, reading; color, red; show, "Gone With the Wind," and book, "Tournament Crisis." Jimmy didn't reveal his most embarrassing moment.

Jimmy's idea of a good teacher is one who explains things well, makes a student enjoy the subject and allows some fun in the classroom.

FTA Group Plans Year's Activities

By Dorothy Frerlich

Recently the L. L. Chisum Future Teachers of America officers attended the District IX convention which was held on the campus of West Texas State College.

Officers attending were Joe Ella McGee, Vicki Inman, David Grubbs, Dorothy Frerlich, David Grubbs, Nancy Martin, Vicki Inman, Dorothy Frerlich, Nancy Martin, and Romanita Lucero, and the sponsor, Mrs. Fred Mercer.

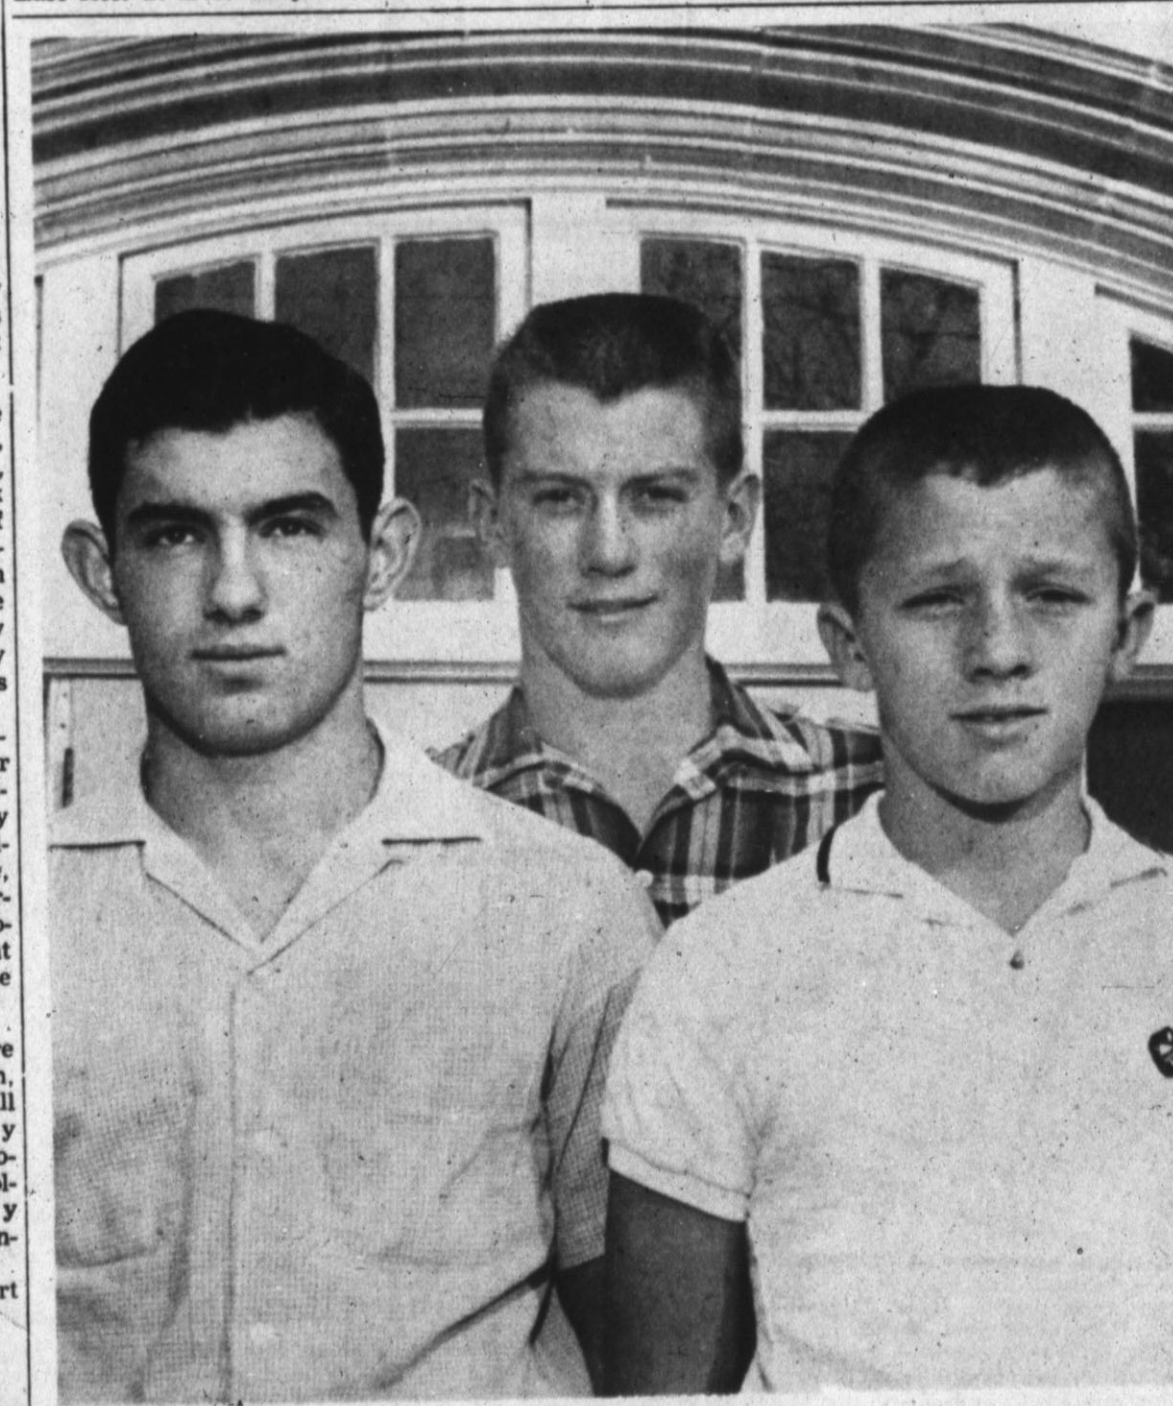

At the convention the students heard the national director of F. T. A. from Washington, D. C., and participated in the election of officers for the district.

At the business meeting which followed the convention, the Stanton Future Teachers adopted three projects for the year. The first one was a plan to offer voluntary help to the faculty of junior high. The purpose of F. T. A. is for students to explore teaching, and the group felt that this would be an excellent way for them to see some of the things involved in teaching as a career.

The second project involved was that of each member spending a day with a teacher just to see what a school day on the other side of the desk is like.

The third project was for F. T. A. members to serve as official hosts and hostesses to new students enrolling in the ninth grade.

BASIN APPLICATION
CHEYENNE, Wyo. — Wyoming game and fish department employees were a little puzzled when they received an application for an antelope hunting license for the Shirley Basin area in central Wyoming.

The application was signed by a 22-year-old Golden, Colo., man — named Shirley Basin.

TOO NEAR THE RANCH
WHEATLAND, Wyo. — An over-anxious big game hunter from Pennsylvania fired seven shots in quest of antelope and deer near a Wheatland ranch this fall.

Reaching his targets, the hunter found four dead and two wounded horses. The seventh shot had missed.
The hunter paid the farmer for the six horses.

BY CHARLIE SEEDS
In a time of poverty, his battle cry was "Share the Wealth," and the cry won him a tremendous following in his native state. They called him the Louisiana Kingfish, and his name was Huey Long.

He liked power... and his critics claimed he had just as strong a liking for things like graft and machine guns. He was a stirring orator, and those who heard him can testify to the way he could arouse a crowd to strong emotion... or make them laugh with his caustic sense of humor. He had a politician's instinctive gift for knowing what would appeal to the people who voted for him.

But there were those who said that he was a potential dictator, a dangerous man. Then, at the peak of his career, he met a dictator's violent end. That was the biggest story of the year... the death of Huey Long, cut down by an assassin's bullet. Remember the year? People could be swayed by oratory that year... but not when it came to spending a good sum of money, as in buying a car. Sweet talk didn't work. A "deal" really had to be a good one!

The year was 1935. Sweet talk isn't our stock in trade. Friendly, courteous treatment is... and a real desire to give you the best possible deal on a brand-new '62 Ford. We'd rather make less money on a deal today... and win a long term friend and customer for tomorrow. So come in and talk trade now... at CHARLIE SEEDS MOTOR Co. Inc., W. Hwy. 30 at Miles. GUESS WHO WROTE TO ME TODAY?

Debora Boardman showed the groups Indian songs and dances. Each group reported its activities for the past year.

INDOOR COW PASTURES
NEW YORK — Cow pastures of the future may grow on steel instead of soil, according to "Steel Facts," publication of the American Iron and Steel Institute. The soilless agriculture is achieved by using hydroponics, a method of using water, nutrient chemicals, proper light, temperature and humidity.

A farmer in Ohio is growing supplemental feed for his cattle on steel trays stacked in a steel building. He harvests part of his crop each day — it grows about an inch daily.

THE FIFTH SEASON
CRIPPLE CREEK, Colo. — Mrs. Ann White asked her fourth-grade pupils to name the seasons of the year. One boy said there are five — spring, summer, fall, winter and deer.

POLITIC DECISION
DAWSON SPRINGS, Ky. — Lt. Gov. Wilson Wyatt noticed the sky was about to drench his audience at an outdoor gathering. He made a quick decision that showed one reason he's a successful Bluegrass State politician.

"I have just decided to cut my one hour speech to two minutes," he said. "I'll give the speech to the local newspaper and you can read it there."

FAIR WARNING
CORTEZ, Colo. — A variety store in this southwestern Colorado town sells these signs for ranchers during certain seasons: "No hunting. Survivors will be prosecuted."

FLAGS GOT AROUND

ABILENE, Kan. (AP) — Two well-traveled flags are now on display at the Eisenhower Museum here. One is a large flag that circled the earth 17 times in a capsule in the Discoverer XIII satellite. The other, a small flag, traveled with the Bathyscaphe Trieste team in its 37,800-foot dive — the deepest on record — in the Pacific Ocean Jan. 23, 1960. Both were presented to former President Eisenhower last year.

FLOOD IS COMING

DILLON, Colo. (AP) — Dillon, familiar to tourists driving on U. S. Highway 6 across Loveland Pass, is being forced to move. Waters of a new dam, part of the Blue River Water Diversion Project, eventually will cover the town site. Most of the buildings already have been hauled to the new location six miles away.

cess shall promptly execute the same according to law, and make due return as the law directs.

Issued and given under my hand and the Seal of said Court, at office in Hereford, Texas, this 17th day of November A. D. 1961.

COMPLETE SERVICE
 ATLANTA — A bandit with a dirty windshield held up a service station and got away with more than $15.

The robber asked the time, ordered gasoline and then told the attendant to hand over the station's money, $15 in bills plus some change. But he wasn't through yet.

He told the attendant to clean the windshield of the car. When that was done, he drove away.
