Cattle Specialist Encourages On - The - Farm Feed Lots

By WAIN MILLER
Brand Staff Reporter

A cattle feeding expert came to the Hereford Capital of the World Tuesday night to tell area farmers why they should raise more beef and how to get the most profit from farm-fattened cattle.

Some 80 area farmers and ranchers were on hand to hear Paul Marion, superintendent of the Texas Agriculture Experiment Station in Spur, outline on-the-farm cattle feeding operations. He spoke Tuesday evening in the Pioneer Natural Gas Flame Room.

After telling the group why it is both necessary and profitable to fatten cattle on local farms, he proceeded to outline tested techniques which he has proven successful in feeding operations.

"Texas is rightfully growing as a cattle feeding state," Marion told the group, "because of the excellent feed supply and feeding conditions."

"Livestock feeding operations in the state of Texas are up 32 per cent now over this time last year," he pointed out.

"Only a few years ago Arizona fed more beef than Texas, but now the Lone Star State has passed Arizona in feeding."

"Texas feeds about 450,000 head of cattle, but California fattens 900,000 head at a time and they are doing much of it on Texas-grown feed. We should and could be shipping California our frozen carcasses instead of our feed grains," Marion declared.

He pointed out that "the Corn Belt" still leads in the nation's cattle feeding industry. But that area recorded only a seven per cent increase in feeding operations over the past year, he commented.

"Texas is quite capable of doing the entire beef operation there is no need to send the cattle north or west for feeding. We already have produced the finest cattle and calves, now we should add the third step feeding them."

"With the resources in this area, Texans could go at cattle feeding half heartedly and do a more economical job of beef fattening than any other area in the world. So if we really try, we can become the best cattle feeders in the nation," Marion declared.

"Lots of experimental work has gone into developing our present day feeding procedures," he explained. "It hasn't been too long ago since it took 1,050 - 1,200 pounds of feed to put on a hundred pounds of beef now we can do this with only 735 pounds of feed. This shows the value of research."

"Our primary concern at the present time is to increase beef production while becoming more and more efficient in transferring feed to meat. While we do this, we must remember that people pay higher price for beef than any other meat and so we must never do anything (Continued on page 2)

Police Officer Spoils Burglary

An alert Hereford Police Department patrolman surprised "five or six subjects" as they were attempting to burglarize Hale's Service Station, U. S. 385 and Park Ave., early Tuesday morning.

The patrolman had checked the station about 2:20 a. m., according to the incident report. He then doubled back in behind the station about 30 minutes later.

When he returned to the station, he discovered the rear door was "wide open" and "five or six subjects" were at the rear entrance. One is said to have run out of the back door of the building when the patrol car was spotted.

The suspects fled in their three cars with the patrolman pursuing one to near Vega. As the patrolman returned to Hereford after the chase, he arrested one suspect who was released Wednesday for lack of evidence.

Gerald Hale, station manager, reported that nothing was missing from the service station.

Group Circulates Petition To Back Goldwater Nomination

Some 40 county residents met recently to organize a movement which will reach national proportions if their objective is reached.

Main objective of the newly-formed group is to combat "socialism in national government." The group is acting through petitions to draft Sen. Barry Goldwater as a presidential candidate.

Citizens present for the meeting gave unanimous approval to a resolution which calls for an all-out effort to "reverse our nation's drift into socialism."

After outlining what it calls an "evil political philosophy" the group's adopted resolution continues by saying: "As a means of restoring and preserving the personal and economic freedom provided our citizens by the founders of our government, we shall offer every voter in our county an opportunity to sign a request that Senator Barry Goldwater seek the nomination of his party for the office of President of the United States."

"It is our belief that in this manner the individual voter can have a voice in naming a candidate, and that one of our political parties will nominate a candidate and adopt a platform for which we can conscientiously vote," the approved proposal states.

After adopting the name "Restore Constitutional Government", the group is now in the process of introducing a petition to every voter in Deaf Smith County. The petition calls for the nomination of Senator Goldwater as a presidential candidate in 1964.

In organizing the local drive, the Restore Constitutional Government committee made plans to promote the movement in other cities in order to carry out its ultimate goal — "to elect a president of the United States who will combat socialism."

A house - to - house voter canvass is now getting underway. During the canvass, members of the committee will present their objectives and solicit signatures for a petition which reads as follows:

"As a political conservative, and a believer in our Constitutional Republic form of government, I sign this request to the Honorable Barry M. Goldwater that he seek nomination as a candidate for the office of President of the United States of America, and, if nominated, I pledge my vote and influence to his election and to the election of a conservative Congress to carry out his principles.

"In furtherance of my wishes, I contribute the sum of one dollar to help defray expenses incurred in seeking nomination, and, if nominated, the campaign for election."

In supporting Goldwater for presidential nomination, the local committee insists that it is not to be construed as a political party.

Speaking on behalf of the group, Jess Carter, president of the organization, explained, "We are opposed to socialism, and we feel that the most effective way of combating this political philosophy is to elect a President of the United States who will combat socialism."

"It is our common belief that Barry Goldwater is the man who best upholds our objectives," Carter continued.

School Ratifies ISD Vote, Names Year's Officers

One new and two returning trustees for the Hereford Independent School District board were sworn in Tuesday as the board re-organized itself for 12 months.

Hugh Clearman was installed to replace B. F. Cain. Returning to the board after being re-elected were Bill Gentry and O. W. Parris. Ceremonies were held by Fred Baird, who administered the oath of office.

Dr. L. B. Barnett, president, Ivan Block, vice president, and Bill Gentry, secretary, were named to serve another year in the posts which they have held.

Outgoing trustee Cain was given a certificate of appreciation for his services on the board. It was pointed out that Cain missed just one meeting during the six years which he served on the board.

Trustees officially approved the conversion in name of the school district, as endorsed by voters Saturday. The name thus was changed from the Hereford Rural High School District to the Hereford Independent School District.

Superintendent Paul Stevens reported that enrollment was going up rapidly after a seasonal decline in January and February. Enrollment on Tuesday was 2,987, an increase of 84 during the past month and 92 higher than in April, 1962.

Stevens and principal W. C. Quattlebaum recommended that Don T. Martin replace the late B. H. Baldwin as counselor for Stanton Junior High School and that Marvin Gordon be hired to take Martin's place teaching junior high mathematics. Both recommendations were approved.

Ministers Slate Public Good Friday Service

The public is invited to attend a community Good Friday Service sponsored by the Hereford Ministerial Association. The program will begin at 12:30 p. m. Friday in the First Methodist Church.

Featuring a non-denominational theme, the hour-long program will include pastors from several local churches.

Organist will be Don Bauogus. The Rev. Eugene Brink, pastor of the First Christian Church, will give the welcome.

Scripture will be read by the Rev. Eubaldo Ponce, pastor of the St. Paul Methodist Church. Meditation will be given by the Reverend Brink.

Also participating in the program will be the Rev. Burie DeBord, pastor of the Nazarene Church, the Rev. John Ferguson, pastor of Wesley Methodist Church, and the Rev. V. W. Marcottell, pastor of the Assembly of God Church.

The Hereford Ministerial Association extends a cordial invitation to everyone to be present for the service.

Demons Beat Hereford 18-3; Levelland Lobos Here Today

Hereford found that pitcher Robert Robinette and hitter Joe Ballard of Dumas were too much to contain. The two Demons led their team past the outmanned Whitefaces at Dumas Tuesday in an 18 - 3 rout.

The Whitefaces will play host to Levelland at 4 p. m. Thursday. The game was slated for Levelland but was switched to make up for a game that was transferred from Hereford last week.

Robinette, mixing fast balls and curves, limited Hereford to seven hits, with a lone double. He struck out 11 and walked just one in going all the way.

Outfielder Ballard, who also is a front-line pitcher, hit three home runs and a triple in five times up to drive in six runs.

Hereford's first two batters struck out, but John Willoughby doubled before Eugene Green and Joe Coffman singled to drive in one run. But Robinette struck out the next batter to get out of trouble.

Gary Kendrick, the Herd's starting pitcher, didn't last long. He served up nine pitches to three batters and was tagged for a triple, a double and a home run. Gerry Bybee came on in relief at that time and got the next three out.

But Hereford went down in order in the top of the second. Then Dumas took advantage of three errors and six hits for eight more runs. Included were three singles, two triples and a homer by Ballard. Frank Cain came in to pitch and last out the game although he hit the first batter he faced.

Hereford went down again in order in the third while Dumas used the last of the inning for two more runs, picked up on two singles and two errors.

Green got his second hit of the day in the fourth as he led off, but three strike - outs left him stranded. Dumas tacked up three more runs on a single Ballard's second home run and two more singles, including one that didn't quite stretch to a double.

Meanwhile, Hereford went down in order again in the fifth. That was the only inning in which Dumas didn't score as John Willoughby handled three fielding chances at shortstop, two of which drove him deep into the hole. The other was a force - out to second base. Hereford got its last two runs in the sixth as Ronnie Duncan walked and Willoughby singled. Green's fly ball moved the runners up one base with Duncan scoring on a wild pitch. Willoughby scored on Coffman's sacrifice fly. (Continued on page 2)

County Certifies School Balloting

Canvass of school elections and routine business occupied the Deaf Smith County Commission during its meeting Monday.

Commissioners canvassed and declared official the election of county school trustees, the Walcott trustee, the bond election at Walcott and the conversion of Hereford Rural High School District into the Hereford Independent School District.

They certified that there was a tie for County School Trustee from Precinct Four between J. V. Perrin and L. J. Straufus. Five votes were cast for each person as Straufus was a write - in candidate. No date has been set yet for the runoff.

Commissioners also conferred and passed an order calling for the sale of $100,000 in bonds to finance expansion of the school. In other action, Mrs. Leona (Continued on page 2)

Around Town

BY R. A. TUCK
This is the time of year when wanderlust becomes so bad it is almost intolerable. The Tuck clan has always been noted for having itchy feet and this inheritance came to me undiminished in strength. While others, in spring, feel the urge to put seeds into the ground, plant grass or paint, I am torn by a desire to visit some new place... like Venezuela, Alaska, Hawaii or Spain. However, family and finances being what they are, I'll probably settle for a trip to Palo Duro Canyon or Buffalo Lake. Nor were my feelings helped when Thursday's mail included details about a trip for editors this summer that will take in France, Germany, Sweden, Denmark and Russia.

An inspiring place Sunday morning should be Palo Duro Canyon when the Canyon Christian Youth Council presents a sunrise Easter Service in the new Heritage Amphitheater in the park. The service will begin at 6 a. m. and should be over in time for Hereford residents to get back to town for their own church Easter services. The service will be open to the (Continued on page 2)

Booster Club Elects Officers

New officers of the Whiteface Booster Club were elected at the Monday night meeting of the club, according to Debbs Knox, club president.

Elected as president for 1963-64 was Earl Stagner with Tommy Braddy as vice president. Stan Sigman was named treasurer and Calvin Goodin was elected secretary.

The four officers were selected by a nominating committee composed of former Booster Club presidents Ed Skypala, Jim K. Wiman, and Knox.

All four were elected by acclamation. The next meeting of the club will be held on Monday, April 15. A film on the Milwaukee Braves baseball team will be shown.

CONDUCTING A SERIES of Flight Safety Refresher courses here are John Uranga (left) and Laddie J. Roark with the Texas Aeronautics Commission. The first session was held Tuesday in the ballroom of Hereford Community Center with approximately 40 area pilots attending.

The remaining sessions are to be held at the center on April 16, 23, and 30. All will begin at 7:30 p. m. These courses are designed to offer a pilot an opportunity to upgrade knowledge and piloting skills and to promote overall flying safety. (Staff Photos)

County Resident Given $200 Fine On DWI Charge

A Deaf Smith County resident was fined and sentenced to three days in the County Jail as he entered a plea of guilty to charges of driving while intoxicated, first offense, in County Court, Judge H. C. Williams presiding.

Pleading guilty to the charge Tuesday was Conrad P. Urbanczyk, 46. In addition to the jail sentence, he was fined $200 and court costs.

The man was arrested East First and Schley by a sheriff's deputy about 5:20 p. m. Monday.

40 Area Pilots At Safety Meet

Approximately 40 area private pilots attended the first session of a series of Flight Safety Refresher courses being held at Hereford Community Center.

The series is being presented by John G. Uranga and Laddie J. Roark, flight safety specialists from the Texas Aeronautics Commission in Austin.

Subsequent sessions will be held here on April 16, 23, and 30. All will be held in the center's ballroom and will begin at 7:30 p. m.

In the opening session of the course, air traffic rules were outlined by the two flight safety specialists. Among the other subjects to be covered by the courses are meteorology, theory of flight and flight regulations.

Uranga also outlined the history of the Texas Aeronautics Commission at the first session. He pointed out that the commission is appointed by the governor with six members on the board. The commission also has four full time employees.

The TAC was created shortly after World War II, he said, to keep the Railroad Commission from licensing aircraft.

It was also charged with holding titles to airports which the government was turning over to cities and counties within the state, he remarked.

Uranga added that the 57th Legislature also gave the commission the power to regulate intrastate scheduled airlines.

During the discussion, the two TAC employees outlined the procedures which are taken when a private pilot violates any of the Federal Aeronautics Administration regulations.

Uranga pointed out that these regulations are federal laws and carry a maximum penalty of three years in prison, up to $1000 fine, and suspension or revocation of license.

The remainder of the session was devoted to a discussion on air traffic rules covered by the visual flight regulations. It closed with a film on flight safety.

Ten Indicted, One No-Billed By Grand Jury

Ten persons faced felony indictments and one was no billed as the Deaf Smith County Grand Jury met here Tuesday in regular session.

Grand jurors reported for the session at 10:30 a. m. and finished hearing charges about 7:30 p. m.

Of those indicted, two were named in a single charge. Two other men were indicted for two alleged felony crimes each bringing the total number of indictments to eleven.

No billed for charges brought against him was William E. Herring.

Awaiting trial under the double indictment alleging kidnapping and armed robbery are Ronald U. Trisler and James W. Wimberly.

The pair is alleged to have kidnapped and robbed the Jack Nunley family here on March 1. Wimberly, 27, is from Olton and Trisler, 23, is from Plainview.

Also indicted on an armed robbery charge was an 18-year-old Cleveland, Ohio, youth, Aaron John Reed. Reed and a juvenile companion are alleged to have held up a service station attendant at Glenrio on March 18.

All three men are being held without bond.

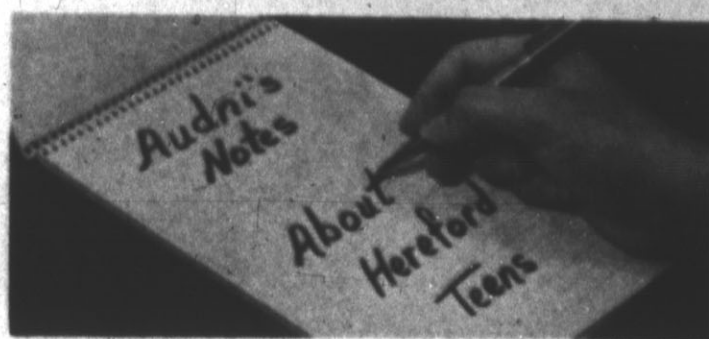

Other indictments returned by the grand jury include: Bobby L. Horn, 23, Friona forgery; Danny Rodriguez, 17, 318 Ave. D; Albert Rodriguez, 17, 318 Ave. D, burglary;

And a bouncy, bubbly "hello" to everyone! The season seems to be affecting everyone — students, teachers, parents everyone! The art of concentration is becoming even so difficult for those of us in school. Only six weeks of classroom routine remain; approximately five for seniors, ahem!

Highlight of this past week was cheerleader tryouts held on Wednesday, April 3. Sophomore and junior girls displayed their "yell-leading" ability before the Hereford High student body. Then, on Thursday, excitement bristled throughout the auditorium as the '62-'63 cheerleaders — Jenny Holt, Kay Seamans, Connie Kent, Ronda Neff, Susie Higgins, and Judy Kreighauser — marched onto the stage. Each carried a scroll-like sign (all rolled up, of course!) bearing the name of a new cheerleader.

Ronda started the ball rolling with the announcement of sister Peggy as one of the '63-'64 junior leaders. Then the narces of Kathy Boston, Brenda Shelton (the other junior cheerleader), Janice Hagans, Ruth Ann Allison, and Ronda Neff were called and each made their way (with wildly beating hearts!) to the stage where they were proclaimed Hereford High School's 1963-1964 Cheerleaders! Although this will be Ronda's second "term," she was equally thrilled and surprised! Heartiest congratulations and best wishes to these six young ladies! This event — election of new cheerleaders — marks the "beginning of the end" for HHS seniors.

If the average Hereford High or Stanton Junior High student is totally ignorant of scientific procedures, it's certainly not the fault of the Southern Assembly Association or General Motors Corporation. On Monday, April 1, students in both schools viewed, "Previews of Progress," a science show presented by two representatives of General Motors. A suitcase containing a gyroscope (which Webster defines as "an instrument for demonstrating the laws of dynamics governing rotating bodies.") was featured during one of the demonstrations. Then, during a Southern Assembly on Wednesday, April 3, Mr. Rice, a scientist who has worked on several government space-age projects demonstrated still more scientific principals. Again, a "suitcase-with-gyroscope" was in the spotlight. This time the audience knew what the "gyroscope thing" was all about! Seriously, these assembly programs were of great educational value.

experience, Stevens stated. The proposed school calendar for the 1963-64 year was approved. It calls for 179 teaching days, one less than the current calendar. It also lengthens the Christmas - New Year's holiday period to two full weeks. The school's participation in paving programs for Moreman Street, adjoining school property on the south in the vicinity of Northwest School, and Stadium Drive, adjoining school property west of the football field, was given approval. In both instances, property owners on the other side of the street had requested the paving program.

county group calls upon citizens in other areas to follow the example of the local organization in combating socialism on the national level. In part, the publication states: "The majority of our citizens rever the Constitutional Republican form of government won for them by their forefathers. They realize that their political inheritance was the greatest personal and economic freedom ever known in the world and that this political climate was the sole reason for the development of the United States of America into the greatest nation, both morally and economically, in history. In this political climate man had hope of attaining God's purpose in his life.

Wednesday was a red-letter day for Hereford High's golf team. Dick Combs, Jim Owens, Tommy Powell, and Bob Rehnauer comprise the team winning the District 1-AAA Intercollegiate League Golf Tournament held here. What's so remarkable is the fact that the boys are essentially "on their own" — well done!

And on Thursday, Friday, and Saturday, April 4-6, more U.I.L. contests were on the slate. After defeating tennis teams from Perryton and Levelland, Judy Wiman and Connie Renfro were conquered by Phillips and thus they placed second in the District 1-AAA Girls' Doubles. Lou Ann Withowald was third place winner in Girl's Singles. Three cheers for all these entrants! This action occurred last Thursday in Canyon.

At 7:30 on Friday morning, Hereford High's representatives departed the school parking lot for Frank Phillips College in Borger. Reason for this journey was the U. I. L. District 1-AAA literary contests. Now for the results: Charles Mirns won first in Number Sense, with Larry Hair coming in third in the same activity. LaReece Askew was third in Prose Reading, while Shari Jo Carmichael placed second in Persuasive Speaking. Kaki Barnard was the first place winner in Extemporaneous Speaking. Maura McAndrews and Caroline Brumley were second in Girls' Debate; Pat Ranspot demonstrated her stenographic skill when she won second spot in Shorthand competition, and Jamie McBroom captured second place honors in Ready Writing. Wow! What a list! But there's more to come—

Last Saturday was the District 1-AAA Track Meet. This contest was conducted in Amarillo. In the High Jump competition, Austin Hodges was third, and Ronnie Welty won first place in both the High Hurdles and Low Hurdles; Charles Kelly placed second in the Low Hurdles, while Manuel Pacheco was second in the Mile Run. Heartiest congratulations to everyone!!!

U. I. L. Regional Contests are scheduled for April 19 - 20 in Odessa. Many of the aforementioned winners will be participating — This writer and

Jolly Guys, Gals See Program On Baking Success

The Jolly Guys and Gals 4-H Club met at Dawn School on April 4. With Judy Jackson as presiding officer, the group sang the song, "4-H Trail," and gave the 4-H ritual. Reports were heard from all committees. Mrs. Jean Beene commended all the boys and girls who were entered in the County 4-H Demonstrations. Mrs. Beene, assistant county home demonstration agent, conducted the program of the evening on cake baking. She passed out cook books and recipes and gave suggestions for avoiding cake failures. After baking a three-egg Wonder Cake, she gave the girls instructions for baking cakes for the Saturday demonstrations.

After the meeting Edward Hammett and Robert Gordon gave their 4-H demonstration to the boys and girls. Refreshments were served.

Those present at the meeting were Mesdames E. V. Burgess Jr., E. C. Hammett, Jean Beene, A. E. Jackson, Carl Kleuskens, and Darrell Thomason, and members Orval Frankie Griffith, Edward Hammett, Robert Gordon, Rickie Ward, Dale Kleuskens, Trudie Jackson, Sandra Jean Coffin, Linda K. Hallows, Celia Ann Morris, Lynette Thomason, Barbara Kaye Ward, Linda Kleuskens, Cecilia Reinauer, Diana Golden, Judy Ward, Judy Jackson, and Roy Burgess.

Wain Miller have automatically qualified for regional journalism contests since there is no journalism competition on the district level. Oooh, terror!!

Diane Wilson accompanied Lani and Rosi Rush (who in turn accompanied their parents, Dr. and Mrs. Clyde Rush) to San Angelo where Lani was a bridesmaid in the wedding of Patricia Ann Baker and Larry Cox. The wedding ceremony was read in the First Baptist Church of Grape-Creek, Tex. (near San Angelo) on Saturday at 8 p. m. These pilgrims returned to Hereford on Sunday.

Bits of News: Since Heather Gordon (you will remember her as our exchange student from South Africa) had not yet seen the Golden Spread's "scenic wonders"—Palo Duro Canyon and Buffalo Lake, Jan Story took her on a sight-seeing jaunt last Sunday afternoon. The two visited both the Canyon and the Lake. So now Heather has been there!

Kay Allen (who is attending W. T.) spent last weekend with Dianna Robinson, Greg Combs, Joyce West, Suzanne Langley, Steve McWhorter, Troy Don Moore, Luanne Higgins, Ann Smith, John Buck, Drew Kershner, and Ginny Higgins are among the college students home for Easter and Spring Vacation.

At last! Word from junior high! Station Freshman Steve Hodges placed third in the Optimist Club essay oratorical contest conducted in Amarillo last Sunday, April 7. Bravo, Steve!

No activities have been scheduled at the Community Center for Friday night, however, Mrs. Cave says that she will open the Center at 8:30 on Saturday night so that you high schoolers can come by and loaf — ping-pong and other games will be available. Incidentally, individual as well as group conduct at the Center is much improved! Certainly this improvement can be attributed, in part, to the fact that you teenagers respect the regulations that have been set for you by the Center Student Council. Congratulations! And let's keep it that way!

To end these notes, here is a quote especially for all the award-winning teens: "So in each action 'is success that gives it all its comeliness."

public and no admission will be charged at the park entrance. Response was good Tuesday night for two meetings of specialized interest. There were good crowds for the program on livestock feeding also at the first of four discussions about flight safety.

More and more new people seem to be coming to town each day. We are seeing different faces and cars as we make our rounds and notice a general increase in foot traffic along Main Street. We hope that Hereford residents won't lose their spirit of friendliness and good cheer in the press of business. The city's friendly attitude has been one of its most endearing features through the years and has earned the city lots of supporters from other places, plus some new residents who decided to settle down here.

We understand that Cleo Meberg is being transferred from Hereford to take over the southwestern Public Service Co. district manager's office in Plainview. We hate to lose Cleo, who's been a fine civic worker and a real booster for the community. Sometimes he acted too much like a Lions Club member, but generally has been a pretty good 'ol boy. Melvin Jayro of Pampa will take his place.

Because of the Easter holidays, Hereford's baseball game here with Levelland has been moved up to Thursday afternoon. Starting time is 4 p. m.

Speaking of Easter, Hereford school will be dismissed Thursday afternoon for holidays on Friday and Monday. Hereford schools will dismiss at 2:30 p. m. while St. Anthony's is to dismiss at the regular time.

"Before 1940 a daily gain average of two pounds was considered good. Today we must get at least two and three-quarters to three pounds per day in order to make feeding pay. "Cattle have been good to us. Since 1940 we have lost on only two years. In 1952 the market broke from 42 cents per pound to 23. And then in 1956 the drought reached a peak and everybody had to sell once more. But the bad years were few and far between," Marion recalled. In order to produce the desired weight gains and useful meat production in cattle many problems have had to be solved, he pointed out.

"After we learned that cattle are affected by vitamin and mineral shortages, it became relatively simple to determine what feeding rations were necessary to produce healthy cattle. "For instance we learned that vitamin A must be added to many types of dry rations. Soil differences will affect the quality of feeds, and, therefore anyone growing feed for livestock should have soil and feed tested to see what essentials may be lacking.

"Often feeds produced on irrigated land require more additives than do dryland feeds," Marion pointed out. "This is because fertilizers used for highly concentrated production sometimes destroy food value of grains.

Pointing out that most of the work on feed additives has come since 1952, he listed a few of the antibiotics and hormones which help put on weight. "Use of certain additives does put more weight on the animal, but unless we are careful the faster gain hurts the grade of the meat," he cautioned.

One of the more successful weight promoting additives is a combination of teramycin and stilbestrol. Proper use of these additives increases daily gain averages as much as seven-tenths of a pound, he stated. Cattle receiving the above chemicals graded as well as those without the chemical additives in tests carried on at Spur.

In previous tests at Spur, Marion included the additives at every feeding. "Last summer we cut the additive in half by feeding it every other week. In this way we stepped up the grade somewhat while cutting our additive cost about $1.40 per animal. But the cattle still gained almost as fast with the lesser dosage."

Marion has also conducted tests using teramycin and stilbestrol, along with another additive, topazol, to come up with an even more successful additive formula. However, the latter chemical has not yet been cleared for use by the Food and Drug Administration.

"So far the stilbestrol-teramycin additive is the most beneficial which we have found in testing at Spur," he stated. He then released statistics showing the success of the additive feeding program over a long period of time.

Pointing to the high cost of land in the Texas Panhandle, Marion explained the value of this feeding program as it applies to local agriculture.

"Dryland prices have climbed from less than ten dollars an acre 20 years ago to over $75 in many areas. Ranchers now say that $20 - $30 is the most a person can pay for grazing land and still come out ahead in one lifetime.

"A person who already has land for cattle grazing has little problem, but it is difficult for the common man to enter a cattle raising operation if he has to buy the land... it still takes the same 20 - 25 acres of grazing area per cow as it did back when the land was less expensive.

"Because of this we see the commercial applications of a drylot feeding program such as the one at Spur. Through careful planning, it is now possible for the average farmer to begin cattle feeding.

"Before our program proved to be successful, cattlemen thought it was next to impossible to feed cattle year-round in crowded pen conditions, but we have been doing it with excellent results.

"In fact there are many advantages in a small dry-lot feeding program as compared

(Continued from page 1) Mike Ranspot also singled, but was stranded. Last two runs for Dumas came on another homer by Ballard, a walk, an error and a single.

Lynn Cook led off the seventh for Hereford with a single, but couldn't advance as three fly balls were gobbled up by the Demons.

Kendrick was charged with the loss as he gave up three runs on three hits. Bybee worked one and two-thirds innings, allowing eight runs on six hits. He walked none and struck out one. Cain finished with four and one-third innings. He gave up seven runs on nine hits, walked three and struck out one. Willoughby and Green each had two hits in three trips to lead the Whitefaces at bat.

Hereford was charged with six errors while Dumas had none.

County...

Charles Bell presented a proposal for group life insurance for county employees. The matter was taken under advisement. Salaries of R. V. Burmes, L. E. Hubbard, Carl Stevenson and Jimmy Carpenter were raised. All are county maintainer operators.

The meeting was recessed about 3 p. m. until 10 a. m. Thursday, when more business is to be considered.

with range and pasture feeding. Some of these are: higher percentage of calf crop, heavier calves at weaning, improved breeding efficiency, constant food supply, market for feeds, flexibility, and less capital investment," he declared. Marion pointed out that a drylot feeding program is well suited to the area because of its flexibility. Cattle could graze available grasses and crops and then move to the lots in times of grazing shortage or adverse weather. During the meeting he distributed literature listing statistical results of cattle feeding experimentation at Spur. He closed the program with a color slide presentation showing the testing program in action. A question and answer period followed.

We are merely citizens who are trying to solve a problem," he declared. "Although we are starting in a small way, we hope that the movement will spread to other areas and eventually throughout the nation."

"We are losing our country to socialism without any real opportunity for the common voter to defend it against this enemy," Carter stated. We are trying to create an opportunity for the American voters to reject this evil political philosophy. Many of us look at this thing from a Christian standpoint. Socialism is the greatest anti-Christian force in the world today. It destroys the individual through eroding his character," he commented. "It is as much our duty to defend our country against erosion from within as it is to defend against armed invasion. Carter vowed. "We are taking the responsibility to launch a fight to recover inherited political rights of the common citizen in this nation."

"We are not attempting to aid any political party, but we are merely trying to promote our goal — destroying socialism — in the most feasible way possible," Carter repeated.

Commenting on a recent statement by Senator Goldwater in which he declared that he is not now a candidate for the presidential nomination, Carter stated, "We feel that the Senator will change his mind when he gets tangible proof of the support of the grass roots citizens of the United States."

Carter joined with other executives of the local committee (Dr. Milton Adams is secretary - treasurer and J. C. McCracken is chairman of the voter canvassing committee) in expressing optimism concerning the outlook for the effort. "We are quite pleasantly surprised with the warm reception which the public has given our movement," Carter admitted. "Many people here whom we had not anticipated as supporters have voiced support of our program."

Carter pointed out that similar movements have sprung up "spontaneously" in other parts of the nation.

"But we are an organization which is completely local in origin and nature," Carter pointed out. "We have no affiliation with any other group. If and when Senator Goldwater decides to accept a nomination, we will send him local contributions as he directs."

"However, if for some reason the senator does not accept a nomination, we will return the money to the donors," Carter promised. With the local voter canvass already underway, the Restore Constitutional Government Group is preparing literature to be distributed in other areas in order to advance the movement. 4-H Clubs' First Favorite Foods Show Very Successful

Kathlyn James, Vicky Koelzer, Margaret Minks and Patsy Paetzold won top honors in the 4-H Club Favorite Foods Show, which was held Saturday at the Bull Barn. There were 24 entries in the various divisions. Each of the girls had prepared a "favorite food" to exhibit at the show.

In addition, each girl was prepared to tell the judges about the food: how to prepare it, what nutrients it contained, what the nutrients did to make the body healthy, how much the dish cost and what other foods were necessary to plan a balanced meal.

Each girl also demonstrated her ability to set an attractive table for the type of meal in which the prepared dish would be included.

It was decided that the program was so much fun and so informative that it would be repeated on an annual basis. Judges for the show were Miss Celia Patton, Castro County Home Demonstration Agent, and Mrs. Margaret Ann Durham, Hereford High School homemaking instructor.

Participants were judged on the basis of food prepared, their knowledge of the preparation and nutrition involved and the attractiveness of the table setting. Following were the awards presented after judging was completed:

H. D. CHATTER District THDA Meet In Friona Thursday

By Argen Draper
The district convention of the Texas Home Demonstration Association is being held in Friona today (Thursday, April 11). The club women, under the leadership of Mrs. Louis Olson, had planned to have 100 in attendance from Deaf Smith County. Farmer County does not have a home demonstration agent now and our club women have wanted very much to go over and support them in their efforts to carry on without a agent.

With Easter parties and school being out early on Thursday our attendance may be less than we had once planned. The Texas Home Demonstration Association is the women's organization and the agents go as guests. Mrs. R. A. Hodges, mother of Mrs. Wayne Thomas, is the District Director of the Panhandle District.

The warm spring days are putting people outside in the yard and garden. Sunday it seemed that everyone was on the highways. They were driving leisurely as though they were out to enjoy the beautiful weather.

The shrubs look so terrible. I know you are tempted to dig them up and set out some more. However, our specialists say to wait and see if they will come out after watering and some special care.

A release from Extension Service states that, according to a nationwide survey recently made by Dr. H. Lee Jacobs of the University of Iowa, 10 percent of all students enrolled in adult education courses are over 65. There's every reason to expect the number of students over 65 to keep growing, since those are the years of retirement when there is plenty of time for study.

School officials say their older students get many benefits from their second fling at education. Improvement of old skills and acquisition of new ones, new feelings of usefulness, new friendships formed, more creative use of leisure, improvement in personal appearance, increased prestige and status, greater self-confidence and continued intellectual growth.

Mrs. Dorothea Prowell and I have been comparing notes on the surveys that we have made. Her work was with students in the clothing classes and my work was with families in Deaf Smith County, both farm, non farm, club and non club. We have enjoyed our work and think it has given us a boost in our profession.

We need more home economists. There are many vacancies in Texas with Extension and in other areas, too. We are always glad when senior girls enroll in home economics.

The home economics scholarships presented by the Texas Home Demonstration Association were awarded this year to Sarah Lou McCullough of Comanche County; Lynda Mechell of Foard County and Christine Laws, Travis County.

Hints if you are planning to sell your home: Repair such little things as leaky faucets and loose doorknobs and cupboard handles; dress up the bathroom with fresh towels, new soap, a big mirror; keep closets neat; be sure that the grass is cut and the hedge trimmed; if you can arrange it, be away when your broker shows the house - prospective buyers will feel more at ease.

Miss Duvall Is Area Posture Contest Finalist

Miss Dyan Duvall of Hereford was selected as one of six finalists in the Miss Posture contest, sponsored by the Panhandle Chiropractors Association. The contest was held in the XIT Room at the Herring Hotel Saturday, April 6 at 8:30 p. m.

Winners will be announced and prizes awarded on Cotton John's Farm and Ranch Show, on KGNU TV Saturday, April 13, at 12 noon. Miss Duvall's sponsor in the contest is Dr. Gale J. Page.

Accompanying Miss Duvall here to appear in the contest was Rodney Culwell, who is from Venezuela. His father is with Standard Oil Company there.

Both Miss Duvall and Culwell are students at North Texas State Teachers College. They spent the weekend in the home of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. M. G. Duvall.

OFF THE Shelf

BY H. A. TUCK

We shied away from historical novels for more than a year because they were generally insipid and virtually plotless. But one new book in the Deaf Smith County library certainly is worth reading if you care for an exciting narrative based upon truth.

Richard Powell's I Take This Land is such a book. It easily covers a 50-year span, from 1895 to 1946, in the development of southern Florida.

The author explains that the background is authentic and many of the events — such as the Big Freeze, the land boom, the 1926 hurricane, the struggle to tame the Everglades — are real. All of the characters except one are fictional.

When the Big Freeze came, three of the book's principal characters were thus occupied: young Ward Champion was striding up and down a station platform, anxious to return to Tampa where he could study the way in which an empire was built.

Joel Emmett, a huge bear of a man, was standing in an orange grove near Orlando. He took a moment to pray, then began making sure that the piles of fat pine were ready for firing around the grove.

Rush Lightburn felt the touch of cold as he hunted near the Big Cypress. He had hoped to call a turkey into range of his shotgun, but when he felt the chill, he spat disgustedly and headed back to camp, because the birds wouldn't move on a day like that.

Ward Champion had a little money and a lot of nerve as he won a railroad charter in a poker game. But he didn't know what to do with it until he found an orange branch with oranges attached that had been sent north after the Big Freeze. He went south to Fort Taylor, a struggling little frontier town in southwest Florida. He found a land where it didn't freeze. But he also found an enchanting young school teacher, Anne Bevier.

Rush Lightburn, his mother and sister Julie, lived in the swamps near Fort Taylor. Rush also had his eye on Miss Anne.

South of Fort Taylor was the Big Hat Ranch, where Big Hat Thompson, an unreconstructed Rebel, lived with his stick-thin daughter, Mary Lou.

Arriving in Fort Taylor the same day were Joel Emmett and his younger brother. Together, these people form the basis for an exciting story of a raw country that will bend only to strong, determined people. Powell is good reading.

Thomas Otis Foster, 63, died at 1:30 a. m. Sunday, April 7, in Deaf Smith County Hospital after a long illness. Mr. Foster lived with his son, Leroy, at 516 Star.

Born April 4, 1900, in Arden, Tex., Mr. Foster came to Hereford last month from Clovis, N. M. on Feb. 6, 1924, he was married to Louella Saunders, who died in 1934. He was a member of the Methodist Church.

Services were conducted in the Rose Chapel of Gilliland Funeral Home Monday, April 8, at 2 p. m. The Rev. Herschel Thurston of the First Methodist Church in Hereford officiated. Burial was in West Park Cemetery.

Survivors include two sons, Leroy of Hereford and Duane of Midland; five brothers, Lon of Salem, Ore., Bob of Lubbock, Woodrow of Center, Emmett of Hart, and Ray of Merckel; a sister, Mrs. Opal Robertson of Slaton, and seven grandchildren.

Mr. and Mrs. Tunny Wilson were guests in the home of Mrs. Nora Gillis, his aunt.

FACTS ABOUT PLYMOUTH'S NEW WARRANTY*

DOES IT INCLUDE THE COST OF LABOR?
Yes. There is absolutely no charge for labor and parts. For the entire life of the warranty, should any defect in material or workmanship occur on the parts covered by the warranty, it will not cost you one single cent to have this defect corrected.

DOES IT COVER EXPENSIVE PARTS?
Absolutely! It covers the major power train components—the engine block and its internal parts, the automatic transmission and its internal parts, the rear axle. These are parts that would normally cost plenty to replace or repair.

IS IT TRANSFERABLE WHEN YOU SELL THE CAR?
Yes. As long as the car has been serviced at reasonable intervals according to the Plymouth-Valiant Certified Car Care schedule, the warranty can be passed on to the new owner. Think what that will do to the resale value of your Plymouth!

*Your Authorized Plymouth-Valiant Dealer's Warranty against defects in material and workmanship on 1963 cars has been expanded to include parts replacement or repair, without charge for required parts or labor, for 5 years or 50,000 miles, whichever comes first, on the engine block, head and internal parts; transmission case and internal parts (excluding manual clutch); torque converter, drive shaft, universal joints (including dust covers), rear axle and differential, and rear wheel bearings, provided the vehicle has been serviced at reasonable intervals according to the Plymouth-Valiant Certified Car Care schedule.

Voters In Walcott School District Pass Bond Issue

By Mrs. S. N. Thweatt
In the Walcott Common School District election held Saturday, the turnout was good. The bond issue calling for the expenditure of $100,000 for construction of additions to the school passed with 37 votes cast for the proposal and 20 against.

the election. There were no write-ins. Mrs. H. D. Buse was notified late Friday that her father Pete Jones of Wellington, was critically ill. She was taken to Canyon where she met a brother and his wife who were traveling to Wellington. Mr. Jones died early Saturday in the Wellington hospital. Funeral services were held at 2:30 p. m. Monday. Mr. Jones had recently celebrated his 87th birthday. Miss Shirley Bourquin and Miss Paula Green attended the funeral for Miss Bouquin's grandmother in Oklahoma recently. Returning to the community with them were Miss Green's mother and twin sisters. Mr. and Mrs. Bill White, Mrs. Bill Monroe and Mrs. Joe Merrill took children to Lazbuddie on Saturday, March 30. Thomas Collins drove a school bus carrying the others to the district meet.

Party Honors Eight-Year-Old Vance McGee

In honor of his eighth birthday, a party was given for Vance McGee on Sunday, April 7, at his home at 426 Star. The party was given by Vance's sister, Miss Jo Ella McGee. Assisting her were their mother, Mrs. Lloyd McGee, grandmother, Mrs. W. C. Calton, and Jesse Wright. Following the Easter theme, there was an egg hunt with Glenelda Edwards and Craig Fields winning prizes for finding the most eggs. Guests registered for a large chocolate egg prize which was won by Walter Olson.

Guests at the party were Glenelda Edwards, David Duvall, Dale Hollingsworth, Keith and Rocky Battenfield, Bryan Goodin, Craig Fields, Monte Morton, Walter Olson, Larry and Robbie Lomas, and the guest of honor, Vance McGee.

Dr. Wesley Owen spoke on the care of gums and teeth to the Young Homemakers Club on April 2. He illustrated the proper way to brush the teeth and massage the gums and stressed the importance of regular dental checkups, not necessarily every six months, but every six weeks if needed. During a discussion period one of the most interesting questions concerned the use of the electric toothbrush. Dr. Owen stated that he liked them very much and thought them especially good for massaging, but felt they could not take the place of dental tape and stimulants. Meeting in the home of Mrs. Huey Lowrie with Mrs. Richard Clark presiding, the club members heard Mrs. Roy Evans give the Council report. Everyone was encouraged to attend the District THDA meeting in Friona on April 11. Mesdames Richard Clark, Kenneth DeHart, Charles Brown, David Brumley, Roy Evans, Lee Roy Burges, and the hostess, Mrs. Huey Lowrie were the members present. A new member, Mrs. Archie Scott, was welcomed into the club. Mrs. Bill Craig was a guest. The next meeting of the club will be in the Friendship Room of the First National Bank on April 16 with Mrs. Kenneth DeHart as hostess.

HEREFORD TRACKSTERS earned the right to enter regional competition April 17-19 in Odessa by taking top spots in the District 1-AAA track meet held last week. Top left is Manuel Pacheco, who ran second in the mile run. Top right is Ronnie Welty, who won first in both the low and high hurdles in district competition. At bottom is Charles Kelly, second place low hurdler. Hereford earned fifth place in the district meet, coming out of the cellar for the first time in four years. (Staff Photos)

By Melvin Young
Going against our better judgment, we finally succumbed to pressure from the better half and fertilized the lawn. By this time next week the dandelions will be six inches high. Big, beautiful dandelions with those golden heads, spreading their joy throughout the neighborhood (with the aid of the April breezes). Soon all our neighbors will also be blessed with a good crop. All of which will make us quite popular along McKinley Street.

Now this is all well and good, but due to a narrow-minded city ordinance against keeping goats on the premises, it looks like we'll be forced to drag out the old lawn mower, change the oil and get ready for the inevitable consequences.

However, considering the shape our mower is in, and the stamina of these West Texas dandys, we may have to resort to other methods. We have considered the use of flame cultivation, but since this is the windy month of the year, we'd probably burn down the entire neighborhood. Actually, the longer we think about it, the more we're inclined to agree with Jim Lipscomb, who surrendered to his aching sacroiliac and replaced his tire front lawn with rocks. Not only does he not have to worry about mowing the lawn, but if he gets mad at the neighbors, he has plenty of ammo for his nigger-shooter (with apologies to the NAACP). It's hard to get that many coons up one tree these days.

Another old boy who seems to be getting wiser is Bill Lankford. While driving down 25 Mile Avenue this week, we noticed that Bill has followed Jim's example and replaced the grass in front of the flower shop with gravel. However, if this trend continues, we may have trouble with folks like Delmo Williams and Frank Gyles, both being in the business of selling lawn grass seed and fertilizer. Oh well, you can't win them all.

Perhaps we should avoid discussing the international situation since we seem to suffer from a severe case of foot-in-mouth disease every time we broach the subject, but the image of Uncle Sam shaking in his boots when confronted by the great bearded one from Cuba almost gives us epilepsy.

Not only do we allow Fidel to enslave the people of Cuba, but now we have sided the Navy onto the rebel forces who have the audacity to harass if Fido. But it does show that we're not completely devoid of intestinal fortitude. It takes a lot of nerve for the world's most powerful navy to face - up to the rebels equipped with 35-foot motor boats. After all, we've all heard what happened to Goliath. But the thing that really worries us is the fact that we might be missing some opportunity to serve Castro. Like perhaps, shining his boots or wiping his socialistic nose. Or maybe our little friend needs some help to show that our heart is in the right place, we should send a regiment of peace corps volunteers to attend to these details. Certainly we don't want to anger Senor Ferro... he might refuse our next ransom payment.

The President's proposed tax reduction, and subsequent loophole tightening plan seems to be backfiring. Latest reports indicate that the hotel and cafe business in our nation's largest convention city, Chicago, has dropped off more than 20 per cent and that thousands of waiters and hotel employees have been placed on the rolls of the unemployed; the tax loss from this source alone running into the hundreds of thousands. Business men visiting the city are not sure what entertainment is deductible and what isn't. Many attending the conventions alone, leaving their wives at home and cutting entertainment expenses to the bare minimum.

The nation's economy is a gigantic, complex thing that few of us understand. It's workings baffle even the so-called experts, but one-point is clear... you can't maintain a healthy economy by adding to the already staggering list of unemployed. And you can't keep the nation's working force at a peak when the business men begin to pull in their horns.

Eugene Brink, pastor of the First Christian Church allows that the Lord sometimes works in mysterious ways. While in school Gene was having difficulty deciding between the ministry and a career in chemical engineering. "However," says Gene, "after flunking chemistry and physics, my mind was made up."

It's costing us more to make history these days than the stuff is worth.

Which reminds us of the story concerning Wellington Koo, former Chinese Nationalist Ambassador to the United States. While attending one of the elaborate Washington banquets, Mr. Koo paid scant attention to a local dowager seated next to him. Bombarding him with senseless small talk, the lady intermittently interrupted her ceaseless chatter to ask: "speakee English?" Later, Mr. Koo was asked to say a few words to the guests. He obliged in perfect English. As he resumed his seat, he smiled pleasantly at the red-faced matron and inquired: "Likee speechee?"

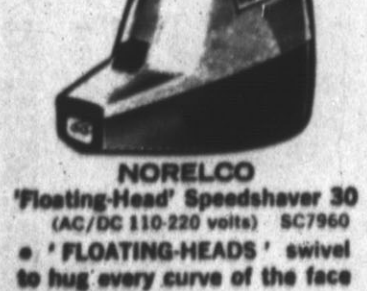

One nice thing about the horse was that some designer couldn't make yours obsolete long before it was paid for.

VISIT ROBERT THOMPSONS Weekend guests in the home of the Robert Thompsons of Hereford were Donald Smithson of Dimmitt and the Thompson grandchildren, Tommy, Terry, and Tammy True of Borger. The children returned to Borger with their father, Dan True, Sunday afternoon.
