Latin - American Youths Surprised During Burglary

Two Latin - American teenage boys and their 10-year-old sister were arrested by Hereford Police Department officers for allegedly breaking into Vaughn Laundry, 115 Lawton, twice during the past week.

The first of the two burglaries is reported to have occurred last Thursday. The youths are alleged to have entered the firm again on Monday.

In the first burglary of the laundry it was reported that several bars of candy were missing and $4 - $5 worth of pennies were taken.

Following the burglary, M. P. Vaught, the firm's owner, began staying at the business.

The youths are alleged to have committed the second break - in Monday about 8:30 p. m. They tried to enter the building through a side door but were unsuccessful.

Going to a rear door, the two boys are said to have pried it open enough for their sister to squeeze through the crack. Once inside, she unlocked the door.

The girl and the younger boy are alleged to have been opening the candy box and the third member of the group was at the cash box when Vaught surprised them.

In the struggle that followed as Vaught tried to hold the trio, the girl's belt, with her name inside, fell off. It was found by police officers who investigated after the youngsters had escaped from Vaught.

The two boys, 15 and 14, were held for hearing in Juvenile Court, Judge H. C. Williams presiding. Both were remanded to the State Reformatory at the hearing held Tuesday.

Interrupted by the roll of drums and a burst of trumpets, "Mr. Interlocuter" will announce the opening of the third annual Hereford Lions Club Minstrel Show Thursday and Friday nights in the high school auditorium.

Promptly at 8 p. m., the Lions Club extravaganza will get underway.

Featuring new talent, old favorites, and lots of ballyhoo on the part of the famed Endmen, the blackfaced minstrel is billed as bigger and better than ever before.

As Cleo Meharg (Mr. Interlocuter) finishes his fanfare-filled introduction, the lights will go out and the show will go on as the 100-member cast suddenly materializes to the tune of "When the Saints Go Marching In."

Accompanied, of course, by the Darktown Ramblers, the show will feature new musical sensations, two chorus lines, and much, much more, according to director Charlie Bell.

End men Rosebud, Hack-saw, Dewdrop, Guzzie, Snowball, and Eggplant, better known as Steve Savousett, Neil Cooper, John Gilliland, Harold Kidds, Albert Maxwell, and Wylie Quatlebaum, respectively, will provide the intoxicating punch lines for the audience's dry funny bones.

The Darktown Ramblers for the third annual show include Charlie Bell on the clarinet and sax, Don Baugous at the piano, Tommy Weemes with drums, Gerald Martin and Tex Rhodes on guitar, Woodie McDermitt, string bass and banjo, Clyde Wilson with trombone, Bill Penn on trumpet; Dr. A. T. Mims on saxophone, and Glen Nelson and Alvin Schmucker strumming the banjo.

Members of the Hereford Lions Club will fill the ranks of the vocal chorus.

One of the top features of the show has traditionally been THE chorus line. This can no longer be said, Bell reasons, since this year there are TWO high kicking lines.

Comprising the "Highbrown Girls" of past fame are Judy Kreighausser, Jenny Holt, Kay Semonds, Connie Kent, Suzie Higgins, Jan Story, Terry Smith, Judy Schulte, Diane Schmucker, and Shari Jo Carmichael.

New addition to the show will be the Southern Belles, consisting of Linda Kidds, Pat Loerwald, Cleo Weemes, Amy Gilliland, and Jo Carter.

Also joining the minstrel production ranks for the first time is Erin Wertenberger, who is in charge of arranging the featured musical production number. Art and drama major at West Texas State, Erin takes charge of art work and sets for the show.

Included in the list of feature numbers are Clyde Wilson, wailing a mean Dixieland trombone; Charles Kelly, Dick Combs, and Ron Gray, better known as "the Highlanders", a high school vocal pop trio accompanied by Charles Mims;

Spotlighted in her interpretation of the all-time favorite "Summertime" will be Amy Gilliland, female vocalist appearing in the minstrel for the first time.

Another new attraction for the show will be a top-hat routine featuring high school head twirlers Jerre Bea Noland and Kathy Boston.

All this and more will be included in the Lions Club Minstrel, slated for Thursday and Friday nights.

MILD MAYHEM RESULTS when the six Endmen of the Lions Club minstrel get together but they always manage to leave their viewers laughing. Practicing for their appearance at the third annual Lions Club production slated for Thursday and Friday nights at 8 p. m. in the high school auditorium, the comical crew consists of, from the left: Guzzie (Harold Kidds), Rosebud (Steve Savousett), Snowball (Albert Maxwell), Dewdrop (John Gilliland), Hack-saw (Neil Cooper), Eggplant (Wylie Quatlebaum), and Mr. Interlocuter (Cleo Meharg). Type III Sabin Vaccine Sunday

Final step in the mass inoculation of Deaf Smith County residents against polio will be taken here Sunday as the third dose of Sabin Oral Polio Vaccine is administered at two clinics here.

In the city, a clinic will be set up at Hereford High School Cafeteria and will be open from 10 a. m. to 6 p. m.

For convenience of Labor Camp residents, the second clinic is to be held at the camp's hospital and will be operated from 11 a. m. to 3 p. m.

Both are being sponsored by Hereford Medical Association and Hereford Junior Chamber of Commerce.

The mass inoculation program began in Deaf Smith County as the first clinics were held here in December with approximately 7500 area residents taking the initial dose of the oral vaccine.

In a second clinic held here for type II of the vaccine, a total of 6857 residents participated in the clinic.

As county residents prepared to take Type II of the Sabin vaccine, announcement was made by Hereford Medical Association that Type III would be given to residents in the area on March 3.

In making the announcement, it was pointed out that Type III of the vaccine had been cleared by Tierra Blanca Medical Association.

No changes have been made in the operation of the clinics to be held here. County residents and their children who have taken previous doses of the vaccine do not need to fill in pre-registration blanks. However, they must present (Continued on page 6)

County Seeks Changes For Fire Contract

By H. H. TUCK

Addition of a 20-room unit to the Deaf Smith County Hospital was requested by hospital board members Monday. They were meeting with the Deaf Smith County Commissioners about the need for additional facilities at the county-owned hospital.

The matter has been taken under advisement as both groups try to figure out possible methods of financing.

Total cost of the project was estimated at $350,000, which would include the 20 additional rooms and extensive renovation and repair to the original portion of the building.

Present for the meeting as members of the hospital board were Ira Scott, Ed Loerwald, J. T. Gilbreath Jr., Wayne Thomas and Dr. A. T. Mims. Hospital manager T. E. Seliger also was present for the hour-long discussion.

Gilbreath, vice president of the board, opened the meeting by explaining that the board had made a year-long study of medical facilities here and felt that a 20-room addition would be necessary very soon. He said that the cost for the addition, and renovation, would be about $350,000. "What we want to know," he asked of the County Commission, "is how to finance this?"

County Judge H. C. Williams explained that the county was (Continued on page 6)

A request to renegotiate the county fire protection contract was made by Deaf Smith County Commissioners during a busy session Monday.

Only two items of business were discussed by the group Monday afternoon. One was on a request from the hospital board for consideration of a 20-room addition to present facilities. The other was on the county's fire contract with the city.

Commissioners asked that County Judge H. C. Williams talk with city officials about extending coverage one mile outside the city limits. The county, reviewing fire calls for the past year, felt that the county was being charged for many fires which are just outside the city limits and more properly should be classed as city fires.

At present, the county pays the City of Hereford for fire protection. The cost is based on the ratio of city-county fires, but does not include all fire department costs. Included are salaries, fires and drills, supplies, equipment maintenance, utilities and communications, training schools, insurance and depreciation on one truck.

For the period from Feb. 1, 1962, through Jan. 31, 1963, there were 75 city fires and 63 county fires. The county's share, 46 per cent, would be $6-611.82. This is an increase of about $400 over last year.

Deadlines Near For Candidates

As filing deadlines near, three candidates have filed for Hereford City Commission, four for posts on the Board of Trustees of Hereford Rural High School District and two by petition for county school boards.

Filing for positions on the City Commission were Mayor Ray Cowser, W. L. Davis Jr., commissioner; Place 1, and G. E. Brown, commissioner, Place 2.

Deadline for filing in the city election is March 1 with the election to be held on April 2. All three candidates are incumbents.

Filing for posts on the Board of Trustees for Hereford Rural High School District are incumbents Bill Gentry and Glen Parris. A third member of the board, B. F. Cain, announced Tuesday he would not be a candidate for re-election.

"I have enjoyed serving on the board," stated Cain, "but I have decided not to be a candidate in the coming school election."

Also filing for election to the board were Albert Maxwell and Hugh Clearman.

In the election to be held here April 6, three of the four candidates will be elected at large to fill vacancies on the Board of Trustees.

Filing deadline has been set for March 7.

In other county school elections, G. V. Hall will be a candidate for a post on the board of Walcott Common School District No. 6, and J. V. Perrin is a candidate for county school trustee, precinct 4.

Both names were placed on the ballot by petition.

If no one in your family has had the flu yet, you just don't know how lucky you are. It must be rougher than ever before; at least that's what those who have recovered say about it. Generally it hits more than one person in the family.

For example, Dr. Dale Wynn returned from Dallas a couple of weeks ago with the stuff. Now, he's up, but the other three Wynns are down with it. If it's any consolation, those who have recovered declare that you won't really die with it... you just feel like you will.

They are Eugene Green, junior catcher; Johnny Willoughby, senior shortstop; Ronnie Duncan, junior, third baseman, and Arnold Powell, senior outfielder.

At present, about 30 students are taking part in practice, but Kitchens plans to trim this to about 20 players this week. A number of American Legion and Pony League players are expected to strengthen the squad.

The district teams will play a double round-robin schedule, playing each of the other teams twice at home and twice on the road.

150 Hear Long Explanation Of Wheat Program For 1964

Farmers from nine counties heard a 2 1/2-hour discussion of the proposed two-price wheat program for 1964 here Monday night. The meeting was sponsored by the Deaf Smith County Farm Bureau and attracted visitors from Castro, Farmer, Bailey, Armstrong, Oldham, Carlson, Potter, and Randall Counties.

Denzil Pulliam, county FB president, opened the program with a brief outline of Farm Bureau, its control and its operations. He also cited the membership growth of the national group.

Principal speaker for the lengthy meeting that attracted about 150 persons was Bill Wedemeyer, director of education and information for the Texas Farm Bureau.

"It's not true, that if a little price support is a good thing, then a big price support is better," he declared. "We (the Farm Bureau) didn't want price supports on wheat, but we are going to have them. What we'll do now is give you the facts about the program."

Wedemeyer explained the various parts of the proposal, starting with the introduction of legislative findings. This part says that all wheat will come under the program, states which diverted acres will be controlled, the goal is for fair prices both for producers and consumers.

The program can be carried on each year if the Secretary of Agriculture determines before April 15 that the crop would be in surplus in the absence of quotas or marketing orders. The Secretary then would declare the program for a one, two or three year period. The Secretary then is required to set up marketing quotas in bushels of wheat. First factor is human consumption, (all figures are estimates previously made by the Secretary and are not firm figures yet). That will be about 500 million bushels. Seed wheat will be about 52 million; exports about 630 million, and feed quota, based on the average of 1959 and 1960, about 43 million bushels, for a total of 1 billion, 225 million bushels.

From this amount, the Secretary will deduct estimated imports, about 5 million, and surplus taken from CCC stocks, about 150 million.

The Secretary may increase or decrease these amounts, but not below a minimum of 1 billion bushels. Acreage allotments, based on an average production of 26 (Continued on page 6)

REP. ROGERS WRITES:

Committees Now Meeting To Shape Proposed Bills

The lights are burning late these nights on Capitol Hill. This first session of the 88th Congress at last is down to business. Congressional committees are meeting to shape the legislation that will affect every American and our friends and enemies — aboard.

The key work of the Congress comes in the long, tedious meetings of the 19 standing committees of the House, the 16 standing committees of the Senate and the 130 or so subcommittees of both chambers.

Once a bill is introduced, the assigned committee may call for a hearing on it, may amend or completely rewrite it, may refuse to consider it, may reject it, or may report it to the full chamber with approval or disapproval.

The standing committees also may initiate new legislation and they serve as watchdogs on the administration and conduct of policy. Committee work is indeed the heart of the Congress.

"We are ruled by a score and a half of 'little legislatures,'" said Woodrow Wilson. His complaint centered on the power committees hold over pending legislation. It was an objection that was made by Presidents before and after Wilson as they sought to break the grip of powerful committee chairmen and committee members.

Many a program advocated by a President has been drastically revised or amended before it was reported out of committee for action in the House or Senate.

A recent study of 90 major acts showed that 46 of them were chiefly the products of Congress. But even those bills that did not originate with a member or committee of Congress bore the marks of Congressional revision before they reached the floor of either chamber. Few bills reach the House or Senate floor without considerable change.

As a member of the House Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, I serve as chairman of the Subcommittee on Communications and Power, which has initial jurisdiction over bills affecting interstate and foreign communications, petroleum and natural gas, interstate power, and the U. S. Weather Bureau.

As a member of the House Committee on Interior and Insular Affairs, I again have been assigned as chairman of the Subcommittee on Irrigation and Reclamation. This is the subcommittee which held original jurisdiction over bills to provide for the Canadian River Project now being built.

Were it not for the screening and spending work of the committees, Congress would bog down in a morass of confusion. More than 20,000 legislative proposals are expected to be introduced in this session. In addition, the Senate will consider nearly 100,000 Presidential nominations. Judging from past Congresses, only about 10 percent of proposed legislation will be enacted into law by the 88th Congress. And the 10 percent that make the grade will, for the most part, be those measures that were reported favorably by committees. Committee power is a fact of life.

As our government began, the practice was for the House to ask heads of executive departments to report on subjects for legislation. Bills then were shaped before the full House. Instead of standing committees, a number of select or special committees were appointed for specific but temporary purposes.

Had this system persisted, our legislative process would be similar to that of the British Parliament, in which no specialized standing committees participate. In Parliament, bills are initiated and shaped by ministries of government for consideration by the full houses.

Early in our history, Congress lost faith in the wisdom of the Executive branch. In 1792, when the Jeffersonians captured control of the House, a system of standing committees was established. By 1946, when the Legislative Reorganization Act was passed to straighten out the confusion, the House had 48 standing committees and the Senate 33.

The Act cut the number of standing committees in the House to 19 and those in the Senate to 15 and clarified the jurisdictions of each. Since then, one standing committee — that on civilian space activities — was added to each chamber. But subcommittees have multiplied.

Most legislation before this session is now in the committee stage. Bills given committee approval will move to the floor of the House or Senate, then, if approved, to conference committee where differences in the versions will be ironed out, then to the House and Senate for final approval, then to the President.

Mrs. Wagoner, Mrs. Draper Are Surprised

By Argen Draper

Council's Appreciation luncheon was a success last Monday. It is an annual affair where folks who support the extension program are honored. The tables were loaded with good food, the exhibits were good and the visiting and fellowship was pleasant. Many of the husbands of club women, county program building committee members and other friends attended. Mrs. Joe Wagoner was completely surprised at the award.

Monday noon just before the luncheon at the Bull Barn, I was surprised — and the loser in a radar trap.

Sometime ago I was in the backseat driver's position when a good friend was stopped for driving too slow. She actually is a very cautious and very good driver and she commented at that particular corner where traffic is heavy. The patrolman commented, "I won't give you a ticket but we'll put you on our watch list."

Right there I should have taken a cue and watched more carefully and possible I could have avoided the misunderstanding of what is a safe speed when the sun is shining, the traffic light, the pavement dry, and no intersections.

Sometimes when the sun is shining, the birds singing and the flowers blooming, there are some folks that try to take the joy out of living.

Here is an interesting release on home economics enrollment. Seven Texas colleges have reported an increased enrollment in home economics for the current school year. Possibly others may have larger enrollments.

This increased interest in home economics in Texas parallels that reported in colleges and universities of the nation. According to a recent survey, home economics enrollment in 67 institutions polled was up 4.3 percent in 1962 over the previous year.

Texas colleges reporting bigger home economics enrollments were Texas College of Arts and Industries, Kingsville; Pan American College, Edinburg; Texas Tech, Lubbock; North Texas State University, Denton; Mary Hardin Baylor, Belton; Lamar College of Technology, Beaumont; and Abilene Christian College, Abilene.

4-H Girls In Foods And Nutrition Study March 2

The Foods and Nutrition Educational Activity for Deaf Smith County 4-H Club girls will be held on Saturday, March 2. This is a method demonstration contest in which girls give information not only on how to prepare foods properly, but give information on purchasing food. They also tell exactly how certain foods contribute to good health and explain how science is involved in such things as why bread rises.

This event replaces the discontinued Dairy Foods Demonstration, which was popular with girls in this county. It is an opportunity for girls to gain confidence and self-confidence through speaking before a group.

Thirty-eight 4-H Club girls have entered the three divisions of the contest: the Beginner or local division, the Junior Division and the Senior Division. A girl will be chosen from each of the Junior and Senior Divisions to represent this county at the District Foods and Nutrition Educational Activity. Only girls who are actively participating in a Foods and Nutrition Subject matter group are eligible to enter the contest. Judges for the contest will be members of the Foods Subcommittee of the County Program Building Committee.

Plans and arrangements for the contest have been made by the girls. They have been trained and coached by Foods Subject Matter Leaders. Foods work in 4-H Clubs of Deaf Smith County can be favorably compared with that being done over the state. There are 24 women in the county who are Foods leaders for some 70 4-H girls. These women are constantly in training through the Extension Office and are doing a commendable job of guiding the girls through Foods Units I, II, or III.

Beginner Divisions of the contest will be held at the REA Building and at the Hereford Community Center. Junior and Senior Divisions will be held in the kitchen of the Bull Barn. Appropriate ribbon awards will be presented to the girls at 1:30 p. m. in the Scout Room of the Community Center.

bushels, will be as follows: 49.5 million acres for national allotments; less 3.7 million for small farms; 9.7 million of soil bank land; and 2.3 million abandoned or unharvested acres, for a net of 41.2 million acres for harvest. That would be 1 billion, 70 million bushels, plus 150 million from COC storage for a total of 1 billion, 220 million bushels, up 20 million from last year.

Wedemeyer said that the Secretary may bring in under the program, states with less than 25,000 acres of wheat land, if he wishes. This probably will be done, Wedemeyer said.

Small farms, those with less than 13 1/2 acres, will be included in the program. Wedemeyer pointed out that there are 35,044 such farms in Texas, compared with 30,094 of larger size. "If small farmers decide to come in and vote on the referendum, they can carry the election," he pointed out. In Texas, the ratio is 105 small farms and 1,013 of larger size.

He said that 280 million bushels of wheat were grown on small farms last year. Wedemeyer also discussed the program as it will apply to small farms.

He agreed as a comment was made that the referendum amounts to a controlled vote, since farmers can't vote unless they have signed an intention to participate in the program. He also declared that the program amounts to a supply control program.

For the referendum, voters will be those who are a party to the basic contract and have a direct interest in the success or failure of the crop. This includes the farmer, his wife, or those who make contributions of land, water, labor or capital. Absentee votes may be cast and a 2/3 majority is needed to approve the program.

The program includes land-use provisions, so land taken out of wheat production is controlled and the Secretary may designate non-surplus crops which are to be grown.

"This is a supply management program and you may be tied in to other surplus," Wedemeyer declared. He said payments would include 30 per cent of the county rate for the required acreage taken out of production and up to 50 per cent for additional acreage put under the program, up to a maximum of 30 per cent of the base acreage.

An erosion, or land conservation, factor also is included in the program, he said.

Of the total production, about 80 per cent would be certified wheat, with certificates valued at 65 to 90 per cent of parity, or about 70 cents each.

Support on feed wheat would be from zero to 100 per cent of parity.

One dangerous provision, Wedemeyer said, was that all persons who purchase or handle wheat, excluding only producers, would be required, as the Secretary might direct, to keep records. The Secretary would be authorized to examine all records, correspondence, etc., as deemed necessary.

Non-certificate wheat prices would be decided by world market price, export price or feed value.

"If supports are defeated, prices would be 50 per cent of parity or about $1.25 for cooperators," Wedemeyer said. "If a feed grain program is in effect, wheat and feed grain bases would be interchanged. The present program doesn't include a feed grain diversion program."

"The only choice you have is a fighting chance to stop a supply control program," Wedemeyer warned. "If a person wants freedom to do as he pleases, he cannot support such a program. If you choose to support this type program, you probably will never get out from under supply management program. This is a narrowing road," Wedemeyer warned, in conclusion.

We got a copy of the Albany, N. Y., Times - Union edition of Sunday, Feb. 3, recently. It includes a full-page picture story of the Linear Accelerator at Rensselaer Polytechnic Institute. Shown in two of the photos is Ralph Fullwood, a Hereford boy and son of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Fullwood. Ralph is nearing his Doctorate and is a graduate assistant on the linear research work at RPI.

Oh, yes, if you want to know what a linear accelerator is or does, we'll have to refer you to the article. It's way over our head. We just barely passed freshman physics (or was that one of the courses we finished?).

For a wonderfully humorous and entertaining evening, don't miss the third annual Lions Club Minstrel. It gets underway at 8 p. m. Thursday and Friday evenings in the high school auditorium.

A minstrel is jokes, a band, a chorus, dances, waving hands. The Lions will make you roar with laughter until your sides are sore.

DE Week Observed Here As Students View The Future

A group of Hereford High School students travelling to Fort Worth, an official proclamation by the governor of the state, and the story of a local businessman can all be pointed to as examples of the goals of the local Distributive Education program.

Thursday morning, a group of local students leave to compete in the Texas D. E. Leadership Conference in Fort Worth. While there, the students will be trying to win honors for their school while practicing what they have learned through D. E. instruction.

The state D. E. convention highlights state-wide activities during Texas Distributive Education Week, which was proclaimed as Feb. 24 - March 2 by Governor John Connally.

In an official memorandum, Governor Connally commends the D. E. students of Texas by saying, "The young people of this State who constitute the membership of the Texas Association of Distributive Education Clubs of America are striving to prepare for useful careers of service in the field of distribution. These D. E. students are dedicated to high standards of efficiency in retail, wholesale, and service occupations."

"Therefore, I, as Governor of Texas, do hereby designate the period Feb. 24 - March 2, 1963 as Distributive Education Week in Texas, and ask that it be fittingly observed by our young people and by all citizens."

Attending the state leadership conference in connection with D. E. week Ronda Neff, Lynda Hewitt, Norris Devoll, Johnny Brownlow, Ronald Long, and Wain Miller. The group is accompanied by D. E. coordinator Kenneth Hart and his wife.

Leaving Thursday morning, students will compete in various contests Friday and Saturday in Fort Worth.

Lynda Hewitt, D. E. student at the Hereford Brand, will compete in the advertising layout and composition contest. Entered in the sales demonstration event is Norris Devoll, D. E. student at Stan Knox T. V. and Music. Wain Miller, another Hereford Brand D. E. trainee, will compete in the job interview event.

One of eight finalists from throughout the state selected to appear at the state convention, Ronda Neff enters final judging in the contest to select the "Sweetheart of the Distributive Education Clubs of Texas."

She earned the right to compete by taking the San Angelo area crown earlier this month. Miss Neff is a D. E. student at the Hereford Credit Bureau.

Ronald Long, D. E. student at J. C. Penney Co., will be among candidates campaigning for the office of Honorary President of the Distributive Education Clubs of Texas. Long will appear before the convention to make his bid for the post.

Also attending the Fort Worth meeting is Johnny Brownlow, a D. E. student at Harman's who is vice president of the local chapter. He will attend a junior workshop which will help him direct the club's activities next year.

Since this is Texas Distributive Education Week, D. E. chapters throughout the state are taking the opportunity to acquaint people with the functions and benefits of Distributive Education.

In the many years in which D. E. has been a portion of the Hereford High School curriculum there have been literally hundreds of students who have enjoyed successful participation in the D. E. program.

The local chapter would point to a number of ex-D. E. students who have become successful in their chosen fields and who credit at least a part of their achievement to their Distributive Education training.

Among these are Mr. and Mrs. Pat Ferguson, owners and operators of Western Flower Shop in Hereford. Both Pat and Betty Ferguson got their first business training and experience through the D. E. plan.

Both admit that D. E. training which they received in high school continues to be of aid to them today.

salesmanship and business operation still helps."

Mrs. Ferguson was also a D. E. student, working at a utility company office while in high school.

Graduating in 1957, Pat began working at the flower shop which he now owns. He bought the shop last year.

A firm believer in D. E., Pat has employed one to two D. E. students at a time since he took over operation of the shop. He now uses one D. E. trainee, Gloria Darnon, and also employs a former D. E. student, Jerry Don Whitaker, who worked for him while in high school.

Whitaker is now attending the American Floral Art School in Chicago to receive additional training.

Ferguson points out that the Society of American Florists promotes Distributive Education on a national scale and encourages member florists to consider the benefits of a D. E. program.

From his own experience as an employer, Pat states, "D. E. students have worked well. Because of their classroom training and the credit which they receive in school for D. E. work, they seem to show more interest in their job."

When asked to comment on the benefits to D. E. training for high school students, he replied, "I would encourage any student to enroll in the course, even if he does not feel that he will enter a career in the field of distribution. The general training which the student receives is valuable in any work."

Ferguson's story is pointed out by the local D. E. chapter because he has had experience with D. E. both as a student and as an employer of D. E. students.

The comments of the local businessman, the proclamation of Texas Distributive Education Week, and the work which D. E. students are doing in state contests all are examples of the goals which the Distributive Education program strives to reach, according to Kenneth Hart, local D. E. coordinator.

High School Red Cross Serves Humanity

Hereford Chapter of the American Red Cross is an organization in which students of Hereford High School have the opportunity to serve others.

Members of the Junior Red Cross (JRC) have the chance to realize that "Service is the rent we pay for the space we occupy," as they perform their many duties in order to make the town, country, and world a better place in which to live.

Henri Dunant, founder of the World Red Cross, stated, "All Men are brothers. If this is true, if our brothers in Korea or Hong Kong or Bolivia are starving, we must do something. The foundation on which the Red Cross is built is the human impulse to compassion for the suffering."

The chief purpose of Red Cross is the encouragement, education, and organization of that impulse in practical service activities.

The work of this voluntary world force affects and involves those people from the highest councils of authority to those in the most obscure corners of the earth.

In August, 1917, President Woodrow Wilson asked the youth of America to become junior partners in the American Red Cross, and its work in the first World War.

Through this partnership, the youth of America have been challenged to learn about the world, to replace the barriers of race, color, and creed with bonds of friendship, good will and world-wide understanding.

Each year, the JRC of HHS sponsors a Talent Assembly composed of schoolwide talent. Admission is 10 cents a person and is used for projects of the JRC. The Talent Assembly is being planned for March 15 in the HHS auditorium. Cash prizes of $5, $3, and $1 are awarded to the three best presentations.

Soon after the end of World War I, the Red Cross Gift Box Program, another service of JRC, became an active part of the activities performed continually by the Red Cross Council.

In the Hereford Chapter, many gift boxes have been packed and sent to needy people. A group of 50 stockings were packed and sent to the Amarillo Air Force and about 50 gift boxes were sent to Cuban refugee children in Florida.

As a means of "cultivating a spirit of good will and understanding between the youth of America and the youth of other lands, the Red Cross International Albums program was introduced. Under this program, albums of the different organizations of the world are sent to other groups in other countries or states. HHS has received albums from Germany, France, Thailand, and Japan.

Another good will service is the exchange of the School Chests and International School Art Programs. Under these programs, chests containing school supplies and paintings depicting life in America have been sent overseas.

American students sent approximately 61,000 paintings and received about 13,000 paintings from school children in other nations. Not only does the JRC aid the people of foreign countries, but they also contribute to the well-being of our servicemen, veterans, and their families. They provide entertainment and the production of various types of holiday favors, particularly for those in hospitals.

Gray Ladies and Junior Gray Ladies of the Deaf Smith County Red Cross Chapter furnish entertainment for the detainees group at Amarillo Air Force Base twice a year. In this service, the JRC makes tray favors for the Air Force Base, the Veterans Administration Hospital in Amarillo, as well as for the two convalescent homes and Hereford's new senior citizens home.

Members of Junior Red Cross, even though they are usually too young to donate to the Red Cross Blood Program, can aid the nurses in caring for blood donors.

American Red Cross provides the beneficial instruction in Junior, standard, advanced, and instructors' First Aid Classes. First Aid is taught in Hereford High's p. e. classes, while a mother-baby care course is given to senior homemaking classes and interested boys. A class in aid to the sick and injured is also taught to homemaking girls.

In 1914, the Red Cross Water Safety Classes were started in order to teach individuals the correct swimming procedures.

A unique way in which the Red Cross has served the nation is in the giving of the Red Cross survival swimming course in preparation for the historically made flights of the astronauts who have made successful space trips and those who are to make future excursions into the unknown.

Red Cross Leadership Training Centers have been held throughout the country to train youth leaders not only for service in Red Cross, but also for service in their communities.

Other services performed by the Hereford Chapter of Red Cross are the caring for a needy family at Christmas, and presenting assemblies to other schools like the assembly in Pampa High School in which Audni Miller, Hereford JRC president, spoke.

Officers are selected by the Deaf Smith County Chapter of Red Cross Board of Directors of which Mrs. Henry Neely is the executive secretary. Officers of the JRC chapter of HHS are Audni Miller, president; Kathleen Kuper, vice president; Dieder Thomas, secretary; Linda Loerwald, treasurer; and Mrs. Billye Buck, club sponsor. Membership is obtained from a representative from each homeroom and other interested members. Any one interested in becoming a member of this organization should contact Audni Miller or Mrs. Buck.

"As tomorrow's citizens, we must today accept our God-given responsibility of replacing the barriers of race, color, and creed, with bonds of friendship, goodwill, and world-wide understanding."

Graduating Seniors Review Season

Ronnie Welty

Winding up seven years of basketball experience is Ronnie Welty, son of Mr. and Mrs. D. L. Welty. Ronnie played varsity ball for the first year this season and also served as captain. A familiar figure, number 42, Ronnie enjoys basketball very much. When asked what he enjoyed most about this season he replied "just being able to play." His happiest moment was the Dumas victory. Ronnie plans to play college ball, "if I'm good enough," but is undecided as to where. Ronnie says "thanks" for the good support during basketball season.

Dwight McGee

Tall Dwight "Maggie" McGee made up most of the height of the senior basketball boys this season. Dwight's parents are Mr. and Mrs. F. W. McGee of 127 Star St. Playing basketball for five years and lettering two, Dwight's number, 24, got to be very familiar on the court. His pet peeves on the court are bad referees and tall opponents (?). Dwight enjoyed most of the season, beating Dumas, and the fine support that was given the team. Beating Dimmitt was his happiest moment because he was high point man. Undecided about which college to attend, Dwight does not know whether he will play college ball or not.

Austin Hodges

Five foot - ten inch Austin Hodges made up for his height in speed and hustling. Austin's parents are Mr. and Mrs. W. N. Hodges of Route 2, Hereford. Having played six years on the varsity squad, sporting number 10. Austin dislikes bad referees but enjoys playing very much. He reported his happiest moment as being at the end of the first five district games, "because we had won all five." Austin is undecided about college ball, but may play at the University of Texas. He felt the support was extremely good at all the games.

David Dowell

A familiar figure of the court this season was David "Red" Dowell, the six foot son of Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Dowell. David has played basketball since the seventh grade and played on the "A" team for the past two years. "Red's" happiest moment in basketball was the queen coronation. He enjoyed most beating Dumas and his pet peeve goes along with that in that he dislikes tall opponents. David got a foul start this season because of football injuries, but his number 12 became a familiar sight.

Six Girls Work For State Degree

Six Hereford High School Future Homemakers of America are frantically working to complete their State Homemaker Degrees by the local deadline Friday, Mar. 1.

Three seniors, Janis Higgins, Audni Miller, and Louise Axe, and three juniors, Kathleen Kuper, Kaki Barnard, and Royce Ann Gilliland, are compiling the Weather is getting better and flying is getting more frequent again.

Students and other pilots have been piling up a lot of cross-country time lately. Mr. and Mrs. Neil Cooper, Mr. and Mrs. Lloyd Sharp and O. W. Parris flew to El Paso to have oxygen put in the Whiteface Cessna 206. That same week, a new 1963 Sky Hawk was picked up in El Paso.

The following week, a new 150 Cessna was picked up at the Cessna factory in Wichita, Kan. Mr. and Mrs. Cooper, Lloyd Sharp, Leland Shelton, Dave Yandall and O. W. Parris went to the factory. Sharp and Parris flew the Whiteface 150 back while Mr. and Mrs. Cooper brought the other 150 to Hereford. Later, the new plane went on to El Paso. Shelton and Yandall returned in the Whiteface 206, kinda rattling around in that six-place job.

Student activity has been increasing... at least between the cold fronts.

Among those who have soloed recently are Mary Jane Pittman, John Douglas Pittman, Jimmy Easley, Bill Warrick, Bill Kendall and Steve McKee. All of them are working hard now for their private license.

Incoming tourist aircraft slowed down during the last part of January and early February, but is increasing again now.

There are quite a few planes in the shop now for annuals, major repairs and minor work. All this is keeping Matt Brown, the aircraft inspector and mechanic, fairly busy.

Ground school for private pilots is being well-received by Hereford people, as well as those from other towns. Dimmitt is well-represented by Bill Kitchens, John Womack, Carl Brugel, Melvin Edwards, Buster Cooper and Fred Slay.

From Hereford are Joe and Jim Easley, Bill Warrick, John Douglas and Mary Jane Pittman, Jim Cheny, plus several others that are planning to attend part of the course.

Inquiries about instruction, ground school and charter are picking up but Hereford Municipal Airport and Whiteface Aviation welcome the visit. If you haven't anything else in mind, we always have a good supply of coffee and...

LET'S COOK SOMETHING!

Marian Kreig Delights In Finding Good, New Recipes

By Ramona Noel
Brand Society Editor
Living in Hereford almost all her life, Mrs. Walter L. (Marian) Kreig is a typical American mother with a young family to look after. David, 5 and Benny, 20 months.

Marian enjoys exchanging recipes with her friends and neighbors and then trying them out on her own family. She has an exceptional ability to judge the better recipes, and finds it a delight to run across an unusually appetizing one.

Having a young family curtails many of the activities that she can enjoy. For several summers Marian has had the desire to participate in the swimming classes that are held at the pool every summer. Somehow something has always prevented it, but she is looking forward to this summer with her fingers crossed in hopes that this will be her summer to learn. Most of her summers, thus far, have been spent taking care of her yard and flowers.

One of the things that Marian had tried to keep up with is her church. She and her family attend the First Baptist Church and participate in its activities.

Among the recipes that Marian has tried and approved is one that can turn a breakfast or supper into something special. This Corn meal Griddle Cake recipe is delicious with ham, bacon or sausage topped off with plenty of good hot coffee.

Corn Meal Griddle Cakes
1 cup boiling water
3/4 cup yellow corn meal
1 tablespoon sugar
1 cup buttermilk or sour milk
2 eggs
1 1/2 cup sifted enriched flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon salt
3/4 teaspoon soda

3 tablespoons melted shortening
Pour water over corn meal and stir until thick; add sugar and milk; beat in eggs. Add flour sifted with baking powder, salt and soda, stir in shortening.

Bake on hot greased griddle. Try using melted oleo or butter on griddle for shortening in cooking your griddle cakes. This recipe makes 10.

This Rum Cake recipe is a delicious delicacy.

3 1/2 cups flour
3 teaspoons baking powder
1/2 teaspoon soda
1/2 teaspoon salt
1/2 cup nuts (optional)

Bake in greased and floured tube pan at 325 degrees for 1 hour and 20 minutes or until it springs back when pressed.
Cranberry Salad
Whip:
1/2 pint whipping cream
Add slowly:
2 tablespoons sugar
Then add:
3 bananas (mashed)
1 small can crushed pineapple
1 can cranberry sauce
1 cup nuts
Beat and blend well all the above ingredients.

Chocolate Pound Cake
Cream together:

Add above ingredients alternately with:
1 cup vanilla
1 tablespoon vanilla
Bake in greased and floured tube pan at 350 degrees for 1 hour 20 minutes. Run knife around edge of pan and remove from pan immediately.

One of the most unusual pies made is this one with the Meringue Crust. Always remember to cool the filling before pouring it into this type of pie shell.

EMIKO AND YOSHIKO SHIGA sisters present program (Wayland Photo)

Japanese Sisters Set Program Here

Yoshiko and Emiko Shiga, sisters and Wayland Baptist College students, will conduct special services at the First Baptist Church, Hereford, on Sunday, March 3. The services will begin at 11 a. m.

Talented and attractive, the two Japanese girls from Kyoto have been in constant demand as speakers and performers since their arrival in America.

Yoshiko, a senior in Wayland, was selected by audition from hundreds of Texas Baptist students as a member of a 34-voice choir which made an eight-week tour of the Orient in 1961. Both girls are members of Wayland's famed International Choir and of the International Singers, an eight-member ensemble from the Choir which sings songs in other languages.

The sisters attended Tacoca Falls Bible Institute in Tacoca, Ga., before entering Wayland. Emiko is now a junior at Wayland.

"We are both very interested in world missions," Yoshiko says. "For this reason, we particularly enjoy bringing programs before missionary-minded groups. We both hope to work in the mission field in Japan when we finish our education in America."

At Wayland the girls are studying subjects which will make their future mission work more effective. Yoshiko is completing requirements for a B. A. degree with the major in English and a minor in Bible. Emiko is seeking a B. A. degree with a major in religious education and a minor in sociology.

Yoshiko particularly enjoyed singing with the Project Understanding choir. The group gave 99 concerts in its 69 days of travel. The choir was invited to sing before the King and Queen of Thailand and also in the "White House" in Indonesia. Yoshiko also was able to spend a few days visiting her parents and one brother in Japan.

Emiko hasn't been able to return home since coming to America, but feels the next best thing was working with her own people under the direction of the Home Mission Board in California in 1961. During the summer of 1960, Yoshiko served as a summer missionary in California while Emiko worked at Gloria Baptist Assembly in New Mexico.

The girls credit their Christian parents for their accomplishments. Their parents suffered persecution during the war, because of their religious beliefs. Their father, now a retired postal clerk, was fired from his job during the war years.

Since the girls come from a large family, including five brothers, they readily admit that they have really missed their family since coming to America.

They agreed that they were uncertain as to how Americans would treat students from a former enemy country, but said they had found nothing but kindness since being here.

"We have learned to love the American people very much," Yoshiko said. Emiko nodded agreement.

Conversation.

It took long enough to do this article, so that Jimmy Sears now has joined the group who have soloed. Jimmy Weathers also has done his cross-country now, making a flight to Abilene, as he works on his private license.

We were pleased, but not surprised Monday when we learned that Mrs. Joe Wagoner of the Westway HD Club would be the 1963 recipient of the annual award for the "Outstanding Home Demonstration Woman" of Deaf Smith County.

Jessie, as she is known by her many friends, was a charter member of the Ford Home Demonstration Club and worked with that organization until moving to the Westway Community in 1945. She has since served as president of the club (three terms), she was a member of the HD Council for nine years, and was instrumental in the acquisition of a full-time HD Agent for Deaf Smith County. Mrs. Wagoner is an active member of the First Methodist Church, the Order of Eastern Star and the Farm and Ranch Study Club. These are but a few of her many activities. But in spite of her busy schedule, she has always found time for her family and friends.

Those who have come in contact with the Wagoners over the years will tell you that they are one of the most hospitable families in Deaf Smith County. The coffee pot is always on at their home — just in case someone drops in. And if you don't intend to stay for dinner, then you'd better not come by near the noon hour.

Again in 1963, the ladies of the Home Demonstration Club have made an excellent choice for their "Outstanding HD Woman".

Actually, we thought the entire affair was a tremendous success. The food was excellent, as attested by the fact that so many people went back for seconds. The program was short and to the point and Mrs. A. E. Hodges turned out to be an excellent Master of Ceremonies.

— HB —
By the way, if you're wondering why HD Agent Argen Draper is being tabbed "Speedy" these days, just ask the patrolman who stopped her.

— HB —
Which reminds of the new "fast" coon dog that Argen's husband Tom acquired recently. Tom tells us that his coon dog is absolutely the fastest in the country, and he's ideal for chasing West Texas coons. The dog never tires. This dog, it seems, is a cross between a Russian Wolf Hound and a Dachshund — that makes the front legs six inches long and the hind legs two feet long. The secret to the dog's great stamina is that he's always running down a hill.

The agricultural areas of this nation have seen many changes over the past 20 years with mechanization replacing hand labor in many aspects of farming. But now, we're on the threshold of another evolution in the farming industry. It's had enough to be replaced by a machine, but it's much more embarrassing to be replaced by a goose.

According to latest information, there will be over one million geese used to weed cotton fields in 1963. Farmers in Southern and Southwestern states are turning to the geese for a replacement of the Mexican bracers. One farmer in Louisiana figures to save as much as $16.50 per acre by using the honking critters. Apparently the geese thrive on many grasses and weeds that infest cotton fields, and are particularly adept at rooting out Johnson grass.

Of course, Deaf Smith County is not the largest cotton producing county in the state, but we do have our share of Johnson grass.

— HB —
When Luther Lesly returned from the Annual Hardware and Implement Dealers Association meeting in Amarillo recently, he carried with him a cashier's check for an all-expense paid vacation to Mexico City which he won at the convention. However, Luther has decided to wait until school is out and use the money to see the U.S.A. first. We tried to convince Luther that we should go along on the trip to chaperone, but he intimated that Mrs. Lesly could do a good job of that.

— HB —
Pick Harman is taking his share of the ribbing lately due to the complete failure of his "hot" sidewalk. When Pick remodeled the store last summer, he installed an electrical apparatus that was supposed to keep the sidewalk free from snow and ice. It doesn't. But Pick does. With a shovel.

— HB —
Smith's symptoms were alarming enough to take him to a doctor for a check-up. Having fortified himself at a tavern, he went through the examination and awaited the report in the reception room. When the doctor appeared, Smith asked eagerly, "What does the report show, Doc?" "According to this analysis," answered the medico, "there is every indication that a small percentage of blood is getting into your alcohol system."

OFF THE Shelf

BY H. A. TUCK
The Sand Pebbles by Richard McKenna gets my vote for "Novel of the Year" honors. This compelling story has been serialized by Saturday Evening Post and was purchased for a motion picture even before publication.

It deserves all its acclaim and ranks as one of the better books of the past few years. McKenna's book is long, 387 tightly-written pages, and filled with more than a score of major characters but the reader has little trouble staying interested or sorted out in his mind.

The plot is laid in China in the late 1920's and is built around Jake Holman, a professional in the U. S. Navy. Holman is posted from the Asiatic Fleet to the tiny, ancient gunboat U. S. S. San Pablo far up a river from Shanghai. Holman is a loner, with no close friends and an affinity only for machinery.

Holman is shocked to find that coolies, not sailors, do the work aboard the San Pablo, nicknamed the Sand Pebbles. Its crew, called Sand Pebbles, enjoys wonderful food, sleeps in a spacious compartment with curtains on the windows, a native barber who provides daily shaves and other such luxuries.

Holman likes this, but deplores the coolie gang which does everything but handle the throttle in the engine room. Holman "loves face" when he insists on "working with machinery and getting dirty." Other Sand Pebbles include Red Dog Shanahan, who has a propensity for starting fights; Lynch, a 16-year veteran who marries a Russian "princess"; Harris, a grizzled, profane Chinese hand; Lt. Collins, the meticulous captain; and many others.

They work little and play much while cruising up and down the river "showing the flag" and cursing the missionaries.

But a rising tide of nationalism makes many changes. Strikes, boycotts and pickets chase off the coolies. Opium planted in the coolies' living quarters becomes a major propaganda issue.

Holman has broken precedent by training an intelligent Chinese coolie, Po-han, into an excellent engineer. Holman and Po-han both have to fight for their friendship, which ends tragically.

Burgoyne, the likable Petty Officer, falls in love with a strange Chinese girl, Mally, yet finds his attempts to marry her foiled at every turn.

Full-scale attacks and riots break out while the Sand Pebble is at Hankow. The ship is ordered to spend the winter at its home port of Changsha. But the reception there is even worse. The men lose their morale and pride amid filth and near starvation. Holman thinks seriously of deserting to the China Light mission, where he wants to teach young Chinese about machinery. He also wants to be near the strangely appealing Shirley Eckert, the only girl he could respect and love.

For months, the climax builds to an unforgettable ending. The Sand Pebbles is a remarkable book in its detail, its depth, its vivid characterization.

But no less remarkable is its author. Richard McKenna grew up in Idaho. In 1931, at the age of 18, he enlisted in the Navy and served 10 years in the Far East. Two of those years were on a Yangtze River gunboat, where he heard many first-hand accounts of the 1925-27 Chinese revolution.

He served during World War II in a large troop transport that sailed all the oceans. He was on a destroyer during the Korean War. In 1953, he retired after 22 years of service and

Bedside Maneuvers Failed To Win Senate Approval

By Vern Stanford
Hospitals have been playing an important part in State government.

While Gov. John B. Connally was recuperating from a hernia operation, the state senate turned thumbs down on his choice of former Supreme Court Justice W. St. Garwood as a University of Texas regent.

The man who sponsored Garwood — Sen. Charles Herring of Austin — also was recuperating from an operation: an appendectomy.

Attempts at bedside maneuvers by both to get a senatorial confirmation for the prominent Texan failed and the appointment was turned down by an estimated minority of 12-15.

It takes a two-thirds majority to approve an appointment.

Governor Connally issued a statement saying he was "bitterly disappointed that a minority group of the Senate prevented confirmation of Judge Garwood."

He added, "To me, it seems inconceivable that the people of Texas could be denied the services of a man of exceptional intellect, a man of great capacities, and a man of deep devotion to the University and his State."

The governor said he had hopes the senate might choose to reconsider its action but had no further comment at this time.

GAME-PARKS MERGER
Senate spent most of the week spinning its wheels. But over in the House of Representatives one of Governor Connally's major reorganizations — merging the Game and Fish Commission and the State Parks Board into a single three-member "Parks and Wildlife Commission" — was pushed through by a two-to-one majority.

Rep. James Cotton of Weatherford, long a foe of the Game and Fish Commission, carried the measure through the house, and committed himself to vote to provide general tax revenues to support the parks system once they are merged.

COUNTY SCHOOL SUPERINTENDENTS
A heavy majority in the House favors ousting county school superintendents in 86 counties. They voted to cut off state aid to them. Aim is to force the voters to say "yes" or "no" on whether they want to keep them at county tax expense, after their present terms run out in 1966.

If this proposal gets through as it now stands in the House, the state saving will be more than $1,000,000.

Counties affected are those with no more than two rural school districts under the county official's supervision.

COASTAL PROBLEMS
One sick industry on the coast got a shot in the arm when a bill by Rep. Bill Walker of Cleveland and Rep. Nell Caldwell of Alvin, to cut the state occupation tax on sulphur producers from $1.40 a ton to $1.03, was passed by the House.

This would reduce state revenue from sulphur taxes by $970,000 the first year. But Walker estimated an increase in business would make up at least half of that.

Consideration of two hotly-contested bills — one to raise teachers' retirement benefits and one to authorize a new system for granting shell-taking permits — was postponed for a week.

COUNTY BUILDING

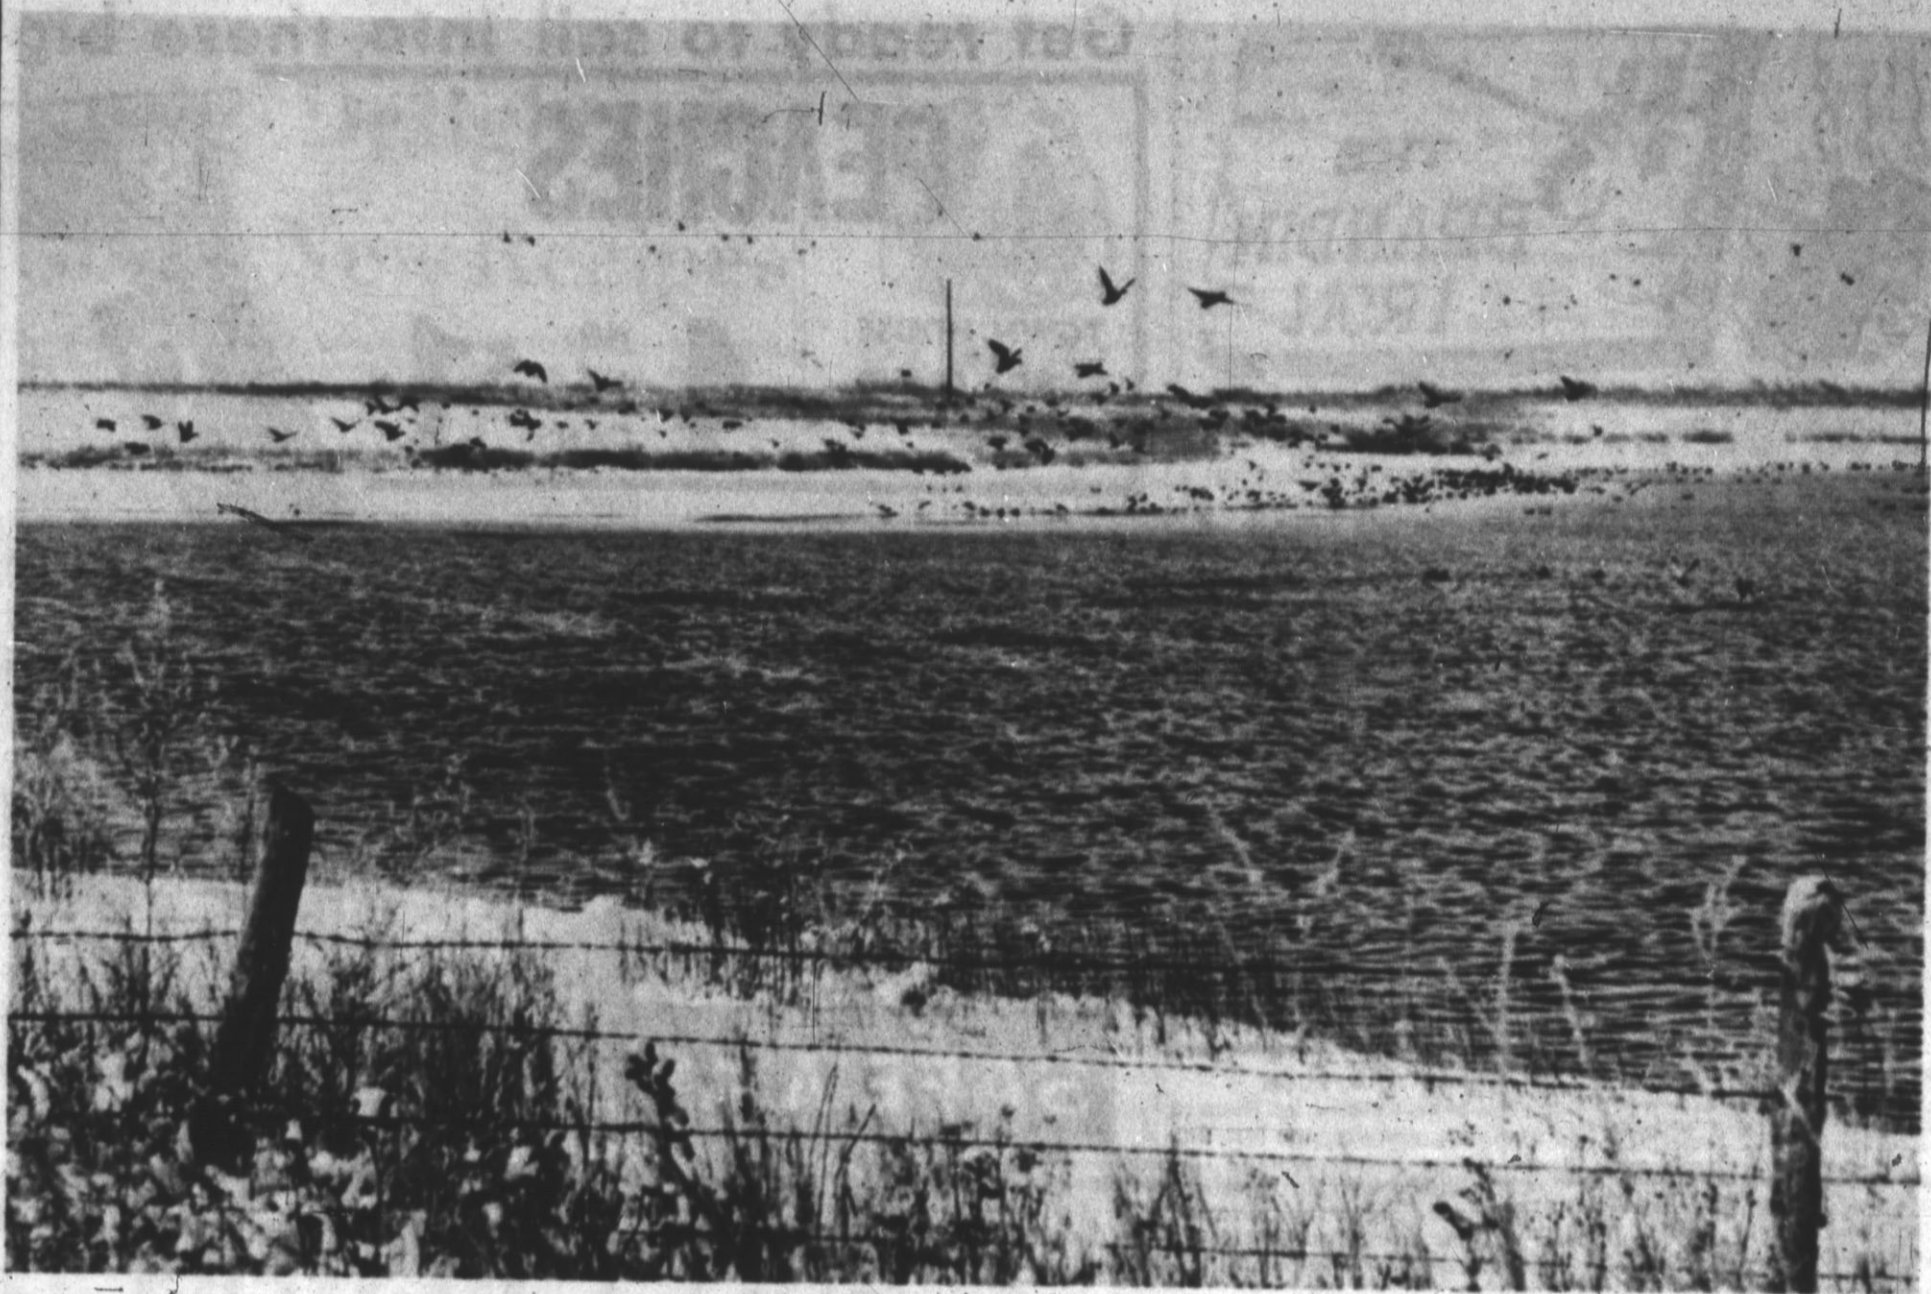

HIKE OKAYED
A bill by Rep. Vernon Beckham of Denison, designed to solve a local problem, may prove helpful for rural counties.

It would allow county commissioners' courts to spend up to $200,000 for county buildings outside the county seats. Present law limits this expenditure to $150,000. Bill was passed by the House, 143-0.

County seat of Grayson County is Sherman. But Denison — in the same county — is almost as big and as busy. Therefore an adjunct county courthouse building is under construction there. Building and property costs have risen so that the Denison courthouse can't be finished until the increase is authorized.

COMMITTEES BUSY
Senate and House committees have accomplished quite a bit — either by positive or negative action — to settle some legislative issues.

They have given a green light to a bill to raise the age ceiling from 14 to 16 on the state's program of aid to dependent children (an effort to keep needy children in school) . . .

LEAVING FOR PARTS unknown, hundreds of ducks found that the South isn't all it's cracked up to be as far as a winter resort area is concerned. Actually, the 5-6 inches of snow which fell over the area probably did not dampen the fowls' spirits too much though, since the thermometer recorded only a slight dip into the 20-degree weather which came Friday. Main problem for the ducks was uncovering their food. (Staff Photo)

Given a friendly reception to the bill by Rep. W. H. Miller of Houston to require seat belt anchors in all new cars sold in Texas . . .

Given cool reception to a series of Senate - proposed constitutional amendments and bills designed to revise — and eventually eliminate — the state property tax, and leave it to local units of government.

Approved a Senate bill to set up a new school for mentally-retarded children in Corpus Christi. Another bill to create a similar school somewhere west of the 100th meridian in West Texas is set for a Senate committee hearing on March 20.

BUDGET HEARINGS
In two quiet rooms in the Capitol and one in the Sam Houston State Office Building, budget hearings are grinding toward an end by the Senate Finance and House Appropriations committees, and by Governor Connally's budget staff.

These groups have the most influence on how the state's $3,000,000,000 income will be spent in the two years starting September 1.

Their figuring will determine whether the hearings by the House Revenue and Tax committee eventually will turn into serious consideration of bills for sales tax revisions.

It's very likely that the first bill to increase taxes will be one revising the exemption on outer clothing under $10, and other items, to raise sales tax revenue by $10,000,000 a year.

COURT RULES ON SAFETY LAW
Col. Homer Garrison Jr., director of the State Department of Public Safety, cautioned drivers of publicly-owned vehicles that they must comply with the provisions of the state's responsibility law.

Garrison said that a recent ruling by the Waco Court of Civil Appeals confirmed the fact that the law must be complied with by drivers of publicly-owned vehicles. The safety responsibility law requires everyone involved in an accident to show his ability to pay for damages caused to others.

This can be done by purchasing a liability insurance policy; by obtaining written releases from damaged persons; or by depositing cash in the amount of damages with the Department of Public Safety.

House Committee on Insurance has approved a bill by Rep. Robert Fairchild of Center which would strengthen and stiffen the safety responsibility law. Under this bill, if anyone failed to prove financial responsibility, the DPS could take his driver's license, as well as his car license plates.

LYNCH BAN CONSTITUTIONAL
A law prohibiting lynching is constitutional, says Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr. Carr also held that Floyd R. Palmer Landscape Company can be held to a bid of $16,100 for landscaping work around a state office building, even though the company says it will lose money on the project.

In other opinions, Carr said: A facility caring for six or less children during the day must be licensed as a commercial boarding house.

A county which purchases gasoline for its own use must pay the state excise tax, but is not subject to the federal excise tax.

Texas, buying and registering cars in other states, still must pay the 1.5 per cent on the purchase price if the car is operated in Texas.

New residents coming into the state, are subject to a $15 use tax, he says.

"VACATION STATE"
A lady legislator believes the slogan "Vacation State" will bring Texas a bundle of tourist dollars.

Rep. Myra Banfield of Rosenberg wants that slogan placed on all future Texas auto license plates.

She has introduced such a resolution in the House, asking that the Texas Highway Department order it done.

"Personally, I believe that tourism can bring more money into our state than any industry," she says.

VACCINATION REMINDER
Texas Health Department currently is reminding travelers to foreign countries of the need for certificates of vaccination.

Citizens planning to go abroad or visit the interior of Mexico must obtain a small-pox vaccination certificate. U. S. citizens returning from another country are required to have a valid International Certificate of Vaccination or revaccination against the disease.

...about Moons and Ministers

This is the day of man-made moons and other outer-space objects. First man reached for the clouds, then the stratosphere and now he is reaching for the moon. The very thought of these accomplishments "rattles" our nerves, makes us weak and an unexplainable nausea sets in. We think what next? But only one thing we know. God said, "Be ready, for we know not the day nor the hour." The day may be near when your account will be checked. Your record will reveal what your interests have been. Whether you have supported His church or helped a needy soul will be made known. Above, you see a severe storm with broken clouds lighted by lightning flashes. But what makes it worse... there goes a man-made moon. All this strange phenomenon makes it very clear that we should be about the Master's business... we should be ready... we should attend church.
