Home Talk

One of the most useful organizations Texas has ever had faces material crippling of its usefulness, to say the least, because Cienega school authorities saw fit to cancel an inter-school football fight into the courts.

For a number of years Oil Belt towns have in many instances defeated the noble purposes for which high school football should be maintained and the highly valuable work done through the Texas Inter-scholastic League, by throwing charges at each other of proselyting, "hiring" high school players, etc.

District Three of Class A in the league's football plan, had a wonderful season in its first year, 1931. Big Spring, San Angelo, McCombs, Colorado, Sweetwater and Midland were the winners.

We have never been in sympathy with the view many well-meaning citizens have that the sole purpose of high school football and the annual elimination process is to determine the state champion in order to afford excitement for the public at large, to form a basis for gambling and to swell coffers of athletic associations or school athletic departments.

The boys who play are the individuals for which football is primarily maintained—that is, from the viewpoint of the school man who is truly professional in his attitude toward athletics.

Aside from benefit to the boys who play, whether they "letter" or not, the "buoyant influence inter-school contests have no morale of students bodies and the friendly rivalry engendered between communities are the principal benefits from scholastic football as it is conducted in Texas.

But, when high school football creates hatred, unfriendly rivalry and bitter disputes between communities it is being prostituted.

It is not our intention to argue that some schools have not and do not violate both the spirit and the letter of Inter-scholastic League rules. Such practice has caused new rules to be adopted, that are in some respects radical, but problems brought on by cynical disregard for the rules called for radical remedies. The eight-semester and one-year transfer rules are cases in point.

It is not our intention to argue that the rules should be disregarded. On the other hand, they should be religiously obeyed.

That is what officials of every high school should do. If they respect themselves, their professions, and have any regard for the highest ideals of the true educator they will not tolerate any practice or the playing of any boy, who is not eligible. Unhappily there are those in every profession who do

Schertz Bank Again Robbed

Lone Bandit Gets Cash From Institution Near San Antonio

SAN ANTONIO (AP)—An armed, masked bandit held up the Schertz State bank Monday and escaped with cash believed to be about $200.

The robber covered Casner E. P. Threlmer with a pistol, ordering him to deliver available cash. He fled toward San Antonio in a pack car waiting at the door.

On February 15 Lieutenant H. C. Hichtenberg held up this bank and was sentenced to 10 years imprisonment by a military court martial.

Death Claims Mrs. B. R. Cline

Burial Here Wednesday Afternoon For Mother Of Six

Mrs. Nola Candis Cline, wife of B. R. Cline, died in a local hospital Tuesday at 11 a. m. Funeral services will be held at the Charles Eberly chapel beginning at 3 p. m. Wednesday with Rev. H. C. Goodman, Baptist minister, officiating. Burial will be in New Mt. Olive cemetery.

Mrs. Cline, who resided ten miles north of Big Spring, is survived by her husband, six children, her parents, four brothers and four sisters, all residents of this county.

Mr. Cline, her parents are Mr. and Mrs. J. T. McNew; four daughters, Gertrude, Mina, Daisy, and Dorothy; two sons, Roy and Herbert; sisters, Mrs. W. O. Cline, Mrs. R. B. Williams, Miss Gladys McNew, Mrs. J. B. Ross; and nephews, W. J. E. L. N., and R. W. McNew are the survivors.

Mrs. Cline had been critically ill some days and was brought to a hospital several days ago.

Slash In Crude Petroleum Prices Not Justified At This Time, Say Wirt Franklin And Harry Sinclair

Scouters To Push 10-Year Plan In Area

Buffalo Trail Council Leaders Hold Conference Here

Plans for the Buffalo Trail Area year program being inaugurated by the Boy Scouts of America will be discussed here Monday evening at a meeting at the Settles, attended by 25 officers, committeemen and leaders of the area.

A. C. Williamson, area executive, reviewed the nature and aims of the program. Charles Paxton, Sweetwater, area president, presided.

The council voted to cooperate fully in the program, with emphasis upon training of scout leaders. Motion to participate in the program was made by Dr. J. Richard Spann, seconded by W. C. Blankenship.

One aim in the program is to reach at least one of every four boys annually as they become 12 years of age and to keep them active in scouting four years.

OKLAHOMA CITY, (UP)—A crude slash is not justified at this time, Mid-Continent oil men and state authorities declared in answer to week end rumors of an impending price reduction.

In a statement at Tulsa, Wirt Franklin, president of the independent petroleum association, said the reward for producers conforming with the wishes of crude purchasers by reducing production was another price slash.

Franklin's Views "Responsibility for loss of employment, the break in stock prices, the loss from the black side of the ledger to red, from orderly production."

Alvin Richards, president of the Oklahoma-Kansas division of the Mid-Continent Oil and Gas association, said there has been no indication of an immediate price cut, but if prices are going to be slashed, there is evidently nothing we can do about it.

More than 100 oil executives, producers, royalty owners, bankers, newspaper publishers and businessmen of Oklahoma, Kansas, and Texas have been asked to attend the southwestern price conference at Tyler, Governor Murray is planning he feared to leave the state to his lieutenant-governor, will speak over the radio, he said.

Franklin's statement brought a flurry from oil men who said they did not believe the cut would be necessary. Grade checks are about normal, they explained. Consumption has hit the expected seasonal slump.

Carter Oil company (Standard of New Jersey) officials said they hoped the proposed price structure would be maintained throughout the winter. In most contracts, however, there was a hint that allowances should be increased and flow from Oklahoma increased.

University of Arizona Hunts Those Who Saw Meteor Fall Recently

Assistance of newspaper has been asked by Steward Observatory of the University of Arizona at Tucson in finding persons who saw a bright meteor on fireball over parts of Arizona, New Mexico and Texas at 8:19 p. m. (mountain standard time), Friday, Sept. 19, 1932.

By obtaining good positions for the object, as seen from widely separated points the observatory will be able to compute the altitude and possibly the orbit of the body, according to a letter from J. D. Williams, university official.

Any person who saw the meteor is requested to communicate with Steward Observatory, Tucson, Ariz.

Imperatives Of Salvation Topic Of Rev. Townsend

The "Golden Jubilee Revival" at the First Christian Church is rapidly reaching a great spiritual climax. The message last night on "The Altar of the Ages" represented the high point of the meeting to date.

Tonight at 8 o'clock Rev. Townsend will speak on the subject "The Imperatives of Salvation." This message is said to be of tremendous importance to the un-awakened, said Pastor Lindley. It will be of particular interest to those who are spiritually confused. Such questions as "What Must I Do To Be Saved?" "What does salvation include?" "What church shall I join?" will be dealt with in a distinct, different, definite way. A social invitation is extended the public to attend, said Rev. Lindley.

San Angelo Jurors, Deadlocked, Left To Deliberate Longer

SAN ANGELO, (AP)—Reported deadlocked 11 to 1 over punishment of Charles Fuller, the jury trying the case of the slaying of a young girl, returned to the courtroom today after three days' effort when Judge O. L. Parham returned to Billinger. The jury has had the case since Saturday afternoon.

President Hoover Asks Railway Executives And Labor Leaders To Postpone Wage Discussions

WASHINGTON—Secretary Doak issued a statement disclosing President Hoover has requested the representatives of railway labor organizations and the president of the railway industry to defer their discussions of railway wage reductions until the end of the present year.

Doak's statement was issued after a conference with the president. Recently the leaders of more than 20 railway labor organizations and brotherhoods requested President Hoover to oppose suggestions for further reductions in railway wages. Doak said today the president had expressed to the railway labor leaders at that time the view that the question of reductions be laid aside until at least Jan. 1.

Home Of Judge Who Sentenced Sacco And Vanzetti To Death Wrecked By Explosion Of Bomb

WORCESTER, Mass. (AP)—The home of Judge Webster Thayer, who sentenced to death Nicola Sacco and Bartholomew Vanzetti, internationally-known radicals, after they were convicted of murder, was wrecked by an explosion Monday.

The explosion blew out the entire rear part of the house and caved in walls of a garage.

Police said a bomb apparently caused the blast. The judge was not injured. His wife was buried under wreckage and suffered laceration on the forehead and neck.

J. Frank Dobie Here Tonight

Noted Authority On Southwest Lore Speaks At 8 o'clock

Hundreds who have followed with personal interest his work as the leading authority on history and lore of the southwest, and who have eagerly read his novels, which are the popular world over, will gather this evening at 8 o'clock in the high school auditorium to hear a lecture by Dr. J. Frank Dobie, University of Texas professor, cowboy and author.

Dr. Dobie, who is coming here under auspices of the Library Club, spoke to an audience in Midland Monday evening which completely filled the auditorium. He was expected here Tuesday morning but was given opportunity of accompanying a party of Midland men to a point of historical interest on the Pecos river, and could not appear before the Rotary club Tuesday noon.

The great mass of authentic information, obtained through years of research and a lifetime spent on Texas ranches, which is of direct interest of people of this section because it has to do with the life and exploits of the earliest white settlers and their predecessors, will be brought to his audience by Dr. Dobie. Admission charge will be nominal.

Girl Hells Hold-Up Man To Open Register Himself

SWEETWATER—With a handkerchief wrapped around his face as a mask, a lone bandit, terrorized the Santa Fe lunch room, Fifth and Ash streets, about 11 o'clock Sunday night, getting $10 to $15 in cash, and accidentally discharging his sawed-off shotgun as he departed, injuring Curtis Carlisle, 81.

Carlisle's injuries, while painful were not considered serious. He was back at the lunch room shortly before noon Monday.

The bandit, believed to be not more than 20 years old, and thought to be the same person who last week robbed the Harvey House at the Santa Fe yards, at the point of a sawed-off shot gun, entered the lunch stand from the rear.

He ordered Mr. Pool, owner of the place, Miss Beadie Drewry, and young Carlisle to lay on the floor. The bandit winked at Miss Drewry in a flirting manner and asked her to open the cash register.

Shelton Exonerated In Fatal Shooting Of Man Near Colorado

COLORADO.—C. M. Shelton, held for investigation following death of his nephew Virgil Gleghorn, was released here late Saturday after a coroner's verdict ruled Gleghorn met an accidental death.

Man Wanted In 14 Towns Is Released

Boasting criminal records in fourteen cities and carrying nine aliases, Frank Burns, dope addict, is free somewhere in West Texas because no one wants him.

Wanted for a week, city officers Burns was released Saturday when no report came from Washington in reply to a fingerprint query sent in by authorities.

While in jail Burns freely and frequently told of his long criminal record. Tuesday Washington headquarters substantiated all Burns had said and added to the story.

But so far none of the fourteen cities have sent in inquiries concerning the fugitive.

Washington reports list San Angelo, Abilene, Wichita Falls, Plainview, Galveston, Tacoma, Wash.; Salem, Ore.; Reno, Nevada; Madras, Merced, San Francisco, Los Angeles and Oakland, Calif. and Boise, Idaho, as places where Burns was at odds with the law.

He carried aliases of Frank Clay, Frank Burns, C. B. Beaudry, Frank Ace, Frank Burke, Frank Collins, Thomas King, Charles J. Wooder and Mickey Dew. Burns is alleged to have committed crimes ranging from petty theft and larceny to violating the drug act and breaking parole.

The public is invited to listen in on the games of this and all succeeding games of the series. The large loud speaker will be at the front of the Herald building, as it was arranged last year.

Rotarians In Talks Tuesday At Luncheon

Dr. Dobie Delayed In Arrival; Blankenship, Spann Speakers

Due to change in plans, Professor J. Frank Dobie, who was scheduled to appear before the Rotary club in its weekly luncheon at the Settles hotel Tuesday noon, was unable to present. However, it was announced Dr. Dobie would appear in his scheduled address (Friday night) at the high school auditorium under auspices of the Library Club.

The program was in charge of the public information committee, composed of J. Y. Robb and Joe Galbraith. W. C. Blankenship gave a talk on "Relation of a Rotary Club With the General Public," in which he said that the worth-while accomplishments of an individual Rotarian or a Rotary club as a whole are met eagerly by the public seeking information for betterment of a community.

R. V. Jones, Jr., chairman of City Commissioner and Mrs. R. V. Jones, junior in Big Spring high school, favored the club with a popular number on the piano, entitled "Goodbye."

Rev. J. Richard Spann, pastor of First Methodist church of this city, spoke on the "Life of Service Clubs in Service."

Ray Simmons led a spirited singing, prior to the meeting, with Mrs. Bruce Frazer as accompanist. The singing in Tuesday's meeting was said by some members to have been the best the local club has had for some time.

Birds Foster as official announcer, introduced the following visiting Rotarians: C. E. Boydston, Brawley, Cal.; A. C. Williamson, Sweetwater; Tom H. Hudspeth, El Paso; and the following guests: Dr. W. B. Harby, B. F. Robbins, Minister Melvin J. Wise, Dr. Lee Q. Rogers, W. J. Garrett, Ray Wilcox, R. V. Jones, Jr., G. T. Watson, Norman H. Road, Coahoma, Rev. J. Richard Spann, Dr. F. W. Majors, Herbert W. Cust, Chicago, Illinois.

Elmo Wasson, chairman of the program committee, announced next week's program would be in charge of the Midland Rotary club, representatives of which will journey to this city to return an exchange of programs, September 22 the local club was in charge of a program at Midland.

Mr. and Mrs. E. R. Kutschart of Fort Worth were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. F. L. Bausner.

Puerto Rican Storm Claims Lives Of Many

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—At least 30 persons were known to be killed in a terrific hurricane which struck this city Monday night.

Full force of the 120-mile wind struck before midnight, lashed San Juan until 2:30 Monday morning, causing property damage even greater than the disastrous 1928 blow.

Puerto Rican Storm Claims Lives Of Many

Death toll in two catastrophes of Monday night climbed to more than 130 by Tuesday afternoon.

More than 100 were killed in a hurricane which swept the island of Puerto Rico, where wind attained velocity of 130 miles per hour.

In Greece an earthquake destroyed several villages, killing more than 30 persons.

SAN JUAN, Puerto Rico (AP)—At least 30 persons were known to be killed in a terrific hurricane which struck this city Monday night.

Full force of the 120-mile wind struck before midnight, lashed San Juan until 2:30 Monday morning, causing property damage even greater than the disastrous 1928 blow.

Hundreds were injured and thousands made homeless. First reports indicated most of the dead were in small outlying towns.

In the city loss of life was materially reduced by police, who removed women and children from homes to more substantial buildings. The ocean front section of San Juan homes were wholly destroyed or rendered uninhabitable.

Governor James R. Beverley's residence and office suffered greatly from the flood.

The weather bureau estimated greatest force of the storm had been along the northeastern half of the island.

ATHEENS, Greece (AP)—More than 100 persons were killed and at least fifty injured by an earthquake in the Chalcidice region Monday night.

The village of Stratoklikon was reduced to ruins. Casualties there were estimated at 50 dead, 100 injured. Fifty persons were reported killed in the nearby village of Ierissos, where numerous houses collapsed.

Big Spring Child To Be Buried In Kansas Thursday

Betty Mae Groom, 7, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. D. T. Groom, 1107 Sycamore street, will be buried at Kanorado, Kansas, Thursday following funeral services at 2:30 p. m. from the Christian church with Rev. Dudley in charge.

Body of the child, who died here Friday night after an illness of three days, was started overland from the Charles Eberly funeral home at 6 a. m. Tuesday to Goodland, Kansas, from where it will be taken to Kanorado by Bowers and Son, undertakers there.

Grandparents of Betty Mae, Mrs. L. McCoy of Kanorado and Mr. and Mrs. E. Groom of Goodland, and an uncle, K. I. Groom of Goodland arrived here Monday morning to accompany the body.

The Groom family has resided here since November 1928. Mr. Groom is connected with the Cossden Oil company.

Is Water Free?
SOME TIME AGO, THE managers of a western city made an effort to reduce taxes by cancelling some 200,000 in stand-by charges for fire protection by the city to the local municipal water district.

This illustrates one of the fiscal phases of municipal ownership—a political system which has enabled many municipalities to light and water ventures to show a "check" profit until all of a sudden they require money for imperative needs, and the taxpayers find the treasury empty.

Cubs Due Tuesday Morning On Expedition Against Yanks

By EDWARD J. NEIL
Associated Press Sports Writer
NEW YORK—They nailed the hunting to the front of hundreds of sunlit boxes in the Yankee stadium today, brought out the flags and tuned up the bands for the world series show is back on Broadway again after a lapse of three years.

Down on the playing field of the big American league ball park the championship Yankees frolicked through the first of two workouts that will fit them for the invasion of the Chicago Cubs and the start of baseball's annual fall hysteria Wednesday.

Big Guns Have Range
There were Babe Ruth and Lou Gehrig, in rubber shirts, their faces busy on a fine brand of baseball bat whacking.

They reached the right field bleachers where, starting at 1:30 p. m. Wednesday, the frantic faithful will rise and stream for a similar feat each time one of them comes to bat.

As big "Red" Ruffing, the people's choice to face Guy Bush of the Cubs in the opening game, joined left-handed Ed Wells, Dan McGuffey and Charley Devins pitching for the Yankees, the big and the slugging all in a row, mood, rattled the fences with linchpins.

Ticket Rush
While the Yankee business offices were crowded with purchasers, the rush for tickets fell far below that of the three-year reign of the Yankees from 1926 through 1929, when a single strip of tickets, covering three games, was hard to get than an audience with royalty.

Stadium capacity now is about 59,000. The world series single game record of 63,000 was set here in 1926.

A fresh injection of enthusiasm was due Tuesday morning with arrival of the Cubs, racing eastward with the cheers and pleas of Chicago's faithful, blistering them against the might of the Yankee siege guns, and the sharpshooting of Ruffing and Lefty Gomez, the latter the logical choice to pitch the second game for the Yankees against either Charley Root or young Lon Warneke.

Doctor And Nurse Killed At Crossing
BEAUMONT, (UP)—Poor visibility during a rain storm was blamed for the deaths of Dr. Jasper Grimes, 59, and Mrs. Hazel Berry, 26, a nurse, who were killed yesterday when a Southern Pacific train struck their automobile at a crossing.

The crash occurred at a crossing near Vidon, seven miles east of here in Orange county. The doctor and nurse were returning home after attending the birth of a child to Mrs. G. Simmons, wife of an Orange county farmer.

Dr. Grimes' body was hurled clear of the wreckage while that of Mrs. Berry was burned beyond recognition in the ensuing fire.

Judge Says Davis Knew Of Lottery
NEW YORK (UP)—Presiding at the trial of Senator James J. Davis on charges of violation of the federal lottery laws, Federal Judge Frank J. Coleman today declared he believed the evidence thus far adduced justifies a jury finding that Davis knew of the plan to operate a lottery on a nation-wide scale.

Judge Coleman, who was hearing defense counsel arguments for a directed verdict of acquittal, also said he thought the evidence justified a finding that Davis knew "tickets had to be transported across state lines."

The motion was denied on every point, but the defense was given permission to renew the motion later.

Manager Del Baker of the Beaumont club said Tuesday night he believed his Texas team would come through with at least two more victories, though he said the heavy rains would handicap his club.

Technical Knockout Scored By Schmeling Over Walker

Fighting Irishman Unable To Return After Eighth Round—Knocked Down Twice
MADISON SQUARE GARDEN, New York—The punishing power in Max Schmeling's deadly right hand abruptly checked the heavyweight surge of gallant Mickey Walker Monday night and gave the German heavyweight a technical knockout victory over the chunky little Irishman after eight sensational rounds of a 15-round match.

In dramatic and unusual finish the fight was stopped after the eighth round with Walker so badly cut and bleeding around the eyes he was unable to continue.

Knocked down twice for counts of six and nine seconds in the eighth, Walker staggered to his corner with his left eye tightly closed, his right eye cut, gashes about his nose and mouth. Without hesitation his veteran manager, Jack Kearns, accepted defeat for the fighting Irishman, and notified Referee Jack Denning, who immediately awarded the decision to Schmeling.

First Knockout Since '26
In effect Walker was stopped the victim of his first technical knockout since he was halted in 1926 by Joe Dundee after previously losing the world welterweight title to Pete Latzo.

A crowd estimated by Promoter James J. Johnson at 25,000, contributing to gate receipts of about $175,000 saw Walker battered in the eighth round by Schmeling's spectacular right hand attack after a spirited rally had carried the fighting Irishman back from the verge of being knocked out in the very first round.

On the Associated Press score sheet the score was exactly even—four and four—so far as the rounds were concerned but this didn't happen to be the payoff.

Schmeling's decisive victory three months after he lost the world heavyweight championship to Jack Sharkey, feathered and strengthened the German's position as the only real contender for the title. Max clearly outclassed the powerful little fighter who had held Sharkey to a draw.

NEW YORK—The Madison Square Garden boxing club was temporarily restrained by a superior court today from paying Max Schmeling a $150,000 guarantee for his fight with Mickey Walker.

SPORTS ON PARADE

By CURTIS BISHOP

No later than tomorrow, that is if the baseball officials don't play a dirty trick upon the unsuspecting public, the Chicago Cubs and the New York Yankees come together for the World Series. The Yankees are favored in Wall Street by odds of 13 to 5, and callers are at a premium. Fans may hear a play by play result by merely sitting upon the curb in front of the Herald office. Admission is free gratis.

The big baseball show will, for a while at least, divert the attention of the District 3 sports writers to something beside the committee meeting to be held here Saturday afternoon, and the protest of Red Sheridan's eligibility to be filed by Mr. George Gentry and dwelled upon to some great length by that same gentleman. We are very glad, for in the last week our newspapers have become very bitter in their denunciation of Big Spring school sports and newspapermen.

Of course Millard Cope could be dejected upon to say something like this: "It is our duty, chortles Curtis Bishop in answer to the numerous protests arising all over district three in regard to the attitude the Big Spring school officials are taking in regard to several players on the various teams. Yes, it becomes their painful duty to see that football is kicked off in proper style, even if it will make the Steers the most unpopular team in the district. No, there won't be any individual play-by-play against the Steers this year."

They're keeping their noses clean—this Howard County bunch—this year. "There is one rainbow in the sky, however, about the whole thing. We are very, very glad to see that Obie has reformed in such a big way. It seems almost impossible to believe that a man can change his opinion so much in only one year."

"And Mr. Bishop, the same talented gentleman writes, 'by the way in defending Big Spring for their alleged unsportsmanlike conduct, refers to something that happened in a basketball game between Sweetwater and Big Spring in the Sand Hill loop. He tries to show that Big Spring is not the only town that has shown a lack of sportsmanship. He does not name the offense that is alleged to have been committed by the Mustangs. And etc.'"

This writer is learning something. If a school violates an eligibility, passed in open session, and even approved by the officials of that school itself, if that school seeks to play an ineligible man—then the officials of another school that insist upon that rule being enforced are unsportsmanlike. It is a new and queer interpretation.

It wasn't so long ago, in 1927 or 1928, that the local team was ruled out of the district B race after strenuous orating by Sweetwater school officials. That, of course, was different. It always is with people like that.

George Brown was removed from the hospital to his home shortly before noon Monday, and is in excellent condition. It will be, however, several weeks before he will take his place as guardian angel of the Steer line candidates.

The San Angelo Hobcats are due to be the heaviest team in the district race, and Harry Taylor's proteges are rapidly gaining the respect due them in pre-season dopings. Second place is almost a lead pipe cinch for the Kittens now, and a championship is not unlikely. Sweetwater, with Sam Baugh in danger of typhoid and suffering from an injured hip, are losing prestige every day.

Incidentally we are informed that Great as Delker may be another man in the Angelo backfield is going to attract a little bit of attention himself this fall. The lad's name is Curly Hays, and he is listed as weighing around 190 pounds.

McCahey, it seems, is listed as the dark horse. Every race must have a dark horse. There were six men in the district race, and sweetwater was the only one to come in under the wire.

We are holding our prediction as to the District 3 race until after the committee meeting Saturday. Should Sheridan be declared ineligible our vote goes to San Angelo for first place, Sweetwater second, and then in order, Big Spring, McCahey, Colorado, and Midland. Should the Mustang redhead be given a clean bill of health we will reverse the first two positions.

Texas Democrats Contribute $38,000 To Campaign Fund

DALLAS (UP)—Texas Democrats already have contributed about $38,000 to the national campaign, and the Texas quota has been set at $150,000, Frank Scofield, Hillsboro, chairman of the Democratic finance committee for Texas, announced here.

He was in conference with Harold Byrd, member of the state finance committee, J. C. Adams, national committeeman, Maury Hughes, state democratic chairman and W. A. Thomas, heading the campaign committee for the fifth congressional district.

A drive for small contributions ranging from $1 upward through the sale of medallions bearing the likeness of Gov. Franklin D. Roosevelt and John N. Garner will be launched Oct. 8, Scofield said. He estimated 40,000 would be sold in Texas.

A meeting of 400 persons engaged to sell the medallions will be held in Fort Worth tonight at which Scofield will be the principal speaker. Scofield said members of social clubs had volunteered to sell the medallions.

THE FORT DEARBORN MASSACRE
"Nature in the Raw"—as portrayed by the artist, N.C. Wyeth... inspired by the heartless treachery of a band of vicious Miami Indians, who massacred the settlers with inhuman ferocity... August 15, 1812.

—and raw tobaccos have no place in cigarettes

They are not present in Luckies... the mildest cigarette you ever smoked

WE buy the finest, the very finest tobaccos in all the world—but that does not explain why folks everywhere regard Lucky Strike as the mildest cigarette. The fact is, we never overlook the truth that "Nature in the Raw is Seldom Mild"—so these fine tobaccos, after proper aging and mellowing, are then given the benefit of that Lucky Strike purifying process, described by the words—"It's toasted". That's why folks in every city, town and hamlet say that Luckies are such mild cigarettes.

Does not this explain the world-wide acceptance and approval of Lucky Strike?

CHAPTER XI

The dusty roadster slid down off the divide and entered a dense stand of pine and spruce. The green freshness of the forest was in strange contrast with the dry valleys behind. The road was rutty and Donna had to slow their pace. After winding down for a mile they came to a slope that was cut clean of timber.

"They sure disrobe mother nature proper when they cut timber," Dudley observed.

Donna frowned. "I don't know the government allowed clean cutting," she observed. Suddenly she remembered Seth Dobbs' reluctance in offering help in the Beis interests. She was sure her father could not have given such orders. The slope was cut clean of everything.

They drove slowly over a ridge and found themselves almost in the timber camp of Three Rivers. Sheds and houses of unfinished lumber lined the road, while at the far end of the little settlement stood a large building set back in the only grove of trees left standing.

Donna headed the roadster toward this building. Bearded men gazed after the car and smiled as it passed. Several of the men came to the door and waved.

"What do you mean?" Donna asked sharply. Swergin's little eyes made her skin creep and she felt almost as though he had played his rough hands upon her.

"Your Pa can hunt but when I get as ill as I am and about this time of year, I can't do it. Swergin wants to take care of it for three years."

"What do you mean?" Donna asked sharply. Swergin's little eyes made her skin creep and she felt almost as though he had played his rough hands upon her.

"Your Pa can hunt but when I get as ill as I am and about this time of year, I can't do it. Swergin wants to take care of it for three years."

I've been handling DeLo. Tupper for quite a while and I know the could cut some into city streets - my eyes falter.

"Swergin is a good boss but his speech and ways are rough," Donna tried to placate the timber boss.

He words irritated Swergin visibly. "In a gent who knows how to take care of timber and a woman - I don't know what she's doing."

"Don't almost jumped at his words. She had met many of her father's trusted men but this was the first one who had ever spoken with such business and equality. Three Rivers was indeed a different camp. She resolved at once to keep her manner toward Swergin quite formal.

"I don't know what you know," she urged in a different tone. The big fellow before her demanded equal treatment by his powerful presence.

"You asked why they allowed clean cutting? Well, that's the only way any money can be made on the stand and the government knows it. Next season we'll move over on the Blind River side and sell cut the same way as there."

Swergin's jaw thrust out and his narrow eyes snapped.

"This is a feud that's between timbermen and cowboys," Donna spoke slowly.

"It sure is and it's getting good!" the big boss went on.

"Why are the cattlemen so eager about that report on your cutting?"

"I don't want the whole story now that they were out here."

"I don't know what you know," she urged in a different tone. The big fellow before her demanded equal treatment by his powerful presence.

decision. Mr. Beck said the substance of the court's ruling was that the Texas Legislature had a right to pass such a law if it so desired. The court also recognized the right of the state to provide for certain exceptions, as provided by the law, under which loads up to 14,000 pounds could legally be hauled.

Beck's statement continued thus: "One of these exceptions was in cases where the load was being carried from or to the nearest practicable common carrier loading point."

"Acting on this decision of the court, certain truck operators began to haul loads of 14,000 pounds to the nearest common carrier loading point, only to find that these points were not properly equipped to handle their loads in the belief that it was then legal to pass points which were not properly equipped or 'practicable' these operators passed by the nearest loading points carrying their loads of more than 7,000 pounds.

"Several of these operators were arrested. The arrests continued until in self-defense of what they considered their right under the law various operators asked court injunctions protecting them from the arresting officers until the matter could be taken up by the State courts and specifically passed upon.

"More injunctions were granted to private owners and operators of trucks than to operators for hire. Injunctions were granted temporary injunctions until the State courts could be specifically dealt with by the courts.

"Recently several members of the highway patrol were cited for contempt of court by two district judges in whose courts the injunctions were filed, because the patrol members disregarded these injunctions and arrested operators to whom they had been granted. The case was heard Monday, September 19, before the State Supreme Court and attorneys were granted time to file briefs. A decision is expected about October 1.

Truck Owners Deny Attempt Against Laws

General Manager Of Operators Association Issues Statement

AUSTIN—Describing as erroneous the widespread impression that motor truck owners are attempting to override the decision of the United States Supreme Court by means of injunctions against the 7,000-pound load law, Walter Beck, general manager of the Texas Motor Transportation association and former member of the Texas Legislature today stated that truck owners are not trying to violate the law but to comply with it both in spirit and letter.

The room was empty and Donna crossed rapidly to one of the doors. She had almost reached it when it opened and a big man with broad shoulders and a thick nose stepped out. He surveyed her a moment, a look of surprise on his face. Then his big mouth spread in a grin.

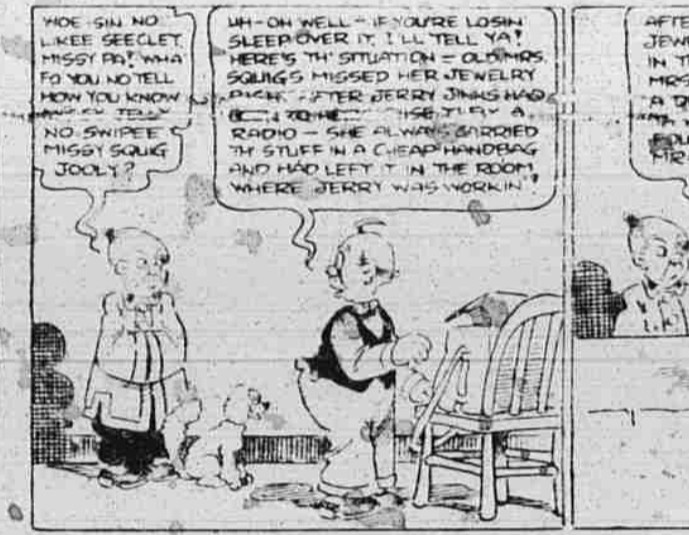

"Miss Donna?" he rumbled. "Your Pa and he half expected you. Said to tell you he was out hunting."

"And you are Swergin?" Donna did not like the appraising way the man looked at her.

"That's my name," he said, looking down at her. "I'm Swergin. Your father should show more deference to me. I'm the boss up here. He let his chest fill out and his narrow eyes winkled.

"This is Mr. Winters," Mr. Swergin said. "Donna presented Dudley. Dudley grasped the huge fist

Enforcement --Not Repeal

REFEAL ALL LAWS

To The Herald: "Repealing the Eighteenth Amendment will lower taxes and increase the federal revenue." This is one of the arguments urged by the advocates of repeal and wholeheartedly endorsed by all of the beer barons, lords of the whisky admiralty, rich financiers and big bondholders generally. Reduce taxes? Of course it will! It will reduce big income and corporate taxes and transfer the financial burden of supporting the government from the shoulders of the moneyed classes to the backs of the hard-working poor, where it rightfully belongs.

The principal plea for the repeal of the Eighteenth Amendment is, however, that "it is not and can not be enforced." What is there in this argument if it may be so dignified?

It is a well-known fact that the Harrison antinarcotic law is not and can not be enforced. Dope peddlers ply their trade day and night with impunity. Since this law is not and can not be enforced, what are you going to do about it? Logically, our prohibition friends should reply, "Oh, that's easy! Repeal the law! A law which can not be enforced is a waste of paper."

For more than 5,000 years there has been a law on the statute books of both God and man prohibiting murder. This law never has been enforced and never can be enforced under present conditions. The records show that there are more than 100,000 murderers walking the streets of America every day fearlessly and free. What is to be done about it? The great Democratic statesman, Solomon Wette, would sagely reply, "Why, repeal the darn thing! A law that can not be enforced ought to be abolished, and we should adopt some more effective plan to prevent murder!"

In perfect accord with the plea, that a law which can not be enforced should be speedily abolished, I respectfully suggest to the leaders of the repeal movement that they call a mass meeting at once and adopt the following resolutions embodying their principles and appoint a committee to present these resolutions and approval:

"Whereas, The experience of the last 5,000 years have proven conclusively that your code of laws against murder, lynch, theft, adultery, etc., never have been enforced and never can be enforced and should therefore, be wiped off the statute book:

"Therefore be it resolved, That we recommend the repeal of all of said laws and that it be done without unnecessary delay.

"Since it has been shown to be impossible to enforce the laws hitherto enacted for the government of mankind and since these laws infringe upon the personal rights and privileges of the people, we respectfully suggest that you resign your office as supreme ruler of the universe and turn the job over to your subjects."

Heads Grain Dealers Wagon Tongue Driven Trough Windshield Of Car Kills Youth

MCKINNEY (UP)—A wagon tongue driven through a windshield and into the chest of Darrell Smart, 21, of Blue Ridge, late yesterday when the youth attempted to avoid striking a panicky team of horses with his automobile led to his death.

The accident occurred a mile west of Blue Ridge on the McKinney-Blue Ridge highway.

Paul Riley, Smart's companion, said the automobile was stopped when the team stampeded. Smart's stomach and chest was crushed by the blow. But he believed himself not seriously injured and continued his drive towards Blue Ridge. A short distance from town he surrendered the wheel to Riley, asking that he be hurried to a doctor.

Amos Chitty, farmer and owner of the team, told officers that children playing alongside the highway frightened his team. Neither Chitty nor his family were injured.

Funeral services for Smart will be held this afternoon with the Rev. J. R. Hiler, Greenville, officiating.

Tom Cantrell who has been seriously ill, is convalescing nicely.

Mrs. Geo. Garrett is visiting in Abilene.
