Holly Reports Refinery Work On Schedule

A progress report on construction of Holly Sugar Corporation's new $21,000,000 beet sugar factory near Hereford was issued from Holly's Colorado Springs headquarters today by President Dennis O'Rourke, who indicated that work thus far is proceeding on schedule.

Steel erection on the main building of the sprawling factory complex, which is being built on an 1,800-acre tract of land southwest of Hereford, started at mid-July and is scheduled for completion in late September.

Meanwhile, a great deal of less spectacular work has been done. Rail spurs of the Santa Fe Railroad have been completed from the main line into the Holly property, including an overpass across Highway 60. This enables shipment on to the construction site of heavy materials and equipment.

Several warehouse structures for sugar, dried beet pulp used as a livestock feed, bags and supplies, as well as the office building and laboratory tare laboratory and the sacking and liquid sugar melting buildings are progressing rapidly toward completion. Foundations for the boiler house and power house are now going in, the company head reported.

Permanent roads and parking areas have been graded and rolled, and the property has been fenced.

Work on the main building is being pushed so that it can be enclosed before winter and thus provide for continuation of interior work, including installation of equipment, during the winter months," O'Rourke said.

He said that the work schedule toward a target completion in time to process the 1964 sugar beet crop, is a tight one. It is necessary that every effort be exerted if this new facility is to be in operation in 1964," he said, adding:

"This new facility will be an important addition to the nation's productive ability in sugar, and at a time when such expansion is particularly needed to help assure adequate supplies for increasing domestic requirements."

The progress report stated that excavations have been started for the foundations of the concrete bulk sugar storage bins, which will be about 200 feet tall and are designed to contain 60,000,000 pounds of sugar.

Shipments of specialized factory equipment already have begun to reach the plant site, and O'Rourke said engineers in charge of construction reported that orders have been placed for all major items of equipment, some of which require many months for fabricating to specifications for this big sugar plant.

Two Injured As At Potato Shed Barrel Explodes

An exploding metal barrel injured two Latin-American workers at Howard Gault Co. vegetable shed in south Hereford. Neither was injured seriously. Eduardo Resendez, 36, Hereford, an employee of the company, and Audline Rios, 18, Hereford, a contract laborer.

According to a Deaf Smith County Hospital spokesman, neither of the Latin-Americans was injured seriously. They were reported to be in good condition at the hospital Wednesday.

The explosion occurred as Resendez was attempting to open the metal drum with a cutting torch. The blast knocked him backwards several feet, breaking his nose and blacking an eye.

Resendez was cutting on the

New Grand Jury Indicts Eleven, No Bills Five

In a lengthy two-day session a new Deaf Smith County Grand Jury considered 20 cases true billing 11 persons and no billing five. Four cases were passed until the next session of the jury.

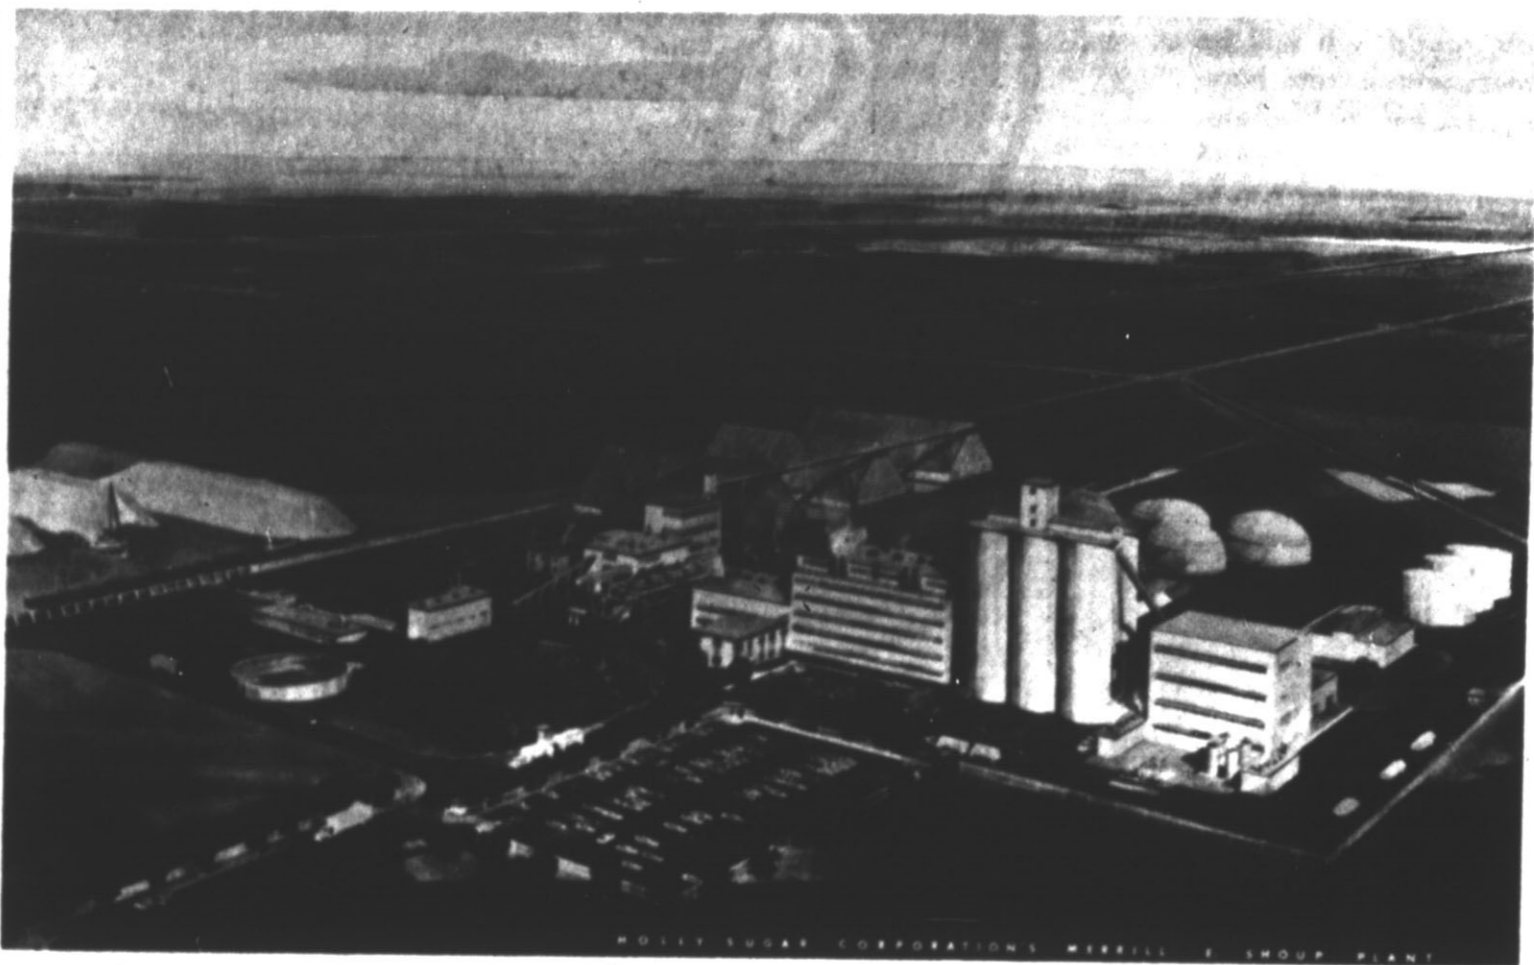

As the new grand jury was convened, 69th District Court, under Judge Harry Schultz also went into a short session to hear guilty pleas.

Also during the session, Judge Schultz signed a letter submitted James Wiley Wimberley asking that his appeal be withdrawn.

Wimberley gave notice of appeal following his conviction and sentencing to 35 years in the penitentiary after trial here in May. He was convicted of armed robbery.

Extend City, Rural Delivery Routes

Extension of city delivery routes and rural routes has been made to serve more Hereford Post Office patrons, according to Grady Noina, postmaster. Extension of routes was made this week.

According to the postmaster Rural Route 1 has been extended to include the 400 blocks of Avenues C, D, and E, and the 300 and 400 blocks of Ave. G as well as the 300 block of Miller.

Rural Route 5 has been changed to include Bradley Street west of South Texas, he commented.

Mounted delivery routes have been set up to serve patrons in the northwestern section of the city. Streets on these routes are Gum, 200 block Center; 200 block Beach; 200 block Aspen; Stadium Drive; 200 block Ranger, north end, and 800 West Park.

For mounted delivery service, Grady explained, boxes must be placed at the curb line since mail is delivered by a carrier in a vehicle.

Such routes, the postmaster pointed out, are designed to provide service to patrons in areas which are just developing but do not qualify for foot carrier service.

These routes will enable Hereford Post Office to provide carrier service without patrons waiting until newly developed areas qualify.

Extension of routes within the city will provide city delivery to 74 additional points for a total of 213 additional delivery points since Jan. 1, stated Grady.

After telling of the route extensions, Grady pointed out that Hereford's post office has noted a 47 per cent increase in receipts over the past six months.

Receipts for the first half of 1963, he commented, have totaled $84,958.62. For the same period a year ago, receipts were $57,785.61.

Nets Burglary Suspect On Spot Routine Patrol

A burglary suspect practically walked into the arms of a waiting Hereford Police Department patrolman after the alleged burglary of a Hereford business firm early Wednesday morning.

Arrested and being held for investigation of burglary at Hereford Farm Supply, East First and Jewell, is a 17-year-old Latin-American suspect, Albert R. Rodriguez of Hereford. The youth was stopped on suspicion by a Police Department patrolman in front of the farm supply firm about 12:41 a.m. Wednesday. The officer was on routine patrol.

As the youth was searched, the officer found 125 dimes, 51 nickels, 17 quarters, five one-dollar bills, tool box, key, tape measure and a small tool.

Officers then inspected the building, finding a door unlocked and the glass knocked out. The glass had been cracked before the alleged break-in and was being held together with heavy tape.

Investigation revealed that the glass had been knocked out, the door unlocked, and the firm entered. A coin-operated soft drink vending machine in the building had been pried open and the coin box emptied.

Weldon Sims, manager of the firm, was notified of the break-in. This is the second burglary suspect arrested by Hereford Police Department officers while on routine patrol. Another suspect was arrested here early Sunday.

FROM $1.62 TO $1.60

School Cuts Taxes Two Cents

A tax cut was voted by trustees of the Hereford Independent School District during a called meeting Tuesday night. The two-cent decrease will lower the tax rate from $1.62 to $1.60 per $100 of taxable valuation.

The slight decrease was approved unanimously, although the board has not yet finished its budget for the 1963-64 year. They made the move as the second budget draft indicated that such a decrease would be offset by an increase in property valuation due to the current building boom.

School taxes currently are figured on 40 per cent of actual value. For example, the $1.60 tax rate will be applied to $4,000 on a $10,000 house, for a tax cost of $64. Under the old rate of $1.62, the tax would have been $64.80 for the same house.

Superintendent Paul Stevens said the rate decrease could be attributed to the valuation increases, larger tax collection than had been anticipated and close management during the past year which resulted in some surplus in funds over budget needs.

It is expected that the board will adopt its 1963-64 budget at the next regular meeting.

Trustees also passed a resolution asking that property adjacent to Stanton Junior High School not be rezoned to permit a drive-in restaurant. Business manager Kendall Williams presented the resolution at a meeting of the city zoning commission on Tuesday evening. The board listed traffic hazards to school children, increased motor traffic and a desire to keep down the number of public eating places around schools as reasons for the request.

In other action, six new teachers were hired as the 1963-64 faculty is almost complete. Hired were: Dannie Karl Richardson, for high school English; Gerald D. Dings, for high school mathematics.

1964 Grain Program Will Be Similar To Last Year's

Provisions of the 1964 feed grain program will be basically the same as the 1963 program, according to Frank J. Bezner, chairman, Agricultural Stabilization and Conservation County Committee. Sign-up period is planned for early 1964.

In commenting on program provisions, Bezner pointed out that eligibility for benefits will not be contingent on a producer's staying exactly with the wheat allotment for the signed farm.

It is felt, he explained, that requiring normal acreage to be maintained for conserving use will insure that any wheat planted in excess of allotment would be at the expense of some other soil-depleting crop.

Another provision which was considered but not adopted, he added, was one authorizing program participants complying with 1964 wheat allotment provisions to substitute wheat on feed grain acres or feed grain on wheat acreage.

Changes in the 1964 feed grain program, Bezner continued, have been held to the "fewest consistent with law and economic circumstances" by USDA and are based on producer recommendations.

Major change noted in the program is an increase in the top limit of diversion from the farm's base acreage with an increase in rate of payment for maximum diversion, the county committee chairman said.

"This is intended to encourage producers to divert additional feed grain acreage and increase their income," he stated.

Man Held After Three Break-ins

A Latin-American, who told police officers he "was waiting for his girl friend" was arrested here on suspicion of burglary early Sunday on West First.

The suspect, Thomas T. Gonzales, 27, 125 Jackson, was seen by patrolmen walking west on First Street. The officers circled around the block and parked on the lot.

According to an offense report, the man is alleged to have entered three automobiles on the lot. He did not see the patrol car until he was arrested.

The man is suspected of committing at least one of three alleged burglaries which occurred between Saturday evening and Sunday morning in the 100 block of South Main.

Firms burglarized included Texaco Oil Co., 105 S. Main; Rockwell Brothers Lumber Co., 104 S. Main; and Pitman Grain Co., 100 S. Main.

Break-in at the oil company office was discovered by a police patrolman. A window on the south side of the building next to the door was reported broken out and the door unlocked.

An office safe, which had been left open at the close of business Saturday, was ransacked but nothing was reported missing. It had been left open since no money was in it.

A few packages of cigarettes were taken and damage was reported to be $7.

At the lumber company, door windows on the south and east sides of the building were broken out and the firm entered. The office was ransacked, but nothing was reported missing.

Edd Workman Top Winner In Annual Riders Club Rodeo

Edd Workman of Lubbock, 1963 National Intercollegiate Rodeo Champion who recently turned professional, won $500 in the Hereford Riders Club Rodeo held Thursday, Friday and Saturday, July 25-27. He placed in four of the five divisions at the rodeo with a first place average in Calf Roping and Bulldogging, a second in Saddle Bronc Riding and a tie for fourth place in Bullriding.

He was in Hereford only one day, Saturday, because he was competing in another rodeo and performed in two rounds on that day, one Saturday morning and the other Saturday night.

In the first go-round of Saddle Bronc Riding, Ron Conaster came in first, Keith Loyd second and Edd Workman, third. Edd Workman won the second first place in Bullriding Eddie Puckett of Muleshoe and Fred Cargill of Lubbock tied for second and third place. Pete Wisheart and Bunt Kitchens, both of Muleshoe, tied for fourth and fifth place.

In the Bareback Bronc division, Corkey Berry from Tulla and H. C. Zachery from Lubbock tied for first and second places, Bowie Wesley of Happy came in third and Johnny Clark of Fort Worth and Edd Workman of Lubbock tied for fourth and fifth.

In the second go-round, Bowie Wesley was first, Workman second and Don Pinnell of Adrian, third. Workman placed first in the average with Ski Hurst of Clovis finishing second and Spleer Gripp of Hereford coming in third.

Around Town

By H. A. TUCK

All right, already. So it did rain Saturday night. But I was partially correct in my last column. It didn't rain out the rodeo, which kept right on going, or even the carnival, part of which continued inside the Bull Barn. And if I can get another rain by predicting that one won't come, then I'll be glad to do it. And I won't even turn professional like that guy in Tulsa who claims credit for the seven or eight inches they got over there in one afternoon.

For the first time in the history of the Festival, the parade didn't start on time. But that wasn't the fault of the parade marshal. Freddie The Fireman loaded his firetruck on a rented truck in Amarillo Saturday to bring it to the parade. But the carrying truck expired in Canyon and Freddie had to scoot back to Amarillo, get another truck, load the fire engine on the replacement truck and make tracks for Hereford. He arrived here just at 4 p.m. and had to get unloaded before the parade could start. But the parade was worth waiting for and we think it probably attracted the largest crowd ever.

All Veterans of Foreign Wars members are reminded of a meeting Thursday, Aug. 1. There will be a meal at (Continued on page 6)

Latin-American Ticketed In Hit, Run Accident

A minor automobile accident about 1 p.m. Wednesday resulted in hit-and-run charges against a Hereford Latin-American. Damage to both vehicles was minor.

The accident occurred at the intersection of Grand Ave. and 25 Mile Ave. on Tuesday.

A 1962 model sedan, driven by Marie Rhodes Bradford, 25, of Hereford, was stopped at the intersection waiting for traffic to clear.

A 1963 model pickup driven by Pete Encinas, 45, made a right turn off of 25 Mile Ave., striking the Bradford vehicle at the left door.

According to an accident report filed by Hereford Police Department, Encinas allegedly failed to stop at the scene of the accident.

He was ticketed for negligent collision and failure to leave information at the scene of an accident. Damage to the Bradford automobile was estimated at $125 with a damage to the pickup placed at $25.

A FRIEND THAT VISITS every summer, Mr. Potato Harvest is nearing the end of his stay in Hereford for this year. But he's been here for more than a month and has been welcomed warmly, despite his somewhat lumpy ears and bulbous nose. Before leaving for other parts of the United States, Mr. Harvest stopped by the Deaf Smith County Chamber of Commerce to talk with Sherry Farmer, 20, a summer secretary. Mr. Harvest was brought to town by Joe Davenport, who noted the visitor in his field this week. (Staff Photo)

District Dress Revue Is Well-Attended By Friends

By ARGEN DRAPER
The District Dress Revue held in Amarillo was well attended by friends of the participants. Having the junior winners model improved the Style Show as well as the crowd, Miss Alma Paetzold attended to support Janice Turrentine, who modeled in the Junior Division. The juniors go no farther than district.

We are all very excited about Lou Ann Witkowski being one of the four winners in the Panhandle. Lou Ann will enter the State Dress Revue during the Fair at Dallas.

One of our former 4-H members — Sue Springer Barbian — came to the Dress Revue. Sue is as sweet and charming as ever.

After the Dress Revue the members of the Texas Home Demonstration Association were hosts at a tea for those attending the Dress Revue. Mrs. R. A. Hodges, District Director of District 1, and Miss Doris Leggett, former District Agent served at the tea table. Mrs. Melton McGehee attended.

Congratulations to Mrs. McGehee. A picture of Mrs. McGehee and Mrs. R. C. Wood is on the cover of the THDA Messenger. Mrs. McGehee is Safety Chairman and says that the theme is "Safety is Our Business."

The 4-H'ers are spending a wonderful week at the Electric Camp in New Mexico.

More people than ever are canning and freezing. We still have the latest information if you'll call the office we will mail you our Food Preservation packet.

Also the Home Frozen Cream pies is a leaflet of the latest research from the Experiment Station.

Here are three releases from our State Office.

HOT WEATHER FOODS
When the heat and humidity get you down, you'll fare better if you maintain a well-balanced diet, reminds Mrs. Gwendolyn Clyatt, Extension Service consumer marketing specialist.

Don't do as many people do — try to get by on skimpy, low-protein meals during the summer, she advises.

When the temperature soars, you seldom eat as much as usual, but it's the choice of foods which is important, not the quantity. Franks, hamburgers, cold cuts and quick cooking steaks — so easy to prepare for summer meals — will help keep you feeling fresh and fit.

Poultry counters continue to offer economical menu items. Fryers are abundant and prices edge a little lower. Plenty of turkeys await your selection.

Large Grade A eggs rate as exceptional values. They offer an excellent means of adding protein to summer meals.

Summer fruits are arriving at markets in increasing supplies, and prices are moderate to low. Peaches, bananas, limes and lemons, watermelons, cantaloupes, and honey dew melons are good choices. Grapes and plums are down a little in price from last week.

"Vegetable quality is generally improved and prices are moderate to low. Tomatoes, corn, carrots, cabbage, eggplant, green and hot peppers, okra, cucumbers, squash, purple-hull and crowder peas represent good vegetable buys.

SANDWICH TIPS:
Introducing — the king of summer menus, supersnacks

For chopped fillings use the following binders — lemon, orange or pineapple juice; crushed pineapple; applesauce; cranberry sauce and dairy sour cream.

GRASS STAINS
A slide into first base just as the ball whizzes overhead, a riotous game of lawn tag, or even a quiet picnic on the grass. These things are lots of fun for youngsters — but often not for Mom. Not if she has grass stains to remove after the fun is over.

Prompt treatment and the right method are the answer to this problem, say textile chemists of the U. S. Department of Agriculture's Agricultural Research Service.

Here's what they suggest you do to remove a stain from grass, flowers, or foliage. Work from the wrong side of the fabric, forcing the stain out instead of in.

On washable fabrics, work a detergent into the stain, then rinse. If the stain is stubborn and remains after this treatment, use a chlorine or sodium perborate bleach or hydrogen peroxide. Do not use chlorine bleaches on fabrics that contain silk, wool, or spandex fibers. Read the labels on wash-wear fabrics to see if it is safe to use a chlorine bleach.

Treat grass stains on non-washable fabrics the same, but try alcohol first — if it is safe for the fabric. Use one part alcohol to two parts water for stains on an acetate fabric.

GERALD PLAYED ON HIS HARP

NEW YORK (AP) — Gerald Goodman, who recently made his acting debut as a harp-playing nobleman in the Central Park production of "As You Like It" has had plenty of more solemn practice with that instrument.

Goodman earned his way through college by playing the harp at funerals, after graduation continued his musical career at a funeral home.

There is nothing but daylight in the first place, why save more? I don't know if it ever gets dark or not, but it's always pretty light at 11 and 12 o'clock at night - even when the weather is cloudy. Needless to say, it is difficult to know when you are supposed to eat, and at these prices you sure don't want to throw in an extra meal. This is one place you see and hear practically nothing about Metrol.

FUROR DIDN'T ARRIVE
LONDON (AP) — A political melodrama with a sensational plot — the return to power of Adolf Hitler — has arrived on London's stage without the fanfare created by its television version last year.

"Night Conspirators," written by German-born Robert Muller, has the Nazi dictator return from hidden exile in Iceland. When done on TV, the German embassy protested, but this time comment was limited to somewhat mixed appraisals by the critics.

Yukon at Watson Lake, and the little town was, as different from those we saw in British Columbia as daylight is from dark. These provinces all have personalities of their towns. The Watson Lake hotel where we ate was very much like something out of one of Robert Service's poems. I wouldn't have been surprised to see Dan McGraw stumble out at any time. Alaska, on the other hand, appears to be much more of a "gilded" veneer but less solid. Gasoline ran as high as 65 cents a gallon (5 quarts) along the road, and sells for around 54 cents (4 quarts) in Fairbanks.

Most Alaskans will tell you frankly that they are in Alaska to "make a buck"; however, if they stay long enough, it seems to sort of get hold of them. We were visiting yesterday with a lady this side of Tok, Mile 1861, who filled our car, wiped the windshield, checked the oil, and told us where to fish. She was rather frail for the job, but her husband has gone into the bush pilot business — and she was cheerfully making the most of things. They now have three planes, representing something like $75,000 in equipment, along with their motel, service station and general store.

"I would like to go back home (Wisconsin)," she told us, "but we have three youngsters — and this is home to them. We go back to visit once in a while, but I am sure this is where we will spend the rest of our days." The winters, she allowed, are too long and too cold. She said they first came into the country right after the big "depression", and have been here since, including seven years inside the arctic circle. Her husband has made only one forced landing, and that was while getting another pilot out of trouble — but every time a motor sounded (including big trucks) she would run to the door to see if it was his plane coming in. Mostly, she said, he handles contract fire patrols and other government stuff, although he does do considerable charter flying into the North woods.

Fishing is super if you get to the right places, and about the best deal is to fly in or hire a guide. Bus and I ran across a stream and took 12 Arctic Grayling in less than 15 minutes; some of them ran up to two pounds, and we could just as easily have caught 100 or more. It was like the old boy said: "any kind of fly — or just pitch out the bare hook". We didn't like their looks for some reason, but found out later that the grayling are really a prized catch in these parts. Seldom, however, do you find this sort of fishing along the roadside. "Too many tourists" they tell us.

The lady at Mile 1361 told us about a little lake and said to go ahead and use one of the boats we would find. We did, and had a real rough time, what with rowing with the home-made oars and bailing out the leaky craft at the same time. Besides, we didn't know how to fish — or what to use for bait — and were quite happy to make it back to shore, partially dry at best. This was a good deal, though, and with a little know-how, we would have taken some beauties. I figure Jim Lipscomb or Reed Williams would have had their limit. Anyway, we found out how the natives do their fishing, and we appreciated everything — except the three-quarter-mile hike, following which we ate a whole jar of peanut butter and a box of crackers.

We picked up some Fairbanks newspapers, including "Jessen's Weekly", which has been a favorite of sourdough prospectors for more than 22 years, and got a kick out of the following account:

Heard at the recent baseball series between Wichita and the Goldpanners: A tourist who was taking in the mid-night sun game turned to an oldtimer sitting next to him and asked: "When do they turn on the lights?"

The oldtimer replied: "We don't need to turn on the lights in this park. Can't you see that nearly everyone in the stands is already lit up?"

Which, all in all, somehow pretty well sums up my general opinion of Fairbanks — after one night in the place. Right now, we plan to get out and do a little window shopping which, at these prices, is about all we figure that we can afford.

Decision of Hereford school board members to lower the tax rate by two cents is a welcome surprise. The rate was $1.55 three years ago, then jumped to $1.70 when the latest bond issue was passed. Last year, the rate was trimmed to $1.62 and this year will go down to $1.60. The two cents, in itself, doesn't mean much difference to the average taxpayer, but the thought behind it surely is nice.

We thought we had one of our puppies spoken for the other day. But Dumpy, the pride and joy of the Ralph Batten household returned unexpectedly after being gone for a couple of days. Dumpy got his name, not from his appearance, but from the place where he was found. Now I guess we'll have to stage a contest for the neighborhood children with first prize of one pup, and second and third places getting two pups each.

one of the largest in the world. More than 175 men are now on the job. Four sub-contractors are at work on electrical wiring, foundations, brick work and steel structures.

"Much of the early work is not visible to the casual observer," O'Rourke pointed out. "This includes underground piping, electrical conduits, the sewer system, foundations, and so forth. The work is now reaching stages in which day-by-day progress can be noted on many of the structures," he added.

With construction now at a high pace, Holly already is building its local staff at Hereford. D. W. Lillie has been stationed at Hereford as Manager of the Hereford District. Wesley S. Fisher has been assigned as Assistant Manager for the district. The Manager has a staff of five Agricultural Fieldmen who are working on plans for the 1964 sugar beet crop. Agricultural Fieldmen include Bill Askman, David H. Eddington, Robert L. Williamson, Robert F. Willmot, and J. F. Cavassa. A sixth Fieldman will be added to the staff in the near future.

Project Engineer in charge of construction for the H. K. Ferguson Company, general contractor on the huge construction project, is Bill Reid, assisted by a staff of Ferguson engineers and other construction specialists.

Holly also has several of its engineers on the site. Representing the company's accounting department at Hereford is Gene Parsley.

The Plant Superintendent will be appointed in the near future and key operating employees will be transferred in from various Holly plants soon after the first of the year.

O'Rourke said that during construction because of safety factors and the need to press construction forward in order to meet schedules the Company has had to adopt a policy strictly limiting such visits.

"At the appropriate time, we plan to hold open house and later we shall conduct tours for visitors when the plant is in operation," the head of one of America's largest beet sugar producers explained.

The Hereford factory, to be known as the Merrill E. Shoup plant in honor of the Chairman of Holly's Board of Directors, will be the first beet sugar processing facility in Texas and will be the state's only source of home produced beet sugar.

Actual construction at the factory site began during April following many months of preparatory work, including engineering studies, design and planning, acquisition of land and work with local farmers and others.

By MELVIN YOUNG
The rainfall that we were so fortunate to receive back in June, plus the recent rains (Saturday and Sunday nights) have given this county prospects for a dandy dry land milo crop in 1963.

Dan Guseman reports that the milo in the dry areas of the county looks better than he has seen in years, and a couple more fairly decent rains should carry it through to a bumper harvest.

Of course, in this country, you never have a crop made until the grain is in the bin, but it is encouraging to have such nice prospects, particularly on the heels of a complete failure in dry land wheat.

But the dry land is not the only area of the county that is looking good. The irrigated milo is better than we have observed in several years, and with all things being equal, it should produce the desired yields this fall.

The vacationers are beginning to drift back home, with tales of the grand sights they have seen, and in some cases the size of the fish that got away.

The Baker Wombles and the Claude McClures have just returned from one of these sight-seeing trips. They toured the Yellowstone National Park as well as Salt Lake City, Utah, and apparently had a very nice time in spite of the fact that it was rather hot up that way.

Mrs. Womble called this week to tell us about an incident that happened during their tour, and although she didn't name any names, we pretty well have the deal figured out.

According to Mrs. Womble, a very nice guide was escorting them through the city of Salt Lake and pointing out the larger buildings, giving some details concerning their construction and the length of time it took to finish the job. Which seemed pretty reasonable to her, but there was apparently one Texan who insisted on heckling the guide, insinuating that in Texas these buildings could be built twice as big in half the time.

Tiring of the harrasing he was receiving, the guide stopped the bus in front of the Capitol building and just sat there staring silently at the building.

"How long did it take you to build that building?" queried the Texan.

"I don't know," was the reply, "but it wasn't there yesterday."

Now Mrs. Womble didn't say who the Texan was, but we happen to know that Mr. Womble is a rather quiet old boy, so we put two and two together and came up with Claude McClure. Claude denies it, of course, but did say that they had a wonderful time on the trip.

L. J. Clark dropped by Tuesday to let us know that the Hereford Bowling Association will have its annual meeting Monday evening to make plans for the 1963-64 League bowling. The meeting will be held at the Community Center beginning at 8 p.m. and all interested bowlers or sponsors are invited to attend.

We also discovered while L. J. was here that he is one of Hereford's many stamp collectors, having a very nice collection that he has gathered together, and one left by his mother which was started many years ago.

Dr. M. C. Adams is another of the local stamp collectors.

We have often thought of taking up a hobby, and perhaps stamp collecting would be a good one. We tried collecting dollars at one time, but finally gave-up on that idea, figuring Gaston Baer had a corner on the market. However, with our wife gone, and as much trouble as we have keeping the house cleaned up, perhaps we shouldn't add to the clutter by beginning a stamp collection.

Oh well, we've gone this long without a hobby, so suppose it won't hurt too much if we don't start now.

Received a nice letter from Joseph Chmelik, a Deaf Smith County land owner who is now living in Florida. Mr. Chmelik was very complimentary concerning the recent agricultural edition published by the Brand and even enclosed a check to have a number of the copies sent to relatives and friends. We appreciate Mr. Chmelik very much. He is one of the most avid boosters of Deaf Smith County that we know of and never misses an opportunity to extoll the virtues of our wonderful county.

The patient claimed he was allergic to just about everything in modern life, and the doctor put him thru a series of tests. They proved only that the patient was probably a hypochondriac, but the doctor gave him some pills just the same.

Several weeks later, the patient returned in high spirits. "Those pills were wonderful," he said, "Cleared up all of my trouble."

"Those wonderful pills," the doctor answered sarcastically, "were nothing but little balls of bread."

"Good heavens," yelled the patient, turning pale, "white or wholewheat?"

Then there was the hypochondriac whose tombstone read: "See, I told you I was sick."

Funeral Services For Mrs. Williams Conducted Tuesday

Mrs. Eva Williams, 89, a resident of King's Manor died at 5:30 a.m. on Monday, July 29, in Deaf Smith County Hospital. Services were held at 10 a.m. Tuesday in Rose Chapel of Gilliland Funeral Home with the Rev. Herschel Thurston, pastor of the First Methodist Church, and the Rev. Don Davidson of Lubbock.

She had been a resident of Hereford since 1953, when she moved here from Arlington.

Survivors include two daughters, Mrs. Lucille Bookout of Hereford and Mrs. Gertrude Lowe, of Dallas; four grandchildren and eight great-grandchildren.

Beauty, Precision, Music In Parade

Rolling drums and heralding trumpets signalled the fifth annual Hereford Harvest Festival parade here Saturday afternoon with a huge crowd lining the route to watch and applaud. First place for organizational entries went to the Khiva Shrine Drum and Bugle Corps (lower left) with the 4-H Club safety display (upper left) taking first for floats. Reigning over the Festival was Miss Suzie Davis (upper right). Other crowd-pleasers included the orange-colored Oasis Shrine Club firetruck, the Hereford Campfire Girl float and the Jody Drill Team from Anarillo Air Force Base. As usual, the parade also included a fine display of horses from area riding clubs.

REP. WALTER ROGERS WRITES:

Executive Orders Initiate Actions Of Departments

TO THE PEOPLE OF THE 18TH DISTRICT:

What are Executive Orders? Sometimes referred to as "Presidential Directives," these orders initiate actions by government departments and agencies. Virtually every American is affected by them. I've often been asked about them by folks in the Panhandle. Here's a report:

George Washington issued the first Executive Order on June 8, 1789, when he asked heads of Executive Departments to submit "a clear account" of affairs connected with their departments.

From Constitutional powers is implied the authority exercised by Presidents through history to issue Executive Orders. Under the Constitution, the President is vested with the executive power; the power to preserve, protect and defend the Constitution; and the power to see that the laws are faithfully executed.

Presidents have based the authority for Executive Orders on all these grounds, most often the latter.

There has been a tendency in this century for Presidents to guide Executive Branch policies by using Executive Orders. Most have been routine in nature. One order, for example, provided for the appointment of a chairwoman in a local post office.

Here are the total numbers of Executive Orders issued by Presidents in this century: Theodore Roosevelt, 1,011; William Howard Taft, 699; Woodrow Wilson, 1,770; Warren G. Harding, 484; Calvin Coolidge, 1,248; Herbert Hoover, 1,004; Franklin D. Roosevelt, 3,722; Dwight D. Eisenhower, 481; John F. Kennedy (through July 4, 1963), 212.

Executive Orders are supposed to be based on authority granted directly to the President by the Constitution or by specific Acts of Congress. In many instances, Presidents have issued Executive Orders to lay down administrative procedures to be followed by departments in implementing laws passed by Congress, a practice that has evolved as Congress has legislated in broad, non-specific terms. As many of you know, I have been critical of Congress for frequently legislating so broadly that too many details have been left to Executive decision and direction.

Occasionally, Presidents have had their hand called by the Courts when a challenge has been raised over the provisions of an Executive Order. The order of President Truman of April 8, 1952, seizing the steel industry, was held by the Supreme Court to be without Constitutional or Congressional authority and therefore could not stand.

In this case, Youngstown Steel Co., threatened with seizure, brought the case before the Court — and the Court held that the power President Truman sought to exercise was a law-making power which the Constitution vests in the Congress alone.

When business groups such as the steel industry are threatened by the effects of an Executive Order, they move quickly into the courts to test its validity. On some occasions, as in the Youngstown Steel case, the plaintiff has been successful.

Greatest concern centers around the type of Executive Order directing administrative action or procedure by a governmental agency. This is, in effect, a construction by the President of Congressional intent. The administrative agency has no choice but to follow the Presidential edict.

Action taken by administrators acting under these orders can drastically affect the affairs of small business operators. Unlike major industry groups which are quick to challenge the provisions of Executive Orders they oppose, the "little man" is often loathe to contest the effects by taking the matter to court. The little man's own economic situation may prevent him from seeking redress in an expensive court action.

Custom now is for a President to set forth in the Executive Order the authority, Constitutional or Congressional, upon which his order is based. Thus, in Executive Order No. 11115, a good example of a more or less routine order, President Kennedy cited Section 10 of the Railway Labor Act as authority for him to create an emergency board to investigate a railway dispute. This order of July 4 is the latest in the historic chain.

From time to time there has been criticism of Executive Orders, even as constituting illegal government by edict.

I've questioned the wisdom and validity of many Executive Orders issued over the years by Presidents of both political parties. In my opinion, it is time that this question be dealt with directly either by the Courts or by Congress. There should be a delineation in clear-cut terms of where the President's powers with relation to an Executive Order begin and where they end.

Recent visitors include Miss Sherry Patterson and Miss Gwyn Evans, Hereford. Remember: I'm most happy to see visitors to Washington. My office is in Room 1330, New House Office Building.

Deedee's Doodlings

By DEEDEE THOMAS

Has anyone stopped to count the remaining vacation days left? I took a quick look at the calendar and decided that there are very few days for those last-minute trips and all those numerous items that a person meant to do at the beginning of summer.

Now of course, if you are industrious like Suzanne Langley and Sharon Hill, who are attending the second session of summer school in Boulder, Colo., you might feel that you are accomplishing something. These girls left on June 22 for six weeks. A number of girls attended the first session of summer classes at West Texas State University. Seems like they might be a wee bit impatient to get their college work off their hands.

While some are slaving over lessons there are a few who have found time to get in some relative visiting. Cynthia Seed spent from Monday, July 15, until Thursday, July 18, in Amarillo with her grandmother, Mrs. E. D. Fox.

Then on Friday, July 19, Cynthia left for Big D to visit with her brother and family, Charles, Suzi, John, and LeAnn. She got home on Friday, July 26, in time to work her shift at the FFA booth. She reported that she had a jam-packed week full of fun. Best of all when she returned to Hereford her family were moving into their home again, the Seeds are not very fond of apartment living.

Gloria Covington has been gone three whole weeks visiting in Denton with her brother and sister-in-law, Carl and Jeanett. Gloria ventured over to Dallas to visit with relatives. While there, she went out to "Six Flags over Texas." That in itself was a treat. She returned home on Tuesday, July 23, to attend a funeral. They arrived home Saturday, July 27.

Cynthia Leasure accompanied her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. W. Young, to Tyler on July 26.

The Campfire Girls have an annual camp. One group from Hereford this year went to Pine Lodge near Capitan, N. M., on July 22 through July 27. Linda London and Gail Witherspoon were counselors for the young age group. The older group will leave later this week.

Both Ballard, Bonnie Duncan and Wynn Beck left on Saturday afternoon, July 27, for Houston for a Student Council workshop. They will be gone for several days.

Janie Noland has been gone for two weeks visiting in Sunny with her grandparents. Her mother said she would have to stay until they have time to go get her. See you next year, Janie (if your parents are as busy as mine).

Penny Johnson spent several days in Portales, N. M., from Sunday, July 21, to Wednesday July 24, visiting with Debbie Knox, who had been in Hereford visiting her grandmother, Mrs. Boyd Knox.

Roger Albracht strayed all the way to St. Louis, Mo., to visit with relatives.

I have not been able to figure what-all the attraction was in Colorado. When you miss someone, you can pretty well bet they are up there. That's where Linda Tooley has been. She accompanied her aunt to Colorado Springs.

Did everyone go to the parade on Saturday afternoon, July 27? Freddie the Fireman's fire truck broke down in Canyon, that was the cause of the delay. He didn't have on a strapless formal or he would have got a move on. Quite a few personalities adorned floats and the like. Did everyone see the beautiful Victory Bell — and the cheerleaders and the two football boys pulling the trailer? I simply can't wait for football season to commence.

Football practice will be getting underway soon now because the players have received little notices of a squad meeting on Aug. 1, at 7:30 p.m. at the fieldhouse.

The activities were varied for the past week; if you didn't like baseball tournaments, you could have tried the carnival or the three performances of the rodeo, even with the rain on Saturday night that did not discourage some of the town residents.

DULCIMER COMEBACK
HINDMAN, Ky. (AP) — Jethro Amburgey, who has been turning out dulcimers for 47 years, thinks curiosity has a lot to do with reviving interest in the three-string musical instrument.

"I'm selling more dulcimers now than I ever thought of selling several years ago," said the retired teacher and health department worker.

Amburgey's dulcimers are hand-rubbed and cut from a design used by the late Edward Thomas, a leader among the dulcimer makers in the Eastern Kentucky mountains.

"The dulcimer, as we now know it, has never been traced down as to who originated it," he continued. "The best information obtained is that it originated in the Appalachian highlands."

The instrument, with a trace of a sorrowful tone, has its antecedents in the Greek cithara and lyre and string instruments of ancient China and Persia.

MISSILES TORTURED AT REDSTONE BASE
HUNTSVILLE, Ala. (AP) — In an unassuming white building at Redstone Arsenal, home of the Army Missile Command, the engines and systems of future missiles are frozen, baked, drenched, salt-splashed, sun-burned, sand-blasted and shook up in a series of torture chambers called the Preflight Evaluation Laboratory.

If a rocket survives this gauntlet of man-made weather, it may very well be trucked to the Motor Conditioning Facility, shoved into one of three insulated cells, and subjected to intense heat or extreme cold for as long as six months. Then it is taken to a static test stand and fired.

NEWS: High school and college dancers are invited to come to dance to the Nitrons from Canyon. The dance will start at 8:30 and last until 11:30. Admission is $1 per person. No blue jeans, please. Persons who would like to help decorate, come to the Community Center

SHORTEST DISTANCE
DAWSON SPRINGS, Ky. (AP)
How long is a mile? Only 1.625 feet at Dawson Springs. It measures that distance on the Illinois Central Railroad tracks, starting at milepost J 165.

The mile was shortened a few years ago when the railroad straightened and relocated some of the track.

Since the mileposts are numbered consecutively between here and Paducah, they had to be relocated to conform to the new route, or have the squeeze put on.

The railroad decided to squeeze.

Gravy left over? You can add it to a meat loaf mixture instead of the usual liquid.

Ever sweeten tomato juice with a suspicion of molasses? Youngsters often like it this way.

And The Angel

...of Revelations said: "Gather the clusters of the vine of the earth, for her grapes are fully ripe." How beautiful! How far-reaching is this challenge! It is up to us. Throughout the Bible the grape and the vine hold great spiritual meaning. They emphasize the close union between Christ and His church. We judge the vine from the fruit it bears. St. John warned us in the first place, that the branch cannot bear fruit, except it abide in the Lord. In a spiritual sense, man makes his own harvest. His reaping is strictly in accordance with how well he has taken care of the vineyard, how thoroughly he has supported the charities of the Lord, and how genuinely he has served God.

UPS AND DOWNS
 NORFOLK, Va. (AP) - Being a ship's captain has its ups and downs.
 And keeping up with them is a matter of vital dollars for captains such as Jean Morize, master of the French cargo vessel Mekambo.
 Capt. Morize noted that the port of Savone, Italy, has a draft of 30 feet. But when the Mekambo took on 22,150 tons of coal at Lamberts Point it sank to a draft of 33 feet.
 He calculated the 12-day trip to Savone will burn up enough fuel to bring the Mekambo up to 30 feet.
 Actually, the ship could load another 5,000 tons of coal, but that would make a difference of one foot - enough to put the Mekambo aground in the Savone channel.
 The Mekambo sailed from Genoa for Norfolk with 13,000 tons of ballast. About 7,000 tons of this was discharged en route.
 Coming in, Capt. Morize had a problem of a different sort. The vessel had to be deep enough to get under the coal loaders at Lamberts Point.

TEMPORARY HANGING
 MIAMI (AP) - Folk walking by the home of Mr. and Mrs. Mark A. Smith did doubletakes when they saw a skeleton dangling from a tree. Turned out the papier mache skeleton belonged to a friend - a biology teacher - who was visiting their daughter.
 They decided to wash the skeleton and had hung it in the tree to dry.

AUSTIN HIGHLIGHTS

Proposal Requests Council Study Of Ethical Practices

By VEEN SANFORD
Texas Legislative Council, research agency for the Legislature, is in the curious position of being asked to take a close look at the ethical standards of its own boss.

Council, meeting in Austin, agreed on a proposed study of conflict of interest questions affecting state officials and employees. Gov. John Connally and Atty. Gen. Waggoner Carr suggested the study as a result of investigations into the private business affairs of former Railroad Commissioner W. J. Murray Jr.

A Travis County grand jury found Murray innocent of any violation of criminal laws during his terms of office. Carr observed in a later report that the Murray case raised "a serious question of a conflict of interest" between official duties and private interests.

Carr's report said Murray grossed $1,700,000 during his 16 years on the Commission — most of it from oil and gas ventures. Attorney general recommended "adequate laws" to control "any deviations from (ethical) standards."

Council will be responsible for conducting research and investigation of possible conflict of interest cases among all state officials — including the lawmakers themselves — with a view toward "improving our present code of ethics."

MORE REPUBLICANS?
Another action by the Legislative Council had interesting "two-party" implications.

Rep. Bob Johnson of Dallas was named executive director of the Council, succeeding Read Granberry who died last year. Johnson has resigned his Dallas legislative post to accept the $15,500-a-year assignment — creating still another vacancy in the eight-man Dallas delegation to the House of Representatives.

This leaves only one Democrat, Rep. Ben Atwell, lined up against the six incumbent Republicans.

Dallas Republicans surprised themselves and stunned Democrats last year by winning all the legislative races they entered. Speculation then was that the three remaining Democrats on the Dallas House delegation — Reps. Bob Hughes, Johnson and Atwell — would be in for a rough 1964 general election should Dallas Republicans oppose them, and an even rougher time if Barry Goldwater were chosen to head the GOP ticket as presidential nominee.

Hughes recently resigned his legislative post to accept appointment to a judgeship. This caused more speculation about a possible 1964 election sweep by the Dallas Republican organization.

Johnson's resignation has intensified the "Republican sweep" fears.

It will be a cram course for Texas municipal officials on the new law limiting city annexations.

William Olson, attorney for the League, will moderate a question-and-answer program, followed by a panel discussion featuring Mayor James McCrackin of Kingsville, City Manager H. P. Clifton of Abilene, Planning Director William Anderson of Corpus Christi, and Steve Matthews, executive director of the League.

New law takes effect on Aug. 23. But a provision in the Act requires that annexations pending or initiated after March 15, 1963 must meet terms set out in the measure. Furthermore these in-the-works annexations must be completed by Nov. 23 or become null and void.

RAPID ERADICATING

Few eradication programs have produced such prompt and effective results as the U. S. Department of Agriculture's screwworm eradication plan.

A year ago scientists and field workers started the "saturation" release of sterilized flies to conquer screwworm population explosion.

Texas Animal Health Commission reported only 28 screwworm cases confirmed in a 5-day period — as opposed to nearly 3,000 cases recorded during a comparable period in 1962.

As further encouragement, the Commission noted that of last week's 28 reported cases, only five were in areas where the program's "controls" were in full effect.

GRAM COURSE ON ANNEXATION

Texas Municipal League will conduct a special one-day "institute" in Austin on Aug. 5.

LITTLE GLYNN JOSEPH YOSTEN, 2½ year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Gilbert Yosten of Route 4, was taken from traction and allowed to go home Friday after his fractured right leg was placed in a cast. Glenn had become something of a trapeze artist in his bed at Deaf Smith County Hospital before being allowed to return home to his parents, two brothers, and two sisters. He was injured when he was struck by his father's pickup truck on July 2. (Staff Photo)

Lutheran Leaguers Sponsor Outing At R. E. Drager Farm

About 140 leaguers and their chaperones attended an evening of entertainment recently at the R. E. Drager farm. Sponsored by the leaguers of Emmanuel Lutheran Church, Park Avenue and Avenue B, the outing was attended by guests from Christ Lutheran, Trinity Lutheran, and Faith Lutheran of Amarillo, and Redeemer Lutheran of Friona.

An opening devotional by Miss Cherry Tietel followed a softball game, which began at 3 p.m. After a wienie roast and get-acquainted time, the group enjoyed a hay ride.

OFF THE Shelf

By H. A. TUCK

Most of us are aware that in the alphabet jungle of our government, there is a group known as C.I.A., the Central Intelligence Agency. This is our spy group.

But few of us know much about CIA or the other nation's intelligence networks. They Call It Intelligence by Joachim Joesten takes the reader through Spysland — a restless, crazy place since World War II.

The author first gives the reader a primer on intelligence, dissecting the mysteries and cults of secret information. At this time, he also points out how unintelligent most of these groups really are. He describes the structure of key espionage agencies in the U. S. (yes, we have more than one), England, France, the two Germanies and Russia.

From his descriptions, it becomes apparent that spying now has become a real profession, with a white-collar status and appeal, financial well-being and even bureaucratic security. But even with his "advanced technology," it often continues to be based on old-fashioned dirty tricks, trusty pistols, female lures and deep-pocketed treachery.

In another section, the author discusses the "Big Swap" that saw Soviet master spy Rudolf Abel exchanged for a comparative minor leaguer, Gary Powers.

One of the more interesting tales is about George Blake, who had a top post in British Intelligence, but actually was a communist and counter-spy for the USSR.

But Spysland's darkest jungle is in Germany, with several intelligence outfits operating on each side of the Iron Curtain. The powerful but little-known General Gehlen, chief of the West German Intelligence, is discussed at some length.

A section on "Defectors" talks about the "traitors-heroes" (it depends upon where they have been and what side they are embracing) such as Gunter Maennel, Burgess and MacLean, Yuri Rastvorov, Khorumzhil, and the Petrovs.

But one of the oddest stories of all is about Dr. Otto John, who defected to the Soviets without even a toothbrush, then decided to return.

This indeed is Spysland and the reader needs a program to keep the players, and their teams, sorted out. But Joachim Joesten's They Call It Intelligence is interesting reading all the way through.

It is on the non-fiction shelf at the Deaf Smith County library.

HOW TO BE A COMMISSIONER

Frank Miskell, Texas' first Regulatory Loan Commissioner, is faced with the massive task of creating the agency.

Since state office buildings are filled his first job is finding office space.

Another immediate problem concerns selection of a deputy commissioner. He will assume much of the detailed work involved in establishing a budget and an organizational plan, setting salaries for employees, hiring employees from the third-ranking executive down to the secretarial pools and file clerks, purchasing office equipment and furnishings, and so on.

Miskell still hopes to have the agency set up by Aug. 23. That is the effective date of the new law governing the licensing and practices of lending firms who charge more than 10 per cent interest.

A flood of applications is expected from Texas loan companies seeking licenses and inquiring about specific provisions in the new lending regulations.

PROSPERITY, OR WHAT?

Texas merchants continue to operate at a high level of retail sales volume.

Total retail sales show no dramatic increases. But the level for the first six months of this year is about two per cent over the 1962 January to June period.

According to the UT Bureau of Business Research For Worth and Austin are in the lead with increases of six per cent. Dallas is next with three per cent improvement, followed by San Antonio with plus one per cent.

Cities recording disappointing half-year sales were El Paso, minus one per cent, and Houston, with no change from the 1962 averages.

(Editor's Note: This is the sixth in a series of articles about the adventures and exploits of Brand publisher Jimmie Gilentine and his son, Buzz, as they drive toward Alaska this summer.)

By JIMMIE GILENTINE
FORT NELSON — and still Mile 300 — we've been here three days, and they now tell us that the Alcan Highway is closed "indefinitely".

It wasn't so good at first, and now it is getting worse. You can imagine being stranded in a strange town, about the size of Vega, under the same circumstances. We've been here so long that we are about ready to take part in the local gossip. Most everyone feels a lot like the old boy from Yukon when the girl at the desk told him: "You're stuck here, so you might as well enjoy it."

"I may have to be stuck here," he answered, "but I darn sure don't have to like it."

We did our washing yesterday and came out in good shape, thanks to the advice and assistance of a kind lady from Washington state. They have automatic washers, dryers, soap and bleach dispensers — even plastic bags for when you get through. I think everyone who was stranded went over and spent the morning washing.

We also spent an hour or so browsing around in the Hudson's Bay Store. Buzz is absolutely fascinated with a big bear-skin rug. It is white and really is a beauty. The only thing had is the price of $550.00.

Most of the natives are really nice. The merchants all went together and sponsored a free show for tourists yesterday afternoon. They also threw two big dances for tourists last night, one at each hotel. We didn't make it, but I hear this morning that they had a free beer — and some of the visitors got a little bit high.

We dropped in on the Fort Nelson News, local four-page weekly newspaper, which is located here and jointly serves Watson Lake, some 200 miles to the north. The publisher is Bob Angus, who just got back from a tour of Russia, China and other eastern points. He is pale, scrawny and wouldn't weigh 125 pounds, soaking wet — but seems to be quite a fire-eater. He calls Americans "those Bloody You-Alls" in his editorial columns and frequently gives them a fit. Next time, though, he may come out and advocate the transplanting of 100,000 "You-Alls" scattered around Canada to develop the country. He is equally forceful when it comes to Canadian politics, and is especially down on the Socialist Credit party, which pretty well runs British Columbia. He says they are absolute Fascists, and hints that they may have even gone so far as to beat him up. Anyway, someone did work him over several times — and he has twice been in Time magazine.

The paper is located in a trailer house and contains nothing save a portable typewriter, desk, three chairs, coffee making equipment and six or eight books, including the Holy Bible. Back in the pioneer days of Texas, I always heard that a six-shooter and a copy of the Bible were standard equipment in the newspaper office — and I guess Bob is no exception.

The paper is flown out to Ft. St. Johns, a town of around 7,000, where it is converted into type and printed. It is then returned to Fort Nelson via bus. Bob is now crusading to get the Alcan Highway paved.

"Why don't you Bloody You-Alls pave it?" he asked me with a grin. "After all, you built the darn thing — and it looks like you could keep it up for us."

We found Mr. Angus interesting and possessing a generous sense of humor which, in my opinion, probably gets him into most his troubles. Many people in this country fail to appreciate humor when it comes along, and I had the feeling that he is more often misunderstood than not.

Dr. M. McLeod, a traveling optometrist, is another interesting gentleman we have encountered during our forced vacation in Fort Nelson. The doc lives in Vancouver, and has been fitting glasses in the backwoods of Canada since 1907. He is an old Scotsman with a twinkle in his eyes, and probably knows more about the places along the Alcan Highway than any other man alive. Naturally, he has a lot of theories about most everything which comes along. He has written a book of poems about places along the Alcan.

Doc says his profession is the greatest in the world, and bases this on his "Women work — Men Criticize" theory. "I make women see good and they do a better job," declares Doc, "and I make the men see good, so they can check up and criticize the way their wives are doing. Everybody is happy."

He especially has a phobia against New York eye specialists and contact lenses, and has fitted thousands of glasses in these north woods over the span of 55 years. He writes advance letters to old customers (some 2,000 before this round) and runs advance ads in the local papers. He has special records on onlooker paper so as to carry them along without undue burden; he said this entire territory is all in one book. The doctor said he raised 10 children, and one of his daughters is now a licensed optometrist. He sends all of his lens orders back to her, and they are mailed to the patients when completed.

Doc McLeod says the Scotch people do not mind death any worse than other nationalities, it's thinking about the funeral expenses that gets them. He has traveled every foot of this road so many times that he has come to love it dearly. He was supposed to have retired many years back, but keeps on making his rounds for two reasons: a sense of duty to the people, and for his own sincere pleasure. He figures Fort Nelson will grow to be quite a city as the years pass — and I will have to admit that it got quite a boost during this lay-over for tourists.

Some people are beginning to mouth around that the whole thing was a put up job to improve business, but I do not think so. The Mounties would hardly go for such a deal, and we keep hearing rumors that water is four and five feet over the road.

Anyway, it was quite an experience. It wasn't too bad the first few days but, like everyone else, we are getting restless and ready to be moving. Come to think of it, though, I can't figure why. The editor said that newspapers cost 45 cents each in Alaska — and a room with meals cost him $36 for a single bed for Sunday and Sunday night.

One old boy has a sign painted in the mud on his truck which says: "Alaska — or Bust", and I noticed this morning that he has scratched through and written "Busted at Mile 300". However, I do not think anyone has turned back as yet. We considered it seriously, but decided after coming this far that it would be foolish to go back now. Besides, they might — just might — open up the road this afternoon.
