Tom Acker's 827-pound Whiteface calf swept top honors as Grand Champion at the Junior Livestock and Poultry show judging Saturday morning.

Charles Springer of Hereford showed the reserve champion, a 1049 pound Hereford.

Acker is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Acker of Nazareth. He is a 4-H club boy with six years' experience.

Springer is the son of W. A. Springer of Hereford and has been a 4-H club member for the past four years.

Charles showed the third place calf in the 1950 show and the second place animal in 1951. Jimmy Conkwright won first place with the best group of three calves. Bill Kelly was second and Jimmy Joe Hill was third.

There were a total of 24 light calves entered in the show and nine lights.

Acker's entry paced the light calf division and Springer's topped the heavies.

Bridges Repeats With Southdowns

John Bridges, 4-H club member from Hart, his 100% in Junior Livestock and Poultry Show competition this year, entering two Southdown lambs and placing Grand Champion and Reserve Champion in competition Friday morning at the Bull Barn.

John is making a habit of showing the best in the lamb division at the Hereford show, having the Grand Champion in 1951 also.

Bridges' blocky Southdowns won over a field of unusually good mutton entries. Judge J. P. Smith said. There were 28 in the runoffs.

In the wool division this year—a new classification—Franklin Springer, a Hereford high school FFA boy, took first over a field of 29 entries.

Bridges is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Howard Bridges of Hart. Winners in the two divisions for lamb judging were:

Sharp Will Seek Sheriff's Post

LOWELL SHARP

Lowell R. Sharp this week authorized The Brand to announce his candidacy for the office of Sheriff, Tax Assessor and Collector of Deaf Smith County, subject to action of the Democratic Primary.

Mr. Sharp moved to Hereford in June, 1946, following his discharge from the Navy and since that time has been engaged in business in Hereford. He is a native of the Panhandle area and in making his announcement says he believes he understands and knows the problems and needs of filling the office successfully.

"If the people see fit to elect me, I will strive to be fair, honest and to fulfill the duties of the office to the best of my ability," Mr. Sharp said.

PROCLAMATION

WHEREAS, our country continues in a state of emergency, and WHEREAS, the relentless war of the elements against mankind leaves in its wake destruction and suffering, and WHEREAS, the American National Red Cross—under its Congressional charter—is serving the armed forces; is mobilizing for defense for the protection of the family, the community, and the nation and is aiding the victims of natural disaster; now

THEREFORE, I, W. E. Dameron, Mayor of the city of Hereford, Texas, proclaim the period of time from February 28th, 1952 through March 8th, 1952, as RED CROSS days and do hereby urge all citizens of this community to contribute without reservation to the 1952 RED CROSS fund through our chapter; and I further urge that all men and women of good will remember that in these critical times this great humanitarian organization must be maintained at full strength; that this symbol of man's humanity remain bright as a guide to those who turn to it in time of need.

WITNESS MY HAND AND OFFICIAL SEAL this 22nd day of February A. D. 1952.

See Some Cuts For Telephone Co-Op

Engineers for the West Texas Rural Telephone Cooperative were instructed by the co-op's board of directors Wednesday to bring their system design for the rural phone network into conformity with the REA's definition of a "feasible operation."

The changes to be made, however, will not cut much more than $100,000 off the cost of the entire system, which the REA engineering division in Washington estimated at about $877,000.

As a last resort, the board agreed to raise the rates for service — in order to make the system acceptable and feasible — to an amount not to exceed 50c per month.

The board was of the opinion that about $100,000 could be trimmed from the engineer's first estimate by changing the pole anchor sizes and delete a few miles of lines (with a 900-mile system instead of 950 miles).

Also, the board could've designed the system and cut off the thinly-settled areas, such as the northwest part of the county, but didn't want to make that move unless forced to do so.

If the REA suggested changes were followed, Leo Forrest, project manager, said, the system would be acceptable. The changes were all approved by the board except one — lightning protection by having ground wires on every fourth pole instead of every other one. Every other pole was left with a ground wire because of the frequency of lightning in this area.

Forrest said he will carry on a four-way telephone conversation Monday with the Washington REA engineering division, the administrative office, the application and loan division, and the Hereford REA.

If no agreements are arrived at in this conversation, Forrest will go to Washington personally with the engineer to get the bottlenecks cleared up.

Easter Seal Fund Drive Is Planned

The annual Easter seal campaign to secure funds for the aid of crippled children was planned at a committee organization meeting here Thursday morning. Meeting with a group of local people was Martin M. Kicker, executive director for the Texas Society for Crippled Children.

Bob Wear was named chairman of the local committee. Serving with him are: Bob Lawrence, treasurer; Mrs. Elmer Patterson, publicity chairman; and Roy Ford, Dr. L. B. Barnett, A. J.

Schwartz; Jack Dean, Pat Sullivan, Paul Dohman, D. C. Kinsey, and Wayne Evans.

With no definite quota set, the local campaign will be conducted entirely by mail, Wear commented.

Letters of explanation, mailed to local residents, will include the familiar Easter seals bearing the picture of a crippled child. An enclosed envelope will be provided for the return of individual contributions to the fund.

One purpose of the committee is to acquaint parents or friends of crippled children with the help available to them on the local level, the chairman points out. He reveals that 60c out of every dollar collected locally will remain in the county for local use. Forty cents is sent to the state.

"This money should be used to help local children in need of orthopedic care," Wear declared, "and we are making an urgent request that those knowing of children in need of help report to the committee."

Parents of exceptional children may not realize that there is help available as near as the center in Amarillo, he said. Funds may be provided for transportation, for braces, and other treatment be pointed out.

GI On The Farm Trainees Must Report Incomes

Veterans in West Texas taking GI Bill institutional on-the-farm training were reminded today by the Veterans Administration reports of their 1951 earnings must be submitted to the regional office at Lubbock not later than March 1, 1952.
Failure to submit the reports by the deadline may result in discontinuance of GI subsistence payments until such time as the reports reach the Veterans Administration, stated Robert W. Sisson, manager of the regional office. This year, in addition, farm trainees must send in a second report — a certification as to the period of time they may have been engaged in employment outside the farming activity. This, too, must go to VA before March 1.
The earnings reports — covering only income from productive labor for the calendar year 1951 — serve a double purpose, Sisson said. First, they are used by VA as the basis for adjusting each veteran's subsistence for the current year 1952. And second, they are part of the veterans course of instruction in farm accounting, thus giving him the opportunity to put into practice what he has learned in the classroom.
Farm trainees received the necessary VA forms for both reports earlier this year. They will receive assistance from their instructors in closing their books for the past year, and in transferring data to the VA forms.

Honesty More Than A Virtue In Korea, Local Parents Learn

Honesty may be a virtue, but in Korea where a man isn't sure today whether he'll be dead or alive tomorrow, honesty and consideration are more the mark of a man than possibly any other factor.
Mr. and Mrs. Bill Hutson and their son, Pfc. James Hutson — who is serving in Korea — have learned that first hand.
The younger Hutson lost his billfold in Korea about six weeks ago. It contained quite a substantial sum of money. He told his brother, but didn't let his parents know about it so they wouldn't worry.
Friday the Hutsons received a letter from a Corporal Donald Meier, an infantryman in Korea, stating that he had kicked up the billfold while tramping through melting snow. Meier wrote Mrs. Hutson a letter stating he had found the billfold and asked how to get in touch with her son.
The Hutsons wrote the soldier and presented him with a reward for his honesty.
Roll call was answered with favorite Bible verses and during the business meeting plans were made to visit sick members.
Refreshments were served after a social hour to: Mesdames Elwyn Hutshinson, O. G. Hill, Roy Thompson, G. E. Harris, C. E. Beauford, Joe Kendall, Ralph McCullough, O. H. Herring, Sank Ramey, John Hacker, Jack Grady, Jeff Roberson, Jerry Jacobs and the hostess.

Bridge Entertains Couples At Party

Mesdames S. S. Dodson and V. L. Hilton were hostesses at an attractively arranged dessert bridge party Wednesday night at the Hilton home. Patriotic decorations marked tables for four where dessert was served when the guests assembled.
Couple prizes in bridge games were awarded to Mr. and Mrs. Jim Lipscomb, Mr. and Mrs. Reed Williams and Mr. and Mrs. Jim Black.
Those making up the party were: Messrs. and Mesdames Reed Williams, Jim Lipscomb, Dennis Barnard, Earl Phillips, W. S. Fluitt, Jim Black, Jeff Gilbreath, Burl France, S. S. Dodson and V. L. Hilton.
Mrs. Kerry Horne gave a program on the Children's Friend Society at Winfield, Kans.
Clothing is being collected to be sent to Korea. Mrs. George Tiefert is in charge of the collection.

Red Cross Drive Opens Tuesday, Quota $6,677

The annual enrollment campaign of the Deaf Smith Chapter of the American Red Cross gets under way Tuesday, Feb. 26 with a kick-off meeting at 10 a.m. at Hotel Jim Hill.

Goal for the drive will be $6677. Every effort will be made to reach the goal by selling memberships for 1952 by Saturday. Ten days is the deadline set by the membership workers to meet the 1952 goal.

Ben Childers is chairman of the 1952 membership campaign.

Childers issued the following statement in regard to the impending drive:

"The 1952 Red Cross campaign for the amount of $6677 will open Tuesday morning at 10 a.m. As usual, we will have a cup of coffee and donut with our friends and receive our campaign supplies. We urge all workers to be there and we promise a short meeting in order that we may save your time for a job you have agreed to do. If illness or something important prevents your being there, please contact the person who asked you to work.

"The campaign headquarters for returns and reports will be the Hotel Jim Hill lobby.

"The successful and speedy campaigns in past years show the conviction the community has for Red Cross and we again ask for complete coverage of the territory you have accepted and your speedy report in order that we make our goal at the earliest hour.

"Remember, we want individual members from homes, jobs or farms. Let's keep our good records and make this campaign goal before Saturday."

Fred W. Baird, chairman of the Deaf Smith county chapter, issued the following statement: "You may ask, what is this Red Cross? What is this organization you are asked to support each year — this Red Cross to which people generously devote so much of their time, to which they have entrusted their money — and even their blood?"

"The Red Cross is the summation of a force for good; the same that exists and operates in every human being. All people are a part of it. It flows through the Red Cross: blood to the wounded, food and clothing and rehabilitation for disaster victims — a link between the

Grandstand Gropings

By Kent Snare

The following might be termed the "Don't Passed Parade", but listening to the Buffs beat HSU and thinking that they are enroute to the NCAA Western playoffs at the Municipal Auditorium in Kansas City brings a panorama of memories of the biggies and little 'uns that showed over the basketball sands of time, in old Convention Hall, also in KC. . . . To this character and mayhap to no one else in this area, there were a host of players who still cast a long shadow even in the dim lights of a long time ago. . . . "Ken ye any of them?" . . . Melvin Miller of McPherson and the Henrys, the smoothie of all pivot men. . . . Jerry Spohn. . . . Brick and Berry Dunham, 235 and 246 avoirdupois, and slickers. . . . You should ought to try goin' round 'em. Johnnie Callahan, Tex Gibbons, Floyd Burke, McBirney, Davis, Ira Smith, Harold Reynolds, and Cy Crossette. . . . Chuck Hyatt, Rags Wilcox, Tom Pickrell, Duck Dewell, "Jumpin' Jack" McCrackeno, Bob Gruening and the Hillyards, they had a "millyun of 'em". . . . "Long John" Wulf, George Rody, Bob Mosby, Vern Wilkins, Clancy Miller, Harold Hewitt, Forrest DiBernardi, and the boys from Indianapolis, of the South Side Turners, Clarence Mueller and George Starbuck. . . . Then KCAC, the Georges, Williams and Reeves, Pidge and Bun Browning, "Dee" again, "Tus" Ackerman, "Rub" Thomson, Artie Nielsen, "Buck" Weaver,

Eddie Hogue, Grey Loughead, Gale Gordon, Al Petersen and many a guy yclept Jee who also had their moments. . . . Did you ever hear of Hooker and Hoerger of the Kee-Nash-A's? . . . Characters both. . . . Stretch Murphy of Purdue. . . . Red Sullivan of Rockhurst. . . . Ekstrom, Vic Holt, Harrigan and many of afore mentioned with the incomparable Cook Paints of KC. . . . To this corner, the greatest of them all. . . . They could and did put topnotchers of 6-10, 6-8, 6-7, 6-6, and 6-5 on the court, simultaneous and at the same time. . . . And if you don't think normal mouth breathing American boy tads had trouble with these atmospheric, moving characters. . . . you should oughta been twins and been there. . . . you could'a watched 'em "traillin'". . . . Maynard Laswell and Slaughter of LA and closer home, but biggies, albeit, Clark, Corner, Colvin, and Fortenberry of WSTC, Ogden and the Henrys. . . . I only once saw Price Brookfield, he of the hairy chest, but he had plenty of playing stature, too. . . . Joe of the monumental size and the drag pivot shot, will stay in the memory to me and maybe not to many others, it was Colvin with his "hitch up the pants" leave us win this one attitude and his inherent ability to do it, aided and abetted, by the best hesitant roll shot the business ever had to contend with. . . . Natural, the ones nampy are but a few of many and they, one and all, leave a good taste after memory's mousing. . . . Minion, when I look at the changing scene as exemplified by the vacillating format of the Gazette to the NE, I think that I have located that galloping Greek buddy of yours, yclept Anon. He or some other reprehensible has really stirred that mess with a stout stick. . . . What are they trying to do? Revolutionize the aspect of the American Press as standardized by Franklin, Greeley, Hearst, Knief and Sundry? (Aside to the Poor Man's Arch Ward: "all the other names ring a bell but, this guy Sundry. Who him?" — Yours patiently, Sam.)

Mr. and Mrs. Roy Saltzman of Kansas City, Mo., have arrived in Hereford where he will be engaged in farming with his father, Fred Saltzman.

Congratulations . . . to all

CLUB MEMBERS and to the Sponsoring Rotary Club -- on Hereford's Finest Steck Show.

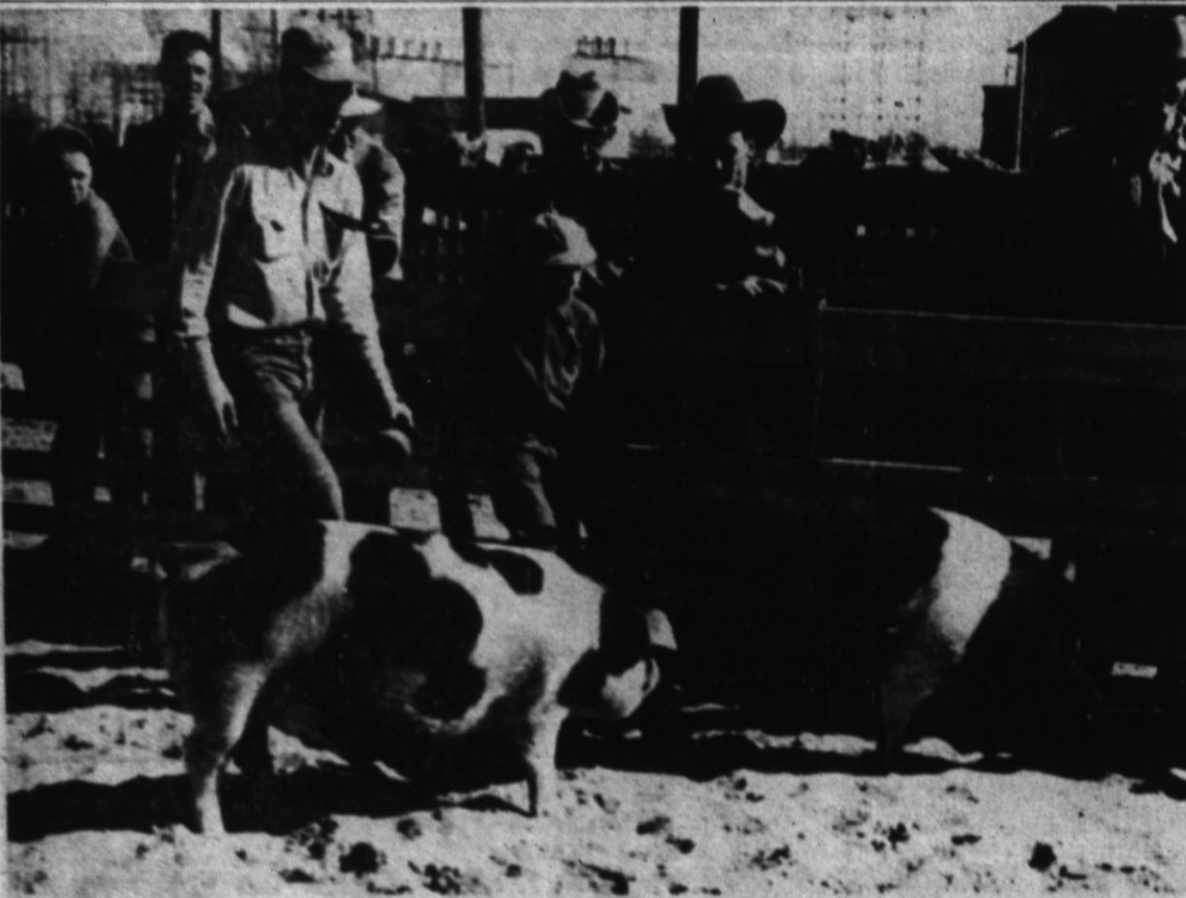

ALTHOUGH our primary purpose is serving the Potato Grower, we are fundamentally interested in the growth and welfare of the entire community—especially our Boys and Girls. The growth of the annual livestock show, to us, represents PROGRESS for the entire Four County Area . . . and we are happy to see a continued interest in a foremost "American" achievement.

Another Jr. Livestock Show has come and gone—and once again people are saying that it is the most successful ever held here. The annual event was started by the Rotary Club six years ago—and has grown into one of the finest of its type in the Panhandle. The Rotary Club members have worked long and faithfully at the job—and have been assisted by scores of outsiders. What I am leading up to is the fact that some of the Rotarians are talking about turning the sponsorship over to a joint operation with other groups.

This is the very finest thing the Rotary Club has done for the community, and it would be a shame to see them drop the project. Remember back in the '30's when the B. and P. W. had the annual "Pioneer Day" going strong and decided to turn it into joint sponsorship, because it was so large? The event went exactly one year (1939, I think)—then dropped out of the picture and was not resumed until 10 years later. Furthermore, it was the B. and P. W. girls who got the thing going again. It would be a shame to see the Jr. Livestock Show follow this pattern. Please, Rotary Club members, keep the project as it is today. Every one seems willing and eager to contribute time and money, and to do their part—but someone has to handle the big show and do the planning, and most of all "be responsible." If the Rotarians give up the Livestock Show it will certainly go down in quality and prestige. For my money, it is the best investment that can be made in youth and progress. I like it, as it is, very much. What do some of you readers think?

Some one has suggested the following: Why not take the two men selected as "Most Useful Citizens" on the odd and even years—and run them for mayor on the even years? Sounds possible. Back in the old days, they rewarded outstanding citizens in this manner, and they had pretty good government when, and if, the City Manager plan is inaugurated, it would not be to great a task for the mayor, despite the fact that he had business or professional obligations of his own.

Ben Childers was criticizing Kenneth Coker's talk at Toastmaster Club and started off as follows:
"If I don't spend any more time criticizing this talk than Kenneth did preparing it, I will be through in a very few minutes . . ."

Never saw anything take hold like these bachelor pictures. Wally got out and worked up another page for this issue—and he didn't even get started at filling the special requests which have been submitted by the girls. Too late to get printed was a blanket request from the telephone girls to nominate R. L. Ethridge, head maintenance and installation man for the company. L. Baskin was another who came in late, but plenty strong. The boys have all been good sports about the deal, too. Maybe it's like one of them said, "After all, we are in a position to be good sports, it's you married guys who have to pay and pay and pay . . ."

Despite the fact that The Brand quoted County Agent Hugh Clearman as saying the moisture is good, a lot of farmers are complaining about need for rain in a few days. Several wells are already running, and quite a few more will start within the next two weeks. I believe we will get some moisture. This year should be the one in which we get a real, old fashion wheat crop. I have that feeling. Our time is getting near. I am still plugging for a wheat crop in 1952.

Politics, local and national, are picking up. There will be some "horse races" in Deaf Smith County—and don't believe all you hear on the national subject. A lot of the polls are listing Eisenhower under Taft. Remember, how the polls said Truman didn't have a chance last time? A Chicago newspaper even printed a Republican victory article—and had to retract. People are getting riled up—and nothing will really count but the final vote. The Democrats will have to come up with a strong candidate to beat Eisenhower. Taft may get the nomination, but he hasn't an outside chance to win the election. Stassen would get more of the popular vote, but Eisenhower would do best of all. Unless the Republicans can "give" enough to see this their regime would probably be a bad deal, anyway.

You can look for a new trend in merchandising within the next few years. Right now the variety stores are on the spot. They are slipping fast. Woolworth's contracted for half-page ads each week in many of the key cities. Notice where the 5 & 10's in Amarillo are also using quite a bit of advertising space. This is due, of course, to the fact that the grocery stores are stepping into the field and cutting down the variety store volume. Toothpaste, soap, kitchen utensils and knick-knacks are becoming more and more common in the food marts. For a long time the mail order houses flourished, but when things got tough they began opening retail stores—and along with them came the 5 and 10's in a big, big way. Today, things are changing and re-shaping again. The food stores are doing a whole of a job of merchandising.

You don't have to have white hair and wrinkles to remember when you bought your soap at the drug store. Now the giant volume goes through the food stores. Patent medicines and toilet articles are also moving in this direction. Many drug store operators frequently talk about dropping out of business and cutting down on inventory. This is often a routine topic at drug conventions and meetings. No one knows what will happen, but some sort of changes are inevitable.

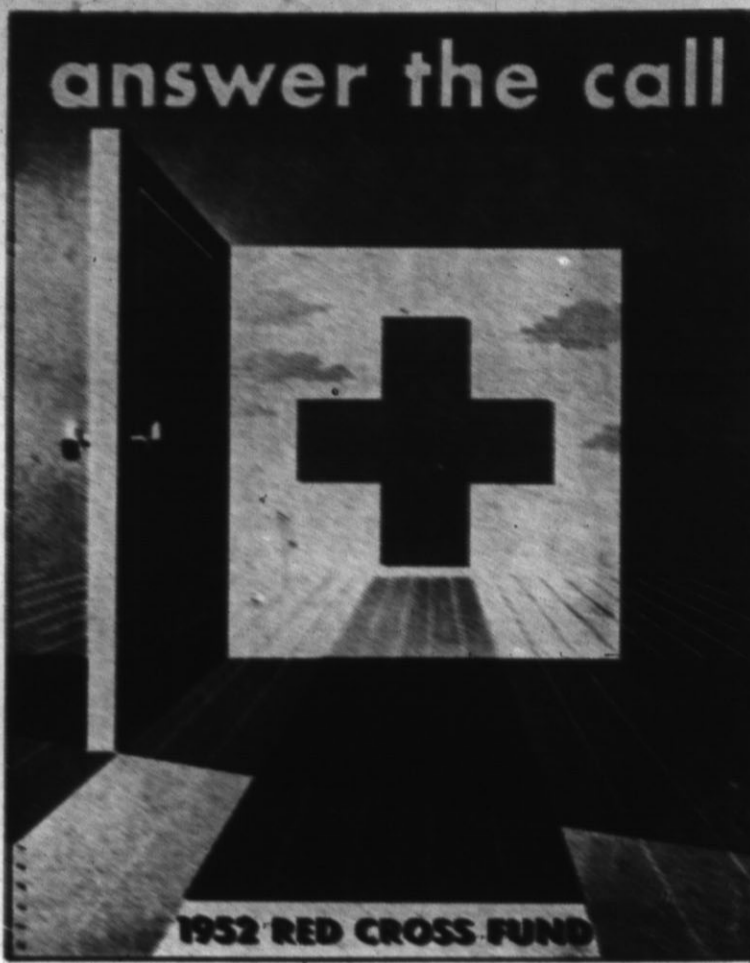

The gas appliance leaders of Hereford, cooperating with West Texas Gas Company, are scheduling a cooking school in Hereford for March 19-20. This is going to be a big deal. A gas range will be given away, along with many other prizes and some excellent recipes will be presented. Understand it will be held at the Star Theatre in the afternoon. Are there enough men cooks to sponsor a special session of "men's recipes?"

Will Harris, the Gothall Sage, wants to know why Hereford doesn't have a dramatics club. He says the town has everything else and believes it would go over big. Will has had a yen to act since he was a kid. The Summerfield people put on a real show last year, and Will had a part and did mighty well, too. How about it? Is anyone interested. If so, Will Harris will be glad to help. Understand Summerfield is planning another stage production this Spring. Meanwhile, some of you Summerfield people help me put the squeeze on Will to write one of those "Do You Remember . . ." articles for The Brand. He can do a good one, but it's hard to get him started.

Castro County 4-H Boys Win Float Prize

The Castro County 4-H entry, showing John Bridges with his grand champion lamb, won first prize in the Junior Livestock and Poultry show annual parade Saturday afternoon.

As first place float, the Castro county boys were presented with a $25 check.

Second place in the parade went to the Camp Fire Girls who paraded in old pioneer dress, some 150 strong, behind an old time covered wagon advertising "Westward the Women." They won $15.

La Platta Study club won third place in the judging with the Wayside club coming in fourth.

Honorable mention went to the B&PW club and to the Hereford Safety Council.

Judges were Mrs. O. P. Cowart, Mrs. Carl Frye and Roy Peet.

There were 60 different business firms entering in the parade, said Bruce Wooddell, parade marshal. He estimated that about 200 units participated.

Police Radio Hooks Up With Amarillo Now

Deaf Smith county law enforcement officials have an added radio hook-up now in operation that will give local officers contact with their counterparts throughout the entire state, according to Sheriff J. C. Reese.

Amarillo is now equipped to receive the local police frequency Reese stated, and they in turn have connection with all other cities in the state.

Both police and sheriff's office vehicles are equipped with the two-way high frequency sets.

J. D. Sanders Is Serving Aboard Fleet Oiler

Supplying the United Nations fleet in Korea with gasoline, fuel oil, mail and personnel are a few of the jobs of the fleet oiler USS Guadalupe.

Serving aboard her is J. D. Sanders, electrician's mate, third class, USN, son of Mrs. Ernestine Sanders of Hereford.

Sanders entered the Naval service July 2, 1948 and received his recruit training at the Naval Training Center, San Diego, Calif.

The Guadalupe is a veteran of World War II, and has seen seven months duty in the Korean conflict.

On her maiden voyage from Brooklyn, N. Y., to the Philippine Islands in 1940, she transported three motor torpedo boats which were later to become famous under the command of Lt. Cmdr. John Bulkeley's "Expendable PTS."

Mizener Book Review For Bay View Club

"The Far Side of Paradise" by Arthur Mizener, a literary award winner, was the subject for the book review presented Thursday afternoon by Mrs. Lee Benefield as the program for the Bay View Study club at a meeting held with Mrs. C. J. Crump.

The book is a biography of F. Scott Fitzgerald, talented novelist, who polished his life to such a brilliance that he made legend of it and lost his way forever in that legend.

In describing the book, Mrs. Benefield told how the author has searched out Fitzgerald the man and found the very essence of that never-never land that was the twenties. She said in part: "In the beginning it was a legend of glitter for it was the jazz age and Fitzgerald's books were gospel to the flappers and raucous college boys who teadanced at the Plaza. In the middle it was a legend of disillusionment and in the end it was a legend of despair. This was the Hollywood era and out of personal tragedy Fitzgerald wrote his best works."

Mrs. A. M. Jones, president conducted a short business session. Members voted to make individual contributions to the Red Cross Drive and a Work Shop Institute to be held in Amarillo on March 5, was announced. Mrs. Will S. Kerr announced that the Bay View Club will be one of the hostess clubs for the Deaf Smith County Federation Luncheon program on February 29.

W. Kirby, Paul Mathers, John McLean, F. T. Roloson, H. C. Williams, Bob Wilson, Miss Frances Turrentine and the hostess.

Mrs. Don Davidson Is Les Meres Speaker

Les Meres Study club was entertained in the home of Mrs. Elvin Wilson Monday evening.

Mrs. L. R. Boyer served as co-hostess.

Mrs. Don Davidson presented the evening's program after a short business session was held.

In a discussion of the subject, "A Child's Approach to Religion" Mrs. Davidson said "One of the highest privileges accorded to parents is to teach children to expect God.

Two methods that may be recommended are: 1—the direct way of reading the Bible and stories of the Bible, illustrations and explanations of God in nature and all about us and 2—the indirect way which is by setting an example through your own life."

Members were asked to suggest ways of setting examples and Mrs. Davidson led a round-table discussion of the suggestions. (Continued on page 2)

Wayne Thomas B&PW Club "Bosses' Night" Speaker

We're All Working FOR A Better Community....

As Pioneers in the vegetable business, we have also gained considerable experience in Livestock feeding—and we full well realize the long hours spent by our 4-H and FFA Club Boys and Girls.

Furthermore, we believe Livestock to be a most important factor in this area—and we want to express our appreciation to all concerned in sponsoring the Junior Livestock Show this week-end. It was the best yet.

IT IS A PLEASURE, Therefore,

to say:

Congratulations and Best Wishes and we invite you to call upon us when we can be of service.

LaPlata Study Club Holds "Guest Night"

"Guest Night" was observed by the LaPlata Study club when a meeting was held in the home of Mrs. Homer Brumley Tuesday evening.

Mrs. J. M. Thomson, president, conducted a business session and the program followed outlines in yearbooks on the study course, "International Personalities".

Mrs. Charles Newell presented the program giving a dissertation on Madame Chiang Kai-Shek. She told of her childhood and her education in the United States.

After she was married to Chiang Kai-Shek, she placed China first in all her activities, seeking to give aid to the lower classes and to elevate their manner of living. Her only thoughts are still of China and she spends her entire time planning and caring for the needy of her country", Mrs. Newell said.

Following the program refreshments were served from a table centered with red carnations, with pencil thin red tapers rising from their midst. Mrs. J. M. Thomson and Mrs. Pete Cowart presided.

Members of the club attending were: Mesdames Don Little, Milton Adams, Leroy Aven, N. D. Bartlett Jr., Harry Bennett, Les

MRS. GRANT FULLER

Lamb Is Spring Tonic For February's Jaded Appetites

Mrs. Grant Fuller knows how to prepare a leg lamb-roast so that none of the usual complaints can be lodged against it. The meat is not dry or tasteless. It is moist and delectable and provides a welcome variation for spring meals.

in fat which has been heated in roaster. When roast is golden add one cup of water cover and place in 400 oven allowing to cook about three hours or until meat is tender. About an hour before roast is done, add one medium sliced onion which has been sauted in butter, and six or eight small potatoes or quartered large ones. Carrots may also be added. Remove the vegetables when done and thicken gravy with a little flour, adding more water if needed.

Other companions — English peas, a bountiful salad and some piping hot rolls and coffee, and current or mint jelly. Mrs. Fuller likes to serve apple salad with lamb. She peels and cores five or six apples (winesap are best) leaving part of the bottom peeling on so the apples will hold together. She boils the apples slowly in 1 cup of sugar and 1/2 cup vinegar. Stuff the apples with celery and nuts when cold and top with mayonaise.

Speech By Price Daniel ANNOUNCING FOR U. S. SENATE

Speech by Price Daniel Announcing for United States Senate

Delivered 7:30 to 8:00 P. M. January 21, 1952 Texas Quality Network Texas State Network

It is in a spirit of sincere humility and with high purpose that I come to you, the people of Texas, tonight.

You have honored me with your confidence in the past. Three times you have elected me to fight your legal battles as Attorney of this State. In these CRITICAL TIMES, when there are even greater battles to be fought in the nation's capitol, I am asking you to EXTEND the measure of confidence you have placed in me.

Believing that there is a desperate need for a change in the direction in which our country has been going since World War II, and believing that the change can be hastened by one who has no obligations to present federal officials, I, Price Daniel, hereby announce my candidacy for the Democratic nomination for United States Senator from Texas.

No one will deny that Washington needs a thorough housecleaning to purge it of the over-concentration of power, greed, and corruption which threaten the very foundations of our democracy. Coming fresh from the people, and with years of experience fighting crime and corruption and defending our rights against federal encroachments, I am confident of my ability to help restore simple honesty and moral integrity in our national government.

In asking for your support of my candidacy, I want you to know exactly what I stand for and what I shall fight for as your representative in the most important legislative body in the world. I shall not pussyfoot or evade the issues.

After you have heard what I stand for, I would like to hear from you. By uniting the efforts of all of us who agree upon the fundamental needs of our country, we can win out against any amount of money or influence which may be amassed on the other side in this contest.

PLATFORM

First, I favor a non-partisan housecleaning which will rid us of all graft, dishonesty, and disloyalty which may exist in any agency of the federal government.

We must EXPOSE, eliminate and punish those who have violated their public trust. This CANNOT be accomplished by turning the job over to those whose own departments, appointees and cronies are themselves under suspicion and attack. To be successful the clean-up must be moved from the highly political Department of Justice to a non-partisan commission.

I place this issue first in my platform because our country must be morally and spiritually strong before we can be physically or economically strong. Nothing can be successfully accomplished by our government without loyalty, moral integrity, and honesty on the part of public officers and employees. Also, in justice to the great majority of federal employees who have rendered years of loyal and honest service, the wrong-doers must be eradicated from their midst so that public service will be restored to its rightful place of honor in the minds of our people.

My experience in fighting crime and corruption on the State level equips me to do it on the national level. I remind you that in recent years the most important forces fighting against corruption and waste in government have been freshmen Senators serving their first terms in office. "New brooms," if you please, I need point only to Senator Kefauver of the Senate Crime Committee, our own Senator Lyndon Johnson of the Armed Services Watchdog Committee, Senator Douglas on the R. F. C. investigation, and Senator Williams, who helped expose the revolting mess of dishonesty in the Bureau of Internal Revenue.

Another "new broom" will be of considerable help in making a clean sweep of the dirt and waste which have accumulated in government agencies in Washington.

And to prevent future graft and greed we must wage an equally vigorous campaign to stop over-centralization of power in Washington. Concentration of too much power at such a far distance from the view and control of the people has always eventually resulted in public plunder, waste and corruption. The most honest, liberal and efficient system of government is that which keeps the total power of government as close as possible to the people — and as far as possible from the control of one man or a few men at the top.

Two, the next most important thing is to increase our economic strength by putting a stop to wasteful and unnecessary government spending, and by ending the parade of higher and higher taxes.

Our country is taxing its people beyond all reason and spending itself into bankruptcy.

I am fully aware that we must spare no NECESSARY expense in our preparedness program and in military aid to our allies. We must be physically strong, and we must co-operate with those who can be depended upon to fight against the Communist threat of world-wide domination. But, my fellow Texans, I am convinced that there is a lot of unnecessary and wasteful spending in our programs of preparedness and foreign aid. These programs must not be allowed to weaken and destroy our economic strength or reduce us to financial ruin.

History records that internal weaknesses, financial and moral, have led more directly to the fall of great nations than the armies of their external enemies. And that is exactly what the Communists have in mind as the means of destruction for our country.

Both Lenin and Stalin have written that it would never be necessary for the Communists to conquer our country by force of arms. Instead, they said they would make the United States spend itself into bankruptcy and destruction. And that is exactly what we are doing.

PUBLIC DEBT

Already we have accumulated the greatest public debt in the world today — more than 260 billion dollars. Our present national debt is more than twice as large as the combined national debts of all the countries to whom we are sending financial aid. Furthermore, according to the latest figures available to me, America's national indebtedness is higher than the combined national debts of all the nations of the world. Think of it — a public debt exceeding that of all other nations of the world combined.

We often hear the dangerous and erroneous doctrine of: "Why worry about the public debt; we just owe it to ourselves." That is what Socialistic advocates of deficit spending have been saying for years. Here's why we must worry about the debt. For years the United States Government has been paying its bills — not with cash—but by issuing bonds. The result has been an inflation which has driven the value of the dollar down to a point where it is worth now only half of what it was worth ten years ago. We've got to stop operating this country at a loss right now or else the dollar will decline in value until it will be worth nothing at all. Every housewife in this State, every holder of a fixed salary, and every recipient of a retirement benefit or pension, knows about the results of inflation.

Inflation and increasing prices must be stopped now before they wipe out the life's savings, insurance, pensions, and fixed salaries of our people. The best solution is for the federal government to stop spending money it does not have. The federal budget should be balanced by a "pay-as-we-go" program which will bring total federal spending within present-day tax collections. It can be done by eliminating every single wasteful and unnecessary expenditure. It is not fair to our children and grandchildren to burden them with the debt of our own spending.

Short of a world-wide war, Price Daniel will not vote for higher total expenditure of federal funds, and I will work for immediate reduction of present expenditures.

TAXES

During the administration of President Truman, the federal government has collected from the American people more taxes than the combined total of all taxes collected during the 156 years of previous administrations, including two World Wars. Think of it, in about seven years the people have been taxed more than the total taxes of the 156 previous years.

This year the people of the United States will pay in taxes approximately one-third of the total national income. Leading and reliable economists in our own country and throughout the world agree that the critical limit of taxation is about 25% of the national income. Already we have reached and exceeded the danger point.

The new tax bills passed by the present Congress raised the taxes of those in lower income brackets by a greater percentage than those in the higher income brackets, and the President is calling for still higher taxes.

With the tremendous tax load we now bear, not one dollar of higher taxes should be saddled upon the people of this nation. Short of total war, Price Daniel will not cast a vote to tax the people of this country more than they are now being taxed, and I will work diligently toward the day when taxes can be reduced.

Three, I am for a strong and continuous preparedness and national defense program of such proportions that we can afford to maintain it from year to year without over-spending and without finding ourselves in one emergency after another. The threat of Communist aggression may last many, many years. Our preparedness should not be a touch and go affair. What we need is a defense program that can outlast the Communists, and above all, a program which will disappal themselves to death.

FOREIGN POLICY

Four, as Senator from Texas, I would work for a positive and understandable foreign policy — a foreign policy which will not yield to our compromise with Communism anywhere on the face of the globe.

I will give my full support to the North Atlantic military security program now being supervised by General Eisenhower. I will work for the improvement of the United Nations as an instrument for peace and a foe of aggression. We must continue to co-operate with those countries which stand united with us against the threat of Communist aggression BUT WE MUST QUIT BEARING A DISPROPORTIONATE PART OF THE LOAD. We do not strengthen our allies by encouraging them to be dependent upon us. We should give financial aid only to those who are helping themselves and only to those who will stop sending vital war materials and supplies to our enemies.

In the Pacific our foreign policy since World War II has not been worthy of our American heritage. Those of us who went to the Pacific during World War II were told that China, Formosa, Korea, and the Pacific Islands were vital to the security of our own shores. In China in 1945, I was thrilled to observe at first hand the warm friendship of the Chinese people for our country. We were then helping them to resist the Chinese Communists, and most of that great land of 450 million people was on our side in the world-wide conflict against Communism. Soon thereafter our State Department, led by such so-called "experts" as Alger Hiss, Dean Acheson, Owen Lattimore, John Service and Phillip Jessup, influenced the leaders of our nation in a decision which allowed China to fall into complete control of the Chinese Reds. History will record this as the greatest blunder of American foreign policy.

Except for this disastrous policy and Mr. Acheson's later drawing of the American line of defense east of Formosa and Korea, we would not be fighting a war and taking the insults of Chinese Communists in Korea today.

You will note that I call the Korean conflict a war — not a police action. Our total of more than 100,000 casualties in Korea exceeds the number of our casualties for like periods during World Wars I and II.

We should bring this Korean War to an end. If an honorable peace cannot be concluded immediately, we should unite the hands of our gallant men in Korea and support with everything it takes to defeat the enemy or get out of Korea. As your Senator, Price Daniel promises you never to approve the sending of American boys into battle anywhere again until we are ready to win and willing to support them with every means necessary to defeat the enemy.

No one wants peace more than I — that is, an honorable peace. I have seen with my own eyes the destruction of atomic warfare in Japan. Mrs. Daniel and I have three young sons and a daughter whose lives are uppermost in our minds. I don't want them to suffer the agonies of war, but neither do I want them to live under a foreign policy based upon fear instead of upon typical American faith and courage.

During the past two years we have suffered more humiliation at the hands of foreign powers such as Hungary, Czechoslovakia, and Red China than ever before in the history of our country. It is high time for a change. We need a truly bi-partisan foreign policy which will eliminate politics and unite our people,

Only when our political leaders in both parties fix their eyes on future generations instead of future elections, and place our foreign policy in the hands of men well known for their opposition to Communism, can our people be united in this fight against our deadliest foe.

A great step in the direction of unity would be the resignation or removal of our present Secretary of State, Dean Acheson. This has been the demand of the American Legion, the Veterans of Foreign Wars, and other veterans of service in our armed forces. I agree with them. Since that day after the conviction of Alger Hiss when Secretary Acheson said he would not turn his back on Hiss, there has been widespread lack of faith in his leadership. As long as Mr. Acheson is at the helm, there is little chance of a bi-partisan foreign policy and a united people. He should be replaced by a man who would not hesitate to turn his back on any person known to have had dealings and sympathies with Communism.

If there be those of you who are satisfied with the Truman-Acheson foreign policy in Korea and the Far East and who want to see it continued, you may think it best to vote to maintain those in power who are the architects and defenders of that policy. But those of you who think it is time for a change should write to me and join me with your active help and support in this campaign.

Five, as your Senator, Price Daniel will oppose socialized medicine, by whatever name it may be called, as well as every other scheme toward further socialization of this country. That includes the Brannan farm plan to socialize farming, a plan which has been opposed by almost every Texas farm group. While attending the annual meeting of the Texas Farm Bureau Federation in Houston last year, I was impressed with the fact that farmers and ranchers do not want subsidies or hand-outs. They are interested primarily in fair prices for their products, in keeping THE EXISTING PRICE support laws and soil conservation program, and in less federal interference and controls. I shall support them in these desires.

I shall oppose the repeal of the Taft-Hartley law. I will oppose any decrease in the oil depletion allowance which means so much to our State. And of course I will oppose the so-called civil rights program with which President Truman has been slapping the South each year for political purposes in the North and East.

Another example of executive action for obvious political purposes was the President's attempted appointment of an Ambassador to Vatican City. The principles ignored and the manner and motive of this appointment are being resented by Catholics and Protestants alike. I object to such an appointment, but I shall not exploit my opposition for political purposes or base it upon religious prejudices. I have no such prejudices. If the interests of our country require a contact or listening post at the Holy See, I am sure it can be provided through other means now available without violating fundamental American principles and without causing ill feelings among Christian people. In this day and time, no one in any government or in any church should do anything which would divide the forces of religion. Together we are locked in a death struggle against the common foe of atheistic Communism. This is a day for co-operation, tolerance and understanding among all people who believe that there is a Supreme Architect of the Universe who guides the destinies of nations as well as the destinies of men.

Sixth, and now I have saved for last a subject on which I would dearly love to represent the people of Texas in the United States Senate. I refer to the "tidelands" controversy. In this conflict federal officials are trying to take nearly 3,000,000 acres of land away from our public school fund. This is the biggest steal of them all. For five years I have been fighting the federal land grabbers in the Supreme Court and before Congressional Committees.

Every school child knows that Texas owns these lands. They were won with our independence at San Jacinto and were retained along with all other unsold lands under the solemn contract by which Texas entered the Union. For over 100 years, federal officials recognized that the tidelands belonged to Texas — until they became valuable and until men with federal influence began seeking cheap leases from the federal government. Thereafter, in 1948 our State was sued by the federal officials, and our contract of annexation was ignored by the Supreme Court of the United States.

That court decision was rendered without hearing evidence. My staff and I had assembled two boxes of evidence which would have left no doubt that the contracting parties intended for the title to these lands to remain in Texas. I pleaded for two hours with the Supreme Court to hear the evidence, but by a 4 to 3 vote, it refused to do so. It was the first time in the history of the Supreme Court that a State was denied the right to introduce evidence in a contested lawsuit. It was the first time the Supreme Court ever refused to apply or interpret a solemn contract between the United States and another nation.

As you know, I have not accepted that court decision as final, and I never will. CONGRESS has the final say, and I know that with enough hard work in the Senate, legislation can be passed restoring these lands to Texas and confirming our annexation agreement. This legislation should have been passed by Congress years ago when the controversy first arose — and long before we were sued. We had a President then, Franklin D. Roosevelt, who refused to turn against the States in this fight, and it is likely he would have signed a state ownership bill. It was not until after Mr. Truman became President that the first tidelands suit was filed.

The blame for breaking the Texas Annexation Agreement and seizing our tidelands falls squarely upon President Truman and those whom he placed in power. Under these circumstances, I said months ago that Texas Democrats should try to find a presidential nominee for 1952 who will uphold the contracts and promises of the United States and no longer trample upon our solemn agreement of annexation.

A few of our fellow Texans seem to think it is a breach of Democratic Party loyalty to oppose the nomination of present Democratic officeholders. That is not so. It is the right and duty of every Democrat to support or oppose any candidate whom he pleases within the Party primaries and conventions. I shall cast whatever influence I may have in favor of a nominee other than Mr. Truman because my sense of loyalty to my State, my Nation, and my Party requires it. In this connection, I will keep my campaign for the Senate nomination strictly within the Democratic Party of Texas and will not accept aid or assistance from outside the Party or from outside the State.

In this campaign I shall not deal in personalities. You will note that I have not directly referred to anyone who has been mentioned as candidate for this office other than myself. I intend to hit hard on the issues, but with regard to personalities, I will do my part to keep it a clean and honorable campaign, worthy of the office for which I am a candidate.

For the success of this campaign, I must depend upon those of you in every county and precinct of this State who believe it is time for a change and are willing to do something about it. I will need your active support in order to compete with the money and power which may be available to an opponent more friendly with the powers in Washington.

The newspapers have already said that as much as a million dollars may be poured into this State by friends of the present administration to defeat anyone who challenges their favorite in this race. I have no source of that kind of money. Instead, I come direct to you, the people of Texas, and ask for the type of individual help that money cannot buy or defeat.

If as many as 10,000 people in this State will join me with your active support at the grassroots, we can beat all the money and all the Washington influence that can be amassed on the other side. That is why I am asking each of you to write me if you are willing to assist me. In order to perfect a statewide organization at the earliest possible time, I need to hear from you within the next 10 days. If you will join me and help me in this campaign, please write to me tonight or tomorrow. Then during the week enlist your friends to join with us and ask them to write me or join in our letter.

Address your letters, telegrams or cards simply to: Price Daniel, Attorney General, Austin, Texas.

More Of Hereford's Eligible Bachelors

◆ ◆ ◆ The Sunday Brand ◆ ◆ ◆

Hereford, Texas, Sunday, February 24, 1952

Section Three

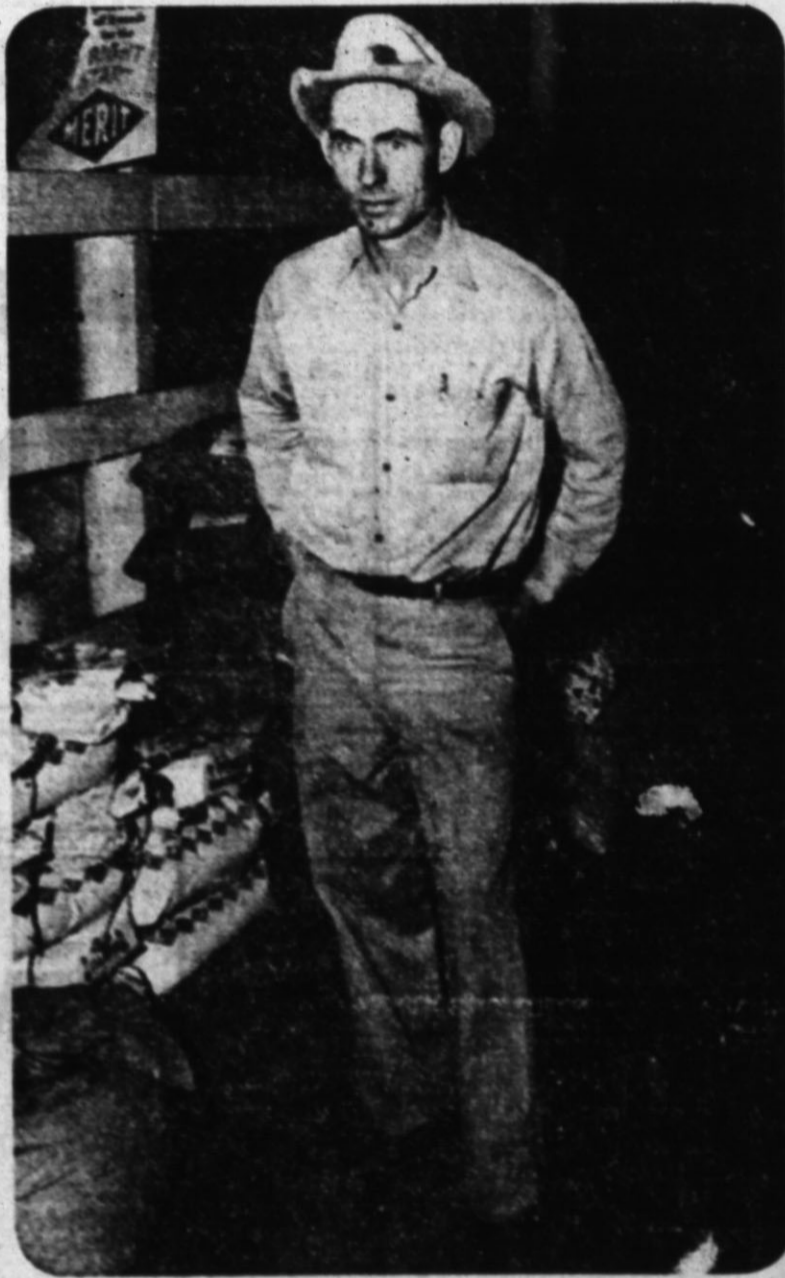

MAC PITMAN has been a resident of Hereford for the past 45 years, having come here from Missouri where he was born on November 25, 1898. Pitman, who is connected with the Pitman Grain company, had "no comment" when asked if there were any prospects to ending his single status. Mac's hobbies are fishing and boating.

WILSON GYLES, partner in the Packard Milling company, was born in Hereford on March 28, 1906 and has spent his entire life here. He is a confirmed bachelor, he told The Brand, but left the door slightly open and said there was "always a chance." Wilson has no particular hobbies, but likes sports of all kinds.

JAMES (SUG) Lee has "never started looking", he said when asked about his bachelorhood. He was born August 4, 1927 and has been in Hereford for 11 years. Employed as a mechanic at Hereford Hudson, Lee makes a hobby of gas-powered model planes.

HAROLD EASLEY "isn't making any headway and I'm not trying" in changing his single status. He was born June 14, 1918 in Crosby county, Texas and has been in Hereford for five years. He is a clerk at West Texas Feed and Seed store.

ED BULLS, part owner of Pitman's Service station, was born July 23, 1914 in Newport, Texas. He has lived in Hereford since 1936. Although he has no prospects, the "door is always open," he said. His hobby is working. "That's all I ever have time to do", he comments.

BILL RANCE, one of Hereford's younger eligible bachelors, is employed with the Southern Geophysical company as a computer. He was born October 25, 1927 at Plaindealing, La. He has been in Hereford three months. Bill replied with an emphatic "no sir!" when asked if he had any prospects, but he isn't a confirmed bachelor, girls. His hobbies are sports and playing cards.

HEREFORD HIGH SCHOOL harbors another bachelor. He is Frank Jones, English instructor. Jones was born December 10, 1902 in Oklahoma. He has been in Hereford for seven years. Jones is the only bachelor to admit that Leap Year might mean something. He says, "I'll put off being a confirmed bachelor until after this year. I've made it through the first half century all right but I'm beginning to weaken. His hobby is carpentry — building boats and cabinets.

CHARLES GALLATIN was born April 2, 1919. He is employed as a salesman for Farm Steel Buildings and has lived here for eight months. He "isn't adverse to being 'hooked'", he said. His hobbies are trout fishing and hunting.

SO THERE! In San Angelo water is scarce during the worst drought since 1917. An emergency city ordinance prohibits non-essential watering of lawns and shrubs from city mains. Therefore most passersby look disapprovingly at B. E. Tumlinson, recklessly spraying the precious liquid over his lawn. After several weeks of explaining his legal source to police and ordinary citizens, Tumlinson erected this sign: "We have a well. Pump in back, nosey!" (AP Photo)

A. Stand along a wall, propping left hand flat against the wall. Raise right leg out and

Q. How can I prevent old potatoes from turning black when boiling?

A. If a teaspoonful of vinegar is added to the water, they will not turn black, in spite of their age.

Q. How can I make a good metal polish?

A. Mix one cup of cigar ashes with two tablespoons of bicarbonate of soda. Bring to a smooth paste with water. Use on a clean cloth, rubbing vigorously.

Q. How can I avoid the disagreeable odor from rendering fat?

A. Place the kettle containing the fat in the oven. Start the fat on the top of the stove and when heated through, place it in a moderate oven until it is finished.

Q. How can I remove oil or grease stains from brown or tan shoes?

A. Use lemon juice for this task.

Q. How can I restore the brightness to a dull brass article?

A. Soak the article for about a half-hour in a pint of boiling water, to which a little rock ammonia has been added. After it has been removed from this bath polish with a chamois.

Q. How can I remove the white lining on oranges with the skin?

A. This white lining will come off with the skin if the orange is soaked in boiling water for five minutes before peeling.

Q. How can I harden my gums?

A. Rinse the mouth each day with a little tincture of myrrh. This will harden the gums and sweeten the breath.

Q. How can I renovate such small black leather articles as belts, bags, or portfolios?

Q. How can I accent my eyes through my makeup?

A. Rouge your lips lightly with a becoming, but not vivid, shade. Get a mat finish to your skin with a perfect foundation cream or lotion and a powder that matches your skin tone. Keep your eyebrows sleek, but not plucked too thin, and learn how to featherstroke them with the sharp point of a brow pencil. Strive for a glisten on your lids and eyes.

Q. Can you suggest a good deodorant I can mix myself?

A. Mix together 2-1/2 ounces of boric acid, 1/2-ounce zinc oxide, and 1/2-ounce of talc.

Q. What can I do about a crepy throat?

A. This is usually due to dryness and poor posture. Try to correct the position in which you hold your head, and exercise your neck muscles and improve skin tone by leaning head back and rotating it first one way, then the other. Use lubricating cream and massage. Relax often with head flung back against a pillow.

Q. What home remedy will induce health and strength in my teeth and gums?

A. The habit of brushing teeth and gums two or three times weekly with some common table salt. This is an aid that is old, but good.

Q. What is a good rinse for gray or white hair?

A. A rinse of French bluing. Add two drops of bluing to a pint of warm water for silver-white hair, four drops of bluing to a pint of warm water for gray hair.

Q. Please suggest a good, effective, cleansing facial mask.

A. Beat up the white of an egg, spread over the freshly-washed face, leave on 20 minutes, then rinse with warm and chilled waters.

Q. How is the best way to care for nylon garments?

A. To wash nylon, use lukewarm suds. Dip garment lightly up and down in soapy water. Rub soiled spots gently between fingers. Rinse in warm water. Hang garment on hangers to dry, gently easing into shape to prevent wrinkling. If ironing is necessary, use a cool iron.

Q. How can I keep my elbows and knees smooth and soft?

A. Rub cream into them just before climbing into your bath.

How Can I?

By Anne Ashley

Q. How can I treat an oily nose or skin?

A. Try this astringent: Alum, 35 grains; rosewater, 3 ounces; thick almond milk, 6 drams. Dissolve the alum in the rosewater, and pour the mixture slowly into the almond milk, beating it constantly and with a silver fork. Apply several times daily with a soft linen cloth.

Q. What causes the little drops of syrup that often form on the top of meringue?

A. Using too much sugar usually causes this. For pies, the correct proportions are from one to five tablespoonfuls of sugar to each egg white.

" THANKS "

We, the members of the Hereford Rotary Club, wish to express our sincere thanks and appreciation to the following clubs and people who have helped so much toward making this Junior Livestock Show a success.

The Hereford Kiwanis Club, the Hereford Lions Club, the boys and girls in our 4H Clubs, Future Farmers of America, Boy Scouts and Camp Fire Girls.

To Bruce Wooddell (Parade Marshal), Hugh Clearman (County Agent), Bill Stanford (Vocational Agriculture) and Argen Draper (County Home Demonstration Agent).

To the host of farmers, businessmen and women who have given of their time and money. To all our friends who have come from out of our Community to make this show possible.

It is Especially Gratifying to Note That Every Bit of Help We Received For This Occasion Was VOLUNTEERED, Which Shows That the Spirit of Cooperation Among Hereford Folks Will Continue to Make Our Town the Grandest Place In the World to Live.

"Spotlight on Crime" Topic Discussed For L'Allegra Club

In keeping with National Crime Prevention Week, the program for L'Allegra club Thursday afternoon turned the "Spotlight on Crime" at a meeting held in the home of Mrs. Richard Winget.

Mrs. Bill Dameron presented the program on the subject "Spotlight on Crime" telling of the notorious crime syndicate and naming underworld characters in the spotlight. She stated that a start has been made with the Kefauver crime committee and the investigations into the deep freeze scandals, the mink coats, the influence of RFC, the five percenters and the tax collection scandals.

Quoting from Louis B. Seltzer, editor of the Cleveland Press, who asks "What is wrong with us?" she continued "The analysts of human behavior do not agree among themselves about what has happened to the American people. We have lost something—it is in the things we do, the things we say, our books, our papers, our theaters, our radio and television."

In conclusion, Mrs. Dameron quoted authorities who believe the remedy lies in the home and that the small woman's clubs should have sufficient moral indignation to join forces against crime in all forms. Members of the club attending

Four Delegates To State DE Meeting Named

Four Hereford high school distributive education students — Shelby Whitefield, Shirley Sumner, Elma Rae Hamby and Leaton Clark — have been chosen by the Hereford Distributive Education club as delegates to the state DE convention in El Paso on February 22 and 23.

Announcement of the selection was made by L. C. Thomas, instructor-coordinator.

The four local representatives will be joined by delegates from 125 clubs over the state at the meeting, which will be held in El Paso's Hotel Cortez.

The quartet will be accompanied by Mr. and Mrs. Thomas. Featured attractions for the convention are bus tours of greater El Paso and Juarez, Mexico, with a luncheon in Juarez. Tours of El Paso business firms will be made during the afternoon of February 22.

The evening's entertainment will feature a banquet, coronation of the state sweetheart, and a floor show.

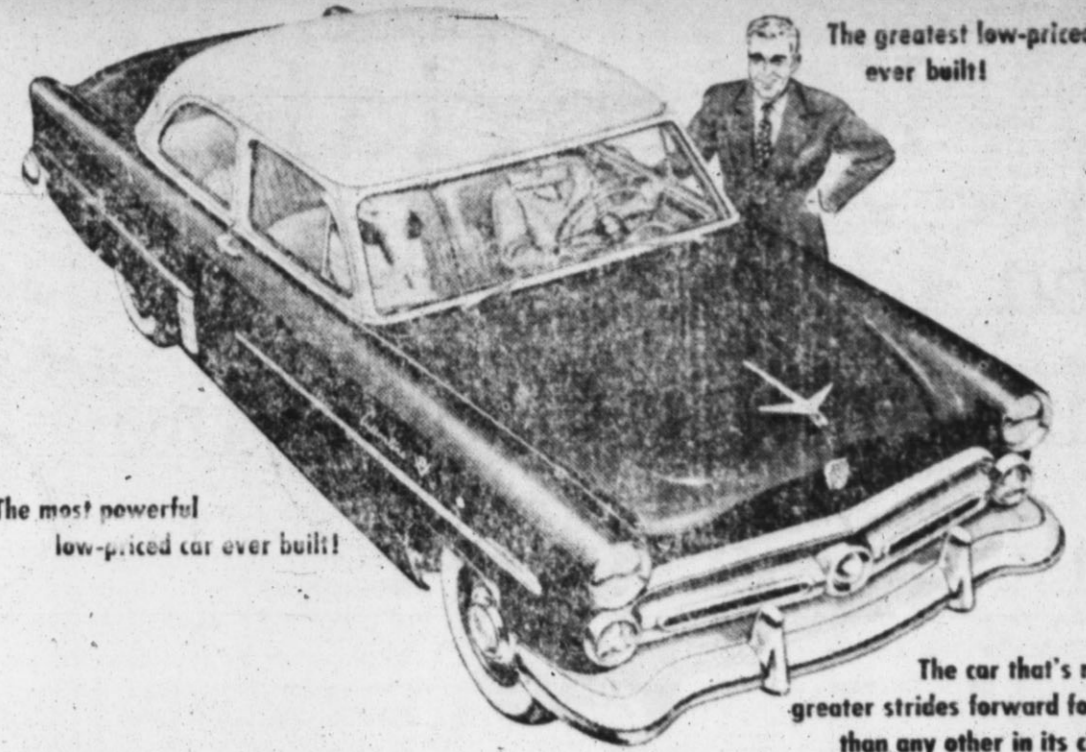

Dr. Walter R. Willis, who toured Europe last year, will be the banquet speaker.

Delegates to the national convention to be held at Wichita, Kans. in April will be named at the state convention.

The group from Hereford plans to visit Carlsbad Caverns on the return trip.

L. Baskin spent last week in Oklahoma City visiting relatives and on business.

the meeting were: Mesdames Bruce Beene, Jack Brown, Bill Dameron, James Edmonson, Hilton Higgins, O. G. Hill Jr., Francis Hill, V. C. Hopson, Richard Ireland, Lee Kent, Walter London Jr., Dick Lucas, Floyd Ross, Wayne Thomas, Jiggs Hartman and the hostess, Mrs. Stan Barrett was a guest.

VISITORS ARE ASSURED A WELCOME!

We Salute the Club Boys and Girls of today as Builders. Of The Future!

TO US YOUR ENTRY represented more than a mere calf, hog or chicken. To us, it represented an investment of actual cash... an investment of ability and brains in choosing your stock; furthermore, it represented a difficult job which required long hours of hard work, plus tender, loving care.

WE KNOW THESE THINGS because we've done them ourselves; because we have grown up in this Plains Country—and we feel that they comprise the finest possible training a boy or girl can have.

FURTHERMORE, the risk involved is important; almost as important, perhaps, as the complicated factor of learning how to win and how to lose. We are mighty proud of the way these boys and girls conducted themselves.

WE HOPE YOU ARE ENTERING again for next year, and if we can help in any way we will be glad. Your small purchase of materials, nails or paints are just as important to us as a big job... and you'll receive our personal attention. Besides, we like to have you drop in at any time—if for nothing else, just to say "hello" and get better acquainted.

We also wish to pay tribute to the Rotary Club members as individuals and as sponsors of the Four County Junior Livestock Show. It is a wonderful project—as "American" as America itself.

Red Cross Drive Merits Our Fullest Cooperation

Residents of Deaf Smith county will be given the opportunity during the coming week to enroll in the American Red Cross for the year 1952.

Quota for the county is $6677, which is only a $410 increase over last year's goal.

This Red Cross appeal comes on the heels of yeoman service performed in last year's disastrous Kansas floods. The Red Cross disaster fund is depleted as a result of the unstinting work carried on by the volunteers to alleviate suffering from the ravages of nature's unbridled fury.

Red Cross is such a force for good in the world today that its banner flies side by side with those of the free nations on this planet.

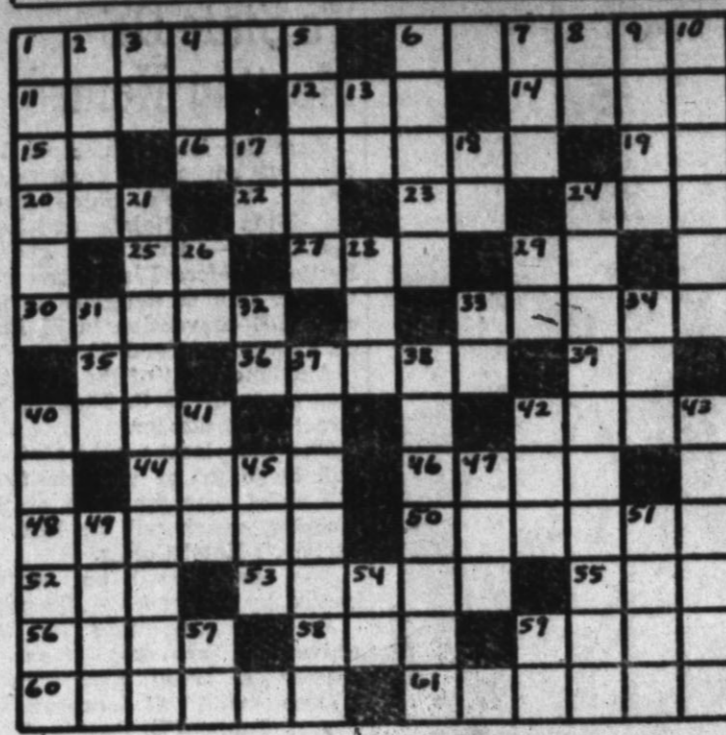

The Red Cross and humanitarianism walk hand in hand across the face of the globe. The American Red Cross, the International Red Cross is a symbol of unselfishness and of man's love for his fellow man.

The part each of us is asked to play in this campaign is small indeed. The benefits we will reap are huge.

Our American Red Cross is on hand while the call for help is still being sounded.

Will we—dare we—do less?—W. W. K.

I'll Never Forget

I'll never forget when I came to Hereford. It was in the last of April of 1900.

The grass was pretty and I thought that I had found me a home.

I went to work on the Fox ranch. I worked out there and decided that I wanted to be a cowboy.

We went to branding cows and I thought that I was a tough guy—and I tried to be—but the other guys showed me several things—that I didn't know.

I went to work for Lish Carter the next summer.

He showed me how to be a cowboy. We rounded up a bunch of burros and took turns riding them.

When I got so I could ride a burro, I thought that I could ride a bull calf. We rounded up a bunch of bull calves but I never learned to ride them as much as I tried.

Then we decided that horses would be better than a bull calf so we got in some cayuses and we rode them. And just kept on riding them. I thought that I was the top hand so I went to work for C. M. Meier at the Bar-O-Bar ranch and worked there.

In 1902 we went to New Mexico on the trail. We had all kinds of weather and all kinds of horses.

I've stood night guard and seen the lightning flash from one cow's horns to another and felt the lightning on my hands and seen it on my horse's ears. I thought that that was a lonesome life.

I quit there and came back to Texas and went to work for the Bar T ranch and Henry Stanley. I worked there from the fall of 1902 until 1904.

When we were bulldogging the calves along in 1902 I thought that I could bulldog a

Home Rule Another Step In Growth Of Community

The words "Home Rule" will come to mean a lot to residents of Hereford during the next few months.

Voters of the city will be given a chance to say whether or not they wish to create a new type of administration allowed when a town reaches 5,000 population or not. That means we could have a city manager here plus any set-up recommended for mayor and councilmen or mayor and commissioners.

Taking advantage of the option allowed as a town reaches the 5,000 mark is, to this writer's thinking, just another step forward.

Running the affairs of a town the size of Hereford is big business. It takes time. It takes a businessman.

Special training given city managers qualifies them to do city administrative work in a way others might not be able to do.

Besides, how many times will we be able to find a person with the time or civic-mindedness to offer his services in the fast-moving and low-paying city administrative post?

How can we name off-hand who have the ability, the time and the inclination to head a complex unit like the city government?

We voters have no right to ask any one person to carry the entire load. The present city officials have expressed themselves as unable to continue on under the present set-up due to the demands of office which conflict with business interests.

In addition to having a professional manager at the helm of our city's government, there are many other aspects to consider in approving a home rule form of government.

There are many things a town operating under the General Rules of Texas are obliged to do and are prohibited from doing.

Each and everyone of us in the city will be given the chance to hear the pros and cons of home rule versus the present form of government discussed and debated within the coming months.

It's an important issue. Don't neglect the chance to find out what it will mean to YOU.—W. W. K.

SUNDAY'S CURRENT QUESTION

Readers Feel That We Can Lose Peace To Communists In Korea

Do you think there is danger of the United Nations playing into the Communists' hands and giving too high a price for a so-called truce in Korea?

MRS. HOMER BRUMLEY—I do not think that the United Nations can hold out too long for a truce. I think we have acceded too much already. I think that we should hold out for our own terms. We'll have to push it strong instead of giving in.

VIRGIL DODSON—I think there is a danger because the past history reveals that in all our treaties and dealings with the Communists they have come out on top. The Communist technique seems to be to delay and frustrate all other governments.

MRS. LEONARD DAVIS—I really think they will pay too dear a price for it. In fact they have already paid too dear a price for it.

N. D. BARTLETT JR.—I don't know if you would call it playing into Communist hands or not but we have already given a lot of concessions that are against our principles.

JAY SULLIVAN—I don't think they are. I don't think they should give in to them. I think they should have a firm hand. We really should have a war or get out. Messing around like this can go on for years.

ELMER PATTERSON—I think there is a definite trend of the UN playing into the hands of the Communists by the concessions and appeasements that they have made. The price of a so-called truce in Korea is already great if over 300,000 casualties mean anything. What are the prospects for bringing this "police action" to an end? It looks very remote, and the price being paid will continue to be high in money, suffering, misery and loss of human life. Either the UN should put everything into it and bring it to a climax or get out.

'Tater Peelin's

By Roberta Campbell

Now that we have the scent of sheep off of us and have picked the turkey feathers out of our hair we are ready to concentrate on the Red Cross drive.

We have often thought that it is a shame that so many other drives come just ahead of it, but since the Red Cross is our only general welfare fund collection, most every one realizes the necessity and importance and sort of save back for this drive.

It seems to us that Mrs. Bradley's office is always one of the busiest in the courthouse.

As we watched Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Conklin work as a team to paper our kitchen we thought how much improvement has been made with commercial paste and trimmers since the time when our dad used to spend hours boiling his own paste and trimmed each piece of paper with a pair of long scissors.

Ever so often through the courtesy of the H. E. Miller Oliver company we receive a little publication entitled, "Better Farming For Better Living" which carries a number of household hints under the heading "Take It Easy."

We especially liked the suggestion of insertin' a comb between a button and the cloth before a button is cut off a garment and also the step and wrinkle saver which is a three-pronged towel rack attached to the broad end of the ironin' board to hold small pieces you iron.

Somewhere we picked up the idea of ironin' handkerchiefs first so that a clean one could be slipped into a hip pocket of each pair of levis as we finished them.

Adds a point to that inspection at school, too.

TOM GRAY

calf and I tried to be tough and that's what it takes to do it.

I did my best to do a little bit more than the other fellow did to show that I could bulldog one more calf than he could. I think that I bulldogged one too many.

I couldn't forget the experience I've had. No one could have ever taught me what I learned through experience.

I worked with the cattle and on the farm. I decided that the cowboy life was the life for me.

I went and looked up the XII—Ira Aden and got a job. In 1904 I went to work for the XII and worked there for four

The BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his farm near Bootleg won't get anywhere with his proposal this week, but it may have its attractive side.

Dear editor:

I was out here yesterday sweatin' over my income tax records, its a good thing they don't hold elections at this time of the year, wouldn't anybody get elected, when a friend came by and suggested we go fishin and I let my pencil drop from where it was in mid-air and went with him.

While we were fishin he got to talkin about how high his income tax was and what a lot of trouble makin out a government report is and I told him about a suggestion one of my readers made recently and one thing led to another and we worked out a system of eliminatin all this annual figurin and self-demoralizin which I am surprised somebody in Washington hasn't thought of before now.

As I understand it, under the present system there is considerable complaint over withholdin taxes, social security taxes, income taxes, payroll taxes, etc., not only over the fact it takes money to pay em but because it's such a nuisance to keep books on the whole shebang. Time a man keeps all the forms and records necessary to satisfy the government he ain't got enough time left for any original thinkin in his business or ain't in the mood.

Now under this new system I'm workin on all the book-keepin and form-fillin-out would be eliminated. All tax frauds would end. Instead of a business man withholdin part of an employee's pay, makin out a form for the government and one for the employee and one for himself, then sendin the withheld money to the government and the government and the employee balancin their books at the end of the year, with generally considerable argument and dissatisfaction and gloverin over which one owes the other one, there wouldn't be any records at all. He'd just withhold everything.

Under this system, whenever anybody makes any money, worker, owner, or what not, its turned over to the government right then, all of it. No deductions, no withholdin, nothin kept back.

Everything a man bought would then be charged, and all grocery bills, drygoods bills, drug bills, etc., would be turned over to the government for settlement. Anything left over the government would hold for your old age, if it couldn't think of any new dams to build.

This would virtually eliminate the need for any cash, except maybe pocket change for tippin and carfare in the cities and something to put in the cold drink machines, nobody would have to keep any records, no more overdrawn bank accounts, very few banks. It would be impossible to cheat on your income tax and impossible to make an error, since there wouldn't be any more income tax reports, would eliminate fraud among tax collectors and the temptation to fraud by simply eliminatin the tax collectors, and would free everybody's mind for deep thinkin on world problems.

If you think this program has any merit, what's Congress hung on?

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Housing Project Plans Are Rounding The First Curve

Plans for reserving a section of the city for Latin-American families who wish to build their own home got some steam behind them last week in a three-cornered meeting between the city commission, Chamber of Commerce and the Farm Bureau.

The idea for setting aside a choice section of the city for this type of project has been in the minds of many citizens for quite some time.

Many of these citizens advancing the cause of the project are the very ones who dream of living there, of buying a lot and building a home they can call their own.

It's something they want. That the city has been quick to realize the advisability of the need is fortunate, indeed.

The added support given to the project by the Chamber of Commerce and the Farm Bureau is indicative of their desire to see that something constructive is ACCOMPLISHED in regard to housing farm labor.

At a recent public housing meeting, those who should have every reason for wanting to see a concentrated housing project begun expressed overwhelming preference for the route now being travelled by the city.

On the present site, the only barrier to realization of the hope is one of serving—in an adequate sanitary manner—those who will build their homes and invest their money in that section of town.

Should this site be obtainable, the citizens working on the matter at the present time will find another suitable solution.

The goal is in sight.—W. W. K.

Amarillo Closer To Three Other Capitals, Prof Says

Here's the old argument again!

The University of Texas' department of geography has offered figures to help settle the question over how many states have capitals closer to Amarillo than the Texas capitol.

Dr. Donald Brand, geography professor, said the answer is three—no more.

With a big globe and calipers, Dr. Brand's assistants measured these geographic airline distances:

Amarillo to Santa Fe-230 miles; Amarillo to Oklahoma City-240 miles; Amarillo to Denver-355 miles; Amarillo to Austin-415 miles; Amarillo to Little Rock-535 miles. All other capitals were farther away than Austin. Topeka, Kans., however, ran a close race at 425 miles.

Dr. Brand said his figures were accurate within five airline miles. If he is a full five miles too low for Austin and five miles too high for Topeka, then the two capitals would tie for fourth place, but he doesn't see much likelihood in the possibility.

"The edge definitely favors Austin," he said.

Closest capital beyond Topeka was another 15 miles across the globe—Cheyenne, Wyo., at 440 miles. Lincoln, Neb., was farther—475 miles.

Recent claims had put the Texas panhandle city closer to all of the five state capitals than to Austin. The claims were apparently only three-fifths correct, if you're a globe-and-caliper supporter.

NINE HOUSEWIVES of the community are recent graduates of the first standard first aid course to be offered in more than a half-year in the county. They are shown above taking their final examinations on Tuesday at the Louie Olson home. From left are: Mrs. Carlos Vaughn, Mrs. Paul Corbett, Mrs. John Hunter, Mrs. Grady Parsons, Mrs. Louie Olson, Mrs. Jim Ricketts, Mrs. Wayne Johnson. Standing is Mrs. Earl DeHart, instructor. Some of the ladies had a chance to use their first aid experience recently. Mrs. Ricketts' four-year-old son, Fred, fell in the caliche pit in the Paul Corbett farm February 10, breaking his right elbow. Mrs. Ricketts administered first aid and spinted the arm. When they took the youth to the hospital, the physician complimented Mrs. Ricketts on the excellent job of splinting. Another lady treated her husband for shock following the accident. Still another lady tried a bandaging method on a calf which had a sore leg. The technique provided a successful job there too.—Staff Photo.

Win One Class Meets Tuesday

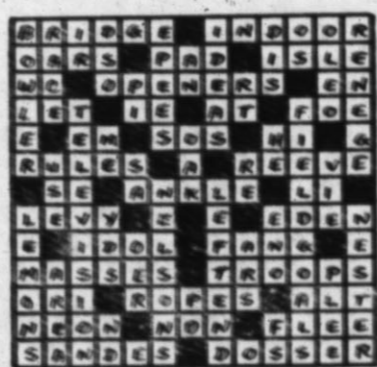

Win One class of the Methodist church met in Ward hall Tuesday afternoon with Mesdames F. T. Koloson, M. F. Cherry and E. J. Hudson serving as hostesses.

Mrs. J. E. Beyer, president, conducted the meeting and Mesdames I. H. Spratt and E. W. Harrison were in charge of the song service. Mrs. D. H. Bryant led the devotional lesson.

Mrs. Don Davidson told of plans for the educational building now under consideration and Mrs. J. F. Ward, teacher, presented a picture to the class for Ward hall which Miss Flora Foreman, returned missionary from the Belgian Congo, brought from the Congo. The picture is a large scene done by a native.

Members of the class attending the meeting were: Mesdames M. M. Beavers, C. F. Davis, D. H. Bryant, Minnie Brown, E. J. Hudson, Ray Hershey, Lane, F. T. Koloson, T. H. Coursey, Andy Thomas, J. E. Beyer, F. M. Faulkner, E. W. Harrison, J. M. Brownlow, Tommy Johnson, H. M. Benefield, P. H. Winget, J. F. Ward, J. B. Jones, C. M. Hicks, Wm. McGehee, I. H. Spratt, Luther Peevely, Fred Millard and Miss Lala Botsford.

Mrs. Buren Vassey has returned to her home in Vernon after a brief stay here with her mother, Mrs. W. B. Beach.

Streu's Diary

February 22, 1952

DEAR DIARY:

When you folks read this, the big Rotary sponsored 4-H Club stock show will be over — the winners happy — the losers not so happy. Competition, whether it be athletic, scholastic, or beef raising — competition probably plays a bigger part in preparing the youth of our land for the problems to come than any other one thing. May we, at Streu's, congratulate all concerned for putting on a good show — and for showing good sportsmanship.

My first honest-to-goodness girl friend (many, many years ago, that is) has asked me to include in this issue of the "Diary" some information about the Red Cross. Dyalitha Bradley has, through the Red Cross, helped many, many local families in times of distress. All over the country, the Red Cross is helping individuals and families who just cannot make it alone. Make your contribution to Red Cross as large as you can — might come a day when YOU need some help!

Well, that's about enough about this and that. Now let's get down to a spot of advertising for Streu Hardware — the warehouse is bulging with new merchandise received the last few days — worlds of fishing tackle and fishing accessories, tools, gadgets, and cooking utensils. A large shipment of Cosco stools and tables and high chairs and bar stools has just arrived.

Jean has returned from the gift show — but she hasn't settled down enough since her return to tell me what she saw and what she bought — will let you know as the new gift merchandise arrives.

Couple of weeks ago I mentioned a lot of different kinds of thermometers which we had in stock — next day a man comes in for one of those home freezer thermometers — and we were out — my apologies — but we do have them now!!

Still waiting for an offer on some of this stuff I want to get rid of — washing machines — ironer — some gas ranges — oil ranges, etc. Make me an offer.

STREU

P.S. I hear that the Jay Cee sponsored tennis courts are about ready for play. Completion of this project is to the JC's what the end of the war was to England — and both were the result of a lot of blood, sweat, and tears. Congrats to the boys who really sweat that job down to the last painted line!!

You can't beat a Hudson for power, stamina and safety!

1952 Hudson Hornets win 1st and 2nd in National Stock-Car Championship Race

150 MILE DAYTONA BEACH CLASSIC, FEBRUARY 10

Experts say that 150 miles over the rugged Daytona Beach and highway course equal 50,000 miles or more of regular driving. Hudson durability pays off here—and for you in your daily driving.

Marshall Teague with his fabulous Hudson Hornet just before starting in his second consecutive victory in Hudson Hornets in the Daytona Beach Classic.

Without a pit stop, Marshall Teague brought his Hudson Hornet home first in the great stock car grind at Daytona, and Herb Thomas, also driving a Hudson, finished second!

The secret of this Hudson success is flashing power, America's lowest center of gravity which hugs curves, and Hudson's ability to keep going without attention.

These qualities are important to you, too. Whether you choose the Hudson Hornet, the Commodore, the Hudson Wasp, or the thrifty Pacemaker, you get eager power and winning stamina, plus exclusive "step-down" design with the best road-ability and greatest safety in any car!

Pictures of... OLD-FASHIONED LIVING MODERN LIVING

MODERN LIVING IS ELECTRIC LIVING!

It's fun these days to hold a modern barbecue but not so in the old days. Smoky kitchens were taken for granted. Cooking was done in huge pots mounted on swing arms that hung right over the hot wood coals. Cooking was a hard job with complete concentration required for good results. Today, of course, Reddy Kilowatt and the modern electric range take away the kitchen smoke, the guesswork and the hard labor. All you do is prepare your recipes, set the controls and let Reddy and the modern electric range take over. No worries, no hard work and perfect results every time... the accuracy of electric cooking gives you this assurance.

Placing Thermometer
Place a thermometer in a room at approximately breathing level (about five feet from the floor). It should be in such a position as to be protected from drafts of air, as from stairways and entrances, and not to near chimneys, radiators, warm air registers, and hot water or steam pipes.

Recoloring Fiber Rug
For recoloring a fiber rug, one may use any dye such as is used on cotton material. Dissolve it in boiling water and apply on the rug by means of a brush.

Honey
To keep strained honey from candyng, boil it gently. Skim clear.

The Hands
Before doing some work that is rough on the hands, such as when housecleaning, moisten some white soap and work it into the pores, under the fingernails, and around the cuticle. When the work is finished, wash the hands and all the soil will come off with the soap.

Strain Starch
It is wise to strain the starch to remove the lumps that might cause "blisters" when the clothes are ironed.

Attractive Pudding
Pudding will look more attractive if topped with a spoonful of whipped cream and a bit of color furnished by candied fruit or jelly.

A Flower Sponge
Take a large sponge with large pores, wet it, and place two or three hyacinth bulbs in the pores near the center. Sprinkle grass or mustard seed around the balance of the sponge. Hang the sponge in a sunny window and keep it damp. You will have a pretty flower ball entirely covering the sponge.

Stains on Range
To remove brown stains from white ranges, dip a cloth into turpentine and apply to the stains. With a little pressure the stains will come off.

Old Putty
To soften old putty place in boiling water and allow to stand in it until the water cools.

New Shoes
To make new shoes more comfortable moisten the lining of the shoes, or the stocking worn, with alcohol and wear the shoes while this is drying. The lining will stretch to fit the foot and prevent the pinching often caused by the lining alone. The use of alcohol eliminates danger of taking cold.

Hunters Return State More Quail Wings This Year

AUSTIN — Texas hunters this year returned 11,405 quail wings to the Texas Game and Fish Commission for study by wildlife technicians as compared to 7,632 last season.

Sorting and counting of the wings was completed this week. Figures will be used to help establish data concerning hatching success, survival of young birds, effect of seasonal weather on annual populations, and other factors of importance in the management, conservation, and restoration of quail.

Noting the increase of returns, the Director of Wildlife Restoration said, "If the response to our requests for wings continues to grow, the hunters will play an ever-increasing role in helping us to learn new ways to provide them with the quality of hunting they wish."

The 1951-52 season was the second in which the state's hunters were asked to return wings of birds killed in the field.

Compilation of data for this year is just beginning, but the Director noted that in general the figures reflect the severe drought of last summer's hatching season, which dealt quail reproduction a severe blow in most parts of the state. This in turn led to relatively poor hunting success.

Late hatches were effected most, particularly in South Texas. In that area, just over 30 per cent of the young quail were hatched after Aug. 15 in 1951, while in 1951 the late hatch was only 1.2 per cent.

This year the best hunting was found in the lower plains of the Panhandle and in the Panhandle, where climatic conditions have been unusually beneficial during the quail hatching season for two consecutive years. The poorest hunting was in South and Southwest Texas, although scattered spots in this area yielded good bags.

Rainbow Initiation Rites Held Monday

Initiation services were conducted at the meeting held by the Hereford chapter, Order of Rainbow for Girls at the Masonic hall Monday night.

Katharine Snare and her corps of officers were in charge of the initiation rites.

Initiates included Eugenia Knox, Dawn Franz, Carolyn Shirley, Marlene Legg, Eddie Morrison and Juna Howard.

A social hour was enjoyed after the session when refreshments were served to approximately 55.

I'll Never...

years. C. R. Smith issued me the Red Fox, an outlaw horse. I don't know what made him do it—spite or to try to make me walk off the job. I rode him though and made a good horse out of him. After that C. R. Smith was my best friend on the XII.

I decided I could do my own ranch I bought some land from the XII and was going into stock farming.

I went down to Castro county and ranched out there. I branded and ran the hip rafter.

I stayed out there and prospects were too good. So I couldn't stand it. I thought that I would move to town and have lots of women and I did as long as my money lasted. Then I worked from place to place and went from place to place.

I joined the Alge Barnes circus and thought that I would see the world. I met lots of friends of all classes.

I liked the life of a trouper and then I got sick and had to quit. I settled in Walla Walla, Wash. but the country was too rolling for me so I moved to the Yakima Valley—right into Indian territory. I thought that I had found me another home.

I decided that I wouldn't get me a squaw and be a squaw man I went to work for a squaw man and worked at whatever there was to do. I baled lots of hay and worked for a good crew. I made good money and spent it too.

I've rode the old Red Fox and I tried to kill him too. He tried to kill me first.

I rode him after coyotes and antelope too. He couldn't catch them but he could run them to death. I'd get off my horse and give him a rest. I'd use my 38 Colts for practice at whatever I could see.

Prairie dogs chattering at me was all that I could see.

I've had some big ideas but they didn't last long. I can never forget the days that have gone.

I'm like the little boy—the curtain is almost drawn and the downfall is all my own.

If this is any interest to you or to me—

I hope we will be enjoying it forever by gee.
