

Music Club Pays Tribute To Mattie Mae Swisher

Tribute to Miss Mattie Mae Swisher was given by Mrs. Cliff Estes at the Music Study Club Nov. 23 at the Community Center. Mrs. Estes, who was program chairman, gave the following tribute: "I wish you could know the influence she had over children. How they loved her, and she taught them much more than just music."

"Her Christmas music was a great and glorious thing. While she was living we had Christmas music (as Community Choirs, The Messiah, carols and carolers). I was always full of the Christmas spirit and I miss it now for I have to work hard for a little Christmas spirit. I miss Miss Swisher at Christmas more than any other time but I know she has a place in 'The Heavenly Choir'.

"Music is not the business of my life," said Mrs. Estes, "but it is my sweetest recreation. I have always longed to be a violinist. Listening to the heavenly music of the violin, it is easy to fall into a kind of dream, thinking there is nothing else to hear. But when the organ peels forth its glorious sounds, we stand riveted with waves of emotion. Then the human voice floats through the air and we feel ready to melt away on a 'Golden Sea of Eternity'. We are sure there is nothing more until we hear the clarinet, French horn, baritone horn and the tuba. Maybe all of you who wish to play in 'The Heavenly Choir' will heed 'The Voice' and practice all you can in preparation."

"A child's voice is one of the fairest and most glorious gifts of God. Song is the most natural outpouring of the soul. Satan doesn't like music for it removes the weight of sorrow from the heart and it removes the fascination of evil thoughts. When He cometh to make up His jewels, His loved and His own; little children who love their Redeemer, are the jewels. Like the stars of the morning, His bright crown adorning, they shall shine in their beauty, bright gems for His Crown."

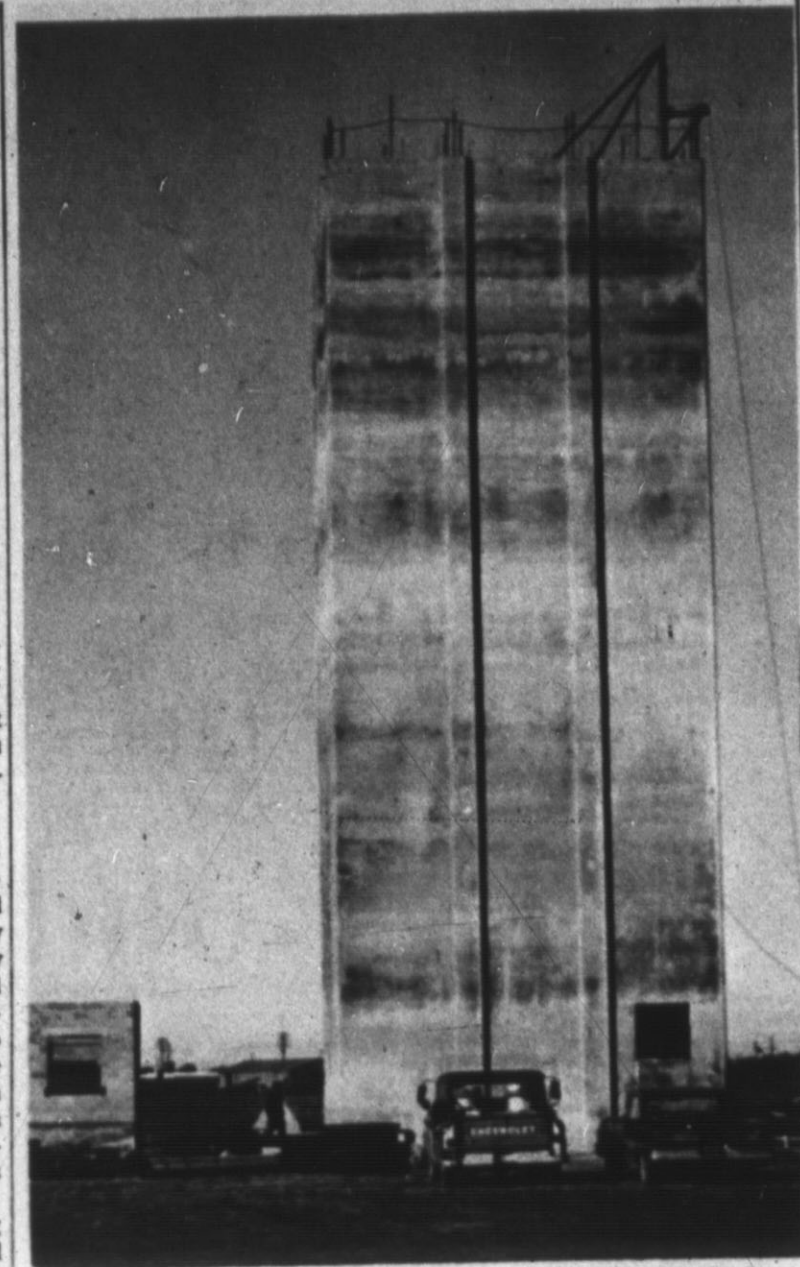

Our National Anthem opened

the meeting. Lee Line presented Glover's "Syncopated Jumping Bean", Bill and Ricky Godwin presented "In the Pines" and "The Golden Harp" with Mrs. Dick Godwin to accompany. "Little Prelude in C Major", by Bach, and Whitford's "Dancing Strings" were selections by Kerri Dameron. Mrs. Paul Lyons accompanied Arlen, Robert, Jan and Elizabeth Lyons with their selection, "Over the Rainbow". Shelley Hacker followed with Proctor's "Pogo Stick". Mrs. B. Y. Crosthwait accompanied Randy Clements with Kern's "Old Man River", also the clarinet and flute duet, "How Great Thou Art" by Debbie and Linda Boardman.

Kim Dameron's selection was Mozart's "Away with Melancholy" followed by Terri Beth Line presenting Taylor's "Puck", and Gurlitt's "Daring Horseman" by David Thomas. Lynn and Nancy Fisher played the "Clarinet and Piano Duet" by Fisher and Kevin Young followed with "To the Rising Sun". Concluding the program was Kerry Thompson with Mozart's "Allegro" from French Horn Quintette accompanied by Nickey Osborne. This was an exceptional program.

In addition to the young guests, visitors were Mr. and Mrs. V. F. Young and Mrs. Fred Barrett. Members present were Mrs. Herbert Boardman, Mrs. Steve Clements, Mrs. B. Y. Crosthwait, Mrs. Frances Dameron, Mrs. Cliff Estes, Mrs. Joe Hacker, Mrs. Paul Lyons, Mrs. J. C. McCracken, Mrs. C. H. Mountz, Mrs. Bill Penn, Mrs. T. W. Roberson, Mrs. Glenn Snyder, Mrs. A. J. Schroeter, Mrs. Jesse Stanford, Mrs. A. W. Thompson, Mrs. Dale Young, Mrs. W. T. Thompson, Mrs. Dick Godwin, Mrs. Bill Dameron, Mrs. Frances Parker, Mrs. Ray Conaway, Mrs. Ed Line, Mrs. Wayne Thomas, and Mrs. W. S. Fisher.

harvested well into December. Price has been good, most of the crop bringing $25 to $30 per ton. Poor quality carrots were quoted as low as $20. The harvest started in August but didn't reach its peak this year until October. Some years, this produce man explained, the harvest of carrots is virtually completed by the end of September.

Lettuce yield was good, but the price was not as high as in previous years. Produce men estimate 2500 acres were grown this year. Despite the lower price, however, the profit was better than last year, due to a higher yield.

Frost put an end to the lettuce harvest for this year.

A farm expert summing up the general crop situation, said, "I think we could write this season down as a pretty good one all the way around. It has been no record year, and the gross agricultural yield probably won't be as high as in previous years. However, sugar beets which came into their own with the opening of the refinery here, overbalanced some of the losses in other areas. I guess this has been a record year for sugar beet growing in this county."

Of the cotton harvest, U.S.-D.A.'s agricultural marketing service in Lubbock in its Saturday letter said that the harvest in the area had resumed this week with the arrival of clear weather. Classing office in Lubbock received 30,000 samples Thanksgiving Day.

The Saturday report also listed cotton price trends at the close of the week.

Average prices paid for the most predominant qualities were Strict Low Middling 15/16 - 27.05, Strict Low Middling 31/32 - 28.10, Middling Light Spotted 15/16 - 28.05, Middling Light Spotted 31/32 - 28.50, Strict Low Middling Light Spotted 15/16 - 27.05, and Strict Low Middling Light Spotted 31/32 - 27.30.

Prices paid farmers for cottonseed remained steady the past week with prices ranging from $45 to $53 per ton, averaging $46.10.

True or False?

1. People become alcoholics simply because they're weak-willed.
2. Alcoholics are hardly worth the effort it takes to treat them.
3. Sooner or later, all alcoholics go back to the bottle.

The statements above — all false — are typical of the popular misbeliefs that make life harder for five million men and women who've become chronic alcoholics.

The crop here will be almost exclusively machine harvested, he said. It's almost exclusively an irrigated crop here.

Cotton yield, he said, is "average", but the income will be slightly lower this year since the support price is down some two cents from last year's level.

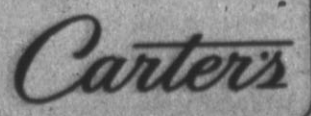

Carrots are still being harvested. No accurate estimate of the acreage devoted to this popular crop was available, although one produce buyer said he estimated the acreage at around 5,000 acres, adding that "this is only a guess."

He said the crop will be

Suzanne in Europe - Part XI

Suzanne Visits Unusual Cemetery - It's Lighted!

(Editor's Note: This is part 11 in the series of letters which Suzanne Langley is writing to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Earnest Langley in Hereford, from Vienna, Miss Langley is in Vienna for a year's study.)

By Suzanne Langley VIENNA Nov. 3.

How are you all doing? From my last reports all seems to be in good order. Daddy, I surely enjoyed your letters especially the long, long one and yours, too, Mother! It's really great how you all keep me up so well on everything.

Well, I'm sitting here this morning with both ears glued to the radio. We are five hours different here. I'm sure glad I have this radio - we are listening to the "Voice of America" and it's really wonderful to be able to hear it every once in a while. I haven't heard all of the results of the election yet; oh well, by the time you get this you'll know for sure who won.

I just love Vienna more as each day goes by! It's a city of contrasts. It has so many old things. So many people hold on to old traditions, but then in many things they're trying to go forward and have some really modern things. For instance, walking down the street one can see some of the best dressed men and especially women in contrast to some still in their traditional grey and green suits and knickers and knee socks. Then you see relatively big stores in a few sections in contrast to the many, many tiny little shops with their own specialties. Also, Vienna has a city transportation system just about like other cities except their subway is not so fast and extensive and the streetcars are slower, but they have big passages underground beneath the streets. These are very modern, they have stores, places to eat, and even escalators and stairs going out all directions so you don't have to cross main streets.

Friday I went on a tour (the IES keeps on arranging tours and lectures) of the Wiener Porzellanfabrik Augarten (Vienna Porcelain Manufactory) which was founded in 1718. This was very interesting to watch - they still make much of the china and figurines by hand and they really have some beautiful china

Well, my dinner with the Suchomel Saturday evening was very enjoyable. Herr Suchomel is a jolly man and they're all very nice to me. The dinner was real fancy and very good! They also had invited two couples who are close friends of theirs. They were very nice people too. I had a hard time understanding most of the time, though, because they talked so fast and joked a lot and this is naturally much harder to understand than a quiet conversation between two people. Ingrid translated for me some and also one of the men there who has been to America quite a bit.

This man and his wife are really nice and seem very intelligent. I was especially impressed with them (and he was one of the few Austrian Goldwaterites!) He is a physicist and is with a company that makes microphones. The whole evening was enjoyable. It's really different to have dinner in an Austrian home. They have a few different customs, but much is the same.

Sunday I had the most wonderful time! I went to look at the cemetery which was all lighted up and many, many beautiful flowers to commemorate all those who've died in the wars. It may sound strange to go to a cemetery, but this one is huge and different - much more elaborate than ours are. Everyone said that it's a must to see it on "All Saints Day" when it is especially pretty. Anyway, we started out at 4:00 and went to see that which was close to the edge of town, close to the Wiener Wald and the mountains around Vienna. It was a beautiful evening so we just took out walking and climbed clear to the top of a mountain, watched all the beautiful lights below, had coffee in the cafe at the top, then walked back down, went back into town, ate dinner and then walked around the city. It may not sound very interesting, but if you could see Vienna. It is so fascinating and exhilarating to walk all around this huge place! I love it!

Last night I went to a song group that we are going to have once a week to learn German songs - really great! Still too much to say. I'll write more later. You all write me!

NEW CHURCH - This is the architect's drawing of Redeemer Lutheran Church in Friona now under construction. The church has a membership of 45.

Friona Redeemer Lutheran Church Starting New $32,000 Building

Redeemer Lutheran Church, Friona, has let contract to Frank Matlock Construction Co. for approximately $32,000 for a new building. Construction has already started. The building was designed by Hucker & Parge, architects of Amarillo who also designed the High Plains Savings & Loan building in Hereford. The new church will seat 95 persons in the regular worship area it was explained and 125 in overflow with spaces for five classes for Sunday School. Members of Immanuel Lutheran Church of Hereford will help the young church with gifts and loans, the pastor, the Rev. Fred Beversdorf, explained. Mr. Beversdorf is also pastor of the Friona church.

If you ever find any porcelain with the name "Royal Vienna Augarten" - this is it.

Oh yes, this factory came into the possession of the imperial house of Austria in 1744. They make beautiful figurines of the Lipizzaner horses - which reminds me that I went to watch them practice Saturday morning. The horses are beautiful and I saw them do tricks etc. But I want to go to a performance and see the riders in the red costumes and the music too. There is always a crowd to watch the practices from 10-12 every morning.

FRIO NEWS

Late Carl Frye Was Long-Time Frio Resident

By Mrs. Owen Andrews A large number of persons from this area attended the funeral Saturday of Carl Frye held at the First Christian Church, Hereford. The Fryes were pioneers in development of this rural area, moving to the family home, now occupied by the son Charles and his family, when Mr. Frye and his wife, the former Meda Woodburn, were married in 1917.

Mrs. Frye was a native of Hereford and had been a teacher in the Walcott school before her marriage. Mr. Frye built the home located 12 miles south of Hereford on 25-Mile Ave. before their marriage after coming to this area from Davenport, Iowa, in 1915.

The family attended church at Frio, then a small one-room wooden school building, and Mrs. Frye taught in the Sunday School during the 20's. The family took part in church and community activities. Later they were active in church and community work at Easter.

All the Frye children were born and reared in this rural home and attended schools at Easter and Dimmitt and were graduated from Hereford High School. The family moved into Hereford May, 1948 and the mother died shortly thereafter in 1947. Mr. Frye was later married to Louise Hekman, Fort Worth and lived in Hereford a few years and then moved to Amarillo, making their home at 5115 Arden Road at the time of his death.

Among those spending part of the time during the past week in the Charles Frye home were his sister, Mrs. Earl Louise Ann Gunther and Mr. Gunther, Bakersfield, Calif., and another sister, Mrs. Theiron Carlie Raye Lehr and Mr. Lehr, Irving.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Frye and Traci spent Thanksgiving Day in the home of Mrs. Frye's uncle, George Woods Jr., and Mrs. Woods at Happy. About 75 persons attended the Thanksgiving supper at the Hereford Community Center Tuesday night. The Rev. G. W. Fine brought a short devotional and offered thanks. Visiting followed the meal, which consisted of the best of home cookery brought by the ladies.

Mr. and Mrs. Edgar Vinson and girls, Ediana, Sammie Ann, Carleta and Pam, moved the last of last week to 287 Star St. in Hereford. They have lived about two miles south of Frio the past several years. Edgar will farm a half section recently purchased from the Hill Struves. It is located about 20 miles northwest of Hereford.

Friends of the Leon Hobotts will be interested to know that he is now educational director in First Baptist Church, Chovis, having moved there the first of this month. He has directed music in three different revivals at Frio Baptist Church in the past few years. The family moved from Hughes Springs.

The Rev. and Mrs. G. W. Fine, Roxie and Ronnie, spent Thanksgiving Day with his mother, Mrs. Geo. Fine, at Maple. Visiting the G. W. Fines and

Without a doubt, this has been one of the nicest autumn seasons that we have ever known.

The weather, up to date at least, has been exceptionally mild. And perhaps this accounts for the apparent lack of enthusiasm for the duck hunters. After all, even "Slim" Wester hasn't come by with a tall-tale concerning the feathered critters he has bagged.

However, Deputy Sheriff Ed Robinson dropped by the office the other day to say that the Sheriff's Department would be happy to have any birds that hunters are afraid to take home. Apparently Ed has a pretty good cook confined in the county jail, and they will be happy to have any excess. Around our house one bird would be excess, but we understand that a few people do clean, cook and eat them. By the way, that goes for geese, pheasant, venison, opossum or any other game that's edible. Now really, that's what we call a pretty good deal. Where else can you go hunting, kill all the game you want, and dispose of it before going home to face the better half. After all, modern women don't care to clean the game anyhow, and it's a pretty good bet that modern man doesn't either.

Which reminds us of a story we heard recently. The friendly neighbor, returning from the days hunt, carried a goose to the elderly lady living next door. Too polite to refuse, she accepted, but a few days later the hunter received this note in the mail.

"Thanks so much for the goose. However, I didn't know how to pick it, or clean it, or cook it, so I took it out in the back yard and buried it".

Received a note the other day from John Roberts, one-time theatre man in Hereford, who is now living at Fort Morgan, Colo. John had been cleaning out his files and ran across some pictures taken in Hereford and thought we might be interested in publishing them. Two are shown on this page. The occasion apparently was Pioneer Day in 1938, and the gentleman you see rushing across Main street (afraid of being run-down by the heavy traffic) is none other than Dr. B. M. Wiltshire. "Doc" had probably been over to Sprowls & Cronin Co. making a purchase. Recognize the building? That's right. It's the old Hereford Brand building and, we might add, it hasn't changed much.

Another photo in the group pictured Ralph McCullough working on the brakes of an old truck. Ralph was a mechanic in those days. And a darn good one too, we understand.

Saturday, December 5 is the date for the second annual Fall Implement Show, jointly sponsored by the Implement dealers of Hereford and the Hereford State Bank.

The show will be held on the parking lot of the Hereford State Bank, and if it's anything like the one last year, it's bound to attract a crowd. The 1963 show was a tremendous success, and dealers are expecting an even better turn-out for the 1964 variety.

Sign on a government girl's desk: "Gone for the day. Will be in for lunch and coffee breaks."

U. S. Coast Guard Cadet Signup Deadline Near

Eligible young men are reminded that Dec. 5 is the deadline for submitting applications to compete for appointment as Cadet, United States Coast Guard.

The 89th annual competition for admission to the U. S. Coast Guard Academy at New London, Connecticut, will commence with the December 5, 1964, administration of the College Entrance Examination Board Tests. Appointments are made solely on a competitive basis, without or geographical quotas.

An applicant must be an unmarried high school senior or graduate who has reached his 17th but not his 22nd birthday by July 1, 1965. Applicants must be high school graduates who have earned 15 units by June 30, 1965, including the following units: Three in English, two in Algebra, and one in Plane Geometry. Applicants must be in excellent physical condition, between 64 and 78 inches in height, with proportionate weight, and have at least 20/30 vision in each eye, correctable to 20/20.

Hard-boiled extra eggs and store them in their shell in the refrigerator; they'll keep for about a week.

FIGHTING IT OUT — Gary Roberson, 22, is fighting for this rebound with Jackie Copeland of Midland in the first round of the Polo Duro Thanksgiving Tournament. Hereford lost the game to Midland 83-68 and met Palo Duro in the final round of the tournament. (Brand Staff Photo)

Several King's Manor residents who would have been "stay-at-homes", were invited by twos, and threes and fours, into local homes. For the most part, the hosts and hostesses were unknown to our family—but not any more. New friendships were made on this wonderful Thanksgiving that will always bring pleasant memories to the recipients of these kindnesses.

Even though only two tables were laid with a sumptuous spread for the stayed behind to keep the home fires burning in King's Manor, nothing was lacking in gratitude; and a jolly good time for them. Visitors to the home were from Idalou, Muleshoe, Lovington and Amarillo. Mr. and Mrs. L. C. Thomas had as Vinson Thomas, Midland.

Mrs. Colene Rucker was the first one in our family to go out with her daughter in Friona and other members of the family in New Mexico for the Thanksgiving holidays.

Mrs. Clara Shore met all nine members of her family in Lubbock for the holidays.

Mrs. A. L. Thomas is visiting with her daughter and family in Liberal, Kans.

Mrs. Vee Faircloth and Mrs. C. R. Smith accompanied Mrs. Nora Gillis to Albuquerque for the holiday.

Mrs. Flora Hitchcock is visiting with the members of her family, who live in Amarillo.

Mrs. Ladie Sifford and Mrs.

Lola Carpenter are two others of our house who are spending Thanksgiving weekend with members of their respective families in Lubbock.

Mrs. Beulah Dobbins chose this holiday season to begin her vacation with her daughter and family in Hico and other relatives in Fort Worth.

Mrs. Fannie Burman is visiting in Friona, and New Mexico while Mrs. Tipps is with the members of her family who live in Amarillo.

Mrs. Ida Wilcoxson is spending a few days in Littlefield.

Mr. and Mrs. Will Blaylock met members of their families — children, grand children and great grand children — in the home of their son, the Rev. Hugh Blaylock, pastor of the First Methodist Church, Dimmitt.

Albrachts Have Family Get-Together

The family of Mr. and Mrs. John Albracht, Hereford, had a get-together Sunday at the IOOF Hall. All sons and daughters of the Albrachts were present, with each bringing part of the meal. Special guests were Mr. and Mrs. Carl Albracht, who came from Orange, Calif. Carl is a son of the Albrachts.

Card Of Thanks

We wish to take this means of expressing our thanks to those who shared our sorrow in the death of our mother and sister, Mrs. H. R. Patterson. The visits, flowers, food, and other acts of kindness mean more than words can tell. We are deeply appreciative of the professional services of Dr. Beene and the staff of Gilliland Funeral Home and of the words and songs of comfort at the funeral service. May the Lord bless and keep each of you. Sincerely, Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Patterson Mr. and Mrs. Paul B. Patterson Mr. and Mrs. W. Ezell Patterson Mr. and Mrs. John Q. Sawyer Mr. and Mrs. Logan E. Sawyer Jesse H. Sawyer

WON 23 FOR YEAR
NEW YORK - Yankee rookie pitcher Mel Stottlemyre won 23 games for the season. The 6-foot-2 resident of Mattson, Wash., compiled a 13-3 record for Richmond, Va., in the International League and a 9-3 record after being brought up to the Yankees. In the World Series he beat the Cardinals, 8-3, in the second game. He left game 5 trailing 2-0 due to careless Yankee infield play. Relief man Pete Mikkelsen was charged with the 5-2 defeat, the result of a Tim McCarver three-run homer in the 10th.
Stottlemyre was charged with defeat in the final series game. He allowed three runs in the 7-5 Cardinal clincher.

EARLY BIRD COOKIES — Bake them weeks then decorate just before the holidays, before Christmas and store in the freezer.

Early Bird Cookies Lessen Holiday Rush

By CECILY BROWNSTONE

Associated Press Food Editor
BEAT THE Christmas rush! Bake your festive holiday cookies early, store them in the freezer and decorate them shortly before you need them.

With the baking accomplished, the cookies will be easy to decorate. To add the topping, brush the cookies with corn syrup and sprinkle with or dip in colored sugar. A youngster in the family will undoubtedly enjoy adding this festive touch. With the light corn syrup turned into a custard cup and a clean paint brush on hand, a small boy or girl can go to work. When it comes to adding the colored sugar, it might be best for small fry to sprinkle rather than to dip!

PARTY COOKIES

2 1/3 cups sifted flour
 1/2 teaspoon salt
 1 cup butter or margarine
 2/3 cup sugar
 1 egg
 1 teaspoon vanilla

Sift together the flour and salt. Cream the butter and sugar; add egg and vanilla and beat thoroughly. Stir in sifted dry ingredients. Chill about 1 hour or until the dough is easy to handle. Roll out — a portion at a time, if you like — on a prepared pastry cloth or lightly floured board to 1/8-inch thickness. Cut out with cookie cutters in desired shapes. Bake on a buttered cookie sheet in a hot (400 degrees) oven until lightly browned on edges — 6 to 7 minutes. Remove with a wide spatula to wire racks; cool.

The unchilled dough may be put through a cookie press onto ungreased cookie sheets. Bake in a hot (400 degrees) oven until lightly browned on edges — 8 to 10 minutes. Makes about 4 dozen.

To decorate: Brush the tops of the baked cookies with light corn syrup; sprinkle or dip in colored sugar; place on wire racks to dry.

Sherri Pruitt Feted On 4th Birthday

Favors of party hats and blow horns were presented at the door. There were several games of entertainment after which gifts were presented to Sherri.

The old woman who lived in a shoe topped the birthday cake along with four red candles. Punch was served by Sherri's sister, Karen. Attending the celebration were Jimmy Bodkin, Kristi and Steven Crawford, Kim and Terri Harper, Tonya Shane, Steve Landers and Melody Neely.

Get Your Home Ready For Christmas Early

By VIVIAN BROWN
 AP Newsfeatures Writer

It's time for Yuletide projects.

Refurbishing a home is a giant step at this time of year but it's the time chosen by many people who decide to paint, replace fence posts, or look for a larger dining room table to seat a growing family.

Taking inventory now may help avoid a Santa Claus Crash Program that results in holiday hysterics. More important — you'll know where you are financially, so money can be appropriated for first things first with that Christmas bonus.

Home furnishings should be ordered now. You can't sling carpet, beds and other large items of furniture over your shoulder and carry them out of the store. Most stores must order these items from their warehouses or factories. It could take weeks — months if you want a color that isn't available now. For some reason, this is a favorite time of year for buying new lamps.

It's almost a psychological quirk that people decide to paint something for the holidays, with all the other projects to worry them. It may be a big paint job in the kitchen or living room. Or it may be a coffee table. There is always somebody in the home unhappy with the shabby condition of some object or area. Make a date with a painter (but don't be surprised if he booked solid) or do the job yourself. Order colors now, too. Later you may be overwhelmed by the brilliance of Christmas colors and everything will come out green, red and gold. If you love red, paint the table red, but remember you must live with it all the year. Better to put warmth in dining room chair cushions and matching table cover that may be replaced easily when you tire of them.

If a guest room is to be painted, do it early, giving it time to air. Get it completely organized as if guests were coming tomorrow. You can use the room to store Christmas articles once it is set, except for a last-minute brush-up.

Put into service any appliances that are getting unpredictable. Be sure you have light fuses for emergencies.

What do you plan in the way of major lighting? If you dream of unique effects outdoors and indoors, start early to do the rigging. If portable lights from last year are to be used again have them tested at your local electric shop. While you are about it, test tree lights and transformers for Junior's electric train.

There are varieties of lighting effects to be used outdoors for interesting drama at Christmas. An early start will give you the opportunity of knowing what is available. Most of the new units require ground wiring and this should be begun early. Lighting up the front door is another popular idea, but the design plan and lighting arrangements take time.

It's a good idea, too, to have a mind's idea to where you plan to place the Christmas tree. It happens every year in most homes — a last minute discussion of the size of the tree, whether for floor or table. When it's time to put the tree in the room, there isn't a square inch of space. While everyone waits, the decision must be made as to what is expendable in the room and where to put it when it is moved out, a major miracle if pullee off at the last minute in the typical cluttered American home.

If there's enough time to plan, perhaps many homes will get out of the rut of doing the same thing every year. You can vary everything from tree placement to the table setting without sacrificing traditional warmth.

The main idea is to get the big projects out of the way early.

Club Studies Holiday Ideas

"Holiday Ideas" highlighted the program for the Young Mothers Study Club Nov. 24 meeting in the Flame Room, Pioneer Natural Gas Co.

Mrs. David Brumley and Mrs. Howard Hunter demonstrated unusual ways to wrap gifts and foods for the coming holiday season. They also suggested ways to use items found in all homes, such as plastic detergent bottles, for attractive decorations. Mrs. Brumley served samples of cake, candy and cookies and explained how to prepare baked ham with her special sauce, candied yams, ribbon sandwiches and Christmas tree salad.

Husbands will be honored at the annual Christmas party Dec. 8, 7:45 p.m. at the Gas Light.

Behind A Sandstone Facade

In a letter to his New Jersey constituents, Republican Senator Clifford Case complains of so much secrecy surrounding the new House office building, now nearing completion, that even members of Congress can't seem to get at all of its details. Such as exactly how much the thing is going to cost.

The cost is currently estimated conservatively at about $83 million, although some critics of the project have put the figure as high as $131 million. Whatever the amount really is — and $83 million would be just about what it took to put up the whole Pentagon — it does not include another $11.7 million earmarked for a 1,600-car parking lot yet to be built.

However, it does include three-room suites for each of 169 senior Congressmen, with two bathrooms and a built-in refrigerator for each suite; five private dining rooms and a cafeteria seating 700; a large gymnasium and a swimming pool. The estimated $83 million also includes what it cost to chop a new door through the completed walls of each suite when somebody discovered that a reticent Congressman could not reach his staff's office from his private office without going through the reception room in full view of any visitors or constituents. The bill for that blooper was $200,000. With this and some other little miscalculations, the most expensive Federal office building ever built will be going into service four years behind schedule.

So it's easy to see why some people may not be eager to have too many inquisitive souls peering behind the new building's sandstone facade. And if Congress can't even control the dollars it spends on its own creature comforts, maybe it's also easy to see why the lawmakers often seem so careless with the funds they lavish on others.

Moral Decay?

We heard a lot about moral decay during the recent election but now that the election is over, such talk is strangely silent, due perhaps to the one-sided margin of defeat suffered by the chief advocate of the charge.

Does this mean that Senator Goldwater was wrong about there being a decay in the moral climate of this country? Maybe. Maybe not.

Before we dismiss any such charges as nonsense, perhaps we should look around at the situation.

The FBI report for 1963 shows that crime in this country set a new record last year and is increasing four times as fast as the population.

Crime is not confined to the slums and "pockets of poverty," either, although crime is on the increase fastest in the big cities.

What is even more disturbing is that the crime rate is rising fastest among the younger people, particularly teenagers.

Almost a million persons under the age of 18 are arrested each year, mostly for petty crimes.

We might wonder about moral decay when we read about the furor at Harvard, where the practice of male students inviting girl friends into their dormitory rooms is defended as part of the process of "growing up."

We might wonder about the state of our morals when Elizabeth Taylor, the highest paid movie actress in the world, traveled and shared a room with another actor, Richard Burton, who himself was married and a father but whose family waited for him in England. While the couple traveled and frolicked the entertainment world stood in awe and their motion pictures set new records at the box office. Where is our outraged sense of morality here?

We might browse through a typical newsstand some time and look at what is being offered the reading public today and then take a good look at the state of morality in this country. It would be a fair guess to say that sex, undraped girls, suggestive titles about sex, and other indications of immorality make up the bulk of newsstand books and magazines these days.

Does anyone get outraged about it? Nobody except perhaps a PTA committee or a church group which meets and decides that somebody ought to do something about it, but nobody ever does because it is quite evident that S-E-X is what sells books and magazines and the dirtier the better.

What is pure and moral about much of the television dramas being offered today? If a person has the fortitude to sit through a full week's entertainment offered by the little black box, he is almost sure to have his fill of murder, rape, incest, dope peddling, theft, illicit love making, etc., all done under the guise of offering real life drama in the "realistic manner."

Is morality involved here? Have our public morals slipped to the point where there is no longer any subject that is not discussed in "polite society?"

There is a liberal element in the country which apparently has a strong influence upon things. This is the cult that holds that there are no clear distinctions between right and wrong and that all truth is relative. This group holds that environment determines truth and that man is solely a product of his environment. There are no blacks or whites in this way of thinking — only varying shades of gray.

We may be wrong, but it does appear that there could stand to be a great amount of improvement in the area of American public morals these days. We just wonder when it was that the American public lost its capacity to become outraged?

—Ochiltree Co. (Perryton) Sunday Herald

Nugget

Widespread fear of devaluation of the British pound was the immediate reason for the increase in the British bank rate from 5 to 7 per cent Monday, an action which brought a quick, defensive hike in the bank discount rate by the Federal Reserve Board in this country to protect the dollar from speculation and to discourage a dangerous outflow of currency.

The British price became acute last Friday when the pound dropped to the lowest rate in eight years in Free World markets, the floor set by the Bank of England.

Texans To Scramble For Plush New Offices

By TEX EASLEY

WASHINGTON, D.C. — Approximately half the Texas House members will move into the $100 million Sam Rayburn Office Building in January.

With convening of Congress Jan. 4, members will begin filling for the 169 plush suites in the structure, the third office building for House members.

Streets In Top Condition After Dragging Operation

No sooner than the ground would work, the City man was at work dragging the streets and the improved conditions were very satisfactory to the traffic. The snows and thaw had left the streets and roads soft and the wagons and autos had cut them up. The dragging fills in the ruts and smooth the surface. The drag is the best machine ever invented for good roads.

J. D. Curtsinger, formerly in the grocery business in this city, but for some three years in business in Memphis, Texas, has moved his stock and shipped in new and additional stock and has opened up here. He is occupying one of the stores in the Palmer Higgins building on Main, the place once held by the Fair Store. He invites his old friends and former customers to call around to see him in a social as well as in a business way.

Hereford residents will have an opportunity to hear a first-hand story of conditions in war-torn countries of the world tonight, when they attend a joint church meeting of which Walter O. Parr of Ft. Worth will speak. The meeting is sponsored by the Ministerial Alliance of Hereford and will be held in the First Baptist Church beginning at 7:30 p.m.

The annual Boy Scout finance drive was launched in Hereford this week with 26 active workers soliciting funds for the local sustaining club. The drive opened Thursday and is scheduled to close the latter part of this week.

Mr. and Mrs. Jack Busse and sons have returned from Dallas where they attended the State Fair.

The P-TA meeting scheduled for 7:30 o'clock Monday evening, Oct. 25, will feature the theme of "Established Justice," according to Mrs. H. E. Wester, program chairman.

The vastly improved Demas Demons looked sharper than ever Friday night when they had little trouble in smothering the Hereford Whitefaces 40-0. Demas scored the first time they got their hands on the ball and it was a wild scoring event.

The Demas scored in every quarter and after the crew of Coach John Whinnery scored on the third play from scrimmage, there was no doubt as to the outcome of the game. Don Lanier clinched the drive by plunging six yards for the tally. Lanier counted the first quarter with a fine 41 yard run.

The Demas' only touchdown in the second quarter was a 19 yard pass play from Andy Hicks to Jim Bowen.

Panhandle Paragraphs

In looking at the long list of military installations, I note with a high degree of pleasure that Camp Hale in Colorado will be closed . . . I first saw Camp Hale as a member of the 38th regimental combat team . . . They moved a regiment of us up to Camp Hale from Camp Carson. It's 12 miles from the old boom town of Leadville. The army trucked us in there in the peak of winter (temperatures got down to 20 below many a night) and we were taught to ski . . . I didn't like Camp Hale the first time I saw it and surely didn't shed any tears when time came to get out . . . so you can understand why I couldn't care less that the government has decided to close her down!

The reaction of residents here to the Defense Department order last week to close Amarillo AFB was one described best as a "jolt." "It's going to hurt us, probably not as much as Amarillo, but it's going to hurt us," were the words of Panhandle Mayor C. H. Bell. "I think we can take care of our economy all right, but it's going to be a jolt to us."

THE BOOTLEG Philosopher

Editor's note: The Bootleg Philosopher on his Blackwood farm has an odd idea this week, which we publish for what it's worth.

I had to make a trip to Amarillo a while back and ever since I've been calming my nerves and reflecting on the traffic and parking problem and have concluded that if it isn't solved cities are done for and I would hate to see this happen, because if the city people leave the city you know where they're coming — right out here in the country.

But I think there is a solution. I was reading in a newspaper last night which I'd found blowing along a street in the city and brought home with me, as a matter of fact, I discovered that at least for picking up papers the city beats the country ten to one, at any rate, I read that a man has invented a new parking system which he thinks will solve the parking problem. With it, you can park 20 cars in the space now occupied by two. All it is is a tower with an endless belt that stacks cars one on top of the other. When you want your car down, push a button and in 40 seconds it comes down to ground level, ready to drive if you can get it out without taking off a fender or door handle.

This is going at the problem the wrong way. It might solve the parking problem, but not the traffic problem. You don't want to stack the cars on top of each other. The answer is, stack the streets on top of each other. Turn these complicated highway approaches up an edge.

Say you're coming into a big city and need to get to the 16th floor of a building. Take the lane with the sign reading: All 16th floor traffic take this lane. Sure enough, before you get into the city proper you'll have gradually climbed to the street that serves the 16th floor. With other street levels for the 2nd, 3rd, 4th, etc., you could get anywhere you want, with plenty of parking room for everybody. I can prove it.

Take any small town in America and if the stores don't go above one story, there's always plenty of parking room on the streets. What the small towns have discovered and the cities haven't is that it takes one street per floor in this modern automobile age. Most backward thing I ever heard of, adding on more floors without adding on more streets. How can cities continue to overlook something small towns discovered years ago?

Of course, there are a few technical flaws in this, like making sure the 16th floor of one building is the same level as the one across the street, but this is only an engineering problem I'll leave to others, say the urban renewal people.

But the basic solution is there for any city that wants it. It's as good as any solution ever thought up in a city for the farm problem.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

Miss Peters, Mr. Swirczynski Wed In Catholic Ceremony Here

Marriage of Miss Judith Ann Peters and Clifford Joseph Swirczynski, Amarillo, was solemnized in Saint Anthony's Church Nov. 28 with the Rev. Father Cletus McGorry reading the double ring wedding ceremony.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Joe T. Peters, 319 Blevins. Parents of the groom are Mr. and Mrs. Herman Swirczynski, Muenster.

Musical selections were "Mother, Dear, Oh Pray For Me", "One Hand One Heart", "Ave Maria", and "On This Day, Oh Beautiful Mother" as well as the traditional wedding music.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride wore a gown of sculptured damask brocade with scoop neckline. The slightly empire waistline dropped to a bell-shaped floor length skirt. The long sleeves tapered to a point at the wrist. The gown was accented in the back by a chapel train which fell gently from the shoulders. Her veil of silk illusion was pouf-styled, fastened to a satin and velvet pillbox. She carried a bridal bouquet of pink roses.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Miss Susan Peters, and bridesmaid was Miss Mary Brennan. They wore vivia pink dresses of silk moire, embossed with deeper colored flowers. They featured over skirts attached at each side with small bows and fell into a short train in back. They carried white long-stemmed roses.

Attending the groom as best man was his brother, Virgil Swirczynski, Groom. Groomsman was James Bartkowiak, Amarillo; Ushers were Jim Noyes, Dalhart, Jim Brandt, Amarillo, Bob Dzusik, and Capt. Allen J. Monroe, Rantoul, Ill. Brother of the bride, Mark Peters, was ring bearer.

Following the ceremony a reception was held at Saint Anthony's Hall. The table was covered with a white damask cloth overlaid with pink net. A pink and white wedding cake was the centerpiece topped with a silver christogram, flanked on either side by silver candlesticks.

For the wedding trip to Mexico City and Acapulco the bride chose a suit of bitterweet wool with matching hat and beige accessories.

The bride is a graduate of St. Scholastica's Academy, Fort Smith, Ark. She was president of the Dramatic's Club and a member of the National Honor Society; attended Amarillo Jr. College and was president of the Newman Club.

The groom was a graduate of Muenster High, Muenster, 1956. He received his Bachelor of Science Degree from East Texas State College, Commerce, 1959; did graduate work at Southern Illinois University, Carbondale, Ill. He is presently employed with Taylor-Evans Farm Store Inc., Amarillo, in the Anhydrous Ammonia Branch.

Out of town guests included the groom's family, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Swirczynski, Ricky and Virgil Swirczynski, Muenster, Mrs. Lottie Smith, Dallas, Mary Lou Swirczynski, Dallas, Capt. and Mrs. Allen J. Monroe, Rantoul, Ill.; and the bride's maternal grandmother, Mrs. H. C. Kuensner, Blackfoot, Idaho.

The bride gave her bouquet to the Blessed Virgin.

The couple will make their home at 2900 Eddy, Amarillo.
